NINETY-NINTH YEAR

IUKA, TISHOMINGO COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Ghouls...and Ghosties...and Long-Legged Beesties...

Spooking up a good book at the Iuka Library, Todd Williams and Jessica Perkins, compliment the beautiful seasonal display, attired in their original Halloween costumes. At the base of the corn shock is a variety of Tishomingo home-grown products - corn, cotton, peanuts, potatoes, onions, peppers, apples, pumpkins and apple cider. Bewitching the scene, the curled-up black cat and the cackling old witch give their approval to the season's merriment. Todd is the youngest of three sons belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Williams. His older brothers are John and Tony. Maternal grandparents are Ovel Reynolds, of Iuka, and Estene Comer, of Burnsville. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, of Iuka. Todd's great-grandmothers are Leona Fields and Annie Mae Walker, both of Iuka. Jessica Eden is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jim Perkins. Her older sisters are Jeanne, Julie, and Jayme. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Perkins, of Iuka; and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Emerson, of Glen. Ms. Jessica's great-grandmothers are Mrs. Mary Emerson, of Iuka, and Mrs. Dena Woodruff, of Glen. Todd and Jessica are both students of the Iuka Church of Christ Kindergarten.

Halloween Carnival Full Of Spirit & Fun

Local goblins and ghoules will be in for a real 'treat' Saturday night, October 30, as the Iuka Band Auxiliary sponsors the annual Halloween Carnival in the old gym at the Iuka High School. Fun and frolic begins at 5 p.m. and continues through 9 p.m.

Exciting games and attractions are planned for all ages including: the concession stand, open serving their specialty of hot dogs, popcorn and Cokes; the Country Store, plenty of appetizers such as fried pies, parched peanuts, cheese and crackers, dill pickles, home-baked brownies and cookies, along with home-canned goodies, craft items, white elephant bargains, books, gifts, crochet items, and much more.

A fortune teller will be available for those daring enough to peek into their future adventures, and always popular cake walk will be keeping in step with the music, and one of the favorites of all is Bingo, where one could be the lucky winner of some nice gifts donated by our local merchants.

Among the games will be the bottle throw, dart throw, fish pond, dip-a-duck, ring toss, ring-the-bottle, lollipop tree, sponge throw, and the DECA Jail where one could expect to spend time behind bars if the proper bail isn't posted.

A special feature of the carnival this year will be the drawing for the $150.00 worth of groceries donated by local supermarkets. Chances are being sold and will be available until the drawing.

Climaxing the activities will be the crowning of the Halloween King and Queen at 8 p.m. Also, a prize will be awarded to the best costumed boy and girl.

Don't miss any of the excitement! The carnival provides fun in place of pranks for children and adults alike. Come out and help keep the Iuka High, Junior High, and Elementary Band in tune.

—NOTICE—

A work night has been designated for 6:00 p.m. Friday at the old gym for assembling of the booths for the carnival. Also, donated items need to be turned in on Friday, if possible, or by 3:00 p.m. Saturday.

Monies collected by perspective kings and queens must be turned in by 7:00 p.m. Saturday night.

Spaghetti Supper At Rocky Springs

Rocky Springs United Methodist Church is once again sponsoring their annual spaghetti supper at the church on Coleman Park Road. The date for the supper will be Friday, October 29, from 5 until 8. You may eat at the church or carry-outs will be available.

Cost will be adults, $3.00; children, $2.00; and children under 6 years of age may eat free. Dessert will be included with your meal.

Homebaked cakes and pies will be for sale.

Time Is Near For The Election Of A U.S. Senator Tuesday, November 2

As the campaign for the United States Senate ends with the election next Tuesday, Mississippians must decide who will be our United States Senator.

The main issue in the campaign is who will best represent Mississippi in the U.S. Senate and do the most for its citizens.

Senator Stennis is the clear choice for he is one of the most important leaders in the U.S. Senate. He is an honorable man who has served the people of Mississippi long and well. He is a man of tremendous character, integrity and honesty. Senator Stennis is a proven statesman with a proven record who has always stood for the best principles and who has stood up for what is best for Mississippi.

John Stennis is a legend in Washington who is highly respected by the leadership in Washington and he makes his influence felt as he battles for Mississippi.

He has become personally involved in every major project which has helped Mississippi during the last thirty-five years. There can be no better monument to Senator Stennis in Mississippi than the thousands of jobs that exist because of his work.

Senator Stennis is a recognized leader in the U.S. Senate. If the Senate should return to Democratic control sometime in the next six years, by Senator Stennis re-election, he would be in position to be president pro tempore of the Senate in addition to having his choice of being chairman of the Senate Appropriation Committee or the Senate Armed Services Committee.

We should re-elect Senator Stennis for when John Stennis talks, Washington listens, President Reagan listens, the Cabinet listens and more importantly, the entire U.S. Senate listens.

The personal power and prestige of Senator Stennis will continue to magnify the voice of Mississippians if you return Senator Stennis to Washington.

It is inconceivable that Mississippians would throw away that kind of leadership.

Keeping John Stennis in the United States Senate is most important to Mississippi's future.

Burnsville PTL Oktoberfest

Witches and goblins galore are anticipating the weekend Halloween 'Oktoberfest' extravaganza to be staged by the Burnsville PTL, Saturday night, October 30, at the Burnsville High School. Bewitching hours will begin at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is invited. A great time is predicted for all.

'Oktoberfest' is the theme for this year's fun and frolic filled celebration of the annual Halloween holiday.

City Officials

Curfew

Trick-or-Treating

Iuka Mayor, John H. Biggs, has officially designated the early hours of Saturday night, October 30, for local tricksters to don their disguise apparel and enter the world of Ghosts and goblins. Mayor Biggs suggests that parents take their youngsters to houses of people they know and those that enjoy seeing the little pranksters. Limiting the hours for trick-or-treating, the mayor further stated, "... from 6:30 until 8:30 should be enough time for our youth to engage in this annual celebration."

Iuka Police Chief, Joel Holliman, warns that all acts of vandalism will subject the offender to a fine. "Water balloon throwing is prohibited, with no exceptions," he stated. "They are dangerous to people if struck by them," the official confirmed, adding "automobile windows can burst under the force, when thrown." Another warning was issued concerning egg-throwing. "If caught throwing eggs, the offender will be given a fine." Chief Holliman emphasized that he and the other local law enforcers want all to have a good time, enjoying clean fun, and leaving off any acts that might be harmful or regretful.

Halloween observances around the country always bring worries about vandalism, but these days people are concerned about much more than property damage. Avoid the pitfalls of this annual day, engage in wholesome activities, and have a safe Halloween the carnival atmosphere will include: the dunking booth, animal walk, fish pond, face painting, and the pretty legs contest. The cakewalk will be in full swing, allowing participants to take home some homebaked goodies and the Bingo booth provides a chance for everyone to win some nice prize. For those who enjoy a good fright, or just to stimulate one's adrenalin, the spook house is just what the doctor orders. This is always popular with the youth.

The food concessions will be serving a large variety of 'treats' including hot dogs, popcorn, drinks, candied apples and lots more goodies.

Prizes will be given throughout the evening, along with this year's special prize - a 19" color TV to be awarded at the conclusion of the merry making.

The Burnsville PTL promotes and provides good clean fun for this year's crop of spooks. By supporting the 'Oktoberfest', harmful pranks and vandalism will be discouraged and the Burnsville School will benefit. Come out, have a fun-filled evening and help the Burnsville School compete.

Bake Sale

Saturday, October 30, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. a bake sale will be held in front of Piggly Wiggly to raise money for Pamela Williams and Michael Osborn, Iuka 4th grade representatives for Halloween King and Queen. Lots of cakes, pies and all kinds of goodies will be available.

Tishomingo P.T.A. Spaghetti Supper

The Tishomingo P.T.A. will sponsor a spaghetti supper Thursday night, October 28, at the Tishomingo School Cafeteria.

Adult plates $3.00 advance, $3.50 at the door; elementary student plates $2.00 advance and $2.50 at the door; children 5 years and under - free.

Tuesday's Election Affects State And County Offices

On Tuesday, November 2, 1982, approximately 11,500 registered voters in Tishomingo County will have the privilege, duty, and responsibility of voting in the General Election. On the ballots will be candidates ranging from the state level of U.S. Senators down to the county level of County Board of Education.

In the General Election there will be one ballot. The Democratic Party Nominees and the Republicans will be listed on the same ballot, and voting may be split, if the voters so desires.

On the ballot for United States Senator, Democrat Incumbent John C. Stennis will be challenged by Haley Barbour, a 34-year-old Yazoo City attorney. Barbour will be the first Republican to oppose Stennis in the veteran lawmaker's long career.

For United States House of Representatives, First District, Democratic Incumbent, Jamie L. Whitten will be seeking re-election over 32-year-old Oxford resident, Fran Fawcett.

For Chancery Court Judge (place I), Democrat Fred P. Wright, (place II), Democrat James E. Bost, and (place III), Democrat George F. Adams.

For Circuit Court Judge, First District, (place I), Democrat Fred Wicker, (place II), Democrat James E. Bost, and (place III), Democrat George F. Adams.

For Chancery Court Judge (place I), Democrat Fred P. Wright, (place II), Democrat James E. Bost, and (place III), Democrat George F. Adams.

For Circuit Court Judge, First District, (place I), Democrat Fred Wicker, (place II), Democrat Thomas J. Gardner, III, and (place III), Democrat Neal Biggers, Jr.

Within Tishomingo County, voters will be asked to elect Jerry L. Moss to the County Board of Education, Third District. Moss is unopposed in his vie for the office. The East Iuka Precinct box will not be represented in this election since these voters are in the Iuka Special Municipal Separate School District.

Fourth District voters will elect a member to the Board of Education from these four candidates: Paul Whitlock, Archie Berryman, Jimmy Dale Phifer, and Floyd L. Ware.

The ballots on Tuesday, November 2, will have four amendments to be voted on. They are: Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 506, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 517, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 519, and House Concurrent Resolution No. 23.

All voters are urged to go to

Extension Homemakers Club

Would you like to be a better individual, homemaker, and citizen? Join an Extension Homemakers Club that will provide you with learning experiences and opportunities.

Clubs are made up of eight or more members who want to become better individuals, homemakers, and citizens. Monthly meetings of an Extension Homemakers Club are one hour educational meetings. Programs are very educational, consisting of up-to-date home economics information, as well as skills for everyday living. There are several kinds of Homemakers Clubs - the traditional Extension Homemakers Club, the subject matter Extension Homemakers Club (for example, a Sewing Club), and the Young Homemakers Club. You are invited to join an

BILL QUISENBERRY III, (left), Director of the Mississippi Wildlife Heritage Committee, and Bobby Wilson (center), District Wildlife Biologist with the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, met with Rep. Mack Wadkins (right) on Monday, October 18, 1982 for the purpose of discussing a proposed 19,000 acre public wildlife management area along the Tenn-Tom project in Tishomingo County. The proposed area involves land acquired in fee by the Corps of Engineers along the Divide Section of the Waterway. The Corps and the State, acting through the Department of Wildlife Conservation, and with support from the Wildlife Heritage Committee, are considering a land lease agreement whereby the Department of Wildlife Conservation would carry out wildlife management activities on the property. The major hurdle to establishment of the management area is funding for the personnel, equipment and supplies necessary to properly manage the land. It would cost approximately $121,000 for the first year of operation and some $489,000 for the first five years. These monies will either have to come from the Corps or be appropriated by the Mississippi Legislature as the Department does not have sufficient budget to establish the area at the present time.

Extension Homemakers Club or you may invite eight or more friends to meet and call your Tishomingo County Home Economist to organize an Extension Homemakers Club in your community. For more information, please call Nellie R. Horton, Extension Home Economist, 423-3616, or write her at the Extension Home Economist's Office, P.O. Box 610, Iuka, MS, 38852.

Food Tips

FAD: Foods without additives are better.

FACT: Additives improve the quality and shelf life of foods. They slow color change, flavor change and spoilage. They give wanted consistency - they emulsify for creamy salad dressing and they thicken for rich puddings and gravy mixes; they cause breads to rise; they add nutrients; they give expected color to certain foods; they add color to certain foods; they add flavor and they keep foods from drying out. All food additives must pass strict tests; they must be safe. The best advice is to accept as safe additives that have been approved. Eat a wide variety of foods and eat some foods that are not processed such as fresh fruits and vegetables.

Hamburger Special

1/2 tsp. salt
1 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup green pepper strips
1 can (10-1/2 ozs.) cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
4 large hamburger buns, split and toasted
Paprika

Sprinkle salt in skillet and heat to moderate temperature. Break ground beef up and brown lightly in skillet, stirring with pancake turner and separating meat into small particles. When pink color begins to disappear from meat, add onion and green pepper and cook until onion is transparent. (Be careful not to cook meat until it is very brown and hard.) Add soup and milk mixture

Heaters Require Caution

Anyone who uses portable kerosene heaters to warm homes may be endangering their health and safety if they aren't extremely careful in operating the appliances.

In addition to posing a severe threat of fire, portable kerosene heaters lower the quality of the air in the home. Manufacturers recommend leaving a window or door open at least an inch when the heaters are in use.

Many individuals often disregard this suggestion. When that happens and the heater is operated in an unventilated area, dangerous levels of carbon monoxide can develop. You can't see or smell the deadly gas.

Simply getting out of the room and into fresh air isn't always enough to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning. It's possible for a person to die of suffocation even after being removed from the room where the poisoning happened.

Some early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning are dizziness, drowsiness, headache, nausea and/or vomiting. If you do use a kerosene heater, use these precautions.

Never leave children unattended with a burning heater. Use only clean white kerosene. Lower grades will clog the heater and make excessive smoke.

Open the door or window at least an inch. Even though you may not experience carbon monoxide symptoms, the accumulation of even small doses can be dangerous over a period of several weeks.

Keep the heater away from curtains and drapes and protect it from being overturned. Don't use hair spray or other flammable sprays in the

With a burning kerosene heater.

Fall Pruning Harmful

Fall is the worst time of the year to prune ornamental trees and shrubs. Plants pruned in the fall will put on new growth that doesn't have time to mature and harden before freezing weather. To prevent winterkill, prune ornamentals in later winter or early spring.

Farming Makes Jobs

Agriculture's contributions go well beyond the farm. One of every five jobs in the United States is tied to agriculture, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Altogether, 24 million people are employed to produce, process, transport and market farm products and farm production inputs.

Farmweek

Jerry and Tim Baker, of Belzoni, are the only producers in the state who both grow and mill their rice crops. On Nov. 1, Farmweek features the Baker brothers and their rice milling operation on the Mississippi Educational Television Network. Reporter Helen Brahan has the story at 7:20 p.m.

Fall Pruning Is A No-No!

By: Leon Perry,
Area Agent

Stop! It's not the right time of year to prune. Fall is the worst time of year to prune ornamental trees and shrubs. Flower buds have formed on most spring blooming deciduous shrubs such as spirea, goldenbells, quince, weigela, azaleas, and rhododendrons. Fall pruning will remove much of next spring's flowers. Fall pruning of evergreens is a dangerous practice since the resulting new growth does not have time to mature and "harden off" before freezing weather arrives. Therefore, drastic winter kill can be expected on fall pruned shrubs and trees.

Most of the pruning for size control should be done in later winter. For more information, contact your local Extension Office and ask for our information sheet on PRUNING LANDSCAPE PLANTS.

There's an exception for everything, and it is ok to prune out dead or diseased tissue which may affect future health of the planting.

The above information was taken from the Turf and Landscape Maintenance Guide prepared by Jim Perry, Extension Landscape Specialist, Mississippi State University.

Conservation Notes

By: Bobby Manley

Growing a tree crop is different from raising other cash crops in only two ways. First, it takes longer to grow a tree to merchantable size and second, there is not as much work to be performed in raising a tree crop. A tree crop does not have to be cultivated and if seed trees are left, landowners probably will not have to replant because the seed trees will provide the seed source for reforestation if given a chance. Also, by keeping out wildfires and harmful grazing, this will give the tree seedlings a chance to grow.

Timber can be raised and harvested just like cotton, corn, soybeans, or cattle but most landowners who own small acreages of timberland do not realize this, therefore, they fail to properly harvest this extra crop. Owners do not realize that trees could be harvested time after time from the same land when proper harvesting methods are applied. Nor do owners realize that proper harvesting methods could provide a number of harvest cutting in a lifetime.

A few wise and farsighted landowners did, however, learn that woodland management techniques were profitable. They began to harvest their trees according to a plan known as forest management plan. This is where the forest manager develops a plan according to the capability of the land to produce the best species of tree for the land and select the trees to be harvested, with the landowner, will leave crop trees harvested later for management.

As trees continue to further thinnings necessary. These trees be sold as fence posts, wood, sawlogs, pole piling. Trees grow very slowly because of the growing season and dant rainfall. These trees grow several feet in each year. Crooked, diseased and slower-growing should be among the harvesting cut. The remaining trees will continue to grow and give more products. The process of removing some for products and leaving growing is called selective cutting.

Another method of establishing a woodland start with all of the trees same age. This is done by planting the seedlings from nurseries or it may be done by seed from selected trees as seed trees on the land. Then when these young trees grow to a certain size, all of them are cut and land is then replanted with new forest crop in the form of a plantation.

If you would like information on woodland management practices by or call the Soil Conservation Service Office. The telephone number is 6272.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY

OPTOMETRIST

CAN CROSSED EYES BE BEAUTIFUL?

Among the ancient Mayans, it was a sign of beauty to be cross-eyed. Mayan mothers would hang beads in front of their children's eyes to make them permanently cross-eyed and consequently, "more beautiful". Needless to say, tastes have changed significantly since then. Modern parents are concerned about correcting this condition, not inflicting it.

What does it mean to be "cross-eyed"? To begin with, the technical term is strabismus, and it applies to all abnormalities in coordination of the movements of the two eyes, not only those which are deviated inward (convergent). It can assume many forms: one eye turned up or down, in or out, a combination of the two. It may be constant or occasional. But even if your child only exhibits this symptom rarely, it is unwise to ignore it because it might lead to amblyopia (lazy eye) where early detection is crucial for successful treatment.

In our age, beauty and good vision go together.

Miss Edmondson is an honor graduate of Tishomingo High School where she was a member of the Beta Club, Hall of Fame, Who's Who Among American High School Students, and captain of the cheerleading squad. She is presently enrolled at Northeast Mississippi Junior College where she is majoring in nursing.

The groom-elect is a 1982 graduate of luka High School where he was a member of the 1981 Chieftain football team, and 1979-80 basketball team, and listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. He is presently employed at the McBride Garden Center in luka, Mississippi, where he has worked for the past five years.

Vows will be exchanged November 20, at 6 p.m. at Mount Glory Baptist Church, Route 1, luka. Brother Marvin Butler will officiate the ceremony.

A reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Southward, Jr., sister of the bride.

Friends and relatives of the bride and groom are invited to attend the happy occasion.

Cliff Is One

Cliff Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Johnson, of luka, celebrated his first birthday September 29, 1982. Helping Cliff celebrate were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Johnson, his great-grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Ramsey, and several aunts and uncles. Everyone enjoyed refreshments of a clown cake, ice cream and Coke. Cliff received many gifts.

National Headstart Month

Tishomingo County Head Start Centers are observing October as National Head Start Month. Tishomingo County is served by four centers: luka, Burnsville, Carter and Belmont. The centers are open during the month of August and close during the month of May. Each center is open from 7:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Pre-registration is held county-wide during the spring for children four years of age on or before September 1. Each center consists of the following staff: head teacher, teacher, teacher's aide, health service specialist, community aide, head cook, assistant cook, and janitor. Each center encourages parent involvement, by having parent meetings, special events designed for parent-child participation, also by giving the opportunity for parent and non-parents to feel free to volunteer their services in the Head Start Centers. We would like to encourage any senior citizen who would like to volunteer to contact any of the four centers.

Given below is a small description of each center:

IUKA HEAD START: Located on Ronnie King Drive adjacent to the luka Elementary. luka Center serves 60 children and has ten employees. The children are involved in community awareness, field trips, and other educational activities. The children will be given a Halloween party, with parents volunteering their time. Parents have also been asked to donate refreshments, and have planned games for the children.

BURNSVILLE HEAD START: Located adjacent to Burnsville School. Burnsville Center serves 54 children and has ten employees. The children have and will be involved in some special field trips to the Fire Department, City Hall, and also the Community Library, which is visited by the children weekly. The children will be visiting the Tenn-Tom Waterway this week.

CARTER HEAD START: Located on Hwy. 384 just off Hwy. 25 South in the Midway Community. Carter Center serves 40 children and has eight employees. The children and parents are planning to celebrate Halloween by having an auction, carnival and selling chances on a ham and groceries, which will be held October 29, 1982, at the Center. Parents and community are invited to come and celebrate Halloween with them.

BELMONT HEAD START: Located adjacent to Belmont School. Belmont serves 60 children and has eight employees. The children have taken field trips to the Post Office and Fire Department. The parents are planning Halloween activities this week for the children in the center.

MISSISSIPPI ACTION FOR PROGRESS (MAP), INC. is a Head Start Agency operating (66) Head Start Centers in twenty counties within the state, which includes Tishomingo County. The agency is funded through a grant from the Administration for Children, Youth and Families (ACYF) of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). MAP's Central Office is located in Jackson and is responsible for overall planning, managing and monitoring the Head Start activities for the twenty counties under its umbrella. Mr. Arvern Moore is the Executive Director of MAP.

We hope that the information in this article has helped in explaining how important Head Start is to your community. We extend an open invitation for parents and public to visit the centers.

A SPECIAL NOTE: Always Remember That Children Learn What They Live.

Winter Touts Head Start Benefits

More than 30,000 Mississippi youngsters are helped by the Head Start Program and there is a waiting list.

Gov. William Winter has proclaimed October as Head Start Awareness Month to let people know the benefits of this completely federally funded program.

In 1981, some $50 million in

THE IUKA HEADSTART CENTER is one of four centers now serving Tishomingo

County. The luka Center has ten employees supervising the 60 children presently enrolled. Posing for the photographer, a group of the children were excitedly involved with Halloween projects. In observance of federal money was used to provide preschool training to disadvantaged children in all 82 counties, by 22 coordinating agencies.

The Head Start Program, which has been in operation for 17 years, employs about 6,500 people statewide and serves about 3,000 handicapped children.

Children between 3 and 6 years old are eligible, but proof of birth, immunization and family income must be shown to determine eligibility.

Under federal regulations at least 10 percent of the children served must be handicapped, regardless of parents' income. Another 10 percent can be over the poverty level, but the remaining 80 percent must be from disadvantaged families.

The program provides children with breakfast, lunch and snacks.

Winter said Head Start "has established itself as the foremost early childhood development program in the United States."

Birthday Dinner

On August 24, sixty-two persons gathered at the home of Charlie and Edith Carson to celebrate several birthdays and to enjoy a covered dish dinner.

The following enjoyed the fantastic meal: Curtis and Irene Butler, Louanne Butler,

Donald, Pam and Alecia Carson, Benny, Diane, Stephanie and Josh, Charles Linda, Stacey and Chris Carson, Howard Carson and granddaughter, Benji Rye, Gayle and Clayton Parnell, Alonzo Carson, Billy and Virginia Dean, Jim, Margaret, Beth and Rebecca Carson, Evelyn Milligan, Nellie Milligan, Kirk, Linda, Hollie and Kelly

Milligan, Eugene, Linda and Marc Milligan, Virgil and Ginger Carson, of New Orleans; Gladys and Auston Curtis, Charles and Cindy O'Daniel, of Tennessee; Bruce, Ann, Chad and Nichole Harwell, John, Sue, Ken and Jill Scott, Jack Milligan, Robert, Martha and Bobby Middleton, of Corinth; Mac Milligan, Willie Mae Carson, Gene and Ola Mae Graham, Charlie and Edith Carson, Ella Davis.

The big event of the day for Charlie and Edith Carson was hearing from W.T., Brenda, Bruce, Neal and Jeff Carson in Saudi Arabia.

Thanks so much, Charlie and Edith, for having us all. We love ya'll and hope to see you again next year.

Let's Talk.

Talking. It's the best way to find out what's happening. To understand.

South Central Bell believes in talking things over. And there's never been a time when talking was more important. You may have heard about changes coming in the way you'll be getting your phone service. We want to talk with you about these changes. And answer some of the questions you may have been asking about South Central Bell.

Questions such as these:

Q. I've heard stories about "divestiture" and the telephone company splitting up. It's all very complicated. What's happening?

A. Simply put, AT&T has agreed to separate itself from the local operations of its 22 Bell operating telephone companies. So in the future, South Central Bell will no longer be affiliated with AT&T.

Q. If South Central Bell doesn't have AT&T behind it, won't the quality of my telephone service be affected?

A. You can expect the same dependable service you have now. And you'll have the same dedicated people standing behind it. You'll also have more options than ever before in terms of equipment, services and suppliers.

Q. What will happen to my local rates? Is it true they're going to skyrocket?

A. Your rates are not going to skyrocket. They may continue to go up, but not because of the separation from AT&T. Increases in our costs are the main reason. For example, inflation causes increases in the cost of services and goods we use to provide phone service. And new technology in telecommunications makes it necessary for us to replace some equipment faster than in the past. Local rates will have to go up to cover part of these increased costs.

Q. Will South Central Bell be allowed to charge whatever it wants for local calls?

A. No. Local rates will still be regulated by the state's public service commission. And at South Central Bell, we will continue to do everything we can to keep these rates as low as possible.

Q. Where will I get my telephone in the future? And who will fix it in case something goes wrong or it breaks?

A. At some time in the future, you will be able to get phones from an AT&T subsidiary, other phone suppliers or possibly South Central Bell. Repair of phone equipment likely will be provided by the company that supplies the equipment. South Central Bell will continue to maintain your local telephone lines.

You may have more questions about the changes at South Central Bell. And we want to make it easy for you to get answers.

So give us a call toll free at 1 800 555-5000, 10 a.m. - 11 p.m., Central Time, Monday through Friday. We're ready to talk.

Or send in this coupon. You'll get an answer. And a free booklet, "Let's Talk About Change."

Let's talk.

Parents and students are greatly indebted to the businessmen in Iuka and the surrounding area who make school annuals, school newspapers, football programs, and little league baseball teams a possibility. Those businesses, which employ students, are also owed a great deal. It is the business people who stand behind our youth when economic times are bad, when our athletic teams lose as well as win, and when it seems that nothing is given in return.

They do this simply

In Memory Of Hursal South,

Who Died October 30, 1978

"We never lose the ones we love,
For even though they're gone,
Within the hearts of those who care,
Their memory lingers on."

"If life is good, Eternal life is better,
For that's where joy and peace go on and on,
And who - by sorrow -
Would detain a loved one
From passing into that Eternal dawn."

There's an open gate
At the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone,
And there is a light we cannot see,
Our Father claims His own.

Beyond the gate, your loved one
Finds happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought,
That a loving God knows best.

PTA Teacher Spotlight

The Iuka High-Junior High PTA salutes Linda Barnett. Mrs. Barnett has been the Guidance Counselor for grades 1 through 12 in the Iuka School System for the past four years. She sponsors the Junior Class this year and says she enjoys working with all the students. Mrs. Barnett received her education at Mississippi State University. She received a B.S. degree as well as a Master of Education degree from Mississippi State. She is affiliated with Phi Kappa Phi National Honorary Society, Mississippi Personnel & Guidance Association, American Vocational Association, Mississippi Association of Vocational Educators, Mississippi Vocational Counselors Association, NEA, MAE and the Northeast Personnel & Guidance Association. Mrs. Barnett recently married William Barnett, a teacher and coach at Iuka High School. They presently reside in Burton, Miss. Mrs. Barnett's interests are travel, sports and meeting people. Her favorite person in her field is Dr. Joe Ray Underwood at Mississippi State University. This series of Teacher Spotlights is sponsored by the Iuka High-Junior High School PTA and The Tishomingo County News to honor our hard-working teachers and to increase community recognition of them and their achievements. The next PTA meeting is Thursday, November 11, at 7 p.m.

Chieftain Tales

By: Barbara Woodruff & Cynthia Underwood

HI Everyone,
The Chiefs had a cold night for the Homecoming game, but it turned out well. Melinda Curtis was chosen Miss Junior High Homecoming Queen. Annette Allhiser was chosen Miss IHS Homecoming Queen. Congratulations to both of you! The Chieftains really played a great game even though we lost. This week is an open night, so we won't be having a football game until next Friday. This game will be against Baldwin on their field. It will be the last game of the season.

Monday is going to be the DECA Skate-a-Thon at Skateworld from 6:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. Everyone be sure to have a sponsor sheet and come to skate for Muscular Dystrophy. People without sponsor sheets are to pay $5.00 at the door.

THE GOSSIP
Jeff G. Photo Papa!
Melissa M. - Does your secret admirer have a Mohawk?
Tina K. - A year from November?
Mike F. - Been called a "Squirt" lately?
Stevie A. - Were you cold Friday night?
Scottie G. - Started a fire lately?
Mike M. Love that car!
Jimmy C. - Do you date Amazons? (Just kidding, T.M.)

COUPLES OF THE WEEK

Chieftains Unable To Rope Mantachie

In homecoming game action, the Chieftain's hopes of winning were shattered by a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns from the Mantachie Mustangs, making the final tally 34-26.

The score was 16-0 in favor of Mantachie before the Chieftains responded with a 24-yard pass from Randy Burton to James Butler.

In the third quarter the Chieftains scored two more touchdowns. Senior Steve Ortnor made the first touchdown. Jeff Hapner ran 35 yards for the other and made the two point conversion.

Iuka also scored on a 35-yard pass from Randy Burton to Hot Dog Brown.

Mantachie came back with two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, as they rushed for an 8-point lead.

Iuka failed to change the score before the end of the game.

The Chieftains out-rushed Mantachie 200 to 195 yards.

Speaking of the game, Assistant Coach Jerry Long said, "I think it was the best offensive game we've played all year. I was proud of Stevie Ortnor, our only senior. This was the best game he has played all year."

Tomorrow night is an open date for the Chieftains.

Candlelight Ceremony Scene Of Woodruff - Kenaum Nuptials

and lace.

Bridesmaids were attired in gowns of dusty rose chiffon and lace. The bridesmaids were: Alisa Parsons, Pam Smith, Marcia Alexander, sister of the groom, Debbie Woodruff, sister-in-law of the bride, and Jennifer Minton.

The bride's party was adorned in burgundy and rose tilaras with matching bouquets.

Ladana Grisham, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

Attending the groom as best man was Dale Vandiver. Groomsmen were Tommy Ray Strickland, nephew of the groom, James L. Barnes, David and Buddy Kenaum, brothers of the groom, and Iver Vandiver. Serving as ringbearer was Jeremy South, nephew of the bride. Serving as ushers were Ronnie Woodruff, brother of the bride, and Jerry South, brother-in-law of the bride. The entire groom's party was attired in ivory tuxedos.

Music was presented by Teresa South, who sang "Theme From Ice Castles" and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt on the prayer bench. She was accompanied by Ms. Janie Belue on the organ.

Paulette South, cousin of the bride, presided over the guest register.

The candlelight ceremony was graced with baskets of burgundy and rose blades.

Presiding over the ceremony was the Rev. Billy Quinn, of Iuka.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall. Serving as hostesses at the reception were aunts of the bride and groom, Lela South, Opal Crabb, Lila Robertson, and Frances Feltman.

After a short wedding trip, the couple are making their

The Fifth Street Baptist Church, of Iuka, was the scene of vows exchanged between Patty Diane Woodruff and Gary Lane Kenaum on August 7, 1982.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. (Eddie) Woodruff. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Woodruff and Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Nunley, all of Iuka.

The groom is the son of the late Rev. T.E. Kenaum and Mrs. Odeen Kenaum. Grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Rhodes and the late Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Kenaum.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of ivory organza with chantilly lace trim featuring an elegant Queen Anne neckline, bishop sleeves of lace and bodice overlaid with chantilly lace adorned with scattered seed pearls. The flowing skirt fell from an empire waistline into a multi ruffled hemline with a graceful chapel train.

A beautiful bridal hat fashioned of ivory lace trimmed in satin ribbon with a spray of tulle falling from the back completed the bride's ensemble.

The bridal bouquet was a silk arrangement of burgundy and rose.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Teresa South, attired in a gown of burgundy chiffon

Miss Sharon Jones To Wed Joel Bolding

Maternal grandparents of the bride-to-be are Mrs. Cloie S. Powell, of Burnsville, and the late Thomas G. Powell, of Hatley, Miss. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. Richrd C. Jones, of Waterbury, Cn., and the late Claire R. Jones.

Sharon is a 1982 graduate of Red Bay High School. She is presently attending Northeast Mississippi Junior College in Booneville, Ms. Joel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolding, of Red Bay. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carney Barksdale, of Red Bay. His paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Andy Bolding. Joel is a 1979 graduate of Red Bay High School. He is presently employed by Marshall Durbin Co., of Birmingham, Ala.

The wedding will be solemnized on November 20, 1982, at the New Union Baptist Church, Red Bay, at 4 p.m. The bride's father will officiate, assisted by Dr. Bobby Clark, of West Memphis, Ark.

No invitations are being sent. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

and the world as a whole. She then read a poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox entitled "You and Today".

Tressie Bonds gave the demonstration on Timber Hills Mental Health Center. She gave some information on what it means and why we have the center. Also, the services the center renders to individuals who need help with different problems.

Kathleen Moore, Secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Lilla Davis gave a cemetery report. The Focus Topic was given in a skit by Tressie Bonds and Lona Odom. This skit was based on wise shopping for nutritional foods.

Mattie Faye Woodruff displayed a number of Christmas decorations that were made by Mrs. James A. Moore, of Memphis.

Refreshments were served to: Imogene Parsons, Kathleen Moore, Mary Annice Sitton, Lilla Davis, Tressie Bonds, Lona Odom and Elaine Timbes.

The next meeting will be in the home of Kathleen Moore.

FARMER'S CHOICE:

Special Discount
Or Lower Leasing Rates

For a limited time, you can buy any standard Butler farm building and get a special fall discount off the regular price. Or, if you choose to lease the building, you get a very low implicit interest rate. It's your choice.

And remember, your best choice in farm buildings today is Butler. All-steel construction makes every building virtually maintenance free. The rugged, clear-span steel frame is covered with strong corrugated panels that fit together precisely. Roof panels are secured with heavy-duty Scrubolt® fasteners and durable Panlastic® sealant—a roof system so reliable, it carries a 20-year warranty.

Make your choice now. Choose the building you need. Choose the finance plan that best suits your budget. See us for complete details.

Iuka Baptist Church Setting Of Edmondson - Lock Wedding

Deanna Lane Edmondson and Robert Lynn Locke were united in Holy Matrimony on Sunday, August 29, 1982, at the Iuka Baptist Church. The candlelight ceremony was performed at 3:00 p.m. with Bro. Lauren Locke, uncle of the groom, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Edmondson, of Iuka.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer (Curly) Locke, of Iuka.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless formal wedding gown of white wedgewood lace featuring a high Venice lace trimmed neckline, a sheer V insert bodice sprinkled with pearls, and translucent sequins, and matching lace gaunlets.

The flowing skirt fell into five tiers of lace ruffles with satin ribbon trim with a graceful cathedral train.

A circle fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a camelot cap decorated with Venice lace and seed pearls.

The bride carried an airy bouquet of assorted colors of pink roses, daisies and baby's breath with long satin ribbons tied in love knots.

The wedding music was presented by Ladye Love Long. She was accompanied by Londee Kent on the piano.

Lisa Edmondson, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Tammie Bullard, cousin of the bride, Ladye Love Long, Sarah Hodge, Becky Vandiver, Gail Wallace, all of Iuka, and Tacy Garner, cousin of the bride, from Tupelo.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore floor-length dresses of strawberry pink taffeta, which tied in a bow at the waist. It featured an off-shoulder ruffled neckline. They carried bouquets of assorted colors of pink roses, daisies, and baby's breath with pink satin ribbon streamers.

Lorrie Bivins, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a light pink floor-length dress and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Jimmy Lovelace served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Norman Locke and Jerry Locke, brothers of the groom, Johnny Bullard, cousin of the bride, all of Iuka, and Dwayne Garner, cousin of the bride, from Tupelo.

The groom wore a white tuxedo. He wore a single rose boutonniere on his lapel. The groomsmen wore a light gray tuxedo with a boutonniere of a single white carnation.

Master Terry Welch, cousin of the bride, served in the wedding as ring bearer.

Debbie Edmondson and Heather Cobb, both cousins of the bride, served as rice and scroll girls.

Wanda Locke, sister-in-law of the groom, presided over the guest register at the wedding.

The guests were ushered by Donald Edmondson, uncle of the bride, and David Thorne.

The wedding was under the direction of Mrs. Yvonne Long.

A reception followed the wedding in the church fellowship hall. The reception area was beautifully decorated and under the direction of Mrs. Betty Hooker and Mrs. Sheila Thorne.

Serving as hostess at the bride's table were Ettie Cobb, of Brandon, Miss.; Pam Garner, of Tupelo; and Janis Welch, of Iuka. Brenda Bivins served at the groom's table. They are all aunts of the bride.

Lillie Edmondson, aunt of the bride, presided over the guest register at the reception.

Londee Kent entertained by playing a variety of music.

For traveling the bride chose a gray cotton dress trimmed in pink and white. She wore her mother's corsage of pink carnations and baby's breath.

After a honeymoon in Florida the couple will reside in Iuka.

On Sunday, July 18, the bride was honored with a wedding shower at the home of Pauline Johnson. She received many nice gifts. Hostesses were Pauline Johnson, Winford Johnson, Ellen Ayers, Pam McBee and Patty Bellavia.

On Wednesday, July 28, the bride was honored with a bridesmaid's luncheon and lingerie shower at the home of Sheila Thorne. Hostesses were Sheila Thorne and Yvonne Long. Those attending were Lisa Edmondson, Ladye Love Long, Sarah Hodge, Tammie Bullard, Becky Vandiver, Gail Wallace, Irene Locke, and Devota Edmondson. The bride received many nice and beautiful gifts.

On Tuesday, August 3, the bride was honored with a bridal shower at the home of Lillie Edmondson. Hostesses were Lillie Edmondson and Brenda Bivins. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts.

On Saturday, August 7, Mrs. Gwen Turbeville honored the bride in her home in Iuka with a bridal shower. Other hostess was Cindy Bullard. The bride received many nice and useful gifts.

Dear Friend,

On November 2nd Mississippi voters will select a United States Senator for the next term. It is important that the man who fills this important role be truly representative of the people, capable of fighting for their concerns, and knowledgeable about how to get the job done.

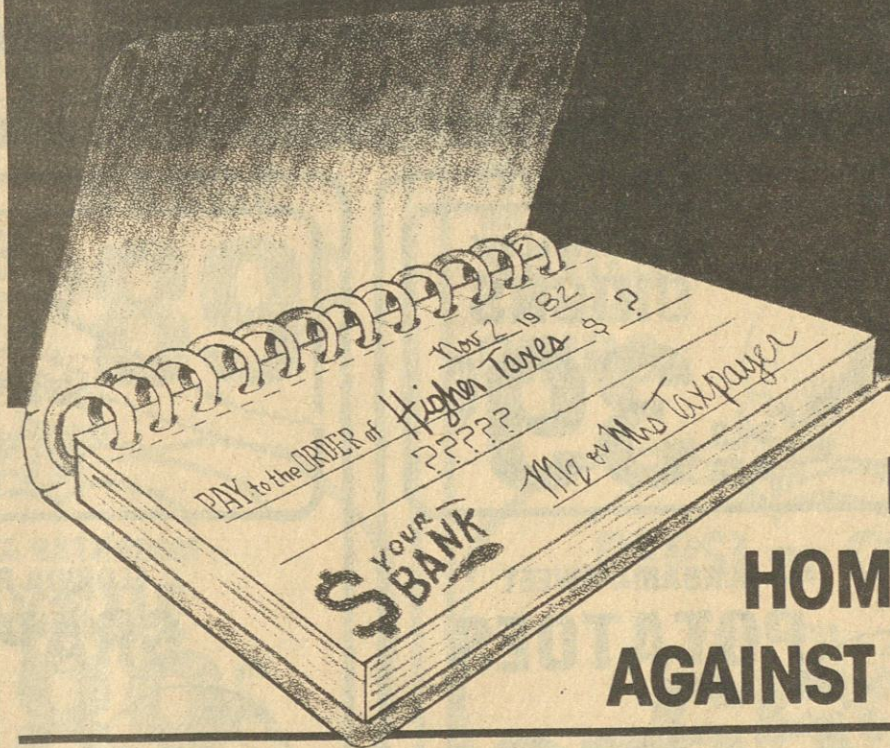

You know my record, and you know my desire to continue to serve the people of Mississippi during the crucial years ahead. The competition for jobs for our state will be tough. I want to be there in the Senate, fighting your battles and making sure that Mississippi gets her share.

This is no time to retreat. We must continue to move forward on the progress we have already made.

Remember, the only way to make your voice heard on November 2nd is to go to the polls and vote, rain or shine. I'm counting on your help. I promise to do my best to prove myself worthy of your continued confidence.

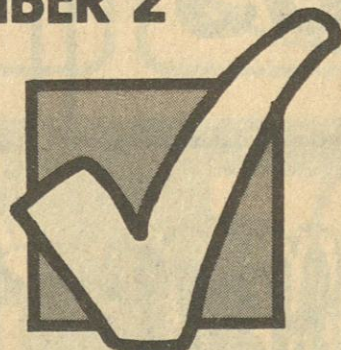

Warmly your friend,

the PRICE you will PAY for not voting

PROTECT YOUR HOME AND PROPERTY AGAINST HIGHER TAXES

ON NOVEMBER 2 VOTE FOR

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 519

This issue is of extreme importance to home and property owners in cities as well as suburban and rural areas.

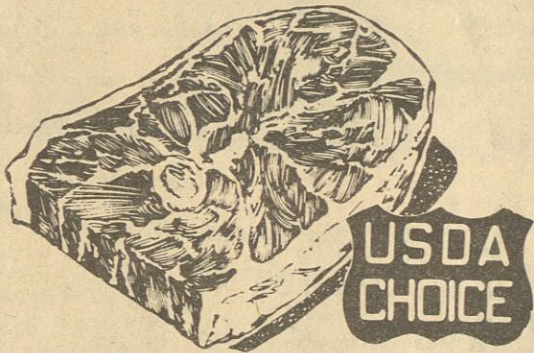

Passage of this amendment will allow continued fair and favorable taxes on homes, while failure to pass it would mean a dramatic increase in home and property taxes.

Singing At Pleasant Hill

Larry and Sondra Davis, of Newton, Miss., will be singing at Pleasant Hill UMC at 7:00 Sunday, October 31. They have been singing gospel music for over five years throughout the state. Their programs consist of many of his own compositions. Making this part of the program very interesting, he usually explains how he came about his writing of each song. In addition to this, he and his wife share some of the popular gospel songs to bring you a program that is for everyone, young and old. At present he is under contract with Columbia Records of Los Angeles, Calif. This record company has produced a gospel album entitled "Gospel Jubilee". The album includes one of Davis' compositions, "Jesus Is My Pilot". Singing Davis' song one of Columbine's professional singers. Larry and Sondra Davis are members of the Gospel Music Association of Nashville, Tenn. They concern themselves in promoting and preserving the heritage of gospel music. Involving themselves as much as possible in doing the Lord's work wherever it leads them. In addition to their singing ministry and writing, Davis also sings with the "Crownsmen Quartet" of Newton. The pastor, James McKeithen, and congregation invite everyone to come and be blessed.

Man Asks God Answers

Spiritism & Occultism
What are the punishments of their devotees?

Ex. 22:18 - Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live. Lev. 20:27 - A man also or woman that hath a . . . spirit shall be put to death. I Chro. 10:13 - So Saul died . . . asking counsel of one . . . to inquire of it. Mal. 3:5 - I will be a swift witness against the scorers. Rev. 21:8 - The abominable . . . and sorcers . . . shall have their part in the lake of fire which is the second death.

What should be our attitude toward spiritism and occultism?
(1) Avoidance: Deut. 18:14 These nations . . . hearken to observers of times, and to diviners; but . . . the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do. Is. 8:19 (Am. Rev. Ver.) And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto . . . familiar spirits . . . should not a people seek unto the Lord? On behalf of the Lord should they seek unto the dead?

(2) Opposition: Eph. 6:12 we wrestle against . . . wicked spirits. Jas. 4:7 - Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. LHMM

COME TO CHURCH

We all have times when things go wrong,
And Fortune's in reverse;
Yet we're expected to be strong,
Though things could not get worse...
A strength of which the Scriptures name
Examples plain to see:
Like Job, whose faith remained the same
Throughout adversity.
So why not go to Church this week,
Whichever one you choose,
And listen to the Bible speak;
There's not a thing to lose!
Then, what those passages command
You'll follow to the letter;
And let God take your life in hand,
To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

In Loving Memory of Brian Lee Booker

Dedicated To His Parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Booker,
Sister & Brother, Lisa & Joseph

In a lonely cemetery - not very far away,
Lies our own dear loved one, slumbering neath the clay.
Oh, how we miss his tender love and smiles,
But we will meet again in heaven - some day after awhile.

Our homes have been made lonesome - without this little boy,
But God let us keep him eleven years to share his fun and joy.

Our good friends and our neighbors help to share our grief and tears,
When Good took Brian to Heaven - To live throughout the years,
On October 31st, Brian would have been twelve years old,
He lived a life time in eleven short years,
For God knew he would never grow old.

We know that life on earth is short - No matter how long we live,
It's not the things we get that count - Only the things we give.
We can all take a lesson from Brian - And as our time draws near,
We can go out into eternity - Without a thought of fear.

We miss him every day so much - The hurt will not go away,
But we have the assurance of seeing him - On that Glad Reunion Day.

Some days it seems we can't go on - Our hearts are broken and sad,
Then we think of the eleven happy years - We had with this little lad.
The Bible says we will meet again - And know as we are known,
Where sorrow and tears will come no more - Around the Great White Throne.

Country Store Provides Link With The Past

By: Tommy Wilemon,
Tishomingo County News
Iuka High Co-Op Student

The Carrel Morris Grocery Store in North Crossroads is a novelty these days. Being one of the few old-time country stores still intact, it provides a glance backward to the simple days of yesteryear. The husband and wife team of Carrel and Lorene Morris have kept the store well preserved throughout the thirty-six years of its operation.

Outside, the same pink siding remains that the couple first put on the structure in 1946. The roof has never been shingled; it is still tin. Because of the gentle pattering of that tin roof, the Morrises, who live in the back portion of the store building, never fail to notice when it rains. Two long benches stretch out at the front of the store to accommodate anyone who wishes to sit down. Metal signs advertising products of the past are attached to the face of the building. The whole effect adds up to a very pleasant sight.

Inside, the store resembles a museum more than a business. Aside from the various grocery items, all sorts of interesting objects line the walls and fill the two large display cases. Arrowheads and other Indian relics are present everywhere one can look. On one wall there is a collection of mounted butterflies, and shelved on another is an assortment of antique bottles. Fierce rows of shark teeth anchored to a couple of jawbones are evident in one of the display cases. Strings of sea shells and red pepper dangle from the ceiling. In the middle of it all sits a cast-iron woodheater.

On crisp, cool autumn days Mr. and Mrs. Morris spend much of their time by that woodheater. When a customer enters, they will welcome him and ask if they can be of any help. If the customer replies that he is just out loafing, it will be fine with the Morrises. They will tell him to pull up a chair and talk awhile. If he does, he will not be disappointed because Mr. and Mrs. Morris are two fascinating individuals with many interesting memories to share. This fact was apparent when the couple was recently interviewed.

Linnie Carrel Morris was born and reared in the Poplar Springs Community three miles away from his present home. His parents were Lon Morris and Della Johnson Morris. Lena Lorene Morris was born and reared in the community of North Crossroads where the couple live today. Her parents were Reverend David McMasters and Blanche Phillips McMasters.

Aside from tending the store, Carrel has worked at odd jobs on the lake over the years. He helped clear the land for the Pickwick Reservoir. His hobbies include truck farming and gathering Indian relics. Speaking of his garden he said, "I raised more tomatoes this year than any other year." He credits the fine harvest to unusually good weather conditions. With the help of Lorene he has accumulated a vast collection of Indian relics which the couple gathered within a 9 mile radius of the store.

When Lorene is not busy in the store, she spends her time crocheting, quilting, canning vegetables, gathering Indian relics, and traveling. She has been to Washington, D.C.; Canada; Atlanta, Georgia; and Detroit, Michigan. Many of her canned vegetables are shelved in the store. She has always enjoyed meeting new people and getting to know them.

When Carrel and Lorene were teenagers, they often attended square dances at the homes of their neighbors. While there they had a great deal of fun as they enjoyed one another's company. Later on the two square dancers married and reared three daughters.

In 1946 they opened up their business when gas was 15 cents a gallon and Cokes were a nickel a piece. During the fishing season Carrel and Lorene would keep the store open day and night. The couple has put much of their time in the store, but they have enjoyed doing it.

The store was once a hangout for teenagers. Lorene commented that the teenagers were always present, but she and Carrel never seemed to mind. As a matter of fact, on Sunday afternoons Carrel would carry them to the movie house in Burnsville in his 1949 Dodge pick-up. Back then it only cost a dime to see the movie. Times certainly have changed.

The Morrises know a great deal about North Crossroads. According to Lorene, the Indians originally called the community Bloody Crossroads. Carrel told of a time when there were a grist mill and cotton gin at North Crossroads. He said that campaign rallies staged at the old school house on election years generated the most excitement in the community today.

Commenting on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, which only lies a short distance away from the store, Lorene said, "I'm so happy about the Tombigbee Waterway. I can't wait until it is finished." She also stated that the remapping of Highway 25 had not hurt their business at all but had actually helped it.

Lorene has a passion for collecting just about anything. Her vast collections include such items as: political memorabilia, bottles, Indian relics, Coca-Cola souvenirs, dishes, butterflies, and iron cookware. However, her most unique collection is one of signatures. The signatures are those of people from all over who have come into the store at one time or another. This collection arose from her practice of keeping records, something she has done since she was a young girl.

Commenting on the people who come into the store, Lorene said, "I had a lady in here three weeks ago from Hawaii. She gathered some tomatoes and pepper to take home to Hawaii. Two days later I had a guy to come in who was born in Israel and raised in the Holy Land." She also said that at least one Indian a week comes to see her and Carrel because of their interest in Indian culture.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris have many more stories to share, their subject matter ranging from politics to farming to Indian tales and legends. Without them and their different kind of store North Crossroads would have been robbed of much of its flavor and personality.

When Lorene was asked for a closing comment, she said, "I would say Tishomingo County is the best place to live in the world." Then she paused for a moment to collect her thoughts and continued, "Most everybody that was born and raised here goes off, but they always come back."

When Carrel was asked for a closing comment, he simply looked across the room to where his wife stood and said that he agreed with her completely.

Iuka Lions Club

The Iuka Lions met in regular session on October 19th, at the "Lion's Den" at "Circus Burgers" Restaurant. President Bobby Riley called the meeting to order, and Lion A.W. Mangum pronounced the benediction. After the Pledge to the Flag, led by Lion "Tail-Twister" Bill Brewster, the group adjourned for a tasty meal, prepared Nostalgic setting — While tending their store over the past thirty-six years, Mr. and Mrs. Carrel Morris have shared many happy experiences. Evident in the background is a collage Mrs. Morris has made from Indian arrowheads.

Remnant of Another Age — Once numerous country stores like the one shown above were scattered about the hills and hollows of Tishomingo County. However, they swiftly faded away with the coming of the modern supermarket. Due to the devoted care of its owners, Carrel Morris Grocery has withstood the test of time, offering a look back into the past.

Dear Friends:

I greatly appreciate the support the people of the First District and Mississippi have given me for a long time.

With this support I have reached a rather key place in the Congress—a place which I use, to the best of my judgment, to serve your interest.

I will appreciate your continued support in the coming election and your help to get out the vote.

We have made great progress in our State. Let us build on it.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Jamie Whitten

Several projects were discussed before the speaker of the evening, Mr. Gene McCluskey, of the Tupelo Office of the I.R.S., was introduced by Lion P.O. Beard. Mr. McCluskey gave a very enlightening presentation of the complex workings of the IRS, including the new ruling that beginning in June, 1983, a 10% tax will be levied on the interest accumulated on savings accounts. Two Lions, Mr. Loden and Mr. McCoy, of the Booneville Lions Club, were very welcome visitors. Both spoke very briefly on related issues of Lionism. Other visitors, who also spoke briefly of the DECA Club at I.H.S. were Miss Carol Miller, Co-Op and Marketing teacher, and DECA advisor, and Bill Schilling, student and DECA member. Our Lions Club voted to assist them, as much as our finances would permit.

Everyone who purchased

We will contact the Tennessee and Mississippi Attorney General's Offices in an attempt to right this seeming rip-off. We are deeply concerned of ANY concerns evident dishonestly - Especially if it should reflect on a club, such as ours! And, we will leave no stone unturned until a satisfactory settlement is reached.

Our attendance is improving! We had 22 members present!

Man, Daughter Killed As Sand Pit Caves In

A Burnsville man and his daughter were killed and two women were injured Monday, October 25, about 10 miles east of Booneville. The tragedy happened when a wall in a sand pit caved in located in the Snowdown Community in Prentiss County.

Marcus Lee Rorie, 33, was pronounced dead at the site, according to Prentiss County Coroner James Horn. Rorie's daughter, Jennifer Dawn, 4, was dead-on-arrival at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville, Monday evening.

Deputy John Tullis said Rorie; his daughter; his wife, Mrs. Catherine Cox Rorie, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jane Vanderford, had gone to the sand pit to get some dirt or sand.

Rorie was loading sand into a Ford pick-up truck when the bank caved in, burying him and his family, Prentiss County Sheriff's Department officials said. A spokesman for the Booneville Fire Department said the weight of the sandstone, rocks, dirt and sand crushed the truck.

"Mrs. Vanderford managed to dig herself out and went for help," Deputy Tullis said. Mrs. Rorie, the bodies of Rorie and the little girl were recovered about 6:30 p.m., about an hour after the Sheriff's Office was notified, but almost three hours after the cave-in, which Tullis said occurred about 3:45 p.m.

Mrs. Rorie was admitted to Booneville Baptist Hospital and later transferred to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo, where she was listed in serious condition. Mrs. Vanderford was admitted to Booneville Baptist, but was released Tuesday after being held overnight for observation.

The deaths were ruled accidental Tuesday by the Prentiss County Coroner's Office, Tullis said.

Rorie was an employee of Tyrone Manufacturing Co., a veteran, and a member of the Church of Christ.

Joint services were held Wednesday, October 27, at the Snowdown Church of Christ with J.W. Archer officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. McMillan Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Survivors include the wife and mother, Mrs. Catherine Cox Rorie, of Burnsville; a son, Malcolm Rorie, of the home; four brothers, Stanley Rorie, Wade Rorie, and Wane Rorie, all of Burnsville; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rorie, of Rienzi. In addition, Jennifer Rorie is survived by her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Cox, of Booneville.

Halloween Gold

by Ben Earl Kitchens

It was 4:00. School had been dismissed. The spirit and vitality of the autumn holiday pervaded the air. As the children scampered home, their reflections were not on geography or history or math. Some of the more concerned had tried to study but to no avail. The Halloween Carnival was to begin at 7:00 and most of the students would be represented at the house of horrors, the cake walk, the costume contest, and the other activities. Already they were applying paint to their faces and selecting masks for the gay and grotesque evening that awaited them.

For Billy Rutledge and Tommy Blackard it had been a tensely exciting and apprehensive day also, but not because of the planned Halloween activities. Their thoughts and enthusiasm were about gold - INDIAN GOLD - and Tommy was confident that he knew where some was hidden. He knew where the Indian graveyard was located - he had been twice already - but had never explored the gravesites or uncovered any bones or gold. The boys' feverish stimulation had intensified as the day had progressed and now the time had arrived to penetrate the mystic burial ground and uncover the hidden treasures. The anticipation was overpowering.

Tommy led the way. He marched hurriedly about three steps ahead of Billy along the meandering path by the creek. The sun was still high in the October sky and they felt assured they had ample time for the expedition. Billy was trusting totally in Tommy's leadership. After all, Tommy was six months older and claimed to be a veteran Indian bonedigger, although he had never actually uncovered any skeletons.

Billy reminded Tommy of the cruel caper they had played on Old Miss Willoween last year. Miss Willoween was an old maid and maybe a witch - at least extraordinarily peculiar - and spent most of her time rocking in an antique rocker in her living room. Her nose was long and warty, her hair to her waist, and no one in the community had ever known her to hear a sound. Boys will be boys, especially on Halloween, and they had crept in the back of her house while she was rocking in the living room and painted most of her kitchen with orange paint. The tables, chairs, and cabinets had been coated a bright orange and they were finishing the refrigerator when Miss Willoween arose from her rocker and began hobbling to the kitchen. The boys dropped the can of paint in the middle of the room and ran out the back door but not until they had received the devil's curse. Billy and Tommy had never believed in witches and curses but felt a little uneasy until they heard that she died a couple of weeks ago.

As the lads passed beneath overhanging oaks and hickories, Tommy explained how the Indians buried personal articles with their deceased. He was convinced that it was an Indian burial ground, he told Billy, because the dates on some of the tombstones were almost a hundred years old. If they uncovered more gold than they could carry with them, they could hide it and come back for it later. They quickly crossed a footlog - a huge sycamore that had fallen across the creek in a storm many years ago. The graveyard was just over the next hill. The sun was beginning to reach the top of the trees. Evening's shade was imminent.

They were now at the burial ground. Weatherbeaten tombstones jutted from the hilly and grassy knoll in clusters. The boys erratically and frantically raced from monument to monument. They finally decided that the grave of SALLY LOUISE SMITH 1842-1892 was one of the most likely because of its age and location. It was near the center of the graveyard and was sunken more than the others so there would be less dirt to remove. Tommy informed Billy that the Indians had made contact with the white settlers and that this was probably an Indian squaw that had been named after a white woman. Billy pushed his shovel into the sunken earth. Clump by clump, small bits of the hard dirt were laboriously removed. After about an hour of excavation, only a small mound of dirt had been taken from Mrs. Smith's grave. No gold yet! Scarcely six inches of soil had been unearthed. They decided to try to find a softer place to dig. It was fast becoming dark. A veil of gray covered the burial ground.

The boys did not replace the dirt removed from Mrs. Smith's grave but hurried through the grounds, poking their shovels into each depression searching for one that would not be so unyielding. "I've found it," Billy yelled loudly, and Tommy quickly dropped his shovel and ran over to his side. "Look a here," Billy directed and handed the shovel to Tommy who easily shoved it into the soft dirt. They were amazed at how manageable the soft ground was. "Boy, Oh Boy, Oh Boy!" they laughed and exclaimed loudly together and in unison. "We will find some bones now for sure. Easy so that we won't break any pots."

Dark was now complete and some disturbing and unnerving sounds began to erupt from the swampy ground below the hill. The medley of froggy croaks and grunts were interspersed with some petrifying and gruesome cries which caused the boys to look in fright at each other and then move closer together. The soil was so loose and yielding that shovelfuls were easily removed and soon they were two feet from the surface. Within another half hour they were down about four feet and still the ground was not very hard. Tommy's shovel struck something immovable. CLUNK! went the shovel. CLUNK! again. "It's metal," Tommy said excitedly, "We've struck gold!"

"Bones wouldn't sound like this," Billy agreed, and began helping Tommy uncover the unknown object. Hysterically and frantically several more scoopsful of loose dirt were removed and before their eyes lay the largest metal chest either of the boys had ever seen. It was quite ornate and fancy and appeared to be what they had imagined an Indian chest full of gold to resemble. It was dark gray in color and had large and ornate metal handles on the sides. They remarked that it was certainly well preserved and soon the top of the treasure chest was cleaned. The latch was on the side close to where they were working. Billy placed his shovel next to it and leaned the weight of his body against the handle. The metal bent under the pressure and the latch popped open. In exhilaration the boys jumped into the grave and lifted the giant lid. Slowly it was raised but the darkness prevented inspection of the contents. Billy reached into the chest with his right hand, blindly, hoping to grab a handful of gold coins but instead felt something COLD, and BONEY, and HAIRY! "I don't know what the treasure is," Billy yelled excitedly, "but it doesn't feel like gold coins or diamonds!" Tommy retreated from the grave and found the flashlight. Billy stood in the hole and held the casket lid open while Tommy illuminated the contents of the coffin. A female cadaver with a long warty nose and stringy black hair was lying ghostlike in the casket. She was staring straight up toward the full moon with a grisly expression of gratification and settlement on her face. The boys screamed in surprise and terror. They climbed hastily out of the grave and stood by the tombstone trying to decide what to do next. Suddenly and without warning, nightbirds in nearby treetops signaled the approach of the bewitching hour. As clocks across the countryside struck midnight, the ground on the edge of the grave trembled and large clumps of loam and grass collapsed and tumbled into the still opened casket. Both lads temporarily lost their balance and fell precipitously into the funeral box on top of the corpse. The ground jarred with the impact and the coffin lid slammed shut. As the latch clicked, an owl flew from its perch on one of the tombstones to a nearby tree. Bats darted in profusion overhead and a coyote in the distance penetrated the October stillness with its howl. The dismal, pathetic pleas and murmurings from the coffin were blanketed with a cloak of misty exhalation and among the markers of the forgotten, amid the marble and stone and granite, the knocks and poundings of those entrapped beckoned but there was no one to hear. As the veil of clouds moved westwardly across the sky, the full Halloween moon again illuminated the cemetery and the following words were clearly visible on the tombstone at the head of the desecrated grave:

Lena Ezamee Willoween
July 5, 1920-October 14, 1980

To strangers near it will behoove
Allow thee not these bones be moved
She was a witch it had been proved

This exhortation give I thee
Be kind to all old girls ye see
A witch she might lay bare to be

Long Cast In NE Production

Ladye Love Long, a freshman music major from Iuka, has been cast in the role of Toinette, the maid, in the upcoming fall production, "The Imaginary Invalid," at Northeast Mississippi Junior College. The dinner theater performances of Jean Baptiste Poquelin's 1600's hit will be 6:30 p.m., November 1 and 2, in the Mississippi Room of the Frank Haney Union. The play is the speech department's contribution to the annual cultural arts activities sponsored by Northeast. Ladye is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Long, of Iuka.

DECA Update

The DECA Club of I.H.S. has accomplished many things in the past week. The donations for the Muscular Dystrophy Skate-a-Thon have been made. Thanks to the many businesses who have donated items, we believe the Skate-a-Thon will be a success. A list of the businesses who have donated will be made at a later time.

On Friday, October 22, Jeff Gann and Chris Evans were on T.V. Nine Noon Program in Tupelo. They represented the DECA Club and spoke about the Muscular Dystrophy Skate-a-Thon, which will be held on November 1, 1982. They were accompanied by Mrs. Scotty Skinner, owner of Skateworld, and Ms. Carol Miller, DECA Advisor. Also going along on the trip to Tupelo were ten other DECA members. They all had a great time and we appreciate Jeff and Chris taking their time to promote the Skate-a-Thon. We would also like to thank Mrs. Scotty Skinner for the use of her van for the trip.

On Friday the DECA Club had a beautiful float in the Homecoming Parade, which was paraded through downtown Iuka. It was made with a blue background and the word DECA written in gold and the DECA diamond in gold. Thanks goes to the many people who helped make the float. Without everyone working together the things that the DECA Club has accomplished could not have been accomplished. Thanks, everyone!

We would like to close this week's column by saying congratulations to the 1982-83 Homecoming Queen, Miss Annette Alhiser, and her court. Being in the Homecoming Court is an honor that is well deserved by each and every one of you.

Until next week,
TINA & SHAREE

Letter To The Editor

October 15, 1982

Dear Editor:

Mississippians cannot afford to swap educational problems!

The current hubbub being raised across our state concerning the politically appointed state lay board of education, deserves a close look by the electorate.

No one denies there is need for change in the public school system policy and procedure for operation - yet, we cannot afford to foster a greater problem merely for the sake of change.

Before you vote on Senate Concurrent Resolution Number 506, (the politically appointed state lay board amendment), consider these facts:

1. The proposed amendment calls for a politically appointed state lay board of education. Not one is to be elected by the voters of the state! Of the proposed nine member board, the Governor is to appoint five members, the Lt. Governor is to appoint two members, and the Speaker of the House is to appoint two.

2. The State Superintendent of Education will then be appointed by the nine member politically appointed state lay board of education.

3. There is no assurance state-wide equality representation on the proposed board. As many as seven appointments could come from any one section alone!

4. There is no assurance input by the citizenry of the state toward these positions. They will be answerable to their appointers.

5. The right of democratic choice will be forever denied the voters of our state, select their leaders in the field of education.

6. The present Governor, who by his own statement committed to education, have NO appointments - goes out of office six months before the proposed politically appointed state board would take office.

7. The boys and girls of public school system will be under the educational direction of a politically appointed group of directors. This amendment will pass.

For these and other reasons, this proposal is totally unacceptable to Mississippians.

What is the alternative? Reject the current proposed constitutional amendment and pressure the legislature for an acceptable legislative proposal creating an effective state lay board of education. Politicians love to appoint I join the vast majority voters of the State of Mississippi, in believing voters of the state can an intelligent choice in selecting their leaders - including the state superintendent of education.

November 2, 1982 - a democratic choice - for the children of our state. Let not yield their future voice governmental affairs.

The Spinal Column

Headache Cause May Be Pinched Nerve

According to a report issued by the N. Y. Journal of Medicine, the cause of headache in over 90% of 2,000 patients studied was a mechanical irritation of the nerves that exit between the bones of the neck. The report states that "Direct injury to the neck may be caused by a blow or a fall" that could easily irritate delicate spinal nerves.

American Weekly Magazine informed readers, "Headaches strike 18,000,000 Americans on a regular basis," and each day some 21 tons of aspirin are consumed in the attempt to gain relief.

Modern chiropractic treatment seeks to eliminate this irritation of spinal nerves and produce effective relief of neck tension and headaches.

Airman Harwell Promoted

Aubrey N. Harwell, Jr., son of Neal and Janeva Harwell, of Route 2, Iuka, and Patricia Newcomb, also of Iuka, has been specially identified for early promotion to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force. The airman was awarded the new rating ahead of other Air Force members by a "below-the-zone" promotion board, which considered job performance, military knowledge, bearing and self-improvement efforts. Harwell is a communications equipment specialist with the 2120th Communications Group in Lefkas, Greece. Aubrey is a 1981 graduate of Iuka High School. His grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harwell, of Iuka; and Mr. and Mrs. Cleston Scruggs, also of Iuka.

Bulldog Grows

By: Bryan Southward & Lisa Southward

Bulldog Fans,

The Bulldog team was defeated by the Hatley Tigers by a score of 16-15. The Bulldog team played a great game, but the referees could not keep from throwing flags. The Mighty Football Team has a record of six wins and two losses. This is a great record, so keep it up and make it the best ever. The Mighty Football Team travels to Alcorn Central this Friday night.

Everyone come out to Tishomingo tonight and enjoy yourself at the 1982 Halloween Carnival. We are hoping for the best ever for this.

We sure hope everyone has a safe and spooky Halloween. Watch out for water balloons, yard rollers, and little spooks.

Hatley Ships Past Tish. Bulldogs

The Tigers of Hatley capitalized on a Bulldog fumble in the last quarter, dealing Tishomingo its second loss of the season with a score of 16-15.

The Tigers put their pawprint on the scoreboard when they gained a safety in the initial period. Then they scored again on a 1-yard run and were good for the extra point, building a 9-0 lead.

Tishomingo diminished that lead to a one point difference when Rodney Frazier scored from the 1-yard line and was also good for the two point conversion.

Then Jeff Cox scored on a 1-yard run after he caught a 60-yard pass from Eric Powell. Rodney Frazier was good for the extra point, as Tishomingo raced out to a 6 point lead.

When Hatley recovered a Bulldog fumble at the end zone, the Tigers tied the game. The all-important punt was good, which won the game for the Tigers.

Tomorrow night the Bulldogs will travel to Alcorn Central for action on the Aggie grid-iron.

Blue Mountain Defeats Burnsville

Amassing 407 offensive yards, the Blue Mountain Cougars defeated the Burnsville Mustangs with a score of 19-14.

Going into the second quarter, the Cougars led 12-0 before Burnsville's Jeff Allred ran in for a touchdown from the 5-yard line. Kelly Hardwick was good for the extra point.

Blue Mountain scored 7 more points in the third quarter.

Also in the third quarter, Jeff Allred scored another TD. Kelly Hardwick was good for the extra point.

Tomorrow night the Mustangs will be hosting North Pontotoc.

Northeast Changes Kickoff Time

Bill Ward, director of athletics at Northeast Junior College, today announced a time change for the final home game of the 1982 football season Thursday, October 28.

The game against Southwest Junior College, originally set for 7:30 p.m., will begin at 7:00 p.m., in Keenum Stadium.

The change was made to accommodate the players and fans from both institutions, Ward said.
