The Farmers Home Administration has awarded a $11,500 loan to a water association at Iuka, according to First District Cong. Jamie L. Whitten. The loan to Harmony Central Water Association was awarded to extend distribution lines of existing water system.

Loan terms are 40 years at five percent.

Head of the water association is E. G. McBride, of Rt. 2, Iuka.

Training Meeting

A 4-H leader training meeting for adult and teen leaders will be held at the Tishomingo County Fairgrounds, Friday night, April 1, at 7:00 p.m. The training program will deal with such topics as "Planning for Youth Involvement" and "Effectiveness as a Leader", according to Billy Rainey, Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

Mrs. Jean Crane, 4-H Youth Specialist, with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, will be the guest workshop leader.

Rainey further stated, "the objective of the training program is to provide 4-H leaders with guidance in planning educational programs that meet the interest and needs of Tishomingo County youth." Leaders and their spouses are urged to attend the training program. Lunch will be served prior to the workshop.

Social Security Information

The Corinth Social Security Office is open daily from 8:30 to 5:00 p.m. to serve residents of Alcorn, Tippah, and Tishomingo Counties.

Most Social Security business can be conducted by telephone. The number in Corinth is 287-5241. Most residents of Tippah and Tishomingo counties can call "TOLL-FREE" by asking the operator for WX-9000. If for some reason you cannot conduct your business by phone or come to the Corinth Office, you can meet a Social Security Representative in Iuka at the Tishomingo County Courthouse each Monday at 9:00 a.m.

Many young people wonder why they have to pay Social Security Taxes. To them, Social Security is a program for the elderly, and old age seems a long way off when you're young. What they don't realize is Social Security protects you when you're young, and provides a measure of security when you're older. To find out how you and your family are protected when you're young, ask any Social Security Office for a free copy of Social Security Information for Young Families.

Pre-Registration At Tishomingo

Pre-registration for students who will enter first grade this fall at Tishomingo School will be held Friday, April 1, between the hours of 8:00 and 3:00. Parents need to bring the child's birth certificate and immunization record. A new stat. law requires that a child must be six years old on or before December 1 to begin school this fall. It will not be necessary for parents to bring their children.

To Meet

The Woodmen of the World State Convention will convene at Natchez Trace Inn, Tupelo, Mississippi, April 1, 2 and 3, 1977.

Local Woodmen appearing on the program are: Lamar Umfress, Burnsville, State Vice-President, who will lead the Pledge of Allegiance at the opening session on Friday afternoon, April 1; and J. R. Long, of Iuka, Past State President, who will preside over the Friday night memorial services.

State, Local, And Federal Officials Push Waterway

Governors of three states and scores of businessmen and officials from the Tombigbee area were among the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway supporters and opponents who testified Tuesday, March 29, before a Presidential Task Force assembled on the MUW Campus in Columbus, Miss. for a measuring of public response to President Carter's possible recommendation to abandon further construction on the $1.6 billion public works project.

More than 2,500 persons, supporters and opponents, jammed the Mississippi University for Women's Whitfield Auditorium for a round-robin of verbal exchanges.

Mississippi Governor Cliff Finch, along with top level regional elected officials, including Gov. Ray Blanton, of Tennessee, and Alabama Gov. George Wallace, said "It would be a disaster to Mississippi and this region to discontinue construction at this point. Believe the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway is a sound project and will stand the test of time from an ecological, economic and social standpoint." Tennessee's Blanton and Alabama's Wallace were equally strong in their endorsements.

Approximately 100 Tishomingo Countians including about thirty officials and businessmen from Iuka attended the hearings to voice their support for the Waterway. Iuka Mayor, John H. Biggs, submitted resolutions from the City of Iuka, Arthur Bonds, representing the Iuka Chamber of Commerce; W. S. Brown, the Big Ten representative of the ten Northeast Mississippi Counties; and several members of the Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors also presented resolutions in support of the Tenn-Tom.

Alabama Governor George C. Wallace said he is confident that President Carter will not cancel "a project that will have such long-range benefits for the United States. Already '262 million has been committed to this project. In view of this, it would be a mistake to halt this project, canceling out the tangible long-range benefits it will bring while at the same time creating new work projects whose results in many cases will be temporary and nebulous."

U. S. Rep. David Bowen (D-Miss.) was critical of the Carter administration, which he said is seeking enough foreign aid money from Congress to build 10 Tennessee-Tombigbees. "It does not make sense to pour billions of dollars overseas to develop resources and subsidize competition for our people, then turn around and tell the Americans that we cannot afford to develop our own waterways to provide a better economic future for our own citizens," he said.

Although Waterway proponents outnumbered opponents at least 4 to 1 at the hearing, Col. Charlie Blalock, U. S. of Engineers district head, who presided over the hearing, attempted to give equal time to both sides.

The opposition was led by Tombigbee River Conservation Council's Randall Grack, whose organization is headquartered in Starkville, presented a lengthy statement for the hearing record. He said 92 percent of the total Waterway traffic will flow directly from the Tennessee River to Mobile. "Few jobs will result as barges simply cruise by," Grace said.

The construction will destroy the largest free-flowing unpolluted river in the Mobile Basin and more than 40,000 hardwood forest, while creating additional environmental problems, the opponents said.

Testimony continued into the night in a relatively orderly process with only one disruption shortly before noon when the building was evacuated for about 20 minutes because of a bomb threat called in to the Columbus Police Department.

The hearing was called by Corps of Engineers officials at Carter's request after the President retained the Tenn-Tom on a narrowed list of endangered public works projects. The Administration's critical reanalysis of the project centers on cost-benefit factors and current economic feasibility.

A decision is expected in mid-April. The Congress, regardless of any recommendation Carter might make, has authority to go ahead with funding for the Waterway and other threatened public works.

Congress has appropriated $277 million for the project, now almost 20 percent complete. A budget of $157 million was recommended for this year by former President Gerald Ford, a project supporter.

TENN-TOM SUPPORTERS — Governors Ray Blanton, left, of Tennessee, and Cliff Finch, of Mississippi, lead supporters of the Tenn-Tom in Tuesday's hearing.

5 Injured In Two Car Accident

A 1972 Ford Torino, driven by Mrs. Ruthene Nix, and a 1965 Ford Falcon, driven by Willie Mitchell, Jr., collided on Eastport and Snowdown Roads early Tuesday morning, March 29, causing heavy damage to both cars and injuries to the occupants.

According to Iuka Chief of Police, Jack Rye, Mrs. Nix, Route One, Iuka, was traveling west on Snowdown Road on her way to work when Willie Mitchell, Jr., of Spring Street in Iuka, traveling east on Eastport Street, made a left-hand turn in front of Mrs. Nix.

Mrs. Nix and her daughter-in-law, Joyce Nix, a passenger in the Nix auto, were taken to Tishomingo County Hospital. Joyce Nix was treated at the hospital and released. According to a Tishomingo County Hospital spokesman, Ruthene Nix is listed in satisfactory condition.

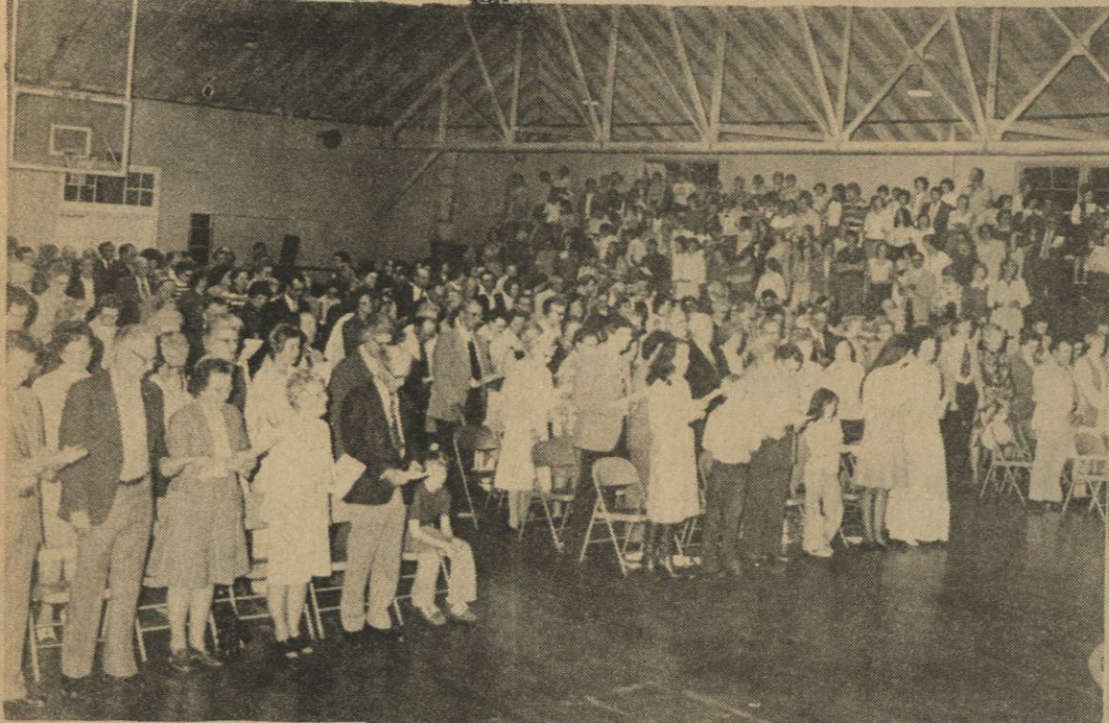

Willie Mitchell, Jr. and passengers in the Mitchell auto, Mr. Willie Mitchell, Sr. and Roy Mitchell, were all taken to Tishomingo County Hospital. Willie Mitchell, Sr. was transferred to a Memphis hospital with reported broken hip and lacerations to the head. Willie Mitchell, Jr. is listed in satis of Mississippi, lead supporters of the Tenn-Tom in Tuesday's hearing.

All-Sports Banquet April 7TH

The Iuka Athletic Boosters Club plans to hold the annual All-Sports Banquet to honor the Iuka High School athletes at 7:00 p.m. on April 7, at Pickwick Lodge. Trophies will be presented to members of the football, basketball, and baseball programs who excelled in the sports programs. Dr. Sidney Sandridge, President of Athens State College, will be the speaker.

The banquet is open to the public, and those wishing to attend should purchase tickets at $4.00 from the high school or elementary school offices before April 4.

LARGE CROWDS — The Tishomingo County Crusade closed Sunday night in the Iuka High School gymnasium with an attendance estimated at 1,000. The Bill

Penley and Lowell Leistner led revival drew large crowds for two weeks in the Belmont and Iuka area. More than 30 churches participated in the two crusades. Charles Dampeer, of Iuka, and W. L. Oaks, of Central served as co-chairmen.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

How many stars are there?
How many have you counted?
On a clear night you may be able to see about two thousand stars with your eyes.

With large telescopes, astronomers can photograph about thirty billion. But there are billions more beyond the reach of the most powerful telescopes.

Sir James Jeans suggests there are as many stars as there are grains of sand in all the beaches of the whole world.

So you can see why no one has been able to count all of the stars. But wait - Someone has. He has not only numbered them, He has named them. His name? God.

Psalm 147:3 says, "He telleth the number of stars; He calleth them all by their names."

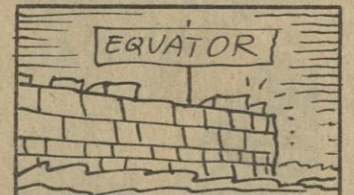

This great God who is so wise and powerful is interested in you. He loved the world so much that He even gave His only Son, so that anyone who believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life.

This God of limitless love and measureless might knows your case as completely as if you were the only person on earth. And He wants to help you.

God wants you to trust Him and love Him. Will you disappoint Him?

PERSONALS

Mr. Vernon M. Bruton is still an avid reader of The Tishomingo County News even though he left Tishomingo County around 1920 and is now living in Oklahoma. It's nice to know that even though people have left Tishomingo County, once they have lived here, no matter how long ago, they are still interested in the people and the news in our area.

It is believed that there is enough stone in the Great Wall of China to build an eight-foot wall around the earth at the equator!

ECONOMIST'S

PLAN PRINT USE BEFORE CUTTING MOTIF PATTERNS

New panels and border prints can give clothes made at home a custom-made look if properly used. Consider the overall effect before cutting out the garment.

Too much pattern can ruin a good thing. Design at the neckline, sleeves and neckline can defeat the purpose of the border or panel print.

Panel and border print pattern layout requires additional fabric for matching. Generally, allow one-eighth yard for a small print repeat, one-fourth yard for a medium repeat and one-half yard for a large repeat.

Make any necessary alteration before cutting, since an alteration made after the fabric is cut may ruin the matching motif at the seams. When sewing, make sure designs match.

Cut fabrics with heavy embroidery or complicated motifs in a single layer. Cut and match each pattern piece separately to insure perfect matching.

BUTTON SELECTION IS MOST IMPORTANT

The button you select can "make" or "break" a garment. You can make the simplest garment outstanding or distinctive by using unusual buttons.

How to select appropriate buttons is not learned overnight. You may make wrong selections in the beginning, but if you follow a few basic principles, your decisions become easier with each garment.

Consider principles of color, line, design, relation of button to texture of fabric, and the type of garment for which the button is being selected.

The button must look as if it belongs on the garment. The pattern and weight of the fabric, color and lines of the button, and textures of both must blend. If the fabric design has many circles in it, the buttons should repeat this roundness rather than being square. If the fabric is sheer, choose lightweight buttons.

A smart outfit must have one point of emphasis that dominates the entire ensemble. Buttons are often used as this center of interest. Sometimes they are used merely to hold the garment together.

Buttons selected for prints or patterned fabrics must be related appropriately to the size of the fabric design. If your print is a tiny floral, select a row of tiny buttons rather than a few larger buttons. Tiny buttons would be overpowered on a large oversized floral design.

COKE CAKE

Sift together and set aside: 2 cups flour (unsifted) and 2 cups sugar.

Mix and bring to a boil: 2 sticks margarine, 3 T. cocoa, and 1 cup cola.

Pour over sugar and flour, then add:

1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows

2 eggs,
1 t. vanilla
1/2 cup buttermilk, plus 1 t. soda

Cook in greased sheet cake pan 325 to 350 degrees for half an hour.

ICING:

1 stick margarine
3 T. cocoa
6 T. cola
1 box confectioners sugar
1 cup chopped nuts

Combine margarine, cocoa and cola. Bring to a boil and pour over one box of confectioners sugar. Beat well. Add one cup of nuts and blend well. Pour over cake as soon as it comes from the oven.

POISON IVY AND HONEYSUCKLE CONTROL

Poison ivy and honeysuckle, two troublesome pests around many farms and homes, can be controlled with chemicals if you use them correctly.

For poison ivy around the home, it's best to use amitrol or ammonium sulfamate (Am-mate). Away from populated areas or where no desirable shrubs and trees are growing, 2,4,5-T in oil or 10 percent picloram granules can be effectively used.

Control of honeysuckle can begin with an application of ester formulation of 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T or a combination of these in fuel oil and water. If using diesel fuel, make sure you keep the spray of even the woody parts of desirable trees and shrubs. Thoroughly wet all foliage and stems. Generally, a follow-up application must be made. If there are susceptible plants nearby, it may be wise to let the weather warm up and then spray with amitrol.

Be sure to carefully read and follow all precautions and directions on the label of all chemical materials.

ROSE DISEASES

Roses continue to be one of the most popular plants grown by homeowners in Mississippi. As with most plants, roses are also bothered by diseases, especially powdery mildew and black spot. The first step in controlling these two pests is to buy only disease-free plants. However, in most cases, you will have to spray to control the diseases.

To control powdery mildew and black spot, begin a regular spray program as leaf buds form and continue throughout the growing season. For powdery mildew, use Acti-dione, Benlate, and Karathane. Acti-dione and Karathane can only be used at temperatures of 85 degrees and below. Applying the material above 85 degrees will burn the leaves. Benlate can be used at any temperature.

Black spot can be controlled by using a dormant spray of lime sulfur (one part chemical to 15 parts water) just after pruning in the spring. You'll also get excellent control of black spot using Benlate, Maneb, Daconil 2787 or Zineb every 7 to 10 days, particularly during rainy periods. Apply Benlate at 14 to 16 day intervals.

FROZEN INSECTICIDES

Insecticides that were exposed to freezing temperatures during the winter may be harmful to crops. The active ingredients in many insecticides will come out of solutions and settle to the bottom of the drum when exposed to freezing temperatures. Applying these insecticides to crops can result in damage to the crop and give no control of insects.

Farmers should be cautious when buying bargain-priced insecticides at this time of year. If the insecticides have been stored in an unheated warehouse, they may have been cold damaged. Also, individuals who kept drums of insecticides in unheated storage areas during the winter should be careful about using them. Check each drum to be sure the active ingredients have not settled.

NATIONAL KINDNESS CO-CHAIRMEN, TOM T. HALL AND MINNIE PEARL.

ANIMALS

BY: MARY B. DAVIS

MINNIE PEARL AND TOM T. HALL

Country-western personalities, Minnie Pearl and Tom T. Hall, have been named national kindness co-chairmen for this year's Be Kind to Animals Week activities.

The week itself starts on Humane Sunday, May 1, and goes through May, but their job as co-chairmen lasts all year long -- until the next BKA Week starts on the first Sunday in May of 1978.

Humane Sunday always marks the beginning of BKA Week and Humane Sunday is always the first Sunday in May.

"These two giants in the country entertainment field have long been involved in key roles with local humane groups. Both are animal owners and both grew up in environments that fostered attitudes consistent with standards of the humane cause," according to James Ciccarelli in the American Humane Association's monthly magazine.

Tom T. and Dixie, his British born wife, are both active with the Nashville Humane Society and so is Minnie Pearl.

In explaining what all they can do around Nashville to promote humane treatment, Minnie Pearl stresses that one of the most important things they can do is "dispense literature that promotes the idea of correct pet care . . . we can educate people to the need to control breeding and to treat all living things with kindness. Education of pet owners is the important thing," Minnie Pearl emphasizes.

I also liked Tom T. Hall's remarks and especially the following ones:

"We're responsible for this earth and everything put on it. Kindness to animals is a part of that responsibility . . . Kindness to animals is a day-in-and-day-out thing. It is a year-round thing. Being kind to animals -- kindness itself -- is part and parcel of dealing right with the earth we are on."

Tom T. also says what I've been saying since I first heard of a "Be Kind to Animals Week" -- and that is:

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS ISN'T JUST A ONE-WEEK AFFAIR!

Land Judging 4-H-Style

On Tuesday, March 22, the State 4-H Land Judging Contest was held at Canton, Mississippi. 4-H Youth from all over Mississippi gathered to match their competitive skills with one another. The contest, sponsored competition.

Tishomingo County was also represented in the district contest for junior 4-H members, ages 9-14. The team, consisting of Kevin Stelzer, David Lambert, Joseph Carithers, finished third.

All six of the land judging participants are members of the Tishomingo 4-H Club; supervised by Mrs. Ruth Dawson and Mr. Houston Luttrell, 4-H adult leaders.

Rainey, further stated, that land judging consisted of determining soil texture, permeability, depth of soil, slope erosion and surface run-off. After doing this, each contestant must determine whether the soil is best suited for row crops, pasture, or woodland.

Upon completion of this part of the contest, each contestant must then check vegetation, mechanical and fertility that would be the best cal practices suitable taining a high level of production.

Mrs. Beasley Presents One-Person Art Exhibit

Harriet Beasley, widow of J. Beasley, of Yellow Creek, Pickwick Lake and Memphis, has the distinct honor of having her paintings shown in a one-person exhibit at a new Pelabole Art Gallery in Memphis. The showing is of dual interest in this area since the gallery is the fourth in the Memphis area owned by Pelabole Enterprises, of which Dr. Irving P. Filderman is owner and president. Dr. and Mrs. Filderman are frequent visitors to their vacation home which is also on Yellow Creek at Iuka near Goat Island. The collection includes almost 30 oil portraits by the artist and are on exhibit which began Saturday, March 26, for six weeks at 701 Mendenhall Road, Memphis.

For Harriet it will be a 24-year-old dream come true. It was that many years ago that she began to paint, although art then was a secondary interest because she already was a well-recognized, highly talented musician. She played the violin with the Memphis Symphony Orchestra and appeared in trios and string quartets as well as soloist in person and over radio. Her radio work in music actually began when she was a student at Stevens College where she studied both music and art. She appeared weekly on the local station.

She continues to enjoy playing the violin, piano and organ; however, her world now is centered in art which she says she now realizes was always her first love, and because more so after she studied several years as a special student at the Memphis Academy of Art.

"I think it is easier to relate to people in art than in music and since I love and enjoy people so much, art has become the center of my daily life," she says. She likes to think it helps to keep her young. Certainly it has kept her young at heart, and just by the look of her no one could guess that she is the grandmother of five adoring grandchildren by a son in New Canaan, Connecticut, and a daughter in Santa Barbara, California. After the death of her husband following a long illness, Harriet made herself get back to art and many other interests to keep from slipping into depression.

"I realized that it was easy for a woman who had reared a family and lost her husband to become so inactive that she simply lived in the past. Fortunately, I had my God-given talents to keep me active and interested."

Besides her art and music, she is an active sportswoman. She loves to fish and can be seen most evenings with her little white poodle, Jingo, out on Pickwick Lake fly fishing.

She is a member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, having passed her exam for active emergency with top honors. Following her husband's death, she sold their small power boat but remains active with an outboard runabout. She plays a good game of golf and bridge and is a real gourmet cook.

Her home on Yellow Creek attests to her ability as an interior decorator for here she has used the lovely soft colors which she so adeptly uses in her paintings. "I always try to achieve a quality of softness in my paintings because I firmly believe that every person is endowed with softness, no matter how hard they may seem on the surface."

During the severe winter months, she had been occupying the resident-artist studio at the Pelabole Gallery and will divide her time between the Memphis studio and her home at Yellow Creek.

Of Interest to Women

The Town & Country Homemakers Club met March 7, at the Iuka Library with Marquita Greenaway standing in as hostess for Cynthia Wilemon. Marquita called the meeting to order and read the thought for the month. Else Durham read the devotional after which everyone sang. Opal Crabb led the prayer. Marquita gave a demonstration on the new fashions and styles for the summer. The first club project was started. Conalco in Iuka donated large drums which the club will paint and distribute throughout Iuka to be used as trash cans. Donette Enlow and Dorothy Lambert joined the club. Following the meeting, Marquita served refreshments. Opal Crabb and Donette Enlow each won a door prize. All members are urged to be present at the next meeting on April 7, at 1 p.m. at the residence of Connie Robinson.

Holloways Honored 50th Anniversary and Ada Holloway celebrated Saturday afternoon March 26, with an Open House and tea at their home on Hill Road, Iuka. The delightful guests were Ruthene Nix, Judy Nix and Brenda Nix. The guests were served refreshments from a beautifully appointed table, overlaid with gold and silver. An exquisite spread in white, decorated with white and yellow icing topped with the traditional 50 accented the table. Also served with the cake were nuts, finger sandwiches, popovers, dip and a refreshing pineapple punch. Approximately 30 relatives and friends were present to wish the very best on their anniversary. They received several phone calls wishing them a happy anniversary.

Mrs. Holloway was attired in a dress of white knit with a corsage of gold tipped carnations. Mr. Holloway wore a carnation in his lapel.

The honored couple received many nice and useful gifts.

GOSSIP (Did You Know?)

CROSSROADS

Hasn't the weather been beautiful lately? It's hard to say who has been the most energetic - the gardeners or the fishermen and women. All the cars and people around Scruggs Bridge this past week made you think of a family reunion, a picnic or a convention. The word is out that some were very lucky at catching the fish.

Sunday was the birthday of Lorine Morris - the Madame Queen of North Crossroads.

There were visitors in the house all day Sunday. Her daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren visited with her and Carrel on the happy occasion. Lorine cooked a lot of goodies of which her family partook during their visit. Lorine received many lovely gifts, including a beautiful crocheted pillow from her sister, Jewel. We wish to add our congratulations and wish her many more Happy Birthdays.

And speaking of birthdays, those who have celebrated recent ones are: John Sawyer on the 19th, Lillian Curtis on the 22nd, Wilborn Curtis on the 25th, Charlotte Gray on the 25th, and Sandy Jackson on the 31st. A very Happy Birthday and best wishes to all.

We also have some anniversaries. Grace and Owen Phifer celebrated theirs on March 29th, and Ernest and Margaret Bullard and Danny and Sandra Hudson on the 2nd of April. Congratulations and best wishes.

Thomas Carrel Bray is home on leave from the Army. Thomas has been stationed in Germany for the past 18 months. He leaves Friday to go back for two more months.

Bro. Prince, JoAnn and Jennifer had Sunday dinner with Otha Mae and Horace Parrish. Bro. Prince is the new pastor at Poplar Springs Baptist.

Sandra Parrish Conley, daughter of Otha Mae and Horace Parrish is home on leave from the Air Force. She will be stationed at Columbus Air Force Base. Now you know why Otha Mae is so happy. Columbus is a lot closer than Monterey, Calif., where Sandra has recently been stationed.

The White Kitchen Cafe has recently opened in Crossroads. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Murphy are the owners and operators. Plate lunches are being served. We wish them all success in their new venture.

We have a hero in our midst. You should have seen the huge water moccasin that Chris Davis killed. Chris is the son of Tip and Faynell Davis. Congratulations, Chris, and keep up the good work.

Congratulations to Rosemary Sawyer on winning the jackpot at HiLo. Have a happy week.

IUKA LIBRARY NEWS

Libraries are something else! That's the slogan for Mississippi's observance of National Library Week, April 17 - 23.

The library is more than just a house for books. It's the "answer place!" Libraries combine past, present and future. And offer it all to the public without charge.

Through history books and periodicals, libraries keep a careful record of past happenings. This record serves as a source of reference for study and can also be helpful in planning for the future.

The library is the best place to go to keep informed about current events. Where else can you go and find newspapers, magazines and special reports that can give you the most up-to-date information on national affairs, medicine, sports and more? Where else can you go to find the answer to such a variety of questions: Questions like . . . How to plant a garden, how to cook a special meal, how to look for a job?

The library is also helping to prepare us for the future. We can go to the library in search of answers concerning future problems and interests and the library serves as a safeguard for information that will be stored for generations to come.

Together, Mississippi's libraries -- public, school, academic and special -- serve all kinds of people in all kinds of ways.

Why not visit your local library today?

DO-IT-YOURSELF LANDSCAPING OFFERS FUN AND RELAXATION THROUGH 4-H

For many people the word, "landscaping" automatically brings to mind the services of a landscape nurseryman or landscape architect. Many people, however, consider it the planting and caring for living flowers, shrubs and trees on the home property to increase the value and beauty of the home grounds. In addition, it provides healthy exercise and relaxation from everyday tensions and strains of modern business

The American Association of Nurserymen say, "planting and landscaping more than pays for itself in the increased resale value of the property, to say nothing of the pleasure and enjoyment it brings to the homeowner."

How do you plant a home landscape for health and pleasure?

First, make a list of the plants that appeal most to you and your family. Consider such things as size and color. Does the plant flower over a long period of time? Do they require a lot of maintenance? Should they be sprayed frequently for insects and diseases? The local nursery is a good place to see the plants at their best and make plant selections.

Next, ask the advice of a good nurseryman or your county Extension Service as to where and when to plant the things you like best. They can also suggest the best way to arrange the plantings for maximum beauty and enjoyment. With the proper advance planning you can gear the individual planting to the size of garden and amount of exercise you desire.

For example, a planting of a dozen rose plants will take less than an hour or so of attention a week if they have been properly planted including a good mulch. About the same applies to camellias, azaleas, and other carefully selected plants. A few well chosen fruit trees may well fit into the landscape pattern.

By using the advice of the county Extension Service and your local nurseryman in selecting plant materials, you can include almost everything desired in the landscape. Selections can be made that will provide plenty of beauty, shade, and comfort with a minimum amount of maintenance.

Working in the landscape offers an excellent opportunity to every member of a family for plenty of exercise and relaxation. At the same time, the home grounds and its surroundings are made more beautiful and useable. If you haven't done so already, why not enjoy the fun and start a do-it-yourself program for the entire family to landscape your home and its surroundings?

KKI Luncheon Held In Jackson

The Coliseum Ramada Inn, Gallery B, Jackson, Miss. was the setting for the Kappa Kappa Iota spring luncheon, March 14, 1977, at 12:00 a.m. Mu State hosted the annual luncheon with ten conclaves represented and a goodly crowd of members present. Those attending from Theta Conclave were Mrs. Marie Edwards and Effie Lois Greene.

On the "U" shaped table in front of the speaker's stand was a beautiful arrangement of fresh flowers in the KKI colors, purple and gold. A combination of handmade violets and baby's breath arranged along the entire length of the table made an attractive addition. The ladies were lovely in their new spring clothes.

The president, Mrs. Ann Laster, Raymond, called the group to order. She made each person feel welcome and informed us of business matters pending. Reports were given by the scholarship chairperson and the Mu State nominating committee. Pi Conclave invited everyone to attend the state convention at the Gilmer Motor Inn, Highway 82 West in Columbus, April 30, 1977, with registration beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Nan Whitten, past national president, was asked to explain to the group about the KKI Sunny Caribbean Cruise, July 23 - August 6, 1977. This cruise was organized for the benefit of the Mable Caldwell Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Whitten also urged each member to attend the national convention to be held in Asheville, N.C., June 19-24, 1977.

COMMENTS

BY: KENNETH NUNLEY

All through history, the multitudes of the common people have had only one crutch to lean on, in the shaping and operation of their daily lives, and that is the intelligence and honesty of their nation's leaders. The people of the United States have fought against tyranny and oppression since this country was formed. To many smaller countries on other continents, we stand as the single and final obstacle to total communist take over.

Let's examine this "final obstacle", if you will, to see just what the billions of oppressed feel in their "hole card".

The United States, in my opinion, is having quite enough trouble even taking care of its own, to say nothing of the rest of the world. The unemployment figure is staggering, the energy crisis is being cleverly manipulated by the big oil companies, food prices are being shamelessly juggled by big business, just to name a few. We have an assembly of shrewd, loud-talking, conniving senators in congress whose primary aim is not to help you or me, but themselves! In previous articles, I touched on the subject of their many and escalating pay-raise bills, but the last one shocked even me! At this most important time, when our new president's vow to "curb inflation" is a household word, they gave themselves a RAISE of far more than you or I make in a year! As I said in a previous article, these pretty words of "curb inflation", and "curb government spending" are more empty promises. After all, they couldn't have gotten the raises if the president had not signed the bill.

One thing that intrigued me was the words of President Ford, who said, "the cornerstone of American Democracy is the common working man, the American worker, who makes it all possible." People, the minimum wage is STILL $2.35 per hour, and I read recently that George Meany was trying to get legislation going to raise it to $3.00 per hour. Congress is fighting it, tooth and nail, with the excuse that it is inflationary! Mine you, this is immediately after the huge raise they gave themselves.

The average worker, you, who read this article, are helpless to do anything about what goes on in Washington. Even a bill as ridiculous as the "Equal Rights Amendment" is in danger of passing. And, before you condemn me for those last words, I sincerely hope that you know what is IN that bill, because the vast majority of the little people don't.

This bill will give the government the power to draft our women, in time of war. It would also give the STATE the absolute right to enter your home and tell you how your children are to be raised. It would grant people of the same sex the right to marry, and adopt children . . . just to name a few.

At the last count, this bill was only 3 states short of ratification. So, the point I am trying to make is - these are the intelligent individuals that the common people have elected to represent them in Washington. I don't think they READ them, weigh the pros and cons, study the consequences, they just sign, and sign, and keep taking that big paycheck.

Another point I would like to bring out is communism. Everyone knows that the sole aim of the Communist Party is complete takeover in every country in the world, in other words the overthrow of the American Government, to get closer to home. But, according to the "Reader's Digest", there are over a million communist living in the United States today, carrying a party card, attending party meetings, planning their strategy. And, I ask myself, "how can this be?"

In all the old John Wayne movies I used to watch, when a person was found to be a communist, he was properly imprisoned or deported. Now, not only are they allowed to stay, they can even hold public office. I'm sure that, during the last presidential campaign, you saw the Community Party's candidates speak on television, as I did.

The young people of today, and of the last ten years or so, seem to see the problems, the issues so much more clearly, than those with eyes clouded with politics. To the young, a thing is either black or white, right or wrong. That is the reason we had so many draft evaders and deserters in the last "war", it wasn't cowardice. That is the reason that college students by the thousands protested the Vietnam War, where we were the sole support of that tiny country, not France, or any other allied nation.

The final point I am trying to make is that our nation's leaders are spending far too much time and money trying to make us look good to the rest of the world, when we have many domestic problems that require their undivided attention. A permanent energy source, pollution of our air and water, a job for everyone who wants to work, better and more low-cost housing, ending race and sex discrimination, the soaring crime rate; the list goes on and on. Here in this, the richest country in the world, many of us face a pretty bleak future.

To my way of thinking, the last time that God was on the earth, and was in this bad, I know what happened.

The most common in the United States. Close to 2.5 million reside here.

LEGAL NOTICES

The Board of Supervisors
Tishomingo County, Mississippi

We have reviewed the internal accounting procedures, including the accounting records and documentation, of the Purchase Clerk of Tishomingo County, Mississippi that we considered relevant to the establishment by House Bill Number 975, Laws of 1974 and House Bill Number 670, Laws of 1975 of the Mississippi State. Our review included tests of compliance procedures during the period from October 1, 1975 through September 30, 1976.

The objective of internal accounting control is a reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the accuracy of assets against loss from unauthorized use or fraud, and the reliability of financial records for preparing statements and maintaining accountability for assets. A concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the system of internal accounting control should not be expected to detect errors and also recognizes that the detection of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by responsible officials.

There are inherent limitations that should be considered in considering the potential effectiveness of internal control. In the performance of internal control procedures, errors can result from misinterpretations, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be intentionally bypassed by individuals. Further, projection of internal control to future periods is subject to the conditions, and that the degree of compliance with procedures may deteriorate.

We understand that procedures in conformity with criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report were considered by the Board of Supervisors to be adequate in accordance with the provisions of House Bill Number 975, Laws of 1974 and House Bill Number 670, Laws of 1975, and that procedures not in conformity with indicate inadequacy for such purposes. Based on our understanding and on our review, in our opinion the records and internal accounting control procedures of the Purchase Clerk of Tishomingo County, Mississippi for the period October 1, 1975 through September 30, 1976, were adequate for the purposes of the Board of Supervisors and were in compliance in all material respects with the provisions of House Bill 975, Laws of 1974 and House Bill 670, Laws of 1975.

Conservation Isn't Just Good Citizenship: It's Our National Duty.

That's one lesson from the winter of 1976-77.

Conservation of natural resources is now an economic necessity affecting each and every citizen. It not only saves money for the consumer, but in the long run how well we practice this new ethic will determine how long our oil and gas supplies will last.

It's that simple.

United Gas Pipe Line Company has been appealing for conservation of natural gas for several years. United Gas has urged conservation not only because since the early 1970's it and most other interstate pipelines have been increasingly affected by the gas shortage, but also because the increasing curtailment of gas deliveries to industrial customers in the early 1970's more and more appeared to be only a prelude to the type of crisis that gripped our country this winter.

The men and women of United Gas are confident that in the severity of this winter the good acts of thousands of citizens helped the company supply the major needs of its direct market area without severe economic impact such as plant closings or layoffs due to its gas curtailments. There is no doubt that turning down the thermostat to near-chilly levels saved billions of feet of gas.

However, a principal reason this company was able to deliver natural gas to the Gulf South as well as it did under rugged weather conditions was because the federal authorities permitted it to buy additional supplies of gas—"emergency purchases"—at prices not previously allowed. These critically important supplies strongly suggest the emergence of a new economic reality: the acquisition of new supplies has become more important than the old and discredited government policy of keeping gas prices at artificially-depressed levels.

Conservation is still a matter of increasing concern, a lot more than just a good thing to do. The years ahead will see home insulation, computerized heating periods, increased mechanical efficiency, and other energy-saving measures becoming facts of life and elements of our national duty. It is probable that the shortage of 1976-77 would have been greatly alleviated if accustomed wastage could have been terminated promptly.

This may never be completely accomplished, but it is our national duty to try. Much depends on our ability to act wisely. Conserve this vital resource, wherever you can, whenever you can. With care and efficient usage, the natural gas of America will last well into the next century.

Mac McAnally-America's Next Super Star

The South has a tradition of love of home and family, and it is for this reason that Mac McAnally has never strayed far from the small northeast Mississippi town of Belmont where he was born July 15, 1957.

The decision to remain has been relatively easy. Life in the rural setting is simple, and his family and neighbors have provided innumerable ideas upon which to base his songs.

On February 1, 1977, Mac flew to Los Angeles, California, to sign his first recording contract with Ariola America Records.

There are a lot of stories in those nineteen years from birth to Los Angeles, and those stories (and their real-life characters) form the fabric of the songs which carried Mac out of Mississippi.

Like many singers from the South, his earliest influence was gospel music in that at the age of three, he was performing with his family at gospel singings.

Mac has always been the center of attention, if not always popular. He found popularity through his ability to carry on conversations at age one, and mere attention through his then adult-sized head. "It's always been as big as it is now," Mac says with a smile, "but with my normal child's body I was somewhat of a conversation piece during grade school." When Mac was in junior high school, he wasn't allowed to play football because they could not find a helmet big enough for him. He found individuality to his liking after being forced into it as a child, and became a social recluse at fifteen.

It took him only a visit to an empty church, however, for him to be convinced that he was destined to become a songwriter. The church visit resulted in his song "People Call Me Jesus" which is included on his new Ariola America album.

During the next two years, Mac pretty much stayed away from songwriting to just study people and take a careful look at the world around him.

Although the son of the assistant principal of the local high school, Mac quit in the eleventh grade in a retreat from boredom. His parents knew they had a prodigy of sorts and gave him all the leeway he needed to develop his talents.

"I had read the encyclopedia when I was a kid," Mac explained, "and the public schools in Belmont were, like most public schools, able to cater to only the average student."

And average is something quite foreign to Mac McAnally. He's simply an individualist with a genius-level I.Q. who happens to be the most gifted and sensitive songwriter we have heard in quite some time.

It wasn't until late 1976 when the young minstrel approached producers Terry Woodford and Clayton Ivey that he began recording his debut Ariola album at Wishbone Recording Studio in Muscle Shoals, Ala.

His move into the recording studio has done little to shake his values, as witnessed by the theft of his guitar from his car, which had been left unlocked in the studio parking lot. "Where I come from, people don't lock their cars or houses," Mac said, but despite the obvious lesson, he still finds it difficult to lock doors. "I have an inborn human trust, and I would rather keep that than a guitar."

Mac says his main literary influences are William Faulkner and Mark Twain, and lists numerous musical influences including Randy Newman, Harry Chapin, Jackson Browne, Joni Mitchell, Ry Cooder, and John Hartford. Mac McAnally is a man with a musical vision and something to say. He says it extremely well; and for the first time, people are listening and enjoying the unique talents of an important new troubadour. A true people's philosopher, Mac has found the common denominator that is present in people not only in rural Mississippi, but everywhere.

QUOTE:
Footnotes To History:
"Paden's Mill Site Is Interesting Area" -

By May Price
"On a gravel road about one mile south of Paden is the site of Paden's Mill. Much of historic interest is found in this area."

First there is Mill Creek or Spring Creek on which the Paden Mill was built. This creek has a constant flow winter and summer. It is fed by springs.

Mill Creek flows into Mackey Creek, which in turn flows into the headwaters of Tombigbee River.

Water power was used by Alexander Paden to operate a cotton gin, also to make flour, corn meal and to cord wool. Alexander Paden came to Tishomingo County from South Carolina about 1848.

Civil War records show that a skirmish was fought at "Peyton's Mill" on September 19, 1862. For reasons too numerous to give here it is believed that this skirmish was actually fought at Paden's Mill.

In that skirmish Col. W. C. Falkner, of Ripley, Miss., was commanding the First Miss. Partisan Rangers. They were attacked by a force of about 1000 Federals. Two Confederate soldiers are buried at Paden's Mill. Both are said to have been from Ripley.

Later during the war, both the Paden home and the mill were burned. Two other mills in that area were also burned. The post office at Paden's Mill had been called Castle Gardens but after the fires it was called Burnt Mills.

Charles Paden lives a few yards from the site of Paden's Mill. He is a grandson of Alexander Paden.

UNQUOTE:
The two Confederate soldiers mentioned in the quoted article above have these epitaphs on their tombstones:

James L. Childers
Born April 1, 1817
Died September 21, 1862
A brave spirit lies buried here:
A glorious death in his country's cause.

THE OTHER:
Madison W. Smith
Born February 10, 1816
Died September 19, 1862
Nobly he fell
While fighting
For our liberty.

History says that the Confederate soldiers of Ripley are buried in the orchard at Peyton's Mill.

Years from now history will again be saying something like this:

"Confederate soldiers graves on the hill-side across from the Paden home have been moved. Relatives establishing their kinship had them placed in cemeteries of their choice. Those not claimed were moved to a designated cemetery picked by the committee of the Tombigbee Waterway."

Do you know of any that you should claim?

The longest cave in the world is in Kentucky. It is the Flint-Mammoth cave system, 144 miles long.

Tornado Information

Knowing what to do in case of a tornado could save your life. Tornadoes often strike during the months of April, May and early June; knowing how to prepare for and what to do before, during, and after a tornado may mean the difference between life and death.

An hour or two before a tornado, thunderstorm clouds appear and are often greenish-black in appearance. Clouds are usually accompanied by rain and hail. The tornado itself is usually a funnel-shaped cloud swirling rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. They usually occur in hot, sticky weather with southerly winds and in many cases, move from the west or southwest.

An important protective step to take is to learn your community's warning signals. You should find out now, before an emergency occurs, what warning signals are being used in your community, what they sound like and what each set of signals means. The U. S. Weather Service issues three types of weather bulletins.

a. A severe thunderstorm watch or tornado watch bulletin, including the approximate location and duration of the threat. A watch bulletin indicates where and when probabilities are highest. Tornadoes sometimes develop under these conditions.

b. A severe thunderstorm warning or tornado warning bulletin. This means a severe thunderstorm or a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or indicated by radar. Persons in the area should take cover immediately.

c. The all clear bulletin indicates the storm or the threat of a storm has ended in the area previously included in a tornado or severe thunderstorm bulletin.

The U. S. Office of Civil Defense advises that when a tornado warning is issued, get inside as quickly as possible. Open windows on the side of the house away from the storm's approach. Take refuge in the basement if you have one. Stay under a sturdy table or workbench. If there is no basement or cellar, take cover in the smallest room with stout walls. The first floor is safer than higher floors. Lie under a heavy table, desk, bed, or tipped over upholstered chair or sofa against inside walls in the center of the house. Stay away from windows. Keep listening to a battery-powered radio for emergency bulletins. You should equip any prearranged shelter area with a shovel and pick.

Aw y from home, take shelter in a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building. In open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If one can't escape, he should lie flat in a ditch and shield his head and cover his face with clothing to prevent suffocation from dust. Do not stay in a car, trailer, or mobile home. Stay out of buildings with wide-open roofs, such as theaters and gymnasiums.

To report a tornado, place an emergency collect call to the National Weather Service at 601-939-5751, or ask the nearest law enforcement agency to relay your message. If the Weather Service line is busy, dial the operator and ask that the line be cleared for your emergency message.

Industrial Advisory

Mr. Donald W. Cowell and Mr. Troy Ray, Consolidated Aluminum Corp. in Iuka, attended the 208 Industrial Advisory Committee meeting on February 8, 1977, at Northeast Mississippi Junior College. Several items of interest to industry were discussed during the meeting. Mr. Glen Parker reported the following to the group: During the past year the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission adopted some changes regarding the monitoring of boiler emissions, testing requirements and smoke opacity. A series of public hearings will soon be held regarding proposed changes in water quality criteria for waters of the State of Mississippi. Industries throughout Mississippi are asking the State Tax Commission to classify all pollution abatement equipment which directly relates to a source of pollution as "manufacturing machinery." The 208 Plan for the State of Mississippi has not at this time been officially submitted to EPA. Mr. Quentine Knussmann, 208 Industrial Liaison Adviser, addressed the matter of sewer ordinances as related to User Charges. In addition, he made the following points which are or should be of special interest to industry: All the waters of the United States are to be suitable for fish and shellfish by 1983. All the waters of the United States shall be free of all pollution by 1985. Dry industries (those discharging sanitary wastes only) may be excluded from Industrial Cost Recovery.

Mrs. Margaret Byrom, Sponsor of the FHA Club of Belmont High School in Belmont, will be doing a very entertaining Special Event in the near future for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation of Mississippi. Funds raised from this event will be used to support the Cystic Fibrosis Center of Mississippi as well as world-wide research which is moving at a rapid pace in efforts to detect the Cystic Fibrosis Carriers and ultimately the answer to this dread disease. Those selected were Vickie Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Quinn, Tishomingo; Maria Robertson, Tupelo; and Janis Triplett, of Booneville. The contest selection is based on the student's solid records of achievements in academic studies and in extra curricular activities on campus or in the community. Each of the young women also submitted an essay in which she described those college activities and experiences that she considered to be most meaningful and outstanding in terms of life goals she intends to pursue after graduation.

TISHOMINGO
LIBRARY NEWS

By: Lonette Southward

Libraries are something else! That's the slogan for National Library Week, April 17 - 23, and the Tishomingo Library wants to prove it.

Not too long ago the library was just open 10 hours a week, then in October '76, the hours were increased to 20 hours a week. Now, until further notice, it will be open 40 hours a week. The new hours are: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, and from 12:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday. Mrs. Haston Nichols will be in there to help patrons and it will give more people, especially students, an opportunity to use the library.

Before you drive somewhere else after books and materials, check with your local library. It's just possible we might have it. If not, we will certainly do everything possible to get it for you.

Glen Couple Honored
With Reception

The quiet countryside home of Hughie and Adelle Burcham at Glen, Mississippi became a festive beehive of activity on Sunday, March 20, 1977. Multitudes of friends and relatives came to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary as the Burchams' children, grandchildren and one great granddaughter honored the couple with an afternoon reception.

Hosts were their children and spouses: Huie E. and Lila Trainum Burcham, Memphis; Cecil and Wanza Burcham Wingo, Memphis; Karey Lane and Kathy Harris Burcham, Warren, Michigan; their grandchildren, Miss Corinne Burcham, Jackson, Miss.; Thomas and Nancy Burcham Stults, Memphis; Miss Cathy Burcham, Memphis; Miss Cheryl Anne Wingo, Memphis; and little Miss Heather Stults (a great-granddaughter) of Memphis.

Love and happiness flowed as friends and relatives came and went throughout the afternoon. The Lord seemed to bless with an especially beautiful first day of spring -- beautiful sunshine, pleasant temperature and gentle breezes.

The home was decorated with fresh spring flowers, candles and magnolia leaf arrangements which competed with an abundance of bloom surrounding the home. An anniversary cake, decorated with yellow roses, and light yellow fruit-almond punch was served by the daughters-in-law, daughter and granddaughters.

Young and older friends and relatives alike indicated by their words of congratulations and good wishes that a half century of marriage is a time to treasure, to be happy, to share with others and pause to be thankful to a loving and wise God who gives and sustains love and marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Vanderford, of Jackson, Miss., visited his brother, Milton Vanderford, and his sister, Mrs. Faye Hendrix. They were accompanied home by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Vanderford, who had spent a week here.

Mrs. Eva Stidham was dismissed from Tishomingo County Hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Robinson, Jr. visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Keanum and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Robinson, Sr.

Terry and Jewel Whitfield, of Corinth, called Sunday afternoon on his mother, Mrs. Nellie Honeycutt.

Willis Ross, of Franklin, Indiana, will retire on his birthday, April 23. He will come back here to his home and land for a long stay.

Miss Jeanie Cook, of Chicago, recently visited her aunt, Mrs. Minnie Stricklin, and also the Castleberries.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Miller and son, Jim Edward, visited Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Opal Brock and Leigh Ann, of Biggersville. The occasion was a birthday supper for Opal.

Mrs. Esther Castleberry and Mrs. Ruth Miller called on Mrs. Jim L. Castleberry on Thursday evening.

Recent visitors in the Bill Johnson home were: Mr. and Mrs. Terry Whitfield, of Corinth; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, of Cairo; and Mrs. Ray Ross and daughter, Sue, of Leedy; and Jim L. Castleberry, of Booneville.

TISHOMINGO

Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Bruce had her mother and father, from Missouri, as guests recently.

Mr. Fred Goddard, brother to Mrs. Audry Neal and Mrs. Mae Paden, died at his home this week after an extended illness. We extend sympathy to all the family.

Lamoyne and Annette Puckett, he from Jackson, Miss., and she from Georgia, were here during the weekend to visit their mother, Mrs. Gertrude Puckett, who is seriously ill in Tishomingo County Hospital.

Fay Burns came home from Tishomingo County Hospital last week and is doing much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, of Iuka, visited Fay at the home in Tishomingo Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crow and Mrs. George Norton, of Tishomingo, traveled together to Little Rock to visit relatives. Mrs. Norton visited her daughter, Mrs. Martha Bennett, and her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Crow visited her brother, Henry Woods, and his family.

Mrs. Maxine Finch is in a Memphis hospital for a complete check-up.

Woodrow Black has recently been in a hospital in Memphis for test and is now back home. Fairless and Lonette Southward visited their daughter, Donnette, at Woods Jr. College during the weekend.

Jim Southward and Don Starkey visited James Fairless Tennison on the Miss. State University Campus during the weekend.

Mrs. Stella Deaton, mother of Mrs. R. C. Strickland, is in Tishomingo County Hospital where she underwent surgery recently. We hope she is doing well.

Mrs. Alecia Thomas and Ilene have been visiting relatives in Chicago, Ill. the past few weeks.

Mrs. Joe Cook Vandike has been visiting with her mother in Tennessee recently.

Mrs. Orien Hopkins entered the hospital at Whitfield Tuesday for treatment of her nerves.

Lonette Southward attended a library meeting in Corinth recently.

There are a number of shut-ins in and around Tishomingo and vicinity that should be visited often - more than you would think. Some of these are: Bill Morgan, Mrs. Annie Kennedy, Mrs. Ned Reynolds, Mrs. W.C. Hamilton, Mrs. Lena Sanders Rickard, Mrs. Docia Ingram, Forest Gardner, Omer and Ivy Twitty, Mr. Luther Reno, Mrs. Kizzie Ward, Bill Page, Ethel and Cecilia Stormont, Earline McRae, Mrs. Lou Cornelius, Elton Wilemon and probably others. Let us be more thoughtful of these people and try to help them by remembering them in prayer, visiting them, and just doing little acts of kindness for them to show them they are cared for.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Yarbrough are visiting their son and family in Atlanta, Ga. this week.

Mrs. Rachel Thornton, of Southaven, is visiting her family in and around Tishomingo this week.

Mr. Fay Dawson has returned home after having a new steel ball and socket to replace his hip socket that had given him trouble for months. His operation was performed in Baptist Hospital in Memphis, and was very successful. He is a very faithful member of Highland Church and is being missed while he is out for this surgery.

Students Attend Special Olympics

Students enrolled in the Timber Hills Day Care Centers, Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah and Tishomingo Counties, participated in the Area 13 Mississippi Special Olympics Friday, March 25.

Special Olympics, created and sponsored by the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation, is an international sports and recreation program for the mentally retarded — the first and largest of its kind in the world.

The Mississippi Special Olympics is a statewide program of sports training and athletic competition for mentally retarded children and adults. The Special Olympics is unique in that it provides for competitors at all levels of ability by assigning them to "competition divisions" based on age and actual performance. No special person is too handicapped to take part. No time is too slow, no distance too small to earn a ribbon, a hug, or a cheer.

The major goal of the Special Olympics is that of aiding in the development of programs and to improve the functioning of the mentally retarded.

The purpose of the Missisissippi Special Olympics is to contribute to the physical, social, and psychological development of the mentally retarded, to assist in the development of self-confidence and self-esteem, and to help build a self-understanding relative to accepting successes and failures.

President Kennedy once said that a nation's greatness can be measured by the way it treats its weakest citizens. Many nations are now helping to make their weakest citizens strong and whole through Special Olympics which was created in 1968. Since then, more than one million special children and adults have experienced the joy of play and received the benefits of physical training and sports competition.

With more than 15,000 community, area, chapter, and national games, meets, and daily and weekly training programs, Special Olympics goes on 12 months of the year in 80% of America's 30,000 counties.

The mentally retarded have been told, "You can't do it." But Special Olympics says, "You can do it. All you need is a chance."

The Special Olympics oath recited by Special Olympics athletes before each game, goes -- "Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

The Timber Hills Day Care Program serves developmentally disabled adolescents and adults, ages 15 and up, and is funded by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare.

4-H Junior Council

BY: LADY LOVE LONG

The 4-H Junior Council met March 15 at the Tishomingo County Fairgrounds. The meeting was called to order by Junior Council President, Angie Dawson. Louise McKee then led the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledge. A prayer was led by B. L. Mercer, and Beth Pearson read from Ephesians and sang a song she wrote entitled "Make The Rain Go Away". The Midway 4-H Club displayed some of their arts and crafts, which they have been working on. Marie Martin then introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Jim Yonge, 4-H Youth Development Specialist. He talked about Community Pride, and labeled six major areas that could improve our community and country. Each shared views on these areas.

Sammy Umfress and Teresa Crawford were selected to go to Washington for the "Citizenship Shortcourse Training Session". Mrs. Sue Dill joined the County Extension staff as the new 4-H youth aid. Many people attended the meeting, and refreshments were served afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson, of Alexandria, La., have returned home after visiting with Mrs. O. C. Carter and Howard Carter.

Visiting Mrs. O. C. Carter and family this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Britton, of Tuscumbia, Ala.

Specialist Describes Way To Plant Roses Properly

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Planting roses properly requires neither skill nor experience, says Jim Perry, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service horticulturist.

Essentials for success with roses are: good healthy plants, well prepared beds with good drainage and a minimum of at least a half a day of sunshine.

The Extension horticulturist urges gardeners to try one of the All-America Rose Selections for 1977 now on the market. First Edition, Double Delight and Prominent. These and previous All-America winners are excellent buys, he adds. These superior varieties have been approved through rigid testing, he explains.

Perry outlines the steps to follow in planting roses: (1) Dig each hole 15 to 18 inches wide and as deep. Add a quart of peat moss or compost and mix well with the soil. Form a blunt cone of the mixture in the planting hole.

(2) Prune all rose canes to 12 inches and remove broken or injured roots. Position rose on soil cone so that bud union (swelling at base of stem) is just above the ground level after the ground settles in mild climates and about one inch below in climates where winter temperatures fall below freezing. Spread roots out.

(3) Work in soil around roots to eliminate air pockets. Firm soil about roots and add soil until hole is three-fourths full, then firm with foot, using care not to injure roots.

(4) Fill remainder of hole with water and allow it to soak in, then refill. After water drains, see that bud union remains at proper level and fill remainder of hole with soil and tamp. Head canes back to about eight inches, making cuts one-fourth inch above an outside bud.

(5) Mound soil around and over plant to height of eight to ten inches to protect canes from drying out. When buds break, gradually remove mound of soil — within a week or ten days. When growth starts, apply plant food according to directions.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA MEETS

Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society met on Monday, March 26, at Coleman State Park Restaurant for a regular meeting of this school year. Attending were twenty-four members and a guest speaker, Miss Lynn Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Harris, of Belmont.

Tables were brightly decorated with spring flowers, and members were greeted at their places with several favors and individual miniature flower arrangements in colorful plastic Easter eggs. A smorgasbord luncheon was enjoyed and followed by a business meeting, a program entitled "Professional Commitment", and a Founders' Day commemoration.

The program on "Professional Commitment" was introduced by Mrs. Billy Spain, Booneville. Mrs. Brewer Moore, of Belmont, introduced her former pupil, Miss Harris, who rendered an entertaining and informative account of the role of teachers in general and her own personal role as a teacher in Belmont Elementary School for the Title IV Program, a program for the gifted. Miss Harris showed many interesting slides of her students in action with music, dancing, art, drama, puzzles, etc. The theme of her message was how teachers can make a difference in educating children.

The Founders' Day Program was given by Mrs. P. H. Martin and Mrs. L. R. Cox, both of Ripley. Mrs. Martin displayed by using an opaque projector portraits of the 12 founders, who on May 11, 1929, in Austin, Texas, initiated the Delta Kappa Gamma Society. Mrs. Cox narrated a brief biographical sketch of each. The Delta Kappa Gamma Society is an organization of dedicated, professional women educators.

Hosting the meeting were Euna Nabors, Ripley; Lee Aklin Martin, Ripley; Marie Spain, Booneville; Lynn Harris, Belmont; and Byrd Moore, Belmont.

Thanks were expressed for the use of the meeting place and to the social committee for their work.

KKI Meets

The monthly meeting of the Theta Conclave was held in the Baptist Parsonage at Tishomingo, Monday, March 21, 1977, from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m.

A "bring a dish" dinner was sponsored by the members present.

The table decorations and place cards carried out the St. Patrick's Day of "something green" theme. The little three leaf clover, which is Ireland's national emblem, paraded down the middle of the dining table.

Choral grace was sung after which the invited guest, Rev. Eugene Tennison, gave an interesting devotional and added some of his timely remarks that are always welcome.

The secretary, Arach Ivy, read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer, Ruth Fulton, read the financial report and suggested a good way to make some money. This will be carried out at our next meeting.

Different matters of business were discussed.

The April meeting will be held that were allowed to quit school in the third and fourth grades. I cannot tell all that has happened to them for they would be recognized. The youngest was a very bright youngster, could just learn anything. They are now grown, and the results are they are still just in the third and fourth grades. See what I mean? It's a pity.

Now the dogs: Last fall I saw a small black female dog in the Elm Shopping Center. In February I saw her again and she was expecting puppies. About a week ago I saw her again and she had had her puppies and was starving. I saw her licking candy wrappers, trying to find some nourishment. She wasn't very shy the first time I saw her, but she had learned to fear and I am sure no one could catch her now. Something should be done; but you can't kill these females unless you find their puppies and kill them too, and not let them starve.

I am just:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir: Reading the comments in your paper is the first thing I do, and I must say, some of them are most interesting.

Take for instance the subject of children and dogs, in that order. I am in favor of forcing the parents to send their able bodied, mentally capable children to school. I have seen, first hand, what it does for them in the example of two little boys
