Mail Early Urges Postal Officers

Postmaster H. T. Lomenick today joined Postmaster General Klassen in urging the residents of Iuka to post their mail and foreign Christmas mail one to two weeks earlier than the Postal Service originally recommended, so that the shortage will not interfere with on-time deliveries. The urgency of the fuel crisis compels us to request a two-week advancement of suggested dates we gave for domestic mail and a two-week advancement for foreign mail," Postmaster Lomenick said.

The new deadline for posting domestic first-class Christmas mail is December 8 rather than December 15, as previously recommended. Domestic surface parcels, except those for Alaska and Hawaii, should be mailed by December 3, instead of December 10. To Alaska and Hawaii, mail by November 30, rather than December 20.

For parcels and letters within the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) should now be posted no later than December 13, rather than December 20.

The seriousness of the fuel shortage to the Postal Service is obvious," Postmaster Lomenick said, "by the fact that it takes the fuel consumed by commercial air carriers, to deliver approximately 350 million gallons of fuel to travel the 90 billion pieces of mail through the system each year. Our requirement for the month of December alone is 45 million gallons." Postmaster Lomenick said that "public cooperation on these new, advance mail early dates is needed to complete all Christmas deliveries."

County Deputy Arrested In Illegal Still Operations

On November 4, 1973, Sheriff George W. Cutshall, assisted by agents of the Bureau of ATF and the Mississippi ABC Department, headed an investigation directed toward a member of the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department.

The investigation culminated on November 15, 1973, when Deputy Sheriff Richard Cleveland was arrested at the site of an illicit whiskey still located in a trailer bed behind Cleveland's residence at Belmont, Mississippi.

The seizure consisted of one 850 gallon hog still, 850 gallons of mash and 74 gallons of illicit whiskey. The entire seizure was destroyed following Cleveland's arrest. According to Cleveland, the still had been in operation for approximately four weeks.

He was taken into federal custody and later released on $1500 appearance bond.

Cleveland was suspended from the Sheriff's Department at the time of arrest.

We're Coming to a Good End

Discouragement does not overtake us. Despite the rambling chaos coming in our nation and the world, yet within ourselves God strengthens us daily.

Though we must endure ridicule now, and soon suffer persecution and violence, along with our brothers and sisters already jailed and being murdered in the totalitarian nations, these afflictions are now producing and will perfect within us solid spiritual growth, far more rewarding than the suffering is painful. And eternal, a spiritual conditioning that will glorify God through us, both here and beyond this life. The benefit exceeds beyond all comparison the difficulties, for we can learn dependence on God to a degree impossible without the help of antagonism.

Even Jesus "learned obedience through the things which He suffered" while He paid no attention to the values of the merely visible world and focused instead on the unseen realm which can be seen by faith, by the illumination of the Spirit within each of us who have accepted Him. Like Jesus, we evaluate not by the temporal but by the eternal.

For we perceive our bodies as but tents and our presence on earth as no more than a camp-out in the wilderness. To kill us will not render us homeless; rather, death is our transportation to the "real" world where God's glory shines unclouded.

We do not expect to be spiritual nothings, floating in eternal emptiness. No, we will be completed and transformed, living in minds and bodies without sin's warped deformities, but limitlessly ourselves because unencumbered in our fellowship with our infinite God.

Life, despite its frustrations and torments, is good. God forbid that we should desire to escape life. Life originates in God, Who sustains it in us as a continuing gift. Life is the vehicle of love, and earth's the right place for both. We do not want to escape life.

Our Full Selves

We want not to become naked but to be invested with the glory God wants men to have but which most reject.

We don't want to be God, or part of God, as the mystical religions, Hinduism and Unitarianism hope or as the pantheists think we are already. We want to know God. To be with Him. To be ourselves, our full selves, our final selves, fulfilled in unobstructed, harmonious fellowship with God. To be as uniquely individual as are the Father, the Son, and the Spirit, yet properly one in identity with our God.

To be alive is good. To be fully alive with God will be far better.

Now He Who created us for this very purpose is God, and we have His Spirit in us as His pledge.

WHERE ARE MOST DRUG USERS LOCATED?

The location of users varies with the drug in question. Until recently, almost all heroin use was confined to males in urban ghettos. Now this pattern is changing. A few young people in suburban areas use heroin. Marihuana formerly was seen primarily in disadvantaged areas, in certain Mexican-American communities, and in some groups of jazz musicians and similar persons. Today, marihuana smokers and users of hallucinogens are found among middle and upper class young people and other groups. Barbiturates and amphetamines were once abused primarily by middle and upper class adults. Now, many youngsters of all classes are misusing them. The important thing to keep in mind is that drug use patterns are changing rapidly in the United States.

WHY DO PSYCHOACTIVE DRUGS HAVE SUCH A WIDE RANGE OF EFFECTS UPON DIFFERENT USERS?

The effects of mind-altering substances are related to the expectations of the user, the setting in which the use takes place, and the potency of the drug. Mind-altering substances can have vastly different effects upon different people because such drugs release individual underlying personality traits that are ordinarily covered up. Internal controls are diminished or eliminated; one person may become angry, another amorous, a third happy, others disoriented, confused, or depressed, and so on.

Even the same person taking the same dose of a drug on a subsequent occasion may have an entirely different response. As self-control is lost, the person reacts to suggestions from people around him and the setting in which the drug is taken. These factors can markedly alter the drug's effects. DO DRUG ABUSERS TAKE MORE THAN ONE DRUG AT A TIME?

Many people who abuse one drug tend to take all sorts of drugs. Some of them say they are looking for a new "high." Some will take any drug to get outside themselves. Some play chemical roulette by taking everything, including unidentified pills.

WHY DO SOME AFFLUENT PEOPLE BECOME INVOLVED IN DRUG USAGE?

At one time we thought that if we could eliminate poverty, drug abuse would fade away. This notion was obviously erroneous. In a world where changes are rapid and yesterday's faiths and values may erode, affluence allows the time and finances to support drug excesses. Loss of goals and drive can be a by-product of affluence. When a person no longer needs to work in order to eat and clothe himself, he may develop problems of leisure. If he has no viable goals, no motivation or drive to create, to study or to help others, he may become bored or alienated, and vulnerable to the temptations of using chemical substitutes for productive living.

Hwy. Dept. Responds To Energy Conservation

The Mississippi State Highway Department responded Thursday to President Nixon's plea for energy conservation when E. L. Boteler, Director issued an employee directive on ways to conserve energy. The directive called for "conservative use" of Highway Department automobiles and equipment.

"Trips are to be analyzed carefully to determine whether necessary or whether the function can be performed by other means of communication," said Boteler, in his directive.

Employees were also asked to pool personnel when practical and to operate vehicles at a speed which would cut fuel use. In addition Boteler directed that reimbursable mileage of Department employees be reduced to a maximum of 1200 miles a month unless approved by him.

Reduction of energy use in buildings was also called for. "The spirit of conservation can be effectively awareness," said Boteler. The Director added that State Highway Department employees should make careful and conservative use of energy which would contribute to the comfort and well-being of all.

Christmas Gifts For Patients

As the Christmas season draws near, miraculously there seems to come a change in men's hearts. A spirit of warmth, love and good will toward fellowmen prevails, and people react in a way that is not evident at any other time of the year.

At the Mississippi State Hospital volunteers and staff members work together to make this season happy and joyous for the 3900 patients of the hospital. Through the Volunteer Services Department, citizens are given the opportunity to remember and give to those less fortunate through the "Every Patient a Gift" project. On Christmas morning every patient receives a beautifully wrapped package, made possible through the kindness of people throughout the State. Patients know that the people of the outside community care -- that they wish for them a speedy recovery and a return to their homes, where they can again lead full and useful lives.

Almost any gift, especially those in plastic containers, is acceptable. Some suggestions are as follows: cigarettes, candy, cookies, hair-brushes, cosmetics (all kinds for both men and women), scarves, lingerie, house slippers, rain coats, sweaters and purses. Remember the patients like pretty things, too. Please do not send used articles.

Do not wrap gifts, as volunteers do this. We request that all packages be sent before December 12, so that they may be appropriately selected and wrapped before Christmas. Packages may be mailed to:

high mandarin neckline and extended down the front of her bodice. Her bishop sleeves were designed with lace cut-outs and wide victorian cuffs. The A-line skirt and court train that fell from a large bow and streamers at her waistline were embellished with matching lace and velvet bows. A Juliet headpiece of lace sprinkled with pearls held her lace bordered, fingertip mantilla. She carried a cluster of apricot daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Cathy Park, of Iuka, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patty Woodruff, sister of the bride, and Miss Paulette South, cousin of the bride and groom, of Iuka. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Jenny Wilemon, friend of the bride, of Iuka.

They wore gowns of floral and solid print apricot polyester with large white wide-brimmed hats. Each carried a bouquet of apricot daisies.

Miss Pamela South, cousin of the bride and groom, registered the guests at the church.

Mr. Hursal South, father of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Ronnie Woodruff, brother of the bride, Mr. Rodger Lambert, friend of the groom. Ringbearer was Phillip South, cousin of the bride and groom. Ushers were Mr. Billy Whitaker and Mr. Herbert South, both of Iuka.

Mrs. Woodruff wore a one-piece polyester suit of navy and white. Mrs. South chose a polyester suit of navy. They wore apricot daisy corsages.

RECEPTION

Mrs. Peggy Booker's home was the setting for the reception. The bride's table in apricot gingham checks held a three-tiered cake, trimmed in apricot, white and green, and crested with a miniature bride and groom. Punch was served from a sterling silver punch bowl. Completing the setting was the bride and maid's bouquets and a candelabrum with white candles, accented with white flowers and greenery.

Mrs. Lela South and Mrs. Tina Holt, aunts of the bride, assisted the maids in serving. After a honeymoon in Memphis, the couple are making their home at 315 Pickwick Circle in Iuka.

MRS. HAMM CELEBRATES

Mrs. Mae Hamm enjoyed her 82nd birthday on Saturday, Nov. 10, with a supper prepared by her daughter-in-law. Those who helped her enjoy the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Mon Moser, Duane and Carolyn Hamm, of Iuka, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ferguson, of Madison, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Don Waldrop, Donette, Mona and Daniel, of Cherokee, and of course, her son, Bliss, with whom she is staying after having had surgery in October.

She received many lovely and useful gifts.

ARE YOU ADDING ELECTRIC HEATERS?

Fuels for home heating are in short supply, especially L.P. gas and oil. As a result, many people are switching to or adding electric heaters. And this is causing three serious problems.

— THESE ARE THE PROBLEMS —

1. In homes with inadequate wiring, especially older homes, electric heaters can cause circuits to overheat to the danger point. If fuses are oversized or bypassed, your house could burn down.
2. Using electric heat in an uninsulated home is practically like burning money, since the heat escapes almost as rapidly as it is produced.
3. Using electric heaters for the first time can easily overload the transformer serving your home. If the transformer trips out, you and possibly several neighbors would be without power.

— HERE ARE THE SOLUTIONS —

1. As a safety measure, have an electrician check your home's fuse box and wiring. Do not use a fuse size larger than the circuit calls for. And never put metal objects behind fuses; your house could burn down.
2. Insulate your home. Otherwise your electric bill will be very high. Since greatest heat loss occurs through the ceiling, installing at least six inches of insulation should be your first step. Caulk around windows and down frames, and weatherstrip outside doors. Heat only as much of your house as necessary. Keep doors closed.
3. Call us before buying electric heaters. We'll check whether our present transformer will deliver the amount of electricity you need.

— REMEMBER —

If you're using electric heaters....and if your home isn't insulated.... your electric bill may go much higher than you expect to pay. We don't want that to happen. So call us. We'll help every way we can.

Denita Hamm and Chris Evans are shown beside a display of Indian villages which was constructed by Section Two of the Third Grade at Iuka School. The display depicts woods Indians and their thatched huts, plain Indians with their teepees and the desert Indians and their adobe dwellings. The display was set up in the hall in order that all students could see the fine work done by Section Two.

POINTERS FOR NEW MOTHERS

Should a baby be kept indoors in cold weather? Babies should not be kept in hot-houses, according to Dr. Pomeranz. They are not orchids. "Cold weather is no more dangerous to a tiny infant, let alone a three-year-old, than it is to anyone else. Dress the child appropriately, but don't overdress him. Keep him away from crowded public places."

Delving Through The Bible

Quest for truth! Last week in our study entitled "Under the Law of Grace," we came to a very interesting question on the Ten Commandments. Can a man be saved without obeying the Ten Commandments? The answer is "yes" he can be saved simply by grace, through faith, without any works on your part, Eph. 2:8,9. Then we will ask another question, can a man have eternal life without obeying the Ten Commandments? The answer to this is "no." Then is there a difference in being saved and having eternal life? The answer is a positive "yes." A very vast difference. The word "saved" has to do with redemption, which means to sever, i.e., ye are not of the world, John 17:16; for ye are bought with a price, I Cor. 6:20; ye were saved, or redeemed with the precious blood of Christ, I Peter 1:18, 19; faith severs, i.e. sanctifies by the Word of God, John 17: 17. Prior to Jesus death, ye could be saved by no means, but after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared. Not by works of righteousness which we have done but according to his mercy, Tit. 3:4,5. God so loved the world that he sent redemption unto his people, holy and reverend in his name, John 3:16, Psalms 111:9. This is what it means to be saved by faith without works. To further support this statement I am going to give just two more quotations - Wherefore, as by one man, i.e., Adam, sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for all have sinned.
And so by the righteousness of one, Jesus Christ, the free gift came upon all men unto justification, Romans 5:12-19. We hope this answers the first question. We have to be very brief. I am sorry, but rising prices keeps soaring, therefore, we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law, Rom. 3:28.
If this is the extent of your salvation, ye have received the grace of God in vain, II Cor.
6:1. He that hath the son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life, I John 5:12. To have the son is to have the mind of Christ, Phil. 2:5. Now if any man have not the spirit, i.e., mind, of Christ he is none of his, Rom. 8:9; and we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Spirit, whom God hath given to them that obey him, Acts 5:22. So to receive Christ, i.e., eternal life, requires obedience.

Next week we will look at the change of the law, the Ten Commandments from the letter to the spirit.

Your servant in Christ,
Marshall Adams

FERTILIZER

Fertilizer supplies are short now and are likely to be even shorter next spring. It is estimated that farmers (based on projected acreage) will need around 30 percent more fertilizer than will be available during 1974.

Here are some suggestions that may help avoid this problem and step up yields at the same time.

Soil test to see where phosphate and potash are most needed. Apply nitrogen as near to the time the crop will actually use it as possible. Stop using nitrogen on legume crops, like soybeans and clovers, that do not need additional nitrogen.

Lime all soils that need lime.
This will improve the efficiency of the fertilizer you use.

Where available, use poultry and other animal wastes. These will supplement commercial fertilizers. Animal wastes are usually more effective when disced or otherwise worked into the soil. Around four to five tons per acre is usually enough.

Basic slag with potash (0-6-6) will supply liming materials as well as phosphate and potash.

Use the nitrogen materials that are in best supply. Anhy-drous ammonia is in fairly good supply. Urea is short and ammonium nitrate is extremely short. Buy and store your winter and spring needs now as prices are likely to be higher next spring.

IMPROVE PIG LITTER SIZE

Here are some tips to help you do a better job of pork production. Use crossbred gilts. Due to hybrid vigor you get an increase in litter size and weaning weights. Cull old, off-type poor producing sows.

Do not breed gilts too young.
Wait until they are near eight months old. Buy boars six to eight weeks before you are ready to use them. Feed the boar well during the breeding season and handle him gently.
Where possible, bring the sows to the boar for breeding. Breed sows twice, 12 to 24 hours apart, preferably the second day of heat.

For all breeding animals, provide top grazing. Vaccinate sows twice a year for leptospirosis and erysipelas. Keep a good salt mineral mix before bred gilts and sows. Don't let the sows or gilts get too fat at breeding time or during gestation. Feed the bred gilts about five to six pounds of a 15 percent complete ration and sows four pounds daily. Just keep them in good-doing condition.
Do not mix bred gilts with larger, older sows. Have a dry, draft-free, quiet area for sows to farrow.

PLANTING FRUIT TREES

It is time to order the fruit trees that you want to plant this season. When ordering, specify a delivery date and try to get the trees planted the same day you receive them. If this is not possible, heel in the trees and do not let the roots dry out.

How Long?

By Charles H. Robinson

In the Bible God has given His complete and final revelation of Himself. Here can be found comfort for the distressed, hope for the despaired, and spiritual riches for the destitute. Here also is portrayed the exceeding sinfulness of sin, and how man can triumph over it in Christ.

Only in the Bible can man learn what God has to say about life after death, and the reality of eternal bliss for the saved and eternal perdition for those who reject Christ as their Savior.

Yet the message of the Bible is strangely neglected in an age when it is needed as never before. Though it is the best-seller among books, the Bible is not as widely read as it should be. Jesus said, "Search the Scriptures, for... these are they that testify of Me."

The hope of men everywhere and of you in particular is to let the Bible speak its divine message to the heart of man. God has a message for you. How long has it been since you read it?

Peace in Mideast?

Will there be peace now in the Mideast?
It is understood as the fighting while for more war, perif peace means a reasonably satisfactory of the Arab-Israeli questions, no.
There will be no real between Israel and Arabian alliance near future, despite and the good mo-Henry Kissinger and associated with him.
The objective national goals of the and their opponents my judgment, at is irreconcilable.
before the fighting in the 1967 Six-Day

War, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said,
"We intend to open a general assault against Israel.
This will be total war. Our basic aim is the destruction of Israel."
We all know that the war did not end as the Egypt-tians and their allies had planned. Instead, the brief conflict came to a close with the Sinai Peninsula, the Gaza Strip, the Golan Heights, and the Jordanian territory west of the Jordan River in the possession of Israel.
In launching the recent Egyptian-Syrian offensive Egypt's President Anwar Sadat did not make the mistake of declaring any such grandiose objective. However, the obvious purpose was to drive Israel out of the Sinai Peninsula, at least. Syrian forces attempted to expel the Israelis from the Golan Heights.

Both the Egyptians and the Syrians failed. Indeed, the Israelis advanced on both fronts.
When Egypt, a nation of 33 million, and Syria, a nation of about six million, both superbly armed with the most modern weapons and equipment, attacked Israel, a nation of three million, the outcome would appear to have been predictable. Israel, outnumbered 13 to 1, not counting the other Arab nations aligned against her, would surely be overwhelmed.
But Israel's enemies made one mistake. They apparently underestimated the power of Israel's unseen ally.
Centuries ago, the Prophet Isaiah predicted: "He will ... assemble the outcasts of Israel and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.
... Together shall they despoil the children of the east.
... And Jehovah shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea."
Many Bible scholars believe that "the children of the east" means the Arab nations and that "the tongue of the Egyptian sea" refers to the narrow Gulf of Suez which reaches like a tongue from the Red Sea to the city of Suez. The now inoperative Suez Canal connects the Gulf of Suez with the Mediterranean Sea.
In view of this and other ancient but timely prophecies, it is unwise to assume that lasting peace in the Mideast is near.

significant savings in any form of energy consumption can help improve the national situation.
Consumer information pamphlets on ways to save on electricity are available from TVA and from most of the region's municipal and cooperative local electric systems.
"If you're going to find savings you have to look where the power is being used, and over 90 percent of home consumption is concentrated in a few major uses," says Paul S.
Button, TVA director of power marketing.
"Most of the increase in home use has been part of the basic improvement in this region's living standards, as more families have been able to afford ranges, refrigerators, water heaters, and room coolers," he said. "Today residential power use is growing at a somewhat slower rate, since most families now have the basic appliances. But it is continuing to grow, and there are indications in some areas that shortages of fuel for home heating will increase the demand for electricity." Winter heating accounts for more than half the energy used in the typical home, whether the heat comes from electricity, gas, oil, coal, or firewood, Button said. "Almost two-thirds of this region's home use of electricity is for heating, water heaters, and air conditioning. Add lighting, ranges, refrigerators and freezers, clothes washers and dryers, and the total rises above 90 percent."
Because heating and cooling make up such a large part of the total, TVA and local electric systems have concentrated much of their energy conservation efforts on more effective use of insulation and other measures that can save on these uses of electricity -- setting thermostats at conservative levels, installing storm windows and doors, caulking to keep homes tight, using drapes to admit sunlight during winter days and keep heat in at night (and vice versa in summer).
Recommended insulation standards are being proposed for use in power distributor regulations and city, county, and state building codes. Training programs are being established in heat pump installation and maintenance, because of the large energy savings potential in the inherent efficiency of the heat pump.

County Schools
Observe Capitol
Day

Tuesday, November 6th, was a big day for a delegation of Career Education students from Belmont, Burnsville, and Tishomingo High Schools. On this day, a journey was made to Tupelo, Mississippi when the Capitol was moved to this city for a day. Upon arrival, the students were introduced to the governor, who, in turn, introduced members of the legislature who were present. Then various state officials representing the departments of government were presented to the group. Each department head gave a synopsis of his duties and responsibilities which served to enlighten the students on the functions of state government.
One of the highlights of the day came when a panel of students representing schools from the Northeast Mississippi area questioned the officials on subjects ranging from education and highways to U F O's. Lt.
Governor, William Winter, served as moderator for the panel. He also explained the duties of his office which was a very informative part of the program.
Tishomingo County Schools were represented on the panel by Renelda Pharr, a senior from Belmont. Also making this trip were Dr. Melvin Phifer, County Superintendent of Education, Career Opportunities Coordinator Ruthel Comer, Barbara Parker, and Charles Armstrong, and secretary Brenda Armstrong; Drug Education Specialist, Lyman McAnally; Health Nurse Edna Tapp; and Psychometrist, Eddy Depoyster. Teachers attending were Charles Skinner, Burn-sville; James Melvin, Tish-omingo; Gary Deaton, Principal of Belmont Schools; and Earl Alexander, Johnny B. Moore and Gary Taylor, Tishomingo County Vo-Tech Center.
