Increase In Food Stamp Allotments Announced

Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell announced today that the food stamp allotment for a family of four will increase on January 1 from $150 to $154, based on August food price statistics. The Food Stamp Act, as amended by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-86), requires that coupon allotments be adjusted semiannually to reflect changes in the prices of food as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Allotment adjustments are based on the cost of the Department of Agriculture's (USDA) economy food plan as it is computed from Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices.
The law requiring semiannual adjustments specified that the January 1974 adjustment reflect changes in food prices through August 1973. A similar procedure was used for the July 1974 adjustment and is being used for the January 1975 increase in the value of the coupon allotment, which is based on the cost of the economy food plan in August 1974.

The cost of the economy food
plan for August was $153.40
for a family of four with school children. Accordingly, USDA will raise the value of the coupon allotment from $150 to $154 for a family of four and make appropriate adjustments for other household sizes. The maximum income eligibility
standard for the four person household will increase from $500 to $513.

The following table giving coupon allotments, income eligibility standards and purchase requirements for all household sizes in the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia are scheduled for publication in the Federal Register on Monday, November 18, 1974.
Separate tables for Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will be announced shortly.

Maximum income eligibility
standards by household size
starting January 1 are:

One	$194
Two	280
Three	406
Four	513
Five	606
Six	700
Seven	793
Eight	886

For each additional household member over eight, add $73 to the eight-person eligibility level.

Christmas Gifts Asked For Whitfield Patients

A Christmas gift for every patient at Mississippi State Hospital, Whitfield, is the goal of the Mississippi Association for Mental Health and its affiliated chapters, according to Mrs. Albert Mitchell, of Jackson, who serves MAHA as volunteer Services Chairman.

No one must be overlooked. Everyone must be remembered with a gift on Christmas morning, to be assured a joyous Christmas.

"Although this is a project of the mental health association, giving is by no means restricted to members of mental health associations," said Mrs. Mitchell, "far from it. The mental health association simply serves as the coordinator to work with and encourage clubs, civic organizations, and individuals throughout the state to participate in this, 'A Gift for Every Patient Project' - to be certain that all Mississippi organizations and individuals have the opportunity to remember and share with those less fortunate than themselves.

Volunteer and staff members of Mississippi State Hospital work together to insure a happy and joyous Christmas for the over 3,000 residents there - patients who come from all walks of life - rich, poor, middle class - from all professions and groups - although the majority are in the middle and lower income brackets.

It is a sad but very true fact that at least a fourth of the patients at the hospital are, literally, "forgotten" - by parents who have died and left them alone, by family members who are reluctant to acknowledge a relative in a mental hospital, by friends who, over the years, forget, and for other reasons. The fact remains that over 1,000 patients would have absolutely nothing at Christmas were it not for the concern of those in the outside community.

"We cannot let one patient go unremembered at Christmas," says Mrs. Maggie Brantley, director of the hospital's very active Volunteer Services Department. "Of course, we depend on the concerned citizens of the state, to insure Christmas cheer for our patients, and if they should fail us, I don't know what we would do. But I know that they will not fail. The people of Mississippi always respond."

Last year, over 600 organizations and/or clubs gave generously and joyfully so that, according to many at the hospital, "It was the nicest Christmas we had ever had."

Patients know that the people of the outside community care - that they wish for them a speedy recovery and a return to their homes where they can again lead full and useful lives - where they can be an integral and important part of their community. Love and understanding, this is the therapy to which we all respond, regardless of where we live.

Almost any gift is appreciated. Plastic containers for cosmetics are required - no breakables. Gift suggestions include candy, cigarettes, cookies, hair brushes, cosmetics, stationery, scarves, lingerie, house slippers, rain boots, coats, sweaters, bedspreads... Do not wrap gifts, as volunteers do this, and it is requested that all packages be sent before December 10, so that they may be Christmas-wrapped before Christmas.

Packages may be mailed to: Volunteer Services Dept., Mississippi State Hospital, P. O. Box 75, Whitfield, MS 39193

the Society and its chapters across the country have allocated nearly $24 million to MS research and millions more for services to patients, Mrs. Moore reported. In the past two years, she said, knowledge of the disease have accelerated, but she emphasized that much still remains to be done before this major health problem can be licked. At the present time, there is no known cause or cure.

"The Mississippi Jaycees have adopted the Mississippi MS Chapter as a health project because they and their wives are in the vulnerable age group to be stricken by Multiple Sclerosis," Freeman said. Mrs. Moore added, "We would like to wipe out this dread cripple before the young children of today become the crippled young adults of tomorrow."

Further information about MS can be obtained by writing or calling the Mississippi MS Chapter, P. O. Box 10072, Jackson, Mississippi, 39206, Telephone: 366-1021.

Jackson To Host Miss. Teen-Ager Pageant

Final preparations have been made for the Miss Mississippi Teen-Ager Pageant to be held at the Holiday Inn - North, Frontage Road, Jackson, Mississippi on March 14, 15, 16, 1975.

After winning the state title last April, Miss Billy Jean Collum, of Fulton, Mississippi, was selected first runner-up on her essay "What's Right About America" in the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant held in Atlanta, Georgia, September 1, 1973. Miss Sharon McLarty, of Amory, went on to win the National Title in 1972.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement - leadership, poise, personality, and beauty. Each contestant will be required to write a 100 word essay on the subject "What's Right About America."

The Miss Mississippi Teen-Ager Pageant is the official state finals to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Georgia in August 1975. Miss Mississippi Teen-Ager will receive a scholarship and other prizes, plus an all-expense paid trip to the National Pageant.

The pageant is open to girls 13 through 17 years of age as of August 30, 1975.

The pageant had previously been planned to be held at the Heidelberg Hotel.

State winners -- one from every state and the District of Columbia -- will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. DRY. DON'T FRY

That's one rule for getting the most efficient use from your clothes dryer. Overdrying, frying, is rough on fibers, it sets wrinkles, and it wastes electricity.

Another clothes dryer efficiency tip is to clean the lint filter after each load. This lets the dryer work faster.

A third efficiency tip is to dry full loads. Small loads don't utilize all the heat produced by the dryer.

And here's a word to the wise. Some clothes dryer fabric softeners and anti-static conditioners have damaged dryers. When this is the case, dryer manufacturers rightfully void the warranty. Be careful. Use only those products guaranteed not to damage dryers.

PHYLLIS COX, of Columbus, is the Head Majorette and Feature Twirler of the East Mississippi Junior College Lion Band. Daughter of Chester Cox, former Band Director at Iuka High School, Phyllis and her four brothers and sisters are all involved in band activities. Phyllis attended Iuka High, and was a majorette there before moving to Columbus.

"Believes In Music"

The Chester Cox family, of Columbus, "believes in music", and daughter, Phyllis, is no exception.

A sophomore at East Mississippi Junior College, Phyllis is Head Majorette and Feature Twirler for the Lion Marching Band, and plays the flute and saxophone in the EMJC Stage Band under the direction of Tom Risher.

Participation in band activities is an accepted criterion in the Cox household. Phyllis' dad, Chester Cox, was a member of the Ole Miss Band, and Band Director at Iuka High School, and now is Band Director at Lee High School in Columbus.

All of the Cox children are members of bands - brother Mike plays with the Keesler Air Force Band, sister Angela is a member of the Mississippi State University Band, Phyllis at EMJC, sister Mary Beth is in the Lee High Band and is a member of the Rifle Squad, and eighth grader Dennis is in the Joe Cook Junior High Band. Graduated from Lee High in 1973, Phyllis became interested in twirling by watching majorettes in her father's band. She copied their actions, and found a natural talent for twirling. During the last of her three years at the MSU Band Camp, Phyllis won first place in twirling competition in her age division.

Before attending Lee High, where Phyllis was a majorette for two years, she attended Iuka High School, where she was also a majorette.

A Business Administration major at EMJC, Phyllis plans to attend MSU after graduation. When asked if she would try out for the Marching Band, her reply was, "Certainly!"

after your child has reached adolescence! Start as early in your boy's or girl's life as possible - long before Kindergarten.

6. Realize your importance as a model for your children! They want Dad as a "model" and Mother is their "model" despite other circumstances.

7. Give active personal support and offer real cooperation to community and school innovative drug programs and projects. Get involved!

8. Avoid arguing with your children about legalization or the legitimacy of drug laws. Emphasize instead the personal effects, long and short term, of drugs on them personally and then on other human beings. Don't get trapped in an argument!

9. Separate the issue of drugs from the problems of the so-called "generation gap." Don't be trapped into relating these separate problems, it's like comparing apples and bananas.

10. Be prepared to work on your own problems of drug use and misuse. Remember the proven facts concerning the drugs in tobacco, liquor, etc., that you may ingest regularly and which your children have learned are often worse for the human being than other drugs may prove to be. Don't excuse or hide your problem. Be honest with your kids or expect them to use that ugly word "hypocrite."

11. Refrain from building your guilt complex over your children's drug abuse. Every youth problem isn't necessarily the result of parent failure.

12. Recognize and understand that drug use generally is sanctioned and even encouraged by American Society (alcohol, nicotine, caffeine, prescribed and non-prescribed mood drugs such as tranquilizers or "downers," amphetamines or "uppers," sleeping pills, diet pills, even aspirin, etc.) It is abused and misused that's the problem.

13. When in doubt assume your child is experimenting with drugs. Don't panic, climb the wall, beat or throw your child out in the cold! Start communicating on a "we have a problem basis," and "how can we meet and solve it." Don't moralize! Your communication must be on a "man to man" basis, not on an outraged "criminal" one. Establish the rules of the game fairly and mutually. You can't run a prison successfully in your own home so redevelop "trust" and strive for communication and understanding.

14. Be prepared to refer your teenager or child to proper agencies for emotional guidance and counseling - to qualified people in the behavioral sciences such as psychologists, psychiatrists, physicians, social workers, school counselors, or trusted teachers.

15. As a last resort - only after frankly explaining the reasons to the teenager - take him or her to the juvenile authorities and give them a complete and frank statement of your problem. Then follow their advice and don't try to "second guess" them.

16. During the next twelve months, help meet the overall problems of children and those of your neighbors by taking an active role in forwarding the innovative educational programs planned by your local school district to meet the changing economic, political, and social scene as well as needs of our young generation. We must more and more lay our stress on children finding and fulfilling their own potentials as against the grade-orienting competition which is causing so many to either "cop out" or turn to drugs. Our schools must lay greater emphasis on teaching attitudinal development ("valuing"), responsibility and sound decision making, along with the transmission of facts based on scientific research and development. Your school board, administrators, and dedicated teachers are working day and night to realize this program as quickly and effectively as resources, time, and human energies permit! But, they will fail miserably without your active concern and deliberate help on the family and community front!

An old European custom has it that if women draw a plowshare around the village at night, that will drive away epidemics!

Of Interest to Women

President, Lila Pease called the meeting to order at the home of Mrs. John Strickland. The song "Count Your Blessings," was sung, and Mrs. Amy Walker called roll. There were eight members present.

Mrs. Amy Walker gave demonstration on things to do for Christmas decorations. The focus topic was given by Andrea Bonds on health and safety. Thanksgiving was the theme of the program.

Refreshments and were furnished by Mrs. Strickland. Prizes were won by Tressie Bonds, and Lila Pease.

DRUGS

PARENT APPROACH

1. Have frank, open and frequent family discussions about drug use and abuse.

2. Adopt a sincere attitude of being a student yourself as far as drug matters are concerned.

a. Be a student of drug use literature and educational materials.

b. Be a student of your children regarding the local drug scene; they'll know more about it than most so-called authorities.

c. Study challenging and zestful alternatives to drug abuse through discussion with your children; find alternatives that they are interested in; get reliable information not biased or propagandistic.

3. Don't "buy" propaganda and avoid moralizing and "preaching" - both turn students "off" and have little real effect.

4. Project confidence in your child or teenager's ability to make decisions. Teach them from facts how to make generalizations, to form attitudes, and from these to see personal and lasting values. Then teach them to use their knowledge and values in making decisions that only they can make for themselves.

5. Be a parent, not a buddy! You must establish the standards - the values - for your home. Your legal as well as moral responsibility lasts until your child is 21 or married! You and your spouse must set the "rules" of the game and these should be fair but firm. Insist on playing by these "rules" and don't let them fall into disuse. Your children must know what you expect of them - play, study, hours, clothing, deportment, manners, etc. So you will be a "square" to them . . . so what? That's better than being the parent of a "head" or dope user (or worse)! a. Know where your child is at all times and whom they are with.

b. Avoid all unchaperoned parties (beach, theater, mountains, slumber, etc.) for all your underage children.

c. Plan family affairs regularly and for your children (picnics, parties, outings, shows, athletic events, church, fishing, hunting, shopping, and theaters). Your grandmother used to say, "Idle hands are the devil's workshop." You'd better believe it, but remember to obtain and maintain family identity on an "activity basis." Avoid "boredom" and "there's nothing to do on this island."

d. Plan and demand "responsibility." Children can't mature as responsible persons unless given responsibility. Every child should have things for which he/she is responsible. The old but valued concept of "chores" or "duties" is character building. Authorities tell us these should start as early as possible - long before Kindergarten. Remember, a child can't be responsible unless he knows responsibility (lawns, garden, room, dishes, yard, laundry or clothes, car cleaning or washing, etc., etc.). These must be on a daily basis, not occasionally. Mother and Dad must see that these are really done.

e. Be prepared for "I don't want to do it," or "I don't want to go with you Sunday," etc. As a parent you are the "boss." You must make being a parent work. (Again, it's better than being the mother of a drug-head, isn't it?) Resistance will go down proportionally as you insist on your way and as you explain your views and diversify your program. But it is too late to start this

ASCS NEWS

By Ellett N. Allen,
County Executive Director

PAYMENTS FOR ABNOR-MALLY LOW YIELD: There are some points that need to be discussed with all cotton farmers if they are planning to file and application for abnormally low yield:

1: After harvest of your cotton, bring in production (Gin receipts, sale receipts, or warehouse receipts) so the 1974 yield can be established. If you have suffered a loss from any of the following: rain, flood, hail, frost, drought, insects, etc., you might be eligible for some payments. If you think you might have a loss, be sure you do not cut the stalks; because the County Committee must make an inspection before any payments are made.

The County Committee or their representative will definitely take a look at the residue left on the land on a low yield payment.

A crop appraiser from outside the county will inspect and appraise your cotton field
for yield if you file for payment, stating that there was no cotton harvested. Some cotton may be so sorry that it will not pay to pick. If that be the case, come to the ASCS Office and file application for low yield payment. Be sure you leave the cotton residue on the land so it can be appraised.

The time to file will be 15
days from date of final harvesting. If you don't finish gathering until January 10, 1975, file an application 15
days from January 10, 1975.
Don't ask how much my payment will be because no one will know until final harvest and each farm will be figured separately. There is no
"Thumb rule."

If you have a question about adjusted yields or abnormally low yields, call our office or come by to see us. Our telephone number is 423-5036. Our office is located on Eastport Street by the Post Office.

COTTON LOANS: We are having numerous telephone calls in regard to cotton loans.
The ASCS Office personnel is standing by to write your Cotton Loan (Pool Cotton) if you want us to do so. We are not in a position to advise what would be your best route to take. One theory is that cotton will go up after it is out of farmer's hand
- or theory, it may keep going down. If you need our services, we are ready. Bring your Grade Card and Warehouse receipt to the office and we will prepare the loan and write you a draft.

Miss. To Serve As Host For National Assn.

Mississippi will serve as host state for the annual meeting of the National Association of State
Foresters (NASF) in 1975, according to State Forester Bill Gaddis.

Dates for the week-long annual conference of state
forestry executives are Sept.
21-25, 1975. Meeting headquarters will be in Jackson,
with forestry and related tours tentatively planned for the Vicksburg area.

State Forester Gaddis, who recently returned from participation in the 1974 NASF meeting held in Duluth, Minnesota, said that well over one-hundred out-of-state visitors, including state foresters of all fifty states, their wives, and other forestry dignitaries, are expected to attend the meeting.

The 1975 NASF meeting will focus on discussion of problems and programs of mutual interest to the administrative heads of state forestry agencies
across the United States.

In Maryland it is said that a toothpick made from a splinter of a tree struck by lightning will cure toothache.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

By
Percie B. Stricklen
MSU
Extension Service

SOYBEAN SEED

It is not too soon to begin lining up your soybean planting seed for 1975. Unfavorable weather in different parts of the country cause a widespread variation in quality and germination. There is also probably going to be a big increase in planted acres next year.
This makes it doubly important that you insure your seed supply.

DAIRY BREEDING NOTES

Here are some steps that will help you increase dairy profits:

Breed cows and heifers to the best bulls available. With few exceptions, this would be the bulls offered through artificial insemination.

Breed dairy animals to dairy bulls. This is a must to allow you to cull properly and have enough replacements. Breed your heifers to dairy bulls also.
The first calf is not inferior to calves born later to the same cow.

Study weaknesses in the herd and breed to bulls which are strong in these areas. Don't use too many different bulls.
Develop a few cow families and you will find it easier to correct weaknesses in the herd
and to develop strong desirable characteristics.

Breed your heifers so that they will calve the first time when they are around 25 months old -- maybe a little older
for the larger breeds.

Attempt to have each cow calving every 12 months. A cow is more profitable if she calves once a year. Milk her 305 days and give her a 60-day dry period.

HOME GARDENING

Start now getting the garden ready for spring planting. Clean the dead summer plants from the garden. Take up, clean and store bean and tomato stakes.
Take soil samples. If the garden soil needs lime, apply

it. Get rows ready for January planting.

Try to grow some asparagus.
This is a good month to start a bed. Work the soil deeply and use plenty of organic matter. If you get an asparagus bed established and take care of it, you can cut asparagus for years without replanting.

WEED CONTROL

Sure, we have a lot of good herbicides that do wonders in controlling weeds. But they won't do the job alone.

Cold steel -- fall and winter plowing -- will help greatly in controlling such weeds as john-songrass, bermudagrass and nutgrass. Turn the soil to expose the roots. Then chop the roots into small pieces by disking. This causes the roots to dry and freeze, resulting in fewer weeds next year.

4-H

The Mt. Gilead 4-H Club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pearson on Nov.
12.

Teresa Crawford called the meeting to order. Secretary, Jackie Cummings, read the minutes and called the roll.
The Achievement Banquet, decorations for the Governor's Christmas tree, and Parent's Night were discussed.

Beth Pearson gave a demonstration on table arrangements.
Songs were lead by Jackie Cummings, and Nelda Burcham gave the devotional. Pledges were lead by Tommy Strickland.

Refreshments were served by Billy and Beth Pearson.

Power Conservation Effort Improving

Overall public response is call for power conservation effort that is now in place in many parts of the county is growing day by day. Chairman Aubrey J. said today.

Communitywide type of conservation effort that is now in place in many parts of the county is the kind of broad participation that we must have to have a chance of conserving TVA's short coal through the winter season.

At least two major dis-trial customers. Two industries in the Huntsville area reported a 25 percent reduction in total energy use in the past 10 or 12 months without affecting jobs or production.

--Also in Alabama, the Florence, Muscle Shoals, Sheffield and Tuscumbia electric systems have conducted a joint energy conservation meeting for area, city, and county officials; news media, industrial leaders and others, with good response.

--Cooperation from business and commercial customers is also showing some improvement. Retail merchants associations and local governments in Chattanooga and other areas of the region are taking steps to reduce the number of operating hours for retail stores and other commercial and business establishments. In Chattanooga, a number of placards are beginning to appear in many store windows reading "Pardon our reduced light and heat. We're cooperating with the electric energy crisis. Are you?"

--Cooperation from the public school sector is generally good. In Tupelo, Mississippi, the city is awarding $100 each month to the school with the greatest reduction in utility usage. TVA home economists are continuing to meet with school systems across the region to help in energy conservation programs.

--In Nashville, the mayor has ordered a 20 percent reduction in the use of electricity in all metropolitan government departments, and has made a strong appeal for at least a 20 percent reduction by the public.

--A large industry in Clarksville, Tennessee, reports a 19 percent reduction in the number of kilowatt-hours used for the first ten months of 1974 compared to the same period in 1973.

--Many industries in the region are cutting back in energy use and handing out conservation literature with employee payroll checks. At the request of a large industry in McMinnville, Tennessee, the local power distributor conducted repetitive energy conservation programs at the plant throughout one day so that all company employees could attend the program.

Wagner credited much of the increased interest and participation in the energy conservation program to the support and organizational efforts of state and local officials and the local power distributors. He commended news media for the role they have played in recent months in keeping the public up to date on the critical coal and power supply situation in the region.

Wagner, while praising recent conservation efforts, pointed out the need for even greater reductions in the use of electricity because of the miners strike which is causing TVA's coal stockpiles to decline even faster than in recent months.

"The TVA power system faces the most critical period in its history," he said. "The strike now makes it absolutely imperative that all power consumers -- residential, business, public institutions, and industries -- make a special effort to turn back thermostats to 65 degrees or lower and make every savings possible in electrical use in the days and weeks ahead. A little discomfort and inconvenience now could help prevent the very real threat of power blackouts and widespread loss of jobs later this winter."

Christmas Seals Compared

Mattie Lomenick and Linda Moore were co-sponsors at the Lucy Rowe annual meeting to pre-Christmas Seal letters for residents throughout Tishomingo County. The work was held at the Iuka Library with Mrs. Herbert Hill, chairman of the Tishomingo County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association, in charge.

The Christmas Seal Campaign in Tishomingo County has been sponsored by the Lucy Rowe Study Club for many years and has always proven to be a successful event. The club urge every resident to participate by returning their donations immediately to the sponsoring organization.

Club ladies lending a hand in getting the seals ready for the mail included, in addition to the above ladies: Mrs. Nell Landrum, Mrs. Janet Yeargain, Mrs. Jo Ann Wimberly, Miss Nellie Horton, Mrs. Barbara Carpenter, Mrs. Marie Ramsey, Mrs. Jane Martin, Mrs.

Barbara Sweeney, Mrs. Virginia Jones, Mrs. Betty Swimmer, Mrs. Derenda Nelson, Mrs. Elizabeth Beard, Mrs. Ann Byrd, and Miss Dorothy Bacon.

Mrs. Beard, club president, conducted a brief business session at which time Mrs. Byrd discussed the club's role in beautification of the grounds at the Iuka Library once the grade-work is completed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

mingo, president; and Martha Holcomb, Corinthe, reporter. Mrs. Cooper Hoover is sponsor of the group.

Special Christmas Seal Mailing

A special Christmas Seal letter will begin arriving in homes of Tishomingo County residents this week according to an announcement by Mrs. Herbert Hill, Chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign for Tishomingo County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association.

This "special letter", addressed to "Resident" or "Boxholder" is the most effective and economical way of delivering Christmas Seals to newcomers in the community, new contributors and persons who have recently changed addresses, according to the campaign sponsoring organization, The Lucy Rowe Club.

"Because we know that all residents are interested in health and the work of our association, we are using this economical means of giving everyone an opportunity to buy and use Christmas Seals. Citizens who have been regular contributors to our work have already received the regular contributor Christmas Seal letter on or about the first of November. It is our hope that regular contributors receiving this special resident mail letter will keep and use the extra sheet of Christmas Seals and will let this second message serve as a reminder in the event a contribution has not yet been sent to our important campaign", said Mrs. Hill.

By using the resident mail system in Mississippi last year, we added many new supporters to our year-round programs aimed at the control of emphysema, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases and educational programs on the hazards of smoking and air pollution."

"When you receive a Christmas Seal appeal, please bear in mind that ninety cents (90¢) of every dollar contributed will be spent in Mississippi. Ten cents (10¢) of every Christmas Seal dollar helps support research and medical education programs of the American Lung Association."

"Contributions thus far have indicated an increased interest in our association's work. Members of the Lucy Rowe Study Club urge all citizens to make a generous contribution so that existing activities and projects may be continued and new projects included in our life-saving programs for the year 1975," Mrs. Hill concluded.

CIP Seminar

The Lucy Rowe Study Club was represented at the Community Improvement Seminar held at the University of Mississippi on November 13. Attending the event, sponsored jointly by the Mississippi Federated Women's Clubs and Sears, were Mrs. Janet Year-gain, Mrs. Lois Hill and Mrs. Ann Byrd.

The group was welcomed to the campus by Porter Fortune. Addressing the ladies were Mrs. Robert Powers, president of MFWC, Mrs. Foster Booth, State Chairman of CIP, and John Blaylock, a representative of Sears.

MFWC and Sears have co-sponsored these CIP programs for 20 years. Cash awards are given yearly for the best local, state and national projects based on improving the quality of life in our communities.

According to information distributed to the ladies, last year's national winner of $10,000 was a Home for Abandoned Children, sponsored by a General Federated Women's Club in Kansas.

Mrs. Yeargain, local chairman of Community Improvement, cited the purpose of the seminar as being to train club members in the CIP five-step process of defining community needs, taking inventory of resources, planning, action, and evaluation of success.

Dr. Phifer Addresses Club

Dr. Melvin Phifer, Tishomingo County Superintendent of Education, was guest speaker of the Lucy Rowe Study Club, at their November 7 meeting held in the home of Mrs. Tom Stanford on Martha Lane.

Dr. Phifer was introduced by Mrs. Marie Ramsey, program chairman in the Gerontology Department. He chose as his subject "Senior Citizens" and the lack of services now provided for them in Tishomingo County.

Sharing with the club ladies, his own personal philosophy that the senior citizens should be worthy of dignity and respect, regardless of age, economic and social status, he presented the possibilities of providing a Senior Citizens Day Care Center. All the services of such a Center would be designed to permit senior citizens to remain un-instituted, Dr. Phifer pointed out.

Funds are available for this type of facility, which could provide routine health problem referral, detection of possible nutrition problems, leisure recreational programs, games, arts and crafts, Dr. Phifer continued. He suggested that the club consider helping to make this Center become a reality and offered his services in drawing up a pilot project of this nature.

Delicious pie, with cokes or coffee, were served at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. Ramsey reminded club members to place their gifts for the patients at Mississippi State Hospital in Whitfield in a box which she would be mailing within the next few days.

During the business session which followed, Mrs. Elizabeth Beard, club president, discussed the upcoming CIP Seminar to be held in Oxford, the club's participation in the annual Christmas Parade to be held this year on December 3rd, the progress being made thusfar in the club's Christmas Seal campaign in Tishomingo County.

Club ladies attending the meeting, in addition to the above mentioned, included: Mrs. Betty Swimmer, Mrs. Barbara Carpenter, Mrs. Jo Ann Wimberly, Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, Mrs. Nell Landrum, Mrs. Derenda Nelson, Miss Dorothy Bacon, Mrs. Linda Moore, Mrs. Mildred Ramsey, Mrs. Virginia Jones, Mrs. Ann Byrd, Mrs. Jane Martin, Mrs. Marion Dampier, Mrs. Nancy Daniel, and Miss Nellie Horton.

Thanksgiving

By Lindsey Earl Jones

As we once again approach another Thanksgiving Day, my thoughts go back to that first Thanksgiving Day when the Pilgrims gathered and had a dinner together and thanked and praised God for the crop and food He had blessed them with.

So, as we come to this Thanksgiving Day in 1974, over three hundred years later, I, too, have much to be thankful for.

I thank God for letting me live through another year and blessing me with all the good things of life. For the food I have had to eat, the clothes I have had to wear, the car to take me where I had to go, for keeping me well and able to work, for the good job I have, the good people I work with, who have meant so much to me, for all the good church services I have had the privilege to attend.

So, as we gather to eat this Thanksgiving dinner, let's thank God for everything He has blessed us with.

The Burning Hell A Film Story

BY MELISSA GRANT

High interest and inspiration came with the making of the new Christian film, "The Burning Hell," recently completed, and to many it was a highly rewarding experience --- this I know from personal observation.

Sponsored by the Estus Pirkle Evangelists Association, Inc., of New Albany, Miss., and filmed by the Ormond Organization, of Nashville, Tenn., the premiere of the 60 minute color motion picture is set for the nights of December 5 and 6, 1974, at the Natchez Trace Hall of Fame in Tupelo, Miss., with the Rev. William F. Evans, pastor of the First Baptist Church in New Albany, serving as Master of Ceremonies.

The $60,000.00 film was started back in the spring by shooting a one minute scene of preaching by Dr. Robert G. Lee, former president of the Southern Baptist Convention, at the Bellevue Baptist Church in Memphis, Tenn. This was followed by three weeks of shooting in the Holy Land by a cast of 69 people. Filming was done in the Valley of Gehenna, The Sinai Wilderness, Petra in Jordan, The Amphitheatre at Caesarea, on the road to Emmaus, Jerusalem and other places in Israel.

In the United States, filming took place in New Albany, Miss., Myrtle, Miss., Memphis, Tenn., Roan Mountain, Tenn., Spartanburg, S.C., Buford, Ga., Sycamore, Ga., and Callaway Gardens in Georgia. Many outstanding preachers participated in the film including Dr. Robert G. Lee, Dr. Jack Hyles, Dr. Bob Gray, Rev. William F. Evans, Rev. Carl Lackey, Rev. Don Green, Dr. Bob Sensat, Rev. Maurice Banks and many others. In addition, hundreds of other people helped to make it possible.

The Ormond Organization is a complete production service. After filming 23 years in Hollywood, the director, Ron Ormond, entered the field of Christian filming, and is the producer of four Christian films: "If Footmen Tire You, What Will Horses Do?", "Joseph and His Brothers", "The Bill Rice Ranch" and "The Burning Hell."

The assistant director, Tim Ormond, is also a man of experience in film production with his parents, grandparents, and great grandfather, actors of note. In May, the Ormond group goes back to the Holy Land to make a film for Dr. John R. Rice.

The director states his camera and group have been to China, Japan, Rome, the Holy Land and a dozen other countries. "This camera has made eleven features for theatres. Now its only service is making pictures for our Lord," says the producer.

Already several bookings for the film, "The Burning Hell," have been listed and others may be made by contacting the Rev. Estus Pirkle, Rt. 2, New Albany, Miss. 38652. The film is supported with free will offerings and donations. Truly all who have had a part in the making of "The Burning Hell" film, viewed bits of the playbacks, watched the filming, or interested in the work of the Lord, are looking without let-up, except for a sandwich or coke.

Already the effects of the film are being felt. Ten people have been saved as a result of the shooting so far. The writer of the script, Rev. Estus Pirkle, pastor of the Locust Grove Baptist Church, of New Albany, Miss., says that he anticipates tens of thousands of people being saved at the showings of this film.

This is the second religious film for Rev. Pirkle. His first was entitled "If Footmen Tire You, What Will Horses Do?" So far, it has been shown in hundreds of churches and thousands have been saved at its showings.

Special Session Conference Slated

Delegates from the 277 local United Methodist pastoral charges in North Mississippi will meet in Grenada December 4 at the Grenada High School Auditorium for a special session of their annual conference.

The meeting was called by Bishop Mack B. Stokes, resident bishop of Mississippi.

The conference will convene at 6:30 p.m. and is scheduled to adjourn at 9:30 p.m.

Purpose of the evening meeting is to kick-off the 1975 "Year of Evangelism" in North Mississippi under the theme "Every United Methodist an Evangelist."

North Mississippi Conference delegates adopted this program of evangelism as their number one priority for 1975 during last summer's annual meeting held in Greenville.

Heading the evangelism program is Curtis Petrey, a Tupelo businessman, chairman of the Board of Evangelism of the Conference. Petrey said, "We plan to reverse the trend of declining membership in the conference."

The meeting will come at the conclusion of a special three-day "Bishop's Convocation on Evangelism" also to be held in Grenada December 2-4 at the First United Methodist Church.

About 250 ministers are expected to attend the three-day convocation which will feature workshops in various aspects of evangelism.

Bishop Mack B. Stokes, Jackson, will open the convocation with a keynote address on What We Hope to Accomplish in This Year of Evangelism.

Several nationally recognized leaders in the field of evangelism from both in and out of state will be on hand for the three days of training and for the Special Session of the Conference.

They include three members of the General Board of Discipleship (formerly called Board of Evangelism) of the denomination, located in Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Charles D. Whittle, the Rev. Danny Morris, and Dr. George Oaten.

The Imperative of Evangelism will be Oaten's topic at the evening session on Dec. 2. The morning session on Dec. 3 will feature the Rev. Mr. Morris and his subject is The Pastor, His Personal Growth and Spiritual Development.

Dr. Arnold Prater will speak on The Pastor as Evangelist in His Daily Life and The Pastor and His Personal Witness in the Community.

Dr. Marvin Gibson, minister of First Baptist Church in Cleveland, Tenn., will speak on the Pastor's Personal Growth and Spiritual Development.

The Rev. Mark Killam, minister of evangelism at Gallop Memorial United Methodist Church in Jackson will lead a workshop on materials of evangelism under the topic Tools of the Trade.

Leading the singing for both the Convocation and the Special Session will be the Rev. Cecil Williamson, Starkville, North Mississippi's full time evangelist.

Local churches have been asked to send their pastors to this convocation by providing for the cost of rooms and lodging during the three day study period.

The entire program coincides with a world-wide emphasis on evangelism sponsored by member churches of the World Methodist Council in 1975.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

THANKSGIVING FOOD SAFETY

Going to serve turkey for Thanksgiving? Plan to prepare and serve it with safety. Bacteria cause food poisoning, and all bacteria needs for growth is the right combination of time and temperature.

When you're doing your shopping, stop at the meat counter last. Then go directly home and refrigerate your poultry.

If you freeze your bird, then thaw it in the refrigerator. If time doesn't allow this, put it in a waterproof plastic bag, seal tightly and defrost in cold water. When thawing at room temperature you give the bacteria a chance to grow. This is especially true with large turkeys because of the time it takes these to thaw completely. It's safer not to stuff the turkey but to cook stuffing separately. After mixing the stuffing, particularly if it's a large quantity, cook it immediately. If you do buy a commercially frozen stuffed turkey do not thaw before baking. Put it directly into the oven.

Cook your turkey completely. Never partially cook and finish cooking it later. Cook it until it reaches an internal temperature of 185 degrees. If stuffed, cook until thermometer inserted into stuffing reaches at least 165 degrees.

Keep your hands, utensils and cutting boards clean when handling your turkey. After handling the turkey, wash your hands with soap and hot water, before working with other foods. Remove bacteria from cutting boards by scrubbing with soap and hot water. Rinse thoroughly and apply chlorine bleach as directed on the bottle label.

After the meal and before refrigerating or freezing, remove the meat from the bones immediately. This eliminates food standing without refrigeration too long. If the food is contaminated with bacteria, the bacteria will produce a harmful toxin if left at room temperature too long.

Don't keep the turkey in the refrigerator more than a few days. If you want to keep it longer, freeze the meat. If you have doubts about a left-over, throw it out. Food poisoning does not necessarily have a bad smell or taste.

If you have left-over gravy or broth, cook quickly and place in the refrigerator. Each is especially subject to spoiling. Don't hold longer than a day or so. Before re-serving, heat and boil for several minutes. Always serve hot.

Check your time. Don't let your food stand at room temperature for more than two or three hours. This includes preparation, storage and serving time.

Girls State

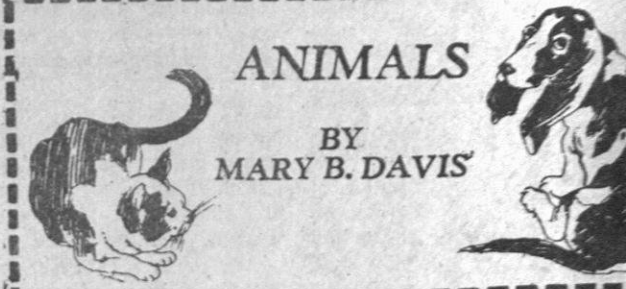

Girls State is an all American plan that selects a bouquet of budding flowers from American families. These flowers are the young, energetic, teenage, American girls from every corner of American soil, who will blossom into All American Women. Through this program, the American Legion Auxiliary hopes to make our young citizens realize that they are an essential part of their government and responsible for its character and success.

Through it we seek to teach them individual responsibility to their community, state and nation. At Girls State they have an opportunity to learn the mechanics, objectives and ideals of Democracy. "Learning By Doing" is the keynote to the success of the program.

Girls on returning as seniors should report to classmates, as well as local civic, church and fraternal clubs on what they have experienced and learned at Girls State. In addition, they should accept the responsibility of leadership in their school and community. Special emphasis should also be placed in a belief in God, patriotism and respect for the American Flag. This is the American Legion Auxiliary's program and it is our responsibility to choose the type of girl who will benefit most from Girl State activities.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post 15, of Iuka, hopes to sponsor two girls next year. We have to know early in the school year (junior year) if you are interested and then we can possibly secure a second representative.

ANIMALS

BY MARY B. DAVIS

ANONYMOUS

This article today was prompted by an unusually cruel, heartbreaking letter which was sent to me about the middle of March, 1974.

Needless to say, it was from "Anonymous."

Everyone knows, of course, that the word "anonymous" means "without" a name: unsigned, nameless. In the case of vicious writers, anonymous also means to me that the writer is without much more than just a name: the person is also without a heart, without a conscience, and without any decent feelings whatsoever for either human beings or animals.

But I don't want to leave the impression that all people who write anonymous letters are mean and unkind. That wouldn't be a true statement.

There are, in fact, in my opinion, about three types of people who sometimes do things anonymously: (1) some are good; (2) some are afraid; and (3) some are just plain, unusually cruel people who get their only real pleasure from hurting others.

This third type is also the kind that would poison neighborhood cats and dogs because the unsuspecting animals couldn't defend themselves; they turn friend against friend by writing "anonymous" tattletell notes, causing their victims to spend the rest of their lives wondering "WHY?" and "HOW?" and "WHO?" could do such a heartless thing to them.

Yes, many a fine man and woman has been permanently hurt by an emotionally sick person, mentally sick enough to derive actual pleasure from seeing what his "poison-pen" has done even to those the writer has actually been calling "friend!"

As I said earlier, though, all unsigned communications are not from mean people. There are plenty of genuinely good, wonderful men and women who do things anonymously for sound, legitimate reasons.

Some will give generously to worthwhile causes. Words of encouragement and inspiration are even sometimes sent anonymously. And some of the most beautiful poetry and other outstanding writings have been published anonymously.

So, this article today is not to condemn all people who have written something anonymously.

There are, in fact, many good people who anonymously report cruelty cases because they're afraid to get involved personally, yet they want abused children and animals.

But I'm writing about mouse letters today after thought, hoping that the one who dictated the letter I received on March 14, who just as cruelly panned on paper, and the mailed it outside Iuka, it wouldn't ever be read, hoping that these three will also read this article be satisfied with knowing they did hurt me deeply will maybe therefore no same thing to someone. "I bet you want a letter or any thing to it in the paper. If you going to explain you for animals when you before God?"

You are right, Anonymous wouldn't print your disbeliever. But have it analyzed by a writing expert. He is a writer of the letter is frustrated and full of hate is the mild part of his sis. (The dictator of the and the one who actually have the same emotion blems!)

Because I am not a lover, but am an actual cruelty in any form creature -- that makes sad for people like people with no concern tating but themselves: . . . Man degrades talizes his own nature he takes pleasure in the pain given to others to inflict needless pain upon animals in against one's own nature therefore to commit a
