SECOND PRIMARY ELECTION NEXT TUES., AUG. 23

Eleven of Iuka's young ladies have entered Tishomingo County's Queen of the Forest contest to be staged September 2, at the Belmont high school auditorium. The annual contest is being sponsored by Iuka's Lucy Rowe study club and the Tishomingo County Forestry Association in conjunction with the Mississippi Forestry commission. Any young lady in the county between the ages of 16 and 21 years is eligible to compete. The winner of this contest will go to Booneville and compete in the Northeast District contest.

Young ladies wishing to enter the contest in the Belmont area are asked to contact your area forester Edward Lee. Mrs. Hal Southward will take the names of those in the Tishomingo area, while Mrs. Charles Edmondson, Jr., Mrs. Leon Phillips and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton assist in the Iuka area. Business firms are being contacted and it is hoped that each will sponsor a young lady in the contest.

Contacts are being made to secure local talent to perform while judges make their decisions.

The contest will begin at eight o'clock, Friday night, September 2. D. F. Lambert, Jr., will act as master of ceremonies.

Among entrants this week were Peggy and Barbara Hamm, Martha Stormont, Dorothy Jean Milligan, Patsy Ferrell, Patsy Lomnick, Barbara Nell King, Martha Dale Rushing, Gerri Ann McGill and Marilyn Thomas.

Attorney General J. P. Coleman, the first primary dark horse candidate for governor who turned into the biggest political surprise ever to appear on the Mississippi political scene, brought his hard-hitting campaign for the state's highest office to Iuka on last Wednesday, August 3rd.

Northeast Mississippi's first second primary gubernatorial candidate in over 36 years, Judge Coleman told his listeners that the main issue in this second primary had boiled down to a contest between two ways of life.

"Our forefathers left England and established this great American nation in order to get out from under the feudal rule of kings and crown princes. They built this nation and this state into a place where any poor plowboy in a pea patch can successfully aspire and seek to be governor if he works hard and is willing to prove himself in lesser offices.

"We live today," Coleman continued, "in a nation and a state where a man is judged not by who his father was, but what sort of man he is himself. Being the son of a governor doesn't mean that a man is any better than the boy who plowed to the point of exhaustion, barefooted and often with blistered feet."

The former district attorney, Circuit Judge, member of the Mississippi Supreme Court, and present Attorney General stated that his opponent offers "only the fact that he is the son of a former governor as a qualification to serve as governor. Actually, Governor Johnson himself is the best witness against his son's claims in this race today, because Governor Johnson was willing first to serve as Circuit Judge and Congressman in order to prove himself and gain experience and training before asking the people to elevate him to the office of governor."

The 41 year old candidate from the TVA area added, "Paul Johnson, Jr., has never been willing to serve in any elective office in which he could have been tried, tested and proven before asking for the governor's chair. And it is a fact that in all the history of our great state, no man has ever been elected governor without having first served in some lesser elective capacity."

The Blackwood Brothers quartet appeared with Judge Coleman on the program.

County Agent Reports Excellent Crops In Area

Farmers in Tishomingo County can be proud of their crop thus far, according to W. C. Hamilton, county agent. "Old hill corn and all bottom corn especially look good," Mr. Hamilton said. Some hill corn that was planted later is needing rain and shows the lack of nitrogen, he stated.

Mr. Hamilton said, "a number hay crop is in the process of being stored. Insects are continuing to cause damage to cotton during the present migration period. I believe that if farmers will protect their crop for the next twenty days it would increase the over-all production of Tishomingo County at least 1,000 bales which in terms of dollars and cents would mean an added $150,000.00 income."

The damage that is being done at the present time by weevils is the puncturing of small bolls. This always occurs during the weevil migrating season. In order to combat the insects at this time I believe it wise to use a long killing poison such as Dieldrin, Endrin or even the old poison Calcium Arsenate, he states.

Voluntary Control Of Distribution Of Poliomyelitis Vaccine Set Up By Miss. State Advisory Committee

When polio vaccine goes on sale in the state the last week in August it will be available to children between the ages of 5 and 9 equally distributed throughout the counties, if the plan of distribution set up by the Governor's committee on Voluntary Control is adhered to by physicians and druggists alike.

Two allotments of vaccine, released by the National Institutes of Health and totaling 32,412 cc from Eli Lilly and Company and Wyeth Laboratories, have been allocated to Mississippi and will be ready for sale by the producers about August 24.

In order to assure an equitable distribution of this allotment, and others that follow as long as the supply of vaccine is limited, last week a plan of procedure, developed by the State Advisory Committee on Voluntary Control of Distribution of Poliomyelitis Vaccine, was sent to all physicians, druggists, and other distributors of the vaccine in Mississippi.

The plan, similar to those in other states, designates children from 5 to 9 years as the priority age group, on recommendation of the American Medical Association. According to the plan, physicians will request vaccine from the druggist or supplier only for children in the priority age group, listing on the order by name and age each child to receive the vaccine. In turn the order, after being filled by the druggist, will be annotated by him and filed, along with weekly reports on his supply and sale of vaccine, for review by the Committee. Supply houses, likewise, will file weekly reports.

Producers of the vaccine have already agreed on a national level to supply the state Advisory Committee of each state a copy of invoice of each shipment of vaccine coming into the state directly from producers and their branch or regional offices.

No individual can purchase the vaccine without an order from a physician, which is annotated and filed in the same manner as a quantity order, according to the voluntary plan.

While the Committee, composed of representatives from the State Medical Association, the State Pharmaceutical Association, the Mississippi Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the State Board of Health, has no power of legal enforcement of the plan, it shall make every reasonable effort to secure voluntary distribution fairly to all counties in proportion to the vaccine allotted to the state and the relative size of the priority age groups in each county, according to Dr. A. L. Gray, chairman.

Other members of the Committee are Raymond F. Burst, Dr. H. F. Garrison, Jr., Mrs. A. L. Hendrick, and Dr. John B. Howell, Jr.

The Committee has no responsibility in evaluating safety nor effectiveness; in recommending where, when, or how the vaccine should be given; nor in recommending that it be given or not given. As soon as the supply of vaccine catches up with the demand, the committee will be dissolved.

The current allotment of vaccine to Mississippi is only enough for one injection to about 21 per cent of those in the priority age group, but the committee expects additional amounts in frequent intervals soon after these first two. There are approximately 239,000 children in the state between the ages of 5 and 9. Of this number 109,000 have already received one injection of the vaccine and some 70,000, the second injection.

Voters Will Decide On Three State Offices, Three State District Offices, And County And District Offices

Mississippi's 1955 Second Primary election will be held next Tuesday, August 23rd, and candidates are making all efforts possible to win and influence voters for this contest which will decide who shall serve in the respective offices for the next four years.

Tishomingo county which voted better than five thousand strong in the first primary is expected to tally a smaller vote on Tuesday as the number of candidates is considerably less and interest has been on the wane.

County offices to be voted on and candidates seeking each are for Representative, Charles A. Daugherty and Thomas M. Duncan. For Supt. of Education, Julian R. Long and Cleston Scruggs; for Sheriff, Henry Marlar and Whit Wilson; for Circuit Court Clerk, Alver Belue and Mrs. Arah Ivy; for Tax Assessor, James H. Bishop and Flavis H. Vinson. Candidates seeking state offices are:

For Governor, J. P. Coleman and Paul B. Johnson; for State Land Commissioner, Robert D. (Bob) Graham and Walter L. McGahey; for State Tax collector, Mrs. Thomas L. Baily and Howard H. Little; for Public Service Commissioner, Sam Wilhite and Rubel L. Phillips; for District Attorney, W. P. (Pete) Mitchell and N. S. (Soggy) Sweat; and for State Senator, Clyde Burns and D. F. Lambert, Jr.

In the First Supervisor's district, Herbert M. Biggs and W. H. (Bill) Gardner are in the runoff for Supervisor and Clementine McCulloch and Euin L. Walker are in the race for Justice of the Peace.

In the Fifth District Hardie Moore and J. S. (Steve) South are in the runoff for Supervisor.

All other offices in the state and county not mentioned above were decided in the first primary.

Russell Bonds in the Second Supervisor's District. O. L. Wade in the Third District and Luncford Stormont in the Fourth district were victorious in the first primary. Also some candidates seeking the offices of J. P. and Bailif in practically all five districts were decided in the first primary.

Thus it is that voters in the Second, Third and Fourth Supervisor's districts will only cast ballots on county and state offices.

Iuka Lions Hear Wayne Spinks; Talent Show, Other Business Discussed

Wayne Spinks, popular civic leader of Iuka, was featured on the program of the Iuka Lions club regular meeting held at the Country club cafe Monday night.

Mr. Spinks very colorfully described his vacation trip to Europe in the late Spring and early summer of this year. His narrative of the many countries visited and their descriptions was both entertaining and informative.

Among other business discussed at the meeting was the Lions club talent contest that will be held within the very near future. Delmar Bullard, one of the committee on arrangements for the contest, stated that an effort was being made to get winners of the show to appear on television. This is still indefinite but possibilities of it working out are very good, Mr. Bullard stated.

Also discussed at the meeting was the project of cleaning up Jaybird park in the heart of Iuka. It was stated that the place is a terrible eyesore to the town and especially now that numbers of new residents are arriving regularly, something should be done about beautifying the place.

George Page, who has been made chairman of a committee on Jaybird Park stated that plans were underway to not only clean the place up but also to build a fence around that part of the park not used for parking and to construct a band, or speaker's, stand. "This," Mr. Page said, "is something that is needed badly and we expect all residents of the town to give us their support."

Lion President C. R. McCulley presided and introduced Mr. Spinks, the speaker for the evening.

Delicious Ice Cream From Your Food Freezer.

Once ice cream was a treat to be enjoyed only on July 4. or perhaps when the preachers were coming for dinner, or special occasions. But with a food freezer in the home, any time is the right time for delicious ice cream, which is truly an American dish. With a generous supply of ice cream in your freezer you can create a choice of sundaes, sodas, parfaits and milk shakes and serve them as often as you wish. You may make the ice cream at home, either by hand or with an electric freezer, or you may buy it in bulk at your favorite drug or grocery store. Sauces or toppings may be made at home or bought already prepared.

Below are a few suggestions that may please the grown ups as well as the kiddies. If you want to make a grape soda — purple cow to the teen agers, you will need ½ cup chilled grape juice, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 tablespoon milk or cream, 1 scoop vanilla ice cream and chilled ginger ale. Place the grape juice, sugar and milk in a tall glass. Add half cup of ginger ale and stir well. Add the ice cream and fill glass with ginger ale. Stir gently and serve immediately.

For the summer parfait, you will need 1 cup diced cantaloupe, ½ cup canned, crushed pineapple, 1 pint vanilla ice cream and whipped cream.

Combine finely diced cantaloupe with partially drained pineapple, and chill mixture. Place alternate layers of fruit and ice cream into six chilled glasses and top each with whipped cream. Serve immediately.

For luscious sundaes, roll balls of ice cream in shredded coconut, fresh or toasted, chopped nuts, cookie or cake crumbs or chocolate before covering with your favorite sauce.

If you want a good banana smoothee, combine two cups cold milk, two ripe bananas and about a third cup vanilla ice cream in your electric blender. Blend until smooth and fluffy — about 30 seconds. Yield, about three tall-glass servings.

This is also good time to make a fruit cake for your Thanksgiving dinner. I believe you will like the recipe below, whether you live in Norfolk, St. Louis or Iuka.

and it is very simple to make.

1 cup seedless raisins
3½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1½ cups shortening
6 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon extract
1 cup sliced glace cherries
1 cup chopped, canned black walnuts

Put raisins in a sieve over boiling water, cover and steam until raisins are puffed.

Sift ¾ cups of the flour together with salt and baking powder. Add remaining flour to raisins, cherries and nuts. Mix well.

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, creaming after each addition. Beat eggs until light, add flavorings; beat into creaming mixture. Add dry ingredients gradually, blending well after each addition. Fold in mixed fruits and nuts. Line a ten inch tube pan with heavy paper, well greased.

Pour batter in pan leveling top of batter. Bake in a slow oven (300 F.) for two hours. Freeze in your food freezer and enjoy a rest at Thanksgiving.

A freezer does not cost it pays.

Iuka,

HONEST

THE WHOLE TRUTH

Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey's method of collecting taxes approved by our state legislative Committee on Ways and Means. This method has doubled previously used methods. Even collecting more Liquor Taxes in 1954 than was collected by the State Tax Commission on Sales Taxes.

Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey's opponent, a Public Service Commissioner for the past eight years has sat by allowing Telephone rates and Freight and Motor Carrier rates to steadily increase without lifting a finger in protest.

Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey's opponent as a Public Service Commissioner was derelict in his duties by permitting Southern Bell Telephone Company to continue to operate outside the jurisdiction of the Commission since 1951.

Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey has honestly executed the laws governing the Tax Collector for the State, never compromising to the detriment of the taxpayers with anyone, accounting for all taxes collected as required by law.

Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey is being fought by the tax dodging bootleggers who are spreading false and misleading charges.

Paid for by friends of the late Governor and Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey. Submitted to and approved by Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey.

W. C. HAMILTON
Representing Mississippi State College Agricultural Extension

Cason Wheeler, Golden, has completed another profitable lamb production season. Mr. Wheeler averaged twenty dollars per lamb. This was accomplished by following practices of parasite control and good flock management.

Harold Hendrix, Gravel Hill Community, has some excellent hill cotton. He planted good seed early and carried out a complete insect control schedule.

A number of inquiries concerning cotton have been received and here are the things to keep in mind:

1. WHEN TO DEFOLIATE
Defoliate not earlier than 20 days after the crop "cuts-out" - a yellowish cast across field and excess dropping of young squares, blooms and young bolls. If the youngest top bolls are 20 days old or if most of the bolls are mature at defoliation, there will be little loss in yield or quality of lint.
- If weevils have destroyed top crop in rank cotton, defoliate to save bottom crop from boll rot.
- If you expect an early frost, defoliate. Defoliation speeds up opening of bolls.
2. MATERIALS TO USE
Dusts - Calcium Cyanamid, Special Grade, is the only material that has been under wide-spread investigation for more than three years. This "special grade" cyanamid contains 20 to 21 percent nitrogen, reduced to a very fine dust and contains 2 percent oil.
3. EQUIPMENT FOR DUSTING
You may use any good dusting equipment used to apply cotton poisons for dusting defoliant.
- Use rotary hand or saddle dust guns on small acreages.
- Use mule-drawn equipment or tractor equipment with fenders and dusters on large acreages.
- Direct nozzles above plants to give uniform and complete coverage.
4. PRECAUTIONS
Read carefully and follow all precautions printed on the package labels. Do not use any defoliant that is not labeled as to exact chemical content. Unknown defoliants may injure open fiber, be harmful to soils or cause fire hazards at the gin.
5. TIME TO APPLY
You may apply defoliant any time of day so long as it is calm enough for the dust to remain in the field.

1953 Driver License Not Renewed After August

Original applications of drivers whose licenses expired December 1953 and have not been renewed will be pulled and destroyed unless renewed this month, the highway patrol states.

Re-examination of drivers who fail to comply with this final renewal notice will be necessary, according to Drivers License Bureau Director L. E. Birdsong. A license whose original application is still on file is not required to undergo re-examination, it was explained.

Birdsong states that approximately 12,000 licenses which expired in December 1953 have not been renewed.

Mississippi drivers are urged to check their license's expiration date making certain that they hold a valid permit. If a license has expired, it should be renewed immediately.

This Second Primary Campaign For Governor Is A Contest Between Two Ways of Life

One is the American Way, the Mississippi Way, the Traditional Way — which guarantees the opportunity for any person to rise from a humble beginning to become a great Minister, a great Lawyer, a great Doctor, or a faithful Public Servant, IF he is willing to work, IF he prepares himself, and IF he proves himself worthy in lesser places BEFORE he asks for a position of higher trust and responsibility.

The other way is the one from which our forefathers fled more than 200 years ago. When they wrote the Constitution of the United States, they were careful to provide that there should be no titles of nobility and no system by which the son could succeed to the position of honor, trust, and authority of the father, simply by right of inheritance.

JUDGE J. P. COLEMAN HAS ALWAYS STOOD FOR:

- The preservation of the public schools
- The absolute maintenance of segregation
- Honest government in all its phases
- The fair regulation of public utilities
- And all the other planks in his program which the people approved by their votes in the First Primary.

If elected on August 23rd, J. P. COLEMAN will not betray YOUR confidence in him.

Cast a vote for Mississippi on August 23rd . Vote for J. P. COLEMAN. He will ever remain humbly grateful and prayerfully devoted to the service of all the people of Mississippi.

Tishomingo Baptist Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double Ring Ceremony

On Sunday morning, August 7, the Tishomingo Baptist church was the scene of an impressive double ring ceremony, when Miss Wynona Gilley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gilley, became the bride of Morris Everett Byram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Byram of Tishomingo.

The ceremony took place before a background of pink and white gladioli, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The Rev. W. C. Hamilton, former pastor, officiated.

The bride chose for her wedding gown, frost blue silk nylon shantung, with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was a purple throated orchid.

Mrs. Peggy Page, matron of honor, chose a princess style white pique with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations.

Lakeman McNatt, business partner of the groom, was best man.

For the occasion, Mrs. Gilley, mother of the bride chose a tailored dress of pink silk. Her accessories were white. Mrs. Byram, mother of the groom, chose navy blue with black accessories. Each wore corsages of white carnations.

The couple left in a shower of rice, for a wedding trip to the Great Smoky mountains.

Pre-Nuptial Event

A pre-nuptial event of much interest was a shower complimenting bride-elect Wynona Gilley in the home of Mrs. Peggy Page with Mrs. Lucile Vickers, Mrs. Mary McNatt and Mrs. Minnie Lee Patterson assisting.

The buffet table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with an arrangement of zinnias. Arrangements of summer flowers decorated the reception rooms.

The honoree chose a lovely white dress with yellow corsage presented to her by the hostess.

About 30 guests were present with many who were unable to attend being represented by useful gifts.

MIDWAY

The meeting at Mt. Joy Baptist Church closed last Friday night. Friends and relatives of Bro. Judson Glynn enjoyed having him bring the messages.

Mr. Walter Blaylock of Greenwood, father of Mrs. W. W. Wimbish, came last week to spend some time with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Flynt and son and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Flynt were visitors of Mrs. Lula McNutt Sunday afternoon.

FRIENDS OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY:

I will see as many of you as I possibly can before August 23, but in case I miss you, I want you to know now just how I feel and what you may expect of me if I am elected Sheriff and Tax Collector of this county.

Many of you know of my problems during my term of office as Sheriff in this County from 1944 to 1948. Immediately following the war there were many of our boys who came home after long hard years in the service who felt that they should be given special liberties. I believe most of us agree that they were entitled to every consideration. This I tried to do which may have left the impression that I was lax in enforcing the law.

The war is over now and if I am elected Sheriff, I will not have this problem.

Again, here is my platform and pledge to you if you choose me for your next Sheriff.

- I will enforce the law and with your help we will have one of the cleanest, most respectable counties in the state. Bootlegging and gambling will not be tolerated.
- I will appoint deputies, clerks and assistants who will be courteous, friendly and helpful to each of you when in trouble or need of help from your Sheriff.
- I will run my office on a fair, impartial basis, treating everyone alike regardless of your station in life.
- I will not tolerate dishonesty or corruption from any one connected with my office as Sheriff
- I will do everything in my power to cooperate with the entire county to obtain more jobs at good wages to insure a happy, prosperous county.

Please read my pledge carefully and thoughtfully and if you elect me Sheriff I faithfully promise to carry out this solemn obligation.

HENRY MARLAR

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM JUDGE J. P. COLEMAN TO THE PEOPLE OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY:

DEAR FRIENDS:

I keenly regret that it is impossible for me to see each of you personally.

I therefore use this method of again humbly asking for your support and influence on Tuesday, August 23rd.

I stand in this second primary campaign on the same principals we espoused in the first primary. Our hands remain free, our preparation is complete, and our motives are pure.

Please pay no attention to last minute campaign falsehoods. They are intended only to confuse you and divert your attention from my twenty year record of faithful public service.

Again thanking you, and assuring you of my sincere desire to serve, I remain

Respectfully yours,
J. P. COLEMAN

50 Attend Rural Telephone Day Ceremonies In South Mississippi

MAGNOLIA—A crowd of approximately 450 attended ceremonies Thursday at the Centerville Consolidated School celebrating inauguration of rural telephone service in a wide area of Pike County east and south of Magnolia. The area includes the Centerville Woodrow communities.

The new facilities cost approximately $40,000; will provide homes for about 140 rural areas and business houses in area; and all will be connected to the Magnolia exchange, J. Maxwell, McComb Group manager for Southern Bell, told a big crowd assembled to hear addresses delivered by men women of prominence in and community affairs who on the program.

The network of rural telephone lines we are placing in place here today," Mr. Maxwell said, "is a sequel to the story at a similar celebration held with date last April. Like the date project, the one here part of a series of rural telephone jobs in the Pike, Lincoln, and Waltham county area, aimed to give this section one of the state's most complete rural telephone systems.

The principal address of the evening, J. M. Phillips of Jackson, Mississippi, Manager for the telephone company, said: "Southern Bell has spent more than a million dollars for rural telephone expansion in this general area since the end of 1945. This has enabled us to make a ten-fold increase in the number of telephones serving homes and rural business establishments in the counties included by Mr. Maxwell.

All of this is part of an overall plan of rural telephone improvement which Southern Bell has been following here in Mississippi for the past nine years," Phillips continued. "All years of work along with investment of over 15 million dollars of new money in these areas has resulted in raising the number of rural telephones in the state from 8335 in 1945 to more than 46,000 today."

The celebration was sponsored by citizens of the Woodrow and Centerville communities. A. M. Strickland was chairman of the organization committee and also as Master of Ceremonies. The program began at 7:00 P.M. and was followed by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the communities.

LOWER RIGHT: V. Y. Felder, Pike County Farm Bureau President placed the first long-distance call. Looking on, left to right are: Wallace Bunn of Southern Bell; Magnolia Mayor O. W. Phillips and G. W. Maxwell, also of Southern Bell.

Musical entertainment was furnished by the Harmonizers of the Magnolia High School Glee Club, led by Mrs. Elsie Barron, the school's Vocal Music Director.

The invocation was asked by the Reverend O. W. Wardlaw, Pastor of the Magnolia Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Gladys Simmons, Chairman of the Woodrow Grass Roots Committee delivered the address of welcome to which Mayor O. W. Phillips, of Magnolia, responded.

The Honorable B. D. Statham, Senator for Pike and Franklin Counties made a brief address.

Other speakers were C. A. McKinney, Chairman of the Centerville Grass Roots Committee, and W. R. Bunn, of Hattiesburg, Southern Bell District Manager. V. Y. Annual Cancer Crusade Began Aug. 15 Citizens Urged To Contribute Liberally

ANNUAL CANCER CRUSADE

Work began Monday, August 15, on the 1955 Cancer Drive which is to be an intensified 2-week campaign ending August 27.

Mrs. C. D. Davis, county cancer chairman, states that Mrs. Nell Wall, State Service Director, was in this county and discussed the immediate need for a drive. Funds of the American Cancer Society are exhausted and Tishomingo County had not held its 1955 Crusade. Mrs. Wall states no patient from this county can receive treatment until this crusade is held.

Mrs. Davis pointed out that during 1954 this county had 8 new patients admitted to the American Cancer Society service program. She states that each new patient cost approximately $209.00 to the society. This same period there were 56 cancer victims returning to the cancer clinic for follow-up visits. These patients cost the society $75.00 per year. With these figures in mind one can easily see the American Cancer Society spent $4,140.00 in 1954 on Tishomingo county patients.

The quota for Tishomingo county for 1955 is $850.00. You are being asked to give and give generously to the cancer drive so the county quota can be reached. Remember, that cancer is no respecter of persons, it strikes without mercy.

The Home Demonstration clubs of the county have taken over the responsibility of collections with the following people working in their respective communities:

Belmont, Mrs. Murray Adams and Mrs. Donie Opal Pace; Golden, Mrs. Portie Long and Mrs. C. C. Mink; Tishomingo, Mrs. Eloise Southward; Paden, Mrs. J. C. Deaton and Mrs. Artie Timbes!

Holcut, Mrs. Lou Stricklin; Midway, Mrs. Marvin Gray and Home Demonstration club members from Prospect and Midway; Harmony, Mrs. Lowery Dean; Friendship, Mrs. R. B. Dean; Snowdown, Mrs. Thomas; Oldham, Mrs. Blanche Daugherty; East Snowdown, Mrs. J. R. Wingo; Holtspur, Mrs. Iness

CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY UNITES MISS GARBO AND OLE PARSONS AT ST. LAMBERT'S CHURCH

Miss Phyllis Garbo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Garbo of Skokie, Illinois, became the bride of Olen Parsons, son of Mrs. J. N. Cox of Iuka, in a beautiful ceremony performed July 2 at St. Lambert's church in Skokie.

Vows were exchanged before a background of dense greenery and white gladioli, softly lighted by many candles. The bridal aisle, with its carpet of rich wine velvet, was outlined by clusters of white gladioli.

Nuptial music was represented by friends of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle over nylon featuring a deep portrait neckline of alencon lace. The bouffant skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a crown of bridal sequins and she carried a bouquet of double white orchids.

The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of light orchid net over satin and carried a bouquet of double yellow orchids.

Wally Garbo of Skokie served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Garbo wore a gown of aqua lace over satin. Mrs. Cox, mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of dark orchid net over taffeta.

Reception Held

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated with arrangements of ferns and gladioli.

The bride's table was covered with a beautiful white lace cloth and centered with the traditional tiered wedding cake encircled with gladioli. Illumination was by candlelight only. Friends assisted in serving.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for a three weeks' honeymoon in Mississippi and the Smoky mountains.

The couple will make their home in Skokie, Ill., where Mr. Parsons is employed as manager for Oklahoma Gas and Oil Co.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SECOND DISTRICT OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY:

I wish to express a word of thanks to each one that supported me in my race for Supervisor. I appreciate your support more than words can express. I trust you don't feel bad over the loss of your vote for me.

As you know I never received an overwhelming vote, but I did receive an honest, honorable vote which I'm very proud of.

To you who promised me then later changed your mind, I hold no ill will to you. If at any time I can be of service to you I stand ready at all times.

I feel that I ran an honest, honorable race and never told any falsehoods on any of my opponents to prejudice the mind of the people against them, because they are my friend.

C. J. (Cap) Arnold

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIRST DISTRICT:

I wish to express my thanks to those who saw fit to vote for me in the first primary.

Yours,

Balanced Farm and Home Planning Program Now Open To Farmers

W. C. Hamilton, County Agent, and Leola Smith, Home Demonstration Agent, announce that, "The Balanced Farm and Home Planning Program is now open for application and all farm families interested in this should make application at your earliest convenience."

Mr. T. K. Marlin, the new staff member in charge of this Balanced Farm and Home Program states, "The principal of the program is helping people help themselves."

Mr. Marlin continued, "Each farm and home is an individual program. With proper guidance each can combine the solution of these problems into a single practical workable plan." The objective of the program is to increase the farm income in order to give to the people a better living.

This Extension expansion was made possible by the additional appropriated Federal Funds to strengthen agriculture through research and education and all County Extension personnel is available to assist with problems that individual farm families may have.

The County Advisory Committee has been established to help advise on the first group of families to participate and to assist in other ways. Members of this committee consist of both leading business men and farmers.

HOME AGENT NOTES

BY
By Leola R. Smith
Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service

Get rid of "kitchen squint" by checking your kitchen lighting.

The old lighting arrangement of one ceiling fixture and a single, unshielded bulb over the sink won't do the job.

For even a bare minimum of good lighting in your kitchen, three requirements must be met. First a general lighting fixture is needed for room-wide illumination. This is usually an indirect

Next, you need local lighting for the sink and range areas. These can be wall bracket or ceiling fixtures. Cooking and washing dishes in the dark is all right if you only do it on picnics or camping trips. But, in the kitchen it's hard on your eyes and slows you down.

The third lighting area is under your wall cabinets. This lights up the work area on top of the counters. Safety is a big reason for the right amount of light here as most electrical appliances are used on the counters. If you can see what you are doing, it's easier to keep your fingers out of the mixer. Wall brackets are most satisfactory here.

Mrs. Blanche Daugherty of the Oldham Home Demonstration Club, who has a model kitchen, wonders how she ever got along without the special lighted areas in her kitchen.

Meat Facts

These meat facts will help you in caring for and preparing meat: Fresh meat should be stored in the refrigerator, loosely wrapped. Meat cooked in liquid should be simmered, never boiled.

Roasts should be cooked uncovered and no water should be added. Steaks should be turned only once when broiling.

Cooked meat should be stored in the refrigerator, tightly wrapped.

Drip Trays

Better remember to keep the trays beneath the surface units of your stove clean. Spilled foods, if left for a long time, may harm the finish or even cause some drip trays to rust.

Measuring Tools

Mrs. R. B. Dean, a member of the Friendship Home Demonstration Club, in doing her family sewing, uses a tape measure when taking body measurements for a garment and she uses a yardstick when checking the distance from the grain line of the pattern to the selvege of the fabric.

She also uses a yardstick or a hem marker to get the hem of a garment even, and a short ruler to measure for button holes or the width of the hem.

A good tape measure is made of oilcloth, which does not stretch. It has metal ends to prevent fraying. The numbers are printed on both sides and start at opposite ends.

Apple Appetizers

Apples make enticing appetizers. Brush raw apple rings with lemon juice to prevent darkening and spread with cream cheese moistened with milk, peanut butter and grated carrots. Or, spread with grated American cheese blended with a little mayonnaise and broil slowly until the cheese is melted and slightly brown.

Sprinkle slices with paprika or minced parsley and use them as garnish for meats.

'DISABILITY FREEZE' PROVIDED FOR BY 1954 AMENDMENTS

Workers who are disabled may now apply for the "disability freeze" provided by the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act. Mrs. Mary King Temple, district manager of the Sheffield, Ala., Social Security office announced today. The "disability freeze" provisions protect the benefit rights built up by persons who have worked regularly in jobs covered by the Social Security Law and who are disabled for a long period before reaching age

65. It provides that the workers' rights to benefits will be preserved as they stood at the time the worker became disabled. For this reason it is called the "disability freeze." It does not provide any payments before age 65.

The law provides that those persons who have been employed under Social Security for 5 years out of the last 10 years before coming disabled and at least half the time in the last 3 years before becoming disabled are eligible for the freeze if they are totally disabled.

Only those individuals who are totally disabled and have a disability which can be expected to be of long-continued and indefinite duration may qualify for the freeze. The disability must prevent the individual from performing any substantial gainful work.

Mrs. Temple urges all those who feel that they are eligible for the "freeze" to contact the Social Security office or have some one contact the office for them. Applications made 7-1-57 can cover a period of disability beginning as far back as 1941. Those made after 6-30-57 can go back no more than 1 year.

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER, DAD?

Every dad should answer these four questions for the benefit of his growing son:

- (1) Does your boy know how to use firearms safely?
- (2) Does he know how to fish and understand its joys and hazards?
- (3) Can he identify the many forms of wildlife?
- (4) Does he know what real conservation means?

If you answer "No" to any of these questions, learn what a BOYS OF WOODCRAFT SPORTSMEN'S CLUB for boys 8 to 16 years old can do for your son. He will have fun while receiving instruction in the safe use of firearms, fishing, fly and bassbug tying, accident prevention, first aid, the study of wildlife and conservation of natural resources.

From now until September 24 there's a special Davy Crockett Boys of Woodcraft membership campaign in full swing. Ask a representative listed below to tell you how your boy can enjoy these lifelong benefits together with safe, sound, legal reserve life insurance protection at a cost of only a few pennies a day.

Promises of God

Lesson for August 21, 1955

MANY Christians today become confused when they read the prophecies of the Old Testament. They do not seem to be either plain or profitable, because they are written in a strange style and the reader has no way of knowing.

without help, just where and why and when and to whom these words were first spoken or written. This column is much to short a space for straightening out the tangles in even one chapter. The thing to bear in mind is that there is enough in Scripture that is plain to any man, enough to give him all he needs to know about God and his will for us. This column this week will consider one general thought: the promises of God, as they are found in the pages of the prophets particularly.

The Prophet
The promises of God are never made directly, as by a loudspeaker in the sky. The same promise may be made to many persons; but not all at once. The message first takes shape under the skull of one man, a holy, sensitive man, with spiritual insight, generally with great courage and persistence: in short, a prophet. We do not know for certain just what the process is by which a divine truth gets into the human mind of the prophet; but when first the divine truth enters the human sphere, it comes as an idea, a thought, in some prophet's mind. Sometimes more than one prophet may say the same thing, as when Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel were all predicting the return of the Jews to Jerusalem. Sometimes the prophet stands entirely alone. But the prophet is like the lookout in the crow's nest of a ship, sighting the dim landfall before any one on deck can see it.

The Promise
Sometimes the signal the prophet's keen spirit caught from on high spelled disaster; sometimes it was like "news behind news," a commentary on the why of events in past or present. But often, indeed more often than anything else, the message of the prophet is a promise. You can sum up all the promises there are into one sentence: God is good; he desires the good of all his children; and he will bring good to pass. One writer in the New Testament suggests that the prophets did not always understand their own messages; they were like radio receivers crossed by static. Be that as it may, we know from reading the Gospels that the people who read the prophets, even the professional interpreters, did not always understand what they read. The promises were set in obscure language, often in poetry. One feature however is clear. The focus and center of the prophet's hope and dream was the Messiah. It is true, their descriptions were so misread that when Jesus Christ came, most of his fellow-countrymen, measuring him by the literal words of these promises, did not recognize him. But there were those who did. The Christian discovers that all the best good that God desires for his children is summed up in Christ and what he does for men.

The Present
What can a Christian today do with the promises passed on by the prophets? Some of them refer no doubt to events long since past, as when Ezekiel and Jeremiah predict the destruction of Babylon. The Christian can take such promises to support his faith that God does rule in the history of men; that his decrees are certain, his foreknowledge sure. Some of the promises are still unfulfilled, as when a prophet predicts the utter destruction of evil from this earth and the coming of a time of universal peace. A Christian can live by such hope even when (just as in the prophet's own days) the hope seems out of reach entirely. Where the prophet speaks of God's Servant the Coming One, we can use such promises to deepen our understanding of what Christ is to mean to the world. But every once in a while, in reading the prophets, one discovers that spans past, present and future. It was a promise made good long ago; it will come true in centuries to come; it is true this present hour. Such a promise is to be found, for instance, in Isaiah 55:6-7.

Where the prophet speaks of God's Servant the Coming One, we can use such promises to deepen our understanding of what Christ is to mean to the world. But every once in a while, in reading the prophets, one discovers that spans past, present and future. It was a promise made good long ago; it will come true in centuries to come; it is true this present hour. Such a promise is to be found, for instance, in Isaiah 55:6-7.

THE PRESENT
What can a Christian today do with the promises passed on by the prophets? Some of them refer no doubt to events long since past, as when Ezekiel and Jeremiah predict the destruction of Babylon. The Christian can take such promises to support his faith that God does rule in the history of men; that his decrees are certain, his foreknowledge sure. Some of the promises are still unfulfilled, as when a prophet predicts the utter destruction of evil from this earth and the coming of a time of universal peace. A Christian can live by such hope even when (just as in the prophet's own days) the hope seems out of reach entirely. Where the prophet speaks of God's Servant the Coming One, we can use such promises to deepen our understanding of what Christ is to mean to the world. But every once in a while, in reading the prophets, one discovers that spans past, present and future. It was a promise made good long ago; it will come true in centuries to come; it is true this present hour. Such a promise is to be found, for instance, in Isaiah 55:6-7.

SEAFOOD INDUSTRY PROVING BOON TO ECONOMY ALONG GULF COAST

Like these shrimp trawlers, which in Fall are converted to oyster vessels, account for millions of dollars worth of seafood which reaches dinner tables the nation over.

on still is king throughout of Mississippi, but the shrimp and oyster are the family along Mississippi's Gulf Coast, and the royal includes the tasty crab and variety of other inhabitants of Gulf waters. More than 1,300 boats and 6,000 people are employed in the picturesque seafood industry, which, according to recent trends, is growing.

During the past few years the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service's exploratory vessel Oregon has made interesting catches of yellowfin Tuna. Interest in Tuna was first aroused in 1951 when they were first seen in Gulf Coast waters in sufficient numbers to warrant further investigation.

Purpose of recent expeditions has been to determine the depth at which the tuna were running, to determine the best method for catching them, and to find out in what seasons fishing is best. Catches during the past year of both Tuna and deep running shrimp have created considerable interest and optimism in the seafood industry.

Commercial Tuna companies, most of which are located on the West Coast, especially have been interested in results of the Gulf tests since Tuna fleets operating from the Gulf Coast would be considerably closer to the fishing grounds than from San Diego, center of the industry now. A great majority of the population of the Gulf Coast, especially Biloxi, who glean their livelihood from the seafood industry are directly employed on shrimp trawlers and oyster boats, or work in factories which provide the nation's dinner tables with the succulent seafood cocktails which most of us take for granted.

A smaller, though still large number, have been prospering in business related to the perpetuation of this important industry, although not all of them are directly connected with the business of fishing. It takes a small army of people to keep the shrimp boats coming and going.

Shipbuilding alone is a sizeable industry along the Coast, providing employment for many people. A current directory of manufacturers for Mississippi lists 16 boat building establishments on the Coast, exclusive of the giant Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation yards at Pascagoula.

In addition to the men who build the boats for the fishing fleet, the industry requires machinists, trawl makers, ice manufacturers, marine hardware dealers, engine companies, grocers, distributors of fuel and many others offering such services.

In the Fall of the year the shrimp fleet converts a major portion of its fleet to oyster rigs. Keels must be boxed in, necessitating use of marine ways. Bulky guide posts must be installed from which rollers serve out the steel cables to the Gulf's bottom where the 140-pound steel-toothed dredges rake the bottom for the much sought bivalves.

There is a constant flow of business. Boats are ever in need of repair and must be hauled out on the ways periodically. Additional auxiliary businesses upon which the seafood industry depend are the marine hardware and supply dealers and the marine engine companies. They supply an endless stream of paints, chains, anchors, buckets, scales, ropes, cleats, compasses, shovels, rakes, tongs, and the hundreds of other odds and ends necessary to commercial fishing.

Good Lighting Not Hit Or Miss Job—It Must Be Planned; Guide Is Given

BY IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Good lighting is not a hit or miss job. It must be planned. And this goes for the farm, particularly, where scores of after-dusk accidents happen regularly because of poor illumination.

A dark farmyard can be a pretty formidable place in which to take a walk. It becomes even more dangerous when the farmer is hurrying to his chores following a long tiring day. All of us work better, faster and safer if we can see what we're doing, and where we're going. A combination of conventional yardlights and floodlights for locations over entrances to service buildings, and a cluster of floodlights on a yard pole to illuminate areas beyond buildings will do an adequate exterior illumination job. As a guide to how this can be accomplished we refer to the illustration below, which suggests:

Floodlights on side, near top of silo (1); cluster of three floodlights mounted on pole for three-directional general yard lighting (3); Conventional yard lights over entrance to dairy barn (2), and over entrance to poultry house (5)—in foreground; Floodlights or conventional yard light fixtures, whichever is more efficient for individual farm layouts, at entrance to hog house (4); at the three other No. 5 locations shown—poultry house, utility building and garage house, as well as entrances to such buildings as machine shed, farm shop, milk house, drive-through granary and storage structures. The foregoing represent general recommendations only—but they are tied directly to nation-wide safety statistics that prove conclusively that injuries can be prevented and work speeded up if farmers will follow the simple practice of putting plenty of light on the job—and lighting their paths to the job.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

DO YOU WANT AN INDEPENDENT PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONER WHO HAS BEEN ELECTED ON HIS MERITS, OR DO YOU WANT A COMMISSIONER WHO WAS ELECTED ONLY BECAUSE HE SPENT THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS ON THE CAMPAIGN?

Sam Wilhite

HERE ARE THE FACTS!

Sam Wilhite has made a modest campaign. He based this campaign on his qualifications. His opponent, Rubel Phillips, has made an extravagant campaign! Phillips based his campaign on spending thousands of dollars on expensive billboards, advertising, book matches, blue posters, and radio and television time!

STOP AND THINK!

What can you expect from these two men? You can expect service from Wilhite. He wants the job so he can be of service to the people. From Phillips you don't know what to expect. Do you ever know what to expect from a candidate who spends more to get elected than the office pays in four years?

PLAY IT SAFE!

Don't take chances with your positions of public trust. Don't take a chance on your telephone rates being raised during the next four years. On August 23, play it safe in the interest of good government, and
