Tishomingo State Park Gets New Manager

Gary Ramsey has been promoted to manager of Tishomingo State Park near Dennis. The promotion was announced by Aubrey Rozzell, director of the Bureau of Recreation and Parks, Department of Natural Resources. Ramsey replaces Steve North who has been transferred to another park in the system.

Ramsey, a native of Zachary, La., is a graduate of Mississippi State University. He joined the park system in July, 1977 as an assistant manager at Clarkco State Park. He also served as assistant manager at Percy Quin State Park, and most recently at Roosevelt State Park, Morton. He assumed his present post at Tishomingo State Park on June 1.

Immunization Program

The immunization program for Mississippi's school children will include students in all grades this year. For the first time, all students will come under the program, according to Dr. Charles Holladay, state superintendent of education. Holladay said every student will be required to have the blue Certificate of Compliance before he or she will be allowed to attend class.

Holladay said this is especially important for children entering the first grade, seniors and for those who did not attend schools in the state last year, since they may not have the required immunizations.

State Health Officer Dr. Alton Cobb said immunization may be obtained from a private physician or the county health department.

Annual Homecoming For Tishomingo Alumni

Homecoming for Tishomingo Alumni Association will be Saturday, July 5, and we hope you will make your plans now to attend.

Registration will begin at 2:30 p.m. on the school campus, and refreshments will be served.

The annual alumni banquet will be in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. The class of 1930 will be observing their 50th graduation anniversary, and a table will be reserved for this class.

All other classes ending with "0" will be honored, also, and each class is expected to have a designated after-dinner speaker. The speaker for each honored class will be limited to three minutes. These classes will be responsible for seating members of their own class.

The banquet committee suggests a class member come to the cafeteria on Saturday afternoon by 4 p.m.

and arrange a table or tables for your attending class members. The regular business meeting will follow the banquet, and you will not be dismissed until after this part of the night's program so that you can have a voice in your alumni meeting.

The banquet will be catered by Mike Timbes, owner of Belmont Steak House, and will be served buffet style. The charge will be $5.00 per person. Reservations can be made until 9 p.m. July 4th. Once reservations are made, the association expects the charge to be paid.

The dues remain $2.00 and without your support by paying this small sum, the alumni cannot function.

Please mail your dues or make reservations for the banquet with: Mrs. Havis Short, Tishomingo, telephone 438-5410; or Mrs. Lonette Savage Southward, Tishomingo, telephone 438-6330.

However, food stamp recipients may contact the County Welfare or Food Stamp Office if there are any questions.

Church of God To Hold Revival

Revival services will begin at the Iuka church of God, Hwy. 25 S., Wednesday, June 25, and will continue through June 29th. There will be a different speaker each night with services beginning at 7 p.m.

TVA's ponderous barge transporting reactor components to the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant construction site arrived Saturday.

The heavy duty barge, shipped by Combustion Engineering of Chattanooga, containing the Unit 1 reactor pressurizer, two steam generators, a reactor vessel, a reactor closure head and piping that connects the components is docked near the construction site after traveling 250 miles from Chattanooga down the Tennessee River to the Yellow Creek Plant in Northeast Mississippi. The barge will be filled with water and lowered to deck level in order to unload the 2,283 tons of nuclear equipment which will be stored on the site. The gear is valued at about $20 million.

TVA officials say it is the largest single shipment for a TVA nuclear plant because at other plants the components were shipped separately.

Combustion Engineering is the main contractor for the Yellow Creek Plant.

"It's an example of the money people spend on their electric bills being spent right here in the Valley at Combustion for some of the most advanced nuclear equipment in the world," said TVA spokesman Carl Crawford.

Combustion Engineering, with approximately 4,000 workers, is Chattanooga's largest employer.

Mike Jacobs, TVA spokesman, said that unloading operations were expected to take approximately ten days.

A special crawler transport that will be used for unloading, Jacobs said, is 28 feet long, 26 feet wide, and stands 5 feet in height, is equipped with tracks resembling those of a caterpillar, has four diesel engines and requires two men to operate. Two other pieces of equipment will be used in the unloading procedure. A jacking frame capable of lifting 12,000 lbs. will be utilized to lift the units from the barge to the crawler. A French trailer, resembling a giant low-boy trailer, will be used to carry the equipment to the storage site.

A special yard constructed with enforced steel supports will be used to store the nuclear hardware.

The $2.9 billion Yellow Creek Plant is expected to have its first reactor unit go on line in 1985. A second reactor at the plant has been placed on hold until power demands increase in the seven-state TVA service area.

Tom Johnson To Become Alcohol-Drug Counselor

Tom Johnson, a native of Prentiss County, recently moved to Tishomingo County to become Alcohol/Drug Counselor with the Timber Hills Region IV Mental Health Services, according to Jay into treatment." "Such treatment will, in many cases, alleviate persons repeatedly going through the courts on alcohol and drug related offenses."

"I want to commend the justice court judges, as well as the city and county law enforcement officials in Tishomingo County, for their support in assisting persons coming through the courts," Johnson said.

Individual therapy, as well as group therapy, is available in both Iuka and Belmont. Tuesday night group sessions are held at the Timber Hills Center in Iuka and Thursday night groups are held at the Belmont City Hall.

A youth group is also available on Tuesday afternoons at the Center.

Timber Hills operates Haven House, a 15-bed facility for males with severe alcohol abuse problems, in Corinth. The agency also operates a "three-quarter-way" house, a 12-bed facility located adjacent to Haven House. This house is available to rehabilitated alcohol abusers 18 years old and older who are having difficulty in securing housing after being released from Haven House or some other residential treatment facility.

The house allows men to live in a protective environment until they are ready to re-enter the community. Residents must be employed while living in the house.

Both facilities are located at the corner of Fourth and Breckinridge Streets in Corinth. These services are available to the residents of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tiptah and Tishomingo Counties. Haven House is funded in part by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare, the state alcohol tax money and monies from the State Department of Mental Health.

Informational and educational programs relative to alcohol and drug abuse are also available.

For additional information about alcohol and drug abuse or the services available call 423-3332 in Iuka. After hours and on weekends use the agency's toll free emergency number 1-286-9209.

Freezing Fruits

Most fruits can be frozen satisfactorily, but the quality of the frozen product will vary with the kind of fruit, stage of maturity, and type of pack.

1. Select firm, evenly ripe fruit of the right variety for freezing. Freeze fruit that has a good flavor and color and is at peak ripeness for eating. Freezing won't improve quality of fruit. Immature fruit becomes pale and tasteless in the freezer; overripe fruit turns dark.

2. Most fruits are best when frozen soon after they are harvested. Peaches and pears may be held a short time to ripen.

3. Wash fruit in cold water before hulling or paring. Wash a small amount at one time to prevent bruising. Don't let fruit soak in water. Prepare as for serving. Use a stainless steel knife for paring or cutting. Work quickly. Slice fruit directly into the carton containing syrup or add sugar at once to the fruit.

4. Fruits packed with dry sugar or sugar syrup usually retain their color, flavor, and texture better than those packed without sugar. The amount of sugar or syrup used depends on sweetness desired. Juicy fruits will make their own syrup when combined with dry sugar. A syrup may be preferable for less juicy fruits.

5. Some fruits darken during freezing unless treated to retard browning. Speed is important in preparing fruit for freezing. Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is effective in preserving color and flavor of fruit and adds nutritive value. It also adds to the expense of freezing fruits. Crystalline or powdered form of ascorbic acid is easier and better to use than tablets. Dissolve ascorbic acid in a little cold water and add to the fruit or syrup. Solutions should be made up as needed. If you use one of the ascorbic acid mixtures on the market, follow the manufacturer's directions.

Steaming a few minutes before packing is enough to control the darkening of some fruits such as apples.

You can use citric acid or lemon juice on some fruits, but it is less effective than ascorbic acid and changes the flavor of the fruit.

6. Use a package that protects the quality of the fruit while in storage. Select the size container according to your planned use of the fruit.

7. Leave head space in container as directed for each fruit.

8. Seal. Label with name of fruit; date; purpose for which fruit is intended, such as pie, jam, or dessert; and amount of sugar used in pack.

9. Freeze at once. Place packages against freezing plates or coils. Leave space between packages so air can circulate freely.

Luncheon Vegetable Casserole

1 pkg frozen asparagus spears
1 pkg frozen whole kernel corn
1 pkg frozen green peas (English)
1 can cream of chicken soup (10 1/2 oz.)
1 tsp. prepared mustard
2 hardcooked eggs, quartered
1 teaspoon salt

Arrange asparagus in a 1 3/4 quart saucepan or casserole. Add corn and peas in layers. Mix undiluted soup with mustard, one teaspoon salt, and pour over vegetables. Garnish with eggs and sprinkle with paprika.

Place saucepan in 350 degree oven. Bake 20 minutes until heated throughout. Serves 6.

Note: This dish may be prepared at least 4 hours ahead of baking time and kept in refrigerator.

If desired, it may also be frozen after it is baked and kept for several months. However, if you do freeze it, do not add the boiled eggs and paprika until it is thawed and warmed for table.

Control Soybean Weeds

The old standby herbicides dinoseb (dinitro) and 2,4-DB are low cost, effective ways to control many weeds in soybeans. Dinoseb will kill most small weeds that can be covered except sicklepod, which is most resistant. 2,4-DB is highly effective on cocklebur and small morning-glories. Combined with Lexone, Sencor or Lorox, 2,4-DB will control most weeds.

Where there is a height difference, these materials should be directed to avoid soybean injury.

Fertilize Pastures

The best way to guard against running short on feed in July and August is to apply adequate nitrogen every 45 to 60 days from now through mid-August. You'll get more forage, a higher protein content and cattle will use more of the forage.

Apply 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate or equivalent per acre. Once fertilizer is applied, rotate cattle to use all forage produced. If there is a surplus of grass, cut the extra for hay as winter feed.

Water Gardens Thoroughly

Giving gardens plenty of water is a must to keep plants healthy. A frequent mistake of many gardeners is watering too lightly. Each watering should wet the top three to five inches of soil. Watering too frequently and lightly will cause shallow rooting, which makes plants more susceptible to drought and wind damage.

A growing garden needs an inch of water a week. Gardens in sandy soils need up to two inches a week in mid-summer.

Iuka Lions Club

On June 17th, the Iuka Lions met in regular session with the added attraction of the attendance of the Iuka Lioness Club. This was a rather special meeting, as Lion Gene Evetts, of Tupelo, who is the incoming District Governor-elect of District 30-A, was present to install the new officers of both the Lionesses and lions for the fiscal year of 1980-81. The Lioness Club will provide a

Termite Control

Homeowners should inspect their houses for termites twice a year. Extension Entomologist Dr. Ted Brook says check the outside foundation walls behind shrubs, vines and other plants. Also, inspect the inside foundation walls. A clue to look for is mud shelter tubes that termites build. If tubes are old and no termites are found, scrape the tubes off and mark the spot with crayon or paint. Then, if new tubes appear in that area, termites are active.

Keep firewood stored away from your house. Clean up wood scraps. Aerate the crawl space under your home. This reduces moisture and makes the area less desirable for termites. Homeowners can purchase chlordane, but it's available only in half-gallon or larger sizes. Professional termite control companies can apply chlordane and other chemicals.

Conservation Notes

By: Bobby Manley

Almost every hour of every day all year long the Mississippi River delivers 7,000 tons of silt and sediment and deposits it into the Gulf of Mexico. For every bushel of corn produced in the Midwest, the farmer trades 1 to 3 bushels of soil due to erosion. Forty percent (40%) of all sediment produced in the U.S. comes from agricultural lands. Mississippi stands among the top ten leaders in annual loss due to erosion of our state's croplands.

These incredible statistics and our top ranking in the soil category has begun to alarm conservationists. What is the problem? What are the answers?

Since 1974, farmers have increased their planting of soybeans by 1.7 million acres (that is a 71 percent increase). Where did we find this additional cropland? Conversion of pastureland accounted for a majority of these acres; acres which have massive soil losses when cropped without any regard for the soil or land.

Rainfall in our state compounds our problems. We lie in a geographic region which receives intensive rains of considerable duration. Researchers have given our rainfall pattern (as related to soil erosiveness) the highest rating in the nation. No one can argue that point since 1979 gave us around 90 inches of rainfall and thus far in 1980, approximately 30 inches have fallen. Uncontrolled as so much of this water is, is very destructive to our highly erosive soils.

The nature of Mississippi soil types adds a whole new dimension to the picture. Most of our soils are very erosive and unless protected, almost melt away before conservation needs are ever mentioned. Blackbelt soils and many soils with fragipans near the surface cannot continue to produce due to the very nature of the soil.

Soil erosion increases as percent slope and length of slope increases. Farming capability class I, II, III, and IV soils with today's so-called modern methods can cause problems. Continuing rows up and down slopes to 2 to 12 percent (2 to 12' fall per 100 foot row) can cause soil losses to escalate to even 100 tons per acre per year. Breaking these long slopes with terraces and switching to contour rows may be the only solution left if we expect to continue cropping such erosive slopes.

The most neglected of all practices will reduce soil losses as much as 50 percent. Due to 6 to 12 row equipment and large tractors and the time element, contouring has already been forgotten. A straight row on sloping land is the quickest route to destruction of your soil resources.

Research scientists, agronomists, and conservationists have also determined that the way you grow your crop affects soil loss. Many of today's farmers continue to leave their cropland bare from November through May.

Pay now or pay later has often been heard and it can very well be applied to this technique. Cropping practices in Mississippi range from continuously tilled to no-till crops. Each and every system that disregards using surface cover in the winter and practices excessive and early season tillage will increase erosion. Erosion losses are reduced drastically as tillage is reduced, residue for cover and rotations are increased. Will we wake up to the problem or will disputes, inflation, overshadowed the of soil we are facing. Soil losses are only gradually losses are deadly. Concern yourself with Conservation Districts in your area located in each county.

In Memory

To "Bridges and People" - In memory of my son, Aaron Deaton, whose life was taken three years ago on June 30, 1977. We can't seem to forget.

They may be weak
They may be worn
But most of all,
They may do harm.

They beckon you
They seem to say,
"How are you?"
I'm fine today."

Yet tricky is What bridges are Deceptive as
A jumping star.

So always check
Before you cross
For if you don't
You may be lost.

Please make our bridges
Good and sound
For all the people

The most important
If built just right
Reach from people to people
And stands very bright.

We have so very far to go
So many bridges to cross or miss
May our wits be sharpened - so
That will help us to deal with this.

"Great Faith"

Matthew 8:5-10 -- "And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, and saying, Lord my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof; but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me; and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come and he cometh and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel." Some men have no faith as when Jesus calmed the storm (Mark 4:40). Some men have little faith as when Jesus talked about clothing the lilies of the field (Matthew 6:30). This centurion was one of great faith. What made it such great faith?

Great when you think of who he was. He was a Roman Centurion not a Jew. He was not familiar with the Scriptures. He simply believed what he had heard about Jesus and who He was.

Great faith when you think of the occasion. His slave was sick. He wasn't afraid to bring the little things to Christ. In some men's eyes this was a small request. It's the little things that can cause our downfall when we fail to bring them to Christ. "Little foxes spoil the vine." Great faith takes the little things to God.

Great faith when you think of the need. His servant was grievously tormented. Great faith lays hold on the greatness of God to meet the need. Philippians 4:19: "... God shall supply all your needs according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus."

Great faith when you think of the request. His faith was so strong that he believed all his desire would be met with the word of Christ only.

Great faith when you think of the results. Verse 13: "... as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the self-same hour."

Great faith because of the commendation given. His faith made even Jesus marvel. He had not found so great a faith anywhere He had traveled.

Is our faith so great?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY: REX BUFORD
WHO WILL KNOW

"... THE RIGHTEOUS HOLDS TO HIS WAY ..." (Job 17:0)

A Christian boy away at college was confronted with temptation. He continued to push away from it. Some of his fellow-students pressed him to yield. One of them in exasperation said, "Come on and do it! Who will know the difference?" He answered: "I will know, God will know, my Christian friends will know, and when Christ comes everyone will know. Sorry, fellows, but you will have to count me out." Good answer!!!

1. I Will Know. This is sufficient reason to shun sin even if it's certain no one else will ever know. No one else has to live with my conscience twenty-four hours a day, but I do. So, I need to confront myself in the mirror in the morning without shame.

2. God Will Know. Job said, "If I sin, thou dost mark me" (Job 10:14). Joseph looked temptation square in the face and refused to yield. He was far away from home, but close to God. He said, "How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?" (Genesis 39:9). I cannot do anything that He does not see.

3. My Christian Friends Will Know. They may not know of my particular sin, but they will be aware of the loss of influence. The church is a body - no member can sin without harming the whole body. When I sin, I weaken the church.

4. When Christ Comes. Everyone Will Know He "will bring to light the things now hidden in darkness". (1 Cor. 4:5). If I sin today, I must suffer for it tomorrow.

for it tomorrow.

Wise is the person who determines to live a righteous life, and regardless of the pressure, holds to his way."

What is Sin?

The art of recording sound has been refined to a high degree, enhanced by all kinds of advances in the field: turntables and tape recorders, tuners and amplifiers, speaker systems, and headphones have been perfected. The criteria... the most accurate and faithful reproduction of the originally produced sound. Distortion is the thing to be avoided.

Distortion is something like sin, for sin, according to I John 3:4 is the transgression of the Law. Any distortion of God's standard that appears in our lives, then, is sin. God's ideal for us is that we be like the Lord Jesus Christ... Distortion free, obedient to the will of God as revealed in His Law. Jesus Himself said: "I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of Him that sent me". (John 6:38)

Jesus was attuned to the will of the Father. How did he know the will of the Father? Since he was man... flesh and blood... He knew because he had the commandments. This is the same way that we can know the will of God. He knew that to disobey God's Commandments would be to distort the image of God.

There are many current ideas about how we can know what is right and what is wrong. Some suggest we should listen to our conscience, but the difficulty is... many of us have consciences that are either warped, seared or dulled. Our conscience cannot always be trusted. We often know innately many things about God and righteousness, but our sinful hearts suppress that knowledge.

There is a way which seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death (Proverbs 14:12).

Some suggest we ought simply to follow the majority. If the mood of the majority seem to change with respect to the good or evil of a certain line of behavior, then all of us should line up with that opinion. Those who are unwilling to do so are labeled as old fashioned or as opponents of progress. Time and time again we have discovered, to our dismay, that the majority is often wrong, and we have reaped the whirlwind. Ex. 23:2 wisely counsels us, "Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil."

There will be a church meeting Saturday, 28th, at 2 p.m. at the Community Center, Mineral Springs Park. Everyone is welcome.

ASCS Farm News

By: Henry L. Knox,
County Executive Director

Farm Program Covers Crop Damage — Farmers who accurately report crop acreages and sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payments, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection. The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions, according to Elmer South, Chairperson of the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. "Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA," he explained. Wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent. For rice and upland cotton producers, this payment is based on production losses below 75 percent. Farmers will also be eligible for disaster payments when they are prevented from planting a program crop for harvest because of a natural disaster. However, planting of other later non-conserving crops must also have been prevented due to a disaster. The ASCS official said farmers should notify the county office before harvesting or destroying acreages, or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes. Accurate acreage and production reports must be maintained to assure full program benefits. The program offers crop protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer. Further details on payment provisions may be obtained from the local ASCS office. Remember, the deadline to report your crops to the county office is July 15.

Wheat Loan Rate Increased — The price support loan rate for Tishomingo County's 1980 wheat crop grading no. 1 or better is $2.44 per bushel, $16 more than the 1979 rate. The rate is based on the national average loan rate for wheat, which is $2.50 per bushel, said Mr. South. "Farmers are exercising their marketing options and placing more grain under loan to boost crop prices," South said. The loans provide operating cash to producers while they look for better pies. Other signs include loss of appetite, fever, and low white cell counts.

The disease has reached epidemic proportions in Mississippi, but most veterinarians have observed many cases in their practices. It is not transmissible to man or other domestic animals.

Prevention of parvovirus infection in dogs can be obtained by a series of two injections of approved vaccine given two to three weeks apart for all dogs of eight weeks of age or older. If you plan to house your pet at a boarding kennel, it should have the vaccination at least 10 days before boarding.

It is also wise to have your pet checked for parasites and other immunizations brought up-to-date by your local veterinarian.

Card Of Thanks

Betty and I would like to thank each of you for your prayers, cards and financial help during this time of recuperation from my accident. We believe the Bible when it says in I Thessalonians, Chapter 5, Verses 16, 17 and 18, Always be joyful, Always keep on praying. No matter what happens, always be thankful, for this is God's will for you who belong to Jesus Christ. God bless each of you in a special way and remember "God Loves You And So Do We!!!!"

Betty & Jerry Swimmer

Canina Parvovirus

During the summer of 1978, there occurred an unfamiliar virus disease of dogs on at least three continents, Australia, United Kingdom and North America. The disease manifested itself similarly to feline (cat) panleukopenia infection. Severe infections have been reported in pet shops, kennels, and commercial breeding operations.

The disease is manifested by enteritis or inflammation of the intestinal tract, with vomiting and diarrhea of variable degrees and has been observed in dogs of all ages. Myocarditis or inflammation of the heart muscles has also been seen in pup-

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

When in the history of this town have the business people been so tongue-tied? These so-called pillars of the community have not had the courage to speak out on the zoning ordinance or anything else that is going on in this town. They have been asked several times if they cared - it seems that they don't.

I wonder if the business people would care if we, the people, went to another town and bought the things we need? Food, clothing, building materials, gas and all the other items we need. I wonder if the business people have heard of Canton, Miss., and the affect this has on a town. How long could you stay in business if this happened. It would be too late then to say what you should have done.

I wonder just why the Mayor and Board of Aldermen are pushing this zoning ordinance so hard and don't want the people to vote on it. They thought we had plenty of sense to vote when they asked us to vote for them or do they see we made one bad mistake and won't give us another chance.

Ask yourself - why does this ordinance have to be passed now? The Mayor answered this at the last meeting. The Mayor said if it didn't pass now they couldn't vote on it again for two years. Has a commitment been made to someone or some organization by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen that this has to be passed now?

Who is making the most money out of the trailer ordinance that was passed?

Who are the people that have most all their land multiple-dwelling on the zoning map even though they are in single dwelling zones.

Doesn't the Mayor and Board of Aldermen know they are inviting arson if some parts of this zoning ordinance are passed. The part where if a home is sixty percent destroyed by fire in some zones they can't build back. Haven't these so called intelligent people thought of this. You wouldn't think they care.

Why was fifteen acres (owned by the Town of Iuka) of choice land put up for sale at this time, even after one of the Board members said it tripled in price in a few years after 72 Highway was four-laned. If some land had to be sold, why wasn't the land by the airport sold instead. This land was bought by a local lawyer. I wonder who for. Does this sound like it was in the best interest of the town?

If this zoning ordinance is needed so bad, why did they wait so long (12 years) after it started to have to pass it right now. Was it so certain people could buy up all the land and houses in Iuka, change the houses, garages and out-houses into apartments to rent, pass the trailer ordinance just so these few people can get richer, control the price of renting and now wish to tell us what to do with what they can't buy.

In the name of God, people, wake up! We don't want this zoning. We don't need this zoning, and if they go ahead and vote it in you had better go ahead and give your heart to God for the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and Planning Committee will rule and tell you what to do with what you have left.

You have one more chance to be heard at the next Board of Aldermen meeting July 1, at 7 p.m. Can you afford not to.

This is my own personal opinion - not that of anyone else.

*Mt. Evergreen Church
Scene Of Walker-Hudson Vows*

Mt. Evergreen United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Flora Mae Walker and Jerry Lynn Hudson on June 7, 1980.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Williams. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Hudson.

Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Dudley Brown. Wedding music was presented by Miss Rebecca Sheffield.

The sanctuary was decorated with baskets of pastel daisies and baby's breath. The bride and groom spoke vows under an arch entwined with pastel daisies and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length Victorian gown of white silk organza. Chantilly lace and seed pearls accented the yoke. The long organza sleeves were fashioned with lace, seed pearls and covered buttons. The gown was styled with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt. Attached to the skirt was a chapel-length train which was sprinkled with pearls and enhanced with ribbon. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap encrusted with seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of red roses entwined with multi-colored daisies and baby's breath and fastened with white ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Sarah Walker, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was a full-length gown in baby blue. She carried a nosegay of daisies with blue ribbon tied in love knots.

Serving the groom as best man was Jack Jones. Dr. Ronn Hy, brother-in-law of the bride, served as usher.

Mrs. Williams chose a dress of aqua knit. Mrs. Hudson wore a rose knit fashion. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Reception

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. On one end of the bride's table was the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue roses and wedding bells and topped with bride and groom figures. Lime fruit punch was served from a crystal bowl, surround-ded by daisies, fern, and baby's breath. Nuts and mints were served from silver dishes. Completing the setting were daisies in a silver vase and white tapers in silver candleholders. Mrs. Jane Robinson, Mrs. Star Hy, and Mrs. Kathy Williams served refreshments.

The registering podium held the bride's book and daisies in a silver bud vase.

The bride chose for traveling a navy and red floral fashion. She wore a white carnation corsage. The couple are now at home in Iuka.

Sen. Bill May Reports To The People

S.B. No. 2200. Establishes a statewide personnel system. The overriding purpose of this legislation is to formally change a specific body with the development and maintenance of a statewide system of personnel administration. This act sets forth intended areas of responsibility by identifying elements within the process of personnel administration. Specifically, those areas for which policies are to be developed and applied uniformly are: (a) the establishment of employment positions; (b) classification of positions; and (c) employment conduct, including the movement and separation of state employees. Goals which must guide policy development in these areas include building a career service to attract, select, retain and reward the best persons based on individual and objective evaluation of ability, knowledge and skill. The implementation of principles outlined in this act requires assigning to the new State Personnel Board statewide functions which are not addressed within existing laws. One such function is to develop a state posture in compliance with federal directives regarding affirmative action and to require application of that posture at the agency level. A statewide training function is required which, at minimum, means the creation of trainee levels in each occupational series.

"State service" is redefined by consolidating

UMC Reception

William Stanley Hall of Iuka (left), who received the M.D. Degree in University of into a state personnel system the agencies subject to regulation by the Mississippi Classification Commission and the agencies operating within the Coordinated Merit System Council.

All employees of Institutions of Higher Learning are exempted from regulation by the State Personnel Board.

The act creates and empowers a State personnel Board responsible for promulgation of administrative procedures to be implemented by a professional personnel staff.

The board is composed of eight members, four to be appointed by the Governor, and two legislators from each house to be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and Speaker, respectively. The original terms are staggered and subsequent terms are for four years. All appointees must have at least a Bachelor's Degree in public administration, personnel management or the equivalent, or, in the alternative, may have a graduate degree with at least three years' working experience in management or professional development. The existing Classification Commission members may be appointed to the new board.

This bill also creates and empowers a Mississippi Personnel Advisory Council, consisting of the personnel directors of five major state agencies, to be appointed by the Governor, whose terms will be concurrent with that of the Governor. The duty of the council is to advise and assist the State Personnel Board in policy determination.

This bill requires the selection by the board of a professional personnel administrator whose primary functions include the administration of daily operations of the State Personnel System based on board-approved policies and the recommendation of proposed rules and regulations for board consideration. The director must have at least a Master's Degree in business administration, personnel management or the equivalent, with at least five years' working experience. The new functions assigned the director and the board by this act include establishment of appeals procedures which meet procedural due process; the requirement of reports describing employee performance; the development of employee training programs; identification of standards for administering vacation and sick leave; and acquisition of payroll information for analysis.

The language within this bill affords all employees within the state service appellate rights which previously were enjoyed solely by merit service employees. Additional provisions require the appointment of a three-member Employee Appeals Board to hear, investigate and recommend disposition of employee grievances. A probationary period of not to exceed twelve months is to be implemented by the board, after which an employee may not be dismissed except for good cause shown.

The bill contains a state "Hatch Act" provision which prohibits elected and appointed state and district govern-members prior to the ceremony. With him are his wife, Nancy, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette, La.

nment officials from being the police and employees. Any employee removed from such misconduct proceedings from Attorney General's regulations. Classification shall remain in effect until the commission that the new transitional plan.
