State Unemployment Rate Drops To 11.4 Percent

Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped to 11.4 percent in December, a decrease of five-tenths of one percentage point compared to November's jobless rate of 11.9 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director O.H. Simmons. The unemployment rate in December 1981 was 9.0 percent.

The 11.4 percent unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 10.5 percent national rate for December. MESC figures showed 118,400 unemployed and 920,100 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,038,500. The initial unemployment insurance claims totalled 34,426.

Sixty of the state's 82 counties had unemployment rates of 10.0 percent or higher in December. Of that number, three counties had unemployment rates higher than 20.0 percent.

The counties having the highest unemployment rates in December were Winston, with an unemployment rate of 22.6 percent; Tate, with an unemployment rate of 20.5 percent; and Noxubee, with an unemployment rate of 20.2 percent.

Issaquena, Oktibbeha, and Rankin counties had the lowest jobless rates in December. Issaquena had a rate of 5.6 percent, Oktibbeha had a rate of 6.0 percent, and Rankin had an unemployment rate of 6.7 percent.

Twenty-six counties showed an increase in their unemployment rates from November to December, while fifty-three reported decreases. The unemployment rate in three counties was unchanged.

County Agent, Percie B. Stricklen, Retires After 30 Years Of Service

On January 3, 1983, County Agent Percie B. Stricklen officially retired following a 22 year tenure of service with the Extension Office in Tishomingo County.

Mr. Stricklen is a native of Prentiss County. His graduation from New Site High School preceded two years of military duty with the United States Air Force, which was followed by four years at Mississippi State University where he received a B.S. Degree in Agriculture Education.

Applying his education came next with his first teaching assignment accepted in Tippah County where he taught Vocational Agriculture for a period of four years.

He joined the Extension Services as Assistant County Agent in Calhoun County and was promoted to Associate Agent. While serving in Calhoun County his staff received the U.S. Department of Agriculture Award for Superior Service. He was then promoted to County Agent in Tishomingo County where he served his remaining 22 years in Extension.

While serving in Tishomingo County, Mr. Stricklen was instrumental in getting a market of cucumbers and pepper into the county. He helped establish the Rural Community Development Clubs in the county. He was successful in getting new facilities for the Tishomingo County Fair and gave great service to the County Fair through the years. A Farmer's Market was formed under his supervision, the annual Farm Home Day was organized, and the Farmer's Aide Program was established under his tenure.

Mr. Stricklen was awarded the Distinguished Service Award in 1966, by the National County Agriculture Agents Association - thus receiving a trip for himself and his wife to Hawaii.

He has been a member of RHO Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Phi, a member of the Mississippi Association of County Agricultural Agents, serving as secretary/treasurer, vice-president, and president of this state association.

Two Tishomingo Countians Sentenced

Circuit Judge J. Thomas Gardner III handed down sentences on two Tishomingo County residents Tuesday, February 1. Both sentences had been deferred following the second week of the January term of Circuit Court in which the cases were presented.

James R. Bennett, found guilty of aggravated assault against Ronald Brock and also armed robbery charges, netted a total of 21 years in the Mississippi Department of Corrections. Separate sentences pronounced on Bennett included: seven years on the aggravated assault charge and 14 years for armed robbery, with seven of this to be suspended pending good behavior. Both sentences are to be served concurrently.

Betty Tigner was found guilty of manslaughter following 1 1/2 hours of deliberation by the jury in the case involving the March, 1982 shooting death of Billy Akers. Judge Gardner sentenced the Luka woman to a 12 year period with the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

Casseroles

Casseroles provide convenience and economy for busy, budget conscious cooks. Many foods, from main dish to dessert, can be cooked in a casserole. They are time-savers, in that they may be made up several hours ahead, placed in the refrigerator then put in the oven to bake when needed for a meal. Many casseroles lend themselves well to freezing. Make up several, cook and serve one and store the others in the freezer for later use.

To conserve fuel energy, bake several casseroles at one time -- one of meat, a vegetable and a dessert.

There are many occasions when a casserole is the best choice for a meal. The convenience of the casserole, its popularity as a way to use leftovers are all familiar advantages. Sometimes in our zeal for the practical we may overlook the possibilities for making a casserole real gourmet fare.

There are recipes planned for elegant party-type casseroles suitable for buffet entertaining. Subtly seasoned, interestingly flavored, a really good casserole can be a culinary achievement suitable for any occasion where you want to

County Agent's Notes

By: Leon Perry,
Area Extension Agent/
Acting County Agent
Mr. Percie B. Stricklen has served Tishomingo County as county agent for the past 22 plus years. He has gone far beyond what was expected of him in order to help county farmers reach higher production goals -- this required giving of his own time on many occasions. I have worked with Mr. Stricklen for the past 14 years and can truthfully say he never refused assistance to anyone asking for his help.

Agriculture has been Mr. Stricklen's main interest, but he has been active in other phases of community development. He has given leadership to the Rural Community Development Clubs for the past 22 years.

Mr. Stricklen was successful in obtaining a market for cucumbers and pimiento pepper in the county. These two crops have brought thousands of dollars to many small farmers over the past 15 years.

A more recent program has been the Fresh Vegetable Market at Iuka and Belmont. This market has brought the buyer and seller together in an ideal situation. Locally grown vegetables are picked and sold directly to the consumer.

The Tishomingo County Fair is another success story that can be attributed to the leadership of Mr. Percie Stricklen. I think everyone will agree that Tishomingo County has one of the best fairs of any small community in the area. It didn't happen by chance! It took a tremendous amount of time and effort to develop the fair to this point, and I feel Mr. Stricklen deserves a lot of the credit.

Please join me in saying, "Thank You, Mr. Percie B. Stricklen, for a job well done."

PLAN PRUNING

Now is the time to start planning your pruning for a lovely lawn this spring. There are four basic reasons for pruning landscape plants:

size, shape, diseased or abnormal tissue, and to aid in transplanting. If none of these reasons apply to your landscape, you probably should not prune.

Size is the most common reason for pruning. Not all plants grow at the same rate, and you have to prune the plants to maintain the desired balance.

How often a plant will need pruning depends on the size of the space in which it is growing and the type of plant. Some plants may need pruning twice a year while others will only need pruning every other year. Some plants can withstand severe pruning and others can tolerate only a light shearing of the foliage. Proper pruning can improve the shape of the plant. The best time of the year to prune for shape is February to April.

Branches that have been injured by insects, diseases, or weather should be removed by pruning as soon as the damage is noticed regardless of the time of year.

ASCS Farm News

By: Henry L. Knox,
County Executive Director

EMERGENCY CONSERVATION PROGRAM FUND AVAILABLE -- Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) Funds have been approved for Tishomingo County. The Tishomingo County ASCS Office is taking applications for the affected areas of farmland in the Indian Creek, Berea Creek, Little Yellow Creek, Red Bud Creek and other areas of the county. The sign up started on January 31, and will continue through February 4, 1983. The practice being offered for cost-sharing assistance is EC-2; Grading, Shaping, Revealing or Similar Measures. The practice should not be started until an "on-site" inspection of the damaged area has been made by the County Committee or its representative. Check with the county office for details.

PIK SIGN-UP UNDERWAY -- Sign up under the Payment-In-Kind (PIK) Program is now underway. Howard R. Bridges, Chairman of the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS)

Office, said that the sign up started on January 24, 1983, and will continue through March 11, 1983.

Bridges said that county office personnel attended a 2-day training session at Greenwood on January 20 and 21. Members of the Tishomingo County ASCS Committee attended a meeting on January 26, at Greenwood, at which time they were briefed on the PIK Program. The chairman stated that all necessary operating procedures and forms have been received in connection with the program.

Bridges said that response to this program has been most favorable during the first few days of sign up. He advises all farmers who are eligible for the program to call or go by their County ASCS Office as soon as possible. Those who wait until the later part of the sign up run the risk of encountering long lines and extra waiting time.

Conservation Notes

By: Bobby Manley,

USDA, Soil Conservation Service

Now is the time to start thinking about installing conservation practices on your farm. The Soil Conservation Service here in Iuka will help you with your conservation problems.

Some of the areas and practices with which assistance is available are ponds, the location of a suitable dam site, the layout and design of the levee and also the soil type. Another area would be terraces, assistance with location and lay-out in the field, the type terraces you may need; broadbase farmable terraces, pipe outlets, or standard grassed down terraces. Other areas are diversion locations and design, drainage ditch location, disposal lagoons for dairy farms or hog operations, minimum tillage or no-till farming, fish pond management and wildlife habitat management.

We can also develop with you a conservation farm plan to help guide you in carrying out your conservation practices. This plan would consist of a map showing your farm boundary lines. It would show individual fields that are in pasture, cropland or woodland and the number of acres that are in each. It would contain information on proper fertilization rates to obtain most grasses for your cattle, proper cropland treatment to help control erosion and save valuable topsoil. If you have woodland, it would give information on proper time to harvest your timber to obtain best growth. The plan would also contain a soil map describing your soils and what they are capable of.

All of these services are free for the asking. Anyone who has a question about conservation problem or service offered by the Conservation Service should contact us at 423-6272 come by our office located 115 Front Street in Iuka.

NEMJC Head Coach Bill Ward Retires

After coaching football for three decades, Bill Ward, head mentor for the Northeast Junior College Tigers, is calling it quits.

The announcement was made today by College President Harold T. White who explained that Ward's retirement from coaching will enable him to assume the responsibilities of athletic director in a full-time capacity and to lend assistance to the Student Activities program.

Ward has maintained the dual role of head coach and athletic director since the 1973 retirement of the late Bonner Arnold.

Citing the increasing demands on his time and the enormous responsibilities of both jobs as factors, Ward said he had given much thought to his decision.

"This is something I've wanted to do for quite some time," he said. "Lately, it had gotten to the point that football was taking up too much of my time."

"As athletic director, I'm interested in the total program, not just football."

Ward came to Northeast in 1968 when football was reactivated. In the fifteen years that followed, he saw, as he put it, "some good years and the football field in Tiger Stadium. Coach Ward, who announced his retirement from coaching will assume some mediocre years." Looking back on those years, Ward said, "I just feel like I have accomplished as much as anybody else could have accomplished. We've had some pretty good football teams."

"With the help of the Board and administration, we built a beautiful stadium and have an excellent playing field," he added.

Winning is important in all sports and for Bill Ward, the desire to win has been second only to the success and well-being of his players.

"One thing for sure -- I think I can say this: for the past 30 years I have coached my football players have been first in everything I did. Everyday I tried to give 100% in everything I did on the football field and during the football season. I enjoyed every minute of it."

Recalling the names of many of his former players who went on to sign with senior colleges and of those who are now coaching, the veteran coach explained his philosophy this way. "When it boils right down to it, the best part of my career is seeing young people go out and do well. That's what it's all about."

"I'm not quitting," he said, "I'm just redirecting my energies. I look forward to devoting more time to the total program."

The football and basketball programs are on solid ground now, Ward said. "In my role as athletic director, I want to see us improve the spring sports program. I don't know exactly what can be done, but I do want it to be a sound program."

Presently, spring activities at Northeast include baseball, softball, track and tennis.

Recognizing that the primary purpose of Northeast is to help students further their educations, Ward emphasized that athletics should indeed be secondary, but not "second-class."

"An athletic program is expensive," Ward said, "but it's well worth every dime put into it. It's essential."

Commenting on Ward's decision, President White said, "We appreciate the leadership he has provided in football and the continued contributions he makes to the institution. We look forward to continuing to work with him as athletic director and in his new capacity in Student Activities. I am sure that his commitment and dedication to Northeast will continue to be strong."

Miss Cindy Dumas Announces Wedding

Mrs. Jerry D. Dumas announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Cindy Louise, to William James (Jimmy) Frederick.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Dumas, of Corinth, Miss.; and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pennington, of Fairborn, Ohio.

The bride-elect graduated from Friendly Senior High School in Fort Washington, Maryland in 1979, and from Prince George's College in Largo, Maryland in 1982. She is presently employed by the State Board of Health.

The prospective groom is the son of Mrs. Laura Edmondson and Mr. W.J. Frederick. His grandparent is Mrs. Reddie Frederick.

Jimmy graduated from Burnsville High School in 1979, and is presently employed at Pee Wee's Place in Counce, Tennessee.

The wedding will be an event of February 26, at the First United Methodist Church in Corinth, at 2:00 p.m. A reception will follow at the home of the bride.

All relatives and friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend.

coordinator for the Northeast Junior College Tigers, has been named head football coach.

The announcement, made by President Harold T. White, came today following Coach Bill Ward's decision to relinquish the post he has held for the past 15 years. Ward will assume the responsibilities of athletic director in a full-time capacity.

No stranger to athletics or Northeast, Carnell is finishing his tenth season at the defensive helm. Before coming to Northeast, he initiated the football program at Biggersville High School in Alcorn County.

"We have confidence in Coach Carnell's ability to provide leadership for the football program," White said.

Coach Ward, whose association with Carnell goes back to the days when he coached him at New Albany said, "I feel like the program is in good hands. Coach Carnell is a fine coach and will do a good job."

With spring practice already underway, the new leader has a good idea of the talent he has to build on.

"We have a good nucleus to build on," he said. Approximately 41 athletes, including walk-ons, are taking part in the month-long spring session, he said. "Basically, we are working on the offensive and defensive fundamentals of the game, while experimenting with new things that we might add."

Recruiting has begun in both the local schools and those out-of-state, although no players have been signed, Carnell indicated.

"We have looked at some out-of-staters, but we want to finish our in-district recruiting first."

Carnell said they were hoping to add lineman and secondary, their biggest losses from last year's team.

"We want to recruit people that can fill the weaknesses in our program," he said.

The fall squad will consist of approximately 50 or 55 players.

Assisted by Coaches Billy Southward and James Williams, the program will not undergo any drastic changes Carnell said.

"We don't plan any big changes in the way we have been playing our offensive and defensive systems. We plan to take advantage of the personnel we have."

At present Southward's primary responsibilities are geared to the quarterbacks, running backs and linebackers, while Williams works with the defensive backs and receivers. Carnell is continuing his work with the offensive and defensive lines.

"I don't think there will be any problem with this. We plan to continue working this way during spring practice. And this summer, we will sit down and evaluate the program, making any corrections we think are necessary."

Carnell said he felt good about the coaching staff. "Both Billy (Southward) and James (Williams) have a real good knowledge of the game of football and both are hard workers," he said.

The schedule for the upcoming season includes all of the same teams Northeast played last year. The game locations will be reversed, however.

Commenting on the opponents, Carnell said, "We can always expect some tough teams. Northwest and IJC will be strong again," he said.

"Our primary objective is motivation, Carnell said. "We want our players to realize their potential so that when they take the field they will be ready. We hope to cut down on a lot of the little things which can cause us to beat ourselves."

Well respected by his players, Carnell was described by sophomore Bobby Thomas as more like a father and friend than a coach. "When our grades go down, he talks to us about it. He believes the athlete is more than just a football player," he said.

ATTENTION!

Love is... having your family pose for a lovely portrait. All public is invited. Trustee's Sale Notice

Pursuant to the provisions of a certain deed of trust executed by Charles Moore on the 30th day of October, 1980, to secure certain indebtedness therein mentioned to The Peoples Bank and Trust Company, Tupelo, Mississippi, which deed of trust is duly recorded in the Chancery Clerk's Office of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, in Book 98, Pages 291-292, of the records of trust deeds, I will, as trustee in said deed of trust, on the 18th day of February, 1983, at the East front door of the Tishomingo County Courthouse in Iuka, Mississippi, within legal hours, offer for sale, at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash the following described property in Tishomingo County, Mississippi, to-wit:

Part of the Northwest quarter of Section 3, Township 7, Range 10 East, described as beginning at the point where the West boundary line of the Warren Miller tract of land intersects the center of the road ditch on the North side of the Belmont and Moore's Mill Public Road in said quarter section and run thence East with the center of the ditch on the North side of the Belmont and Moore's Mill Public Road 105 feet to a stake; thence run North 227 feet to a stake; thence run West parallel to the center line of said road ditch on the North side of the Belmont and Moore's Mill Public Road 105 feet to the East line of the W.C. Harris tract of land; thence run South with the East line of the W.C. Harris tract of land 227 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

Such title will be conveyed as is vested in me as trustee aforesaid.

Improving State Aid Highway System

More than 30 years ago the state's leaders developed a program that was to modernize Mississippi's transportation system. Back then, the state's rural road system was a patchwork of dirt roads and hard surface country roads. Mississippi badly needed a road system which would bridge the widening gap between rural and urban areas and provide the basis for economic development. This transportation system, launched in 1950, was named the State Aid Highway System.

By the close of 1981, the State Aid program had provided $675.76 million in construction on 5,214 projects covering more than 10,000 miles of roads and bridges during its 30-year history. Moreover, the State Aid System had successfully linked the economies and the people of rural and urban Mississippi.

But over the last 15 years

A Dressed-Up Affair From An Earlier Period

The above photograph, believed to have been taken in the early 1900's, has a note on the back stating "The Roots To Old Salem". Buster Tucker, of Route 4, Iuka, shares this copy of the original picture passed down to him by his mother. He recalls being told that the gathering was possibly members of The Woodmen of the World and their families gathered at the building, which was used for school, church, and fellowships.

Anyone recognizing or knowing any particulars about the print may contact Mr. Tucker, since he wishes to obtain the identity of the group.

Iuka PTA Salutes

The Iuka High-Junior High PTA salutes Bobby Lowrey. Mr. Lowrey teaches Biology in grades 9-12. He has taught in the Iuka School System for six years. He has a B.S. degree from Mississippi State and is affiliated with MAE. Mr. Lowrey is a senior class sponsor and the Science Club sponsor. He has had the honor of being chosen as Star Teacher of the Year for the last two years. His wife, Peggy, works at Iuka Guaranty Bank, and they have two daughters, Dena and Kelly. Fishing, hunting, and basketball are some of the hobbies he enjoys. His favorite person in his field is Jim Lamb, Northeast Mississippi Junior College Zoology instructor.

Mississippi's transportation system has undergone a change, with the migration of people from rural to urban areas, bringing about a need for change in the transportation system. In a recent study the Mississippi Economic Council concluded that the State Aid System should be reviewed and updated to ensure its operating efficiency.

The report made a number of recommendations, noting that under the 30-year-old funding formula, many counties continue to receive the same level of State Aid funds even though traffic activity has been reduced substantially. The council concluded that the State Aid System should be updated so that "principles of quality, fairness, and equity will be maintained."

Agriculture Census Begins This Week

The 1982 Census of Agriculture gets underway this week with the mailing of report forms to farmers and ranchers in the 50 states, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau announced today.

Farmers and ranchers are being asked to report on their agricultural operations during 1982 and to return the form by February 15, 1983. The 1982 census is the nation's 22nd agriculture census in a series that started in 1840.

For the first time in a mail agriculture census report forms will reflect regional cropping patterns to make reporting easier.

Farm and ranch operators will be asked to report the acreage in their operations, form of ownership, type of organization, location of the place, use made of the land, and when their operations began. Other questions will cover livestock and poultry inventories and sales, amount of government crop loans, crop acreage, amount harvested, and value of crops and livestock sold.

About 20 percent of farmers and ranchers will receive a form with an additional page which has inquiries on: selected production expenses, market value of land and buildings, machinery and equipment inventory and value, interest expenses and expenditures for petroleum and other energy sources.

Assistance in completing census forms is available locally from offices of the Cooperative Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, Vocational Agriculture Teachers, Production Credit Associations, and Farmers Home Administration.

A file copy of the report form is provided which operators can complete and keep for their own records.

A time extension can be granted farmers who request it. Census results will be published for each state, and the nation. The first preliminary data will be released beginning in the fall of 1983.

The law which requires farmers and ranchers to report in the census also protects the privacy of their reports. Census report forms are confidential by law and they may be seen only by sworn Census employees and may be used only for statistical purposes. Even other government agencies cannot obtain or use the individual reports, and copies retained by the farmers are immune from the legal process.

Each report form will have a census file number (CFN) printed on the address label. If a report is not received for each file number, the Census Bureau will send out follow-up letters to all who have not responded.

Farmers and ranchers who have not received a form should request one from the Bureau of the Census, 1201 East 10th Street, Jeffersonville, Indiana 47133.

John Trimm Recalls Tishomingo's Tornado

THE REMAINS OF THE SCHOOLHOUSE

His historical photograph depicts the havoc and destruction left in the wake of the worst tornado in Tishomingo's history. Miraculously, no children were injured when the twister destroyed most of the schoolhouse on March 13, 1913. No one can blame a resident of Tishomingo for being superstitious of the number "13". Photo courtesy of Jim and Ruby Southward, of Tishomingo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trimm

The unlucky date of March 13, 1913, marks a dark scar in Tishomingo's history. For it was on this day that a monstrous tornado carved a path of destruction and tragedy through the town.

The time was three o'clock in the afternoon when the twister blew in from the southwest. A time when residents were going about their usual business unaware of the impending disaster. The schoolhouse was packed with children, who were either concentrating on their lessons or in the midst of a day-dream. At the stores some of the men were converged to escape a drenching from the pounding rain. Undoubtedly, they were discussing how the down-pour would either help or hinder their planting schedules. In the homes the women were most likely preparing supper to the deafening roar of rain-drops on the tin roofs above. Shortly afterward all had changed. The greater portion of Tishomingo had been reduced to rubble, and the corpses of three men lay under the debris.

"It just wiped the place off through here. It killed three people down at the grocery store - Mr. Dayton Waldrep, Mr. Edmondson, and a Mr. Smith, from Corinth. Mr. Jim Nash owned the store where the men got killed," recalled John Trimm of the incident.

Being twelve years old at the time, he can remember a great deal. According to Trimm, the Methodist Church, the Baptist Church, all the stores, and most of the school were destroyed. None of the pupils were injured because, "Ms. Lyda Wren put her school children under their desks," he said. However, the teacher suffered a broken arm when the structure collapsed. The only home that didn't sustain any damage belonged to Wes McDougall.

Town legend has it that the Little Doode Train came chugging up the tracks soon after the twister had blitzed its way through Tishomingo. The Little Doode was a small passenger train that daily traversed from Haleyville, Alabama, to Corinth and back. Trimm related the story, "Mr. Hicks was the conductor of the train. When he came up here and saw what a mess it was, he backed the train up to Padon and told them that Tishomingo had blown away."

Before the tornado ever hit Tishomingo, it passed by Trimm's home five miles west of town. He was able to get a glimpse of it and described the twister as a "big ole round-looking cloud." His father also saw the menacing force of nature and quickly took action to protect his family. "Papa said, 'Yonder comes a cyclone, kids! Get under the bed!' We looked up and saw a cedar tree headed towards the house."

Fortunately, the tree fell short, and the Trimm house was untouched; but a relative was not so lucky. "I rode to see Uncle Guy Adams' house. It was blown away. This was west of town."

Through hard efforts and an unflinching spirit, the uncle rebuilt his home just as so many others did. The townspeople of Tishomingo refused to let the tornado defeat them. One by one, the town's structures were once again erected against the sky in a defiant cry of triumph. "In five or six years it was built back pretty good," Trimm commented.

He said that the residents began with the schoolhouse. "They put up some of the school back. I went to school there. In 1917 the agriculture high school was built." Today Tishomingo High School stands very near to the original educational facility.

Aside from the rebuilding, there were other construction projects thriving, as evidenced by Trimm. "They built stormhouses. A cloud came up and they would go in the hole."

Having served as postmaster of Tishomingo for thirty-seven years and mayor for fourteen years, he knows much of the town's history and is eager to share that knowledge with anyone who wishes to learn.

The tragic tornado of 1913 did not cause any drastic changes in his life. Luckily no close family member was killed or injured. However, John Trimm did say that he had "gone to the stormhouse on many a night."

have their names listed in this paper for those in the area to know their names.

(4) When we get this equipment, what will our ability be as far as other areas of the state?

The county will have the latest equipment and will be equal to any in the state.

(5) Why do we need something like Jaws of Life?

When someone is hurt and is trapped in a car, time is gold. As those precious seconds tick away, one's life may be hanging by a thread. What if your car had been hit by a car, truck or train? Wouldn't you want to be freed and taken to get medical help as soon as possible?

(6) What can this equipment do?

It pries, bends, tears, shears, and forces metal, masonry, or timber - gets you to trapped victims with life-saving speed. You can use this equipment to force doors, remove steering columns, open barred windows, cut door posts, raise heavy weights, peel back roofs and sheet metal, or take fire doors completely off their hinges.

(7) How many people does it take to operate this equipment?

It has been designed to be a manageable one man tool.

(8) How can I give to the saving of lives in my area?

Make your check out to "Jaws of Life" and send it to P.O. Box 271, Iuka, Miss. 38852, or take it by the City Hall or turn it in to this newspaper. Please do this today, and remember that your gifts are tax deductible.

Please, we hope that you and your family or business will want to give to the saving of lives. The sooner we raise the funds, the sooner we can have the equipment on hand on the job for you.

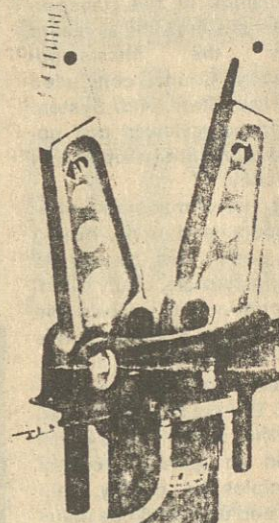

Bear Bryant's Letter - A Personal Testimony

Coach Paul W. (Bear) Bryant was a legend in his own time. He led his teams to victory instrumenting strong discipline, a positive attitude, and a Christian atmosphere. Along the path of victories the Bear acquired many fans who respected him for his great accomplishments. It was a sad day for all when the winningest coach in football history passed away.

However, that day was especially sad for all his loyal fans who were crushed by the news. Here in Tishomingo County many a tear was shed over this citizen of our neighboring state. Yet Bear Bryant lived his life as he wanted and is himself a definition for the word "winner".

Mrs. Ike Jackson, of Iuka, is one of the many who mourned his death. A fan throughout the Bear's coaching career, she recently wrote a letter to him in which she related her great respect. Promptly the following week, a reply came from Coach Bear Bryant himself. In the letter he told how God had richly blessed him.

This one statement truly exemplifies the character of this great man who taught us the meaning of winning with modesty and gratitude.

"Jaws of Life"

Community Drive For Life

Last week you read about the "Jaws of Life" and some questions have been asked:

(1) Where will this life saving equipment be kept? When the drive is over and the equipment is in hand, Mayor Biggs will turn it over to the rescue crew and kept at the hospital for ambulance runs.

(2) Is this a drive of the Methodist Church? No, this is a community-wide and county-wide drive to get the necessary equipment to save lives.

(3) What will the benefits be for those businesses who give to the saving of lives in the county?

Those who show their support to the saving of lives and the brotherhood of man will

ONE REQUEST

Dear Master, for this coming year, Just one request I bring; I do not pray for happiness Or any earthly thing.

I do not ask to understand The way Thou leadest me; But this I ask: "Teach me to do The thing that pleaseth Thee."

I want to know Thy guiding voice, To walk with Thee each day; Dear Master, make me swift to hear, And ready to obey.

And thus, the year I now begin, A happy year will be, If I am seeking just to do The thing that pleaseth Thee.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Ramsey spent last week in Alva, Ky., with Mr. and Mrs. Greg Byrom, Eric, and new daughter, Myra Anne.

Mrs. Kimble Bishop, of Little Rock, Ark., spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Allen Floyd. Mrs. Floyd celebrated her birthday January 31st, with a dinner, which was prepared by her daughter, Mrs. Bishop. Mrs. Floyd's other daughters, Mrs. Buster Ramsey, and husband, Buster, and Mrs. Paul McKee and husband, Paul, enjoyed the delicious meal together. Mrs. Floyd received several gifts and many birthday cards to make her day a special one. Mrs. Floyd's son-in-law, Kimble Bishop, unable to attend, baked a birthday cake and sent to her - a most enjoyable surprise.

Discount On Cabins At State Parks

A special seasonal discount for cabins and motel units at Mississippi state parks has been announced by the Bureau of Recreation and Parks. On any Sunday through Thursday during the months of January through April, cabins and motel units will be discounted 20% off the published 1983 rates.

Cabins and motel units at the state parks are fully equipped providing guests with bed and bath linens and a full range of kitchen utensils. Many cabins have fireplaces and all are heated.

The larger parks provide food service. In other parks fast food outlets and restaurants are located nearby.

Aubrey Rozzell, director Bureau of Recreation and Parks, said the discount will be especially useful to traveling government employees with limited travel funds, as well as to the general public.

Reservations are not required but highly recommended. Reservations can be made by contacting the park where accommodations are desired.

Mr. & Mrs. Browning Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Luther O. Browning were honored with a 60th wedding anniversary celebration on December 26th, by their children, Mr. Elton Browning, of Franklin, Ind.; Mrs. Ernestine Bray, of Burnsville; and Mrs. Edith Streetman, of Corinth.

The couple was presented with a white boutonniere for him and a white orchid for her. He wore a three-piece navy blue suit with light blue shirt and tie. Mrs. Browning wore a royal blue crepe, long-sleeve shirtwaist dress with white pinstripes. A beautiful mother's pin was worn at the neck.

A large bouquet of white daisies and red roses was placed at the entrance with a guest register. The table was covered with an ivory lace cloth and a gold lining and was centered with a three-tiered ivory cake decorated in diamond shapes with orange roses and brown leaves. The fruit punch was served in a fruit glass bowl and cups. A silver tray graced mints of roses and leaves matching the cake and punch. Mrs. Joyce Mathis, Mrs. Bettie Gilmore and Mrs. Shirley Calton, grandchildren of the couple, served the many friends and relatives, who called on the honorees.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning wish to thank each and everyone for the beautiful flowers, cards, gifts and for making their day a treasure they will always remember.

New Arrival

Gregory and Abbie Byrom, of Alva, Ky., former Iuka residents, proudly announce the birth of a daughter, Myra Anne, born January 20, 1983, at 3:27 p.m., weighing 8 lbs. 10 ozs., 20 1/2 inches long, at the Medical Center in Bowling Green, Ky. She was happily welcomed into the family by her brother, Eric, 7 years old.

Myra Anne was named for her paternal great-grandmother Byrom (deceased) and her maternal great - great - grandmother Elledge (deceased).

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harmon "Pete" Byrom; maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.D. "Buster" Ramsey. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Allen Floyd and Mr. and Mrs. D.T. Crews, of Iuka; and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Cruce, of Florence, Alabama.

Happy Birthday!

Tiffany Brooke, daughter of Freed and Jane Miller, of Cherokee, Ala., enjoyed her 3rd birthday, January 23, celebrating with family. The party was complete with "Strawberry Shortcake", ice cream, and Coke. The day was even more special since Tiffany was born on her father's birthday. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Burleson, of Tishomingo; and Mr. and Mrs. L.O. Miller, of Cherokee. Great-grandmother is Mrs. Louise Burleson, also of Tishomingo.

Anderson - Cooper To Wed February 5

Rev. and Mrs. James E. Anderson, of Fleming, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine Elaine, to Eric Patterson Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Patterson Cooper, of Midway, Ga. The pending marriage will take place on February 5, at 6:00 p.m. in Fleming Baptist Church with the bride's father officiating.

The bride to be is a graduate of Bradwell Institute and is employed by Dr. Smith Burnett's Chiropractic Office.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Bradwell Institute and Savannah Vocational and Technical School. He is employed by J&J Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Co.

All friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

Eric is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. King, of Iuka; and Mrs. Mildred Cooper, of Paris, Tennessee.

school students from the Iuka area are expected to participate.

The tournament, sponsored by the Mississippi College Departments of Science and Mathematics, recognizes students and their high schools for outstanding academic achievement in science and math. Some 1,450 students representing 178 different high schools are expected to participate in the two-day event.

Featuring both team and individual competition, the tournament offers over $38,000 in academic scholarships to Mississippi College. Individual competition includes one-four written exams in math, biology, chemistry and physics with each student allowed to compete in two of the four areas. First place winners receive $1,200 scholarships, while second place winners receive a $600 scholarship. Recognition certificates and $100 scholarships are given the top ten percent in each division.

Team competition is divided into two divisions depending on the science and math curriculum offered by the individual schools. The four-member teams compete in a quiz type format where questions are flashed on the screen and quick calculations and responses are required. All calculations are done with pencil and paper.

Dr. Jerry Cannon, associate

tives of the school are to increase product and sales knowledge and to develop professional sales skills. The general areas covered during the school were prospecting, selling, and policyowner service.

The school is part of a one-year basic study program in which Mr. Green is currently enrolled. The remainder of the program consists of a self-study correspondence course administered by Liberty National's Field Training Department.

Mr. Green represents Liberty National's Corinth office.

New Arrival

Clayton and Linda Clingan are proud to announce the birth of a baby girl, Heather Nicole was born December 21, 1982, at 2:10 p.m. at the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth. The Little Miss weighed in at 7 lbs. 15 ozs.

She was welcomed home by an older sister, Crystal, four-years-old.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Yarber and Shirley Adams, all of Iuka, and the late James Dee Clingan.

Local Student Receives UM AROTC Awards

Lynn Goss of Iuka recently received the Distinguished Military Student, 300 Club and Academic Wreath Awards at the Army ROTC Awards Day ceremony at The University of Mississippi.

The Distinguished Military Student Award is presented annually to the top students in ROTC based on camp performance, academic record, military leadership and overall performance in the realm of achievement. The 300 Club Award is awarded to each cadet who achieves the maximum score on the record physical fitness test, and the academic wreath is presented annually to cadets who have a grade point average of 3.0 or better for accumulated class hours.

Lt. Col. Donald R. Taylor, associate professor of military science at Ole Miss, presented the awards.

Man Asks God Answers

The Resurrection

WHERE DO SOULS NOT GO AT DEATH? (1) The souls of the wicked: Rev. 21:27 - There shall in no wise enter into it (the heavenly City) anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination or maketh a lie. 1 Cor. 6:9, 10 - Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. Heb. 12:14 - Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.

(2) The souls of the righteous: John 3:13 - No man hath ascended up to heaven. Acts 2:34 - For David is not ascended into the heavens. Heb. 11:39 - And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, receive not the promise. LHMM Chester Springs, PA 19425 for the many cards you sent, the prayers you said, your visits, and every other kindness shown to my family and me during my recent illness. I shall ever be grateful.

May God bless each of you.

Card of Thanks

We have searched in vain for words to adequately express our appreciation to the many friends and relatives of our beloved mother, Bertha Mae Ferrell. Because you were someone special and because you did so much, through the love of God, your help, your kindness and with our faith, we will again find peace and happiness. Each and everyone of you will always have a very special place in our hearts because all of you have expressed your love in a very special way. We would like to express a special thanks to the Ambulance Service, the doctors and the emergency room personnel, who did all that could be done for her. A special thanks to Bro. Gene Tennison and Bro. Bill Langley, whom she loved very much, and to Bro. Doyle Ferrell and Ella Mary McAnally for the songs sung so well. To Regina Pound Boyd for such a good job at the piano. A special thanks to the pallbearers, Eddy Honeycutt, Hoyle Wayne Walker, Myrl Tennyson, Mitchell Pound, George Kendrick and George Gresham. A special thanks to Cutshall Funeral Home and staff. A very special thanks to each and everyone who brought food and lent a helping hand.

COME TO CHURCH

We all have times when things go wrong.

And Fortune's in reverse;

Yet we're expected to be strong,

Though things could not get worse...

A strength of which the Scriptures name

Examples plain to see:

Like Job, whose faith remained the same

Throughout adversity.

So why not go to Church this week,

Whichever one you choose,

And listen to the Bible speak;

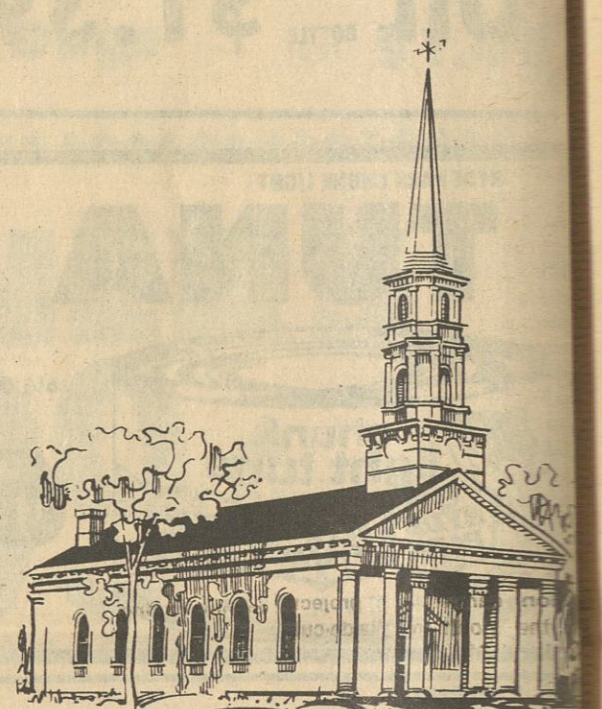

There's not a thing to lose!

Then, what those passages command

You'll follow to the letter;

And let God take your life in hand,

To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY
OPTOMETRIST

EYE FATIGUE

Fatigue can be an enemy of good vision. It may be beneficial to rest and relax your eyes if you feel fatigue setting in. There are also some simple routines which can eliminate mild eye fatigue. Keep in mind, however, that these exercises are designed for people who have no visual problem which needs correction. They are not exercises to strengthen your eyes or to get rid of spectacles. EYE EXERCISES ARE NOT SUBSTITUTES FOR VISUAL CARE.

Try the following: one, glance around to the extreme corners of the room without moving your head. Look slowly and rhythmically from one spot to another. Two, after a couple of minutes of these movements, close your eyes and rest for ten seconds, blind a few times, then rest for another ten seconds. Three, repeat the movements, but going in the opposite direction. Then close your eyes again.

If this provides no relief, or if eye fatigue seems to be a chronic problem, you should consult your eye doctor.

In the interest of better vision from the office of:

Mr. & Mrs. Odas A. Bolton To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Odas A. Bolton wish to invite you to a reception honoring their parents/grandparents in the Bolton home in Tishomingo, on Sunday, February 6, 1983, from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Bolton are the parents of Mrs. Olene Taylor, Mrs. Joyce Golden, and Mrs. Sadie Tuckler, all of Tishomingo.

Miles To Be Honored

Lee W. Miles, resident manager for Tenn-Tom Constructors, a joint venture led by Morrison-Knudsen Co., Inc., Boise, which is building a portion of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, will be among the 48 persons honored at the 1983 Construction's Man of the Year Award Dinner February 9, at the Plaza Hotel in New York City.

ENGINEERING NEWS-RECORD, McGraw-Hill's construction weekly, sponsors the dinner. Despite unexpectedly bad soil and excessive water encountered during the $271-million earthmoving project on the northern, divide-cut section of the waterway, Miles has kept the operation ahead of schedule. To meet the difficult work schedules, the constructors designed and built a new rip-rap laying machine, compiled $43 million worth of equipment, established a three-shift-per-day equipment maintenance operation and instituted an incentive-award program to encourage worker attendance.

The winner of the Construction's Man of the Year Award -- who is one of the 48 persons cited for contributions to construction -- will be announced at the dinner.

ENGINEERING NEWS-RECORD has sponsored the event for the past 17 years to recognize those who have served the best interests of the construction industry during the previous year. The dinner honoring these persons is attended by 500 to 600 construction leaders in contracting, design, government, labor, finance and manufacturing.

Art Exhibit Planned At Northeast

The paintings of water color enthusiast Terry Cherry will be exhibited at Northeast Junior College February 3-25. Marty McLendon, chairman of the college art department announced. The gallery, located in Room 47 of Hines Hall, is open to the public weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Visual Arts League, the one-man show includes several landscapes, the artist's favorite subject matter.

Cherry earned the B.A. in commercial art at Mississippi State University and the M.A. in painting at Mississippi College. Presently, he serves as art instructor at East Mississippi Junior College.

While at Mississippi State, he served as graphics designer for the University's Alumnus magazine. He also worked as demonstrator for Grumbacher, Inc., in 1977 and 1978.

Outside the classroom, Cherry shares his knowledge of art while conducting water color workshops. In addition, he has been asked to judge at the Lively Arts Festival in Meridian, the Calico Art Festival in Columbus and the Kentucky Art Festival in Northport, Alabama. Many of Cherry's paintings are included in both public and private collections throughout Mississippi today. Among these are the William's Gallery in Gulfport, the collection of Governor William Winter, the Meridian Museum of Art Permanent Collection, Mississippi Museum of Art Permanent Collection, University of Southern Mississippi Art Department Collection and the L.O. Todd Library Collection in Meridian.

Local Optometrists Attend Conference

Two optometrists from Corinth recently attended the 27th annual continuing education conference for optometrists held at The University of Mississippi.

The two and one-half day program was sponsored by the Mississippi Optometrists Association and was coordinated by the Ole Miss Division of Continuing Education.

Attending the conference were Dr. Jack Hora and Dr. John Dodd.

BIRTHDAY GIRL!

April Heather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burns, of Route 4, Iuka, will celebrate her second birthday on Tuesday, February 15th. Her grandparents are Mrs. Mary Burns, of Iuka, and the late Thomas Burns; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Knight, of Glen, Miss. Great-grandmother is Mrs. Nora Malone, of Strickland, Miss.

Gadabout Tour To Jamaica

The vacation of a lifetime is the best way to describe the 1983 Gadabout Tour to beautiful Jamaica. Sponsored by Northeast Junior College, the seven-day trip can be yours for less than $700.00.

The group will leave Memphis, Sunday, June 5, for a non-stop flight to Montego Bay, Anne Gaddis Cross, the tour coordinator said.

Upon arrival, participants will relax and enjoy themselves at Jamaica's most complete resort -- the Trelawny Beach Hotel. Private and secluded, the resort features 350 magnificent guest rooms (all with private balconies and spectacular views), an open-air lobby, fine restaurants and

Brownies Visit Pickwick Manor

Residents of Pickwick Manor Nursing Home recently had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with Burnsville Brownie Troop 296. The girls sang songs such as "The Brownie Smile Song", "On My Honor", and "Gray Squirrel Swish Your Bushy Tail". Afterward they mingled with the residents, who were a complete staff of social directors.

A host of activities including river rafting, waterfall climbing, glass bottom boating, waterskiing, horseback riding, golf, tennis and a variety of water sports are available at or near the Trelawny Beach.

The hotel even offers free scuba, including lessons and diving, Cross added.

Total cost for the seven day holiday, which includes round-trip air transportation, round-trip transfers, all luggage handling, seven nights at the Trelawny Beach Hotel, breakfast and dinner daily, all taxes and tips, a variety of hotel activities and the official 1983 Gadabout T-Shirt is $649.00 per person for triple occupancy and $699.00 per person for double occupancy.

Because the tour is limited to 50 people, interested persons should send deposit checks of $100 to Northeast Gadabout Tours, c/o Northeast Junior College, Booneville, MS 38829, as soon as possible. The deposit is fully refundable if participants are forced to cancel. The final payment is due April 15.

For additional information, contact Cross at the above address or call 728-7751, Ext. 348.

EMPLOYER OF THE WEEK

Piggly Wiggly has been named Employer of the Week for the Distributive Education Co-Op Program at Iuka High. Piggly Wiggly is located on Hwy. 25 South, and is owned by Mr. Gary Williams and Mr. Harold Fulton. Mr. Jimmy Trussell serves as general manager and supervisor to the three Co-Op students employed there. The students employed at Piggly Wiggly are Chris Evans, Rodney Pannell, and Wade Comer. Chris is a 17 year old senior at Iuka High School. While at school, he is a member of the DECA Club, Speech Club, and Beta Club. He also works with the Annual Staff and the TRIBE TALK, the school newspaper. This year Chris was elected Senior Class President and Chaplain of the DECA Club. While at work, Chris has various tasks such as sacking groceries, stocking shelves, loading cars with groceries, customer assistance, and general housekeeping duties. When asked about work, Chris stated, "I have gained a great deal of respect of citizens in our area. The experience of meeting people and getting to know these people has been a fulfilling part of my job. I appreciate the opportunity to work at Piggly Wiggly during high school." Rodney Pannell is the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Pannell and a junior at Iuka High School. At school, he is an active member of the DECA club. Some of his hobbies when out of school include rock collecting and sports. Rodney has been employed at Piggly Wiggly for nine months. His on-the-job responsibilities include checking and sacking groceries, stocking shelves, customer assistance and general housekeeping. Wade Comer is a junior at Iuka High School where he is an active member of the DECA Club. Wade's duties at work also include sacking groceries, stocking shelves, general housekeeping and customer assistance. Piggly Wiggly has always shown a great interest in the Co-Op Program and DECA Club as well as Iuka High School. If it were not for the interest and support of this business, as well as all other establishments in Iuka, the Distributive Education Program could not exist. The Distributive Education Program at Iuka High School consists of the Cooperative Program where students work and receive two credits and the Marketing Program, which provides students with the knowledge in the areas of Marketing and Merchandising and carries one unit of credit. For more information about the Distributive Education Program at Iuka High, contact Ms. Carol Miller.

DECA Update

By: Tina Keel & Sharee Goode

Friday night the DECA officers met at the home of Miss Carol Miller to discuss plans for National DECA

Week, which is February 7-11. An activity is planned for each day. Monday is Teacher Appreciation Day. Tuesday announcements will be made by Sondra Duckett & Company. Wednesday is District Competition at Itawamba Junior College, and also DECA dance will be held at Skateworld that night from 11. Admission will be $1.00 per person. You do not have to be in DECA to attend. Thursday is DECA t-shirt day and Friday is dress-up day. On Monday, February 14th, DECA has plans to go to Timber Hills for a short party. The DECA Club is looking forward to participating in all these events.

Chieftain Tales

By: Barbara Woodruff
Hi Everyone,

The Chieftain girls made it to the semi-finals of the Tombigbee Tourney this past weekend, but they lost to Kossuth. The Chieftains played Tuesday night against Tishomingo at Tishomingo. This was a pretty good game to see. The District Tournament starts this week at NEMJC. The Chieftains will be playing in this on Friday night of this week. Good luck!

John Mark Celebrates Two John Mark Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Stephens, celebrated his 2nd birthday with a party at his home. Several relatives and friends were present and were served pieces of an "ET" cake, ice cream, and potato chips. John Mark received many nice gifts, and would like to thank everyone for these. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Middleton, of Iuka; and Mrs. Webster Booker and the late Mr. H.C. Stephens, of Tishomingo. Upon leaving each child received a bag of candy and surprises.

Calub Goes To Memphis

By: Ben Earl Kitchens
Hit wuz last Saturday that they done it. Took Billy Ray to the airport out there at Memphis. Drove him all the way to the airport in that '63 Impala with the fenders, might nigh bent off. Done it so that he wouldn't have to ride the bus. Calub said that ole car burned take you all the way to the top. Calub said that he and Kathy Sue rode up it and down on hit too. There weren't nobody else on it but them. Guess the others were too scared to git on or else they liked to walk. Why, if somebody had a two story house hit would be jist the thing to have. But you'd have to learn how to git off of it and on it.

After Calub and Katy Sue got up there on the top floor they had to walk through one of them things that they use to see if you've got a gun or knife on you. Calub said that he had heered of 'em but had never been through one of 'em. He walked up to the thing and started through. The ball rang. That there attendant made him take out both of his pocketknives, his keys and loose coins. He said that she had one of them big black billyclubs a lying next to her on the counter. He figgered she used it to hit people if they tried to go on through.

He started through again and the bell rang again. She made him take his watch off. Said the battery in the watch might be a causing it to ring. Katy Sue was a standing over next to the wall and a laughing like she would bust. Calub had to pull his belt off and still hit made a noise. The lady attendant then told him that he might have to pull his clothes off. Calub got a white look on his face and told her that he would be dabburned if that was so. She run off to her office and called someone - probably her boss. Then she come over there and got a little black box and started putting it all over Calub. When she pushed hit over his private parts the red light would start flashing. She and Calub then got in a big argument about Calub taking his pants off. She told him that it was necessary and he told her that he shore didn't aim to, that he had drove up there to Memphis from Chicoboto County, Mississippi to put Billy Ray on the airplane to Chicago and that if she didn't let 'em through that stall that Billy Ray might miss the plane.

She told Calub that her boss, who was a man, would be the one that would see him without any clothes on but Calub told her that he didn't care jiff hit wuz a man or a woman that he didn't aim to undress in front of none of 'em. He told her that nobody except Katy Sue had seen him stripped since Ole Doc Claymore operated on his private parts ten years before and put the steel pins in him. When the attendant heered that she commenced apologizing and said that she didn't have no need to examine him no further and that he could jist walk around the stall and go to the plane. That's what Calub done and he said that Billy Ray got to the loading dock jist as the plane was a starting to leave. Every time that Calub thought about how that attendant had done him he shore got mad.

After they done got back to Chicoboto County, they wuz a talking about it and Katy Sue said that when Billy Joe come back from Chicago that they would go back down there to the Memphis Airport and pick him up. Said that hit wouldn't be so hard next time - she knew where to go now and all. And that it wouldn't be no problem gitting Calub through the stall now since that there attendant knew about his pinning and all. Calub disagreed. He said that he didn't reckon that he would go back down there no more. Said that he didn't hold no grudge against the attendant or nothing but that he thought they did charge a little heavy for the parking. And them steps that come up out of the ground, he said that he was still ascard to death of them. He said that if you wuz to git hung on them steps why they would take you right down under the ground. He said that he knew that his time was a coming but he shore didn't hanker to be buried under the Memphis Airport!

Alano (Alcoholics Anonymous) By One With Experience

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today. A number of yesterdays ago I did drink. But I cannot worry about what happened yesterday, or I might not stay sober today. I can only use yesterday as an example of what would surely happen again if I took one drink today.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today. Whatever happens tomorrow I will face with a clear mind and a clear conscience because today I stayed sober. And when tomorrow comes, it will again be today.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today. As today is added to a long string of dry yesterdays, it forges one more strong link in the chain of my sobriety -- sobriety that I must maintain to preserve my health, my sanity, and my life.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today.

As every 24 hours passes, the memory of my misery, the desire for alcohol, and the remorse for my misdeeds fades farther into the past. Today my family respects me: yesterday they didn't. I have tried to make amends to those I hurt while drinking. They have forgiven me, and I have forgiven myself. My mind is at peace.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today.

Whatever may happen tomorrow is in the hands of my Higher Power. I do not try to bargain with Him as I once did. I ask only for knowledge and His will for me and the power to carry it out. Today I know He will keep me from drinking.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today.

If today I have problems, there is no need to make them more unbearable by adding worries about the past and concern for the future. If I have no troubles today, there is no need to make myself miserable by borrowing fears from yesterday and tomorrow.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today.

I cannot afford the luxury of carrying yesterday's troubles into today because self-pity, resentments, and anger may disturb my peace of mind and lead me to drink. I have learned that the cause of my drinking lies within me - nowhere else.

Today I do not drink alcohol. Only today.

I have a disease -- a deadly, progressive, incurable disease. It can destroy my family, my health, my sanity, and my life. Because of it, I can lose my friends, my loved ones, my job, and my liberty. In order to arrest it, I must stay away from alcohol. With the help of my Higher Power and my friends in Alcoholics Anonymous, I can do so. Can anything be more important?

Today I do not drink alcohol. Tomorrow never comes!

The initial symptoms of parvo are high temperature, depression and poor appetite. This may be followed by severe vomiting and diarrhea. The heart muscle may also be infected in very young pups. Severity of the disease can vary from mild infection to extreme symptoms such as dehydration, shock and death. The disease is more severe in puppies than in adult dogs. For this reason, early recognition of the symptoms and prompt treatment could be life-saving.

Minimizing contact with other dogs and their stool -- in addition to using disinfectants -- can somewhat control the spread of this disease. However, vaccination is the best method of preventing potentially fatal canine parvovirus disease.

PARVOVIRUS — NEW & DANGEROUS

Parvovirus is a new disease which appeared only a few years ago in different parts of the world. It is a highly contagious virus. It can be transmitted through direct contact with other dogs, their stool, contaminated cages, or by human touch. Since the virus is also very resistant, it can linger in the environment for months.

Luka Elementary 6th Grade Presents "A Proud Heritage"

The sixth grade of Luka Elementary School presented a patriotic program entitled "A Proud Heritage" at the January P.T.A. meeting and for the elementary school students and faculty on the following day. The original program traced the history of our nation from the 1770's through the Civil War. Sixth grade students participated in the program, which included recitations of the Preamble to the Constitution, a patriotic poem, part of the Gettysburg Address, and an abundance of patriotic music. Sixth grade teachers helping with the program were Mrs. Ruth Hunt, Mrs. Becky McNeely, Mrs. Pat Bagley, and Mr. George Yow. Music was provided by Mrs. Jeannine

Stone and Mr. David Bagley. Stage decorations were done by Mrs. Edna Murrah and the sixth grade gifted class. The program was videotaped by Mrs. Nancy Daniel and Mrs. Pam Cutshall.

Our Children, Our Future

Two hundred-sixty seven babies were born in Tishomingo County in 1981. Seven of these babies died before their first birthday. For every baby who dies, three will live but with handicapping conditions.

Nine people from Tishomingo County are in institutions for the mentally retarded at an annual cost of $14,335 per person ($700,000 for a 50-year lifetime of care). But 30 percent of retardation is preventable.

Mississippi pays $30 million per year for 2,052 institutionalized retarded citizens. Over 50,000 disabled children in Mississippi need services for mental, physical, and emotional disturbances. Educating each marginally handicapped child costs $1,667 per school year. For 50,000 children, the total education cost is $83,350,000 each year.

Babies who die unnecessarily or are handicapped cost every taxpayer, everyone with health insurance, every hospital. Hospitals shift costs from nonpaying to paying patients by raising daily rates. In response, insurance rates rise. Hospitals need help.

The problem begins with mothers-at-risk. Ninety-nine babies were identified as born to mothers-at-risk in Tishomingo County (37 percent). Mothers-at-risk are too young, undereducated, or lack prenatal care. But they can be helped.

Sixty-one babies were born to teenagers in Tishomingo

County (23 percent). Mississippi has one of the highest teenage birthrates in the nation, 23 percent of all births.

Twenty babies were born with low birthweight (7.5 percent). Low birthweight is a leading cause of infant mortality and mental retardation. Teenagers are more likely to have low birthweight babies.

One hundred two babies were born to mothers without a high school education (38 percent).

Often they cannot afford the cost because they are poor, unemployed, uninsured. Twelve percent of the work force in Tishomingo County is unemployed. Ninety-two percent of the unemployed are uninsured.

Thirteen point five percent of the citizens in Tishomingo County have incomes below poverty, more than in any other state. The county's per capita income is $6,334, compared to $7,313 nationally. Mississippi has the lowest per capita income among states.

We can pay now for inexpensive preventive care for mothers and babies or we can pay much more later for damaged and dying babies. Support measures to improve our quality of birth in Mississippi. We need to insure that all babies have the opportunity to become productive, tax-paying citizens.

According to Joan Parker, Maternal Child Health Coordinator, the above statistics of 1981 could be improved or prevented if teenagers could receive sex education in the home, by their private physician, or Family Planning Clinic at the Health Department. For more information call 423-6100.

Job Service Information

Today's jobs depend more and more on schooling and technical skills, according to Charles Smith, Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service. If you are a school dropout, you can still receive specialized training at a Job Corps Center. Job Corps offers a variety of training programs for both men and women, at over 100 centers. The training that is offered includes automotive, trades, carpentry, bricklaying, plumbing, electrical trades, welding, nursing, clerical, secretarial, food services, and many more. In fact, Job Corps offers training in over 160 different jobs.

Of course, while you are in Job Corps, you will receive room and board, some clothing for work and dress, books and other supplies, and a small cash allowance. In addition to learning a trade, you will receive counseling, medical and dental care and other services, including the opportunity to obtain a high school equivalency diploma (GED). However, Job Corps is different from the school you may have dropped out of. In Job Corps, you learn at your own pace.

School dropouts, 16 through 21, now is the time to make a change and enter the scene of the successful. See your Job Corps screener at the Mississippi State Employment Service Office NOW. This could affect your earning ability for the rest of your life!

FmHA's PIK Participation

Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) State Director, James L. Perry, is directing FmHA district directors and county supervisors throughout the state to encourage Mississippi farmers to seriously consider participating in the new Payment-in-Kind (PIK) or "crop swap" program.

Mr. Perry, who just returned from a Department of Agriculture briefing in Washington, said he is "thoroughly convinced that the PIK program can go a long way toward solving surplus grain problems and easing the cost-price squeeze, while at the same time, holding down federal spending."

The meeting in Washington, Perry said, was called by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block. It included comments by the Secretary and detailed briefings by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Administrator Everett Rank and FmHA Administrator Charles W. Shuman, among others. ASCS Executive Directors, including Thomas M. Barron and ASCS committee members from around the country, also attended the meeting.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Perry, "that this innovative PIK program can be of great benefit to Mississippi's farmers. It can help reduce the need for operating capital, reduce interest costs, and hold production to a more realistic level this year and, if necessary, next year. It can help relieve cash flow problems for many farmers and in the long run improve the general agricultural economy."

"I sincerely hope that every farmer will study the details of the new program with an open mind and determine its benefits before the end of the sign-up period, March 11," Perry said.

Dun's Business Month

In its annual rating of corporate performance, DUN'S BUSINESS MONTH has singled out Anheuser-Busch Co., Bristol-Myers Co., Hospital Corp. of America, International Business Machines Corp. and Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. as the five best-managed U.S. companies of 1982. During a period when most companies struggled simply to survive, all five winners posted substantial sales and earnings increases.

The standard measures of any well-managed company, DUN'S BUSINESS MONTH says, apply to the five corporations selected: profitability in difficult times, careful financing, smart leadership and a clearly defined direction. What sets the five winners apart are carefully worked strategies to seize greater market shares from the competitors.

WAL-MART STORES, INC., when faced with a drop-off in sales and declining profit margins in the mid-1970's gambled -- and won -- on a new marketing strategy geared to upgrading its merchandise and improving the appearance of its stores. From 78 outlets at the end of 1973, Wal-Mart has mushroomed into a chain of more than 500 mainly small-town stores across twelve states.

In the process, Wal-Mart has shown the best financial performance of anyone in the retailing industry. During the past five years, revenues and earnings per share have rocketed to a compounded annual rate of 37.8% and 37%, respectively. And in a lackluster year for retailers, analysts expect Wal-Mart's 1982 earnings to climb 41.6% to $1.77 a share, on a 41.7% increase in revenues to $3.4 billion.

Sam M. Walton, founder and chairman of the Bentonville, Arkansas-based company, believes his management style -- which emphasizes individual initiative and autonomy -- is an important element in Wal-Mart's success. Retailing analysts say it has paid off in top-flight management that would be the envy of any industry.

Cost control has been another key factor. "Quite simply, our philosophy from the beginning has been to price as low as we can; and the lower our costs, the less we have to charge," Wal-Mart's president and chief operating officer Jack Shewmaker told DUN'S BUSINESS MONTH.

Instead of using outside jobbers and contract distributors, as most discounters do, Wal-Mart orders in bulk directly from suppliers and uses its own warehouses and fleet of delivery trucks. Wal-Mart thus can negotiate lower prices than its competitors and also deliver to its stores at lower cost.

With no plans to slow the current pace of adding about 100 new stores each year, Wal-Mart has mapped out an ambitious future. Stiffer competition can be expected as the chain moves from its small-town roots into bigger cities. But Walton emphasizes, "We have found we can do business quite profitably in larger areas. ... one shouldn't be too surprised where we go."

Picnickers Identified

In last week's paper, a group of unidentified picnicers were pictured sitting on the bank of Lake Como. They

of preparing nutritious economical "variety" like liver.

Quite often, the food budget is one of the major budget items examined first for a possible way to save money. Understandably so, since food is the largest single item in the budget of nearly every American family. - roughly one-fourth of the average family's income must be allocated for the purchase of food and food preparation items.

You must consider many factors in meal planning. No two families are alike in likes and dislikes and way of living. Some homemakers, for instance, do more home food preservation such as canning and freezing than others. Amounts of entertaining vary from family to family, and some homemakers have special dietary problems that must be considered.

Often, the difference between high cost and economical meals is advance planning. If you plan meals ahead -- as much as a week -- you'll find ways to cut food costs. For one thing, planning meals ahead helps you find ways of using leftovers in future meals. Sunday's roast beef may be Wednesday's beef stew and Thursday's fixin's.

By planning ahead you can take advantage of seasonal and "best buy" foods at the grocery store. "Shop" the newspapers while you're planning meals to include specials in your menus.

You're less likely to have "humdrum" meals when you plan ahead, too. Cook books and newspaper and magazine food sections all offer suggestions for intriguing, yet budget-wise dishes. Explore the cooking and eating adventures in foreign dishes because many feature inexpensive foods. Find new ways

Plan whole menus a week ahead. Shop for all staples. Store items needed week at one time. What's already on hand avoid duplication.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

Preserving the Social Security system is a challenge which must be met by the 98th Congress. Recognizing the enormity of the problems facing Social Security, last year I recommended the appointment of a special commission to study the problems in depth and propose solutions. Now that the commission has made its recommendation, they must be fully studied by Congress and action must be taken to restore the system to a sound financial basis.

Sometime ago I realized that the cost of Social Security benefits was rapidly exceeding income, and as a result, I voted against some of the proposed increases. Later, when we were faced with proposals increasing Social Security taxes to cover the costs of the increased benefits, which had already been approved, I voted in favor of the increases in order to preserve the system. Some members of Congress waffled on the two issues: they voted in favor of increased benefits but voted against the tax increases necessary to cover the costs of the benefits. This is the kind of irresponsible voting we cannot afford as we move toward a sound Social Security system.

Difficult decisions will be required as we study the entire package of recommendations from the special Social Security commission. I am going to work to save the system.

We must keep faith with American workers who have paid into the system, planning on Social Security income for their retirement. The Social Security tax money which has been paid into the system belongs to the workers who paid it. This special trust, between those workers and the American government, must not be violated.

My votes will be directed toward saving Social Security for those who are retired and depending on it for a living now, those who are now paying into the system with expectations of receiving income in their retirement, and for those who will pay into the system in the future. I have talked with many Mississippians in each group, and the uncertainty they feel regarding Social Security is understandable. It is their interest I will be working to protect.
