Site Needed For New Post Office

The U. S. Postal Service is seeking a suitable site on which to build and lease a new post office building at Tishomingo.

The "preferred area" for site consideration is along Hwy.
25 within one-quarter mile of present facility. All utilities and access to two lane street
must be available.

Minimum site size needed is 18,750 sq. ft., or a lot with dimensions of 125 ft. by 150 ft.
Property owners are asked to submit their site offerings not later than February 22 to William D. Bennett, realty management and acquisition specialist,

Field Real Estate and Buildings
Office, U. S. Postal Service,
P. O. Drawer 3744, Memphis,
TN 38103.

After a suitable site has been located, the Postal Service will call for construction bids for a building that will be built with private funds and leased to the Postal Service over a period of 30 years.

The proposed post office building will have 2,784 sq. ft.
of interior floor space.

Iuka Baptist Kindergarten Registration

The Iuka Baptist Kindergarten will have registration

five-year-old class. Other staff members are: Miss Janie Belue, Mississippi State University music education graduate, who teaches a five year
class, and Mrs. Gene Crane, four year class teacher, who has been with IBK since the program began.

The kindergarten provides a wide range of activities geared to help pre-school children develop socially, emotionally, physically and spiritually. The program includes art and hand-crafts, music and rhythms, physical education, regular trips

children such as a dairy farm,

County Lady Dies In Home Fire

Raking and burning leaves
after a long, cold winter, Mr.
and Mrs. John Keith were busy cleaning up around the yard of their home in the Mt. Glory Community when the flames got out of control and caught their home on fire.

They went into the house to get water in a futile attempt to put out the flames. After they realized the fire had gotten out of control, Mr. Keith ran from the house, thinking his wife was right behind him. When Mrs.

Keith didn't come out, Mr. Keith tried several times to enter the house but the flames and heat
were too intense.

Tishomingo and Iuka Fire Departments were called to the scene and Mr. Keith was carried by ambulance to the Tishomingo County Hospital where he was treated for burns.

Mrs. Allie Page Keith, 78, died Thursday, February 11,
from burns she received.

Funeral services were held Saturday, February 12, at the Bethlehem Baptist Church with the Rev. Grady Davidson and the Rev. Eugene McCoy officiating. Burial was in Bethlehem Cemetery. Mrs. Keith was a Baptist.

Survivors include her husband, John D. Keith, Iuka; two sons, Thadys Keith, Tishomingo, Tulon Keith, Iuka; a daughter, Mrs. Madine Bach-anan, Memphis; two brothers, Millard and Olen Page, both of Iuka; a sister, Mrs. Eunice Quinn, Iuka; six grandchildren;
and five great-grandchildren.

Welfare To Rise In April To Defuse High Utilities

State Welfare recipients will receive an additional $16 in their April 1 checks, Gov. Cliff Finch said at a news conference Tuesday, February 15.

Finch said the money will come from $2 million in state and federal funds being set aside for the project designed to help low-income persons pay higher utility bills brought on by the recent cold weather.
Federal Title 20 money, which is being apportioned to the state to meet this crisis, will make up $1.5 million, while $500,000
in state money, which Finch said is coming from "savings"
in the state welfare program.

The government stressed that welfare and other poverty program participants will not have to do anything special to get the additional money. He said it will come automatically in the checks.

The governor said the additional $16 will be going to all families who are now under Medicaid, aged, blind, disabled, aid to dependent children, and food stamp programs.

At a news conference, Finch also confirmed the letting of a contract on the spillway and lock at Amory as part of the Tennessee - Tombigbee Water-
way project. He expressed disappointment that the legislature had let his bill die which would have given either his office or the Public Service Commission increased powers to monitor utilities, and said he will be cutting back on his office and governor's mansion operation
by 11 percent.

Finch said $9 million had been saved in the welfare program since Jan. 20, 1976. Welfare Department Director F. W.
St. Clair said the $9 million was saved by putting some people back to work, but mostly by taking them off Medicaid and food stamp rolls.

St. Clair said only 20 percent of the $9 million in state money, with the rest being federal funds. He said the state money would be returned to the state treasury and the federal funds
would go back to Washington.
But Finch hastened to add the federal money would only be returned "if we don't find some other program to use it for."

On monitoring of public utilities, Finch said he would have liked for the legislature to give additional authority or staff to the PSC or to his office to look into utility rates. "I think someone should monitor the utility companies of this state," he said. "I'm not prejudging, but I think the people should know
all the facts and they themselves (the companies) should not mind the people knowing the facts." Finch specifically had asked for increased authority to monitor fuel adjustment costs.

The governor said he would not start an investigation of utilities from his office until he had time to "look at my authority and to determine what authority I have and what resources I have."

Although the legislature did not act on Finch's bill, an amendment to a House bill setting up an Energy Resources Council calls for the council to examine utility rate structures. The bill, with the amendment by Rep. Gerald Blessey, of Biloxi, still faces Senate action.

Finch would not elaborate on his plan to cut his office operations by 11 percent, saying he wanted to present the plan to the legislature first. Earlier this year, Finch had recommended all state agencies cut their operations by 10 percent.

Finch said he would be cutting back some of the equipment,
some of the personnel and "even some in salaries," to "lead the way" in his program.

The contract for construction of the lock on the Tenn-Tom Waterway will be let March 29, Finch said. He said the cost of the project is expected to be about $25 million.

Belmont Wins Class BB Tourney

Deborah Parker paced the Belmont Cardinales to a 50-31 victory over the District
One, Class BB defending girls champions, the Hatley Tigerettes. Parker, an eighth grader, bagged 18 points as the Cardinales brought to an end an era of championships in Northeast Mississippi by Hatley, that included nine consecutive district crowns, five Class BB
state championships, and vie Grand Slam Championships.

The Cardinales moved ahead 23-16 at the half and were never seriously challenged in the second half as Nancy Groover followed Parker closely in the scoring race with 16 points.

The Cardinales' victory moved them into the finals of the district tournament and assured them of a berth in next week's North State Championships.

In the boy's game, Hatley outscored Belmont 35-33. Belmont led 16-15 at the half.
Kenny Sparks led the scoring with nine points.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

"GREENS"-

SOUTHERN TRADITION

If greens are on your menu, plan to serve "pot liquor" for full value, nutritionally and economically. Cooking fresh greens with bacon fat or salt pork produces a seasoned liquid, often called pot liquor. The cooking method is now rooted in Southern tradition. The liquid left from cooked greens has many food nutrients dissolved in it and makes an excellent soup or adds flavor to almost any dish. This advice, however, is only for those with pot liquor to spare.

Fresh leafy green vegetables include mustard, spinach, turnip tops and collards. These all grow well in Southern home gardens and truck farms and are available during the fall and winter months.

Greens make a valuable addition to the diet. They are higher in vitamin A and C, as well as the important minerals calcium and iron.

When buying or selecting garden or market greens, look for crisp clean leaves with good deep green color. Always remember, the fresher the better.

Avoid excessive amounts of grit or dirt.

Avoid those that are tough or fibrous and those with yellowish leaves or brown tips. Avoid greens that have soft mushy spots on the leaves, stems or roots. Inspect closely for insect damage.

To preserve the quality of the greens, proper storage is necessary before and after purchase. Good storage requires cold moist conditions. For best results, store greens in a crisper or a plastic bag with ventilating holes at a temperature as near 32 degrees as possible without freezing. Warm temperatures cause rapid deterioration, loss of nutrients and a change from the dark green color to a yellowish or brownish color.

But only in amounts that you can use within a few days because tender greens don't keep well. A pound of moist greens will cook down to about four servings, although there are some variations.

Use greens raw in salads or cook to serve alone or combine with sauces. Cook or steam in a small amount of water until just tender to save the nutritive value of the greens. Usually the water remaining on the greens after washing is sufficient to cook them.

If you're wondering what to feed your family tonight, serve them greens with pot liquor and cornbread. Add a meat and beverage and you're all set.

BAKED BROILER CHICKEN
1 (2 1/2-pound) chicken, cut into serving-size pieces
2 cups mayonnaise
2 cups crushed cornflakes

1 (3/4 oz.) package buttermilk style salad dressing mix
1 cup buttermilk

Wash chicken and pat dry; set aside. Combine salad dressing mix, mayonnaise, and buttermilk; mix well. Dip chicken pieces in buttermilk mixture; then roll them in cornflakes. Place chicken, skin side up, in a single layer in a 13 x 9 x 2 inch baking pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours or until done. Do not turn. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

WINTER CATTLE FEED

This winter has been pretty uncomfortable for all of us in Mississippi. But for the state's cattle herds, it could well turn into disaster. Dry weather last year produced a poor hay crop on many farms and continuous cold weather has limited ryegrass grazing needed by cows and calves on most farms. Also, in cold weather cattle need more feed to maintain their body temperature. With feed in short supply and feed prices soaring, what are cattle producers to do?

One solution may be to feed some corn with the hay available. Though expensive, corn furnishes a great deal of energy, which tends to offset its cost. Cottonseed hulls, too, are a good alternative. They can either be fed with the hay, or, if necessary, used exclusively when hay is unavailable. If cottonseed hulls are fed alone, they will need some protein added to them.

A last alternative is to sell enough of the herd to buy adequate feed for the rest of the cattle if feed supplies are exhausted.

For more information on cattle feeding this winter, contact your County Extension Service Office.

SOIL TEST SUMMARIES

A soil test summary recently compiled by the Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University shows that most of the mixed fertilizer sold in the state does not meet the need of most Mississippi soils. Most mixed fertilizer sold in the state contains equal amounts of phosphate and potash. However, the soil test summary shows that only 49 percent of the soil in the state needs equal amounts of phosphate and potash. The summary shows that 37 percent of the soils need a high potash, low phosphate ration, and 14 percent need a high phosphate, low potash ratio.

Fertilizer manufacturers and dealers must make the needed fertilizer grades available locally so farmers can apply the materials their soil needs.

PLANT STRAWBERRIES NOW

Strawberries can be planted in most areas of Mississippi until about the end of February. One of the most important parts of growing strawberries successfully is preplanting care. After getting your plants, do not let the roots dry out before planting. If you cannot plant them immediately, cover the roots with moist sawdust or sand until you can plant them.

If you plan to plant strawberries this year but haven't bought your plants yet, check with your county agent's office for a list of varieties that have proved successful in Mississippi.

NEW 4-H CITIZENSHIP PROJECT MANUAL

Citizenship is one of the most challenging projects in 4-H. We all want to be good citizens, but knowing how to accomplish this presents a problem. The new citizenship project manual, "4-H Citizenship Stage," is designed to help 4-H members solve that problem.

The publication focuses first on you, the individual 4-H member. What do you value? What is your attitude, understanding, and skills in citizenship. The second focus is on groups. What is your responsibility in the family, with friends, and in your community, state, and Nation? The concluding focus is on activities in which you may participate to carry out your responsibilities and develop your status as more valuable citizens.

If you have not received your copy of "4-H Citizenship Stage," come by the 4-H office and get one. For information about the Citizenship Project or other 4-H projects call us at 325-4634.

PARDON, THE REAL YOU IS SHOWING

Have you checked your personal grooming practices lately? What care are you giving your skin, hair and teeth? Are you giving them proper care? How about your posture and your manners at home, on the telephone, or in a group? Are you a good conversationalist? Do you know how to make proper introductions? These and many more questions are answered in the new 4-H Personal Development Project Manual entitled - "Pardon, The Real You Is Showing".

In addition to the numerous tips on grooming and social usage, this new publication suggests practice exercises to help you develop your skills and poise in each area. The manual concludes with a summary checklist for your use as you practice to make sure the best you is showing.

Consider enrolling in the 4-H Personal Development Project. Come by the 4-H office and get your copy of "Pardon, The Real You Is Showing."

"Big Economists are wasting time on things we know too well." No wonder we aren't snapping out of the dumps any better than we are. Our big economists are wasting their time proving things that we common folks have known all along. "Mississippi's two-percent general sales tax is in reality a buyers tax. A levy upon the customer's who make purchase," says a news item in the Press-Scimitar. Three of Mississippi's leading economists reached this conclusion in a bulletin issued by the "University of Mississippi." Why two minutes after the tax was passed any of us little buyers could have told the professors who was going to pay it. And, in case they're interested we also can tell them who's going to pay those taxes that will be voted in 1940. So you professors cut out this monkeying around! Get busy and tell us consumers how to make enough to pay that tax. That'll be something useful??

Do these headlines of 1933 sound familiar?

HOMEMAKERS

The Burnsville Homemakers Club met Wednesday, February 9, at 1:30 at the home of Mrs.

Miss Sandra Gaye Davis Is Bride Of Steven Curtis Haynes

Sandra Gaye Davis and Steven Curtis Haynes are making their wedding trip to Murfreesboro following their November 27 wedding in Kimball Baptist Church. The bride and groom are the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Davis, Sr., of Kimball, Tenn., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Haynes, of Loudon, Tenn., formerly of Iowa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her bridal gown of floor length creation of white chiffon posed over taffeta. The bodice was designed with mandarin collar of re-embroidered Chantilly lace, sheer round yoke etched with matching lace. The Camelot sleeves terminated with lace cuffs. Lace encircled the empire waist holding a full flowing skirt and chapel length train sweeping down from the shoulders. Wide rows of flowers and lace bordered the hemline and train. A profile headpiece with touches of lace and pearls held her double-tiered veil of silk illusion bordered with the matching lace. Her flowers were a classic cascade bouquet of white butterfly orchids and shrimp roses, white stephanotis accented with pearlized leaves cascaded with pearls.

Bridal attendants wore long dresses with peach polyester knit skirts with chiffon bodices and cummerbunds. The bodice featured a square yoke defined by applied lace ruffle, vertical applied bands of lace and ruffled lace collars, modified Bishop sleeves, cinched at raised waist with lace edged belt. The A-line skirt ended with a hemline flounce. Their headpieces were Juliet caps with ribbon streamers. They carried sheaf bouquets of shrimp roses.

Serving as best man was Lawrence W. Haynes, Jr., of Hixon, Tenn., brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were William (Buzz) Ables, III, of South Pittsburg, Billy Cooley, of Kimball, Tenn., cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Davis wore a kelly green chiffon gown designed with V-neckline, long full sheer sleeves with applied cuffs. Natural applied waistline with a long full skirt. Her shoulder corsage was a green catalaya orchid.

Mrs. Haynes, the bridegroom's mother, chose a floor-length gown of Midian blue polyester knit, featuring A-line skirt, long sleeves, and V-neckline bordered with matching applied lace and shirred gathers front bodice. Her corsage was a white catalaya orchid.

RECEPTION
A reception for the couple followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall at the church. The serving tables were covered with shrimp colored cloth overlaid with antique lace coverlets. The lovely tiered wedding cake carrying out the shrimp colors with shrimp colored flowers encircling the base was a focal point of the reception. Refreshments were served from another equally attractive serving table.

Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Lawrence Haynes, Jr., of Hixon, Tenn., Beverly Donaldson, Haleyville, Ala., Susan Wood, Decatur, Ala., Linda Smith, cousin of the bride, Pigeon Forge, Tenn. Sue Haskew presided at the bride's book.

The bride is a former student of Iuka High School, graduated from South Pittsburg High School and is presently attending Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro.

Mr. Haynes is also a South Pittsburg High School graduate, and Murfreesboro Barber and Hairstyling College. He is employed at the Stylist Too in Murfreesboro.

Mr. Haynes is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cooley, of Kimball, Mrs. Henry Hayes and the late Mr. Haynes, of Jasper. Mrs. Haynes is the granddaughter of Mrs. Finch Davis and the late Mr. Davis, of Iuka, L. S. Honeycutt and the late Mrs. Honeycutt, of Iuka.

CAREER EDUCATION NEWS

Mrs. Margaret Byram's home economics students were honored on January 26, by having two gentlemen from Mississippi State University visit their classroom. Dr. Charles Shannon, Extension Food Technologist, and Dr. Gale Ammerman, from the Horticulture Department, talked with the girls on Food Technology.

Interesting statistics were given by Dr. Ammerman concerning world population and amount of food needed to properly feed all people. He said that serious thinkers consider the lack of food production to take care of everyone to be the greatest world wide problem. Students interested in Food Technology were encouraged to take courses that might prove helpful if a career related to this field is chosen. Several careers were listed and discussed.

Dr. Shannon presented film slides depicting different stages of food manufacturing. It was pointed out that Mississippi has a surprisingly large number of food processing industries.

Another recent visitor to the science department was Dr. Robert Head, Area Pest Management Specialist, with the Mississippi Co-Extension service. Dr. Head serves a 21-county area in North Mississippi serving the farmers with valuable information. He shared expertise advise regarding ways and means of control. He also told the students about related occupations and the job outlook. Students in Mr. Joe Chumbley's and Mr. Steve Cain's classes enjoyed and appreciated the visit made by Dr. Head.

In the Home Ec. Department Mrs. Byram and her students who were studying a unit on interior decoration enjoyed Mrs. Joyce Brumley who is a qualified decorator through the La Salle Extension School. Mrs. Brumley used several charts and displays that exhibited important points to be kept in mind while planning interior decoration. Mrs. Brumley is presently employed in the Tishomingo County Education Office but enjoys and uses on a part-time basis her knowledge of interior decorating. Thanks to Mrs. Brumley for her special presentation of this information.

A group of the Home Ec. girls had an interesting trip to the meat cutting department at Piggly Wiggly. Mr. Buddy McClain showed and described the many cuts of meat both in pork and beef. He also talked about the different aspects of the meat cutting business.

Students in 9th grade English have enjoyed receiving their Kuder Performance scores and evaluating the information given through the survey. During the same period spent working with them on the interpretation of the interest scores a chart listing English and Language Arts Careers was discussed.

Sixth graders are working and studying to learn the 15 different job classifications.

This is achieved through the use of filmstrips and cassette tapes. The three job areas studied last week included Fine Arts, Personal Services, and Public Services. This study will continue until the 15 have been completed.

Mr. Larry Fancher, head of the payroll department for Winfield Manufacturing Company visited Mrs. Lucretia Waddle's bookkeeping class and shared with them some information gained through his five years of employment with the company. Among other things Mr. Fancher stressed the importance of the proper attitude on the job. He stated that almost any employee could perform the job for which he was hired if the attitude was positive. We appreciate Mr. Fancher's visit and the interest shown by Mr. Billy Martin by permitting him to take time to visit and share important facts about the working world.

Many interesting activities are being planned for the students from now until the end of school. Read about the activities of your students and their teachers and then let us know in the CE Office your reaction to these enriching experiences.

MEETINGS

The Iuka Public Library was the setting for the January 13th meeting of the 20th Century Club. Hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Joy Kitchens. In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Lucille Vickers, called the meeting to order with the reading of a poem by Emily Dickens. Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was said by all members. Roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Joy Kitchens, followed by the treasurer's report, given by Mrs. Maxine Wade.

The selection of a charm for a 6th grade student in memory of Mrs. Jane Hudson was discussed. The annual donation for the Easter Seal Society was decided and the club's major project, eye glasses for needy children, was brought up.

Mrs. Lena Harwell was in charge of the program, which dealt with crime. Many useful and informative hints for protection were presented.

Following the program, the hostess served a dessert plate as refreshments.

Those present were Mrs. Morris Byram, Mrs. E. A. Daugherty, Mrs. Bobbie Sue Finch, Mrs. R. E. Harwell, Mrs. Jack Jourdan, Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. B. F. Kitchens, Mrs. Ben E. Kitchens, Mrs. Sue McBee, Mrs. Nolan Pruitt, Mrs. Dale Tapp, Mrs. Jack Thorne, Mrs. Leo Vickers, Mrs. Lyonel Wade, Mrs. Minor Nixon, and Mrs. Billy Rainey.

IUKA BAPTIST KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION

1977-78 School Year
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18
12:30 to 4:30 AT THE CHURCH
*Classes for 4 & 5 year olds
*Hours-8:30-11:30
*Basic cost-$25.00 per month
*5 days a week

Here is what a few parents, whose children are now attending, have to say about the program:

MRS. BILL HORTON — "The children who attend the Baptist Kindergarten know the colors, letters, and beginning sounds, and starting to school is not as big an adjustment for them as the children who haven't been to kindergarten."

SARAH FINCH — "The Iuka Baptist Kindergarten is the greatest thing that ever happened to our community. Our children are being prepared for elementary school by well qualified instructors and getting training in other areas that parents could not give them at home. I feel that the children attending the Iuka Baptist Kindergarten will have a foundation for life that they would not otherwise have."

MRS. ROBERT LAMBERT — "It's been a delight to see Robert, who was reluctant to leave home for any occasion, blossom into a boy who loves every minute of it. He has advanced so rapidly in his learning process, and we really appreciate it."

MR. AND MRS. ED HALL — "It has been real good for Mitchell, and we have been very well pleased."

MR. AND MRS. STEVE JACKSON — "The Baptist Kindergarten is a great learning experience for the children."

DR. AND MRS. JOE BARLOW — "It has been a wonderful experience for Rachel. She has learned a lot and being with other children has been good for her."

JIMMY GROSS — "We have been well pleased with the progress that our daughter has made this year in kindergarten. The programs and activities will surely help her as she enters school."

It's a major operation to bring Gulf of Mexico gas ashore

Sure, it's a major operation and a slow one.

It's also costly and going to get more so. To bring offshore gas into the United Gas system, large underwater pipelines must be laid and compressor stations built in deep water. Gulf of Mexico gas is far offshore and as marine drilling technology progresses, it's going to get further out.

But the Gulf is our best, most immediate hope to bring more gas to the Gulf South.

United Gas has invested hundreds of millions of dollars in offshore Louisiana lines and in advance payments to gas producers. Now under construction is a new pipeline going a hundred miles offshore Texas. Not only because the gas is there, but because the federally-regulated Gulf of Mexico gas is the only major area where interstate pipelines like United Gas can acquire substantial new supplies at prices the Federal Power Commission permits them to pay.

Yet the Gulf presents a problem. United Gas must compete to acquire this gas.

This company is not the only pipeline interested in the new offshore production. Fourteen other major pipelines, taking gas to nearly all parts of the United States, are vigorously competing. However, United is the only company which delivers substantial amounts of offshore gas to consumers in all the Gulf South states. To the degree this company is successful in this intense competition, the greater the amount of new gas for the Gulf South and the sooner the shortage on the system will be eased.

United's new offshore investment is in a 200-mile high-capacity pipeline network in partnership with four other companies. Named the High Island Offshore System (HIOS), it will cost more than $350 million and will be worth every dollar in benefits to the Gulf South consumers.

But this is only one of the things United Gas is planning to alleviate the shortage. Is there something you can do? Certainly. Conserve this vital resource. Wherever you can, whenever you can. With conservation and efficient usage, the natural gas of America will last well into the next century.

NOTICE

We would like to explain to the general public just why some of our streets are not being patched as they should be. Due to the natural gas cut-backs in areas where asphalt mixtures are made, plants where we usually obtain our patching materials are closed down. We can assure you, however, that just as soon as materials become available, we will patch all holes and pavement breaks.

Please bear with us in this situation, as there is no way to permanently patch these potholes until asphalt becomes available.

Thank you for your cooperation.

LEGAL NOTICE FOR DESIGN APPROVAL

On February 8, 1977, a request was submitted to the Director, Mississippi State Highway Department, for design approval of Federal Aid Secondary Project 23-1989-00-006-10 (PE) in Alcorn and Tishomingo Counties. This project is on Miss. Highway 350 and extends easterly from a point approximately 0.5 mile west of the Alcorn-Tishomingo County Line to Mississippi Highway 25, a distance of approximately 7.4 miles. The proposed improvement calls for the construction of 2 at 12 ft. paved traffic lanes having partial control of access. Construction will take place on new location.

The design, as approved by the Director, is available for public inspection at the Mississippi State Highway Department's District Office, Tupelo, Miss., and the Mississippi State Highway Department's Project Office, Corinth, Miss.

SOLAR HEATING

Higher cost and availability of natural gas as well as electricity have caused us to look closer at other resources for heating our homes. One of the most promising avenues of low-cost heat, that is available today to consumers is the backyard solar furnace. The Champion Home Builders Co., headquarters Dryden, Mich., have selected Patrick Home Center as a authorized solar center for the company's new A-frame backyard solar furnace. This furnace is designed for use with existing, properly insulated conventional homes, as well as factory-built homes.

Patrick Home Center's solar furnace represents a first in the availability of practical solar heating to area homeowners.

The unit is available in three models which range in size from a 96 square foot collector for smaller homes to one with 160 square feet of collector surface for larger homes and small commercial applications.

With a retail price starting under $3000.00, on a normal installation, the mass produced solar furnace is up to 10 times smaller and far less expensive than most other solar heating systems.

About the size of a garden tool shed, the A-frame, free standing furnace is set on the ground facing south. It collects energy from the sun, converts it to heat, stores it, and delivers it to the home as the house thermostat calls for it.

Collection, heat transfer, storage, motors and controls are all enclosed within the A-frame unit. The unit is delivered ready for integration with the existing forced-air furnace. This is done with ducting and simple electrical wiring from the solar furnace to the home.

In actual use, the solar furnace operates on much the same principle as sunlight warming the interior of a parked car on a cold winter day.

Sunlight passes through two layers of triple-strength glass covering the south wall of the furnace.

The incoming energy is trapped by black aluminum vanes which form the collector surface.

Resulting heat is harvested by a stream of pressurized air pulled across the collector and into the heat storage area, composed of 25,000 to 43,000 lbs. of 3/4" to 1 1/2" river gravel.

As the heated air blows through the rock, the rock is heated.

Then, to heat the home, a separate fan and motor pull cool air from the house and through the rock. The air becomes solar heated and is ducted back to the house for distribution through existing heat vents.

The pollution free solar furnace, distributed by Patrick Home Center, is the only mass-produced solar furnace to undergo verification testing by independent engineering companies.

Patrick Home Center now has on display an operating solar furnace at their Belmont location.

The solar furnace is considered to be a giant step the way to total energy independence, without having to rely on foreign sources of fuel to heat our homes.

GROWLER

Hello, again!

We're really proud of our basketball teams this year. They went pretty far in winning this season.

The High School Beauty Revue will not be until sometime in March. So, all you girls, be sure and get your dress.

Everyone is looking forward to Spring Holidays and also wondering whether we're going to get out for them. The gas shortage is so bad.

This past week we were celebrating St. Valentine's Day. We're hoping all you guys remembered it! Anyway, we want to say Happy Valentine Day to everybody!

B.K. — We've heard that you have been living under the influence of "love".

R.B. — What was all that red stuff smeared on your face last Thursday?

D.E. — Would you know?

S.B. — Haven't you been digging "cole" lately?

D.G. — We hear you've got a "kissin" cousin and everything's all right, all right, all right.

L.W. — Is spring your favorite season because everything turns "Green"?

P.H. — "Watch out" for moving chairs!

Coach E. — Maybe you should try that, too.

G.F. — Says, R.K. you don't have to be a star, baby, to be in my show.

D.C. — That's a bad lookin' bruise on your neck, ya know?

The Junior Class is proud to announce that they have a new sponsor. Her name is Miss Rebecca Burns. We feel that she will be a very pleasant as well as helpful person to be working with.

Song of the week - The First Cut Is The Deepest - Rod Stewart.

Thought of the week - Watch out about the things you do for love.

Till next time,
Liz & Debi

TEEN TALK

BY JOYCE EMBREY

Hello, Everybody!

Well, basketball season is over. I'm sorry that I don't have the scores of the last game. I guess that all the players are going to miss it, especially the seniors. Most of them are probably going to play baseball, so it won't be too bad not playing basketball for awhile.

All you see now at break and lunch are baseballs being pitched back and forth on the parking lot. I think that has been cut out though. It seems that people have been complaining because of the danger to their cars. This is going to be quite a change to the guys since they've been allowed to pitch on the parking lot for a long time.

I suppose all of you have heard rumors about the new rules that have been drawn up. Well, I know that I've heard about them and I don't think that I'm alone in saying that I don't exactly agree with some of them. No one really does, at least not the students. Some of you have been saying that there isn't anything we can do about it, but there is. We can all urge our parents to attend the P.T.A. meeting. The next one is Monday night at 7:00 in the high school cafeteria. Anyone who is interested in what's going on at our school can attend. If you want something done, then really urge your parents to attend the P.T.A. meetings. It's the only way!

Before basketball season ended, Anita Mitchell and Reda McMahan were chosen as captains of the girls team. Belated congratulations, girls.

Here's some gossip from A.M. and N.S. . . . Rochelle Williams and Joel Mitchell are going steady. Also going steady are Sharon Duckett and Jimmy Williams.

I bet it doesn't take too long to guess who A. M. and N.S. are!

We juniors are having a play in March. Right now we are busy practicing. It's a tough job but we're doing okay. The purpose for this play is to give the seniors a better banquet. So, everyone come to see it in March and help the juniors out. I'll be keeping you posted on the date and time. We would all appreciate your help.

Sharon Duckett had a birthday this week. On Wednesday, February 16, Sharon became 18 years old. I hope it was a very happy day and Happy Birthday, Sharon!

We've got some trips to be taken this week. First of all, the basketball girls are going to Cleveland, Miss. Delta State play back either Saturday. Also, the Co. is going to Gatlinburg for their annual Co. They are leaving early morning and back here late Monday. I hope everyone has sure they all will! Before I go, I have thing to say. "Hi, Sorry it didn't get in. Be good, everybody."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

February 14, 1977

To the people of Tishomingo County:

We have a public library in Iuka, Miss. Also, we probably have one in the other cities of the county. But we are supposed to have a law library in Tishomingo County Courthouse, also.

The Legislature passed a bill to let Tishomingo County have a law library. So, what happened to the law library? Well, the law books are stored in the basement of the Tishomingo County Courthouse and have been stored there for a year or so.

But the Legislature passed the law to start the library March 29, 1973. A copy of the bill is as follows: Chapter 854-855

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI, 1973

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi: Section 1. The Board of Supervisors of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, shall have the power, by an appropriate order or orders entered on its minutes, to establish and maintain in the county courthouse or library a public county law library to operate under such rules, regulations and supervision as the board of supervisors may from time to time establish; and to that end may accept gifts, grants, donations, maps, plats or other property suitable for such purpose.

Section 2. For the purpose of this act, the board of supervisors is hereby empowered and authorized to levy and collect a special law library fee not exceeding One Dollar ($1.00) to be taxed as costs in each case in the circuit, chancery and justice of the peace courts of said county with said sum to be paid monthly into a special law library fund by the clerks of said courts.

Section 3. The board of supervisors may purchase from time to time additional books, furniture or equipment for said library, to an amount not exceeding the sums paid into the law library fund.

Section 4. The board of supervisors may employ and compensate a librarian as provided in Section 2899, Mississippi Code of 1942.

Section 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved: March 29, 1973

We wrote the Board of Supervisors a letter around January 19, 1977 wanting to know why we still have no law library. As of this date, we still don't know why and the Board of Supervisors did not see fit to even answer my letter.

I wonder if enough people would write them asking why? (No money?) (No room?) (No books?) We have asked why before and we were moved out of the courthouse. So now we will ask why again and see if we are moved again.

We also asked the District Attorney to request the Board of Supervisors to print the proceedings of the minutes in the newspaper. Watch the newspaper and see if this is done.

We have several "why" (?) questions we are going to ask our Board of Supervisors in the near future.

A CONCERNED CITIZEN,
JAMES J. KIRK

Of Interest to Women

The Dennis Homemakers Club met Wednesday, February 2, 1977 for the regular monthly meeting in the home of Kate Campbell with Wynna Byram, co-hostess. Dot Sartain, president, called the meeting to order with the thought for the month - "Doing good to others is not a duty. It is a joy, for it increases your own health and happiness." Sue Goza led the group in singing, "Heavenly Sunlight," and Wynna Byram gave the devotional from John 15:10-17, and Ruth Lindsey led in prayer.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Wynelle Young. The club voted to continue with the Joel Cemetery project, keeping it clean and mowed. Three of the students are from our area, and Suzie Haley drives them to and from school each day. Club goals were checked. The focus topic "Tender Loving Care of Furniture" was given by Jettie Boggs, and the demonstration was given by Suzie Haley and Allie Gresham, "Prettying up your home for spring," sharing patterns and ideas with us for place mats and napkins, towel holders, mini-skirts, pot holders and sewing bias tubes of material.

The club will meet next month in the home of Mrs. Linda Bolton.

The group was sorry Mrs. Ruth Rutledge could not be present. She is confined in the Tishomingo County Hospital. All wish for her a speedy recovery.

Cosby Signs With Tigers

According to Tiger Coach Bill Ward, Northeast Junior College has signed its eighth high school prospect to a football grant for the upcoming season. The latest signee is Harry Cosby, a 6-0, 180 tailback and placekicker from Iuka. Harry, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Cosby, was an All Tombigbee Conference selection for the Chieftains last fall.

Ward said the Tigers would sign about 10 more prospects from the area and two from out of state. Already in the Tiger fold are quarterback Tim Carpenter, running back Roy Ragin, and tackle Grady Hurd, all from Baldwin; tackle John Nunley and wideout Ben Kay, both from Tishomingo; tackle Brent Taylor, Booneville; and guard Jackie Spencer, Kossuth.

Contest Winners Visit Fulton

A few weeks ago, Mrs. Ruthel Comer, Mrs. Gunita Cashion, Sharon Page, of Tishomingo, Carla Vaughn and Gina Wilemon, both of Belmont, took a trip to Fulton because of a Career Education poster contest won earlier in the year. The group was asked to draw what they wanted to do when they grew up, and Gina Wilemon chose an art teacher.

While the group was there they visited the Fulton Elementary School where they attended an art class taught by Mr. Tom Dulaney. The art classes exam was to design Christmas cards. Mr. Dulaney showed how to draw candles, Christmas trees and stars. The best card receives a certificate.

Fulton Junior High was also visited. The group was shown the cafeteria, gym, and some very good posters in the library. Both schools were very nice.

Something to eat and drink was enjoyed at Coleman's.

The drug store and dime store was visited where each bought something to remember the exciting trip to Fulton.

Two Iuka Residents In D.A.R.

Two Iuka residents were notified in early January of their acceptance into the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Edna Daugherty Tapp and Mrs. Sue King McBee are both descendants of John Glazier, who fought as a Private Horseman and served in Lieutenant Col. Hamptons' Dragoons during the Revolutionary War.

Since there is no local chapter of the D.A.R., they have been accepted into the LaSalle Chapter in Corinth, Miss.

Anyone interested in applying for membership must be able to have verified proof of lineage from an ancestor who offered comfort and aid to the Revolutionary Soldiers or fought for independence himself.

Those interested in joining may contact Mrs. Tapp or Mrs. McBee for further information.

FBLA News

Both morning and afternoon groups of FBLA at the Tishomingo County Vo-Tech Center report a prosperous year for 1977. Presently, they are preparing for district competition in the different areas in business. Students from the Business and Office Occupation Department will be entering one of the following contests: Miss FBLA, Extemporaneous Speaking, Public Speaking, Poster, Event, Clerk Typist II, Business Communications, Job Interview, and Accounting. Best of luck to these students.

Winners at the district level, along with all other FBLA members, will be eligible to attend the State FBLA Convention on the campus of Ole Miss April 14 and 15.
