Upwards of 4,500 voters went to the polls in Tishomingo County Tuesday in one of the biggest voter turn-outs in the history of presidential elections.

In addition to voting on President and Vice-President, other officers voted on were election commissioners and school board members for the county.

In the election commissioner race, Julian R. Long of Iuka swamped Zoma (Jack) Rye 2779 to 1644, thus winning the election commissioner job for the First District. Jack Robinson, unopposed for Second District election commissioner, polled 3063 votes, while Ivy F. Luttrell was winning over Mrs. Lester Skinner for the Third District job. Their votes were, Luttrell 2177, Mrs. Skinner 1557. Mrs. Verna Wood Crow of Tishomingo was victorious over Justin Patterson for the commissioner's job in the Fourth District. That total was, Mrs. Crow 2348, Patterson 1564. No candidate offered for election commissioner for the Fifth District.

In the race for school board member at large, Charles Bostick of Golden edged past B. L. Mercer in a close-fought race. Bostick got 1669 votes while Mercer got 1661.

In the Second District school board member race, Lucien (Shorty) Epperson was easy victor over his two opponents, Gerald Glidewell and George South. Epperson polled 569, Glidewell got 220, and George South got 259.

In the Constitutional amendment controversy, Tishomingo County tallied a 3 to 1 vote in approval. However, the measure lost in state-wide balloting. With 1886 of the state's 2111 precincts reporting, the unofficial tabulation showed the amendment losing by an overwhelming 265,786 to 166,739 margin.

Sidewalk Is Poured On Front Street

Iukans and shoppers in the downtown area will now have the use of a new sidewalk poured just last week. The paved walkway runs the length of the former Jay Bird Park area on the Front St. side. The area was converted into free parking space in a movement begun several months ago. Stonework, curb building and final touches on the sidewalk are nearing completion. Later flowering plants are to be set out in small garden spots situated around the parking area.

Mon. Is Holiday

Monday, Nov. 11, will be a national holiday and as usual all federal and state offices will be closed. Among them will be the postoffices, no mail deliveries, and the county ASCS office. Also, the Social Security representative will not be in Iuka on Monday due to the observance of Veterans Day. He will resume his regular visits on Monday, November 18.

Tanks To Roll In Parade Monday

Monday's Veterans Day parade in Iuka will give a grand salute to our country's military men who have served in the past and are now serving in defense of the nation.

The parade, sponsored by the local VFW-American Legion Posts, will begin at 2 o'clock in downtown Iuka and will include a Veteran's Colorguard as well as leading cars of city and county officials, several units of veterans, a number of civic club and business participants, as well as the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The Iuka High School Marching Band will be a special feature of the parade. Plans include that the band will stop on Front Street to play the National Anthem.

A main attraction in the parade will be two army tanks, a truck and two jeeps with mounted guns, a rolling armor display by the local National Guard Unit. Members of the unit will march in formation, led by the National Guard Color Guard.

Jack Thorne of Iuka states that additional interest will be shown in the Antique Cars which will be included. There will also be cars decorated in patriotic colors in which a number of the area's beauties will be riding, in addition to the county's Miss Hospitality, Mary Ann Lomenick, and Miss Teenage North Mississippi, Gayle Phifer.

Bringing up the end of the parade will be a patrol of mounted horsemen.

The big Veteran's Day Parade in Iuka Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock will have the following clubs and businesses participating with decorated cars. They are Lucy Rowe Study Club, the Jayettes, Rescue Squad, Iuka Jayettes, Counce Chevrolet Company, Chunky Chambers Ford Sales, Honeycutt Motor Company, Inc.

Any other business or civic club in the area that would like to participate in the parade in this manner may do so. Simply contact either Johnny Smith or Sgt. Waco Parsons.

FREE STEW
To cap off the day's activities, the VFW-AL posts of Iuka are sponsoring a free stew for all veterans. The serving will be held from 3 to 5 in the afternoon at the VFW-AL Hut on Hwy. 72-East across from the Armory. All veterans are invited to stop by and enjoy the meal.

Markers Missing

According to Alderman R. K. (Digger) Thorne, two street markers have been missing since Halloween night. They were located at the corners of Rowena and Third Streets and North Wilmoth and Third Sts.

"Street markers are very expensive and a lot of trouble to erect," said Mr. Thorne, "and I would like to find them and get them back up."

Anyone knowing where these markers might be are asked to contact the City Hall or Mr. Thorne. Replacing and putting the markers up again is an extra expense to the city.

Republican Richard Nixon's second try for the presidency was not settled until Wednesday morning when he finally carried the state of Illinois with its 26 electoral votes. That gave him 287. Missouri gave him 12 more Wednesday afternoon and another three are expected out of Alaska. Democratic Vice-President Hubert Humphrey is expected to finish with 191 electoral votes, while third party candidate George Wallace won 45.

The Holcut Rural Community Development Club's annual Harvest Supper meeting has been postponed from Thursday night, November 7 to Thursday night, November 14 at 7:30 o'clock.

five votes for Wallace to one for his two opponents. The former governor of Alabama carried Mississippi with over 62% of the popular vote. Hubert Humphrey was second in the state with Nixon trailing in third place.

President-Elect Nixon promised Wednesday that his administration's major objective will be to bring the American people together. The 55-year-old Republican also said his administration will be "open to new ideas, open to men and women of both parties, open to the critics as well as those who supported us."

While Nixon was winning the presidency, his fellow Republicans failed in their bid to wrest control of Congress from the Democrats. The Republicans picked up a net of five seats in the Senate and only three in the House. The indicated lineup in the senate is 58 Democrats and 42 Republicans, and the indicated lineup in the House is 244 Democrats and 191 Republicans.

In other political developments Wednesday, Gov. John Bell Williams strongly hinted he is giving consideration to joining the Republican party if the GOP nationally will convince him Mississippi Democrats could be heard within the national party.

Williams said, however, he was not sure the national GOP "wants us in." He said he hoped there would be a major realignment of the Democrats and Republicans more in line with the policy of Mississippi Democrats.

THE END OF LIBERALISM

If there is a conservative victory at the polls this year, as almost everyone expects, it will mean much more than the defeat of a candidate or a party. What may be involved is the end of liberalism as it has been known for more than a generation.

Since the early 1930's, the believers in an intellectual creed — liberalism — have dominated the government of the United States. At various times, the liberals have termed their regimes the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier and the Great Society. All of these political regimes have in common an article of faith: that society can be changed for the better and people can be uplifted and transformed by massive spending of public money. The liberal dogma is that a strong central government, using taxpayers' money in ways that government planners believe to be best, can eliminate all manner of social evil and end the problems of the unfortunate.

Some of the liberals have been sincere in their faith in the power of federal spending and federal direction of the states and individual communities and citizens. Other liberals have been cynical about the schemes they promoted. They gave the people an image of Camelot — a fabulous kingdom where all were comfortable and happy — whereas, in fact, the real goal was personal power over the lives and fortunes of their fellow citizens.

What seems to have happened is that the American people at last have concluded that the liberal philosophy is false — indeed that the philosophy of centralized government is more productive of strife than of happiness. Great numbers of Americans quite obviously no longer believe that poverty can be eliminated by federal anti-poverty programs, nor do they believe that freedom is enhanced by the creation of vast bureaucratic structures.

Almost a generation ago, one of the fathers of modern American liberalism, the late Harry Hopkins, was convinced that the tax-spend-elect formula would guarantee Big Government's domination indefinitely. Mr. Hopkins was a cynical liberal, like many who came after him in places of power in Washington. But the Hopkins formula has ceased to work in the 1960s. The American people have become too savvy about economic realities, too sophisticated about political and social goals. They see that liberalism simply doesn't work.

For almost eight years, liberals have controlled the levers of government. Billions of dollars have been poured into programs for the transformation of the people in the rural and urban slums. But the quality of the lives of these people hasn't changed, at least not for the good.

The American people have the facts concerning crime and disorder. They see these evils increasing month by month, while liberal formulas are in effect and liberals make all the policy decisions. Thus the political appeals of the liberal leaders no longer are persuasive.

The American people haven't abandoned efforts to make this a better, more prosperous land. They have not decided to close their eyes to poverty or to ignorance. But they evidently have decided that conservatism offers more practical solutions to promoting freedom, helping people and advancing the nation as a whole. Having experienced a heavy dose of government compulsion and centralization, they are now turning towards voluntary, local approaches to the problems of the late 20th century life.

It is too bad that America has wasted so many years on the mistaken liberal approach to economic and social problems. Our national experience should have taught us that the way to uplift people is to work with the individual and to rely on private initiative.

For a time, many Americans very unfortunately lost faith in the voluntary, enterprise society. They relied on government programs alien in spirit to the American system of individual effort. As a result, they are paying a heavy price in terms of taxation, social confusion and division and strife in the streets.

Nineteen sixty-eight, however, seems likely to mark the end of the unsuccessful liberal experiment and the beginning of a new reliance on the virtues of economy, local planning, decentralization organization and respect for constitutional rules. If the Uni-

THE NEWS THAT IS PRINT TO FIT

JOHN J. SYNON

Along with everybody else who has any sense, I have supported freedom-of-the-press as I have supported motherhood and wide roads. That is, wholeheartedly.

Now I am not so sure.

What does that phrase mean to you, freedom-of-the-press? Does it mean that a publisher has the right to run anything he wants, barring libelous statements, all the while being "free" to deny the opposition's voice?

Does it mean the right to freely distort, to freely report half truths, to angle the news? And be free to do so in the degree a publisher chooses? With impunity?

Well, it would mean that to me if we had, in fact, a free press, that is, a political and economic climate that permitted newspapers to compete, one against the other.

Or, lacking that, publishers could write anything anyway they wanted and it would be all right with me if they had courage enough to let the other side rebut. Yes, anything, because nothing is so finely honed as truth when it is worked against the millstones of opposing opinions. When that is the case, the reader gets all sides of all issues, he is informed, and being informed is in a position to make wise decisions.

Once upon a time, our metropolitan areas were full of daily newspapers; some towns had as many as six. No longer. Where once editors were able to hold to public view the chicanery, the sophistry, the cant, the malignity, the baseness of their rivals, now there is nothing, only silence, since there is no competing voice.

And the same applies to those crass creatures, those who head the TV networks. What swine they are.

Let me tell you what they did to George Wallace one day, about a month ago, in San Diego.

About 50 teen-agers, perky and wide-eyed in their Wallace hats, banners and buttons, had aligned themselves around the platform from which the Alabamian was to speak. Just beyond the young ladies were row upon row of black-and-white militants. When George Wallace made his appearance these uncouth varmint began to hurl filthy epithets at him; screamed them.

It was unbelievable, the vile-ness of their words, like spew boiling up from a pit of hell. It was enough to shake any man and almost unbuckled George Wallace, a man of infinite solicitude for ladies (he won't even smoke in their presence).

For one of the few times during the campaign George Wallace lost his composure and challenged the scum to physical combat.

Of course the TV cameras got it all. And what was shown? None of the provocation. Only Wallace's reaction.

That, my friends, is what we call freedom-of-the-press.

And I am against it. Needless to add, I don't know what to do about it, short of destroying TV cameras and dumping lead pots. And I don't recommend that, yet.

And needless to add, I am not writing of weekly-newspaper publishers. Land's sakes, weeklies wouldn't dare that sort of shenanigan. Aunt Minnie and her handbag would be on them before the ink was dry, boxing them, ear to ear.

I am not even writing of all dailies, only the preponderant majority of them.

I write of those dailies that, in permitting themselves to be debased, are debasing us all.

It is a measure of our national malaise, an intolerable situation without solution short of revolution.

—SCRATCH PAD—

by Judy Holtsford

Monday is Veteran's Day. It is the day of the parade in downtown Juka honoring those who have served and are now serving in America's military battles.

This is an opportune time for us to dust off our manners and display a little patriotism of our own. Don't give the impression you're ashamed of "Old Glory" and what she stands for.

When the flag passes in the parade you have but one thing to do. Stand at attention and place your right hand over your heart.

Parade after parade, I've seen people of my county negligently stand with hands stuffed down into pockets or arms folded, leaning against a car without giving half a thought to the importance of the passing of the flag. Even youngsters know better. So do you.

From the World Almanac: "When the flag is passing in parade or in a review . . . all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute. Men should remove their hats with the right hand, holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart; men without hats in the same manner. If in military uniform, the wearer should give the military salute."

Be sure to read the article concerning the Juka Methodist Church Bazaar in this edition of your paper. In addition to the many wares for sale, there will be the spaghetti supper on Tuesday night with Wednesday and Thursday nights to have light suppers served, perhaps sandwiches and coffee with cake and such. It will be a treat in every aspect.

The term "highway" was brought to America by colonists from England. There, as in America, wild animals traveled ted States returns to these time-tested virtues, it should be able to overcome the problems and bitterness engendered by 35 years of liberal misrule and mismanagement.

the grassy high ground searching for the best grazing land. Public thoroughfares between communities that followed these animal paths became known as "high roads," "high weyes" and finally "highways."

Something you didn't know was that Mrs. Mary Burns was the first girls basketball coach in Tishomingo county. She was teaching at the Tishomingo High School when it was a boarding school. During that time, she recalls that the Juka girls team would travel over in wagons for games and spend the night in neighboring homes before returning on the following day. One of the girls on the Juka team was Mrs. Hallie Little.

The name "Old Glory" for our flag possibly originated when a group of Salem, Massachusetts citizens presented one of the flags to William Driver in 1831 at the embarkation of his around-the-world voyage. As the flag was hoisted and unfurled, the captain shouted, "I'll call her Old Glory, boys, Old Glory!"

After his retirement it was flown on special occasions in front of his home in Nashville.

The original "Old Glory" remained with Capt. Driver's descendants until 1922, when it was placed on display in the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, D. C.

As soon as I return "Testimony of Two Men" by Taylor Caldwell to the Juka Library, I wish you'd check it out. Some of the names on the card can attest that it will be worth your time. So far they're all women including Mrs. Little, June Pruitt, Ethel Rutherford, Jerri Ann Thomas, Nancy Beard, Karen Kent, Billie Coker, Jean Anne Faulkner and Jean Curtis, but you men would find it interesting if you could find the time to read.

Wasn't Saturday a beautiful day? Next weekend will be the last chance to see any of the autumn colors. They can't last much longer than that. Saturday some of us spent the day at a rustic cabin near Farmington. It's built near a large pond in a thickly wooded area. While we were there, a flock of geese in v-formation flew over. Late in the afternoon, a fire was built in the big stone fireplace and we roasted wieners indoors and popped pop corn in a wire basket. As it turned out, it was a football party for Ole Miss while listening to them defeat the LSU Tigers. Yeah!

There's an industrious young man in Corinth, Al Woolf, who's about 10 years old. The youngster is editor, publisher, reporter, ad man and printer of his own newspaper, "The Candler Heights Press." The mimeographed sheet is circulated in the Candler Park residential area.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woolf, has written some real news stories that are brief and to the point. For example, this one with the headline "Hit and Run Driver: 'Tuesday morning Bodie, dog of Richard Taylor, was hit on Shiloh Road. No one knows who hit him as the driver did not stop. That is a very bad crime. By the way, Bodie Died.'" (Richard Taylor is the grandson of Richard A. Milam, executive director of the Yocona Council, BSA).

WHAT IS THE ANSWER

by Henry E. Garrett

Professor Emeritus, Psychology, Columbia University
Past President, American Psychological Association

Q: Dr. Garrett, aren't "civil rights" often "social privileges"?

A: Yes. No one has an inherent right to join or be a member of any organization unless he is even doubtful whether, in a free society, "right" to enter any store or eat in any place. The owner can limit his clientele as even though by so doing he offends the Liberal. The right to intrude should carry right to exclude.

Q: Dr. Garrett, my boy is a poor speller. The teacher required him to stay after school 20 times each word he had misspelled on test. Now, I don't object to the teacher stay after school but what about such repetition? Do they improve his spelling? I doubt it.

A: You are right. They have very little good rare that a child shows an improvement who do a task which he has failed to do or has done poorly.

CHIEFTAINS LOSE ANOTHER GAME BY ONLY ONE-POINT MARGIN

The Iuka Chieftains played a fine game last Friday night against the strong Booneville Blue Devils. The Devils got off to an early sprinting start but by the fourth quarter the Chieftains had narrowed the gap to one point. In this case the extra point that didn't come. The final score was Booneville, 21, Iuka 20.

The home team had a total of 7 first downs with a total of 64 yards in rushing.

Ronnie Brown took 56 yards in 10 carries; Jimmy Smith, 5 yds. in 13 carries; Sidney Robinson 4 yds. in 2 carries; Robbie Grisham, 4 yds. in 5 carries; Larry Cutshall, 2 yds. in 1 carry and Wendell Jourdan, 1 yd. in 1 carry.

Robbie Grisham attempted 15 passes and completed 6 for a 90-yard total. Sidney Robinson had a 31-yard average in kickoffs while his punts averaged 40.4.

Booneville scored two touchdowns and tallied two conversions for a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter. Iuka came on for their first score in the second quarter to end the half with a 14-6 lead for Booneville. This was the last conversion that told the tale for the home squad. In the third quarter Booneville raised their score with another TD and conversion to 21 keeping Iuka at a 6 pointer at the end of the third. The Redskins got their dander up by the last quarter and did some hard playing to gain two TD's and two good conversions upping the score to a close 21-20. Time ran out on the scrappers before they could make up for the slow beginning.

The final horn kept the game in favor of the visiting team.

Booneville's scoring was done by Bob Presley on a 70-yd. run, a pass from Riley Presley to Bill Breedlove for 36 yds., and Bill Breedlove on a 9-yd. run. Extra points for the Devils were all made by Mal White.

Iuka's Ronnie Brown scored a 21-yd. run with the extra point no good. Robbie Grisham made the second tally with a 7-yd. run and Gary Lomenick went 30 yds. with a blocked punt for the final score. Extra points were made by Sidney Robinson.

BELMONT PERSONAL

Mrs. Zeb Deaton of Tishomingo, Mrs. Ed Starkey and baby, Mary Jo of Huntsville, and Mrs. Junior Luttrell of Memphis visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pace on Saturday.

WHUMP!—Part of the action in last Friday night's game is seen here near the sidelines. The Booneville Blue Devils were given a hard run for their money toward the end of the match making them beg for their win. The above action shot was made by Chet Yarbrough.

BELMONT WINS LAST GAME OF THIS SEASON

The Belmont Cardinals ended the official 1968 Football Season with an important 14-13 win over the tough Mooreville Troopers. The Troopers are members of the Parkway Conference. Belmont is an independent team this season.

The salvation of the team came with the extra points, as is appearing to be the case in a number of the teams in the county. Both Mooreville and Belmont scored two TD's each but Belmont kept both extra points.

Jeff Comer and Ronnie Brown scored the Belmont touchdowns. Donnie Dill and Jack Senter were perfect receivers for Comer's passes to make the conversions good.

Belmont led 14-6 at the half and spent the rest of the game holding the Troopers back.

IUKA CHIEFS END SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT

The Iuka Chieftains end their official 1968 Football Schedule this Friday night when they clash with the Red Bay Squad on the Iuka Field.

This will be the first time the teams have met in some eight years, when rivalry was at an all time high. In addition to this being one of the important games of the season, schedule-wise, it is also the last game for some of the senior members of the team.

"We would like all the fans out for this last game to give the senior squad members their biggest sendoff," Coach Ferguson suggested. The kickoff for the big event is set for 7:30 Friday night.

Burnsville Tops Bears

Burnsville's Mustangs rapped Alcorn Central's Bears 34-0 on the visitors' field Friday night in a Tippamingo Conference outing.

Burnsville now has a 5-3-1 mark.

Don Phyfer and Dave Keenan scored twice each for Burnsville and got an extra point each.

Tom Wright made one six-pointer and one extra point, A.B. Marlar had one extra point.

Burnsville led 20-0 at halftime.

Girl Scouts Organized

Troop 129 of the Junior Girl Scouts was organized at a meeting Tuesday, October 29. The troop has approximately 28 new members. Leaders for the troop are Mrs. Chester Cox, Mrs. Bobby King and Mrs. Bobby Burress.

MISS TURNIPSEED — Janet Turnipseed of Paden has one of the leading roles in the NEMJC upcoming production of "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams. The play will be presented November 14-16 by the drama department at the Booneville Community Center in Booneville.

CALLING REDBAY—The Iuka High School Cheerleaders are in high spirits preparing for the last game of the season for the Chieftains as they host the Red Bay team this Friday night in Iuka. The kickoff begins at 7:30. In addition to Red Bay, the girls are looking forward to the upcoming Jaycee Bowl Game scheduled for November 15 at the Iuka Stadium. The cheerleaders will be official youth hostesses for the first-

Opposition To Courthouse Is Not Sufficient To Warrant Petition

According to the Tishomingo County Betterment Association, opposition to the building of a new courthouse for Tishomingo County is not sufficient to warrant the passing of a petition.

This is the report of a committee that made a spot check all through the county.

The Tishomingo County

Betterment Association is composed of a group of conscientious citizens whose interest is promoting and improving all conditions in the county. Discussions and research on civic problems will be held and special interest will be devoted to highway safety, the schools, school bus safety and other matters of public interest.

Next meeting of the Tishomingo County Betterment Association is tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock in the county courthouse in Iuka. The public is invited to attend all the meetings of the association. "This is a place where the little man can speak about his problems, discuss them, vote and let the majority rule on issues," Johnny Boothe, chairman of the association said. "We do not believe in people dictating to and dominating others. Our policy is to vote on an issue and let the majority rule," he said.

Injured During Guard Training

Tank Commander Lt. John L. Polizzi of Amory, a member of the Iuka National Guard Unit, and Sgt. Ward E. Bailey, of Holcut, also of the Iuka National Guard Unit, were injured Sunday afternoon during regular guard drill.

The two were riding in one of the large tanks on the driving range when it unavoidably pitched over an incline into a small ravine. The abrupt jolt threw both men forward. Lt. Polizzi's jaw bones were broken in two places in compound fractures. After first aid treatment at the local hospital, he was sent on to Millington Naval Hospital in Memphis.

Sgt. Bailey received numerous bruises and was admitted for observation at the local hospital.

Store Window Features Century Club Display

In observance of MFWC Federation Month, the ladies of the Twentieth Century Club have arranged an attractive window display in the store window formerly occupied by Vail and Baddour.

The items on display call attention to projects and activities sponsored by the club. The club's main projects are the Cub Scouts, their Eye, Ear and Throat Correction program, and the Youth Center.

The fruit cake in the window calls attention to the club's current sale of fruit cakes. Incidentally, these cakes are already sliced. Anyone wishing to purchase one for the holidays are asked to please contact one of the club members. A new shipment will be arriving in a few days. The ladies have on display some colorful dish towels which they purchase annually from the blind.

Centering the display is the club's attractive scrapbook of newspaper clippings and pictures of their accomplishments during the past year.

Mrs. P. L. Oaks and Mrs. Austin Drake, club members who arranged the display, invite the public to stop by and view the club's work.

Mrs. Davis Is Hostess To 20th Century Club

Mrs. Margie Davis was hostess to members of the Twentieth Century Club on Thursday night, October 24.

Mrs. Jack Jourdan, president, presiding over the business session, welcomed the new associate members into the club. She then informed the club ladies of the Public Relations Workshop to be held at MSCW and encouraged all who could to attend. Mrs. Jourdan read a citation from the General Federation of Women's Clubs and The Sears Roebuck Foundation for effective Community action through The Community Improvement Program, 1966-68.

Mrs. P. L. Oaks, Communications chairman, gave a very interesting talk on her recent trip to Hawaii. She and her husband made the trip to visit their son, Jimmy, who was on leave from Vietnam at that time. Pictures revealed the beauty of the many interesting places they visited. Mrs. Oaks was dressed in the native Hawaiian costume.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served a delicious dessert plate to the twelve members present.

LUCY ROWE CLUB MEETING TONIGHT

The Lucy Rowe Study Club will meet tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock at the Power Office. The meeting will be Dutch Treat and members will be working on the "TB Seals". All members are urged to be present.

Miss Phifer To Be Honored At Teenage Dance

The Iuka Jaycees and Jaycettes will honor Miss Gayle Phifer, Miss Teenage North Mississippi, with a dance Friday night, Nov. 8 at the Youth Center. Hours will be from 9 to 12.

Mrs. Mildred Ramsey, president of the Jaycettes, states that this dance is for High School students only. Refreshments will be served during the evening and "The Reasons Why" will furnish the music for dancing. Dress is casual.

Holcut Supper Is Postponed

The Holcut Rural Community Development Club's annual Harvest Supper meeting has been postponed from Thursday night, November 7 to Thursday night, November 14 at 7:30 o'clock.

Each person is asked to bring a dish of their choice and fellowship together. Turkey and dressing will be furnished by the club.

Various churches in the community will present a talent program.

PRIM — Prim Haynes of Belmont, one of the head wranglers, locally, of the Natchez Trace project now underway in the county, is pictured here during a recent visit with Joe

McQuade, bridge inspector. The two are at the overpass being constructed out near the Mingo community from Tishomingo. The overpass crosses road no. 30. In the background workers are seen as they smooth curb sides. The concrete has just recently been poured and measures more than a 26-inch thickness in places.

NOVEMBER 3 — The third support of the massive bridge under construction south of Sadsad Ridge in Tishomingo County is nearing completion. The foundations of the bridge are being laid. The bridge construction is a portion of the work under way on the Natchez Trace parkway which runs through Tishomingo county. It is under tentative discussion as to which section of the Trace will be started in the future in the northern counties of the state.

This is project 3-A, 16.39 miles. Projects 3-B from Miss. Hwy. 4 to Kirkville and 3-C from Kirkville to Tupelo are being programmed. Project 3-B would connect with Project 3-A in Tishomingo

BUILD BIG HORSEPOWER!

...with Ful-O-Pep Powerpack

Specially developed to supply the known nutritional needs of working horses in the southwest, Ful-O-Pep Powerpack provides sound nutrition for all types of working saddle and pleasure horses. This great 12% protein product is built around wholesome crimped oats, plus many other supplemental nutrients that keep horses in top physical condition.

Horses really "go" for this palatable, good-looking feed. In order to eliminate dust and to increase feed utilization, all fine ingredients have been pelleted—leaving the body of the feed in taste-tempting, bulky, crimped and flaked grains, soaked in molasses.

Many horsemen feed Ful-O-Pep Powerpack just as it comes from the bag. It also has been widely used for fattening show cattle! Stop in today for details about this fine, versatile feed.

Old Fashioned Church Bazaar Just In Time For Holiday Buys

An old fashioned Church Bazaar is capturing the holiday spirit early for the members of the Iuka Methodist Church.

Church leaders, seeking a way to raise funds to help with the expenses of the purchase and installation of new carpeting in the sanctuary, came upon the idea of the Church Bazaar several months ago. Director of the venture is Bob Brown.

"We're very enthusiastic over this cooperative effort. Every member of the church is contributing a handmade article to be sold at the Bazaar," he said.

To step into one of the makeshift workshops is like going into Santa's storehouse a week before Christmas. The attic where Betty Brown and Bobbie Sue Burns have been working is filled with art crafts, all that would make perfect gifts for holiday giving.

These items and those being made by other members will be on display and for sale November 19-20-21, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The Bazaar is being held at the Fellowship Hall of the Iuka Methodist Church with daytime hours as well as night.

Nighttime plans include a Wesleyan Service Guild Spaghetti Supper Tuesday night. Adults can eat a delicious supper of spaghetti, cole slaw, French bread, with dessert and drink for $1.25, feed the kids for 75¢ each, and enjoy browsing and buying from the Bazaar items on display. Serving begins at 6 p.m., according to Barbara Hamilton, Guild president.

The browser at the Bazaar may be in a delirium at the variety of handmade items offered. Jams, jellies, cakes, pies and candies will delight the food connoisseur while needlework knitted and crocheted work will be the favorite of others.

The beauty of de coupeage, personalized wooden purses, folk art, burlap potted plants, covered wastepaper baskets, stamp boxes, knitted afgans, wall plaques, TV Guide covers, place mat and napkin sets, will put heads in a spin.

Mrs. J. C. Jourdan, Jr., has almost completed the wool lap robe which will be entered in the Bazaar and Mary Kinard is winding up her Christmas creations of felt including quaint Santa head covers for doorknobs. Hallie Little has a menagerie of stuffed animals, each begging to be taken home for Christmas.

Other items handmade for Christmas decorating are exquisite papier mache angels, about two feet high, sprayed gold for center pieces, partridges in pear trees, and rich Christmas balls decorated with pearls, sequins, velvet and braid, such as those made by Miriam Carmichael. The shopper will also find wall trees of laced straw strung with greenery. The holiday theme is carried out as well in aprons which range from frilly nets to practical ones.

Not only are the ladies working toward the Bazaar, but the men are having their day also. Ben McRae has designed and built a "Mother Goose" bird house that will delight both young and old while Merle Nelson plans to contribute game birds to the project.

"All-in-all, the well worth seeing are here, you resist the wares, to stop in for a Bazaar dates, Nov. 21," the Rev. and Ferrell reminded.

Mr. and Mrs. B spent Sunday in with Mr. and Mrs. and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ezzell

Open House Held for Edward Ezzells

On Sunday, November 3, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ezzell were joined by their children with their families in celebration of the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home in the Pogo community.

The home was decorated with lovely arrangements of gold and white flowers in each room. The children alternated in receiving their parents. Mrs. Ezzell was charming in a blue two-piece suit of bonded crepe with a corsage of five yellow rosebuds, tied with satin ribbons, gold trim and tiny white bells. Mr. Ezzell wore a single rosebud in his lapel.

Mrs. Elaine Ballou, daughter, attended the guest register which was accented with yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Eva Hanberry, daughter, attended the gift display. Mrs. Nellie Ruth Perrigo, Mrs. Faye Gregory, daughters, and Mrs. J. L. Ezzell, daughter-in-law, served delicious anniversary cake, yellow fruit punch, gold mints and mixed nuts from the beautiful table covered with white imported lace over gold linen cloth.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was trimmed with yellow rose buds and hearts topped with the numerals 50 in gold centered the table. Flower arrangement of yellow roses and greenery in a gold container was at one end of the table and the antique crystal punch bowl was at the other. Gold compotes held the mints and nuts.

All seven grandchildren joined their grandparents on this happy occasion, along with the other 163 relatives and friends who called during the appointed hours of 1 and 4 p.m.

Twins Celebrate Birthdays

A birthday dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Malone on Sunday, November 3, honoring Mr. Malone and his twin brother, Luther Malone, on their 77th birthday.

Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Malone, Mrs. Johnnie James, Rather Malone of Rackwood; Mrs. Carrie Smith, Mrs. Ila Hargett, Mrs. Ada Allen, Mrs. Goldie Tompkins, Mrs. Mattie Lou Gist, Russellville, Ala.; Mrs. Flora Sea, Spruce Pine, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Elam Davis, Mrs. Georgia Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Whitfield, Noel Whitfield, Jimmie Don Whitfield, Iuka; Mrs. Ninnie Pruitt, Misses Janie and Reathal (Bill) Whitfield of Burnsville; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Malone, Kathy and Janet of Tusculum, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Beard of Russellville, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Junior Pruitt of Burnsville.

Each brought a basket and spread lunch together.

Shower Given Saturday

Mrs. Jimmy Bain of Burnsville was honored with a stork shower held Saturday night, November 2, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Holtsford. Assisting Mrs. Holtsford as co-hostess was Aileen Smith.

For the occasion, a yellow and green color scheme was carried out. The refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen cloth. The center arrangement consisted of yellow roses in a low crystal bowl. Flanking this were yellow candles in crystal holders. Lime frosted punch was served from a crystal punch bowl placed on one end of the table. On the opposite end of the table, individual cake squares with green and yellow decorations were offered from a silver tray. Compotes of mixed nuts completed the table setting.

For entertainment, a number of contests were conducted. Aileen Smith was the lucky recipient of a set of steak knives and Goldie Waddle, the lucky winner of a set of bud vases.

Mrs. Bain received a nice assortment of attractive and useful gifts.

Housewarming For Johnsons

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Johnson were honored with a housewarming at their new home on Hwy. 25 North of Tishomingo, Friday night, November 1, from 7 until 9 p.m.

Honoring the Johnsons were Miss Linda Whitfield, Mrs. Ray McKee and Mrs. Jerry House. Throughout the house, the green and white color scheme was used. The refreshment table consisted of lime sherbet punch, served from a milk glass punch bowl, mints, nuts, and various kinds of cookies.

A host of friends and relatives called during the appointed hours. They received many nice and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Murrah of Iuka announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marcia Ann, to James Stanley Whitehurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Whitehurst, also of Iuka.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Murrah and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cox of New Albany. Mr. Whitehurst is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitehurst of Iuka and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Dickerson of Shiloh, Tennessee.

Akers In County

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Akers of Memphis visited friends and relatives in the south end of the county and voted in the General Election Tuesday.

Mr. Akers will be remembered as a teacher in the county school system from 1931-41. He was also collector of cotton statistics in the county from 1933-41. August of 1967 marked his retirement as a rural mail carrier in Dennis.

Mrs. Akers is recovering from recent surgery and now, after 2 years of discomfort and staying on a very limited diet, she is able to eat anything she wants.

Reed Akers is the author of the book "Our Kinsfolk," a history of four pioneer families of Old Tishomingo County. The historical contains information about the Akers, Greshams, Riddles and Smith families. Mr. and Mrs. Akers helped to organize the Northeast Mississippi Historical Society and he served 3 years as one of the directors.

NOTICE INFORMATION IS NEEDED CONCERNING THE WEDGEWORTH FAMILY.

I am a member of the Southern California Genealogical Society, and am looking for descendants of John D. Wedgeworth, or his son, John Wesley Wedgeworth. The 1900 U. S. Census showed John Wesley Wedgeworth, with wife and children (Epsey B., Thomas J. and Mary F.) living in Beat 5 in Tishomingo County. These people lived in Grenada County in 1880.

I have the records through the Revolutionary War, but have lost track of those from 1900 on.

BREAKFAST CALL! — Little Black Sambo never had it so

Pancakes, Butter & Syrup Good Breakfast — High Aim

The Iuka Rotary Club is sponsoring a Pancake Breakfast this Saturday morning at the school cafeteria. Serving hours are from 6 to 8 a.m. Plates heaped high with stacks of hot pancakes dripping in butter and syrup, along with country sausage and plenty of hot coffee will be yours for $1 each.

Proceeds from this breakfast will be sent to the Hospital for Crippled Adults in Memphis. The hospital, sponsored by Rotarians, involves the serious work of some 36 clubs and serves mainly the three states of Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas.

Already the local organization has contributed some $500 to the worthwhile endeavor that has helped so many crippled adults in Tishomingo county.

The hospital is located at 1248 La Paloma Street, Memphis. The purpose of the unit is to give orthopedic treatment to any adult who can be benefitted and is unable to pay for it. The ultimate purpose is to relieve physical suffering, to restore lost hope and to enable the patient to become self-supporting. It centers attention primarily on those suffering from arthritis.

The local Rotary Club, as other clubs in the District, has a special committee which assists crippled adults of the area in determining whether they are eligible for admission to the hospital for treatment.

Patients need not be paupers to qualify. The need is determined by the committee. The Hospital for Crippled Adults offers service to citizens suffering from arthritis who have not been able to get treatment needed. The ideal is to reach such people in time to prevent deformities and other undesirable after-effects of the disease.

Crippled adults living in the area who wish further information concerning help given by the Iuka Rotary Club may get in contact with the club president, Percie Stricklen.

Other residents of the area are asked to join with the Rotarians to help with their important project. Patronize their Pancake Breakfast this Saturday morning. Purchase tickets from members when they call upon you. Help others to help themselves.

Kim Duncan

Duncan Shows Ability As Fine Young Athlete

Eleven-year-old Kim Duncan, who resides at Fort Walton Beach, Florida, has been recognized as one of the finest young schoolboy athletes in the Play-ground Area.

Young Duncan visits quite frequently in the Fifth District areas of Golden and Belmont. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Steve South and Tom Duncan. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan.

Kim was recently termed as an all around athlete in a newspaper article written by Honest

Buck Gassman in his column in a Florida newspaper titled "Tongue in Cheek."

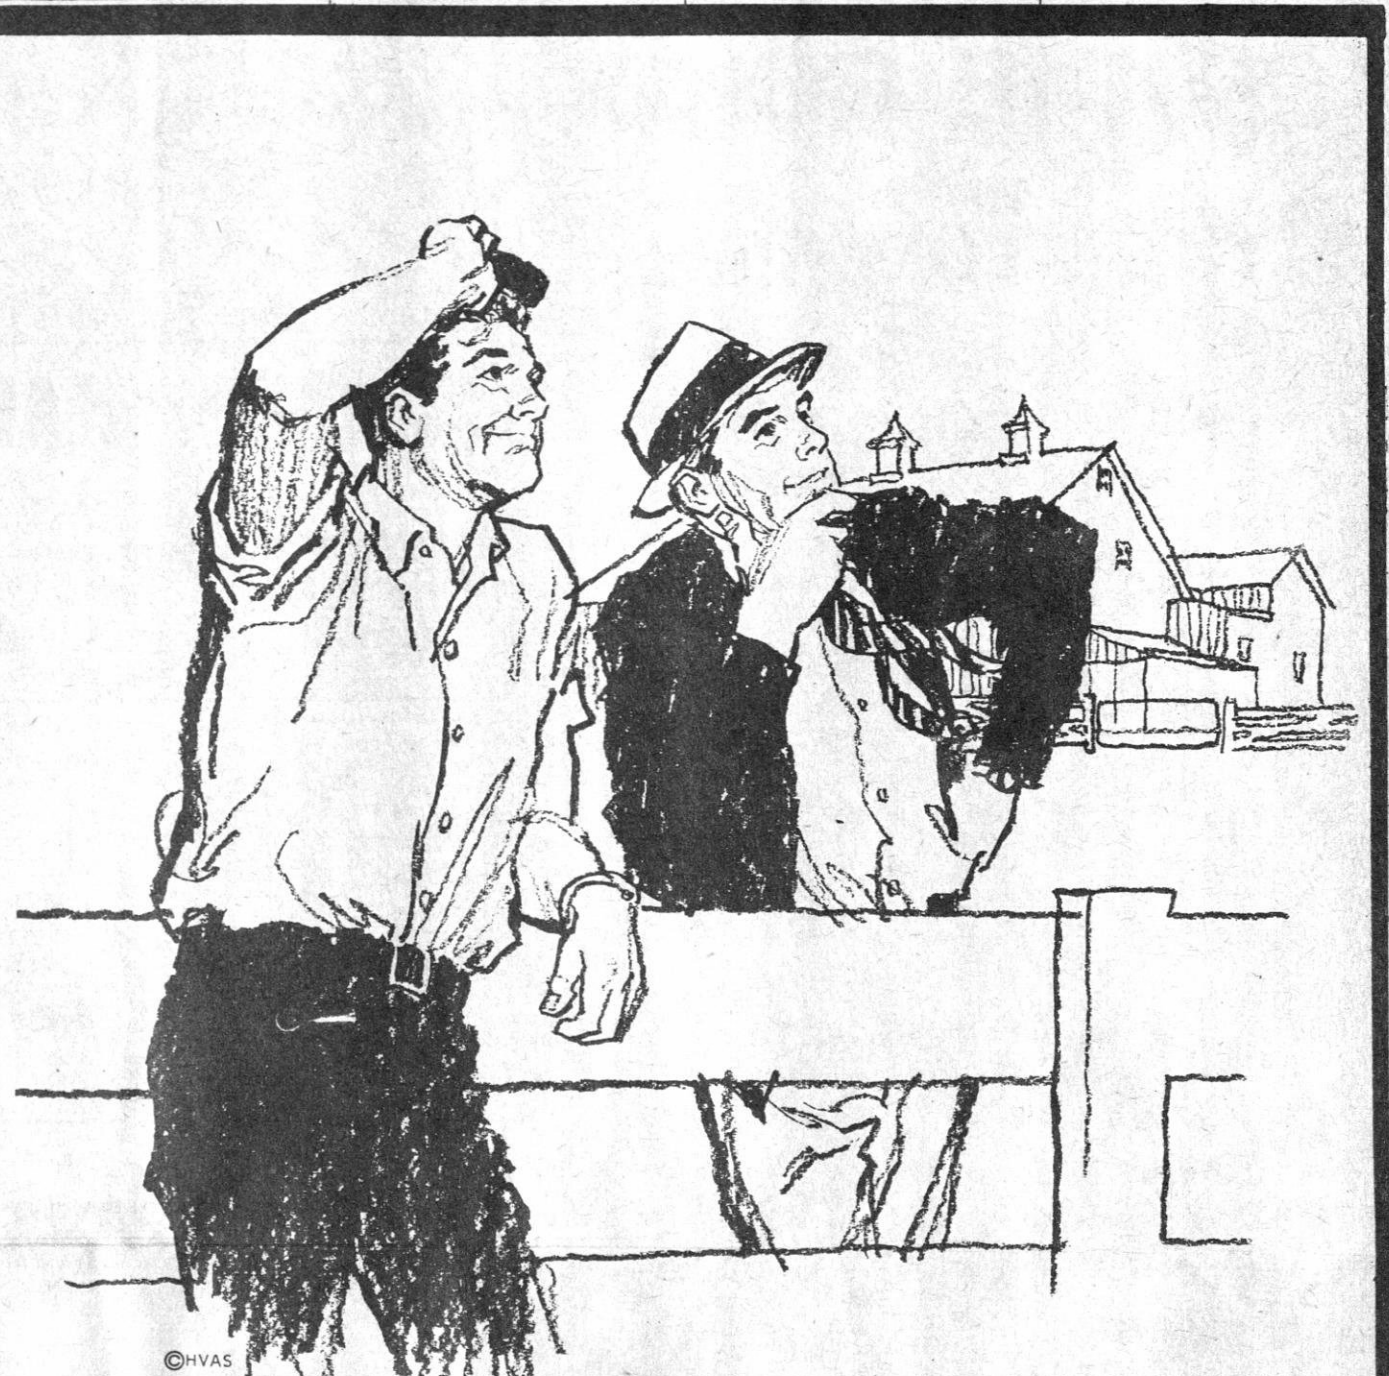

Excerpts from the article read: "I have been watching him perform on the gridiron, the baseball diamond, the basketball court, and on the judo mat for four years. He is truly an all around athlete. 'Right at the present time, Kim is a playing member of the Jaycee Charger football team, city champs for the past two years and it looks from here they will repeat again.' Kim was a member of the Oka-loosa Gas District team, city champions in 1968, in baseball and has been a playing member of the Jaycee Red Devils basketball team, city champions for the past two years.

Duncan was the state champion in Judo two years ago in his bracket, he having won the title in Tampa.

For the past four years, Kim has won the local punt, pass and kick competition. Recently he won the district at Marianna in his age group and will next travel to the state finals in Jacksonville.

When asked what his favorite sport was, Kim's reply was football. It seems he is certainly a fine young athlete.
