Girl Scouts To Help UNICEF

Hallowe'en is next week and the Iuka Girl Scouts plan to help children around the world at that time. On Friday night, the traditional "beggar's night", the Girl Scouts will be asking not for treats for themselves, but for coins to help the underprivileged children of the world. The money will be sent to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund for the needy children of 69 countries—providing milk, vaccines, penicillin, and helping to set up health centers.

UNICEF is the only United Nations agency set up to care exclusively for needy children and it depends entirely on voluntary contributions. If you give a nickel UNICEF can immunize a child against TB, one dollar can safeguard 13 children against malaria for a year. A large part of the money goes for milk for babies and small children.

October 25-31 is National Girl Scout Week and the Iuka Troop has chosen International Friendship as their emphasis for this week.

Paradise Lord's Acre Is Harvested

The Lord's Acre or Acres, we should say, was a great success at Paradise Methodist Church. The project was directed by the church committee composed of Herbert Southward, chairman; W. A. Tumlum and Clyde Gray. This committee with the cooperation of both the church membership and community families are responsible for this successful venture.

The program was adopted by the Official Board on February 22, 1953. The committee rented about five acres of land from Ben Blount which was near the church to be cultivated. Our capable county agent, W. C. Hamilton, assisted the group by testing the soil and advising them in the program.

Easter Sunday afternoon following the regular worship service at the church, the congregation assembled at the plot of ground and dedicated themselves, the seed and the soil for the project. The whole community contributed to the work on the Lord's Acre. Some individuals outside of the community aided the program with gifts and work.

The results were most gratifying. Two bales of cotton were harvested from the Lord's Acre, which was planted late and was very skippy.

The first bale was ginned September 19th and weighed 527 pounds. The second bale was ginned on October 10th and weighed 622 pounds. The Tishomingo Gin Company, managed by Charlie Malone, ginned the cotton without charge. The church netted $281.47 from the Lord's Acre. This will be used to improve the church building.

The Officials have already begun to make plans for next year. They are looking forward to another year of work and fellowship together on the Lord's Acre.

"Soil Is Sacred"

Our American forefathers were people of the land. They lived close to the soil. They understood the miracles of nature and her inexorable laws. They held a deep religious faith that supported them in adversity to an extent beyond the comprehension of many living in the carbon-monoxide fumes of cities.

Those who drive through the countryside nowadays, admiring the beauties of nature by tossing beer bottles and papers along the roadside and who think of necessities solely in terms of the nearest store counter or show window, would do well to spend a few minutes contemplating the words of Rev. Louis Deuster of Muenster, Texas: "In modern life, we too need a reasonable abundance of the good things of the earth in order to carry out a proper religious program for families and communities. That is why it is not saying too much to declare that 'soil is sacred.' The things we reap from the soil become our means of developing our churches, our schools, our community resources. Without these, our children could not be properly brought into the world, reared, and educated. Christianity would fail of a great part of its mission if material resources 'in due abundance' were lacking.

"We therefore please God when we take good care of the soil and its resources entrusted to us . . ."

Wilson, President Lincoln County Farm Bureau; Reverend A. W. Talbert, Pastor Macedonia Baptist Church; Bryant Cummings, Master of Cerephonies; Reverend Luther Carlisle, Pastor Philadelphia Baptist Church; Lieutenant Governor Gartin; Willie H. Smith, Brookhaven; James M. Phillips, Mississippi Manager for Southern Bell; Mayor W. W. Godbold, Sr.; Virgil Youngblood, Brookhaven; I. S. (Ike) Sanford, Public Service Commission Member; and G. W. Maxwell, McComb Group Manager for Southern Bell.

BROOKHAVEN—Lieutenant Governor Carroll Gartin was the principal speaker and many other men of prominence took part in rural telephone day ceremonies Wednesday morning in the nearby Loyd Star community.

The celebration marked the beginning of service on an important part of one of the largest rural telephone undertakings to be started in Mississippi this year by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

In his address, delivered at the Loyd Star Consolidated School, Lieutenant Governor Gartin pointed out with pride to Mississippi's great progress in many lines during recent years.

"The farm population of our state has made great advances in crop diversification and cultivation in dairying, cattle raising and other lines," he declared, "and our industrial progress has been outstanding, too; we have outdistanced many other areas in our improved transportation and communication facilities. These things Mississippi has and we ought to sell the idea everywhere."

A large crowd was on hand to hear the Lieutenant Governor and others on the program for the celebration which was sponsored by citizens of the Loyd Star and New Sight School Districts and business people of Brookhaven.

W. B. (Sambo) Smith was chairman of the committee which organized the affair and Bryant Cummings, Educational Director of the First Baptist Church in Brookhaven, acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Reverend Luther Carlisle, Pastor of the Philadelphia Baptist Church gave the invocation; Willie H. Smith of Brookhaven delivered the address of welcome to which Mayor W. W. Godbold, Sr. responded.

There were brief addresses by Virgil Youngblood, Brookhaven civic leader; Bart Calcutt, County Superintendent of Education; John F. Wilson, President of the Lincoln County Farm Bureau; and A. W. Jourdan, of Loyd Star.

I. S. (Ike) Sanford, member of the Mississippi Public Service Commission, spoke interestingly of growth by the State's public utilities.

Representing the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company were: James M. Phillips, Mississippi Manager and G. W. Maxwell, McComb Group Manager.

The first long distance call was placed over the new rural telephone lines by Lincoln County Sheriff Robert E. (Bob) Case, who talked with Henry Grady Turner, Assistant Vice President of Southern Bell in Atlanta, Georgia.

A large crowd was on hand to hear the speakers and enjoy the talent show staged under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Graves. Technical movies of local scenes and activities were part of the program. To wind the morning up, all of the guests were served a delicious luncheon of barbecue and all the fixings.

The entire program was recorded and broadcast later on the same day over the facilities of Radio Station WJMB.

Grady Sargent, Brookhaven

Manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company says the new project, when completed, will serve approximately 186 farm families in a wedge-shaped area of about 100 square miles, extending westward from U. S. Highway 51. It is northwest of Brookhaven and contains the communities of Loyd Star, New Sight, Caseyville and Old Red Star.

Approximately 1055 miles of wire and wire in cable will go into the big undertaking, Mr. Sargent stated. This will be strung on over 1200 poles, about 220 of which have been erected by Southern Bell. The balance will carry telephone facilities by a joint-use rental agreement between Southern Bell and the Southwest Electric Power Association. Over 1100 cross arms and great quantities of anchors and other material must be used.

The undertaking when completed will represent an investment by the telephone company of over $100,000.

James M. Phillips, Southern Bell's Mississippi Manager, pointed out that the big Lincoln job is part of the overall rural expansion job at which the telephone company has been working at record-breaking speed for over 7 years. Since 1945, Southern Bell has spent over 13 million dollars for rural telephone expansion in the State.

By this expenditure, Mr. Phillips stated, they have increased the number of rural telephones in Mississippi to over 38,000 or four times as many as there were in the State on January 1, 1946.

$14 MILLION
TELEPHONE PAYROLL
MAKES BUSINESS FOR MISSISSIPPI

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY is one of Mississippi's largest employers—both in size of payroll and number of people employed.

There are nearly 5,000 telephone employees in the State, with total earnings of more than 14 million dollars a year.

They spend most of that money in Mississippi, too—for groceries, clothing, shelter, recreation, civic and religious activities and many other products and services provided by Mississippi business and professional men.

It costs a lot to operate Mississippi's telephone system and it helps Mississippians in a lot of ways.

WHAT THE TELEPHONE COMPANY MEANS TO MISSISSIPPI

Employer—Almost 5,000 workers... payroll over $14 million a year.

Taxpayer—To the State, counties, and cities over $2½ million a year.

Buyer—Annual purchases of supplies and equipment total many thousands of dollars.

Public Servant—Provides service that's essential to Mississippi business and social life.

Prevent Drip Stain

The "drip" from copper screen- ing may cause a green stain on the white painted frames and walls of a white house. To pre- vent this, after a good cleaning wipe screens with turpentine, then give the screening a coat of good Spar varnish. Thin the varnish with an equal amount of a mixture made by combining equal parts of linseed oil and ¼ turpentine.

Removing Rust Stains

You may be able to remove the copper or rust stains from screen- ing on painted siding by wash- ing with a solution of half cup of household ammonia in a quart of water. The results will depend on the kind of paint used. Rinse the ammonia solution off immediately with plenty of clear water as the solution may have a softening effect on the paint. If the paint contains a chemical that resists the action of the ammonia, the remedy is to repaint. You will need to try a small in- conspicuous place first to see what the reaction is.

There is not always a real reme- dy for removing screen stain from asbestos siding. Prevention is the best remedy—removing the stain seems to create a worse problem.

Ample Onions

On the plentiful food list now are onions—a seasoning all good cooks feel they must have. Remem- ber that old saying that the good cook knows her onions.

Usually onions are used as a seasoning—but why not include them in your menus as a separate vegetable in themselves? Change the pattern and serve them boiled, creamed, stuffed, fried or scalloped with nuts or apples, for example. Boiled sliced onions make a flavorful garnish for beef loaf. Fried onions are old favori- tes with liver.

As for onion soup—hot hearty, flavorful-rich and welcome for chillier days—here's how to make four cupsful.

Cook 1-½ cups finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until lightly browned. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 quart of hot beef broth and stir until smooth. Add salt and pepper. Simmer until onion is tender and flavor is well blended. Top each bowlful with a square of toast sprinkled with dry grated cheese.

SPEECH PROGRAM FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN AND ADULTS

The Mississippi Society for Crippled Children and Adults is launching a new service, a state- wide itinerant speech program for children of school age who have speech defects.

Help for these children in the form of diagnosis and recommen- dations will be made available at nine centers in the state under the direction of Loyal M. Bears, an excellently trained and ex- perience speech pathologist, who will visit each center twice during the 1953-'54 year.

The centers have been set up in the following cities on the dates as given:

Brookhaven, Tuesday, October 27, 1953; Hattiesburg, Wednes- day, October 28, College Hall, Miss. Southern; Gulfport, Thurs- day, October 29, West Side Com- munity House; Greenwood, Tues- day, November 3; Clarksdale, Wednesday, November 4, Speech & Hearing Center; Oxford, Thursday, November 5; Meridi- an, Tuesday, November 17, Ste- venson Elementary School; Starkville, Wednesday, Novem- ber 18; Tupelo, Thursday, Novem- ber 19, Church Street School.

The other centers will be set up in the local school, or infor- mation on location will be avail- able at the school.

It is easily seen that the suc- cessful operation of this program will depend upon the cooperation of every agency in the commun- ity—the school, the local physi- cians, the health and welfare departments, with the county chapter of the Mississippi Society for Crippled Children and Adults to lead the way. This program is a big job designed to fill a big need, that of trying to reach the more than 33,000 school children in Mississippi who have speech handicaps.

Every interested person or agency should see that at least one speech defective child is given an opportunity to go to the most convenient center. Parents and teachers are urged to attend also, so that the speech correc- tionist may have an opportunity to give them special help in fu- ture training of the speech handicapped child.

GOVERNMENT COST OF VISITORS TO NATIONAL PARK

It costs the Government 16c for each visitor to Shiloh Na- tional Military Park, according to Superintendent Ira B. Lykes. This is one of the lowest averages in the entire park system, point- ing to economy of operation. Among the national parks, Mam- moth Cave in Kentucky averaged 18c per visitor and the Great Smokies in Tennessee and North Carolina 19 cents per visitor. Olympic Park in Washington averages more than 92 cents per visitor; however, due to heavy snowfall it is open only during the summer months.

As in the Smokies, the low cost per visitor average is due to the parks heavy attendance, since there is little or no revenue accruing directly to the park to help pay for operation and main- tenance. It is expected that 420,- 000 persons will have visited Shiloh by January 1, 1954.

Shiloh has the largest visita- tion of any of the 11 National Military Parks under the admin- istration of the National Park Service. 47,606 persons traveled there during the month of Sep- tember, a 16% increase over attendance for the same month of last year. A total of 389,750 visitors have been recorded so far this year, which is a 23% increase over the same 9 months period in 1952, and exceeding the total travel for the entire year of 1952.

This should all be good news to the average taxpayer, for they certainly are getting their mon- ey's worth from their investment in the 181 park areas adminis- tered by the National Park Service.

It is interesting to note that the 2 million persons who visit- ed the state of Mississippi in 1951 left an average daily expendi- ture of $9.50 per person; and of those 10 million visitors traveling in the state of Tennessee, $10.01 was expended per motorist. These figures were compiled by the American Automobile Associa- tion. The travel industry is a big business.

MISSISSIPPI TIMBER IS VITAL TO ECONOMY

Forty-six per cent of Missis- sippi's industrial workers rely on the state's forest for their liveli- hood. The fruits of their labors account for more than one-third of the dollar value of the state's industrial production. Timber has become a full-fledged farm crop all across the state. Wood crops are being harvested off the same land that produce earlier har- vests, and with wise manage- ment, the state's 16,000,000 acres of woodland will be a continuing source of wealth to Mississippians in every walk of life. Experienc- ed foresters feel that the state's present forest growth rate of 110 board feet per acre a year can be increased to 300 board feet per acre if all commercial forest- land is brought under reasonable good management.

so in the near future. The Missionary is desirous of having a complete report from all the churches on their classes and the measure of their participation.

The Associational letters from the several churches indicate gains along most all lines in the work of the past year. There was a total membership gain of 63
over last year; number of tithers, a gain of 71; number of revivals,
a gain of 3; gifts through the Cooperative Program, a gain of $125.00; grand total gifts, a gain of $14,989.00. The percapita giving through the Cooperative Program was $0.79, a gain of $0.02 over last year. The per-capita gift for all causes was $17.04 for this year which was a gain of $4.41 over last year.

We take courage in these facts and press forward to greater things in the year ahead of us.
Let us pray for all the churches and the pastors in the coming year and let every Missionary Baptist become a Baptist Missionary.

METHODIST PARISH NEWS

Are you satisfied with your life? Do you ever feel that you are missing something that you should be getting from life? Are you concerned with the condition of the world? Corruption, dishonesty, juvenile delinquency,

drunkenness and crime are rampant today. Why not give God a chance by worshipping in His house, by reading His word, by giving Him the central place in your home, your business and your social life? The Tishomingo County Methodist Cooperative Parish urges all people in this area to a deeper consecration of their lives to God.

The Laymen's emphasis this month has definitely marked an advance in the work of the churches of this Parish. Abilities have been discovered in these speakers and the churches to which they have gone have been blessed. At 11:00 a.m. Sunday the following will hold services:

W. A. Tumlin at Pleasant Hill,
H. F. Davenport at Spring Hill,
Rev. W. L. Whitener at Camp Ground, W. R. Nettles at Rocky Springs, James Hughes at Burns-ville and J. C. Phillips at Dennis.
At 2:30 Miss Cora Lee Glenn will be at Paradise.

The place of the meeting of the Cooperative Parish Council has been changed to the Tishomingo church, according to an announcement by W. R. Nettles, chairman. This meeting is Monday, October 26, at 7:00 p.m.

The second Quarterly Conference for the Iuka circuit will be held at Pleasant Hill, November preach at 11:00 o'clock and after lunch he will preside over the conference. At 7:00 p.m. on the same day the Quarterly Conference for the Tishomingo charge will be held at Burnsville.

During the first week in November classes in Stewardship will be held in the following churches: Spring Hill, Paradise, Snow-

Prayer in the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Throughout this week special services of worship and study will be held.
A special offering will be taken for missionary work among the American Indians and Latin American people in the U. S., and for rural work in Latin America, India, Philippines, Borneo, Algeria and South of the Sahara.

The study of Spanish-speaking Americans is proving most interesting. The filmstrip "Our Newest Neighbor" shows the work of various denominations among these people. Camp Ground and Rocky Springs Societies began their study Thursday at Camp Ground. The Harmony WSCS will begin Sunday night at the church with Mrs. J. A. Coker in charge.
Snowdown will have its second lesson Monday at 1:00. Pleasant Hill WSCS will meet at the church Tuesday at 1:30, and Tishomingo will have their second lesson Tuesday night. The churches on the Tishomingo charge will have important meetings. Those of Dennis church

No Liquor Defense

Lesson for October 25, 1953

ON THE SOUTH side of a large sign in front of a Methodist church on a main highway are the words: LIQUOR HAS NO DEFENSE. The church did not invent that expression; it is a quotation from Abraham Lincoln. On the opposite side of the sign, drivers coming the other way see this:

Drink drive eat
Even the companies that make money out of drunkenness (the more liquor, the more profits) know that the north side of the sign is true, and will say so in large paid advertisements. Liquor certainly has no defense as a drink for drivers. But some of the other defenses put up for alcoholic liquor as a beverage that "belongs," that is part of the social scene, do not sound so good when they are taken down and looked at with a cold and sober eye.

Alcohol Is A Drug

The one thing that defenders of alcoholic beverages invariably keep quiet about, is the simple fact that alcohol is a drug, a harmful drug, a habit-forming drug. No amount of advertising can talk that fact out of existence.

That it is a fact, can be witnessed to by anybody—he does not have to be a preacher—who has had to deal with the wretched people at the bottom of the slide that was lubricated with liquor. Alcoholics are sick people; that is a recognized fact; but alcoholism differs from all the other diseases in the book in this one vital thing: No one can say to himself, I refuse to have tuberculosis, I will never have cancer. He may come down with those diseases in spite of his best intentions. But any one may say to himself: I will never be an alcoholic. And he can make that resolution stick, simply by staying away from alcohol. On the other hand, no man or woman who mixes alcohol in his system can ever be quite sure he will not be an alcoholic. No alcoholic ever meant to be one.

Drugs Have No Brakes

Now the trade in alcoholic liquor is legal; trade in other drugs such as heroin, cocaine and similar drugs, is strictly illegal except for medicinal purposes through regular pharmacists, and on doctors' prescriptions. Still there are a great many people who in spite of the difficulties do manage to buy and use these forbidden drugs, and of course there are always the conscienceless people who sell the stuff to the addicts.

But let us suppose we listened to the defenses of ordinary liquor, if applied to other drug habits. How ridiculous they would sound! We are told that the habit of drinking liquor is a long-established American way of life. Well, the taking of cocaine is long-established too. People will buy liquor—legally or illegally; they will buy heroin too in spite of all the laws. People will steal cars, and forge checks—it's been done a long time. But that doesn't make it right.

Or again, consider the pleasure people get out of liquor. Why, of course. They get an even keener pleasure out of shots of other drugs than alcohol. Every time you put a drug addict into a sanitarium you deprive him of his greatest pleasure in life. But that does not make his habit any better. But, it will be said, self-control is the answer; a drug used in moderation is not so harmful as when used to excess. True; but the trouble is, no drug has brakes, and drugs of the kind that alcohol and heroin are, actually weaken self-control instead of making it stronger.

Stuff And Nonsense

The reader can amuse (or horrify) himself by thinking of other antique arguments used to bolster the cause of those who use, or who profit by other men's use of, alcoholic liquors. How do they sound when used in defense of other drug habits? "The illegal drug business gives employment to thousands." "To interfere with this traffic is to interfere with free enterprise, the right of every man to make his living as he sees fit." "To interfere with this traffic is to interfere with men's personal liberty. Even if a man ruins himself with cocaine, it's his own business." a good time to save grazed permanent pasture from further damage by tramping. As soon as you finish harvesting cotton, corn and other field crops is the time to realize some extra grazing.

Turn in your animals. You will be surprised at the amount of feed they will get from crop residue and grass growing in the fields. An electric fence is a good answer to how to keep them in the field.

Some October jobs. Fertilize fescue areas. Mow or clip off tall bermuda where white clover is wanted back or is to be sown.
Sow winter peas in high bermuda where it is to be left for frosted grazing.

Mineralize all permanent pastures that have clover or legume in them; however lespedeza grass areas should not be fertilized until next Spring. If these were fertilized now the land would be too favorable for clovers and these might choke out the lespede-za.

Build fire lanes around all pasture areas—especially between roads and pastures. Sow crimson clover or wheat or oats after it has been grazed down the first time.

Correct milking of dairy animals makes for higher production and higher quality milk.

Some of the steps toward better milking practices include: 1. Be as regular as possible with milking time. 2. Treat cows gently—mistreated animals cannot let down their milk. 3. Wipe and massage the udder with a damp cloth that has been soaked in warm chlorine water, then wipe, udder and teats dry. This should be done not more than a minute or two before milking. 4. When using milking machines, do not try to operate more than you can handle. Two units per man for beginners is a pretty full job. Experienced operators can operate three units. 5. Use a strip cup to detect mastitis, to stimulate milk let down, and to remove milk that is high in bacterial count. Never milk on the floor. 6. Toward the end of milking, a gentle massaging of the udder will aid in getting the last milk available. 7. When the cow is milked, remove the milking machine at once. 8. Rinse teat cups in plain cool water and then in chlorine water before moving to the next animal. 9. After the last cow has been milked, rinse
the machine with cold water; and then wash thoroughly and store according to manufacturers directions.

Green feed helps hens in any size flock, but is more practical for smaller flocks. Where flocks have 500 hens or more, the hens will eat and destroy the feed close to the house within two or three weeks; they will run on the bare ground instead of going out and getting some more green feed.

Farmers with smaller flocks
can, by careful management, keep the green feed close to the house. Hens should be kept off the pasture until the growth is six inches or higher. Then the birds should be turned in only in late afternoon. They will eat all they need in about 30 minutes.
If the birds are allowed to run on the pasture all day, they will spend most of their time scratching it up and trampling it down.

To House Safety Meetings . . .

J. D. Coffman, Safety Supervisor for the Gulf Refining Company at Laurel, and W. W. Ramseur, Gulf's Zone Superintendent of Production, are shown at one of three assembly halls being built by the company in Mississippi.

GULF BUILDS ASSEMBLY HALLS FOR EMPLOYEES IN THREE STATE OIL FIELDS

LAUREL, Miss. — (Special) — In three South Mississippi oil and gas fields—the Baxterville field of Lamar and Marion Counties, the Heidelberg field of Jasper County and the Eucuttia field of Wayne County—the Gulf Refining Company is building assembly halls to house the employee safety meetings which are a part of the company's Safety Program. In addition to use in connection with the Gulf Safety Program, the new structures will be available for company educational and training assemblies and for various social, community and church activities of Gulf employees and their families. The safety meetings which will take place in these new assembly halls are a part of the Gulf Refining Company's comprehensive program aimed at promoting safety on the job, behind the wheel and in the home. Quarterly safety meetings attended by some 250 Gulf employees will be held in the new buildings. At these meetings, lectures, demonstrations, training films and quizzes emphasize principles and practice of safety. Through these quarterly meetings, each Gulf employee is informed of the details of each accident involving company personnel. Following an accident, a reenactment is filmed in color and shown and discussed at the next safety meeting. Once each month, each of the assembly halls will be the scene of a meeting attended by the Safety Supervisor, the field foreman and their supervisory personnel. At this meeting, equipment, methods and safety measures are discussed, and from it recommendations are made for improving efficiency and safety.

Hens allowed to range all day, are likely to stay away from the mash hopper too much. They need to be kept close to feed, water and nests most of the day. For planting poultry pastures, prepare a smooth seedbed and plant extra thick. You can plant oats, rye grass, wheat or white clover separate or in any combination. Weevils cause a lot of loss in stored grain. To control weevils, the crib should be lined so that it is as tight as possible and then a good fumigant used. You can line the crib with 15 pound asphalt building felt, light weight roofing or orange labeled sisal-kraft building paper. Before putting new grain into the crib, all old weevil-infested corn or small grain should be cleaned out. The walls of the crib should be sprayed with a two percent DDT spray. This can be made by mixing one pound of 50 percent DDT to each three gallons of water. For more information on keeping weevils out of stored grain, see your local county agent.

Let Us Lift Up Our Eyes Unto The Hills

By
Hiram A. Jones
Work Unit Conservationist, SCS
Let us lift up our eyes unto the hills from whence cometh our strength. We people of Tishomingo County should take this literally, because the pines and hardwoods that clothed the hills of Tishomingo County have been the chief source of revenue for this county in the past, and, because forests are renewable, they can continue to be the chief source of revenue for our people in the future.

At a meeting of the Coordinating Council held in 1951, it was estimated that 85% of the land of Tishomingo County should be in timber. Assuming this to be a rather high percent, we can say that three-fourths of the land of this County, or 216,480 acres should be in trees. It is estimated that under good management each acre should produce 400 board feet annually, or a total of 86½ million board feet of lumber for this county each year. At $15.00 per thousand stumpage (not the current $30.00 to $35.00, but $15.00). This would bring an additional 1-½ million dollars to our land owners annually, or 2-½ million dollars at our present prices.

The Commissioners of the Tennessee River Soil Conservation District believe our farmers could use this extra money and that our people need the new jobs this new wealth would create. Our saw mills are idle — our trucks have stopped running, yet it is a fact that more people are needing houses every day and that 95% of the homes of this state are built from lumber. We should be proud of the red hills of Tishomingo, not ashamed of them, and turn our attention to releasing desirable species of trees now existing on these hills, or by setting pines, or hardwood (mostly pines) where needed and keeping fires from destroying our woodland. If we will do this, in a few years we can point with pride to these hills now covered in black jack and scrub oaks, and say, "Here is our wealth and our strength", for with proper management loblolly pines will be growing millions of board feet of good lumber on what is now worthless acres.

Do you know your area forest? Mr. K. L. Busby? If you don't, make his acquaintance—he has the know-how, which if applied to your thousands of acres of cut over, practically worthless land and steep eroded open land, will bring millions of dollars to our county. Mr. Tice, Conservation Aid for the Soil Conservation Service, and I will be glad to talk with you and help you plan the protection and care of your present timbered land and the reforestation of your hilly or cut over land. Surely it is time to lift our eyes unto the hills.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE TOWN OF IUKA, MISSISSIPPI DECLARING THE NECESSITY OF PAVING OR HARD SURFACING CERTAIN STREETS IN SAID MUNICIPALITY.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Iuka met in recessed session on this the 21st day of October, 1953 at the Mayor's office of said town at 8:30 o'clock a.m., with the following members present:

Leon Phillips, N. C. Pruitt, W. F. Dugger, and Joe W. Thompson.

And among other business the following was transacted. After discussion a petition, which was filed before the Board relative to paving certain streets in the Town of Iuka, Joe W. Thompson made the following motion:

"I move that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Iuka do hereby declare that it is necessary to hard-surface the following streets in the Town of Iuka, Mississippi and to levy a special assessment against each abutting land owner in a sum not to exceed $2.00 per lineal foot on the following described property in said town:

3,400 feet on Fulton Street beginning at the north side of Eastport Street and continuing in a northerly direction with Fulton Street passing on the West Side of the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association Warehouse and continuing in a northerly direction with the meanderings of Fulton Street to the Corporate Limits of the Town of Iuka, Mississippi, all of the above described streets being inside the Corporate Limits of the Town of Iuka, Mississippi.

I further move that since petitions have been filed with the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Iuka, signed by a majority of the abutting land owners of the above described property that this resolution be declared a necessity in the paving or black-topping the above named streets and that a copy of this resolution be published in the Vidette, a newspaper having general circulation in the Town of Iuka, Mississippi for once each week for three (3) successive publications and that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen shall meet on or after the 5th of November, 1953, at 7:30 o'clock p.m. in the Mayor's office of said town for the purpose of hearing any objections to this resolution. If no objections are made to this resolution, the Board will issue negotiable notes not to exceed the sum of Six Thousand, Eight Hundred ($6,800.00) with interest thereon not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum for a period not to exceed ten (10) years and will levy a special assessment against all abutting land owners in a sum not to exceed Two Dollars ($2.00) per lineal foot for the purpose of paying said notes."

And after full discussion, Aldermen N. C. Pruitt seconded said motion and the following vote was taken:

Those voting in favor of said motion: Joe W. Thompson, N. C. Pruitt, N. L. Phillips, and W. F. Dugger.

Those voting against said motion: None.

A majority having voted in favor of said resolution the same is hereby adopted on this the 21st day of October, 1953.
