Superintendent's Race First Primary Tuesday

The post of Superintendent of Education in Tishomingo County will be voted for on Tuesday, July 12, 1988, as the first of two Democratic primaries will be held.

The regular election, usually held every four years, was postponed from last August during the County's last election due to a Federal law suit filed against the Tishomingo County Election Commissioners.

The suit asked for the restriction of registered voters of several voting precincts to vote for this County office due to their location, which is served under the Iuka Separate Municipal School District, according to official reports.

This special election will allow all registered voters to cast ballots except for those living in the entire First Supervisor's District, East Burnsville (in the Second Supervisor's District) and East Iuka (in the Third Supervisor's District) according to a Federal Court Order signed and issued by Judge L.T. Senter, Jr. This Order was then approved through the United States Department of Justice, according to a spokesperson from the Tishomingo County Election Commission.

The Order also provided provisions concerning the registration of voters and qualification deadlines of new or previously qualified candidates. Voters were required to be registered and candidates had to qualify at least 30 days prior to the first primary in order to be included.

Candidates meeting eligibility requirements for the July 12th primary are Larry Green, Danny McClung, and Bob Wimbish.

The date for the second Democratic primary for this office has been set by the T.C.E.C. for August 2, 1988.

Eligible voters are urged to participate in each of these elections.

State and local officials met with NASA officials Tuesday, July 5, at the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant site. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss incentives, in regard to NASA locating at Yellow Creek, which might be available on the state or local level. J.R. Thompson, director of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Alabama, and Deputy Director, Thomas J. Lee along with other NASA officials were present to discuss the sites are owned by NASA and have test sites. He also pointed out that there is no funds in the appropriation bill in Congress to purchase land. State and local officials are looking for ways to purchase the site for NASA. Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors and Mayor John H. Biggs of Iuka, pledged their support of the project and funding of the site. J.R. Thompson stated, "in order to be on equal footing with the two other sites in consideration, NASA needs to own the land. Mack L. Wadkins, Executive Director, Tishomingo County Development Foundation, stressed the importance of resolving the land issue in a timely manner since the site selections is expected to be made within the next two to four weeks. Wadkins stated, "I think the meeting was very positive, now we know what we have to do to be competitive, we have a very short time to do it."

Phone Service Available For Low-Income Families In Area

The Mississippi Public Service Commission (PSC) has introduced a new program that will provide reduced telephone installation rates for qualified low-income Mississippians.

"We're delighted that the Mississippi Public Service Commission has finalized the guidelines needed to offer Link-Up Mississippi, a program that will enable more low-income families to afford telephone service," South Central Bell District Manager

Tom Bailey said. "This new program became effective May 11, 1988."

Link-Up Mississippi participants will pay only half of the usual installation charge and will be able to make interest-free installment payments for that amount. Individuals wishing to participate in this plan must meet certain criteria:

They must have lived at an address where there has been no telephone service for at least three months prior to the date that assistance is requested.

They must also have not had telephone service in their names at any address for at least three months prior to their application.

They must receive one of the following: Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), or Food Stamps.

They must not be a dependent for Federal income tax purposes, unless they are over 60 years of age.

Bailey said that individuals wishing to apply for participation in the program should contact a South Central Bell Service representative in the company's business office. The telephone number is listed in the Customer Guide in the front of the telephone directory.

"When an individual calls to inquire about this plan, the service representative will take the information necessary for installation. The representative will then advise the customer that a Validation Form will be mailed to the applicant. The applicant must complete this form, attach a copy of a valid Mississippi Medicaid Eligibility Card or Food Stamp Certification form to it, and mail this information to South Central Bell," Bailey said.

"Customers who are eligible will be called and given a date that their telephone service will be connected; customers who are not eligible will be called and mailed a letter giving the reason they are not eligible for the credit," Bailey added.

"The Link-Up Mississippi program supports the goal of universal telephone service for everyone. We're happy that we can be a part of this effort and look forward to working with this new program," he concluded.

ASCS Assists Drought-Stricken Farmers

Ninety-degree temperatures and lack of rainfall have caused serious problems for farmers in Tishomingo County. The continuous dry spell has damaged more than 30,000 acres of crops.

To help drought-stricken farmers replenish their livestock feed supplies, the Secretary of Agriculture authorized several emergency aid measures. Nationally, these measures include emergency haying and grazing on cropland removed from production by the 1988 acreage reduction programs, special haying on land in the Conservation Reserve Program(CRP), the Emergency Feed Program and the Emergency Feed Assistance Program.

Tishomingo County has been approved for haying of CRP, haying and grazing of ACR and CU acres. Tishomingo County has applied for approval of Emergency Feed Program and Emergency Feed Assistance Program.

Farm program participants may obtain special permission to graze their livestock and harvest hay or forage on Acreage Conservation Reserve (ACR) and conserving use(CU) acres.

Haying will be allowed for a 30-day period on land in the Conservation Reserve Program. Livestock grazing of this acreage is not authorized. Farmers who choose this option will have their next annual rental payment reduced by an amount determined by multiplying the number of acres hayed times 25 percent of the per acre CRP rental payment.

Farm program participants in Tishomingo County who do not have their entire permitted acreage planted because of the drought will now be eligible for deficiency payments on up to 92 percent of the permitted crop acreage, provided they have the eligible ACR and CU acres for the crop. To be eligible for 0/92 disaster payments, producers must timely certify the acres of the crop.

The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) will share with eligible livestock producers, up to 50 percent of the cost of purchasing livestock feed, including hay, if Tishomingo County is approved for Emergency Feed Program. Additionally, if Emergency Feed Assistance Program is approved, eligible livestock farmers will be permitted to purchase feed grains from the CCC at 75 percent of the basic county loan rate.

July 15, Last Day To Report Corn Acres

Tishomingo County farmers who have planted corn and other spring seeded crops still have a few days to report the acreages to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The final reporting date is July 15.

To date, 95 farms are certified and eligible for program benefits. We are still looking for about 600 farmers to report their crop acres to our office.

Farm program participants are required to report crops and acreages planted and the uses to be made of these crops, acreage conservation reserve, and acres diverted for payment. Non-participants should report their crops to establish documentation for future crop acreage bases as well as eligibility for different benefits if they participate in farm programs.

After the acreage reports are filed, ASCS will randomly check farms to verify that the reports are accurate.

To be sure of planted acres, farmers can request measurement service. For a fee, ASCS will measure planted crops before farmers report acreages. The fee covers the cost of the farm visit and acreage determination. The measurements assure farmers that they are in compliance and eligible for full program benefits.

Before program participants can receive the benefits of price support, deficiency payments and other benefits, the entire farm must be certified correctly. Farmers who have not reported their acreages are urged to do so as soon as possible.

shutters closed when the sun is shining directly on windows helps considerably. Blocking the rays before they can pass through the window is much more effective.

A roof overhand or awnings can provide full shade in summer.

Windows facing east and west especially need protection from the sun if they want to minimize summer heating. Don't overlook the potential savings in cooling costs provided by shade trees and other landscape.

Don't Neglect Summer Meals

Relaxing, quiet summer days are often dreamed of, but seldom experienced by homemakers in today's hectic American society. Additional activities during long summer days may cause homemakers to avoid spending long hours preparing good nutritional meals.

Because of the summer heat, we tend to avoid some of the easy one dish or make ahead meals, such as soups, stews, crock-pot dishes and heavy casseroles. We also tire of the same old sandwiches and salads and resort to less nutritious convenience foods or eating out which also puts a bigger dent in the food budget.

Quick and easy, yet nutritious and appetizing meals require some planning. Grocery shopping and meal planning are critical issues in providing good meals. A monthly trip to the grocery store to stock up on items can be a real time and money saver. Reserve one day a month to do most of your grocery shopping and advance preparation. Of course, weekly grocery shopping trips will be needed for perishable items.

Take advantage of long days you will be home by putting a roast, ham, turkey or other large cut of meat on to bake, broil or smoke in the morning. When the meat has finished cooking and cooled enough to handle, slice it, dice it or shred it.

Portion into family size containers and freeze for future use in sandwiches, salads, casseroles and others. For use within the next two days, the meat may be refrigerated plain or made into a salad or sandwich filling.

Combine these cooked meats with a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables and/or pasta for especially good summertime salads and casseroles requiring little preparation.

Buy family packs of ground beef and your family's favorite chicken parts. Make the ground beef into patties and freeze on a cookie sheet until firm. Then package in large freezer bags. Do the same with chicken parts. It's easy enough to take out the number of patties or chicken pieces for the family and put on the grill or into the microwave.

Buy fresh vegetables and fruits weekly and use them raw or try shorter cooking methods. Green beans do not have to be cooked for three hours. Try combining them with other vegetables and some boneless chicken strips (cut from those chicken breast pieces that you froze separately) for a delightful, but easy stir-fry dish. Clean vegetables and fruits before storing in the refrigerator to

Watermelon Pests

There's nothing more refreshing to eat on a hot, summer afternoon than a cold slice of watermelon.

We aren't alone in our fondness for watermelon. Coyotes have been known to invade our Tishomingo County watermelon patches to sample some of that delectable fruit. They use their sharp teeth to crack the hulls and their tongues to lap up pulp and juice.

Our biggest pest problem is not coyotes. Cucumber beetles, both striped and spotted varieties, are attacking our melon plants. The adult beetles feed on plant stems and leaves, endangering the health of the plants.

You may have unsuccessfully tried to control these beetles with sevin or thiodane. Why don't you try pydrin, lannate, nudrin or guthion for better control. Follow label restrictions.

Glaucoma With 20/20 Vision?

Glaucoma is the leading cause of blindness in the U.S. Most often it strikes people after the age of 35 or 40, and with the aging of the population, the prevalence of the disease is going up rapidly. It is estimated that between 1 and 2 million Americans have some degree of glaucoma. This disorder accounts for approximately 11% of all blindness in the U.S.

Glaucoma is often called the "sneak thief of sight" because in its early stages, there are few noticeable symptoms. Many people have early glaucoma without knowing it. By the time they seek medical help, irreversible damage to the eye may have already occurred. So deceptive are the early symptoms that a person with glaucoma may be able to "pass" an eye chart screening with 20/20 vision.

An oversimplified explanation of glaucoma is an increased pressure of the fluid within the eyeball. If the pressure is not reduced, it destroys delicate structures within the eye.

A complete eye examination by your optometrist will include a simple test of the fluid pressure. If the disease is detected early in most cases the glaucoma can be controlled and blindness prevented.

The Segars Clinic Report

Dear Dr. Scott,
I have been having some trouble with my stomach and I believe I may have an ulcer. "Can you discuss this in your column and I'm particularly interested in what I have to do to determine this."

An ulcer is a small or large sore in the lining of the intestine or stomach. The risk of having this condition is increases if you are male, smoke cigarettes, take anti-inflammatory drug (eg. aspirin), drink alcohol, or have relatives with ulcers.

An ulcer may be diagnosed from history alone if you typically have a gnawing discomfort in your middle or upper abdomen which is temporarily relieved by food or liquids, such as antacids and milk that buffer or dilute acid. Stomach x-ray and/or direct visualization through a small tube inserted into the stomach, may be necessary to be sure of the diagnosis.

The hermit crab's home is an empty sea snail shell. When the crab grows too big for the shell, it hunts for a larger one.

My Daddy Whit

Loving, good and kind
Hard-working, strong and true,
Christian, deacon, family man.
He was all of this and more.

Tall, big and huggable,
Kissed by the ladies --
Admired by the men.
He was all of this and more.

Callused hands and sweating brow,
Sun tanned and leathery.
Always busy, doing something.
He was all of this and more.

Need something mended?
Need something done?
He was your man -- could do it all.
He was all of this and more.

Understanding, willing to listen.
Always helping those in need,
Generous to those he loved.
He was all of this and more.

I could go on forever
About My Daddy Whit.
He was all the things I've mentioned.
He was all of this and more.

But most of all he was LOVE.

Club To Meet

The Happy Exalsior Club of the Iuka parish will meet Thursday, July 7, at Mt. Evergreen United Methodist Church at 12:00 noon.

CRP Signup

The seventh Conservation Reserve Program signup will run from July 18 through August 5. The primary objective of CRP is to help landowners and operators of highly erodible cropland conserve and improve the soil and water resources on their farms or ranches. Currently, Tishomingo County has 3,000 acres in CRP.

With proper planning and consideration, the wildlife resources on CRP lands can greatly be improved. The following conservation practices may be used to improve wildlife habitat on CRP lands: 1) CP-1 establishment of permanent introduced grasses and legumes, 2) CP-3 tree planting, 3) CP-4 establishment of permanent wildlife habitat, 4) CP-10 already established grass, 5) CP-11 already established trees, 6) CP-12 establishment of annual wildlife food plots, and 7) CP-13 establishment of vegetative filter strips. Cost-sharing is available for CP-1, CP-3, CP-4, and CP-13.

CRP lands adjacent to suitable range will benefit deer and turkey if planted with vegetation that supplements seasonal nutritional needs. Cool-season grasses and legumes will supplement late fall and winter diets. These grasses and legumes can be included in the seeding mixture (CP-1, CP-4, CP-13). In subsequent years, they can be interseeded by no-till, but seed will not be cost-shared. They also can be planted in annual wildlife food plots (CP-12). Spring, summer, and fall nutritional needs can best be supplemented by planting a mixture of woody plants such as sawtooth oak, crabapple, or autumn olive (CP-3, CP-4).

To improve quail habitat on CRP lands, an adequate supply of food and cover must be established. Fields containing scattered clumps of brushy vegetation (CP-4) with blocks or narrow strips of herbaceous cover (CP-1, CP-10, CP-13) along woodlands, fence rows, streams, or ditch banks provide good quail cover. Food can be supplemented by planting browntop millet, reseeded soybeans, lespedeza (bicolor or kobe), and/or partridge pea (CP-12) in 1/8 to 1/2 acre patches or narrow strips near good cover.

Doves feed on waste crops in agricultural areas. Shrubs and trees (CP-3, CP-4, CP-11) on CRP land adjacent to cropland will provide desirable nesting and roosting habitat. Interseeding winter wheat (CP-4) or planting 3-5 acre plots (CP-12) of winter wheat in the fall and browntop millet in early spring will provide food for doves year-round.

If you are planning on placing highly erodible cropland in CRP during this next signup, why not go "wild" and create a home for wildlife. For further information, contact your local SCS office located at 115 Front Street, Iuka, MS. 38852.

Services of the Soil Conservation Service will be provided regardless of race, color, sex, age, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Personal

Recent visitors of Elam and Gladys Davis and Elaine and Lowell Wynn were Mrs. Peabine Ratliff and daughter, Juanita Campbell and two children, Misty and Larry, all from Albuquerque, N.M. Peabine's brother, Mr. Palmer of Baldwin, MS, came too. We all enjoyed a fish dinner at "The Wharf" at Pickwick. We watched a big boat go through the locks.

Last Thursday, Bro. Del Blackman was dinner guest of the Elam Davis', and saw all of our 50th wedding anniversary gifts. Come back anytime, Bro. Del.

On Friday, July 1st, two of cousin Code Whitfield's daughters, Mable Hall and daughter, Diane Coulter, and Shirley's husband, Jack Hemphill, all of Grenada, MS, visited with Elam and Gladys Davis. Later they went to their brother's, Talmage Whitfield and Mary, for a delicious supper. You folks all hurry back.

Mrs. Opal Thompson cooked a fish dinner with all the trimmings and brought to Elam and Gladys Davis. It sure was good and may God bless you Opal, and all the other dear people who have been so good to us.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Smith of Birmingham, AL, visited with the Davis' July 4th. It's always so good to see you folks.

Mrs. Marie Lynch visited the Davis' Sunday evening, July 3rd.

Pyle - Roser Music Group To Form

Local area vocalist, musicians and songwriters will now have a chance to have their skills and talents viewed as a two-state duo in making plans to form a music group to survey area talent.

Jimmy Pyle (right), owner and operator of Country Fox Sound Studio in Burnsville, MS, along with Savannah, TN, businessman, Larry Roser (left) have combined their music/business insights and are in the process of forming the Pyle-Roser Music Group.

"The purpose of our group will be to publish and promote talent from this local area, stated Roser. He went on to explain that most music publishers and studios turn a deaf ear" to amateur performers and songwriters and to the music groups' main goal will be to earnestly seek out the talented people and get them and/or their work brought to major record labels' attention.

Larry Roser is no stranger to the music business. He began his music career in the files playing in a band in the local Savannah, TN, area. He then spent quite a bit of time in the late Fifties and early Sixties on the Memphis, TN, music scene.

During the past few years, he has been a key producer of gospel and country music, including talent from throughout the Mid-South area.

Jimmy Pyle has grown up surrounded by the music business. His father, Pete Pyle, once a member of the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, TN, stirred his interest and from an early age he began playing in bands and now owns and operates a fully professional 24-track recording studio in Burnsville, MS.

Last year three productions from his studio reached national record charts.

Pyle and Roser's main objective is to help talent from the Mid-South area get recognition. They stated that there is so much talent in this area that goes unrecognized. They hope to find this talent and help in bringing it into public and professional view.

Headquarters for the music group will be Pyle's Country Fox Sound Studio in Burnsville, which is a full production facility with offerings for both the professional and amateur performer at very reasonable rates.

The studio is ideal for every phase of production including record label, publication, 24-track, all pro studio and professional tape duplication all included at this one facility. Its "at ease", down-to-earth atmosphere makes it easy to work in with professional studio musicians and vocalists that can be brought in (including from Nashville, Muscle Shoals, etc. areas) to accompany if there is a call for them.

Those interested in learning more about the Pyle-Roser Music Group may inquire by contacting either Larry Roser at P.O. Box 147, Savannah, TN - phone (901) 925-4829 or Jimmy Pyle at Route 2, Iuka, MS - phone (601) 427-8425.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

My name is Gry. I'm from Andenes, Norway, but since last of August I've been living in Burnsville, Mississippi, and going to high school here as an exchange student. Now it is almost time for me to go home. I would like to thank everyone in Burnsville for giving me the chance to live here and have such a great time.

I'm really going to miss all of my friends and teachers at Burnsville High. They helped me learn about American customs, history, and improved my English a lot! I will never forget the new things we did, like swimming parties, watching football, softball, and basketball games, homecoming, prom, and of course graduation.

This has been a fantastic year for me, mainly because you have been so willing to share things with me, and explain things I didn't understand. Leaving will be very hard.

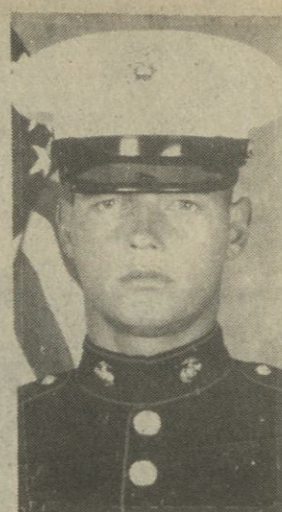

I must thank Milt and Shirley Burton for being so helpful. They are the Area Representatives in the Tishomingo area for Educational Foundation for Foreign Study...the organization that is sponsoring my exchange. Thanks for the activities and the advice Shirley and Milt!

Most importantly, I would like to thank my host family, Bobby and Deborah Johnson, my host sister Lori, and my host brothers Brian and Heath. They have been just great! I feel like a part of their family. I love them very much, so it is going to be very hard to say goodbye. I will always remember my American family.

I hope more exchange students can come to Burnsville next year--it's fantastic! Finally, I just want to say again "THANK YOU, BURNVILLE!!!"

With all my love,
Gry Johansen

Bright sunshine and a hot, humid Mississippi day seemed to fade away as Mrs. Le Isom of Corinth drove with her daughter, Martha Lambert, down the tree-lined road of Tishomingo State Park. Moss-covered rock overhangs, shaded hiking paths, and the sun's rays on the rippling lake water, proved to be an inviting setting as they approached Camp Le Isom Lodge where the "Ison Reunion" was already well under way.

bert. Mrs. Isom drew for the door prizes which were won by Leon Isom and Janice Carson.

Marriages reported for the year were Jimmy Isom and Becky Murry, Dec. 12, 1987; Randy Smith and Jennifer Ray, May 6, 1988; Cerenia Pierce and Terry Lindsey, June 4, 1988; and Stacy Switzer and Randy Jones, Jan. 30, 1988.

There was one high school graduation for 1988 -- Keith Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hughes of Pocahontas, TN

Volleyball was the game of the afternoon and those sitting on the porch soon became involved while others chose to stay in the cool of the lodge. A game of wiffle ball, exploring the area, visiting the museum, and "just talking" made the afternoon a leisurely one.

The hours passed quickly and soon it was time for pictures and then enjoying the feast of favorite foods prepared by each family. The group and guests were welcomed by Martha Lambert, and a special tribute to Mrs. Isom was given by her eldest son, Leon. Paul Isom, her grandson, requested a round of applause for her as a show of love from the family. The family group reporters updated the happenings of the year. The reporters were Frank Isom, Mrs. Will Elmer Isom, Paul Isom, Royce Isom, Gary Smith, Everette Presson, and Martha Lam-

Fourth generation births for the year included Ronald Everett Presson, Jr., born July 2, 1987, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Presson of Covington, TN and David Michael Carlson, born April 6, 1988, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Carlson of San Diego, Ca. There was one first generation addition, Sara Catherine Isom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Isom of Florence, AL.

The youngest great-grandchild present was John Paul Isom, born Feb. 9, 1987, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isom of Normandy, TN. The youngest great-great-grandchild present was Sara Catherine Isom, listed above in the birth group.

Mrs. Danielle Thomas and daughter, Grace Ann, from Birmingham, AL, traveled the farthest to be with the family.

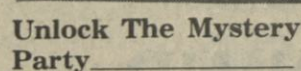

After the news update, Everette Presson, son-in-law of Mrs. Isom, gave the benediction with special mention of Mrs. Isom, her life and her guidance from God. Time for just being together while enjoying the meal was, as always, the grand finale'.

Swiftly the afternoon was over, fond farewells were said as the five-generation group departed. A warm family outing filled with poignant memories closed with the lengthening shadows evening.

Those present were as follows: Mrs. Lillie Isom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Isom, Louis Isom, Mrs. Clyde Isom, Mrs. Will Isom, Mrs. Bill Switzer, Kimberly and Sally Switzer, Carrie Switzer and guest, Beth Downs, and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Jones, all of Corinth, MS; Glen Isom of Jackson, MS; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Isom, Mrs. Billy Smith, Rita Smith and Guest, Gary Silver, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith, Caycee, Curtis and Cayla, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hughes and Keith, Donna Hughes and guest, Thomas Snow and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Smith, all of Pochontas, TN; Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, Howard, Josie and Richard, Mr. and

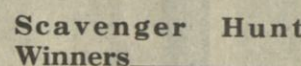

Mrs. Royce Isom, Jay Isom, Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Isom and Sara Catherine, Mrs. Burt Isom, and Mrs. Phil Baker, all of Florence, AL.; Mrs. Danielle Thomas and Grace Ann of Birmingham, AL; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isom and John Paul of Normandy, TN.; Mrs. R.E. celebrated by approximately 55 children who gathered to enjoy a party. The children enjoyed lots of cookies and kool aid that was provided by the 20th Century Club. Prizes and awards were presented to each of the children who participated. A special thanks goes to all the mothers who volunteered their time and energies each week to help the library staff with the reading program. It would be impossible to have an effective program without their assistance.

A scavenger hunt was held in conjunction with the 1988

Summer Reading Program at the Iuka Public Library. Each child was given a list of 18 items to find before the final week of the program. Out of 73 participants 17 of the children found all 18 items. All of the children worked very hard trying to find all o the items. Fifteen of the children found at least 10 of the items and received a small prize.

Extension 4-H Youth Agent

On June 21, Sue Dill and I along with twelve 4-H members and three volunteer leaders, went to Mississippi State University. Yes, it was 4-H State Congress time again.

During the three days of State Congress, 4-H members elect state or district officers, try out for the State 4-H Awareness Team, compete in contests and receive recognition. We had many good efforts made by our 4-H'ers and we should all be proud of a job well done. Following is a list of the 4-H members and the contests they were in:

Keith Broadway of the Busby Bee 4-H Club placed first in the Engineering Visualization Presentation Contest, competed in the Clothing Selection Contest; ran for Northeast District Vice President, made the State 4-H Awareness Team, and the State 4-H All Stars. Nancy South of the Midway 4-H Club made the 4-H All Stars also. She placed 6th in the Personal Development Visualization Presentation Contest and competed in the Clothing Selection Contest.

Cindy Timbes, Tammy Bray, Anthony Bray, Bubba Carpenter, Sonya Magill of the Rainbow Club and Lori Rutledge of the North Crossroads 4-H Club participated as a group in the Share-the-Fun Contest. They received a blue ribbon and were asked to perform at the general assembly. I would like to thank Carolyn and Donnel Timbes for making this possible.

Cindy, Lori, and Tamm also competed in the Meat Judging Contest where they placed fifth. Bridgett Houston of the V.I.Y.P. 4-H Club placed eleventh in the

In conjunction with the Summer Reading Program at the Iuka Public Library a costume contest was held at the Unlock The Mystery Party, on Wednesday, June 29th. Each child who wanted to participate wore his favorite costume. This year's theme "Unlock The Mystery" gave the

Public Speaking Contest. Carol Eaton of the Action 4-H Club placed fourth in the Clothing Construction Contest and was eligible to be in the Fashion Show at the general assembly. Kristi Starkey also of the Action 4-H Club competed in the Share-the-Fun as an individual and also placed in the Clothing Construction Contest to be eligible to participate in the Fashion Show.

All of these 4-H'ers had to qualify through county contests to attend State 4-H Congress. They have worked hard all year and deserve congratulations. If you would like more information on 4-H in Tishomingo County, please call me at 423-3616.

A miracle was certainly performed by the Lord with the birth of beautiful little Rebecca Annette Lee, daughter of Steve and Gay (Leathers) Lee on April 20, 1988. This special little lady weighed 7 lbs. 15 ozs. She is the granddaughter, of John and Opal (Leathers) Kubicky and Mr. and Mrs. Lee, all of Renton, Washington.

The Hayes' Return
To North Alabama

Rev. Sammy and Suzanne Hayes recently moved back to North Alabama. They moved to Huntsville, Alabama, where Sammy was appointed as Associate Minister at Huntsville First United Methodist Church. The couple moved from Roanoke, Alabama, where they served while attending school. Suzanne finished at Auburn University in March, 1988, with a BS in Elementary Education. Sammy finished at Emory University's School of Theology in 1988, with his Master's in Divinity. While in Huntsville, Suzanne plans to pursue her Masters degree in teaching.

Suzanne is the daughter of James and Billie Thornburg. Sammy is the son of Alice Hayes, and the late Hayes of Cherokee. Sam is the grandson of Mrs. Coker of Burnsville.

Economic Growth
For Mississippi

The unemployment rate for the state of Mississippi is the lowest it has been in eight years.

Mississippi's unemployment rate for the month of May was 7.1 percent, down from April's rate of 7.3 percent.

In addition to unemployment being down to its lowest level in eight years, figures indicate that more people were employed in the month of May than ever before, according to Linda Ross Aldy, executive director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

"The total active labor force is 1,151,700, which translates into 92.9 percent of the eligible workforce being employed. This represents the largest number of people ever employed in one single month in Mississippi," Aldy said.

Leading the way with the lowest unemployment figures was Lafayette County, which reported 3.2 percent unemployment.

Reporting highest figures for May, Greene County with 11 percent unemployment.

The unemployment rate for May 1987 was 9.9 percent and since that time, there has been an increase of 1.0 percent in the number of jobs for non-manufacturing positions. The total number of jobs increased 6,500 to a total of 233,400.

It is encouraging to see the growth in Mississippi's economy. There is certainly room for additional growth and hope the expansion will continue but Mississippians must dedicate themselves to the cause of Mississippi's economic expansion.

The average American household watches television seven hours and two minutes a day according to A.C. Nielsen reports.

Tenn-Tom
Today

By: Kathy Luncford
Wildlife Biologist

WILDFLOWERS! Did you know that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is planting wildflowers? Well, we are!

In order to further enhance our non-game management on Corps lands, we are planting many varieties of wildflowers all along the Tenn-Tom Waterway. A vast number of wildflower species are native to the Tenn-Tom and grow abundantly in many areas. However, due to past farming, mowing, and herbiciding practices, in some places many of our native species have disappeared.

The Corps of Engineers has planted wildflower food plots along many of our access roads and park areas. This will provide necessary food and cover for many songbirds, insects, and small reptiles and mammals, as well as provide visitors a chance to observe our greatly varied wildlife.

Many wildlife species utilize wildflowers. Honey bees gather pollen from such flowers as clover, butterfly weed, and blackeyed susan. The ruby throated hummingbird relies almost exclusively on nectar from flowers such as trumpet creeper, bee balm, and cardinal flower.

In the spring, flowers such as partridge pea, sunflowers, and bush clover provide cover and nesting areas for many songbirds, and these same flowers in the fall produce large numbers of seeds for winter feeding. Also in spring, wildflower plots provide a haven for small insects which are a necessary part of an egg-laying female's diet.

Even some species considered to be undesirable to the traditional gardener can be terrific for wildlife. Some examples are coffeeweed, smartweed, and morning glory.

Wildflowers are easy to grow and require almost no maintenance.

Here are a few tips:

Girls, Girls, Girls--Laid back and taking it easy in the company of all these lovely ladies is enough to bring a smile to the face of little Logan Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. "Butch" Lambert of Burnsville. Admiring this little "cool dude" are "older ladies" (from front left to back) Paula Cooper, granddaughter of Clara Cooper; Allison Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Osborn; Vena Rushing, daughter of Charles "Bud" and Judy Rushing and Mindy Belue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Belue; all of Burnsville. The girls love giving special attention to Logan, who is more than happy to share the pool with them during these extraordinarily HOT days of summer.

COTTON, BEAN ACREAGE CUT SHORT BY DROUGHT
By Patti Drapala
MS. Co-Op Extension Service

Mississippi cotton and soybean farmers may not plant as many acres of their crops as predicted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture because of the spring drought.

The USDA estimated that 1.15 million acres of cotton and 2.5 million acres of soybeans would be planted this year. Many areas of the state haven't had rain since mid-April. Soil is so dry that at least half of the soybean crop has yet to be planted.

Some farmers had to cut back on their cotton planting because soil lacked moisture. Cotton plants within the same fields are not coming up at the same time, and the nonuniformity of emergence is causing delays in applying herbicides and pesticides.

Agronomists with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service said a good general rain is desperately needed.

"We're not counting the 1988 cotton crop out yet," said Will McCarty, extension cotton specialist. "We must do everything we can to take the best possible care of the cotton crop we have."

Most of the cotton varieties farmers planted are fast fruiting, and bolls could be set in a timely manner.

If rains don't come by mid-June, soybean farmers will run out of favorable planting time.

"Our growers are getting nervous," said Dr. Nathan McKinney, extension soybean specialist. "The big question I've had all week from them is whether they should trade their Group 5 seed for later maturing varieties."

Soybean farmers still have 10 to 15 days to plant the Group 5 varieties. These varieties, if planted by mid-June, normally perform well.

In county agricultural news, other crops are also suffering from the drought. Early planted corn is dying in some areas, and pasture grasses are turning brown.
