Registration For 1st Grade & Pre-School At Iuka Elementary

Pre-school registration for all kindergarten and new first grade students attending Iuka Elementary School for the 1988-89 school year will be held Friday, April 8, at the Elementary School Commons Building from 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

According to state law, a student must be five years of age on or before September 1 to enter kindergarten and a student entering first grade must be six years of age on or before September 1.

Students presently enrolled in the elementary kindergarten do not need to pre-register for the first grade since they are already enrolled.

Each child entering Iuka Elementary School this fall must have a certified copy of his or her birth certificate and a Certificate of Immunization, which can be obtained from the Health Department or local physician. Parents do not need these two certificates to pre-register their children; however, the forms must be submitted to the school before the child can begin school in the fall.

If, for any reason, a child cannot be registered at the given time, parents are urged to contact the elementary school office at 423-9290.

Prentiss Manufacturing Plans Expansion of Production

A plan to expand production at the Iuka plant of the Prentiss Manufacturing Company is currently underway, according to Plant Manager, Lonnie Lancaster.

The plan includes the additions of more machines and manpower, he said.

Within the next 6-8 weeks, plans are to add 45-50 more operators. Production is expected to increase from 175-180 dozen shirts per day to 300 dozen per day. Also, several new lines will be added to the already popular Prentiss Outdoors. New labels will include Banana Republic, The Gap, and Big Mac which is already being made for the J. C. Penny Company.

At the present time, the plant has 181 employees. A drastic increase from the minimum crew of 10 people which had been operating the plant (formerly Iuka Shirt Company) for several weeks prior to being purchased by Prentiss Manufacturing in September of 1986.

No expansion of the building is being considered at this time, however, renovation has already begun on the existing facilities in the form of "clean up-fix up". Outside the building some land work is being done such as improvements to the loading docks and plans are to pave and mark off the parking lot.

Lancaster said the company is concerned about the personnel they employ and these changes are being made to provide improved, more efficient and safer working conditions.

The Prentiss Manufacturing Company which makes men's shirts is an old established high quality product manufacturing company which is headquartered in Booneville, MS. Prentiss purchased the assets which included land, building and equipment from the Iuka Shirt Company in 1986 with funds borrowed from the City of Iuka that had been made available through a Community Development Block Grant in the amount of $315,000.

Mr. Lancaster who has been in the garment business for 23 years said he believes the plant has the potential to become a leader in the garment production industry in this area and at the same time boost the economy in Tishomingo County and lower the unemployment figure.

County Agent's Notes.....

TERMITES TO SWARM
Homemakers in Tishomingo County know the termites are swarming because they've seen the destructive pests. These insects usually have their colonies underground and feed on materials containing cellulose.

Their dinner includes the wood in your house. You can protect your wood by chemically treating the soil between the wood and the termites. This treatment acts as a barrier to protect the wood from those ravenous appetites.

You will need to hire a professional pest control operator to treat termites, because they are licensed to apply termiticides. If you need more details, please come by the office.

SPRING LIMING

Some of our Tishomingo County farmers have recently received soil test reports calling for applications of lime to correct soil pH. They have asked me if it would be beneficial to apply lime this close to planting time.

In most cases, the answer is yes.

While lime generally requires several months to react in the soil, some of the finely ground lime particles will quickly neutralize soil acidity. While it would be more effective to apply lime in the fall, it can and should be applied as soon as possible if soil pH needs correcting.

The lime treatment will help somewhat, but the full benefits will not become apparent until the next growing season.

EAGER ARMYWORMS

We've been blessed with an early spring, and if we're not careful, we'll be blessed with an army worm infestation in Tishomingo County.

County farmers who have spring grazing crops should monitor closely for armyworms. It is critical to

Chatting With Your Home Economist

By Nellie R. Horton
Extension Home Economist

CONSIDER YOUR OWN FAMILY WHEN MAKING CARE-GIVING DECISIONS

Whenever possible, let your aging parent make all decisions that involve them. Too often, older people are forgotten and no one tells them about the decisions that are under consideration. This contributes to feelings of isolation, helplessness, anxiety and perhaps, despair. Shared decisions produce the best results.

When decisions are made, avoid forcing your values on your parents. Sometimes adult children are focused on a parent's living a long time, while the parent is concerned about the quality of the time he or she is living. If your parent is mentally competent and chooses to remain at home, that is your parent's right and choice. If this bothers you, express your concerns by using "I" statements. For example: "Mother, I'm worried about your living alone. You may fall and not be able to call for help."

Providing care for an elderly parent should not be attempted without careful thought to the impact on you, your spouse and the welfare of other family members. Time and energy needs to be available for you to maintain quality relationships with your family and also to maintain your own emotional and physical health.

Self-sacrifice needs to be tempered with a healthy recognition of your own needs. Set limits on what you can do. Most importantly, communicate your need and what you can and cannot do for your parent to other family members. Delegate tasks by asking family members to help. If another brother or sister is not available, then hire someone or ask a friend, neighbor or someone from your church or other organizations to provide some of the care.

Plan time for yourself. This is not always easy to do, but it is important. Many people feel guilty about leaving the ill person and enjoying themselves. Care-givers can jeopardize their own health and lose efficiency and effectiveness. If you become physically or emotionally exhausted, you will find your susceptibility to illness increasing, your problem-solving ability decreasing, your frustrations mounting and your emotions getting out of control. Maintain your friendships. Leisure time has a positive affect on both morale and energy.

Involvement in a family support group can also answer questions about caregiving and reduce feelings of social and emotional isolation. Sharing with others who are living through the same experience can serve as a source for venting feelings with others who truly understand and not condemn you. If your community does not have such a support group, perhaps you can organize one through your Extension Homemaker's Council or church.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY
OPTOMETRIST

CATARACTS AND HOPE

For the great majority of people, having a cataract does not mean they will become blind. The record for cataract surgery is one of the best in medicine. Vision is restored in 95 percent of all cases. This is true for elderly patients, too, if their general health is good.

People who have a cataract in one or both eyes find their vision blurred. This is caused by a cloudiness or opacity of the lens of the eye. There is not enough light for a clear image.

When the cataract is removed, so is the lens. This means a substitute lens must be used to see again. Sometimes the eye surgeon will implant a substitute lens in the eye itself. But most people compensate for the loss of the eye's lens by wearing glasses or contact lenses.

Some people prefer contact lenses because they fit directly over the eye. They feel more comfortable wearing contacts rather than thick-lensed glasses. Other people prefer wearing glasses. Both do the job that's needed: they allow you to see clearly again.

Shane Hill Named National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Shane Hill has been named a United States National Award winner in Science.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than ten percent of all American high school students.

Shane, who attends Tishomingo High School was nominated for this National Award by Charles Black, a science teacher at the school.

Shane's picture will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Shane is the son of Larry and Sarah Hill. The grandparents are Mrs. Zora Lee Hill of Tishomingo and Mr. and Mrs. Houston McKinney of Booneville.

Retired Teachers Met At Dennis Restaurant

The Tishomingo County Retired Teachers Association met at the Dennis Restaurant for its March meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Artie Timbes.

An inspiring devotion was given by Bro. Waid Wilkes, pastor of Golden United Methodist Church, taken from Ephesians 5:14-17. His wife, Beverly, gave an interesting discussion on examining oneself. Following the discussion, each teacher was involved in a self-test which included listing five things he/she had always wanted to do and five ways we spend our time. Then she gave a few minutes for us to reflect on these to see if we could improve on the way we spend our time.

A comparison was made of the Jordan River and the Dead Sea. One takes and gives, the other takes and keeps. If we aren't careful that will be the status of our lives.

After a delicious meal was enjoyed by all with group fellowship, Mrs. Timbes called the group to order for its business.

Our thoughts, appreciation and love were directed to the memory of Mrs. Havis Short, our secretary/treasurer, who passed away January 23. She will always be remembered and her memory cherished for her faithfulness and devotion to her husband, family, church, friends and to the association. Her devotion is an example each of us would be wise to emulate.

Ruth Dawson was elected to fill the vacancy created by her death.

Mrs. Mary McMurry brought news from the District 1 office. Many items of interest were presented and members urged to contact senators and representatives on bills relative to the best interest of all teachers. It was the consensus of the association that a new Constitution is not needed, only amendments should be made where changes are needed. "An old constitution does not necessarily make a bad constitution. Amend it where it doesn't work," she said. Our state project is membership. There is strength in numbers and we are growing every day.

The District 1, spring meeting will be held at Itawamba Community College Campus in Fulton, April 13, at 10 a.m.

The October district workshop meeting will be held at Northeast Community College in Booneville, October 18 from 9 til 3. Lunch will be provided by the AARP. All officers and committee members are urged to make plans to attend this meeting.

Mr. Glenn Williams, our legislative chairman gave highlights of current legislation of interest to teachers and our community.

Those present for the March meeting were: Mrs. Mary McMurry, Bro. and Mrs. Waid Wilkes, Artie Timbes, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Aldridge, Yvette Helton, Lois Bostick, Eva Bostick, Leighvella Bostick, Bonnie Mae Warren, Jewel Nixon, Lalla Byram, R. C. Strickland, Vera Stanfield and Ruth Dawson.

Our next meeting will be in June. All retirees are urged to be present.

Matters Of Health

LEARNING DISABILITIES

Our four-year-old son's preschool teacher thinks he may have a learning disability because he can't draw a circle and has trouble working puzzles. How can we help him?

The words "learning disabled" were probably almost unheard of twenty years ago, but today the term is often applied to children with certain difficulties in school.

It's now possible to recognize potential learning problems in children as young as two, three, and four-years-old, because more parents and teachers are aware of this condition, and more children are enrolled in preschool and daycare centers.

How exactly does a learning disability affect a child? A child with a learning disability perceives and understands things differently from most other children his age. The difference has a physiological - not emotional - basis, which interferes with his ability to learn certain areas. It may affect a child's ability to read, write, or remember; understand mathematical concepts; pay attention or organize his thoughts. Some experts offer parents a name for the specific type of learning disability. Other avoid such labels and simply describe the child's strengths and weaknesses.

Pediatricians and educators agree that by the time a child is five-years old, he or she should be able to perform certain tasks such as drawing a circle and a square; counting to 10; understanding the concept of numbers - for example, he can give an adult four blocks; recognizing colors; and hopping on one leg. Early recognition of a problem in one or more of these areas may spare the child years of incorrect teaching and possible psychological damage.

Parents should keep in mind that the child may not have a learning disability at all. Emotional or social problems could be the cause of his being slower in certain areas than his classmates. If he does have a learning disability, it may be described as "perceptual-motor dysfunction." Some children with this problem can't draw a circle because they lack the skill to perceive it accurately - perceptual, the skill to reproduce it accurately - motor, or both. This dysfunction in some children affects fine motor skills and interferes with their ability to catch a ball or ride a bike.

Concerned parents should ask their child's teacher how to request the multi-disciplinary evaluation to which a child is entitled by federal law. A team of professionals will evaluate the child to identify his abilities and disabilities then draw up an individualized, educational plan, if needed. Parents must work closely with their child's teacher, now and throughout his school year.

The best way to help a child learn if he's found to be learning disabled, is to protect his self-esteem. Try to avoid labeling the child. Make him feel loved and special. Compliment him often and offer very little criticism, though it's important to acknowledge that some tasks are hard for him to do. Concentrate on what he does well. Children with perceptual-motor dysfunction may not excel at baseball, but often love music and books. Most importantly, remember that being learning disabled doesn't mean being unable to learn - it simply means being able to learn in a different way.

This "Matter of Health" was prepared in cooperation with physicians and educational counselors in Children's Hospital's Child Development Center at the University of Mississippi Medical Center. ## Ask Ochsner

Q. What are the general effects of drinking alcohol? With the holiday season, it would be an interesting subject to address from a medical standpoint. Mrs. AFJ, Purvis, Miss.

A. Dr. Thomas Feagin, head of the section of community internal medicine at Ochsner Clinic, says that the general effects of drinking alcohol depend on body weight and whether the drinker has or has not eaten while drinking. Drinking alcohol can act as a general anesthetic and reduce inhibitions, but, by just consuming it in small amounts, it will impair your decision-making capabilities. Based on consumption of a single drink (12 ounces of beer, 4 ounces of dry wine or 1 ounce of hard liquor), and given a person of average size and weight, here is the general effect of drinking:

1-2 drinks — a sense of comfort and relaxation.

3 drinks — reduced inhibitions and exaggerated behavior.

4 drinks — clumsiness and slurring of speech, and nearing the point of legal intoxication.

5 drinks — obvious intoxication; drinker will usually fall asleep.

7-8 drinks — if consumed quickly enough to raise blood alcohol level to 0.3, death can result from respiratory function failure.

The effects of alcohol on the brain and nervous system include behavioral aggressiveness, mental deterioration, poor judgment and an increased risk for accidents. It is known to contribute to violent behavior, and is responsible for auto, pedestrian and fire fatalities, suicide attempts and child abuse.

If you happen to make it home after a binge of drinking, hangover inevitably faced by many goes. Dr. Feagin that heavy smoking posture to heavy contractions of tobacco while drinking all tributes to the head preerenced by the who drinks too much probably the most hangover remedy. Feagin says taking aspirin and drinking of glasses of water going to bed will reduce the hangover. And, of course, it don't drive!

Ask Ochsner medical questions of interest. We can directly to the questions, nor consider general adequate substitution of your doctor's specific complaint.

Why We Don't Need Pollution

People who abuse the land are wimps. They think they're big-shots, so they just throw their beer cans on the road.
Mississippi should raise the fine on land abuse to $1,000 and enforce it. Deer hunters who hunt on the side of the road throw their garbage on the side of the road. On the Tombigbee some boaters throw garbage and bottles in the water. If everybody in Mississippi, even the little kids, cleaned up just a little bit, the state would be a lot cleaner. Mississippi has many good parks. In Tishomingo County alone we have Tishomingo State Park and Coleman Park. Campers come from miles around to camp in one of the parks. On the way they see lots of garbage and it gives Mississippi a bad reputation. Some people even steal Indian artifacts from the Indian mounds. On the Tombigbee there are bald eagles and many other animals. If we don't do something about all the chemical wastes, they're going to die, not mention all the bass, bluegill, catfish, pike, and many other fish that die of pollution.

4-H Communicates

By Mary Cox

Extension 4-H Youth Agent

This week, all around Tishomingo County, children and adults will be dyeing and decorating eggs for various Easter Celebrations. Eggs can be a source of food poisoning, and it's important to cook and handle them properly.

The Easter egg is considered a symbol of new life and resurrection.

The eggs used for school,
church and family egg hunts
should be "hard-cooked", rather than "hard-boiled."

There are several reasons for not hard-boiling eggs. First, when eggs are boiled hard, mechanical agitation of the boiling often causes many of them to crack. Don't use cracked eggs for dyeing. They not only are less attractive, but more importantly,
cracked eggs easily can be contaminated with food poisoning bacteria.

When cracked eggs are left at room temperature for two or three hours or hidden outside in an Easter egg hunt, bacteria can grow quickly and increase chances of food poisoning. Also, when eggs are cooked at such high temperature, the protein in the egg white toughens and becomes almost rubbery.

The reason for the gray-green color on the surface of the hardened yolk is that boiled eggs were not cooled quickly. This is evidence of ferrous sulfide caused by a chemical reaction of the iron in the yolk and the sulfur in the proteins of the egg white.
It isn't harmful, but is unappetizing. This can be prevented by cooking eggs at a lower temperature and, when cooking is finished, immediately running cold water over them until cool.

The best way to hard-cook eggs is to cover them with cold water, bring water to a boil and boil gently for one to two minutes. Remove from heat, cover and let sit 15 to 20 minutes. Drain immediately and run cold water over eggs until they are cool. There should be no cracked eggs, the whites will be tender and the yolks a bright yellow.
Remove eggs from the water,
dye and refrigerate them if it will be several hours before they are used.

If eggs are not cracked, they should be safe
for several hours at room temperature. Don't hide eggs in the hot sun. After the hunt, refrigerate them. If they are cracked, it might be safest to discard them.

I hope that everyone enjoys their Easter celebration and that you have a safe and happy holiday.

Co-Op Purchases May Be Eligible For Direct Refund

Farm cooperative purchases of oil products may be eligible for refunds, based on an informal determination by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE).

Farm Bureau was recently notified by the DOE that eligibility for oil overcharge refunds may be extended to farmers who purchased petroleum products from farm cooperatives. This announcement is not a formal policy decision by DOE and may be challenged.

As a result of this change, farmers may now apply for refunds on their co-op purchases with the understanding they may not be granted.

Farmers who have not yet
submitted a refund application should do so by June 30, the extended deadline date. Applications for refunds are available at county Farm Bureau offices across the state. These applications can be used for co-op purchases as well as individual purchases, but it should be clearly stated on the form or an attachment that the refund applied for is based on co-op purchases.

If a farmer is filing for refunds on both individual and co-op purchases, the application should clearly indicate the number of gallons purchased from each. This will protect the non co-op purchases if a challenge should be made.

Farmers who already have
submitted a refund application form, but did not include their co-op petroleum purchases, may submit a letter to DOE amending their original application to include the co-op purchases. A new form should not be filed.

Amendment letters to previous applications should refer to the claim number assigned by the DOE. Those amendment letters should be sent to: Office of Hearings and Appeals, Department of Energy, 1000 Independence

Ave., SW, Washington, DC
20585.

Rep. Bill Wheeler On Committee For Senior Citizens

Representative Bill Wheeler of Belmont has been named Secretary of a special seven-member committee to study problems of Mississippi's senior citizens and submit recommendations to deal with the problems.

The appointment was announced by House Speaker Tim Ford this week. Wheeler represents House District 19 in Itawamba and Tishomingo Counties. Representatives Bill Singletary of Clinton and Aaron Henry of Clarksdale were named Chairman and Vice-Chairman, respectively, of the study group.

Others named to the Committee were Representatives Alyce Clarke of Jackson, Eloise Scott of Tupelo, Morris Lee Scott of Hernando, and Ken Stribling of Jackson.

Under a resolution adopted recently by the House, the committee was directed to prepare a plan "which addresses the problems of Mississippi's elderly population, proposes solutions to those problems, and establishes goals and a framework for meeting the specific short-term and long-term needs of that population group."

The resolution calls for a preliminary report to be submitted to the House prior to the end of the current legislative session, with a final plan due by December 1, 1988.

Housekeeping

By Rep. Mack Loyd Wadkins

Money matters reclaimed the legislative spotlight during the past week with the House of Representatives plowing into a mountain of bills to fund state agencies, departments and institutions in the coming fiscal year.

Never an easy chore, the allocation of operating funds for state programs has been complicated this year by efforts to provide additional support for education, adequately handle other vital needs such as mental health and Medicaid, and avoid a tax hike that nobody wants.

Dozens of funding bills were approved by the House last week as legislators prepared to meet a deadline this week (March 31) for original floor action on appropriations and revenue bills. The cutoff does not apply to bills passed earlier by the Senate.

Numerous bills were awaiting consideration at the start of the current week in both chambers. Many of the appropriations are expected to eventually wind up in House-Senate conference committees to hammer out differences.

The biggest single appropriation involving money from the state's general fund traditionally goes for support of public schools. The House voted earlier this month to earmark a record-high $772.4 million for the Minimum Education Program, including public kindergartens plus grades 1-12. In the past, kindergartens have been funded in a separate measure.

The bill, still awaiting Senate action at the end of last week, includes the money to implement the House-passed version of the teacher pay raise bill, providing an average $3,000 increase in 1988-1989 with another $700 boost the following year. An alternative salary bill was passed by the Senate as the past week drew to a close. The House also has voted to authorize pay raises for more than 26,000 state employees, totaling nearly $30 million. The bill provides across-the-board pay hikes of $75 a month or 3 percent, whichever is greater. This would be coupled with a proposed realignment of most salaries under the state's Variable Compensation Plan.

An alternative Senate plan calls for the salary realignments without across-the-board increases. House and Senate members also differed in their positions last week, at least to some degree, on several other issues including a mandatory county-unit bill and a measure giving more direct control to the Governor over the State Department of Corrections.

On Friday, the House passed a revised version of a Senate bill that would do away with the State Board of Corrections and allow the Governor to appoint the Corrections Commissioner. Backers said the measure, recommended by the Penitentiary Committee, had been endorsed by Governor Ray Mabus.

All 82 counties would be required to operate a countywide system of road administration by October, 1989, under a bill recommended by the House County Affairs Committee. The measure, a revised version of the Senate's county-unit bill, also had to clear the Ways and Means Committee before going to the House calendar.

A subcommittee hearing was planned early this week (Monday) on the widely discussed bill.

A House-Senate Conference Committee continued work last week on a bill calling for voters to decide this fall if they want a state constitutional convention. The bill was sent to the six-member negotiating panel after separate versions were approved earlier by the House and Senate.

Among the first major appropriation bills passed last week by the House was a $65.5 million outlay to repay counties and local school districts for tax losses incurred under the Homestead Exemption program.

The House approved a $4 million allocation for school districts in the Chickasaw Cession area of north Mississippi which do not have 16th Section School lands. This is an increase of $1 million as authorized in a 1985 law calling for yearly increases of $1 million until the annual amount reaches $5 million in fiscal year 1989-1990.

The House gave final approval to a Senate-passed bill to clarify certain provisions in the Public Utilities law dealing with rate-change procedures.

In other developments, a special House study committee was formed to look into problems facing Mississippi's senior citizens; a number of lawmakers received a briefing from the Mississippi Air National Guard and a short flight on one of the four C-141B planes used recently to airlift U.S. troops to Honduras; and a resolution was adopted urging Congress to reverse its decision on changing the method of collecting federal diesel fuel taxes from the retail to wholesale level.

The resolution said the change, which takes effect April 1, will place an extra burden on Mississippi farmers and other off-road users of diesel fuel.

Resolution From The House Of Representatives

A resolution commending Farlar Belue of Iuka upon his 105th birthday has been adopted unanimously by the Mississippi House of Representatives.

Affectionately known as "Papa Belue", Mr. Belue was born March 9, 1883, in Tishomingo County. He supported his family by farming and other jobs, including serving as custodian at the Tishomingo County Courthouse in Iuka.

He now resides at the Pickwick Manor Nursing Home in Iuka and regularly attends the Tishomingo County Day Care for the Elderly Senior Citizens Center, of which he has been a member since May, 1975.

The resolution said he always enjoyed politics and is an accomplished fiddle player. "All citizens of the State of Mississippi can look up to Farlar Belue and be proud of the example he sets for all Mississippians," the resolution says.

The resolution was co-sponsored by Representatives Mack Loyd Wadkins and Bill Wheeler and House Speaker Tim Ford.

The first airplane purchased by the U.S. government was called the Miss Columbia and bought from the Wright brothers in 1909.

Pacific War Memorial & Museum Restoration "Falling Into Place"

It began with a flurry of letters in early 1987. Veterans who had witnessed the results of deterioration were writing to the Disabled American Veterans Washington office. The letters soon became the rallying point for a $5 million restoration of the Pacific War Memorial on the Philippine island of Corregidor.

"Too much blood was shed on Corregidor to ever forget it, ever dismiss it, or ever demean it," said one mid-western veteran.

"The gallant defenders of Corregidor represented the best of all of America's fighting men since the birth of this nation. Tenacious in their dedication to duty, courageous in spirit ...," wrote another.

Alerted by the letters, DAV officials asked House Veterans Affairs Committee Chairman G.V. "Sonny" Montgomery to lead a Congressional delegation to Corregidor in April 1987 to investigate. What the delegation discovered was neglect and vandalism that had left a once magnificent monument to American and Filipino veterans near complete ruin.

Among the "almost total desecration" reported by the delegation: artillery emplacements ravaged by scavengers who had stolen and sold the metal for scrap; stagnant water surrounding the memorial; cracked monument walls; no electrical power; and holes in the monument flooring and the roof of the adjacent museum where artifacts have been destroyed by the weather. Most buildings have been reduced to skeletal frames or rubble. The beaches are littered with garbage and the island and its access roads are overrun with vegetation.

"We all knew immediately that we had a job to do," said Montgomery.

Following its visit to Corregidor, the delegation met with Philippine President Corason Aquino and other government officials and urged them to provide security for the island, which they have done.

The DAV committed $100 thousand to the project on the spot, and later presented Navy Secretary James Webb with an initial $34 thousand for materials and supplies to be used by Navy Seabees for preliminary repairs on the memorial and museum. On January 22, the Seabees completed the two-month project that included roof, ceiling and wall repairs in the museum. A new water tank was installed, walkways were replaced, and the marble wall panels of the memorial were cleaned. The Seabees also painted and conducted other general maintenance.

Montgomery and Senator John Warner of Virginia successfully added $100 thousand to the FY 88 Department of Defense Authorization bill so the Seabees can return to the island to improve access roads and clear vegetation.

The State Department is now center stage. It is working to secure an agreement with the Philippine government, which assumed maintenance responsibilities for the memorial in 1968, to allow the American Battle Monuments Commission to complete the restoration and maintain the memorial. The ABMC oversees U.S. military monuments and burial grounds worldwide. A delay in the start-up of the negotiations is "attributable to several very important preoccupations" on the part of the Aquino government, including local elections, according to David Lambertson, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense, Bureau for East Asian and Pacific Affairs.

"We expect to hear back from them very soon," said

Donnie is 5!

Donnie Carroll Johnson II celebrated his 5th Birthday, March 29, 1988. He was given a Birthday Party at Mineral Springs Park. He received many nice gifts. Donnie is the son of Bobby and Lisa Johnson of Iuka. He is the grandson of Daniel and Barbara Johnson of Iuka, Polly Ledgwood of Iuka and Dallas Brogdon of Ark. He is the great-grandson of Mattie and the late Tiffred Borden of Iuka. Ester and the late Bilbo Lindsey of Iuka, Pebble and the late Van Brogdon of Ark., and the late Denver and Annie Johnson of Burnsville.

Lambertson, who claims that negotiations "shouldn't take too long." The Philippine Ambassador to the United States agrees.

"We value the intangible things, things of the spirit" I do not think there will be any serious obstacle" (to completion of the negotiations). (The memorial) satisfies the spirit, and we also hope it will bring a few dollars to our pockets," said Ambassador Emmanuel Pelaez, commenting on an anticipated rise in tourism revenue following the memorial's restoration.

Once an agreement on ABMC involvement is reached with the Philippine government, Montgomery plans to ask the Congress to appropriate the necessary funds for the next phase of the restoration project. The ABMC estimates a complete restoration cost of $5 million as well as $500 thousand annually for maintenance. Besides federal appropriations, the ABMC will rely on private and corporate contributions to complete the project, which includes restoration of barracks and other historic sites on the island. Additional veterans' service organizations have pledged their financial support.

"In my 22 years in the Congress, no project has fallen into place like this one," said Montgomery. "The spirit of cooperation is great."

Of Montgomery's efforts for the project, DAV National Adjutant Dale Adams said, "He's driving the truck; all we're doing is loading it."

Corregidor, a 1735-acre island sentinel at the mouth of Manila Bay, was a model American outpost in the Pacific during World War II. An intricate tunnel system housed the headquarters of General Douglas MacArthur, who was ordered off the island in March of 1942 following three months of heavy bombardment from the Japanese. Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright assumed command and, with a contingent of 10 thousand, held Corregidor for another two months, during which time the Japanese captured Bataan, a neighboring island. Corregidor fell in May. Three years later, American forces recaptured the island and Gen. MacArthur returned.

"The determined spirit of the Americans and Filipinos who fought side by side on Corregidor and Bataan and who displayed high morale and an unshakable love of freedom against tremendous adversity should not be allowed to fade into history. It should remain with us. It is important that we remember," said Montgomery.

SSN For Minors

Social Security across the nation has been busy in recent years processing applications for Social Security numbers for minor children. Hugh Social Security manager in Tupelo, said that as of the Tax Reform Act of 1986, taxpayers must for the Social Security number for each dependent child listed on tax return on or after January 1, 1988. The new law has put a flurry of applications to avoid the last minute rush.

"Parents who need Security numbers for their children, and who have not yet, need to do so as soon as possible," said. A card, which is the child's lifetime Security number, is issued by completing a Form Application for a Security Number Card. This may be obtained from Social Security office, the child's certified birth certificate, and a document, such as a report card, immunization record, or library card, which will be used by Social Security to issue the card. Parents who need their children are asked to call Social Security at 6043.

Some Glad Tomorrow

By Lindsey Earl Jones

Some glad tomorrow
afterwhile,
When Jesus comes back again,
To rule this earth as King
of Kings, and Lord of Lords

Won't that be a happy time,
For all who have done the will of God.
While living here from day to day.
There will be no devil to tempt us.
For he will be in the lake of fire with the beast and false prophets.
The earth will be filled with the glory of the Lord.

And we'll all love one another as the Bible teaches us to.
So help me Lord, to do my best to live a life that's clean and holy.
That I will be accepted to live with Jesus in his kingdom.
When he comes back again,
Some glad tomorrow and time will be no more.

HAY FEVER TREATMENT

Fortunately, there are many medications available that effectively reduce and, in some cases, practically eliminate symptoms in most hay fever sufferers. Different drugs work in different ways to interfere with and prevent the chemical reactions leading to allergic attacks. The best known of these drugs, antihistamines, compete with histamine for receptors on the mucous membranes of the nose, eyes, and throat. Through this blocking action, histamine never reaches its target, thus preventing and relieving the symptoms of hay fever.

Different people vary in their response to the same antihistamine. Drowsiness is a typical side effect of most, but not all, antihistamines; if you find that you become very tired after taking an antihistamine, you should avoid driving or doing anything else that requires you to be fully alert. Also, it is sensible to avoid alcohol or tranquilizers when taking antihistamines, since these substances can cause added drowsiness. Some over-the-counter and

Cheese Pie Celebrates Wisconsin's Swiss Heritage

New Glarus, Wisconsin was settled by immigrants from Glarus, Switzerland in the 1800's. The area and surrounding townships are famous for sensational Swiss cheese. The Swiss were one of the first immigrant groups to develop their own specialized cheese in this dairy-rich state.

Later, Italian, German, French, Dutch and Scandinavian immigrants who settled in America's dairyland added their own cheesemaking expertise, contributing to an international diversity that has resulted in more than 200 varieties of Wisconsin cheese. All varieties must pass stringent standards of grading to assure the highest quality. In fact, Wisconsin led the industry as the first state to establish standards for cheese grading as early as 1921.

You can enjoy a delicious taste of New Glarus home cooking with this recipe for New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie. Be sure to use Wisconsin Baby Swiss or Swiss cheese for authentic flavor. If you start with a prepared, pre-rolled pie crust, this pie takes less than a half hour to assemble—a real timesaver for busy family cooks.

While New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie is ideal for a no-fuss dinner, it's also excellent company fare, too. Serve it for brunch or a luncheon party any time of the year.

New Glarus Cheese And Onion Pie

1 1/2 cups sliced onions
1 tablespoon butter
4 eggs
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
1 1/2 cups half and half
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon pepper
2 cups shredded Wisconsin Swiss or Baby Swiss cheese (8 ounces)
1 tablespoon cornstarch

In medium skillet saute onions in butter until transparent, about 5 minutes; set aside. In bowl beat eggs; brush small amount on inside of pie shell. Add half and half, salt, nutmeg and pepper to beaten eggs; beat to blend thoroughly. Toss cheese with cornstarch. Cover bottom of pie shell with onions and cheese. Pour egg mixture over. Dust with additional nutmeg. Bake in center of preheated 400 degree oven 35 to 45 minutes until set, browned and puffy. Cool slightly. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 servings.

Wisconsin's Swiss-Americans enjoy savory New Glarus Cheese and Onion Pie. Use Wisconsin Baby Swiss or Swiss cheese for authentic flavor.

Weekly State Crop Report

PLANTING BEGINS FOR SUMMER FORAGE CROPS

Farmers hoping to "make hay" this summer have begun planting warm season forages.

Encouraged by the progress of the cool season forage crop seeded last fall, farmers are planting hybrid bermudagrass for hay and common bermudagrass for grazing. The common grasses are planted from March to June while the hybrids can be planted from early spring into late summer.

"Bermudagrass won't show much growth until April, although it will peep out a little bit before then," said Dr. Lamar Kimbrough, agronomist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Many farmers are running soil tests on their pastures to check pH and nutrient content before they add lime and fertilizer. Bermudagrass and other forage crops need a soil pH of 6 to produce good hay and grazing.

"Too much of the soil in our pastures is acidic," Kimbrough said. "Farmers may need to lime their pastures to adjust for acidity so the forages will grow."

He said some farmers would need to add at least a ton of lime per acre to change the soil pH to 6 and to allow fertilizer to work. Fertilizer is useless in soil that is too acid.

Spring is peak production time for cool season forages in Mississippi. "The cool season forages are growing good now," Kimbrough said. "Farmers can keep them growing good by putting out adequate fertilizer."

In other agricultural news, corn planting and gardening are underway across the state. Fruit trees in Pike County and other areas in south Mississippi suffered heavy damage from last week's cold freeze but those in Alcorn and other northern counties escaped because they were one to two weeks behind in development.

"Plums may have received slight damage but the peach crop escaped because the peach trees were in the bud stage," said Robert Wolfe, Alcorn County agent.

The first ship to pass through the Panama Canal was the Alex Lavalley on January 7, 1914.

CERTIFY FALL-SEEDED CROPS AT SIGNUP

When farmers sign up for the 1988 acreage reduction programs they may also report their fall-seeded crops.

ASCS is currently accepting applications for the feed grain, wheat, cotton and rice program. Signup ends April 15th.

To avoid having to make a separate visit to the county office to certify farmers may want to report the acres and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded crops when they apply for the 1988 programs.

Fall seeded crops which are not reported by May 1, will be ineligible for program benefits.

Farm program participants are required to report their actual acres planted for harvest to be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits. Producers who do not enroll in the 1988 programs could also benefit by reporting their planted acreage because the report will be used for crop history purposes.

Acreage reports are used to determine compliance with farm programs and provide documentation for future programs. ASCS randomly checks farms to verify that the reports are accurate.

Farmers who have questions about certifying their fall-seeded crops or about the 1988 acreage reduction programs are encouraged to contact the Tishomingo County ASCS office for more information.

Letters to the Editor

Honorable John H. Biggs,
Editor
Tishomingo County News
Iuka, Mississippi 38852

Dear Editor:

I wish to commend the Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors, both the present and past Board, for their financial support in funding the restoration of the Old Tishomingo County Courthouse. The restoration certainly improved an eyesore in our area, and its use as a museum, cultural center, and county affairs will be a great benefit to our area and its citizens.

The Old Courthouse is already on the National Register of Historic Sites and it is a place of sentimental and fond memories for many people. Gov. John Stone supervised its construction. Many significant court cases were tried within its walls. For me personally, it was the site of my first condemnation case with the deceased Atorney J.O. "Click" Clark, and the place where I received my first court reprimand.

Only last week, a woman in Alabama asked about the Old Courthouse. She was married there over forty years ago, but she could not remember the Judge who performed the marriage ceremony for her and many thousands of others who began married life at the Old Tishomingo County Courthouse. It will evolve into a prominent tourist attraction with many fond memories.

Let me urge our citizens to continue to support our county officials by contributing memorabilia and other artifacts which will tell the rich history of this structure and its influence on our citizens and area.

Again, thanks for restoring this historic building and preserving a site that has sentimental and moving memories for many.

Very sincerely,
P.O. Beard

Pastor Appreciation Day

pension program each month and to pay on half of their new car. Bro. and Sister Strange live in Booneville, Ms. and they travel a great deal in the Lord's Service. Lunch was enjoyed after church.

We, the Iuka Church of God, are grateful to have a couple that love people and are dedicated to their calling as pastor.

May God Bless you all. John Twitty

Thank You

I want to thank my many friends and neighbors for all you did for us during my recent surgery and stay in the Memphis Hospital, also since I've been home.

A special thanks to Betty and Robert and to my nieces for all your love and care. Your calls, visits and prayers helped give me the strength to recover.

May God Bless each of you for your love and concern. Lonette Campbell

Beyond Life's Sunset. . . . .

By Lindsey Earl Jones

Beyond Life's sunset there waits a better home,

Where the Lamb of God,

Jesus Christ will be the light.

Have you got your ticket yet? All you'll have to do to get your ticket, is to repent of all your sins, be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, and receive the Holy Ghost. (Acts 2:38.)

Then you will be on your way to that home beyond life's sunset,

Jesus has prepared for all who will obey his word and live for him in this life.

We will need no doctors, for

Tishomingo County News-Vidette-Belmont News

no one will be sick, no funeral homes, for no one will die, no electricity for there will be no power shortages.

So come on and get your ticket ready and go to live with Jesus in that home beyond life's sunset when time for you will be no more.

Cemetery Cleaning At Spring Hill

Burnsville Senior Superlatives

Burnsville High School wishes to announce the selection of Senior Superlatives. The selection is based upon the students grade point average over a four-year period. These students have worked hard to maintain this honor. They are as follows: Lori Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Johnson; Tracey Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Elliott; Tony Hardwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardwick; Mitzi Jourdan (not pictured), daughter of Herschel Jourdan and Louise McLain; Crystal Schutz, daughter of Vonnie K. and

Leon P. Schutz; and Lona Skeens (not pictured), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Skeens. Congratulations, Shanna Pardue Class Secretary

Two Prentiss County Residents were hospitalized Monday, March 28, as a result of an automobile accident on Highway 72 near Burnsville.

Almer T. Nix, 75, and Mamie Nix, 72, were apparently attempting to turn onto Highway 72 from Turnpike Mountain Road and evidently did not see the oncoming vehicle a 1973 International truck driven by Paul E. Hubbard, 56, of Muscle Shoals, Alabama. Both of the Nix's were taken by ambulance to Tishomingo Hospital and treated for head injuries. Mrs. Nix was transferred on to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. Mr. Hubbard was uninjured.

Buddy & Kay To Celebrate Iuka's Heritage Day Festival

The Iuka Heritage Day Committee is proud to announce Buddy and Kay Bain, popular radio and television talk show hosts, will be special guests for Iuka Heritage Day Festival, Saturday, May 14. The couple will be in town all day to help Iuka celebrate. The Bains, hosts of WTVA's Morning Show, will be mingling with the crowd, serving as emcees and singing a song or two.

Along with the many events already scheduled for May 14, several new events, will be added. Republic Bank will be sponsoring an "Egg Drop". Popular in many areas around the south, several dozen eggs will be marked with a dollar value ranging from $1.00 up to $100.00. The marked eggs will be dropped from one of the downtown buildings. If the egg is caught (unbroken or not cracked), the amount marked will be awarded to the one making the catch.

Another new event will be a "Washer Pitch". It will be sponsored by Personal Finance and will be set up at the park's tennis courts. There will be an entry fee for playing, and prizes will be awarded to the winners. All proceeds for this event will go to the Lion's Club of Iuka.

First American National Bank is proud to take part in Iuka Heritage Day. The bank will be sponsoring "Claude Curtis 5 c. Hamburger". The concession stand will be in Jay Bird Park and marked with the original hamburger sign now owned by Capleman's Antiques. The famous 5 c. hamburgers will be sold during the lunch hours—12 noon - 1 p.m. only. Other concessions will be operating for the entire day; however, one will not want to miss this delicious old-fashioned bargain.

Opening ceremonies for Iuka Heritage Day Festival will begin at 9:00 a.m. in Mineral Springs Park. To conclude the opening ceremonies, Wal-Mart Discount Store, will be providing over 500 helium-filled balloons to be released by several dozen local boy scouts, girl scouts and brownies. The Balloon Release will be an impressive beginning to a fun-filled day.

The Arts and Craft Fair located in Mineral Springs Park still has limited space available. Crafters are being invited to present their crafts for show, sale and judging. There is a minimal entrance fee. The committee is especially interested in crafters that can demonstrate their craft for the public. For more information contact Judy Walker, 423-3047.

The Iuka Heritage Day Committee would like to extend a special thanks to many of the local clubs and organizations who are making wonderful contributions to the day. They are: Pilot Club, 20th Century Club, Lions Club, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, 1st Pentecostal Church, 4-H Club, and The Eastern Star.

The committee would like to invite any club or organization to participate in Iuka Heritage Day. Our next scheduled meeting will be Tuesday, April 5, 1988, at 6:30 p.m. in the library. Please feel free to come and learn more or what can be done.

Dedication Ceremonies

Officers killed in the line of duty with the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol will be memorialized Friday, April 1, when a monument is dedicated in their honor at the Department of Public Safety (DPS) building in Jackson.

The day marks the 50th anniversary of the April 1, 1938, signing by Governor Hugh White of Senate Bill 161, which created the Highway Patrol.

The public is invited to the 11 a.m. ceremony at the DPS headquarters, 1900 East Woodrow Wilson Drive, but the offices will not be open for regular business with the public that day.

"We are closing the offices for the benefit of the public," Louisa O. Dixon, interim commissioner of public safety, said.

"It would probably be an aggravating experience for a person wishing to conduct business to arrive and be delayed because of the dedication and reception. Parking is a premium at this facility on regular work days and we expect it to be even more congested on the day of the dedication," she said.

"This event is important enough to Mississippi to close our offices for one day."

Lt. Col. Billie T. Hughes, assistant chief of patrol, said, "Erecting the monument is the Mississippi Highway Patrol Benefit Association's way of saying we have not forgotten the sacrifice that our officers make."

"The monument will bring attention to the reality that any time an officer goes on duty, he is subjecting himself to possible death," Hughes, who is president of the Benefit Association, said. Col. David Huggins, patrol chief, said Highway Patrol officers are better trained in survival techniques today than at any time in the patrol's history, but so are the people who are intent on breaking the law.

"Most law enforcement officers are trained in survival techniques but the bad guys have more manpower, more gunpower and better vehicles."

"In 50 years we've lost 20 officers in the line of duty; the last four were from gunshot wounds. It is a sign of the times," Huggins said.

The 12-foot high, eight ton monument is scheduled to be unveiled by Damon and Brandon Ladner, sons of Trooper First Class Bruce Ladner, the last Highway Patrol officer killed in the line of duty.

"We have attempted to make personal contact or at least mail an invitation to the widows and/or children of the officers killed in the line of duty as well as to the families of the first 53 officers commissioned into service with the Highway Patrol in 1938," Capt. Joseph S. Gonce, secretary/treasurer of the Benefit Association, said.

Gonce said 50th anniversary sweatshirts, tennis visors, caps, key chains, belt buckles, golf shirts, coffee mug sets, etc., will be available to the public from $1 to $22 each. The Highway Patrol had been in operation for two years when the first officer was killed. Trooper Adrian Cole died in a motorcycle accident on September 13, 1940, when motorcycles were used in enforcement.

Troopers First Class James M. Barry and C. J. Reichert died four days apart as a result of gunshot wounds received in separate incidents in February of 1947.

Five troopers died in automobile accidents while on duty in the 1950's beginning with Trooper James H. Tingle in September of 1950. Seven months later, Trooper Herbert E. Nixon was killed. Trooper Carl M. Thach died in January, 1954, Captain Walter W. Smith in September, 1955, and Trooper Daniel E. Smith in November, 1959. Also in 1959, Trooper First Class H. L. Duckworth died as a result of gunshot wounds.

In the 1960's, six troopers lost their lives in shooting incidents or automobile accidents.

Sergeant Julian Davis died in an automobile accident November, 1963. Trooper Marcus LaMastus was killed July 17, Sergeant Joseph A. Poole his life in an automobile accident November 27, Trooper Tommy Kendra of gunshot wounds in 1966. Sergeants William Ny and W. O. Swindell less than a year in automobile accidents days before Christmas 1967 and October 5, respectively.

Sergeant Joe Clay died in an automobile accident 27, 1974.

Four troopers have been murdered in the line of duty since the beginning of the 1980's beginning with Trooper First Class Langham who was shot and stabbed to death on Year's Eve in 1981. Trooper Danny Nash was shot and killed Friday, February 1983. Trooper Steve G. was shot to death March 23, 1984, and Trooper First Class Bruce Ladner was shot to death Sunday, April 12, 1987, from gunshot wounds he received Friday, April 10.
