Some FmHA Interest Rates Went Up April 14

Interest rates on some loans made by the Farmers Home Administration will be higher beginning April 14, 1980. Mark. Hazard, State
Director for Mississippi
FmHA said today.
Interest rates for farm operating loans will go from 11 to 12.5 percent; for economic and disaster emergency loans from 13 to 14 percent; for long term real estate loans 11 to 12 percent, and from 11 to 13 percent for unsubsidized loans for home ownership, rural rental housing and rural housing
site development, Hazard
said.
Formulas used in setting
interest rates for Farmers
Home and other government lenders are prescribed by law and are closely tied to the cost of Federal Borrowing
and prevailing private market interest rates for similar maturities, Hazard said.
He added that interest
rates have been forced up, reflecting increased costs for borrowing for the funding of FmHA programs.
Farmers Home interest rates will increase to 14 percent for economic and disaster emergency loans for farmers, except that actual loss disaster emergency loans will remain at 5 percent
as prescribed by law.
In addition, interest rates
for agency's program of low interest loans for "limited resource" farmers will not be increased at this time," Hazard said. Loans under this program made for farm production will continue at 7 percent and for farm real estate at 5 percent.
However, the agency will increase rates for most other farm loans above the interest rates set March 6. The rate of 12 percent will apply for farm ownership, soil and water,
recreation facilities, grazing
loans, irrigation and drainage
and Indian land acquisition loans. Indian tribes, unable to pay the full interest rate,
may obtain land acquisition loans at 7 percent interest.
The "interest credit"
feature of the home ownership program will not be affected by the interest rate changes. Families with adjusted incomes of less than $11,200 still may obtain "interest credits" which in effect lower the amount of interest
they pay on home loans.
The interest rate on loans for community facilities and water and waste disposal systems remains unchanged
at 5 percent.

Concerned Citizens Met

According to Mr. David
Smith, Concerned Citizens
met Tuesday night at the Iuka
Youth Center in Mineral Springs Park and elected a committee to represent them.
Mr. Smith states that the primary concern is lack of knowledge of what is going on in our city and county.

The following people were elected to serve them:
President, David Smith; Vice-President, Arthur Mitchell;
Treasurer, Mildred Martin;
Secretary, Frankie Speece.
Committee members include:
James Rice, Richard
Woodruff, Willie Powell and Robert Skinner.

Mr. Smith told The News that approximately 300 Concerned Citizens were in attendance, and plans were made to meet again at 7:00

Construction Begins On New Tish. County Hospital Emergency Room

The growing population of this area is one of the reasons for an expansion in the Emergency Room space on the west side of Tishomingo County Hospital.

The Board of Supervisors awarded a contract in the amount of $248,059.00 to Master Contractors of Corinth in November, 1979, for work on the project. The work on the addition began last month, March 1980, when the work order was received, and March 1981, is the expected date of completion of the 1,500 square feet of additional space.

A $200,000.00 Federal Grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission funded the new construction, and a $50,000.00 grant was given by TVA for the construction of a decontamination room in the event of a Nuclear accident.
In addition, TVA is furnishing up to $25,000.00 to purchase
an additional emergency vehicle.

The added space will allow the hospital to handle three acute emergencies at one time with three holding or waiting rooms. Present equipment will be used, with plans to add additional equipment in the future.

During construction of the new Emergency Room persons needing to go to the Emergency Room should turn off Hwy. 72 one block east or one block west of the hospital.

Grand Jury Report Given For April Term Of Court

April Term, 1980 Grand Jury Report

Comes now the Grand Jury of Tishomingo County and submits its final report, and upon so doing begs that the same be received by the Court and that thereafter we
be adjourned.

We have been in session
for 2 days, and heard testimony from 14 witnesses,
and returned into Open Court
10 True Bills.

We have examined by committees the public buildings of the County, and submit herewith our findings:

Tishomingo County Home
We found the Tishomingo County Home to be in extremely good condition. The building and all of its facilities were clean and in good order. It is noted, however, that the exterior of the building needs painting,
and we recommend that County Funds be appropriated for this purpose.
Also, a loose and exposed

ground wire in the laundry area needs attention.

Tishomingo County Courthouse

We found the Courthouse
and its offices to be in overall good shape and very clean and neat. The grounds outside were well-kept. However, we found the downstairs
Men's Restroom to be in need of paint. Also a few stained ceiling tiles in the Food Stamp Office need to be replaced. We noted that the radio in the Civil Defense Office is not working and is in need of repair. The Tax Assessor's Office has some black scuff marks on the wall that should be removed. This office also needs more space
for the storage of old car tags.

Tishomingo County Jail

We found the jail to be in the worst shape of any of the County's buildings. The entire jail needs painting and a good cleaning. We found the shower and bathroom facilities to be dirty and in need of paper towels and toilet paper. We found electrical wires exposed throughout the building and several broken light fixtures.
In the women's cell area an air vent was loose and could fall and cause injury. We also found a leak in the ceiling of the office area. The inside was poorly lighted yet we noted the outside lights were burning during the daytime.
We feel there is a need for more fire extinguishers. Also, there is a hole in an exterior
wall that needs to be repaired. We found cobwebs and an unpleasant odor throughout the building. The Sheriff has informed the Grand Jury that money has been appropriated to make the necessary improvements and repairs to the jail. We are assured that the jail would be in good shape by the end of the summer.

Now having submitted this our Final Report and having completed our labors, we, the Grand Jury of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, for the April, 1980, Term of Circuit

Court, begs to be adjourned, subject to recall before the next regular term of this Court.

Respectfully submitted,
Harvey Pendergrast,
Foreman

COOK FRESH ASPARAGUS

Cook fresh asparagus in boiling, salted water or hot oil only until crisp-tender. The tips cook more quickly so some people like to loosely tie the bunch of asparagus and stand it upright in a slender, tall cooking container (some glass coffee pots are the right shape for this) so the stalk is in the water but the tip is cooked by the hot steam. For cut stalks let the stalk portion cook about 5 minutes before adding the tender tips. To hold the green color cook in an open pan for the first 1 or 2 minutes and then cover. The total cooking time will vary with the tenderness of the asparagus but it is wise to check it in about 8 minutes.

If you are cooking the pencil-size spears, cut them into small pieces; no more than an inch in length. Incidentally, they look more interesting and seem to taste better if the stalks are cut on the "bias" rather than straight across. Cook the pieces in a skillet in melted butter with a clove of garlic. Shake the skillet (as you would pop corn) over medium heat. It takes about 5 minutes.

Cooked asparagus is great served fresh and hot with butter and a squirt of fresh lemon juice.

Whatever seasoning or sauce is used, use just enough to enhance but not overshadow the delicate natural flavor and color -- with dry mustard or seed, sesame seed, tarragon, caraway seed, cheese sauce, Hollandaise sauce, etc.

For an elegant luncheon salad, cold, crisp, cooked spears garnished with crunchy, crumbled bacon, grated, hard-cooked egg and cherry tomato cut in half may be served with Italian or French dressing.

Roll each serving of cooked asparagus stalks in thin slices of ham; put in a casserole; top with a tangy cheese sauce and heat in the oven until bubbly hot.

Place crisp, tender, cooked asparagus on toasted English muffins; top with Swiss cheese and melt it under the broiler.

Cold asparagus spears or pieces marinated in a vinaigrette dressing with cubes of Swiss cheese is a delicious salad.

Cooked asparagus dressed with a mixture of two tablespoons of vinegar, one teaspoon sugar and one tablespoon each chopped onion, crumbled, crisp bacon and bacon drippings. Dressing and asparagus should be hot.

Roll leftover asparagus in pancake batter and deep-fat fry. Serve with broiled steak.

FRESH ASPARAGUS WITH ORANGE-LEMON SAUCE

1 bunch (2-2½ pounds) asparagus
1/4 lb. butter or margarine
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
4 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

½ teaspoon grated orange rind

Break off asparagus stalks as far down as they snap easily. Wash asparagus. Cook asparagus, covered in small amount of boiling salted water until just tender. Drain, if necessary. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally. Serve with cooked asparagus. Garnish with lemon slices, as desired. Makes about 6 servings.

MANAGEMENT FOR PREVENTION OF GRASS TETANY

The following information was released by Dr. James C. Collins, Leader, Extension Animal Science and Dr. George Ashley Green, DVM, Leader Extension Veterinary Medicine. I hope this information will be useful in your operation.

Grass Tetany, also known as grass staggers, lactation tetany, wheat or ryegrass poisoning, is a serious nutritional problem for grazing beef cattle. It is primarily a problem during cool seasons with highly fertilized grass and cereal crops. Current weather conditions of excessive rainfall, cold days, followed by warm days, and rapid grass growth are ideal for the onset of this problem.

Symptoms: Grass tetany is most likely to affect lactating cows. Older animals seem more susceptible than younger ones. Although cows with calves are most often affected, dry cows and stocker cattle are susceptible.

The physical symptoms of tetany may not be noticed before the animal is down or dead. At the onset or in mild cases, the cows will be nervous, avoid the rest of the herd, have excessive salivation, muscle tremors and rapid breathing. In advanced cases, cows will walk with a stiff gait, stagger, have labored breathing, collapse, and go into convulsions. If not treated immediately, they will die.

Prevention: Since grass tetany is due to a reduction in available magnesium, it can be prevented by providing additional magnesium for the cattle.

A mineral supplement containing magnesium is the fastest and most certain method of preventing tetany. Supplemental magnesium can be provided by several methods. It should begin 2 to 3 weeks before tetany is likely to occur, especially in pastures with previous problems. Several suggested mixtures are:

1. There are several commercial supplements available which contain all needed minerals with additional magnesium. At least 12 percent magnesium is recommended.

2. Prepare a mixture of equal parts (by weight) of salt, cottonseed meal, defluorinated rock phosphate and magnesium oxide. Self feed - cattle should eat about 4 ounces per day.

3. Prepare a mixture of equal parts (by weight) of corn, salt and magnesium oxide. Self feed - cattle should eat about 3 ounces per day.

Adjustments of corn or salt content may be necessary in order to get desired consumption.

ASCS Farm News

PLANNING AHEAD FOR STORAGE

The planting season is a good time for farmers to examine their storage facilities to make sure they have adequate space for the new crops. It is good business on the part of producers to provide enough storage to take care of their crops and -- in periods of transportation bottlenecks -- the only way they can be sure they have a place for the harvest. A bumper grain crop usually indicates a successful farm year. However, if it has to be sold on a glutted market losses may occur. Unless commercial space is available, on-farm storage will be needed. Grain stocks in January were 11.8 billion bushels, an increase of 957 million from a year ago. Utilization of total storage capacity was 65 percent, up 4 percent from a year ago. Capacity utilization at farm locations was 69 percent, an increase of 4 percent, while grain stocks in off-farm locations occupied 60 percent of available capacity, up 6 percent. Most of the decrease from expected export levels is comprised of corn and wheat and it seems most likely that the majority of these stocks will be located in production areas farthest from export ports. Thus, storage capacity in these areas should experience heavy use at the end of the crop year and less space would be available for new crop storage. Farmers who need help to buy, build or remodel farm storage to supplement available commercial space can get government assistance through the facility loan program administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). The agency offers loans to producers needing farm facilities for storing dry or high moisture grain, soybeans, peanuts, and high moisture forage and silage. Loans are also available for drying and handling equipment. Eligible storage structures include conventional bins for storing dry grain, as well as silo-type facilities for storing high-moisture forage and silage. The drying equipment includes continuous-flow dryers, batch or in-storage drying systems as well as systems that dry by aerating or circulating the crop. The need for storage structures is based on two years' crop production minus existing storage capacity. Because of farm fuel shortages and rising fossil fuel costs, loans on solar grain drying systems are also authorized. Elmer (Booster) South, Chairperson of the Tishomingo County ASCS Committee, said that the farm storage facility loan program is one of several self-help type programs which is available to farmers. It has proven to be one of the most successful programs which is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Thousands of farmers in the State of Mississippi alone have erected storage structures through this program. These storage structures have enabled farmers to take advantage of price support loans on soybeans and other crops and to hold the crops until a favorable marketing season. Since these loans are repayable with interest, this program has been carried on for many years with very little cost to the taxpayers. Farmers who are interested in getting additional details concerning the availability of loans for the erection of farm storage structures and/or drying equipment are encouraged to contact the county ASCS Office.

House Bill 1259, authorizing $30 million in bonds for construction of the Tenn-Tom Waterway bridges, was called off the calendar Wednesday. I had previously offered an amendment to the bill in the Ways and Means Subcommittee. This amendment would have returned from $400,000 to $600,000 to Tishomingo County by next year and over one million dollars by 1984. The amendment, however, was defeated by a 3-2 vote. I offered the same amendment again on the House floor the following day and it was adopted by a 63-52 vote. It was held on a motion to reconsider until the next day and was then defeated.

It is my conviction that the State of Mississippi should be issuing the bonds and not the twelve counties in Northeast Mississippi. A recent study conducted by Dr. Robert Fanka of Mississippi State University shows $80,160,500 in direct taxes and $39,443,500 in indirect taxes - a total of almost

The following is a breakdown of the in lieu taxes paid by the 12 counties last year:

Alcorn,	$13,946.51;
Chickasaw,	$10,089.78;
Clay,	$29,536.94;

Tishomingo,	$2,619,662.88;
total,	$2,843,516.27.

The figures show that the other eleven counties paid 8 percent of the total in lieu taxes, while Tishomingo County paid 92 percent. The State of Mississippi put $611,572.22 into the Bridge Bond Retirement Fund. This is only 12.2 percent of the total payments received in in lieu taxes from T.V.A. in 1979.

In addition to paying more than our share on the bridges, some 30,000 acres of land has been taken off the tax roll in

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Well, TVA has slip-shucked me again! You'd think and you'd want to believe that a branch of the Federal Government such as TVA would be someone you could trust and put confidence in. Now, you be the judge.

TVA has made me an offer to buy my land for the proposed railroad to the Nuclear Plant that I don't think is a fair price. When TVA said, "Then we'll get three appraisers to appraise your tract," I was thinking and hoping that TVA was trying to do right. But how wrong I was. The only thing TVA is doing is setting the stage for a trip to Federal court, knowing all the time that the appraisers were going to appraise for less money than TVA did. The appraisers are also being paid by TVA. I am sure that somewhere in TVA files are the figures of what each of the appraisers receive from TVA each year. I'm sure it would be interesting to know.

Well, now on to Federal court with -- get this -- Federal judges, Federal commission, Federal lawyers, Federal employees, and Federal witnesses in a strange town away from home and cannot have a jury to decide your fate, what your land is worth or how much damage is done. I had the privilege of hearing one of my neighbor's trials in Federal court in Aberdeen, Ms. Here sat the three-person commission like judges on a bench and the chairperson, an elderly lady which I'm sure was well-qualified for the job. Over here sat our neighbor all alone in Federal court when you have all this Federal "this and that" against you! These people that are against you, sitting over there, have been in court so many times that they all are on a first name basis. They eat at the same restaurants and have reservations at the same hotels and motels which is, by the way, at the tax payer's expense. Now you tell me - how does one win with all the cards stacked like this?

Try to put yourself in my place and see what TVA has done to our beautiful countryside with a Nuclear Plant and now crossing approximately 35 farms with a railroad, cutting farms in half when they have two alternate routes to those from that will not cross anyone's farm or property. TVA's reason for not doing this is that it "costs too much". Ha! Ha! Since when has TVA been "cost-conscious"? When TVA's mellow, mild-mannered, neatly-dressed appraiser and land buyer come to see you, you think they are really trying to help you. You tell them your sad story and they readily agree with you. They tell you, "You're right. We want to help you, but this is all I can do."

Now, these people didn't fall in here off of a cantaloupe wagon. They have done this lots of times before and they couldn't care less. They are out to get their job done regardless of who gets in the way.

James J. Kirk, A Fellow Victim

1927

All we read or hear is economy! Economy.

Here is a part of an article copied from "The Dearborn Independent" of February 1927 - Volume 17, No. 18 - by Henry Laket.

"Like the snows of yesterday, which have melted and gone, the ancient maxims which sought to teach us to be economical and thrifty have disappeared!!"

It is a new age of new things of course. But are conditions today so different that it would raise a laugh if Cicero's words, "economy is a great revenue, were quoted, or that economy is the poor man's mint? Benjamin Franklin's wisdom on this subject popularly quoted in past decades, and has been strongly quoted in recent years. Once we saw on every hand reprints of his famous thrift sayings, such as 'beware of little expenses, a small leak will sink the great ship, or 'ere fancy you consult, your purse'. Another of Franklin's wise warning was 'gain may be temporary and uncertain, but ever while you live expense is constant and certain, and it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one in fuel.'

Confucius some 2,500 years ago warned that 'he who will not economize will have to agonize.' The old-fashioned lessons of thrift are in obscurity.

Granting for sake of argument that some installment selling is benevolent in its primary aspect - that is to say, that it enables people who will not or cannot save, to obtain more and better comforts and to pay for them as they use them; but the fact remains that he who buys must toe the mark regularly and that his income is indeed mortgaged.

There is a tendency to put everything on the installment basis with the exception of staple products and the necessities of life.

When all of one's income is mortgaged against installment purchases, thrift and the saving habit, when they have been forced home as a crucial necessity, are almost impossible - it is too late then.

This article was written and placed in the magazine February 17, 1927. The people were beginning the luxury way of life - on the installment plan - which seems good - but have we gone too far? We holler now "balance the budget."

Again, Henry Laket of 1927 says, "Debt is the worst poverty." It has been said: A man in debt and insolvent is in a sorrier plight than he who is moneyless but without debts. Franklin never ceased to preach the joys of being debt-free. "Rather go to bed supperless; than to rise in debt. Another - "Debt is like any other trap, easy enough to get into but hard enough to get out of."

Why can't our best American businessmen devise some new plan to help our economy?

Local Doctors Named To Advisory Council

Two Iuka doctors have been named members of the 1979-80 Premedical and Pre dental Advisory Council at The University of Mississippi. They are Dr. Kelly Segars and Dr. Bobby F. King.

Council members will represent the Ole Miss Premed office for local high school and junior college students who are interested in a career in medicine or dentistry.

Physicians and dentists serving on the council will provide career counseling for the fields of medicine and dentistry, and information about the premedical and pre dental programs at Ole Miss. There are 71 council members located in 46 different cities in Mississippi and in Memphis.

Dr. Hugh Bateman, assistant dean for health professions advisement, is executive secretary for the council and editor of its publication, "Premed at Ole Miss," which is sent to high school counselors and many high school students.

Hubbard Salem 4-H Club News

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

We are looking for any and all World War II Glider Pilots in Mississippi . . . also any Tow Pilots or Glider Mechanics are welcome.

There were about 6000 of us who wore the Silver Wings with the "G" on them. At this late date we have found about 2300 and would like to find more.

We are a unique and extinct group since there were so few of us and there will be no more of us.

If you were a "GP" or know of one, call their attention to the fact that the 7th Wing covering Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Missouri will hold a Mini-Convention at the Downtowner Motor Inn in Jackson, Miss. on May 9, 10 and 11, 1980.

For reservations, call 601-948-6161.

er Drug Turned Loose Corinth Streets

abuse of the lethal hallucinogen have surfaced in Alcorn County during the past week, according to Jay Lee and Lanny Taylor, counselors for the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Division of Timber Hills Mental Health Services. Four of the eight victims have been teenagers. Six have had to be institutionalized, placed in in-patient hospitals to keep them from hurting themselves or someone else. All are from Alcorn County. None of the eight knew that "angel dust" was the drug they had taken. "Most of these kids are not addicts," Taylor says. "They are occasional users - or maybe one-time users. They thought with PCP are not due to overdoses of the drug. Rather, they are suicides or auto accidents.

"Kids who use 'angel dust' usually die violently," says Taylor. "They become so paranoid they want to harm themselves, or others."

"We cannot treat them as out-patients," Lee says. "We have to put them in a hospital where they can be closely watched."

Lee says two of the eight local victims of PCP abuse tried to commit suicide. One is 16, the other, 19.

All eight came to Timber Hills for help because they were scared. They had no idea what was happening to them.

"And they were right to come to us," Lee says. "It is imperative these people get treatment."

Taylor warns that these eight cases are probably not isolated. "We know the drug is in Prentiss County, as well as in Alcorn. It's also in Shelby County, Tenn.," he adds.

"The cases we've seen have included people from every social level," Lee says. So far, all the victims have been white. And all of them have been young, ranging in age from 15 to 25.

Only one was "mainlining" - injecting the drug into his bloodstream - and he developed a severe abscess. The others either "snorted" (inhaled) the PCP or "dropped" it in - took it by mouth.

Lee comments, "And why you take the drug is dangerous."

Taylor adds that quaalude, the drug most of the victims thought they were getting, is also dangerous unless taken under a doctor's supervision. It is a strong hypnotic, a sedative that has strong potential for physical addiction, as well as for creating psychological dependence.

Both Taylor and Lee urge anyone who thinks he might have taken PCP to get professional help immediately. The Timber Hills Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center has a telephone line manned 24 hours every day. The number is 286-6908.

"We can keep any call confidential," says Lee. "The point is, call," he says. "We are concerned. We want to help."

They also urge those who are involved in drugs, or considering involvement, to take a close look at the tremendous risks.

"The dope dealers are making big bucks," says Taylor. "And they don't care how they make them."

The above article was printed in The Daily Corinthian on April 9, 1980, and appears in this issue of The County News by permission.

Conservation Notes

By: Bobby Manley

If you are planning to buy or build your dream house, check the soil first. There may be some unexpected soil hazards which could cause severe damage or lead to major repairs later.

Many areas that are now being used for home sites were used for farms, woodlots and pastures just a few years ago. Some of these areas are on the floodplain of a stream. The stream may only overflow once in five or ten years, but the chance of eventual damage is too high to chance. Even a small stream can flood beyond its banks after heavy prolonged rains. Many people who have had their houses flooded were not aware their houses were in a floodplain.

Some clayey soils expand during wet conditions and shrink when dry. This shrinking and swelling causes extreme stress forces on foundations for houses that are built on this type of soil. If the foundation is not designed to withstand these forces, it will crack and cause the walls to crack and possibly break apart.

A septic tank absorption field will be required if your house is located beyond existing sewer lines. An absorption field may not function where there is a high water table or where the soil absorbs the effluent too slowly. Effluent from the drain field may rise to the surface if the soil has a slow absorption rate. If the soil has a seasonally high water table, the absorption field will fail to work when the soil is saturated during wet weather.

For information on the suitability of your soils for home sites, please contact the Soil Conservation Service Office in Iuka.

Room 6-1 Science Fair

Mrs. Bobbie Finch displayed her sixth grade student's work in science with a Science Fair on Thursday, April 3rd. There were twenty-three projects on display. Each project was very detailed and the results proved how much the students had worked on these special assignments.

The first place ribbon was won by Shelaine James with her project on making an artificial ear. Second place went to Jody Reno and Harold Moore for their combined efforts in making a volcano. Third place went to Allison Shackelford for her "Series Circuit and Parallel Circuit" in electricity.

There were two volcanoes displayed and after the projects had been judged, the class took the volcanoes outside to be erupted. This particular experience was of great interest to the students since they have been reading about Volcanic Mount St. Helens, which roared awake March 27th, after a century of sleep. This particular volcano is located in Vancouver, Washington.

COMPARE

THE POWER, FUNCTIONAL DESIGN AND SENSIBLE PRICE OF A SNAPPER HI-VAC™ RIDER.

The rear-engine SNAPPER Hi-Vac rider gives you a smooth, even cut. Plus: immediate response steering for cutting in tight places; on-the-go adjustment of cutting height and speed; and a floating cutting unit which minimizes scalping and damage.

SNAPPER Hi-Vac riders can vacuum cuttings, leaves and litter into an optional

6 or 30 bushel catcher, even during high moisture conditions.

Before you buy a rider, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more.

And, its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

Girls State

Girls State is a practical application of Americanism and citizenship. The entire program is a non-partisan, non-political attempt to teach and inculcate in the youth of America a love of God and country and a 100 percent Americanism.

The purpose of Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age in every unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, to afford them an opportunity to be together as self-governing citizens; to inform them about duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship, so they may understand and participate in the direction of their government and to help them grasp the meaning of many of the responsibilities which they must assume when they become adults.

Eligibility is positively limited to girls in the junior year of high school. It is the educational level which fits the program, because each girl is expected to return for the completion of her high school course and be a leader in her school and community.

Qualifications in order of their importance: Leadership, Character, Courage, Honesty, Scholarship, Cooperativeness, Physical Fitness.

Only authorized American Legion Auxiliary Units may sponsor girls to Girls State, but they may secure financial aid from other organizations or individuals which wish to become patrons of the program.

Girls State this year will be held June 6-12.

Auxiliary President, Mrs. Lela T. Clark
Vice-President, Mrs. Irene Barnes

Students Named To Who's Who

The 1979-80 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges will carry the names of thirty-eight students from Nor- theast Mississippi Junior College, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating com- mittees and editors of the an- nual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in ex- tracurricular activities and future potential. They join an elite group of students se- lected from more than 700 in- stitutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1966.

Northeast students named this year from Tishomingo County are: Vicki Blakney, Burnsville; Tammie Mann, luka; Kim Smith, Burnsville; and Wendell Vaughn, Belmont.

ASCS Farm News

By: Henry L. Knox, County Director
OFFSETTING COMPLIANCE — There will be no offset- ting compliance requirement for 1980 under the high and low target price concept. That is, if you plant wheat and/or feed grain, the sum of the Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) crop acreage chargeable to the NCA shall not exceed the NCA established for the farm to receive target price at the high rate. Also, if the NCA is exceeded, the farm is eligible for disaster and deficiency payments based on the target prices at the low rate. Therefore, owners and operators interested in the production of wheat or feed grain on a farm planting within the NCA are eligible for the higher target price even though they operate or have an ownership interest in another farm which plants wheat or feed grain and e- xceeds the NCA. Contact the Tishomingo County ASCS Of- fice if you have questions about this new provision.

Your Invitation To Come Ride Our Train

The North Alabama Railroad Club in cooperation with the Southern Railway System will sponsor a special train for the pleasure of kin- dergartens, schools, church groups and the general public on the dates shown. The trips available are one way, (that is, you must provide return trans- portation). The excursion passenger train will be pulled by Southern Railway's beautiful green and gold steam locomotive, No. 4501, and will certainly thrill the old and young alike. In a day when most of our youngsters have never ever seen a passenger train, even yet a steam locomotive, this becomes a truly outstanding opportunity for a wonderful and memorable experience, which may very well be the last since it appears the Southern Railway will discon- tinue their steam train excu- rsions after this year.

On Thursday, May 1, the train leaves luka at 9:40 a.m. and arrives in Corinth at 10:25 a.m.

Fares are for one-way train trips and do not include return transportation which is the responsibility of the passengers. Children fares are for persons under 12 years of age.

Schools, kindergartens, church groups, etc. having confirmed reservations for 10 or more persons. Fares for all trips except No. 1, 18 and 20 are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. For trips 1, 18 and 20 the fares are $4.00 for adults and $2.75 for children. These are special fares for groups with confirmed reser- vations.

General Public: The general public may ride on a seat available basis. Fares are only $4.00 for adults and $3.00 for children except trips 1, 18 and 20. For these trips the fares are $4.50 for adults and $3.25 for children. Please board the last car for seats. Reser- vations not required. Have correct fare, no personal checks accepted.

Through trips, i.e., more than one segment are also available. Examples are Hun- tsville to Sheffield and Sher- field to Birmingham. These make ideal programs for both young people and adult groups. Please write for more information and fares. Send a large stamped self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Notice: Do not send money with request for reservations.

Mail the reservation ap- plication to: North Alabama Railroad Club, P.O. Box 4163, Huntsville, Ala. 35802.

Carter Extends Emergency Farm Loan Program

President Carter has signed legislation extending the Farmers Home Administration Economic Emergency Loan Program until September 30, 1981. The program was due to expire on May 15 this year.

Mark Hazard, Farmers Home Administration, Mississippi State director, said, "President Carter's action will enable us to continue the Economic Emergency (EE) Program, not only through the remainder of this year but through the next fiscal year as well. Although the EE program was not due to end until May 15, we were just about out of funds when the President signed the bill on March 30."

The EE program provides direct or guaranteed loans to farmers and ranchers who suffer economic hardship because of area or national economic conditions beyond their control. FmHA provided $38,639,220 in Economic Emergency assistance to Mississippi farmers last year.

Hazard said the new law immediately increases the ceiling on outstanding principle for EE loans nationwide from $4 billion to $6 billion. FmHA has already obligated the $4 billion authorized under the Agriculture Credit Act of 1978. The additional $2 billion will be allocated to the states, about half of it for use this year.

The new law requires that stronger "credit elsewhere" criteria be enforced before an EE loan can be approved. Any application for an insured loan of $300,000 or more must be accompanied by letters from at least two private lenders explaining why they turned down the request for a loan. FmHA expects to issue the strengthened regulations within 30 to 60 days.

The new law also requires the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct a comprehensive study of the EE loan program and to recommend to Congress by March 31, 1981, whether or not the program should be extended beyond the September 30, 1981 expiration date.

Chairpersons Named For Campaign

Mental Health Association has named chairpersons for three Tishomingo County towns. Mrs. W.L. Oakes has been named chairperson for Golden, Mrs. Reba Deaton chairperson for Dehnis, and Mrs. Frances Seago chairperson for Iuka.

As campaign chairpersons they will organize Bellinger volunteers to canvass the community in May. This drive will be one of many such campaigns being conducted at this time throughout the state.

All proceeds from the campaign will benefit the Mental Health Association in Mississippi, a voluntary citizens' organization.

The Mental Health Association is dedicated to improving and expanding care and treatment for the mentally ill and handicapped. Volunteers help to provide better care and treatment for hospitalized patients as well as those released to society. Carrying out an extensive public education program to inform people of various facets of mental illness is also a top priority.

"Mental illness affects one out of every ten Mississippians", stated Mrs. Jane Cotton, of Vicksburg, Association President. "Children are not even exempt from emotional problems. According to national averages, about 12 percent of the children in Mississippi could need psychiatric treatment during their lifetime."

In Mississippi, over 500,000 people will need services for mental and emotional problems at some point in their lives.

One of the primary goals of the Mental Health

Association is to help people who are served in the community, when help. This is done by work of 15 regional health centers in every county in the state.

Attention Veterans

V.F.W. Post 4878 will be host for the annual meeting Saturday, April 20, at 2:00 p.m. Lunch served to all attendees. Hollis Smith, VFW Commander, will be speaker. All members attend.

4-H News
President Jimmy Carter
has proclaimed April 20 - 26
National Volunteer Week.
"As we enter the 1980s, it is appropriate to reflect on the aspects of American life that have most benefited the continuing growth and progress of our society," said
the President.

"Fore most among these is the selfless voluntary involvement of our citizens in the affairs of their communities and country. Since the early days of the Republic, voluntary citizen action has been central to our democracy," Carter said.
Today, volunteers continue this proud tradition. There is no area of American life --

health care, education, law enforcement, religion, the arts -- that is not strengthened by the contributions of volunteers. The celebration of National Volunteer Week provides an opportunity to recognize volunteer contributions and to urge more citizens to lend their talents and energies freely and generously.
"I am proud to join in saluting our nation's volunteers and in encouraging American citizens to exercise their full rights and responsibilities as U.S. citizens," concluded President Carter.

Tishomingo Band Goes To Contest

On Friday, April 11, the Tishomingo High School Band traveled to Jackson, Ms. for the annual Band Festival. Although the weather wasn't the best, everyone had a very enjoyable trip. The concert band played first. They did a very good job and received a rating of 1 (superior).

Next, came what was considered as their weakest area, sight reading. Everyone did their best, but received a rating of 3 (good). Later, that night, the marching activities started. Because of the rain, the band had an option of marching in the rain or taking the ratings they already had and go home. Everyone wanted to march, so the band marched in the rain and did a very good job. Due to everyone's concentration and hard work, they received a rating of 2 (excellent). Leading the marching band was the Drum Major, Cheryl Kennedy. She did a great job and also received a rating of 1 (superior). For everyone's hard work the band received a plaque for their 1 in concert and also each band member received a blue medal.

The band owes a big thanks to their director, Billy Eubanks, who has brought them a long way in the past two years.

The band will now take it a little easier for a while, but will soon begin preparation for their spring concert.

Iuka Garden and Craft Club

The Garden and Craft Club met Thursday, April 3, at the Crafts Galore and Country Cottage Florist on Coleman Park Road. The meeting was called to order by president, Terri Booker, and the meeting got underway as Mr. Percie Stricklen, standing in for Mr. Leon Perry, showed slides of Mr. Perry's azaleas and rhododendrons and answered questions about gardening. Mr. Stricklen gave a very interesting and informative talk.

The club would like to take this means to thank Mr. Stricklen and Mr. Perry, and to send best wishes to club member, Chris Steele, who has been in the hospital for surgery.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Kim Black.

Rabern Thomas Accepted Into Membership

Rabern E. Thomas, Lazy T Ranch, Golden, Ms., has been accepted into membership of the American Hereford Association, according to an announcement by H.H. Dickenson, Executive Vice President of the AHA.

The American Hereford Association, headquartered in Kansas City, Missouri, is the world's largest beef breed registry organization, having entered more than 17 million head into the records since it was founded in 1881.

The Hereford breed, one of the oldest in the United States, is well known for its high fertility, ability to adapt to extremes in climates, and its ability to convert grass and grain to beef efficiently.

Volunteer Grammy Needed

Exactly what is a volunteer? Webster defines volunteer as a person who performs or gives his services of his own free will.

What it really means is giving up those extra minutes you had for yourself. Sometimes I wonder, "How do they do it? Without pay, they withstand things that frighten me!"

Volunteers, particularly those with the 4-H program, I mean.

Ever planned a barbecue cookout training meeting, get up to rain and wonder how 30 grills are going to fit into your house?

How about offering to take a kid to a contest and discovering his lamb needs a ride, too?

What do you do with a congratulatory cake saying "1st place winner" when the child comes in 10th?

Then, why do they volunteer? Why do they put the big grin on when they're exhausted? Why withstand the grime and heat of summer activities or the forced pleasure over mountains of records, when you know you must recall everything, even the minute, things a child has done?

Why spend hours teaching children to bake bread when your family would appreciate baked chicken served on time? Or, why bathe a cow when laundry fills the utility room at home?

Perhaps it's the light in your child's eye when he's accomplished a task, perhaps, it's the joy over a ribbon, no matter if it's blue or white.

Surely that small hug of appreciation given so shyly is the clench that makes the effort worthwhile.

Is there such a thing as a 4-H Volunteer Grammy? Surely their performances are just as deserving.

Join Tishomingo County 4-Hers in observing National Volunteer Week, April 20 - 26.
