FIRST CHECK UNDER NEW SOCIAL SECURITY LAW — William Ellis Phillips is shown receiving the first check presented in the county under the new Social Security law. Miss Margaret June Woodley, Hospital Social Worker, and Ellis' mother, Mrs. Minnie V. Phillips, watch as Paul Fairley, Field Representative of the Tupelo Social Security Office, presents the check. Miss Woodley brought Ellis' case to the attention of the Social Security Office.

Countian Benefits From New Social Security Law

A new change in Social Security Laws now permits the Social Security Administration to pay disabled child's benefits on children who become disabled before age 22. William Ellis Phillips of Tishomingo County was the first to become eligible for the Social Security checks on the record of his deceased father. Under the old law, a child had to be disabled before age 18, and this is where the irony of "Ellis" Phillips' came in, for on his 18th birthday, 11/23/32 in a football game, he broke his neck while making a tackle. Since that time he has been almost totally bed confined, under the complete care of his family, his friends and the doctors and nurses at the Tishomingo County Hospital. Though paralyzed from the neck down, Ellis is mentally very alert and can remember small things "way back." The memory of the past is not dim to Ellis, and neither is his memory of his family, and friends that have helped him, visited him as time has gone by. He speaks with great humility when he mentions the many people in Tishomingo County who have come to visit him or talk to him, and just let him know that they really care.

Jack Rye Announces For Re-Election

In making my announcement as a candidate for re-election to the office of Chief of Police of the City of Iuka, I would like to first thank all the many fine people who voted for me and gave me the opportunity to serve you. It was just 16 months ago that you were kind enough to go to the polls and elect me twice to this important position. It has, indeed, been a real pleasure to serve you.

I have kept my promises to you and now, in return, I am asking that you give me a full term as your Chief of Police so that I may continue the good work we have been doing. It is with a great deal of gratitude that I point to the wonderful work I have done with our teenagers. It is through my efforts that we have been highly successful in curbing so much fast and reckless driving over our city streets. It has been my pleasure to work with the teenagers and I want to say here and now that I sincerely appreciate their cooperation.

I ask that you go to the polls on Tuesday, June 5, and re-elect me to a full term as your Chief of Police. My only promise is that I shall continue to improve our service and shall, to the best of my ability, give you the protection and law enforcement that you so justly deserve.

Again, let me say "Thanks" for your past support. I am looking forward to seeing as many voters as possible before the election. However, in case I don't get to see you, please accept this as my most humble plea for your vote and support.

Sincerely yours,
Jack Rye
Chief of Police
City of Iuka

This monthly Social Security check that will be paid to Ellis will be paid to him as long as he lives. It is an earned right that his father took care of when he paid Social Security on his work. This check is not the only big change that will help Ellis. Beginning in July 1973, he will get help from Medicare under Social Security to help pay for doctor and hospital bills.

The facts concerning Ellis getting a Social Security check are confidential. According to Hugh D. Tigrett, District Manager, Social Security Administration, Ellis and his mother, Mrs. Minnie V. Phillips, gave their consent in order to acquaint others about Social Security.

TISHOMINGO COUNTY REST HOME CHAPEL — This drawing is the proposed chapel for the Tishomingo County Rest

Home, which will be located next to the Home. The proposed cost is $15,000, and all persons interested in helping with this worthy cause are urged to give their support.

The Suicidal Animal - Man

"Man is the Animal that Blushes," observed Mark Twain. "He is the only one that does it—or has occasion to."

Contemplating "The Damned Human Race," Twain explores further the uniqueness of man. A sportsman will wantonly kill beings he has no use for, but an anaconda won't. Only man holds grudges and plans revenge. No other animals cause pain for the pleasure of watching suffering. Individual battles occur between animals, but only man has been able to conduct wars. Only men enslave each other. Man alone can be a hypocrite.

Morality

In short, the uniqueness of man is that he can do evil. Twain continues: "What, now, do we find the Primal Curse to have been? Plainly what it was in the beginning: the infliction upon man of the Moral Sense; the ability to distinguish good from evil; and with it, necessarily, the ability to do evil for there can be no evil act without the presence of consciousness of it in the doer of it."

If we did not know right from wrong, Twain claims, we wouldn't constantly be doing wrong. We would need no blushes, for we would have no shame.

Perhaps we could outlaw the Moral Law? It's been tried. (Some people think successfully.) But the understanding of right and wrong is not an external edict stamped on the human animal to turn him into man.

In essence, the moral law impressed on every man's heart is part of his God-consciousness. Man is spiritual, and his spirit is aware of God's spirit. This awareness, as I see it, is his moral standard.

Twain views the moral sense, as it is popular to do today, as a hindrance to letting man do as he wants and feel good about it.

But believing this will not make it so. Like it or not, man's ethical consciousness cannot be expunged.

The Moral

Twain suggests that if men were not told their behavior was evil it would improve. That was tried the last generation and the rising crime rate has proved it false. Of course, the fact that we label some behavior "crime" implies it is evil, so we really have not discontinued judging. Perhaps, as has been suggested for "victimless crimes," crimes could be overcome by abolishing the laws against them. In fact, why not do that for all crimes? Isn't it logical to say that if we had no laws we would have no crimes? Anarchy must be bliss.

This foolish reasoning overlooks the law of God written in every man. Just as the bases of our civil rights are the "inalienable rights" given us by God, the basis of our criminal laws is the moral law of God.

Immorality is spiritual suicide.

Farmer's Tax Guide Available

The 1973 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" is now available from county agricultural agents or the Internal Revenue Service, a spokesman from the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The booklet, IRS publication 225, shows farmers how to fill out the 1040 tax return and which supporting schedules must be attached. The publication also includes a listing of important Federal tax dates for farmers.

Written in easy-to-understand language, the tax guide contains many examples of how farm transactions are reported for Federal income tax purposes.

Although primarily written to help farmers prepare their 1973 tax return, the Guide serves as a useful reference throughout the year.

VA Questions And Answers

Q: If I go to school full time under the G. I. Bill can I work in my spare time and still receive my monthly educational allowance?

A: There is no restriction that prevents you from working while attending school full time, nor does it affect your monthly entitlement.

Q: Can you tell me how much the VA has to pay for those television advertisements and radio spots we hear?

A: VA pays nothing as these are public service announcements donated by the media in the interest of keeping veterans informed of their benefits under the G. I. Bill.

Q: My son is a recent veteran and is addicted to drugs. He claims that he wants to kick the habit. Can the VA help him?

A: If your son will visit the nearest VA hospital or outpatient clinic he will receive immediate assistance. If none is near him, telephone the nearest VA office to find out where he can receive this assistance.

Changes Made In Medicare

Many changes have been made in Medicare during the six years it has been in existence. According to Hugh Tigrett, District Manager of the Tupelo Social Security Office, some of the biggest changes go into effect this year.

Starting July 1973, Medicare protection will be extended to disabled people under age 65 who have been getting a social security disability check for 24 months or more. Also in July, Medicare will be extended to people under 65 who have chronic kidney disease that requires dialysis or a kidney transplant. This kidney condition and a certain amount of work under social security will qualify a person for Medicare even though they are not receiving a social security check.

Tigrett went on to explain another big change made by the 1972 Amendments. Before the amendments anyone wishing medical insurance benefits had to specifically request this coverage. Effective July 1973 anyone qualifying for hospital insurance under Medicare because of age, disability or kidney condition will automatically get the medical insurance unless they file a written notice stating they do not want it. At the present time the basic cost of medical insurance is $5.80 per month but this will be increased to $6.30 in July.

There is no longer a three-year time limit to enroll for medical insurance. Tigrett stressed the fact that there are people in this area who failed to get medical insurance because they waited more than three years after age 65 to file for it. If these people are willing to pay a small penalty in the amount of their premiums they can enroll anytime through April 2, 1973.

The increasing cost of medical service in general made it necessary to increase the patient's responsibility in medical as well as hospital insurance. The patient is now responsible for the first $72 of the hospital charge instead of $65 as it was in 1972. The yearly deductible for medical insurance is increased from $50 to $60.

People in this area that didn't have enough work to get hospital insurance can now qualify. This protection is available if they wish to enroll and are willing to pay $33 a month for premiums. In addition you must also be enrolled for medical insurance before you can buy the hospital protection.

These are by no means all of the changes, but in Tigrett's opinion these are the most important ones.

To be real happy work and don't worry—otherwise worry all the time and don't work.

Prisoners Talk About Faith

As returning former prisoners of war have set foot on our shores again, the recurrent theme of their comments has been, "God bless America."

The repetition of this sentiment by a number of former prisoners led to speculation that it might have been suggested by U.S. officials who saw the men while they were on their way home.

But Navy Captain Howard E. Rutledge said, "I am surprised that anyone could conceive that we could come out of there and say anything but 'God bless America.'"

One former prisoner, speaking on behalf of his comrades, said, "Our patience may have faltered, but our faith never did—our faith in God, our faith in our families, and our faith in our country."

God was There

So far, little has been said about the tortures which were inflicted on these men. It is known that some of them were beaten with rifle butts and clubs and some were hung upside-down from beams until they were ready to do as their captors required. But more complete information as to the treatment they received will be withheld until all of our men are out of the Communists' hands.

However, several former prisoners have revealed that their faith in God was a significant factor in their being able to endure their prison experiences. "We found God to be with us there," said

one. "You come to understand God a lot more under those conditions."

Another man said, "I couldn't have made it if it wasn't for Jesus Christ, and being able to look up and see Him in some of the trying times."

Others told of special answers to prayers in times of special need. One said, "God numbed the pain." Another said, "He enabled me to go on when I couldn't endure any longer on my own."

Let's Not Forget

In Psalm 116 there is a strikingly similar testimony: "I love the Lord, because He hath heard my voice.... He hath inclined His ear unto me.... I found trouble and sorrow. Then I called upon the name of the Lord.... I was brought low, and He helped me."

As we have heard these brave men say to us in their brief television appearances, "Thank you, America, for caring," and "We never lost faith in you," we all have cause to thank God that our country proved worthy of that confidence.

But let's remember that some of our finest men are still held by the Communists—and many who have been listed as "missing in action" may actually be languishing in prisons, unreported. We must not fail them.

These men need and deserve our prayers.

Adequate Insulation

saves you money and makes you more comfortable

Full insulation, properly installed, will save you money on heating and cooling costs, and will increase your comfort.

A house without insulation may be drafty and uncomfortable, and it will cost about twice as much to heat and about one-third more to cool than the same-sized house with full insulation.

Recommended amounts of insulation in this region are 6 inches in the ceiling, 3½ inches and vapor barrier in outside walls, and 2 inches and vapor barrier under the floor.

See your builder, insulation dealer, or us for more information on how to save money on heating and cooling costs—while increasing the comfort of your home—with adequate insulation.

DAIRY NOTES

Every time you do not do a complete job of milking you lose two ways. You lost money and the residual milk remaining helps to dry off the cow just a little bit.

When a cow is mistreated and not properly and completely stimulated she cannot give full cooperation and does not have a complete milk letdown. The most important part of milking is the thorough and complete stimulation of the cow before putting on the milking machine. You do not wash the udder just for sanitation. The massage that goes with the washing stimulates a full and complete milk letdown.

HOME GARDENING

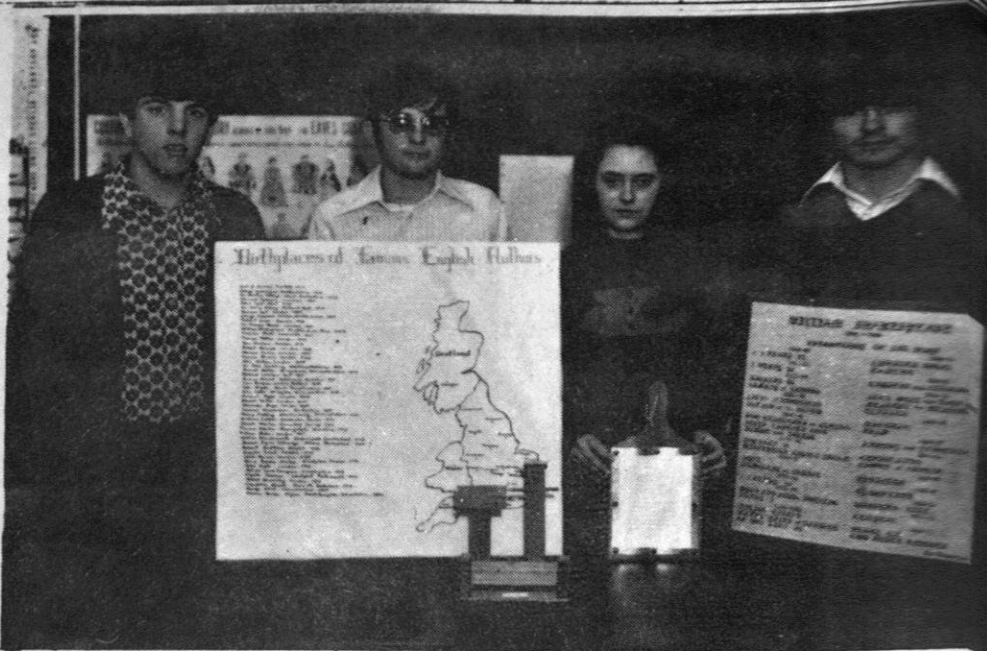

March and April are big planting months for the home vegetable gardener. Don't get in too big a hurry about planting the warm season crops like snapbeans, lima beans, sweet corn, okra, tomatoes, squash and melons. Wait until the soil warms up. The lowest soil temperature for good germination of these vegetables is 60 degrees. Warmer would be better.

Transplants of tomatoes, peppers and eggplant will get a better start if you let the soil warm up before you set them. If you are using plants in peat pots, be sure to cover the peat pot completely with soil. Otherwise the peat pot will work like a wick and remove all the moisture from around the roots of the young plants.

IUKA, ROUTE 1

The health of the people is very good in this section at present. About all the news we get from the daily papers is war news. The most interesting thing to us is will our rulers keep us out of the war. We do not believe that they will especially if the conflict lasts many years. The wonder of the whole thing to us is why do the people not kill old Hitler, the old insane fool. He is more dangerous to civilization than a mad dog or a mean one gangster, and if there is anything worse than that he is as bad as that too.

SOYBEAN WEED CONTROL

The major weed control activity in soybeans for the next month or so will likely be the incorporation of Treflan or Planavin for control of grasses and some small seed broadleaf weeds.

Cobex is also labeled for use on soybeans and is similar to Treflan or Planavin. Soybeans are more sensitive to injury from Cobex and growers are urged to take a cautious look at it this year.

Only Treflan has labeled clearance for the double (2X) rate for control of rhizome johnsongrass. This treatment was highly successful last year where growers determined the correct rate for the soil type and where adequate soil prepar-

TISHOMINGO COUNTY HOSPITAL

IUKA, MISSISSIPPI

"YOUR HOSPITAL AT WORK"

A FOUR PAGE PICTURE REPORT ON THE HOSPITAL AND EMPLOYEES

Construction of the Tishomingo County Hospital was started in August of 1958 and completed in December of 1959. Open house was held on December 5th and 6th, and on Monday, December 7th, the twenty bed Hill-Burton Facility opened its doors for the admission of patients.

The hospital consisted of twenty patient beds, a two-bassinet nursery, one operating room, one delivery room, laboratory and X-ray departments, one kitchen and a business office. At this time twenty-five people were employed, six of whom remain today.

The first patient to be admitted to the Tishomingo County Hospital was Mr. L. F. Wadkins of Route 1, Iuka. He was transferred from the Cosby Hospital-Clinic. According to a December 10, 1959 issue of "The Vidette," Mr. Wadkins was suffering from a ruptured disc sustained while working in the asphalt mines in Margerum. Mr. Wadkins spent eight days in the hospital, being discharged on December 14, 1959.

As is true with most health care facilities today, the Tishomingo County Hospital quickly out-grew its original twenty beds. A new addition was completed in 1963, which added fourteen beds and brought the total number to thirty-four beds.

This addition is what is known today as the North Wing with the original twenty beds being today's West Wing.

In 1965 construction was started on a twenty-one bed addition, which is today's East Wing. This addition was completed in 1966. Renovation of parts of the existing facility was also carried out at this time. A new kitchen, business office, conference room, administrator's office, laundry, and lobbies were constructed. X-ray, laboratory and surgery departments were enlarged.

The pharmacy was moved to larger quarters and storage space was increased.

Prior to 1966 all hospital laundry was sent to a commercial laundry for cleaning. On Sunday, February 28, 1971, open house was held for the hospital's latest addition - a forty bed Extended Care Facility. The ECF houses separate kitchen facilities, as well as the EEG department. Electroencephalography has to do with brain-function testing.

This addition brings the total number of patient beds to ninety-five. The Extended Care Facility is a showpiece of beauty with its modern styling and scenery.

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the Tishomingo County Hospital sponsored a Practical Nursing Program, which began April 6, 1970, at the Tishomingo County Vocational - Technical Education Complex. On April 23, 1971, thirteen students graduated from the program.

These thirteen graduates successfully completed a state board examination to become Licensed Practical Nurses and at present twelve of these nurses are employed by the hospital.

Today the Tishomingo County Hospital employs approximately 150 people. Patient admissions have surpassed the 35,000 mark. The latest in equipment and procedure is instituted to provide the highest quality of patient care.

A two-bed Coronary Care Unit is maintained with sophisticated monitoring equipment both in the unit and at the nearby nurse's station. The most comprehensive care is rendered to all coronary patients.

The modern up-to-date laboratory does more than 70,000 tests per day to aid the physicians in diagnosing and treating.

The newborn nursery has grown from its two bassinet beginning to eight bassinets with facilities for caring for premature infants.

An ambulance service is the latest in an ever-growing list of services offered to the community by the Tishomingo County Hospital-your hospital.

Mrs. Sandra Thompson mans the hospital switchboard and Mrs. Dianne Ables assists in bookkeeping. Mrs. Mildred Ramsey, Utilization Coordinator, Miss Shirley Thorne, Typist, and Mrs. Patsy Smith, Bookkeeper, are also shown.

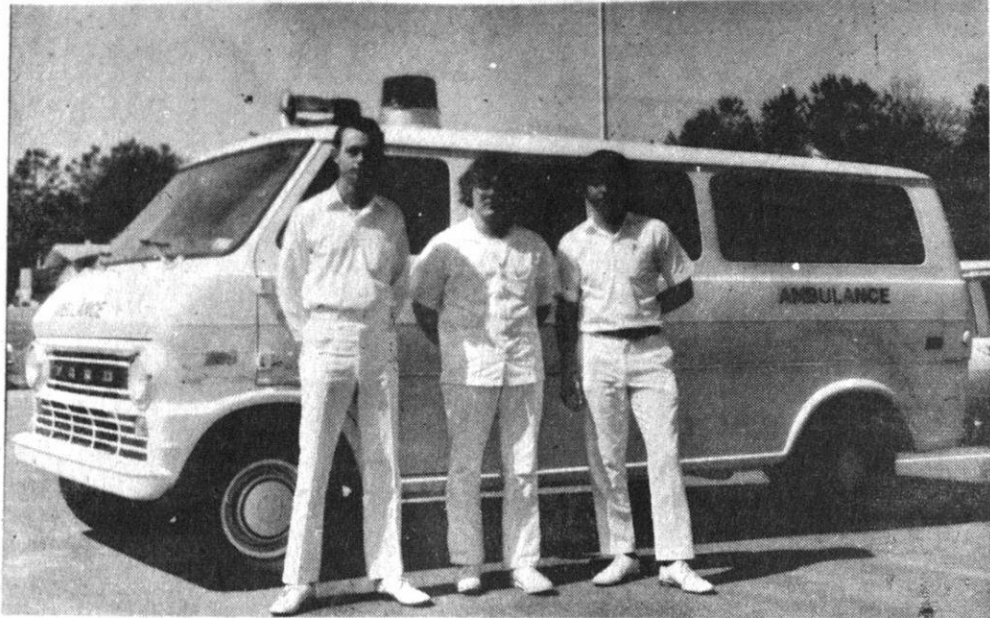

Medical Records require long hours of work for all required reports to be dictated and typed according to specifications. Mrs. Betty James and Christine Holtsford are busy typing reports.

Purchasing agent, Mr. Tilton Parker, has the momentous task of securing and maintaining supplies for the hospital.

Mr. Gene McLarty assists Mr. Parker in distributing supplies to all hospital departments.

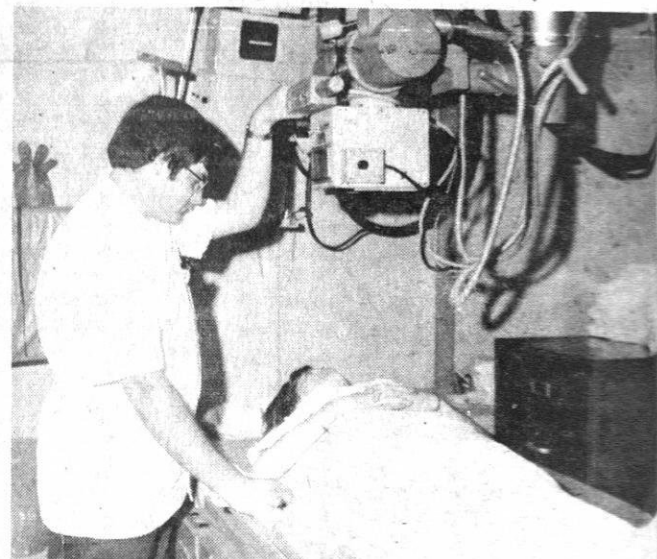

Four newly arrived van ambulances are being prepared for service to the people of our county. Shown above are three ambulance attendants, Mr. Lucian Puckett, Mr. Joe Walker, and Mr. John David Murphy. Each ambulance attendant is required to pass the American Red Cross First Aid Program and attends further training classes at the hospital.

Mrs. Lucille Phifer, LPN, Mrs. Edmondson, LPN, and Mrs. Sally Ragan, LPN, are pictured with Miss Loraine McDaniel and Miss Dianne Northington, Nurses Aides. They are discussing complete nursing care of the patients in the ECU and Nursing Home, trying to make these patients as much at home as possible. The patients enjoy the TLC (tender, loving, care) given by these employees.

Supervising the maintenance department is one of the original hospital employees, Mr. Earl Daugherty. Assisting him in maintaining machinery is Robert Scott and Dewey Holway. Roy Moore is the painter, who keeps the room painted and in good repair.

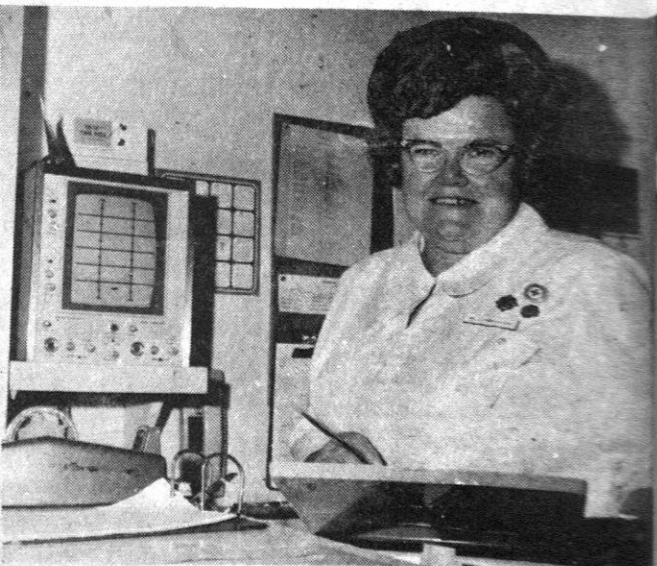

The hospital is equipped with two X-ray machines and a fluoroscope. Jimmy McVay, X-ray Technician, is preparing to make X-rays, which will be read by Dr. D. F. Crowe, Radiologist.

Charlene McBride, payroll clerk, checks records with Kathy Fredrick in the business office.

Mrs. Joy Honeycutt, Medical Records Librarian, and Miss Glenda Dean, Bookkeeper, work efficiently to keep records and books in order.

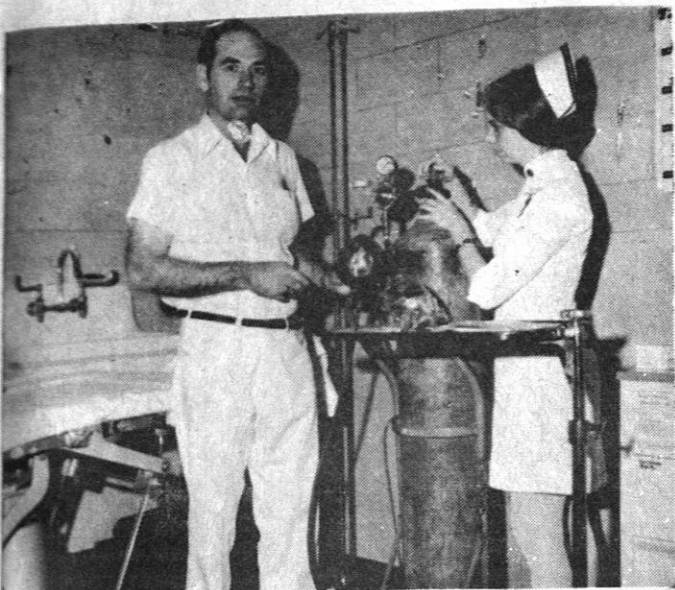

Mrs. Juanita Crawford, R.N., is pictured by the "Slave" monitor, located at Desk #1. This intricate piece of equipment is a part of the 2 bed coronary care unit. This monitor records a continuous term of the patients heart even though the CCU is distance from the nursing

Perhaps one of the most important areas of the hospital is the emergency room. This specialized area contains all the necessary equipment for handling the acutely sick or injured. Above Miss Whitfield, R.N., demonstrates the oxygen resuscitator to Mr. John Smith, Orderly.

Many hospitalized patients require intensive re-education in diet and food preparation due to illness or injury. Mrs. Martha Segars, ADA, Hospital Dietitian, assists Mr. Berdie DeGraw with his meal tray. Mrs.

Segars supervises the dietary department and is instrumental in training all new employees in this area.

The Nursery is perhaps the happiest areas in the hospital. "Mama Dora" ie Mrs. Dora Singleton is busy rocking the newest arrival. The Nursery is also equipped for intensive newborn care of so required.

Mrs. Fredda Sanderson demonstrates the EEG machine used to measure the electrical activity of the brain. This useful piece of equipment was added to our services only last year. Mrs. Sanderson was trained by Dr. Danemon of Atlanta, Ga., an expert in reading and interpreting EEG tracings.

Recently the hospital purchased a "Blood Gas" analyzing machine. Mr. Larry Johnson, Lab Technician, demonstrates the procedure used to measure the amounts of oxygen in the blood sample. This piece of equipment will give very valuable information to the doctor caring for patients with heart or lung disease.

Davis, Surgery Assistant, removing surgical pack from the autoclave. The autoclave sterilizer utilizes heat under pressure to kill all living organisms.

Ward Secretaries available at each nursing desk answer the phone and assist the nurses with maintaining proper records of each patient entrusted to their care. This relieves the nurse for duties at the bedside. Mrs. Debbie Barnett and Mrs. Brenda Sanderson review the proper order for chart contents.

Nurses Edna Barnes, LPN; Cynthia Reeves, Ward Secretary; Jeanette Orrick, GN; and Pat Arnold, R.N., discuss

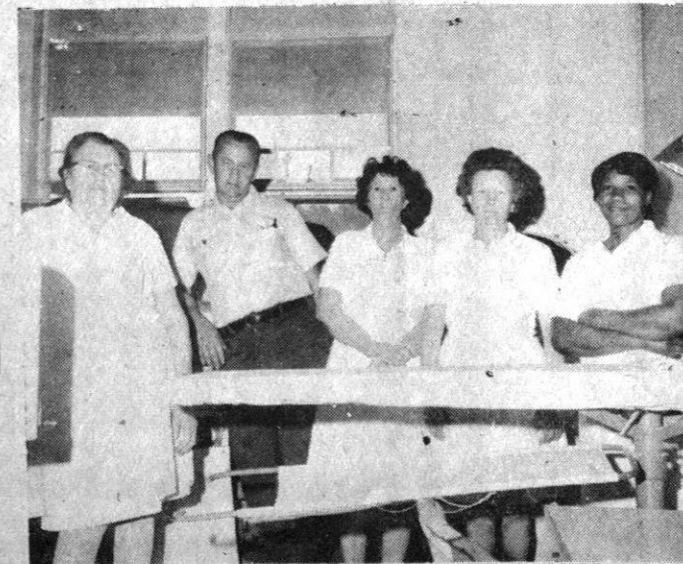

patient care. During each tour of duty the nurses confer with each other to plan for continuity of patient care.

At meal time, the most popular place is the Dietary Department. The hospital maintains two kitchen and dining areas. Recently, selective menus were made available to patients on unrestricted diets. The selective menus give the patient a choice of food he prefers to be served. Some of the dietary employees are:

Ollie Bullard, Marjorie Stenson, Jennie Rae Morris, Glenda Johnson, Bernice Lambert, Maudie Nunley, Margaret Robinson and Alma Kennedy.

Mrs. Joyce Borden and Mrs. Cheryl Clark, R.N.'s and Co-Directors of Nursing, discuss a problem in the hospital library.

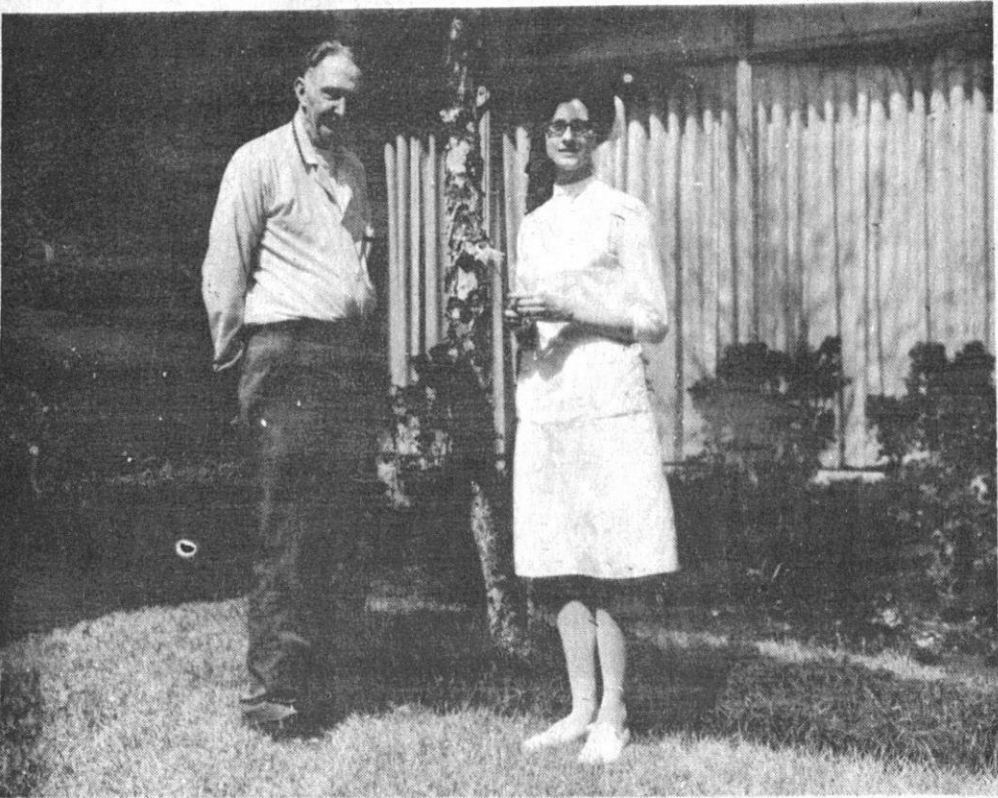

Patient Care involves all employees of the hospital and often is the topic of conversation during morning breaks. Mrs. Brenda Edmondson discusses Discharge Plans with Mrs. Shelia Lefan, Miss Frieda Harris, Mr. Craig Jourdan and Miss Dianne Northington. Miss Harris is a Nursing Student at NEMJC and Mr. Jourdan is an Inhalation Therapy Student. They work part-time as nursing assistants until graduation.

A Beauty and Barber Shop was included during construction of the Extended Care Facility. This shop is available to all in-patients of the hospital, ECU or Nursing Home. Mrs. Edna Byrom receives a new hairdo from Miss Freida Harris, Nursing Assistant.

Mrs. Anne Meade, R.N., strolls through the courtyard with Mr. Millard Mansell. The shrubs were planned so that at least one bush is in bloom every season throughout the year. Needless to say this beautiful garden gives the ECU patients a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. John Daniel, Chief Orderly, and Mrs. Edna Barnes LPN, enjoys lunch with Mr. Murphy

Lunch time in the new cafeteria is especially inviting due to the beautifully decorated ECU dining room. Mr. Clay and Mr.

Johnson are served by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. McMeans and Mrs. Kennedy.

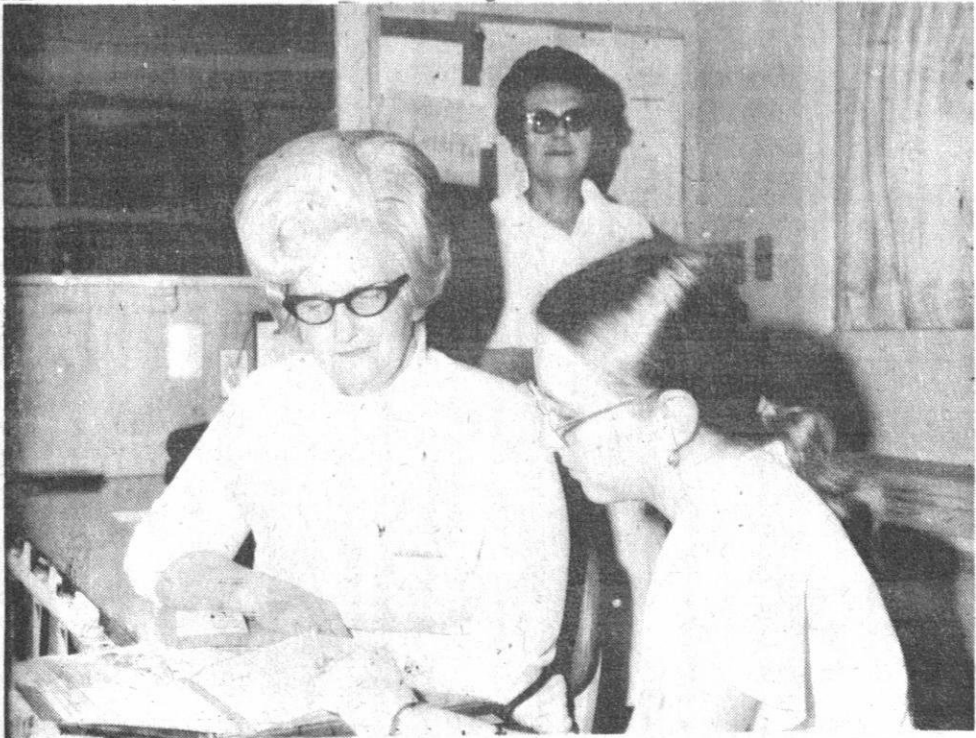

The ECU lobby is a favorite gathering spot for patients and family. Here Miss Lorene McDaniel and Miss Mildred Johnson enjoy an opportunity to sit and relax, while Mrs. Grace Monroe, Mrs. Lora Roberts, Mrs. Shirley Belue and Mrs. Aline Smith look on.

Mrs. Dianne Pickens, Ward Secretary, Mrs. Hilda Price, LPN, Mrs. Birdie White, Nursing Aide, and Mrs. Lottie

Woodruff, Nursing Aide, are assigned to work on the East Wing. The East Wing is composed of private rooms only.

It is 11:00 p.m. and the change of shifts, Mrs. Shelia Hinds, S.N., is giving report on patient's condition to Mrs. Ruby Blackard, LPN. Looking on is Mrs. Birdie White, nursing technician.

A very important diagnostic aid is the hospital laboratory. Mrs. Sandra Skinner, Chief Technologist, looks over a blood slide and Mr. Clay Cross agrees.

Last month over 2400 separate studies were done. The lab is under the overall supervision of Dr. Carl Welch, Pathologist.

Mrs. Joan Marlar, LPN, and Mrs. Ruth Broadway, LPN, are pictured in the Operating Room. Surgery, Obstetrical and Recovery Rooms are united in one major nursing department with Mrs. Marlar as Supervisor.

From The State Capitol

By Martha Carole White, State Representative

As an enthusiastic a welcome as has ever been given to a guest of the Legislature was given to Mississippian Maj. Thomas Collins, who was recently released after seven years in a North Vietnam prison camp. He spoke briefly to the House and Senate separately last week, and received two standing ovations.

The "compromise" bill dealing with interest rates charged by small loan companies became a reality during the week, as I predicted it would in the last column. The new bill lowered the interest rates, did away with "flipping," or adding interest on interest, and provided for a rebate of unearned service charges. I voted for this bill and it passed the House unanimously.

I, along with others of the Northeast Mississippi delegation, held out for this bill, which we thought would bring relief to the borrowing public, and at the same time be a bill the loan companies could live with.

I felt that the "flipping" and the rebate provisions were important issues, and so when it was clear that the bill cut "flipping" out and put the rebate in, I was able to vote "yes."

Other House actions last week: A bill to license and regulate the practice of chiropractic, which sets up a Board of Chiropractic Examiners and prevents certain kinds of advertising. . . A bill to increase salaries of highway patrolmen, radio dispatchers, inspectors and assistant inspectors. . .

A bill for an increased appropriation for the restoration of the Governor's mansion. Although I want the mansion restored and its beauty and historic value preserved, we are annually asked to appropriate money---a million here and a million there---for this project.

I am not convinced that we have been getting our moneys worth. The Legislature is not regularly given any estimates of cost and ideas of what construction is being planned. I voiced this opinion during debate, and the next morning I found that someone had put a complete preliminary study of the restoration project on my desk! So if any of you want to see it, you may!

The Senate passed an education and teacher pay raise bill, similar to the one the House passed, but with increases, so a conference committee will be appointed to work on the differences and bring it back to us for final passage.

We will be finishing the business of the 1973 session by April 1, so if you need to contact us, call 948-7321, or write to us at the New Capitol Building, Jackson.

Miss Nellie Horton's HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

LOOK FOR THE FOODS WITH ADDED NUTRIENTS

Why are vitamins added to some foods and not to others?

Since average American diets fall short of some important and essential food nutrients, the American Council on Foods and the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council decided to do something to help over come this need. Jointly, they approved adding or restoring certain nutrients to some of our everyday foods, and the federal government sets standards specifying the nutrients and amounts to be added.

Foods containing added nutrients are white bread and flour, cereals, macaroni products, rice, corn meal, milk and margarine.

"Enriched," "restored" and "fortified" are terms used to describe the addition of three B-Vitamins and iron to white flour, macaroni products, corn meal and rice.

"Restored" is the total replacement of certain nutrients which have been lost in the refining or processing of food. For example, some breakfast cereals are restored when iron and the B-Vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin and niacin) have been added back to the product after processing.

Milk in its natural state contains only a very small amount of Vitamin D. Now milk sold in retail stores has both Vitamins D and A added.

Margarine is made from vegetable fats, or a combination of animal and vegetable fats, other than butterfat. Most brands of margarine in the grocery stores have been fortified with Vitamin A.

As consumers, we should make the most of our food dollars. Check labels of bread and cereal products and buy the "enriched" packages. Look for the addition or "fortified" with Vitamins A and D on fresh milk, evaporated milk, dry milk solids and margarine.

THE WASTEBASKET HAS A JOB TO DO

Every room needs a wastebasket. One placed near a desk, dresser, table or chest will make it easy to get rid of waste and keep the room neat. Remember a good wastebasket has these points:

It is large enough at the top to catch paper easily.

It is easy to clean and keep clean.

It is attractive and harmonizes in color and style with the room where it is.

Buy a wastebasket to suit your decor. Or, you can repaint an old wastebasket or paint a metal can or large ice cream carton that you may obtain from a drug store.

If you repaint an old wastebasket, you will first want to but it well with steel wool or coarse sandpaper to remove rust and to smooth out the old covering. This also makes it take the new coat of paint better.

The color you choose for the paint should be in harmony with the other things in the room. It might be the same shade as the color of the walls or it could be a harmonious contrasting color. The color should never be gaudy. You may want to paint the inside a different color from the outside, but be careful to select colors that look well together.

High School Day Set At MSCW

Some 650 high school and junior college women representing 36 states are expected for 'W' Day as the guests of Mississippi State College for Women on March 24.

The day-long program will include entertainment, campus tours, a coffee house and open houses hosted by social clubs, residence halls, denominational groups and student organizations.

There will also be opportunities for the students to meet with campus leaders, department heads, administrative personnel and faculty members, as well as representatives of the offices of the registrar, academic dean and admissions and financial aid.

A luncheon will be highlighted by entertainment by the Meh Ladies, MSCW's 14-member pop singing group. An afternoon "Mini-Rock Festival" is scheduled to be held in the music building with entertainment to be supplied by Pi-wacquet, a five-member rock band from Auburn University, and Toboggan, a three-member band.

Barbara Ross, president of the Student Association, will preside and students will be welcomed at a 10 a.m. assembly by Dr. Harvey Craft, dean of instruction; Miss Linda O. Dye, dean of students; and Dr. Jerre S. Cofield, director of admissions and financial aid. 'W' Day is held twice annually, with one program in the Fall and the other in the Spring.

'72 Record Breaking Year For South Central Bell

More telephones in service than ever before and more local and long distance calls by customers made 1972 a record-breaking year for South Central Bell. The company also spent a new record amount -- $536 million -- to improve and expand communications facilities for its four million customers.

In the company's 1972 Annual Report, released March 9, president W. C. Bauer pointed out that "the costs of providing service also exceeded previous records."

At year's end, the company had almost $4 billion invested in telephone facilities in its five-state operating territory of Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. Another $4 billion in construction, or as much as is now invested, will be required to adequately meet customers' needs in the next six or seven years.

At the end of the year, the company had $925 invested in wire, cable, switching equipment and other facilities for each main telephone in service. But in 1972, for each new customer gained, the company added about 2 1/2 times this amount, or $2,342, for new facilities.

The company installed its seven millionth telephone in September and by year's end had a net gain of 474,000 telephones in service, a one-third greater gain than in 1971.

Companywide, the report stated, "South Central Bell earned 8.03 percent on average capital in 1972, up from 7.67 percent in 1971, an improvement barely enough to keep pace with this year's increase in the level of interest cost for embedded debt. Under current economic conditions, our earnings should be significantly higher."

The report pointed out that the additional revenues gained from some recent upward repricing of services have not offset the much greater increase in total cost levels occurring in recent years. Further repricing will be necessary if sufficient revenues are to be available to fulfill service obligations, it was noted.

According to the Report, telephone service will continue to be a bargain by any measure even after the repricing. For example, since 1960 the price of overall telephone service has increased only six percent -- less than one-seventh as much as the Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index, which has gone up 44 percent.

In spite of record accomplishments, Bauer stated that the company needs to do still more to improve service in rural areas. "Due to lack of facilities, we have not been able to provide telephone service for 37,600 families who have asked for it," he said. "An additional 74,600 who are on party lines have asked to be put on a line by themselves or on a line with fewer parties." According to Bauer, the problem is not technological skill, but financial capability, since an investment of over one-half billion dollars would be required to provide everyone in rural areas with the kind of service they desire. "We can meet every service request if we are permitted to price our services in line with today's costs," Bauer said.

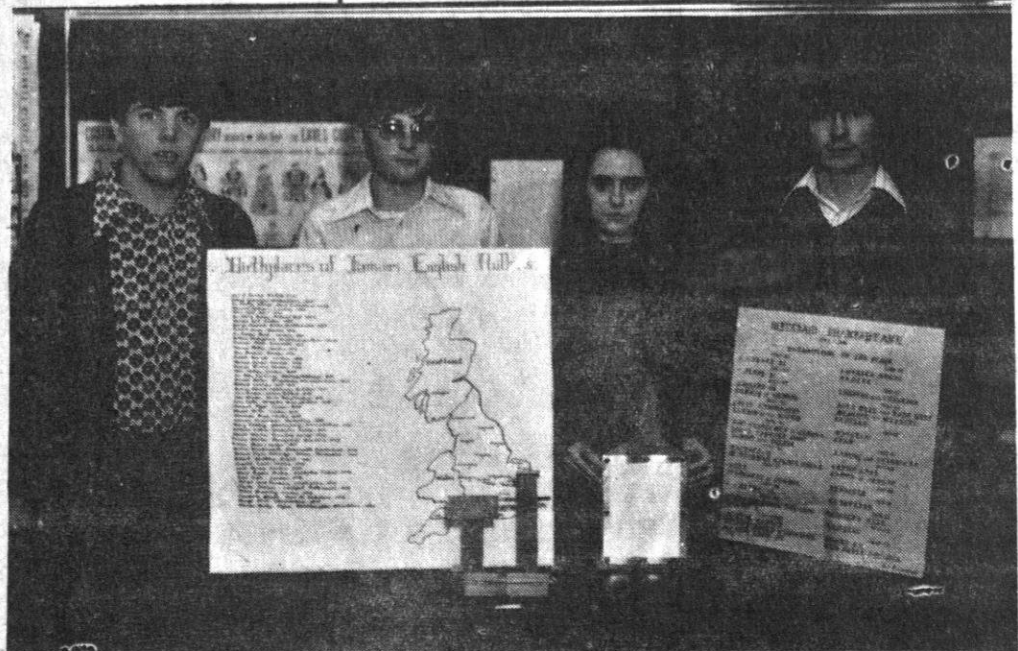

"Communication is important to the people in the area we serve," Bauer noted. And he added, "we confidently meet the new year united in our determination to insure that the people of this region can communicate more easily, and at the lowest possible cost, because of the job we do."

ANIMALS

BY MARY B. DAVIS

By Mary B. Davis
WHAT TO FEED?
Occasionally, someone asks me what we feed our animals and how often cats and dogs should be fed. We have no one particular product that we feed our cats and dogs. But we do make sure that what we feed is a complete and balanced diet. Good grades of pet products indicate on the label that the food contains all the ingredients needed for a wholesome diet. Cats and dogs should be fed according to ages and sizes. Some of the pet-food products carry a feeding schedule right on the packages. But very young animals need more feedings than older ones; and if no feeding schedule is available, just plain common sense is the best guide to use.

The following feeding information was sent to me by The American Humane Association: (1) Cats -- Feed your cat on a regular schedule and in the same place. When your cat reaches six months of age it should only be fed twice a day. Food should be served at room temperature. Its diet should consist of a high quality prepared cat food, supplemented occasionally with vegetables, cottage cheese or eggs, chopped raw meat such as lamb kidney or beef. Avoid uncooked pork or fish. Fresh water should be available at all times. Some cats may enjoy milk but it isn't essential for the mature cat and may be upsetting for some.

(2) Dogs -- Dogs have precise nutritional requirements. Prepared dog foods of high quality, labeled "complete," "balanced," or "fully nourishing," will give your dog a nutritious diet. Guidelines for quantity are on the can or carton and are based on the dog's weight. Remember, puppies need more food per body weight than grown dogs. Supplements such as cooked red meats, fowl, fish and vegetables; and a limited amount of starches may be served occasionally. But DO NOT OVERFEED your dog.

Always keep fresh, clean cool water available. Never feed chicken, turkey or chop bones. Again, I'd like to emphasize, please use common sense in all cases. And be sure to remember the water.

Items such as quilts, crocheted articles, wood carvings and needlework will be on display.

In an effort to encourage our aged citizens to pursue an enjoyable hobby and at the same time receive a financial profit, the Mississippi State Council on Aging has initiated this project.

Welfare Statistics

During the month of February, the State Department of Public Welfare issued $8,957,154 to 156,845 persons through its needy aged, blind, disabled and dependent children assistance programs. Each person who receives a welfare check is eligible for Medicaid. An additional 5,821 persons were determined eligible for Medicaid benefits only. This group includes needy caretakers, etc. They do not receive a welfare check.

Miss Margaret J. Woodley, director of Tishomingo county Department of Public Welfare, reports 1,203 checks were issued to Tishomingo countians through the four public assistance programs; 30 applications requesting assistance were filed and 9 new public assistance cases were approved. The report shows 40 persons eligible for Medicaid only.

A total of $70,042 was spent overall for public assistance. Of this amount $46,628 went to 807 persons in the old age assistance category; $1,015 to 15 legally blind persons; $16,822 to 258 permanently and totally disabled persons. In the aid to dependent children category, 123 checks were issued for 293 children in the ADC grants. A total of $5,577 went to ADC families.

Baja In Production

BMH is again sponsoring a Junior Achievement company. The Junior Achievement program is a practical method of exposing high school students to the virtues and mechanisms of the free enterprise system.

The hospital first sponsored a Junior Achievement company in 1965 and has continued to do so through the voluntary efforts of BMH employees. Through the JA program the students organize a company, sell stock to raise working capital, produce a product, sell the product, and hopefully make enough money to pay their stockholders and show a profit. The students are assisted in this process by several volunteer advisors from the hospital. Volunteers this year are Jim Bushmaier, administrative resident (sales advisor); Roger Struble, administrative resident (production advisor); Bill Ramsey, internal auditor (management advisor); and Steve Reynolds, administrative assistant, who is also assisting with the program.

The name of the hospital-sponsored company is Baja, and its product is called the Swing-

A-Ring which they plan to sell for $2. The product can best be described as an adult toy which tests one's dexterity and coordination. Employees may place an order for a Swing-A-Ring by calling Station 2291 or 2701. Twelve students from seven different high schools are members of the hospital-sponsored company.

Tuition Free Policy At NEMJC For Senior Citizens
Northeast Mississippi Junior College President Harold T. White has announced that the Board of Trustees has approved a tuition free policy for senior citizens who wish to enroll in any one of the College programs. The new policy will allow persons 65 years or older to enroll on a "space available" basis for either day or evening academic or vocational-technical programs without having to pay any tuition.

Catholic; Mike McNeill, Central; Pamela Hendricks, Douglass; Michael Burtis, Douglass; Bill Ramsey, BMH internal auditor and JA management advisor; Steve Reynolds, BMH administrative assistant and JA consultant; and Jim Bushmaier, administrative resident and

To become effective with the beginning of the fall semester, 1973, the policy will offer senior citizens the opportunity to return to the classroom thus providing a new quality of life for retired senior citizens.

Persons desiring more information should contact the Office of the Dean at NEMJC.

Pickwick Lake News

For some time now, I have felt the people of this area should know more facts about Pickwick Lake. Since I am District Supervisor over four Northeast Counties, it is my responsibility to inform the fisherman of this area and outside this area of the type of fishing that is going on.

Recently, I have been very much concerned about the rumors going around about so much illegal fishing. It seemed no one could actually swear to any facts. I heard or I believe, will not get the job done when it comes to convictions.

Although, we are keeping close surveillance on Pickwick, I decided to call every man I have from four adjoining counties and start an all out effort to find any illegal equipment being used. We used four boats with drags. We started out intensive search for nets or any other type of commercial equipment. All types of commercial fishing is illegal in our water on Pickwick Lake. After several days of dragging and covering several miles and thousands of acres of water in the areas of Yellow Creek, Indian Creek, Bear Creek, Mill's Creek and parts of the river, we did not find all this illegal fishing that has been talked.

This is what we found: three gill nets with 4" mesh that had 3 game fish and a few rough fish which was legal to be fished in Pickwick until the Food and Drug Administration along with the Mississippi Game and Fish closed the Commercial Fishing due to the mercury contents found in the flesh of fish the 7th day of July, 1970. This was also a joint closing with Alabama and Tennessee.

At the present time, Tennessee has opened their commercial fishing back up. We have several people from this area who have gone to Tennessee and bought non-resident commercial licenses which gives them the privilege to fish gill nets, trammel nets, slat baskets and lines. This is in compliance with Tennessee laws - size mesh, etc. and to bring their fish back to Mississippi and sell them with a $10.00 retail fish dealers license. This is not to sell to wholesale dealers. This license would cost $50.00 and if you have a Mississippi Commercial fishing license, it gives you the right to sell your fish to anyone within or without the State of Mississippi. The selling of game fish is prohibited.

We also found 2 slat baskets. One had been in the lake for a long period of time. No one was fishing it. The other one had one small catfish in it. We found 1 snag line with 3 small catfish on it. This line was very close to Alabama line.

This is our first phase of dragging. We will continue our efforts to make Pickwick a No. 1 place to fish. We cannot without your help. When you see something that is illegal being fished, let us know immediately, PLEASE. Do not wait 2 or 3 days or maybe a week and tell us because it will always be moved in that length of time. We always welcome RELIABLE information. It will be checked immediately. If you cannot get us by phone, call Tishomingo County Jail. They can get us by two-way radio.

I would like to make this last suggestion that will help to improve the fishing on Pickwick Lake. When you put out a trot line and get through fishing it, please take it up. The nylon material that the line is composed of will last for years under water and there are hundreds of pounds of fish that die on these lines each year. It is not unusual at all to catch fish on an unbaited hook especially if it is a shiny hook; also, these lines are in the way when trolling. Always remember to put your name and address on your line. This is a Mississippi Law.

We want everyone to enjoy themselves and catch lots of fish this year on the beautiful Pickwick Lake. We are so fortunate to have in Tishomingo County approximately 30,000 acres and 127 miles shore.

I will assure you that we will do everything we possibly can to make this the best fishing year ever. Just be sure to keep that life jacket on while in the boat.

Listed below are names, addresses, and phone numbers of wardens in my district. If you should need one of them, do not hesitate to call.

Sunshine Homemakers

The Sunshine Homemakers Club held its February meeting in the home of Mrs. Christine Jimmar. Mrs. Christine Jackson was co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Cigger Lee Duckett, called the meeting to order, read the thought of the month - "Unused talents give you no advantage over someone who has no talent at all."

Mrs. Jimmar gave the devotion taken from Psalms 19. The song used was, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," followed by prayer.

The minutes of the January meeting were read by the secretary. The minutes were adopted.

The demonstration on "Permanent Care Labels to Come With Fabrics," was given by the secretary. The president gave the focus topic: "The Magic of Choice Making."

The hostess served refreshments of drinks and chips.

The meeting adjourned to meet next month with Mrs. Cigger Lee Duckett.

COLD - SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding — nose running — are your eyes watering and are you sneezing — sneezing — sneezing? Have you blown your nose until it is raw? We're sorry you're suffering so; obviously you're not aware of our product SYNACLEAR and this is our fault. SYNACLEAR is the original timed release tablet that gives up to eight hours of real relief from cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses. And that's a guarantee!

We do not have millions to spend on TV to tell you about SYNACLEAR; just this small ad. We do not gimmick our Advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNACLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours relief per tablet or your money back in full.

We could go into detail on how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNACLEAR. The druggist at the store listed below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula.

SYNACLEAR costs a little more ($1.50 & $3.00 sizes) because it does more. You're buying relief and not gimmicks. Try SYNACLEAR as soon as possible — you know — all have to lose at your discomforts.

This little ad has an awfully big job to do — to get you to try SYNACLEAR. So as a bonus, cut me out and send it with an empty SYNACLEAR container and we'll mail you a check for 50¢ for just trying SYNACLEAR. If you have time to tell us about the results SYNACLEAR gave you, we would be pleased to hear from you.

The People's Business

The Mississippi Economic Council, the state's chamber of commerce, has become con- cerned over recent reports that over half of Mississippi's citi- zens go through life without even minimal dental care.

Because of this lack of dental care, coupled with studies showing only one dentist avail- able to every 3,770 Missis- sippians, the MEC has recom- mended establishment of a school of dentistry at the University Medical Center in Jackson.

The Council is appalled that the study, conducted by the Mississippi Dental Association, shows Mississippi at the bottom of the stack and falling farther behind.

With dental disease becom- ing the most widespread of all chronic diseases, Mississippi needs a dental school of its own to encourage young men in dentistry to train at home and practice at home.

Mississippians have to com- pete for places in one of 57 dentistry schools in other states. From 1965-71, only 22 were accepted in dentistry schools--emphasizing, vividly, the disadvantage of having to seek admission to out-of-state schools.

The problem is that "too few get in and too few come home to work."

The MDA study showed that of the 61 dentists Mississippi has helped through school through contracts with the Southern Regional Education Board from 1967 to 1972, only 26 returned to the state. Mis- sissippi's number of dentists decreased by two last year; 19 dentists died, retired, or left the state. Only 17 entered practice.

The MEC believes the establishment of a dental school would help in three areas of the state:

1. The economy of the state would be enhanced with more money being spent and research grants drawn to the state.

2. The steady migration of qualified young people from our state would be slowed.

3. Most important of all, the dental school would mean bet- ter health care for Missis- sippians.

The Council believes placing of the dental school at the Medical Center would place the school in a total health en- vironment where association with research teams, dental auxiliaries, and professional consultants would be a daily, valuable occurrence.

The Word for Today

By Charles H. Robinson,
Do you have heart trouble?
According to the diagnosis of the Great Physician, all men are born with a kind of heart "disease." It is more commonly known as sin!

"The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked," Jeremiah said.

"Out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adul- teries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies," said Jesus.

This disease becomes in- creasingly worse if neglected, and is fatal unless cured.

Thank God there is a cure! God says, "A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you."

David cried, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." (Psalm 51:10) The Lord Jesus is the great heart Specialist. The cases He has cured are innumerable. Why don't you try His remedy?
