Waterfalls Scene Of Arrests By Officers

A Memorial Day holiday surveillance led to several arrests at a favorite site on the Mississippi side of the Tennessee River by law officers.

Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department officers were joined by agents from Tennessee Valley Authority Public Safety, Coleman State Park Rangers, Tupelo SWAT team, Mississippi Game and Fish Commission, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and the Iuka Police Canine Unit on Friday night, May 22, in a vigil at the area known locally as "the waterfall."

Johnny Nunley, Tishomingo County Sheriff, said that the waterfall cove, located north of J.P. Coleman State Park, used to be a popular family place, but the Sheriff's Department had been getting complaints about the unlawful activities going on there for a while. "We are trying to get it back for the families," Nunley said.

On Saturday, approximately 200-250 boats traveled into the area, according to Nunley. The boats encircled the waterfall inlet, eight and 10 abreast.

The collaborated surveillance, which continued through Monday night, May 25, led to seven arrests involving illegal alcohol and drugs. Sheriff Nunley named the suspects and their charges as follows:

Donald Chissom, 19, Route 1, Dumas. Chissom was charged with public drunkenness, possession of less than one ounce of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Jeff Massey, 22, Route 1, Dumas. Massey was charged with public drunkenness and possession of less than one ounce of marijuana. He was released on $1,500 bond.

Chadrick Smith, 20, Route 1, Dumas. Smith was charged with public drunkenness, possession of beer, possession of less than one ounce of marijuana and possession of a firearm. He was released on $1,500 bond.

Jimmy Love, 36, Route 1, Sheffield, AL. Love was charged with public drunkenness and interfering with a police officer. He was released on $600 bond.

Earl Pritchard, 22, Route 1, Dumas. Pritchard was charged with public drunkenness, possession of beer and possession of a Schedule V controlled substance. He remained in custody Monday in lieu of $5,400 bond.

Roger Mercer, 36, 1501 Forrest St. Tupelo. Mercer was charged with possession of beer, possession of whiskey, resisting arrest, failure to obey a police officer, destroying county property and escape. He remained in custody Monday in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Frank Leggins, 36, Route 1, Belden. Leggins was charged with possession of beer, possession of whiskey, public drunkenness, failure to obey a police officer and escape. He was released on $1,500 bond.

According to Tishomingo County Investigator Terry Jones, Mercer and Leggins were put into a patrol vehicle when they escaped. They were apprehended later that night. Damage was done to the vehicle during the escape, he said.

Home Economics Tips

By: Barbara Guinn,
Extension Home Economist
THAW MEAT CORRECTLY

Most foodborne illness is caused by bacteria that multiply rapidly in foods at temperatures between 60 and 125 degrees F. Foods that are potentially hazardous for bacteria growth must be handled properly to prevent foodborne illness.

Meats require special care in thawing. Do not thaw meat, poultry or fish on the counter. Bacteria can multiply rapidly at room temperature.

The safest way to thaw meat, poultry or fish is in the refrigerator. Place the package in a leak-proof container and place in the refrigerator immediately after removing it from the freezer. Thawing in the refrigerator takes extra time. A large cut of meat or poultry may take one to two days, so extra planning in meal preparation is a must.

Because of our busy lifestyles, thawing food in the refrigerator may not always be practical. For faster thawing, put the package in a water-tight bag submerged in cold water. Change the water every 30 minutes. The cold water temperatures slows bacterial growth that may occur on the outer thawed portions while the inner areas are still thawing.

The microwave oven is another option for quick, safe defrosting. Follow the manufacturer's directions for your individual microwave. Cook foods defrosted in the microwave oven immediately after thawing.

Another option is to omit the thawing step completely and begin cooking the meat, poultry or fish that is still frozen. It will require about 1 1/2 times longer to cook a frozen product than in will the same cut when thawed.

REPORTING FOODBORNE ILLNESS

Despite your best efforts, you or your family could get food poisoning. Most foodborne illness result from meals at home. Others are caused by mistakes in large-scale food handling. What steps should you take if you think you have foodborne illness?

If you are only mildly ill, treat the

Lomenick Certified As Fire Investigator--George Dale, Commissioner of Insurance, (right) is shown presenting a Certificate of Graduation as a Certified Fire Investigator to Deputy Sheriff Trip Lomenick of Tishomingo County Sheriff's Office. The County Fire Investigator training, sponsored by the Department of Insurance and State Fire Marshal's Office, for 1992 concluded with graduation of 31 investigators from across the State.

Every County Sheriff's Department is required to have a Certified Fire Investigator in order for the county to receive a share of the State's fire insurance rebate funds for rural fire protection. The cooperative efforts of the County Sheriff Departments and The State Fire Marshal's Office are proving to be a vital link in the criminal justice system in the fight against the crime of arson in the State of Mississippi.

symptoms pretty much like the flu. Keep up your liquid intake with water, tea, juices, bullion and ginger ale to replace fluids that may be lost through diarrhea or vomiting.

If symptoms are severe, or if the victim is young, pregnant, elderly or has a chronic illness, see your doctor immediately or seek hospital care. Foodborne illness can potentially result in death for the young, pregnant, developing fetus, elderly and those with a compromised immune system.

The three situations in which you should notify your local health authorities are: if you ate the suspect food at a large gathering; if the food is from a restaurant, delicatessen or commercial kitchen; or if the suspect food is a commercial product.

When you call the local health department, you need to be ready to give your name, address, daytime phone number and a brief explanation of the problem.

If the suspect food is a commercial product, try to have the container in hand so you can refer to it. Many products show a lot or batch number vital in getting to the root of the problem.

After you have reported the incident, wrap the product in a plastic bag and place it on ice or in the refrigerator in a secure container marked "DANGER". Write down the name of the food, when it was consumed, and the date of the illness. Store the container in a location where it will not be mistaken for edible food. Keep it away from other foods, children and pets.

The sample may be useful to medical personnel treating the illness. Health officials may want to examine the product and its container to see if a product recall is necessary.

Senator Lott Presented With U.S. Merchant Marine Academy Crest

U.S. Senator Trent Lott has been presented with the United States Merchant Marine Academy crest in recognition for his work with the academy.

Lott, ranking member on the Senate Merchant Marine Subcommittee, was given the honor from Captain Warren G. Leback, administrator of the U.S. Maritime Administration, for his participation on the Congressional Board of Visitors to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

"I am honored to receive the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy's crest and feel very fortunate to be able to advise the school on matters of operation," Lott said. "The Academy helps to preserve and strengthen America's merchant marine fleet by producing top-notch graduates who control the shipping lanes for the United States. The future of our nation's international trade operations depends on their success."

The Congressional Board of Visitors advises the Secretary of Transportation on the Academy's operation.

Penny L. Eastman, the Maritime Administration's deputy maritime administrator for inland waterways and Great Lakes who participated in the presentation ceremony, expressed her gratitude for the Senator's active role, and said, "Senator Lott's participation in the school's activities is invaluable in the development of our young men and women as they strive to become officers in the U.S. Merchant Marine."

Located in Kings Point, N.Y., the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy is one of five federal service academies. It trains officers for the American merchant marine, which operates the nation's commercial cargo ships in peacetime and serves as a military auxiliary in war time.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY, OPTOMETRIST

TV AND YOUR EYES

Your favorite TV show is on the screen, but why is the picture out of focus? Maybe it's not the picture. Maybe it's your eyes.

While it's true that watching TV is not harmful to the eyes, watching TV for long periods of time can cause eye fatigue. To avoid this, you should follow a few simple recommendations: Do not sit any closer to the TV than 6 to 8 feet. Since television watching does not exercise all visual skills, limit it to a few hours daily. You should also not sit in the dark. There should be some light in the room, but not so much that it washes out the TV picture. Make sure that the light is set so that it doesn't cause a reflection or glare in the TV screen.

The set should be in perfect focus. If you've done all you can to get a clear picture but still have trouble seeing it well, then perhaps it's time for an eye examination. Your optometrist can make sure you're where you belong -- back in the picture.

The Pediatrician's Corner

TOXIC SHOCK SYNDROME
TSS was first recognized in 1978. Almost all of the young women infected has been under the age of thirty, who have used tampons during their periods. The exact cause of TSS has not been pinpointed, although researchers believe staphylococcus aureus bacteria is involved. The theory most widely accepted now is that the bacteria produces a toxin which causes the illness.

A high absorbency tampon call RELY was associated with many of the cases of TSS in 1980. The manufacturer of that product voluntarily took it off the market. TSS is on the decrease and it remains a rare disease, about twenty cases per month in the United States. Although it is still a problem, the alarm associated with tampon use has declined. Nevertheless, if you are a young woman who uses tampons, be sure to change them frequently. You should use the lowest absorbency tampon appropriate. Some doctors recommend that girls wear pads at night.

The initial symptoms of TSS include fever of about 102° or higher, a feeling of faintness, vomiting, diarrhea, chills, headaches, sore throat, a sunburn type rash, and even a vaginal discharge. If you should experience any of these symptoms while using tampons, you should immediately remove the tampon and call your doctor. If the physician suspects TSS, he or she will prescribe antibiotics and probably recommend intravenous replacement of lost bodily fluids.

Although TSS is now relatively uncommon, it's still a serious and potentially fatal infection.

TCHS Braves Baseball

THE TISHOMINGO COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL BRAVES HAD GREAT SEASON. The Braves bowed out of the State play-offs last week but had a great season. The Braves finished the season with a 40-9 record, second best ever in high school baseball. This year's senior class set a National Record for wins as a class with 156 wins since the 9th grade. TCHS seniors playing their last game as a Brave were Richy Harrelson, Shaune Holiday, Ronald Jones, Chris Cornelson, Kevin Grimes, Kevin Senter, Michael Osborn, and Doug Johnson. John (Woody) McKinney also a senior was the Braves manager.

Congratulations to Coach Jerry Long and Coach Donny Davis for a great season. These two young men did a great job this year and we are looking forward to watching them coach the Braves next year.

The Braves returning next year are Juniors Ben McNally and Robert Luttrell, Sophomores Glenn Tapp, Jamal Mitchell, Zack DePoyster, Chad Marlar, Scott Marlin, Jason Slack, and Forrest Wright.

The Coaches and Players would like to thank all the loyal Brave fans who supported them all season long. They have played in rain, sleet, snow, and even hot weather. No team could be more blessed than the Braves for the loyal fans they had this season. This is the end of another great baseball season, but just remember next season is not all that far off.

To all you seniors who have won 211 games and lost 57 in your career we will miss you very much. We wish you the very best in life and hope you can get back and watch the Braves play next season. Again a BIG THANK-YOU for all the MEMORIES, WE LOVE YOU ALL.

Sardis Church News

By: Ova Reno

We sure had a nice weekend. Sunday, our special guest at church was Ms. Myra Norris from Nashville, TN. Her special did our hearts good and we enjoyed her visit very much. Sardis is Myra's former home place. Sunday night, Sardis Church visited Mt. Glory to hear Bro. Milton Phifer preach. We thought we would surprise him; but he said when Bro. John didn't ask everyone back Sunday night, he knew what we planned to do.

Bro. John's message Sunday was taken from Ephesians 3:13-21 verse 20. Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us. Bro. Milton Phifer's sermon Sunday night was centered on how parents raised their children. That they should be raised in church.

Where is Liberty to be found? Read 2nd Corinthians 3:17. What is mans reasonable service?

Ed and Faye Clingan Norris visited Herman and I, Friday. John and Christen Clingan came Saturday. They are all from Nauvoo, AL. My brother Kermit and Opal Osborn from Florence, AL visited us Sunday afternoon. What a pleasure it was to see them all!

Where shall I work?

Where shall I work? Father, where shall I work today? And my love flowed warm and free. Then He painted me out a humble sput, and said, "Tend that for me." "I answered quickly," oh, no, not that! Why no one would ever see, no matter how well my work was done; not that little place for me! "The word He spoke, it was not stern; He answered me tenderly; ah, little one, search thine heart; art thou working for them or me? Nazareth was a little place, and

How Does God Save?

"Without faith it is impossible to please Him, for he who comes must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who seek Him." (Heb. 11:6) Those who do not try to please God will not be rewarded. But how does God save? How does He make Himself available to who seek? Certainly finding and pleasing God is possible.

God could miraculously "zap" people with some sort of experience, a vision, a bright light from heaven, or a tingling feeling all over the body. But the experiences were not saved because they were not the experiences. Rather, they were saved by obeying the word. (1 Pet. 2:3) And such experiences then were the exception, not the rule.

God provided a means of saving - Christ died in our stead. (John 1:29) Then He arranged for the news to be spread. (Mark 16:15) He pleased God by...preaching to save them that believe." (1 Cor. 2:21)

When those who had clamored for Christ's death learned of the apostles' message already, they were commanded to "Repent, and be baptized." (Acts 2:38) God requires that sinners change their practices. "Godly sorrow works repentance to salvation." (II Cor. 7:10)

Baptism changes a person's state from lost to saved. It puts a person to Christ. (Gal. 3:27) It washes away sin. (Acts 22:16) It saves. (I Pet. 3:21) There is a way a person can be right with God. Folks can speculate, and hope about what God wants. His word teaches belief, repenting, and baptism. Certainly God will be pleased by those who come to Christ.

A Special Mother's Day

A local mother received a special Mother's Day present when she was reunited with her son that she had not seen in 20 years.

Frances Blakney, of Iuka, was visited by her son Danny after he was contacted by her other children.

Danny was born when Frances was 15, but a divorce prevented her from seeing him as much as she would have liked. Finally after a while, the mother and son lost contact.

Frances' other eight children realized how much their mother wanted to see Danny so, as a part of their present to her for her 50th birthday, they began their search. Their search ended in Kansas City, Missouri. Danny agreed to come on Mother's Day.

Danny said that he had never felt the love that he felt at his mother's home. All of Frances' children were there for the reunion.

Frances now has the joy of not only seeing her son, but also two grandchildren that she did not know she had.
