Family Makes Last Minute Plans For County Fair

Corinth Man Charged With Possession of Drugs

An early morning drug bust in Iuka by the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department and the State Narcotics Bureau, lead to the arrest of a Corinth man, Tuesday, July 28.

According to Sheriff Bates, the arrest was made around 8:00 in Mineral Springs Park as the man was apparently attempting to deliver the illegal substances. Found in the man's vehicle were seven bags of marijuana and a large quantity of pills.

The Alcorn County man was charged with the possession of controlled substances and the attempt to deliver. He has been released on bond. The incident is still under investigation.

Law Suit Dismissed

A law suit filed earlier this year by six former inmates of the Tishomingo County Jail against the County Board of Supervisors and Sheriff Amos Bates has been dismissed in the Northern District Federal Court.

The suit brought by Charles Hinton, and others, listed bad conditions and bad treatment while incarcerated in the county jail as the reason for the complaint.

Judge J.T. Senter, Jr., of the Northern District Federal Court, dismissed the complaint on the 21st day of July as to such time the plaintiffs might exhaust their remedies in the State Court of Mississippi.

Sundown Dancers To Be At Golden

The Sundown Dancers, an outstanding young group of cloggers from Cartersville, Ga., will be at Golden on Friday night, August 7, for a free performance on the street near the bank. The group, and other local entertainers, will begin the program at 7:00 for the public's enjoyment.

The Sundown Dancers will be remembered as the group that was at the antique car show in Belmont.

Urgent Meeting

Attention all persons interested in the athletic program at Iuka High and Middle Schools: There will be a meeting at the football field at Iuka High School Monday night, August 10, at 7 p.m. All parents and business people are urged to be present. Some very important decisions have to be made as to whether we will have a Booster Club to help with the finances of our athletes. Our kids need your help and in years past have been furnished a lot of equipment, etc. needed to have a successful program in our school. If we do not get your support in attendance at this meeting, then in all probability there will be no Booster Club and the athletes will be the ones who lose the most. All football, basketball, baseball, track and cheerleader's parents are urgently needed at this meeting, along with anyone else who will help.

PRESIDENT,

Governor Tours Yellow Creek Port Facilities

Governor William Winter pledged continuing efforts toward the economic development of Yellow Creek Port last week as he toured the facilities for the first time since taking the state's highest office.

Gov. and Mrs. Winter were enroute to the Mississippi Natural Gas Association meeting at Pickwick Inn when they made their hour-long stop at Yellow Creek.

Gov. Winter pledged lobbying efforts with area supervisors to aid in finding funding for port projects. He labeled a much sought after steel service center "almost an essential project" for the port's economic future.

The steel service center is currently a top priority project for the port authority. The center would cut master coils of steel now being shipped through the port to sizes more readily usable for area industries.

Port officials believe a substantial increase in shipping revenue could be generated by the addition of a steel service center to the port.

Port financial participation in such a project would require concurrence from one or more boards of supervisors in Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties. Gov. Winter indicated he would aid in lobbying efforts with local officials in an attempt to secure financial backing for the project.

Pureeing Foods At Home

Feeding persons who have difficulty chewing foods need not be a problem. Most cooked foods can be pureed easily in a blender. Use foods that are not highly seasoned, and remove seeds and peels from the foods before pureeing.

Meats are best cooked with moisture so some of the broth or stock can be pureed with the meat. Stewed chicken or turkey, pot roasted beef, baked fish (be sure there are no bones), and scrambled eggs thinned with milk are good choices.

For vegetables, cook them lightly seasoned until tender. Then puree with some of the cooking liquid to the desired consistency. Vegetables that are accepted well are carrots, beets, winter or summer squash, spinach, green beans, green peas, sweet and white potatoes. Remember, tomato juice is a good vitamin-rich choice, too.

Fruits should be cooked or canned with the peel and seeds removed. Tender cooked apples puree well, or you can use commercially canned applesauce. Canned apricots, peaches and pears puree well with some of the juice added. Remember, fruit juices are good choices, too.

Bread should be plain whole wheat or enriched white bread. Milk toast usually is tolerated well. A sprinkle of sugar and cinnamon will add good flavor. Rice with milk added, tender cooked noodles and macaroni are tolerated well, too.

Cooked cereals thinned with milk are favorites. Cooking the cereal with milk is a good way to get milk in the diet if you don't like to drink it.

For dessert, jello, pudding, custard, sherbet and ice cream are good choices. Stay away from rich desserts and those with nuts.

The thing to remember when pureeing foods at home is to add moisture in the form of broth, stock, cream soup, milk, juice, or water to obtain the desired consistency. Be sure to use the daily food guide when selecting foods to puree. You still need to include each of the food groups in meal planning.

Soybeans - Gold That Grows

Do you ever stop to think just how much we depend on agriculture every day? Take soybeans, one of our most common crops. We often don't realize it, but we use soybeans in some way practically every day, either in some food product or industrial use.

Soybeans and soybean products are used to make a variety of products, ranging from barbecue sauce to candy bars to dog food. We even use soybeans in some paints!

Soybeans from the farm are crushed at the mill to produce two important food products - soy oil and soybean meal. One bushel of soybeans - about 58 pounds - produces 10.7 pounds of soy oil and 47.5 pounds of soybean meal.

Soy oil is almost a universal ingredient in shortenings and dressings. It is used in 95 percent of the prepared dressings, 83 percent of all cooking and salad oils, and 62 percent of all shortenings.

Soybean meal is used widely in livestock feed and is used for human consumption in some foreign foods, too. The meal is high in protein, ranging 44 to 50 percent in protein content.

The versatile soybean pumped about $8.6 billion into the nation's economy last year. In Mississippi, the soybean crop was valued at $477 million.

Cattle prices are at the lowest point since 1978, but production costs have continued to increase. Extension Economist Dr. Doss Brodnax says cattlemen are facing a cost-price squeeze. Dr. Brodnax says general economic conditions are uncertain, and high interest rates also are depressing prices. Consumers are buying the cheapest cuts of meat. This is limiting beef demand. Fed cattle producers are in a cost-price squeeze, so they pass this along to stocker producers by paying less for stocker animals.

Although hog producers may be able to hold recent price gains through the summer, an increase in meat supplies probably will push hog prices lower. U.S.D.A. economists expect hog prices to average between 51 and 54 dollars per hundredweight in the third quarter before dropping as low as 49 dollars per hundredweight in the fall.

Conservation Notes

By: Bobby Manley

There is a growing interest among farmers concerning the handling of their woodland and in making it produce a part of the farm's income.

Forestry increases farm income by:

1. Making wasteland yield a profit by growing timber on rocky land, wetlands, unused corners, and on eroded land.
2. Furnishing employment for men and teams during the off season.
3. Utilizing timber on the farm and avoiding waste by cutting low stumps and small tops, also by using substitute woods in construction and treating non-lasting woods.
4. Increasing crop yields by planting forest-tree windbreaks.
5. Growing more and better timber on farm by protecting the woods from fire and harmful grazing. Selecting mature trees for cutting while leaving the straight, thrifty and better adapted species, also clearing out the defective and inferior kinds of trees and planting nursery-grown trees to fill the opening in the woods.
6. Market the higher grade of wood products direct to consumer at a fair price such as: sawlogs, poles, post, pulpwood, cooperage bolts, handle bolts and firewood.

Woodland farming is very similar to many other crops, as to the care. You take out the weak, unhealthy and cripple trees, while giving the best trees a chance to grow and develop, and you only cut the best trees when they are mature.

It is important for the woodland owners to alert themselves about the different kinds of timber products, the methods of measuring, estimating the value of timber and to know the current market price, also, the method of selling surplus products that are not needed for their own personal use.

Accompanying her on the trip were her three English friends, Mrs. Edna Wooten, Mrs. Eileen Vancannon and Mrs. Pat Curtis, all of Corinth. The last week of her trip was spent at Sunderland Durham, England with Edna Wooten and her parents. Before they left London, Friday, July 24, they were able to see all the decorations and the palace, preparing for the royal wedding. Swimming Cub Scouts — Iuka Cub Scouts have enjoyed six weeks of swimming at the Tishomingo State Park swimming pool. During the course of the summer 31 boys participated in the program. They were given instruction in the proper way to do the American crawl, beginning back stroke, elementary back stroke, surface dive and underwater swimming, racing dive, regular dive, back float and a face down drown proof method of floating. The advanced swimmers in addition learned the "crawl" backstroke, side stroke, breast stroke, and the proper use of the mask and snorkel. The advanced boys were swimming laps, which are 104 feet at the Tishomingo pool. Rory Krause swam the most with 14 laps (over a 1/4 mile), Kelsey Krause, 10 laps; Grant Briggs, 7 laps; Charles Milligan and Anthony Robinson, 3 laps each. Fridays were race day with inner tube races, air mattress races, and a penny dive. The lessons were taught by Elizabeth Krause. There will be a family swimming party for Iuka Cub

Robert Dale Walden, of Tishomingo, grew this 13 1/2 pound cantaloupe in his home garden. The sweet juicy melon is the largest produced on the Walden farm.

Weather Service Outlook

Mississippi farmers can expect above normal temperatures and below normal rainfall in August, according to the National Weather Service 30-day outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Typical highs will be near 90, and daily lows will average about 70. Rainfall will vary from nearly six inches on the coast to about three inches in the northern part of the state.

High pressure systems dominating the state will persist. Farmers should be prepared to deal with long, sultry spells with little or no rain, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts. Any rainfall this month probably will be brief, but tropical weather systems could visit Mississippi in August, bringing torrential rainfall.

Health News Aching Joints

Many people associate pains in the body joints such as the fingers, wrists, elbows, or knees and feet, with arthritis, rheumatism or gout. They often mention how bad weather increases the aching. Weather changes do affect the pain level intensity by aggravating the body's temperature centers. These centers are responsible for adapting the internal body temperature to the outside environment. When such changes occur, it naturally affects all the normal parts of the body which you don't feel, but you do feel the changes in the abnormal parts, (aching joints.) The application of Chiropractic care has been found to be quite effective in aiding recovery of those who suffer with aching joints.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic.

good rains in July will face serious problems this month because high temperatures will stress crops and there will be little water to replace soil moisture, say weather experts. Irrigation must be used wherever possible, and water application rates will have to be high.

Spraying this month will be easy because the dryness and hot spells are usually accompanied by fairly light winds. Open weather will benefit the rice harvest, and harvesters should have minor problems with dew because of the lack of moisture. Poultry producers should be ready to combat episodes of severe to very severe stress.

Letter To The Editor

July 29, 1981

Dear Editor:

If the Iuka residents that came to our aid on Sunday, July 27, are typical, then Mississippi is indeed "the hospitality state". On that day my wife and I were transporting a group of high school girls from Huntsville to Memphis, when serious car trouble left us stranded at Hinton Self Service Shell Station in Iuka.

The proprietor, Don Fisk, kindly permitted us to share his air conditioned store while also attempting to locate a mechanic who might be available on Sunday afternoon. (By contrast, last April a Florida service station owner threatened to push my car off his lot unless I let him jump my dead battery for $4.00). Finally, we located Jim Hughes at his shop on Eastport Road, and he agreed to come to town and check my car.

While he was determining that the car needed to go in the shop for a timing chain, another Eastport Road resident, Frank Williams, Jr., stopped by and offered to let us drive his car to Memphis. So after a two-hour delay we again were on our way while the disabled car was towed to Jim Hughes' shop.

Without further trouble, we delivered the girls to Memphis State University and returned to spend the night at the Iuka Motel. The next morning at his shop, Jim Hughes showed us the bad news - the engine was damaged beyond the point of having it repaired. Jim offered us a fair price for our car's remains and we returned the borrowed car to Frank Williams, planning to catch the bus back to Huntsville. However, Frank and his wife, Gail, insisted on driving us back to Huntsville that afternoon.

I have told this story to many people and all are greatly impressed (as were we) by the kindness and generosity of these Iuka citizens. As a footnote, I have since learned that one of my children's favorite people at Huntsville High School is originally from Iuka - math teacher and coach, Jim Oaks. Dove Hunting Dates Set

Mississippi dove hunters should have another good fall and winter hunting period, according to experts at the Tishomingo County News - Vidette - Bel Department of Wildlife Conservation.

The state will again be taking advantage of the full 70 days of hunting allowed for doves under federal guidelines. The outlook for shooters appears good.

The season gets underway September 5 and closes October 4, reopening October 17 and closing November 8. The last season extends from December 26 through January 11.

Shooting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. The bag limit will be 12 daily and 24 in possession. A possession limit is not allowed on opening day, officials say.

"We have had many good dove reports from just about every section of the state," commented Benny Herring, director of the agency's Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife.

"The weather has been good, and from all indications the birds are having a good nesting season. People are seeing a lot of birds on the roadside and on power lines. So, fall and winter hunting should be good."

Herring said that most of the doves harvested by hunters during the first several weeks of the September season are young-of-the-year birds raised in Mississippi. He said that the annual dove mortality rate is around 70 percent whether the birds are hunted or not. Last year, hunting was permitted time. According to a survey made over 11,000 hunters of a percent said to see more doves than in the percent did. "I think that allows those to shoot in hunting when they are not so high, also permit retrieving doves to eliminate course those to hunt in they have a will be able Herring said.

Parts of State Closed to Dog/Deer Hunting

When Mississippi's 1981-82 gun season on deer hunting with dogs gets underway this fall, some parts of the state will be closed to the use of dogs, according to Department of Wildlife Conservation officials.

Hunters in some sections of northeast Mississippi will be unable to use dogs to hunt deer during both the Nov. 21 to Dec. 1, and the Dec. 19 to Jan. 16, hunting periods. Officials say that requests from landowners, along with law enforcement problems have brought about the change.

"Our Commission closed certain sections of northeast Mississippi to hunting deer with dogs in part due to the large number of requests our agency has received from landowners in this area who object to hunters running dogs across their private lands, much of which is legally posted property," executive director Long Strong said.

"We received many requests from landowners as well as sportsmen organizations, in Alcorn, Lee, Prentiss, Tippah, Tishomingo and Union counties, and from other landowners in parts of Benton, Chickasaw, Itawamba and Pontotoc counties requesting that this action be taken."

Action to curtail deer hunting with dogs in these particular counties this year came at the five-member Commission's May meeting.

But wildlife officials say that the no-dog action goes beyond the requests of private landowners. They say that conservation officers face big problems with some dog hunters who hunt from public roads.

According to Strong and others it is illegal to hunt or shoot in, on or across any street or public highway. Road hunting, they say, is the number one problem faced by wildlife officers during the deer season.

"Of course another thing to consider here is the image that the hunter creates in the mind of the non-hunting public," according to Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife director Benny Herring.

"Motorists and others who drive along a public thoroughfare feel a little less comfortable when they see someone standing along the roadside with a shotgun or rifle."

Herring went on to say that hunting is considered a privilege, not a right. Wildlife officials say that deer hunting is a vital wildlife management principle used by the agency to safeguard and perpetuate healthy wildlife numbers. They want the public to understand that the proper place of the hunter is in the woods. "We don't want to endanger or alienate anyone on the roads and highways," Herring said.

"I think it is important for every hunter to understand," Strong commented, "that the Commission's action was not aimed at the overall idea of hunting deer with dogs. We are looking at a section of the state where there is a considerable amount of private land and the wishes of the landowners must be taken into account. And we simply must enforce the law that prohibits road hunting so that everyone who uses the roads is free to do so."

Strong said that the Commission is also concerned with the impression that deer hunters make in the minds of the non-hunting public. He said it should be positive and in the best interest of everyone concerned

...knowledge and experience was the order of the day on July 23, at the regular meeting of the Rainbow 4-H ...er extensive study and together first aid kits come and car use. Ms. Cummings, a nurse and Cross worker, showed group how to help in an agency. She taught each member how to help when one is choking or when have been sprained or in. at to do when a snake bites you while you are waiting for help, was the keynote. It seems most are fearful of snakes.

The wonderful way that Ms. Cummings had of explaining, satisfied each member who had open questions.

Stephen Bobo was the "patient" each time. He was wrapped and unwrapped. He was cured several times of terrible choking spells, faked, of course.

Members present were: Donnie Bobo, Steven Bobo, Candy Elledge, Michael Elledge, Anthony Bray, William Carleton, Chris Timbes, Lisa Julen, Tracy Osborn and Angie Julen, from another club.

Short Creek Baptist Retreat

After a long two months of hard work, Short Creek Baptist Youth, counselors and pastor, G.D. Jones, and wife are off on a well deserved "Retreat For Christ". This group of young people set a goal! Philippians 4:13: I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." This goal was reached with prayers and a lot of hard work. They had different projects to raise funds for this trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn. This group left Sunday night after the worship service. The Short Creek Baptist members would like to thank everyone who helped make this trip possible, and "To God Be The Glory". The counselors for this group have been great. They worked long hours and the parents of these young people would like to say "Thank You" so much and to our pastor and wife, also. This group is looking forward to a great time in the Lord this week. They will return Saturday afternoon with a great report.

Avenge Not Yourselves

"Dearly Beloved, avenge not yourselves" (Romans 12:19).

Jesus Christ is the greatest defense lawyer in the world, but all too often He is dismissed for lack of immediate and drastic action in favor of some clever man-made arguments. Furthermore, He is not only the lawyer but also the judge and executor. When a person ignores the court of heaven in any person injury matter, he commits two evils.

1. The person becomes a thief, for vengeance belongs to God. By taking the matter into his own hands, the person robs God of His prerogative in vengeance. 2. He fails to exercise faith in God, and, in so doing, he brings a curse upon himself. He trusted in the arm of flesh and not in the living God. By his actions, he reveals his fear that God will not do the job well enough.

It would be humanly impossible to put God first and let Him work things out if He

SQUINTING

People who squint a lot probably need glasses. This is often a sign of nearsightedness. Nearsighted people who don't have glasses will squint to sharpen their focus when looking at something. It may solve the problem temporarily, but it can also cause eyestrain and headaches. And squinting doesn't do much for your personal appearance.

Some adolescents tend to squint when they're growing up. By the time they are 20 or 21 many of them will realize that their nearsightedness is a problem that needs help.

In some cases the nearsightedness will improve by then. Sometimes it gets progressively worse. But for most people, the degree of nearsightedness has reached a plateau by the time they're fully grown.

The problem may be in one eye or both eyes. Only an eye examination can determine that. But with the proper glasses, "squinters" will have normal vision again and will no longer have to strain their eyes to see clearly.

In the interest of better vision from the office of:

COME TO CHURCH

We all have times when things go wrong,
And Fortune's in reverse;
Yet we're expected to be strong,
Though things could not get worse...
A strength of which the Scriptures name
Examples plain to see:
Like Job, whose faith remained the same
Throughout adversity.
So why not go to Church this week,
Whichever one you choose,
And listen to the Bible speak;
There's not a thing to lose!
Then, what those passages command
You'll follow to the letter;
And let God take your life in hand,
To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

100 Mile Run
David Peeler, above, is David Peeler, starting on his 100 mile run from Huntsville, Ala. to Birmingham last August. The car are his support crew of Jeff Weitenbeck, Mike Livingston and Jim Oaks.

Out Of Town Runners To Enter 5 Kilometer Run

Among the runners coming out of town for the Tishomingo County 5 kilometer run in Iuka this Saturday, August 8, will be residents of Huntsville, who will be celebrating their first anniversary of a musical run. Last year on the 12th of August, Peeler, now a second law student at the University of Alabama, made a 100 mile journey from Huntsville to Birmingham on foot, a combination of running and walking, in a time of 19 hours and 42 minutes. During his journey he was supported by Tishomingo County native David Peeler and two of Oaks' high school runners, Weitenbeck and Mike Livingston. They accompanied Peeler in two cars to provide aid during the all-night trek. The four runners will be in Iuka Saturday to participate in the Tishomingo County Museum and Cultural Center's 3.1 mile run, a considerable shorter distance than they covered a year ago. Peeler began his running at Huntsville High School in 1973 and continued his running at Vanderbilt and Auburn. He had completed two marathons (26.2 miles) before his 100 mile run with his best marathon effort in February of 1980, when he finished 8th in a time of 2:41:11 at the Magic City Marathon in Birmingham. Last year after the 100 mile run David experienced some serious after effects and has just got back to some race competition this summer. Oaks, up in the Midway Community and got his first running experience running his father's cows to the barn from the pastures. He began serious running two summers ago, and has become one of the better southern "master" (over age 40) runners. His best performance at the marathon distance came in April at Boston when he finished 682nd in a time of more than 6:00 with a time of 2:37:11, just over a 6 minute per mile average for the 26.2 miles. His best time for a 5 KM course is 16:58 run last month in a race in Stevenson, Ala. The best runner of the four is Jeff Weitenbeck, a former Huntsville High runner who ran for the University of Alabama, Birmingham, last year and will transfer to Troy State University this fall to run for the Trojan Track and Cross Country teams. As a senior in high school, Weitenbeck won the Alabama State Cross Country Championship and was the State 2 Mile Champion with a time of 9:25. Weitenbeck won the 5 KM race in Stevenson with a personal best of 15:14, and will probably be one of the favorites to win Saturday. Mike Livingston, a high school classmate of Weitenbeck, has been running since his sophomore year in high school. Mike also ran for the UAB Blazer Cross Country team last season. He completed the Huntsville Rocket City Marathon in 1979, and his best time for a 5 KM distance is 17:03, also run in Stevenson last month. All four Huntsville runners are looking forward to the race in Iuka, and are glad that it will not take quite as long to complete as the "race" to Birmingham they were involved in last year in August.

Airport Road To Be Closed For "Run"

The 5 kilometer run, sponsored by the Tishomingo County Museum and Cultural Center, Inc., on Saturday, August 8, will begin at the back of Mineral Springs Park on Airport Road and go approximately 1 1/2 miles to a turn-around and return to the park. This section of the street will be closed between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. to vehicles. The committee would like to ask the people of luka to help with control of the traffic by taking alternate routes. The committee would also like to ask the people to turn out along the route and cheer runners on or be at the finish to cheer in both our local runners and our visitors. Anyone who lives along the route is encouraged to set up their lawn sprinkler with spray into the course so runners can run through it. Anne Taylor, Committee Member, says there have been runners registered from Memphis, Florence, Huntsville, Tupelo, Amory, as well as several local runners. Runners may register on the day of the race for $6.00, or in advance for $5.00. Registration includes a custom designed T-shirt.

Come out and run or cheer! Let our visitors know we are happy to have them and let our local runners know we are proud of them!

National Jamboree News

By: Chris Evans

The Yocona Area Council has sent a group of 35 Mississippians to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia. The Scoutmaster, T.J. Ray, a teacher at the University of Mississippi at Oxford, along with three assistant Scoutmasters are the leaders of our troop. Two participants in the Council Troop 470 are from Tishomingo County. These are Scouts Chris Evans and Jonathan Carpenter, of luka's Troop 26. The event lasts from July 29, through August 4. The troop left Tupelo, Mississippi, on July 24, and have visited many points of interest in Tennessee, Virginia, and Maryland. From July 25-27, the troop stayed at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland while touring Washington, D.C. Washington has been one of the highlights of the trip. Some of the places we visited in the Capital were the Lincoln Memorial, The Capitol, The White House, The Smithsonian Institute, Arlington National Cemetery, the Washington Monument, and two Jima Shrine. The Troop arrived at the Jamboree on July 26, and have since participated in many activities and events. There are over 30,000 Scouts from all 50 states and 22 countries at Fort A.P. Hill. One of the favorite pastimes at the Jamboree is trading. Trading is done with practically anything with a state, council name or country. Patches, pins, and other trading items make for hours of enjoyment and fun. There are many day and night activities such as troop competition, regional and intertroop campfires, and the big arena shows. Some of the celebrities appearing at the Jamboree Arena shows are The Oak Ridge Boys, Burl Ives, also Drum and Bugle Corps and Drill Teams from the U.S. Armed Forces. Other dignitaries appearing at the Jamboree are the King of Sweden, possibly President Reagan, and others. We are having a great time at the Jamboree, meeting people, participating in activities, and just having an experience of a lifetime. We are looking forward to touring Williamsburg and other points of interest on the way home.

that participation would have to be limited," said Hilda L. Hill, site coordinator for the event.

"With this in mind, we decided to offer the ag expo, thus enabling hundreds of participants to get a look at what can be done to help the small farmer increase crop yield and cut expenses at the same time," she added.

The exhibits which will be on display were selected because of their variety and especially for their relevance. Some of the country's finest researchers will be on hand to explain all aspects of the exhibits, including how it could be used in a given situation on local farms.

Exhibits presently scheduled for exposition include alcohol powered tractors and cars, an ultra-light airplane from Baldwin, bull testing, soil conservation, land use, no till farming equipment, solar energy, embryo transplant for desired breeding results and a remote sensing balloon.

For additional information, interested persons should contact Mrs. Hilda L. Hill on the Northeast campus by calling 728-7751 or toll free (within a 55 mile radius of Booneville) 1-728-7759, ext. 309.

County Unemployment Rate Up In Mid-June

Employment in Tishomingo County edged up at mid-June. According to Charles Smith, Director of the Mississippi Employment Service, the rate of unemployment in the county registered 6.9 percent, compared to 6.5 percent in May. The civilian labor force for the county was 12,150 in June, compared to 11,990 in May. The number of unemployed individuals stood at 840 in June, compared to 780 in May. This represents a combination of

June one year ago. The county's manufacturing employment totaled 2,900, slightly below last month's estimate and that of one year ago. Nonmanufacturing employment at 7,580 experienced an increase of 100 from the May estimate due primarily to Government hiring. A yearly comparison revealed an increase of 570. Smith continued that the civilian labor force for the four county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, and Tishomingo totaled 46,580 workers at mid-June. This represents a combination of 42,370 employed workers and 4,210 unemployed persons. Both segments experienced decreases from the previous month. Yearly comparisons reveal a substantial loss in the number unemployed with a considerable gain in the number employed. The rate of unemployment for the four-county area was 9.0 percent in May and 14.4 percent for June 1980.

A total of 15,270 workers were employed in Manufacturing industries at mid-June, a rise of 130 from May and an even more substantial increase of 1,560 from June, one year ago. The monthly rise was attributed mainly to the Apparel industry, while the yearly increase was noted in several categories.

Nonmanufacturing employment totaled 20,230 at the reporting period, a decline of 530 from one month ago but a rise of 650 from one year ago. The monthly decline was attributed to a loss in Government due to the unemployment of school related workers during the summer months.
