

LOCAL AND SOUTHERN BAPTIST REVIVAL BEGINS

Hi-Lites and Topics
By Bob Towery

When that boy from the old town makes the BIG LEAGUE, those who know him well are pulling for him with all of their might while he is plying the horsehide all over the field. If he makes an error, or messes out just say with all of his sports, "well it's all in the end and our boy will hit next year."

It is with politics. They are not all perfect, just like the big leaguers, they make occasional miscues, but they're not to hit next time so as to commit two in a row if they can. We have in mind, our county boy, Roy Adams, who has gone to the big league. Roy is doing his best and will continue to do so long as he is a high way comrade. He is our friend and our boy who has made good the state as one of the top of the class. He has not yet made the announcement that he will be a candidate for re-election, but we are sure he will have his back in the ring before very long.

The annals of Iuka history have something to say about George W. Stricklin in 1901, as it was at his home that the first natural gas well in the town of Iuka was made on Monday, March 19, 1901.

For those who have not signed up for gas connections you can go to by contacting a member of the 20th Century Club or the Rushing Drug Store. The print calls for a limited number of connections and you want to miss getting this gas now as the cost to have later would be prohibitive for many people later on.

When the people in Washington, D. C. were somewhat disturbed by the fact that President Truman picked out the "old burning hole" at Key West, Fla., and took sun baths on sand instead of going to the beach to catch up with his religion. But he didn't mind, because he had to go.

Iuka will not be without its share this summer, thanks to the Lions Club, who will sponsor a group of Florence Teachers College ball players. The team will be known as the Iuka Chiefs just as it was last year.

Woodwin, the hard hitting pitcher for the college, will manage the team, with four other stars to round out the team. Manager Goodwin states that Roy Gassier, who so abounded for the "Chiefs" last year, will be added to his team, and possibly Cox, a former Florence Raider, and Rutledge, if he does not go into professional ball this year.

The collegiate "Chiefs" will have a practice game here Sunday, March 25th, with Central, Tenn. All baseball fans are urged to come out and see the Iuka Chiefs, who will play a good brand of ball year locally and a team Iuka people can justly be proud of when they play other teams over the country. The team is composed of boys of character and they will give a good showing for Iuka.

As we hate to disappoint you, but we must report that the Easter Egg hunt, scheduled for Mineral Springs Park, has been cancelled due to wet roads. The Lions Club members said it was just too wet, but are working on something for you a little later on. This column for the announcement.

MRS. MARY D. CAIN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Mrs. Mary D. Cain, editor-publisher of The Summit, Miss., Sun, announced this week her intention to qualify with Secretary of State Heber Ladner and enter the gubernatorial contest on a platform of reduced state taxation and a return to basic concepts of Americanism.

"I have until June 8 to qualify," said Mrs. Cain, "but I intend to do so just as soon as I have my platform established in plain, unmistakable English. I promise but one thing; there will not be one word of political expediency in it. There will be only the path I would wish us to follow if I am elected. I approach this ordeal with humble heart, knowing all my many limitations and handicaps. But one thing I know; I bring to it the utmost sincerity and a desire to serve my state honestly, honorably and with all the wisdom and intelligence God will permit me. . . . I ask for your prayers and your help, if you can conscientiously give it—not your money. I want to be under obligation to no man if God sees fit to permit me this high office. Political pressure has been the undoing of this nation."

Mrs. Cain is the daughter of Mrs. C. G. Dawson of Summit and the late Charles Goodrich Dawson, bridge foreman for the ICRR Co. She whimsically explains that she is a native of Louisiana "by accident," as her parents had a home in McComb, Miss., but her mother was on the camp cars with her father the night she arrived—and the camp cars happened to move to Louisiana!

She is the wife of John L. Cain of Summit, owner of Cain Service Station, and they have been married for twenty-six years. Mrs. Cain is 46 years of age.

A graduate of Pike County Agricultural High School (now Southwest Junior College), Summit, and of Hillman College, Clinton, Mrs. Cain also had special work in Journalism at Louisiana State University.

For eighteen months she edited the Summit Sentinel, owned by the Bonney family, then began, "from scratch," as she puts it, the Summit Sun. She began publication of the SUN in April 1936.

Mrs. Cain served for two years as president of the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women, was founder and served for two years as president of the Mississippi Federation of Press Women, and for a like period as Regional Vice-Chairman of the National Federation of Press Women. She organized the Summit PTA and was instrumental in seeing that the Summit Rotary Club was organized. She is a Jeffersonian States-Right Democrat and will tolerate no abbreviation of the title to "Dixiecrat." She insists the States-Rights movement is national in scope and is not confined to the South.

"I stand for what Jefferson did," she said, "a wise and frugal government" . . . the right of labor to enjoy the bread it has earned."

She is a member of the Baptist Church and Edith Chapter No. 87, Order of the Eastern Star, where she is currently serving as Esther.

She is the first woman ever to aspire to the Governor's chair. Chevrolet dealers have placed more than 3,000 dual-controlled cars at the disposal of high school driver training courses.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 37th SENATORIAL DISTRICT

In announcing for Re-election to the Office of State Senate from this District, I wish first to thank you for the splendid vote given me four years ago which allowed me to serve in this capacity.

As Senator from this District I tried to support measures which were best for you and fought other measures which I did not think the people or the great majority of the people in this district would care to see enacted into law.

My platform in this campaign will be discussed during the speaking dates this summer, however, I promised if elected to devote my time and energy for the next four years in trying to help the people of the 37th Senatorial District and the State of Mississippi.

Again thanking you for the splendid vote given me four years ago and I sincerely hope that you will see fit to vote for me for re-election at the coming primary in August, for which I shall be ever grateful.

McPeters representatives were in charge.

Grady Cook for Lieut.-Governor

Grady Cook, Pontotoc business man and former State Senator, announces his candidacy for Lieutenant-Governor on a platform of tax relief and rigid economy in state government. He was a candidate for the office four years ago and ran second.

He has long been a strong advocate and worker for better rural life in Mississippi, particularly improved rural roads; is an ardent conservationist.

He remained overseas until his discharge from the Navy in May 1946. Two months later William enlisted in the Naval Air Reserve and reported aboard the Memphis Naval Air Reserve Training Unit as a stationkeeper.

Since that time he worked as a yeoman in the Personnel Office and the Public Information Office. When FasRon 795 was called to active duty William volunteered for duty with that squadron. PROCLAMATION

Whereas, Cancer last year claimed the lives of 1909 persons in this State and more than 200,000 in the Nation;

Whereas, Medical authorities estimate that half of those who develop cancer should be saved today by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment;

Whereas, The fate of millions now living who will have cancer depends on the work of a few hundred research scientists;

Whereas, High minded volunteers led by the American Cancer Society seek to spread information and to raise funds for research, education and service;

Whereas, The American Cancer Society declares that knowledge of the cancer danger signals and of the value of periodic physical examinations may save thousands of lives;

Therefore, I, Fielding L. Wright, Governor of the State of Mississippi, do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1951, as CANCER CONTROL MONTH and I ask the people of Mississippi to learn facts about cancer for their own protection and to rally for the good of all of us in support of the 1951 Cancer Crusade.

In Testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Mississippi to be affixed, this 27th day of February, 1951.

Fielding L. Wright

By Paul Keller

The Red Cross is YOUR way to do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

No one knows what tomorrow will bring. Last year the storm hit at Paden. Just thirty-eight years ago, the older folks remember, that the town of Tishomingo was almost destroyed by storm. The National Red Cross spent a lot more in Tishomingo County last year than we ever pay in.

We never know, we live in a time of peril. We never know what new and greater emergencies we will have to face.

The Red Cross is always ready to help, in war, in peace, in times of disaster.

The Red Cross has taken on the job of collecting all blood for the hospitals and the Armed Forces. That is one of hundreds of jobs the Red Cross does. If

State College, Miss.—Mississippi churches are to be recognized for outstanding community service. The Mississippi Christian Community Fellowship has announced plans for recognition of churches as a feature of Farm and Home Week to be held at Mississippi State College, July 16-20. Miss Shiela Nuttall of Yazoo City, deaconess of Mississippi conferences doing rural work, is chairman of the fellowship committee on church recognition.

The committee states that "recognition will be accorded churches irrespective of size and denomination, which render outstanding community services."

This service may take the form of recreation sponsorship, beautification, cooperation with other community agencies such as Scouts, Red Cross, schools, etc., improvement of religious, financial and music programs.

"Every effort will be made to locate churches which are due recognition," stated the committee. The public is urged to secure nomination blanks directly from the Division of Sociology and Rural Life, Box 866, State College. These nominations will be turned over to the recognition committee for selection of outstanding churches which will receive a citation of merit at the Farm and Home Week program.

All nominations should be made by June 15, according to Professor Dorris W. Rivers of the Division of Sociology and Rural Life at Mississippi State College.

CARD OF THANKS

Friends, words cannot express out thanks to you, for help in so many ways during the trying hours we have just gone through in the death of our loved one (Miss) Edith Hellsms. If it had not been for God's help through friends like you, we could not have borne our sorrow.

Especially do we thank every one for the very beautiful floral offering, and the many comforting words spoken in the funeral by Bro. W. C. Hamilton, Bro. Albert Hamilton and Bro. J. A. Blunt, Jr. May God's richest blessings ever be yours, and when such hours of sorrow come your way, may He comfort and uphold you.

Last week, March 14 and 15, a great meeting of Missionary Baptist comprising the North American Baptist Association, was held at the Civic Center in Laurel, Mississippi. There was an estimated attendance of one thousand to fourteen hundred churches represented by messengers and letters. A great spirit of harmony and cooperation existed throughout the meeting. The opening message, which was delivered by Dr. D. N. Jackson, was a great inspiration to all attending and resulted in some old time shouting of praises to God.

Among those representing from this area were Eld. Buford Harper, Pastor of Forked Oak, Jackson Camp and Sardis; from Mt. Glory were Mr. Thaddeus Keith, Jim Underwood, and Edward Quinn, along with their Pastor, Eld. Z. T. Rankin, who is also pastor of Mt. Gilead church, and was endorsed as Foreign Missionary to Japan during the meeting. Gerald McNutt from Mt. Joy Church, who has recently surrendered to preach, and Mr. Bill Wilemon from Rowland Mills church, also attended the meeting.

The North American Baptist Association will convene one year from this date in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS HOLD BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

The Tishomingo County Grammar School basketball tournament held at Belmont, March 13-17, furnished plenty of excitement for many red blooded fans. The most exciting finish was staged by the Iuka light-weight boys who came from behind to defeat the Belmont light-weight boys 23-22. A basket in the last 10 seconds gave Iuka the lead for the first time during the ball game. First quarter score was Belmont 4—Iuka 0, half time score Belmont 13—Iuka 4, third period score Belmont 16—Iuka 14, finals Iuka 23—Belmont 22. Iuka progressed to the finals by defeating Central 37-26, a forfeit by Rolling Mills, defeated South Tishomingo 40-18. Belmont, the sentimental favorite, progressed to the finals by defeating Midway 32-8, Burnsville 47-20, Dennis 25-200.

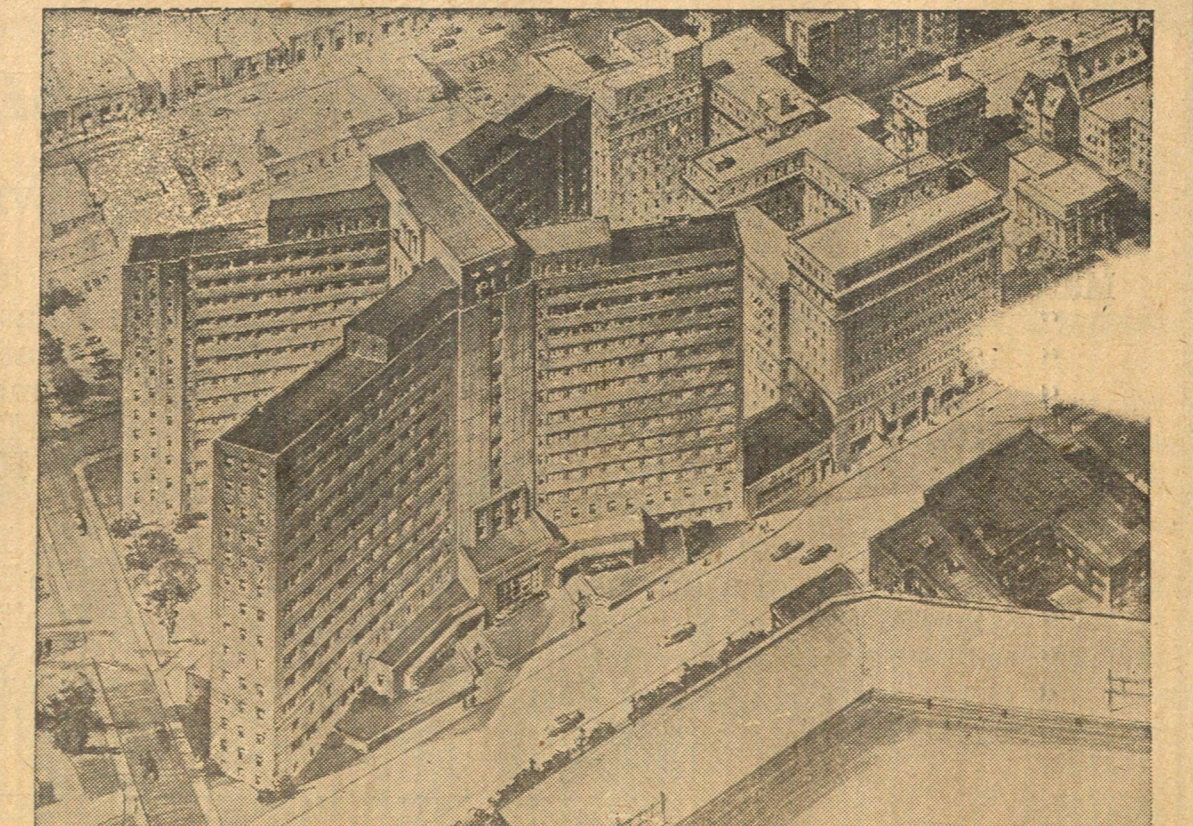

Central's scraping sextet won the girls title by defeating Iuka 36-14, Rolling Mills 29-10, Paden 34-31 and Dennis 40-24. Dennis progressed to the finals by defeating Holcut 27-18, Golden 24-16, Belmont 25-18. Paden girls, the pre-tournament favorite, lost to Central in the semi-finals.

Central looked like a high school team as they rolled through with ease defeating Iuka 63-33, Rolling Mills 88-16, Pleasant Ridge 50-28 and Tishomingo 60-23. Tishomingo progressed by defeating Burnsville 50-25, Holcut 32-21 and Dennis 37-25.

God Invented Us

Lesson for April 1, 1951

"GOD INVENTED it," says C. S. Lewis about the universe. It is a 20th-century way of saying what the Bible says about God and the world. There have been whole religions based on the idea that God is good and spirit is good, but anything which is not God or not spirit is bad. If this were true, then our bodies would be bad, and all the physical world about us would be bad; our souls would be prisoners, so to speak, in a vast fortress of evil.

This is not the truth the Bible tells. The story of Creation in Genesis tells us that when God had finished with making the world he saw that it was good, very good. He invented the world, he invented spirit and matter both, he invented us body and soul. Whatever evil is now in the world and in man did not come from God, it is not a mistake of God's. The world, as God invented it and intends it, is good.

The World Did Not Happen

THE Christian church has changed some of its ideas about creation, but it has never ceased to believe in creation. Very few churches, if any, now affirm that the world was created in precisely six 24-hour days, and still fewer would be willing to name the dates on which creation took place.

Nevertheless the Christian church has not given up, and will not give up, her belief that God created all things. The doctrine of creation means, first of all, that the one God willed the universe and what is in it.

The universe did not happen, it did not make itself. It was not made by different gods working against one another. Zoroastrianism, for instance, teaches that the world was made by two gods, one of light and one of darkness. Whatever the god of light created, the god of darkness would make something exactly opposite. No, Jews and Christians alike say, there is only one Creator, the infinitely wise and good God.

Nature's Laws

NON-RELIGIOUS philosophers have sometimes said that the world explains itself. But Christian philosophers, not to mention Jewish ones as well, have seen that the world does not explain itself. There is too much evidence of purpose and design running through the patterns of the universe. Definite laws can be discovered and to some degree understood.

The same laws which govern matter on this planet, and indeed the very same elements, the "building-blocks of the universe," are to be discovered in the remotest stars. If the universe were an accident it would not be tied together as it is.

It would not be a universe of law but one in which nothing could be counted on, nothing expected. It would be no universe but a multi-verse, a mad world, indeed no world at all but an infinite confusion.

Why Are We Here?

BUT CREATION means something more personal. It means that we ourselves have been called into existence by the Almighty,—not by a god of mere sheer power, but by the one God of infinite and all-powerful Love. Man is not here on this planet by some trick of blind fate, mankind is not a mere fleck of foam tossed up by the restless ocean of the Infinite, soon to be washed away in the ebbing tides. Man—that means also, we ourselves—are God's invention.

We are not now as he intended us, to be sure; sin has changed the picture sadly, as we shall be thinking next week.

Why are we here? We are here because God put us here. This means that life has a meaning; but also that we cannot find that meaning without knowing the will of God. His will is for our welfare; only the Creator knows what is best for his creatures. God intended this world to be used by us, not abused.

When any man or group of men get the notion that this world belongs to them alone; or when one generation misuses the resources of the lands and the waters, leaving to their descendants a wasted earth, then God's will in creation is being defied. But when we take his will as life's guide, we are on the way to fulfilling his purpose in Creation.

A Chevrolet truck engine was found in operating condition recently after eight and one-half years at the bottom of the Darwin, Australia, harbor. The truck was recovered from the wreck of a United States transport sunk during the war. The salvage company reported only a replacement of spark plug wiring was necessary to put the engine in shape.

SPRING CHECK-UP

Spring cleaning for your car is as important as spring house-cleaning, and a "must" if you want continued good performance from your motor vehicle, says E. L. Harrig, manager of the service department, Chevrolet Motor Division.

"Furthermore, spring is an ideal time to have your car inspected for safety factors," said Harrig. "In many states such a safety check is mandatory. Motorists everywhere should make certain that a defect in their car's mechanism will not be the cause of an accident."

The annual safety campaign of the National Safety Council is to be conducted in May, and Chevrolet dealers throughout the country are being asked to co-operate in this drive.

Some of the points to be considered in the spring check-up are:

The body and chassis must be cleaned thoroughly to eliminate results of winter's rigors. Wash the outside thoroughly, above and underneath, to remove deposits left by winter driving. Clean inside, preferably with vacuum cleaner.

Flush and refill the cooling system.

Lubricate all chassis and body points and change crankcase oil if mileage indicate this is necessary. Consult Chevrolet dealer or Owner's Manual for proper grade of oil and lubricants.

Check condition of rear axle and transmission lubricants, and change if necessary.

Examine tires for cuts, bruises or worn spots; cross change if driven more than 3,000 miles since last change.

Inspect entire electrical system for loose connections, oil-soaked wires, corroded battery terminals.

For Safety's sake: Check steering, mechanism, brakes, lights, windshield-wipers.

Thurn Bell Telephone & Graph Company's rural expansion program in Mississippi is in full swing following devastating February ice
 according to state manager
 E. Harris, who stated that company has approximately 100 projects planned for 1951. "If our projects in Mississippi are such that the necessary new capital these will be completed as scheduled," stated Harris, "unless this work is stopped by essential activities that could be impossible to obtain materials necessary to this work."
 Harris will complete three new projects during the next month, Mr. Harris said. He listed them as follows:
 1. New dial telephone
 unit in Yazoo County, Mississippi, completed about mid-March. This will serve some 120 customers in the area of Weir and along lines to the French Camp
 and adjacent areas.
 2. Project was scheduled for completion in mid-February but deferred because of the ice.
 This entire project will serve about 350 customers in southeastern Yazoo County and will be in continuation of the expansion of rural telephone service to all of Yazoo County east of the Yazoo River. This will be similar to the Benton completed in Yazoo County just prior to the February ice storm.

 West, in Holmes County, will have a new exchange installed within the next three months to serve some 75 customers in West and the surrounding area.
 "These three installations are a part of the 100 rural projects

FUNK'S G-711 IS THE BEST TWO EAR YELLOW PROLIFIC HYBRID EVER DEVELOPED FOR TISHOMINGO COUNTY.

Connell & Company's Manager, Mr. Harris Barnes, Jr., says: "Funk's G-711 is one of the best yellow corns we have grown, fine yield, little lodging, and keeps well in the crib. We won first prize in the three acre contest in Coahoma County with 126.9 bu. per acre with Funk's G-711." FUNK'S G-711 IS FAST BECOMING THE LEADING YELLOW HYBRID for North Mississippi. It cannot be beat for feeding value or for high yielding ability. Farmers who grow corn for livestock feed will want to plant this two eared yellow dent hybrid in 1951. It has large ears with extra long grain and good keeping qualities. Many farmers who use mechanical corn pickers are planting their entire acreage to Funk's G-711 because its large ears, short strong stalks and turned down ears make it ideal for their needs. When buying your seed corn, demand Funk's "G" 711, the Hybrid with the large yellow grain.

PLANT FUNK'S G-780W FOR TOP YIELDS OF WHITE CORN IN TISHOMINGO. If you are still looking for a better. In fact this hybrid has been nicknamed the Mosby Hybrid because it is part Mosby, looks a lot like Mosby, and so well liked by farmers who have planted Mosby Prolific. This new Funk's "G" 780W is a true white corn with long white grain, and a very small cob, and is excellent milling corn.

FUNK'S G-50 IS REVOLUTIONIZING THE CORN HOGGING OFF PROGRAM IN MISSISSIPPI. G-50 planted at the same time as your regular corn will mature two to three weeks earlier. The quick maturity and high yields on G-50 make it possible to start hogs in the corn field in June so that hogs can be marketed before the September price decline. G-50 IS ALSO EXCELLENT FOR EARLY ROASTING EARS OR EARLY FEED CORN.

IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY IN MISSISSIPPI

"Ready for those Steers, Today?"

"By depriving us of our service for a time," a Mississippi subscriber said recently, "the ice-storm taught us to appreciate some things about our rural telephone which we had begun to take for granted."

"It's our best means of keeping in touch with our markets," he continued, "so we can always know the value of things we sell or buy. We rely on our telephone to save time when things go wrong with animals or machines—or when sickness or injury befalls one of us and makes time so important."

Just like this rural subscriber, thousands of other Mississippians have come to realize the advantages of rural telephone service during the past five years as Southern Bell has been expanding its rural service in Mississippi from a total of 8,335 subscribers on January 1, 1946 to a total of 34,235 rural subscribers on January 1 of this year. That's an increase of 311 per cent!

This big job cost Southern Bell more than 7½ million dollars—not counting the cost of recent storm damage—but realizing the potential help of additional rural service in the present emergency, we will continue to expand and improve our plant in Mississippi as fast as conditions permit.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

Springtime is traditionally re-decorating time at our house and we're in the midst of the job right now. Because we wanted to do a really professional job I talked to Mr. Hayes Quinn, the color consultant for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. He gave me complete instructions for correctly re-painting a room.

Because so many of you will also be re-decorating, I thought you'd be interested in these suggestions. First—according to Mr. Quinn—comes the preparation of the walls. Upon this operation depends the success of the paint job. Before starting to paint, wash or scrape off all calcimine, loose paint, grease and dirt. Fill all cracks with patching plaster and sand to a smooth surface. Touch up patched spots with first coat. Even though no spots or cracks need patching, wash the surface thoroughly.

Mr. Quinn explained that the application of paint on interior plaster surfaces has become increasingly difficult, because of such things as a tendency to rush painting on damp walls. That's why these preparatory steps are doubly important. He mentioned, too, that it is not wise to use varnish sealing coats, because they may cause trouble for later painting work.

One of the most important steps, he emphasized, is to read the directions on the label. By following these instructions, you are assured of a better paint job.

We are following this expert advice carefully and are mighty pleased with the results. Oil base wall paints and primers certainly gave a professional look to our rooms . . . and we're going to decorate the "right" way from now on!

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

planting time will soon be here. We have learned a lot about corn production during the past five years.

In the past two years we had almost 1,000 men and women in Tishomingo County who planted the 100-Bushel per acre corn and about 160 each year exceeded the 100-Bushel mark. We think we had more than that last year but so many farmers did not check the corn on their prize patch because the storm had blown the corn down so badly it was difficult to check.

We hope that every farmer will use the information he has produced corn economically. There is every reason to make a good yield. The most important reason is that it costs less per bushel to make a good yield per acre. This leaves more acres for hay and pasture and livestock production.

The best corn yields are obtained when planted on well drained bottom land, second bottom or valley lands or when planted on good uplands with all level slopes.

Break and cultivate land before corn is planted. That is the best time to cultivate corn.

Rows 36 to 40 inches wide, spaced with 4 to 6 hole plate and not thinned leaving 12 to 15 inches in the drill.

Use 500 pounds or more of 5-6-8-3 or some good fertilizer under the corn at planting.

Also use 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate applied as a dressing when corn is about 6 inches high or about one month later.

Our experience the past few years has proven that corn will grow too fast for more than two cultivations. The first to be done when corn is 6 to 8 inches high.

Do not try to cultivate corn later as it will usually do more harm than good.

Don't let your broken timber adapted hybrids such as tucky 235 & 205, Pfeister and some strains of Funks Hybrids. Open pollinated varieties such as Mosby, Hastings, Jarvis, etc., are good but the hybrids will make twenty-five percent more yield.

Soil improvement with winter cover crops, liming, terracing and drainage where needed will help.

Rainfall certainly is important but the fertilizer applications are just as important on the average. We can normally expect to get sufficient rain to produce 75 to 100 bushels on good corn land in dry years and 100 to 150 bushels during years nitrate is important.

We have the cost of producing corn tabulated on 357 farms in Tishomingo County and the cost of the extra yield was about 30 cents per bushel. This does not include labor, however. The labor cost on producing good corn is less as far as cultivation is concerned because the highly fertilized corn requires fewer cultivations. Those who are feeding their corn to livestock are getting about 2.50 per bushel for their corn and they are keeping the fertility at home. Any grain or roughage fed through livestock does not lose its fertilizer value.

Remember the farm income in the corn belt is higher than in the Southern States and 75% of the corn belt farm income is from livestock.

The fence post supply is very short and the supply of durable wood is very scarce.

We do have worlds of small pine that needs thinning and we have a lot of pine that has been broken by the ice. This timber can be cut in post lengths and stacked and by July or August the bark will come off. The post are then dry and ready to treat in the cold soak or Pentachlorophenol and fuel oil. Untreated pine post will not last over two years while the treated post will last twelve to twenty years.

The best size post is four inches in diameter or that is the most economical size to treat and handle.

Don't let your broken timber all go to waste. Use the larger sizes for lumber and the small sizes for fence post.

For further information about post treatin see us at the County Agent's Office.

Mid-South Fair Directors Hear Plans For New Attractions In 1951 Mid-South Fair

Lee McCourt, President, Announces Working Committees Manager Zook Tells of Bigger Agricultural and Crop Exhibits. Premium Money Increased From $36,000 to $40,000

"We expect the largest attendance in the history of the Mid-South Fair at this year's show, September 20 through 29," said President, Lee McCourt as he addressed forty-nine Directors and Advisory Committee members at Hotel Gayoso meeting last week.

Mr. McCourt said that he based his estimate on the fact that we are having at least three major entertainment attractions with some sensational show features thrown in for extra measure.

President McCourt called on the following committee chairmen to outline feature plans.

Frank Grout, Chairman of the Sportsmen Show said that one entire building would be devoted to displaying merchandise, tools and gadgets used in fishing, hunting, skeet shooting, boating, golf and other athletic and outdoor activities. In addition to the space inside one building, some outside space would be devoted to the display of special sporting equipment such as boats.

An aquatic show was being planned using the municipal swimming pool which adjoins the Sportsmen Show Building.

Vice-President, Frank Collins announced that negotiations are in process for a Rodeo, which has been a major attraction for several years and assures that clowns, trick acts and comedy features would be new and different.

President McCourt stated that plans for a Horse Show to be held at night only in the new livestock arena were in the making with no details ready to announce.

Negotiations under way for spectacular acts to be staged in the Speed Bowl with Lucky Lott's Dare Devils is a prospect for opening day attractions.

Manager Zook announced that there would be a meeting of representatives from six states at the Chisca Hotel on Friday, March 16 at 10:30 in the morning to plan the Agricultural Exhibits and Youth Activities of the Fair. Extension, Vocational Agriculture and Home Demonstration Agents will participate. The Agricultural space will be practically doubled and emphasis will be put on crop exhibits, rice, corn, cotton and grass. Premium money on agricultural exhibits will be increased.

A meeting of the livestock representatives from the six states will be held at 10:30 on Friday, March 23 to complete plans for the livestock show. A feature of the livestock show this year will be the National Aberdeen-Angus Show and Sale. The National Association assures us they will have 500 head of this breed on display at the Mid-South Fair.
