The Church Is Not Divided

All order tends to disorder. This is as true in society as in physics. As time passes, organizations tend to disorganize. In social groups the general rule is, "The larger, the looser."

The Church epitomizes this tendency. And that is disturbing. Just before His death, Jesus prayed for His followers "that they may be perfected into a unit, that the world may continuously realize that You sent Me, and that You have loved them just as You have loved Me." He prayed pointedly for our unity as well, saying, "I am not asking on behalf of these alone, but for those also who believe in Me through their word."

Yet it could be argued that the Church has never been unified. Referring to the traitor Judas Iscariot, Jesus admitted, "Have I Myself not chosen you, the twelve, and yet one of you is a devil?"

Today is no different. The United States has at least seven major denominations of Lutherans, five of Presbyterians, four of Baptists, and well over 100 denominational churches in total.

Even the Roman Catholic (which means universal) Church has a history of competing factions, including the Great Schism when several popes reigned simultaneously, and today is faulted by dissent over the authority of the Church and especially the disputed infallibility of the pope.

If unity were organizational, the Church would have to confess to an unbroken history of disarray. The accurate indicator of the unity Jesus intended, however, is as Jesus said, "By this all men will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another."

Divide and Conquer

If the world sees disunity among Christians, it is the failure to love which they perceive, not the organizational diversity.

Way back in the first century, Paul faced this issue, asking the church body at Corinth, "Is Christ divided?" In that church the believers had factionalized around three impressive church leaders: Paul, Apollos, and Cephas (Peter). These divisions and their infighting were clearly contrary to unity.

To combat these factions a group had arisen disavowing the leadership of Paul, Apollos, and Peter and claiming instead to follow only Christ Himself. At first, this course may seem to have been the most reasonable and the most spiritual, since they refused allegiance to men and chose only God. Paul, however, condemned all four factions alike — and herein is a lesson for us.

Whatever human leadership our spiritual brothers and sisters choose to guide them, we should not despise them. We should love them. All who believe in Jesus make up the Church, and all members of the Church should accept and love each other.

In short, Protestants, Catholics, Greek Orthodox, Independents, Jesus people — love each other, as Jesus loves you.

Department Of Public Welfare Welcomes Re-establishment Of Federal Rule

The Mississippi State Department of Public Welfare welcomes the re-establishment of Federal rules to make sure welfare funds get to those in need and to help restore the public's faith in our welfare system, Commissioner Max M. Cole said today.

"We applaud the decision by HEW Secretary Casper W. Weinberger of Federal rule changes designed to reduce errors costing taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars annually," Cole said.

"We are opposed to their abolishment in the 1960's and are enthusiastic about the sweeping changes affecting eligibility determination, fair hearings, and simplified procedures for recovery of overpayments."

Mississippi will not need the sixty days allowed the State's for implementation where new legislation is needed, Cole said. "Our legislature, in its wisdom, has provided us with the laws we need. We are standing on ready as soon as we receive official word of the rule changes."

Weinberger's statement, released Tuesday in Washington, announced re-establishment of secret State investigations of welfare applicants and recipients which came under bitter fire by welfare rights organizations in the 1960's and were abolished. He said the reinstated rules have an added section which "restates that constitutional rights are to be observed and protected."

The announcement quoted Robert B. Carleson, former California Welfare Director and now special assistant to Weinberger as saying, "I have an awful lot of confidence that States and counties are going to do right by their poor."

Cole agrees, he said. "We certainly are going to do right by all of our needy adults and children in Mississippi. This is a Service Agency, funded by the legislature generally considering our State's needs. We will continue to make every effort to make every count where it is needed. We welcome these new help us do an even better Life Begins!

By Charles H. Robinson, Asst. P R Director
Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee

Walter B. Pitkin's book, "Life Begins at Forty" has its sequel in "Life Begins at Fifty," authored by his son. The trouble is, though, that many never attain age 50, or even 40.

But here's good news for you!

Life begins when Jesus comes in! Real life — life to the full — actually begins when your soul is brought into a right relationship with God through repentance of sin and faith in Jesus Christ.

In order to live — really live — you must know inner peace which does not depend upon circumstances for its continuance.

This is possible only through a vital, personal relationship with Christ. Without that you are physically alive, but spiritually dead. You have not yet begun to live.

Regardless of your age, let life begin for you today through your unconditional commitment to Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior.

Miss Nellie Horton's HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

VARIETY MEATS CAN STRETCH YOUR MEAT DOLLAR

Variety meats are the internal organs of meat animals. They include liver, brains, hearts, kidneys, sweetbreads, tongue, tripe and lungs. These variety meats are usually good buys for several reasons: (1) they are excellent sources of many nutrients we need each day; (2) there is little waste, therefore you receive more lean meat; (3) they are usually in less demand than other cuts of meat, therefore the price is lower; and (4) they add variety to your menu.

Variety meats are more perishable than other meats. Cook and serve them soon after purchase. All variety meats should be cooked until well-done to prevent infection by parasites.

Let's take a closer look at some of the more common variety meats.

Liver is the most commonly used variety meat. We are continually discovering new benefits to be gained from this meat. It is an excellent source of protein and iron. All types of liver -- beef, pork, lamb, veal and baby beef are good values. Pork, lamb and veal liver are your best buys, as beef and baby beef are usually higher in price. Liver may be cooked in a variety of ways. Beef and pork liver are frequently braised or fried and are, sometimes ground for loaves and patties. Veal, lamb, and baby beef liver are usually broiled, pan-broiled or pan-fried.

The membrane or outer skin should be peeled or trimmed from liver before frying.

Brains are soft, very tender and have a delicate flavor. They have good nutritional value. If brains are not used immediately after purchase they should be precooked. To precook, simmer in water for approximately 20 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon of lemon juice and 1 tablespoon of salt to keep brains white and firm. Fresh brain may be broiled, fried, braised or cooked in liquid. Heart is one of the less tender variety meats but is very flavorful. Therefore, braising and cooking in liquid are the best methods of cooking.

Kidneys are the gourmet dish of the variety meats, but they need not be reserved for only special occasions. Veal and lamb kidneys are often left attached to the chop. Beef kidney is less tender than lamb or veal and is usually cooked in gravy.

Sweetbreads are the two lobes of the thymus gland. They are tender and delicately flavored. Sweetbreads may be prepared in the same manner as brains.

Tongue is another popular variety meat. It can be purchased in the grocery store in a variety of ways, pickled, corned, canned, smoked or fresh. It is one of the less tender cuts of meat, therefore it requires moist heat cooking.

Tripe, a less popular variety meat, may also be purchased pickled, canned or fresh. It is one of the less tender cuts and requires long, slow cooking in a liquid.

Joslin-Hendrix Vows Exchanged July 5th

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Miss Pamela Kay Joslin became the bride of Howard Lee Hendrix. The vows were exchanged under an archway covered with greenery and baskets of pastel flowers on each side of the arch. The ceremony took place at Poplar Springs Baptist Church on July 5, at 6:30 in the evening with Bro. Wayne Campbell officiating. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Wanda McKee, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Martha Magill sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "More."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture of loveliness in a floor length gown of embroidered Swiss organza over bridal satin. The dress, made by her step-mother, was designed on an A-line, featuring a scoop neckline underdress with the overlay rising to a high neck and roll collar with off the shoulder sleeves. The dress fell in graceful lines to the hemline with a rounded back line creating a semi-train, white daisy flowers encrusted with pearls accented the collar, sleeves and hemline. Her elbow length veil was bridal illusion attached to a pearl and sequined circle and was edged with lace flowers. The bridal bouquet was of pastel blue, yellow and pink pom-poms interspersed with lilies of the valley and centered with a pink orchid with streamers tied in love knots.

The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Sherry Thrasher, cousin of the groom, who wore blue. Bridesmaids were Misses Brenda and Glenda Bullard, cousins of the bride, who wore yellow and pink. The attendants' dresses were styled identical to the bridal gown, made of polyester knit lace and accented with white daisies. Each girl carried a single white mum with ribbon streamers matching her dress.

Serving his brother as best man was Gary Hendrix, Ronnie Joslin, brother of the bride, and Neal Clauch, cousin of the groom, served as ushers and also as candlelighters.

The step-mother of the bride was dressed in pink linen with matching pink shoes and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Hendrix, mother of the groom, wore a dress of aqua polyester. She wore white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the fellowship rooms of the church with Mrs. Patricia Rhodes, step-aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Prather as hostesses.

The table, covered with a white lace cloth, was graced by a centerpiece of blue and white daisies interspersed with greenery. The three tiered wedding cake was beautiful, decorated with pastel pink rose buds and white lilies of the valley. The cake stood on lovely white columns seated in swans. The top layer was edged with gold wedding rings and topped with the traditional bride and groom. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. The bride's book was placed on a table complimented with a single white mum and was attended by the bridesmaids.

The couple left on a trip to Houston, Texas, where they will be making their home.

On Tuesday night, July 3, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hendrix honored the bridal party with a buffet style supper. At this time the couple presented their attendants with engraved key rings.

GETTING A POST BOX
is it like to get a post box in New Delhi? It is almost unbelievable experience.

To say the least, it is much different to anything else you might run across.
When we first came to New Delhi back in 1968 I put forth a minor effort to get a box for our mail but soon discovered that it was going to involve more time and effort than I cared to put into it. Since that time, with the growth of our Bible Correspondence work, and correspondence in general, we decided recently to try again to get a box. We have been working on it since that time but still no box has been given to date.

The man that I work with here, Mr. Sunny David, put forth the first efforts to get this box. He went to the Post Office, got a mimeographed application form, filled it out, and returned it. This form then was sent to the head Post Office here in the city to be processed. They responded after a few days by sending a man to visit Mr. David to get more information. At this time my name was given to the officer and the matter shifted from Mr. David to me.

I eventually brought the matter up at the Post Office myself by asking what progress had been made on the request. I was told that it would be necessary for me to write a personal letter stating our purpose for getting the box, etc. I was also told that the letter should be brought on Thursday, since the representative of the head Post Office came only on that day. I complied with their instructions, writing the letter and delivering it in person on the day the representative was there. He was very nice, as were the local officials, and they all assured me that we would hear something on it within the next few days.

I asked about it again a time or so when I had occasion to go to post some mail. Each time I was told that no reply had come but that one would be forthcoming shortly. Finally, one of the men at the office, who had been especially friendly with me, mentioned that they had received a letter from the main Post Office requesting further information, and of course he assumed that I had gotten a copy of it. He brought out their copy and it was addressed to me with a copy to them. The only trouble was, I didn't get a copy. Anyway, he allowed me to borrow their copy and I wrote another letter stating the name in which the Post Box was to be given.

A few days later an official from the Downtown Office came by cycle to visit me. He wanted to know in which Post Office I wanted a box. Having applied from the Andrews Gunj Post Office I assumed that they knew we wanted it there, but when I told him Mr. David's address was in South Extension and mine was in Defence Colony, then he thought we would want a box at one of the Post Offices in these subdivisions, however, I assured him that we wanted it at Andrews Gunj since it is only a few blocks away and this is the Post Office we have been dealing with for a long period of time. He then wondered if they even had boxes available, but I told him that they did. So he promised me that I would be getting the box in the near future. Two or three weeks have passed and there has been no word on it up to this time. No telling what twists and turns this thing will take before the box is assigned, provided it is ever given at all.

Life, and the work that we are trying to do in a place like this, are very slow when every little thing we try to do becomes a major task with never any assurance that we will succeed. But all we can do is to keep trying. Things usually get done if we have enough patience to see them through.

REUNION HELD

The Watson-Bumpas Reunion took place in beautiful Mineral Springs Park on Saturday, Aug. 11, 1973.

There were six states represented, and if everyone enjoyed it like I did, I believe we can truly say it was our best one ever, and at the end of the day we all departed looking forward to the next one, which of course will be held on the second Saturday in August next year.

As usual there were quite a few absentees, which of course we all missed and we hope they can be with us next year. Also, two, who have come before, have passed away since last August, but in a group our size, and our ages, that is to be expected.

Our oldest this year is in the mid-eighties. The youngest was 2 1/2 years old. I had hoped that my grandson and his family from Texas could be there, but they couldn't make it. If they had our youngest would have been six months. Maybe they will make it next year.

Those attending were as follows:

Mr. Cleve Bumpas, Winford and Captola McNeil, Thurman and Imogene McCoy, Sonny and Donna Scott and Scotty, Mrs. Blanche Watson and grandson, David Watson, and Mrs. Veloin Hannon, Iuka; Robert and Carrie Chase, Mrs. Vera Bumpas, Corinth; Clarence and Estalee Watson and Ronny, Cleston and Mabel Watson, Bill and Sherrill Watson, Chris, Susan and Lance, Mrs. Annette Long, Karen, Keith and Kevin, Mrs. Shirley Masner, Memphis; Mrs. Vivian Cunningham, East Camden, Ark.; Mrs. Mamie Gillian, Florence, Ala.; Mrs. Altie Etoile Harris, Bob and Mary Harris, Terri, Wayne, and Jimmie, and two small girls, Bobby Watson and DeMois Jackson, Chicago, Ill.; Jim and Joyce D'Arco and Kimberly Ann, Glendale Heights, Ill.; Mrs.

Hutcheson Bearn Engagement Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hutcheson of Tishomingo, announce the engagement of their daughter, Brenda, to Johnny Wayne Bearn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Bearn, of Red Bay, Ala.

Byrd Rogers, Mrs. Louise Bonds, Mrs. Hildred Phillips, Norris Rogers and Krista, Red Bay, Ala.; Harold and Louise Harris, Patsy and Becky, Muscle Shoals, Ala.; and Lora Woodruff, Detroit, Michigan.

Lora Woodruff

A Bible Proverb advises us that "Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred there-with."

From the Book of Matthew comes one of the Bible's most enduring truisms: "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy."

Miss Hutcheson is a graduate of Tishomingo High School and attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College for two years. She is currently employed at Lance Garment, Inc. in Red Bay.

The prospective bridegroom attended Fairview High School. He is currently employed at Lance Garment, Inc.

The wedding will be solemnized August 31, 1973, at 7:00 p.m. at Bethlehem Baptist Church.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

LETTERS to EDITOR

TO THE CHURCHES AND PEOPLE OF TISHOMINGO COUNTY:

This is a plea for your urgent help and support of the Tishomingo County Home Chapel. The committee met on Saturday, August 18, at 10:00 a.m. to discuss urgent need for funds to complete the chapel. We were told that such a project could not be done, but we said it could. When your heart is set on a project such as this, you tend to work very hard to see it completed. Some people said, "you are just dreaming."

Well, this dream for a chapel has been in the making for almost 2 1/2 years, but now it seems unless we get some support from you our dream and your dream for a chapel for the senior citizens at the County Home will have to be halted indefinitely. This we don't want and believe you don't want it either. The chapel is about 65 percent completed, but our funds are almost gone. A financial report given by Mr. Jack Ramsey reveals we only have enough money to put the doors and windows and a few more small items in. Then unless funds start to come in the construction will have to come to an end.

So, we are asking you pastors, church people and all citizens, please help us complete this chapel for our senior citizens. We urge you to go by the County Home and see what has been done and talk to the people who live out there. Ask them what they think about the chapel

- after they reply - then ask them what if it can't be completed for the lack of funds. Notice their reactions and you will see a very hurt group of people. This is their dream, so please help us make their dream come true.

Please send your contribution to: Tishomingo County Home Chapel, Box 100, Iuka, Miss., or bring it by any of the banks in the county and if you can't bring it please call Wanda McKee and one of the committee members will be happy to pick it up.

Randle Jourdan,
Co-Chairman,
Publicity Department
