Thursday Study Club Meets With Mrs. I. M. Jackson

The Thursday Study Club met Thursday, Feb. 8, in the home of Mrs. I. M. Jackson on Quitman.

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. J. A. Roane, Mrs. L. G. Haines and Mrs. D. O. Jourdan, was appointed by Mrs. R. L. Brown, president.

Three members, Mrs. Kelly Segars, Mrs. R. L. Brown, and Mrs. W. J. Pyle, brought flower arrangements stressing the Valentine theme. Mrs. Segars' arrangement, which drew many compliments from the club members, received first place. A huge heart of red satin formed the background for the arrangement of red carnations placed over tiny white doilies. A flat silver tray held the arrangement.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Pyle tied for second place. Mrs. Brown's arrangement was an old fashioned nosegay of pink carnations with several tiny pearl hearts. Forming the background was an opened pink fan and placed in front of the nosegay were two birds, one carrying a letter in its bill bearing the words "To My Valentine."

Mrs. Pyle's arrangement, which was also very beautiful, was a red heart very attractively displayed on a round mirror, encircled by red and white gathered net and tiny rose buds. Centering the heart was a cupid with a wrapped red satin bow and a small rose.

The traveling prize, which was a crystal flower bowl, was won by Mrs. Segars.

Mrs. C. B. Reid, program leader, presented W. E. Ludlam as her guest speaker. Mr. Ludlam gave a very interesting and informative talk entitled "Know Mississippi Better."

Thirteen members were present. The hostess served a delicious salad plate at the conclusion of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardin spent Saturday in Jackson. Mr. Hardin attended a Contractor's Meeting.

Mrs. Ona James Hostess To East Iuka HD Club

The East Iuka Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 14, in the home of Mrs. Ona James.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Rayma Wilson. Mrs. Ellen Robinson, vice-president, presided over the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Blanche Daugherty, president. The January minutes were read by Mrs. W. H. Rutherford, secretary-treasurer. They in turn were approved by the club.

A motion picture, which would change each month. Next month, each member is asked to bring enough material to make an apron.

Following the business session, a demonstration on "Landscaping The Home" was given by Miss Diane Francis, Home Agent. The study topic on Communism was given by Mrs. Wilson.

A period of recreation was led by Mrs. Eula Cornelson, after which tasty refreshments were served by the hostess. There were 12 members and 3 visitors present.

The March meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Wilson. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. instead of the usual 1 p. m. Lunch will be served.

One of Mississippi's major river and harbor developments is the new river terminal at Vicksburg. E. W. Haining, president of First National Bank & Trust Company of Vicksburg, is president of the Warren County Port Commission and is one of the planners of this six and one half million dollar project.

Mississippi on the march... Rivers and Harbors

Mississippi's growth is bringing in more capital... creating new jobs and payrolls. This in turn increases the phone needs of home, business and industry.

Port and river projects are pouring another $50 million into Mississippi's economic bloodstream... including such works as Greenville, Vicksburg and Natchez port developments... The Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway... Yazoo and Sunflower river systems... new banana terminal at Gulfport, harbor developments at Biloxi and Pascagoula, and the Bayou Casotte harbor of Jackson County.

Yes, Mississippi is on the march. The economic effects of these great river and harbor works are far-reaching and long-lasting... creating new jobs, new payrolls and new opportunities for all Mississippians.

Wherever Mississippi is on the march, telephone folks are ready to meet the need for more telephone service. That's why we are putting another $70 million in new construction during the three-year period, 1961-63, to keep phone facilities ready all over the State.

What size Chevrolet do you want to save money on?

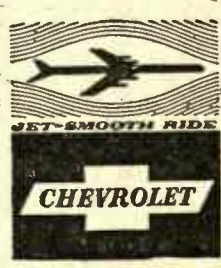

CHEVROLET IMPALA Room, movement and riding comfort. Foremost the Impala Sport Sedan.

CORVAIR MONZA Sports Car spice without a sports car price. At rear is the Monza Club Coupe.

CHEVY II NOVA The frisky family-sized Chevrolet with a low, low pricetag. Above right, Nova Sport Coupe.

Like your driving sporty, with quicksilver steering, flat-as-a-pancake cornering, sure-footed traction? Then a Corvair Monza's for you.

Or maybe the new-size Chevy II is more to our liking. Built for big families and still slips neatly into small parking places. And, with this, the kind of ingenious engineering (new easy-to-change Mono-Plate rear springs, for example) that won this year's coveted Car Life Magazine Award for Engineering Excellence.

But say you want to go all out—to get the full treatment in space, spirit and splendor. Then there's nothing like a Jet-smooth Chevrolet. Makes paying more pointless.

So size 'em up—then save it up—at your Chevrolet dealer's.

The Clean Life
Lesson for February 25, 1962

WHAT is the most valuable feature of American life? It is not the supermarkets, the big double-lane highways, it isn't the cars or even the schools. Many, even Christians, would say it is not even the churches that are the best American possession. What is it (the reader is invited to think) which could get along without the church, but without which the church would soon wither away?

The answer, of course, is the Christian home. Christian church and Christian home support each other; sometimes with an assist from the school, sometimes not. But the home is more indispensable to the church than the church to the home.

What then is the inner support and foundation of a Christian home? The obvious answer is, Christian marriage. Failure of a marriage means failure of a home.

Attack on home
Today the home is under attack. Not directly; no one would get a moment's hearing if he advertised himself as opposed to good homes. But indirectly, in countless ways, marriages can be, and often are, poisoned in advance. It is well known that one marriage in four, the country over, ends in divorce; and that though divorced persons often re-marry (for the stark and simple reason that they already have cheated wife or husband) they are not likely to make much more of the second try than the first.

One of the deadliest ways to poison a marriage beforehand is to come to it no longer a virgin; and this holds true for man and woman alike. From the very beginning, the Christian church and the Jewish synagogue have held up one standard for marriage: Continence before, and chastity (faithfulness each to each) during marriage. Whatever breaks down that standard does something to break down marriage itself. A "home" where husband and wife are both survivors of many affairs with other people, a marriage that knows nothing of faithfulness, a marriage ready to break in two the minute a homesome man or a more alluring woman comes on the scene, such a "home" is likely to have little or no regard for any children and may even resent them.

Mind and body
The laws of any place fall behind the best ideals of the best people. Any good lawyer will admit as much. But even the law, clumsy and "external" as it must be, knows that adultery is wrong. But by the time adultery gets into the courts, or becomes a tragic basis for divorce, it has been going on for a long time. Jesus put it quite bluntly. Any man who looks on a woman with lust in his heart, has already committed adultery with her. There are only three requirements for any act, good or bad: desire, capacity, opportunity. And an act of adultery exists for a longer or shorter time in a mind first. A clean life is not one that lacks legally punishable acts. A clean life is one in which the law is not needed; it is a life that supplies its own discipline.

Our special problems
In America at this time and for a generation or more before now, the Christian ideal of continence before marriage, chastity during it, itself has been eroded by constant attack. Consider the books and magazines for sale at your nearby drugstores; consider the themes of popular moving pictures and novels; consider the moral standards of Hollywood and of their influence on our national life. Consider the way women and girls dress. To maintain a clean life in the midst of surrounding such as are common in America is extremely difficult, more so than for most previous centuries. Yet there is one thing it will help us to keep in mind. That is, that at the time the Christian church began, standards of relations between men and women, in the Roman Empire, where the infant church was born, were just as low as they are in America today, if not lower. Yet the ideals of Christ outlived the empire. The future of America is not with those large areas of corruption; it is with the small groups that

Monday night the Chieftains played their last basketball game of the season. They tangled with Cherokee and won 55-47. Our Chieftains have really played good ball this season. One privilege we have had was the fact that if we didn't get to see them, we could hear them the next morning over WVOM with our favorite sports announcer Charlie Whitley giving a play by play description of the happenings.

Can you imagine how Astronaut John Glenn felt Tuesday morning when he was hurled into space? Isn't it exciting? Mr. Osborn had his radio on during our first period class. We heard the count down. Off and on during the day, we received reports and then we were allowed to hear the facts about his landing over the intercom. Seems like it all went well, he landed safely and everyone is happy over the event.

The FHA members voted on Who's Who today. Let you know the results next week. Donnie Brown enjoyed seeing a basketball game between Mississippi State and Georgia State Monday night. Hear Gloria Edmondson will be visiting in Iuka this week end.

WVOM has a new radio announcer, Don McGee who hails from over Tri-Cities way. Don has the afternoon show Monday through Friday. He plays the tops in Pops so be sure and tune him in. Benny Kay who previously did the rock show in the af-

The Iuka Senior 4-H Club girls held their monthly meeting February 14. The program was opened with devotion by Brenda Brown. Jerry Ann Walker gave a talk on Junior Leadership Conference. Earline Hudson, Sarah Philbin, Connie Hudson and Carole Glover each gave talks on Club Congress. Project booklets were passed out and project leaders appointed. The meeting was adjourned with the pledge.

Dee Shook, Deanna Foote, Martha Lynn Vickers and 'ye ole scribe spent a wonderful night Friday night with Judy Gann. We sure fooled Mr. Gann. I was over earlier in the evening and he got the idea that I was the only one spending the night with Judy and the next morning when he came out, he found the whole living room floor covered with teenagers.

Gosh! I have got to stop this thing. I hear Daddy saying, Get this to be d and let 'em roll. Which reminds me of the butcher that backed into the meat grinder and got a little behind in his orders. 'Til next week, this is Anne-o, saying see 'ya round.

If you have a preschool-age child who tugs at you just when you want to browse around the store or make a personal purchase... park the little one at the soda fountain. We have yet to meet a small child who can't stay happy for ten minutes or so in that place of miracles. Even water is a treat when there's a straw in the glass. That's one thing that hasn't changed in two or three generations.

The refreshments, carrying out the valentine motif, consisted of coconut and red waldorf cake in heart shape, served with nuts, miniature hearts of fruit jello and coffee or cokes.
