Mother, Infant Die In Wreck

An Alcorn County woman and her seven-month-old child died about 5 p.m. Friday when the car in which they were riding struck a bridge abutment head-on.

They were identified as Mrs.
Barbara Sue Newcomb, 18, wife of John David Newcomb of Route
6, Corinth; and Charlotte Sue Newcomb, the couple's young daughter.

Mr. Newcomb is listed in critical condition at Corinth's Magnolia Hospital where he is receiving treatment for facial and head injuries.

Alcorn County Coroner George Coleman said the accident occurred on Highway 45 about a mile south of Biggersville.

Mr. Coleman said Newcomb was driving and "the way I understand it, he lost control of the car and hit a bridge abutment head-on."

Reports that Newcomb was attempting to pass a school bus and lost control of the car trying to pull back into his lane could not be confirmed.

City Officials Vote To Buy New Fire Truck

Fire Insurance To Come Down

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Iuka met in recess on May 18th at 10:00 a.m. for the purpose of buying a new fire truck and adopting the gas, electrical and building codes to reduce the fire insurance rates for residents.

According to the State Rating Bureau, the City will have to purchase a new fire truck and adopt and enforce the gas, electrical and building codes to be placed in Class 8. In this category, fire insurance rates on all dwellings in the City Limits of Iuka will be reduced 33 1/3 percent. Also, the rate on commercial buildings will be reduced 20 to 24 percent.

At the present time, the fire insurance rates for Iuka are extremely high and this has been done to not only bring the rates down, but, by bringing them down, to make residents able to afford greater coverage.

Therefore, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Iuka have adopted an ordinance creating the office of a Building Inspector in Iuka and adopted the National Building Code rules as the minimum standard. An official has been appointed to enforce all laws relating to the construction, alteration, removal, and demolition of buildings and structures. A permit will be required before any construction, repair or removal of a building which will cost over $250.00 can be made and a fee will be charged for these permits.

An ordinance creating the office of an electrical inspector and adopting the National Electrical Code rules as the minimum standard for electrical wiring was also adopted. This will require a surety bond of persons engaged or engaging in the business of installing electrical wiring. They will be required to obtain licenses to do wiring. A fee will be charged for inspecting of electrical wiring and for each permit to install electrical wiring or equipment.

A third ordinance creating the office of Gas Inspector and adopting the Southern Standard Gas Code, 1965 Edition, as a minimum standard was also adopted. Persons installing gas facilities would be required to obtain a permit. Surety bond and a license will be required of persons engaged in the business of installing gas fixtures and piping. A small fee will be charged for each permit issued by the gas inspector. The inspector will issue a certificate of approval if it is found to meet the approval of the standards required.

D. S. Daugherty has been hired for inspector of all three of these phases. Licenses and permits may be obtained at the City Hall.

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen have carefully studied these codes and feel that their adopting will mean lower insurance and safety for residents of the City of Iuka and therefore deem this the proper thing to do. It is felt that these factors will overrule any inconvenience that the people may feel from their adoption.

The ordinances will take effect on June 1, 1970.

Complete details concerning these ordinances will be found in this issue of your newspaper.

phis, Tenn., Lawrenceburg,

OPEN LETTER TO BARRY GOLDWATER

JOHN J. SYNON

Dear Senator Goldwater:

Some weeks ago — six, perhaps — I wrote you a letter. After about three weeks and no reply, I got off another, this one to the man in your office who parts his name on the side, D. Delos Ellsworth.

It was possible, I knew, that my first letter had gone astray, so I repeated its substance to Ellsworth and asked if he would be kind enough to determine if my first effort had been received. No answer from him, either.

So, I'll try again; I certainly would like an answer to my question.

That question, you may recall from my first letter, grew out of an appearance you made on the TV show conducted by that rolling-eyed Englishman.

You and David Frost rocked along. Twice, in the course of the banter, you identified yourself as a Jew and why you felt called upon to do that, and to do it again, is more than I know. And you told us of your sympathy for the hippies, that you yourself had tried to grow a beard ("but it didn't look right"), and so on.

Quite a new Goldwater, I thought, laughing and scratching with a Left-wing mouth-piece.

Then, towards the end of the show, Frost rather set you back. Or so it seemed to me. In his best oxonian accent your interlocutor wanted to know how you differed from George Wallace.

From the look on your face, I thought the question must have carried an odor as well as an inference.

"Oh", you said, "I wouldn't want to be compared to George Wallace". Horrors!

"Why not?" Frost pressed. "What do you stand for that Wallace doesn't stand for or vice versa?"

(Forgive me if I have forgotten the exact language that went into this six-weeks-old colloquy).

You pursued over Frost's question for a long moment; a person could see your heavy wheels slowly turn.

Finally, out it came: "George Wallace uses the Bill of Rights to deny Negroes and Jews their rights".

I nearly fell out of my chair. You said — whatever your exact language — George Wallace does deny (or has denied) rights to Negroes and Jews.

And as fast as I could get off a letter to you I did so. I asked you to substantiate your charge, to name the act, the time, and the place.

No answer. Twice, no answer.

What am I to believe? I still

What Caused the Killing at Kent?

Why did four students have to die on the campus of Kent State University, in the tragic confrontation between a rioting mob and Ohio National Guardsmen?

The gravity of the situation is recognized by all.

A friend who lives just 16 miles from Kent has written me, "It is sad that four lives were lost, but if those rock, cement, and canister-throwing kids had been able to disarm the Guard it could have been a real slaughter. There were guns and knives taken from some of the arrested students, according to the local papers."

Let's look behind the scenes at Kent State University — at the situation which prepared the way for the tragedy.

"Kill Your Parents"

It is well known that the SDS has been active there for some time. About a week before the riot, Jerry Rubin, in a speech on the Kent State campus, said:

"The first part of the Yippie program, you know, is to kill your parents. And I mean that quite seriously, because until you're prepared to kill your parents you're not really prepared to change the country, because our parents are our first oppressors."

Another bit of advice that Rubin gave the Kent State students was "Quit being students. Become criminals. We have to disrupt every institution and break every law."

How did Jerry Rubin get started on his career of violence and revolutionary activity? It is interesting to note that he, himself, says that childhood experiences with his parents shaped his life.

In an article in "Esquire" magazine — written by J. Anthony Lewis and entitled, "The Making of a Yippie" — there is this revealing statement:

"They wanted a child so badly they would do anything for me," Rubin said of his parents. . . . 'I knew if I cried I'd get my way; if I insisted have scars on my hide defending you from the tar brush, particularly that of your being thick headed, slow witted. And here you are, so far as I can determine, engaged in a blatant piece of character assassination.

What sort of person are you, anyway? When that publisher fellow wrote that you were nuts and therefore unfit to be president, you sued him. And now here you are offering a gratuitous charge, an even more despicable charge, against a man whose shoes you aren't fit to lace.

Deny rights to Jews and Negroes, indeed.

Name the instance, Barry Goldwater, name the time, and name the place.

I shall see that a copy of this column is delivered to your office.

If you have a defense for what appears to be an unfounded, unwarranted, scurrilous, snide attack, all of that, I will print it.

Sincerely,
JOHN J. SYNON

Favorite Desserts

Pudding, according to a new consumer survey, is the second favorite dessert in the country.

What's the first? It depends on whom you ask. Children will go for ice cream as their first choice; husbands will take pie or cake. But they all select creamy pudding as the close runner-up.

Pudding Pleases All

The homemaker desiring to please all of her family will want to make pudding a frequent mealtime offering. With some of the new puddings now available, you can make creamy pudding desserts in favorite ice cream and cake flavors.

Think of the dessert pleasure that a luscious banana cream or Bavarian cream pie can bring. They are easy to make with a new line of My-T-Fine puddings and pie fillings just reaching your supermarket. If there's no time for making a crust, simply serve banana cream, Bavarian cream, or butter pecan pudding topped with whipped cream. Or serve fudgier, chocolate fudge pudding, made with rich Dutch chocolate flavor. For a pretty dessert, layer cooled pudding in glasses in alternating layers or alternate layers of pudding with layers of whipped cream or ladyfingers. Or pour warm pudding over plain cake or ladyfingers. Top with pretty fruit. Quick company dessert.

Developing County Of Tomorrow

Groups in almost every Mississippi county who are working to develop progressive communities will agree improvements are needed if progress is to come. However, it is sometimes difficult to determine what changes are required.

Some 20 counties have used the Mississippi Economic Council's "Tomorrow's County" program to make this determination. The program checklist has been and is being used to focus attention on problem areas.

The completed checklists, when compared to each other, have indicated many problems common to most of the counties involved in the program. As a result of this finding the Mississippi Economic Council, representing the business and professional leadership of the state, has recommended the following changes to aid in the development of Mississippi's economy:

1. Counties should request bidders to quote cash discounts for prompt payments in addition to quantity trade discounts.

2. Counties should plan five- or six-year capital improvement and public works construction programs and should review and revise such programs annually.

3. Counties should maintain records or devices on all appropriate motor equipment so that the number of hours of actual service can be determined.

4. All county motor and other equipment, as well as county tools, should be stamped and painted a distinctive color to aid in avoiding theft or loss.

5. Counties should maintain current inventories of all personal property.

6. As and when county governmental structure will permit, each county should have specific personnel policies incorporating civil service features for county employees similar to other civil service programs.

7. Counties should have definite year-round fire prevention programs.

8. Counties should have official, long-range plans for parks and recreation, should take action to implement the plans, and should have the taxing authority to support the plans.

9. Counties should consider establishing minimum standards for housing with enforcement provisions, maintain building codes which require building permits, and should participate in countywide, regional, or statewide waste disposal programs.

10. Counties should have effective insect and rodent control programs.

11. Counties should encourage the establishment of sufficient licensed nursing homes to serve their aged population.

12. Counties should consider participation in mental health/mental retardation regional commissions as authorized by the state legislature.

Forestry Notes

By Charles Guinn,
Area Forester

The Mississippi Forestry Commission has been making progress in field of tree improvement. As you know, the underlying purpose of our program is to increase the per-acre productivity of Mississippi's timberlands. Our long-range objective in this program is to establish and maintain reliable sources of genetically improved seed for use in Mississippi. The short-range, or immediate, goal is to insure that high quality seed collected from the best trees available are used in our nursery program.

To achieve this short-range goal, we began last year using our forestry crews in collecting all of our seed instead of purchasing most of them on the open market as was done in past years. The major advantage in the use of our new procedures is that the seed we now obtain are selected and not merely collected.

Another action we are taking toward this short-range goal of better seed for the immediate future is the establishment of seed production areas. Seed production areas are better than average stands which are upgraded by removal of undesirable trees and cultured for abundant seed production.

We are establishing superior tree seed orchards designed to

COOKING FOR TWO

During May, Senior Citizen's Month, take a few minutes to consider your meal planning and preparation. As a senior citizen, you may have more time to spend on this than you have ever had. Cooking for only one or two can be just as interesting and perhaps more challenging than cooking for a larger number.

Consider first, the tools you use. Do you need to buy a few smaller cooking utensils and inexpensive tools that will make your work easier?

Choose the size of pan you need. A saucepan should be balanced, have a flat bottom and straight sides. You'll find individual casseroles and small soilware pans especially useful.

A few small pieces of equipment can make your kitchen work easier and more enjoyable. A rubber spatula is useful for stirring and for cleaning cooking utensils and plates. A colander is useful for washing and draining vegetables and fruits. Kitchen tongs are the perfect tool for holding and dipping many foods.

Make meal preparation seem less of a chore by planning meals ahead. When you plan meals for a week and buy groceries accordingly, you save that last minute frustration of deciding what to prepare and not having on hand that one ingredient necessary for a dish.

Remember the 4-4-2-2 guide of the Basic 4 Food Groups. In each day's meal include four or more servings of fruits and vegetables, four or more servings of bread or cereals, two or more servings of milk or milk products and two or more servings of meat alternates.

Shop wisely and get the most for your money. Before shopping study newspaper advertisements for the "best buys." Buy foods in season. In season plentiful are better for your budget than out-of-season temptations.

Buy the size package that is most economical for you. Don't be led astray by "bargains" in large size packages that will spoil or get stale before you can use them.

Save time and energy in the grocery store by making a good list before you go. Group foods as they are in the store where you shop--meats, fresh vegetables, frozen foods, etc. This avoids backtracking.

Food costs money so save money by storing the food properly. Good storage also preserves the quality and flavor of the food.

Make the planning, preparation and serving of meals a challenge rather than a chore. It can be one of your most enjoyable jobs.

ALONG THE SOUTHERN

MORE JOBS. To create over 15,000 jobs in a year, you have to bring in new industry. And that's just what Southern's been helping to do. Last year, a staggering $589,322,000 went into 282 new and expanded industries along the Southern. Result: bigger payrolls, more jobs and just an all-around more prosperous South.

MORE TRAINS. You're right if you think Southern's tracks seem busier this year. We're now running more than 500 trains daily, some 35 to 40 more than in 1968. But they're shorter. We took our computer's advice that shorter trains and more of them would speed service to customers. Already, deliveries are 24 hours faster.

LOOK AHEAD-LOOK SOUTH

MORE PARTNERS. The big new livestock-raising industry in the South has produced close working relationships between business and agriculture that are saving consumers here millions of dollars annually. Southern's low grain freight rates helped create this predicted $2 billion-a-year industry. And we've promoted agri-business "partnerships."

mended. The hybrids give fast regrowth and are more drought resistant. The millets are more leafy and do well on sandy soils.

For dairy cows plan on an acre to an acre and a half per cow and if you are going to graze continuously, add another third to half an acre.

Make three plantings a few weeks apart. The last planting should be made in late June or early July.

Fertilize adequately. Use 60 to 75 pounds of nitrogen, 60 pounds of phosphate and 60 pounds per acre of nitrogen each time the acre is grazed down.

Begin grazing the first planting when the grass is 24 to 30 inches tall and continue grazing until the second planting is ready. Continue the rotation throughout the summer.

JOHNSONGRASS CONTROL

Select a badly infested johnsongrass field and plan to clean it up with dalapon. Let the grass get 10 to 12 inches high before applying the dalapon. Use 3.7 to 5.5 pounds of dalapon (or 5 to 7 pounds of downon) per acre with surfactant.

Three days after the application, disk thoroughly. Then wait another five days and plant soybeans. Always use a pre-emergence herbicide to control seedling johnsongrass.

WATER FOR DAIRY COWS

Water is important in making milk. A dairy cow will drink 12 to 15 gallons of water and sometimes more in hot weather. The cow will give more milk if she drinks three times a day rather than just twice, so water should be available in every pasture and in the holding area at the barn.

In real hot weather cows will not walk a long distance to water. They will just do on less and produce less milk.

ORCHARD NOTES

Keep your orchard clean cultivated throughout the growing season by shallow disking to control grass and weeds. This will conserve moisture and plant food, which will help increase the size of the fruit, total yield and improve quality.

Trees with heavy fruit crops or those in poor condition should have additional shot or nitrogen in late May or early June.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH SERVICE, OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR. Notice is hereby given that because of the existence of hog cholera in Charlotte County in Virginia; Alcorn, Tippah, Prentiss and Tishomingo Counties in Mississippi; and the nature and extent of outbreaks of this disease, a portion of Charlotte County, Virginia; and Alcorn, Tippah, Prentiss and Tishomingo Counties in Mississippi are quarantined under amendments of the regulations in 9 CFR Part 76. The restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and swine products from and through quarantined areas as contained in 9 CFR Part 76, as amended, apply to the areas quarantined.

Notice is also hereby given that Windham County, Connecticut is excluded from the areas quarantined because of hog cholera under amendments of the regulations in 9 CFR Part 76. Therefore, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine and swine products from or through quarantined areas as contained in 9 CFR Part 76, as amended, will not apply to the excluded area. However, the restrictions pertaining to the interstate movement from non-quarantined areas contained in said Part 76 will apply to the excluded area. Further, the State of Connecticut is added to the list of hog cholera eradication States in § 76.2(f) and the special provisions pertaining to the interstate movement of swine from and to such eradication States under said Part 76 is applicable to Connecticut.

God saw the road was getting rough, the hills were hard to climb,

So, he closed your lovely eyes, and whispered softly "Peace be thine."

You are not forgotten, dear one, nor shall you ever be,

As long as life and memory last, we will always remember thee.

No one knows how much we miss you, no one knows the bitter pain.

We suffered, since we lost you, life has never been the same.

In our hearts your memory lingers, sweetly, tender, fond, and true;

THE REIVERS

Draft Changes
 The 1970 President Executive Order on occupational, agricultural, and community deferments. The order brought a change in those categories for registrants already in those classifications who had already received a deferment before April 23, 1970. The order provides that a registrant who has been granted a deferment based on occupational, agricultural, or community deferments, prior to April 23, 1970, shall be entitled to have it renewed, and the local board determines if the registrant continues to qualify for the previous standard of "essential community need", even if he changes employers. He may not, however, change occupations. In order for an initial request for occupational deferment to be considered by the local board, such request must have been received or postmarked prior to April 23, 1970. Local boards shall continue to grant II-A deferments to registrants doing satisfactory work in a junior college (vocational division), or technical school. They shall also grant II-A deferments to registrants engaged in approved apprenticeship programs. Students satisfactorily pursuing a fulltime course of instruction leading to a baccalaureate degree will continue to be granted II-S deferments, whether enrolled in a four year or two were former ITT employees. The students and Hale and Hughes enjoyed a tour of the plant and were wished much success in their studies and congratulated for being selected ITT Scholarship Award Winners.

ITT SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Labor Department

Private household employment decreased by 95,000 in 1969, continuing a downward trend which has persisted in this area for the last 5 years. This reflects the emergence of many new employment opportunities for Negro women in operative, clerical, and other types of service jobs.

Major collective bargaining agreements covering about 5 million workers are subject to renegotiation in 1970. This is an increase of two-thirds over the number of workers involved in contract expirations in 1969.

Blue-collar employment, which had grown very little in recent years, increased substantially in 1969 despite the reduction in industrial production which took place in the second half of the year. Blue-collar workers increased by 715,000 over 1968, to a total of 28.2. The Department of Labor estimates that about a quarter-million apprentices entered training during the period July 1, 1968 through June 30, 1969. All of these people were registered in formal apprenticeship courses.

Women now hold 37 percent of the Nation's jobs in comparison with the 28 percent that they held immediately after World War II.

Speed Kills

NEW YORK—The Insurance Information Institute reports that more than 40 per cent of all traffic fatalities in 1968—18,700—occurred in accidents attributed to speeding. More than 90 per cent of all traffic casualties were in accidents involving known driver violations.

Social Security News

School teachers age 62 and over should consider applying for social security benefits, Hugh Tiggrett, Manager of the Tupelo social security office said today. He stated that teachers can receive a social security check for the summer months when they do not teach.

Most teachers receive a salary for 12 months in a year. Tiggrett stated that this is not the deciding factor. The point is that they can get a social security check for any month they do not work.

If you are a school teacher of retirement age, and haven't considered the possibility of supplementing your summer budget with social security, you should. To find out more about this contact the social security representative who visits the City Hall in Luka each Monday morning.

Phone 423-2731

BY Ellett N. Allen
County Office Manager

CERTIFICATION: All farmers will come to the ASCS Office and certify to their acreage in cotton, corn and feed grain. Tishomingo County can begin making payments July 1, 1970 to farmers that have certified to his planted acreage, diverted acreage, that is, if it has been mowed, clipped, or cleaned tilled and all other program provisions have been met. It is up to you if you want your payment in early July or at some later date. The final date for certification is July 15, 1970.

EARLY MEASUREMENT: Under the certification method a farmer cannot change any acreage after he has signed the certification form. For example; if a farmer has a cotton allotment of 10.0 acres and he certifies to 10.0 acres then his farm is measured and found to have 10.5 acres, he cannot plow-up. Penalty will be assessed as an over planted farm. For a small fee the farmer can avoid this situation by requesting "early measurement" after the cotton is planted and find out how many acres you have before you certify. It is very important to have early measurement on your allotment crops if you are not sure of your acreage.

PREVENTED PLANTED: After the normal planting season of cotton and corn which is May 31, 1970, acreage credit may be requested for a crop not planted or a crop planted and destroyed due to natural disaster. If you file for acreage credit remember you must furnish evidence as requested by the county committee. A fee of $5.75 will be assessed for on-the-farm inspection. It will be necessary for a farmer who has planted to replant, as often as necessary up to the date of May 31, 1970, before the county committee will accept an application or make any plans to inspect the farm.

Penalty for failure to replant by the final date will result in loss of all payments. Farmers who have no workstock or equipment and are depending on neighbors to do their plowing and planting will not constitute a disaster, therefore these farmers cannot be approved for acreage credit.

PENALTIES FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY: There are certain penalties that will be assessed to farmers in Tishomingo County if he fails to do the following: If a farmer fails to divert the number of acres he signs to divert and the deficiency is not more than the larger of 10% or 2.0 acres the penalty will be $36.00 per acre times the number of acres he is short. 2. If a farmer certifies that his diverted acreage has been mowed, clipped or clean tilled one time prior to September 1, 1970 and upon spot check it is found not true, penalty of three times the estimated cost of hiring someone to do the work times the number of acres will be charged. 3. If a farmer certifies to his cotton acreage and after spot checks are made it is found that the allotment has been exceeded. The cotton cannot be destroyed and a penalty of 30.4 cents per pound times the yield, times the number of acres in excess. If excess is more than the larger of 10% or 2.0 acres all price support payment will be lost.

FALSE CERTIFICATION: A false report on any of the three programs, cotton, corn or diverted acreages and the county committee determines this to be true will make the farmer ineligible for any payments on all programs.

FINAL DATE FOR CERTIFICATION JULY 15, 1970.

Appeal Made For The Tombigbee Construction

A special five-state delegation met before the subcommittee on public works of the House Appropriations Committee to seek funds for a compact start on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

Sen. Louie Nunn of Kentucky is chairman of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Compact seeking congressional approval of funds requested for construction in the year 1971. The President has authorized $1 million for this year to the project, and a proposed 253-mile waterway will link the Tennessee River to the Gulf of Mexico by 1970 miles. Construction of the $350 million waterway is scheduled over a nine year period. The Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Compact, which was recommended by the Johnson and Nixon, has been approved by the Senate and House. The compact has been approved by the Senate and House. The compact has been approved by the Senate and House.

way and the advantages it brings to the area. To them, the Tennessee-Tombigbee means new jobs, new industry, a great step forward."

Citing his 21 years as a member of the House and his support of the project, Governor Williams said, "We are on the actual threshold of achieving our long-sought objective. The approval of this request is of the greatest urgency."

Numerous other Senators and Congressmen from the five states, Alabama, Florida, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee, that form the compact also presented statements at the hearing.

Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.) also stressed the major boost of the waterway to the economy, especially in Mississippi. In 1956, Congressman Abernethy introduced an amendment from the floor to the Appropriation Bill to provide monies for a restudy of the Tennessee-Tombigbee project.

He noted that actually beginning construction of the project would be like stepping "over the threshold that marks the difference between the dream and reality."

"It is a great step forward, not only for the people of Mississippi and the South, but for the people of some 23 states who will recognize the economic benefits of construction," he said.

Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi cited the "Vital effect" the waterway will have on Appalachia, calling special attention to a recent report by Secretary of the Army Resor which placed "high priority throughout the region on construction of Tennessee-Tombigbee."

VA NEWS

The Veterans Administration suggests that G. I. insurance policyholders who receive VA compensation or pension payments may want to consider having their insurance premiums deducted from their monthly checks.

In making that suggestion, Administrator of Veteran Affairs Donald E. Johnson said about a quarter of a million veterans already pay their insurance premiums this way.

He pointed out that in order to use this convenient method, the veteran's monthly benefit check must be equal to or greater than the premium to be paid.

One of the advantages of the deduction method is that payments of premiums are automatic, reducing the likelihood that the insurance will lapse.

Other advantages are that the veteran saves time, check or money order costs, and postage, and it costs the government less to process, Johnson explained.

He also said veterans with active VA insurance policies may use the monthly deduction method to repay loans on their policies.

Veterans who wish to have insurance premiums withheld from their monthly benefit checks should request VA Form 29-888 from their nearest VA office. The complete form should be forwarded to the VA office where premiums are paid.

The VA Administrator added that veterans who draw retirement pay from the military services also may have VA insurance premiums deducted from their checks, but explained that technically they cannot repay policy loans through this method.

To switch to the deduction method, military retirees should request their finance offices to withhold VA insurance premiums and send them directly to the VA.

Both military retirees and veterans who draw benefit checks from the VA must pay insurance premiums through the month the first deduction is to be made by the VA, Johnson explained.

YOUNG MISSISSIPPIANS—Two young ladies, both title holders, are among the many young Mississippians who are continuing to bring honor to their native state. Miss Jane Cleland of Jackson is the nation's current "Miss Young America Wears," a title earned for proper grooming, scholastic achievement, character and school and community activities. And, Miss Marsha Beaugez is currently reigning as "Miss 16 of America." This 16-year old Ocean Springs lass won in a national contest sponsored by a leading teenage magazine. She was selected on the basis of poise, personality and appearance.—Released by the Mississippi Economic Council.

AN ORDINANCE CREATING THE OFFICE OF GAS INSPECTOR; PRESCRIBING HIS DUTIES; ADOPTING THE SOUTHERN STANDARD GAS CODE, 1965 EDITION, AS A MINIMUM STANDARD; REQUIRING A PERMIT FOR PERSONS TO INSTALL GAS FACILITIES; PROVIDING FOR THE INSPECTION OF NEW PIPING; PROVIDING AN INSPECTION FEE; PROVIDING FOR A CERTIFICATE OF APPROVAL AFTER COMPLETION OF THE WORK WHERE PIPES HAVE BEEN INSTALLED; REQUIRING A SURETY BOND OF PERSONS ENGAGED OR IN THE BUSINESS OF INSTALLING GAS FIXTURES AND PIPING; REQUIRING A LICENSE OF PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE BUSINESS OF INSTALLING GAS FIXTURES OR PIPING; PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE AND FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE PUBLIC HEALTH, PEACE AND SAFETY, THIS ORDINANCE SHALL TAKE EFFECT AND BE IN FORCE

SECTION 1. GAS INSPECTOR AND ASSISTANTS.

To provide for the administration and enforcement of this chapter, the office of gas inspector is hereby created. The inspector, and such assistants as may be necessary in the proper performance of the duties of the office, shall be appointed by the public utilities commission, and the compensation for such office shall be determined at the time of appointment.

SECTION 2. POWERS AND DUTIES OF INSPECTOR.

The inspector is authorized and directed to enforce all of the provisions of this chapter, and the inspector, upon presentation of proper credentials, may enter any building or premises at reasonable times for the purpose of making inspections or preventing violations of this chapter.

The inspector is authorized to disconnect any gas piping or fixture or appliance for which a certificate of approval is required but has not been issued with respect to same, or which, upon inspection shall be found defective or in such condition as to endanger life or property. In all cases where such a disconnection is made, a notice shall be attached to the piping, fixture or appliance disconnected by the inspector, which notice shall state that the same has been disconnected by the inspector, together with the reason or reasons therefor, and it shall be unlawful for any person to remove said notice or reconnect said gas piping or fixture or appliance without authorization by the inspector and such gas piping or fixture or appliance shall not be put in service or used until the inspector has attached his certificate of approval in lieu of his prior disconnection notice.

It shall be the duty of the inspector to confer from time to time with representatives of the local health department, the local fire department and the gas company, and otherwise obtain from proper sources all helpful information and advice, presenting same to the city officials from time to time for their consideration.

SECTION 3. PERMITS.

No person shall install a gas conversion burner, floor furnace, central heating plant, vented recessed heater, water heater, boiler, consumer's gas piping, or convert existing piping to utilize natural gas without first obtaining a permit to do such work from the gas inspector, provided however, permits will not be required for setting or connecting other gas appliances, or for the repair of leaks in house piping.

When only temporary use of gas is desired, the inspector may issue a permit for such use, for a period of not to exceed sixty (60) days, provided the consumer's gas piping to be used is given a test equal to that required for a final piping inspection. The gas company shall not be required to obtain permits to set meters, or to extend, relocate, remove or repair its service lines, mains, or other facilities, or for work having to do with its own gas system.

SECTION 4. INSPECTION.

Rough piping inspection shall be made after all new piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final piping inspection shall be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to not less than pressure of a column of mercury twelve (12) inches in height, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of at least fifteen (15) minutes without any perceptible drop. A mercury column gauge shall be used for the test. All tools, apparatus, labor and assistance necessary for the tests shall be furnished by the installer of such piping.

SECTION 5. INSPECTION FEES.

A fee of two dollars fifty cents ($2.50) shall be charged as an inspection fee for each permit issued by the gas inspector. In the event that additional inspections are necessary, an additional fee of one dollar ($1.00) per additional inspection shall be charged.

SECTION 6. CERTIFICATES.

The inspector shall issue a certificate of approval at the completion of the work for which a permit for consumer piping has been issued, if after inspection it is found that such work complies with the provisions of this chapter. A duplicate of each certificate issued covering consumer's gas piping shall be delivered to the gas company and used as its authority to render gas service.

SECTION 7. BOND AND LICENSE.

No permit shall be issued to any person to make any installation, modification or repair to any gas piping or appliances unless and until:

Such person shall first qualify for and obtain a privilege tax license from the city for engaging in such business and such purposes.

Such persons shall execute and file in the office of the city clerk a surety bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) signed by the applicant as principal, and executed by a reputable surety company authorized and qualified to do business in the state, as surety thereon; said bond shall be approved by the mayor, and shall be conditioned that the principal therein shall faithfully comply with all of the provisions of state law, this Code and city ordinances will perform all work undertaken by him in a workmanlike manner; and further conditioned so as to indemnify and hold harmless the city and all persons interested against any and all loss, expenses, damage and injury sustained by the negligence of such principal, his servants, agents or employees, or by reason of his failure to comply with any provision of this chapter in doing work made the subject matter of such permit; and further conditioned to pay all such damages that any person may sustain by reason of the violation of any of the provisions of state law, this Code or city ordinance, by said principal, his servants, agents or employees, or by reason of negligence of said principal, his servants, agents or employees in the making of any defective connection of installation of any gas pipe, lines or appliance.

SECTION 8. RESPONSIBILITY OF OWNER FOR PERMIT.

No property owner or his agent shall cause or permit any installation, modification or repair of any gas piping or appliances in the city or in its service territory, before the person doing such work, has first obtained a permit therefor.

SECTION 9. USE OF EXISTING PIPING AND APPLIANCES.

Notwithstanding any provision in this chapter to the contrary, consumer's piping installed prior to the adoption of this chapter, or piping installed to supply other than natural gas, may be converted to natural gas, if the inspector finds, upon inspection and proper tests, that such piping will render reasonably satisfactory gas service to the consumer and will not in any way endanger life or property; otherwise, such piping shall be altered or replaced in whole or in part, to conform with the requirements of this chapter.

SECTION 10. PENALTY.

Any person failing or refusing to comply with the provisions of this ordinance or any of the rules or regulations herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than Five Dollars ($5.00) or more than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) for each offense, or imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in force on and after June 1, 1970.

HOW TO MEASURE CONSERVATION

Every farmer knows how to measure an acre of land, a body of water, a stack of hay, or a pile of logs. To resolve such matters we use measuring tape, transit, leveling rod, or a timber scale stick. But how do you measure conservation?

Many means come to mind. You measure conservation by the stand of trees on the hillside, the depth of grass in the pasture, the arrangement of rows in cropland, the clearness of water in streams, and the abundance of food and cover for wildlife.

You measure conservation by the sustained productivity of field and forest, the satisfied smile on the farmer's face, and by the ever growing bank account. You measure it by a healthy economy, a happy people and a growing nation.
