December 11

The date of the annual Christmas Parade, sponsored by the Iuka Chamber of Commerce, has been changed to Wednesday, December 11. The parade of bands and floats will pass through the downtown section, beginning at 4:15 P.M. The date was changed due to bands in this area attending a 3-day clinic in Jackson on the week end.

Parade Marshal Julian R. Long states that floats from all communities in the county have been promised. Nice floats are expected from Tishomingo, Belmont and Burnsville. Featured in the string of floats will be the Hardin's Bakery float of Santa and his Reindeers.

"All businesses, clubs, clinics, schools, hospitals, organizations or individuals are urged to enter floats in the parade," the Parade Marshal said. "We want this to be the largest and best parade that Iuka and the surrounding area has ever witnessed."

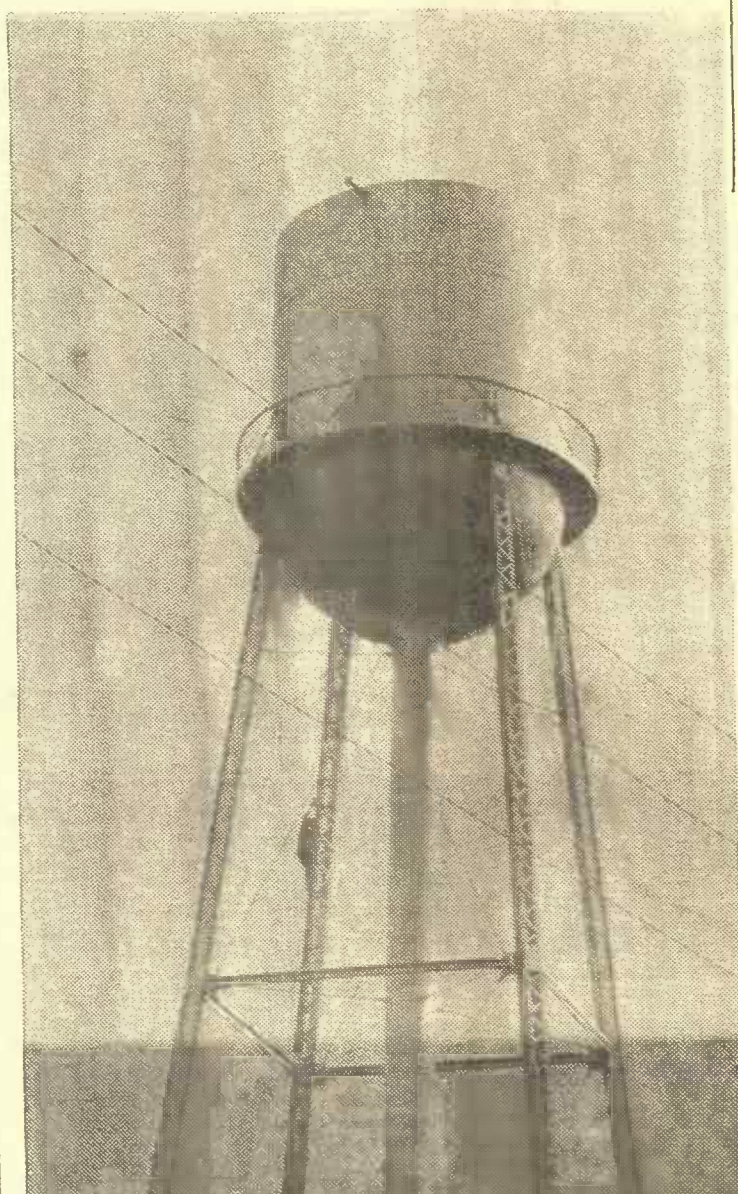

An award will be made for the best float.

SIGNS OF INDUSTRY—The towering water tank at the Iuka Shirt Company is another sign of industrial progress. Max Glaser, owner and operator of the company, had the water tank and a fire prevention sprinkler system installed to avoid another disastrous fire such as the one that completely demolished the plant in June 1962.

$150,000 Bond Issue Asked To Bring In $750,000 Industry To Employ Men

Sprinkler System In Operation

At Iuka Shirt Co.;
Designed To Prevent
Disastrous Fire

Announcement is made today that the Iuka Shirt Co. fire prevention sprinkler system is, at long last, ready for operation.

Erection of the 50,000 gallon tank was completed several weeks ago. However, due to difficulties in filling the tank with water the sprinklers were inoperative until Thursday of last week.

The sprinkler system will serve as a permanent fire protection to prevent a disastrous fire such as occurred at the shirt plant in June 1962. The tank is 120 feet tall and delivers in excess of 50 pounds water pressure on each sprinkler in the building. The sprinklers are so designed that 120 degrees heat will melt the retainers and develop a strong spray of water that will extinguish even the smallest—or largest—fire anywhere in the building.

Troy Holtsford, manager of the Iuka Shirt Co., stated that representatives of the State Insurance Rating Bureau will be in Iuka one day this week to inspect the system.

Get-Out-Vote-Campaign Swings Into High Gear; Over 1900 Must Vote If Proposal Is To Pass

$150.00 Will Be Given Away To 3 Lucky Winners

Tuesday, December 3, is a most important day in Supervisor's Districts Nos. One, Two and Three. On that date, voters will go to the polls and cast ballots on a $150,000 bond issue. Purpose of the bond issue is to build a building for the Consolidated Aluminum Corporation. When the bond issue is passed, the company will install an aluminum foil laminating plant that will cost in excess of $750,000.00 and will employ male labor.

Community and civic leaders in the three districts are stepping up a "get-out-the-vote" campaign in order to get the minimum required qualified voters to the polls. A page advertisement in this issue of The Vidette points out the importance of each voter casting a ballot and a circular stressing going to the polls and listing prizes is also being mailed to families in the three districts.

Under the BAWI bond issue plan, at least a majority of the qualified voters in the designated area must go to the polls and vote and at least two-thirds of those voting must favor the proposition if the issue is to pass. In the first three districts, there are 3767 residents qualified to vote which means that approximately 1921 must cast ballots and of that number at least two-thirds must favor the issue if it is to pass.

It is pointed out that voters have a wonderful opportunity to bring another fine company into the area. Consolidated Aluminum Corporation has assets in the multi-millions of dollars. It is a young company composed of young executives that have great ambition for their plants. It is a company that processes laminated aluminum foil, a product that is just beginning to be accepted on the market and one that has tremendous possibilities in the future. Consolidated Aluminum Corporation is in the process of expanding their operations, the most recent expansion before the Iuka plant being a

A fifty dollar bill will be given away in each of the three districts. Drawings will be held at the Mayor's office in Iuka, at the Mayor's office in Burnsville, and at the Midway school building in Midway. All that is necessary for a voter to become eligible to win is to go to the polls and vote and after voting register on a card that will be provided for that purpose.

All registration cards at all precincts in each district will be delivered to the place of the drawing in that district, with all cards for a particular district being put in one box for the drawing.

AREA BUSINESSES CLOSE AS AN IN MEMORIAM TO PRES. KENNEDY

POPULAR LEADER ASSASSINATED FRIDAY IN DALLAS AT TERMINATION OF MAMMOTH PARADE

Businesses in Tishomingo County closed down Monday between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. as an in memoriam to the late President John F. Kennedy, who was assassinated Friday about 12:30 p.m. in Dallas, Texas, while on a political tour of the state.

Bobby Burress, pastor of the Iuka Baptist Church. The Tishomingo Shoe Plant force was led in a period of devotion by Bro. Hudson Nichols, Minister of the Iuka Church of Christ.

The Blue Bell plants in Tishomingo, Belmont, and Red Bay ceased all operations at 11 o'clock for a 5-minute period of silence.

The President's body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol building in Washington from early Saturday morning until noon on Monday when it was moved to the Cathedral for low mass. The President was laid to rest in Arlington National Cemetery among other great heroes.

The martyred President of the United States met an untimely death at the hands of an assassin at the termination of a mammoth parade in Dallas. President Kennedy was 46 years old. Complications in the tragic event that will go down in history was the murder of the man accused of the assassination. Lee H. Oswald, held by Dallas police for the murder of President Kennedy, was murdered Sunday while being transferred from city jail to the County jail in Dallas. Dallas police state the case is closed since they have enough evidence to prove conclusively that Oswald was the assassin. However, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Justice Department say that further investigations will be conducted and that every bit of information possible will be obtained.

PROPOSITION

Shall bonds of Supervisors' Districts Nos. One, Two and Three, Tishomingo County, Mississippi, be issued in the amount of One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000), to provide funds for the purpose of constructing a factory building 200 feet long and 60 feet wide suitable for expansion owned by said Districts, as authorized by Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity No. 436, issued to said Supervisors' Districts by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board on the 7th day of November 1963.

At Least Two Thirds Of Those Voting Must Favor The Bond Proposal.

If the Bond Issue to build a Consolidated Aluminum Corporation Plant for the First, Second and Third Districts is to pass, every qualified voter in those three districts should be certain that they cast their ballot on election day — Tuesday, December 3.

Under a BAWI bond issue, certain regulations must be adhered to in order for it to be legal — at least 51 per cent of all qualified voters of the area designated in the bond issue must go to the polls and vote, and of that 51 per cent voting at least two-thirds will have to vote for the proposal.

Opportunity is knocking at the door of residents of the first three districts for them to provide a much needed payroll for citizens who will, unless something is done, have to go elsewhere to make a living — as has been the case in the past.

We don't want our children to leave their communities and move away from their homes in order to find jobs — but that is exactly what will continue to happen unless we do our duty and go to the polls and vote for the Consolidated Aluminum Corporation plant Bond Issue!

Farmers Must File Tax Returns

If They Receive Social Security Protection Available

According to Hugh Tigrett, District Manager for Social Security, some farmers, especially sharecroppers, in this area are not getting social security credit for their earnings. This is because they don't file tax returns and report their self-employment income. These farmers deprive themselves and their families of protection in case of disability, death, or retirement.

All farmers (including sharecroppers) get Social Security protection when they file federal income tax returns and pay the Social Security tax. A farmer who clears $400 or more, must file a tax return and pay the social security tax on his earnings. A farmer must do this even though he may not owe any income tax.

Mr. Tigrett said that a farmer who doesn't clear $400, can still get social security protection, if he had sales of at least $600. To get social security credit in this case, the farmer must file his tax return under a special method for farmers only. This special method works this way—if total farm sales are between $600 and $1800, report 2/3 of the total sales for social security credit. A farmer can do this even if his farm loses money for the year.

If you have any questions or need any help, contact the Social Security Representative any Monday morning when he is in the City Hall in Iuka.

Meeting Of Ole Miss Alumni Next Tuesday

An important special meeting of all Ole Miss alumni in Itawamba and Tishomingo counties will be held on Tuesday afternoon, December 3, at the Methodist Church in Belmont at 3 p.m.

Chairman of the meeting is Dr. Jack Senter of Belmont. A group from the University will be present.

All Ole Miss alumni in Itawamba and Tishomingo counties are urged to be present at this meeting in Belmont at 3 p.m. next Tuesday. The meeting will last approximately one hour.

Check Woodland; See If Trees Need Cutting

If it has been six years or more since you have thinned out your stand of pines, you may have some trees that should be cut now.

Look up at the tops of your pines. If the tops are overlapping, you should remove some of them to give space for the best trees to grow. Leave your best trees. Get an experienced forester to mark the trees that should be cut. He will tell you why he is marking certain trees. He will also explain to you why pine stands stagnate and stop growing.

Why are the Soil Conservation District Commissioners interested in good woodland management when the trees are now protecting the land from erosion? They are interested because they want each acre to return a good profit to the landowner.

D. Paul Adams had an area of pines marked and cut and thought at the time that too many trees were removed. But he now says, "Now you can't miss the trees I cut and my woods look better." Within the next four years, Mr. Adams will be taking out more trees. "I like the extra money I received for the trees harvested and I know I improved my woods," Mr. Adams continued.

If you have areas of pine that need thinning, you can put some extra money in your pocket and improve your woodland.

Patrolmen To Begin 5 Day Course

Will Include Study Of New Drivers License Manual

Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol Drivers License Examiners from all over the state will assemble in Jackson Headquarters Monday morning, December 2, to begin an intensive five day course of in-service training. The plans for this school were announced by Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong and Chief Drivers License Examiner Bill Sutherland.

"We are presenting a new drivers licensing manual to our men at this school," stated Sutherland. "It is the result of intensive work on the part of our state and the cooperation of the A.A.M.V.A. and other states throughout the country. L. E. Birdsong, Region II Field Representative of the A.A.M.V.A. will be present to assist in the training. Other parts of the training program will be presented by our own instructors and will include active training under field conditions."

Commissioner Birdsong commented, "The in-service training school is another step in the overall program of traffic safety we are implementing. We feel that this training will further our objective of having better, more qualified drivers on the road. In fact, the entire theme of the school is to improve the quality of our drivers. Drivers Licensing is one of the more important aspects of overall traffic safety. We cannot place too much emphasis here. Through the efforts of Chief Examiner Sutherland, A. A. M. V. A. Representative Birdsong and our other instructors we anticipate a highly effective school."

Treatment And Symptoms Of Chickenpox

Chickenpox is something that nearly all children catch at an early age, get over in two or three weeks of itchy rash, and never have again because the first case usually causes immunity.

Chickenpox usually is not a serious disease and most children recover readily with no after effects. Sometimes, however, it's not quite so simple.

The disease is caused by a virus. It usually is transmitted by close personal contact with someone already infected. Symptoms are well known to most mothers—a slight rise in temperature, loss of appetite, headache and backache. The most obvious symptom is a rash of red spots and small blisters over much of the body.

Chickenpox usually requires little special treatment. Even in cases which seem to be mild, however, it's important to call in a physician to make the diagnosis and to look for possible complications. The doctor usually advises the patient be kept in bed while the rash and fever continue. He also advises isolating the patient from other children who have not had the disease.

The doctor also can recommend soothing lotions or medications to relieve the itching of the eruptions. A frequent complication of chickenpox is infection of the red spots by scratching which leaves permanent marks on the skin. There are other potential complications from the disease that can be diagnosed only by your doctor.

Adults occasionally get chicken pox, and usually are sicker than the children patients.

Chickenpox is a common childhood disease, for the most part not very serious. But it can lead to more serious conditions, and thus it's important to call your physician promptly if someone in your household gets the disease.

Aspirin Tested As Addition To Broiler Ration

Maybe aspirin can help worried chickens to grow faster. This is a possibility Dr. Bruce Glick is exploring for poultrymen in tests at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station.

Chickens, Dr. Glick says, might experience fever, headache or pain as a result of infection, crowded-hot conditions or as the aftermath of vaccination. Since it's hard to detect and treat the individually "worried" or distressed chicken, he tried feeding small quantities of aspirin to several groups maintaining other groups on similar rations without aspirin.

It is not possible to successfully measure pain in chickens, Dr. Glick pointed out. However, changes in body temperature may be measured with the clinical thermometer. These experiments were designed to discover the influence of aspirin on the general physiology of the chick, including weight at 5 weeks of age.

A high rate of aspirin (.58 percent) reduced body weight significantly in the first trial. The growth suppressing effect, however, was not apparent when the drug was reduced to .15 or .07 percent in a second trial.

In a third trial aspirin fed at 30 percent appeared to be beneficial to growth. In this test half the birds were exposed to heat to check the effects of hot weather. At 61 days of age the aspirin-fed birds in both the heat-exposed and the control groups were heavier than those receiving no aspirin.

Aspirin lowered the temperature of birds exposed to extreme heat but did not affect body temperature under normal conditions.

Dr. Glick seeks better control of environment as he continues to study the feasibility of feeding aspirin to chickens intermittently during hot weather.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving to us means thinking back over the past year and bringing to mind all the many, many things for which we are privileged to be thankful. . . . Ours is a land in which Freedom of religion prevails; a land where freedom of speech is granted without question; a land where individual initiative has opportunity to express ambition and advance with either ability in doing things or ability in financial undertakings;

Ours is a land where food and necessities of life abound; where we meet friends without fear or reprisals against our person or our property.

TUBERCULOSIS In the GOOD OLD DAYS

Back in 1900, folks called tuberculosis "The Galloping Consumption." TB was, in fact, our nation's leading killer, and it spared neither young nor old. Fresh air and bed rest were about the only treatments known.

Quite a few people still catch TB today, but new drugs have already cut their death rate by more than 95%. Patients who once would have spent grim years in hospital or sanitarium, today are being returned to productive life, thanks to prescription drugs.

This is an example of how prescription drugs not only save lives, but also reduce the cost of illness. The price of today's drugs is remarkably low. Only 15 prescriptions in a thousand cost as much as $10. The average one costs only $3.26. No wonder we say: "Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history."

An easy way to avoid the problem of whether to wash or dry-clean a garment is a simple one: buy a 10-cent notebook and keep in it all how-to-clean tags and descriptions of the articles. And keep the notebook handy as a washday reference.

A quickie menu idea is Potatoes Wishbones. Split frankfurters lengthwise and heap with seasoned mashed potatoes. Top with tangy cheese slices, and heat in oven until the cheese melts. Serve immediately.

December Plentiful Foods
We are beginning to think of the month and holidays ahead in December. And along with holidays come thoughts of foods.

As you make your menu plans for December, the U.S.D.A. plentiful foods list says you will find beef and pecans in generous supply. Other foods on the list are pork, turkeys, apples, cranberries and peanuts and peanut products.

Try Out a Garment
When you try on a garment, give it a real, living test by walking, sitting, stretching and bending in it. In this way only can you determine if there is enough fabric ease in bust, waist, hips and shoulder for body movement and if the garment stays in place on your figure in movement. It won't be comfortable if the waist rides up when you raise your arms, you can be sure.

Try clothes on over the type of foundation garment you ordinarily wear.

As you look in the mirror, carefully check several points in relation to fit. Is the lengthwise grain perpendicular to the floor? And the crosswise grain parallel to the floor. True grain means right fit. The grain line may vary in a gored or circular skirt or a kimono or raglan sleeve.

Back fullness and abdominal fullness both distort grain and seam placement. More ease is required to bring skirt in balance on the figure. Too little ease causes a tight, strained appearance and excessive wrinkling.

Darts should point toward the fullest part of the body, directing ease where needed.

Too much back waistline length may cause wrinkling up near neckline or at lower back. Grain line will drop if extra length is at the top of the blouse back.

Too little ease across shoulders may cause wrinkling across top of blouse back.

to be thankful for. Stop and think about it. Then give thanks for all of your blessings.

Dairy Notes
Production low? Then check on your dairy ration. Could be that it is too low in energy. Many times dairymen think that so long as the ration is high enough in protein, it is ok.

Besides the protein, dairymen must consider the ash, fat, fiber, and nitrogen content of the ration.

Get some help from your county agent in figuring out a good ration. Remember you must feed your dairy cows not only to maintain their body weight but also to produce milk.

Grazing
This year it may pay you to let cows graze out fields of frosted grass one field at a time, instead of letting them have access to large areas.

Lots of fields have frosted grass on them which will furnish good feed until Christmas or after. But for best results, try to have the fields grazed out by Christmas.

Farm Records
Right now is a good time for you to check up on your farm records and bring them up-to-date.

Records are vital, not only for sound business management, but for filing income tax reports.

See your local county agent for help with your farm records and more information on why you should keep adequate records.

Soybean Residue
Do not burn soybean residue beans. It is a valuable source

SAFETY NOTES
Highways get more dangerous during winter. Step up your safety precautions. Make sure that your windshield wiper is doing its job. Check your brakes and make sure that your car, or truck is in top mechanical condition before getting on the highway.

Former Residents Honored In Macon, Georgia

Two former residents of Iuka, 1st Sgt. Frank L. King, U.S. Marine Corps, and his wife, the former Virginia Choate, were honored recently in Macon, Ga. at a ball commemorating the 188th birthday of the U. S. Marine Corps.

In honor of over 21 years service to his country 1st Sgt. King was the honored guest at the celebration attended by over 150 Marine, former Marines and prominent members of Macon's social set.

During the traditional cake cutting ceremony, which is a part of every Marine Corps Birthday celebration, Mrs. King received the first piece of cake sliced from the huge birthday cake weighing over 100 lbs., by Major K. E. Will, Officer in Charge of Marine Corps Recruiting in Georgia and South Carolina, which is, by tradition, presented to the honored guest at the ceremony.

1st Sgt. King, whose brother, J. B. King still resides in Iuka, is currently serving as the station Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Macon, Ga.

"My telephone is indispensable in my business and Mississippi Manufacturers Association work," says Ernest Bowton of Philadelphia and current president of the M.M.A. "There is no other communication that is so versatile... long distance, local and interplant calls, all completed in a few minutes. The list of calls during just one week showed a saving of nearly 16 hours in time and 651 miles of driving."

Your telephone probably gave you as much valuable help this week. There may be even more ways you can use your telephone to save time and money in your business, personal or civic activities. Telephones do so much...yet cost so little.

Holiday Work Requires Social Security Card

If you're planning to work during the Christmas holidays and you do not have a social security card, you should apply for one now. If you've had a card and lost it you should apply for a duplicate now. This advice was given by Hugh Tigrett, Manager of the Social Security Office, today.

Mr. Tigrett pointed out that more and more employers require you to have a social security number with you before they will hire you; and since it takes as much as ten days in some cases to obtain a social security number, a person could fail to obtain a job because he didn't apply for his social security number early enough.

Applications for social security account numbers, both originals and duplicates, can be obtained at any Post Office or from the Social Security Representative who visits the City Hall each Monday.

Mrs. Ed Thomas, Executive Girl Scout Director for this area announces today the Tishomingo County Girl Scout Fund Drive which opens Mon., Dec. 2 and continues through Saturday, December 7. Julian Long will serve as chairman of the county-wide event again this year.
