One Charged In B'ville Break-in

Jimmy Wayne Grimes, 20, of Route 1, Burnsville, has been jailed and charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny. The arrest was made following the November 18 burglary of a Turnpike Mountain residence, north-west of Iuka. Deputy Bobby Flynt said charges are likely to be placed against a juvenile later this week.

According to Flynt, Jack Sparks discovered that his home had been broken into and ransacked Sunday night upon his return from vacationing. He said entry into the dwelling had been made by prying through a basement window.

Among items reported to officials as being stolen were listed: two rifles, one shotgun, fifteen pieces of jewelry including men's and ladies gold watches and chains, diamond rings, an undetermined amount of currency and approximately $200 in loose change.

Flynt said about half of the items had been recovered and he expects to locate the rest. The lead into solving the matter came about following a disturbance call made in Burnsville Sunday night when the guns were found and didn't anybody want to claim them, Flynt said.

Deputy W.C. Mayhall and Burnsville Mayor, Bobby H. Johnson were recognized as assisting in the case.

Wreath Making Workshop Planned For December 6th

At the time of the first news release concerning the Wreath Making Workshop at J.P. Coleman State Park, we did not realize the Christmas Parade was also scheduled for the same day. We certainly do not want to cause a conflict; so for that reason, we are extending the hours for the wreath-making class. The workshop is planned for Saturday, December 6, from 1:00 p.m. until, if you wish to attend both events you will still have time to do so following the parade.

If you've always wanted to make your own decorations, now is the time to learn. It's the time of year when wreaths and garlands decorate doors, mantels, and tables.

A wreath is the symbol of hospitality; so what better time could there be to make and display this traditional form of welcome? Workshop participants will learn how to make, assemble, and decorate vine wreaths with materials easily obtained. There has been a trend over the past few years to get back to basics, and natural decorations for the home are in great demand. The instructor will be Nellie Horton, Home Economist of Tishomingo County.

A $10 pre-registration fee will cover the instruction and all materials for making and decorating, and is due in advance by November 29. This class will be limited to thirty people. To register, please call the park office at 423-6515. J.P. Coleman State Park is located twelve miles north of Iuka, and overlooks the Tennessee River. Fresh homemade doughnuts and coffee will be served at the workshop.

Donkey Basketball

There will be a donkey basketball game Saturday, November 29, at 7:00 p.m. at the Burnsville High School in the old gym. The game will be between the Burnsville Lions Club and the employees of City Hall. All proceeds will go to the Lions Club and will be used to buy glasses for the underprivileged children and elderly in the area.

Singing At Fifth Street Baptist

The Harmonizers will be the guest singers at Fifth Street Baptist Church Saturday night, November 29, as the fifth Saturday night singing gets underway. The Laymen Quartet, singers from Fifth Street, will also be presented in song.

L.D. Phifer extends a special invitation along with Pastor Bill Hobson. Mr. Phifer said church members are especially proud of their new paved parking lot and have recently installed carpet and erected a new steeple. These additions are sure to add to the convenience and comfort for those attending and to the beauty of the building.

A warm welcome will greet each guest to the singing.

Gospel Singing

The Sullivan Family will be singing at Grissom Chapel Church Friday night, November 28, at 7 p.m.

Melvin Laster and the congregation invites the public to attend.

Christmas Season Parades To Roll

The official Christmas festivities will kick-off next week beginning with the annual Christmas parades in Iuka and surrounding towns.

Other attractions will be county bands, the NEMJC band, the Red Bay Band, floats, antique cars, the Tishomingo County Shriners, and this year's Christmas Bell Miss Cindy Armstrong. The parade will be led by the National Guard and

First, second, and third place trophies will be awarded to bands, and floats will be awarded money prizes with first place receiving $50, second place $25, and $15 for third place. There is still time to get your entry in the parade. Anyone wishing to participate should contact Betty Dickerson at 454-7568 or Amanda Mills at 454-3430.

The Christmas Parade in Burnsville, has been scheduled for Friday, December 6, at 6:00 p.m. This year's parade is sponsored by the Burnsville Lions Club. Categories for this year's parade include floats, bands, antique cars, horses and wagons, and boy and girl scout troops. First, second, and third place trophies will be awarded to each category. All individuals, groups or organizations are welcome to participate. Questions concerning details can be directed to City Hall 427-9526 or Josephine Strickland at 427-9702.

The Iuka Annual Christmas Parade sponsored by the Iuka Lions Club, and the Tishomingo Annual Christmas Parade, sponsored by the Tishomingo Chamber of Commerce has been set for Saturday, December 6.

Festivities will be staged in Iuka at 2:00 p.m. and in Tishomingo at 6:00 p.m. There is still plenty of time to register your entry. Anyone wishing to participate or for more details can call J.R. Long at 423-3658 for information concerning Iuka's parade, for Tishomingo contact Fairless Hardware at 438-6608, or First Bank at 438-6394. More information on these parades will be published in the December 4th, edition of The Tishomingo County News.

Everyone is welcome to come out and enjoy the parades and welcome the spirit of Christmas for the 1986 holiday season.

Pneumococcal Vaccine Available In County

A newly-developed vaccine against pneumococcal disease is now available through county health departments at $5 per injection.

"Mississippi is one of the first states in the South to offer this vaccine through health department clinics," said Kenneth Laliberte, director of the Mississippi State Department of Health Immunization Program. "The vaccine has been available through private physicians for several years."

Three types of pneumococcal disease -- pneumonia, bacteremia, and meningitis -- affect a significant number of Americans each year.

Pneumococcal pneumonia is the most common type of bacterial pneumonia, annually accounting for between 150,000 and 570,000 cases nationwide; an estimated five percent of these cases are fatal.

The other pneumococcal diseases are less common but more serious. Pneumococcal bacteremia affects 16,000 to 55,000 Americans a year, with up to 20 percent mortality; 30 percent of the 2,600 to 6,200 pneumococcal meningitis victims die.

Individuals with certain chronic conditions such as sickle cell disease, Hodgkin's disease, multiple myeloma, cirrhosis, alcoholism, renal failure, cerebrospinal fluid leakage, and conditions associated with immunosuppression are at increased risk of developing serious pneumococcal infections.

Public health officials particularly recommend pneumococcal vaccination for adults and children aged two years and older with chronic illnesses specifically associated with increased risk for pneumococcal disease; adults with other long-term illnesses, especially those involving the heart or lungs; and all adults aged 65 and over.

Individuals who have had the pneumococcal vaccine should not take it again.

For more information or to schedule a pneumococcal vaccination, readers should contact their county health department.

Local Club To Present Family Living Film

As a Family Living project the GFWC-MFWC Twentieth Century will present a slide program, Best Wishes Edith and Henry. The program will be given December 2, at 10:00 a.m. at the Iuka Public Library.

As the older population increases in number, more and more adults are facing concerns and dilemmas about their aging relatives. We need sound information about the lifestyle changes which are imminent when a parent becomes dependent - decisions about family living arrangements, finances and health care for example.

The purpose of this program is to:

1. Acquaint adult children with some of the lifestyle changes which might be anticipated if a parent becomes dependent.

2. Acquaint adult children with the financial and health concerns families frequently face when a parent becomes dependent.

3. Characterize and promote effective "helping relationships" between the family and the aging parent at the difficult time of lifestyle change.

4. Help families find and use local, regional, and national resources which can provide accurate information and answers to questions regarding Medicare, Medicare supplemental policies, health care options, long-term care alternatives, estate planning, government entitlements, etc.

5. Help families understand and communicate to parents the need for estate planning, preparation of wills, letters of last instructions, etc.

Lite-A-Light Project To Begin

Last year the Pilot Club of Iuka selected a tree to light for Christmas in Jaybird Park. The project was a great success, so once again members of the club will be taking $2.00 donations and have published a list in Memory or In Honor of special friends.

Proceeds from this project will be used to fund worthwhile projects the club undertakes each year. Our club united with other Pilot Clubs made a donation of $100,000 to United Cerebral Palsy on their nationally televised telethon last January. Again this year, we will help to fund this project. Our motto is "Full Citizenship for the Disabled".

We appreciate the response we had last year and look forward to making this another worthwhile project. Donations may be made to all members or at Long-Davis Realty, Sears, or Circus Burger.

Singing At Boggs Chapel

In Colonial days, housewives had to churn cream into butter, cut sugar from hard ten-pound loaves, sift flour through cloth and beat eggs with twigs in order to make cookies.

CARING FOR YOUR PET

Canine Allergies

Allergies in dogs are a very common and frequently a frustrating problem for pet owners. The allergies typically begin when the animal is between 1 and 3 years of age. But allergies have been known to appear as early as 4 months and as late as 10 years. Dogs, however, rarely have the respiratory problems associated with allergies in people. Instead, the dog may chew at its feet, rub its face or scratch almost any other part of its body. The animal's skin is often inflamed and may have a bad odor. Canines, like people, can be allergic to virtually anything. The agents most frequently responsible for causing allergies in dogs are inhaled foreign material (allergens), including pollens from grasses, trees, weeds, house dust and molds in the air. Dogs also can become allergic to foods, external and internal parasites, drugs, hormones and the bacteria present on its own skin.

When an animal is exposed to an allergen to which it is allergic, the animal's body reacts in an abnormal manner and the clinical symptoms appear.

While allergic disease in dogs can seldom be cured, they can, in most cases, be controlled. Your local veterinarian can determine the offending allergen(s) and help you take the proper measures to control your dog's allergies. In some cases, simply removing the offending allergens from the dog's environment will be sufficient. Other times, anti-itch drugs or special allergy shots will be required.

Student Aid And Student Loans

Two big changes in the proposed new tax law will hit students hard: some student aid will be taxable, and interest on student loans will, after a phase-out, cease to be deductible.

In the past, scholarships and fellowships had tax-free status. No more. In any scholarships granted after August 16, 1986 (the day the Joint Committee on Taxation reached agreement), only aid for tuition, fees, books and lab equipment remains tax-free. Aid for room, board and incidental expenses will be taxed as ordinary income.

In disallowing most interest deductions, the new law makes no special allowances for interest on student loans. In the year, 35 percent of the will be disallowed for tions; by 1988, 60 percent 1990, 80 percent, and by 90 percent will be disallow. By 1992, interest on p loans of all kinds - home mortgages and ment borrowing, up to tent of investment inc will be phased out deduction.

For guidance through new tax law, talk to David I. Nichols, CPA, 305 E. St., Iuka, MS 38852, 423-5057.

Mid-South Emergency Response Service Donates Lifesaving Emergency Alert System to Iuka Pilot Club

In an effort to bring emergency help and protection to a needy individual, Don Cowell, manager of Mid-South Emergency Response Service, donated a Lifecall Medical Alert Unit to the Iuka Pilot Club on November 21, at a special club meeting. Accepting the unit on behalf of the Pilot Club was Shelia Cooley, president.

The folks benefitting from Lifecall protection is the Borden family who have multiple medical difficulties including severe radio-vascular problems, diabetes, and syncope episodes. They live in a remote rural area, isolated from family and friends. "Living alone with these problems may prove to be tragic," Don Cowell explains, "but a Lifecall Unit offers protection 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. They'll never feel alone."

To receive help in an emergency, the recipient need only push a button on the transmitter, and help is immediately dispatched by Lifecall's 24 hour a day manned monitoring station.

The button is part of the wireless Lifecall transmitter which the recipient can wear. Also included with the Lifecall System is the Lifecall console which is connected to the individuals telephone and a stationery transmitter that can be placed in the bathroom where so many home accidents occur. Don Cowell donated the unit and all subscription services for as long as the recipient needs the protection. This is a part of a national campaign instituted by Lifecall Systems, Inc., the organization which established Cowell as a Lifecall.

Mid-South Emergency Response Service, with offices at 400 Eastport Street, Iuka, is an authorized independent Lifecall Dealer. Cowell notes that Lifecall System has been instrumental in saving lives and preventing crimes. He is pleased that the family receiving the donated Lifecall System can enjoy the peace of mind that comes from Lifecall protection.

Harmony Homemakers

The club met November 17, with Joyce Robertson as hostess. The meeting was called to order by president Glenda Johnson reading the thought for the month, A Thankful Heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all other virtues. The devotion was given by Mrs. Dugdar Daniel reading the 100th Psalm, and each member telling what they were thankful for as this was Thanksgiving month. The song was Bringing in the Sheaves.

The Christmas Fair at Golden was discussed and plans made to carry decorations for a Christmas tree.

Club dues were collected. New officers elected for 1987 were Becky Walker, president; Vada Kay, vice president; and Nedra Walker, secretary.

Louise Sanderson had an educational report on housing, energy, and environment. Vada Kay had a report on: What is Poverty?, and illiteracy reading program. Opal Dean had a reading on the first Thanksgiving.

Fifteen members and one visitor were present.

The recreation was wacky words, which was enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served to the following members other than those mentioned above: Delma Dean, Quay Rushing, Nellie Taylor, Margie Davis, Dorothy and Sara Hays, and Ora Cresap.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Dorothy and Sara Hays for the Christmas program.

Friendship Homemakers Club

The Friendship Homemakers Club met November 18th and traveled in a group to participate in the "Christmas Fair" at Golden City Hall. After spending the morning there, we drove to Dennis Restaurant where we enjoyed a delicious luncheon and meeting.

Club members participating in the Fair and the meeting were: Juanita Haley, Lila Hollis, Annie Gray, Lily Ruth Johnson, Nell Landrum, Ruth Ramsey, Frances Keahey, Betty Ballard and her guest, Lucille Phifer, Ellen Williams, Mae Hudson, Ann Johnson, and Sally Monks.

Our December meeting and Christmas Party will be held at the home of Ann Johnson on December 10.

Hunter Safety

The weather is cooling off and to many of us that means one thing: hunting season. While you are planning that big hunting trip I hope you'll take a moment to plan for safety. Last year in Mississippi alone there were seven reported deaths and another thirty-one people injured by firearms in hunting related accidents.

As a hunter we all have a responsibility to ensure that our youth know about gun and hunter safety. Almost 60 percent of gun casualties are caused by persons under the age of 21 and this age group makes up 40 percent of all accident victims. We must understand one thing before we continue, only improperly handled guns are dangerous, but any improperly handled gun can kill. Remember the ten commandments of gun safety:

*1. Treat EVERY GUN as if it WERE LOADED.

*2. WATCH THAT MUZZLE. Carry your gun in a safe manner and KEEP the SAFETY on until you are ready to shoot.

*3. UNLOAD GUNS when not in use. Store guns in a manner that you will know they are unloaded.

*4. Be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions before firing. Also check your ammunition to assure that it is the proper size for the gun.

*5. BE SURE OF YOUR TARGET BEFORE SHOOTING.

*6. NEVER POINT A GUN AT ANYTHING you don't want to shoot.

*7. NEVER climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a LOADED gun. Never use the muzzle to pull the gun toward you.

*8. NEVER SHOOT A BULLET AT A FLAT, HARD SURFACE OR WATER. The bullet will bounce off and might injure someone.

*9. Store guns and ammunition separately and out of reach of children.

*10. Don't mix firearms and alcoholic beverages.

Be aware that anyone born on or after January 1, 1972 MUST pass a hunter safety course before purchasing a Mississippi State hunting license. Remember, too, that many other states require a hunter safety course before obtaining a license in their state. Be sure to check with their State Game and Fish Commission before making your trip. Don't be disappointed.

The Mississippi Hunter Safety Course is a ten hour course including range time. The course is free and worthwhile for experience hunters as well as the novice. Contact a Corps of Engineers Resource Office or your local wildlife conservation office to register in a course near you.

SAFETY TIP-Remember to wear your hunter orange clothing.

Cold weather will soon be here and the water is already cold. Be sure you dress according to the weather. Be aware of the threat from hypothermia - falling in cold water or just getting wet in cold weather can kill in less than one hour.

"Adult" ice creams flavored with Grand Marnier, Amaretto and other liqueurs have broadened the acceptance of ice cream as a holiday dessert. By offering a selection of several standard and adult flavors of ice cream, the host can please all the guests.

Walk-A-Thon For Cancer

Amidst sunshine and nice weather, Lucille Pruitt, Rosemary Cross, Nancy South, and Nellie Horton arrived an hour early in order to beat the crowd in collecting money and pledges for the American Cancer Society Walk-A-Thon. Also beating the clock were eager walkers, Jessica Mobley, Dana Mobley, Freddy Norman, and Amanda Mobley, and several others, who arrived before 9:00 a.m.

Forty-six Tishomingo Countians walked for cancer and helped raise in excess of $1,500 in money and pledges. Iuka Mayor, John Biggs, met the group as they entered Highway 72 to wish them "good luck" on their walk to Burnsville. Sgt. Rick Digsby and the National Guard Army were on hand to assure a safe walk.

At the Mt. Gilead Crossing, Marquita and Susie Greenaway passed out apples, courtesy of Piggly Wiggly of Iuka. Many of the walkers said, "These are the best apples we've ever had". Also, Pinky Pruitt drove up and down the trail serving Gatorade to a thirsty group.

Kelly Smith and Mendy Roberts were the first to arrive in Burnsville, where Mrs. Eleanor Richardson and Burnsville's Rainbow 1 and 11 4-H Clubs welcomed them with homemade cookies and soft drinks.

Ten walkers walked the 5 1/2 miles back to Iuka with Tammy Clark giving the group a play-by-play report on the Old Miss-MS State game in Jackson.

Nellie R. Horton, Chairman, would like to thank all the walkers and all those who helped in any way by donations or time, for helping to make the "Walk-A-Thon" such a big success.

Walkers included: Freddy Norman, Dana Mobley, Ray Curtis, Ruby Cass, Amanda Lambert, Jessica Mobley, Lettie O'Bryant, Virginia Anglin, Wendell Anglin, Rosemary Cross, Shirley Keller, Lucille Pruitt, Pam Smith, Nancy South, Harvey Pendergrast, Jeanette Enlow, Gwen Turbeville, Lucian Epperson, Susie Phillips, Dot Guber, Melvin Guber, Sheryl Stanford, Micah Lambert, Lisa Stanford, Lona Arnold, Bart Wilbanks, Barbara Pate, Nellie Horton, Tammy Clark, Carolyn Gowen, Richard Clark, Teresa Dill, Gail Smith, Kelly Smith, Mendy Roberts, Debbie Kirk, Dana Kirk, Beth Davis, Pauline Daniel, and Jewel Edmondson.

Brunch Is Older Than You Thought

Brunch, the meal that can be enjoyed anytime between dawn and dinner, is a growing weekend occurrence that's been around for quite some time.

Punch, the English magazine, first reported on brunch some ninety years ago. In its August 1, 1986 issue, it noted that brunch was "introduced last year by Mr. Guy Beringer, in the now defunct Hunter's Weekly, and indicates a combined lunch and dinner," probably the meal enjoyed just arriving home from hunting.

Heywood Brown, the humorist, had this to say about brunch in the 1930s: "There may be some perfectly nice people who use the word 'brunch,' but I prefer not to know them".

The Dictionary of American Food and Drink calls brunch a "portmanteau word combining breakfast and lunch for a meal taken late in the morning or just around noon". Today, many restaurants now offer weekend brunch as late as four o'clock in the afternoon.

Whatever its history, the meal that combines foods from breakfast and lunch appears to meet a real need. Hostesses enjoy the relaxed atmosphere and have a wide assortment of foods from which to build a menu. Guests enjoy the extra time to sleep late or socialize after church.

The holiday season offers many opportunities to host a brunch. Thanksgiving and New Year's Day parades and football games and a house filled with weekend guests are good occasions. From the breakfast side of the buffet table, offer guests a puffy cheese pancake or french toast prepared with dairy egg nog, accompanied by a selection of crisp bacon slices and breakfast sausages. From the brunch side, consider an onion tart or seafood quiche along with fresh fruit and a selection of sweet rolls.

Of course, you can always invent a new excuse to host a brunch such as the English celebration, Boxing Day on December 26. Include a selection of sweet or savory pancakes served with a choice of flavored butters. Just combine orange marmalade, apricot jam or your favorite jam with double amount of butter, or a small amount of cinnamon to a stick of butter.

Digging "Treasures"

To some a particular type of "treasure hunting" is a form of recreation but officials say that if it takes place on Federal land it can lead to charges of theft and destruction of government property with hefty penalties.

The activity is exploring—especially digging—for old artifacts. The Mobile District of the Army Corps of Engineers says it has had problems with artifact seekers disturbing the land around its lakes. The Corps says it thinks most people are unaware that the hobby of artifact hunting if practiced on Government land is a Federal criminal offense if the artifacts are disturbed or taken off the property.

Artifact hunters can be divided into two categories. One is the occasional finder of old arrowheads or pottery sherds. The other is the so-called "pot-hunter" who diligently seeks out more valuable items—sometimes for profit.

Both are subject to fines and possibly jail terms. But, it is the pot hunters on Federal property that raise the dander of archeologists and natural resource management personnel in the Mobile District.

Especially disliked are the pot hunters who dig for items to sell.

"They can and will ravage a site making it unfit for preservation and scientific exploration. Unfortunately, many call themselves 'amateur archeologists.' In too many cases, however, they operate more like vandals," says one Corps archeologist.

According to this expert, who has an established background in his field, when a professional archeological exploration is performed it is done in such a way that much more is learned and recorded than just the condition of any artifacts found. "By approaching an excavation in a scientific and professional manner we can often tell a community or entire region a great deal about its cultural heritage," he observed.

He added that unlike the occasional picnicker or casual lake visitor who stumbles on a true artifact many of the systematic private collectors appear to know the risk involved in their activity because they perform their digs covertly. Many have even developed semi-sophisticated techniques to tell them where to look for valuable items.

Corps lakes which are near populated areas seem to be the hardest hit by pot hunters.

All artifacts on Corps property are protected by the Archeological Resources Protection Act. Violation of the Act carries penalties of fines up to $100,000 and two years in prison.

Federal and state agencies hire qualified archeologists and cultural scientists to assure they are in compliance with the Act. The Mobile

District of the Corps of Engineers has five such professionals on staff full-time to oversee compliance of its construction projects as well as to advise other Federal and state agencies.

Meanwhile, in the enforcement area Corps lake personnel have the authority to issue Federal citations and seek prosecution for violations of the Act on Corps property.

Corps archeologists who have seen illegally dug artifacts turn up in private collections and even flea markets sometimes hundreds of miles away are working toward a greater crackdown on pot hunting.

Mobile District natural resource management personnel who manage the District's lake property say they realize that from time to time rains, changes in lake levels and other natural factors will bring artifacts to the surface of the ground where it is probable they will be found by one of the some 50 million visitors to District lakes each year.

If the find is significant, such as in the case of a recent discovery of a surfaced bone from a prehistoric mammal found on the shore of a Corps lake on the Alabama and Georgia line, the Corps expects the find to be immediately reported to it or other authorities. In the case of the bone it was and attracted scholarly attention and study because of its nature.

While, theoretically, any item should be left in place like wildflowers in a national forest the removal of small objects doesn't arouse attention like willful trespassing on Corps property to remove items of "cultural value."

What constitutes cultural value has many definitions. Old Indian and settler-related items have cultural value, of course. But, so do some items of a more recent era. For example, wrought iron nails and hewn timbers from an old cabin, old relics of agriculture and industry, remains of bygone battles, even a tombstone from a turn-of-the-century grave have interpretive value in showing how people of the region lived during the period.

The Archeological Resources

Protection Act covers historic as well as pre-historic artifacts.

So, it's not a matter of "finders keepers—losers weepers" when it comes to finding artifacts on Federal property—not unless the finder wants to risk a fine and possibly jail, and the risk may be getting greater shortly.

"A man ought warily to begin changes which once begun will continue."

SHOULD YOU EVER FIND YOURSELF IN A LIFE THREATENING EMERGENCY

There is now a tiny radio transmitter you wear on your belt or in an attractive pendant around your neck. If, in the event of any critical emergency - heart attack, accidental injury, a seizure, stroke, burglary, holdup, fire, you can't get to a phone - with this remarkable electronic development at your fingertips, you need never be alone and on your own.

Last year, in home emergencies, over 500,000 people died when help could not reach them on time. Many could have been saved with the help of this remarkable miniature radio transmitter.

The National Safety Council reports over 800,000 people sustained disabling injuries in their homes last year. Most of us have heard at least one story about a lady found many hours after a fall, lying on the floor with a broken hip... or the story of the man who had died of a heart attack two days before he was discovered.

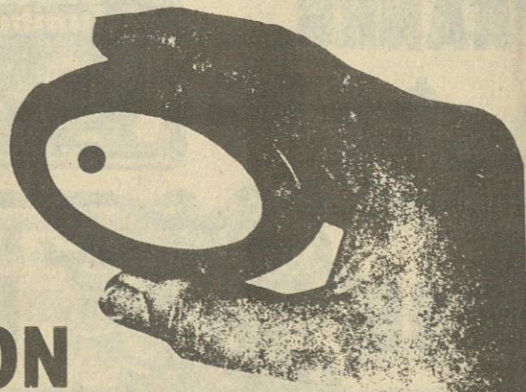

These are things that have happened to others. But none of us can truly say we ourselves are immune from such calamities. We believe you will agree it is good to know there is now a way - readily attained and easily affordable to anyone - that can help us deal with life threatening emergencies in a way that has every likelihood of keeping them from becoming tragedies.

Should you ever suffer a heart attack or other calamity and your phone is out of reach, you just press the button. It activates in rapid-fire succession a series of events that bring you the help you need. In seconds, a 24-hour live monitoring center is alerted and help is promptly on the way... at a rate of speed that may well make all the difference.

4-H Award Winners—These 4-H'ers have been busy with their 4-H project work during the past year - and it paid off! They received medals for 4-H project work accomplished throughout the year. The banquet was held at Funland Skate Center and sponsored by the 4-H Advisory Council.

Annual 4-H Awards Banquet Held

The 1986 4-H Banquet, which was held at Funland Skate Center recently, was a huge success! Green and White 4-H balloons and greenery, set the mood for the evening. Approximately 160 4-H'ers, parents and guests enjoyed entertainment by The Carter's Branch Choir and Emily Hughes, while the 4-H Modeling Squad served the meal.

Charles Lewis, President of the 4-H Advisory Council served as Master of Ceremonies. Other Advisory Council members presented awards throughout the evening.

Dr. J.L. Peoples, Northeast District Agent, was the guest speaker. Dr. Peoples gave a talk to the 4-H'ers about their ticket to life. He mentioned that it was up to the person to determine what kind of ticket they would buy for life.

The following 4-H'ers received medals for accomplishments through project work. Home Care Week — The week of November 30 through December 6, has been proclaimed as Iuka Home Care Week. Home Health nurses Yvonne

Home Health Week

"Will you still need me, when I'm still here?"

The lyrics of this Beatles' classic assume new significance as America's population ages. Some 28 million Americans — including 266,561 Mississippians — are 65 years of age or older, and the elderly constitute the nation's fastest growing population segment.

If current trends continue, the ratio of elderly to those less than 65 years of age will rise from the current one in nine to one in five by 1990 — and to one in three by 2025. And while all elderly do not require skilled nursing care or other assistance, they do comprise the largest group needing home health services.

The National Center for Health Statistics projects the portion of people ages 65 and older who are limited in performing daily living activities because of chronic illness may increase 38 to 64 percent during the next 20 years. Further, estimates are that the average person who reaches age 75 will have four or more major disabilities.

Congress and President Reagan proclaimed November 30 - December 6 as National Home Care Week in recognition of the growing need for home health services.

Mississippians of all ages with health problems requiring long-term care can tap the resources of the state's largest home health agency, the Mississippi State Department of Health, to get the physician-supervised treatment they need — right in their own homes.

Every county health department is a state-licensed, Medicare/Medicaid - certified home health agency. Through all 82 county health departments, home health personnel work with local physicians, hospitals, and nursing homes to provide alternate care for people who otherwise would have to be institutionalized.

To be eligible for home health services, a person must be ill or disabled, homebound, under the care and supervision of a physician, and in need of part-time skilled nursing or other health care.

Patients remain under their doctors' orders. The home health nurse consults with the physician, reviewing the therapy regimen at least every 60 days and reporting in writing to the doctor.

Other health professionals who may serve the patient include the home health aide, nutritionist, and physical or speech therapist.

In addition to allowing convalescence in the comfort of the patient's home, home health services helps reduce health care expenses.

The average daily cost of home care services for a relatively intensive course of treatment ranges from $50 to $200; average rates for comparable services in a hospital run from $300 to $500 per day.

For example, the average yearly cost of care for a ventilator-dependent patient in a hospital is $270,830. Average cost of home health services for that same patient is $21,192 per year — an annual savings of $249,638.

For more information or to request home health services, readers may contact the Tishomingo County Home Health Department, 423-6100, or call the home health services toll-free number, 1-800-228-2642.

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, Home care provides a wide range of needed health and supportive services to the ill and injured; and

WHEREAS, The concept of home care is the oldest and most enduring tradition of health service delivery in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Most Americans prefer for themselves and their families to remain and receive treatment whenever possible in the comfort and security of their own homes; and

WHEREAS, A significant and growing body of evidence shows home care stimulates quicker and fuller recoveries and improvements than comparable services with institutions; and

WHEREAS, Home care provides a cost effective delivery system for high quality, individualized home health services;

THEREFORE, I John H. Biggs, Mayor, do hereby proclaim the week of November 30 through December 6, 1986, as IUKA HOME CARE WEEK to coincide with the celebration of National Home Care Week.

Furthermore, that Iuka expresses its support and appreciation of home care providers; and

Furthermore, that Iuka commends all the dedicated individuals who have devoted their careers to providing high quality home care services to its citizens.

JOHN H. BIGGS

Savvy From Susan

Dear Susan,

My lips are very thin and I would like to use the contouring method to make them appear fuller, but I don't know where to start. I need some tips on how to do this.

You can make your lips appear fuller, but for it to be very natural looking you must take a lot of care when you first begin, or you'll look like a clown.

Before you pick up the lipstick take time to really look at your mouth. There is a tiny ridge around the lips that does not have the pink pigment that the lips have, but it is different in texture from the skin just above it. This is the area that you will work with.

Things you will need before you start:

*A good lipstick pencil that is one or two shades DARKER than your regular lipstick.

*Your regular tube of lipstick.

*Lip gloss or vaseline.

*A magnifying mirror.

Examine the shape of your lips very carefully in the magnifying mirror. With the lipstick pencil, and being certain to stay ON that ridge, firmly draw the outline of your mouth. Go almost all the way to the corners.

Next fill in with the lighter lipstick. If you want your bottom lip to look fuller put an even lighter shade on it. Finish with a little gloss which will catch the light, and give the illusion that your lips are fuller than they really are.

Dust with a very small amount of powder, or spray with makeup setter, and the outline will last quite a long time.

If you try to enlarge your lips with lipstick alone you will find it gives an uneven line. It is too oily, too large, and too hard to control.

Thanksgiving

The first national Thanksgiving proclamation was issued by George Washington in 1789, the year of his inauguration. He said, in part:

"Now therefore I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the Beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; and that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal manifold mercies, and the favorable interpositions of His providence, in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union and plenty which we have enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been able to establish Con-

Savings Bonds Sales Top $1 Billion

Mr. Donald C. Lutken, President, Mississippi Power and Light Company and Mississippi Volunteer State Chairman for United States Savings Bonds, reported that for the third consecutive month, sales of Series EE Bonds exceeded $1 billion in October, reaching $1.385 billion -- topping sales for both August ($1.14 billion) and September ($1.10 billion). October sales were the highest for any October since 1943 when $1.340 billion worth of Series E Bonds were sold. October sales were 188 percent above the $481 million in Bonds sold during October 1985.

The value of Savings Bonds held by Americans increased by $1.430 billion during October. Total value of holdings reached $88.5 billion at the end of October, an increase of 12 percent over holdings of $78.7 billion in October of 1985.

Mr. Lutken also reported sales in Mississippi for this month were $4,155,036, bringing the total sales this year to date to $30,834,841.

R.A. McRee, Jr., Tishomingo County Volunteer Chairman, announced sales of $23,912 during this month.

The current semiannual market-based interest rate for Series EE Bonds of 6.06 percent was announced on November 1. The new rate, based on 85 percent of the average yields on five-year Treasury marketable securities between May 1 and October 31, is in effect from November 1, 1986 through April 30, 1987. When held five years or longer, Savings Bonds earn the average of the semiannual rates in effect during their lives, rounded to the nearest quarter percent and compounded semiannually. There is also a minimum rate for Bonds held five or more years, currently 6 percent.

This rate applies to new issues dated -- or older Bonds entering extensions -- on or after November 1, 1986. The minimum rate applies only if the average of market based rates during a five-year or longer period is below it. Bonds with higher guaranteed yields retain those guarantees to the end of their original or current-extended maturity period.

Consumers can learn current rates and other information about Savings Bonds by calling toll-free, 1-800-US BONDS.

The Tishomingo County Wagon Train Association held their annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers for 1987, at the Fairground building on November 8th.

A delicious pot luck meal was enjoyed by everyone. A special thanks to the ladies who brought food.

Mr. Granville Hardin, president, turned the meeting over to Mr. David Joe Poole who directed the election.

Poole; vice president, Denton Hester; secretary/treasurer, Linda Sheffield; wagon master, David Joe Poole; assistant wagon master, Wayne Thorne; board of directors: Roy Brown, Harold Oliver, Sammy Thorne, David Sheffield, Billy Wayne Franks, and reporter, Mary Thorne.

The club plans to participate in the Christmas parade December 6th.

All enjoyed the fellowship with old and new trail buddies and plan another meeting at the new Belmont Park the second Saturday night in December. Each family should bring a dish for a pot luck supper. The trail rides will be scheduled at this time.

$ & Sense

By: Ann O. Rushing

Food is one of the most important items in the family budget. Without it we would not be around long. Consumer concern about food prices has increased in recent years as has concern for the type and quality of food available. When considering the grocery tab at the checkout counter, it's interesting to see how food prices look internationally.

How does a trip to an American grocery store stack up with 15 other capital cities around the world? According to a 1983 survey by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS), only about half of the cities would be cheaper than Washington, D.C. The FAS Market Basket includes meat, dairy products, eggs, fruit, cereal, sugar, coffee, potatoes and cooking oil.

Here's how the grocery bills compared. Tokyo, Japan was the most expensive, with a grocery bill of more than $36. Brasilia, Brazil was the least expensive, costing under $10.

The average for all 15 cities in the survey was about $20. Shopping in Washington, D.C. was the same as the 15-city average.

Since most of the items in the survey are ones on the price check list for the Jackson area, prices for those items were pulled and averaged for the same months in 1983. Food prices in Jackson markets were exactly $1 less than the 15-city average, $19.67.

What if you could shop selectively? Which cities offered the best and worst buys on selected foods? For sirloin steak, avoid Tokyo where it costs more than $13 a pound and go to Buenos Aires for sirloin at 96 cents a pound.

Argentina also had the best price for pork roasts, $1.18 a pound, while Bern, Switzerland had the highest price at nearly $6 a pound.

And if you buy your coffee in Brazil, you'd save almost $6 a pound compared to Seoul, South Korea, where a pound of coffee sold for almost $7 in 1983.

Potatoes were cheapest closer to home, 12 cents a pound in Ottawa, and nearly four times as expensive in Tokyo. The same goes for sugar, which you could buy at nine cents a pound in Mexico City, compared to 50 cents in Tokyo.

Of the 15 food items surveyed for retail prices, none of the highest or lowest prices were found in Washington, D.C. In fact, when Washington retail prices for each food item were compared with the average prices of the 15 other capital cities, it was cheaper to stay home for eight items.

Those items were sirloin steak, broilers, whole milk, apples, oranges, wheat flour, rice and coffee (even though it is imported). Consumers would have saved $2.01 by shopping in Washington for these items. Potatoes were the same as the 14-city average, but Washington residents paid $1.55 more, on average, for roast pork, butter, cheese, eggs, sugar and cooking oil.

The only item on the list that averaged a higher price in local markets than the international averages was cheddar cheese.

Although we may think our food is expensive, it is not the most expensive in the world.

Guest Speaker—On October 9, 1986, Cub Scout Den no. 9 met at the Iuka Youth Center. They were proud to have Modern Woodman of American representative, Rick Green as their guest. Mr. Green talked to the boys about the care for and

ASCS Farm News

BY: Carolyn S. Hamm
Acting County Executive Director

Cotton Program Calls For 25 Percent Acreage Reduction

Howard R. Bridges, Chairperson of the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the 1987 Upland Cotton Program contains a 25 percent acreage reduction requirement, the same as in 1986. The program is designed to protect cotton farm income and maintain a competitive market position for upland cotton in world markets.

Participating farmers will be eligible for federal target price protection of 79.4 cents per pound, projected deficiency payments of 27.15 cents per pound, and price support loans at 52.25 cents per pound. The sign-up period opens November 17th and continues through March 30, 1987.

"Upland cotton producers who sign up for the program may request 30 percent of their projected deficiency payment at that time," Bridges said. He said one-half of the advance deficiency payment will be paid in cash and the balance will be made in generic commodity certificates.

The plan B marketing loan program will be in effect for 1987-crop upland cotton, according to Bridges. "This means that producers will be allowed to repay a price support loan at the lesser of the announced loan level or the adjusted world price. However, if the adjusted world price is less than 80 percent of the announced loan level, producers may be allowed to repay a price support loan at a rate between the adjusted world price and 80 percent of the loan level."

As in 1986, ASCS will offer a recourse loan program for 1987 upland seed cotton. The program is designed to help producers by providing interim financing while waiting for the cotton to be ginned. The seed cotton will be adjusted to a lint basis and the loan rates applicable to lint cotton will be used. Bridges said farmers may borrow against the crop but must repay the full dollar amount of the loan.

Rainbow II Report

On November 20, 1986, the Rainbow II 4-H club met at their headquarters for a regular meeting. The pledge to the U.S. Flag was led by Ciji Timbes, pledge to the 4-H flag was led by Bradley Bonds. The minutes were read and approved. The roll was called, only one was absent. The 4-H prayer was said by all. Monica Magill led the singing, she sang "Silent Night" in Spanish. Christmas songs were sung. Christmas business was discussed.

On Saturday, Kim Phifer,

Sherry Rorie, and Bradley Bonds met with Rainbow I's over at the end of U.S. 72 to greet the walkers for cancer. It was exciting to see them come 2, 3, or more at a time, depending how fast they could walk. They walked from Iuka to Burnsville. Thanks to the Burnsville Homemaker's Club for helping the Rainbow with refreshments. There were 43, all ready for coke and cookies.

Pecan nutmeats for use in butter cookies, pies and cakes will be easier to extract if boiling water is poured over the whole pecans. Let them stand in the water about fifteen minutes before shelling the nuts.

Tour—On November 6, 1986 Cub Scout Den 9 visited the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department. The boys were given a tour of the facility, including a visit to the jail and prisoners, by Deputy Bobby Flynt. The boys were also finger printed

Dance—On November 3, 1986 the Tishomingo County Scouts hosted the Burlington and Belmont Girl Scouts for folk dance at the Funland Skate Center. The event was in honor of Lettie Low's birthday. Ms. Low was the founder of Girl Scouts. The girls enjoyed an

Highway Safety Encouraged During Holiday Season

Of the six major holiday periods, Thanksgiving is by far the deadliest for producing highway fatalities according to statistics compiled by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Records show that during Thanksgiving observances for the 20-year period from 1966 through 1985, 242 people died in automobile crashes. The next deadliest holidays for traffic deaths during that 20-year period are Christmas with 222, followed by the Fourth of July with 21, Labor Day with 215, Memorial Day with 189, and New Years with 145.

"What concerns us even more is the fact that 1986 will be a record-breaking year for traffic deaths in Mississippi if all highway crashes continue to occur at the same rate they have thus far," James L. Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety, said.

Roberts is referring to the 18 percent increase in statewide automobile fatalities from January 1 through November 19, 1986, compared to the same period in 1985. The number of deaths taking place on city streets is up by seven percent, by 14 percent on county roads, and by 28 percent on state and federal highways, which averages out to a 19 percent increase statewide.

From January 1 through November 19, 1986, 682 people have died in automobile crashes compared to 571 during the same period in 1985.

"If deaths resulting from automobile crashes continue to increase at 19 percent until the end of this year, 791 people will die. We have not had highway deaths to reach 800 since 1973, before the 55 mile per hour national maximum speed law became effective," the commissioner said.

Col. D.D. Cvitanovich, patrol chief, said the increase in traffic deaths on Highway Patrol governed roads is the highest of the three categories captured in statistical data.

"While a 28 percent increase in traffic deaths on highway Patrol roads appears to be excessively high, in mid-July there was a 42 percent increase on these same roads," Cvitanovich said.

"Even with fewer troopers we have attempted to be more visible."

"Drivers must assume some responsibility for their own safety. Unless caused by a mechanical malfunction of an automobile, accidents are caused by inattentive, discourteous or law breaking motorists. Someone is responsible," Cvitanovich said.

"Each of us must drive defensively so we do not become the victim of someone else's carelessness," he added.

Data from a report prepared by the Mississippi State Highway Department, which lists estimated vehicle miles of travel in Mississippi by month, show a 3.85 percent increase in miles traveled from January through September 1986 compared to miles traveled from January through September 1985.

Lt. Col. Don O'Cain, assistant patrol chief, said the 3.85 percent increase in miles traveled represents 551-million more miles that motorists have driven this year over last.

"While we are not attempting to justify the high number of highway deaths, because even one life lost in an automobile crash is one too many, we do believe that if more people are traveling more miles the logical result, unfortunately, is more crashes," O'Cain said.

"There are also more licensed drivers. Our records show that the total number of Mississippians licensed to drive has risen from 1.805-million to 1.835-million for an increase of 30,000.

"However, we also believe that many lives would be saved and fewer serious injuries would result if more drivers and occupants would wear seat belts," the assistant chief said.

O'Cain said that almost all passenger cars are equipped with seat belts.

According to National Highway Traffic Safety Administration studies, seat belts are 50 to 65 percent effective in preventing fatalities and injuries.

"Knowing the risks, it only makes sense to buckle up," O'Cain added.

There were nine people killed in automobile crashes during the 1985 Thanksgiving observance. The Highway Patrol arrested 139 motorists for driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol during the four-day holiday last year.

During the 102-hour Thanksgiving observance that gets underway at 6 p.m., Wednesday, November 26, and ends midnight, Sunday, November 30, 1986, the Highway Patrol plans to use air surveillance helicopters to supplement the ground enforcement units.

"We have found that assistance from our air operations unit provides an extra method of detecting reckless or drunk drivers, as well as stranded motorists," O'Cain said.

He said the patrol will have all troopers on duty in an effort to maintain safe highways.

O'Cain emphasized that public support is necessary for any law enforcement agency to be successful in enforcing traffic laws.

"Please help us to help you. Drive defensively, courteously, and cautiously," he said.

Fashion Show

The residents of Pickwick Manor enjoyed the present fashions from the Modeling

Squad of Tishomingo County (4-H Clubs). Mr. Leslie Cowell, Mr. Homer Martin, and Mrs. Ola Smith were just a few of

Mission Lighthouse

In the Bible we read in Psalms 107: 1-2: O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever. Let the Redeemed of the Lord say so, whom he has redeemed from the hand of the enemy. Taking God's blessing for granted is easy for those of us blessed with good health, and the freedom that our country allows. Such blessings would cause believers in other countries to shout for joy. Study your blessings seriously. Is there any overdue "Thanks" owed to the Lord?

We at Mission Lighthouse Church would like to invite you to come and worship with us on Sunday morning, Sunday school at 10:00 a.m. and worship service at 11:00. Sunday night service is at 6:00 p.m. Wednesday night Bible study at 6:30 p.m.

Have a happy Thanksgiving.

Safety Tips Offered For Holiday Hosts

Tips to prevent holiday parties from leading to serious injuries or deaths on highways, streets and roads have been offered by the Highway Safety Division, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs. They are:

1. If alcoholic beverages are served, also serve high protein and carbohydrate foods such as cheese and meats.
2. If alcoholic punch is served, use a noncarbonated base such as fruit juice.
3. Have nonalcoholic beverages available for guests who may not want to drink alcoholic beverages.
4. Have several standard measures, such as jiggers or self-measuring one-ounce bottle spouts at the bar to mix drinks and thus decrease the likelihood of guests drinking excessively.

5. Because some guests may not wish to appear rude and will accept drinks they do not want, don't force drinks on guests or rush to refill their glasses when empty.
6. If a guest is drinking too much, engage the person in conversation to slow down the drinking and offer the individual some high protein food.
7. Approximately two hours before the party is over, stop serving alcohol, and serve coffee or other nonalcoholic beverages as well as food.

Free recipes for nonalcoholic party beverages may be obtained from Highway Safety Division, calling 949-2225.

Thank You

We want to say thank you to everyone who helped us in anyway when the new building we had just constructed caught fire. We have not been able to learn who the young man is that saw the fire and knocked on our door to tell us about it, but we really do appreciate what you did. The fire department responded immediately and did a super job in getting the fire under control quickly. Our friends and neighbors did everything they could to help. We will always be grateful for everything you did for us.

Sincerely,
James (Jack) & Doris Jackson

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to each of you who helped in anyway since the tornado destroyed our barns, sheds, fences, and timber.

We shall always remember you and wish for each of you the very best in life.

Thank you for every kind word and deed.

Homomongo County News - Vidette - Belmont News

Slug Slugs Down 6 Pt. Gary Lovelace, left, of Belmont hunted in Allsboro, on opening day of deer season and brought home a six point, 130 lb. buck. He recalls downing the slug with a single slug in the head from his .12 gauge shotgun. His hunting companions included Kenny Hester, center, and David Hightfield, both of Allsboro. Gary said hunting deer this season brought back so many memories of his dear friend, the late Owen Hester of Belmont, with whom he had hunted so many times before. Mr. Hester was compared to being like a grandfather, Gary said, often joining him on hunts. He had a love for all nature and wildlife and taught good sportsmanship to all those he came in contact with. According to Lovelace, Mr. Hester killed over 100 deer during his lifetime. Gary has shot 29, and 25 of those were brought in while hunting with Mr. Hester. This one was killed in honor of Mr. Hester. Also hunting with this group on Saturday was Roger Hayes.

Tim Bivins of Iuka downed an eight point, 132 lbs. buck while hunting in the Mingo area Sunday, November 23. The prize deer was shot with a .44 magnum rifle.

Big Top is Coming!

Iuka Lions Club News

Mrs. Martha Segars, Dietician at Tishomingo County Hospital, was a most interesting speaker at our November 18th meeting. She gave us information on the possibility of a person being diabetic, and not being aware of its existence. Several methods of detection were discussed, and generally agreed, that periodical examinations were to be the best method of detection.

Unfortunately, no bulletin was available as our editor, Lion P.O. Beard was absent, due to an un-looked for illness. We are happy to report his condition as much improved. Also, I was unable to attend our zone meeting on November 20th, as I had to go to a meeting in Muscle Shoals, where I was awarded a pin, and certificate for 45 years of active participation in our Local #760 of Steamfitters and plumbers -- of which I am very proud!

Q. I have a friend who is heavily involved in drugs. How can I help? Where can he go for help?

(S.R. Pearl, MS)
A. First of all let me say, that you are helping your friend by just getting involved. I suggest that you talk with a counselor of an organization that provides drug and/or alcohol recovery programs. These counselors are trained in the area of rehabilitation and will be able to give you answers on how you can help your friend.

There are numerous organizations available throughout Mississippi that provide this type of service. I suggest checking the phonebook under drug abuse and addiction treatment and it should provide a list of centers available in your area. These centers provide the skilled counselors and treatment needed for the chemical dependant.
