Iuka, Belmont Capture County Tournament

The Iuka Chieftains captured the Tishomingo County basketball tournament for the third consecutive year Saturday night, defeating Belmont by a score of 60-45. Iuka advanced to the finals, defeating host Burnsville, 60-45. Belmont defeated the Burnsville Bulldogs in a preliminary play. After a close first quarter, Iuka ended in a 10-10 tie. The Chieftains scored 16 points in the second period to the Burnsville 15 and carried a 30-point lead into the locker room at the half. Iuka continued to lead during the third quarter before exploding with 15 points in the fourth quarter, contributed by Jeff Garland. Garland also scored several shots, and Belmont was held to 10 points in the quarter.

Garland led Iuka with 17 points, Tony Brown and Ronald Jones had 11 each, Richy Harrelson had 9, and Laron Hargrove and William Hawkins scored 6 each.

Belmont got 12 points from Shone Wigginton, 11 from Jeff Sparks, 8 by Wesley Pardue, and 6 from Bryant Cashlon.

Coach Benny McClung attributed the victory to a good defensive effort in the second half of play.

Iuka was 11 of 15 from the free throw line. Belmont was 5 of 9. The win raises Iuka's record to 10-7.

The Iuka boys also triumphed in the 8-team competition, winning the trophy for their second straight year as they dropped Burnsville in the finals.

Belmont's Lady Cardinals took yet another county tournament, adding the 1989-90 edition to their trophy case with an easy 81-21 win over Burnsville. Top scorers were Michelle George with 17, Miltzi Montgomery with 16, and Amy Moore with 10. The undefeated Cardinals now boast an impressive 15-0 record.

Arrest Made In Series Of Break-ins

One individual has been arrested and two other arrests are pending in connection with six recent robberies in the area, the Tishomingo County Sheriff's office reported this week.

The break-ins have been reported since January 1 and are under investigation by the department.

Jeffery D. Bonds, 25, of Route 4, Iuka, was arrested on January 2 and charged with five counts of burglary and grand larceny, Chief Deputy Mike Higginbottom said. Bonds is still in custody, and bond has been set for his release, but the amount was not known, Higginbottom said.

Monotech of MS was burglarized on January 1, and officers discovered $6,500 in tools and various types of equipment stolen. Four other thefts have been reported at private cabins in the county, some located on Snowdown Road and Coleman Park Road. Television sets and other items were discovered missing by owners of the cabins. In addition, the Yellow Creek Shooting Range was burglarized.

The two additional suspects sought in the burglaries may possibly be involved in similar break-ins in Hardin County, Tennessee, Higginbottom said. His department has been conducting an investigation with the sheriff of that county to try to solve the cases.

Deadlines Due For Petitions

Petitions requesting an election upon the merger of the Tishomingo County School District need to be turned in to the office of the Superintendent of Education on Friday, January 12 during regular business hours 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. or on Saturday, January 13 between the hours of 4-5 p.m.

The Superintendent's Administrative Office at 507 West Quitman Street, Iuka, MS will be open Saturday, January 13, 1990 from 8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

State Superintendent Answers Questions On School Consolidation

By CINDY BLAIR

Acting State Superintendent of Education Dr. Tom Saterfiel told a group of educators Monday night to put the children first in considering the consolidation issue.

"This is a critical opportunity and one that will affect history. Be serious about it. Share ideas and facts with others, and do what you want to do," he said.

The meeting was hosted by the Iuka school system and Tishomingo County school system as a forum for questions held by both the city and county teaching staffs. The Tishomingo County Development Foundation and Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) assisted in the arrangements for Dr. Saterfiel's visit.

"When you make these decisions and set up a school system, you are locked in for 20 to 25 years," he said.

Consolidation is nothing except a different way to spend money, Saterfiel explained. It is a way to increase services. You can either hire additional people and use the existing facility, or pay for a new facility and employ the same people. The money figure comes out the same, he said. And, it costs money any way you look at it.

In response to a question concerning the presence of politics in the consolidation effort, Saterfiel informed the group that you cannot remove politics from the issue.

"People do politics for a living," he said.

The danger in politics arises when you inject personalities and people into the middle of politics. A community can be split wide open if personalities become involved, whether consolidation takes place or not. Saterfiel urged teachers to guard against this danger, explaining that bitterness and anger are hard to heal.

"What the children of Tishomingo County will have 20 years from now should be the focus of discussion," he added.

A large group of teachers partially filled the Iuka High School Auditorium. Questions were written down on cards, passed to the front, read aloud and answered by Saterfiel.

To show support for consolidation, Saterfiel said it was necessary for the teachers to talk about it and the benefits that would be forthcoming.

"If you stay silent about something in Mississippi, it is assumed that you are negative about the issue," he laughed.

Consolidation of schools is being carried out in other counties, not just in this area, he said. Nine high schools in Mississippi were closed during the past school year, and more are in the process. The effort here is not unique to NASA or economic development. What counts is what the students deserve and the long-term opportunities made available to them.

Saterfiel explained why the state Board of Education supports the appointment of superintendents of education. If the official is to be elected from a county, he must be a resident of the community, have experience, and be qualified and willing to run. This poses some limitations, whereas an appointed superintendent could be sought on a wider basis and might possess higher qualifications. Another advantage is proven by the fact that in school districts having appointed superintendents, the students consistently achieve higher scores on the ACT. At the present, 70 percent of superintendents in Mississippi and 90 percent in the U.S. are appointed, Saterfiel said.

Several questions were addressed to job stability or security for the current staffs if consolidation is begun.

Saterfiel assured the group that consolidation would be a growth situation. In a larger school you open up opportunities for teachers, not reduce them, he explained. An individual may be assigned to teach more courses, perhaps, or to do more things on a broader scope.

The hiring and firing procedures should be no different than they are now. In previous consolidations in which he has been involved, a teacher's contract in the old school district was still valid in the newly organized district.

There would probably not be many instances in which there was a surplus of teachers certified in the same area, Saterfiel said.

An avenue for the school board to pursue might be cross-training for some educators, where they go back to school in another field. Local school districts should bear the costs of further education, he said.

The proposed renovation of the present high school at Belmont was brought up in several questions.

Saterfiel emphasized that the promised $1 million in funds would be spent on the building. While it would be impossible for the Belmont school to offer the same as the Magnet school, there would be upgrading of Belmont's curriculum and equipment, Saterfiel said. One new feature might be a distance learning satellite, which could offer a broad spectrum of courses.

Because the proposal mandates that both city and county schools consolidate, if either votes the issue down, there is no alternative and no option, Saterfiel stated. Impact funds would not likely be offered again under a different proposal. He quoted Governor Mabus who stated at a press conference in Iuka that if the proposal was not supported locally, the impact money would not be forthcoming and officials would go back to the drawing board.

One question read, "if NASA dissolves, what happens to the Magnetschool?" The building will remain, of course, Saterfiel responded. The DECD is offering to build and equip the building, debt-free, for the citizens here, he said.

"You'll decide how to run it. If you take this opportunity, you'll have a shot at it. Whether it works depends on you."

Consolidation is likely to occur in the future, Saterfiel stated, if it is rejected now. The state needs to start spending money wisely. For this reason, the idea of consolidation has been discussed on other levels, such as for community colleges, judges' districts, supervisors' district, and even counties.

Gary L. Taylor, Vocational Director

Mack Loyd Wadkins, director of the Tishomingo County Development Foundation, congratulates J.P. Wilemon, executive vice-president of First American National Bank, for the bank's recent recognition as being in the top 9 percent of all banks in the United States.

First American National Bank Receives Recognition

First American National Bank, with headquarters in Iuka and offices in every town in the County, has received national recognition as one of America's safest banks.

Many stringent requirements have to be met before a bank can reach this high level of outstanding performance and recognition. Measurements of liquidity, quality of assets, and many management and performance requirements are analyzed. First American National Bank is recognized as being in the top 9% of all banks in the United States when compared to other banks. There are over 13,000 banks in the United States and First American is in the top 1,200 in performance.

Officials and directors of the Bank are very pleased with the recognition that designates them in this category.

Officials state that this is especially meaningful when one considers the mess that the savings and loan industry is in, and that many banks fail each year because of poor management.

TEN ACTION STEPS TO BUILD SELF-ESTEEM

1. Always greet the people you meet with a smile. When introducing yourself in any new association take the initiative to volunteer your own name first, clearly, and always extend your hand first, looking the person in the eyes when you speak.
2. In your telephone communications at work or at home, answer the telephone pleasantly.
3. When driving your automobile, listen to inspirational radio or cassette tape programs. Automobiles are the best rolling universities in the world. Listen to self-development programs of an educational nature.
4. Invest in your own knowledge. Enroll in an extension or seminar class in some aspect of personal or professional development. Make the bookstores and fitness centers your new haunts for "happy hour".
5. Always say "Thank You," when you are paid any compliment, by any one, for any reason. Neither play down, nor try to play up value that is bestowed. The ability to accept is the universal mark of an individual with solid self-esteem.
6. Don't brag! People who trumpet their exploits and shout for services are actually calling for help. The showboats, braggarts, and blowhairs are desperate for attention.
7. Don't tell your problems to people, unless they're directly involved with the situations. Don't make excuses.

8. When you make a mistake or get ridiculed or rejected, look at mistakes as learning experiences, and ridicule as ignorance. After a rejection, take a look at your BAG - Blessings, Accomplishments, and Goals. Look at rejection as part of one performance, not as a turndown of the performer.

9. Spend this Saturday doing something you really want to do. I don't mean next month. THIS Saturday. Enjoy being alive and being able to do it. You deserve it. There will never be another you. THIS Saturday WILL BE SPENT. Why not spend at least one day a week on YOU! (This Saturday or choose your day this week.)

QUESTIONS ABOUT YOUR SELF-ESTEEM

1. Do you accept yourself just as you are? Would you say that you love yourself?
2. Would you rather be somebody else? If so, why?
3. How do you handle criticism? Do you take it personally or do you seek to learn from criticism?
4. Do you feel guilty when you indulge in some selfish activity?
5. How comfortable are you when others praise or compliment you?
6. Do you talk to yourself with all due respect or with ridicule?

At the beginning of this New Year is a good time to work on our self-esteem. The ten action steps to build self-esteem, which are listed above, are excellent suggestions for building our self-esteem.

VEGETABLE BEEF SOUP

- 1 lb. lean ground beef
- 1 large potato, peeled & chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (16 oz.) whole tomatoes, undrained
- 1/8 t. pepper
- 2 medium carrots, chopped
- 1 c. chopped celery
- 1 c. chopped rutabaga
- 1/4 c. water
- 1/2 t. instant beef bouillon
- 1 t. salt
- 3 c. water

Crumble ground beef into 3-quart microwave-safe casserole. Microwave on high, uncovered for 4 1/2 to 5 minutes or until no longer pink, stirring once. Stir to break meat into small pieces; drain. Add carrots, potato, celery, rutabaga, garlic and 1/4 cup water. Cover with casserole lid. Microwave on high for 12 to 15 minutes or until vegetables are just about tender, stirring once. Add tomatoes (cut into small pieces), bouillon, salt, pepper and 3 cups of water. Cover. Microwave on high for 12 to 15 minutes or until heated through and flavors are blended, stirring once. Yield: about 10 servings, 145 calories each.

Tips: About 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder can be substituted for fresh garlic.

Area English Teachers Attend Workshop

English Teachers from Tishomingo County attending the annual workshop for secondary English teachers held recently at Northeast

Mississippi Community College are (l-r): Rene Fowler, Burnsville High School; Northeast instructor Emory Jones of Iuka; Jackie Dill and Joan Wright, both of Belmont; Sheila Bates and stituted for fresh garlic. Leftover cooked beef roast can be substituted for ground beef. Cube about three cups and add with tomatoes in step 4. Omit steps 1 and 2.

About 3 cups chopped fresh tomato can be substituted for canned.

4-H Communicates

By: Mary Cox, Extension 4-H Youth Agent

Congratulations are in order for four Tishomingo County 4-H Clubs. Each of these clubs submitted proposals for community service projects and received grants from $75 to $150 for their efforts. There is a total of $400 coming into the county through these grants. The grants are awarded through the 4-H Community Pride program sponsored by Chevron, USA.

The Rainbow 4-H Club in Burnsville has over several years, built and maintained the Rainbow Park. Each year the club has made additions to the park beginning with restroom facilities and picnic tables built under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Richardson. Next was the exercise walk installed while Carolyn Timbes and Horace Richardson were the leaders. This year's project includes plans for building playground equipment. Donna Burns is leading the club in this project. In addition to making improvements at the park, the 4-H Club members are responsible for the yearly maintenance of the park.

The Mingo 4-H Club is new to the 4-H Community Pride grant program. This year the club, under the leadership of Randy and Debra Lucius, has proposed to adopt a section of Bear Creek for one year. They will study sources of pollution and animal counts. 4-H members will learn how to conduct bacterial studies, how to identify animal tracks and how to keep our waterways clean. The club will use the data collected to conduct educational programs in the local schools.

The North Crossroads 4-H Club, under the leadership of Sandy Rutledge and Margaret Taylor, has helped their Community Volunteer Fire Department for many years. The club has helped to raise money for five hydrants, heating in the Community Fire Station and to provide tables and chairs for use by the community groups. The most recent improvements the club helped with is landscaping at the building. For 1990 the club plans to place benches along the new exercise walk, provide a picnic area and a playground for local citizens.

The Helping Hands 4-H Club began an on-going community project at the Burnsville School under the leadership of Jean Wilkins. The club began work on a landscaping plan for the school. Club members helped to build a planter in front of the school and has maintained the planter throughout the year. Each member is assigned a month to be responsible for weeding and watering the plants and for reporting any needs of the plants. During 1990 the club plans to expand their project to include landscaping along the fence constructed by the Parent-Teacher League. They will be adding more planters as well as flowers and shrubs to the landscape. It is their hope that these improvements will create community pride in their school.

These clubs represent about 90 4-H members altogether. These 4-H members are committed to building pride in their communities through these service projects. If you would like to know more about these projects or the 4-H Community Pride Program call the Cooperative Extension Office at 423-3616.

Dianne Harris, both of Iuka. Sponsored and conducted by Northeast's Division of Languages, the workshop covered such topics as "Strategies for Collaboration in the Classroom", "Response-Based Approaches to Teaching of Literature for Modern Language", and "Reading Writing and Thinking".

Bad-Breath Signals

Q. What brings on the kind of bad breath that doesn't go away?

A. Bad breath can be a symptom of a variety of disorders. Very often it is caused by periodontal disease or advanced tooth decay, or both.

Periodontal disease, in its first phase, produces inflamed gums. That is called gingivitis. If the condition is allowed to worsen, the jawbone becomes involved. Periodontal disease can result in the loss of teeth as affected gums recede and the bone supporting the teeth erodes.

Persistent bad breath is a signal that should not be ignored. If examination by the dentist reveals periodontal disease or advanced tooth decay, treatment of the underlying cause is in order -- not just to eliminate bad breath, but to save teeth and heal affected gums.

Four Medicines For Peptic Ulcers

An ulcer is an open sore or eroded area on the surface of any organ or tissue. Ulcers that form on the walls of the digestive tract (esophagus, stomach, or small intestine) are commonly referred to as "peptic ulcers." Peptic ulcers are thought to occur as a result of the secretion of excessive as hydrochloric acid and pepsinogen.

Antacids are the most commonly used medicines for peptic ulcer relief. Because of the possibility of interactions with other medicines, antacids should be taken two to three hours after taking certain medicines such as tetracycline, theophylline, digoxin, and cimetidine.

Special antihistamines which are referred to as H2 antagonists reduce the amount of digestive juice secreted into the gastrointestinal tract. The H2 antagonists include cimetidine and ranitidine.

Coating agents such as sucralfate bind tissue in the gastrointestinal tract, insulating ulcers from the corrosive action of acid.

Anticholinergic agents such as propantheline block the action of acetylcholine, thereby decreasing hydrochloric acid production.

SUNGLASSES - GOOD AND BAD

If you have sunglasses and think you are protected from the harmful rays of the sun, you may have to think again. For one thing, there is no way for you to tell either by the color or the darkness whether they actually filter out these rays. The color of the lens is not what count. Absorption of harmful rays depends on the chemical ingredient added to the glass to produce the color.

What's worse is that dark, ineffective sunglasses reduce visible glare (nature's warning signal), and may be more harmful than wearing none at all. Cheap sunglasses are often optically full of distortions, aberrations, and end up having more consequences. In addition, no plastic can (by the nature of the material) filter out red radiation.

For quality, professional sunglasses you must go to a professional solidation was the first dramatic step we encountered in our fight for economic freedom. Let people remember that we made school consolidation work to our advantage, because of our decisions our county grew to become a power to be recognized, and that Tishomingo County is a place where WHAT you know, rather than who you know, makes all the difference.

20th Century Club Christmas Party

On December 19, 1989, at 6:30 P.M. club members arrived at the beautifully decorated party house of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Daugherty, laden with food and a Christmas gift for their secret pal, whom they had helped to make life a little happier during 1989.

The gifts looked beautiful under the Christmas tree as well as the tables with the Christmas mats and candles.

The menu consisted of baked ham with all the trimmings and spiced tea or coke.

After Myra Rainey gave the invocation, each person served themselves from the buffet table and were seated at a long table, so we could socialize as we ate. After the delicious meal Freda Sanderson played Santa Claus, each member satisfied their curiosity by guessing who their secret pal was and then opening their gift to see for sure who had been so thoughtful during 1989, before the next was handed out.

After Santa, Nancy Beard tested our knowledge by giving us a quiz on 25 Christmas Carols. Joy Kitchens was the lucky winner.

Everyone truly enjoyed sharing all the joys of the Christmas Season. As the evening drew to a close everyone left the party in a happy holiday spirit and a feeling of thankfulness for another year of constructive work in our club.

As we bid farewell to 1989 our hearts were filled with joy and thankfulness for all the blessings during the year and pray that as we begin a new decade, 1990 will bring PEACE, JOY and HAPPINESS to each and everyone.

"Ham" Display At Library

During the month of January the Iuka Public Library is featuring a display of Amateur Radio equipment and related items furnished by Bill Stahl. All amateur radio operators (known as "hams") are licensed by their respective government agencies to operate on limited assigned radio frequencies, and each operator has his individual "call" sign. Hams communicate world-wide primarily by two methods: voice and Morse code, and verify their contacts by exchanging "QSO" cards.

Amateur radio enthusiasts include men and women of all ages and even physical limitations do not prevent them from enjoying their hobby. Ham operators use their radio equipment mainly for pleasure, but many perform a public service for their communities during times of disaster. Often times it is only through the dedication of local operators that families can advise of their survival to other distant family members and friends.

There are approximately 35 licensed hams in Tishomingo County at this time. All hams, and other interested individuals, are invited to attend a meeting at the Iuka Public Library January 16 at 7:00 p.m.

Another Use For Christmas Trees

Fish, like all animals, need cover. Artificial shelters, made from Christmas trees, can be installed in existing ponds. For most ponds, 2-3 Christmas trees tied together should be sufficient. In ponds less than one acre, one brush shelter is sufficient. Larger ponds need one shelter per 2-3 acres. Select shelter sites carefully. Water 5-10 feet deep off points, near creek channels or dropoffs are good locations. Place 2-3 bundles at each location. Green trees will usually sink without weights. If not, weight the trees down with concrete blocks to keep them in place. Fish will immediately use the shelter. To locate the shelter site for fishing, drive a stake on the shore near the site. Fishing is required to keep a pond healthy. These fish attractors will help increase the harvest of your pond. We need to conserve our resources, and by converting Christmas trees to fish shelters we will help to slow down the filling up of our landfills. So, please make an artificial fish shelter and "recycle" some of our natural resources. Assistance and Programs of the United States Department of Agriculture are available without regard to race, color, sex, national origin, marital status, age, religion, or handicap.

Letter To The Editor

Tishomingo County

While following the opinions expressed in this year about school consolidation, I can now understand the principles of change and its influence on people. Those who have realized change in a social way in one of three ways. The way is flight. This is like heading a dentist appointment and not showing up, before accomplishing anything. The second alternative is to fight change. The third practice is to accept its inevitability and seek a viable compromise. Experience the last choice to be the most beneficial way to deal with change.

Think about events in your life that produced changes, such as: marriage, having children, and changing jobs. What solutions worked best? You probably decided what was not important, made decisions knowing you did not have all the answers, and looked on the route that had the most probable change of success. You encountered doubt and insecurity, but you adjusted and actually matured by facing the challenge. It is this procedure that we in Tishomingo County will have to follow to effectively adjust and mature. We must react to transformation as a challenge, rather than as a threat.

The NASA decade will bring an increased population and no major population growth leaves an area unaffected. When one social institution changes, (social institutions include: family, religion, government, business, education, etc.) modifications must be made in all others. Every family member, religious organization, policy maker, employer, employee, and educator will have to work harder, learn more, and open his heart and mind to new ideas or simply fail to move forward.

We can no longer assume our superiority as a defense against our inadequacies. We cannot let our frustrations with the Waterway/Nuclear Plant Era make it more difficult for us to accept the compromises that will lead to better days. We must guarantee we will have the abilities to meet the demands that will be made of us. We should begin immediately by providing ourselves and our children an education free from bias, half truths, and propaganda.

Our educational system is not superior. If you have attended schools in other states, as I have, you know this to be true. We cannot improve our schools to the extent that the promised funds will allow. We have always had dedicated people in education and they could not do it. We cannot chance our children's future to the hopes of one man and his minority followers, when the state is publicly offering it's help, with millions to back it's promise. The only reason the Iuka district is not being abolished is because it was created by an act of legislature, and it would be a waste of money and energy to abolish it when the end results will be the same. We will all have equal representation in the new school district. Because consolidation's opponents doubt that the elected officials will make the right decisions on their behalf, they already have a failed system and electing a county superintendent would only complicate the problem. An appointed superintendent would answer to a board representing a majority of our people, rather than make decisions based on a minority as our current superintendent has done. We want the most qualified person for the job, no matter where he originally came from.

Perhaps my two children will be within the Belmont transportation area. This is not a problem because the school will be better than any that now exists in this county. To suggest that anyone other than the taxpayers will own the school is offending to all of our intellect. It is also an insult to insinuate that our high schools will be improved at the expense of our elementary schools. I have a fifty page report on grants awarded, by the federal government in 1989, to innovative programs in education. Solutions to problems, as well as opportunities to improve, can be found if we work hard enough to find

With the Magnet school's facilities, many more adults will be able to obtain better employment to enable them to send their kids to college. Beyond Vocational classes and basic Freshman college courses, little is available within driving distance of a person who must work forty hours a week and who has family obligations. If a child has superior capabilities he will be able to pursue that higher education without suffering the boredom and frustration that could cause limits to be set on his future success. Innovative community programs to help us live and work better, will finally be available to us. There are foundations that give money to community based schools, such as ours will be, to insure the progress of humanity. There are those who will want to help us understand and create a better way of life, not as a form of charity, but as a way to accomplish new goals and be part of a successful venture.

We cannot continue to waste our time on the suspicion and uncertainty that the future will bring. Instead we should take up the challenge that the state has put before us. Throughout my life, I have heard of how Jackson has ignored Northeast Mississippi. Forget the reason we now have their attention, but think instead of what we can accomplish, now that we have our chance. The greatest thing we can do for Tishomingo County and Mississippi is to make education available to people of all ages and on all levels.

Tishomingo Countians, we must begin today to accept that there is much to do and learn to be able to successfully cope with NASA's impact on our future. Rejection of consolidation would be a denial that change is coming. We have been challenged to excel and many are excited to begin. Are you ready to spend your energies on solutions rather than rehashing the same old problems? Let it be remembered that school con-

To My Only Daughter

Well, the grapes all grow in clusters, and the trees grow up and tall,
Of all the daughters in this Nation,
you're the sweetest of them all.
Although you came in dead of winter,
when the snow lay on the ground,
All the fields and woods were covered,
when God sent his angel down.
On that night the stars were shining, and my heart was thrilled I'd say
For our blessed Lord and Master, sent you here to cheer my way.
I know sometime the cross gets heavy,
but then we must travel on.
Just remember how our Master, was compelled to bear his own.
I pray the Lord looks down from heaven,
and on your pathway gently smiles.
For you are my only daughter,
and I know you are his child.
Soon the flowers will start blooming,
and the birds begin to sing.
For it is the course of nature, and the sign of coming Spring.
I think your life has really sparkled,
like the sunshine on the dew.
And I thank the God of Heaven,
for a daughter just like you.

County Agents Notes

VEGGIES CAN'T SWIM

Did your tomatoes and other vegetables drown because of the rain we had in Tishomingo County this spring and summer?

Many thriving tomato plants located in low, waterlogged heavy soil suddenly wilted and died. If this experience happened to you, consider relocating your vegetable garden to a better-drained area or converting the garden to a raised bed.

Begin your garden preparation this winter with a soil test. If the test recommends the addition of lime, turn the soil to mix the lime.

BETTER GRAZING

Livestock producers in Tishomingo County who use all available grazing alternatives will see their need for stored feed greatly reduced this winter.

Producers should allow their animals to graze frosted grass from pastures and hay fields. The quality of frosted grass drops as winter progresses, so animals should graze frosted grass before moving on to cool season forages.

Cattle should not graze frosted grain sorghum or frosted johnsongrass, sudangrass or sorghumsudan hybrids. Cyanide gas is produced when these grasses frost over. Such gas will kill livestock within hours.

Livestock can also graze crop residues from soybeans and other food crops. Producers who use these grazing alternatives will have a better chance of establishing good winter pastures for their livestock.

SAVE TIME, MONEY

There's a way to save on next year's fertilizer bill without spending an arm or leg, or hurting yields. Use a soil test.

You may have built up soil fertility to a high level by applying fertilizer in past years. If so, you may be able to cut back fertilizer next year without reducing yields.

The only way you can know for sure is by having your soil tested. Call the Tishomingo County Extension Office for more information.

TREE PLANTING

It's almost time to make plans for tree-planting season.

At this point in time, you should have secured a supply of seedlings from a commercial, private and industry nursery. You also should have contacted a professional vendor to plant the seedlings, documenting planting date, time and price in a contract.

Any landowner who wants to grow timber should locate a vendor and establish a firm, written agreement well in advance of the tree-planting date. The closer landowners get to planting season the lesser the chance they have of finding a vendor who isn't booked up.

The bottom line is this: you'll never get a return on your timber if your trees aren't planted. And if you don't have the seedlings to plant you won't plant.

NEMCC To Offer Investment Course

"Investments for the Individual", an 8-session mini-course on basic investment knowledge, will be offered at Northeast Mississippi Community College beginning Tuesday, January 23.

Bill Campbell of Edward D. Jones and Company will be the instructor.

Topics will include stocks; bonds; mutual funds; tax free, tax deferred and tax advantaged investments; life insurance, retirement/pension plans; and basic financial planning. Emphasis will be on conservative investment philosophy.

A registration fee of $35 includes all materials and a textbook. The course will meet on eight consecutive Tuesday evenings at 6:30 p.m. in the Wright Hall Adult Learning Center on the Booneville campus.

For additional information or to preregister phone Northeast's Office of Continuing Education at 728-7751, extension 317.

Cut Down On Calories By Following These Simple Guidelines

Your food buying skills can be your greatest aid in getting rid of extra pounds you may have added during the holidays. Don't panic and resort to fad diets for instant weight loss. When you start to eat again you'll gain back what you lost.

Choose a well balanced diet that supplies basic food needs and pick the foods you buy to fit the diet. In addition to calories, food should provide vitamins, minerals and protein. Keep a cautious eye on sweets that contribute mostly calories.

Sensible shopping can help you to cut calories and food cost since many of the high calorie foods are also the more expensive ones.

If you want to control your weight follow these guidelines:

Cut down on high-fat foods such as margarine, butter, highly marbled or fatty meats and fried foods. Salad dressings, cream sauces, gravies and many whipped dessert toppings are also high in fat.

Cut down on sugary foods, such as candies, soft drinks and other sugar-sweetened beverages, such as ades and punches. Also high in calories are jellies, jams, syrups, honey, fruit canned in heavy syrup, pies, cakes and pastries.

Cut down on or eliminate alcoholic drinks.

Cut down on portion sizes. Portions of some foods, such as meats, are hard to estimate. For example, a 3-ounce serving of cooked lean meat without bone is equivalent to a 3 by 5/8 inch hamburger patty. What is your usual portion size?

Use whole milk or whole milk products (mostly cheese and ice cream) sparingly. Lowfat and skim-milk products, such as ice milk and skim-milk cheeses, provide fewer calories than their whole milk counterparts.

Select cooking methods to help cut calories. Cook foods with little or no added fat and avoid deep-fat fried foods, which are high in calories because of the fat absorbed during cooking. For meat and poultry, trim off visible fat; either broil or roast on a rack. If braised or stewed, drain meat to remove fat. For fish, broil or bake. For vegetables, steam, bake or broil; for an occasional change, stir-fry in a small amount of vegetable oil.

Be sure to count the nibbles and drinks enjoyed during social events and throughout the day as part of your day's calorie allotment.

In addition to the energy you need just to keep your body functioning, you also need energy for all physical activities. The number of calories you need for physical activity depends on the type of activity you undertake and how hard and long you work at the activity. Naturally, you require a lot more energy to swim than to read and, of course, you use more energy in a 10-mile bicycle marathon than you do when taking a leisurely bicycle ride through the neighborhood.

It takes -- 80 to 100 calories per hour to perform SEDENTARY activities such as reading, writing, watching TV, sewing or typing; 110 to 160 calories per hour for LIGHT activities such as walking slowly, ironing or doing dishes; 170 to 240 calories per hour for MODERATE activities such as walking moderately fast or playing table tennis; 250 to 350 calories per hour for VIGOROUS activities such as walking fast, bowling, golfing or gardening; 350 or more calories per hour for STRENUOUS activities such as swimming, tennis, running, dancing, skiing or football.

One way of relating calories to activity level is to show how many minutes of various activities you need to "burn up" a given number of food calories.

For example, if you are relaxing in front of the TV set, it will take you more than an hour to burn up the calories in 2 tablespoons of peanuts (105 calories). But if you swim or play tennis, it will take less than 20 minutes.

Plan your calories according to your level of activity. If you are really active, you might need extra food for added energy. If most of your activities are sedentary, you might need to cut down on calories. Many experts say it's wiser to increase your activity than to reduce your calories drastically. However, some of us need to exercise and cut calories. It's wise to check with your physician about the level of exercise right for you.

An Evening With "The Freemans"

A gospel concert held on Friday, January 19, 1990, in Red Bay, Alabama, at the Ten Acre Field God. The service was held at 7:30 p.m.

The groups to perform are "The Freemans" of Hendersonville, TN, "Glorybound", Tishomingo, MS.

Although "The Freemans" are a fairly new gospel group, one member is certainly a stranger to gospel music. Chris Hawkins has spent several years with the well-known "sons". She now travels with her husband, Danny, sister, Diane, as "Freemans".

Christmas Parade A Success

The luka 8th Annual Christmas Parade was a success and delight to all. There were many wonderful additions to the parade this year and were really appreciated by the luka Lions and co-sponsors luka Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

A lot of hard work goes into any parade and this last one showed that many people were ready and able to take the job and do it well.

This is a public Thank You to all of you who were a part of the parade. It is hoped that you will be in the next parade with eagerness to make it an even greater success.

All of you may not have been awarded a trophy but you are without a doubt a winner in the eyes of parade committee.

This next year we hope to have an even larger parade with some exciting new surprises.

Looking Back

The following bits of information was taken from the issue of The Vidette, January 12, 1950.

Malaria today is a rare disease. It is so rare in Mississippi that the State Board of Health has for several years offered a reward to physicians for finding a proven case of malaria.

Sunday visitors in the Curtain home were his mother, Mrs. Curtain, and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Whit Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

Mr. and Mrs. R.K. Thorn have moved to their new home in luka on Highway 25 South.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Maxwell visited Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzia Robertson last Tuesday.

Mr. O.D. Dexter and son, Clinton, were in Memphis Monday and Tuesday on business.

Rev. and Mrs. J.H. Holder were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Layton last Sunday.

Very sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Belle Stormont. However, she has made a slight improvement.

Recent visitors in the W.H. Fairless home were Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Chenault, Haleyville, AL; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Harrell McDonald, luka.

Mr. James Kaiser and Miss Eugenia Blunt were married last Sunday afternoon in luka. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Varda Blunt and she was a Junior in high school. The groom is the Army, and is stationed in Florida.

Little Miss Connie Curtis is spending a few days this week in Selmer, with her grandmother.

Holiday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Curtis were Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Curtis of Houston, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Curtis and daughters, of Little Rock, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Lomenick, and Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Hudson and Burke spent Sunday in Belmont in the home of Mrs. Herschel Harris.

Mrs. Arah Ivy has purchased and moved into the Henry Moore house.

Miss Dorothy Randle had for her dinner guests Sunday Misses Catherine Pannell and Dorothy (Deaton) Williams.

Mrs. D.C. Daugherty has been ill for the past week we wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pace are proud parents of a baby boy, who has been named Timothy William, born Jan. 5. Mrs. C.L. Pace, Jr., and Mrs. Milton Blissett spent Tuesday night in Oxford, meeting the new arrival and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pace.

Men's Club To Meet

The Men's Club of the luka Parish will meet Thursday, January 11, at Spring Hill U.M.C. at 7:00 P.M.

The speaker will be Rev. Earl McAnally, pastor of the Tishomingo United Methodist Church. Employed in Child Welfare with the department of Human Services.

Mrs. Gary Carnathan Honored--A tea was held last month in honor of Mrs. Gary Carnathan, State Regent, MS State Society of the National Society,

DAR Tea--Greeting guests at the DAR tea held on December 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles

General Chairman; Mrs. Gary L. Carnathan, State Regent, MSSDAR; Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, Treasurer; and Mrs. Barbara T. McNeil, Registrar.

DAR Observes Tenth Anniversary

The tastefully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney in Iuka was the setting for a tea given in honor of Mrs. Gary L. Carnathan, State Regent, Mississippi State Society of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, at two o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, December 10, 1989.

The occasion also marked the observance of the tenth anniversary of Chief Tishomingo Chapter by Mrs. Mildred Hill, Chapter Regent and DAR members, Mrs. Effie Lois Aldridge, Mrs. Lela Clark, Mrs. Jimmie Mae Curtis, Mrs. Barbara T. McNeil, Mrs. Quay Rushing, Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, Mrs. Vonnie Tackett, and Mrs. Mary Williams.

Special guests were Mrs. Fred Wicker of Pontotoc, 1990 State Conference General Chairman; Mrs. Joy Curtis, Mrs. Martha Dobbins, Mrs. Frankie Drake, Mrs. Geraldine McGill, Mrs. Christine Mercer, Ms. Marguerite Nixon, Mrs. Willard Nixon, Mrs. Freda Sanderson, Mrs. Shelia Thorne of Iuka, and Mrs. Sandra Bugg of Tusculum, AL.

Mrs. Hill, Regent, led the group in the opening ritual for the afternoon meeting. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Mrs. Lela Clark, Flag Chairman.

The American's Creed was read by Mrs. Mary Williams. Mrs. Hill read the President General's message.

The National Defense report was given by Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, National Defense Chairman.

Mrs. Effie Lois Aldridge, Secretary, read the minutes of the November meeting. Mrs. Barbara Sweeney, Treasurer, presented the treasurer's report.

Short talks were presented by Mrs. Gary L. Carnathan and Mrs. Fred Wicker.

Recognition was given Mrs. Shelia Thorne as the Chief Tishomingo Chapter, DAR, American History Teacher of the Year.

The formal dining table was beautifully decorated with a red and green embroidered tablecloth in the center of which was a silver candleabrum holding glowing tapers and holly branches. The delicious holiday food consisted of chicken salad finger sandwiches, tuna salad mold, cheese ball, assorted crackers, cheese straws, cream cheese squares, pecan tassies, divinity fudge, chocolate fudge, peppermint bark, rum balls, ham rollups, coconut cake, brandied fruit cake, coffee and hot spiced tea.

P.T.A. Meeting January 18

The Iuka Elementary School P.T.A. has scheduled its monthly meeting Thursday, January 18, 1990, at 7 p.m. This month, the P.T.A. will be hosting the Iuka Elementary School Spelling Bee. Vitamins, Minerals & Your Health

Zinc Supplements May Benefit Small Children

Are vitamin or mineral supplements of any value in helping small children grow?

Good nutrition is important for all babies and children. Without a balanced diet that provides essential vitamins and minerals as well as carbohydrates, proteins, and fat, children will not develop to full physical and mental potential.

A recently performed study which was described in the medical journal Pediatrics examined the effect of small supplements of the mineral zinc in children who "failed to thrive." Such children are much smaller than others who are the same age and sex. All of these children were from 8 to 27 months old. Some received zinc supplements, while others received no supplements. Zinc supplements tended to improve weight gain, especially in boys.

The researchers concluded that zinc may be beneficial because of a mild zinc deficiency among children who "fail to thrive." The amount of zinc necessary to produce the beneficial results was rather small--less than 6 mg per day given in a cherry syrup. (Infant vitamin drops usually do not contain zinc or minerals other than iron.)

Girl Scout Cookie Sales Help Support America's Future

When the Girl Scouts begin their annual cookie sale this year, each troop will set its own goal. Cookies sell for $2.00 a box. Proceeds help both individual troops and the local Council, which provides services and facilities.

In addition, this sale offers young girls valuable communication and sales experience. Before selling cookies, Girl Scouts practice safety procedures and discuss sales techniques. The responsibility and skills they learn are useful in later life.

As in past years, Prairie Girl Scout Council will offer seven different varieties of cookies. Orders are taken from January 12, to January 27, and cookies delivered between February 19 and March 10. Cookies may also be ordered by calling Prairie Girl Scout Council at 844-7577.

Girl Scouts range in age from 6 to 17. They have been selling cookies to support their programs for over 50 years. Last year, Girl Scouts all across America sold approximately 155 million boxes of cookies.

Tishomingo County News-Vidette-Belmont

Words From The Governor

Throughout this past year we have talked about the class of 2001: Six-year-olds, bright and eager and ready to learn. There are 45,000 of these six-year-olds in our schools today.

The Legislature, which convened this month for another legislative session, holds their futures in its hands. Your legislators can make it possible for them to realize their dreams and fulfill their fullest potential by what they do in the coming days and weeks ahead.

I am committed to working with the Legislature to make those dreams reality. Dramatic education improvements contained in Mississippi's BEST -- Better Education for Success Tomorrow, are the key to the doorway to the 21st Century.

I am equally committed to the voters and taxpayers of Mississippi. They are the driving force behind improving education, and we owe it to them to provide the services they demand without raising taxes every time.

Most of Mississippi's BEST would be paid for by natural growth in our economy. The other funding for BEST would come from letting the people vote on a lottery.

What is regressive, and what is oppressive: Letting people vote on a voluntary lottery or, without their consent, raising taxes on their water, their gas, their electricity and their telephones?

A lottery is voluntary; you do not have to participate. Gas, water, electricity, and phones are not voluntary. You need them for survival.

What is regressive, and what is oppressive: Giving people the opportunity to have a say to their futures or, without their voice, making them pay more on their homes, their tags, their food and clothing, or taking more out of their paycheck every two weeks?

Make no mistake about it: This is not a vote on the lottery. This is a vote about whether the people are allowed to vote. This is about whether our people have a voice. This is a vote about whether this is truly a government by, of, and for the people.

Taxes have been raised in the name of education before. In the six full years since the Education Act of 1982 has been more than $1 billion revenue has been more than $534 million. There has been more than $534 million in other things. And it represents more than three-year Mississippi's BEST.

We have a golden opportunity to make education a priority. Our challenge is to pass this program. The Legislature decides the people have a say for it out of existing programs. For those who represent you, should be whether we did our best.

Learn Boat Skills And Seamanship

Here is your chance to learn an accepted boating skill. There are two states that have passed boat licensing laws. More states are expected to pass these laws. Requirements for a license is to have a showing you have and passed an approved boating skills course.

The U.S. Coast Auxiliary (a dues volunteer organization works for the U.S. Coast Guard) will be holding Boating Skills and ship course, January 16th and nights a week (Thursday) for 8 weeks. Muscle Shoals College on Hwy. 1 Registration and material will be $15.00. This material is book.

Some of you may believe you do course but lots of laws have changed on over and learn, can't do any boating. Call 423-2110 if you have any questions.

CLERICAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Immediate opening, general clerical/accounting position. Requires experience in computer data entry, calculators and typewriters. Prefer high school graduate or higher with several years of professional experience. Should have pleasant personality and be congenial in small office environment. Good pay, extensive company paid benefits.

Thank You

A thank you note in a newspaper seems so little, to express our feelings for all that was done for the behalf of the Whitaker family. I would like to express a special Thank You to the persons responsible for the roadblock, fish fry and auction. To all the people who supported these functions, May God Bless You.

Thanks to the men who came to the hospital and sat with Floyd. Thank you so much for all the food, cards, flowers, prayers and support during the loss of Chief Floyd Whitaker.

Thanks to Cutshall Funeral Home who gave their best. To Bro. Burton and Bro. West for their comforting words. Thanks to Mayor David Nichols. He made us very proud of Floyd. Thank you to Gail Cutshall for the lovely music just as Floyd had requested. Special thanks to pallbearers, they were very special people to our family and Floyd! Thanks to all the policemen who took part in the service. Also the honorary pallbearers, our aldermen of the City of Iuka. To the Elks brothers who attended to show their respect for Floyd. I hope and pray this Thank You is enough to show our appreciation for all the support our family has received in the last two years during Floyd's battle against cancer.

May God richly bless each and everyone.

Local Teachers Attend Workshop

A cooperative educational workshop titled "Museum in the Schools," co-sponsored by the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art and the Mississippi Department of Education Bureau of Instructional Services, was recently conducted throughout Mississippi.

Mary Anne Pennington, Museum Director, conducted eight regional, one-day workshops designed to train 4th grade teachers and alternates in the classroom use of the Museum in the School's Education Program.

Superintendents selected teachers to attend the workshop scheduled in their district's region as representatives for the fourth grade. These teacher representatives, in turn, returned to their school district and trained the other 4th grade teachers in the use of this program. A workshop video is currently being produced as an additional training aid for Mississippi's public and private schools 4th grade teachers.

Wanda Evans and Jeanette Wadkins of the Iuka school district were among the teachers attending the workshop. The program is an instructional management program designed to facilitate teaching art concepts by classroom teachers with no previous art training. Visual art concepts and skills are taught as an integral part of the 4th grade curriculum.

Eight, full color reproductions of LRMA collection objects and 25 activity plans contained in the program packet are designed to help the teachers develop and foster creative thinking and visual perception in all 4th grade students while reinforcing such necessary basic skills as language arts, social studies, math and science.

Workshops were held on the campuses of East Central Community College, Decatur; Tupelo Branch of Itawamba Community College; Northwest Mississippi Community College, Senatobia; Mississippi Delta Community College, Moorhead; Jones County Junior College, Ellisville; Hinds Community College, Raymond; Copiah-Lincoln Community College, Wesson; and Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College at Jeff Davis, Gulfport.

Funding for the Museum in the Schools Education Program was provided by the Phill Hardin Foundation and the Laurel Arts League.

For more information, contact the museum at 649-6374.

MSU

Honor Roll

A total of 164 students was inducted into the leading national honor society at Mississippi State University during the 1989 fall semester.

Membership in Phi Kappa Phi is open to seniors at the top of their class in all majors. Graduate students, juniors and some sophomores whose scholastic achievements are at the very highest levels are also eligible.

Dr. Joan McCamish, professor of biological sciences, was also inducted as an honorary member of the MSU chapter.

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 at the University of Maine. At present, there are some 240 chapters nationwide with a total membership of more than 42,000.

New members for one area are:

Belmont -- Cynthia M. Armstrong, a senior elementary education major; Donna C.

Credille, a senior general business administration major. Iuka -- Tommy D. Dean Jr., a senior electrical engineering major.

It's In Your Hands

We, the undersigned Tishomingo County School Board Members wish to state our position concerning school consolidation.

1. The Tishomingo County School Board and the Iuka School Board will cease to exist at the SAME TIME. At no time will the Iuka School Board or their superintendent be over the county system.
2. If this proposal is rejected, there WILL NOT be another proposal considered. We will lose $7,000,000 that may be offered to neighboring Alcorn County to improve their schools.
3. The students presently attending Tishomingo High School WILL HAVE the option of attending either the school at Belmont or the Magnet School. Transportation will be provided by the school district.
4. Your taxes WILL NOT be raised as a result of this consolidation plan.
5. Prentiss County turned down an opportunity to consolidate several years ago. They chose to keep small schools in their communities. Now their school taxes are more than DOUBLE that of Tishomingo County.
6. NO teacher or school employee will LOSE their job based on their stand concerning consolidation.
7. Consolidation of County and City Schools under this proposal will assure keeping the High School at Belmont.
8. Belmont WILL RECEIVE $1,300,000 for renovation and expansion.
9. 70% of the School Superintendents in Mississippi are appointed. This is based on qualifications and performance rather than on politics.

Are you really concerned about the future of our children? Don't you think the educational opportunities are too important to sacrifice for ONE political job? Good jobs require good education. It is our duty to offer the best education possible. We are convinced that this proposal will provide the educational facilities needed to take us into the 21st Century.

Based on the facts, DON'T sign a petition. If you have signed and wish to have your name removed, fill out the affidavit below and carry to any City Hall, Courthouse Lobby, contact your School Board member or mail to Tishomingo County School Board, Courthouse, Iuka, MS 38852 no later than Saturday, January 13, 1990.

Virgil Rhodes Virgil Rhodes 427-9374

Harmony Cemetery Needs Support

The Harmony Cemetery Endowment Foundation Inc. is presently accepting donations. The Foundation administers and maintains the Harmony cemetery.

Because the Foundation presently does not have sufficient funds to properly maintain the cemetery. Committee members urge relatives of persons buried in the cemetery to contribute to this fund. This the only support the cemetery receives. To make a fully deductible contribution, mail your check to Sara Hayes, Rt. 2, Box 510, Iuka.

Thank You

The Tri. County Shrine Clown Unit wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. John Pickle and Wal-Mart for matching funds this year. Thanks John for your benevolence.

Free Bible Correspondence Course Available

George F. Raines (P.O. Box 97, Newton, MS 39345), a chaplain in the Civil Air Patrol since 1982 and a minister of the gospel since 1953, is now offering to everyone in this area who enjoys studying the Bible in the privacy of his own home a free 30-lesson Bible correspondence course, providing an easy-to-follow step-by-step study, enabling the student to follow a systematic plan in learning the basic truths of the inspired scriptures, which are "a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path" (Psalm 119:105) and able to make us "wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus" (2 Tim. 3:15-17).

The only textbook the student will need in his own Bible. His lessons will be promptly and accurately graded and returned. Upon completion of the course, he will receive an elegant certificate of achievement suitable for framing.

Interested persons are invited to send their request for enrollment to: STUDIES IN THE BIBLE, P.O. Box 97, Newton, MS 39345. Enrollments may also be processed by phone: 683-3248 (George F. Raines) or 635-3684 (Paul C. Swindle). No one will be asked to pay any fees or make any contributions. Respondents are asked to please allow about three weeks for the arrival of their first lesson.

Older Mississippians Deserve Full Protection From Abuse, Neglect

"Not my momma." Those of us with loved ones in long-term care facilities couldn't think anything different if we heard a report of a resident being abused or neglected.

Now the Mississippi Legislature has a second chance to fill a void in state law that lets abusers of our senior citizens slip through.

The Nursing Home Patient Abuse Bill, which failed to make it through the Senate in the 1989 session, will be introduced this year by both Sen. Rick Lambert of Hattiesburg and Rep. Ken Stribling of Jackson in the form of a proposed amendment to the state's Vulnerable Adults Act. It promises to fill an important gap left open in the original law.

Like last year's bill, the new legislation would make it a felony punishable by 20 years' imprisonment to physically, psychologically or financially abuse a resident of a long-term care facility. Harmfully neglecting a resident would constitute a misdemeanor subject to a $1,000 fine and/or imprisonment up to year. Currently we have no such protection for our older Mississippians in long-term care.

The new bill will also require reporting of suspected abuse or neglect, and failure to report would constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or a six-month jail term. A "whistleblower" clause would protect anyone reporting abuse from retaliatory firing by an employer.

Lambert said last year's bill failed due to a lack of time and the complexity of the bill. He said that many legislators, however, recognized the need for updating the law to protect older adults who are living in care facilities.

Members of the nursing home industry have expressed fears that the bill would unfairly single them out. However this year's bill simply states that any facility already required to be licensed for long-term care would fall under the proposed law. That includes, for the most part, nursing homes and those wings of hospitals licensed and operated as long-term care facilities.

Instead of creating a complex new statute, Lambert and Stribling have offered a workable amendment to stop offenders who slip through the reach of the current Vulnerable Adults Act. Luckily, incidents of abuse and neglect of our older Mississippians have been few. But when the unthinkable occurs, punishment that fits the crime would be better than being left to say "momma."

EXPO 1990 - You are invited to the 17th Annual Delta Agricultural Exposition in Cleveland on Jan. 23 and 24. This year's theme for the expo is "Answers for the 90s." At expo, you will see exhibits showing the latest technology in agricultural chemicals, fertilizer, seed and services. You can talk with specialists as well as manufacturing representatives. Educational seminars will provide you the latest information on research aimed at ag production. The exhibit hall will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Seminars begin at 9 a.m. and run until 3 p.m. For more information, call the Tishomingo County Extension Office at 423-3616.

FRUIT TREE INSECTS - Scales infestations should be controlled during the dormant time of fruit trees. The dormant period begins after the leaves are off and it ends when buds swell. Two applications of a dormant oil may be necessary at least one week and not more than 10 days apart to control scales. Complete coverage of all limbs and trunks is necessary for scale control. Read label uses and precautions.

LICE ON CATTLE

Cattle in Tishomingo County can become infested with biting and sucking lice in late winter and early spring. Lice populations thrive at these times, and these pests can easily grasp thick, long coats on cattle.

These pests are prevalent on poorly fed and ill-housed animals. Keep your cattle in top physical condition and make sure their barns are clean, well-ventilated and roomy.

Insecticide sprays are more effective than dusts for controlling lice. Spray cattle until they are soaked, and repeat the application in two to three weeks, if necessary.

Clean and spray your barns with the same insecticide but be careful not to contaminate feed and water. To prevent infestation from happening again, don't house untreated and treated livestock together.

WILDLIFE NEEDS

Many of Tishomingo County's wildlife species depend on the forest for a place to live. Deer, turkeys and squirrels spend most of their lives in the forests. They, along with other animals, have four basic needs: food, water, space and cover.

Wildlife populations will increase in an area with a diversity of habitat types. A diverse forest habitat combines a mixture of timber types, ages and conditions in one area.

Toney Mobley, former manager of Freds and now owner of Coast to Coast, received Businessman of the Year award presented by the Tishomingo County Shrine Clowns. Mr. Mobley has been a valuable friend to the Shrine Clowns. Thanks Toney! Pictured L to R, Noble Earl Garner, President 1989, Toney Mobley, and Gerald Norman, Treas. 1989.

Some forest habitats already provide this diversity. Forestland that is not diverse can be changed with only minor effort. Even-aged timber management can provide this diversity by locating different age stands in the same area.

Landowners in Tishomingo County who want to develop a wildlife management program should look at adjoining properties. It would be pointless to create openings in a small forest for wild turkeys if the forest is adjacent to an excellent natural opening like unimproved pasture.

Contact the Tishomingo County forester or the Tishomingo County Extension Office for more information.

1989 TREE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM COVERS DROUGHT, FREEZE DAMAGE

Tree producers who lost commercial trees and tree seedlings because of drought or freezing weather during the year may be eligible for payments under the 1989 Tree Assistance Program (TAP).

Authorized by the Disaster Assistance Act of 1989, the TAP provides replanting funds for trees or seedlings planted any year to produce annual crops for commercial purposes that were killed by freezing weather conditions during 1989. The program also compensates producers for losses of commercial seedlings planted during 1988 and 1989 to produce trees for harvest, that died because of drought conditions.

To qualify for drought or freeze tree payments, losses on individual stands must be more than 45 percent, after adjustment for normal mortality. Cost-share reimbursement will be made for 65 percent of the cost of replanting that portion of the adjusted which exceeds 45 percent.

Payments for trees killed by freezing weather will be made only to those producers who own 500 acres of orchard trees or less and payments for trees destroyed by drought will only be made to those producers who own 1,000 acres or less of trees planted for commercial harvest.

Tree growers who think they may be eligible for the TAP should contact their local ASCS office before replanting damaged tree stands so that mortality rates can be accurately assessed.

USDA PROHIBITS HAYING ON 1990 ACR, CU FOR PAYMENT ACRES

Farmers who participate in the 1990 wheat, feed grains, cotton and rice programs will not be permitted to harvest hay on land removed from crop production by these programs. Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter has determined that haying of acreage conservation reserve (ACR) and conserving use (CU) for payment acreage would have an adverse economic impact. Therefore, haying will not be allowed, except when based on information provided by the State office showing that haying will not result in an adverse economic effect within the State.

Grazing of ACR and CU for payment acreage under the 1990 programs is authorized except for a consecutive 5-month period between April 1, 1990, and October 31, 1990. The nongrazing period in Tishomingo County runs from May 1, 1990 to September 30, 1990.

The 1990 farm programs call for a 5 percent reduction in wheat, oat and extra long staple cotton acres, a 10 percent reduction in corn, sorghum and barley acres, and a 12.5 percent reduction in upland cotton acres. The 1990 rice program has not been announced. Land removed from crop production to meet program requirements must be put into approved conservation practices or covered with annual, biennial, perennial grasses, legumes and small grains to guard against wind and water erosion.

For All The People

Bill Wheeler, Representative District 19

Greetings for the beginning of a New Year. I hope everyone had the best for the holiday season and is preparing for an exciting decade. The 1990's promise to be a team of progress and growth for Mississippi and particularly for our area.

This fall and winter I have been very busy preparing for the 1990 legislative session. I have prepared several bills concerning fire protection, insurance reform, education, and economic development. As I am sure you know this year's legislative session got underway last Tuesday, January 2, with the opening day ceremonies and introduction of bills and resolutions.

Most of the first week was concerned with legislative fighting. It is unfortunate that the important time of the people of Mississippi was wasted fighting over legislative power and position rather than enacting laws to improve education, transportation, health care, and other needs in Mississippi. The fight, however, has been far from trivial. At the heart of their legislative struggle rests the future of openness and progress in Mississippi government.

Though we did not ask for this fight, it is similar to when someone attacks your family, home, or church - you must stand up and defend your principles. The people of Mississippi struggled for over 20 years to make their state government more open, responsive, and democratic. We were not going to stand by and let the door of progress be slammed closed once again. Throughout American history the people have strongly held to the principle, which I heartily endorse. That concentration of power in the hands of a few people is bad. American government has survived because power has been decentralized.

Certain floors in the House were pushing two changes in the rules which, had they passed, would have concentrated most of the essential powers of the House in the speaking office. At present the rules and management committee are elected by members of the house every four years. Earlier this year when these committees took action that certain forces disagreed with, they began a ruler change movement to remove those committee members and elect new committee member every two years. This action would have cleared the way for rules changes which could have been used to crack down on proper groups in the house that disagreed.

It is interesting to note that as democracy an openness breaks out across the world as this new year begins that we in Mississippi must still fight the battle to help our government responsive to the people. If power is accompanied in the House where representatives have to answer to certain individuals rather than the people of Mississippi this can not be good. We have a representative government. Each House member represents 22,000 Mississippians. If the voice of one representative is qualified than the wills and the voices of 22,000 Mississippians are qualified. Silencing the freedom of representation can not be tolerated.

Fortunately the democratic rules of the House were preserved by one vote. Now hopefully we can put this behind us and turn to the business of the people of Mississippi and have good progressive legislative session.

Usually at their time each year I have community meetings but to avoid the bad winter weather I am going to move them to the Spring of the year when the weather is warmer.

If I can be of any assistance please let me know at home (676-2063) or in Jackson (357-3770).

ASCS REMINDS FARMERS TO FILE FOR WOOL PAYMENTS

Farmers who have sold or plan to sell any shorn wool or unshorn lambs or mohair this year should turn in their sales receipts to be eligible for price support payments under the National Wool Act.

Farmers who have a record of their wool and mohair sales are eligible for payments only if the sales are reported to the ASCS office.

The quantity sold does not affect the eligibility. However, sales slips should contain the date of shearing (if possible), the month and date of sales, number of head shorn, pounds of wool (grease basis) or mohair sold, and net proceeds. Sales slips for lambs also must show the liveweight and state that the lambs were unshorn.

Wool producers are also reminded that marketing charges must be itemized on the sales documents, other than for sales at a farm, ranch, or local shipping point. If transportation charges are not shown on the sales receipt, producers will be required to furnish this information when they turn in sales receipts and file for a payment.

The ASCS official said transportation charges will be deducted from the sales document even if the producer sells through a wool pool, with or without a manager, or through any other agent. The location for which the net proceeds are computed also must be shown on the sales document.

As of January 3, 1990, 1 local farmer had filed for their 1989 wool payment.

Shorn wool and mohair payments are based on percentage of each producer's return from sales. The percentage is the amount required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool and mohair in 1989 up to the support prices of $1.77 a pound for wool and $4.58 per pound for mohair.

Century 21 Sponsors Career Opportunity Week

CENTURY 21 JUDY PARSONS REAL ESTATE

will participate in Career Opportunity Week, January 15-21.

Individuals with real estate experience, as well as those considering a career change, are encouraged to contact Judy Parsons to learn more about real estate careers. There is no fee or obligation, and everyone is welcome.

A career session is being held by CENTURY 21 JUDY PARSONS REAL ESTATE January 15, at 6:30 at the Century 21 office, 1719 W. Quitman, Iuka, MS (Old Hwy. 72 W. across from Iuka Motel)

"There is always a need for real estate professionals," said Parsons. "Although we actively recruit new associates year-round, Career Opportunity Week offers people a chance to find out how they can realize their professional, financial and personal goals in a flexible work environment."

"A real estate career gives you the chance to be paid what you are worth; not what someone thinks you're worth, she added.

As the industry leader, the CENTURY 21 system has many resources to provide comprehensive training programs, a nationwide referral system, and marketing support to help people build an exciting, rewarding career.

The CENTURY 21 system attracts people from virtually every kind of educational and professional background. Some already have residential real estate experience, but many of the system's most successful sales associates are former nurses, teachers, retired military, homemakers, college students, as well as experienced professionals from other areas of sales.

"Last year, thousands of people participated in Career Opportunity Week," Parsons said. "Many of them are now enjoying successful careers as CENTURY 21 sales associates."

A real estate license from the state of MS is a requirement to sell real estate. CENTURY 21 JUDY PARSONS REAL ESTATE can provide information about pre-license training courses to fulfill this requirement.

For more information about Career Opportunity Week, contact Judy Parsons at CENTURY 21 JUDY PARSONS REAL ESTATE at 423-5001.

CENTURY 21 Real Estate Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, is the largest real estate sales organization in the world with nearly 7,000 independently owned and operated offices. Approximately 11 percent of all residential real estate transactions completed* in this country in 1989 were handled by CENTURY 21 offices. Collectively, an estimated $60 billion worth of real estate was sold last year by the CENTURY 21 system.

From The Legislature

By Representative Mack Loyd Wadkins

The emphasis was on education, drug abuse, and money matters as the 1990 legislative session got underway with Mississippi lawmakers facing a wide range of key issues in coming weeks.

The 90-day session began on Tuesday, January 2, with the usual opening-day ceremonies and introduction of hundreds of bills and resolutions. In the House of Representatives alone, more than 700 bills and resolutions were introduced during the first three days of the session, and the number continues to grow daily.

The Select House Committee on Education resumed work shortly after the session opened in an effort to get its recommendations ready to submit to the full membership. The special committee was appointed in November to study the Governor's education program plus any other ideas to boost education.

Committee members agreed during the past week on a compromise funding plan to help local school districts with building and construction needs. The plan envisions creation of a special fund in the State Treasury to provide interest-free loans to school districts, upon approval by the State Board of Education. A local referendum would be required before any money could be borrowed, letting voters in the district say whether they're in favor of seeking the loan.

The Legislature would be asked to allocate $20 million a year for the capital improvements fund. In addition, the Committee voted to recommend the sale of $75 million in bonds over a three year period to further augment the special fund. This would be in lieu of the $300 million bond issue proposed earlier by the Governor. The first $25 million in bonds would be issued the year following the initial $20 million allocation.

Another provision was approved which backers said is aimed at making sure the proposed bond issue is not used to pay off political obligations. No one would be allowed to receive any compensation from the bond sale if he or his firm, or any association of which he is a member, contributed more than $500 to the last election campaign of a statewide elected official serving on the State Bond Commission. These officials are the Governor, Attorney General, and State Treasurer.

Also during the past week, a far-reaching plan to combat drug abuse was approved by the Joint Committee on Drug Abuse. Similar legislation is expected to be introduced in the House and Senate covering five general areas: stiffer penalties for drug-related crimes; revisions in the criminal justice system to improve handling of drug cases; meaningful drug education programs in the schools; rehabilitation for drug offenders; and inter-governmental cooperation in the drug effort.

The drug proposals include random drug testing as a condition of employment for all elected officials, including members of the Legislature, and many public employees across the state.

Other committees began pouring over the growing stack of bills awaiting action during the next three months. Other important issues include hazardous waste treatment and disposal; the state correctional system; a salary increase for state employees; abortions; AIDS; Medicaid funding; game and fish laws; insurance measures; Public Service Commission statutes; and revisions in the workers' compensation program.

State finances is always a primary concern of lawmakers. The Legislature received a detailed briefing last week from financial specialists on the budget outlook for the year ahead. Dr. Ed Rancik, Director of the Center for Policy Research and Planning, reported Mississippi enjoyed two strong years of economic growth in 1988 and 1989, with continued growth anticipated in 1990 but at a slightly slower rate. Lawmakers also learned that tax collections for the general fund fell $6.1 million below revenue estimates for December, and currently are running about $1.4 million below estimates for the fiscal year.

Governor Mabus went before a joint meeting of the House and Senate on the second day of the session to make a strong pitch for his education proposals, insisting again that the entire package can be funded without raising taxes. He continued to call for approval of a statewide referendum on a state lottery, a major part of his plan to finance the education bill without a tax hike.

The largest bird's nest on record is one nine-and-a-half feet wide and twenty deep that was made by a pair of bald eagles. It was estimated to weigh over two tons.
