New Phone Service For Belmont & B'ville

A new kind of South Central Bell telephone service will bring a larger local calling area to Belmont and Burnsville customers beginning December 15.

"The Area Calling Plan (ACP) is an optional service that gives subscribers more control over their local telephone bills and provides local calling to locations now considered long distance," Tom Bailey, district manager, said.

As a part of the recent Public Service Commission (PSC) order requiring South Central to reduce rates in Mississippi by $22.8 million, the Area Calling Plan was changed from a 22-mile to a 30-mile plan. For Belmont customers, that means calls to Fulton, Fairview, Mantachie, Tremont, Baldwin, Booneville, Guntown, Rienze, Sallito and Tupelo will now be local calls and can be reached by dialing only seven digits. The expanded area for Burnsville will include Corinth, Rienze, Booneville and Baldwin.

"The Area Calling Plan is an exciting benefit of the advance technology we placed in Belmont and Burnsville in November," Bailey said. "It's a flexible, practical way to price local service, and it recognizes the ties that Belmont and Burnsville citizens have with nearby locations that are now long distance." Area Calling Plan residence customers will pay a basic line charge that is $5.15 less than the current flat-rate charge in Belmont and Burnsville, plus low, additional charges for each local call. "The plan give you more control over your bill, because, if you call less, you pay less," Bailey said. "And, charges for calls to the nearest locations will be capped at a maximum monthly amount of $15.00, regardless of how many calls you make to these locations."

For Area Calling Plan Subscribers, calls to nearby locations will be priced at lower, local rates. For example, the current charge for a 5-minute daytime call from Belmont to Tupelo is $1.53 at regular long distance rates. Under the Area Calling Plan, the same call will cost only .37 cents. Also, a 5-minute daytime call from Burnsville to Corinth would cost .98 cents at current rates, but will cost only .22 cents at Area Calling Plan rates.

ACP requires an individual line, but Bailey suggested that party-line customers also consider the benefit of the Area Calling Plan for them.

"A two-party customer in Belmont or Burnsville, who pays $11.36 each month for local service can subscribe to ACP for $10.00 per month plus usage," Bailey said. "By moving to ACP, customers will have the benefit of a private line -- and be able to make local calls to areas that used to be long distance."

For multi-line business customers who choose ACP, the charge for hunting service will be reduced by 20%. Hunting service allows incoming calls to find an open line automatically.

Belmont and Burnsville customers will receive complete information about ACP in the mail during December.

"The Area Calling Plan is a great example of how advanced technology can make telephone service more flexible and useful, while keeping it affordable," Bailey said. "With the reduction in monthly access charge for ACP, the increased number of locations that are local calls, and the reduction in zone charges, I believe the new ACP will offer something for everyone in Belmont and Burnsville."

To sign up for ACP, residence customers may call 1-557-6500. Business customers may call 1-557-6000. There is no charge for these calls.

MS. House Of Representatives

By: Rep. Mack Loyd Wadkins
Education, economic development and drug abuse will be among the key topics again in the 1991 legislative session but the dark financial clouds hanging over the state may be the overriding concern of most lawmakers.

The 90-day session begins at noon Tuesday, January 8, with final adjournment set for April 7. It will be the fourth and final regular session of the current four-year term.

Mississippi, like many states, is experiencing serious money problems caused largely by a continued slump in corporate tax collections and compounded by economic uncertainty related to the Persian Gulf crisis. With a projected shortfall of $105 million in general fund revenues for the current fiscal year, funds are expected to be extremely tight again in the coming year. This means the Legislature will be facing some very hard decisions in an election-year session.

In addition to the budget crunch, members of the House of Representatives and Senate may be looking into such diverse areas as federally mandated changes in Medicaid, legislative reapportionment, agricultural programs, workers' compensation, possible revisions in the gun permit law, prison crowding, industrial development, solid waste disposal, assisting small businesses, tourism, landlord-tenant rights, helping local governments, with water and sewage problems, and scores of other issues.

Education was a top legislative priority throughout the 1980's and will be again as Mississippi enters the second year of the new decade. Approximately 63 percent of the total general fund budget is earmarked for education at all levels under the budget recommendation prepared for Fiscal Year 1991-1992 by the Joint Legislative Budget Committee. The proposal includes an all-time high of $818.4 million for general support of public schools, K-12, through the Minium Foundation Program, an increase of $9.2 million although still less than the Department of Education's request.

All together, the Legislative Budget Committee has recommended an austere general fund budget totaling $1.987 billion designed to take care of critical needs to the extent possible within existing revenue sources, and to provide priority funding for programs established as legislative priorities in 1990 and previous years. The recommendation includes budget increases of $40.9 million and reductions of $71.2 million, or a net decrease of $30.3 million compared to the $2.018 billion budget adopted last spring for the current fiscal year.

Proposed increases consist mainly of "Built-in" increases deemed necessary because of state laws or prior legislative commitment, including a $17.4 million boost of state funding for Medicaid. Among the proposed decreases are $15 million for general support of the state's universities, $5 million for community colleges, and $3.4 million for mental health programs.

The budget proposals also call for a net cutback of 784 fulltime positions, most of which are now unfilled.

The legislative Budget Committee recommendations, as required by law (section 27-103-125), are based on the amount of revenue available from current sources without plugging in potential new sources that would

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

OPTOMETRIST

WHO NEEDS BIFOCALS?

When we move into midlife, our bodies lose elasticity and the eyes are no exception. When the lens in your eye becomes less flexible, there's reduced ability to focus clearly on objects at various distances - near and far (and even intermediate distances). This is why you have to hold your newspaper further away to reduce the blurring. This is a normal condition called presbyopia. It can be corrected with single strength reading glasses or with bifocals with the reading correction on the bottom portion.

Can you be nearsighted or farsighted and still need bifocals? Yes! You can have other vision problems and still develop presbyopia which is a normal maturing process. More than one vision correction may be prescribed for one lens.

There are now new bifocal soft contact lenses which are superior to glasses for comfort and ease of reading and seeing at all distances. If you need bifocals, these may be your answer.

require legislative action for approval.

A separate budget recommendation totaling $2.135 billion in general funds has been prepared by the Governor's office, including $149 million in "new" revenues that would take legislative action to become reality. The package contains many of the same items that failed to win final approval during the regular and/or special legislative sessions earlier this year. For example, the biggest single item is an estimated $65 million from legalizing and taxing video poker machines. A similar proposal died in the Senate, 11-37, in the regular 1990 session.

The House Appropriations Committee got an early start in December toward dealing with the thorny budget problems, bolder a series of pre-session hearings with officials from the Institutions of Higher Learning, Medicaid Office, Department of Education, and other agencies. The Appropriations Committee also met with the Ways and Means Committee for a joint budget presentation, and the Ways and Means Committee received a detailed briefing on the Governor's revenue package.

Nobody wishes to cut higher education or any other major programs. At the same time, nobody wants to impose higher taxes on the people. The Legislature has successfully avoided a general tax increase since 1985, excluding a minimum hike in fuel taxes in 1987 to help finance the four-lane highway program. However, the general consensus is that extensive budget cuts apparently will be necessary in FY 1992 unless additional revenue is found, and that money will not be available for new programs such as the multi-million dollar education reform package approved last spring by lawmakers but never implemented. Hundreds of bills already have been prefiled in the House and Senate, and the number will continue to grow after the session begins.

Another effort is expected to pass the wide-ranging drug abuse bill which narrowly failed in 1990 because of House-Senate differences on certain features. Key provisions include tougher penalties for drug offenders, drug testing of public and private employees under certain conditions, expanded drug rehabilitation and education programs, and mandatory suspension of driving privileges for drug violations.

Like education, economic development has been a major priority of the Legislature with special emphasis on expanding present business enterprises as well as stepped-up programs to attract new business. The Department of Economic and Community Development is expected to present a number of additional proposals next year for further expansion.

One of the hotly debated issues in 1990 involved hazardous waste management. The focus may be on nonhazardous solid waste such as ordinary household garbage in the coming session, with local officials across the state facing strict new federal landfill requirements. The legislative Environmental Protection Council has been working closely with local governments, a citizens' advisory group, and others in an effort to find ways to help deal with the problem.

A joint legislative committee has been holding public hearings to assist in redrawing legislative districts if necessary next year after the official U.S. Census Bureau figures are received.

These and other issues will make it a busy and challenging session.

FIREWORK SAFETY

I know many of you plan on bringing in the New Year with a BANG - a bang produced by fireworks. Remember to check with the local police department about laws concerning fireworks within the city limits. And, please have an adult present when you use fireworks.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, most injuries caused by fireworks result from misuse rather than malfunction.

To help celebrate safely this New Year's, the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the National Council for Fireworks Safety offer the following safety tips.

- *Always read directions.
- *Have an adult present.
- *Buy from reliable fireworks distributors.
- *Ignite fireworks outdoors.
- *Have water handy.
- *Never experiment or attempt to make your own fireworks.
- *Light one at a time.
- *Never reignite malfunctioning fireworks.

- *Keep at a safe distance.
- *Never give fireworks to children.
- *Store in a cool, dry place.
- *Dispose of properly.
- *Never throw fireworks at another person.
- *Never carry fireworks in your pocket.
- *Never shoot fireworks in metal glass containers.

I hope everyone has a safe and happy holiday and a healthy and prosperous 1991.

STUDENTS DECORATE FOR CHRISTMAS... There was more excitement than usual last week at the Old Tishomingo County Courthouse in Iuka. Students in Mrs. Shelia Thorpe's 9th grade state and local government classes volunteered to decorate for Christmas. These students worked diligently on this civic project. Mr. Evans set up two large Christmas trees donated by Mr. Dewitt Bean. Study hall students had been stringing popcorn and cranberries for a week to be used on the trees. The front hall of the courthouse was decorated using pine garland and a huge tree. Elementary school students decorated toy soldiers, gingerbread men, and snowflakes to place on the tree. The front room was decorated with beautiful arrangements of magnolia leaves and holly. The tree in that room has a patriotic theme - using the white snowflakes with red and blue ribbons. It is also covered with candycanes donated by

Kappa Kappa Iota Sorority Meeting

On December 18, the Kappa Kappa Iota Teachers Sorority, Theta, and the Tishomingo County Chapter held their meeting.

Mrs. Lois Bostick, president, presided at the Christmas Party meeting. The devotional and prayer was given by Mrs. Christine Mercer. She presented an inspiring message on God's Gifts to His Children. She reminded us that all the beauties of nature and life are gifts of our heavenly Father who also loved his creations so much that He gave His only son that we might have everlasting life. We thanked God for His unspeakable Gift, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Mildred Hill gave the secretary's and treasures's reports. She also presented the newest member, Mrs. Pauline Wheeler, of Belmont, with a membership certificate. The meeting's purpose was for honoring the sorority's newest members Mrs. Pauline Wheeler, our state representative Bill Wheeler's mother; Mrs. Quay Rushing and Mrs. Robinson, who was absent.

Pictures were made for the national and state scrapbooks. Mrs. Mercer announced that the state Kappa luncheon will be held at the University Inn in Jackson, and the state convention will be the last Saturday in April at Hattiesburg.

A card was sent to a member who was ill, Mrs. Jewel Nixon in her absence, Mrs. Yvellette Helton, of Golden, was also absent. Mrs. Lela Clark, founder of Theta Conclave, whose illness caused her to move temporarily to her daughter's home in Indiana was greatly missed. Mrs. Mercer presented each member with a candy cane in honor of Mississippi's 30th birthday in the sorority. Mrs. Mildred Hill and Mrs. Marquerite Nixon will be hostesses for the January Meeting at the Iuka Library, the third Tuesday. Mrs. Willard Nixon was the special guest of the club. She is honored to be Kappa's mother.

Christmas Memories

By: Christian Evans

Christmas is a special time of year, a magical time full of sparkle, laughter, joy and after the moment, the memories. Christmas wasn't always as it is now. Today we take simple luxuries for granted. In the old days, the joy of Christmas was found not in the shopping mall...There was no shopping mall. The spirit of Christmas was seen on every smiling face.

Mrs. Mary Burns said she could remember her favorite thing at Christmas was "going to the breakdown". A "breakdown" was a big dance. She said she remembered going the first Christmas she was married. "I kicked up a storm when the fiddler cut loose!" she laughs. As Mrs. Burns celebrates her 100th Christmas it is still a joy to hear the old Christmas songs, country style.

Mrs. Whit Wilson, (Mama Whit, as she's known in Iuka) can remember her Christmas as a little girl in the Snowdown Community. She said "I was lucky, Daddy had a good job and I always got a pretty china doll for Christmas." Then she changes her tone saying "My brother Oscar was the brother I was closest too, but he was full of the devilment. Every Christmas for three or four years, he always found a way to punch out the glass eyes of the dolls." Then when she threatened to tell her Mama, Oscar said "You know Mama will whip me." She knew he needed a whipping but couldn't stand to hear him yell. She loved him too much. Mama Whit says Oscar at 79 is coming home for Christmas. She already has the pumpkin carved and ready to make a pie for her favorite brother.

Mrs. Dewey (Pet) Lewis says times were hard when she was young but her father would always manage to get a hoop of cheese for Christmas. "We raised our own meat" she says "but we had to buy cheese so we only got that as a treat at Christmas."

Mr. Brown and Mr. Wilson (affectionally known as the Brown/Wilson brothers of downtown Iuka) say that they felt lucky to get an apple, an orange, and a couple of pieces of stick candy in their stocking. "Times was tough," said Mr. Brown, "but we sure looked forward to rippin' down them stockings on Christmas morn, yes sir."

Mr. James Bishop says his best Christmas was in 1945. After three years of service in World War II, he was discharged on December 15th in California and made it home for Christmas.

I guess I'll allow myself just once to write my own "best Christmas."

It was Christmas 1985. I was home from college at Mississippi State. I had planned to set out with my best friend, David Swanson, to the Florida Keys. We planned to sail his boat from Key West, Florida to the Bahamas. At the last minute I had to cancel out. I was pretty miffed about it but tried not to let it upset me.

Christmas Eve came, Mom was frantically decorating the house and cooking. Dad was trying to help the best way he could, he stayed out of her way. John and I just tried to stay busy and wait for the rest of the family to arrive from Monroe county. I remember seeing them all pull up. John went running out to help. I met MawMaw at the door.

I relieved her of the bowl she was holding. She had on a blue coat and her hair was dark with a little gray. The snow was peppered on her coat and in her hair. Her cheeks were rosy and her grin was so warm. "Honey, give me some sugar" she said as I kissed her. PaPaw came in right behind her with an arm load of presents, "Merry Christmas" he said. Aunt Opel and Uncle Ed got out of their car loaded down too. Aunt Linda and Uncle Kenny had their year old son Evan in a blanket. We soon all got settled in. We ate dinner and traditionally exchanged gifts. Then we all talked 'til late and went off to bed.

Believe it or not, Santa came to see me (anyway) the next morning. Twenty years old and he STILL came to see me!

David called and said the wind and sea was too rough when they got to Key West so they had to cancel the trip. I'm glad I stayed at home. It was the last time we would be all together. Grandma passed away in the spring of '86. I can still see her smiling face and the snow dancing like a halo in her hair. Merry Christmas MaMaw.

John Chandler Ray was born July 4th 1990. He will be spending his first Christmas with his mother and father, Lt. and Ms. John D. and Tonya Kay. Wonder what his favorite Christmas memory will be.

"PRODUCTIVE" MEETING

People in Tishomingo County who grow fresh produce for market should attend the second annual meeting of the Mississippi Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association Jan.11 through 12 in Jackson at the Ramada Inn Metro.

General topics to be discussed include marketing, crop insurance, financing and production of horticulture crops in Mississippi. Membership in the association is open to all growers and organizations supporting horticulture.

For more information on the meeting, contact the Tishomingo County Extension Office at 423-7016, or call Dr. Freddie Rasberry of the horticulture department at Mississippi State University at (601) 325-3935.

I urge growers to attend.

GROWING YOUR OWN

Fresh vegetables are part of a healthy diet, and what better way to get them on the dinner table than to grow them yourself. Growing vegetables allows you to pick them at their best and eat them within hours.

Vegetable gardening can save money and provide good exercise. And if you're sold on the idea, great. Before the planting can start, the planning must be done.

The best time to plan is now. Seed catalogs usually come in the mail about this time. Flip through a couple to see what's new or what may interest you. You may be pleasantly surprised.

Many garden centers and co-ops display seed packets at this time of year, too. They also have information on new varieties and gardening techniques. You can stop by the Tishomingo County Extension Office and browse through our gardening bulletins, tabloids and information sheets.

Make a list of vegetables you want to grow in your garden. Choose a garden: site that is level and receives plenty of sunshine. Vegetables grow best in soil that is deep, loose, rich and well-drained.

The addition of materials such as compost, peat moss, straw manure and commercial fertilizer can improve soil that is inadequate.

SELL DIRECT

Marketing means many things to many people. Producers in the fruit and vegetable industry define marketing as "anything that occurs between variety selection and consumer purchase."

Many people in Tishomingo County grow fruits and vegetables, and they have numerous options within the framework of this definition. One of those is direct marketing to consumers.

Direct marketing can take place on the farm, by the roadside or at the local farmers' market.

As does everything else, direct marketing has its advantages and disadvantages.

When growers sell direct to consumers, they eliminate grading, packing and storing to produce. Direct marketing also reduces container costs and increases producer control over setting the price. All sales in the direct marketing transaction are cash.

But, direct marketing requires growers to carry liability insurance, which does increase cost of production. Growers must also work longer hours and deal with all kinds of people. They are responsible for bringing customers to the produce instead of bringing the produce to customers.

2. Reservations may be made for only one set of dates at a time.

3. First priority will be given to in-person requests, followed by telephone requests, and letters postmarked after January 1.

Minimum stay for the heavy use season - Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day weekend - is three nights. There is a two-night minimum during other times of the year. Maximum stay during the heavy-use season is 14 days.

King also, reminds park visitors that pets are not allowed in the cabin area.

For a complete list of state parks, their facilities, rates, addresses, and telephone number, write Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, Public Information, P.O. Box 451, Jackson, MS 39205-0451, or telephone (601) 364-2120.

It's Never Too Late To Exercise

Elderly Mississippians may think they are too old to exercise, but the Department of Human Services' Council on Aging advises that, in most cases, it is never too late.

"Exercise is crucial to an older person because physical activity counters many problems of old age," said Council on Aging Director Billie Marshall. But, she cautioned, "older people should be careful when choosing an exercise and should not pick an activity that would add stress to the body, like basketball or football, for example, but golf and croquet would be permissible."

Dr. Howard Liss, chief of rehabilitation medicine at Englewood Hospital in Englewood, N.J., said three 20-30 minute aerobic workouts a week can lower cholesterol, reduce depression, improve sleep and strengthen the immune system. Aerobic exercise is any activity that conditions the heart and lungs by increasing the efficiency of oxygen intake.

The Council on Aging suggests the following as possibilities for safe aerobic exercises:

*Playing doubles tennis.
*Cycling on a bicycle with upright handle bars.

*Walking on a treadmill pitched slightly up-hill.

*Walking on an outdoor or indoor track.

*Swimming laps.

Ms. Marshall also stresses the importance of having a physical examination before initiating any new exercise. "In addition to getting a checkup from a physician, an elderly person should discuss a planned activity with the physician," she said. "The physician can advise you if the planned activity will be beneficial."

For information on safe exercise or other services for the elderly, contact the Council on Aging in Jackson at 949-2070.

Dear Editor,

I believe any person living in Tishomingo County and the State of Mississippi or any other county should be forced to have a Mississippi license plate on all his or her vehicles before he or she can run for any public office.

It is a law if you live in a county and have homestead exemption, you are supposed to have all vehicles registered in the county in which you live, but the law is not enforced.

By: Phillip A. Horn

ASCS REMINDS FOREIGN INVESTORS OF REPORTING RULE

Phillip Horn, County Executive Director of the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, reminds foreign investors who have bought, or sold agricultural land in Tishomingo County to report the transaction within 90 days.

The Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act (AFIDA) requires all foreign owners of U.S. agricultural land to report their holdings, acquisitions, dispositions, leases of 10 years or more, and land-use changes to ASCS. "This law is still in effect, and those who fail to report or who are late in reporting face possible fines," Horn said.

Foreign investors have reported owning about 12.0 million acres of land in the United States as of December 31, 1989. In Mississippi, foreign-owned agricultural land totaled 442,365 acres for 1989.

For reporting purposes, Horn defined agricultural land as any tract of more than 10 acres now in farming, ranching, forestry, or timber production. "This includes land in agricultural use when purchased, as well as land later converted to agricultural use." Foreigners who own or have an interest in 10 acres or less do not need to report unless annual proceeds from the sale of agricultural products grown on these acres exceed $1,000.

Individuals or companies that specialize in land holdings, land transfers, or management services should contact the local ASCS Office for details on reporting in behalf of foreign clients.

Happy

Hiccups Treatment: Different Approaches

Almost everyone has experienced hiccups—a sudden contraction of the diaphragm and the muscles responsible for inhaling and exhaling air. If continued for a long period of time, hiccups can be hazardous. Hiccups can become quiet fatiguing and often will prevent sleep. Although there are various causes of hiccups, one of the most common is swallowing hot foods.

A number of self-treatments have been suggested for hiccup relief. These include holding one's breath, standing on one's head for a certain length of time, drinking water from the "wrong side" of a cup, slowly taking 9 sips of water, and breathing into a paper bag.

Although there were several studies conducted in the nineteen seventies, little has been written during recent years regarding the evaluation of different hiccup treatments. One study concluded that persons who swallowed a teaspoonful of white granulated sugar often obtained hiccup relief. Varying degrees of success have been achieved with carbon dioxide, quinine and chlorpromazine. A recent issue of The New England Journal of Medicine reported on hiccups in a boy who had experienced the problem for several years. Immediate relief was achieved with the antidepressant medicine amitriptyline.
