Iuka's C. of C. Officers & Directors Support Zoning

The officers and Board of Directors of the Iuka Chamber of Commerce have a full page advertisement in this week's edition of the Tishomingo County News in support of the proposed zoning ordinance for the City of Iuka.

zoning ordinance, which is to be voted on by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen at a future date.

The officers and directors of the Iuka Chamber of Commerce state in the article that they are making single copies of the entire text of the proposed zoning ordinance, which will be available to interested persons after July 22.

Fishing Trip Fatal To Dennis Woman

A late Saturday night fishing trip ended early Sunday morning in tragedy for a Dennis, Mississippi couple.

Viola Allen, 45, apparently drowned in the waters surrounding Goat Island when the boat in which she and her husband, Edward, were fishing hit a rock causing her to topple out, according to the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department.

Mr. Allen stated that the couple had left Dennis on Saturday evening, July 12, and arrived at the lake, put the boat in the water and had been fishing. They were returning to the boat dock when the mishap occurred. Mr. Allen jumped into the water in an attempt to rescue his wife, calling for help from persons nearby. He stated that he and others put her in the boat attempting to revive the body and brought her to the shore where the County Coroner, Charles Lambert, pronounced her dead, the Sheriff's Department report stated.

Electric Customers Urged To Curtail Use of Power

TVA today issued an appeal to all electric customers to curtail their use of nonessential power between the hours of 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. locally.

Yesterday the utility and its distributors began curtailing nonessential power use on TVA and distributor property.

"We are expecting a total system load of 21,036 megawatts at 5 p.m. CDT today," Hugh G. Parris, Manager of Power for TVA. "This would include about 19,600 megawatts of demand by TVA customers, slightly higher than a record established Monday.

"Our generating resources at that time will be 19,682 megawatts," Parris said. "We hope to pick up some additional power through purchases from neighboring utilities. However, our utility neighbors are facing the same problems and we cannot be sure that imported power will be available during the peak load periods.

TVA is urging every electric customer - residential, commercial, and industrial to cooperate in reducing electrical usage during this emergency.

Among curtailment measures consumers may take are:

-- Reduce the use of electricity for cooling by turning up thermostats.

Postpone all uses of hot water, and avoid using electric dryers.

-- Limit all cooking, especially cooking in the oven, during the peak hours of 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

-- Turn off all nonessential lights, appliances, and electrical equipment.

TVA officials caution against reducing air conditioning use in those situations in which health would be endangered.

If reductions from voluntary appeals are not sufficient, it may become necessary to curtail power to some industrial customers. Officials said the potential effect on the employment situation underscores the need for effective voluntary reductions.

TVA has six major generating units out of service on forced outages: Colbert 5, Cumberland 2, Paradise 3, Widows Creek 8, and two units at the Raccoon Mountain pumped-storage plant.

Browns Ferry Nuclear Plant has been held to much lower power levels than normal due to limitations on water temperatures discharged into the Tennessee River.

"Through the cooperation of the State of Alabama, the Environmental Protection Agency and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, we have been able to have the limits increased from 90 to 93 degrees," Parris said. Parris praised the cooperative effort saying the increased temperature limit will enable TVA to increase production from Browns Ferry to 2,600 megawatts, more than twice the amount available at the lower temperature limits.

The request for voluntary reduction in power use is expected to continue for the duration of the unusually high temperatures, at least through the end of this week. The current status of the power situation will be reported from time to time on local radio and TV stations, and customers will be notified when to resume normal uses.

183 Marijuana Plants Seized Near Paden

One hundred, eighty-three marijuana plants valued at thousands of dollars and some of the plants exceeding 6 ft. in height, were seized by the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department off Hwy. 30, just west of Paden. An adult and three juveniles were taken into custody by Deputies Herman Boyd, Henry Holcomb, Mike Kemp, Bob Payne, Wayne Roberts and Terry Sherron.

According to an official the residence had been under surveillance for several days before the July 4 seizure. In addition to the marijuana, other items confiscated included scales, paraphernalia and beer.

Other action reported by the Sheriff's Department included the investigation of an alleged streaking motorcycle rider in Dennis. Search Warrant served on a Dennis resident resulting in the confiscation of a shotgun, marijuana cigarette, a concealed weapon and a large package of cigarette papers, along with a controlled substance. The Department reported confiscating several allegedly stolen items just off Hwy. 25 South of Tishomingo. No names are being released pending a hearing later this month.

Citizens Committee To Speak On WVOM

David Smith, president of the Citizens Committee, will be speaking to the public on the zoning matter. This speech will be on both WVOM and WTIB at 5 p.m. Friday, July 18th. It has been told by our city government that we did not understand this zoning ordinance and have been misleading the public. If you will listen to the radio this Friday you will hear for yourself if we know what we are talking about.

I, David Smith, representing the citizens, will challenge our mayor, George W. Cutshall, to a debate concerning the zoning ordinance. This way the public can hear and come to their own conclusions. It has been said that we have no say concerning this matter. This is what is wrong in the world today. Everyone sits back and waits for the other person to do something, but nothing gets done.

Citizens, stand up for your rights! Listen to the speech, which will be on the radio Friday, July 18, at 5 p.m.

Please attend the next Board of Aldermen's meeting August 5th, and stand up for what you believe. There will be a citizen's meeting immediately after the board meeting in front of city hall.

Put These Ideas To Work

Whether your furniture is for eating, sitting, sleeping or playing, consider comfort, flexibility, space requirements and cost.

Comfort is important for sitting and sleeping furniture. It is just as important for the height of tables and desks.

Flexibility means furniture can be used in more than one room or for more than one purpose. Whenever possible, choose furniture that is versatile such as:

Coffee table with storage space below surface.

Chests in place of lamp tables.

Use wall-mounted shelves - cabinets - and drawers.

Make dining table from door (use one end as desk and/or TV stand).

Punee (sofa and bed).

Stack of zabutons (seating and decor).

Convertible sofa.

Trundle beds (lower one slides under the top one).

Good use of space is important. The use of colors, well-proportioned furniture and accessories can organize your home and put the space to work. Look for:

Storage units to the floor or hung from wall.

Straight legs rather than curved ones.

Folding, stacking and nesting tables and chairs.

Small scale furniture (2 seater sofa).

Strong materials and firm construction require less repairing (May serve from two to 20 years, depending on care). Durability of finish and ease of refinishing are important.

Choose Suitable Grass

Before you plant lawn grass, choose a variety suited for your area. Bermuda and Zoysia grow in all areas of the state. St. Augustine and Centipede are recommended only in the south.

Mississippi All these grasses grow in full sun, but bermuda will not grow in the shade. Homeowners with new houses may have to plant grass because the builder may have put a temporary cover, such as ryegrass, in the yard.

Coronado Casserole

2 pounds zucchini, sliced

1 lb. lean ground beef

1 tsp. salt

1/4 tsp. each pepper and garlic powder

1 cup finely chopped onion

3 cups cooked rice

1 can (4 oz.) green chilies, chopped

2 eggs, beaten

1 1/2 cups cottage cheese

2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese

2 cups grated Cheddar cheese

Cook zucchini in salted water about 5 minutes. Drain thoroughly and set aside. Sauté meat, seasonings, and onions until meat is no longer pink and onions are tender crisp. Add rice, green chilies, and zucchini. Blend eggs, cottage cheese and Parmesan cheese. Stir into meat mixture. Turn into two greased shallow 2-quart casseroles. Top each with 1 cup Cheddar cheese. Bake one at 350° for 30 minutes. Wrap and freeze the other for later use. Each casserole makes 6 servings. Serve with: Sliced tomatoes on salad greens, crescent rolls, baked apples.

Save Vegetables

The scorching, dry weather may cause you to lose both yields and quality of garden vegetables. Gardens need one to two inches of water a week when rain is scarce. Water slowly to prevent puddling, but apply enough at each watering to wet the soil several inches deep.

Cultivate Soybeans Correctly

How you cultivate soybeans this summer may affect yields this fall. Cultivating too frequently and too deeply can damage root systems. Deep, close cultivation can throw untreated soil with a fresh source of weed seed into the drill area. "Dirtling" soybeans also can cause more problems with diseases such as southern blight.

To make cultivation most effective and least harmful, plow flat, shallow and in row middles. Use as little cultivation as possible after soybeans begin to bloom and shade middles.

Rid Your Home Of Snakes

To get rid of snakes around your home, remove their sources of food and shelter. Extension Wildlife and Fisheries Specialist Dr. Tom Wellborn says rodents and insects are snakes' chief source of food. Eliminating brush, leaf piles and other debris around your house will remove most food and feeding areas for snakes. Also, keep your lawn mowed and fill in depressions. Clip and clean stream and pond banks and other damp areas. You will have little problem with snakes this summer if you don't provide them with places to hide and feed.

Check For Nematodes

You can't see nematodes, but they can be damaging your plants. Extension Plant Pathologist Dr. J.L. Peoples says summer and early fall are the best times to determine if you have nematodes. Examine the roots of growing plants for signs of nematode damage just before and after harvest. Dig the roots out of the ground when looking for nematode symptoms.

Send your soil for free analysis to the Extension Plant Pathology Department at Mississippi State University. For more details, contact your County Agent.

Check Farm Equipment For Safety

Hydraulic farm equipment is important on any farm. Extension farm safety specialist Dannie Reed says hydraulic equipment can be dangerous if not checked periodically and kept in good repair. To make sure your hydraulic

Ready To Ride

Bliss, Duane and Jason Hamm are all set and ready to go for a ride with Duke and Dan in the harness. Along with several other Tishomingo County Wagon Train Club members and their wagons and buggies, they set out for a long ride in the country, each taking food, water, etc. for an overnight stop near Blue Bell Springs. After the horses were fed and watered and everyone had supper, a huge campfire was built and everyone gathered around to hear tales of bronc riding, trail riding and different experiences experienced by them. Eventually there are only a few left by the fire and things are very quiet for a short time. About 3 a.m. there are several back by the fire because the mosquitoes were hungry too. This club enjoys a day long wagon train trail ride once a month and a two day ride once a month. They enjoy stews, fish fries and pot luck suppers. Everyone joins in to have a good time as one big family. We want to thank John Biggs for taking pictures and for his interest and cooperation.

equipment is in good condition, routinely check hoses and cylinders for wear and leakage. When equipment is not in use, make sure it's in the down position. Always block hydraulic equipment before starting repair work.

Comments Due July 21

Plans are now being formulated for the 1981 wheat program. Avon (Booster) South, Chairperson of the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said farmers and other interested persons have until July 21 to comment on proposals for the program. These proposals include the amount of the national program acreage, the reduction from the previous year's harvested acreage required to guarantee target price protection on the total 1981 planted acreage and loan levels for the 1981 crop. "Farmers who wish to comment should also state whether the special wheat acreage grazing and hay program should be implemented, whether there should be a set-aside and land diversion program, and if so, the extent of such requirements," South said. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland now has the authority to consider current production cost estimates in determining 1981 target prices. Changes in target prices in the past were determined based on a formula considering only prior year's cost. "Because of this, we are asking for comments on how the 1981 target price should be adjusted from 1980 levels and whether farmers should be required to comply with established normal crop acreages to be eligible for program benefits," the ASCS official said. If a set-aside program is in effect, the secretary has discretionary authority to adjust the target price to compensate farmers for participating in the program. Comments may include opinions on whether this authority should be used and the extent of any adjustment. Other proposals for the 1981 wheat program are commodity loan eligibility, storage requirements, premiums and discounts, county rates and other related provisions necessary to carry out the loan and purchase program. Interested persons should mail comments to the director, production Adjustment Division, USDA, ASCS, Room 3630-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Interest Rate Lowered On Crop Loans

Responding to changing money market conditions, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service lowered the interest rate on all 1980 crop loans from 13 to 11.5 percent, said South. The new rate applies to any crop loans made on or after June 12. Local farmers have obtained loans from ASCS on 9,000 bushels of their 1979 crops. The loan total $40,750. South said commodity loans are a valuable marketing tool for farmers because the money provides operating capital and allows them to hold their crops off the market to benefit from price increases. The interest rate on farm storage facility and drying equipment loans remains at 13 percent. ASCS recently increased the amount a farmer may borrow under this program from 50,000 to $100,000 to cover higher construction costs. "The farm storage facility loan program helps farmers buy, build or remodel on-farm storage structures and to obtain needed drying and handling equipment," South said. Tishomingo County farmers have added over 65,707 bushels of storage through their farms through program. Additional crop storage facility loans obtained from the office.

4-H Project Selection

Project selection is a important part of 4-H success as a 4-Her. Projects you select determine primary projects you select club program gives opportunity for practical experience in real life situations. Projects in more subject-matter areas the basis of the program by offering educational experience. Carrying out a project help you "learn-by-doing" as well as "why" things as they do.

Before choosing projects, ask yourself questions:

- What are my needs and interests?

- What is my situation?

- What are the club projects?

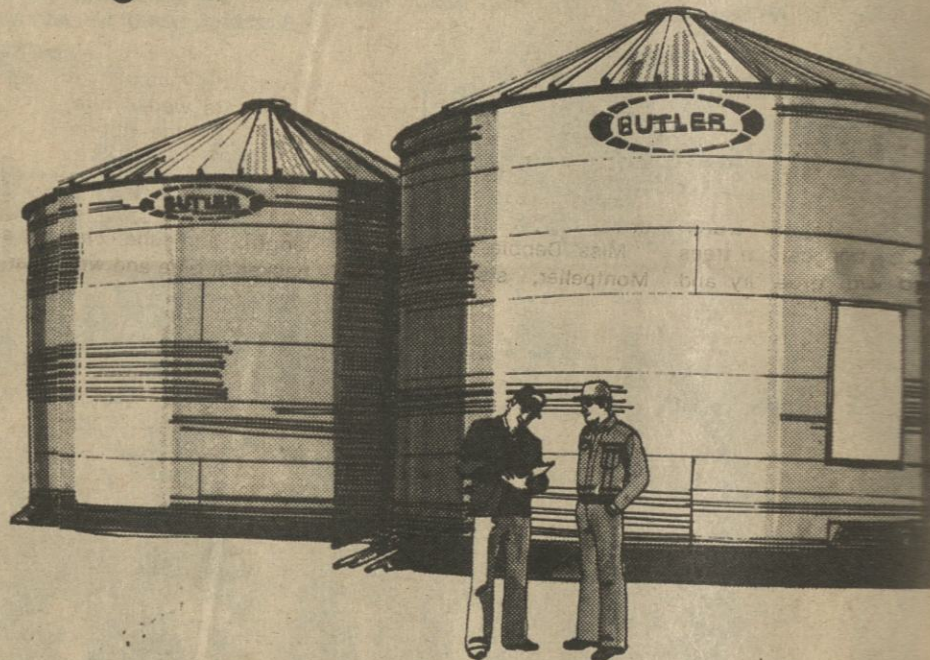

- What do I want to do of 4-H?

Select projects best to your needs based answers to these questions.

A young 4-H'er should himself to a few projects he really gets into the of things. As he gets and his interests broad should add more projects.

If you like a project have chosen, it is wise to continue that project year. If you find that a you have chosen no longer interests you, by all means it and choose a new one.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Adarin Sims

Enon Baptist Church Scene Of McClain-Sims Wedding

Miss Judy Mae McClain, daughter of Mrs. William H. McClain, of Montpelier, Ms., and the late Mr. McClain, became the bride of Perry Adarin Sims, of Booneville, in June wedding ceremony in the Enon Baptist Church, near Montpelier. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sims, of Booneville.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Reverend Donald Pounders. Baskets of spring flowers decorated the altar beneath a brass candelabra-arch flanked by twin candle trees entwined with greenery and white daisies and holding eight blue candles. Mrs. Lesia Tate, pianist, presented the program of nuptial music, and accompanied the vocal soloist, Mr. Paul Williams, who sang "Longer," and "O Perfect Love".

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Rodger McClain. Her wedding gown of bridal white chiffon and chantilly lace featured a fitted bodice of lace with a Queen Anne neckline, the chiffon sleeves were trimmed in lace. Her walking length veil of silk illusion and chantilly lace was attached to a cap of pearl-embroidered lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses and baby's breath with streamers of lace ribbon.

Miss Debbie McClain, of Montpelier, sister of the bride, attended as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Margaret Hill, of Starkville; Mrs. Mary Box, of Starkville; and Mrs. Erna Hill, of Vicksburg, all sisters of the bride. Miss Tina Hill served as flower girl, and Charles William Hill, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The bridal attendants wore identical fashioned gowns of crepe pastel blue with a floral design featuring a ruffled collar with a V-neckline and an empire waist with matching ribbon. Each carried three long-stemmed red roses with matching ribbon. Their hats were white, trimmed with blue ribbon, containing a single blue silk rose. The flower girl's dress of pastel blue cotton was floor length, and she carried a basket of blue and white carnations.

Kerry Sims served his brother as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were: Herbert Wooten, of Montpelier; James Cartee, of Cedar Bluff;

Chip Sims, of Athens, Ala.; Jesse Sims, of Booneville; and Ricky McClain, brother of the bride, of Montpelier.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McClain chose a rose formal gown of polyester interlock knit with a blouson overlay attached to the sleeveless bodice at the waist. Mrs. Sims attended in an aqua polyester interlock knit gown with an elasticized waist forming the blouson. The gathered sleeves complimented the round neckline. Both mothers wore a white orchid corsage.

The Reception

After the wedding ceremony, a reception in honor of the bridal couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church, where floral decorations carried out the wedding motif with arrangements of roses and carnations. Miss Renee Knight directed the guests to the guest register. The couple was assisted in receiving the guests by their parents, Mrs. Emma L. McClain and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sims.

The bride's table was covered with a pastel blue cloth and overlaid with lace, and centered an arrangement of red roses and blue candles. The three tiered wedding cake was iced in white and decorated with red sugared rosebuds. Silk white rosebuds encircled the miniature wedding couple topping the cake. Presiding at the bride's table were Miss Alane Russell, Mrs. Margie Cartee and Mrs. Barbara Lang.

The bridegroom's table centered an arrangement of red and white carnations with blue candles and featured a chocolate cake decorated with red roses and greenery. Serving at the bridegroom's table were Mrs. Janice Sims and Miss Andrea Sims.

Rice bags were distributed by Kim Wooten, Tammy Parker and Denise Cartee. They each carried a silver platter containing the rice bags.

Having returned from their wedding trip to Pensacola, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Sims and now making their home in Starkville.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Saturday evening preceding the wedding and the rehearsal in the Enon Baptist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sims, parents of the bridegroom, were host at a candlelight dinner in the fellowship hall, complimenting their son and his bride-to-be.

The table was covered with a white cloth and centered an arrangement of red carnations and white daisies.

The guest list included members of the wedding party and families of the bridal couple.

Fishing Outing ———
The Iuka Baptist Kindergarten had their annual fishing outing at the home of Gene Hall earlier this summer. Chris Bonds caught the largest number of fish and the smallest fish was landed by the teacher, Mrs. Sherry Bullard. This is an annual event of the kindergarten, and all the boys and girls look forward to this activity.

natives remain the same today, obedience or disobedience. Men are still required to obey the Word of the Lord, as well as the voice of the Spirit. "Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee saying, 'This is the way, walk ye in it' (Isa. 30:21). To obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. For rebellion (refusal to obey) is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness (refusal to yield) is as iniquity and idolatry" (I Sam. 15:22, 23). Thank God for the treasures found in His word of truth.

The Bible Speaks

A Price To Pay

Something for nothing. That's what we keep searching for in vain. When will we ever learn that it's an impossible dream?

A good friend recently gave me a book which tells how to build financial independence. The cover of the book announces, "You'll find that wealth, security, and independence can be yours if you know how to put your money to work. This practical guide to money management tells you how." Then for the next 500 pages the author explains how to start amassing your fortune now and guarantee a financially secure future. After a few hours it finally dawned upon me that if someone is going to make money, he is going to have to work awfully hard at it. You're not going to get rich accidentally.

That's the same problem which keeps me from playing the piano. I know I could do it. But after having dedicated some twelve years of my early life to learning how to play the trombone, I know there is no way to be a sensation on without years of dedicated practice. So when it comes right down to it, I don't really want to play. Oh, I say I would give anything to play the piano, but there is no way I am willing to pay the price.

The same principle holds true in the spiritual realm. You can experience spiritual growth and develop those graces of character essential to take you to heaven. But it will require earnestness in putting forth your best effort. Christian growth is not passive or accidental. On one hand we find that God is working in us (Philippians 2:13). But this does not preclude working out our own salvation with fear and trembling (Philippians 2:12). God has provided all that we need, but we must make every effort to supplement our faith with "virtue, and virtue with knowledge, and knowledge with self-control, and self-control with steadfastness, and steadfastness with godliness, and godliness with brotherly affection, and brotherly affection with love" (I Peter 1:5-7).

I'm afraid that too many of us are looking for an armchair religion, and have forgotten that a Christ-like personality comes only as a result of diligence, and the exercising of one's self unto godliness (I Tim. 4:7). There is a price to pay.

In Memory

While going through some old papers a few days ago, this poem was found where it had been put up and forgotten. It was written and given to little Mr. Sean Helton when he was just two months old by his friend, whom Sean adopted as his aunt, Sherry Casabella. Sherry was killed in a tragic automobile accident on Sean's fourth birthday. Sean would like to present this poem in memory of his friend and adopted aunt, Sherry Leigh Casabella, who passed away two years ago, July 17, 1978.

His eyes are sparkling blue;
His hair a golden brown;
Just one look at his charming smile,
Could cure the saddest frown.

He has a way of knowing;
How much love you feel;
You can't resist to hold him;
His power is beyond will.

Caring for him is easy;
Every heart in love has felt,
For this tiny little baby;
For my God-baby, Sean Dale!

Ways To Please God

I John 3:22 - "And whatsoever we ask, we receive in him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight." We should all seek to please God as our Heavenly Father; to do those things that would bring him joy. Hebrews 11:6 - "But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him." Here are few ways in which we may please God:

Be Dependent On Him. Proverbs 3:5 - "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding." To depend means to trust and rely on the Lord. People may fail and disappoint us, but Jesus never fails. As we depend on the Lord, we are enabled to accomplish things for Him. Faith enables us to believe He is working.

Be Delighted In Him. Psalms 37:4 - "Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart." Rejoice in the Lord. God adds blessings when we do. He is displeased with drab, negative Christians. Delighting ourselves in the Lord enables us to win others to Him. Everyone seeks happiness. The joy of the Lord is attractive to these searchers. (Philippians 4:4-5).

Be Directed By Him. Proverbs 3:6 - "In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths." Being directed by God means He is leading us to the right places, the right people, and accomplishing His purposes in our lives. God directs us according to our faith. Faith pleases Him. Miracles happen when we follow His guidance.

Be Dynamic For Him. Luke 14:23 - "Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in..." We are His witnesses. We are to go, to speak, and to bring the lost to a saving knowledge of Him. When we work for God, he works for us. We receive what we ask of Him because we do the things that please Him.

Be Dedicated To Him. Romans 12:1 - "...present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." All the other things are dependent upon this one condition. We cannot accomplish the other things without first surrendering ourselves to God. We must yield all our hopes, plans, desires-past, present, and future - to him (Psalms 37:5). Jesus prayed, "Not my will but thine be done" (Luke 22:42). We, too, must surrender our will to His will.

What Is Sin?

By: Billy Cornelius,
Evangelist

Today we continue the subject, "What is sin"? I would like to call your attention to Heb. 2:9. We are told that Jesus, "By the Grace of God should taste death for every man". If you are a child of God by faith in Christ, then you are redeemed, not only that you might have eternal life, not only to save you from hell, but so that you might live your life for the glory of God. The way of life which God ordains for his children is expressed in Titus 2:11-14, where we read "For the Grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men." It teaches us to say "No" to ungodliness and worldly passion and to live a self-controlled, upright and godly life in this present age. We wait for the blessed hope, the glorious appearing of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us, to redeem us from all wickedness and to purify for himself a people that are his very own, eager to do what is good. The word wickedness, translated here, means lawlessness. Christ has redeemed us from a life of sinful lawlessness. The qualities which characterize the children of God are, Godliness, righteousness, holiness, and obedience to God's Word. These are defined by God himself in the Ten Commandments.

Adam was not forced to yield obedience to God; he was presented with a choice, as every son of God has been since that day. The alter-

Early Files

By: R. Moyers
July 15, 1943

Dr. R.J. Brown, prominent luka physician, passed away at his home.

Twenty-five young men were to report for physical examinations on June 19, 1943.

Rev. W.T. Darling, pastor of the Baptist Church at Burnsville, conducted a preaching service for men and boys over fourteen at the courthouse.

News of men and women in service included the following names: Miss Maxine Belue, Billy C. West, Capt. Hubert Nagle, S/Sgt. Merle Trim, Jourdan Browning, Pilot John L. Maxey, Horace B. Dean, Cpl. John B. Strickland, and Pvt. James E. Robertson.

The movies for the week were: "Two Weeks To Live", "Desert Victory", "Romance On The Range", "When Johnny Comes Marching Home", and "Young America."

The household hints gave the following idea: Gather clover blossoms during the summer, dry them, and scatter about the linen closet to impart a delicate fragrance.

The Sunday School lesson for the week was "God Encourages Moses", from Exodus 3:13-16; 4:10-17.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Delp and Virginia spent the day in Corinth.

Mrs. John Graham and Mrs. Dorman Bugg had as visitors, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Bonds and Lena, from Florida.

Successive Plantings

Mississippians can have vegetables in their gardens year-round by practicing successive planting.

Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Horticulturist Dr. Milo Burnham encourages gardeners to harvest one crop, clear the row and prepare to plant another crop immediately.

"Follow an early spring crop of greens with a summer crop of butter beans and follow this crop with fall onions," he suggests. "Empty row space produces nothing, yet a small garden intensively planted can be highly productive."

He suggests grouping full season vegetables (tomato, pepper, eggplant and okra) and grouping tall vegetables (corn, pole beans, and okra). If garden size permits, successive vegetables planted in the same row should not be related. Crop rotation helps prevent build-up of diseases attacking vegetable plants and is especially important if you use the same garden site from year to year.

When growing vegetables for fresh use only, make successive small plantings of snap beans, sweet corn, lettuce, radishes, leafy greens and Southern peas. Plantings at two-week intervals will provide continuous fresh vegetables for table use. Plant only as much as your family can eat before the next planting begins to produce, he adds.

To produce enough vegetables for canning and freezing, plant more vegetables at one time to provide enough at harvest for preserving. Vegetables with long harvest periods (tomatoes, okra, pepper, eggplant and pole lima beans) require only one planting. However, by making a second planting of tomatoes and okra about six weeks after the first, you can have these vegetables into fall.

Dr. Burnham suggests planting according to a plan. A finished garden plan will show what crops will be grown, the number of different plantings for each, the time and location of plantings and the distance each row will be planted from one end of the garden.

HEAT EXHAUSTION

DANGERS

(From the American Red Cross Standard First Aid and Personal Safety, 2nd ed.)

Excessive heat may affect the body in a variety of ways, such as: (A) Heat Stroke—a response to heat characterized by extremely high body temp. and disturbance of the sweating mechanism. Heat stroke is an immediate, life-threatening emergency for which medical care is urgently needed. Signs and symptoms are high body temperature (may be 106 F. or higher); the skin is hot, red and dry (because the sweating mechanism is blocked)½ the pulse is rapid and strong; the victim may be unconscious. First Aid: should be directed toward IMMEDIATE measures to cool the body quickly. Take care to prevent over-chilling the victim once his temperature is reduced below 102 F. When body temperature reaches 105 F undress the victim and repeatedly sponge the bare skin with cool water or alcohol. Continuous ice packs may be used or the victim could be placed in a tub of cold water (no ice) until his temp. is lowered. Fans or air conditioning may be used to promote cooling. If the victim's temp. starts to rise again, start the cooling process again. Do not give the victim stimulants.

(B) Heat Exhaustion - a response to heat characterized by fatigue, weakness, and collapse due to lack of adequate water intake to compensate for loss of fluids through sweating. Signs and symptoms are: approximately normal body temperature, pale, clammy skin, profuse sweating, tiredness, weakness, headache (perhaps cramps), nausea-dizziness (possible vomiting), and possibly fainting. The victim should regain consciousness when his head is lowered. First aid: give the victim sips of salt water (1 teaspoon of salt per glass-give ½ glass every 15 minutes) over a period of about an hour. Have the victim lie down and raise his feet from 8 to 12 inches. Loosen the victim's clothes. Apply cool, wet cloths and fan the victim or remove him to an air-conditioned room. If the victim vomits, do not give him more fluids—take him to the hospital as soon as possible where IV solutions can be given. After an attack of heat exhaustion, advise the victim not to return to work for several days and see that he is protected from exposure to abnormally high temperatures.

Every consideration should be given to avoid overheating in these overly hot days we are having just now. Approximately 200 persons have died already this summer from the excessive heat.

Band Camp

The Band and Orchestra camp of the University of Southern Mississippi's 28th Annual Southern Fine Arts Festival is underway with 60 bands represented.

From the area is Ruth Beard of luka High School.

"We have about 225 students from schools all over the Southeast," said festival director Sherman Hong.

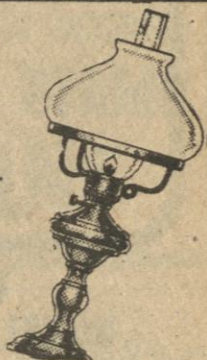

This section of the festival will conclude with a concert by the students on July 19.

Sponsored by the College of Fine Arts at USM, the Southern Fine Arts Festival includes a Drumline and Auxiliary camp also. The students receive instruction from USM faculty, students and from outstanding band directors throughout the state.

Secretaries at NEMJC — Secretaries on the campus of The Northeast Mississippi Junior College are shown planning for a half-day workshop to be held on Wednesday, July 23, at Northeast

Junior College. The workshop, entitled "Developing a Positive Self-Image", is being sponsored by the Northeast Mississippi Association of Educational Office Personnel. Pictured

Workshop AT NEMJC

The Northeast Mississippi Association of Educational Office Personnel will host a half-day summer workshop on Wednesday, July 23, on the campus of The Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

All interested office personnel are invited to attend the workshop entitled, "Developing a Positive Self-Image". Mrs. Opal Melvin from Northeast Junior College will be the workshop leader. The topic should be of interest to secretaries in any field.

The registration for the workshop will be held at 9 a.m. in the Waller Technical Center on campus. Total registration fee for the workshop and luncheon is $10.00 per person. Advance registration is requested.

At twelve noon a luncheon for the participants will be held in Frank Haney Union. Mrs. Rosemary Chandler, President of the Mississippi Association of Educational Secretaries, will install the 1980-81 officers of NMAEOP at the luncheon. Entertainment will also be provided. For further information regarding the NMAEOP Summer Workshop or to receive a registration form, contact Marilyn Smith in the Division of Continuing Education at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College, telephone number 728-7759 (extension 296).

BURNSVILLE HOMEMAKERS

The Burnsville Homemakers Club met Wednesday, July 9, at 1:30 for the regular meeting in the lovely home of Mrs. Eleanor Richardson, formerly the home of the late Dr. Montgomery. The president, Mrs. Richardson, read the thought for the month: Only one person in the world can defeat you. That is yourself. The group sang "My Country 'Tis Of Thee".

The devotional was given by Mrs. Ilene Graham. She read from Ex. 4:2 and II Peter 3:15. She also worded the prayer. The roll call was answered by each person telling her favorite season. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Thelma Gray. She reported $88.85 in the treasury.

The president appointed Mrs. Mary Williams and Mrs. Ruby Adams to be in charge of the booth for the fair in August. The nominating committee appointed was as follows: Mrs. Thelma Gray, Mrs. Ann Strickland and Mrs. Dorothy Strickland. The August meeting will be at Holiday Inn in Corinth for lunch.

The focus topic "You and Credit" was given by Mrs. Mary Williams. She said, "You can see people riding on credit, eating on credit and living on credit. You buy now and pay later. Its value depends largely on your skill in using it." She pointed out some danger signals in the use of credit. One of the problems is that one may buy something on credit he can't afford. Make credit your friend - not your enemy.

The recreation was a game on character study. Each one told what "bugged" her about a person. One said that a person - not being truthful. Another said that what she liked in a person was that person being friendly. Everyone won a nice prize in that.

The members were then invited into the dining room where the theme of Independence Day was carried out. The group sang "America the Beautiful". The cake was in the shape of a flag and decorated to look like a flag. There were plenty of refreshments and a large quantity of lemonade made with fresh lemons. Those present to enjoy the refreshments were as follows: Mesdames Ruby Adams, Bessie Dickinson, Wilma Gilliland, Ilene Graham, Thelma Gray,

Basketball Camp — David Lambert, Iuka, was a participant at Freed-Hardeman College's Boys' Basketball Camp the week of June 22-27. Freed-Hardeman College, located in Henderson, Tenn., is a member of the Volunteer State Athletic Conference and the NAIA.

Georgia Mae Smith, Ann Strickland, Dorothy Strickland, Mary Williams and Bula Watkins.

Each one received a flag as a favor.

Attended Basketball Camp

David Lambert, Route 1, Iuka, attended Freed-Hardeman College's Boys' Basketball Camp the week of June 22-27 at the Henderson, Tenn., campus, under the direction of Lion head coach Charles Smith.

David, a 12th grader, was one of 43 participants in the camp, which is held annually to provide special instruction in various areas of the game.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
To Whom It May Concern:
I want you to know it is bad enough to steal from an adult. But when it comes to stealing from a child - that is one of the most sorry things anyone could ever do. To the person or persons who took my daughter's bicycle: I want you to know you will be caught. It may take days, weeks, or years but when you are caught, I personally will see to it that you are prosecuted to the highest extent. And besides, the person who took it, took it on private property.

The group conducted vacation Bible school in four different locations, with an average of 116 adults and children in attendance each day. The children were shy at first but soon relaxed and responded to the group. Most of the adults did not speak English and had to have an interpreter to understand. Each night a religious movie was shown to all that could attend, and afterward a campfire was a time of prayer and share time for the Houston group.

Reaching The Navajo Indians For Christ

For several months the youth and sponsors of Mangum Oaks Baptist Church, of Houston, Texas, studied, worked and raised the money for a summer mission trip to the Navajo Indians of White Cone, Arizona.

A total of 38 youth and 12 adults and a caravan of two vans, a forty-four passenger bus, and a pick-up truck pulling a trailer made the 2900 mile round trip in nine days.

The group left Houston Friday, July 13, at 6:30 a.m. and arrived at 2 p.m. the following Sunday. Getting tents, cots, sleeping bags and suitcases to their proper place was the first thing on the agenda.

Next was dedicating the new mission church, a 28 x 40 building that another group from the church with the help of several of the Indians had erected in four days, about a week and a half earlier.

This was an area that most of the group had never experienced before, dry barren land, no electricity and water brought to camp in a big water tank, which was pumped by windmill. Cooking was done in an Indian hogan. Hogans are mounded over with earth, and have an opening at the top through which smoke from the fire can escape. After the meals were prepared, it was difficult to keep the sand out of the food from the strong winds.

The first group had built an out-house, and also constructed a shower that one had to climb a ladder on the outside and pour a five gallon bucket of water into a holding tank on top until a chain was pulled to release the water. The showers had to be taken in the middle of the day, because the cold water would have been very cold at night.

Many seeds were planted and 20 souls were won to the Lord. The Houston group are sure they received far more than they gave. Plans are already underway for another mission trip next year. Charles Pud Hendrix and their two sons, Chuck and Craig, formerly of the Iuka area, were pleased to be a part of this group.

IN SUPPORT OF THE PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE FOR IUKA, MISS.

On March 25, 1980, a public meeting was held to inform the public of the purpose and content of a proposed zoning ordinance in Iuka.

We thank the Mayor, members of the Board of Aldermen, members of the Planning Commission and the representative of the Mississippi Research and Development Center for their efforts to explain the proposed ordinance. However, to provide information on which the people, who could not attend the March 25 meeting, can make their own decision, the following is presented explaining the Iuka Planning Commission's proposed zoning ordinance, which is to be voted on by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen at some future date.

The officers and Board of Directors of the Iuka Chamber of Commerce urge each citizen to carefully consider the proposed zoning ordinance and believe that this is one way to make Iuka, Mississippi, a better place for future generations.

Zoning-in Iuka or elsewhere-is merely a tool for directing, planning and controlling growth. Not only is zoning important for large cities, but it also is a valuable step for smaller towns to consider.

Iuka realistically can expect considerable growth during the 1980's. The pattern of that growth can mean the difference between desirable, beneficial change or permanent disorder. With zoning, what's good can be maintained, and what's perceived by the community as bad can be forestalled.

Most importantly, with carefully conceived zoning rules, the citizens of Iuka can be in control. Zoning will serve notice to outside developers, sometimes interested only in quick financial returns, that Iuka will not subsidize unsound development efforts. Poorly planned developments will be discouraged. Land will be more logically and economically used.

After two years of study and work by the Iuka Planning Commission, a map and zoning test for the town have been developed. What's needed most now is wholehearted support by the citizenry for adoption and total enforcement of the zoning ordinance.

Iuka's plan, just like any other city's, will not be totally free of mistakes. Recognizing this, the Planning Commission has included an amendment process in the zoning ordinance. That way, as prevailing conditions change around a piece of property, or if a lot has been incorrectly zoned from the beginning, the appropriate change can be made quickly.

The importance of zoning to Iuka cannot be overstated. The town's future should remain in the hands of its citizens. The adoption and enforcement of the proposed zoning plan perhaps is the best way to ensure that control.

The town of Iuka has been divided into seven zoning districts by the Iuka Planning Commission's zoning plan.

Three of the seven districts are primarily for residential use. Two of the districts are for commercial use, and one for industry. One district is labeled agricultural, which also permits low-density agriculture and certain nonagricultural uses.

The seven zoning districts are identified in Article 1 of the zoning plan which also gives specifics concerning the zoning map.

Article II of the plan presents the overall general provisions of the ordinance, noting conformance to the zoning laws is required. Preexisting, lawful, but nonconforming uses are permitted to continue--according to the ordinance--when those uses satisfy specific conditions. The ordinance stipulates that such nonconforming uses must cease to exist when the property or building is abandoned for six months, unless the abandonment is beyond the owner's control. A single family house may be reconstructed in any Iuka zoning district if it is destroyed.

Accessory buildings are also regulated, permitted only in the rear yard of the lot, and no closer than five feet from the lot line or another building. All lots must have street frontage, according to the ordinance.

Specific off-street parking requirements also are outlined in the ordinance. All residential units must have at least two off-street parking spaces to ensure street safety. However, off-street parking requirements do not exist in the downtown area.

Though sometimes zoning language may sound a bit complicated, certain notations are necessary in explaining the plan for an orderly city. Iuka's zoning ordinance divides the city into seven zoning districts. Three of these districts are residential, two are commercial, one is industrial, and one is agricultural.

The zoning ordinance uses the following notations in defining the seven zones: R-1, R-2, R-3, C-1, C-2, I-1, and A-1.

The R-1 District (Low Density Single Family Residential) is preserved for single family detached dwellings, churches, public, and most semipublic facilities which are not of a commercial nature. Mobile homes are excluded from this district. Customary home occupations are permitted.

As in all other districts, home gardens and pets are not affected by the ordinance. The minimum lot size in the R-1 District is 10,000 square feet. The R-2 District (Medium Density Single Family Residential) has the same requirements as the R-1 District, with the only difference being the minimum permissible lot size, which is reduced to 7,500 square feet.

The R-3 District (Multiple Family Residential), in addition to allowing uses permitted in R-1 and R-2 Districts, allows duplexes and apartments. As a conditional use, mobile home parks are permitted, subject to reasonable terms imposed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen. As in all residential, commercial, and industrial zones, there are no minimum structural sizes required by the zoning ordinances.

The C-1 District (General Commercial) allows uses permitted in the three residential districts, in addition to commercial uses generally located in a city's central business district. In addition to the above, the C-2 Highway Commercial District permits highway-related uses such as automobile, construction equipment, and farm equipment dealers, as well as service stations. Drive-in theaters, commercial recreation, hotels and motels, and shopping centers are also permitted. Two other differences which exist between the C-1 and C-2 Districts are that the C-1 District has neither off-street parking nor minimum lot size requirements, as does the C-2 District.

The I-1 District (Industrial) in Iuka is created exclusively for industry. Generally, this is the preference of industry. The exclusive use requirement will not affect the continuation of nonconforming residential or commercial uses in their existing conditions.

The A-1 District (Agricultural) has been the most misunderstood district in Iuka. The uses permitted in this district include single family dwellings, mobile home parks which satisfy specific requirements, all forms of agriculture and forestry and the sale of products raised or produced on the premises, nurseries and greenhouses, golf courses, stables, and cemeteries.

The minimum lot size for the A-1 District is two acres. The district is designed to preserve those uses which generally require very low intensity usage. Areas which cannot be economically provided with large utility lines, wide traffic ways, and similar high intensity levels of service are also included within the district.

Any town's zoning ordinance is only as good as its ability to enforce it. The Mayor and Board of Aldermen will be responsible for enforcing the provisions of the ordinance.

All building permit applications must be acted upon in seven days; either they will be approved or the applicant will be notified in writing of permit refusal. Should the Mayor not act within seven days, the application automatically goes to the planning commission.

After studying the situation, the planning commission will offer a recommendation to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, which may either accept or reject the recommendation. If the applicant remains dissatisfied with the Board's action, he may make appeal to the circuit court.

An amendment process had been built into the ordinance. Amendments are limited to instances when the ordinance obviously is in error or when changing conditions in a particular area warrant it. The applications for an amendment must be accompanied by $25 to cover the costs incurred by the city in considering the change.

Before the Mayor and Board of Aldermen can act on a zoning amendment request, a public hearing must be called. The notice of the time and place for the hearing, in addition to the property's legal description, must be published once in the Iuka paper at least 15 days before the hearing. A sign will be posted on the lot being considered for rezoning, indicating that a zoning change is being considered.

The zoning ordinance includes procedures for granting a variance and a conditional use permit. In any district specific uses are permitted if they are designed to meet specific conditions required by the board. Effects on surrounding uses will have to be evaluated on a case by case basis. Violation of the conditions will be deemed a violation of the ordinance.

The variance may be granted if the land or structure in question has unusual conditions not typical of other land or structures within the same district. These particular conditions must not have resulted from actions taken by the applicant. The granting of the variance must not weaken the intent of the zoning ordinance. The variance, like the conditional use, must not be harmful to the neighborhood. No variance is allowed for a use not permitted in the district in which the property is located.

As with amendments, public notice is required for variances and conditional uses. The procedures for giving notice are similar to those for amending the zoning ordinance.

To be effective, a zoning ordinance must be thorough. It must anticipate and address growth problems common to all towns. And it must be adaptable to the specific town for which it is intended.

Major portions of Iuka's zoning ordinance have been covered here. But there remain portions that may interest Iuka citizens.

For instance, mobile home park regulations are part of the ordinance. Future mobile home placements will be limited to mobile home parks, which will be permitted as conditional uses in the R-3 District (Multiple Family Residential) and the A-1 District (Agricultural). A mobile home park will be required to be constructed to specific minimum standard applying to streets, water, sewer, lighting, and drainage design. Density will not be allowed to exceed eight mobile homes to the acre.

Intersections also will be monitored by the new ordinance, an effort to ensure maximum visibility for traffic at all intersections. The ordinance also requires that automobiles in residentially-zoned areas that do not have current license plates be stored in enclosed buildings. Other miscellaneous topics also are covered within the entire text of the zoning ordinance.

Many of the requirements outlined in the Iuka zoning ordinance will not be new to Iuka citizens' they already exist in one form or another under current town law. There are some additional requirements that will be new to the city. The long-term benefits which will come, however, should outweigh any problems arising from the initial enforcement of the ordinance's provisions.

The officers and directors of the Iuka Chamber of Commerce are making single copies of the entire text of the proposed zoning ordinance available to interested persons. Copies are being printed and may be obtained at the CITY HALL after July 22nd.

As for the questions raised by the citizens committee, we offer the following:

Citizen Committee Question	Chamber of Commerce Answer
If your house burns could you build back?	Yes
Are you in the right Zone?	A house can be built in ANY zone.
Do you have enough land to build a house?	Minimum lot size for houses covered by the proposed ordinance is 7,500 square feet as set forth in Page 14 of the proposed ordinance.
If your house burned 60% could you borrow enough money to build back to conform with the house next door?	The ordinance does not cover the type house that must be built. This is apparently in reference to reconstruction of a nonconforming use damaged to the extent that the repairs exceed sixty percent of its value. In such a case, nonconforming use is not allowed, however, this has nothing to do with a house, since a house used as a residence can be built in any zone.
Can the citizens of Iuka afford the $40,000 for the new zoning ordinance?	There is no cost for the plan. The ordinance was developed by the Mississippi Research and Development Center.
If a town as large as Dallas, Texas can prosper without zoning then what does Iuka, Miss. need it for?	Dallas, Texas has a Zoning ordinance. An orderly growth should help all residents of Iuka, since it is for the purpose of promoting the health, safety, morals, or general welfare of the city.
Can you really afford zoning?	It is the opinion of the officers and Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, that the answer is, yes, we can afford to have this ordinance. Federal Funds are more readily available to towns and cities having appropriate zoning. Can we afford NOT to have zoning?
What about gardens?	There are no restrictions on GARDENS in the Zoning ordinance!

John C. StennisREPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

The overall quality of recruits under the all-volunteer army concept continues to be a cause for great concern. Our military services just have not been able to attract enough qualified young people to keep the various branches operating at maximum strength.

The problem is most apparent in the U.S. Army. The Army's rate of high school graduates enlisted from October 1979 to March 1980, was 38 percent, compared to 55 percent for the same period one year ago. Military officials have also reported that perhaps as many as 45 percent of Army enlisted personnel in 1979 were classified in the lowest mental ability group considered appropriate for only limited areas of military service.

Even more revealing are the results of the Army's 1979 Skill Qualifications Tests will showed that 81 percent of the aviation maintenance personnel failed; 79 percent of transportation personnel; 41 percent of those working in communications operations; 62 percent of food service personnel; 49 percent of the combat engineers and 50 percent of the Army's field artillerymen.

We cannot allow this trend to continue. In an effort to improve the quality of our military personnel, the Senate Armed Services Committee recently took action which will require the Army to recruit a greater percentage of high school graduates. As amended by the full Senate, the Fiscal Year 1981 Defense Authorization Bill restricts the proportion of non-high school graduates the Army can recruit to 32 percent of all recruits.

Some have claimed that this action will weaken the Army. The truth is just the opposite. It will send the clear message to the Soviets and all other nations of the world that we are not going to settle for poor quality. I believe the Army will respond to the challenge and recruit more young people capable of making a real contribution to our national defense.

Upgrading the quality of our Armed Forces through measures such as the one the Senate has taken with regard to army manpower levels offers the only hope for avoiding a return to Selective Service. I really feel that we may have to return to some form of Selective Service eventually to meet our military manpower needs, but upgrading the quality of the forces now can at least delay that need.

We must do whatever is required to ensure that we have high caliber individuals in uniform who are capable of taking the necessary discipline and training. We have a good number in the military now who can do the job, but we must have more. It is more important now than ever before in history that we have men and women with a capacity for training to operate modern weaponry which is the most sophisticated in the history of warfare. We must remember that our weaponry is just not effective unless we have people capable of using it properly.

A SALAD-COOL AS THE SEA

Lightly salted goldfish crackers spark Fruited Tuna Salad.

When the temperature climbs high on the thermometer and the humidity is termed by all as "certainly sticky," everyone looks for all things cool.

In our daily lives in summer, everything possible should be cool. Food, too, can be cooling—like a chilled salad that combines green grapes, mandarin oranges and pineapple chunks with tuna. When topped with Goldfish Crackers, this Fruited Tuna Salad is a lovely main dish that tastes and looks appealing to all ages.

If guests (or simply a too-hot family) are ready for a relaxing interlude and a cooling repast, this refreshing salad will be perfect despite the humidity.

Instead of rolls on a hot day, serve additional Goldfish Crackers sprinkled on each salad serving. The Goldfish, as the name implies, are tiny fish-shaped crackers, flavored with Cheddar Cheese, Parmesan Cheese or Lightly Salted.

FRUITED TUNA SALAD

2 cans (6 1/2 ounces each) chunk style tuna, drained
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped scallions
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups sliced celery
2 cups stemmed green grapes
2 cups fresh or canned pineapple chunks
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
Boston lettuce leaves
1 package (6 ounces) Pepperidge Farm Lightly Salted Goldfish Crackers

In a bowl mix tuna, mayonnaise, scallions, lemon juice, celery, grapes, pineapple and oranges. Chill. When ready to serve, line a salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Spoon in salad. Sprinkle with Goldfish Crackers. Sprinkle each serving with more Goldfish Crackers as salad is served. Makes 6 servings.

American Cancer Society

Question: "I see lots of information from the American Cancer Society about cigarette smoking, breast cancer, etc., and I know the Society supports research, but does it give any direct aid to cancer patients?"

ANSWERline: In 1978-79 more than 450,000 cancer patients were assisted through one or more Service and Rehabilitation programs carried on by more than 3,000 local Units of the ACS. Units conduct a basic service program which includes: 1) information and guidance for cancer patients and their families by helping them make the best use of ACS services, community health services, other resources; 2) for sickroom supplies and comfort items to assist in homebound patients; included are hospital wheelchairs, etc.; 3) sundries which usually prepared by volunteer transportation of patients and from doctors' offices or hospitals. Depending on local policies and sources, ACS service programs may include intensive services in some communities. Among home health care, blood grams and activities designed to meet the special needs of families with children have cancer.

Warning To County Farmers

A federal-state cooperative program is helping Tishomingo County farmers identify the remove corrugated steel sheet roofing coated with a black asphalt-like material that could contain a substance that will contaminate animals.

The material, polychlorinated biphenyl or PCB, has been identified on three farms in north Alabama where this roofing material is present. PCB is not that dangerous — there have been no cases of human or animal deaths from PCB in the United States — but a level in animals of three parts per million (3ppm) or more is illegal.

According to County

Agent, Percie Stricklen, the asphalt-coated roofing probably came from a building torn down by Reynolds Metals Company in Muscle Shoals, Alabama in the 1960's.

"From what we can determine, this roofing material was either sold or given to farmers on a first-come-basis and Officials believe the contaminated material is restricted to a 60-mile radius of Muscle Shoals."

Stricklen advises all farmers who have bought used roofing to check for the asphalt-like covering. If the roofing was used on a hog or cattle barn within reach of animals, contamination of the animals is possible, he said.

"If the material is found, the owner or operator should contact the County Agent's Office immediately. The government has set up a collection point at Florence, Ala., for this material. It will be transported to a certified land fill for disposal. Farmers should not dispose of the material themselves," Stricklen continued.

Stricklen said the USDA has established a PCB Control Center in Montgomery, Ala., to help correct the problem. Animals suspected of being contaminated with PCB can be tested by USDA through the County Agent. All USDA testing is free, but farmers must arrange for taking issue samples from live animals. Fat samples from slaughter animals will be tested if sent to the Montgomery center.

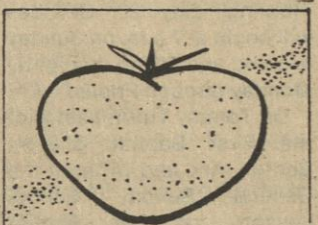

"Chances are good that none of the material came to Tishomingo County, even if we find the material in use, the animals may not be contaminated unless they have eaten some of the material. Animals cannot get PCB through contact; they must ingest the material."

Farmers interested in having animal fat samples tested should contact the County Extension Office for instructions for submitting samples.

"I don't expect to find any PCB in the county," the agent continued. "However, we certainly need to be aware of this danger and be on the lookout for the roofing material. USDA will be intensifying samplings in slaughter plants in Mississippi in the coming weeks to make sure the material is not present in slaughtered animals. Tests will be made on beef, pork, and poultry," he added.

The United States Department of Agriculture has raised more than 875,000 varieties of strawberries.

Class of '35

Poem written by a member of the first graduating class of Paden High School, 1935.

We the Class of '35
Hope that we may work to strive
To make an example of the past
That will ever, ever last

Through all the many toils and snares,
We hope the time will soon be ours,
When we can help the ones so dear,
Who have helped us through these many years.

Through the many troublesome hours of school,
We have tried to obey the teachers rules,
But very hard would be the test,
We always strived to do our best.

Chemistry we thought was awful bad,
But in algebra we still had Problems about the sphere
Those old formulas, we hated to hear.

Economics was a terrible pain
But that civics come again
English was an awful riot
For the structure of sentences, we soon forgot.

O, the time will soon be o'er
When our schooldays in Paden will be no more
But every one, we have sincerely enjoyed
Although some have not been very well employed.

Of course we're glad, but yet we're sad
That this is our last troublesome year,
We will have to spend down here.

Dear teachers we thank you every one,
For the many things you have done
To help us o'er this rugged road of life,
Where in our life's work further lies.

If our work on earth is well done,
There's a crown of life we have won
But if our work here shall be in vain
Our yonder's life will be a pain.

Remember our motto, where ever you go
On the Violin of life
We will play the chords of success
Bear down on your bow and strive your best

We seven girls had lots of fun
For there were no boys from which to run,
Geraldine was the very smartest
Gladys was the best artist
Annie Laurie was the wittiest
Lorene was the very grittiest
Lucille was so yerv kind
Lena followed close behind
Jewell was the worst of all
She could do nothing well at all.

Our three teachers were so fine
They would help us anytime
A. C. Long was the gratest
Martin Nichols was the latest
Vandie Dean was kind and good
She always made us do the things we should.

FmHA Increases Limits For Above-Moderate Income Housing

Guarantees

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has raised the income limits for above-moderate-income rural home-ownership loan guarantees from $20,000 to $30,000 in the 48 contiguous states, Mark G. Hazard, FmHA Director for Mississippi, said today.

Since the above-moderate-income guaranteed housing program for rural areas was implemented by Farmers Home at the beginning of Fiscal Year 1979, only individuals and families with an adjusted income of between $15,600, moderate-income ceiling, and $20,000 were eligible to participate in the Continental United States.

Under the program, Farmers Home guarantees repayment of up to 90 percent of loans made by commercial lenders for the construction of single-family dwellings in rural areas, including most towns of up to 20,000 population that are outside Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA).

"Many people in the expanded income range are currently unable to obtain mortgage credit, which effectively prevents them from enjoying safe, decent, and adequate housing," Hazard said. "This increased financial assistance from Farmers Home will greatly enhance the quality of their lives."

By expanding the income eligibility, much more credit can be extended to the public, allowing more rural residents the benefit of homeownership, Mr. Hazard added.

The change became effective immediately in order to make this service available without delay, according to Mr. Hazard. Following publication in the Federal Register on June 20, comments will be reviewed to incorporate any necessary revisions.

Farmers Home has indicated there is adequate funding for this program during Fiscal Year 1980.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

With this summer being so hot and everyone trying to find a cool place, I just wonder if when the Lord comes can we choose the cool place as the hot one.

Some are always trying to impose new laws that affect the other people in this land regardless of how it would affect your fellowman. One thing that is sure, when we get up "yonder" there will be one who will say what's right and what's wrong, and it will not be the members of the zoning committee or the aldermen or the mayor.

If you're nearing 65, be sure to sign up for Medicare. If you don't plan to, Medicare can help pay doctor bills and other health expenses if you're over and have worked enough in jobs covered by social security. You may be eligible for some Medicare coverage at 65 even if you never worked under social security.

Beginning July 1, social security benefits will go up 14.3 percent to help you cope with inflation. This increase is based on the rise in cost of living recorded last year.

Economical and Easy
Ham, always a favorite of the American table, is more popular now than ever. Pork supplies have brought most attractive price tags, smoked, as well as fresh, of this fine meat. If a whole ham is too large for family dinner, plan the meal around a convenient meal-size ham slice. Since most hams available today are already "fully-cooked", preparation is simply a matter of broiling the ham slice until heated through. It also can be cooked to perfection in a microwave oven according to home economist at the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Tell Me Why The Ivy Twines?

By: Reba Moyers

Summer, with all its warmth, has descended upon us, But with all its fun there's a few things about which we can fuss;

Along with sunburns and picnic ants, Come the painful, poisonous plants.

Among the sixty or more that are known, Poison Ivy is the one which usually causes us to moan!

It grows as a shrub or a vine, And can be identified by its cluster of three leaflets per stem and its nature to twine; Next to poison ivy poison oak can boast,

For lots of it is found in the Western states, along the Pacific coast.

It grows as a bush with all its luster With its center leaf like that of an oak, cleverly placed in its three-leaf cluster.

Poison sumac and poison dogwood are common offenders

With all their beauty, they are such pretenders!!! Direct contact with a plant need not be made,

For by indirect contact a price may be paid; It has been estimated that at least seventy percent of us will be affected,

So it is best to stay very well protected. The reaction time is usually twelve hours or more,

Bringing mild to intense itching like never before

Vesicles with fluid and linear streaking are characteristics, If we become one of the statistics,

Of vesicles with fluid we must show protection, For bursting may lead to secondary infection.

In the majority of cases the dermatitis will, in fourteen to twenty days, disappear,

But, in rare instances there may be complications to fear.

If while walking barefoot on the cool dirt, With a poison plant you choose to flirt,

Washing with water and soap May bring some hope, or You'll need an ocean of soothing lotion,

or You'll want to dream with a smooth cream,

If your itching is a serious case, The advice of your physician you'll need to take.

If you carefully heed these lines, You'll find more truth than poetry in this rhyme.

Is Backache Kidney Trouble?

Many people have the idea that backache is caused by a kidney ailment and they take something to purge the kidney but many times the backache is persistent even after such measures are taken. In reality very few backaches are caused by the kidneys for only in rare kidney diseases is there any pain whatever in the back.

Pain or backache between the hips and in the lower part of the back is caused by pressure on spinal nerves caused by a misplaced spinal joint, and to be permanently rid of the persistent, nagging backache, the cause of the weakness must be dealt with. A man, aged 30, consulted a local scientific chiropractor recently about a backache he had experienced four years. Thorough Chiropractic examination revealed decided curvature of the spine, pinching vital nerves in lower back, which was basic cause of pain.

The spine was straightened by Chiropractic adjustments. Patient noticed relief the second day and at the end of eight weeks patient was dismissed with backache gone.

Remember that few backaches are caused by kidneys but are basically caused by misplaced spinal joints and your Chiropractor specializes in correction of these conditions.
