Eastland Introduces Bills Aimed To Enlarge Cotton Market & Miss. Acreage

Washington, D. C.—A series of new bills aimed at greatly enlarging the domestic and world cotton market and increasing Mississippi cotton acreage by 20 per cent have been introduced by Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.).

One of the measures would provide a price-lowering subsidy for cotton farmers, enabling them to recapture domestic markets which have been lost in the last few years to synthetic fibers and paper.

This plan would be substituted for the soil bank program, which pays cotton farmers for curtailing acreage and placing their land in the soil bank. Under the soil bank program, the Department of Agriculture set aside $217,000,000 for cotton farmers.

"A selective program to recapture these lost markets by a subsidy would cost less than $217,000,000, and would increase the consumption of cotton far more than the expenditure of this same amount would curtail production," Senator Eastland said.

Senator Eastland pointed out that domestic markets such as automobile tires actually prefer cotton, but cannot afford it under present conditions.

To provide the additional cotton which would be needed in an expanding market, Senator Eastland also has introduced a bill calling for a 20 per cent increase in acreage on a statewide basis in 1958.

"We must not lose sight of the fact that we have got to produce for markets, and in my judgment it will require increased production in 1958 for the American cotton farmer to continue to have fair share of the world cotton market," he said.

Senator Eastland pointed out that the soil bank program is a negative approach to the problem of cotton surpluses in that it provides no long-range solution to the problem.

"The real solution is to raise consumption of cotton," he declared. "We can do this by government assistance to make it more attractive to fiber users. All other things being equal, consumers prefer cotton."

"If we could do this there would be more money in the pockets of the farmer, more money in the pockets of the merchant, and more money in the pockets of the processors. Our economy would be enriched rather than stagnated," he said.

Another bill introduced jointly with Senator John C. Stennis would make permanent the small farm amendment. The present act guarantees every farmer a minimum of four acres of cotton or the highest planted in the last three years. The amendment, which protects the small farmer, will expire automatically in 1958 unless it is continued.

Abernethy Suggest Bartering Farm Surpluses

Extension for two years of the Government's authority to sell farm surpluses abroad for foreign currencies, and increase of one billion dollars in the amount of surpluses to satellite countries for strategic materials is provided in a bill introduced today by Representative Thomas G. Abernethy of Mississippi.

Abernethy's bill will amend the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act of 1954, commonly called "Public Law 480" to extend the termination date from June 30, 1957 to June 30, 1959. It would increase from three billion dollars to four billion dollars and amount of surpluses which may be disposed of for foreign currency.

The bill will also authorize the Department of Agriculture to enter into barter agreements with satellite countries, exchange some of our agricultural surpluses for strategic and similar materials not produced in sufficient quantity for defense purposes in the United States. At the same time, the bill specifically prohibits the making of such deals with the USSR, Red China, or North Korea.

Abernethy said he considered it very important at this time that our Government should be in a position to offer surplus foods and other agricultural commodities to satellite countries on a commercial basis but that he doubted the wisdom of accepting in payment the local currencies of countries whose governments are in the uncertain status of some of the satellite countries. Under the provisions of his bill, he said, barter transactions with these countries, but not sales for their currency, will be authorized.

Enacted in August 1954, Public

Law 480 has proved to be one of the most effective methods of disposing beneficially of our farm surpluses. It authorizes sales of these surpluses to foreign countries for the currency of such country and provides that the funds thus acquired shall be used to pay expenses of the United States abroad and for the promotion of foreign trade, and other beneficial purposes.

From the start of the program through November 15, 1956, more than $2,550,000,000 worth of commodities have been programmed for disposal under this law.

Experiment Station Reports Results Of 1956 Corn Tests

State College, Miss.—"The best guide to the desirability of a corn hybrid is its performance over a period of years at a number of locations," according to Dr. Robert C. Eckhardt, USDA agronomist who heads the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station corn breeding program.

In 1956 the Station conducted tests at State College, at Branch Experiment Stations at Holly Springs, Pontotoc, Verona, Stoneville, Newton, Raymond, Brooksville, and Poplarville and on the Schaefer Plantation at Yazoo City.

Based on performance in '56, as well as in past years, the following hybrids are recommended for Mississippi:

North Mississippi: Yellow—Dixie 22, Funk G 710A, Pfister (P.A.G.) 486, Pioneer 309A. White—Dixie 29, Dixie 55, Dixie 11, Dixie 33, Pfister (P.A.G.) 653, Funk G 779W, Dixie 17, Pfister 631.

Central Mississippi: Yellow—Dixie 82, Pfister (P.A.G.) 486, Funk G 710, Dixie 22. White—Dixie 55, Dixie 11, Funk G 785W, Coker 911, Coker 811.

South Mississippi: Yellow—Dixie 18, Funk G 740, McCurdy 1003, White-Coker 811, La. 521.

Silage: The best quality corn silage is made from hybrids that produce a high yield of grain. Choose a hybrid in your section recommended for yield and erect plants.

Detailed reports of the tests are published in the January issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available on request from the Experiment Station at State College. The reports not only show how each hybrid yielded at each location but contain information on standing ability, protection against weeds, and other important characteristics of the various hybrids.

Babson Discusses Where To Live; How To Get Benefits From New Location

BABSON DISCUSSES WHERE TO LIVE

Mr. W. Babson, Jan. 17. I am interested in a Gallup Poll of six questions where to live. I do not discuss answers to any of these, but which is the "Most Beautiful State" - or the "Best" - or which is the best "Winter or Summer Vacation." I answer to all these questions most interesting. I, however, am not qualified to pass thereon. Ten Most Popular

The six questions, Mr. Gallup the ten first choices. Based on the Law of Averages (in which I have great faith), the nine states appear in the top six of the six questions. These are California, Florida, Washington, Oregon, New York, Michigan, and Mexico or Arizona.

Based upon my extensive travels and the opinions of thousands of people, I honestly believe that one of our forty-eight states is to some extent all the six questions mentioned in this poll. It means to me that every reader should continue to live in the state where he is now located. Us Look At The Record

Statistics show that death rates in health conditions depend 90% on the heritage and habits of individuals and Not upon where they live. The joy which we get from a vacation depends far more on the people we meet than on the scenery we see. None of the things which we really want can be had with a railroad ticket!

I, however, should be an authority on the best places to get a job. If you mean Now, the answer is "probably Southern California or wherever airplane plants are located." But, when the fear of World War III is over, these same sections will suffer much unemployment. In fact, directly after a previous World War, 80% of the bus and taxi drivers of Los Angeles were said to be college graduates.

Wages And Investments

Wages are higher when work is plentiful in some cities, but such work is likely to fluctuate more. Statistics indicate that the total yearly "take home" wages, adjusted according to living costs, are about the same in all 48 states. Again I say that in the long run a family does not better its total income by moving. One can get more comforts in Miami, Florida, than in Bismarck, North Dakota; but I am sure the latter is a better place to bring up a family of children.

Of course the future value of land varies with different states. Probably the best purchases for speculation are in the West Coast States and the Southern States. In making purchases of homes, however, put more money into the land rather than into the house. Well-located land in any part of this wonderful country should continue to become more valuable from year to year; but any house is becoming less valuable each year unless money is constantly spent to keep it up to date.

Three Recommendations

To those who are determined to move, I suggest you consider for investment or employment a capital city of one of the 48 States. None of these 48 cities have ever defaulted on their municipal bonds. Owing to the large number employed by the various state departments, there is very little unemployment even during a depression. Due to pension systems—which most states have adopted—almost every family feels secure about its old age or the possibility of sickness. Most important of all is the fact that taxes can be collected from the entire state to support the capital city, whatever general business conditions may be elsewhere.

Cities having State Universities are also to be chosen. These likewise are supported by taxes from all the state. They are rapidly growing. Your children get a college education at a low cost as well as a good "boy or girl friend." I also like cities which have non-fluctuating but constantly growing industries. The insurance business is a good illustration. Business is always good in such cities as Hartford, Conn. Every state has one or more of such cities. However, your future depends upon you, rather than upon where you are located. Hence, my advice is to avoid being a "rolling stone"; but make good where you now are.

World's Largest Oil Reservoir

UPON DISCOVERY THAT THE CLAY at Amuay, Venezuela, was impermeable enough to hold oil without any appreciable loss from seepage, the U. S. owned Creole Petroleum Corporation, with the help of experts from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has drastically cut storage costs in the construction of this 8,800,000 barrel earthen storage reservoir—the largest in the world. Covering nearly 29 acres, it is 60 feet deep and has an earthen dam 275 feet wide at base around two sides. This type of storage, built at a cost of $2,800,000, cuts cost to about 35 cents a barrel compared with $1.65 to $2.00 for conventional tank storage.

Thursday Club Represented At 3rd. Dist. Institute

Eight members from the Thursday Club attended the Third District Institute held at Tupelo January 12th. They were instructed as to how to make reports which are to be sent to the various departments and divisions by February 1st.

Mrs. Curtis called a meeting of the club on Wednesday, the 16th, at her home for the purpose of instructing all members in reporting and to give out the proper forms. Awards will be given at the district convention to be held at Oxford on April 3rd.

BASKETBALL ROUND-UP Benefit Games Boost March of Dimes Campaign; Iuka Tangles With Tish. And Burnsville During Past Week

By Van Savell

The 1957 March of Dimes drive was given a large boost at the Iuka gym Saturday night of last week, when four county teams agreed to play in a doubleheader basketball game.

The four teams represented were Iuka, Tishomingo, Burnsville, and Holcut. The records of each team through Saturday night's games were: Iuka (9-9), Tishomingo (18-5), Burnsville (18-8) and Holcut (9-6). The first game was played between Iuka and Holcut with the visiting team coming from behind to win by a score of 61-53. The halftime score was 29-27 in favor of Iuka. High scorers for Iuka were Dean, Clark, and Carson with 20, 11, and 10 points respectively. The high scorers for Holcut were Pace 16, Wade 10, and Crawford 9 points.

In the second game, which was played between Tishomingo and Burnsville, it took two overtime periods to settle a hard fought contest. The halftime score was 27-22 in favor of Burnsville.

In the second half Tishomingo came from behind and went ahead by two points with a minute to go, but a last minute basket by Edwards of Burnsville sent the game into an overtime period. The score at that point was 60-60. At the end of the first overtime, the score was again tied at 65-65. In the second overtime period Tishomingo went ahead to win by a score of 73-72. The high scorers for Tishomingo were Blunt 20 points, Ingram and Hill 16 each. The high scorers for Burnsville were White 17 and Edwards 16 points.

The Burnsville basketball teams invaded the local gym Tuesday night of this week, and took home two victories.

In the B-team game Iuka led till about a minute to go, but in the last 45 seconds Burnsville went ahead to win by a score of 41-37. Halftime score was 29-22 in favor of Iuka. The high scorer for Iuka was Milligan with 14 and Gaines was next with 9. Best for Burnsville were Rhodes and Hendrix, who each got 12.

With one player absent and one with a bad leg, Iuka could not make an interesting contest of the girls game. The final score was 42-13 for Burnsville. Johnson got 6 and Robinson 4 for Iuka; while Morris and Yarbrough each bagged 12 for the winners.

The boys game was hard fought and close to the end, with 8 points being the largest lead. The halftime score was 32-25 in favor of the visitors, but in the second half Iuka outscored Burnsville 12 points and went on to win by a score of 58-53. The high man for Iuka were Dean and White with 11 each, Philbin got 10 and Carson 9. Vandiver led the visiting group with 20 and Harris was next with 12.

The Iuka basketball squads invaded the Tishomingo gym Tuesday night of last week, and came home the victors of two games.

The B-team game was close and was played hard by both teams. The halftime score was 18-15 in favor of Iuka and the B-team from Iuka held onto a slight lead and won by a score of 40-34. The high scorers for Iuka were Brown, Gaines and Robertson with 8 points each. For Tishomingo, Borden, Rushing and Parrish scored, 8, 7 and 6 points respectively.

In the girls game Iuka and Tishomingo played wide open basketball, but neither could get ahead way of any kind. The halftime score was tied at 17-17, and the final score was 37-35 in favor of the home team. The high scorers for Iuka were Johnson with 13 and Rhodes with 12. Hunt and Young scored 14 points each for Tishomingo.

The boys game was played hard and close, with Iuka leading almost throughout. At the halftime Iuka led by a margin of 2 points, with the scorers being 28-26. The final score was 50-40 with the Iuka Warriors being victorious. Clark scored highest for the winners with 12, White and Philbin each got 8. The high scorers for Tishomingo were Hill 20 points and Goddard 12.

Holcut Boys Win Over Glendale Five

The Holcut A-team salvaged a 71-50 victory at Glendale Tuesday night. The halftime score was 37-20 in favor of the local county team. The high scorers for Holcut were Pace, Wade, Sims, Crawford and Gist with 22, 15, 12, 10 and 8 respectively. The high scorers for Glendale were Vanderford 22 and Smith with 12.

Burnsville Defeats Glendale In Two Out Of Three

In the basketball games played at Burnsville gym on Friday night of last week the Burnsville girls and the B boys won over the Glendale groups.

In the opening game the Burnsville B-team led the visitors 24 to 13 at halftime and continued the lead to the end. For Burnsville Hendricks hit 14 and Reese 19; Whittemore scored 11 and Crum followed with 13 for the losers.

The girls' game was 20 to 12 for Burnsville at the halftime, but Burnsville slowed down and Glendale came within a two-point margin of winning the game. In the final moments of the game Burnsville luckily scored two points and ended with another victory for the improved team. Yarbrough again scored best for Burnsville with 19 and Little and Newcombs scored 11 each for Glendale.

Glendale A boys beat the Burnsville five by a score of 36 to 24. Harris was high man for Burnsville with 15; White got 11 and Vandiver 10 for Burnsville; Wigginton tallied 19 and Vanderford 17 for the winning team.

Holcut Loses To Biggersville

Holcut played host to the Biggersville Lions and Lionettes on Friday night of last week. In the opening game the Holcut girls followed Biggersville close but the Lionettes managed to end the game with a 36 to 33 score. Hester scored 21 and McGee 12 for Holcut; while Price led the winners with 14 points.

A 3-point margin was the deciding factor in the boys game. The Lions took a second lead over Holcut and held it throughout the game. At the halftime Holcut fell behind 6 points, but edged close and at the end of the game the Biggersville five won by only five points; final scores being 50 to 47. Dilworth for Biggersville scored 21 and Cooper was next with 11. Wade and Pace each scored 13 for the losing team.

4-H Club Tourney Now In Progress At Holcut Gym

The county 4-H Club Basketball Tournament is now in progress at the Holcut gymnasium. The tourney began on Wednesday night and will continue through Saturday night. Eleven schools are represented through their clubs. They are: Pleasant Ridge, Burnsville, Iuka, Central, Snowdown, Midway, Holcut, Tishomingo, Dennis, Paden and Golden. Each school named will have a boys' team and a girls' team. No one other than a 4-H club member is eligible for playing.

Holcut has contributed to the clubs by giving the free use of its gym and has accepted the responsibility of seeing that everything is done to make this worthwhile and pleasant event successful. The local National Guard unit has offered a public sound system for use during the games.

A Golden Egg trophy will be presented to the county-winning boys' team and to the winning girls' team. This trophy will remain with the winning club for one year and will be returned to be presented to winning team the following year.

Proceeds from the 4-H Club tournament will be used to promote club work throughout the county. Everyone is urged to attend.

If you received a package of pecans for Christmas, bought some or harvested pecans from your own trees, you may want to shell and store to keep their fine flavor. Pecans like other nuts keep better in the shell than shelled, but the shelled nuts or "meats" take only half as much space and are convenient for immediate use.

For easy shelling, mix 1/2 cup of salt to 3 quarts of water in an enamel, glass or earthenware or wood container. Soak pecans in the salt water overnight and drain. A 6 to 8 hour soaking is required. Crack the pecans carefully and shell. Your favorite cracker will do the job, and the nut meats will come out whole with a little care.

After you have finished the shelling, sort the pecans and discard any discolored or imperfect nuts. Spread the nuts out to dry in a warm place. The oven at 150 degrees F with the door slightly ajar is a good place. But be careful: do not scorch the nuts.

Now, let them cool. For Freezing, pack in vapor-moisture-proof containers. For home use, you may find it convenient to pack one cup of nut meats in each pint bag; or put two cups in each pint container or four in a quart container.

Be sure you press out all air before sealing the packages. Now they are ready to quick freeze in your locker or home freezer, or store in your refrigerator for convenient use.

The colder the better for keeping pecan meats fresh. Tests show that at room temperature (70 to 80 degrees F) pecan meats keep fresh only 2 months; in the home refrigerator (30 to 40 degrees F.) they may be held 9 months; in the home freezer at zero F., they will be in good condition for two years.

What's in the Cupboard?

Do you really know what's in the drawers and on the shelves of your kitchen cabinets? See you can't find time for a check and rearrangement. You'll probably be like most homemakers and find things you'd forgotten you had or else couldn't get out to use with out upsetting the whole cupboard.

Look over the supplies and storage space and see how much time and work you might save by arranging supplies, utensils and dishes in well located places to avoid rehandling, stooping, stretching and extra walking.

There is no definite place where certain articles must be kept. Put the number and kind of items in places that suit you and according to how often you use them. Store articles in the area of their first use.

For example, put the sauce pan that is always filled with water before you take it to the stove at the sink, but put the skillet that needs no water in the stove area.

The easy-to-reach and easy-to-see spots are most logical storage areas for supplies, utensils and dishes that you use most often. Space savers as step-on shelves, vertical shelf dividers and door racks will help keep the contents visible and accessible.

County Cornmeal Contest

The 4-H County Cornmeal Contest will be held during January for 4-H girls enrolled in the foods project. The county winner of the Class II girls will participate in the District Contest on March 1.

Cornmeal is a nutritious and economical food which can be used in preparing many appetizing dishes.

Corn Meal Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon lemon extract
3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup cornmeal
1/2 cup raisins

Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and cream well. Beat in eggs until light and fluffy. Add lemon extract. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, nutmeg and corn meal; add to creamed mixture. Mix thoroughly. Add raisins. Roll dough to 1/8 inch thickness on lightly floured board; cut with floured cookie cutter or drop from teaspoon on to cookie sheet, then flatten with fork. Bake on greased baking sheet in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.)

Corn Meal Gingerbread

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup thick molasses
1 t. soda
1 c. boiling water
1 c. corn meal
2 c. sifted flour
1/2 t. salt
1 t. cinnamon
1 t. mace
1 t. ginger
1 t. allspice
1 t. nutmeg
1 t. cloves
1 egg, beaten

Note: 1 cup grated coconut may be used. Line a heavy baking pan 9"x13"x2" with two thicknesses of parchment paper. Grease well and dust lightly with flour. Measure shortening, molasses, soda, and boiling water into mixing bowl. Blend. Sift remaining dry ingredients into the liquid ingredients. Mix well, add coconut now. Add beaten egg and stir. Bake in 350 degree F. oven for 35-45 minutes or until done.

Righteousness

Lesson for January 20, 1957

RIGHTEOUSNESS is an old-fashioned word. You almost never see it outside the Bible. But the thing itself is not old-fashioned, you can see it outside the Bible, nearly everybody wants it for himself and everybody wants it for his neighbors. Even criminals count on it—in other people! The word originally came (in the Bible) from the Hebrew word meaning "straight." To this day everybody knows what the difference is between a straight man and a crooked one. We mean the same thing sometimes when we use only the first part of the word, "right." We like to be right, we like to have the right people around us. "He's just not right" is one of the worst things that can be said about a man. A righteous person is one that is all that he should be. He comes up to standard, there is nothing shoddy or make believe about him. To be sure, some people don't care about this; but then some people don't care whether they are healthy or clean.

Better Than the Best

One of the things Jesus said that must have sounded surprising at the time he said it, was that the righteousness of those who followed him must "exceed that of the Pharisees." Now the Pharisees made a specialty of righteousness. They were super-good, or aimed to be. They had money, and leisure, and they spent their time thinking up ways to be better than anybody. They were, so to speak, the athletes of morality. They held all the records for high jumps and pole vaults to the top levels of righteousness. Nobody else even tried to be as good as they were. So it must have astonished everybody, not to mention shocking the Pharisees, when Jesus as good as said they were not up to the standards of the kingdom of heaven. If we look into what Jesus said by way of explaining this astonishing remark, however, we can see three ways in which the Pharisees' idea of what it is to be right—right in the sight of God, that is—comes short of the true ideal. First of all, the Pharisees were interested in action only. Now acts are very important. But as Jesus explained it, actions come from inner attitudes, and where the attitude is wrong, acts are likely to be wrong too. True righteousness, or rightness, begins and has its roots in "the heart," the inner life, where thoughts begin. The truly right person will not be content with making a good showing, he wants to be right even if it never shows.

No Fences for Love

So the righteousness Jesus demands goes deeper than what satisfied the Pharisees, ancient or modern. But he pointed out another difference. Jesus' ideal (which is God's ideal) of rightness is also broader than the Pharisees' brand. They loved their friends, they would do a great deal for those who did a lot for them. Jesus pointed out that anybody not a complete fool will do as much. "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" is a philosophy almost anybody can understand. Loving people who love you — and no others — is like exchanging presents at Christmas time. Some people "give" a great many presents, at least they wrap them up and distribute them; but they don't give a thing unless they expect to get a present in return. The Pharisees, ancient and modern, know what love is; but they put a fence around it. They do not "waste" love on those who do not in some way pay them for it. Jesus went all the way — so far that to this day few of us dare to follow him. Love your enemies, he said. Love is good; the Pharisees were on the right track. But love must have no horizons.

Why Be Good?

The kind of righteousness God wants has another sure mark: it has the right motive. The Pharisees wanted to be right so as to be admired by other men. But true rightness has just one motive: to be like our Father in heaven. To wish to be God, — to "play God," is wicked; but it is not wicked, it is the very heart of the truly good life, to love God so much, and know him so well (and never so well as in Christ) that one can think of nothing better than to be like him. All other motives fail, some time; but this one motive carries the secret of the power of God's true saints.

County Agent news

By W. C. HAMILTON
Representing Mississippi State College Agricultural Extension

Outlook

Generally the agricultural outlook for 1957 is for continued high production of most products, higher prices for what you buy and lower prices for what you sell.

Some reduction in surpluses is indicated along with increased exports. Higher taxes, higher mortgage debts and higher production costs are also indicated.

Cotton. The U. S. supply of cotton for the 1956-57 season stands at a record high of about 27.9 million bales. This compares with the previous record last year of 26 million bales. The world supply of cotton has increased each year since 1950, and is now at the highest level on record (approximately 60 million bales).

Generally, foreign production of cotton has been increasing while U. S. production has declined. Rigid high price supports for American cotton has stimulated the increase of foreign acreage and the expanded use of synthetics.

Cotton exports for the 1956-57 season are expected to reach 6.5 million bales—three times the export total for 1955-56.

The 1957 national upland cotton acreage allotment now stands at 17.6 million acres as announced on August 31.

Domestic mill consumption of cotton in 1956-57 will be about 9 million bales, compared to 9.2 million bales in 1955-56.

On the above basis of production, carry over, domestic consumption and exports, the carry-over beginning August 1, 1957 will be about 12.4 million bales as compared to 14.5 million on August 1, 1956.

Soybeans. Acreage is likely to increase in 1957 and prices should remain about the same as in 1956.

Beef Cattle prices should show little change in 1957, although the price of beef may increase slightly. Prices should remain well below prices of several years ago.

Hog numbers are down. This should result in fewer hogs being slaughtered and should reflect corresponding price increases throughout 1957.

Dairy Products. While numbers of milk cows continues to decline, the production per cow shows considerable increase. With a declining surplus stock and an increased per capita consumption, to take care of the increase in production, prices generally should remain about the same.

Egg prices are expected to be lower in 1957 than in 1956.

Broiler number are expected to be up from 1956. But with the smaller supply of red meat expected on 1957 markets, prices should be around the same as in 1956, or slightly higher.

Forest products. Supplies of practically all forest products are more or less limited, demand strong, consumption increasing and prices are expected to continue relatively high.

Farmers must continue to cut production costs. This will take better planning, shooting for higher yields and making use of improved marketing services.

Remember there are only two ways to balance any budget—Make more, or Spend less.

Soil Testing

Avoid the rush. The time to send soil samples to the State Soils Testing Laboratory for fertilizer analysis is right now. By sending in samples at this time you will get the information back 80 YEARS ON THE SAME PAYROLL — Frank J. "Yank" Hultzman of Corning, N. Y. has the longest service record in American industry. He started to work for Corning Glass Works in 1876, and was already a veteran of 30 years with the company when the picture at left was taken in 1906. Yank is at center, with blowing iron. He and a hand shop like the one pictured blew some of the world's first electric light bulbs.

At right, Yank is shown recently, looking over five minutes' production of light bulbs on Corning's famous "ribbon" machine. The machine turns out 2,000 light bulbs a minute — more than Yank and two assistants used to make by hand in a day. Yank received his 80-year pin from Corning Glass Works on December 1, at a banquet in his honor.

in plenty of time to buy your needed fertilizer materials before planting time.

If you wait until the last minute, your sample will have to compete with other last minute samples for action. Don't wait. Do it now. Remember, a soils test is the only way you can be sure of just how much fertilizer to use for most profitable results.

41 Counties Train Social Security Tax Advisors

Farmers in 41 counties may now receive assistance from trained consultants in preparing their 1956 income tax returns, according to J. V. Pace, advisor on income tax and social security for the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

"Many farmers", Pace said, "have not been availing themselves of social security benefits since the law was extended to farmers. They must qualify through the filing of income tax returns", Pace added, "and it is our job to see that they avail themselves of every opportunity to make savings for themselves within the framework of the law and to secure all benefit of the social security provision for farmers."

County agents and other extension personnel are conducting educational programs among farm groups in cooperation with Pace. On January 24th a series of meetings will be completed with the boards of directors of county Farm Bureaus offering this new service.

Earlier, in December, a series of two-day training schools were held for the consultants who will be assigned by the county Farm Bureaus. This training was conducted by representatives of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, the Extension Service, Internal Revenue Service, and the Social Security Administration.

Farmers may contact their county agent's office or their local county Farm Bureau office for information on this Farm Bureau service which is provided on a nominal fee basis.

Have You Filed For Water Rights?

The following information is quoted directly from the publication "our soil." If you expect to take water from streams for irrigation purposes be sure you comply with the law and file for water rights.

Who may file a claim for the establishment of surface water rights?

1. Surface water users between April 6, 1953 and April 6, 1956 may establish their right to continue the use of water to the extent of the beneficial use made thereof.

2. Persons who begin to use surface water between April 7, 1956 and March 31, 1958 may establish their rights to available water to the extent of the beneficial use made thereof, subject to all prior lawful rights of others.

3. Persons who were bona fide engaged in the construction of works for the actual application of water to a beneficial use, on April 6, 1956, will be allowed to establish their rights to take and use surface water, provided that they comply with all provisions of the law.

4. Domestic users (water for ordinary household purposes, the watering of farm livestock, poultry, and domestic animals, and the irrigation of home gardens and lawns) are not required by law to obtain permits, but the Board of Water Commissioners recommends that they establish their rights. The Board must know the location and requirements of all domestic users in order to protect their water supply for them.

Who is NOT required to establish their water rights?

1. Nothing in the water law can be construed or interpreted as affecting ground or subterranean water rights or usage.

2. Nothing in the law can be construed as making it applicable to dredging or washing of sand and gravel.

3. Nothing in the law shall operate to deprive any landowner of the right to the use of water from a spring arising on his land so long as such use does not interfere with the right of any water user below.

4. Nothing in the law shall interfere with a landowner's right to place a dam across a gully on his property or across a stream that originates on his property so long as provision is made for continued established average minimum stream flow, if and when such flow is required to protect the rights of water users below.

Dr. Joe T. Odle, Jackson, associate executive secretary, Mississippi Baptist Convention Board, will direct the meeting and be one of the principal speakers.

Other speakers will include Dr. Chester L. Quarles, state Baptist executive secretary-treasurer; Thomas B. Chaney, superintendent of missions for Hinds County Baptist Association; Rev. W. Henry Crouch, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, and Rev. Fred A. Tarpley, pastor of Ridgecrest Baptist Church, all of Jackson.

The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. and adjourn at 4 p. m.

Among those from this County who are planning to attend are Bros. Carmon Savell, C. C. Perry, J. C. Hawthorne, J. D. Joslin, J. A. Blount, W. A. Hamilton and Bill Beam.

Sergeant 1st Class James E. Martin, (colored) son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer M. Martin, R-1, Tishomingo, Miss., is a mess steward in Service Battery of the 597th Armored Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Sill, Okla.

Sergeant Martin attended Carter's Branch High School and was a farmer before entering the Army in March 1951. He was last stationed in Guam.

Six heavily loaded Chevy trucks ran all the way up the rugged Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! That's cutting more than a full day off the normal running-time! They ran right around the clock, stopping only to refuel.

But the important fact about this run was that it proved new Chevy trucks through and through. The Alcan Highway is a supreme test of every truck component. Engines had to prove their power up high-climbing grades and through washouts. Frames and suspensions flexed their muscles over axle-deep ruts and miles of pounding gravel. "And not a single truck turned back or dropped out due to mechanical failure," states the official AAA report of the test. Every model proved its over-all economy by its ironclad ability to stay on the job! Stop by; we'll talk about it.

160 Acres To Be Used for Forest Tree Seedling Nursery

C. B. Marlin, State Forester, day announced that 160 acres of land has been acquired by the Mississippi Forestry Commission at a location on the Powe level seven and one-half miles southeast of Waynesboro in Wayne County from D. E. Coxwell and George S. Powe, for the purpose of establishing a forest tree seedling nursery.

The Coxwell-Powell tract was selected from more than 100 sites considered, in a state-wide search for a site having a special type of level land, adequate supply of acceptable water, transportation facilities and labor supply.

Marlin expressed appreciation for invaluable assistance in procuring this excellent site to many citizens of Wayne County. He also thanked the Soil Conservation Service and other County Agricultural agencies for their help in site location work all over the State.

The new nursery, one of the largest in the Country and capable of producing 50 million seedlings per year, is being built to expand tree seedling production to assist in bringing seedling supply nearer the demand. The Commission received orders for 85 million seedlings this winter and had only 30,000,000 seedlings available.

The seedlings will be made available to landowners for planting on idle and loafing acres. One thousand seedlings will be given to each landowner making application and the others sold at near production costs.

Construction and operating costs are being borne by Soil Bank Funds administered by United States Forest Service under the provisions of the tree-planting section of the Soil Bank Act of 1955.

Planning of the construction and other phases of the new nursery have been underway by the Forestry Commission for some time. A test well to verify a satisfactory quantity and quality of available water at the site has been drilled. Bids and contracts are expected to be let almost immediately for construction of buildings and irrigation facilities.
