County Hospital Looks For New Management

North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo announced Monday that it will terminate its affiliation with the luka Hospital, county officials said. luka Hospital, owned by the county, has been operated by a lease-management agreement between NMMC and the Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors since January 1987, said Board of Supervisors President D. W. McKee.

Glendon Spigner and Gerald Wages of NMMC attended a board meeting and notified the supervisors with the decision, McKee said.

Disagreement over ownership of Tishomingo County's proposed new $5.8 million hospital probably contributed to the termination, McKee said.

"They (NMMC) had said all along that they wanted to own the facility. But he (Spigner) said Monday that they wanted out, regardless of how the new hospital would be managed," McKee said.

Spigner also said that NMMC felt it did not have the support of the medical staff at luka Hospital, McKee said.

The Mississippi Major Economic Impact Authority pledged $2.3 million in December 1989 for construction of a new 40-bed hospital in luka. The department said that Tishomingo County would be the owner of the new hospital and NMMC would manage the facility.

NMMC was to put $3.5 million into the project. The unsettled question of ownership has delayed launching the project.

Gerald Wages, NMMC executive vice-president, said that if NMMC was investing $3.5 million in luka's new hospital, the center felt that they would have to retain ownership of the facility.

The termination seemed like the best solution for both parties, he said.

"The issue was at a standstill, so we decided to let the supervisors have the hospital back. We did not want to be in the way of the county receiving the impact funds," Wages said.

Wages also said he did not understand the impact authority's method of awarding the grant. NMMC proposed several alternative solutions to the ownership, but it did not appear that the state funds were going to be released.

"It just wasn't going to happen," he said.

Wages said the supervisors said they would take some time to consider the termination, and notify NMMC with their response.

NMMC requested the termination be effective March 1. However, the lease agreement calls for a 60-day notice before the termination can become effective, McKee said. The original lease was to be for 15 years, he said.

The county will waste no time in finding another healthcare provider in the Mid-South to replace NMMC, McKee said.

"We are looking around, at Baptist and Methodist hospitals, in Memphis, and at others in Alabama," he said.

"We'll try to find a good hospital to provide good healthcare and also to be interested in supporting the new hospital in luka," he added.

A replacement for NMMC may be located soon, he said. In fact, the first meeting to discuss a possible new affiliation is scheduled for today, McKee said.

Nick Phillips, attorney for the Board of Supervisors, said that legal counsel with the Department of Economic and Community Development assured him that the impact money would be put on hold until luka had time to settle the matter.

NMMC's decision to relinquish its lease came as sort of a shock, said Bill Rutledge, administrator of luka Hospital.

"They basically expressed that since we couldn't agree on management of the new facility, they wished to bow out, so we could work out an affiliation with someone else," Rutledge said.

"I hope we can affiliate with another hospital, but if not, we can be a good county hospital on our own," he said.

Hospital employees have expressed concerns over the status of many of their benefits that are currently associated with NMMC, Rutledge said. luka Hospital will be able to assume these benefits, he said, and operate as it did prior to the lease-agreement with NMMC.

Dr. Kenneth Draper, chief of staff at luka Hospital, declined to comment on NMMC's action.

Kelly Segars, luka physician and a former hospital chief of staff, said that the majority of the medical staff at luka Hospital was in favor of terminating the affiliation with NMMC.

"The administration of NMMC seems to be implementing a policy of growth in Tupelo at the expense of their satellite hospitals. They have closed the coronary care unit at Pontotoc Hospital and last week announced closing of Fulton Hospital," Segars said.

"There are medical facilities in the Mid-South with good records of developing local hospitals. Some members of the medical staff have been in frequent contact with these institutions lately," he said.

Segars said the employees of luka Hospital and residents of the area should be assured that the medical staff was committed to developing and maintaining a modern, up-to-date healthcare facility.

Lott Announces Operation Homefront

U.S. Senator Trent Lott, R-Miss., has joined in co-sponsoring legislation coordinating efforts to show support for the troops in the Persian Gulf and to ensure they are received as heroes when they return home.

Lott said the effort termed "Operation Homefront" is a national grassroots undertaking to encourage federal, state, and local governments and private businesses and industry to organize activities to provide support for the families of the troops while they are deployed and to plan and organize welcome home celebrations for the servicemen and women upon their arrival home.

"Our American troops are performing with remarkable success against Saddam Hussein and his army, and I know that Mississippians and all Americans are proud of them and would like to find a way to show their gratitude," Lott said. "I want to help make sure that our returning troops are not met with the same scorn that our Vietnam veterans faced."

Lott's state director in Jackson, Guy Hovis, will coordinate the statewide volunteer effort. Lott said he hopes that city and county governments, local chambers of commerce, veterans organizations and businesses will want to participate in planning the support and welcome home activities.

Executive Office Suite Available For Occupancy

An executive office suite located in the luka Industrial Park is now available for occupancy.

The offices are housed in the second Lockheed and Aerojet temporary offices building which was completed on December 1.

Vanderheyden Construction Co., which owns the 80,000-square-foot building, is planning to lease 30 to 40 office spaces on the northern end of the building to business tenants.

The building already houses several hundred Lockheed and Aerojet employees who moved from the original building into their new quarters in early January.

The suites will provide a number of services to tenants, said Herman Vanderheyden, president of the construction firm.

Utilities and janitorial services will be included in the suite. Businesses will share a common lobby and be provided with telephones, office machines, and receptionist services. use of a conference room and break room will be other features offered, Vanderheyden said.

"We are really excited about this project. It will be good for businesses who wish to bid for subcontracts on the NASA project. They will be furnished with a complete office setup," he said.

The second office building was constructed adjacent to the original building to accommodate the rapidly growing workforce of Lockheed and Aerojet, contractors on NASA's advanced solid rocket motor project.

The space industry workers occupy about 65-69,000 square feet of the facility.

A deli/cafe for employees was included in the original plans for the building, but the cafeteria has not been finalized, Vanderheyden said. The firm is still negotiating to set up some type of food service for employees in the building, he said.

Lockheed Aerojet Settled In New Office Building

After nearly a month since moving into their second office building, Lockheed and Aerojet staff members have settled back into a fairly normal routine.

The move, carried out on a cold, wet, weekend in January, proceeded according to schedule, said Dick Lupton, staff specialist for Lockheed.

The second 80,000-square-foot building was completed December 1 adjacent to the original Lockheed Aerojet office building in the luka Industrial Park.

The transition to the new building involved more than simply moving furniture across the way, said Lupton. There were numerous details to coordinate, such as telephone lines, power lines, computer hookups, and mail routing for office workers.

But, moving was worth the trouble, because having a second office building has enabled both contracting teams on NASA's advanced solid rocket motor project to achieve more coordination in their work.

"It's much more efficient to have all the members of a division together, instead of spread out around the building," explained Herk

Fisher, spokesman for Lockheed. "We've been able to consolidate workers within common areas so that they can better coordinate their work," he said.

Some of the areas making the move were the technical disciplines, including systems engineering, manufacturing, computer systems, and systems safety, Lupton said.

Aerojet's employment office, previously located at 123 S. Fulton St. in downtown luka, also made the move to the new building.

Offices remaining in the original building include those of NASA personnel, general management, procurement, subcontracts and Lockheed's employment office, Lupton said.

The expansion has also allowed some offices to expand within the original building, he said.

The civilian labor force for the county totaled 7,680 at mid-December. This figure is 130 more than the previous month of November, but 40 less than December, 1989. Approximately 6,510 Tishomingo county residents held jobs in mid-December while 1,170 were unemployed.

Manufacturing jobs in the county numbered 2,470, approximately the same as November, but 90 less than December, 1989. Nonmanufacturing jobs in the county totaled 3,170, approximately the same as the November estimate, but 170 more than December one year ago.

YOUR BEST FRIEND

Everybody needs a best friend. The best friend is someone you can talk to and confide in, someone who really knows you and likes you despite differences.

We need such friends to share our troubles and happiness. Friends ease the burdens and make life more fun. They help us to continue to grow. Through a close friendship with another person, we learn to listen, to feel compassion, to be tactful, how to be useful and to be trustworthy. By sharing our happy times we can help each other to live fuller, richer lives with hope, promise and the warmth of memories.

Little children make friends easily and with all kinds of people. But as we mature we lose this ability. We may move to another place and lose contact with friends. As we grow older, our best friends begin to pass away. Others of us have been hurt or betrayed by a person in the past, and we are afraid to try again.

Shyness, anger, sadness, unpleasant personality traits and feeling inferior are also reasons people find it hard to make friends. People who reject others for these reasons usually need friends to share these feelings.

Often we get busy with home and family and fail to keep the friendships that we have. In their efforts to improve marriage and family relationships, some experts have stressed that the husband and wife should be best friends as well as parents to their children. However, family ties should not shut us off from the rest of the world. We need a friend outside the family to give us relief and a different perspective.

Friendships, like flower gardens, require cultivation. We have to work at making and keeping a best friend.

Make new friends by joining a variety of groups in your neighborhood. Take advantage of your changes for a new experience.

When you're in a group, talk to other people without waiting for them to start the conversation. It's a good idea to make a comment first rather than asking a question. Once you have a conversation going, listen to what the other person is saying to you instead of thinking about your response.

Have something interesting to say. Be informed by reading the newspaper, magazines or a book. Talk about your hobbies, collections or some special item you have. People always like to hear sincere compliments, also.

Cultivate friendships with people in different age groups. This gives both of you the opportunity to learn from each other and to bring joy to one another.

It takes time to keep best friends once you have made them. You may have to rearrange your plans when friends need you. It takes longer sometimes when you do fun things together. Sharing fun and good times is important to maintain good relationships.

Friendships may be made when we are able to tell someone a secret, but they are surely lost when they tell our secret to someone else. A best friend can be trusted as a confidant. We must be trustworthy in return.

As Robert Lewis Stevenson put it, "A friend is a present you give yourself." Give yourself a best friend and give someone else a present by being a best friend.

HEALTHY SMILES FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

WHY REGULAR DENTAL CARE?

Your dental health is an important factor in determining your overall health and your enjoyment of life during these years of your life. To be healthy you must eat a well-balanced diet and this depends upon your ability to chew properly and to enjoy your food. Your dentist can help you keep your mouth free of pain and to have teeth that are capable of chewing a wide variety of foods. In addition, the symptoms of some systemic diseases are first detected in the mouth. As part of a complete dental examination, your dentist will look for indications of any such problems. Early detection can prevent serious consequences.

AVOID AN AGING SMILE With age, natural teeth become worn and discolored. Also, restorations that have been in place for many years may become stained. Through a new and painless technique called bonding, many of these problems can be corrected quickly and easily. Missing teeth can cause your bite to collapse and tissues to sag, and this may make you look older. Missing teeth should be replaced promptly and your dentist can help you select the replacement method that is best suited to your needs.

PERIODONTAL PROBLEMS (gum diseases) are a major cause of the loss of natural teeth, but you can help control and prevent these problems. Daily brushing and flossing, plus regular checkups and professional dental cleaning are important methods of prevention.

DENTURE WEARERS You still need regular dental care. The shape of your mouth continues to change, and a denture that does not fit properly can cause embarrassing moments and may make normal chewing difficult.

TRENT LOTT
MISSISSIPPI

IN SUPPORT OF CITIZEN SOLDIERS AND VETERANS

The citizen soldiers of our National Guard and Reserves make up 40 percent of our nation's defense. They are a strong, well-trained, and cost-effective component of our armed forces.

There are 700 Mississippi National Guardsmen now on duty in the Persian Gulf, and more than 5,000 more have been called to active duty in this country because of Operation Desert Storm.

In conjunction with their training, the Guardsmen and Reservists often must spend money out of pocket on travel expenses, lodging, mileage on personally-owned vehicles, and on their uniforms.

That amounts to an unfair monetary penalty on these patriotic men and women, and on January 23, I introduced legislation to correct it. My bill, S. 246, will amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to permit certain tax deductions by active and reserve Guardsmen for expenses of travel, meals, and lodging while away from home and for expenses of transportation and uniforms.

We recognize even more today than we did just a few months ago the importance of our National Guard and Reserves. This legislation is an effort to show our support for them and correct an inequity in their treatment.

I hope my legislation which already has about a dozen cosponsors will see early action. In the meantime, I was pleased to join my colleagues in the Senate on January 25 in approving a 5.6 percent cost-of-living adjustment for service-connected disabled veterans and their eligible dependents retroactive to January 1, 1991.

While our thoughts today are with our brave men and women serving their country in the Persian Gulf, it is appropriate that we remember and recognize the service of all veterans who have answered the call of duty and sacrificed for the purpose of preserving our freedoms.

The President has pledged that our soldiers in the Persian Gulf will have the most modern arsenal of technology and power to back them. In like manner, after the battle, our nation will continue to honor our commitment to our veterans and our unwavering support for their sacrifice.

I salute our soldiers serving bravely in the Persian Gulf and all over the world, and I salute our veterans of battles past. The Senate's overwhelming vote to award veterans a cost-of-living adjustment leaves no doubt as to the strength of a grateful nation's commitment to them.

The vote for our veterans also sends an unmistakable signal to the aggressors in Iraq of the degree of support America gives her warriors past and present.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY
OPTOMETRIST

Straightening Crooked Eyes

In a child whose eyes are normally aligned, both eyes focus on an object at the same time. When the brain receives the image, it is the result of what is seen by both eyes fused into a single image. This is known as binocular single vision.

But when one eye is out of line, the child will see two objects. One image will show the object in its proper position. The misaligned eye will show the object displaced or off center, a phenomenon known as double vision. A child who experiences double vision will compensate for it by ignoring the image received by the misaligned eye. He suppresses the disturbing second image. The misaligned eye then becomes a "lazy eye," referred to medically as amblyopia.

Sometimes the misaligned eye can be straightened by wearing corrective glasses alone or in combination with drops and exercises. The success of any treatment depends on how soon it begins.

Tishomingo Homemakers
Plan For 1991

She then led in prayer. Mrs. Kathy Byram read the Council Collect which was very appropriate especially now with the world facing a war in just a few hours.

The president, Mrs. Johnnie Strickland, presided as the club yearbooks were filled out and the educational chairmen were appointed for 1991.

Mrs. Jean Starkey read the financial report for 1990.

Shirley read the thought of the month: "Time is one of the precious ingredients. Every day brings 86,400 seconds...Whatever isn't used is gone forever."

The club members discussed plans and projects for this year.

Get-well cards were signed by the club members to send to the sick and shut-ins in the community.

During the month of February club members will be distributing magazines to the patients at the Iuka Hospital.

The door prize was won by Shirley. Everyone enjoyed a potluck meal.

The club welcomes two (2) new members, Mrs. Betty Cain and Mrs. Kim Smith.

Others present, not already mentioned, were Ms Eva Mae Strickland, Mrs. Ruth Gatlin, Mrs. Johnnie Hopkins, and Mrs. Gail Strickland.

Rineharts Celebrate 4th Anniversary

Marty and Patsy Rinehart had a wonderful 4th anniversary on November 29, 1990. They brought their newborn son home from North Mississippi Womens Center.

They named their new son Korry Martin. He weighed 8 lbs. 4 oz. He was born at 9:48 a.m. on November 25, 1990.

Korrys mother is the former Patsy Fisher of Burnsville. His dad is William (Marty) Martin Rinehart of Rienzi.

Korrys grandparents are Bonnie Austin of Corinth, Billy Fisher of Montgomery, AL, Robert and Audrea Rinehart of Rienzi. His great grandparents are Nancy Whitaker and the late Claude Whitaker of Iuka and Lorie Rinehart and the late George Rinehart, of Rienzi.

MSU Dean's Scholars

The following Mississippi State University students from the Tishomingo County News readership area are Dean's Scholars for the 1990 fall semester.

Students included on the dean's List achieved between a 3.50 and 3.79 grade-point average (based on a 4.0 scale) while taking a minimum of 12 semester hours of course work with no incomplete grades or grades lower than a C.

The students and their families will be recognized April 21 during Scholarship Recognition Day activities on campus. The annual afternoon program in Humphrey Coliseum is sponsored by the university and the campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi national honor society.

Local MSU Dean's Scholars include: Odie Ron Hughes, Golden; Phillip A. Williams, Belmont.

Hunting Area Closure

On Friday, February 1, 1991 the Corps of Engineers will close the Jackson Camp area to hunting. Jackson Camp is located on the northwest portion of Bay Springs Lake. Over the past few years this site had been open for small game hunting. Presently, through the efforts of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks (MDWFP), a wild turkey population has been established and appears to be doing well. Since the Jackson Camp Area has historically been an area which has experienced poaching problems, this area will be closed to turkey hunting in an effort to protect the recently stocked turkey population until a huntable population is reached. Hunting will not be allowed as of Friday, February 1, 1991.

The Corps of Engineer's, Crows Neck Environmental Area located across the lake from Jackson Camp in the northeast portion of Bay Springs Lake will remain open. Also open is Corps managed land adjacent to Pool E on the west side, of the Waterway. The MDWFP also manages lands on the east and west side of the Tenn-Tom Waterway between highways 25 and 30 called the Divide Cut Wildlife Management

"Coon Dog Graveyard"

Stand do I beneath a tall oak tree,
Which over looks your leaf covered grave,
In "Coon Dog Cemetery" in Freedom Hills.
"Old Red" that's what I named you,
And you were the best coon dog in Iuka,
And every coon hunter in North Alabama knew you.
I remember that time at Bear Creek,
When you treed the granddaddy of them all,
And that old coon knew he was caught.
But, now you slumber beneath good soil,
And I come to visit each and every Saturday,
Rest easy old friends, and I'll see you again,
When we shall dream of the coon hunt.

Desert Storm Prayer

Lord be with our Troops, we pray,
In that land so far away,
Keep them safe and strong, Lord,
Until they are home to stay.

They took up the cry of battle,
On land, air and sea.
They answered the call to fight, Lord,
So all mankind can be free.

As the showdown in the Gulf continues,
And our Troops prepare to fight.
We pray you'll walk in their footsteps, Lord,
And be their guiding light.

Let them know we support them,
That their fight won't be in vain,
Show them we love and care, Lord,
While they are fighting Hussein.

A Mother holds her Bible and prays,
"where is my Child tonight".
Please keep them safe and well, Lord,
Throughout this war torn fight.

Don't let their hearts be bitter,
Walk beside them and hold their hand,
Let the Red, White and Blue keep standing, Lord,
For their freedom in the sand.

They fight to free a troubled land,
On a shore so all alone.
Just keep "Ole Glory" flying high, Lord,
And let it lead them home.

We pray you will keep America strong,
That all our hearts be warm.
Let PEACE on earth prevail, Lord,
"Bless our Troops of Desert Storm".

December Unemployment Rate Rises In State

Mississippi's labor force felt the impact of the national economic slowdown as the state's unemployment rate climbed from 7.4 percent in November to 8.0 percent in December, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Interim Executive Director Liston L. Thomasson. "This was the highest rate for Mississippi since June 1990," he said. The December unemployment rate was also well above the 6.8 percent recorded in December 1989.

"This monthly rise of 0.6 percentage points is more than any November to December rise since the 1979 rise of 0.8 percent points. At that time Mississippi was suffering significant declines in manufacturing," Thomasson said.

Mississippi's civilian labor force grew by 16,600 persons since November because there were more people employed as well as more who were unemployed. The labor force is larger by 13,100 compared to December 1989. In December fewer people were employed in agricultural jobs but more worked in non-agricultural jobs.

The state's non-agricultural establishments furnished 1,200 fewer jobs than in November but 4,100 more than in December of last year.

Manufacturing industries in Mississippi suffered a large number of layoffs with an estimated 240,000 workers holding manufacturing jobs in December. This is 2,100 below November and 2,400 below December 1989. Most manufacturing industry groups suffered losses compared to November. Industrial machinery and chemicals were the only groups to show employment gains over last month. Primary and fabricated metals and apparel were responsible for most of the over-the-year loss.

Most of the non-manufacturing gain was in wholesale and retail trade and is attributed to Christmas hiring. Mining and finance also reported small increases. Yearly gains were made in all non-manufacturing divisions except construction and finance.

"In 1991, unless world conditions improve, we can expect the regular seasonal changes with an overall rise in unemployment levels," Thomasson said. "There seems to be little to stop these economic downturns brought on by world economic conditions, factors which are beyond the influence of Mississippi leaders and employers."

A Surprise Get Together For A Former Teacher

On Tuesday evening, January 22, 1991, Mr. Lum Barnes Jr. was honored with a surprise visit from former students at his home. The surprise was kept a secret by Mrs. Barnes. The group gathered at 6:00 P.M. at the home of Sandra Berry, and made a video tape to give to Mr. Barnes. Everyone talked about the funny things that happened to them in Driver's Education Class. The group agreed that Mr. Barnes should be honored for his bravery, because he did put himself in danger trying to teach us to drive. In fact, some admitted to him that they can't drive any better today than back then. After making the tape everyone went to Mr. Barnes' home to surprise him with a cake, ice cream, and coke. The cake was decorated with a late model car with the words "Drivers Ed" written across the hood. A balloon filled with treats was also given to Mr. Barnes. The class members shared past events of school days which kept the house filled with laughter. While everyone was telling on each other the truth was revealed about Mr. Barnes' signature. His signature was on many passes that let students be excused from class to play volleyball in the gym. Rita (Orsburn) Trantham was the signature expert. She even fooled Mrs. Barnes with his signature that night. Everyone enjoyed refreshments and Mrs. Barnes was the photographer for the group. Mr. Barnes taught Driver's Ed, History, and coached basketball during our high school years. He was a teacher that you could go to and talk to about any problem you might have. He would always listen to us and advise us in a way that made us feel like he cared and was interested in us, then and now. If you ever dropped your guard, Coach Barnes' favorite past time was to trip someone in the hall and you'd be next. A special note to Coach Barnes: In school we loved and appreciated you and as we've grown our love and appreciation has grown even more. You laugh a little and sing a little As you go on your way! You work a little and play a little, You do this every day! You give a little and take a little, Never mind a frown- You make your smile a welcome thing All around the town! You laugh a little and you love a little, To you skies are always blue! Every cloud has a silver lining, And that's our best wishes to you! We love you and many Thanks.

READY—SET—GO! That is the signal to the group to start the monumental task of entering the library's 16,000 volumes and 3200 patrons into the new computer. The computer and program were purchased by the Friends of the Iuka Library. Attending the recent preparatory workshop were from left, Debbie Hudson, Assistant Librarian;

Fredda Sanderson, Librarian; Elizabeth Conaway, Director NE Regional Libraries; Bill Stahl, Friend's President, and volunteers Sherril Sweeney, Jeanette Minor, Bette Nelson, and Beth Stahl.

Delegates Chosen To Attend National Library Conference

Bette Nelson of Iuka has been elected to serve as a delegate to the National White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services in Washington, D.C., July 9 to 13, 1991. Nelson was chosen to represent the trustees/friends of the library caucus during the January 10 to 12 Mississippi Conference on Libraries and Information Services (McLIS) held in Jackson.

Over 400 library and literacy supporters attended the state conference, designed to serve as a forum on challenges facing libraries in the 90's. Nelson was selected to run as a delegate during the McLIS Region I meeting at Itawamba Community College in Tupelo on August 25.

Participants chose eight delegates and four alternates from a slate of 49. Delegates were selected from four caucuses: lay persons, government officials, trustees/friends of the library, and library professionals. Jane Hinton of Hattiesburg and Dr. Russell Burns of Brookhaven were also elected to represent the trustees/friends of the library caucus.

Nelson is both a Trustee and Friend of the Iuka Public Library. She is retired from the Mississippi Department of Human Services, a position she left in 1987. For five years, Nelson has served as chairman of the Iuka Public Library Board of Trustees. She chaired the trustees section of the Mississippi Library Association in 1990 and serves on the executive board of Friends of the Iuka Library. She helped evaluate the new Trustee Manual composed by the Mississippi Library Commission and was a member of the Resolutions Committee for McLIS. She also received the MLA Outstanding Achievement Award in 1988.

Howell - Ellis Vows To Be Exchanged March 16th

Ernie and Pat Howell, of Enterprise, AL., are happy to announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandy Leigh Howell to Mark Brian Ellis of Kansas City, MO.

The bride elects grandparents are Mrs. Corine Howell and the late Ernest Howell of Iuka and Mrs. Mary O. Cummings of Enterprise and the late J. L. Cummings, of Booneville, MS.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Larry and Betty Ellis, of Brundidge, AL. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ellis, of Brundidge, AL.

and Mrs. Beulah Corley and the late Charlie Ben Corley, of Brundidge, AL.

Miss Howell is a 1988 graduate of Enterprise High, Enterprise, AL. She is presently attending Troy State University at Dothan, AL. studying Psychology.

Mr. Ellis is a graduate of Pike Liberal Arts, Troy, AL. He graduated from the University of Alabama, with a BA degree in 1988. He is presently attending Medical School in Kansas City, MO.

Wedding vows will be exchanged on March 16, 1991 at 8:00 p.m. at the Springfield Church, Brundidge, AL.

of the Battle of Gettysburg, but observed his troops as they supported Pickett's famous charge of Little Round Top.

In the Battle of the Wilderness, General Longstreet commended Stone for bravery and offered him the rank of Major General. Colonel Stone knew that such a promotion would mean leaving his "Boys" from home for another command, which he could not bear to do. The Iuka Rifles were famed for a reckless bayonet charge where they ran out of ammunition and charged a Union position with swords and bayonets screaming the rebel yell. Though Stone went on to be Governor after the war, he has no descendants in his beloved Tishomingo County. But many residents of the county lay claim to their heroic ancestors who fought in Company K.

In World War I, the call went out again and was answered. It is said that the first allied soldier to cross into Occupied France was a soldier from Tishomingo County. Mr. C.B. Reid was one of the volunteers who went to France in 1917. He says, "I went with a Scruggs boy from Iuka, he was my good friend". Then Mr. Reid wipes a tear from his eye, "I came back... he didn't make it". Then he looks up with a look of pride in his face "but I'd go again today if I was called". At 98 he declared "YES, I'd go!"

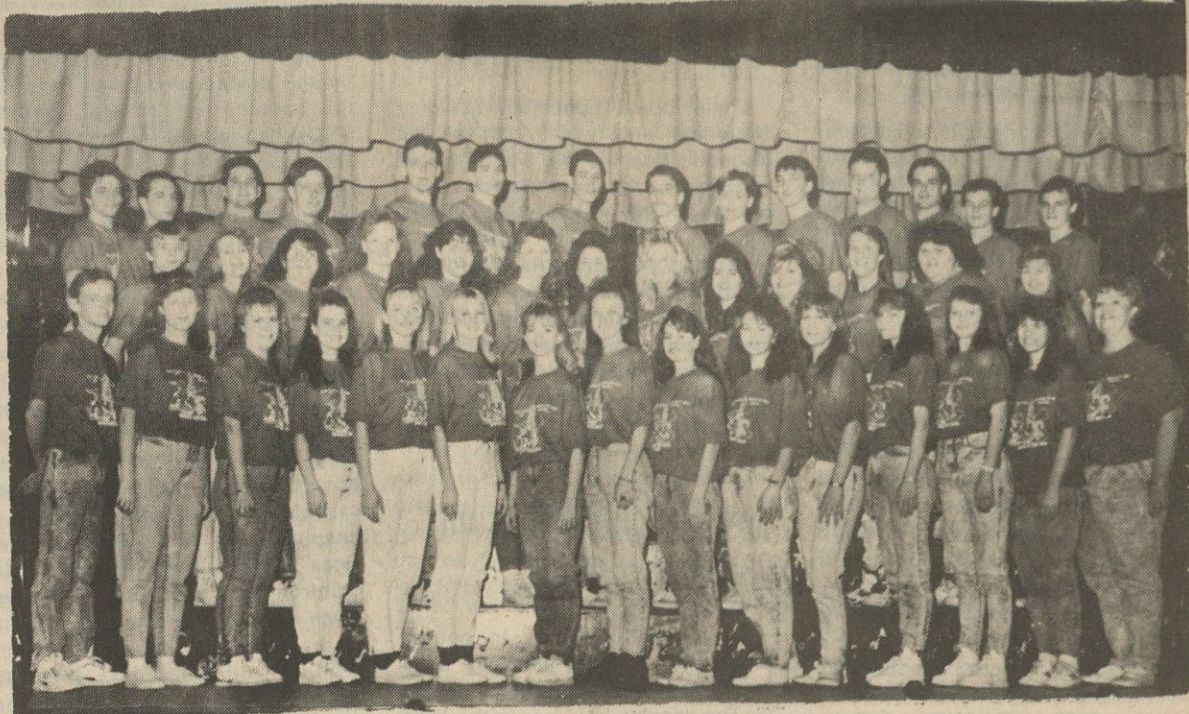

There are many veterans from WWII, Korea, Vietnam and other actions that reside in Tishomingo County. Due to limited space, articles dealing with WWII Korea and Vietnam will be published at a later date.

Now in the midst of the war in the Persian Gulf we again have men and women in harm's way. These are volunteers who are ready to make a stand for what they believe is right. To all those who serve in this conflict, wherever you serve at home or abroad, we salute you from the Old Tishomingo County Courthouse. Our hearts, prayers, and pride are with you!

WAR!
War is a word that strikes terror in the hearts of people the world over. From the beginning of time itself war has been the end result of inability to compromise. Hate, fear, and greed start wars. When the call has gone out to fight, the residents of Tishomingo County have answered.

Some people in Tishomingo County have ancestors who fought in the American Revolution. In 1812, war broke out between the fledgling United States and Britain. In 1814, General Andrew Jackson led his forces through Tishomingo County on his way to New Orleans. This place in south Tishomingo County is now marked by a church known as Jackson Camp. Among the troops Jackson led may have been General Robert Edmondson who later settled near the town of Tishomingo. He is buried in the Rutledge Salem Cemetery and has many descendants in the county today. The call went out again in the war with Mexico in 1846 and Tishomingo County again responded. A company of men were sent to fight from the then county seat of Cincinnati. When the veterans returned from the war, a controversy had arisen over naming the county seat after an established northern city. The veterans urged that the county seat bare the name "Jacinto" after the fierce battle of San Jacinto.

In April of 1861, Company K of the Second Mississippi Infantry was formed. John M. Stone was elected captain and commander of the unit known as the Iuka Rifles. Company K was in for the duration. They began at the first battle of Bull Run and laid down their arms at Appomattox. The unit was noted for its fierce fighting ability at Antietam (Sharpsburg), Second Bull Run and Fredericksburg.

Captain Stone was promoted to Colonel by election replacing General Faulkner of Oxford (William Faulkner's grandfather). Colonel Stone was wounded on the first day

A teacher asked, "If I happened to see a man beating a donkey and made him stop, what virtue would I show?"

"Brotherly love," answered Billy.

If there's one thing that's needed today, it's brotherly love. But love isn't an emotion based upon compassion. It's an affection based upon the new creation. It's something born of God.

Love is the foundation of the home, for affection is the beginning of marriage. And love is the foundation of the nation, for patriotism is love of country.

Love is a gift from God. Take it, let it grow!

Love is a sign you should wear, let it show!

Love is an act, do it, let it go!

New Vaccine Program Could Save Lives

Public health nurses in county health departments statewide launched a new vaccine program January 28. The vaccine could save the lives of at least four Mississippi children this year and prevent illness in some 60 more.

The vaccine protects children from two months of age from Haemophilus influenzae type b (Hib), the most common cause of meningitis in children.

A one-time allocation of federal funds enabled the Mississippi state Department of Health to purchase enough vaccine to start the four-dose immunization schedule this month. But without additional money from the state -- about $674,000 -- the immunizations might have to be discontinued after June.

"The federal funds covered only the cost of about a six-month supply of vaccine," said State Epidemiologist Dr. Ed Thompson. "What we need now is enough money to continue giving the vaccine in fiscal year 1992, which begins July 1."

Thompson said the vaccine means more Mississippi children will live to lead healthier lives.

"In an average year, about 90 children suffer from Hib Meningitis, some 60 of them under 15 months of age," he said. "Five of those children die. With this vaccine, four of them don't have to."

Seventy percent of Hib meningitis cases occur in children younger than 15 months. This vaccine provides for immunizations at two months, four months, six months, and a booster at 15 months.

Thompson stressed the vaccine has been licensed for children under 15 months only since October. Even though private physicians have had the vaccine for several months, MSDH had to wait for money to buy and offer it.

Costs of Hib meningitis in the state go even farther than the lives of the five children who routinely die each year. Fifteen to 30 percent of children who survive will have some permanent neurological damage, such as deafness and mental retardation. In fact, Hib meningitis is the leading cause of acquired mental retardation.

Almost all cases of Hib meningitis require prolonged and expensive hospital stays. Collectively, these cases account for almost $400,000 in hospital costs alone. Physician services and long-term health care for children with permanent damage place even greater financial burdens on the families and the state.

"Unlike other diseases, race and economics aren't major risk factors for Hib meningitis," Thompson said. "All children are at risk."

Hib meningitis in small children begins with a sudden fever accompanied by a stiff neck, lethargy, and irritability. Parents may also notice a bulge on the "soft spot" of a baby's head.

While MSDH can't provide treatment for the children once they contract Hib meningitis, the agency does provide preventive medicine to families and close contacts after the disease occurs.

Thompson cautioned that the vaccine -- like any other vaccine -- isn't 100 percent effective, though he believes it is well over 90 percent effective. And some children may contract the disease before their immunity develops, even if they are taking the scheduled shots.

"But," he said, "we can prevent at least half the deaths each year, probably closer to three-fourths. It all comes down to what you think the life of a child is worth. Are the lives of four Mississippi children each year worth $674,000?"

For more information about the vaccine and how to have a child vaccinated, readers may contact their county health department.

Ask Ochsner

Q. I understand that blood tests can indicate a person's allergies. How is this determined?

A. For the past 15 years blood tests have been available to determine the presence of allergy-causing antibodies in a person's system, says Dr. John Erffmeyer, Ochsner Clinic of Baton Rouge allergist.

Two types of blood tests are used. The first measures the presence of the antibody immunoglobulin E. A high level indicates a high possibility of a person being allergic, although the specific allergy causing agent, such as mold or pollen, is not indicated through this screening test.

Although infrequently used, the immunoglobulin E. test can be helpful as a research tool to assess the allergic potential of young children. For example, if there is a family history of allergies, an infant's umbilical cord blood can be tested. "If a high level of the antibody is reported," says Dr. Erffmeyer, "breast feeding would be recommended to the mother and special precautions would have to be taken when introducing new foods."

IUKA/BALDWINY GAME
Tuesday, January 22, Iuka hosted Baldwin in a district game. The Iuka Boys came up on the short end of an 87-72 score. Baldwin was led by Grant Gardner who scored 25 points, including 22 in the second half. Chris Barnett had 19, Wesley McKay 14, and Wayne Lucas 11. Iuka trailed at halftime 39-28 but cut the lead to only 5 points in the 4th quarter. Baldwin scored 30 points in the final period to seal the victory. William Hawkins was the leading scorer for the Chieftains with 22, Ronald Jones had 20 and Richie Harrelson had 16. Iuka was 2 of 4 from the free throwline and Baldwin was 21 of 29.

65-56 LOSS
In the girls game Walnut won by a score of 65-56. The Lady Chieftains did stay close trailing only by 7 points at halftime 28-21. Kelley Rutledge had 10 first half points for Iuka. Rutledge finished with 20 points to lead the Lady Chiefs. Tammi Johnson contributed 16 points and Janet Long scored 10. Iuka was 18 of 31 in freethrows. Melinda Mathis led the Wildcats with 18 points. Taneala Adams had 16 and Amanda Gibbans scored 12. The Iuka/Booneville game has been moved to Thursday January 31 at Iuka.

94 to 87 VICTORY
Last Thursday the Chieftains traveled to Walnut and came home with a 94-87 victory. The Chieftains are now 16-8 on the season. For three quarters Iuka played it's best basketball of the year. But in the fourth quarter a hot shooting spree by Walnut and a defensive letdown by the Chieftains caused a 20 point Iuka lead to fall to a 2 point Iuka advantage. Iuka led after 1 quarter 29-23. The Chieftains were led by a red hot William Hawkins who scored 20 points in the first half for a 51-38 halftime lead. Hawkins finished with 36 points followed by Laron Hargrove with 19, Richie Harrelson and Bozie Garland had 12 points each, and Ronald Jones scored 11.

49 to 46 LOSS
In the girls game Iuka lost in a close one to Baldwin 49-46, and had a chance to win it at the end but the rally fell short. Baldwin led at halftime 25-21. The Chieftains were led by Kelley Rutledge with 17 points. Tammi Johnson had 11 and Susan Daniel Scored 8. The Lady Chieftains were 20 of 31 from the free throwline. For Baldwin Denise Hastings and Shawne Dilworth had 12 points each. Heather Hill scored 9 points.

Could It Strike Someone You Know?

Lung disease is not selective; it can strike anyone—even babies. The Mississippi Lung Association, the Christmas Seal People, shares a special concern about this important health issue. An estimated 23.7 million Americans suffer from some form of chronic respiratory disease, and the death rate is rising faster than in any other major disease category and the economic costs add up to about $45 billion each year. Lung cancer is the leading cancer killer in the U.S., occupational lung disease is the major cause of work-related illness; asthma is the number one cause of disability in children; and lung disease is the third most common cause of death and disability in America. Research to find new means of prevention and treatment is vital to prevent premature deaths resulting from lung disease. Patient services are necessary for those who suffer with lung problems. Your Christmas Seal gift will help provide patient services, education and medical research to prevent and control lung diseases and respiratory problems for Mississippians of all ages. The annual Christmas Seal campaign for funds to support "Life and breath saving" services in Mississippi is underway. Livestocks Need For Water - Water is as important as forage in the production of livestock. Clean water and ample forage are essential for livestock to be finished out for market. Inadequate stock water developments in pasture contribute to instability in the livestock industry and to serious livestock losses, and encourage overgrazing near existing water. Not only must enough watering places be developed for stock needs but they must be properly distributed in relation to available forage. Enough watering places in pastures encourage more uniform grazing, facilitate pasture improvement practices, and retard erosion. They may also enable farmers to make profitable use for pasture of soil-conserving crops and erodible, steep areas unfit for producing cultivated crops. The following tabulation of the average daily consumption of water by different kinds of livestock is a guide for estimating your water needs.

Beef cows and horses.....	12-15 gallons of water per day
Dairy cows.....	12-15 gallons of water per day
Hogs.....	2-4 gallons of water per day
Goats.....	2-4 gallons of water per day

What To Expect When Visiting Corps Campground

By: Charles Parker

January is typically a cold, wet, gloomy time of the year when outdoor activities are limited, but Spring is just around the corner. As March rolls in, almost everyone tends to get excited about the fact that springtime brings a rejuvenation of nature and a rekindling of the spirits of mankind.

What better way is there to enjoy this beautiful time of year than going on a camping trip at a Corps of Engineers Campground? Springtime will mark a significant turning point in recreation areas available along the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. Two new camping areas, Blue Bluff Recreation Area, location at Aberdeen Lock and Dam west bank; and Town Creek Campground, located three miles off highway 50 West in Clay County, will be available for camping and other outdoor activities. This will make a total of five campgrounds on the Tenn-Tom Waterway. The existing area are: Cochrane (Gainesville Lake), Fulton Recreation Area (Pool C) and Piney Grove Recreation Area (Bay Springs Lake).

For those campers who may not be familiar with Corps operated campgrounds, the following information should be helpful to those visiting these areas.

There is an entrance station, or "gate house" at each campground. At the gate house, gate attendants are on duty from about 6:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. These people (usually retired couples) are responsible for welcoming visitors, collecting fees, opening and closing gates, assisting in emergencies and providing various types of information to campers to insure that their stay is a pleasant one.

Fees are charged for overnight camping and use of picnic shelters when reserved. Campers should contact one of the Corps offices listed at the end of this article for specific fees.

All Corps campgrounds contain "Class A" facilities. At "Class A" sites there are water and electrical hook-ups, a picnic table, fire ring, lantern hanger (please don't use trees for this purpose), trash can, and a grill. "Class A" sites are suitable for either the self-contained camper unit or a tent. In each camping loop there is a modern wash house which has restrooms, showers, and a laundry room -- all handicapped accessible. Primitive campsites for tent campers are also available at three of the campgrounds.

Corps campgrounds also provide many other facilities for the camper to enjoy. Boat ramps exclusively for campers, swimming beaches, bike trails, hiking trails, multiuse courts, picnic shelters, playgrounds, fish cleaning stations, and fishing piers are available in most campgrounds.

In most campgrounds there is an amphitheater where various interpretive programs are presented by the Corps Rangers. These programs cover a wide range of topics such as natural and cultural history, outdoor safety, water safety, nature hikes, slide & film shows, games and music, and a host of others.

For security purposes gate attendants close the gates to the area at 10:00 p.m. These gates stay closed throughout the night. Local sheriff and police departments frequently patrol the Corps recreation areas. Corps Rangers also patrol areas and have radio contact with the gate attendants and local law enforcement agencies.

The recreation areas along the Tenn-Tom were specially chosen to provide the visitor with some of the best scenic views on the Waterway.

Wildlife is abundant and can be seen regularly. White tail deer, wild turkey and all kinds of small animals make their homes within park areas. For those who still cannot believe the Tennessee-Tombigbee would ever be anything but a dream, just sit back in the cool shade of a campsite and get a close-up view of a majestic river boat with barges, chugging slowing along the river.

Plan to go camping this year and discover what nature has to offer. For further information about recreation on the Waterway, contact your nearest Corps of Engineers Resource Office. Bay Springs Office, 601-454-3481; Tom Bevil Visitor's Center, 205-373-8705, or the Waterway Management Center, 601-327-2142.

Benefits From FmHA Programs

More than $188.3 million in loans and grants was made available in Mississippi for farming, rural residences, community facilities, and business development during fiscal year 1990 by the Farmers Home Administration, according to James B. Huff, Sr., FmHA state director for Mississippi.

Farm lending amounted to $108.6 million through 1036 loans. The bulk of these loans went for short-term operating purposes--864 loans for $82.6 million. An additional 116 loans amounting to $21.9 million went to buy or enlarge farms or make major improvements in them. Loans also were made to 59 farmers and ranchers who suffered losses due to natural disasters. These loans amounted to $4.1 million. Funds also were made available for soil and water loans, Indian land acquisition, and state mediation program.

"Our farm loans are taking on a new character," said Mr. Huff. "Once again the percentage of farm loans made by private lenders with an FmHA guarantee has increased. In addition, we have assisted large numbers of minority and socially disadvantaged borrowers through our outreach program and through the limited resource program."

Under the rural housing program, lending amounted to more than $66.3 million through 2229 loans. Most of these loans provided single family homes for low-income families who otherwise could not have purchased a home. Nearly 2205 single-family housing loans were made for $48.3 million. An additional $18 million was made available for rental housing which provided more than 513 apartments for rural residents. The agency's housing funds also provided housing repairs, site development and the preservation of homes in rural areas.

In the community facilities program, 68 loans and grants for $13.7 million were made for water and waste disposal systems. An additional 4 loans for $3.7 million were made for other community facilities, such as medical facilities, fire and rescue stations, libraries, and community buildings. Funds also were used for rural development loans and grants, watershed and flood prevention loans, and resource conservation and development loans.

In the business and industry program, 3 loans were made for $3.8 million. The B&I program operates primarily through loan guarantees with banks providing loans and FmHA serving as a guarantor. "This keeps federal outlays at a minimum and makes private lenders an integral part of rural development," Mr. Huff said.

"This four-phase program provides a well-round package of assistance for rural citizens," said Mr. Huff. "Farm loans supplement credit from local lenders. Housing loans provide homes for low-income families. Community facility loans permit communities to provide clean water, efficient waste disposal systems, and other amenities for their citizens, and the B&I program provides off-farm employment opportunities."

Attention Veterans

You are cordially invited to become a member of the elite and prestigious Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). If you have served our great nation in an overseas conflict, you have earned the special honors and privileges that are exclusive to VFW membership. As a veteran who answered our country's call, you stood proud on foreign soil defending freedom and liberties, not only for these great United States; but, for Nations around the globe.

Your service is needed again, with one exception. This time, the "Battle" is on American soil. The battle is in the legislative halls in Jackson, Mississippi and Washington, D.C.; as members of Congress, many who never served in the military, continue to cut veterans entitlements, benefits and VA Hospital care.

We are losing the battle because we have given up the fight, and because anyone can defeat a soldier lying helpless, as thousands of our comrades are doing in clinics and hospitals all across the Nation.

We must act now to ensure that our Nation does not turn its back on men and women who even today are serving in foreign lands.

Congress understands strength in numbers. I urge you to join the ranks to over two million VFW members united in the battle of our organization's motto of: "HONOR THE DEAD BY HELPING THE LIVING". To apply for membership, contact your local VFW Post or call (601) 352-8904.

For those who have not renewed their 1991 membership, please do so now. Remember, our chief weapon of effectiveness is our numbers.

Sincerely in Comradeship,
Billy Ray White,
State of Mississippi
VFW Commander

Satisfied With Governmental Services?

Satisfied with the governmental services you are receiving? Mississippians should be, based on the number of state and local government employees on hand to provide such services.

There is, in Mississippi, one state or local government employee for every 14.2 citizens, according to information from the U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. Census Bureau.

That's a greater number of public servants per resident than is available to citizens in 35 other states. In other words, Mississippi ranks fifteenth in the nation in the number of state and local government employees, based on population.

As the Mississippi Legislature struggles with the state budget, trying to make up an anticipated $100 million shortfall, and as local governments wrestle with growing budget needs, governmental officials would do well to examine the growth of government.

The fact that state and local governments in Mississippi have added over 16,000 employees to public payrolls in the past five years may need review.

After a discussion of the subject, Alderman Scotty Skinner offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF IUKA, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF SAID MUNICIPALITY IN THE MAXIMUM PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF ONE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1,725,000) TO RAISE MONEY FOR THE PURPOSE OF REPAIRING, IMPROVING AND EXTENDING THE WATERWORKS DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM AND CONSTRUCTING A NEW WATERWORKS PLANT, AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.

WHEREAS, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Iuka, Mississippi (the "Governing Body"), acting for and on behalf of the said City of Iuka, Mississippi (the "Municipality"), hereby finds, determines, adjudicates and declares as follows:

American Academy Of Optometry

Dr. Jack Hora, of Corinth, MS, was among over 2000 professionals in the eye care field from the United States and 15 foreign countries who attended the 1990 meeting of the American Academy of Optometry in Nashville, Tennessee.

The five-day meeting featured over 180 hours of educational seminars, workshops, and lectures and over 400 original research papers on vision science.

Research papers dealing with laser technology, ultraviolet radiation, long term contact lens wear, and glaucoma were highlights of the combined research-educational meeting. Many of the advances introduced at previous Academy meetings have become accepted technology and procedure.

Founded in 1922, the American Academy of Optometry maintains and enhances excellence in optometric practice by fostering research and the dissemination of knowledge in vision science.

Fellowship in the Academy is a cherished and significant achievement held by only 10 percent of the optometrists in the United States and Canada. The 3800-member professional organization promotes quality vision and eye care worldwide. It has members in the United States and 28 other countries.

Dr. Hora has been a member of the American Academy of Optometry for 20 years.

If You Need HOSPITAL & SURGICAL Coverage
...there is an insurance plan you should review. Given today's high cost of hospital and surgical expenses, families and individuals cannot afford to be without health insurance protection. Globe Life offers coverage to persons age 9-64 for hospital and surgical care with low out-of-pocket expenses up front. Consider these Globe advantages.
1. Guaranteed Renewable Protection—Your coverage can never be cancelled for any reason as long as premiums are paid to age 65.
2. No reduction in Benefits for Certain Conditions—Most pre-existing conditions may be covered after six months if you qualify.
3. Family-Rates—Significant reduced family rates apply when two or more family members are insured.
Based on an analysis of actual billed charges and claims paid, Globe Life's health policies offer customers what they want and need most: quality protection for hospital expenses with outpatient benefits at a reasonable price.

ASCS Farm News

ACP SIGNUP UNDERWAY

The sign-up period for Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) practices began January 28, at the Tishomingo County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and will continue through February 8, 1991. Phillip A. Horn, CED of the ASCS office, said cost-share requests for annual, long-term and pooled agreements may be made during this period.

Now that winter practices are completed producers may want to begin plans for spring practices, or consider applying necessary conservation practices on acreage conservation reserve land during the coming season.

The ACP provides both technical and financial assistance to help farmers solve critical soil, water and pollution problems on their land. Cost-share funds are used to correct serious conservation problems on a farm beyond that which would be accomplished with the producer's own resources.

Approximately 250 ACP applications were approved in 1990 to treat conservation problems on 1,500 acres of Tishomingo County farmland. Eligible ACP practices include Permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment, Terrace Systems, Cropland Protective Cover, Permanent Vegetative Cover on critical Areas, Contour Farming, No-Till Systems, Water Impoundment Reservoirs, Sediment Retention, Erosion, or Water Control Structures, Stream Protection, Sod Waterways, Animal Waste Control Facility, Permanent Wildlife Habitat, Forest Tree Plantations, Forest Tree Stand Improvement, and Site Preparation for Natural Regeneration.

ASCS considers ACP requests after each sign-up period and evaluates them as to the loss of soil and water, and the amount that can be saved by performing the requested practice. Funds will be directed towards high priority practices as established by the local county committee. Cost-shares will be approved based on erosion needs. A current soil test must be submitted for the area where a permanent vegetative cover will be established.

A current soil test is a test required within the last 12 months. Soil sample boxes are available at the Tishomingo County ASCS office and the County Agent's office. Soil tests must be done by the Mississippi State Soil Testing Laboratory or a laboratory approved by the Mississippi State Soil Testing Laboratory. Producers who have critical soil water and/or pollution problems on their farm should contact the local ASCS office as soon as possible.
