Mississippi's Outstanding Young Men Named By Jaycees

Mississippi's three outstanding young men were named at Pascagoula Saturday night when the state Jaycees presented their Distinguished Service Awards (DSA).

The awards, presented annually under the sponsorship of Ingalls Nuclear Shipbuilding and Litton Ship Systems (both divisions of Litton Industries), went to: Ray Lamer Wesson of Ocean Springs, Charles Percy Magee, Sr. of Tylertown, and Richard Wellington Hussey of Tunica.

Attorney Richard Clark of Iuka was among the some 53 winners of local DSA awards competing for the state honors. The DSA program, the Jaycee's leading community project, pays tribute to young men between the ages of 21 and 35 for exceptional community service.

The Mississippi Tornado Season Is Here

Climatologist for Mississippi, E. J. Saltsman, warned Mississippians that the months just ahead constitute the period of Announcement of the state winners was made Saturday at a DSA banquet which was the highlight of the Jaycees' three-day Winter Board meeting. Senator John C. Stennis (D-Miss) spoke at the banquet and made the award presentations.

peak activity for the vicious twisters (although they can and do occur in every month of the year).

More than half of the 359 tornadoes which have struck Mississippi in the past 20 years have occurred during February, March, April and May, according to Mr. Saltsman, who works for the Commerce Department's National Weather Service.

In 1971, said Mr. Saltsman, 41 tornadoes touched down in the State, causing 118 deaths and over 17 million dollars in property damages, compared with a 20-year annual average of 18 tornadoes and 14 deaths. Twenty-eight of last year's twisters struck during the usual four months of peak activity.

The Climatologist released the statistics in connection with SKYWARN, the annual campaign to save lives from tornadoes conducted by the National Weather Service (the former Weather Bureau) and its parent organization, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

Mississippi's crop of tornadoes in 1971 was a 1916-1971 record year for tornadoes in Mississippi; the 18 days with tornadoes exceeded the previous high of 17 days in 1965. There were 41 tornadoes in 1971, as compared with the previous high of 30 tornadoes in 1966. The total of 118 deaths from tornadoes in 1971 was exceeded during 1916-1971 in 1936 by 224 deaths, and in 1920 by 135 deaths. In 12 of the 55 years, 1916-1970, there were no deaths from tornadoes in Mississippi.

Climatologist Saltsman says that tornadoes are among the most difficult of all natural disasters to forecast, because they are so erratic and abrupt in onset. "Nevertheless," he adds, "something about our National preparedness program appears to be working. During the past 20 years, both tornado reports and population density have increased by 30 percent and 40 percent, respectively. However, the national yearly average of fatalities from tornadoes has stayed about the same."

When YOU SEE A TORNADO and there is time, telephone the nearest police, Civil Defense, or National Weather Service Office, telling them what you saw and heard; your name, location, address and phone number. Take shelter, do not leave it until the store threat is past; then phone reporting what happened, direction of movement, etc. Keep calm, stay away from damaged areas unless you can render assistance.

New Income Tax Withholding Tables For 1972

Under the Revenue Act of 1971, the withholding tables will make the amount of tax withheld for 1972 more closely match the tax liability for the year, John W. Henderson, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, stated.

The new tax tables correct an underwithholding problem experienced by many taxpayers who ended up with large year-end tax bills. Taxpayers most affected by this problem were working couples and persons who held more than one job.

If taxpayers haven't filed a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate (Revised December 1971), it is essential for them to do so now. This should ensure that the correct amount is withheld from their pay.

In the past many taxpayers had been claiming fewer exemptions than they were entitled to in order to avoid paying additional tax at the end of the year. These persons may now claim on a new W-4 all exemptions and special allowances to which they are entitled; they no longer need to claim fewer exemptions to avoid paying large income tax bills each April.

Under the new withholding tables certain taxpayers may claim a "special withholding allowance" which is like another exemption. It can only be claimed for withholding purposes, not on income tax returns.

A single person or married person whose wife or husband does not work is entitled to claim the special withholding allowance. However, it may not be claimed by a person who works at two jobs concurrently. Single persons with incomes under $25,000 and married taxpayers with incomes under $31,000 should claim the special withholding allowance if they qualify.

Extra allowances may also be claimed by taxpayers who have large itemized deductions. The Form W-4 contains a table that will show the number of extra allowances that may be claimed for large itemized deductions. These extra allowances, like the special withholding allowance, may be claimed only for withholding purposes, not on income tax returns.

The amount of tax withheld in 1972 will decrease for an estimated 47 million taxpayers if they claim all exemptions and extra allowances to which they are entitled. Most taxpayers who do not claim all exemption allowances to which they are entitled will receive refunds when they file their income tax returns in 1973.

IUKA

The Senior portraits arrived Friday and their invitations are expected to come soon. The Seniors have also finished their Alcohol Themes after six weeks of hard work. Last week the Juniors presented their play, "Cheaper By the Dozen." In two weeks the chorus will travel to district festival, and it will also attend State Try-Outs soon.
The baseball team is now practicing and getting ready for the baseball season. The Beta Club has been working for the Heart

Fund, while the Science Club is working on its annual fair. Last Thursday we were all surprised to find the Grady Hamburger emblem on the roof of our school.
As of yet, we do not know how it got up there, or how we will get it down.

BELMONT

Belmont is very proud of its girls basketball team that has just won 4th place in the State Tournaments. The football team has just begun spring training and the track team will be starting its season soon. A week from Thursday the Seniors are planning to present their play.

BURNSVILLE

The Beta Club at Burnsville has been working on the Heart Fund. A tiny tot beauty revue is being planned for the 17th of this month. The baseball team started practicing Monday and the football schedule for next year has been completed.

TISHOMINGO

The Senior Class will make its first trip out of town Friday, March 10. They will leave the school at 8:00 a.m. and travel to Birmingham to see "James Gang" at the Municipal Auditorium that night. Wednesday at 2:00 p.m. a film from General Motors entitled, "Preview of Progress," was shown.

The Coliseum Theatre, Corinth, Miss., announces cancellation of the Dr. Zhivago show on Friday and Saturday, March 10-11.

Walt Disney's 20,000 Leagues
Under the Sea will be showing on these dates — March 10-11.

THE CHURCH

Is the Church the Kingdom of God on earth with power and great glory? Matt. 24:30. Last week we looked at the man of sin versus the Kingdom of God, but, as of now we have not learned who the man of sin is. We saw our first clue in our past letters — A woman which was labeled the mother of Harlots in Rev. 17:5, and drunk with the Blood of the Saints. We saw that the true Church is called a virtuous woman. So, by the same token, we can know that an apostate Church is called a harlot. A vital note. A key to understanding is believing. The true Church has been espoused to one husband, II Cor. 11:2.
The Lord has promised to return to the earth to be united to his Bride, Acts 1:11, John 14:1-4, I Thss. 4:13-18. Remember the ten virgins in their waiting, Matt. 25:1-10. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to Him: for the marriage of the lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready, Rev. 19:7.
These are they which are not defiled with women; i.e., false Churches, for they are virgins.
These are they which follow the lamb whithersoever he goeth, Rev. 14:4. When Jesus and his Christ are united they will make up the man — head and body — that God, the Father, will judge this world in righteousness, by that man whom He hath ordained, Acts 17:31. Remember man was incomplete, being alone, but was complete when God made woman for his help mate, Gen. 2:18-24. This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; and the Apostle Paul said for we, that is the Church, are members of His body, of his flesh, and of his bones. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the Church, Eph.
5:30-32. Let us paraphrase this statement by another scripture, Paul said he that is joined to the Lord is one spirit, I Cor. 6:17. What? Know ye not he which is joined to an harlot is one body? For two, saith he, shall be one flesh, vs. 16. The two hear mentioned is the word and the spirit.
So we see here that when the bridegroom cometh, the bride which kept her virginity will go into the marriage supper. When a natural woman is married she taketh the man's name. They do business in the man's name, and so it is with the Church.
Jesus, the head, and the Church, his body, at the return of the Lord will make up the man that is to rule this earth with a rod of iron, Rev. 20:6, Rev. 2:26, 27. Now maybe we are prepared to look a little further into the subject at hand. There came a falling away from the faith that was once delivered to the saints, Jud. 3. After the Apostles fell asleep, the devil came in and sowed tares in the wheat field.
Read Matt. 13:24-43. Little Children, it is the last time and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrist, whereby we know that it is the last time.

He said they went out from us, but they were not of us, for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us, but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us, I John 2: 18, 19.

Next week we will pick up the subject here where we left off and show how the apostate

Church became the man of sin.
By the same token, just be watching lest your foot slides by the same rule.

Your friend & servant in Christ,
Marshall Adams

For years I had not felt like doing anything. Everything I did either drained all my energy, or made my head, shoulder and chest ache so bad that I had to stop.
I tried doctors in Memphis, but no help. As soon as the medicine was gone — my troubles were back worse than before.
I heard about Dr. Semlow from so many people, so I decided on one last try.
I wish I had tried Chiropractic first. In just a few adjustments my condition was so much better. Now I feel like living again.
My daughter, Dora Mae, had a few headaches, so I had Dr. Semlow check her spine.
He said one or two adjustments now would save her from the awful problems like I had to suffer.

HOME GARDENING
March and April are the two busiest months in the home garden.

Vegetables planted earlier need care and all other vegetables can be planted in these two months.

Check your leafy vegetables - cabbage, lettuce, mustard, turnips and spinach - for insects. Harvest the leafy vegetables by removing the leaves rather than pulling up the entire plant. In this way you prolong the harvest season. After each harvesting, apply around one-fourth pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 feet of row. This will encourage new growth. As the weather warms up, harvest the greens at a smaller leaf size since leaves toughen early in warm weather. Plant the warm season vegetables according to the recommended planting calendar and remember to use good seeds . . . they don't cost, they pay!

FERTILIZER PLACEMENT
Apply your fertilizer so that it will be available to the plants during early growth, but far enough away to prevent injury to the seedlings and possible loss of stand.

Two ways to do this are to broadcast the fertilizer which will dilute the total concentration so that injury to stands should not be a problem. The other method is to band the fertilizer at least six inches to the side and six inches below the seed drill.

Miss Nellie Horton's Home Economist's Notes

FORECAST FOR FOOD
With some foods exempt from the original price freeze and allowance made for increases in others, it's safe to assume that both food prices and expenditures will increase in 1972. Since almost one-third of each retail food dollar goes to pay wages and salaries for processing and marketing, any '72 wage increases must be reflected in food prices.

A little more than one-third of the retail food dollar goes to pay for food at the farm level. Prices to farmers are partially dependent on supply. USDA economists predict slightly less pork, turkeys and eggs this year than last and more beef, chicken and dairy products.

Production of fruits and vegetables could rise, depending on growing and harvesting conditions. Presently, fresh vegetatables and citrus fruits are less plentiful than at this time last year, and the stock of frozen and canned vegetables is at the lowest level since 1967.

TEACH CHILDREN RESPECT FOR DRUGS

"Parents teach your children respect for drugs: Set good examples, teach your children that stresses of daily life can be solved without drugs, talk frankly with your children, listen to what the young people have to say, know what your children are doing, who their friends are, where they go and keep track of the drugs in your medicine cabinet. Acquaint yourself with the following common evidence of possible drug abuse: Changes in school attendance, discipline and grades, stealing small items from home and school, hiding in odd places during the day -- storage rooms, etc. -- to take drugs, possession of drugs or drug paraphernalia (syringes, spoons, pipes), wearing of sunglasses at inappropriate times to hide dilated or constricted pupils, wearing long-sleeved shirts which hide needle marks, and associating with known drug abusers."

1971 CALF CROP LARGEST ON RECORD

The 1971 calf crop in Mississippi totaled 1,343,000 head, and this is five percent above the previous record high of 1,283,000 calves born in 1970. Except for a moderate drop in 1967, the calf crop in this state has been on an upward trend since 1960.

and have been known to eat bugs off the animals' hide and even perch on their back. The species (Bubulcus ibis) which established itself last spring in three definite places in Mississippi, originated in Africa. The first official Mississippi sighting was in Jackson County in 1960. The egret's range now extends from the Gulf and Atlantic coasts inland as far as Canada.

THE SOYBEAN

The once lowly soybean became Mississippi's leading row crop in recent years and is now the number one farm cash crop in America as well as a leading export commodity. In the 1970-71 season, many bush-eis of soybeans were exported. Mississippi's farm economy will benefit by expanding sales both in the United States and in foreign markets.

Service News
Master Sergeant Edward N. Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice N. Tidwell, Route 1, Dennis, Miss., has received his second award of the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Eglin AFB, Fla.

Sergeant Tidwell, a weather technician, was decorated for meritorious service while assigned at Howard AFB, C.Z. He is now serving at Eglin with a unit of the Air Weather Service which provides weather information for military flight operations.

A 1952 graduate of Tishomingo (Miss.) High School, he received his B.A. degree in 1971 from Florida State University.

The sergeant's wife, Nina, is the daughter of W. O. Smith of Golden, Miss.

DETERMINATION OVERRULES HANDICAP — Miss Ann Oswalt, of Cleveland and Jackson, is paralyzed from the waist down by muscular dystrophy, but her successful adjustment to a job and life in general recently won the Rehabilitation Association of Mississippi "Case of the Year" award. Morris Selby, of Cleveland, her counselor with the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, State Department of Education, received a plaque for his part in helping Miss Oswalt train for, obtain and adjust to a job as stenographer in the secretarial pool of the Hinds County Welfare Department. Ann, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Oswalt, of Cleveland, was first stricken with muscular dystrophy at the age of 12. The disease attacks the muscles and is progressive. The little girl had difficulty adjusting to the effects of the disease. Nevertheless she did well in school, making "A's" and "B's" and graduating in 1955. Vocational Rehabilitation counselors made several plans for helping Ann. Finally in 1969, aided by the Division, she underwent secretarial training and made excellent grades. Miss Oswalt was sent for evaluation to Allied Enterprises of Jackson, one of 26 sheltered workshop facilities operated by the Vocational Rehabilitation Division. After completing this process, Ann remained at the facility as a receptionist. She never missed a day's work and was never late — despite the fact she is confined to a wheelchair. On September 1, 1971, Ann was placed as a typist in the secretarial pool of the Hinds County Welfare Department. Several adjustments were made in the office to accommodate her wheelchair. Ann's supervisor, Miss Kathleen Hord, describes Ann's performance as "good," adding "Ann is doing a fine job." Ann is one of four sons and daughters in the Oswalt family stricken with muscular dystrophy. A sister who lives with Ann in her West Capitol Street apartment is too seriously affected to leave the apartment. Nevertheless she does most of the household chores from a wheelchair. Ann travels to and from her job as a paid passenger in the automobile of a business acquaintance. Neat, well-groomed, she is hard working and capable — the epitome of a "Case of the Year" winner. She is shown here with her supervisor, Miss Kathleen Hord, Hinds County Welfare Department (right).

schedule with the value of more than $1.3 billion.
In the county, the greatest increase during the past six years was in the Livestock enterprise. It climbed from $500,000 in 1964 to $1,775,000 in 1971. The gain was due mostly to an increase in feeder pigs and feeding of market hogs. Improved quality of swine helped bring this increase. An increase in the number of beef cattle in the county, as well as better quality beef helped the livestock enterprise.
The cotton enterprise made the next largest increase, from $1,500,000 in 1964 to $2,000,000 in 1971.
Farmers of the county are also receiving more money today from pimiento pepper and cucumbers. Farmers sold $102,000 worth of pepper and $25,000 worth of cucumbers in 1971. Other vegetables along with watermelons added to the county income during 1971.

Pulp wood and saw logs showed an increase in the county during 1971.

"These gains have benefitted not only farmers, but all who provide equipment, supplies and services needed for farm production, as well as other things that farm families buy," County Agent Stricklen pointed out.

Cooperating in 1.5 by '75 in the county are professional agricultural workers of all agencies, the officers of farm organizations, agri-business leaders, bankers, and other business and civic leaders.

"Without the cooperation of so many leaders, together with the willingness of our farmers to use improved methods, this much progress would not have been possible," the County Agent added.

Tishomingo Countians attending the 1.5 by '75 Progress and Outlook program in Jackson on Thursday, March 2, were Leon Cook, Carl Hendrix, Max Ray Whitehead, Carl Sartain, B. L. Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bonds, Nellie Horton and P. B. Stricklen.

LOCAL BUSINESS

"The liberality of our advertising friends while it draws from our bosoms the most lively gratitude, urges an apology to our sentimental patrons. . ."

This quotation is from a Massachusetts newspaper published in 1785. The editor is apologizing for filling his paper so full of advertising that only one column on the front page was left for news.

This may come as a surprise to modern newspaper readers, who sometimes complain that "too much of the paper is devoted to advertising."

In truth, the American newspaper of today gives less emphasis to advertising than it has at anytime since the American Revolution. For instance, most modern newspapers exclude advertising from the front page. Only a few still carry a small amount of front page advertising for the sake of tradition.

The early American newspaper reserved no pages or sections for straight reading matter. Little effort was made to maintain balance between news and advertising. Advertising often almost completely displaced the news.

Editors frequently promised to print the displaced news in extras, but turned about and filled the extras with advertising. Thus, the recognition of the value of newspaper space for advertising is not a new trend.

A significant change has taken place in the attitude of publishers toward the balance between advertising and news. No modern publisher lets increased advertising displace reading matter.

In fact the opposite is true. The modern newspaper actually increases new content as advertising increases. The percentage of space devoted to each remains approximately the same.

Thus, the more advertising a newspaper carries, the better it is in all respects. The reader may compare newspapers of any size in any city to see proof of the relationship.

The quality of mercy is shown clearly through the life of Christ upon earth.

And yet some of us do not clearly understand the meaning of the word. We think of mercy, perhaps, as something to be received from the hands of a master, a king, or a victor in battle. We do not realize that we, too, can evidence the quality of mercy in our daily lives.

Letter To The Editor

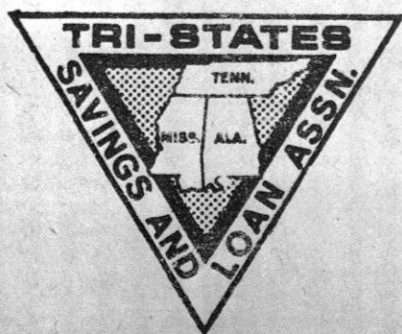

Dear Editor:

With the advent of Spring, we are faced with a growing problem — Which may, or may not, cause concern to very many people, but a situation, nevertheless, which should cause grave concern to the parents of the children involved. I refer to the constantly increasing presence of child-operated motor-bikes and mini-bikes, on our city streets. On account of their age, many of these children cannot be licensed; So — they operate these nuisances without licenses — which is just as illegal as it is illegal to drive an automobile without a license. And what about liability insurance? Could one of these juvenile

HEART ATTACK! SILENT KILLER

Smith considers himself a healthy, 42-year old man. He has beaten heart disease a number one killer.

dents at Iuka High School found this bull atop the roof of the principal's office last Friday in the United States. However, outside the coronary care unit where he's a patient, more than half of the 670,000 estimated heart attack victims this year will die without getting to a hospital that can give them special coronary care.

The major reason for these needless deaths is the failure of morning. Pranksters had taken the huge Hereford bull from Grady's Hamburgers, Highway 25 North in Iuka.

heart attack victims to recognize or accept the warning signs that signal the onset of heart attack, and their delay in receiving prompt medical treatment. When heart attack occurs, according to the Heart Association, these are the usual warning signs or symptoms:

*A prolonged heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the center of the chest behind the breastbone.

*The pain may also spread to the arms, shoulder, neck, or jaw.

*The pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating, nausea, vomiting, and shortness of breath may occur.

Sometimes these symptoms may subside, and then return. One weekend following a heavy lunch, Smith was doing his usual chores around the house when he was struck by chest pains that radiated up into his neck, across the shoulders, and down his arms.

At first he thought he had a bad case of heartburn, but as the pain intensified, his wife took the initiative. After a hurried conversation with their family physician to describe the symptoms, Smith was rushed to a hospital and admitted to its coronary care unit.

According to the Heart Association, which trains personnel to man these installations, the coronary care unit is the most important single development to emerge in the 1960's.

It is estimated that if all heart attack victims who survive the first few hours could receive immediate treatment in these intensive care units specially equipped to treat heart attack, probably 50,000 lives yearly could be saved.

When Smith was admitted to the CCU, one of thousands in hometown hospitals across the country, he entered a special unit designed to anticipate and treat the crises and complications of heart attack. Located within instant reach are the special drugs, electrical defibrillating equipment to control irregular heart rhythms, oxygen, and the knowledge and skill of doctors and nurses specially trained to use these and other resuscitative measures to control heart attack.

Smith's bed is in view of a central nursing station that overlooks all beds in the unit. Like other patients, electrodes run from his body to individual monitors over the bed. As his heart rhythm flashes continuously across the screen, the "beeps" lend a reassuring sound to his ears.

Should any heart irregularity occur, the monitor will sound an alarm, and in seconds, nurses and physicians will be summoned to correct whatever is wrong.

When he is recovered, Smith will be ready to leave the hospital in a shorter time than ever before. He will then be able to resume his regular pattern of activities.

No longer will he consider it just "luck" that he's alive. For he will be one of the many thousands of Americans who have survived heart attack because his family recognized the early signs of heart attack, and acted quickly in getting him to a hospital where he received the life-saving benefits of modern coronary care.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This last Saturday (February 4th), I was fishing on Yellow Creek, at the stretch commonly known as "Zola's Cabin," when a very surprising, and interesting, incident occurred: A giant Bald Eagle passed over me, so close that I could see its eyes! I had no idea that any of these fabulous birds were in this section — Actually, I had assumed there were none — or very few — east of the Rocky Mountains. This eagle that I saw, apparently had just left a perch somewhere in the hills, south of the creek, and was going in a northerly direction. The perch he left, must have been close to the water, as he had not gained any altitude, to speak of. I would estimate his wing spread from 6 to 8 feet, snow white head and tail, dark body feathers, and yellowish legs and feet.

I certainly got a thrill from this close observation, as it was the first American eagle I ever saw, in the wild.

I hope some trigger-happy hunter doesn't shoot him, as I am sure eagles are Federally protected, and in danger of becoming extinct.

CHRIS, RONNIE & RABBITS
Wanting to write a rabbit story, and learning that a family in the Midway Community had some, I recently visited them. Arriving at their home not far from Iuka, Miss., I found not only rabbits, but also a cat, three dogs, four little fishes, and two of the most captivating little boys that I had seen in many a day. Both well-mannered and exceptionally gentle youngsters, they were eager to show me their pets and tell me where they got them.

Although I went primarily for a rabbit story, all their animals were so interesting that it was impossible to decide which one should be featured -- so I'd like to tell you a little about them all, highlighting the rabbits.

Ellis Tension of Paden, Miss., had given Chris and Ronnie a mother rabbit that was already expecting babies. Shortly after arriving at the boys' home, she gave birth to nine. One died, some were given away, and five of them still live with Chris and Ronnie. Since it is impossible to tell one of them from the other, all five are named "Hoppy." Not being able to tell them apart anyway, one name for all makes a lot of sense. At meal time, instead of calling five rabbits, all the boys have to do is yell one "Hoppy," and all five come running!

Until I visited Chris and Ronnie, all I knew for sure about rabbits was that they liked carrots and lettuce and had a lot of babies very frequently. Now I know much more.

The boy's rabbits are, of course, pets; but I know now that some people actually make a living out of rabbit raising. I also learned the following facts: An adult male rabbit is called a "buck"; an adult female, a "doe"; and newborn offspring are called "fryers."

In the rabbit world, "kindling" means giving birth, which a profitable doe should consistently do five times a year, having from seven to ten "fryers" in each litter.

For meat production and pelts, probably the most popular breed is the New Zealand white rabbit, the kind I saw.

Rabbit research men claim that a buck rabbit can pass on to his children the ability to live long and to resist diseases. They further claim that rabbits can also inherit such characteristics as wastefulness of their food, and not caring whether they keep themselves clean.

Buck rabbits weigh an average of 10 pounds; does, eleven.

Rabbit homes are called "hutches" and are made mostly of wire. An ordinary apple box, properly altered, makes a fine nest; but if one is not available, the nest box should be about 10 inches wide, 8 inches deep, and 18 inches long. Good nest-lining material includes straw, clean shavings, or something similar.

Like all animals, rabbits, too, need plenty of clean, fresh water at all times.

Nourishing rabbit food can be bought at some stores, and is supposed to contain all the ingredients needed to make them happy and healthy.

Now, I'd like for you to meet Angel, Orangle, Cleaner, and Spottie, fascinating little fish that live in a beautiful aquarium given to the boys by their paternal grandmother.

eternal grandmother.

Kitty is a handsome, long-haired Tabby that has lived with Chris and Ronnie since they, themselves, were only babies.

Lad and Lady are brother-sister dogs now between four and five years old.

But probably the most interesting pet they have is Pluto, a gift from Mrs. Dora Turner of South Crossroads. With very short legs and long, wavy, silky hair, this half beagle, part cocker spaniel is an odd-looking fellow -- and not always too friendly upon first meetings. He warms up, however, after getting better acquainted and might even invite a visitor to play tug of war, a game which he usually wins!

Besides their own pets, a very frequent visitor to their home is Tonya, a police dog that belongs to the boy's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Dimple Ryan who lives nearby.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Ryan, Chris and Ronnie are blessed with grandparents and even great-grandparents, all living near enough to visit them often: A. C. Ryan, Ricky's father; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Claunch, Judy Ryan's parents; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cox, parents of Mrs. Dimple Ryan.

A VISIT IN HAWAII

The flights to Dallas, Los Angeles, and Hilo, Hawaii were very nice. The one from Dallas to Los Angeles was a 747 Jet and I have never experienced a smoother flight and landing. I had not especially put forth any effort to fly one, and I will not be doing so in the future, but they are all right.

These particular flights made the difference between the winter days of Mississippi and the tropical climate of Hawaii. This was my first time to visit Hilo and the big island of Hawaii. I found the city of Hilo itself to be very small but with its own attractions. The countryside was green and beautiful with flowering plants and trees everywhere. About forty miles away there is the Volcanoes National Park and I especially enjoyed the opportunity to get to see a live volcano. However, this must not be the time of year in which very many tourists are coming because the plane on which I flew in only had sixteen passengers. But tourists are coming with the numerous flights that are available. Many of those who come are with tour groups, and the majority are in the retired bracket. One elderly lady said that she was from Minnesota and the day before they left the temperature was at 40 degrees below zero. This would encourage anyone to come to Hawaii or to go to any place where the weather was a littler warmer than that.

I flew from Hilo to the next to the largest island of the Hawaiian Islands chain, Maui. This is a beautiful island with picturesque mountains and the blue Pacific. It seems to attract a great number of tourists and also an unusually large number of hippies. But one of the better trips here is up the mountain to Haleakala National Park. It is just above the ten thousand feet level, nice and cool, and very scenic. The volcano there, though, is not active but is not considered dead.

The island of Hawaii gets a great amount of rain, but believe it or not, Maui is almost a desert island. Some of the local people told me that the rain they are having at this time is the first since one year ago.

Prices are very high. That is something to keep in mind in case you are thinking of coming here for a holiday. In the hotels a hamburger may cost $1.75 or more. You can imagine what prices of other things might be. I am fortunate enough to have friends here and I have been visiting with them. I have also been conducting some meetings with the local church. But tomorrow I will be leaving to resume my journey to New Delhi, India.

(Mr. Choate, a missionary, is sponsored by the Liberty Church of Christ, Dennis.)

MISS HINTON IN CAST OF MSU COMEDY

Janet Sue Hinton of Iuka has been selected to the cast for the speech department's spring production at Mississippi State University.

"Come Blow Your Horn," a three-act comedy by Neil Simon, will be presented during the MSU Union Program Council's Dinner Theater on March 23 and 24. A student performance will be given March 21.

Directed by Dr. Dominic Cunetto, associate professor of speech, the play centers around two brothers, one a 33-year-old playboy, the other a 21-year-old who is trying to assert himself.

Miss Hinton will play the part of Aunt Gussie, a visitor, in the hilarious events that transpire during the play. A senior speech major, Miss Hinton is secretary-treasurer of Ionia Readers Guild and holds memberships in Blackfriars Drama Society and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford G. Hinton, Rt. 4, Iuka.

FOOD AND NUTRITION TOPIC OF RETARDATION CENTER CONFERENCE

Food and nutrition services for the North Mississippi Retardation Center under construction at Oxford were discussed recently at a two-day conference at the Holiday Inn at Oxford.

Seth Hudspeth, director of the Board of Trustees of Mental Institutions, said the conference "was a major step forward in making plans for this new facility."

The center, which will open with 128 beds early next year, will serve the mentally retarded and developmentally disabled in 23 North Mississippi counties.

Hudspeth said the conference dealt with design and space for food preparation and storage and location of equipment for speed in food preparation and for preparation of special diets.

State and local health and safety regulations were also on the agenda, said Hudspeth, along with policies and procedures regarding preparation and handling of food.

Daily and weekly menu planning, training and supervision of food-service personnel, use of residents in training, arrangement of staff dining room, and staff certification also were discussed.

Dr. Mary Ann Smith and Mrs. Nancy Burgess, nutritionists, respectively, from the Child Development Center in Memphis and the Arkansas Children's Colony in Conway, Arkansas, were consultants.

Other participants included Dr. Louise Burnette, chairman of the Department of Home Economics, University of Mississippi; Mrs. Mary P. Tetterton, professor of home economics, University of Mississippi; Mrs. Elizabeth Pickett, Pope, Mississippi, president of the Mississippi Dietetic Association; Vonda A. Webb, State Board of Health; Ethel Mary Summerour, State Board of Health; and Mrs. Betty Anderson, Department of Pediatrics, University Medical School, Jackson.

Representatives of the architectural firm of Brumfield and Craig, Jackson, which is designing the buildings of the North Mississippi Retardation Center, also participated in the two-day conference.

Presiding at the were Dr. Larry Tyler Bowen, representing of Trustees of Mental Institutions. Members of staff of the Board of Mental Institutions part in the conference.

JAYCEE INTERNATIONAL MEDICAL SUPPLIES — David Hood, formerly of Curtis Drugs, is shown presenting sample drugs and medicine to local JIMS chairman, Jerry Walls. The medicines were turned over to the Mississippi Jaycees to be transported to California in support of Project Concern, a project to make medicines available to people unable to otherwise obtain them. The Iuka Clinic and Cosby Clinic also made donations of medicines to the project.

TEXT: "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." (Luke 2:52).

Jesus Christ left us an example of how we ought to live to be happy and successful in this life. (1 Peter 2:21). Therefore, we should carefully notice the four areas of development mentioned in our text since they obviously were important to the success of Jesus' life upon the earth as God's Son. Our text summarizes the growth of Jesus from twelve years of age to adulthood. An earlier verse tells of his development from childhood to twelve (Luke 2:40). Jesus increased in wisdom, that is, He grew mentally. God allowed His Son to develop as men develop, adding knowledge to knowledge in a continual process of learning. When He reached maturity, being God's Son, He possessed more wisdom than Solomon. (Luke 11:31). Today one can find hidden in Christ "all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge" (Col. 2:3). Every person should be earnestly seeking to develop themselves mentally. We should love God with all our mind (Matthew 22:37).

Jesus grew physically. He was reared in the house of Joseph, a carpenter (Matt. 13:55) and He too was known as a carpenter (Mark 6:3). He knew the toil of manual labor. With great emphasis on luxury and ease, many people fail to develop physically. Many others fail to maintain good health in adulthood.

God's only begotten Son increased in favor with His Father. He did this by constantly being about His heavenly Father's business (Luke 2:49), by making the will of His heavenly Father the very sustenance of life (John 4:34), and by being obedient to His Father in heaven even to the point of going to the cross (Heb. 5:8, 9). We gain favor with God as we continue to grow spiritually. (II Thess. 1:3; II Peter 3:18; Hebrews 5:12-14; I Peter 2:2).

Jesus advanced socially. He was no recluse, nor social misfit. He was constantly in the temple, in the market place, and in the busy streets. He attended weddings and funeral assemblies. He loved people and they thronged Him. No person can be truly happy without social development.

Abraham-Reynolds Vows Exchanged

Memphis, Tennessee was the scene Friday evening, February 18, of an impressive ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Kathleen Alice Abraham and Talmage Roy Reynolds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Abraham of Memphis, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Reynolds of Route 4, Iuka.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was L. B. Kenley. The recitation of vows was in his beautiful home.

The bride was a picture of loveliness in her unusual but beautiful white pants suit trimmed in gold with gold chain-link belt. This was chosen and worn at the request of the groom.

The bridal bouquet was red roses draped over a white Bible. Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Sara Watkins, a long time friend.

Best man for the wedding was Michael B. Howard of Covington, Tennessee.

Immediately following the wedding, friends of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs.

Charles Rousseau, were hosts at a reception in their lovely home. The refreshment table was overlaid with white lace and included a two-tiered wedding cake, topped with bride and groom figurine, a crystal punch bowl, filled with sparkling lime punch, and compotes holding nuts and mints.

Early the next morning the couple departed for a five day honeymoon.

The couple are now at home in Memphis, Tennessee where Mrs. Reynolds is employed with the Federal Housing Administration, and Mr. Reynolds is employed by the Memphis District Corps of Engineers.

The focus topic, "What will you do with the year '72," was given by Mrs. Will Cresap.

The demonstration was slides on how to cook meat by dry heat. Recreation was a white elephant sale.

Members present, other than already mentioned, include: Miss Mabel Dean and Mesdames Edward Sanderson, Clayton Parnell, Hershel Robertson, C. D. Davis, Jimmy Robertson and Jimmy Daniel.

February Welfare Figures Released

The State Department of Public Welfare handled 149,118 cases during the month of February, 1972. Of this number, 3,386 were Medicaid cases. The remaining cases were persons receiving assistance through one of the four public assistance programs. A total of $8,810,049 in money payments was issued to the needy citizens of Mississippi.

Miss Margaret June Woodley, Director of Tishomingo County Department of Public Welfare, reports 1,213 checks are issued to Tishomingo counties; 33 applications requesting assistance were filed and 13 new public assistance cases were approved for February.

In the public assistance categories 810 persons received an old age assistance check; 17 received an aid to the blind check; and 262 an aid to the permanently and totally disabled check. In the aid to dependent children category 124 checks were issued for 288 children in the ADC grants.

A total of $72,167 was spent overall for public assistance. Of this amount $48,087 went to persons in the old age assistance category; $1,152 to blind recipients; $17,248 to the permanently and totally disabled and $5,680 to aid to dependent children families.

Miss Woodley added there were 26 active child welfare cases and 7 children in licensed foster homes in Tishomingo County.

February Rainfall Below Normal

In spite of those rainy weekends in February, TVA says rainfall for the month averaged only 3.7 inches across the Tennessee Valley, a little below the long-term normal total of 4.3 inches.

Highest rainfall total reported to TVA for February was 7.48 inches at Newfound Gap in Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Lowest was 1.30 inches at Belgreen, Alabama, just south of Russellville in the northwest part of the state.

WHEN A TORNADO APPROACHES, IMMEDIATE ACTION CAN SAVE YOU

A tornado WATCH means weather conditions are ripe for tornadoes to develop. Stay tuned to radio or television and listen for weather bulletins, even if the sky overhead is blue. A storm may appear suddenly.

Watch the sky: Occasionally scan for the approach of dark, threatening clouds. There may not be time for an official tornado warning. Stay alert for the abrupt onset of violent wind, rain, hail, or a funnel-shaped cloud. Listen for a sudden increase in wind noise. When IN DOUBT, take cover. Tornadoes are often obscured by rain or dust. Some occur at night.

A tornado WARNING means a tornado actually has been sighted or indicated by radar. If the twister is close to you, seek inside shelter immediately, preferably in a storm cellar, underground excavation, or steel-framed or concrete-reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS.

IN OFFICE BUILDINGS, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, or to a designated shelter area.

IN FACTORIES, workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection, in accordance with advance plans.

IN SHOPPING CENTERS, go to designated shelter area - not to parked cars.

IN HOMES, the basement offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under heavy furniture if possible. In homes without a basement, take cover in the center part of the house on the lowest floor, in a small room such as a closet or bathroom, or under sturdy furniture. Keep some windows open, but stay away from them!

MOBILE HOMES are particularly vulnerable to destructive winds. Proper tie-downs to prevent overturning will minimize damage. A warden should be appointed in mobile-home parks to scan the skies and listen to radio or television for warnings. There should be a designated community shelter where residents can assemble during a tornado warning. If there is no such shelter, do not stay in a mobile home when a tornado is approaching. Seek refuge in a sturdy building or at last resort - in a ditch, culvert, or ravine.

IN SCHOOLS, wherever possible, follow advance plans to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with wide free-span roofs. If a building is not of reinforced construction, go quickly to a nearby reinforced building, or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat.

IN OPEN COUNTRY, if there is no time to find suitable shelter, lie face down in the nearest depression - such as a ditch, culvert or ravine, and protect your head with your arms.

TORNADOES ARE ONLY ONE OF A THUNDERSTORM'S KILLERS. LIGHTNING is the worst killer. Stay indoors, away from open doors and electrical appliances. If you are caught outside, stay away from the highest object in the area, avoid electrically conductive objects; if your hair stands on end or your skin tingles - drop to the ground immediately.

Thunderstorm RAINS cause flash floods. Be careful where you take shelter.

DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

The Northeast Mississippi Child Development Council, composed of Alcorn, Benton, Marshall, Prentiss, Tippah and Tishomingo counties, has submitted a District Child Care plan and proposal for the said District to the State Child Development Council in Jackson, Mississippi, for its review and approval. After the plan and project have received State Council approval, it will be forwarded to Washington for Federal approval and funding.

The program will emphasize those procedures necessary to utilize all available resources, local, state, and national, needed to achieve a sound child development concept. Activities and all services included in the program will be scientifically assessed to determine their relevance to the specific child service needs for each participating community. Through a successful design for structuring and coordination of all program components under the "umbrella", maximum utilization of all existing human and national resources will be assured to minimize both waste and duplication in all areas of administration and program implementation.

This proposal will provide education, health, social, and nutritional services to infants and their families. This will assist in breaking the vicious poverty cycle that has been perpetuated since the Civil War. More specifically, it is the design of a Comprehensive Child Development Program encompassing all services essential to the growth and development of children from conception to six years and their families.

Mr. Harold Bishop, Chairman of the District Child Development Council, stated that after the plan and project received approval and funding in Washington that the District Council would then employ a staff consisting of the following personnel: (1) one child development program coordinator, (2) one child development specialist, (3) one budget comptroller-bookkeeper, and (4) one secretary.

If anyone is interested in the above mentioned positions, please contact Mr. Harold Bishop at P. O. Box 422, Booneville, Miss. 38829.

It is anticipated that the program will be funded and begin operation by the First of May, 1972.
