He received a sentence of ten years in the state penitentiary. Attorneys for Southward have filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Two persons were given a five year sentence in the state penitentiary on a charge of burglary. The defendants pleaded guilty to the charge and the five year sentence was held up pending their good behavior. They were placed on three years probation.

WIN School

Bro. Harris Counce, Pastor of the Iuka Baptist Church, announces that a WIN - "Witness Involvement Now" School will be held at the church next week, January 22-26.

WIN - "Witness Involvement Now" is a program planned and promoted by the Southern Baptist Board of Evangelism and began in 1971. The emphasis is on soul-winning.

The Iuka Church is the first church in this area to conduct a WIN School. Many churches who have conducted the school report a tremendous spiritual growth.

Two outstanding ministers, who have become known for their soul-winning victories will be conducting the school. One is Bro. Jack Nazery, pastor of Colonial Hills Baptist Church in Southaven. Under his leadership, the church which was begun just 10 years ago has grown to over 1200 members. The other leader is Bro. Erwin Brown, Superintendent of Missions of DeSoto County, who has helped to begin more new churches in that area, than are reported in any other area of the state.

The sessions will be from 7:00-9:00 p.m. each night Monday through Friday. Tuition is $3.00 per person. Anyone who is interested in soul-winning and would like to attend the WIN School should call 423-5073 immediately.

Theory Y Churches

All organizations operate essentially on one of two sets of assumptions known as Theory X and Theory Y. Douglas McGregor explained the differences in THE HUMAN SIDE OF ENTERPRISE and Robert Townsend showed in UP THE ORGANIZATION the Theory Y principles he used to make Avis into a profit-making and exciting company.

Theory X organizations think: "(1) People hate work. (2) They have to be driven and threatened with punishment to get them to work toward organizational objectives. (3) They like security, aren't ambitious, want to be told what to do, dislike responsibility." Townsend suggests one model for a Theory X organization is the Roman Catholic Church, but that ought to be broadened to include almost all churches.

How many people in most churches do all the work? Very few. Doesn't that prove that they hate work? It proves that the church hierarchy — all protests to the contrary notwithstanding — does not want them to work. Church is for spectators and there is room for very few performers in the entertainment business. One man dominates the stage at every church performance, leaving little place and less satisfaction for supporting players. Week after week a moral or spiritual club is brandished threateningly from the pulpit (though sometimes the threat is subtle) and somehow enough people knuckle under to barely limp along.

Jesus disparaged Theory X structures. "You know," He taught, "that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and great men exercise authority over them. It is not so among you, but whoever wishes to become great among you shall be your servant, and whoever wishes to be first among you shall be your slave; just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve." (Matthew 20:25-28)

Theory X pastors have congregations to help them get their work done, while Theory Y pastors — there are some — realize that the work of the church is the work of its people and, following Jesus' example, they help their people get their work done. And the people love it. They prove Theory Y: "(1) Work is as natural as play or rest. (2) If they commit themselves to mutual objectives, they'll drive themselves more effectively than you can drive them. (3) If they'll commit themselves only to the extent that they can see ways to satisfy their ego and development needs."

Churches work and grow as the people in them work and grow personally and spiritually. The pastor's leadership comes by example.

If Jesus' example can succeed in business, it certainly ought to work in the church. Copyright Dave Llewellyn 1973

Teen-agers and women over 40 are most likely to have difficult pregnancies, the March of Dimes says.

Half the victims of sickle cell disease die by the age of 20, reports the March of Dimes, which supports extensive research on the disease.

Every other minute a child is born with a birth defect, according to the March of Dimes.

The March of Dimes reports that 15 nations have a lower infant mortality rate than the United States.

Intensive care nurseries not only help save critically ill babies, but help save them undamaged, reports the March of Dimes.

Evolution in California

Students in California public schools are soon to be taught that man may have been created by God, rather than having evolved from the primordial ooze.

For many years the possibility that God created man has been ignored in textbooks. But now, due to the efforts of a number of California citizens, the state school board has adopted a "Science Framework for California Schools" which requires that both evolution and creation be presented to students as theories concerning the origin of life.

Opposing this action, the National Academy of Scientists has adopted a resolution demanding that the "creation theory" not be mentioned in the science textbooks of the California public schools. It appears that many men of science, unable to put God into a test tube for analysis, have ruled Him out of their universe.

Scientists Disagree
Other scientists, having perhaps a broader perspective, point to the necessity of a Higher Power to provide a rational explanation of life as we know it to be.

Dr. Willard L. Henning, professor of biology at Bryn Mawr College, points out a basic weakness in the evolutionary hypothesis when he says, "The theory of evolution, as usually presented, assumes the existence of matter without offering an explanation as to its origin."

Dr. Stanley E. Wedberg, professor of biology at the University of Connecticut, says, "I am compelled to believe in God. No chance accident or series of accidents could possibly account for the creation of something so fantastically complex as a living cell, much less the creation of a thinking, intelligent human being."

Dr. Mark C. Biedebach, assistant professor of biology at California State, Long Beach, Calif., says, "I became interested in the mechanisms which exist in living things ... fascinated by the staggering complexity and organization within living structures. ... I was quite impressed with 'design in nature.' This strengthened my faith in God as Creator."

No Conflict

Many scientists see no conflict at all between their devotion to true science and their firm faith in God. They accept the fact that a God great enough to create the universe is great enough to create man. Hence, they understand that the Bible is simply stating a profound truth when it declares, "God created man in His own image."

They reject atheistic evolution as an untenable theory.

Now that California has blazed the trail, perhaps the other 49 states will soon take similar action — which many of us believe is long overdue.

RECORD SYSTEM COPIED

Mississippi's school record system has been copied by other states. The cumulative record system, used by all public schools, provides basic information needed in dealing with a student on an individual basis. When the student enters school in the first grade, a record folder is prepared for him and it follows him throughout his school career.

Before Edison, there were few practical uses for electricity. But he patented more than 1,000 inventions that use electricity to make living more convenient. The incandescent light bulb and the phonograph are his best known inventions, of course. But all of them have helped us live better electrically.

During National Electrical Week, February 11-17, we salute our allies in the electrical industry and pledge our support in continuing to make living better for everyone. Through electricity.

CONCERNED CITIZENS OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY CRUSADE AGAINST ORGANIZED CRIME

To the Citizens, Voters, Natives and Residents of Tishomingo County, Mississippi:

Do we have organized crime in Tishomingo County? Our highest county law official says "No." Some of our state officers and other officials say - "Yes." They believe so, and we swear in court with approval of their superiors.

It was for a period of over two years. The places that were entered illegally were on or near the different park areas. Now, it has moved out to permanent residents - which after talking to several - they say that they are scared to leave their homes for any length of time. Some of these people are lifetime residents of Tishomingo County. Talking personally to the Sheriff's Office and offering the services of private investigator without charge or of any kind to the County, the official said he would accept the help of private investigator but also said he would not designate any authority to this man or woman. He or she could not make arrests in the county; although, this is an officer qualified to make arrests in other state and counties - not Tishomingo.

I have been broken into four times this year. Called official office when fired at or toward the answer was, "We are sorry we do not have anyone available to send."

It is our belief that an official investigation in Tishomingo County means a trip to place break-in - if convenient. These questions asked - What is missing, etc.? - We will investigate and let you know. It is our belief that this is the end of it.

Just how many places have been illegally entered in the northern part of the county in year of 1972? How many arrests? Check with your officials. We think that these deplorable conditions should be called to the attention of our Board of Supervisors. Also, as a private citizen ask your Chancery Clerk what was the cost of operating Sheriff's Office last year. What are their duties, etc.

Mr. Citizen, Tishomingo County is now being mentioned in very derogatory terms out of county residents. Some have sold property. Others do not stop in our beautiful Northern Mississippi County anymore, which means $ & $ to our business people of the county, also to county taxes, etc.

Mr. Citizen and Resident, are we going to take a chance on this situation with our children daughters and sons, granddaughters and grandsons? Will we be forced in a short period of time to keep these children in our sight at all times. If the situation continues, it is possible that our children are not safe in Tishomingo County from theft to thugs.

Mr. Working Man or Woman, whether you are a farmer, merchant, businessman, factory worker, executive or laborer, etc., we need your help.

How does it feel to work for years to accumulate a radio, television, gun, jewelry - necessities - etc., then try to save a few dollars for old age, then come home from work your life savings - including your radio, television, your guns and several other things gone.

Call your highest official in the county. He will arrive (if convenient) in a county automobile (over $5,000.00) - with lights, etc., a big gun and here is investigation - Will let you if we hear anything. We asked Sheriff's Deputy, "Did you try for tracks (automobile finger prints)?" Which I can assure you there were plenty at this place. Answer - "No" would have to get a man out of Tupelo. Since cars are radio equipped deputy can call of Radio State Highway Patrol and trained investigator will or has been on way - usually prompt.

Mr. Officer, why is this not done???

It seems as if our local officials are unable to handle this lawless situation. Why do not accept outside help from trained investigators?

Again! Do we have organized crime?

Mr. Citizen and Resident, or visitor, taxpayer: If you wish to join this crusade against crime, drop a letter to P. O. Box 293, Iuka, Miss. Your name will not be released to authorities - but if you stand up against crime - this request will be placed and locked safety deposit box in Bank of Iuka or Security Bank of Amory. At proper time it may be necessary to release to proper state or federal authorities.

Your cooperation in this matter will be appreciated and at proper time we think that organized crime can be proved in Tishomingo County.

This cannot be carried out by me alone. It is our chance to be man or mouse. I PLED TO BE A MAN.

Mr. Burglar: With present enforcement and investigations - HAVE NO FEAR - JUST DO - leave your name and address or card or voluntarily confess. If you do this, we repeat - no fear from our local law enforcement. Ask questions, the evidence is all around. This is going to change, Mr. Burglar, with or without cooperation from local law enforcement - we need efficient help. Get out - take this as your last warning.

The second installment as to cooperation of some of our local officials and citizens of county will be in the paper again within 15 days. As investigation goes on, we will get more across to our citizens and residents of our lovely county of Tishomingo. Have no fears threats - your name will not be used!

Remember, complaints - regardless of kind - mail in only a few words necessary to 293, Iuka, Mississippi.

SIGNED: BEN F. POPE

Week number two of the 1973 session of the Legislature proceeded at a fairly rapid pace, since several hundred bills were introduced and referred to committees. We have until January 25 to introduce bills, excluding those of a revenue, appropriation or local and private nature. Again this year I am serving you on a Conservation and Water Resources Committee, Water and Ecology Sub-Committee; Judiciary "A" Committee, and the Committee on Pensions, Social Welfare and Public Health.

Several measures passed the House last and were sent to the Senate. One of these was a repeal of the law which prohibits hunting and fishing on Sundays. Another was an act to authorize the State Building Commission to construct and equip new facilities and to renovate certain present facilities at the state penitentiary.

There was no appropriation of money to carry out these plans, as that will come later, once the plan is approved.

United States District Judge Keady had ordered that a plan be submitted by January 12 for improvements to Parchman. The cost of this immediate and long-range improvements plan is estimated to be 4.4 million dollars. The state is under court order to make improvements and will have to wait and see if this general plan is acceptable by the court.

Another bill of interest may be released from the Appropriations Committee before this appears in print. This bill provides to the members of the Public Employees' Retirement System a uniform formula for calculating the retirement allowance for all retired persons at a rate of 1 5/8 for each year of service. In addition it provides a $3 per month minimum benefit for each year of service, and benefits to surviving spouses of members who die after age 60 with 10 years of credible service.

This plan also includes the "bonus" or additional payment in December. The calculation change will affect all retirees, including retired and retiring teachers, from 1953 to the present.

The change in percentage rate, the $3 per month minimum, and the thirteenth check are designed to do away with the loss that retirees have had due to exemptions to their average salary during their five highest work years. Even though these "exemptions" ranging from $240 to $1200 will no longer affect the checks of retired persons, including teachers, I am introducing a bill to remove these "exemptions" entirely from the system.

As stated last week, our state is in sound financial condition. I believe that we are in a position to return some of this money to the people in the form of tax reductions. I have authored one bill to reduce state income tax, and co-signed another to exempt prescription drugs from sales tax.

Remember -- should you need to contact your representatives while in Jackson, the Capitol number is 948-7321. We can return your call at no expense to you.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I'm not much of a hand to say "I told you so," but I'll bet many people who gave Jumper his second chance, are mentally kicking themselves, for that very act -- Especially after reading the article in the Memphis "Press-Scimitar" concerning the new super-highway, that is being proposed, to reach - 4 to 6 lane, mind you - from Kansas City to Jacksonville, Fla. And did you notice that Jumper made no reference to Hwy. #72, what-so-ever, but did say #78 would be 4-laned in 1974, "if funds became available"? Well, I wonder what became of the funds that were already ear-marked, for Hwy. #72 - Or at least, in his campaigning, our Jumper made that statement! 'Let's quit this political namby-pamby business and get us a highway commissioner who knows there is a North Miss.?'

COLD DAMAGE TO LANDSCAPE PLANTS

Perhaps the best general recommendation for pruning ornamental landscape plants is to wait until you are certain of the extent of freeze damage, then prune back to live wood. In some cases, this may be a matter of several weeks after the freeze. When it is evident that extensive damage has been done, the plant should be cut back to live wood. Water all plants thoroughly as soon as pipes thaw. This prevents drying which causes more damage than the cold.

A knife or the thumbnail can be used to scratch back and determine if the shrub has been killed all the way down the main trunk or main stems. Often the damage is in the outside twigs and branches, and the plant will need only a light clipping back.

If the cambium layer, just beneath the bark of the stem or trunk, shows discoloration, this is a sign that the plant needs cutting back below such damage. Any bark which has split or cracked should be removed by cutting below the damage. Crepe myrtle, Anthony Waterer Spirea, Althea, Butterfly Bush and Highbush Cranberry are among the shrubs which bloom on this year's growth of wood.

It is possible to prune this group after a heavy freeze and still have flowers from them in the summer. Tea roses, many of which were in bud, should be pruned to remove dead wood after it is evident. If the rose is of a vigorous variety, it will make sufficient growth during the summer even if it is killed back to the ground.

Evergreen plants as holly, pine, spruce and laurel usually are injured by sudden changes in temperature. In the earliest stages, freeze injury is evident as "scorching" of the leaves at the tips. On narrow-leaf evergreens the needles are browned entirely. The twigs are brittle and snap when bent.

If there is any doubt that twigs and branches have been killed, it is best to wait a few weeks until such damage will be easily seen. At that time, prune the plant back to live wood.

Annual and perennial flowers which have suffered cold or frost damage will undergo a dwarfing or crippled stage of growth. Some of them may remain permanently stunted. Such plants should be cut back at the tips, as soon as the extent of cold damage is recognizable. Any bulbs which were in bloom at the time of the freeze should be left along until the entire top growth has died to the ground. Then, dig and can before replanting.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fire Insurance on Cigars?

Once upon a time a man tried to collect fire insurance on a box of cigars. Having smoked them all, one at a time, he argued that they had been "destroyed by fire" and were therefore covered by his policy.

But the court pointed to a rule which is followed almost everywhere in the field of fire insurance: that damage done by a "friendly" fire is not covered. A friendly fire is one that is burning where it belongs—in an oven, in a fireplace, or at the tip of a cigar.

"In common parlance," a court explained, "one has not 'had a fire' so long as it has burned only in the place where it was intended to burn."

This rule has generally been applied not only to things burned on purpose, like the cigars, but also to things burned by mistake.

Consider two examples:
1) a housekeeper threw an envelope into the family furnace, unaware that it contained a valuable ring;

2) a man unwittingly tossed his wife's dentures, wrapped in tissue paper, into a trash fire.

Both the ring and the dentures were ruined in the flames, and claims for fire insurance were filed in both cases. But both claims were later denied in court, since the furnace fire and the trash fire were friendly—burning where they belonged.

Of course, a fire may change its character from friendly to unfriendly.

Suppose that some red hot cinders jump out of a crackling fireplace and set fire to nearby draperies. For this kind of damage, you could indeed collect compensation under the ordinary fire insurance policy.

For, as one court pointed out, most of the fires that eventually do cause damage are fires that were friendly when they began.

Jerry Lee Lewis To Appear At FSU

The dynamic Jerry Lee Lewis and his entire stage show will appear in Norton Auditorium at Florence State University on Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. The show is being sponsored by the Student Union Board.

Reserve seat tickets will go on sale Monday in the SUB at Florence State, Anderson's Bookland in Florence and Sound City in Muscle Shoals. General admission price for orchestra and mezzanine sections is $5, for balcony $4.50 and for FSU students, $3.50.

This engagement will immediately follow Lewis' return from a January recording session in London with Ringo Starr of the Beatles, Mick Jagger of the Rolling Stones, Rod Stewart, and other top name rock artists backing him on what will undoubtedly be one of the greatest albums of the record industry.

The release of this London rock album approximately one month after his FSU show will add another commendable credit to the fact that the "Killer" remains one of the most sought after entertainers in the world.

Jerry Lee, who was acclaimed "master of the entertainment world" when "Whole Lotta Shakin' Going On" and "Great Balls of Fire" tore up the country with unprecedented popularity, is again holding choice rating slots in both pop and country charts. He logged 23 successive "top ten" country hits and recently returned to the rock scene with two pop hits, plus one of his largest selling albums, "The Killer Rocks On."

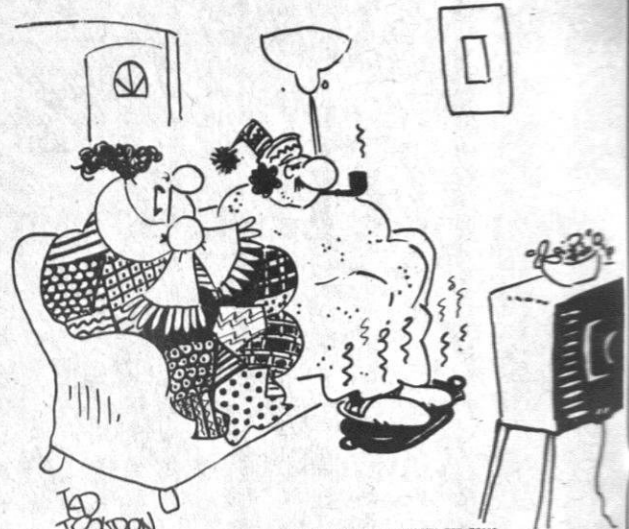

Lewis' appearance at FSU is one of the select college dates he will be playing this year. "I'm coming back to a Muscle Shoals area where a people helped me get started a big way back in 1956 at a Sheffield Community Center," Lewis said.

Chieftains Lose Five, Gain One

The Iuka Chieftain's basketball team, after an impressive 8-2 won-lost record, has been severely hampered with injuries and by player losses. As a result, the Chiefs have not been able to put anymore than three of their starting five on the hardwood at any one time. As a result, they have a five game losing streak going. Jim Ramsey, Coach of the Chieftains, when asked how he felt after losing two of his starting players, simply stated, "When it rains, it pours." Although the Chiefs have played as bad as the weather has been lately, they have not given up. Three of their last five losses have been decided by less than six points. For instance, last Friday night the Chiefs traveled to Cardinal Country and were handed a one point defeat. Also, last Friday night's contest with Kossuth was misleading in the final count of 82-69 over Iuka. The

Prominent Attorney Credits Chiropractic with Relief From Thirty-year-old Headache

Attorney Melvin Belli

"For 30 years I've had headaches," noted San Francisco attorney, Melvin Belli, wrote in the publication, Healthways. "Now that I'm without them, really for the first time in my adult life, I know how disabling and devastating headaches are. . . . Headaches, over the years, made me bellicose, truculent, belligerent, flamboyant, controversial and just plain, at times, disgusted with life." Mr. Belli attributed his long-term headaches to a fall from a fig tree when he was eight years old. "I've seen my x-rays and beautifully disrupted bodies three and four cervically. Over the years I've been to neurologists, neurosurgeons, orthopedists, psychiatrists, internal medicine men, healers of every sort. I've a bump on my forehead where alcohol was injected into my right frontal sinus to alleviate supposed irritation of a super-orbital nerve. . . . I've subsidized the neighborhood pharmacist buying pills that alternately elevated and depressed me. . . . I've sat under the sun, under sun lamps, under hot showers, in cold tubs, under plum trees and money trees, communed with doctors, priests, actors, judges, friends, dames, all to no avail . . . as far as alleviating these headaches. "Then one day when I was on trial in the Superior Court in Stockton, Calif., Dr. Frigard said he'd like to have a crack at my neck—and headaches. . . . He x-rayed me, then adjusted and manipulated and treated me. For the first time in over 30 years my headaches started to disappear. Then they did disappear. Now they are gone."

HIGHWAY 25 SOUTH — IUKA, MISS.

MINERAL SPRINGS HOTEL, IUKA, MISS.

BEFORE AND AFTER

Many years ago when Iuka was in its heyday, the Mineral Springs Hotel stood big and majestic on the site now occupied by Fred's Dollar Store. In its earliest years, the hotel was known as the Iuka Normal Institute. After the Institute closed, the building operated as a hotel. For many years the hotel did a flourishing business as a resort hotel and people came from far and near to vacation and to visit Mineral Springs Park where they drank of the famous mineral waters. It is told that the management of the hotel maintained a band which played on the veranda for the guest to enjoy dancing. Trains would stop while the festivities were in progress. For years the building was the home of the Vidette, the Health Department and office headquarters for TVA while Pickwick Dam was under construction. The Vidette and Health Department were still located in the building when it burned March 10, 1944.

wearing comfort and return to original shape without bagging, and usually machine washable and dryable for economy of care.

WHAT NEWS IN PACKAGING?

What's new in food packaging? We find one answer in the trend to more ready-to-serve foods. An example is grapefruit halves already segmented and marketed in a disposable bowl. While this product is now only available for use by hospitals, hotels and restaurants, it will later be available for retail stores.

Polyethylene bags for fluid milk are another packaging innovation. These are in common use in Canada and are starting to appear in U. S. markets.

It has been predicted that other fluids, such as citrus juices, may soon be marketed in the same kind of flexible bag or pouch.

More and more meat is being cut and packaged at central warehouses and delivered to retail stores ready to be placed in display counters. Fresh fruits and vegetables are already a ways down this marketing path.

A final prediction: More foods will be joining the jet set and moving from production to marketing centers by air. New, lighter weight yet stronger packaging is helping to make this possible.

Mrs. Iuka Hunt Dies In Oklahoma

Shortly after the Civil War, some members of the Woodall family, (of the Woodall Mountain family) moved to Texas. Around 1880 a daughter was born to the Woodalls and she was named Iuka. Iuka grew up and married a Mr. Hunt. The following obituary was brought to the attention of the Tishomingo County News by Mr. Clifton Reid:

Mrs. Iuka Hunt, 1800 N. Key Blvd., Midwest City, died Friday at Midwest City Memorial Hospital. Services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at St. Matthew United Methodist Church with burial in Chapel Hill Cemetery directed by Paylor's Midwest City Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hunt, who was the mother of Joe B. Hunt, Oklahoma City, state insurance commissioner, was born in Clifton, Tex., and came to Midwest City in 1950 from Seminole. She was a member of St. Matthew United Methodist Church.

Other survivors include two sons, Woody, Oklahoma City, and Orion Hunt, of the home, and a brother, I. W. Woodall, Edna, Tex.

PERSONALS

Among over 40 guests visiting in the home of David V. and Grace Phillips during the Christmas Holidays were their two daughters and their families: Mr. and Mrs. John C. McGaughey, Debbie and Paul of Memphis, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryant P. Hall, Tommy, David and Lisa, and Miss Jennifer Plant of Waverly, Tenn.

COLD - SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding — nose running — are your eyes watering and are you sneezing — sneezing — sneezing? Have you blown your nose until it is raw? We're sorry you're suffering so; obviously you're not aware of our product SYNA-CLEAR and this is our fault. SYNA-CLEAR is the original timed release tablet that gives up to eight hours of real relief from cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses. And that's a guarantee! We do not have millions to spend on TV to tell you about SYNA-CLEAR; just this small ad. We do not gimmick our Advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNA-CLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours relief per tablet or your money back in full. We could go into detail on how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNA-CLEAR. The druggist at the store listed below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula. SYNA-CLEAR costs a little more ($1.50 & $3.00 sizes) because it does more. You're buying relief and not gimmicks. Try SYNA-CLEAR as soon as possible — you know — all have to lose are your discomforts. This little ad has an awfully big job to do — to get you to try SYNA-CLEAR. So as a bonus, cut me out and send in with an empty SYNA-CLEAR carton and we'll mail you a check for $50 for just trying SYNA-CLEAR. If you have time to tell us about the results SYNA-CLEAR gave you, we would be pleased to hear from you.
