NINETY—EIGHTH YEAR

IUKA, TISHOMINGO COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Thursday, November 26, 1981 No. 23

Woodrow Davis For Police Chief

Ladies & Gentlemen of Iuka:
Most of you know me, and know that I have been in Law Enforcement, in various capacities, ranging from Deputy Sheriff and City Officer for some 22 years. I have been a bona fide resident of Iuka for the past 14 years. I have served several nearby municipalities as city officer, including Cherokee, Burnsville, Corinth and Iuka. It is a matter of pride, with me, that I have always tried to act, and perform, whatever duties that were required, in a courteous and gentlemanly manner. I have never shirked my duties - even in the most trying of circumstances. I have received my share of "lumps" but I've never turned my back when these adverse circumstances occurred. I deplore vandalism, in any form, and especially that which has taken place in Oak Grove Cemetery. It is my firm intention, if elected, to put a stop to this dastardly devastation. Also, another prime target, that has long provoked our City Park, is the distribution and use of marijuana, therein. I am reasonably certain of the identity of the "pushers", of this obnoxious weed, which can, and certainly will, undermine the health and principles of our young generation, if the use of "pot" is allowed to flourish. I will make a concerted effort to stamp out this menace, at its source - the "pusher". I am presently unemployed, and can and will devote FULL TIME, to making our City a better place to live and raise our children in comparative safety.

Good people, if you want an honest, and upright Chief of Police, go to the polls on December 8th, and cast a vote for Woodrow Davis.

THANK YOU

Insulation Program Offers Service For Low-Income, Elderly

TVA's Home Insulation Program (HIP) offers a service to help low-income, elderly consumers save money on winter electric bills. Called to Warm Room Project, the service provides HIP interest-free loans to weatherize one area of a home.

The Warm Room Project encourages eligible consumers to fully weatherize one area of the home for maximum savings and comfort. Unused rooms of the house can then be closed off and left unheated during the winter months.

"The high cost of energy is a very hard reality for many elderly Americans," said TVA General Manager W.F. Willis. "TVA is committed to coming up with low-cost efforts such as the Warm Room Project to assist the elderly."

Through the Warm Room Project, a TVA-trained energy advisor will advise consumers as to whether or not it would be practical to heat and live in one area of the house during the winter. Consumers with electric heat or air-conditioning may apply for the interest-free loan to pay for the weatherization of the living area.

The energy advisors will also advise consumers on how they can make certain changes in their living habits to further reduce their electric bills.

The Warm Room Project is available to all consumers. However, the project is designed especially for elderly and handicapped people, particularly those in households with no more than two occupants.

Consumer surveys show that there are approximately 240,000 elderly rate payers in the TVA service area who live in households with no more than two occupants and with annual incomes of less than $5,000. "Many of these people could greatly benefit from the Warm Room Project," said Willis.

Not all houses will be suitable for the Warm Room Project, however.

"The energy advisors will make Warm Room recommendations on a case-by-case basis," said Ron Loving, Special Projects Manager in TVA's Division of Energy Conservation and Rates. "In some cases, it will be more practical for the consumer to weatherize the whole house," Loving added. In either case, the advisor will provide the consumer with the free energy survey of the entire house.

Consumers should call the local distributors of TVA power to request a free Warm Room survey. Information is also available from the toll-free TVA Citizen Action Lines. In Tennessee, the number is 1-800-362-9250; outside Tennessee the number is 1-800-251-9242.

many Blessings

Dedication Ceremonies At Bay Springs Bridge

The dedication ceremonies of the Bay Springs, Tennessee Tombigbee Waterway Bridge, which spans over the planned canal on Hwy. 4 in Tishomingo County, took place Thursday, November 19, 1981, at 10 a.m. The official opening of the 1,000 foot long bridge, which cost $10.6 million dollars to construct, with Dement Construction Co., Jackson, Tenn., receiving the bid. The contract opened in May of 1980, and the completion date was set for August of 1982. The bridge was completed several months ahead of schedule. This completes the four bridges, which were to be built in Tishomingo County.

The bridge in Aberdeen is completed, but has not yet been opened for traffic. The bridge on Hwy. 82 is 90% complete, and the 78 Hwy. bridge in Fulton is basically out of the ground. When these are completed, the ten bridges on the Tenn-Tom will be complete.

Representative Mack Wadkins said, "Better than 95% of the cost of the ten bridges will be paid in lieu taxes from the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant in Tishomingo County.

County Development Foundation Fund Raising Campaign Begins

The Tishomingo County Development Foundation needs your support in trying to raise $40,000 for hiring an executive director to better our county during this time of high inflation, high interest rates, and proposed government cutbacks. We are going to have to work together to promote industrial development in Tishomingo County.

All indications are that unemployment is going higher, especially in Tishomingo County, due to cut-backs at the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant in Iuka and other lay-offs in and around Tishomingo County.

If we work together to attract new industry to Tishomingo County, the value of our real estate will escalate, the state will be forced to provide better roads and better educational opportunities for our children.

We are now realizing, more and more, that we cannot wait on someone else to do the development work we so desperately need. Therefore, we are asking you to become a member of the TCDF with your tax deductible membership into our organization. We realize that the TCDF has fallen short of achieving these goals in the past, but we are all committed to a better Tishomingo County through the creation of new jobs in our county.

Please do not let your county down. It's going to take everyone in the county working together to achieve our goals. To this date $4,000 has been raised. We need $40,000 to have an effective Development Organization.

Quick & Easy Desserts

A dish of chilled apple sauce by itself is hard to beat for a snack or dessert. Yet there are many ways to dress up this tasty fruit or to combine it with other goodies to make luscious super-desserts.

Here are some quick-and-tasty suggestions:

To make something specially good from pound cake -- even if it's several days old -- toast the cake slices and then pour chilled apple sauce over them. Add a swirl of whipped topping for a College service district attended the school's annual English Teachers' Conference October 30. Welcomed to delicious dessert or bedtime snack.

Dress up chilled apple sauce with whipped topping and a cherry.

Sprinkle chopped or crushed peppermint candies over chilled apple sauce. Gives a minty-cool lift.

For a delicious and healthful apple sauce sundae, scoop your favorite ice cream into a dessert dish, surround it with apple sauce and a sprinkle of chopped nuts.

Apple sauce lime sherbet makes a quick and refreshing two-fruit sundae, with a nice blend of flavors. Just spoon apple sauce over a scoop of lime sherbet in a dessert dish.

Apple sauce added to convenience dessert mixes gives a unique flavor and an interesting new texture.

Here are two great ideas:

DOUBLE APPLE GELATIN TREAT: When making flavored gelatin, substitute half apple juice and half apple sauce for the water called for. Chill in a flat pan, cut into squares, and top with chilled apple sauce.

WHIPPED DESSERTS WITH APPLE TANG: Desserts made from whipped mixes, particularly in orange, cherry and chocolate flavors, take on a delicious new dimension of taste and texture with the addition of apple sauce. To each package of dessert mix, substitute apple sauce for one half of the water required. Then follow package directions and chill.

1 cup granulated sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Beat egg whites, sugar, salt and extract to form stiff peaks. Combine graham cracker crumbs, coconut and nuts; fold into egg white mixture. Spread in a greased 9-inch pie pan and bake in a preheated 350° oven about 30 minutes. Cool and serve in wedges with ice cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Drainage Helps

Good soil drainage helps almost any crop you grow. Good drainage has a two-fold purpose. It helps move water off the land fast enough so you can get back into the field within a few days after heavy rains. At the same time, it moves the water slowly enough so that erosion is not a problem and the water has time to soak into the soil.

Improving the drainage of your soil may require land forming. This is one area you don't want to jump into haphazardly. Before you start, get help from an engineer who is knowledgeable about land forming.

Two points to keep in mind if you plan to land form: do it in dry periods of the year, and don't make deep cuts that expose soils which are not capable of producing good crops. Call our office for more information.

Costs Go Up And Up

If you're a farmer, you don't have to be reminded about how production costs have gone up in the last several years. A recent U.S. Department of Agriculture survey shows just how much costs have skyrocketed.

Since 1967, the cost of buying farm machinery has risen 340 percent. Fertilizer is 262 percent higher, and interest costs are up a staggering 699 percent. At 435 percent higher, the cost of fuel is not far behind.

In addition, the cost of buying agricultural chemicals rose 192 percent, freight is up 321 percent, labor costs 306 percent, and land is 400 percent higher than it was in 1967.

Proper seed storage is important to extending the storage life and quality of soybeans.

Extension Agronomist Dr. Charles Baskin says for ideal storage conditions, store the beans at from 50 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit. Use fans to blow air on the beans to remove field heat and lower the temperature. Once the bin is filled, use a probe to check the temperature in several parts of the bin for a representative sampling. Baskin points out that periodic fluctuations in temperature during the winter cause convection currents in the bin. Aeration every 10 to 14 days helps prevent moisture migration caused by these convection currents.

Livestock and Dairy Training

Workshops will begin in December for those interested in learning to judge sheep, swine, beef, and dairy animals. This training will be open to all 4-H members and other youth who are interested in joining 4-H. 4-Hers who make one of the six teams will compete in either the district or state judging contest. Anyone interested in participating should call the Extension office at 423-3616 to register for the workshops and receive the schedules for the meeting times and places.

Most Gun Accidents Happen At Home

We often associate hunting and gun accidents. Accidents do happen in the field, but more than 50 percent happen at home.

During hunting season, guns may be out or lying around the home, making them more accessible to youngsters. Firearms are an important cause of accidental death among children.

Why? Perhaps because children get accustomed to toy weapons, they expect real guns to act the same way. When a youngster points a gun at his playmate and pulls the trigger, he knows nobody is really hurt. Maybe he thinks the only difference between his toy gun and his father's real gun is a bigger bang.

Frequently childhood accidents are a result of a child's inability to distinguish between a harmless plaything and a potentially hazardous real object. You can remove

District Conservationist, SCS
Crop land treatment in Tishomingo County needs improving. This is an objective that the Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners and the Soil Conservation Service have been working on for a long time. Progress is being made in getting more acres of cropland treated to reduce soil and water loss, improve soil tilth, reduce water contamination in lakes and streams, and improve the beauty of our countryside. All these things are accomplished when cropland fields are adequately treated with such practices as contour strips, grassed waterways, parallel terraces, and crop residue use.

Almost all acres are subject to erosion to the extent of being hazardous to future production potential, maintenance of roads, channels, drainage ditches, of causing contamination of water in lakes and streams and the acceleration of the breakdown of soil structure. Soil erosion does create many problems in our total environment that are not readily recognized by landowners.

The extent of total soil loss from cropland in Tishomingo County is not known. For example, on a 4 percent slope the soil loss from continuous cotton planted up and down the was 89 tons per acre on the contour alone tons of soil per acre, loss from cotton with nating grass strips rows on contour was tons per acre. This is example of the effect of grass strips properly system is properly and needed grassed ways provided along crop residue use.

REALTOR

If you are interested in buying a home, now is the time. Prices are as low as they are going to get. Interest rates are on the way down, but predictions call for them to rise after the first of the year.

As the result of an ad we ran one month ago on Farmer's Home Administration loans, one family will probably be in their new home by Christmas, two more families have their loans approved, and two more are in the process of approval. You could be added to this list.

If your adjusted income is below $15,600 annually, you will probably qualify for a Farmer's Home Administration loan, there is no down payment. All you need to buy one of these houses is the attorney's fee and one year's fire insurance. Together these costs will probably run between $600-$700. The funding for these loans is delayed, so now is the time for you to get your loan and house approved and be ready for the new annual funding. Call us, and we will tell you more.

There are some real bargains in the homes from $45,000 up. For a while, the loans on these homes were not assumable, but with the decrease in interest rates, the financial institutions are allowing loan assumptions again. One home has a 9 ¾ loan with only $8,000 equity. The house even has a new swimming pool. Additionally, there are some properties with owner financing with terms to suit you.

We have listings from a 1 bd, furnished home for $9,000 to a $125,000 furnished "cabin" on the lake. We also have a number of lots for building or for mobile homes - most with owner financing. Let us know what you would like to have, and we will try to work it out for you.

What Is Thanksgiving?

How grateful a people we are, to take one day out of the other busy 364 days a year, to say thank you to God, our fellow man, our parents, etc. What is Thanksgiving anyway, what does it involve, why do we act a certain way on a certain day? Let's look at the idea or thought of Thanksgiving from three Biblical languages, Greek, Hebrew, and English, and see what Thanksgiving meant in Bible times. This ought to give a little insight on being thankful.

First of all, Webster defines Thanksgiving as "1. The act of giving thanks; 2. A prayer expressing gratitude; 3. A public acknowledgement or celebration of divine goodness." This definition sums up the whole idea behind Thanksgiving: to be thankful for all your possessions, whether it be family, home, parents, friends, food, or etc., be thankful and appreciative. Remember friends, even though you might not have a family, friends, money, or even food, you still have a God who loves you, (John 3:16).

The Greek word for Thanksgiving is eucharistia. It means to be mindful of favors, have gratitude, and be thankful. The Greek word goes deeper in thought and meaning than does the English word. Too many times when someone gives thanks - it is just from the mouth and the stomach, and the English word pushes no further than that; however, the Greek comes from a much truer source - the heart. (Col. 3:15).

The Hebrew gives yet another insight on the practice of Thanksgiving. There are three words which translate into Thanksgiving, huyedah, yadah, and towdah, all have the idea of not only being thankful from the heart, but showing your thankfulness. Each of these words literally means to use the hand, an extension of the hand, to show. The Hebrew seems to say, I'm not only going to say thank you, but I'm going to show my appreciation also. (Ps. 50:14).

Friends, as Thanksgiving Day approaches, let us be all the more thankful by feeling it in our hearts, then by showing it through our actions.

Here are some things we all have to be thankful for:

- ... a loving God - John 3:16.
- ... a humble Saviour - Phil. 2:6-11.
- ... a working Lord - John 14:1-4.
- ... a perfect Bible - II Tim. 3:16-17.
- ... an open line to heaven - James 5:14-16.

Man Asks God Answers

MAN In What Condition Was Man Created?

(1) In God's image: Gen. 1:26, 27 - And God said, Let Us make man in Our image... So God created man in His own image; in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them. Gen. 9:6 - In the image of God made He man. 1 Cor. 11:7 - He is the image and glory of God. Jas. 3:9 - Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

(2) In God's likeness: Gen. 1:26 - And God said, Let Us make man... after Our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. Gen. 5:1 - In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made He him.

What Was The Image Of God?

Gen. 1:31 - And God saw every thing that He had made, and, behold, it was very good. Deut. 32:4 - His work is perfect: for all His ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He.

Eccl. 7:29 - God hath made man upright. Rom 8:29 - For whom He did foreknow, He also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of His Son. 2 Cor. 3:18 - But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, and changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. Eph. 4:24 - Put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. Col. 3:10 - Put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of Him that created him.

COME TO CHURCH

We all have times when things go wrong,
And Fortune's in reverse;
Yet we're expected to be strong,
Though things could not get worse...
A strength of which the Scriptures name
Examples plain to see:
Like Job, whose faith remained the same
Throughout adversity.
So why not go to Church this week,
Whichever one you choose,
And listen to the Bible speak;
There's not a thing to lose!
Then, what those passages command
You'll follow to the letter;
And let God take your life in hand,
To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A stranger came onto a boy who was lying by a stream, holding a cord in his hand, and looking up into the heavens.

"What are you doing?" he asked.

"Flying a kite," came the reply.

"I don't see it," said the man.

"I don't either," admitted the boy; "but I know it's there. I can feel the tug on my cord."

Like the boy, we are on earth. Like our kite, our Lord is in heaven. And faith is the cord that binds our hearts to our dear Lord in glory.

I cannot see the Lord, but I can feel Him—guiding me, guarding me, and giving me gladness; comforting me, keeping me, and caring for all my needs.

For my weariest day, He is my stay. For my darkest night, He is my light. For my weakest hour, He is my power. For each moment's call, He is my all. And every day with Him is sweeter than the day before.

Have you felt the thrill of His tug at your heart?

Whiplash injuries, of course, occur from auto accidents, falls and fighting. They are associated with some degree of injury to ligaments and muscles along with pinched nerves. All such injuries of the neck can be serious and bring about a dangerous malfunction within the nervous system. The signs of whiplash include: headache, muscle spasms, stiff neck, fatigue, muscle swelling, heaviness of head, loss of balance, ringing of ears, nausea, light-headedness, shortness of breath, numbness of arms, hands, and poor memory, tremors, pallor, inability to concentrate. Chieftain Tales

By: Sherrie Moore & Gail Wallace

Hello, Everybody,
This has certainly been a busy week for the IHS Basketball Team. The Tishomingo Tournament began last Thursday night, with our Chieftainettes against the Mantachie Lady Mustangs. It was a thrilling game ending with the Chieftainettes victorious! Congratulations, Girls!

Friday night's schedule hosted two ballgames. Our girls against the Pine Grove Panthers in a competition closing with Panthers on top. Then it was the Chieftain's turn. They were up against the Tishomingo Bulldogs. The Dogs had a little more than the Chiefs expected, and as time ran out Tishomingo eased ahead.

The final clashing of the tournament was Saturday night. It began with the Iuka-Belmont game. The Cardinals lead the entire game with the Chieftains trailing close behind. But the time ran out before Iuka caught up. We would like to commend Larry Martin on his remarkable last-second shot.

The annual IHS Sports Banquet was held Monday night at Coleman park. The award-winners will be revealed in an upcoming edition of Chieftain Tales. We would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a safe and happy Thanksgiving.

Poem of the Week
Puppy Love
Unhappy fellow walking so slow,
Shuffling along with his wagon in tow,
Five little puppies peek out the side,
Five little puppies enjoying a ride.

Unhappy fellow, five stops he'll make,
Delivering a puppy that someone will take,
With one tiny fist he'll wipe tears from his eyes,
As he tenderly utters five goodbyes.

Rienzi Youth State Poster Child

Jason Rowsey, five-year-old son of Philip and Jane Rowsey, of Rienzi, has been named the 1982 March of Dimes Poster Child. Born with one of the most common

State Poster Child

Five-year-old Jason Rowsey, of Rienzi, was recently selected as the 1982 Mississippi State Poster Child for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation. Born with spina bifida, Jason will be representing the over 3500 infants that are born each year in Mississippi with birth defects. Jason will be appearing at local chapter fund raising events throughout the state in the coming months, encouraging the public's support of the March of Dimes' efforts to prevent birth defects - the nation's most serious child health problem.

birth defects - spina bifida or open spine - Jason represents the over 3500 infants that are born each year in Mississippi with birth defects. Mississippi has the highest number of infant deaths, of any state, due to birth defects.

After his birth in Tupelo, Jason was transferred to Memphis, Tennessee, where surgery was scheduled, but soon postponed due to infection. At the age of one month, a shunt was inserted in Jason's head to relieve the spinal fluid pressure on his brain. Surgery to close his open spine was performed when Jason was 14 months old. Since that time his shunt has been repaired twice.

Jason is now on his third set of braces, which with the use of crutches, enables him to walk. During a recent stay at a crippled children's hospital in Memphis, Jason was taught to walk using his new crutches. While Jason remains paralyzed from the waist down, he continues to make excellent progress, following a daily routine of leg exercises.

Jason's life on his parents' farm involves playing with his cat, Brandy, and all of the other farm animals. He goes fishing with his father and loves swimming, music and singing. Currently Jason has a homebound school teacher, but will begin public school this next year.

Jane Rowsey sensed the whole time she was pregnant that something was wrong. She hoped she could cope with whatever the problem was, saying that had she been "hit with the full impact of the meaning of spina bifida and birth defects, I don't know that I could have handled it. He is such a blessing and a delight. His personality makes him one-of-a-kind. I hate to think what it would have been like without him."

Local March of Dimes chapters throughout Mississippi will be conducting fund raising events in the coming months. Monies raised will be used to support national, state and local educational, community and medical service programs directed at the prevention of birth defects. Jason will be appearing at many of these special events, representing the Mississippi March of Dimes in their fight to prevent birth defects - to protect the unborn and the newborn.

MAE Launch Efforts

At a meeting held in Tupelo on November 5, the Mississippi Association of Educators launched its "grassroots" lobbying efforts for the 1982 session of the Mississippi Legislature. With the assistance of UniServ director Charlotte Whitehead the training session was conducted for teacher representatives, local presidents and legislative chairpersons from a 12 County-wide area. MAE listed among its legislative objectives:

-Revision of the Employment Procedures Act to include procedural and substantive due process.

-A "cost of living" salary increase based on the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index (currently 10%).

-100% of the employees health insurance to be paid by the state.

*Salary advancement for teachers who complete additional training.

Dr. Tony Rollins, Executive Secretary of MAE, commented on the legislative program by saying, "The revision of the Employment Procedures Act is necessary because presently school boards can dismiss a teacher without cause. We are only asking that teachers be given those rights of due process enjoyed by other American citizens." Dr. Rollins continued by saying, "The cost of living adjustment would actually do nothing more than insure that teachers would not suffer any further decline in their real income for the next year."

Missy Hancock, Gover-

Tishomingo County News - Vidette - Belmont

nmental Relations Director and Chief Lobbyist for MAE, said "We will have in place a well-structured communication network that will enable teachers to express their concerns to legislators, both in the home district and at the Capitol." MAE, the largest teacher organization in the state, plans to have "contact teams" in every county of the state to insure that each legislator receives teacher input in their home district.

Representatives from Tishomingo County attending the meeting were Cathy

Alexander and Steve from Belmont, and McRae, from Tishomingo

How Many Do You Recognize?

This is a picture of the citizens of Iuka taken in 1931, when they came to see the twenty millionth Ford on display in Iuka. Hunting Is A Great Sport

More than 20,000,000 Americans participate in the sport - and the number is growing each year. Taking to the woods and fields is relaxing, healthful and provides lots of thrills and excitement. But - a full bag is not the only goal . . . SAFE HUNTING should be our primary concern.

Almost all hunting accidents could be avoided with more preparation; with more knowledge; and with more care!

Know these 12 basic rules for safe gun handling:

Treat every gun as if it were loaded - never take anyone's word that a gun is "empty."

Always point the gun muzzle in a safe direction - never aim at anything you don't intend to shoot.

Be sure of your target - never shoot at unidentified noises - wait until whole animal or bird is visible.

Know the correct way to carry your gun - Under arm, shoulder, cradle and both hands. Make sure the safety is on, finger outside trigger guard and muzzle is in a safe direction and under control.

Keep the safety on or the chamber unloaded until ready to fire and keep your finger out of the trigger guard.

Check bore frequently through the breech end to be sure it is clear of foreign objects before loading and frequently while hunting.

Agree before hand on the area each hunter will cover.

Be sure the action is open when handing a gun to another person or when stopping to eat, chat or rest.

Transport unloaded guns in cases for their protection and keep them out of sight to prevent theft.

When duck hunting from a boat, two hunters should face in opposite directions. Never lay a loaded gun on the bottom of a boat.

When hunting in a group no hunter should carry a gun so that it ever points at another person. Unload gun before crossing a fence and pass gun under first.

The true sportsman recognizes these responsibilities that go with the enjoyment of the sport. Those who violate the rules, hurt the sport for all.

Think Carefully Before Buying Meat In Large Quantities

A natural question when a family owns, or contemplates buying, a food freezer, is: "Can I save money by buying meat in large quantities, like a side of beef?"

There is an answer, but it isn't an immediate "yes" or "no". It takes a little figuring, says Ann O. Rushing, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service marketing specialist.

How much meat will you get from a side or quarter? What is the quality of the meat? What will it cost to process it - cut it, wrap it and freeze it? What would comparable cuts cost at retail? What cuts are included in a side or quarter? Does your family like all of these? Are you figuring your cost per pound on "hanging" weight? What does that mean?

A side of beef could have a "hanging" weight of 300 pounds. That means it has yet to be cut, trimmed and boned. The loss from the excess fat and bone discarded can be 20 to 30 percent, or even more. So the 300-pound side is down to 225 pounds of usable meat cuts, and the cutting loss is a normal 25 percent.

Among those 225 pounds will be a mixture of cuts, both high - and low-cost, which you might not buy at retail, such as short ribs, stewing beef and brisket. Failure to use these cuts will take away some of the price advantage of buying in bulk, she says.

Typically, those remaining 225 pounds would look like this: about 72 pounds of roasts, of which 44 pounds would be chuck roasts, 18 pounds of rib roasts and nearly 10 pounds of rump roast; 72 and 73 pounds of ground beef and stew meat; and 73 pounds of steaks, of which 33 pounds would be round steaks and 40 pounds loin steaks.

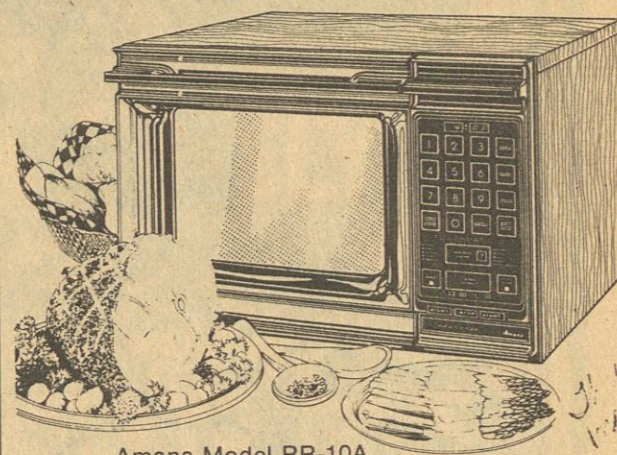

Can your family use these quantities within the recommended freezer storage times of 8 to 12 months for roasts and steaks and three to four months of ground beef? Longer storage may make the meat dry and less flavorful, she warns.

"Quality is another consideration. The only sure guide to quality is the U.S. Department of Agriculture grade shield and dealing with a reputable establishment," Mrs. Rushing said.

"An alternative to buying a side or quarter is a wholesale cut, such as rib or short loin.

the world - LOVE. There are many aspects of this force, and many evidences of its power - even amid the tensions, the mistrust, the conflicts that mar the lives of many men, and disturb many nations.

As we approach a time of national Thanksgiving, let us be mindful of the blessings that abound in our personal lives, and in our national life, in spite of the turmoil of our time that is but a testing of our faith.

For all the good things, let us be truly thankful.

Maintaining Your Mental Health

"Why Do People Drink?"

People drink for a variety of social, cultural, religious, or medical reasons. They drink at parties and celebrations with friends and relatives to enhance their enjoyment. Some drink to relax their inhibitions and to help them talk and relate more freely at parties and get-togethers.

Some people drink in religious ceremonies. Among Orthodox Jews, native Italians, and other groups where alcohol is part of religious or social traditions, there is low incidence of problem drinking, though there is almost universal use of alcoholic beverages.

The drinking of most people is "integrative drinking"; that is, the use of alcohol is an adjunct to other activities. Some drink wine to complement the taste of their meals. Some drink to relax. Some drink to increase their appetites.

Alcohol can be harmless and enjoyable, sometimes even beneficial -- IF it is used responsibly and in moderation.

Responsible drinkers drink along with other activities (not using alcohol for its OWN sake); drink with others (drinking alone can lead to problems); and avoid intoxication by drinking slowly, with food in the stomach, and by paying careful attention to other reactions.

There are, however, large numbers of people who drink for reasons that are not social, cultural, religious, or medical. They use alcohol to forget their worries, to escape from reality, or to gather courage to face the stresses of life. They may use it to escape from problems with family, their job, etc. They may use it as a "cure" for fears when courage and self-confidence are lacking. They may use it to block out painful feelings of loneliness, inadequacy, self-doubt, or as a substitute for close relationships or challenging work. Such people are using alcohol as a drug and are in danger of becoming dependent on it.

Drinking never solves anything. It often makes matters worse. A sense of guilt may develop, which can lead to more drinking and eventually to depend on alcohol and alcoholism.

For additional information about alcohol and drug abuse treatment services available at Timber Hills Mental Health Services phone 423-3332 or come by the office on Old Whitehouse Road in Iuka Monday thru Friday from 8:00 - 4:45. Afterhours and on weekends phone 1-286-9209 toll free for emergency counseling services.

1980 Mississippi Farm Marketing Over Two Billion

Mississippi farmers received 2 billion, 145 million dollars from their 1980 farm marketings, up slightly from the 2 billion, 139 million dollars received in 1979.

The 1980 cash receipts included $891 million from livestock marketings, 1.2 billion dollars from crop marketings and various net amounts from Commodity Credit Corporation loans, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's income and balance sheet statistics for 1980.

Howard Bridges, an official of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said that federal payments to Mississippi farmers last year amounted to 18.7 million dollars compared with 12.9 million dollars in 1979.

The USDA report showed that for the U.S. the open market sales component was higher in 1979 than total cash receipts as CCC loans were negative. Open market sales in 1980 were lower than total cash receipts as CCC loans were positive. While most crop receipts declined, hogs remained about the same, poultry was up slightly, and dairy products rose by 14 percent.

Net farm income declined from $32.7 billion in 1979 to $19.9 billion in 1980, according to the national report. Returns to operators also declined about 50 percent and cash income from farming dropped from $38.4 billion to $32.6 billion.

Total farm assets, including farm households, passed $1 trillion for the first time as the value of farm real estate increased from $756 billion on January 1, 1980 to $829 billion on January 1, 1981. The farm debt went from $158 billion to $175 billion, according to the report.

Mississippi Farmers To Receive Survey Questionnaires

A sample of Mississippi farmers will receive a questionnaire during the last week of November pertaining to their 1981 crop acreage and production.

Dick Knight, statistician in charge of the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, said the survey will be conducted to gather information concerning the acreage and production of crops grown in 1981. Over 30,000 Mississippi farmers will be asked to complete these questionnaires. Since crop production accounted for 58 percent of the state's cash farm income in 1980, it is important that the results be as accurate as possible. Because of this, Knight stressed the need for farmers who receive the questionnaires to fill them out and return them promptly.

State statisticians use the findings from this survey and data supplied by other farmers from the December Enumerative Survey to be conducted the last week of November to determine county, state, and national estimates. All information on individual farms is kept confidential.

A report on the survey will be published at 3:00 p.m. (ET) January 14, 1982.

Unemployment Rate Drops In Mississippi

Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped to 8.2 percent in October, a decrease of one-tenth of one percent compared to September's 8.3 percent jobless rate, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director O.H. Simmons. Last year's October unemployment rate was 7.1 percent.

The 8.2 percent unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 7.5 percent national rate for October. MESC figures showed 84,100 unemployed and 940,700 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,024,800. The initial unemployment insurance claims for October totaled 20,225.

The counties having the highest unemployment rates in October were Greene, with a rate of 17.5 percent; Noxubee, with a rate of 15.2 percent; and Jeff Davis, with an unemployment rate of 13.9 percent.

Issaquena, Rankin, Lamar, and Oktibbeha counties had the lowest jobless rates in October. Issaquena had a rate of 4.4 percent, Rankin had a rate of 4.5 percent, and Lamar and Oktibbeha each had an unemployment rate of 4.8 percent.

Thirty-five of the state's 82 counties showed an increase in their unemployment rates for October, while forty-three reported decreases. The jobless rate in four counties remained the same.

Let us remember especially in this season of the year - that the element of Gratitude is closely related to the most powerful force in

A Thanksgiving Message

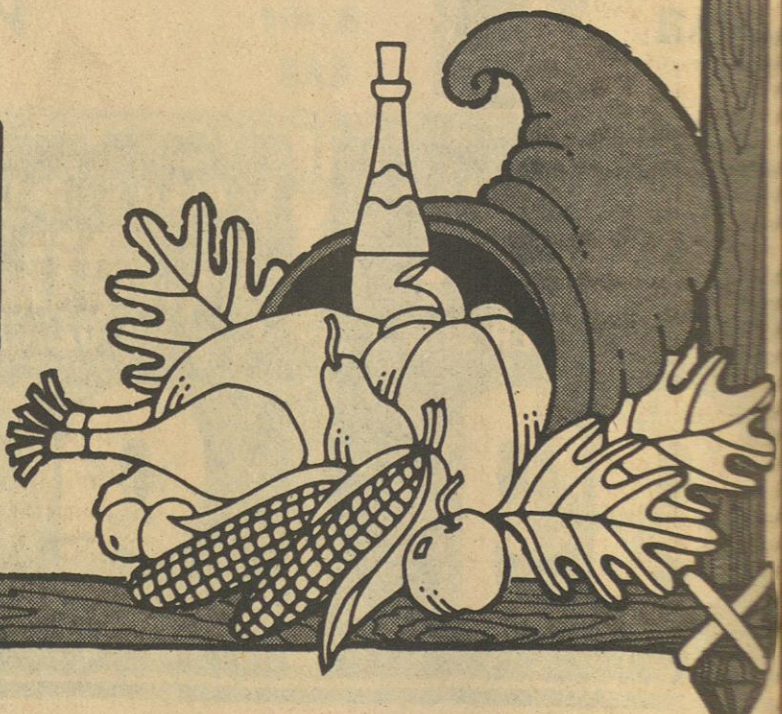

Today, the traditional day of counting blessings taken for granted throughout the year, we give our thanks for the blessings we enjoy as citizens of a free democracy.

We are grateful for the freedoms which we often take for granted. . . the right to choose our religious faith . . . to elect those who govern and the obligations of the governed to guide . . . to criticize and even condemn those who misuse their official responsibilities.

As a nation and a people, we're grateful for the beautifully rich soil we are blessed with and the means to produce food to feed not only ourselves and our allies, but also the hungry throughout the world.

We send our wishes, hopes and prayers that next year, on this day and everyday, we can be thankful for the blessings showered on those less fortunate . . . the presence of the dignity of man among the poor . . . the return of love, decency and morality into the hearts of the powerful . . . the enlightening of the minds of those who oppress . . . and the returning of peace to this currently troubled world.

Shop A Phone Center Store, Save Money

South Central Bell's business customers who have single-line telephone service can now save money by picking up their modular telephone sets directly from telephone company PhoneCenter Stores or Customer Service Centers.

"We think this new service improvement will be popular with cost-conscious business customers," District Manager Tom Bailey said. "It will save them money by eliminating the set handling fee and it will provide them the flexibility of picking up telephone sets at their convenience." For the past few years, home telephone customers have been participating in providing their own telephone service through PhoneCenter Stores. The program has helped hold down the price of telephone service by enabling the company to reduce expenses involved in sending technicians to customers' homes.

"Many customers have said that it's actually easier for them to go to the Phone Center Store rather than try to arrange for a service technician to visit their homes during the working day," Bailey added.

"So customer participation has been something that's benefited the company as well as the customer. That's a big reason why we've expanded it to include business customers with single-line service," Bailey said.

By coming to the PhoneCenter Store, business customers can choose colors that meet their needs and try out the telephone equipment before they install it. They'll also be able to bring their telephone sets to PhoneCenter Stores for repair.

Tobacco

Oral tobacco increases the rate of the heart and also raises up blood pressure in humans, according to a report to the American Heart Association's 54th Scientific Sessions. The study was directed by Dr. G. Squires, Ph.D., associate professor of physiology and physical education at Texas Lutheran University, Seguin. It is believed to be one of the first controlled research projects of the impact of oral tobacco (snuff) on the cardiovascular system.

While snuff was once primarily sniffed through the nose, Dr. Squires points out its growing consumption in a new way -- as the advertisement for "smokeless tobacco" suggests, "Just a pinch between the cheek and the gum."

For the human research, Dr. Squires recruited 20 male athletes at Texas Lutheran; 10 were oral tobacco users, 10 were not. All agreed to abstain from any tobacco use for 72 hours before the research.

After obtaining baseline electrocardiograms and blood pressure measurements, he explained, "we put in a normal dose of oral tobacco, about 2.5 grams, equal to a tablespoonful, or what students call 'a good healthy, man-size dip'." Within 20 minutes, heart rates increased from 69 to an average 88 beats a minute. Average blood pressure values increased from 118/72 to 126/78 (systolic over diastolic pressure). The researchers' earlier animal studies showed similar responses to oral tobacco.

Most physicians become concerned about a sustained blood pressure reading of 160/95 or higher, although new studies have shown that in many individuals a blood pressure that fluctuates into the level of 140/90 should be treated by some combination of diet, exercise and drugs.

Dr. Squires said heart rate and blood pressure in the 20 students soon returned to normal levels when the bolus of tobacco was taken from their mouths.

He and his colleagues at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston summarized their findings this way: "Oral tobacco use can produce significant hemodynamic effects in both animals and normal humans and may pose a health hazard in certain individuals, particularly those with hypertensive predisposition."

The active ingredient causing the cardiovascular response is nicotine, Dr. Squires believes. Oral tobacco also contains licorice, salt and other ingredients.

"None of the athletes quit using oral tobacco after the study," Dr. Squires said in an interview. "They get a little buzz from the tobacco and that's probably why they use it. It didn't improve their athletic performance."

Dr. Squires got the idea for the study when "a physician could find no medical reason for high blood pressure in a Texas Lutheran football player. Medical history did establish, however, that the man had used oral tobacco since the 7th grade."

"I got interested and sent one of my students to a junior high school in Seguin to look around," Dr. Squires explained. "Cigarette smoking is not allowed in the school, but my assistant was shocked to find a large number of students either using oral tobacco or walking around with a can of it in their back pockets."

Dr. Squires is Director of the Crost Life Enrichment Program at Texas Lutheran and an adjunct professor at Baylor. Baylor co-authors of the study are: Ted A. Brandon; Tinker D. Murray, Ph.D.; Steve Zinkgraf, now at the University of New Orleans; Douglas Bonds, and Richard R. Miller, M.D.

CONTACT LENS OR GLASSES?

If you've been wearing glasses, should you change to contact lenses? A lot depends on your personal preferences. Both glasses and contact lenses do the job they're supposed to do: help you see better.

Contact lenses are most popular with young people who are near-sighted and older people who have had cataract surgery, although new developments in lenses make them desirable for most vision patients.

Over 15 million Americans have been fitted with contact lenses. And another million-and-a-half put them on for the first time each year.

Contacts don't steam or fog when the temperature suddenly changes. They tend to increase the peripheral vision, giving the wearer a wider view of what's around him. And it's almost impossible for another to tell when you're wearing them.

But they do require more care. More attention has to be paid to keeping them clean and germ-free. A lot depends on your needs. Your optometrist can help you decide what's best for you.

Booneville Facility Being Considered By Baptist Hospital

Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis has taken an option to lease a 136-bed hospital at Booneville, pending completion of technical studies, Joseph H. Powell, President, said Wednesday.

Option and lease agreements between Northeast Mississippi Hospital and Baptist Memorial were signed in Booneville by Paul Flurry, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Northeast, and Roger N. Struble, Vice President and head of Corporate Services at Baptist.

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Booneville and Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, owners of the 32-year-old hospital, approved the agreement.

Struble said the studies to determine the future of capital needs of the hospital should be completed by December 31.

At that time, Baptist will decide whether to exercise its option to lease the facility for 25 years, the hospital executive said.

During the interim, the affiliation agreement calls for Baptist to provide an administrator to coordinate efforts of the feasibility study team. Struble said John Tompkins, currently a member of the Baptist corporate staff and a former administrator of Northeast, will assume this responsibility.

Baptist became involved with the Booneville hospital when Northeast's trustees asked Baptist to provide a team of specialists to survey the operations of the institution. The nine-member team examined such areas as current systems, financial operations, physical plant, materials management and purchasing, human resources, nursing, ancillary departments and policies and procedures.

The survey also included interviews with key members of the hospital's administrative group, hospital board, medical staff, department managers, and other hospital employees.

The findings on the physical plant revealed sizable expenditures would be necessary to attract new physicians and additional patients.

"There are other significant problem areas. They relate primarily to the industry-wide problem of capital formation. This problem is especially acute with Northeast because the facility is in dire need of renovation," the study said.

The Board of Northeast felt the affiliation agreement with Baptist was the best approach to solving their problems, Struble said.

The Booneville hospital, about 100 miles southeast of Memphis, is the fourth hospital to affiliate with Baptist in 18 months.

Since July, 1980, Baptist has leased a 64-bed hospital in Ripley, Tennessee and a 40-bed hospital in Corning, Arkansas and purchased a 70-bed hospital at Covington, Tennessee.

Baptist has a 1500-bed facility in Memphis' medical center, a 417-bed unit in East Memphis, and a 150-bed rehabilitation unit.

The 69-year-old hospital complex, largest non-profit health care institution in the United States, is owned by Southern Baptists in Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

A FLOAT THAT'S THE BERRIE

This year Thanksgiving cake float will be 20 feet high, 40 feet long and 25 feet wide. It has special meaning for families across the country. For the first time, it will include Strawberry Shortcake along with the turkey.

Early on Thanksgiving morning in New York City, a lovely Strawberry Shortcake float will be rolled out of its warehouse. It will be taken through the Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson River and into New York where it will take its place in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Commissioned for the Parade by American Greetings Corporation and General Mills Marketing and Design Service, the float was built in a former candy factory in Hoboken, New Jersey by Manfred Bass and his talented crew of artists and artisans. It's only one of the many floats being fashioned at Macy's Parade Studio in the New Jersey city.

Though it will look real, don't start whetting your appetite. The giant strawberries and luscious looking whipped cream are papier-mache' covered with a fiberglass coating to protect it in case of rain. On the float will be a Strawberry house with a wooden picket fence and shutters along with Sundae Mountain and bubbling Strawberry Soda brook.

Nutritional Risks Linked To Use Of Drugs, Alcohol

We have become a nation of drug users and abusers, whether it be over-the-counter or prescription medicines.

This is true of all age groups, says Eleanor B. Coats, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

"All drugs are toxic if used in excess, and will almost always cause undesirable side effects," she adds. "One undesirable side effect may be nutritional deficiency. The diet may affect the drug action or, conversely, the drug may affect food intake and the way the body absorbs, uses and gets rid of nutrients."

Some drugs may suppress the appetite by interfering with taste, smell or saliva production. Or they may cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. These side effects can lead to eating poorly or not at all. This is common in persons undergoing chemotherapy.

Drugs also may reduce absorption of nutrients. Laxatives speed up the emptying of the stomach and intestine so that nutrients have less time to be absorbed. Mineral oil combines with fat-soluble vitamins and keeps them from being absorbed. Constant and long use of antacids, common over-the-counter products, can reduce iron absorption and make the body lose enough phosphorus to result in possible muscle weakness. Diuretics increase the excretion of sodium and potassium in the urine and can deplete the body stores.

Other drugs interfere with metabolism and nutrients. Aspirin interferes with vitamin C metabolism. Prolonged use of antibiotics that destroy disease-causing bacteria can destroy the vitamin K-producing bacteria in the intestine and increase blood clotting time.

Oral contraceptives interfere with the body's use of many vitamins. In most healthy women, these decreased vitamin levels do not reach the point of real deficiency. But young women who are on poor diets may develop nutritional problems, she says.

Foods interact with drugs and may affect the absorption and effectiveness of drugs. It is important to know when to take a medicine and what foods to avoid at that time, Mrs. Coats says.

"For example, penicillin should be taken with little or no food, because when it is taken with food, it is not absorbed fully. Certain food may interfere with certain drugs. Milk, for example, blocks the action of tetracyclines," she explains.

Sometimes people will mix a drug with fruit juice or cola to mask the flavor. This is not a good practice because some drugs are dissolved more readily in acid and could irritate the stomach lining.

Get specific instructions for each drug taken. Learn if it should be taken before, after or during meals, and what foods, if any, should be avoided. When consumers buy prescription drugs, they should insist on adequate instructions from physicians and pharmacists and be sure to follow them. When over-the-counter drugs are used, read and follow directions. Federal food and drug regulations require that labels provide warnings about hazards involved in drug use.

Alcohol is considered a drug, but it is not regulated by the Food and Drug Ad-

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

For many years Mary was partially blind. But a skillful surgeon performed a successful operation, and she saw again.

One night after her recovery she went outside and cried, "Come quickly! Just look at those beautiful things."

Running to the porch and looking up, the family saw nothing unusual. So they asked, "What do you mean?"

"Don't you see those bright and beautiful things sparkling in the sky?" she asked.

"But, Mary," they said, "they're just stars."

Too often we take things for granted, not with gratitude.

Think of God's provision. Creatures would perish if there were no herbs, and herbs would die if there were no sunshine and rain. He is always thinking about us and caring for us.

Think of God's protection. He keeps the sea in its channel. He bridle Satan and prevents him from carrying out his evil designs. And He restrains the natural corruption of man.

Let us take things with gratitude, not for granted; and let us always be thankful!

Mt. Gilead Homemakers

The Mt. Gilead Homemakers Club met Tuesday, November 16, at 7:00 for their regular meeting. The president, Lona Odom, presided over the meeting and gave the thought for the month: "Does your faith move mountains or do mountains move your faith?" The group sang "My Country 'Tis Of Thee". The devotion was given by Mary Annice Sitton. She read Psalms 100. The prayer was led by Mrs. Lilla Davis. Plans were made for the Thanksgiving baskets to be distributed to elderly people in the neighborhood as an expression of love and concern. Plans were also made for the Christmas party in December. Mrs. Lilla Davis gave an educational report on "Health, Food and Nutrition", and Mary Annice Sitton gave a report on fashions. Mattie Faye Woodruff gave a demonstration on making pot holders. Delicious refreshments were served by Mary Annice Sitton and Tressie Bonds.
