Contract Awarded For Waterway

Rep. Jamie Whitten said he was notified that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has awarded a contract of more than $18 million to a Kansas firm for excavation work and bridge removal along the Tenn-Tom Waterway route in Northeast Mississippi.

The lawmaker said the $18,208,635 contract was awarded to Martin K. Eby Construction Co., of Wichita, Kan., for work on the Tenn-Tom project in Tishomingo County.

The contract calls for the excavation of about 8,150,000 cubic yards of unclassified material, 112,000 cubic yards of riprap, the clearing and grubbing of 660 acres, and seeding of 380 acres, the excavation of drainage ditches and the removal of an existing bridge.

Additional $15 Million For Tenn-Tom

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten said the House approved an additional $15 million for Tennessee-Tombigbee bridges and other similar projects throughout the nation.

The $15 million -- making a total of $50 million for the current fiscal year for "bridges crossing federal projects" -- is part of the economic stimulus appropriations bill, H. R. 4876. Funds for fiscal year 1978, which begins October 1st, are currently pending before the House Appropriations Committee.

Whitten, ranking member of the Appropriations Committee and a member of the House/Senate conference on the bill, is author of the amendment to the Federal Aid Highway Act which authorizes federal assistance in constructing bridges across federal projects.

Federal Aid Highway Act, Section 132, Highways Crossing Federal Projects, provides:

"The Secretary is authorized to construct and to reconstruct any public highway or highway bridge across any Federal public works project, notwithstanding any other provision of law, where there has been a substantial change in the requirements and costs of such highway or bridge since the public works project was authorized, and where such increased costs would work an undue hardship upon any one State . . ."

There will be a work day at Harmony Church and cemetery on Thursday, May 19th, in preparation for the homecoming on Sunday, the 22nd.

The letter of commendation, signed by John D. Porterfield, M.C., Director of the Joint Commission, states:

"The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals commends your hospital for its efforts to provide a high quality of patient care and services, your willingness to participate in the process of voluntary accreditation demonstrates a professionally motivated desire to deliver a high quality of care; and, your accreditation is evidence that your efforts toward this goal have been successful."

Accreditation is awarded to hospitals that are found to be in substantial compliance with the Joint Commission's high standards for the quality of patient care provided. The standards are considered to be optimal achievable and represent goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured by the Joint Commission's Accreditation survey team.

motivation is the most effective impetus to change.

Hunting Prohibited

Hunting of game is prohibited on all Government-owned lands along the Tenn-Tom Waterway in both Alabama and Mississippi.

Colonel Charlie L. Blalock, District Engineer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Mobile, said the prohibition is a safety measure for the protection of Government and contractor personnel engaged in various construction activities along the high project.

"All types of hunting, regardless of the weapons used, are strictly prohibited," Blalock stated. "The restriction applies to all Government lands, including spoil disposal areas, along the entire length of the waterway."

Colonel Blalock said that construction personnel at the work sites have varying hours and public interest requires this safety measure. As various areas of the project are completed and ready for the enjoyment of the public, hunting will be permitted at certain locations.

CHICKEN

Chicken is an all American favorite. It's a week-day friend of the menu planner, a hit with the outdoor cooking crowd, and generally a big help to the food budget. Try it during Poultry and Egg Week in Mississippi. Broiler-fryers rate high with consumers. Fryers outsell all other poultry meats. These round, tender, ready to cook chickens weigh from 1-1/2 to 3-1/2 pounds and are 6 to 10 weeks old. They're specially bred, fed and pampered to produce high quality birds that come to you in convenient forms at reasonable prices. Their balanced rations are enriched with vitamins and minerals, tailored to produce today's fryer. It's a fascinating story of scientific progress.

Your supermarket bird is ready to cook. This means that the chicken has been cleaned inside and out, is free of pinfeathers, and eviscerated -- the head, feet and inedible organs have been removed before the bird was weighed for pricing.

Cut-up chicken and chicken parts offer maximum convenience for little additional cost. For example, a cut-up 3 pound chicken may cost an average 12 cents more than a 3 pound whole bird.

Family preferences differ. If your family prefers white meat, it may be more economical for you to buy chicken breasts. Although you pay more per pound for the parts, you save money with less waste.

You will need approximately three-fourths pound chicken for serving. A 3 pound bird yields 4 servings. A 2 pound bird yields 2 servings.

Chicken may come to you packed in over thirty different ways. There's a pack for every cooking purpose and family preference. Here are some of the choices you have when chicken is on your grocery list:

Whole chicken is often packed with heart, liver, gizzard (giblets) inside. The meat yield for a whole broiler-fryer is 51.2 per cent of the bird by weight.

Packaged chicken pieces include drumsticks, thighs, breasts and wings. One serving is 1/2 breast, or a thigh and drumstick, or a combination of the smaller pieces.

Chicken halves come packed in 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 pound weights. Allow one chicken half per servings.

Chicken quarters usually come in 2-1/2 pound packages. Allow one quarter per person.

Drumsticks are great finger food. They weigh 4 to 5 ounces each. Allow two per servings. Thighs are delicious dark meat in convenient form. Use "as is" or bone them for a real treat. They average four ounces each.

Breasts have the greatest amount of meat of all the chicken pieces. They're a good value for the money and so low in calories. A 3 ounce portion has only 185 calories or 115 without the skin. Allow 1/2 breast per serving. Breasts range from 12 to 15 ounces each.

Wings are excellent party nibblers. Two wings usually make one serving. Each wing is approximately 2 ounces.

Chicken livers are really delicious and reasonable. Allow 1/4 pound per serving.

After selecting the chicken of your choice, take it home immediately, loosen the market wrapping and store in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Plan to use it within two days or rewrap and store in the freezer.

BAKED MUSTARD CHICKEN
 2 broiler-fryer chicken, quartered
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/2 cup prepared mustard
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 2 tablespoons water
 2 tablespoons salad oil
 1 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
 1/2 teaspoon ginger

Sprinkle chicken on both sides with salt. Place skin side up in foil-lined shallow baking pan. Mix together mustard, vinegar, water, salad oil, thyme and ginger. Spoon over chicken. Bake in 375 degree F. oven 50 to 60 minutes, until tender. Makes 8 servings.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

MSU Extension Service

QUAIL FEED
 Landowners should carefully clip pastures and weedy areas to avoid destroying quail or turkey nests. Honeysuckle or blackberry patches next to field borders are especially good nesting areas.

Disking in early spring at a depth of four to six inches next to suitable cover can produce quail feed in some areas. To determine whether or not you can provide quail feed by disking, check a nearby area that has been plowed and left unplanted. If there are sufficient quantities of quail feed, disking is the method to use. If you were not able to plant bicolor seedlings, you might try planting the seeds from April 1 to May 15. Bicolor plots should be one-eighth to one-fourth acre in size.

Cowpeas which furnish food for quail in late summer and early fall should be planted May 1 to June 1. Brown top millet can also be planted for quail feed.

LIME SOYBEAN LAND
 Much soybean land is in critical need of lime. Farmers can apply lime right up to planting. Soft lime is more readily available than hardrock lime. But with the problems farmers are having getting lime, any high grade liming material should be applied any time farmers can get over the land without injuring the crop.

SIDEDRESS NITROGEN
 Cotton and corn respond well to sidedress applications of nitrogen. Since a crop uses most of the nitrogen during fruiting, it is best to sidedress cotton before first square and corn by the time it is 12 to 15 inches high. Many farmers will apply additional nitrogen in May and June. Splitting the nitrogen reduces the risk of losses from leaching and denitrification. Most corn will need sidedressing in May and cotton in late May or June.

SOYBEAN WEED CONTROL
 Many soybean growers should apply a preemergence herbicide at or shortly after planting soybeans. Their choice of herbicides should be based on weed species, soil type, organic matter or other herbicides to be used in the overall program. Preemergence herbicides work best when applied to moist seedbeds and when they are followed with rainfall within a week or 10 days.

When seedling grasses and pigweed are the major problems and an incorporated herbicide was used, the herbicide Lasso is a good selection. For cocklebur, teasweed, sicklepod and sesbania, Lexone or Sencor have the best preemergence activity. Dynap or Klean Krop as well as Lorox also may provide fair to good control of many broadleaf weeds. Farmers should study their soil and variety restrictions before choosing from this group of herbicides. For example, it is not recommended to use Lexone or Sencor with Tracy or Semmes varieties.

Special Employment Assistance

Special employment assistance for many unemployed individuals may become available in the Tishomingo County Area under economic recovery programs being considered nationally for operation through the Office of the Governor, Charles Smith, Manager of the Corinth office of the Mississippi Job Service, said.

To be ready for these special programs, local staff members are preparing files of individuals who are members of families with total annual incomes below the lower living standard, who are unemployed and who meet special requirements. These special requirements include being a welfare recipient or one of several special types of unemployment compensation claimants. Veterans meeting eligibility requirements will receive priority, Smith said.

As the programs will be designed to assist the long term unemployed, those filing claims under unemployment insurance for more than 15 weeks or who have exhausted their benefits or who were ruled ineligible for unemployment compensation and have been unemployed for more than 15 weeks will be considered, Smith added.

Anyone who thinks he might qualify should check with the Iuka Job Service Office between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday for more information. Smith said the local staff is working on these lists now so that immediate action can be taken if these programs become operational. Funds are made available for these special programs through the Governor's Office which used the services of the Mississippi Job Service for delivery of the programs to local areas.

DID YOU KNOW —

MUSIC — During man's long history, music has been sung and played in countless ways. Among primitive people, drums were used to add to the excitement of rituals and to send messages. In more civilized societies, each culture has produced music by developing its own instruments.

In the United States our music to begin with was strongly religious, church music rather than secular, because our pilgrim fathers were so religious. Iuka has been blessed with having many outstanding music teachers. Music in the past and now in a vital part of training for those that still have the love for it.

The following is a copy of a recital by pupils of Miss Mae Belle Williams (one of the greats in music).

HJORT SAYS STRONG SOYBEAN PRICES SHOULD ALERT INDUSTRY

Howard W. Hjort, Director of Agriculture Economics at the Department of Agriculture, said that at present the world supply of soybeans and their products are quite tight and prices are strong. This should alert the industry.

Speaking recently before the American Fats and Oils Association in New York City, Hjort, the top USDA economist, said if the prices remain strong in the coming months we can look for the soybean industry to be affected in 5 areas.

1. A cutback in livestock feeding rates, both domestically and abroad.

2. Increased feed usage of milk powder in the European Community.

3. A heavy switch to soybean and sunflowerseed plantings in the U.S.

4. Sharply above-trend gains in foreign oil and meal output in 1977-78.

5. Higher feed costs and ultimately some increase in consumer prices for livestock and poultry products.

Hjort said, because Brazil is a major producer it could affect world prices. So the U.S. Soybean industry should keep an eye on market developments in that country.

"Brazil's 1977 soybean crop supply, although less than originally anticipated because of wet conditions, is above that of last year," Hjort said. "Traditionally, the bulk of Brazil's soybeans and products move into export during the April - September period. This year, the sharply inverted price structure

Hall Addresses VC May Meeting

area vocational education the May meeting at Mississippi Vocational Center was host for Program Coordinator of the Tennessee Valley Yellow Creek Nuclear Project at Iuka, the Northeast Mississippi guest speaker.

He advised the vocational educators that TVA was seeking workers with fully developed skills, and he elaborated on the different trades to be employed at the project. Hall also pointed out the employment expected from the large spin-off service industries generated by the project.

workers employed by TVA, and that when the Yellow Creek Plant began operation in 1985 there would be 175 employees in the operation phase. He advised the vocational educators that TVA was seeking workers with fully developed skills, and he elaborated on the different trades to be employed at the project. Hall also pointed out the employment expected from the large spin-off service industries generated by the project.

Speaking on the economic advantages of the Yellow Creek project, Hall said, "Electricity can be generated by a nuclear reactor at two-thirds of the cost of a coal fired steam generator. When both the nuclear powered units at Yellow Creek are in operation, sometime after 1985, the annual savings over coal fired generators will be $135 million."

Hall said that while the TVA could meet the growth needs for electrical power of its service area, he expressed concern about the other utilities being able to keep pace with the demand for additional electrical power.

Commented Hall, "TVA will have the power to meet the needs of the 'valley' because TVA rates are adjusted to permit it to borrow money to finance new construction. TVA is completely self supporting."

"However," continued Hall, "in this and other areas of the U.S. many other utilities can't finance needed expansion because they can't get their rate base high enough to borrow money. By 1980 most utilities in America won't be able to meet the load, much less accommodate the demands of additional industry start-ups."

Speaking specifically of the Yellow Creek Nuclear Project, to be located on Pickwick Lake near the junction of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee state borders, Hall said, "The nuclear plant will be environmentally clean. There will be no products of combustion to deal with, and the radiation level at the plant and its surroundings will be so low that it would be difficult to measure it at the plant fence. A normal high altitude jet flight would expose a person to a level of radiation which, though perfectly safe, would take a person ten years to acquire a like exposure standing outside the nuclear plant."

TEEN TALK

BY JOYCE EMBREY

Hey, Everybody! Last Monday, May 2, the Co-Op students of Iuka went to Parchman Prison for a tour. We have been studying business law this last six weeks, and our teacher, Miss Becky Bowen, thought the tour would help us understand our notes better. The trip proved to be very educational and interesting. While we were waiting for our guide, we saw the warden, Mr. John Watkins, and the commissioner of corrections, Dr. Alt. When our guide, Mrs. McBride, arrived we went back to the bus and she explained some things to us. Then we started the tour. The first camp we stopped at was camp five. This is an old camp that was built in 1916. Camp five is now closed; they moved the men into a different camp the Friday before our trip. We didn't go into camp three, but Mrs. McBride told us that it is the rehabilitation center. In Parchman's rehabilitation program there is a family plan. The family plan allows the members of an inmates family to come to Parchman and spend three days with them. This is a good plan, because it keeps the prisoner's spirits going. We ate lunch at the new cafeteria. We were served by the inmates and the food and service were very nice.

We went to camp twenty-two and we got to go inside to talk to some of the prisoners. It was very interesting. Camp twenty-two is one of the new camps and it is very modern. After we left camp twenty-two, we saw the band. They did a song by K. C. and the Sunshine Band, one by Stevie Wonder, Freddy Fender, Glen Campbell, and a country and western song. The band is pretty good and we all enjoyed listening to them. Mrs. McBride also took us to old camp eight. The officials at Parchman have started making a museum out of this camp. While we were there, we saw a film showing the canine-9 unit sniffing out dope. We also saw some weapons that had been found on the prisoners at various times. We also saw some things the prisoners had made from ceramics and some pictures they have painted.

We also went to camp 25, which is the reception unit. This is where prisoners are first brought to get finger printed and to have their picture made. While we were in camp 25, four young men spoke to us about drugs and prison life. The first speaker was James Black, who was put in for helping in an armed robbery. James is 32 years old and is in for 20 years. He is also married and has a seven year old daughter. James has made his stay in prison much easier by becoming spiritually involved. Our next speaker was Dirk Johnson, who is 21. Dirk started on drugs when he was in the 9th grade. When he was 17, he got busted for possession of two joints. He got a 300 dollar fine and a suspended sentence. Last summer he got picked up for the sale of heroin and was sentenced to 10 years in prison. Next we heard from Mike Ivy, who is 25 years old and is doing 15 years, also for the sale of heroin. Our last speaker was Terry Butler, who was sentenced to 5 years and a $5,000 fine, also for drugs. We all enjoyed the talks these young men gave and would like to thank them for taking the time to share their personal experiences with us.

After leaving Dirk, Terry, James and Mike we went next door to the women's camp. This camp is quite different from the others. There are only about 70 women in Parchman, so they have a nicer camp. They have their own rooms and bathrooms, whereas the men are situated with 50 in one section with open toilets. Mrs. McBride also told us what the stripe on the prisoners pants stand for. White pants with a full blue stripe stands for a full trusty. These men have more privileges than most because they are trusted more. Blue pants with a half white stripe stands for a half trusty. These are not quite as privileged trusty. Blue pants with a full white stripe stands for gun men. These men have to be guarded with guns; therefore, they aren't very privileged at all.

Lastly, we went to maximum security, which contains death row and the gas chamber. There are 25 men on death row and they are given a 30 minute break every day. They are given the choice of exercise on the yard or a shower.

The gas chamber is in a little section by itself. The chamber itself is inside an outer room that has two rooms opening off of it. The chamber is shaped like a castle and it has five windows. The chair is the only thing in it and it has straps for the prisoner's arms and legs. The gas chamber at Parchman was built in 1955. Before that the executions were given by a portable electric chair that was transported from prison to prison.

All in all the trip was very interesting and the tour was fulfilling. Mrs. McBride is an excellent guide and I would like to thank her for doing such a wonderful job. I would also like to thank Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. McMannis. Well, this is the end of school. Graduation is only a week away. All the seniors are out of school now and I know they are anxiously awaiting Tuesday, May 17, when they will officially be out of high school. A lot of them will be missed and I am sure that everyone wishes them good luck and happiness.

I suppose all of you have heard the wreck that occurred Saturday night. I'm also sure you know that Ronny Phifer, or "Humpty" as his friends call him, was hospitalized as a result of it. Luckily his injuries aren't too bad. I would like for everyone to join me in wishing Humpty a speedy recovery. I guess I'll go for now. Be good and take it easy and I'll see you next week.

IUKA FALLS TO
CALEDONIA IN PLAYOFFS

Dan Henry threw a five-hitter Tuesday, May 10, as Caledonia's Confederates downed Iuka 10-2 to start the finals of the North State Class BB playoffs. Harry Cosby gave up 10 hits, six walks, and Iuka made five errors behind him. Caledonia had two runs in each of the fourth and sixth innings and four in the seventh. Iuka had one each in the second and seventh. John Mann, of Iuka, got two for three.

IUKA DEFEATS SAND FLAT FOR CLASS BB ACTION

Sand Flat took a 1-0 lead in the Class BB North State baseball playoffs by whipping the Iuka Chieftains 5-0 Tuesday, May 3. Jimmy Harris fired a five-hitter and had a pair of singles himself to lead Sand Flat to the win. Mike Stephens ripped a three-run home run in the top of the sixth inning to spark the winners. For Iuka, John Mann had a pair of singles, Steve Lyles, the losing pitcher, James Barnes and Jim Carpenter each had a single.

Iuka's Chieftains evened their North State Class BB playoff record with Sand Flat Thursday, May 5, by taking a 5-4 eight-inning win. The Chieftains scored two runs in the top of the eighth to take a 5-3 lead and then winning pitcher, Harry Cosby, after giving up one run and loading the bases with only one out, struck out the last two Sand Flat hitters to preserve his win. Cosby fired a three-hitter and struck out 12 during the game, as John Mann had a triple and a single and Charlie Dampier had a pair of singles to lead the Chieftains' offensive attack. Cosby led off the top of the eighth by reaching first on an error and then moving to third on Mann's single. A past ball allowed Cosby to score the go ahead run and then James Lowell Barnes ripped a single that scored Mann and gave Iuka its insurance run.

Iuka's Chieftains slammed four home runs Saturday, May 7, to romp to an 11-1 verdict over Sand Flat and gain the finals of North State Class BB baseball action. John Mann clobbered two solo shots while Jim Carpenter had a two-run blast and Charlie Dampier added a solo homer. The Chieftains clubbed Sand Flat hurlers for 15 safeties in the contest with Mann, Phil Dawson and James Lowell Barnes all collecting three hits apiece. Steve Lyles held Sand Flat to three hits while striking out nine and walking one to pick up the win. Mike Harris was charged with the setback. Robert Euell homered off Lyles in the bottom of the seventh inning to account for the Sand Flat tally.

Horticulturist Gives Advice To Gardeners

MISSISSIPPI STATE — One of the most common mistakes is working soil before it is ready, says Jim Perry, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service horticulturist.

Be certain the soil is dry enough and that it is warm enough for good seed germination, says the specialist. Do-it-yourself landscapers should be careful to plant pine and dogwood trees in sites where drainage is good. Never plant them where they will suffer from water-logged soil, advises Perry.

Winter-killed wood should be pruned away from trees and shrubs. Cut damaged material back to a live growth bud on each stem, instructs the Extension specialist.

If your garden space is tiny, try a color scheme of all white flowers and green leaves, he suggests. This will make the garden look larger. For color accents, try a few pots of flowering annuals.

The Extension horticulturist recommends that gardeners treat Sweet William as a biennial rather than as the perennial it is. Sow seeds in the spring, says Perry. Plants also can be grown from cuttings or by layering.

If blooms are picked from Shasta Daisy plants, a second crop of flowers may be produced in the autumn, Perry reminds gardeners.

1977 Floyd Reunion Held

The descendants of the late John Frank and Rachel Floyd met at the Youth Center in the Mineral Springs Park for the third annual reunion, Saturday, April 30, at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends mingled, renewed acquaintances for about two hours and "Kissin Cousins" were very much evident. The bountiful feast was spread on a long table and the crowd gathered around. The welcome was given by Ruby Gober Densmore, followed by a prayer of thankfulness for the assembly and the food, by J. C. Floyd, president of the reunion.

Our thanks go to Rose Counce for the two large "Floyd Reunion" cakes, decorated and each carried the caption "Floyd Reunion, 1977".

Many carried cameras and shutters clicked almost constantly. Our thanks goes to Mrs. Floyd, of Millington, for many pictures and a picture of the entire group.

One of the highlights of the day was the arrival of little Rachel Grissom, of Nashville, Tenn. She is the namesake of the late Rachel Floyd, her great-great-grandmother, daughter of Martha Smith Grissom, granddaughter of Floyd and Loyce Smith, and great-granddaughter of Mrs. Blanch Counce.

Uncle Fred Floyd, of High Springs, Fla., was not able to be there due to ill health. He is a very young 85 years, and we hope he will be with us in 1978. We love you dearly, Uncle Fred.

Aunt Ora Gober made a very short appearance, and was well-come warmly. Her health is not good.

Aunt Blanch Counce was there and looking good for her 81 years.

All of the children, nieces and nephews love the three mentioned above and hope that all will be there with us in 1978.

Those attending were: Buster, Marie and Katie Ramsey, Pauline Daniel, Mary Barnett, Leroy and Lettie O'Brian, Mary McLeskey, Ruth Floyd, Mary Joyce and Claude Crow, Jr., and Roger Carter, Jimmy Floyd, Bo, Julie and Jennifer Ramsey, Donnie, Corrie Ruth Carson and Craig, Kristy and Kevin, Claudis Gober, Orville and Gay Grimes, Debbie Ryan, Neil and Shelly, and Mrs. Ora Gober, all of Iuka; Pauline Yeatman, Kello and Elaine McAnally and Mark, all of Belmont; Aunt Blanch Counce, Elmer Ray and Rose, Mark and Toni, Shelia Strickland, Bobby and Shirley Barnes, Angie, John Mark and Kelly, Leni and Eutra Shackelford, all of Burnsville; E. PEACOCKS IN IUKA

Driven down Highway 72 East just past Iuka City we've noticed Dorothy's Americana Antiques. We've probably stopped over the fine selections they have. But isn't about antiques. Antiques and birds? Well, nothing new in this case at Americana Antiques. Some very unusual birds belong to Mr. and Mrs. Larry, who lives at Eastport, some ornamental Bantams. He now has three Muscovy ducks, two Rockana chickens, two ring-necked white peacocks,

Older Americans Month

Iuka Mayor, John H. Biggs, has proclaimed the month of May, 1977, Older Americans Month in Iuka. In the proclamation, the Mayor urges all Iuka citizens to join with the Governor's Council on Aging in focusing attention on our State's Senior Citizens this month.

The Proclamation expresses the continuing resolve of the City to assist older citizens in maintaining a meaningful life style characterized by dignity and security.

In an additional proclamation, Governor Finch has designated the fourth Sunday in May, 1977, as Grandparents Day in Mississippi. The Proclamation notes that we have become more aware in recent years of the important guidance given to younger generations by their grandparents; and that the leadership potential of grandparents, who have an accumulated wisdom joined by years of experience, is recognized. The Governor urges all Mississippians, children and adults, to join with the Mississippi Council on Aging in honoring our State's grandparents; both individually and through special activities of churches, clubs, and organizations. It is suggested that churches honor the following grandparents during services held on Sunday, May 22: the oldest, the youngest, one with the most grandchildren, one with the most great-grandchildren.

Proclamation

BY THE MAYOR OF IUKA WHEREAS, the continuing resolve of this City is to assist its older citizens in maintaining a meaningful life-style characterized by dignity, security, and personal independence; and WHEREAS, the desire of this City is to pay tribute to its senior citizens for their contributions to the development and maintenance of all aspects of the life of our community; and
