KILLER TORNADOS DAMAGE COUNTY

Easter morning's bright sunshine revealed clear skies in Mississippi, as residents awoke only hours after a number of tornadoes swept through the northern part of the state with a driving force of 40-50 miles per hour killing 15 and injuring more than 100. Property loss was heavy in Burnsville due to the funnel cloud which raged throughout North Mississippi. According to Burnsville Mayor, A.T. Marlar, Jr., no serious injuries were reported as a result of the sharp winds which raked the town around 6:15 p.m. on Saturday evening, April 21. "A car was demolished and nearby houses damaged," Marlar said. Northview Apartments received roof damages and Gann Brothers Furniture and Appliance was heavily damaged with the windows of the establishment broken by high winds. Mayor Marlar estimated the property damage to be approximately $150,000. He said that he is uncertain whether the town will seek state aid to repair damages.

Charles Boothe, a Burnsville resident, is one who does not like tornadoes. Mr. Boothe was outside his home checking for damage the morning after the turbulent clouds passed over when he found a cancelled check near his chicken coop. The date of the check was 1973 and was written on an account at the Mechanic's Bank of Water Valley, MS. According to Mrs. Boothe, the check was soaking wet and after drying it off it became legible. "The check belonged to Ruby Burden, one of the death victims in the Water Valley tragedy. It was unusual how it came this far, Water Valley is about 100 miles from here," she said.

Supplemental Funds To Serve County Unemployed

According to information received from Rep. Mack L. Wadkins (D) Iuka, a request for supplemental funds to serve the unemployed in Tishomingo County was made to Region IV Division of Health Services in Atlanta, Ga. A grant in the amount of $35,000 was approved last year to provide medical services for the unemployed who had no means of paying for needed medical services. Contracted arrangements to provide the health services were established with six physicians in Tishomingo County and with the Tishomingo County Hospital.

Wadkins says that he thinks the funds have an excellent chance of being approved because of the continued high unemployment rate and the need for services. The unemployment rate at the time the application was filed was 21.1%. This unemployment rate is among the highest in the state, Wadkins said.

Damage was massive to the residence of William Davis, of the New Salem Community. The tornado uprooted approximately 90 cedar trees and left them strewn in the yard and around the house. The tin roof, which covered the house was stripped off and an outside shed was completely destroyed. Mr. Davis was not at home at the time of the storm.

Mississippi Governor, Bill Allain, spent Saturday night in a highway patrol cruiser touring the devastated areas of Mississippi. Allain returned to Jackson late Sunday evening, declaring a state of emergency in ten counties - Yalobusha, Union, Tallahatchie, Leflore, Tippah, Alcorn, Benton, Lafayette, Sunflower and Tishomingo.

Seed Maggots Hinder Gardeners

Home gardeners often plant early to get rapid seed germination and growth, but instead may get seed maggots.

These insects become a pest when seed is planted too early in soil that is high in organic matter.

The adult of this particular pest is a small fly that deposits eggs on the soil surface on seed or seedlings. After hatching, the yellowish-white maggots burrow into the seed or seedling destroying germination and growth potential.

Vegetables attacked by this pest usually fail to germinate or if they do sprout, plants are weak and sickly. If these symptoms appear, examine seed and seedlings for the presence of fly larvae.

Replanting is often necessary by the time this pest is discovered because of

BUYING & USING A PRESSURE CANNER

Proper canning procedures are essential for preserving low-acid foods.

Meat, fish, poultry, and all vegetables except tomatoes must be processed in a pressure canner. It takes temperatures higher than boiling to kill bacteria which cause botulism. These bacteria are in the soil and may be on the food. Unless they are destroyed, they can grow in the food and produce a deadly poison.

There are two basic types of pressure canners on the market. One has a dial gauge that registers pressure. The other has a weighted gauge which jiggles when the desired pressure is reached. Each type of canner works well. It's a matter of personal preference and availability as to which one is used.

When using a pressure canner, it's important to read the directions. If the canner has a dial gauge, it should be extensive stand damage. Planting on a well prepared seedbed when conditions are right for germination and growth can help prevent problems with this insect.

For information on insecticide recommendations in control of seed maggots, contact the Extension Office.

Choosing Soybean Varieties

Tishomingo County farmers should consider several factors before choosing a soybean variety that is best suited to their needs.

Many varieties are well adapted to Mississippi growing conditions. Although no single variety should be considered superior to all others, in some situations there are varieties that are better suited than others.

A study of the general characteristics along with disease, nematode, and herbicide reactions should help you select varieties that will maximize production on your farm.

Remember that adequate lime fertilizer combined with good management are essential to produce high yields of any variety.

You should evaluate your land and study yield performance at research stations similar to your soil and location.

Don't totally abandon known varieties that are yielding well. Instead, switch to new ones shown by research to have advantages.

More information on herbicide, disease, and nematode reactions, as well as yield comparisons, is available at the Extension Office.

NEMJC To Sponsor Seminar For Board Members

The legal liabilities of volunteer board members will be explored in a seminar Tuesday, May 8, at 6:30 p.m., in Patterson Hall on the Nor### theat Junior College Campus, according to Eugene Doran, local project coordinator.

The seminar on legal liabilities is the first in a series of workshops to be offered by Northeast under the national demonstration project "Building Better Boards for Community Organizations." Northeast is one of 148 colleges selected from across the nation to participate in the project which is designed to strengthen the skills of volunteers serving as board members of nonprofit organizations, Doran said. Plans for future workshops include courses on fundraising and financial management, board recruitment, conducting effective meetings and board/staff relations, he added.

Corinth attorney Jon Hill, who will be conducting the seminar, pointed out that many people who serve on volunteer boards are unaware of their legal liabilities. "In some cases board members of non-profit corporations, can be held liable for the wrong-doing of that corporation's employees," he said.

The seminar will include examples of such liabilities as well as ways to prevent and minimize them, Hill said.

To register for the workshop, interested persons must pre-register prior to May 4 by calling Doran at 728-7751, ext. 249. The registration fee is $10.00 per person.

Tishomingo Beta Club Sponsors Blood Drive

Lana Fuller, left, Mechelle Rast, center, and John Nunley, right, are shown going over plans for the community Blood Drive to be held Thursday, May 3, from 12:00 noon until 6:00 p.m. The drive is sponsored by the Tishomingo High School

Beta Club and will be assisted by the Chamber of Commerce and the Homemakers Club of Tishomingo. Blood donors should go to "The House", the old pastorium beside the Tishomingo Baptist Church, to make blood donations. It only takes about thirty minutes for the entire process, usually less than ten minutes of actual blood drawing time. Giving blood is for all seasons, because every day people like us need blood - students, teachers, parents, brothers, sisters and friends. Don't forget! This is a community drive. Replacement blood can also be donated here. Betas will be making contacts, but please feel free to stop by at your convenience. Remember - blood centers don't need blood... People over 60 years of age are invited to go to Clausel Hill at 11 o'clock for fellowship and a free noon meal. It does not make any difference what county one lives in. This is for five days each week - Monday through Friday - near Cairo.

Earl Smith, of Saltville, Miss., attended worship se-vice at Rowland Mills Church on Sunday night. He is the father of Elder Franky Smith.

COME TO CHURCH

We all have times when things go wrong, And Fortune's in reverse; Yet we're expected to be strong, Though things could not get worse... A strength of which the Scriptures name Examples plain to see: Like Job, whose faith remained the same Throughout adversity. So why not go to Church this week, Whichever one you choose, And listen to the Bible speak; There's not a thing to lose! Then, what those passages command You'll follow to the letter; And let God take your life in hand, To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

CARING FOR YOUR PET

The adult heartworm lives in the right side of an infected dog's heart, causing insidious and severe damage. It also produces immature worms which circulate in the dog's bloodstream. These can only develop further with the help of a mosquito, so they remain circulating in the blood until the dog is bitten. Once ingested by a mosquito, the tiny worms develop to the infective larval stage in about two weeks. The mosquito then bites an uninfected dog, passing the heartworm larvae into its bloodstream. The larvae remain in the tissues for about three months before migrating to the heart. In three more months, when the heartworm has reached the adult stage, reproduction begins and the life cycle repeats itself.

Treatment for heartworm infestation involves six injections over a three day period to kill the adult heartworms. Complications can occur, and if heartworm infestation reaches an advanced stage before it is diagnosed, a cure may be impossible. Severe heartworm infestation can cause congestive heart failure syndrome and an early death.

4-H News

By: Tommy G. Purvis, County Agent

Why 4-H Volunteers

Would you like to do something really worthwhile? Would you like to be involved in a program dedicated to helping young people be the best they can be? Would you like to travel or to meet other people who care? Would you like to improve your leadership skills and abilities? Volunteering to work with the 4-H program is an answer to all these.

There are dozens of ways you can be a 4-H volunteer. With work, home activities and other involvements, you may not feel you have the time. But, you don't have to make a life commitment. You can volunteer a few hours a month or a few days, or even give a once-a-year commitment.

Now, you ask, what can I do? The possibilities are endless. Share a skill connected with a hobby or your profession. You can teach a small or large group any subject, ranging from cooking to needlecraft, woodwork, electrical skills, automotive skills, meat quality, and on and on.

Conservation Notes

Today's farmers are in a tough spot. Prices for many of their products are down, while cost for fuel, labor and equipment are up. Equally upsetting is the fact that this price-cost squeeze is not likely to improve soon.

The farmer's best bet to improve profits is to cut overhead. Here in Tishomingo County several of our farmers are trying to do just that by planting soybeans using the no-till method.

There are several advantages to no-till farming compared to conventional planting. One advantage is that no-till saves water and soil. With no-till, you can expect 70% to 80% less runoff of water and an even greater reduction in soil erosion. Plus, you will get less direct evaporation losses from your fields with no-till.

Another important advantage is no-till can reduce the number of field operations, along with labor and machinery requirements. Instead of making a half dozen trips across your field, you may make as few as two or three with no-till just planting, spraying and harvesting.

A third reason no-till looks good as a future cropping system is the reduction in the amount of fuel used. With only approximately one gallon of fuel it is possible to plant one acre of soybeans using the no-till method. Compared to conventional planting this is quite a savings in itself.

In Tishomingo County we have several hundred acres of wheat. Of course, wheat is used as a second crop in a double cropping system with soybeans in most cases. Here is another example of where no-till really shines. Planting can begin as soon as the wheat crop is combined, this extra two or three weeks can mean extra bushels of beans at harvest time.

No-tillage farming is an opportunity that we need to explore. No-till offers many advantages but this type of system requires a high level of management at critical times to be successful. No-tillage is certainly not a shortcut to improved soybean production and cannot be substituted for good management.

For more information on no-till farming, please feel free to contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Iuka, which is located at 115 Front Street, or telephone 423-6272.

RUSHING DRUG COMPANY

102 FRONT STREET-IUKA
PHONE 423-3629
DRUG-LAB IN SPACE

In recent years many drug manufacturers have turned their attention to various biologicals which promise to be helpful in certain disease states. These substances include enzymes, hormones, and proteins - often the exact same materials produced naturally in small quantities by the human body. An obstacle to testing these substances has been the inability to produce them in large quantities.

The process known as electrophoresis is used in production of biologicals that are currently under study. The force of the earth's gravity hinders this process. This is one reason why Sally Ride, the first American woman in space, conducted an electrophoresis experiment aboard the space shuttle Challenger during its June, 1983 flight.

According to the FDA Consumer, laboratories in space may offer advantages over earth-bound laboratories. A major advantage is the lack of gravity which speeds up and enhances the electrophoresis process. Larger amounts of drugs may thus be produced.

In a space mission scheduled for 1985, scientists working with at least one drug company hope to produce enough biological to begin clinical tests. Some day we may be able to use drugs that are literally "out of this world."

Iuka Lions

The regular meeting of the Iuka Lions Club was held on April 17, at the Lion's Den.

Lion A.W. Mangum pronounced the invocation, after which Circus Burger provided a good meal. Lion President Bill Brewster called the meeting to order and several projects were discussed. Johnny Robinson was welcomed as a potential new member. The group was also honored by the presence of two Burnsville club members, Mr. Strickland and Mr. Lambert.

The speaker for the evening was Deputy Sheriff Ricky Cornelson. He gave a most interesting discourse on law enforcement, and especially the great need for a tele-type system, whereby our officers would have instant contact with distant law enforcement bodies, enabling them to receive information on car-theft, escapees and other crimes, which without tele-type cannot be immediately received. The Lions think the Board of Supervisors should investigate the feasibility of obtaining such a system.

Tishomingo Public Library

By: Lonette Southward

If space permitted, I would like to list all the people who visited the library during National Library Week and say "thanks" for coming. I hope you enjoyed looking at the displays as much as I enjoyed having them in the library. We had a good week, and I feel indebted to so many for their work and efforts which made it that way.

Mrs. Nelda McRae must have spent hours getting her beautiful rock and mineral collection ready for display. Some remarked they had no idea rocks could be so pretty and would pay more attention to them in the future.

The beautiful paintings by Mrs. Lois Norton, Mrs. Effie Aldridge and Mrs. Linda White were appreciated so much. Linda also had some English and Scottish etchings dated 1922 and 1924, which were very interesting to see.

I am very grateful to Jeff Short, of Tupelo, for letting us display 16 of his outdoor photographs, some of which have been selected to be shown at the World's Fair in New Orleans; to Mrs. Jane Conwill, of Tupelo, for transporting the photographs here and back; and to H.O. Southward, Jr. for hanging them on the walls. Jeff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Short, says he is "overwhelmed" at the response we have had. About 300 have viewed the displays.

Appreciation goes to Nellie Horton for serving as chairperson for National Library Week and her generous donation of books. Some of the books were used as door prizes and were won by Mrs. Ila Trimm, Erlene Browning, Eva Sparks, Elizabeth Loader and Melissa Pruitt.

Don't wait for National Library Week to visit the library again. Use it and enjoy it the year around!

Star Student & Star Teacher

The Mississippi Economic Council has announced that Leigh A. Meade has been selected as the Star Student at Iuka High School. Leigh, a senior at Iuka, is the 17 year old daughter of Mrs. Ann Meade, of Iuka, and Dr. James Meade, also of Iuka. Her major area of study and interest is Secretarial Science. Her future plans are to attend Northeast Mississippi Junior College. Leigh has been selected to Who's Who Among American High School Students, as well as Future Business Leaders of America. She is a member of the French Club and the Future Homemakers of America Club. She received the Bookkeeping Award and the Home Economics Award. Star Students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the school's Star Student. The Student Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors, explained Dr.

Ted Alexander, of McComb, chairman of MEC's Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Committee. "Top scholars are being designated as Star Students in more than 325 participating schools in Mississippi. From these Star Students, area winners are selected, and the Council awards scholarships to the state's top three STAR Students and their Star Teachers." Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Phil Hardin Foundation of Meridian. Each Star Student is asked to designate a Star Teacher, a teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement. Mrs. Judy M. Hart, of Iuka, was designated as Star Teacher. Mrs. Hart teaches English and French at Iuka High School. She has been teaching for ten years. She received her BA from Marshall University and also attended Mississippi State University. Both the Star Student and the Star Teacher will receive certificates from the council, in addition to being eligible for competition for scholarship awards.
