AN ASIAN MUNICH?

President Nixon's announcement that he will journey to Peking to meet with Red China's rulers has sent shock waves of dismay through the ranks of realists in the nation's capital. Sen. John G. Tower (R-Texas) has said that "the President owes the American people an explanation."

The anger and astonishment voiced in realist circles stems from the conviction that the President's trip will do these things: 1) legitimize the aggressor regime in Peking; 2) enable the Chinese communists to forge new political and economic ties to weak Third World nations; and 3) result in the humiliation of the United States throughout the Orient.

The third point is perhaps the most serious. In Asia, "face" is all-important. Asians undoubtedly will regard the Nixon journey to the Chinese Communist capital as evidence that the United States has been humbled in the Vietnam War. They will also regard the trip as proof that the United States is, as Mao Tse-tung has been saying for years, a "paper tiger."

Furthermore, if Mr. Nixon

wanted to meet with the rulers of Red China, he could have offered to meet them on neutral territory--in Geneva, Burma or elsewhere. But no, he did not hold out for that. Instead, he is making the journey to the capital of the aggressor, exactly as Neville Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister of the 1930's who pledged "peace in our time," journeyed to Munich to seek normal relations with Nazi Germany. The Munich journey was a humiliation for Great Britain and encouraged Hitler in his aggression. Tragically, Mr. Nixon's journey to Peking is likely to encourage Mao Tse-tung in his aggressive designs, confirming his oft-stated belief that the United States is decadent and weak.

Realists also are dismayed that Mr. Nixon would handle such a momentous change of national policy in such a secretive manner, employing his controversial special assistant--Dr. Henry Kissinger--as a negotiator.

On Capitol Hill, specialists in communist affairs are wondering what secret understandings may have been reached between Dr. Kissinger and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai. These specialists doubt that the communists would have gone along with the Nixon plan for a meeting without assurances on substantive matters.

It also is noted here that Mr. Nixon previously refused to allow Dr. Kissinger to be quizzed by congressional committees, claiming executive privilege. Had Secretary of State William P. Rogers been sent to Peking, tradition would have required that he appear before the appropriate Senate committees to answer questions. The specialists also point out that the secret negotiations in Peking are contrary to American diplomatic tradition. For years, Americans have opposed secret agreements, secretly arrived at. Realists note that one secret meeting with a communist leader--President Roosevelt's meeting with Dictator Stalin at Yalta--led to the betrayal of the peoples of Eastern Europe--the peoples in the now captive nations.

Of special concern is the impact of the planned journey on the future of Japan. Only a few weeks ago, Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird urged Japan to expand its armed forces and assume a bigger share of the defense burden in Asia. Now Mr. Nixon is promoting "more normal relations" between Red China and the United States. Indeed President Nixon's statement in effect suggests that Red China isn't an enormous threat. Certainly, there is little reason why Japan should rearm if the United States is going to reach an accommodation with Peking. It seems likely, in fact, that the Nixon journey could set the stage for the emergence of a left-oriented government in Japan, a government determined to play ball--at least ping pong--with Peking. Indonesia's great struggle to throw off Peking's influence also is undermined by the Nixon announcement. The lesser states of Asia may well ask themselves why they should struggle to resist Red China's influence if the United States is to retreat from its policy of resistance to Peking.

In general, realists believe that the Nixon announcement--regarded as a political end-run around the "peace" bloc--is the most serious mistake in U.S. foreign policy since the end of World War II and threatens the cause of freedom. The feeling among realistic observers is that the Nixon trip will create a state of euphoria in the country that will cause Americans to be psychologically unprepared for danger, precisely as Neville Chamberlain's journey to Munich came close to costing the British people their liberties and survival.

From there they will visit in Savannah and Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala. and back to Mississippi before Dr. Pike reports to Wichita Falls, Texas Airport for induction into the Air Force.

Local Draft Board Continues Registration And Classification

Selective Service System Executive Secretary Mrs. Ann Morgan, who manages Iuka's local board, says the current Congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among area draft-age men.

Mrs. Morgan continued, "Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse in the Congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

"Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men, and to order for preinduction physical examinations those young men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months," Mrs. Morgan said.

Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the Defense Department has asked Selective Service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by Selective Service headquarters pending final Congressional action on the draft bill, which is expected within several weeks.

"Those young men with relatively low lottery numbers who are eligible for induction this year, particularly those with numbers below 175--the current processing ceiling--have a very good chance of being processed for induction after draft calls are restored," Mrs. Morgan said.

"Many young men," said Mrs. Morgan, "seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably will never be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped. They are wrong since it is only the induction authority that has expired. They, therefore, may be unintentionally breaking the law by failing to register at age 18, by not keeping their local boards informed of their current address, or by failing to report, if ordered, for their preinduction physical examinations."

Mrs. Morgan also stressed the local boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship, and student deferments and to take other classification actions. "Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," Mrs. Morgan said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men," Morgan added.

Mrs. Morgan may be contacted at Eastport Street the office of local board #77 - Iuka. Office open each Tuesday and Thursday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Tulane Posey Seeks District Attorney Post

Tulane E. Posey, Jr., today avails himself of this opportunity to formally announce his candidacy for the office of District Attorney of the First Judicial District to the people of the Tishomingo County area.

Mr. Posey was born on a farm and attended school in Lee County and was graduated from Tupelo High School. He then attended Millsaps College where he was a member of the Millsaps Debating Team for four years; I. R. C. (made up of outstanding students in the field of history and political science); Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary; Kappa Sigma, social fraternity; and was the recipient of the Bouie Metal for oratory. After receiving his B. A. degree from Millsaps, he then attended the University of Mississippi School of Law where he was a member of Pi Alpha Delta, national legal honorary and Pi Sigma Alpha, Political Science honorary. After graduation from law school and admission to the Bar, he was drafted into the U. S. Army and served as Courts and Boards Clerk of the 86th Ordinance Battalion where he handled Article 15, Summary of Special Court Martials. He investigated, prepared for trial, and forwarded General Court Martials to the Judge Advocate General's office for trial. Upon honorable discharge he was the recipient of the Good Conduct Metal and National Defense Ribbon. He then entered the private practice of law with a firm in Tupelo, Miss., and subsequently accepted a position with U. S. F. & G Insurance Company as a claims attorney and has held this position for the last 14 years and has been active in both professional and civic activities. He is a member of the Lee County and Mississippi Bar Associations, First United Methodist Church where he taught Sunday School for 13 years, American Legion, Board Member for Tupelo Exchange Club, Treasurer of Lee County Mental Health Assn., Director of Miss. Claims Assn., Vice President of Union R. C. D. C., Counselor on 4-H Advisory Committee, Publicity Committee of Lee County Soil Conservation Service, Charter Member of Lee County Farmers Club, and has served as President of Rankin P. T. A., President of Tupelo Jaycees, Vice President of Mississippi Jaycees, President of Union R. C. D. C., and President of N. E. Miss. Claims Assn. He is married and the father of four children.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Posey said, "I sincerely believe my background and legal training, experience in the Army, practice of law, and my tenure with U. S. F. & G. would be invaluable assets to your District Attorney in being able to investigate and evaluate these matters to be submitted to the grand jury and once an indictment is obtained, I believe that my varied experience will be of benefit in working with your County Attorney to proceed with a speedy and proper prosecution of the case.

As your District Attorney, I will for your benefit, be on call twenty-four hours a day and will work and cooperate with our judges and judicial officers of this district. I feel that one of the most pressing problems facing our county today is the drug problem. It will continue to get worse unless those responsible for the sale of these drugs and making the money are indicted and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Also, if elected, I will be your District Attorney, independent of any official, politician, or individual, responsible only to the law, the oath of office that I hope to take and to you, the people. There will be no "behind the closed doors" deals.

I believe in and am dedicated to our adversary system of justice with trial by jury. I believe this system gives the accused every right to which he is entitled and that it is the duty of the State, and the District Attorney to advocate for the state, to prosecute each case when the evidence warrants, with zeal and vigor to the end where justice may fairly be done.

If you believe, as I do, that we need a fair, impartial, mature, full time District Attorney, whose door will always be open to the people of the First Judicial District, then I earnestly solicit your vote, support, and influence."

I. R. S. NEWS

Some people are not having enough federal income tax withheld from their paychecks. And may wind up owing the government a large amount when they file their 1971 return, J. G. Martin, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue Service for Mississippi, said today.

The solution? Arrange for additional withholding with your employer, who has been furnished information necessary for that purpose.

The standard deduction, formerly 10 percent, has been increased to 13 percent. The withholding system allows a 13 percent deduction for all wage earners who are not entitled to the low-income allowance.

However, the standard deduction is limited to $1,500 on the tax return. For example, the withholding tables assume that a single taxpayer with a $15,000 income will have 13 percent, or $1,950, in deductions. But when the taxpayer fills out his return and takes the $1,500 standard deduction, or $450 less than the deductions allowed for withholding, he will generally wind up owing tax. The same taxpayer would have a similar problem if his itemized deductions were less than 13 percent of his income. Another withholding problem arises when both husband and wife are employed. Although the withholding system gives each employee the new low-income allowance, the couple is entitled to only one low-income allowance when filing a joint return.

In addition, employees with high incomes may have too little withheld because the maximum withholding rates are limited to 24 percent for single persons and 25 percent for married persons.

Taxpayers most likely to need more withholding are:

Employees who expect to earn more than $11,500 in 1971 and intend to claim the $1,500 standard deduction or itemized deductions totaling less than 13 percent of their salaries;

Single employees who expect to earn $15,000 or more in 1971;

Married employees who expect to earn $25,000 or more in 1971 and whose spouses are not employed;

All working couples.

Employees who are not reasonably sure that enough tax is being withheld should estimate the amount to be withheld during 1971 from the tables IRS has made available to their employers, the IRS said. They should then compare this estimate with the amount of tax liability on their expected income for 1971. If more withholding is necessary, the taxpayer should file a new exemption certificate (Form W-4) with his employer and claim fewer exemptions, or ask to have specific additional dollars amounts withheld.

Martin cautioned against confusing the tax tables and rate schedules for 1970, already mailed to taxpayers, with the 1971 tables and rates made available to employers.

MR. AND MRS. BARNEY EDGAR HUDSON

Jerry Hudson Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

The sanctuary of the Iuka Church was the setting for a beautiful and impressive candlelight wedding of Miss Jane Perry and Barney Hudson, both of Iuka. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Maury Leon Perry. The groom is Mr. James E. Hudson. The double ring ceremony was held at four o'clock in the evening on June 26 by the Rev.

Edmund which was lighted by the bride and groom after the vows were exchanged, rested on the choir rail, which was decorated with greenery and pom-poms. Brass pew markers, adorned with white satin ribbon and greenery, held white tapers which designated the reserved pews. The couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu. The wedding party descended down the aisle on a white bridal carpet.

Miss Janie Belue, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. Before the wedding party entered, Mrs. Boyd Phillips, soloist, sang "Whether Thou Goeth". James Neal Butler, cousin of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt on the prie-dieu.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was radiant in a formal imported Swiss voile gown, designed by Edythe Vincent. A front panel of eyelet embroidery formed the standing neck and extended from the empire waist to the hemline. A matching panel of the embroidery extended from the shoulder to the deep cuffs of the full sleeves, which were secured by tiny covered buttons. The full skirt featured a built-in chapel length train, which was embellished by a panel of the same eyelet embroidery. The gown was edged in Venice lace. The shoulder length three tier veil of illusion cascaded from a satin Dior Bow edged in Venice lace. Her bouquet was of white roses, orchids, lily of the valley, and Italian lace from which fell a chain of Stephanotis and white satin bridal streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Mike Nabers of Booneville, sister of the bride, served as first matron of honor. The bridesmaids were escorted down the aisle and to their places by the groomsmen.

Vows were pledged before an arch beautifully entwined with greenery and white chrysanthemums. Flanked on either side of the arch were two standing baskets filled with white chrysanthemums. The altar area was enhanced by the soft glow cast by eight branch candelabras holding cathedral tapers entwined with ivy and fern. A wedding candel-

Kerry Sewell of Memphis, Tenn., Eddie Johnson of Iuka, Freeman Medley of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Pit Swain of Walnut.

The matrons of honor and bridesmaids wore identical floor length gowns of Swiss imported voile in a deep battle green. Their gowns were fashioned with an empire waist and full skirts embroidered with white flowers extending from the hemline to mid-skirt. The hemlines were bordered with two wide bands of white rick rack. The waist line, high neck, and shoulders were also finished in the rick rack. Their headpieces were three tiered white Dior bows. They wore white sandals and carried bouquets of white daisy pom-poms.

James E. Hudson served his son as best man. Eddie Johnson and Freeman Medley lighted the cathedral tapers. Before the wedding party entered, Jerry Hudson and Pit Swain rolled the white bridal carpet from the front of the church. Kerry Sewell served as Head Usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Perry chose a turquoise Lively knit, styled by Henry-Lee, a princess style with full sleeves, accented with turquoise pearl bands on the cuffs and stand-up collar. Her accessories were of matching color. She wore a corsage of a white orchid. Mrs. Hudson chose a beige double knit polyester dress with matching accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Margaret Griggs of the Iuka Flower Shop was director of the wedding.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The guest table was overlaid with a green cotton cloth with a bud vase of white carnations. Mrs. James Travis Butler, aunt of the bride, registered guests in the bride's book.

The bride's table was overlaid with a green lace cloth and centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom. Miss Deanna Dees of Corinth and Miss Ann Armstrong of Morton presided at the wedding cake. Miss Linda Hollis of Sulligent, Alabama, and Mrs. Pat Ludlam of Hickory Flat served the lime punch from a crystal punch bowl encircled with white chrysanthemums. A beautiful centerpiece of greenery and white carnations holding lighted tapers completed the bride's table decoration. Assorted party nuts and mints were also served.

Misses Rhonda and Debra Helton served at the groom's table. The groom's cake was chocolate topped with an arrangement of frosted grapes. The cake was displayed on a white cotton cloth. Coffee was served as the groom's table.

Little Misses Becky Butler and Michelle Mitchell, cousins of the bride, offered the guests rice bags from white garden baskets.

The rice bags were of white net with white rice and deep green satin ribbons. The rice girl's dresses were fashioned similar to the bridesmaid's gowns. They wore floor length deep green dresses featuring two rows of rick rack around the hemline. The neck and sleeves were also bordered with rick rack. White daisy appliques accented the full skirts.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy and white two piece ensemble complimented with navy accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple are now living at 309 West Second Street, Iuka, Miss.

REHEARSAL DINNER
On Friday night, preceeding the wedding of Miss Perry and Mr. Hudson, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hudson, entertained with a rehearsal dinner at their home in Iuka. The dinner was served on the spacious lawn. The tables were decorated with arrangements of magnolia blossoms and greenery. The place cards were accented with green satin ribbon. Assisting at the rehearsal dinner were Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of South Kent, Conn., sister and brother-in-law of the groom.

Miss Perry chose for the rehearsal dinner a trousseau frock of green linen.

The bride and groom chose this time to present their attendants with gifts of remembrance.

The home of Mrs. Frank Prather in Whippewill Hills, was the setting Tuesday night, July 20, for a lingerie shower. The event was in honor of Delight Nagle, bride elect is James Strong.

Leon Cook Seeks Election As Supervisor

THE PEOPLE OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY
LEON COOK:
Tuesday, August 3rd, you, citizens of Tishomingo County, will go to the polls and elect the officials of this county to represent you during the coming four years.

The four years to come, I believe, will be the best four years in the history of Tishomingo County.

There has been much progress made in the past four years, of which I am glad to have been able to play a small part.

We have erected a new, beautiful courthouse, in which I believe the people take a lot of pride. There has been a new addition to our hospital, which was badly needed to take care of the medical needs of our people. We have seen new industry locate in our county and existing industry expand, giving our people much needed jobs here at home. A new Vo-Tech Center to teach and train the youth of our county has been completed and is in operation. These things would not have been possible without the cooperation of you, the people. There is much more to be done, as we have only scratched the surface of what can be done with all our people working together.

We need more new jobs for our people. We are losing too many of our fine people in Tishomingo County, who have to leave here simply because they cannot find employment here at home.

We need to try to find a way to give our older people a better way of life.

It has been an honor for me to have served as Supervisor during the past four years. I have tried my best to do my duty to you, the people, and if re-elected my promise to you will be to get on with the job that lies before us. To make the best better.

Since this has been a county wide election, I have not gotten to talk to each of you personally as I would like to have done. If I have not seen or talked to you, take this as a personal visit asking for your support and vote for my re-election as Supervisor of the 5th District.

Any time I can be of help to any of you anywhere in Tishomingo County, just call me and I will do anything within the power of my office to help solve any problem you might have, as I realize my office belongs to you, the people of this county, and I am only elected to carry out the things you desire done.

I appreciate the kindness and courtesy each of you have shown me during this campaign, and look forward to our continued association together.

Thank you,
LEON COOK

Candidates Beware!

The following article, taken from an aged Arkansas newspaper, was brought to this news office by Ed Hannon. It describes a candidate's plight of yesteryear, but could well apply to candidates of today:

Lost four months and 20 days canvassing, lost 1,200 hours of sleep thinking about the election, lost 49 acres of corn, and a whole lot of sweet potatoes, lost two front teeth and much hair in a personal encounter with my opponent, donated one beef, two shoats, and five sheep to barbecue, gave away two pair suspenders, five calico dresses, and fifteen baby rattlers. Kissed two hundred and twenty-six babies, kindled 14 kitchen fires, put up eight stoves, cut 14 cords of wood, carried 24 buckets of water, gathered seven wagon loads of corn, shelled 39 gallons of purple hull peas, pulled 575 bundles of fodder, and churned 164 times. Walked 4,060 miles, shook 9,080 hands, told 10,000 lies, talked enough to make 10,000 volumes, attended 26 revivals, was baptized 4 times, made love to 9 grass widows, got dog bit 29 times and then got defeated.

Providence Revival

The Providence Baptist Church revival will begin Sunday night, August 1st at 7:30 o'clock.

Services will be nightly with Bro. Clyde Vinson preaching.

SINGERS ON "TOUR FOR T" — In the past few years many young people of Iuka have become more aware of God's love and have begun sharing their happiness with others. A Lay Witness Mission, Youth Retreat, a re-musical group called and many other factors worked together to show the young people of Iuka about God. Now a group want to show people in towns what God has done for them. Monday, forty-eight young people and five chaperones from the Iuka Baptist Church will leave by bus for a six-day tour through Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee. in Atlanta; August 6, they will perform in Chattanooga, Tenn.; August 7 begins the journey home; and Sunday, August 8, will be the homecoming concert at the Iuka Baptist Church at 11:00 a.m. The program includes the entire range of church music and a performance by the Peacemakers. On this tour the choir and chaperones will be staying in the homes of church members in the town where they are performing. The Iuka Singers have been working hard for several months in preparation for the tour. They have been preparing not only musically, but also spiritually with Sunday night soul-winning clinics, devotionals, and testimonies. Bill Waller differs from the other candidates in his ideas and his methods. While the other candidates shout the same old promises Mississippians have been hearing for years, Bill Waller works out programs to improve state government. Bill Waller works hard, and hard work is just what we need in Mississippi. Instead of paying attention to the other candidates, Bill Waller is paying attention to us, with programs such as—

- Reorientation of our highway program to place emphasis on highways that link Mississippi cities and towns, instead of building highways to New Orleans and Memphis.
- Intensifying efforts to improve our educational system with more state financial support, better programs of special education, more emphasis on vocational-technical training and firm opposition to the busing of our public school children in order to achieve racial balance.
- Providing tax exemptions on medical purchases for our retired people.
- Upgrading the professionalism of every agency of state government.
- Changing the A & I Board law to allow the Board to guarantee small business loans for our state's business and industrial growth.
- Modernizing our park system and improving the state's recreational resources to encourage more tourist business in Mississippi.
- Making the data and resources of the R & D Center available to industry.

Bill Waller believes in Mississippi. He believes in you, as a citizen of Mississippi. Let's elect him governor.

This time, let's make a change.

ADAMS REACTS TO SULLIVAN'S CHARGE

atorial Candidate Roy ns of Tupelo followed Lt.
Charles Sullivan Saturday
a political speaking at Propst Park in Columbus and called for Mr. Sullivan to tell the people about his race for president of the Constitutional Party ticket in 1960.

Adams, reacting to Sullivan's charge against him that more highways had been built in the past three and a half years than during Adams' administration, said that Sullivan could not show the people anything which he has accomplished in his political career.

"He says that he can go all over the U. S. representing Mississippi in bringing industry here," Adams said. "Make him tell you how he got less than one percent of the vote in Texas in 1960 as a candidate for president backed by a billionaire Texas oilman! George Wallace refused to run on that ticket. Strom Thurmond washed his hands of the abortive effort. In fact the platform of that party was so extreme that one of its major planks was to abolish social security. Now is this the kind of man who can go across the country attracting industry?" Adams called for his election saying that there would be no strings attached to him. He called attention to the lieutenant governor's previous state-wide campaigns, twice unsuccessful for governor.

"Do you want a man who can represent all of the people instead of a chosen few?" Adams asked. "I am leading an insurrection, a great rebellion against the would be kingmakers and a few newspaper publishers. Why just last week 29 of these power politicians met and decided on their men for governor and lieutenant governor in 1972, 1976, 1980 and 1984. And some of the candidates are going to be interested in knowing that they weren't included on this list."

"But that doesn't matter because Roy Adams is going to break this power politics lock on Mississippi," he continued. "We're going to return the government back to the people and we're not going to do it with high powered costly advertising programs designed to slick sell a candidate."

Adams said that his program put youth in the forefront and the development of human resources first. He called for creating a reservoir of "blue chip" workers through utilization of existing state agencies and an expanded vocational system. He said that highways must be built to serve future needs and not just to get by for today. Adams said that he favored the establishment of regional law enforcement training centers and the creation of mental health and mental retardation centers in every area of the state.

He pledged to surround himself with qualified people to eliminate duplication of manpower and facilities while expanding services to the people through orderly use of what is available. He pointed out that the state employees have doubled in the past four years.

Motoring Tips For Vacationists

Cars heavily loaded with vacation gear demand increased driving care, the Allstate Motor Club reminds motorists.

Heavily loaded vehicles accelerate slower, take longer stopping, and sway more on curves than usual, and driver fatigue resulting from long drives increases the possibility of crashes.

Before starting a vacation, safety check the vehicle's lights, wipers, steering and car brakes. Install heavier shock absorbers for stability if the car is heavily loaded. Pack a flashlight, emergency flares and first aid kit where they are easily accessible. Check the luggage rack for tightness of all assemblies and mounting screws. Install seat belts for all passengers and use them.

Travel light. Load the car so the rear window is not blocked.

Plan a reasonable schedule. Indecision, unexpected maneuvers, and sudden breaking can cause a pile-up on modern highways. If an expressway exit is missed, keep going to the next one.

Make a rest stop to stretch or change drivers at least every two hours.

Distractions can be a trap. Pull over and stop to look at scenery, check the map, settle the kids or swat a bee. Devoting a little extra effort to safety will make traveling a lot more pleasant this summer.

COTTON

Every boll on cotton that the boll weevil destroys means less for you to pick, less for you to sell and less profit from your crop.

This year we are faced with a potentially greater boll weevil threat than in some past years. So scout your fields regularly and when you find weevils in damaging numbers, apply a recommended insecticide.

Cotton prices are more favorable this year than in some time. The mill demand is good. The carry-over is likely to be no more than 4.5 million bales. This put the supply is a critical position. If we are to maintain and expand our market for cotton, we must produce enough to supply the demand and have a comfortable "cushion."

So, protect what you have. Harvest all your cotton for high profits this year.

PECAN TREES

Dry weather in August and September can prevent pecans from filling properly.

Research has shown that a pecan tree can absorb three-tenths inch of water daily. This means that the tree needs around one inch of water every three days. So to insure proper filling of the nuts, make sure that you provide the needed water.

SORGHUM MIDGE

The sorghum midge is the number one harmful insect on our grain sorghum and they are nearly always with us.

Midge is usually worse on late planted grain sorghum than on earlier planted as insect populations build up as the season progresses. This year most of our grain sorghum is late.

To control the midge, make two or three applications of insecticide at the proper time. The time to begin is when 50 to 60 percent of the heads have emerged from the boot and are beginning to bloom. Follow this first poisoning with another application in five days. Then, if necessary, another application five days later.

Materials recommended are diazinon, trithion, ethion or sevin. Do not use methyl parathion on grain sorghum as most of our varieties are damaged by this material.

DAIRY NOTES

It takes water to make milk. A dairy cow must drink at least four gallons of water for every gallon of milk she produces. This means that a cow giving five gallons of milk daily must have at least 20 gallons of water a day.

In hot weather cows will not walk long distances often to get water. She will simply drink less water, eat less feed, produce less milk and make you less money.

Be on the safe side. Provide plenty of good, fresh, clean, cool water at the milking barn so the cow can "tank up" before and after milking.

LABOR NEWS

A jobless person may not have his unemployment compensation payments suspended by a state while his latest employer challenges his eligibility, the Supreme Court has ruled. A majority of State laws are out of conformity with this ruling and apparently will have to be amended, according to the Manpower Administration's Unemployment Insurance Service.

About 2,230 jobless or underemployed persons have been trained in four years by the International Union of Operating Engineers, AFL-CIO, under two Labor Department contracts in four years. The Manpower Administration has granted the union another contract, for nearly $1.7 million, to train 810 more persons.

Over 8,700 minority youths have become apprentices in three years through the Apprenticeship Outreach program. This Manpower Administration program prepares minority youths to take and pass written and oral and apprenticeship entrance tests through concentrated tutoring programs that last up to 10 weeks.

Substantially less than half the workers in the Nation's private sector are covered by private retirement plans. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that employers of 45 percent of private nonfarm workers do not have pension or deferred profit-sharing plans.

THE SOUTH'S 3rd FOREST NEEDS YOUR HELP

To provide for America's wood and paper needs in the year 2000, the South must grow a whole new forest.

The 1st FOREST was here when Columbus came. It lasted a long time. And it supplied the wood to build a new nation.

The 2nd FOREST was created through scientific management by man in the 1930's. It's been a good forest. And it still is providing wood for more than 5,000 different forest products.

Now we must grow the 3rd FOREST. It must be twice as productive. It must be grown on less acres. It will require planting 30 million acres in the South.

That's where your help is needed. Too many forest acres are lying idle or producing only a portion of the growth the land is capable of supporting.

If you have land... why not consider TREE FARMING? It's a good investment. The company's goal is to plant 10,000 acres of trees this coming fall and winter planting season. Why not see your state forester, county agent, SCS office or industrial forester about ordering seedlings.

Tree Farming Benefits Everybody!

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Smith, Jr. recently flew to New York City on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bonds and Natalie, Mrs. Hazel Gentle and Mrs. Jewel Choate were in the Ozarks last week. While there, they visited the burial place of their father near Imboden, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Ham and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Rhodes visited Mr. and Mrs. James N. Whitworth near Tucson, Ariz. last week. They enjoyed visits to such places as Box Canyon, Old Tucson (where the movie, High Chaparrel, is filmed), Arizona State Prison, Carlsbad Caverns in Carlsbad, New Mexico, as well as museums of interest along the way. The Whitworths live in the desert where the coyotes come up to their patio daily. They will eat the pets if they are not protected at night. Hugh rattlesnakes crawl on the patio and frogs almost the size of a hen lap up the bugs on the patio. The Arizona bird, the road-runner, visits the patio daily to be fed ground beef by Mrs. Whitworth.

All-Stars Defeated

Iuka's All-Stars were defeated last Thursday night by Columbus Southern by the score of 6 to 1. Harry Thomas Cosby was the loser for Iuka, allowing 3 hits. Hicks was the winner, allowing 4 hits. Cosby struck out 6, while Hicks struck out 8. Leading hitters for Iuka were: Noel Monroe, 2 for 2; Harry Cosby, 1 for 2; and John Mann, 1 for 2. Columbus's Mason, Hicks and Parker each collected one hit each.

Errors proved the advantage in the game, as Iuka's All Stars committed a total of 8 errors in the final ball game. All of the Columbus runs were unearned because of the errors. Every Iuka player saw action during this tournament and 5 of the All-Stars return for another shot next year, so maybe we can find ourselves in the Dixie Youth World Series next year. We'll just have to wait and see. Every boy did a fine job throughout the tournament.

If You Were The Defendant In A Trial Would You Demand Your Attorney Have Trial Experience?

Of Course You Would Want The Attorney Defending You In The Courtroom To Be One Who Had Previous Experience In Trying Cases.

By The Same Reasoning, You Want Your District Attorney, who Represents You In Prosecuting The Most Serious Criminal Cases Which Are Tried Each Year In Your County, To Be A Man who Has Experience In The Courtroom.

Understanding That The District Attorney's Office Is No Place For An Attorney To Begin His Courtroom Experience, NEAL BIGGERS Served As A Practicing Lawyer And One Term As A County Prosecuting Attorney Before Offering For District Attorney. Animals

By Mary B. Davis
JOYS OF OWNING PETS

A reader of this column from Belmont, Miss., asked me recently why I didn't write an article about the joys of owning pets.

Getting such great joy and pleasure from our own bunch of adopted animals, I guess I just take it for granted that everybody ought to know already how much satisfaction there is in owning pets and in just plain "being kind to animals."

Many famous people write about animals, some of them writing entire books about their own pets. President Lyndon B. Johnson's daughter wrote a book about a "dumped" dog that she picked up on the highway and took home to her father. The dog became the President's favorite, and lived with him in the White House until his term of office ended. From the White House, the dog moved with the Johnsons to their Texas ranch, where it lives like a king.

Reading other people's stories about their pets is very nice, but nothing to compare with the actual experience of having your own.

"I have found at those who love A dog, a cat, a bird, and flowers, Are usually thoughtful of The larger need that may be ours; Who for God's creatures small will plan, Will seldom wrong his fellow-man."

...Edgar A. Guest

Our own personal interest in helping animals started on Oct. 2, 1962, the very day we moved to Iuka, Miss., to make our home.

Two starving, frightened kittens came to our kitchen door that same day, looking for food. The little female had been badly injured and her leg was dragging on the ground. Her little brother was in pretty good shape -- just very hungry and extremely scared. Because the little girl was so sick and hurt, she was not hard to catch; but her brother had to be coaxed into the house with great patience, and good-smelling food. We named the little girl "Scout" - because she was such a good one through her many, many weeks of illness. "Blackie" automatically became the other one's name because he was solid black except for a tiny, diamond-shaped white spot right under his chin.

An entire book could be written just about Scout and Blackie. But I would like to say here that the most important thing about them was that they changed my whole life. They made me want to help ease the suffering of other creatures -- rather than just sitting around feeling sorry for myself and thinking of my own selfish needs.

County pond owners in the man-agement of their fish ponds. Upon request SCS personnel will make a preliminary investigation of your pond and determine the amount of Fintrol needed. The pond size and depth along with water temperature and pH must be accurately determined before application. The rate of Fintrol used is determined on an acre feet of water basis and costs about $6.30 per/acre foot for treatment. This cost is minor compared to the amount of feed eaten by the scalefish and lost weight of the catfish from over-crowded conditions.

NEWS FROM SENATOR JAMES O. EASTLAND

Senator James O. Eastland ap-plauded extension of the Appala-chian Regional Development Act, calling it "one of the most mean-ingful programs ever devised."

Eastland said the Appalachian Regional Commission has pro-vided thousands of dollars for Mississippi since it was estab-lished six years ago. "This program has been a shot in the arm for the state's economy and has aided greatly in the pro-gress of Northeast Mississippi," said the Senator.

He labeled the program "an effective partnership of federal and state governments." Six-teen Mississippi counties are a part of the program which ex-tends from West Virginia south into Mississippi.

As originally passed by Con-gress, the six-year program was intended to revitalize a substan-tial portion of the Appalachia area. "We have accomplished much," said the Senator, "but more remains to be done."

The proposed legislation, Eastland explained, would "go a long way" toward completing the program. He pointed out that it "not only has meant dollars for our state, but has served as a vehicle to establish working com-munity programs in many areas of the nation."

The Mississippi lawmaker said there are plans in Congress to explore the successes of the Ap-palachian Regional Program, with an eye toward adapting them to the entire country. "The achievements of Appalachia are astounding," he pointed out, "and their application can be mean-ingful and worthwhile to many other sectors of our country."

Eastland said the nation must "seek to revitalize its economy" if it is to continue its progress. "We cannot rest," he asserted. "We must maintain and improve every effort to advance our com-munities, our state and our na-tion."

Bill Waller will be the Governor whose judgment you can trust!

Good government, like good business, demands good judgment. A cool head under pressure can prevent serious problems. The majority of the people in Mississippi are tired of the old guard's divisive tactics, pitting friend against friend and neighbor against neighbor.

It's time for a change to something better. Your governor must make decisions that will be in the best interest of the people, and not to his political advantage. August 3 can bring a new day to Mississippi. You can elect a man who will give Mississippi the leadership it deserves... a man who will lead, not follow... a man who will unify, not divide... a man who will work to produce more and better jobs, develop new industry, offer tax equity, improve our educational system and enforce the laws of our state. Bill Waller will bring dignity and respect to the highest office in the state.

Vote for Bill Waller... and on August 3 we'll win a victory for everyone in Mississippi.

Elect Bill Waller governor... this time let's make a change.

Newcomb Seeks Superintendent Of Education Post

Headstart Program and the Vot-Tech Center are important assets to Tishomingo County. She will work to improve these centers. She would also like to see Tishomingo County have equal representation on the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Newcomb is aware of the educational needs of the children of Tishomingo County. She is confident that she can make a good Superintendent of Education. Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

Youth Horse Show Postponed

The Tishomingo County Youth Horse Show was postponed Saturday night due to bad weather. The show has been re-scheduled for Thursday night, July 29, at 7:30 p.m. It will be conducted in the Tishomingo County Fairgrounds Arena. The show is open to all youth 19 years of age and under. Three trophies will be given in each of the nine classes. No entry fee will be charged, only gate admission. Winners are eligible to enter the District Horse Show August 7. All youth are urged to enter and participate in Tishomingo County's first youth horse show.

Consider Cleaning Cost Before Buying

Before you buy a garment consider the cost of keeping it clean, advises Miss Marguerite Davis, Extension clothing specialist at Mississippi State University. For example, some fashionably colored leather garments are hard to clean. The dyes used to produce the color may come out partially or completely in the drycleaning process and have to be re-dyed and finished to shade before the garment can be returned to the customer. This adds considerably to the upkeep costs of the garment.

"Garments of fabrics that are ordinarily washable may have trims that are not washable. The corduroy and leather combination in sportswear is an example of this. Again, this makes for more cost in the upkeep of the garment," Miss Davis said.

Combinations of fabrics that do not require the same washing care is another point to look for when you buy. A rough and tumble cotton combination with a fragile lace edging can result in extra costs. Or perhaps a garment is made with a washable fabric on the outside, but lined with one that is not washable. Problems could also result if the outer fabric is a permanent press that needs no ironing, but the lining or interfacing wrinkles badly with washing.

"With these facts in mind be more selective when you buy clothes for your family. You may cut some of your work and costs by doing so," she concluded.

VA News

A veteran, to speed up the Veterans Administration's response to his inquiry, should be sure to include his full name, address and claim number, if he has one.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson recently announced plans for a six-fold increase in the number of VA-operated drug addict treatment centers bringing to 32 the number in operation by October 1971.

The Veterans Administration--the Government's largest independent agency--employs 222 architects and engineers in its medical facilities construction program. This is more than any other Federal Agency.

Veterans Administration reminder: A veteran has 10 days after discharge to notify any local Selective Service Board of his address, and 30 days to register if he did not do so before entering military service. He has 90 days to apply to his former employer, if he wants his old job back.

Veterans and servicemen interested in information on VA-guaranteed loans for mobile homes will find the pamphlet "Questions and Answers on Mobile Home Loans to Veterans" useful. They are available free at all local VA offices, or from the VA Central Office (26), Washington, D. C. 20420.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

John Gardner
Iuka Church of Christ

Q: "What problems stand in the way of religious unity among believers in Christ?" A: In former times, one of the greatest obstacles to unity among believers was the lack of desire for such unity. Men gloried in those days that there were so many different churches from which one could choose one to his liking. Today men are beginning to realize that it has always been the desire of JESUS that believers be united in him. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (John 17:20, 21). Paul wrote to the church at Corinth, which was beginning to divide itself into factions, that they should all "speak the same thing" and have no divisions among its members (1 Cor. 1:10). The climate for unity has greatly improved, if men see the error of religious divisions.

A second area of discussion has to do with who should be considered as being in the unified church. Jesus prayed that believers should be one IN HIM and in the Father (John 17:21). Any unified group of believers must all be "in Christ" to be pleasing to Him. Unity "in Christ" is superior to "union toward Christ."

A third consideration which is of supreme importance has to do with the standard of authority to be used by those united in Christ. Since the word of God IS THE TRUTH in religion (John 17:17), it and it alone deserves to be the standard of authority. Human counsels, creeds, and opinions of men are the cause of religious division in the first place. Therefore, unless men agree upon the truth of God's word, men may achieve unity, but not unity in truth. The New Testament church was able to achieve unity in truth because it followed the Word of God as the ONLY rule of faith and practice. And the same is true today of men who seek the right of unity that Jesus prayed for. Men must unite "in Christ," as the Bible uses that term, and the Word of God must be the final and only authority in religion.
