Holiday Fruit Sale Underway

The VICA Club at the Tishomingo County Vocational Center each year sells fruit to raise money for club sponsored activities. These activities are planned so as to develop leadership and employability skills within the club members.

Within the school year, already scheduled events include an all day outing at the Tishomingo State Park, participation in local, district, State, and hopefully national VICA Skill contests, and representatives from local businesses and industries speaking at our local meetings. Other activities are in the planning stages that are both educational and entertaining in nature.

The Tishomingo County Chapter of VICA has a long standing tradition of success in statewide competitions. There have been many district and State winners and several students have participated in the national contests. The club also boasts of two former State VICA Presidents. Club advisors this year are Jack Alexander, Joe Credille and Bob Wim-bish.

We solicit your help in making our club successful. The fruit sales are underway and will continue through Tuesday, November 14, 1989. Fruit to be sold are Hamlin Oranges, Naval Oranges, both white and pink Grapefruit, Tangelos, and Washington apples. The fruit will be packed 4/5 bushels per case and can be bought in either full or half case quantities. If a club member hasn't contacted you and you would like to help the club by buying fruit, you may place your order by calling the Vocational Center at 438-6689 or 438-6675 and asking to speak to one of the VICA advisors. Rocket Bill Passes House & Senate

President Bush's signature is all that is needed for the proposed NASA Advanced Solid Rocket Motor Plant near Iuka to become a reality. The news office was notified Tuesday (Oct. 31) by Steve Burt a spokesperson for Appropriation Committee Chairman Rep. Jamie Whitten of Mississippi, that everything is on schedule concerning the NASA bill. "It has passed both the House and Senate and is ready for the President's signature. The bill should be signed within the next couple of days."

The $90 million bill to start construction of the rocket plant was passed on Wednesday night October 25 by a vote of 250-170 in the U.S. House and passed in the Senate Friday by a 84-6 vote. The next step will be for the bill to go before the President.

The rocket plant's funding was contained in a $67 billion spending bill for the departments of Housing and Urban Development, Veterans Affairs, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and independent agencies.

The final congressional action be the Senate gave NASA $121 million for research and development and $90 million for construction of the facility that will be built and operated under contract to the private partnership of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. and Aerojet General.

Congressman Jamie Whitten led the house to passage of the appropriation bill that will be so beneficial to his district back in Mississippi.

In commenting on the project, Congressman Whitten told House members:

"Certainly it has been decided that it is wise to go ahead with this project in view of the rapid developments which the world is going through. That being true, Yellow Creek is certainly the best location."

Congressman Whitten, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations and a member of the Subcommittee, further said:

The site is recommended by the President, and by NASA. It will save at least a year's time by reason of prior developments, powerlines, roadways, buildings and other facilities.

"I appreciate favorable action on this. The facility is to be located at the best location, identified by NASA and making use of land already owned by the Federal Government, next to the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway - with the Yellow Creek Port already in existence."

The plant, which will build a new generation of motors for NASA's shuttles, will not only be good for the area, but also good for NASA in keeping up with rapid developments throughout the world, Congressman Whitten said.

Congressman Whitten has been working on the effort to locate the plant at Yellow Creek since 1987 when he recommended the site to NASA and the President. At that time, he pointed out that the abandoned nuclear reactor site at Yellow Creek offered a savings of $100 million and a year's time.

Congressman Whitten has represented all of Mississippi on the Appropriations Committee for many years, the last 10 years as Chairman of the Committee, and his efforts have been to include Mississippi in Federal programs that mean so much to the progress of our Nation.

Clarence Lowery Announces For Tishomingo Alderman

Government. Do you believe this was accomplished? And, again, in August of 1989, we sent another majority opinion in the form of a petition to our representatives. Was it honored?

Now, on November 7, 1989, once again, you have the opportunity to select a representative that will acknowledge your wishes and opinions; but, first and foremost-your needs!

If elected as your Alderman, I will be available to any and all citizens to discuss any questions pertaining to any actions taken or the need to introduce motions to obtain services to meet the needs of our citizens. I will pay particular attention to assure that things are done in compliance with legal and ethical guidelines.

I urge you to give the future of our town an honest and thorough review. Then, on November 7, exercise your right to vote. If you will choose me, Clarence "Shorty" Lowery, to represent your views as your Alderman, I will continue to work hard to be worthy of your confidence and your trust. With my interest and dedication coupled with your faith and confidence in my ability, we can achieve many improvements for the Town of Tishomingo.

Sincerely,
Clarence "Shorty" Lowery

TCDF To Sponsor Business Seminar

Because of the many inquiries about starting businesses and industries in this area, the Tishomingo County Development Foundation has asked the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District and the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development to conduct an informative seminar for area citizens on the specific services available for business development through each of these agencies.

Representatives from each of these agencies will be available to work individually with citizens who need special assistance in developing projects.

The seminar will be held on Monday, November 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Old Tishomingo County Courthouse. There will be no fee for this seminar.

In the interest of the citizens and future progress of Tishomingo, I wish to announce my candidacy for the recently vacated position of Alderman in the Town of Tishomingo.

For those of you who may not know me, I am Clarence "Shorty" Lowery. I was born in Kilbuck, Mississippi; 42 years of age; a welder and construction worker; married and have three children. I am a veteran with five years of service (18 months of Vietnam as a medic and infantryman.) I have been a resident of Tishomingo for 13 years and have been an active participant in the growth and development of our town.

I humbly ask for your influence and support in the coming election on November 7, 1989. The trust I place in my ability to serve you will allow me to voice your opinions and needs in City Hall. By confiding in me, I will make it possible for me to make intelligent, legal and ethical decisions which will benefit all of us.

I firmly believe that elected officials should diligently strive to represent each and every person, regardless of how they vote; it is everyone's earned right to be represented. In order for Tishomingo to survive and possibly grow in population and industry, we must first take care of our existing responsibilities. By observing the letter of our municipal law and demanding specifically qualified personnel, we can once again obtain recognition as a thriving, progressing, and productive community.

On June 6, 1989, we, as citizens, sent out a clear message. That message was once again unite City

Ask Ochsner

Q. Last year at this time I was vaccinated for the flu and pneumonia. I don't know whether it was luck or the vaccines, but I didn't get sick at all last winter. How often do I have to update these vaccines?

A. This time of year is the best time to start preparing for the winter months ahead by taking preventive health measures, such as getting the flu and pneumonia vaccines, says Dr. George A. Pankey, head of the infectious diseases department at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans.

Flu shots should be taken every year, but the pneumonia vaccine need only be taken once and will protect against almost all types of pneumococcal pneumonia which exist in this country, Dr. Pankey points out. The pneumonia vaccine, which can be given at the same time as the flu shot, is a recent addition to the preventive disease arsenal.

Flu shots can be given to anyone over the age of three and are especially recommended for those in the over-65 age group in which there is an increased mortality rate due to influenza. Other persons who are urged to take both the flu and the pneumonia vaccines are those with chronic health problems such as heart disease, lung disease, anemia, kidney disease, diabetes mellitus and other chronic metabolic disorders.

Consideration may also be given for persons who provide essential community services or those who may be at increased risk of exposure such as medical care personnel, Dr. Pankey adds.

Immunizations should not be given to those with acute respiratory disease or other active infection and those with a history of allergy to eggs, chicken, chicken feathers or chicken dander. Although Guillain-Barre syndrome (a usually self-limited completely reversible form of ascending paralysis) was recognized in 1976 as a possible complication of the flu vaccine, there has been no increase in the incidence of the disease associated with the flu shots, Dr. Pankey points out.

Side effects of influenza vaccine are generally inconsequential in adults. In children, it may produce fever and other mild symptoms for a day or two. However, each physician will have to make his own decision regarding the vaccination of his patients, he states.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Many of your readers have called me to see what the latest on the "NOTCH" problem. Today I'm mailing a petition to the Congress of the United States. I'd like to urge every member of the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare to sign their petition as soon as possible. Some people do not read their mail and answer as soon as they should. And believe me the letters Congress receives from us do make a difference. A good race horse never gives up so neither should we. Share your letters from our chairman, Mr. Roosevelt, with those who have not joined the NCPSSM. Anybody can write to their Congressman and Senators in their state. Tell them to support legislation under the Sanford/Hefner solution (S. 1212/H.R. 2707) which would resolve this situation in a fair and financially responsible way.

The Sanford/Hefner solution would restore benefits to the generations that fought in World War II. It would cost only about 5% of the $1,379,000,000,000 (one and one-third trillion dollars) expected to be built up in the social security Trust Fund in the 1990's. We may not achieve success in this Congress even though over 200 members of Congress endorsed legislation for "NOTCH" reform in the last Congress over 150 have already done so in this Congress. But one thing is absolutely certain, if we don't stand together and put constant pressure on the Congress and the President to keep Social Security out of the budget debate and to address this outrage, it will never be corrected.

The key to victory is to be united and be persistent. The National Committee is in this fight to win and we are going to stick with it. I hope you will join the battle.

Most retired workers, born after 1916, would receive a lump sum of $1,000 per annual benefit dependent earnings and age retirement. Those hit by the "NOTCH" cuts get benefit income averaging more than 10 months and the lump payment of $1,000 per year of legislation is passed.

NCPSSM members those petitions in and those who are not write to your senators and congressmen.

If you do not know address you may get it from your postmaster.

P.S. Mail in your petition even though you may be financially at this time.

INSIGHT IN EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY

OPTOMETRIST

PROPER LIGHTING

Many people consider proper lighting to be an essential element in preventive eye care. Mothers have been haranguing children for decades, if not centuries, about not reading in poor light. Their intentions are admirable, but the fact is that you cannot harm your eyes by reading or doing any kind of seeing in less than "good" light.

This does not mean you should read in the dark. There is a proper level and location of light for reading that will help you see better and cut down on eyestrain. However, this is a matter of comfort, not medical health. The best light setting for reading is when the light source is located behind you and is directed on the page. In this way, what you are looking at will be brightly lit, but you will not have light glaring off the white page into your eyes. Within reasonable bounds, the brighter the light the better, since it will provide more contrast and make the words easier to read.

Pregnancy and the Teeth

After a woman becomes pregnant, she may be tempted to put off dental appointments until after the baby is born. However, dental care is a part of maintaining optimum health during pregnancy. A dental checkup, along with professional cleaning to remove plaque, is advisable to detect any developing problems with teeth or gums. The earlier such problems are found, the easier they are to treat. Hormonal changes that occur during pregnancy sometimes make the gums swell, redden and bleed. Dental treatment can bring relief.

Ideally, a dental checkup should be scheduled as soon as a woman is past the early discomfort of pregnancy. The dentist and dental assistants should be advised of the pregnancy before any treatment. Some anesthetics, medications and x-rays that are routinely administered should not be used during pregnancy. Knowing that a woman is pregnant, the dentist can employ safe alternatives.

"Good Morning"

This is the day that the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in it. How many will do that? A few will, I am sure, but the most of us will start the day trying to find something to criticize someone about, just anything will do, it don't matter what, but you know that will not hurt you if you don't let it.
There is always someone trying to run your business. I hope they can do a better job than me with what little business I have and can get my account out of the hole at the bank.

I thank Bro. Donald Hudson for giving the benefit singing
Saturday night and everyone who came. I thank Bro. Bobby Davis for letting us use the church at Heborn.

God will bless you and I love everyone of you.

In Memory Of Forrest L. Nunley

In Memory of my papaw Forrest L. Nunley (Bud) who passed away on October 24, 1989. This poem was given his first Great-grandson (Leslie Osborn) when he was 1 day old by his papaw.

"Walk A Little Plainer Daddy"

Walk a little plainer daddy,
Said a boy so frail,
I'm following in your footsteps,
And I don't want to fail.
Sometimes your steps are very plain
Sometimes they are hard to see
So walk a little plainer daddy
For you are leading me.
I know that once you walked
This way many years ago,
And what you did along the way
I'd really like to know
For sometimes when I am tempted
I don't know what to do
So walk a little plainer daddy
For I must follow you
Sometime when I'm grown up
You are like I want to be
Then I will have a little boy
Who will want to follow me
And I would want to lead him right
And help him to be true
So walk a little plainer daddy
For we must follow you.

Rest in peace

The memories we hold dear to our hearts will live forever.

In Memory Of Euil, Paul, Gary & Huey Allred Who went away Nov. 4, 1982

They are just away,
You cannot say, you must not say
That they are dead. They are just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
They have wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair,
It needs must be, since they linger there,
So think of them faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here,
Think of them still as the same, and say,
They are not dead, they are just away.

Iuka Loses In Overtime

Iuka saw a victory slip away overtime in a hard fought game with Saltillo Friday night. Saltillo fumbled in their first possession and the Chiefs took advantage of the mistake driving to the 20 yard line. Iuka settled for a 30 yard field goal by Shaune Holiday at 8:30 to play in the first quarter.

Starting at their own 43 yard line, Saltillo drove for a touchdown. Allan Ezell but the 2 point conversion failed and Iuka trailed 6-3. In the second quarter the Chiefs drove 74 yards in seven plays sparks by Casey Murrah who had runs of 17 and 25 yards and James Hamm scored on a one yard run. Holiday's PAT was good for a 10-6 Iuka lead.

In the third quarter Saltillo picked off a Chiefs pass at the Iuka 28 and scored on a 4 yard Ezell run. Again the 2 point conversion was no good and the score was 12-6. Iuka put together an impressive drive moving 66 yards in 12 plays capped off by a yard by James Hamm. Murrah scored the 2 point conversion on an end around play. This gave the Chiefs an 18-12 lead. Greg McKissick scored on a 32 yard pass with 1:43 to play in the game. The PAT again was no good. Iuka's Brian Bullard intercepted a pass to stop Saltillo as time ran out. The score at the end of regulation time was 18-

In overtime Iuka chose to play defense first as the ball was placed at the 10 yard line and Saltillo had 4 plays to score. On fourth down from the 1 yard line Ezell scored again and this time Robbie Rakestraw booted the PAT for a 25-18 lead.

On Iuka's possession from the 10 Richy Harrelson connected with Murrah for the touchdown. The Chiefs went for the win with a 2 point conversion but it failed and Saltillo won 25-24. Iuka's final regular season game is this week against Baldwin.

Tishomingo Falls To Waterloo

The Bulldogs lost a heartbreaker in the final seconds of the game Friday night to the Waterloo Cougars.

Tishomingo got on the board first on 4 yard run by Shane Hill. The PAT was no good giving the Bulldogs a 6-0 lead. With 10:33 left in the second quarter Cougar quarterback T.J. Wilder ran in from the one yard line. David Staples kicked the PAT giving Waterloo a 7-6 lead. However Tishomingo came back to take the lead when Jeff Daniels connected with Terry Enlow on a 30 yard scoring play. The conversion was no good and the Bulldogs took a 12-7 lead into halftime.

In the second half Hill scored for Tishomingo on an eight yard run and a two point conversion gave the Bulldogs a 20-7 lead.

With eight minutes to play Waterloo scored but the PAT failed and Tishomingo held onto a 20-13 advantage. The bulldogs drove deep into Cougar territory but were unable to score. With seconds remaining in the game Waterloos Wilder passed to Teddy Cavich for 56 yards and a touchdown. Wilder then tossed a three yard pass for a 2 point conversion to Kenny Woods for the winning points. The final score was Waterloo 21 Tishomingo 20.

Cardinals Whip Baldwin

Belmont earned a big win Friday night over the Baldwin Bearcats 20-8.

The Cardinals defense forced Baldwin to turn the ball over on downs giving Belmont good field position. The Cardinals then drove for a score when Bryant Cashion ran into the end zone from 2 yards out and with Michael Martins' PAT they took the lead 7-0. Baldwin was held scoreless in the first half. Late in the second quarter at the Baldwin 13 yard line Donnie Poole snagged a touchdown pass from Shone Wigginton to pad the Cardinal lead. Martin kicked the PAT and the halftime score was 14-0. In the fourth quarter Kerry Moodey scored for Belmont. PAT no good. Baldwin's only touchdown came on a 2 yard run by Orlandas Davis. Grant Gardner then passed to Keith Williams for a 2 point conversion making the score 20-8. The win puts the Cardinals in the playoffs again for the third consecutive year. Next week Belmont finishes the regular season at Booneville.

The Iuka Band Auxiliary would like to thank the merchants and businessmen for their donations and support in making our Halloween Carnival a tremendous success. Thanks to Mr. Evans, the elementary students and staff; the Tishomingo County Fair Association, the Extension Office, Mr. Bruce, and Mrs. Hathorn for all their hard work and assistance.

We feel this years carnival was one of the best ever. So again folks, many thanks.

The Peoples Bank & Trust Company

Grand Opening--The Peoples Bank and Trust Company held its Grand Opening celebration Friday, October 27 on Hwy. 25 North in Iuka. Their Ribbon Cutting for the bank facility and ground breaking for its future building was a tremendous success. Gifts and refreshments were given to well over 1000 people as they took part in the celebration. Several participants carried home nice prizes. Brandy Underwood, an Iuka Elementary

and silver eagle coins were given to Sue McKee, Ruth Rutledge, Beth Helton, Leona Odom, Christy Davis, Heath Robinson and Theresa Cutshall. Miss Mississippi Cherry Busby was on hand to greet locals and sign autographs. Construction of the new building is scheduled to begin in November. Participating in the ground breaking ceremonies left to right are: Heywood Washburn, Director; Corky Springfield, Senior Vice President & Regional Administrator; D.W. McKee, President, Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors; E.C. Neely, III, President and Chief Executive Officer; David Nichols, Mayor of Iuka; John R. Thomas, Vice President and Executive Officer of Iuka Branch; Cherry Busby, Miss Mississippi; John W. Smith, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer; W.T. Dexter, local minister; Dr. Walter Bourland, Director and Leonard Walden, Director.

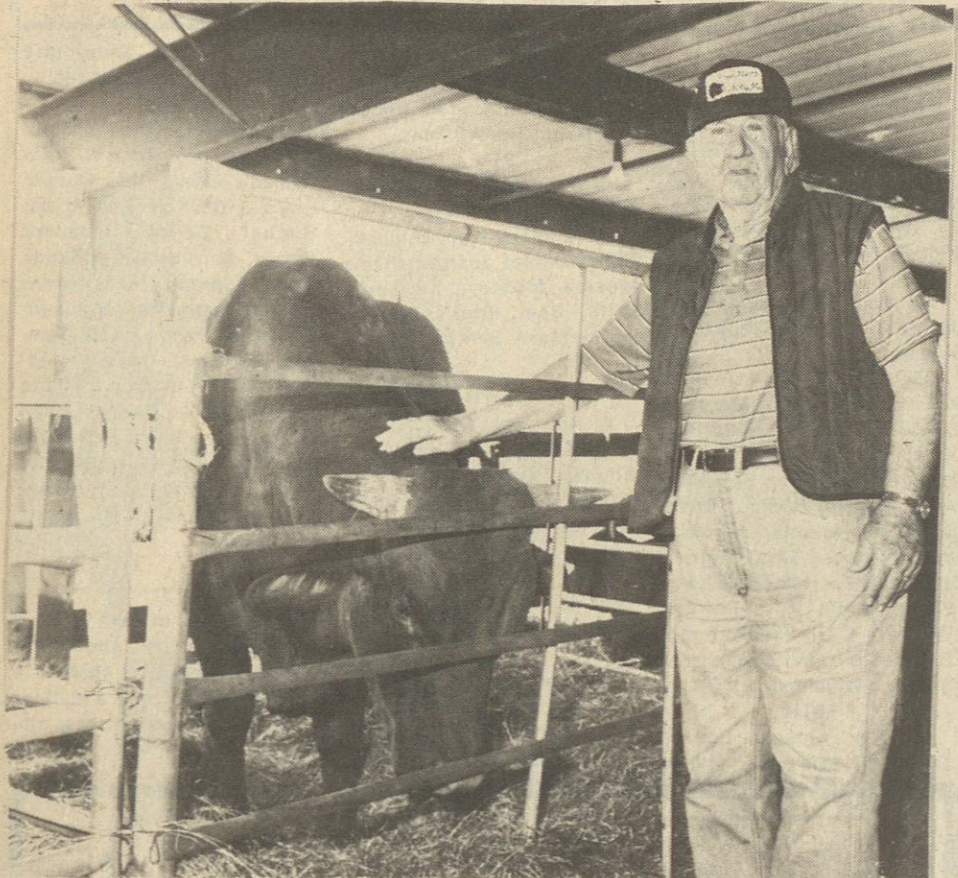

products has climbed 70 percent during the same period. We have been able to satisfy the rising demand and still maintain our forest productivity level because our landowners and foresters are committed to good stewardship of the land. Use of genetically-improved seedlings -- the so-called "supertree" -- and improved methods for controlling nature's predators, such as wildfire, insects and diseases, have helped us conserve more of the forest for a variety of uses -- from products to recreation. That way, modern forest management gives us better use of our forest land. In addition, forest products industries today are using trees and wood far more effectively than was every thought possible. Logging residues, treetops, limbs, and salvageable dead trees that were formerly discarded as waste are now used productively in the modern manufacturing process. Our commercial forest land in Mississippi now totals about 17 million acres. Most of these acres are owned by our 130,000 private, non-industrial landowners. We have come a long way since the "cut-out and get-out" era earlier in this century when logs were dirt cheap and tax laws discouraged tree growing. Today, forestry ranks as the number two industry in terms of value of products at the first processing point. Good forest resource management should continue to provide healthy, productive forests for Mississippi; bolstering our economy while providing an environment that is the envy of many other states. Are you a timberland owner? Can you usesome help with the care of your forested acreage? As your County Forester, I'm ready to lend you a professional hand. give me a call.

Retired Public Employees Met

"A grass roots organization of public employee retirees and city, county, and state employees covered by state retirement is the best safeguard we can have to preserve our trust funds and protect the interests of present and future retirees." H.B. Appleton of Corinth told a packed audience in a four county meeting at the Holiday Inn in Corinth Tuesday (October 24th). "Your membership and activity in the Mississippi Retired Public Employees' Association is needed", he said. Counties represented at the meeting were Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah and Tishomingo. Co-chairmen for Tippah were Roy Harrell and C.H. Elliott of Ripley, L.D. Phifer of Iuka for Tishomingo, and Elmer McCoy of Booneville, though unable to attend, helped publicize the meeting in Prentiss County. John E. Aldridge, President of MRPEA, and Walter Bivins, State Chairman for Organization and Membership were in attendance. Bivins pointing to the passage of the Constitutional Amendment in 1986 which was the proposal of MRPEA to protect trust funds, said: "This was a great victory, and its overwhelming approval by an 85% vote clearly indicates that Mississippians do not want these funds used other than for the benefits of public employee retirees. But, there are other dangers that the amendment does not fully protect. These must be defeated. Also, our association has a program of proposals to benefit our retirees. We need your help in both instances. We have opened our membership rolls as Associate Members to city, county, and state public employees under our Public Employees' Retirement System," Bivins said. Reading from an article in the September 28th Wall Street Journal headlined STATES SEEK TO TAP PENSION FUND POWER, Aldridge said the article states the intent of several states to use state retirement trust funds to prompt social goals such as financing local

FOREST MANAGEMENT PROVIDES HEALTHY, PRODUCTIVE FORESTS In spite of population pressure and the rapid urbanization of the past quarter-century, the growing stock in our nation's forests has grown from about 603 billion cubic feet to about 830 billion cubic feet today. The result is a renewable resource capable of furnishing an important raw material not only for our rising domestic use, but for expanding global demand as well. Mississippi has an important role to play in this expanding wood market. With the application of modern forest management techniques, the productivity of our forests is among the nation and the world's best. Largely as a result of careful resource management in our state and others, the U.S. has built 46 million new housing units and produced 1.7 billion tons of paper and paperboard -- 7.2 tons apiece for every man, woman and child in the country today -- in the past 25 years. Today the use of wood products extends far beyond home construction and paper. Wood flour and melamine resins using cellulose filler are principal components of dinnerware, telephone housing, radio and TV cabinets. Torula yeast, a high-protein product made from wood sugars spent in the pulping process, is used in baby foods, cereals, baked goods, and dietary preparations. Ethyl cellulose is used in products as diverse as sausage casings and photographic film. Rayon, a natural fiber increasingly used in the garment industry, is a forest by-product. Given this rising demand for both the traditional uses of wood and futuristic applications of wood fiber, it's surprising that the nation as a whole is harvesting about the same volume today as it did at the turn of the century. It's all the more surprising since per capita paper consumption has risen 800 percent and the production of lumber and other wood which he is affectionately called, has been showing his family's cattle in the Tishomingo County Fair for about a half a century. This year, 1989 was a typical year of his cattle being judged superior. He entered 30 cows and calves and was awarded 30 blue ribbons -- first place and 4 championships. Fair visitors, many of them, Mr.

Mercer's former students from all over Tishomingo County stopped by to review old friendships. They admired the big bull, a ton-pounder and others down to the two week-old calf. Aiding Mr. Mercer with his cattle was Mr. Jessie Powell, who always takes his vacation from his regular road work and enjoy the exciting fair week.

Local Pilot Members Attend Fall Council

Five members of the luka Pilot Club attended the Fall Council meeting at the Holiday Inn in Corinth on October 20-22, 1989. Attending members were Lady Stone, president; Rilla Wiley, vice president; Olivia Jones, corresponding secretary; and Lana Harrelson, past president-director.

The luka club joined 169 other Pilots and guests in a holiday informative session which featured Dr. James S. Byrne, Dean, School of Education, University of Mississippi, Oxford, MS. Dr. Byrne's workshop provided the theme of the council: "A Vision of Greatness." The council was hosted by the Pilot Clubs of Baldwin;

Booneville; Corinth; and Ripley. Friday night festivities were highlighted by a "hill country" welcome party hosted by the Booneville club. Entertainment for the Saturday night banquet featured the Campus Country Bluegrass Band from Northeast Community College.

A Sunday morning inspirational service was presented by Sondra Davis of Oxford, chaplain of the Mississippi District of Pilot. Special music was provided by Jeanna Carter Crowder of Natchez, MS.

Reports on two special projects for Pilot International for this club year were a St. Jude Update by Lillian Hayward, Grenada, MS., and a Pilot Foundation status report by Johnnie Kelso of Mantachie and Donna Thomas of New Albany. The St. Jude Update reported that a check from Pilot International in the amount of $149,000 was presented to Danny Thomas during the International Convention in Anaheim, Calif. this past July. Pilot International hopes to do at least $100,000 to St. Jude during this club year of 1989-90.

Pilot International Foundation was established in 1976 to provide grants and scholarships to help handicapped persons or for other Pilot projects such as "Project Woman Power" in Peru. Pilot International strives to obtain and provide help for full citizenship for the handicapped.

USDA ANNOUNCES 1990 FEED GRAIN TARGET PRICES, LOAN RATES

The 1990 Feed grain Program contains lower target prices and loan rates than the 1989 program. Target prices for corn, sorghum, barley and oats will be about 3 percent lower and price support loan rates for these crops will be down 5 percent.

A 10 percent acreage reduction requirement is in effect for 1990 corn, grain sorghum and barley and a 5 percent reduction for oats, the same as in 1989.

Feed grain producers who comply with program provisions will be eligible for target prices per bushel at $2.75 for corn, $2.61 for sorghum, $2.36 for barley and $1.45 for oats. Program participants will be eligible for national average price support loans at $1.57 for corn, $1.49 for sorghum, $1.28 for barley, $.81 for oats and $1.33 for rye.

Barley and oats bases will be split for 1990 crop to increase the harvested acreage of oats. Malting barley will not be exempt from acreage limitation requirements set for the barley program.

Except for oats, feed grains will be subject to limited cross compliance provisions. Under cross compliance, the acres planted for harvest on a farm may not exceed the crop acreage bases to be eligible for program benefits. The program does not contain land diversion or marketing loan provisions.

As in 1989, the 1990 Feed Grain Program prohibits the production of nonprogram crops on land idled to meet acreage reduction requirements.

Program participants will not be allowed to upland adjust any crop acreage base with a corresponding downward adjustment in other crop acreage bases on the farm. However, adjustments in crop acreage bases on a farm will be considered when producers need to change cropping practices to carry out conservation compliance requirements on highly erodible land.

Signup for the 1990 Feed Grain Program begins January 16 and ends April 13. For additional program details, farmers may contact the Tishomingo County ASCS office.

SOYBEAN LOAN RATE LOWERED
The loan and purchase rate for Tishomingo County's 1989 soybean crop is $4.56 per bushel, .27 cents per bushel less than the 1988 rate. The 1989 rate is based on the national average loan rate of $4.53 per bushel and applies to soybeans grading U.S. No. 2 or better.

Soybean producers will be eligible for price support loans and purchases. However, soybeans are not eligible for the gain reserve program or for storage payments.

A marketing loan program will not be implemented for the 1989 soybean crop.

Local farmers placed 0 bushels of 1988 crop soybeans under price support loan, which enabled them to obtain operating cash and hold their crops for possibly higher prices later in the year.

U.S. soybean production is forecast at 1.91 billion bushels, 24 percent more than last year. USDA officials say soybean prices have generally fallen from near $8.00 in July to $6.75 per bushel.

Farmers who have questions concerning the 1989 soybean loan rate should contact the local ASCS office.

County Agents Notes

COLD COTTON

Temperatures haven't dipped as low as we've expected in Tishomingo County, but they dropped below freezing for a couple of hours last week.

Such extremes in weather have an impact on green, immature cotton bolls. Any green bolls in the field probably would not have matured, so the impact on yield is minimal. Some bolls approaching maturity that have not cracked will open as temperatures rise again.

Cotton plants that were not defoliated may suffer injury to upper leaves. Leaves injured by freeze will fall off by themselves.

FIRE ANTS

Fire ant activity has increased in Tishomingo County. Fire ants are in the upper part of the mounds this time of year, so they should be easier to control.

Effective control occurs when all homeowners treat their lawns for these pests. Better control means fewer fire ants next spring.

Apply diazinon, dursban, orthene or sevin in soil drenches for control. Homeowners can also use granules of logic, amdro, aflam and diazinon, but these formulations have a slower killing action.

Treat any new mounds that are formed.

NO PRUNING, PLEASE

One of the things home gardeners in Tishomingo County don't want to do at this time of year is prune their trees. Trees and vines pruned in fall have more winter damage than those pruned in late winter.

Wait before pruning healthy vines and trees. The only exception to this rule is diseased or damaged wood. Such wood should be removed as soon as possible.

Gardeners with blueberry bushes or blackberry vines should wait until summer to prune to avoid removing buds.

DUMPING ASHES

Some people dump ashes on their gardens without thinking. Ashes have the same effect on soil as lime.

Gardeners should have a soil test done before dumping ashes. The soil test will reveal the pH of the soil. Careless dumping can adversely affect soil pH, and certain types of plants just won't grow under those soil conditions.

New Dormitory At NEMCC

Northeast Mississippi Community College's Board of Trustees recently awarded a contract of $1,457,536 to Little Brothers Construction Company, Inc., for the construction of a three-story women's dormitory.

Approval of a $1.5 million loan from Farmer's Home Administration for the construction was made in July. According to Northeast President Joe M. Childers, "the new dormitory will be as modern as any in the state of Mississippi with all the amenities a student could ask for."

The 60-unit facility, designed by architect George A. Thomason, will be located on a 2-acre site on College Street at the east end of the campus next to the Baptist Student Union. It will provide housing for 120 women students plus a living unit for one full-time in-residence proctor, as well as an exterior recreational area, meeting room, laundry room, and a recreational and television area equipped with a kitchenette.

Childers said the motelstyle dorm will be constructed much like existing and Yarbber Halls, except the facility will have a pitched roof. Included closed circuit television system for hallways and entrances that can be monitored from the control center, along with intercom system.

"The new dormitory provide us with a total of 368 beds for women students," Childers said. Completion date for the dorm is scheduled for 1990. Construction is completed within 20 consecutive working days. The notice to proceed was issued to the contractor

All the folks in the above picture enjoyed the "Happy Day", at the Loveless and Hart Reunion on Saturday, October 14, 1989, Youth Center, Mineral Springs Park, Iuka, MS.

The fun really began when the Auction started. There was some fast bidding on all the beautiful and useful things, a variety of handmade whatnots, crocheted dolls, pictures, stenciled blouses, drawings and a very nice high bid went on a beautiful hand made quilt by Mrs. Cleetus Loveless Tumlin.

Auction over, all lined up by the "full" tables of all kinds of delicious food. Had the prayer, then everyone filled their plates, and did it ever get quite, so busy "eating."

When everyone had finished eating, the picture taking started, making groups, families, cousins, etc.

The following people from six different states were: Mrs. Evelyn Pace Hardwick and Mrs. Lessell Pace Kennedy, Texas City, Texas; Mr. Sam and Billie Long Yezpe, Mrs. Estelle Long Shortnes, and Mr. Jeff Ruble, Battle Creek, Michigan; Mrs. Cletus Loveless Tumlin and Mrs. Nancy Tumlin Jackson, Aurora, Illinois; Mr. Jeff Long and Mr. Gregg Long, Meridian, MS; Mr. Jules and Ilene Gipson and Mr. Robert and Ruby Hart, Memphis, TN.

Eastport Homemakers Club

The Eastport Homemakers Club meet Monday night, October 9th in the home of Roberta Luttrell for their regular monthly meeting.

In absence of the president Vice President Jimmie Hampton opened the meeting with the thought of the month, "At every moment of our lives we should be trying to find out, not in what we differ with other people, but in what we agree with them."

Roberta read John 14:1-4 and gave a devotional on heaven and how beautiful it will be. Jimmie led in prayer.

Sue Borden gave an educational report on clothing. Before storing seasonal clothing be sure all are clean, wrap sweaters in tissue paper and store in boxes, do not hang on hangers this will cause them to stretch. Clothes are so expensive now days so "Don't Gamble with your Clothes."

Jimmie Hampton gave the program on the Home Health Service in Mississippi.

Home Health is part-time skilled nursing care. A nurse comes to your home to treat you according to your physicians orders.

You can be a candidate for this service if you are sick or disabled, homebound, under the care of physicians or in need of skilled nursing.

To request this service all you have to do is call your county health dept.

Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Sheila Castleberry, licensed counselor from Timber Hills.

She explained the many programs they have at Timber Hills to help people.

Mrs. Castleberry said they were not an Adult Day Care Center, but that the people they have come to the center enjoy working and earning their own money.

They also have a Drug and Alcohol Program. If a person gets 2 DUI's it is a state law that you attend the alcohol program.

There are so many programs that are offered to the citizens in Tishomingo County whether it be Drug, Alcohol, Mental Illness or Abuse, you can find help there.

She invites everyone to come and visit or maybe you or your group would like to do some volunteer work. It was a very interesting and informative talk and everyone enjoyed it very much.

The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments served.

Others present were Lillian Booker, Margaret Smith, Shirley Whited and Jeanette Miner.

The next meeting will be November 13th at the home of Sue Borden with special guest Barbara Sweeny.

A Special Thank You

The Eastport Homemakers Club would like to thank these merchants for their magazine subscriptions for our hospital project: Rushing Drugs, Piggy Wiggly, Nelson's Supermarket, Finch & Finch, Eastport Marina, Iuka Guaranty Bank, Moore's Jewelers, Classique Jewelers, Curtis Drug, Betty's Italian Beef, St. Mary Catholic Church and 1st American National Bank.

KNOW YOUR FEELINGS

Part of knowing who we are is knowing and understanding our feelings. Our feelings are as much a part of us as our elbows and ears. They affect the way we think, the way we act and the way we get along with other people.

Some feelings are fun to have - and some aren't fun at all and we wish they would go away. But both pleasant and unpleasant feelings are a natural part of each of us. Having feelings that feel bad doesn't mean we are bad people. But having unpleasant feelings isn't any fun, and we need to learn ways to get over them as fast as we can.

To learn to work well with our feelings we have to be able to recognize them just as we recognize people that we know. We know some people better than others, and there may be some feelings we know better than others. We need to be able to name our feelings so that we will be better able to help ourselves or to ask for help from parents, friends, teachers, etc.

when we have difficulty with a feeling. Thank about how many names of feelings we use to describe how we feel. For example, there are many stages to feeling "mad" from annoyed to furious. Some feelings are felt at the same time as others, such as anger and hurt.

Take a few moments to think about a time when you felt very happy. Think about the events which led up to this feeling. Now, think about a time when you were very frightened. Think about what happened just before you were frightened and how you reacted to the feeling. Think about times when you were very angry. How did you react to this feeling?

We all have these and many more feelings. We all have our own unique ways of getting through these feelings. All of us don't cry when we get angry or run away when we're frightened. It's important to remember that people react differently to different situations. Some situations that would make some people angry, don't bother others at all. Some things that make one person happy don't make another happy. We are all different and unique in the things that affect our feelings and in the way that we respond to our feelings.

We can't control having a feeling, but we can control how long we stay with that feeling and, more importantly, we can control the way we behave with that feeling. Sometimes the way we behave with certain feelings isn't acceptable and we need to learn a better way of dealing with that feeling. There are two rules for dealing with negative feelings such as anger. The first is you must not hurt yourself and the second is you must not hurt anyone else or any other living thing.

Some of our feelings cause adrenalin to go through our bodies, making our bodies need to do something physical. Fear and anger are two of those feelings. So when we get angry sometimes we have to do something very physical to get rid of that adrenalin before we can deal with the other part of our anger. Remembering our rules, we can't hit anything or anybody, but you could ride your bike, pound your pillow or walk or run very fast around your house.

These are just a few things you can do to deal with times you are angry or insecure in order to move that feeling out of your body. Once you have got the feeling out of your body you will be better able to deal with the person or thing which may have caused the feeling.

Try to concentrate on what gives us the "fun" feelings rather than keeping the bad feelings for a long period of time.

The following came across my desk last week and I thought I would share it with you:

How Parents Enable Youngsters To Use Drugs.

"By not insisting that parties are supervised.

"By not setting limits and enforcing those limits.

"By offering alcohol to their own and other youngsters. This ranges from one glass of wine at dinner to supplying alcohol at a graduation or other party.

"By hosting a party where alcohol or other drugs are being used with the rationalization that "I'd rather have them here drinking, than somewhere else," OR, "I'll take their keys so they can't drive."

"By ignoring the evidence that may be left in the child's room or car, or in a house following a party.

"By leaving youngsters unattended for a week or weekend. (The Chemical People Institute Networking, Winter, 1989).

fish are caught in deeper cooler water. If you cool the water too much, however, this can also stress the fish. To be on the safe side, try not to subject the fish to a temperature change of more than 5 degrees Fahrenheit.

culates and aerates the water in the system. Even in these days of high technology, a spare bailing pail is very useful for refilling the live well if a pump fails. If there is not good aeration or circulation, fish can quickly deplete the oxygen in the water. There also can be a buildup of ammonia, which is toxic to fish. A sure way to cause water quality problems is to try to crowd too many fish in the live well.

One very simple practice that can help relieve the stress response for fish in live wells is to keep the lid closed as much as possible. Don't keep opening it to look at the fish. This may seem like a minor point, but studies have shown that keeping fish in the dark has a calming effect on them. Every time someone opens the lid, it excites the fish. This increases the stress response. A water conditioner can improve the survival of fishes in the live wells. This is especially true in the summer when water is warm and the stress response is highest. Sea salt, rock salt, or table salt will help relieve the stress. Use about 0.3 to 1.0 percent salt (about 0.5 to 1.0 ounces of salt per gallon of water). Lowering the temperature of water in live wells with ice is another way to lessen the stress response. This is especially true if the surface water is warm and

AS WE RIDE the highways this fall, we can observe the beautiful fall foliage; this is also a good time to observe the soil color changes in our sloping cropland. Sometimes the contrast may be pleasing in the eye; for example, the rainbow color as Mother Nature changes seasons. Other contrasts can be pleasing to the eye, but they are rough on crop production. These changes you see in soil color resemble worn blue jeans; they are thin places in the soil. Erosion has moved the top soil, once laden with oryza matter, and left subsoil exposed. Many acres have been cleared for crop production which should have stayed in timber or pasture or hay production. Soils have different physical characteristics and are laying on different slopes. These conditions limit their soils, regardless of physical characteristics, the slope on which they have. Potential erosion uses. Deterioration of the process of erosion prevented or held to a acceptable level if we use those soils we have in the plan for an acceptable land use and treatment needs is a Water Conservation District. Call one of your county commissioners or the Soil Conservation Service office to discuss your use and treatment problem. All programs and services SCS are offered on a discriminatory basis with regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, marital status, or handicap.

Tenn-Tom Today

Today, there are more fishermen than ever before, and they're better equipped and more knowledgeable than their predecessors. Consequently, modern sportsfishermen can have a significant impact on fish populations. As the numbers of fishermen continue to grow, this impact will become even greater in the future. Therefore, the use of catch and release as a tool for fisheries management is very important in the future.

fish and get it back in the water, the better its change for survival. Bass are a perfect fish for catch and release. You can lip-lift them into the boat, get the hook out, and get them back into the water in a matter of seconds. There is no need to squeeze them so they lose little or no mucus. Rough handling results in an increase in the stress response. This in turn leads to an increase in the imbalance of dissolved salts and water in the body fluids. Rough handling also leads to internal injuries and the loss of mucus producing cells. The mucus coating on a fish is its first line of defense against a variety of bacterial and fungal diseases. Although a fish that gets rough treatment may look healthy when it's released, chances are very good it won't survive. Thus, with some of its protective coating removed, the fish is a prime candidate for a variety of diseases.

There are several precautions fishermen can take to reduce the stress effects associated with keeping fish in live wells. The live well should always be in good working condition. All live wells should have two water circulation systems: one that supplies fresh water to the system and one that recir-

The Facts - Mississippi And The Lottery

The first American colony of Jamestown was financed by an English lottery held in 1612. All 13 original colonies used lotteries to finance roads, bridges, schools, and armies. George Washington Alleged the Mountain Road lottery to fund a road over the Allegheny Mountains, and a lottery outfitted the Colonial Army in 1776. Over 300 schools and colleges, including Harvard, Yale, Brown, Dartmouth, and the University of Virginia, benefitted from lotteries before the Civil War. Over 100 foreign lotteries operate from Mexico to France to Japan, Canada, Germany, and Australia.

Thirty-two states and the District of Columbia have authorized lotteries, 19 since 1981. Last year, Americans bought $15 billion worth of lottery tickets, representing $5.3 billion to state programs. While lotteries represent only 7.5% of the legal gaming market, they have experienced a growth rate of 32% a year since 1982, a rate far exceeding any other form of commercial gaming.

Gross revenues produced by lotteries are typically divided 45 to 50% for prizes, approximately 10% for administration, and 5% for commissions to vendors, with 35 to 40% available for the state's use. Based on estimated first-year sales of $157 million, Mississippi could generate as much as $78.5 million for prizes, $15.7 million for administration, and $7.8 million for sales commissions. The state would receive an estimated $55 million for education in the first year of operation.

Lotteries are primarily operated and administered by the states. A commission consisting of designated elected officials and appointed citizens typically monitors lottery operations.

States use lottery revenues for a sundry of items - elementary and secondary education, building and maintaining roads and bridges, revenue sharing for cities and towns, transportation, economic development, environmental projects, and human services programs. Lottery funds should supplement, but not replace current general funds. Mississippi would dedicate its lottery funds toward educational improvements.

A lottery involves selling an opportunity to players to win a prize. Most states offer a variety of games. Instant games allow players to scratch off coated tickets to reveal their prizes. In numbers games, players choose three and four digit numbers for frequent drawings. For lotto the players select a combination of numbers from a field of numbers, for instance six numbers from the numbers 1 through 44. Winning numbers are selected in computerized, random drawings. Players must be 18 years old.

States with lotteries have found it takes from 4 to 12 months to start a lottery after authorization. In all cases, startup costs were repaid from lottery proceeds within the first year, sometimes within weeks. In recent years, all states have begun operation of lotteries with instant games. The instant game is followed by the implementation of an on-line game within 6 to 9 months.

In establishing a lottery Mississippi will create a multi-million dollar industry. As many as 200 direct jobs could be created to operate the lottery, including marketing, operations, finance, personnel, security, data processing, and more.

Based on an initial one ticket outlet per 1,200 people, over 2,167 retail outlets - grocery stores, restaurants, hotels, convenience stores, and others - located across the state could sell lottery tickets. These retail vendors could earn $7.8 million for selling tickets, adding to their business stability and providing boosts to their communities' economies.

The Flag

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform men should remove their headdress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Persons in uniform should remain silent, face the flag, and render the military salute.
