A Desperate Plea for Help at Iuka Emergency Room Ends in Tragedy

Charlotte McVay

Our close-knit community and local hospital was the scene this week of a tragedy that has touched so many, leaving unanswered questions and misrepresentations in area media coverage.

A suicide tragedy became a major news story, when a man planning to take his life decided to go to the local emergency room and ask for help! His request was a little different from what the emergency room workers are accustomed. According Coroner Mack Wilemon, Gary Lomenick, 64, known and loved by the community, walked into the emergency room and asked for a room with life support, "he wanted to kill himself" and donate his organs. No doubt the emergency room workers had never experienced such a request as this. With panic and fright among the employees, three brave paramedics tried to talk Gary out of his mission with no results. Gary turned around, walked down a hall and ended the pain that was overwhelming him with a self inflicted gunshot wound. According to local law officials, they believe that at no time was anyone else in danger although the situation was frightening for all involved.

Gary had worked 37 years for the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association. He retired in 2015 after suffering with bad knees which impaired his walking ability. He was always laughing, smiling and telling a tall tale." I thought of the late Robin Williams when I heard this sad news about my friend, we never know who is hurting and covering it with a smile. All who knew Gary feels in their heart that he never had any intention of hurting anyone but himself.

According to his brother, Harold Lomenick, Gary had fallen off the top of his house recently and had been in severe pain and taking pain tablets. He was going through some personal problems, but this was a horrible shock for the entire family.

The North Mississippi Medical Center released a statement on Monday saying, "An unfortunate incident took place at North Mississippi Medical Center-Iuka on October 7. We are thankful that no harm came to our staff, patients or visitors. The deceased was not one of our patients or employees. We extend our condolences to the family."

Editor's note: It is the policy of this newspaper not to use the word suicide in our reporting. The taking of one's own life is a private thing that a grieving family and friends must endure without reading about the details in the local news. Unfortunately this suicide affected innocent people in a public building which made it a news story. Unkind words, rumors and untruths spread fast enough in a small town and on social media without the help of a local news source. Following last week's mass shooting in Las Vegas, fear spread throughout our community long after the situation was over at the hospital after a television source described the incident as "an active shooter." This is a common term used in our national media today. Thank God there was no "active shooter" at our hospital.

Aerospace and Defense Leader Orbital ATK Expanding in Iuka

Aerospace and defense leader Orbital ATK is expanding in Iuka, Miss., investing $10.48 million and creating 50 jobs.

"As a worldwide leader in the aerospace and defense industries, Orbital ATK once again puts Mississippi on the global stage, demonstrating our hard work to provide a business environment where companies can compete successfully in today's demanding economy," said Gov. Phil Bryant.

Orbital ATK will begin production of large composite aerospace structures for its Antares, Pegasus and Minotaur launch vehicles and a large national aerospace and defense program at its 320,000-square-foot Iuka facility. "Orbital ATK's nearly $10.5 million investment represents a vote of confidence in Mississippi's talented workforce and the coordinated support it gets at the state and local level. I'm pleased our state will have a greater role in strengthening these important launch systems," said U.S. Senator Thad Cochran (R-MS), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and its Subcommittee on Defense. "This expansion is a testament to the good work being done by Mississippians to help produce cutting-edge aerospace technologies," U.S. Senator Roger Wicker (R-MS) said. "I am pleased to see that the company is committing these additional resources to Northeast Mississippi, bringing new jobs to the area and strengthening its partnership with the community."

"The expansion of Orbital ATK in Iuka once again demonstrates the company's faith in Mississippi's workforce which is second to none," U.S. Representative Trent Kelly (R-MS) said. "The company plays an invaluable role in both our national defense and Mississippi's economy."

"This expansion signifies the commitment Orbital ATK has to the employees, community and state of Mississippi to continue bringing high quality manufacturing work into the area," said John Kain, Orbital ATK Aerospace Structures Division's director of operations - Iuka. "We value our partnership with the State, City and County Officials and thank them for their continued support of our facility in Iuka."

"Our decision to place this additional work in Mississippi emphasizes Orbital ATK's commitment to not only our employees and customers, but reaffirms our commitment to the state of Mississippi," said Vice President and General Manager of Orbital ATK's Aerospace Structures Di-

Bras on the Bridge for Breast Cancer Awareness Month

by Kathy Franks Warren

This week I am celebrating 20 years of being breast cancer free, back in my hometown where I grew up! My friends, family, and I have collected bras to hang on the bridge on Battleground Dr. to commemorate all the people in Iuka who have been touched by breast cancer. It's not my original idea, since they do this in Pensacola on the Three Mile Bridge, where I now celebrate Breast Cancer Awareness Month by walking in the Race for the Cure, alongside other survivors!

Thank you to all who helped to make Bras on the Bridge possible in Iuka! Thank you, Mayor John Castleberry for giving your permission. Thank you Charlotte McVay and Sierra Lambert at the Tishomingo County News. Thank you Steve Foster and Suzanne Strickland at the radio station. Thank you Terrie Whitehurst, LeeAnn Robertson, Pauline Johnson, Barbara Smith, and Alta Jones of Iuka. Thank you Katherine Haberneight of Pickwick. Thank you Lee Williams of Dyersburg. Without you all, this task would have proven impossible. Hopefully, Bras on the Bridge will remind someone to go for a mammogram!

20 Years and Counting Every Moment!

I, Kathy (Kate) Franks Warren, a 1971 Iuka High School graduate hit a "thankful to God" milestone this morning when I awoke! It's been 20 years since my diagnosis! I'll be the first to confess that I didn't think the

Pet of the Week

Congratulations to Mr. P! This precious baby boy is our Pet Of The Week at Iuka Animal Clinic. This is what Mr. P's owners RayLea Hill and her family have to say about him. Mr. P is the youngest of our cats. He is almost four months old. He loves to "make biscuits" on the blankets and get petted. He will curl up and go to sleep with you if you can keep him still long enough. Being a kitten he loves to play with our other cats. We love Mr. P so much. He is so loveable and playful. It is very hard to resist his cuteness.

Raising a kitten is one of the most fun things you'll ever do, but it's also a big responsibility. One of the first things you should do with your new cat is take him to a veterinarian for an exam. This trip is almost as important for the owner as it is the kitten, because it not only tests for health issues, but it allows you to ask questions and gain knowledge about your new furry friend. Kittens need to be vaccinated against several types of diseases and checked for internal and external parasites to remain healthy. Also having your kitten spayed or neutered before 6 months of age is also recommended to prevent unwanted overpopulation. Taking care of your kitten's health will help ensure a happy healthy life with you.

Call Iuka Animal Clinic (Dr. Jim Perkins & Staff) where "Pets Family Too" at 662- 3470 for all your needs. Also check us on Facebook.

MAGNOLIA REGIONAL HEALTH CENTER is offering FREE INFLUENZA VACCINATIONS to the public, ages 6 months and up. Each person receiving the vaccination will be required to sign a consent form. If you have an egg allergy, you will NOT be able to receive this vaccination.

Junior Auxiliary of Tishomingo County Gains Leadership, Education Training for Service to Children

Members of the Junior Auxiliary of Tishomingo County gained valuable skills needed to better serve their community through hands-on service by attending the National Association of Junior Auxiliaries' annual area meeting held on September 23 in Memphis, Tenn. Pictured are Thelma Whitehurst, Jackie Meyer, and Shonna Meyer.

The 75-year-old nonprofit based in Greenville, Miss., encourages its 92 Chapters in seven states to render charitable service to children and families. With the 2017-18 national theme of "Pay it Forward," the Junior Auxiliary of Tishomingo County is guided by the ideals represented by NAJA's five-pointed crown symbol: youth, health, charity, service and leadership. The area meeting speakers and workshops energized members as the new school year gets under way and as Chapter's begin their fall and spring service projects.

"NAJA hosts area meetings to offer resources, workshops and leadership training to help Chapters more effectively meet the needs of their communities," said Charlott Jones, NAJA's national president and Life member of the Junior Auxiliary of Jonesboro, Ark. "Attendance at these meetings is an investment by the Chapter and a great way for members to fellowship and learn from other Chapters. Junior Auxiliary members are dedicated volunteers who assume leadership roles in their communities and make it a better place to live."

NAJA's national theme is "Care Today, Character Tomorrow." For more information on JA of Tishomingo County visit their FaceBook page – Junior Auxiliary of Tishomingo County. For more information on NAJA, visit www.najanet.org.

October was Tag Buying Month!

In this old photo, the Tax Assessor's office had just recieved their shipment of 1977 MS license plates, which went on sale October 1. James H. Bishop, Tax Assessor and his staff, Shirley Skinner, Lynn McBride and Dilva Massey, inspect the changes in the new tag. According to the story the tags were white with red and green lettering and a green magnolia. Also this was the first year for buying a tag which would be in your possession for five years. Each year instead of changing tags, you only put a new date sticker on it. If during the five years, you change autos, you will buy a new tag plate. This new procedure would eliminate October as the "Tag Buying Month."

story would end this well!

It was the night of Princess Diana's death when my sister, Ruth Lovelace, from Iuka, told me of her own diagnosis and that she would be having a mastectomy! Ruth and I discussed her possible treatments and how all the seven sisters should be tested often and immediately. Ruth saved my life that night. I was tested and found to have Stage 2 breast cancer.

My focused changed from parenting and lesson plans to will-writing and doctor visits. The mammogram found the tumor, but four doctors could not! What a blessing!

At the time, I had a great husband and a middle school son at home and an older son in college. All I wanted was to quickly make this terrible disease leave my body! I thought of leaving and ignoring, but my friend, Jean, said I could run but I could not hide. I was well aware that she meant that.

That diagnosis was the scare of my life. I began researching, on my own, immediately. Someone in my husband's office stayed at work until ten one night copying everything she could find about my breast cancer from the Internet. My family rallied around me with support and love. My teacher friends made me dinners for the long haul. My neighbors brought me plants and flowers. My church members spent countless hours praying for me! I received cards from people in several countries and as far away as New Zealand. My husband took over my cooking and laundry chores. My younger son rode to school with another teacher and I settled in to get well quickly. I was blessed.

After my first surgery, I was pronounced breast cancer free, until my oncologist called to tell me that they had forgotten to take my lymph nodes. Back to surgery, I went on October 27th, my husband's birthday! Once again we were driving home from the hospital on streets that made my stitches feel like a knife was being inserted into my body on every bump in the road.

My mother, Mrs. Irene Franks, of Iuka came to stay with me for a few days. I felt so badly for her as I woke up and saw her sitting in the dark by my bedside. She told me she was praying for me. What tremendous love she had for all her eight children! We all knew she would be there for us, if she could.

My surgeon wrote me a prescription for a wig and I went to try some, but I didn't buy one. My friend, Ronda, had seen an article in Ann Landers' about a cloth around the head, with ice and a rubber hose. The next day, I asked about it at Boston Clinic in Memphis, and they knew of that procedure and they furnished the equipment. They said sometimes it works and sometimes not, but it worked for me. I didn't lose all my hair, but I kept a vacuum in my room to vacuum hair off the bed each morning.

One problem with chemotherapy was that it made me so sick for the first three months. The fourth month, they got it "right" and I wasn't sick at all. Thankfully, great strides have been made since my treatments. By that time, I had been out of the classroom for six weeks and volunteered to go back as soon as I could. You see, my son looked at me as though I was dying, so I had to convince him otherwise.

Radiation was a form of sunbathing every day, and getting a severe burn, tan, burn!

Seven years later, the teachers at school talked me into trying breast reconstruction. The first surgery was unsuccessful and so was the second. My doctor told me they'd get it right on the third try, but after all the pain I told him no. You see, it took ten months to heal because I had had radiation, and I knew I couldn't go through that again.

The slogan I used often during my cancer days was, "That which doesn't kill you makes you stronger." Today, I feel like a stronger person, a better Christian, and hopefully a better wife, mother, grandmother, sister, cousin, aunt and friend! I am more aware that my days on earth are numbered, and I'd like to make it a better place.

Gary L. Lomenick

Gary L. "Lunar" Lomenick's earthly journey ended on October 7, 2017, at age 64. He was born on March 10, 1953, in Iuka, MS the second son of Harold T. "Dickie" and Estelle Hudson Lomenick.

He was preceded in death by his parents and is survived by his wife of 41 years, Teresa Kerr Lomenick, brothers Harold E. Lomenick of Iuka, and Robert H. Lomenick of Holly Springs, MS, and their wives, Judy and Penny, whom he loved like sisters, his wife's sisters, Fredrica Hunter and Patricia Stringer, and brother in law, Leonard Stringer with whom he shared a special bond. Lunar was also very proud of the cast of nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great-nephews, and friends all of whom he loved with a heart that was three sizes too big.

Lunar was the proud father of two sons, Van Patrick Lomenick of Murfreesboro, TN and Blake Thomas Lomenick of Auburn, AL and their wives, Robin Aldridge Lomenick of Florence, AL and Beth King Lomenick of Andalusia, AL. Gary had two granddaughters, Emma Grace and Lily Reese, whom he delighted in spoiling, pestering, and picking at. His love knew no bounds, nor did his good-natured badgering.

He was a lineman the first half of his career and managed meters and substations the last half during his career with the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association, retiring in 2015 after 37 years of service. Lunar loved his years at TCEPA and all the challenges and successes it brought. He truly valued the professional and personal relationships that were fostered over his many years there. After his retirement, "Coffee with the boys" at the warehouse was still a weekly occurrence, and one that he reveled in.

A teller of prodigious stories, half of everything Lunar said may have been true. He was a Boy Scout in his youth, and was a Scout Master as an adult. After his boys were grown, Lunar still volunteered his time as Cub Scout Leader, continuing to help educate others kids in an organization he loved and believed in.

Lunar's interests kept him busy, starting many projects and even finishing a few. He could always be found on his tractor, in his shop working on various metal or wood projects, or complaining about yet another 5 gallon bucket of green beans that needed picked from his garden.

With the exception of a few years, Gary spent his life in Iuka, a town he loved in the state he loved. He was a proud Mississippian and a proud American who flew Old Glory outside his home. Gary was not a perfect man, but he always went out of his way to help others, and loved those around him completely, even when struggling to show it.

Pallbearers are nephew Matt Posey whom Lunar loved like a son, lifelong friends Robert L. "Bob-o" Brown III, David O. "Bubba" Jourdan III, and Charles Cutshall, co-workers and partners in crime Dennis Coughlin, Jerry Gray, Kerry Tennison, and Andy Crawford. Honorary Pallbearers include all employees, past and present of the Tishomingo County Electrical Power Association.

Services were at 11am, Tuesday, October 10, 2017 at Iuka United Methodist Church. Cutshall Funeral Home of Iuka, MS was entrusted with arrangements.

In lieu of flowers memorials may be sent to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital (www.stjude.org/donate), Wounded Warrior Project (https://www.woundedwarriorproject.org/donate), or the Iuka Public Library (http://nereg.lib.ms.us/iuka-public-library/).
