September Term Of Court In Session

Grand Jury Gives Final Report, Six Cases Remain On Docket

The September term of Circuit Court is in progress this week with Judge L. T. Senter, Jr. presiding.

According to Circuit Clerk Lamar Rutherford, the grand jury was in session one day, examined all witnesses, and returned to open court for true bills.

Serving as foreman of the grand jury was Billy D. Bain. The following statement came directly from the grand jury's final report:

"We have examined by committee the county jail and the Tishomingo County Courthouse. We find that the courthouse is a structure in which the citizens of Tishomingo County can take pride; however, the grand jury does call attention to an apparent lack of adequate cleaning and maintenance of the building, specifically the restrooms and the interior walls and some of the offices.

"A leak was found in the ceiling of the ladies restroom on the northwest corner, creating a safety hazard.

"The grand jury noted that the list of duties for the custodians involved too much work for the one custodian to carry out. It appeared to the grand jury that the need for a general cleaning up is very possibly due to one custodian being given the responsibility for the entire courthouse and grounds."

Scheduled to preside in the second week of court is Judge Fred Wicker. According to information from the circuit clerk's office the following cases will be heard:

On Monday, September 25, at 9 o'clock, the case of the State of Mississippi vs. Arthur Lee Mitchell will be heard. Mitchell is charged with possession of heroin and was tried during the April term of court; however, the case resulted in a hung jury, according to Circuit Clerk Rutherford.

The case reportedly set for Tuesday at 9 o'clock is the State of Mississippi vs. Jimmie Smith, charged with assault and battery.

On Wednesday, a manslaughter case, State of Mississippi vs. Dalton Adams, will be heard. This charge resulted from an automobile accident in which Junior Johnson and his young son were killed.

Three cases have been scheduled for Thursday. First on the agenda will be the State of Mississippi vs. Jimmy Ivy, J. B. O'Neal, Jimmy O'Neal, and Tony McRae on assault and battery charges.

Second case to be tried will be the State of Mississippi vs. Lloyd Seay, charged with attempted rape.

Last case expected to be heard during the court session will be the State of Mississippi vs. Donald V. Burress, charged with burglary.

Luka Chapter #126 O.E.S. will have a special meeting on Saturday night, September 23, 1972, at 7:30 o'clock at the Luka Lodge Hall. This meeting is for the purpose of honoring Sister Maude Fairies, Associate Grand Matron, of Corinth, Miss., and Bro. Melvin Putt, Associate Grand Patron, of Booneville, Miss., of the Grand Chapter of the State of Mississippi.

Why Work?

Politicians of both parties have lamented our country's unemployment and its welfare crisis. But, putting partisanship aside, the real tragedy of joblessness is not economic.

People out of work means loss to the gross national product; yet, still more, loss of individual personal esteem.

One way or another, men require the right to work. As Solomon taught, "There is nothing better for a man than to eat and to drink and to know in himself that his labor is good. This also I have seen, that it is from the hand of God."

In an earlier era, children were taught that "an idle mind is the devil's workshop."

Add that an idle healthy body also suffers spiritually.

Are you hoping for a three-day week? Beware.

But wait. Isn't work a curse? Didn't God say to Adam, "Cursed is the ground because of you: in toil you shall eat of it all the days of your life?"

Less work, less curse? Solomon said no, "There is nothing better" than work, and this truth comes directly from the hand of God.

The punch-clock may have been invented by the fall, but work itself wasn't. Man was made to muscle his way through life. On his first day on earth, God put man on the job: "Then the Lord God took the man and put him into the Garden of Eden to cultivate it and keep it."

No 8 to 5 and home to the wife job; Adam lived in his work and literally ate the fruits of his labor.

Mass-production lines deny the pleasure of making anything but money. Payment for 1,500 duplicate table-legs cannot satisfy a man like a single meal at one complete table built by a man with his hands.

Work blesses the worker. Remember that we work by God's example: "Six days you shall labor and do all your work, but the seventh day is a sabbath (rest) of the Lord your God," the law says. "For in six days the Lord made the heavens and the earth, the sea, and all that is in them, and rested on the seventh day."

Why would God work? Obviously, not for money. Work satisfies. Oddly, the same Solomon who praised the soul-warming joy in work found that working for money was worthless: "I considered all my activities . . . and the labor which I had exerted, and behold, all was vanity."

The curse on the earth made work wearisome, but still only work satisfies. The work itself, not the pay.

The deepest tragedy of unemployment and welfare is the loss of satisfaction and purpose in life, the dwindling of reassurance that each man's life contributes to the operation of God's world, the falling of confidence in personal worth that only honest work and achievement can give. Everyone needs work.

And after work, rest, and a chance to worship God.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Bible Seminar

Members of the Iuka congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have been invited to attend a two day Bible seminar to be held in Columbus, Mississippi, according to V. B. Waite spokesman for the local group.

The Bible training sessions are scheduled every six months and are sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

The coming assembly will be held in the Joe Cook, Jr., High School, 7th Street North, Columbus, the weekend of Sept. 16 and 17, 1972. Members from 20 congregations with a total of upwards of 1000 delegates are expected to be in attendance.

Many youths as well as adults, seeing the division, frustration and failures of most all administrative facilities throughout the world and realizing that they of necessity will inherit their problems, such as war, pollution, crimes and mounting health problems, are seriously asking the question, "Is This Life All There Is?" This discourse will be the highlight of the two day Bible seminar and will be delivered by H. C. Hoskins, southern district overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses.

Is It Murder?

Are laws that forbid abortion really infringing on a woman's right to control her own body, as some insist, or is the sanctity of human life the overriding issue?

Sen. McGovern, who earlier declared firmly that abortion was a matter to be decided between a woman and her doctor, has changed his position and now says that it is a matter to be handled by state governments.

President Nixon, however, has stated, "Unrestricted policies of abortion on demand I cannot square with my personal belief in the sanctity of human life — including the life of the yet unborn."

In January, 1971, the General Council of the United Church of Canada decided that "abortion should be a private matter between a woman and her doctor."

But in February, this year, the editor of "The Observer," official publication of the United Church, declared, "We reject the United Church statement that 'abortion is a private matter.' The deliberate destruction of a six-month-old fetus, the death of 25 to 30 thousand unborn Canadian babies a year — a private matter! To us, killing a child shortly before birth . . . is as wrong as killing a child shortly after birth."

We all know that the Bible says, "Thou shalt not kill." But the crucial question is: At what point does the developing child become a human being entitled to life?

Reader Opinion Poll
Since it seems to me that the public opinion polls have dealt with this matter too superficially, I have decided to poll the readers of this column as to their attitudes toward abortion. Therefore, I would appreciate it if you would respond to the following statements, indicating which you believe is correct.

() The child is not entitled to life until he or she is born. Abortion should be legally permitted at any time prior to birth.

() The unborn child should be entitled to life from the time of conception — when the fertilized ovum is implanted in the wall of the uterus. Abortion at any time after conception should be prohibited.

() The unborn child is entitled to life from the time of "quickening," when movement of the unborn child is first felt by the pregnant woman. Abortion should be permitted until "quickening," but prohibited after that time.

() The unborn child is entitled to life at the time when, if born prematurely, he or she could be kept alive as a fully-formed person, even though born before the due time. Abortion should be permitted until then, but prohibited after that time.

() Abortion should be permitted only in certain cases, such as pregnancy resulting from rape or incest.

() Abortion should be permitted when necessary to save the life of the mother. I am interested from you on this. May write me at newspaper.

It's 1973, and Chevrolet roofs are opening, seats are swiveling, bumpers are retracting, hatches are flipping up.

Did you ever have so much to talk about that you didn't know what to say first?

We're happy to report that's us for 1973. But since everything must begin somewhere...

Isn't it romantic?

You see that rectangle beaming at you from above? That's a moonroof. Not to be confused with a sunroof. (Although many people will undoubtedly be caught using it like one.) A power roof is available on Chevelle and Monte Carlo; a manual one on Nova.

Bumpers are exciting?

This year's are something to get stirred up about. One of our new bumpers, for example, is built around twin hydraulic cylinders. So on minor impact, the whole system retracts to cushion the shock.

It's standard on all big Chevrolet, Chevelle and Monte Carlo

New Malibu Colonnade Hardtop Coupe.

New Nova Hatchback Coupe.

Look what we hatched

You know us for our little Veggie Hatchback. Now dependable Nova has one. Which literally makes half trunk with the back seat down. It's a feature as practical as Nova itself.

We've been thinking about your legs

One of the few things people asked us to improve in our popular Chevelle was leg room in the back seat. Well, your knees will be pleased with the '73s. There's almost 3 more inches in the sedans.

So what else is new

Naturally this is only a taste of what's new for '73.

Among other things, we're introducing larger gas tanks for long cruising range, a new Exhaust Gas Recirculation system, a hatchback for wagons, and a highly refined floor through power ventilation system.

Plus a reading light for front seat passengers, improved suspension systems, engines that give you performance combined with economy, reclining seats and scores of dramatic styling changes.

We invite you to see it all at your Chevrolet dealer's.

(above) Caprice Coupe. Our new uppermost Chevrolet. Its luxury, comfort and quiet ride rival the most expensive cars you can buy.

(below) Monte Carlo S Coupe, America's newest road car. With the handling of the finest European cars, and the looks and comfort of an American car.

Belmont Homemakers met on Thursday, Sept. 7 p.m. in the home of president, Mrs. Mae Bess, with Mrs. Ann Shook, Mrs. Dezzie Davis as the hostesses.

The president called the meeting to order and gave the light. "The only joy some get out of the truth is having it," Mrs. Mabel led the song, "Trust in the Lord." Mrs. Bonnie Montgomery read Psalms I, and gave meditation - Windows of the community - and led in prayer.

Business taken up and discussed was: The 100% Member drive was checked, A Bake to be held in connection with the Bazaar on Saturday, September 18th. Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Vivian led to serve the 4-H Club on Wednesday, September 20, at 3 p.m., the president appointed Mesdames Leighvelia Bostick, Vivian Waddle and Bernell Ledbetter as Nominating Committee, a number of contributions were made to the treasury and the outstanding bills were paid by the secretary.

The demonstration on "Family Recreation" was given by Mrs. Yarber with each one present taking part in the different phases of recreation to improve family life. Bingo was enjoyed by everyone with the door prize being drawn for Mrs. Vivian Waddle. The hostesses served orange and pineapple sherbert, cake and potato chips to twelve members.

Others present and not already mentioned were: Mesdames Hallie Yarber, Nora Johnson and Myrtle Patterson. Hostess for the October meeting will be Mrs. Bonnie Montgomery.

Four-Header Gala Birthday

The children and families of late Mr. and Mrs. G. N. met at the home of Mrs. B. H. Frederick, Iuka, Route 3, on September 10th, for an uplifting occasion. Among those present for the occasion were: Mrs. B. H. Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Timbes, Elmer Grimes, Mr. Mrs. J. V. Grimes, Mrs. Pardue and Loretta, Mr. Mrs. James Pardue and Mrs. and Mr. and Mrs. James and daughters, Gena and all of Iuka, Route 3; and Mrs. Childs Pardue and Brent, of Iuka; Mr. and Lee Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crawford and children, Mrs. Mary Byram, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shadburn and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grimes and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Bostick, all of Corinth; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Grimes of Tuscon, Arizona; and Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Jones and son, Brian, of Huntsville.

Eight of the nine children were present. Dewel Grimes of Baton Rouge, La. was unable to attend. Four of the family members having had birthdays during the week - Mamie Grimes, Artie Timbes, Elmer Grimes and Bolivar Frederick - were honored with a lovely four section oblong cake, one section killed near his home. The reptile is believed to be a Timber Rattler. It measured around 6 feet long.

A bountiful lunch was blessed by Lee Crawford and was enjoyed by all present. The fellowship was something to be remembered, and the pictures made during the day will add to the remembrance.

the serpent's head, Gen. 3:15. But, as we look back we see that the Lord was not slack concerning His promise, as some men count slackness, but is long suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance, II Pet. 3:9. We find in the Bible a statement like this - O earth, earth, earth, hear the Word of the Lord. Three earths mentioned, of which we interpret by the Word of God. The Bible says the earth standing out of the water and in the water, whereby the world, i.e., earth, that then was being overflowed with water, perished - the first earth; but the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men, which Paul called this present evil world - the second earth, Jer. 22:29, Pet. 3:5-7, Gal. 1:4 - and John said I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea, Rev. 21:1 - the third dispensation. We have a similar prophecy in Hosea 6:1,2. Come and let us return unto the Lord; for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. After two days will he revive us; in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight. Again we have the third dispensation. This will prove to be a vital point later on in our study of the Bible concerning the destination of man. There is much to be said about the covenant that God made with Noah. The beautiful rainbow that we see after the rain is gone is God's token to man, and to every living soul, that God did indeed make a covenant with Noah, Gen. 9:11-17. Because of space, and time we will pass over this for the time being, and move to the next key figure in our study - namely Abram, the son of Terah, Gen. 11:26. Abram was a native Chaldees - born in Ur, vs. 28. Abram's first journey from his homeland was to Haran with his father and Lot, his nephew, and his wife, Sarai, and the place where Terah died at the age of two hundred and five years, vs. 31,32. The reason for this journey is given in Acts 7:2-4. Abram's first sacrifice is found in Gen. 12:1. Now the Lord had said unto Abram, get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee. And I will make thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing, vs. 2,3. And with this statement we have some more good news from God concerning the estate of man. It looks like now that God is going to bless man.

Next week we will see - if the Lord's will. I am very excited and thrilled over these great gems of truth, and hope and pray that they will enrich your life also.

Miss Nellie Horton's Home Economist's Notes

IF YOU SEE IT COMING
A leading car manufacturers' engineers have found that there are several preventive measures you can take to avoid serious injury if you see an accident coming. You can reduce the severity of impact inside the car by as much as 80 percent, which is over and above the benefits of wearing a safety belt.

In case of a front-end crash: Driver wearing safety belt should put both arms on upper rim of the steering wheel, elbows out. At the last moment, place your forehead on the back of your hands.

Front seat passengers wearing safety belts should place folded arms on top of the dashboard, cradling head in forearms.

Rear seat passengers wearing a safety belt should place folded arms around forehead and lean forward. If you can reach the back of the front seat, place your arms and head on top.

Youngsters wearing safety belts in either the front or back seat should bend over, grab their arms under their knees, and cradle their head against their legs.

LONG-RANGE FINANCIAL PLANNING IMPORTANT IN SELECTING HOME FURNISHINGS

Selecting home furnishings can be a challenge. It takes time, skill and patience. But, once you learn how to buy furnishings for the home, the pieces you select will give pleasure to your entire family.

A floor plan, a financial plan and an activities plan can help you in making decisions about furnishings in your home.

Consider what furnishings you need and where you'll use them. Pieces that are suitable for more than one room are a wise choice. When you find furnishings that appeal to you, check to see if they are the right size, color and construction you want. Remember that pieces requiring extensive care and upkeep add to your initial cost.

The amount of money you have and are willing to spend for home furnishings is sometimes a limiting factor. By shopping carefully, it is possible to find attractive, well-constructed pieces at a price you can afford.

It's a good idea to make a long-range financial plan to decide which furnishings you need now and in the future. Establish your present and anticipated income. Include in this plan the purchase of large equipment or machinery, remodeling costs and college education of your children. Select purchases that cost what you can afford to pay at the time. Consider cost of the item and upkeep and the length of time you expect a piece to last.

BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL

Want to cut down on the amount of money you are spending for boll weevil control? Want to stay out of cottonfields with insecticide until late July or early August? A sound diapause control program this fall will help make these desires become realities.

Add a phosphate insecticide to your defoliant, either DEP or Folex. Do not add phosphate insecticides to chlorate defoliants. Then 14 days later make another application of insecticide. When harvest is completed, destroy the stalks. This will remove the food supply for any surviving weevils and prevent them from getting fat enough to survive the winter in hibernation.

IDENTIFY WEEDS NOW

New weeds are becoming more and more evident in cotton fields, so now before they are destroyed by frost or plowing, is a good time to make a weed map. On the map, list the type of weeds and indicate whether or not the weed infestation is heavy. These maps should be made for individual fields, with each field identified by number.

COTTON PLANTING SEED

Production of high quality cotton planting seed begins in the field. Here are some points that will aid in producing this type seed:

Rogue fields to remove weeds, especially cockleburrs. Defoliate the cotton when 65 percent of the bolls are open.

Harvest as soon as possible to reduce weather exposure. If possible, gin the cotton the same day that you pick it. Delays in ginning when cotton is packed on trailers increase possibility of heat damage.

Aerate the seed the day it is ginned. Removing gin heat reduces the likelihood of seed heating. For safe storage, the seed should be cooled to 50 degrees or less.

Keep your cotton pickers clean and in good working condition.

U. S. Air Force 1947 - 1972

On September 18, 1947, Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson administered the oath of office to the first Secretary of the Air Force, W. Stuart Symington. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz was sworn in as the first Chief of Staff, United States Air Force, on September 26.

Thus ended an association with the U. S. Army that had endured for 40 years. And thus began a new era in which airpower became firmly established as the Nation's first line of defense and its chief hope for deterring war.

One of the first international crises that the young Air Force responded to was the Berlin Airlift. On June 22, 1948, Berlin became an isolated city. The Russians had cut off all surface transportation in the hope of forcing the American, British, and French occupation garrisons to abandon the city to Communist control. They overlooked two vital factors -- Allied airpower and determination.

The next crisis to test the Air Force and the Nation was Korea. For the Air Force, Korea was a turning point.

It found the Air Force, like the other Services, ill-prepared and ill-equipped as a result of five successive limited budgets. Much experience and talent came back via the Air National Guard and Reserves during the Korean buildup.

For the first time in aerial warfare, jet fighters locked in combat. MIG Alley became a household word, and the USAF's 10-to-1 margin of victory over enemy fighters a legend.

Since 1961 the story of the Air Force revolves principally around Vietnam. As part of the free world military team in Vietnam, our goals are twofold:

(1) To support the Republic of Vietnam and its fight against Communist aggression, and (2) To assist in the development of a country which is dedicated to the concept of freedom and independence.

In the past quarter century the U. S. Air Force has evolved into a modern and powerful aerospace force. It is today one of the primary elements in protecting America's security. In operations around the world and around the clock, more than a million airmen and civilians are on duty flying, maintaining, and supporting jet aircraft and missile combat forces as well as the complex communications, electronic facilities of the U. S. Air Force also provides research and development for the Defense and Aeronautics Administration of our Nation's history of the past half century going efforts to peace and security States and to policies and objectives.

ANIMALS

BY MARY B. DAVIS

DEBBIE AND LYNN are friends of mine, and have come to see me for quite a while. Well, they are "little" now, but they were the first met.

for "one more." Right now, in fact, we still have one that Debbie and Lynn brought us not many weeks ago. We named the little black kitten "SCOOTER" because as soon as they put it down, it started scootin' all over the place. With a white spot under her pretty chin, Scooter Davis is now half grown and loves

EVERYBODY she meets!

Occasionally, the young girls come to see how our animals are doing, and, every once in a while, just for no "special" reason. But when they arrived last Sunday, they said: "What we've come for this time is to ask you to tell us what HUMANE means and how it helps animals."

Their intelligent questions made me realize that I had not made it clear to anybody except another "humane worker" just how the word "humane" applies to an animal-welfare organization. Although I knew absolutely nothing about humane societies myself until 1968, I make the mistake of assuming that everybody else already knows all about them -- and I'm also ALWAYS afraid of insulting people's intelligence if I get too descriptive and as a result, often leave out some vital points.

So, with the hope that other youngsters will be more interested in joining humane societies if they fully understand what humane really means, I'd like to repeat what I told Debra, Debbie and Lynn:

1. "Humane" means being kind and merciful and having compassion for all living creatures -- animals and human alike. Another way to describe "humane" people would be to say that "He is a good hearted fellow" -- "She is a kind-hearted woman" -- They're good guys."

2. "Humanitarians" believe in doing things that would make things BETTER for all humanity. It is really just another big word for "good guys" and "kind-hearted folks."

3. "Promoting kindness" is trying to get others to be kind. I firmly believe that everybody with normal intelligence has goodness in him or her -- and that THAT goodness can be brought out with proper training and teaching especially by beginning the day a baby arrives on this earth! People also learn by a living example more easily than by any other method -- that is why I say "kindness is catching."

4. "Society" means, among other things, "A group of human beings with a mutual interest." So, by putting together the two words "Humane Society," the result is a group of "good guys and kind-hearted folks" all working to get kind, merciful, -- HUMANE -- treatment for animals and thereby preventing suffering -- the primary purpose of any humane society."

Each time Debra, Debbie and BRENTLEY GLENN BUGG recently celebrated his second birthday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bugg of Pascagoula. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sid Bugg and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Curtis, all of Iuka. his great-grandmother is Mrs. J. W. Timbes of Iuka.

Lynn come to see me, I realize more and more how "grown-up" the youngsters seem today. All three are very serious-minded and show deep concern for animals. They are beginning to understand the animal's need for human friends and sincerely want to learn how to help. They are a personal inspiration to me and I value their friendship.

Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Timbes; Debbie Kirk is the daughter of Mrs. A. C. Ryan and Jim Kirk, all of Iuka, Miss.; and Debra Carden is the daughter of Mrs. Billie Holland of Iuka, and Leonard Carden of Memphis, Tenn.

Bulldogs Stop Devils

By Donald Pounders

The Tishomingo Bulldogs came out on top after plenty of hard-nosed football with Vina, Alabama.

What seemed like a scoreless game, changed into a Bulldog victory when Bogan ran over the goalline for a touchdown. Robinson ran the two point conversion. The Bulldog touchdown was set up with the running of Robinson late in the fourth quarter.

The 8-0 victory over Vina makes Tishomingo's second victory this season.

Next Friday night, The Bulldogs meet Mooreville on their home field. Come out and see the "Dogs in action."

Cards Get Edge In Action

Belmont's Cardinals rolled over Burnsville's Mustangs 54 to 30 Friday night in Tippamingo Conference action.

The Cardinals jumped off to a 36-6 halftime upper hand and were never behind.

Quarterback Lloyd Moore scored once and passed for another in the first period as Tommy Reeves tallied twice. Moore threw to Mark Kenny for the extra point.

Moore scored again for Belmont in the second period and Burnsville's Tommy Ligon matched it. Moore tossed to Steve Senter for the tally after that and Greg Deaton converted.

In the third period, Filmore scored on a 32-yard run, while B. Chatham threw to M. White for Burnsville. Marlair converted. Dudley Strickland tallied again for Belmont.

Chatham tossed to Lovelace for another Burnsville score and to Wadkins for the extra point.

Reeves got another belated score for Belmont and Chatham fired to Lovelace for the final score. Hill converted.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wooten of Corinth and Mr. and Mrs. Hafford Maxwell visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Maxwell and daughter in Jackson, Tenn. over the weekend. They also toured Opry Land in Nashville.

Mrs. Hafford Maxwell recently visited her parents at Muskoka Lakes, Ontario Canada and spent a few days with her brother and family at Willowdale, Ontario Canada.

Proclamation

ESTABLISHING IUKA
HUNTING AND FISHING DAY
THE FOURTH SATURDAY OF
EACH SEPTEMBER

Because of the outstanding contributions of America's hunters and fishermen to recreation, conservation and the economy, they are deserving of special recognition.

Since the turn of the century, hunters and anglers have been the leaders in major conservation programs in our cities, states and Washington. These sportsmen-conservationists are responsible for the founding of state fish and game departments in all 50 states. They asked that they, themselves, be required to buy hunting and fishing licenses and that the money collected be used to support state conservation agencies. Hunters and fishermen asked for season and bag limits so that everyone would have a fair chance to harvest the annual crop of game and fish without damage to the basic breeding stock of any species. Further, sportsmen's programs have benefited hundreds of non-game fish and wildlife through habitat development.

Hunters and fishermen, unique in all America, asked that their fishing and hunting equipment be taxed and that the money be used for land acquisition, research and habitat management for fish and wildlife for the enjoyment of all Americans. Through their publications and organizations -- such as the National Wildlife Federation, Ducks Unlimited, Izaak Walton League of America and many others -- hunters and fishermen have led the nation in the battle for a better environment and the wise use of our natural resources.

Therefore, I, John H. Biggs, Mayor of the City of Iuka, do hereby proclaim September 23, 1972, as Iuka Hunting and Fishing Day and that this Day be an annual observance the fourth Saturday of each September. I urge all of our citizens to join with sportsmen-conservationists in a rededication to the wise use of our natural resources and their proper management for the benefit of future generations. Further, I urge all citizens to visit sportsmen's clubs on Iuka's Hunting and Fishing Day to learn more about conservation and outdoor skills.

(Signed) John H. Biggs,
Mayor, City of Iuka

We are deeply grateful to you, Dr. Bruce, and Jo Ann, who when called came to our home immediately.

A special thank you and appreciation to Bro. Marvin Griggs, and Bro. Doug Moore, for their words of kindness and comfort. Also The Tishomingo Baptist Church and choir for the special music.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fingerprinting the Jobholder

Employees of several stock brokerage firms were up in arms. Under a new state law, they had to be fingerprinted in order to keep their jobs. Taking the matter to court, they claimed this was an invasion of their right of privacy.

But the court could see no grounds for complaint. The judge said this minor invasion of privacy was outweighed by the major benefit to the public in reducing thefts of stocks and bonds.

Laws in a number of states now require the fingerprinting of employees in "sensitive" occupations. Almost always, the courts have overruled the assorted constitutional objections raised by disgruntled individuals.

In fact, the law no longer considers fingerprinting to be any great hardship anyhow. In another case, a used furniture dealer complained about a fingerprint requirement for anyone selling second-hand goods.

"It makes the people in my line of business look like criminals," he said in a court hearing.

But the court disagreed, pointing out that fingerprints are now used routinely in hospitals, schools, and government as a reliable means of identification. As one judge put it:

"The day is long past when fingerprinting carried with it a stigma of criminality."

This does not mean, however, that the police may resort to highhanded methods to obtain fingerprints. Consider the following case:

Officers investigating a burglary took a man into custody even though they had no adequate grounds for arrest. Their reason: to obtain his fingerprints. As it happened, the prints did turn out to be incriminating.

Nevertheless, they were held not admissible against the man in court. The judge said the Constitution forbids "wholesale intrusions upon the personal security of our citizenry."

Speaking of animals extinct and otherwise: near Wooler, Northumberland, England, is a herd of pure, uncrossed, wild white cattle whose ancestors roamed the hills there more than 10,000 years ago. — SPORTS AFIELD
