Navy Jets Headline Big Air Show Sunday

A crowd of ponderous proportion is expected to be on hand Sunday when the Iuka Airport Commission, the Jaycees and the Rescue Squad produce one of the most exciting exhibitions in airway activity seen in this area.

According to the director of the program, Harold Enlow, the event begins early in the day with airplane rides made available as early as 10 a.m. The actual air show will be held from 1:00 to 3:30 when air traffic will be brought to a halt.

The agenda includes a jet plane
flyover of Navy jets from Meridian; air acrobatics by Johnny Dorr and skydivers. In addition to the show, trophies will be presented for the best antique airplane and for the best home built plane on display.

"The Navy jets will be presented their portion of the program promptly at 1:45 Sunday afternoon. This is going to be a special treat for the crowds.

CURTIS' SALE

Curtis Bros. Drugs in Iuka announces a Fall Penny Sale in effect today through October 5.
That ten big days of savings for
you. While at Curtis Bros. Drugs you'll find fantastic savings for just a penny more.

The airport commission just received word that the pilots will be performing in new twin jet planes and a moving picture photographer from the North American Aviation Association will be present to film their show here at Iuka. Therefore, we know we are in for one of their very best performances," Mr. Curtis said.

Pilots and passengers will be admitted free, according to Auston Curtis, chairman of the Iuka Airport Commission. "Funds derived from the general admission will be used to defray expenses incurred by the installation of an automatic lighting system at the airport. The lights have been in operation since June 6 and automatically switch on at dusk and off at dawn to provide safe takeoff and landing," he said.

The director of the program
adds that rescue squad members will be handy to assist with parking and directing the crowd while the Jaycees act as hosts to provide those attending with plenty of eats and drinks at a concession stand near the runway. Music for the day will be furnished by the Cut Rate History band.

The FAA Tower Frequency
has been set at Mt. 118.5 for those flying by radio. Alternate air show date in case of rain is October 6.

Election Commissioner And School Trustees On Ballot

Two members of the county school board of education and 5 election commissioners are to be voted on in the November 5 general election. According to a recent act of the legislature, the method of naming election commissioners in Mississippi has been changed from an appointive system to that of elective by popular vote.

In years immediately passed,
three commissioners have supervised all general and special elections in the county. However, under the new regulation, a commissioner is to be elected from each district and will serve for a term of four years. Those elected this November will take office the First Monday in January, 1969.

Deadline for qualifying for election commissioner election is today (Thursday, Sept. 26, 40 days before the election). At pres-time Wednesday, Mrs. Verna Wood Crow from the Fourth district was the only candidate qualified. However, it is expected that others will get qualified by end of the deadline date. Candidates for election commissioner must reside in the district which they choose to represent, but will be voted on by the entire electorate of the county.

In the election for school board member, three men have qualified for trustee from the second district. They are Gerald Glidewell, Lucien (Shorty)
Epperson, and George South, Mr.
South has served as member from the second district during a previous term. Roy Boothe is presently serving from that district.

Only voters in the Second District will cast ballots on the school board member from that district. However, voters in Districts 2, 3, 4, and 5 will cast ballots on candidates in an election for school board member at large. B. L. (Pop) Mercer has qualified for that post.

Also, voters in the Fourth District will cast ballots on candidates to fill out the unexpired term of William W. (Bill) Southward as school board member.
Mr. Southward resigned his post effective August 27.

Upswing Seen In City Tax Collections

$3,343.96 in comparison to $2,882.80 for the corresponding period last year. This was $461.16 more than last year's

In the county only Tishomingo's tax dropped below its stated collection for 1967. This year's

RESEARCH FOR HEALTH

A REPORT FROM
THE NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH
BETHESDA, MARYLAND

A New Look At Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis, one of the earliest of man's diseases, still claims 10,000 lives each year in the United States. Also, 50,000 new active cases are diagnosed in this country annually.

Although better sanitary practices, improved living conditions, and the development of new drugs have sharply lowered the death rate, the problem of tuberculosis is by no means solved.

In 90 percent of all patients, tuberculosis reaches an advanced stage before it is discovered. By this time, other members of a household or close associates often are infected too. The disease responds slowly to treatment, with many months required to bring it under control. And the bacteria causing it may become resistant to drugs used against it.

Mobile units which offer free X-rays to the public are often successful in helping to diagnose tuberculosis early. Tuberculin tests can help discover those who need further examination for tuberculosis.

Small doses of the drug isoniazid are being recommended as a preventive treatment in high TB risk groups. Among candidates for this treatment are people in close contact with active TB patients, those with recently developed positive tuberculin tests (especially small children), and those with certain special health problems.

Preventive treatment requires special attention. This preventive dosage is not adequate for treatment of active disease and may encourage the bacteria to become resistant. Patients must take the drug regularly. If active TB should develop, higher doses of a combination of drugs must be given.

It is estimated that preventive treatment can reduce active TB development by 50 to 75 percent in young people developing positive tuberculin tests. And it has been found that one month's cost of running this preventive program can save eight and one-half months of hospitalization expense for a TB patient.

The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases spends more than a million dollars a year to support research by scientists in American medical centers and within its own laboratories in Bethesda, Md.

A vaccine to prevent tuberculosis would be ideal, but so far none is available which is wholly satisfactory. Institute scientists are attempting to prepare a vaccine from the cell walls of the bacteria which would provide immunity without being infectious.

Cardinals Win Again

Belmont's home game last Friday night put them in the winning seat over Vina, Ala., with a 38-13 victory.

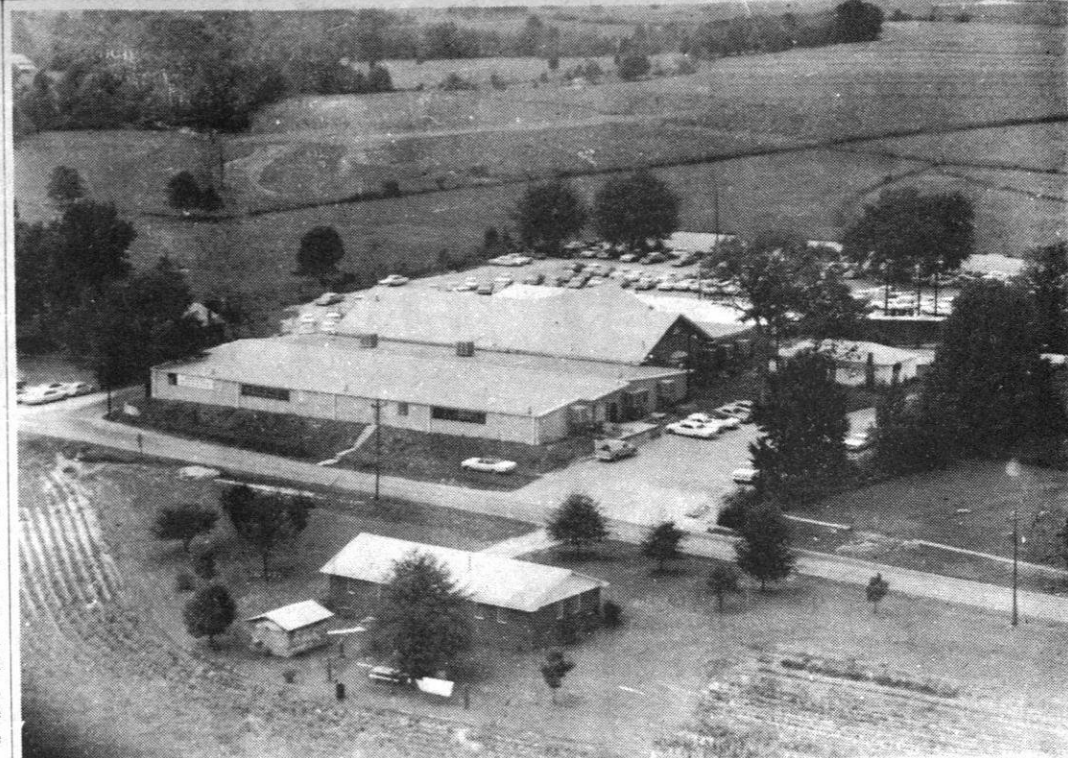

The independent team has a season record of 2-1. Last year they were members of the now disbanded Highland Conference.

Jeff Comer and Ronnie Brown paced the Cards who led 19-6 at halftime. Comer threw to Brown for the first touchdown and his conversion was a counter. Mike Wheeler claimed the next TD with Brown running 10 yards to close out the first half action. Vina's Larry Cantrell scored to give the visitors a brief lead.

A spectacular 32-yard run by Comer for a TD made the second half come to life. His 75-yard scoring run was icing on the cake. Brown converted and Steve Harris followed up with one more tally.

Cantrell got the final Vina score and Dwight Streetman converted.

This Friday night the Cardinals play Vardaman on the Belmont field. Next week its Belmont vs. Iuka on October 5.

The change is prompted by the increased capacity of social security district offices to transmit the information over high speed communications circuits to record offices.

In addition to address changes, Tigrett said that events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorces and death.

Chevrolet introduces 1969

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid disc brakes, you can apply to your rear wheels at the push of a button?

Should we have given you less power, in the largest standard V8 in its field? Some people think so. Our competitors.

'69 Caprice Coupe

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new". The Huger.

And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere.

We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better.

The power range is very impressive.

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available in 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport stripes, disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your look tough.

Maybe it will help.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council THE PUBLIC TEMPER

While the candidates for the Presidency have many weeks of campaigning ahead of them, it is increasingly clear that the public's frame of mind, which will decide the election, already is set. From one coast to another, and from the big cities to quiet rural areas, the broad outline of public opinion is discernible.

To be sure, there are the pockets of hard core radicalism. There is the feverish action of the diehard McCarthyite supporters trying to create a so-called New Party as a vehicle for their leftwing extremism. There are the entrenched eggheads of the Left who have a haughty attitude towards the thinking of the man in the street. And there are the political bosses who hope that their precinct machines can herd disciplined masses to the polls and make them continue the "liberal" status quo.

But the signs of the time are that the public already has spoken in a quiet way — that the wants of the great majority of voters have been charted. Obviously, this majority hasn't made up its mind in detail as to various proposals advanced by the candidates. That's not the way public opinion works. But the broad outline — the pattern — exists.

First of all, there is a clear enough majority attitude with respect to the war in Vietnam. There is great unhappiness about the American deaths in that conflict and about the continuing cost of the struggle. There is a feeling that the political conduct of the war has been a mess. But there also is a strong feeling among the American people that a pull-out is unthinkable, that defeat in Vietnam is intolerable, and the United States cannot abandon Southeast Asia to communism under the guise of "negotiations."

The public attitude towards law and order certainly is very clearly formed. The Democrats' disastrous convention, in which hordes of "yuppies" conducted a vast propaganda operation in downtown Chicago with the eager cooperation of television reporters and cameramen, solidified the public mood on law and order.

There seems to be the widest agreement among millions of Americans that anarchism has to be curbed and that small groups of so-called "alienated" citizens cannot be permitted to disrupt cities with their obscene shouts and their total contempt for the decencies of society.

For the short run, the televised "yippie" demonstrations in Chicago, which provoked police action, produced a harvest of sympathetic comment from the professional bleeding hearts in America. But the principal indication is that in the long run the radicals will lose, for the sympathies of the majority of citizens are with the harassed and abused Chicago policemen who defended the public order.

Finally, the public opinion has hardened on the subject of inflation. The average American — perhaps it is better to call him the "forgotten American" — is aware of and angry about the spread of inflation. The average working man and his wife may not be familiar with the latest economic theories, but they can understand the decline in value of the weekly pay check. They get the connection between the wasteful federal programs, which lavish aid on the indolent, and the decline in value of their income.

Millions of Americans now have a clear understanding that federal waste is depriving them of things that they deserve by virtue of their hard work. They also get the connection with the Great Society, and apparently realize that four more years of "liberal" government will further erode the prosperity of white collar and blue collar Americans.

Gauging the public temper usually is a very difficult task, and observers are foolish if they try to pinpoint the specifics in the public's attitude. But the general mood of the American people can be discerned.

In 1952, the people obviously were sick and tired of the long, bitter years of the New Deal and the Fair Deal. They had enough, and they voted for conservative change. This year the same temper is being manifested in a variety of ways. Only this time the radicals are much more threatening than in 1952. The people who hate the American way of life are out in the open — in the streets chanting obscenities at policemen and resorting to other direct action revolutionary methods as well.

Good citizens can get a very clear idea of the road ahead if the policies of "liberalism" are continued for the next four years, especially the policy of appeasement of domestic anarchists. It is reasonable to conclude that this year the majority of Americans will decisively react to the anarchist threat when they go to the polls.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION OF STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 156

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE MISSISSIPPI CONSTITUTION OF 1890 TO CLARIFY THE PROVISIONS THERETO WITH REGARD TO BONDS INCLUDED IN THE LIMITATION PROVIDED THEREIN.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, TWO-THIRDS (2/3) OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATE AGREEING THERETO, That the following amendment to the Mississippi Constitution of 1890 be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for ratification or rejection at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.D., 1968, viz:

Amend Section 115, Mississippi Constitution of 1890, to read as follows:

"Section 115. The fiscal year of the State of Mississippi shall commence on the first day of July and end on the thirtieth day of June of each year; and the Auditor of Public Accounts and the Treasurer of the state shall compile, and have published, a full and complete report, showing the transactions of their respective offices on or before the thirty-first day of December of each year for the preceding fiscal year.

Neither the state nor any of its direct agencies, excluding the political subdivisions and other local districts, shall incur a bonded indebtedness in excess of one and one-half (1½) times the sum of all the funds received by it for all purposes during any one of the preceding four (4) fiscal years, whichever year might be highest, excluding all revenues collected by the office of the Motor Vehicle Comptroller and also excluding federal funds

If, in a person's lifetime, he is privileged to know one or two great men he is lucky.

I have known, do know, one such. The only man I ever met and grew to know intimately and would tag with that word, "great", is a gentleman now at ease in Charlottesville, Virginia.

His name is Henry E. Garrett, who, for more than 30 years, was Professor of Psychology at Columbia University. To write out the list of honors paid this man during his active, professional career would fill this space.

But it isn't of the retired-professor's past I would write. It is of his today and his tomorrow. For, if ever there were one whose life fitted the phrase, the past is prologue, it is the life of Henry E. Garrett.

First off, Dr. Garrett is an honest man; to the marrow of his bones he is honest. Couple this honesty with the deep learning, the prescience that is his, add to it a stubbornness that would do credit to a jack, and you have someone to contend with. You do, that is, if you embark upon a course that deviates from the truth. But if you are willing to share with him the torments that come the way of a truth seeker, Henry Garrett is an inspiring, most comfortable mother ship. Lesser folk, cockle shells, ride his wake with a sense of security and serenity that is truly amazing.

I know for I am one of those pea-green boats.

About the time Dr. Garrett retired from Columbia, that mountebank, Earl Warren and his court handed down their vicious desegregation decision. The monstrous fallacy it contained relit the fires this gangling, friendly man had hoped to bank. And every day of Dr. Garrett's life thereafter has seen him strike a blow, either directly or indirectly at that decision.

To those of us who, in like manner, have opposed, do oppose, indiscriminate race mixing, Dr. Garrett's research on the subject, his findings, his opinions are of inestimable value. Henry Garrett, in the field of Psychology, is — as he has been for 40 years — the final authority. The devious little deceivers who would pervert his science-art scurry from his withering scorn as sparrows from a hawk.

Henry Garrett reminds me of nothing so much as a bearded prophet of old — did you ever see that picture of Moses, down from Sinai, tablets in hand, angry and scornful of the worshipers of Baal? That's Henry Garrett in today's egalitarian world. If it were not for the eternal twinkle in his eye, his bubbling sense of humor, it would be a perfect likeness.

Detractors call Dr. Garrett the

FIELD MARSHALL HENRY E. GARRETT

JOHN J. SYNON

Field Marshall. They do so in a derogatory way. So be it. That is precisely what he is. What meaningful opposition there has been to the degeneration of our country has felt his directing hand somewhere, sometime. He is always there. Even so, he has no authority beyond the force of his character and no organization beyond his own orderly mind. Withal, he is a tremendous roadblock to those who would make of us all something we would not be.

My heart warms at the thought of him. Here he is, a man who has earned the peace of golden years in the company of his gracious lady, quiet ruminative years, a man who could, as myriad others have done, walk quietly away, into the gloaming, away from controversy. And what does he do? Somebody tells a lie and he is after them with a wrathful contempt that is glorious to behold.

Henry Garrett is, in fact, the one great man I have known.

This tribute, in time, will bring a baleful glare from the Field Marshall but I shall not care. At the first crack of his lips I shall ask if there is any untruthful thing in what I have written.

That will stop him.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMER

From L. Planer, Bushnell, Florida: I remember when doctors rode horses because the mud was too deep for buggies, and it took ages for him to get to an expectant mother or to someone who had a bellyache and found out too late it was a ruptured appendix.

In 1912 there was a small-pox epidemic and an entire family was sick. They were quarantined and an overseer appointed to go as far as the door to see what was needed. Those most able dragged themselves from bed to bed to help as they could. It was a test of strength and sometimes there were fatalities.

People used no drugs in those days and were more sturdy than now when there seems to be a pill invented for most everything. Medical science has advanced a long way in the last 50 years and the expectant mother taken care of in a far different way — yet there were fewer retarded or crippled children for some reason.

Of course, no one wants to go back to the primitive times, but a lot of good came out of them and it makes something to remember.

More than likely there will be the discussion of the proposed riverport to be built in Tishomingo County at the upcoming meeting of the Rivers & Harbors Association of Mississippi set for October 24-26 at the Buena Vista in Biloxi.

Sweep T. Davis, president of the association, urges all association members and other citizens interested in the water resources development of the State of Mississippi to attend this meeting for information and discussions on present and future water resource developments of our state.

Lecturer and humorist, Clayton Rand, will be a banquet speaker at the meeting. The key-note address will be by The Hon. Eddie Khayat, executive secretary, Mississippi Association of Supervisors and Dizzy Dean will make some brief remarks on "water resources and other liquids."

Officers, chancery clerks, county attorneys, and municipal officials from Tishomingo have been invited to participate in a law enforcement seminar at Tupelo. The seminar will be conducted at the North Miss. Medical Center, Sept. 24-Nov. 15, revolving around the theme of "Police and Troubled People."

Another thing you can credit to the Vietnam War will be the large increase of amputees. According to Ewing W. Mays, who lost both his legs in WW II, "We are fighting a different kind of a war over there. The Viet Cong seem to use more booby traps, land mines and grenades. On a day-to-day basis, our military hospitals are receiving more GI's with permanent handicaps than ever before."

At a beauty pageant, the emcee could announce that the top three winners would form a receiving line on stage so that those in the audience who wished to give their congratulations could (at Iuka, for example) go up one set of stairs, greet the girls, and leave by the other stairway and thus eliminate mass confusion.

Saturday night, some of the neighbors were "hollered" over and the Joe Holtsfords dropped in to share the family fare (hamburgers) so the lady of the house pulled out her jar of pickled watermelon rind that Ann Shook had given her. After that fair 'n square test, everybody agreed the rind was the best ever tasted.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday "The Egg & I" will be put before the local critics at the East Corinth Elementary School. A friend (Fishface in the play) says they'll not be the same after the smell of the grease paint. This is the first production of the newly organized Theatre-Arts group and will have several locals attending the presentation.

Former Conf. Foe No Match For IHS

The Iuka Chieftains, independents this year, gave a good lickin' to former conference foe Saltillo last Friday night to the tune of 20-12. All the scores were made during the second period.

The first touchdown came early in the second period as Ronnie Brown took a 66-yard pass from quarterback Robbie Grisham in a glorious play. Smith passed to Robinson for the conversion. Halfback Jimmy Smith put the Chieftain's score up to 13-0 on a 77 yard run. The conversion by Bob Brown on a run was good. Johnny Bruce from Saltillo did all their scoring. The first was from the 1 yard line and the second from the 2. Neither conversion counted.

The fast second quarter was climaxed with Robbie Grisham's 85 yard return of Saltillo's kick-off. Wendell Jourdan's conversion was no good but the score was put up to 20-12 where it hung until the final horn.

This was Iuka's third straight win putting Saltillo with a record of 2 losses and 1 win, evidently not much competition for the Tombigbee conference.

In rushing, the home team had Smith with 126 yards, 9.7 yards per carry; Jourdan, 32 yards, 8 yards per carry; and Ronnie Brown, 27 yards, 2.5 yards per carry.

Six passes were attempted with 2 completed for 69 yards. Iuka had 35 penalties and Saltillo, 30. Saltillo got 15 first downs compared to Iuka's 6.

Sidney Robinson had 37 yards in kickoff for an average and a 32-yd. punt average. R. Brown's punting average was 32 yards.

Spending the week end at home with their parents were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Butler and daughters, Elizabeth and Laura of Huntsville, Ala.

Miss Gail Phifer Selected As Miss Teenage Tish. County

A vivacious honey-blonde captured the crown and title of "Miss Teenage"—Tishomingo County, in competition at Howard Memorial Auditorium Thursday night. The winner is Miss Gayle Phifer, daughter of Mrs. James H. Bishop of Iuka and the late Gene Phifer.

The seventeen-year-old high school junior sang "Hello Young Lovers" in the talent division of the competition and acquired additional high scores in the three other areas of judging: poise, intelligence and evening dress-stage appearance.

Judges for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ables, Conalco district manager, Louisville, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. James Califf of Columbus. Mr. Califf is head of the reading institute at MSCW. His wife is a former "Mrs. Mississippi."

The local contest was sponsored by the Iuka Jaycees-Jayettes with Mrs. Joe Barlow as director. Ted Hammett served as emcee and Miss Jane Jourdan provided piano accompaniment.

Miss Phifer's alternates are Londee Long, first, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Long, and Jo Ann Byrd, second, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Byrd, all of Iuka. Miss Long, vocalist, accompanied herself at the piano doing a jazzy version of "Has Anybody Seen My Gal?" and concluded with a tap dance to the same tune. Miss Byrd presented a pantomime to "Thoroughly Modern Millie," wearing a fringed dress, red garter and cloche hat of the Twenties.

The local winner will represent the county in the Miss Teenage North Mississippi Pageant, October 24-26 in Corinth. Jerry Robbins, director, states that the event will be held at the Coliseum Theatre where both Miss Teenage America and Miss Teenage Nashville will be appearing on stage. The early part of the week will be devoted to selecting a young lady to represent the Corinth area.

The Miss Teenage North Mis-

issippi Pageant is open to contestants living north of Highway 82 and some 30 young ladies are expected to be in the competition, all between the ages of 13 and 17.

LIFE HEALTH

Phases of Recovery

Once an individual has been restored to health through application of nature's healing power released by chiropractic adjustments, and once normal vitality has been restored, all of the essential ingredients for health and self repair are in the body itself.

To maintain this power within the body, normal nerve function must be maintained so vital nerve energy can be efficiently channeled to all parts of the body.

Dr. Parker

With recovery an accomplished fact, a "preventive maintenance" program must be put into effect to assure that proper function continues and that no further disorders encroach upon the body by way of the nervous system.

A systematic schedule of chiropractic examinations and necessary adjustments to maintain an efficiently operating nervous system can, and should, be arranged to protect that easy glow of health.

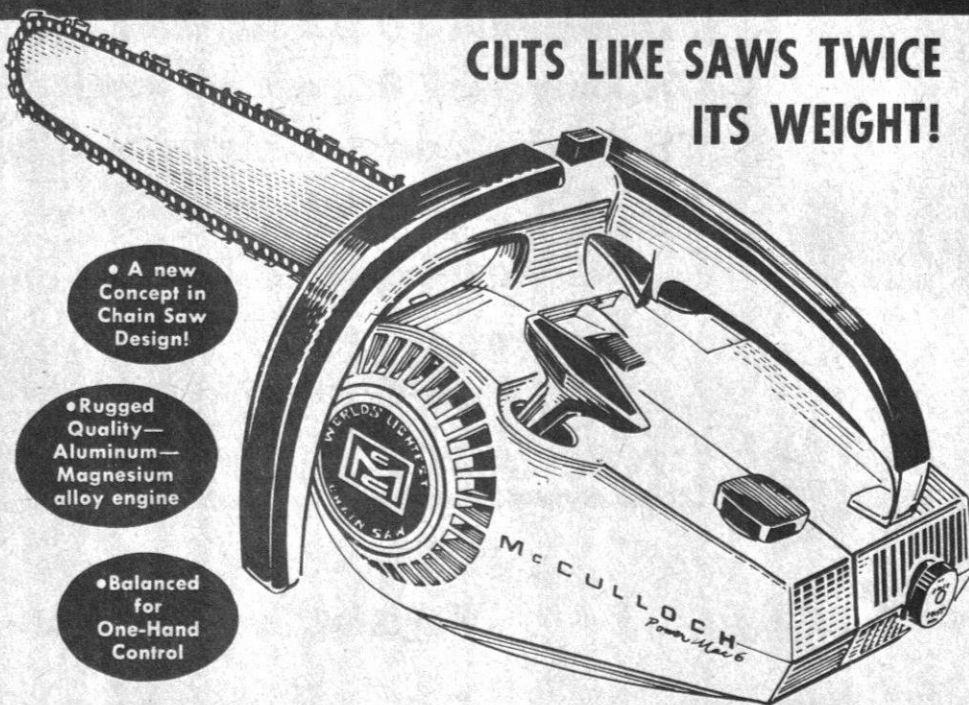

Periodic checks at regular intervals will lend assurance that nerve interferences have not returned to cause further disorder and disease. Chiropractic care will assure a continuation of that healthy, happy feeling. Another Life and Health Article from the Office of
