DEFENSE FOR DEFENSE
The twin enemies of every citizen today are Communism and inflation. To promote peace and to run up Federal taxes while re-arming against Communism would be to play nemy's game.

To avoid inflation and to preserve a sound, stable currency, we must levy "pay-as-you-go" taxes during the period of mobilization. This is a heavy tax increase for taxpayers, but the money will be raised through a variety of taxes—not through any one.

These taxes should include a proposed inflationary excise tax, and a general corporation and individual income tax. These taxes will be a heavy burden, but we must bear them, or condemn ourselves and our children to a far heavier burden—run-away inflation.

SHOOTING STARS TO DISPLAY NOV. 16 AND 17

A shower of meteors is expected November 15 and 16, and a smaller display may appear in the eastern skies on November 26 and 27, especially in the small hours of the early morning, Professor John M. DeMarche told his astronomy class at Mississippi State College this week. "The November 15 and 16 shower is an annual display, and in 1886 was recorded as comparable to the falling flakes in a heavy snowstorm," the professor said. "Watch the eastern sky half way between the horizon and the zenith, and you may see a meteor a minute, especially after midnight."

He explained that in the early morning hours we face the direction of the earth's annual path around the sun, and hence we see the meteors coming head on, as well as those overtaking us. Before midnight, we see only those overtaking us.

"Meteors are usually very small particles, perhaps the size of a grain of sand, from outer spaces. The friction that results when they hit our atmosphere, traveling from seven to forty-nine miles a second, causes them to flare up and burn out as a shooting star," he continued. "Only their ashes are left to float to earth. If our atmosphere did not exist, approximately one hundred billion of these iron and stone particles would strike the earth every 24 hours."

Professor DeMarche explained that meteors burn out, usually 50 miles above the earth's surface, but that meteorites are so large that part of them strike the earth, having lost only their outer layer in frictional burning. Once in a great while a meteorite or shower of meteorites falls large enough to do considerable damage if it should strike a concentration of people or of valuable property.

WARRIORS OPEN SEASON PLAYING BEFORE CAPACITY CROWD

(By Betty Stokes)

The Iuka High School opened the 1950-51 basketball season by defeating Burnsville and splitting two with Central High of Alabama. The Iuka "B" boys defeated Central "B" team with Milligan leading the way for Iuka with 9 points. The Iuka girls, inspired by their new suits of black and old gold, turned back the Burnsville girls 55-35. Harris led the scoring for the Iuka girls with 27 points, while Curtis and Carson racked in 17 and 16 points respectively for the winners. The Central "A" team dropped the Iuka boys 34-22 in an exciting battle. High scorer for Central was Linsey with 12 points and for Iuka it was Dean with 12. The Iuka boys played a good game, but were outclassed by the taller Central team.

The cheer leaders, dressed in their new paraphernalia, led the student body in impressive cheering throughout the games.

LION NEWS
By Lowell E. Grisham

At the regular meeting Monday evening, Representative Juanita Randle, the Lion's sponsored delegate to Girl's State delivered an informative report to the club concerning her duties while helping other young ladies of Mississippi run the state government.

Much business was discussed at this meeting. Among the highlights were ways and means of getting industry into Iuka, taking steps to insure safer highway traffic through Iuka, more especially through the school zone, and the proposed fund raising show. The club showed great interest in finding a way to add pay roll to Iuka. It was pointed out that the present hosiery mill is adding much to the economic welfare of this county, in that it is providing employment for the people of this community. The Lions all seem to agree that we need more such industry, and they are taking steps to secure same.

ATTENTION LIONS: According to the rules of Lions International, any Lion who fails to attend meetings for four consecutive times with a valid reason for such failure will be dropped from the roll. If you have to be away on meeting night, please inform the secretary. Remember the burden of excusing absences is on the individual member.

B.M.C. TO CELEBRATE "MOTHER BERRY" DAY

Blue Mountain, Miss., —Nov. 16 will be the centennial of the birth of Mrs. Modena Lowrey Berry known through the years as "Mother Berry". She was born near Farmington, Miss., on November 16, 1850.

It was no idle fancy which gave her the name of "Mother." It is truly doubtful that this Nation has ever had another woman whose benign influence helped mold the lives of so many others. They were, of course, the thousands upon thousands of girls who were educated at Mississippi's oldest institution of learning for women—Blue Mountain College. The actual number was in the neighborhood of 12,000.

Actually the history of Blue Mountain College is, in its chief aspects, the biography of Mrs. Modena Lowrey Berry. It was founded by her father. She was one of its first teachers. Her husband was its business manager. She was an active member of its faculty for 69 years. It was not until her own years were 84 that she would concede that perhaps she needed a little rest.

When the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs selected four notable women of the State to represent Mississippi in the Hall of Fame at the Sesqui-centennial Exposition in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, "Mother" Berry, though never a member of a federated club, headed the list. In 1942 her portrait was hung in the Mississippi Hall of Fame in Jackson. She was the second woman in the history of the state to be so honored.

Her last public utterance was made on the occasion of the celebration of her 90th anniversary, Nov. 16, 1940. It contained only four paragraphs. It was made in the auditorium named in honor to an overflow audience of alumnae and other friends. One paragraph indicated her deep love for the college that had been so much a part of her life: "When I am gone from this earth, my prayer will be, as I look upon you from the great beyond, that you continue to give to the dear college your prayers, your love, your loyalty, and your money." The late Senator Pat Harrison was the principal speaker of this occasion. President Franklin D. Roosevelt telegraphed birthday greetings to her.

Farmers Urged To Consider Dairying As Future Basic Industry

For decades milk has been the largest single source of farm income. Milk was 15 per cent of the 1949 farm cash income. Beef cattle were unusually high in 1949 but they are a profit a while and a loss a while, where the old dairy cow is a steady profit year in and year out.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 2,441 bales of cotton were ginned in Tishomingo County, Miss., from the crop of 1950 prior to Nov. 1st as compared with 8,908 bales for the crop of 1949.

One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood, yet the farmer receives about the largest share of the milk dollar of any other farm product. Dairying is a small industry in Mississippi but many farmers are coming to Mississippi from other states and going into the dairy business because of milder climates and long growing seasons where milk can be produced the best and cheapest and most natural way by grazing most of the year.

Milk in this country today is the best in the world. Our system of efficient low cost distribution, sanitation, pasteurization and supply create a standard which dairymen from throughout the world come here to study. The U. S. today is the greatest dairy nation.

New research points more and more to the value of milk and milk products as the mainstay in the diet of nutritious conscious America.

Dr. E. V. McCollum, one of the leading Biochemists and nutritionists in the world has this to say about milk. "The people who have achieved, who have become larger, stronger, vigorous people, who have reduced their infant mortality, who have the best trades in the world, who have an appreciation of art, literature and music, who are progressive in science and in every activity of the human intellect, are the people who have used liberal amounts of milk and its products."

With these facts in mind, we can easily see why dairying is a big industry and why it will continue to be an even bigger industry and a lot of it will continue to come to the Southern States where climate and soil will favor the economical production of milk. The question is — how soon are more of our Tishomingo County farmers getting into a safer surer business. Remember this — We are making about one fourth of the cotton in 1950 that we made in 1949 and about one fifth of what we made in 1947.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

The war in Korea has caused President Truman and the Congress to decrease Federal funds for many services the Federal Government is rendering to the various states of the Nation. The welfare department in Mississippi is feeling the effect of these restrictions along with other institutions in the state. Last year the Lower House of Congress passed almost unanimously a bill that would have given the welfare program of Mississippi approximately $2,000,000.00 more than heretofore. The bill did not come up or final passage in the United States Senate until the welfare program was taken out of the House Bill. Our Legislature had already adjourned and there was no way for the state at that time to help take care of this situation.

STATE SHOWS BIG INCREASE OF GAS IN HEATING HOMES

The number of Mississippi homes equipped with gas heat increased by 5,642 during the past year, a report by the state's utility firms points out.

About 5,769 more homes will get gas heat in the next year if heating materials continue to be available by the end of 1951, the report continues. This increase of 13 per cent in homes with gas heating over the two-year period is the result of rapid expansion of natural gas pipelines on which $22,851,000 has been spent in the state since 1946.

Pipeline and storage facilities, authorized by the Federal Power Commission in Mississippi and adjoining states since V-J Day, have brought natural gas into Mississippi in such greatly increased volume that many more thousands of homes and major industries now have the advantage of the low-cost fuel. Many large and small communities have been aided, including Jackson, according to W. Paul Jones, president of Servel, Inc., the nation's leading gas equipment and appliance manufacturer.

This new natural gas construction is part of a nationwide expansion program, in the course of which the gas utility industry has spent three billion dollars since August, 1945. There now are almost 300,000 miles of pipeline in service in the United States, delivering energy for manufacturing and household uses at an annual rate exceeding four thousand billion cubic feet.

CONSERVATION SPORTS

By L. C. Moser

How many deer do we have in the preserve? That is the 64 dollar question that all sportsmen will want to ask. It cannot be answered in a direct manner except by guess. Deer tracks can be seen at any time, at certain places within the preserve. One cannot enter the preserve at random and find tracks. The ground is covered with leaves and deer leave very little sign recognizable except by expert woodmen. Most signs are found at the planting of peas, corn fescue and turnips within the area. The most accurate information on the rate of increase each year is to observe tracks made by the young. I think we have well over 100 deer in the preserve, possibly 130. Estimates made by those who have made studies within the area range from 100 to 190. With proper protection by all interested persons we should increase rapidly now to above the 1000 mark. That should take 4 to 6 years. It will then probably be time to harvest some bucks. That is the time we are looking forward to. Who said we could not raise deer in Tishomingo County?

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) officially opened its 1950 harvest appeal to rural Americans to help underprivileged and hungry people overseas with relief in kind by dedicating an entire shipload of foodstuffs on United Nations Day in Chicago. The cargo was made up of advance contributions from 17 states where CROP this year operates and government surplus of powdered eggs and dried milk. Participating in the colorful ceremony were DP children seen above in Ukrainian national costumes who sang "America" in English and in the Ukrainian tongue. Some of the government surplus is seen in the inset during loading ceremonies flanked by Walter Parr (left) and Carl Koy (right), CROP's Regional Field Directors.

FRIENDSHIP FOOD SHIP

Chicago.—From the farms of America, the flow of food directed by the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) to feed the needy in Europe and Asia is gaining volume for the fourth season of CROP activity.

How the sharing of food by individual farmers with the world's needs amounts to a substantial total has been demonstrated by CROP in its first three years. More than 3,550 freight carloads of various foods have been collected, sent abroad and distributed through the three parent agencies: Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief. This year they are aiming at 1,350 carloads.

The central ideas of CROP's program are that food in kind sent by bona fide farmers is a lot better than many and (2) that the spirit of Christian good will is essential in a gift, even in such practical items as corn and beans.

These principals were emphasized when CROP ceremonies started a Friendship Food Ship from Chicago on United Nations Day, October 24. Aboard the freighter were quantities of food symbolizing the carloads soon to move from farm centers to seaport, and dried eggs and powdered milk contributed from government surplus stocks. Children in the costumes of their parent lands brightened the scene and a band provided by the courtesy of the Chicago Federation of Musicians played the National Anthem.

"Man does not live by bread alone, but by a combination of bread and the divine spirit which CROP exemplifies," said the speaker of the day, Dr. Raymond W. Miller, Consultant of The Food and Agriculture Organization of United Nations. Recently returned from trips to Europe and Asia for FAO, Dr. Miller told of seeing the result of a small planting of hybrid seed corn provided by

WORK ON STATE HIGH- WAY TO BEGIN

Tupelo.—Construction work was scheduled to be started on State Highway No. 256 in Tishomingo County this week, Highway Commissioner Roy Adams advised here Saturday.

More Money In Dairying Say Experts

Dairying is still an undeveloped farm enterprise in Mississippi except in a few areas. Consider our last year's income of million dollars for Mississippi and Wisconsin's income of 485 million dollars.

Another thing to consider is figures from the Bureau of Agriculture Economics will show the sale of one gallon of milk per day from a cow for the year is equal to one bale of cotton. This is an average of the forty years. That is not or the fertilizer. One cow drop around twelve tons of fertilizer in one year and that to be considered. Our soil fertility is the most important to every farmer.

Dairying means increased fertility, steady income, income, regular employment and a better farm family.

That is saying a lot but ask the man who has been in dairying for a few years and he will tell you that milk and cream checks have helped him by the tight times.

Figures kept on farms all over Mississippi show that the dairymen, or farms that have cows and grem some co- along with their dairy business had higher average income straight cotton or one crop.

The dairy business fits naturally into our small farm section of Tishomingo County. The weevil started Mississippi the dairy business in a small in 1916 but we haven't made progress. The additional here is here if we want it the dairy business.

PEASERS WARNED OF WINTER'S DANGERS

A grim warning was given Mississippi's drivers today in a statement by Chief L. C. Hicks of the Mississippi Highway Patrol. "Winter—and all the dangers it brings to drivers—it with gain. Indications of what have in store for us this winter will soon be felt. We can't see the obvious much longer!" Chief L. C. Hicks cited two

BAKE YOUR THANKSGIVING FRUIT CAKE NOW

It may sound a little premature to talk about Thanksgiving, but now is the time to make your Thanksgiving Fruit Cake. Then it will be just right for the holiday, says Winifred S. Carter, who directs Procter & Gamble's Household Information Service. In fact, she recommends you make extras, to keep for Christmas gifts.

Here are Mrs. Carter's general tips on making fruit cake:

CARE OF FRUIT
Wash all dried fruit, preferably in warm water.
"Plumb" it in colander over steam bath.

To increase sugar content, let stand overnight in sugar syrup, fruit juice, or wine. (See recipes below). This improves keeping quality and tenderness of fruit. Dry or hard candied fruits may be softened in the same manner.

One-half cup sugar and one cup water will make sufficient syrup for two pounds of fruit.

Use ½ cup fruit juice or wine to each pound of dried fruit.

Recipe for four 2-pound cakes:
1 pound seeded raisins
½ pound figs or pitted dates
½ pound dried apricots
½ pound prunes

Wash, drain and chop fruit into small pieces.

½ pound chopped citron
½ pound diced candied orange

½ pound coarsely cut candied pineapple

½ pound whole candied cherries

1 cup fruit juice or sherry

Add and mix well. Let stand overnight in covered container.

1 cup Crisco

1 cup light brown sugar

6 eggs

2 cups sifted flour

1 teaspoon salt

1½ teaspoons cinnamon

½ teaspoon mace

½ teaspoon allspice

1 cup blanched almonds (¼ lb.)

Cream Crisco and sugar by hand or mixer (medium speed). Add eggs one at a time beating after each addition. Add sifted dry ingredients. Stir fruit mixture and almonds into Crisco batter. Blend thoroughly.

Line three 9"x4"x3" pans with heavy waxed paper, or two layers of thin waxed paper. Fill pans with batter to desired height as there will be little increase in size during baking. Decorate top with cherries, almonds and pineapple bits.

Bake in a slow oven (270°F) for about 2½ hours for a 2-pound cake, longer for larger cakes. Allow to stand in pans until cool.

STORAGE

Thanksgiving fruit cake can be stored (unwrapped) in a ventilated can. If you keep the cake for a longer period of time, wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil and store it in a covered container. A slice of raw apple placed in with the cake improves its flavor and moistness.

cited in these figures match perfectly with Mississippi's run-of-the-mill winter weather forecasts.

Chief Hicks warns motorists to check the safety equipment to their cars NOW—before winter settles down with a real vengeance. Particular emphasis was laid on the following mechanical features and equipment necessary for safe winter driving:

1. Equalized brakes.
2. Good tires.
3. Tire chains.
4. Bright, well aimed lights.
5. Degreaser.
6. Heater.

Although the hazards of winter driving should not be minimized, Chief Hicks said, a deadpan fatalism on the part of drivers does not help the situation.

"It pays to be a little scared of winter driving," he said, "but the only real solution to keeping safe during these months lies in foresighted, shrewd preparation for the conditions to be encountered, and in driving slowly . . . and cautiously!"

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

By Paul Keller

Hog Killing

For the best tasting pork, as well as safeguarding this valuable product, use the best method for killing, curing and storing. Hog killing time is after a frost, with the temperature between 35 and 40 degrees. Those using curing plants can butcher any time of the year, but it is important to take the carcasses to the plant promptly.

Select for killing, fast growing animals which weigh between 200 and 250 pounds.

Never excite an animal just before slaughter. It is best not to shoot or stun hogs. Get a good stick with a six-inch knife so that the animal will bleed hurriedly and thoroughly.

For barrel scalding, three buckets of hot water and one of cold water will give the right temperature. Too hot water sets the hair.

When the animal is thoroughly clean, hang up the carcass and split it into halves. Life out the blanket of internal leaf fat for quicker chilling.

Hot carcasses are difficult to cut, but the animal may be cut while still hot. But do not stack hot meat, spread it out to chill.

One who can successfully cure meat should not change his method. Remember, the line between "salty enough" and too salty is a thin one.

With the dry cure method, use one and one-half ounces of cure to each pound of meat of ham and shoulders. This is about 6 to 8 pounds of mixture per 100 pounds of meat.

Commercial curing compounds are satisfactory.

To make a curing mixture use eight pounds of salt, one pound of sugar and three ounces of saltpeter. Apply this 8-1-3 at the rate of one and one-fourth ounces per pound of meat.

Time for curing is two days for each pound of meat. Six weeks is usually long enough for the least number of days is

See the county agent for additional information about making sausage, smoking meat or rendering.

THE SEVEN L's

Do you know the "Seven L's of Conservation Farming?" As listed by the Montgomery, Tennessee, Soil Conservation District, they are:

Land Use
Liming and fertilizing
Legumes and grasses
Longer rotations
Level farming
Livestock and crop enterprise
Living conditions, improved as a result of reliance upon the first six L's.

"Crooked farming" is on the level—if the crooked rows are the contour.

The soil is the foundation of the farm family's living. How well it yields will depend on how well you treat it.

Oregon's Governor Salutes Champion Jersey

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—Opal Crystal Lady, a registered Jersey and Oregon's most famous cow, receives official congratulations from Governor Douglas McKay of Oregon upon completion of Lady's record breaking production stint. Holding Lady's halter is her young owner, Ralph E. Cope, Jr., of Langlois, while Ralph's mother, Mrs. Cope, beams approval. Governor McKay watched Lady finish her 365 day official test to set a national butterfat record over all breeds.

Lady is the only cow of any breed in this country to have made three successive yearly records of over one thousand pounds butterfat each on twice daily milking. This is a feat equivalent to a baseball player clouting sixty home runs a year for three successive years. During the year's test which has been verified by the home office of The American Jersey Cattle Club in Columbus, Lady produced 23,725 pounds of milk and 1,237 pounds of butterfat. This is more milk and more butterfat than any other Jersey in the country has ever produced in a single year, and more butterfat than any cow of any breed has ever produced on twice daily milking.

YOUR STATE HEALTH OFFICER SAYS:

Before we conclude our discussion of environmental sanitation, a major issue with the Health Resources Office as it plans for use of the nation's health resources during war time, we should, I believe, give consideration to the housing situation—its effect on sanitation and health in general.

Mississippi is still a rural state with the old problem of far too many people often living in a tenant house or cabin, but the exodus of many citizens to urban areas has created in recent years another housing problem. The small, as well as the larger, towns often find themselves with too many people living in a given area. This congestion of houses and people increases the need for sanitation. If care is not taken in the proper disposal of all wastes, rodents and insects will readily invade the crowded area and wreak damage amounting to millions of dollars, as well as cause various illnesses.

Spread of contagious diseases is much likelier in crowded housing areas and crowded dwellings, and the danger of accident is increased. Healthful recreational facilities for children are usually at a minimum in such areas; thus the child's immediate and future health are both affected.

Housing always plays a vital role in our mental or emotional health. People in overcrowded houses and neighborhoods have little opportunity for privacy; and rare is the individual who can achieve emotional health without some privacy. Those who must work and shop in the noise and confusion of busy streets welcome the quiet and calm of the home. Today, however, the housing problem often makes that quiet and calm hard to achieve. Crowded conditions become productive of short tempers, nervousness, and general dissatisfaction.

These conditions can, however, be improved. Dangers to physical health can to a great extent be controlled through individual als' and communities' wholehearted cooperation with policies of local health departments for approved sanitation and through home owners' provision for adequate space in each house. Dangers to emotional health can be partially removed through improved planning of neighborhoods and of individual dwellings. Probably the most effective preventive measure for emotional illnesses caused by unsatisfactory housing is plain, everyday consideration for those people who live with us and for those who live near us.

Even in the modern age, when housing problems are the rule rather than the exception, housing can be physically and emotionally healthful. Let's see that the Health Resources Office finds us working toward healthful housing conditions in our state.

Tree Crops supply Today's Lumber

During the past generation, the forest economy of the nation has been emerging gradually from one supplied by virgin forests to one of reliance upon growing timber as a crop.

Record Lumber Year In Sight

It is estimated that the production of lumber in the United States in 1950 will be 38 billion board feet—the highest production in 25 years.

Private Citizens Are Big Timber Owners

There are over 4,225,000 individual private owners of commercial forest lands in the United States, owning approximately 345 million acres.

The soil is the foundation of the farm family's living. How well it yields will depend on how well you treat it.

Interflowing Life

Lesson for November 12, 1950

AN AUSTRALIAN minister once remarked: "If ever a church could be found whose members treated one another better than people treat one another on the outside, the world would flock to its doors." In that exaggerated remark there is a pointed truth. As a matter of fact, that was the case in the early church and the world did flock to its doors. From six score people that church grew to 5,000 in no time, and in less than three centuries it was the religion of a world-empire.

This Scrambling World

ON THE "outside" what is the rule? David Harum put it in a nutshell: "Do unto your neighbor what he would like to do to you." "Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." "Every man has his price." "Look out for Number 1." "Blessed is he that tooteth his own horn, for he that tooteth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooted."

People get tired of living in a world like that. Something tells them that the everlasting scramble is not the way to live, there must be a better way. Suppose they could look down the street and see that better way actually being put into practice by a little community of people?

They ought to be able to see it wherever there is a Christian church. But—is the average church that kind of community? Do the members treat one another (on Mondays, that is) with more understanding, consideration and affection than the local atheists or Non-ingarians show toward one another? Indeed, is there anything whatever that seems to link these First What-is Church people together with a common bond?

Making Fellowship Real

IN A large city there will be a page or more of Smiths in the telephone directory. These all have the same name, but most of them don't know one another and don't care. Too often it is this way with Christians even in the same congregation. They all bear the same name, but that is about all. What they ought to have is fellowship. This is not a mere word. It can be a real thing. It is like a two-way blood transfusion, in the realm of personality. It is interflow of life. It can be the source of the Christian's finest growth and service. Musicians develop musically through sharing with other musicians. Every "Future Farmer of America" is going to be a better and more enthusiastic farmer through his association with the F.F.A.

So our Christian faith and life are kept glowing and growing through the fellowship of like-minded persons. One thing your Sunday school class, and indeed the whole congregation, may well consider seriously, even adopting it as your Project for the Year is this: What can we do to make fellowship more real in our church?

Wider Horizons

CHRISTIAN fellowship needs not only to be enriched; it needs to be enlarged. In a town or section where denominational lines run sharply across the population, there is too much cross-fire. Such a community has a hard time being a community. Many a denomination has been afflicted with the disease of pride. Loyalty to one's own denomination too easily replaces loyalty to the kingdom of God.

Whatever be your own church connection, there are unnumbered true Christians outside the bounds of your church. Do you know them? Do you worship with them from time to time? Do you encourage visitors from other churches? Not only in other denominations but across lines of race and color you can find a thrill in coming close to Christians who may even be much better Christians than yourself.

Young people in your church may be interested in a new organization which is interested in bringing together the thinking of young people in every land. Young Christians can bring to such a project the insight and the spirit of Christian Faith, and learn to know young Christians in other lands than ours. "Youth of All Nations" at 16 St. Luke's Place, New York 14, N. Y. serves as a clearing-house for the exchange of letters and will be glad to hear from you.
