ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTEEN YEARS

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1997 NO. 1

Honor Dads This Sunday

On Father's Day we think about how our dad encouraged and inspired us throughout our lives. How their love and support and genuine enthusiasm for our accomplishments provided the opportunities and strength for us to grow and become the person we are today.

As families come together this Sunday to pay tribute to fathers everywhere, we at the Tishomingo County News wish for them happiness and a fun-filled day spent with their loved ones.

The Pruitt family has been doubly-blessed and has much to be thankful for this year. They will be celebrating Father's Day with two new additions to the family - Joshua Cole and Jakob Dylan Pruitt. The twins were born May 7, 1997, and are sleeping securely in the arms of their father, Billy Pruitt. Also with the twins and their dad are their grandfather, Jessie Pruitt, and great-grandfather, Vester Pruitt.

Double blessings are nothing new for the Pruitts, Vester is a twin himself, and the father of six children, fourteen grandchildren, and thirteen great-grandchildren. Jessie is married to a twin, and is the father of four and grandfather of six.

The birth of little Joshua and Jakob was a blessed event for their parents, Billy and Kim (Curtis) Pruitt. They have been welcomed home by grandparents Mike and Debbie Curtis of Nashville, TN and Jessie & Peggy Pruitt of Tishomingo. Also celebrating their births are great-grandparents C. I. and Wanda Puckett of Iuka; Gladys and Austin Curtis of Iuka; Letress Ward and the late B. O. Ward of Tishomingo; and Vester and Mavious Pruitt of Iuka.

Circuit Court Jury Finds Bonds Not Guilty in 1993 Tigner Death

by Pamela McRae

After almost four years, a grand jury indictment, and now a trial by a jury of his peers, Tim Bonds has been found not guilty of manslaughter by culpable negligence in the death of Frankie Tigner, a young Iuka mother who was killed when Bonds' truck left County Road 321 shortly after midnight on October 1, 1993.

The trial, which began with jury selection all morning Monday, lasted until the final closing arguments ended at noon Tuesday. Jurors deliberated about two and a half hours to come to a unanimous verdict of not guilty.

Before the jury entered the courtroom, Circuit Court Judge Barry Ford warned that anyone making any type of outburst when the verdict was read would immediately be jailed, but when the clerk read "not guilty", the many family members present from both sides could hardly restrain themselves, though they were quickly hushed.

Assistant District Attorney Jim Pounds, in closing arguments, held that the physical evidence demonstrated the excessive speed that contributed to the seriousness of the wreck, and that Bonds, by driving at such speeds and in an intoxicated state, while the Tigners shouted and begged him to slow down, displayed a "total disregard for human life."

Defense attorney John White argued that there was a conflict of evidence and in the testimonies of Randy Tigner, Frankie's husband who was also a passenger with Bonds and Frankie in Bonds' truck, and Keith Whipple and Barry McWilliams, who were both in the truck that was following Bonds when the accident occurred. All three testified to being intoxicated, after an evening party at Coleman Park, and then a few hours at the Harbor, a bar just over the Tennessee line. That they were all intoxicated, the fact that the accident was four years ago, and the number of opportunities the witnesses have had to discuss the events of that night were all cited as reasons to doubt the accuracy of the witnesses' testimony.

White also pointed out that no one testified that they knew the cause of the wreck and no witness said that it was a willful act, which is part of the "manslaughter by culpable negligence" indictment.

Also vital was the testimony of Chief Deputy Neil Edmondson, then a patrol officer who worked the wreck. Edmondson testified that a tire was blown out on the truck when he saw it that night, and reported seeing a gouge in the road, the cause of which was not described. But its presence established that there could have been a different cause of the wreck than the speed of travel, which was estimated at anywhere from 90 to 110 miles per hour by different witnesses.

Regardless of the possible sympathies jury members could feel for the families, White warned the jury that they were "not here to send a message, they are here to judge this case by the facts."

According to testimony, Bonds' Chevy Silverado stepside truck landed 219 feet from where it left the road, topping off a sweet gum tree 8 feet above the ground. Found fifty feet from the truck was Frankie Tigner, who was pronounced dead at the scene by the coroner. Bonds was found near the truck and only later, after some searching was Randy Tigner found 36 feet from the opposite side of the truck. Bonds and Randy were also seriously injured in the wreck.

The cause of the accident, which occurred past a long straight bottom road heading into a sharp curve shortly before some railroad tracks, was listed on the accident report as "speed too fast for conditions."

At the time of her death, Frankie Tigner was 25. She was the mother of three children, now ages twelve, eight, and five years.

Sentences Handed Down Tuesday in Circuit Court

by Pamela McRae

In Tishomingo County Circuit Court this week several cases were finally completed when sentences were assigned in three noteworthy county cases of the past year.

McNatt Ford to Be Reimbursed
Stephanie Jones, who had previously pled guilty to two counts of embezzlement, one count of forgery and one count of uttering a forged instrument in connection with her former employment at McNatt Ford of Iuka, was sentenced by Judge Barry Ford to 20 years in the Mississippi Department of Corrections (Parchman), and has to repay $27,000 back to E.L. McNatt and McNatt Ford.

Since she has already repaid

$15,000, her sentence was suspended, and the judge did not adjudicate her "guilty". Ford said she must satisfactorily pay back the rest of the money and court costs in $200 a month installments, and was ordered to five years of supervised probation.

E.L. McNatt, former owner of McNatt Ford, was present for the sentencing, and said, "I'm satisfied."

Young Sentenced to RID

Wilburn "Bud" Young, 52, has pled guilty to two counts of possession of a vehicle with mutilated vehicle identification numbers.

Young was sentenced to ten years with the Mississippi Department of Corrections (Parchman), and was ordered to the RID program. The judge reserved the right of judicial review of the case for 360 days, and if Young successfully completes the RID program at Parchman, he could then be released to serve one year on probation, according to the district attorney's office.

Golden Pharmacist Sentenced

Michael Edward Bonds, of Golden, pled guilty to one count of sale of Schedule II narcotics, was sentenced to ten years with the Mississippi Department of Corrections (Parchman), and was ordered to the RID program.

Regarding the RID, or Regimented Inmate Discipline Program, Assistant District Attorney Arch Bullard explained it as a boot camp-type situation at Parchman that involves some group counseling, too. If inmates successfully complete the RID program, they can often be released on probation, but if they fail to comply they are transferred directly into the general population at Parchman.

Bullard said this Circuit Court term was successful, and that with the support and cooperation of the Tishomingo County Circuit Clerk's Office and the Sheriff's Department, they managed to get many cases off the docket.

Trooper Sgt. Rick Marlar Honored By Highway Patrol For Most DUI Arrests

by Pamela McRae

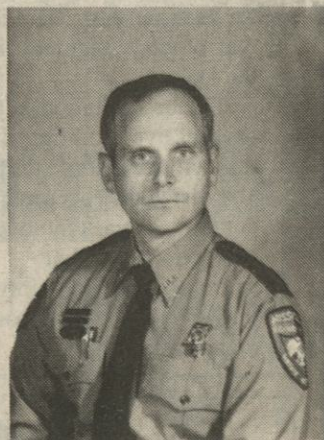

Mississippi State Trooper Sergeant Rick Marlar of Iuka was recently honored as one of the outstanding state troopers in the state by the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

In the statewide awards ceremony on June 2nd at the Department of Public Safety Headquarters Building in Jackson, Marlar received recognition for the Most DUI Arrests for his troop, along with eight other troopers from throughout the state.

Marlar had 126 DUI arrests, and also led his Troop F with fourteen felony arrests, and the most cocaine seized, 56 grams this year. Troop F is comprised of nine counties. He also tied with several other officers for most recovered stolen vehicles.

This is nothing new for Marlar, 42, who has been a member of the Hundred Club for the past twelve years. Members of the Hundred Club, established by the governor, must make at least 100 DUI arrests each year.

"The problem we see most in this county," Marlar said, "is people not having a sober driver." He said that a designated driver must be completely sober, free of alcohol altogether.

"Nothing makes me happier than recognizing the accomplishments of our employees," said Col. Tom Ward, Highway Patrol director. "Law enforcement is a thankless profession. For that reason, I think it is important to honor those who have excelled. By recognizing our civilian personnel and sworn officials it gives them an incentive to continue to do better."

Marlar has been a state trooper for seventeen years, and is married to Judy Marlar. He is also the son of Mrs. Ottie Sue (Polly) Harris and the late E.C. Marlar.

Taking A Trip? Call The Farm Bureau Travel Agency!

One of the many privileges of being a Farm Bureau member is the free, yes free, services of the Farm Bureau Travel Agency. They will help you plan your vacation by making your hotel or plane reservations and reserving tickets to your favorite shows or attractions. They help you get the most economical price at the time. Take the worry and hassle out of your vacation and let the Farm Bureau Travel Agency make the arrangements. When you go by your local Farm Bureau office to pay your dues, just ask for the toll free telephone number to the Farm Bureau Travel Agency. If you are already a member, just call the local office for the telephone number.

Remember, the services of the Travel Agency are at no cost to you if you are a Farm Bureau member. Your yearly dues are just $25.00. The privileges of the Farm Bureau Travel Agency, school scholarships, safety programs, leadership programs, awards, the Child Safety Seat Program, Legislative issues, and even Accidental Death Benefits are worth much more than the dues you pay.

You do not have to be insured by Farm Bureau to be a member of the Farm Bureau Federation. Although, Farm Bureau would appreciate the opportunity to talk with you about your IRA, Home, Health, Life, and Auto Insurance Needs.

The Farm Bureau Federation is an organization of more than 4 million families in the United States and Puerto Rico. The American Farm Bureau Federation is the Nation's largest farm organization. Farm Bureau members produce most of your food, the fiber that goes in your clothes, the corn that produces Ethanol to help your gasoline burn cleaner, and even the soybean oil to make ink for the newspapers you read.

Farm Bureau is the voice of the farmers and ranchers in local meetings, at our State Legislative sessions, and in the Nation's Capitol. You, as a local Farm Bureau member, can make your voice heard all the way to the National Organization. Think for a moment, where would you be without these farmers and ranchers who produce these products that are vital to your life?

Farm Bureau is a voluntary organization of members of families joining together to solve common problems. Each County has a county president, Board of Directors, and a County Women's Chairman.

Anyone interested in the welfare of our farmers and ranchers are invited to join. Working together for the good of our nation, we can make a difference.

June Is Dairy Month

Tishomingo County Homemakers are promoting both health and use of agricultural products this month. A "sampling" luncheon at Midway Community Center Saturday featured dishes made from dairy products — and there was quite a variety! Using recipes from a number of sources, some with personal interpretation, they put together a booklet from the entries, available from a Homemaker Volunteer or from the Cooperative Extension Office.

Their interest is not just in testing recipes — they are equally interested in good nutrition. "It is very difficult to get the calcium we need in a day without dairy products," said Dr. Barbara McLaurin, extension human nutrition specialist at Mississippi State University.

"One real advantage of getting your calcium from milk or milk products is that you get all those other nutrients, which help calcium do its job. That can't be said about calcium supplements, which only provide calcium," McLaurin said.

In addition to calcium, milk and dairy products provide phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, riboflavin, vitamins A and D, vitamin B12 and protein that the human body needs to stay healthy. It is a by-now-familiar principle that many nutrients depend on one another for their effectiveness. People who try to outguess nature by taking single vitamins in pill form seldom hit on winning combinations.

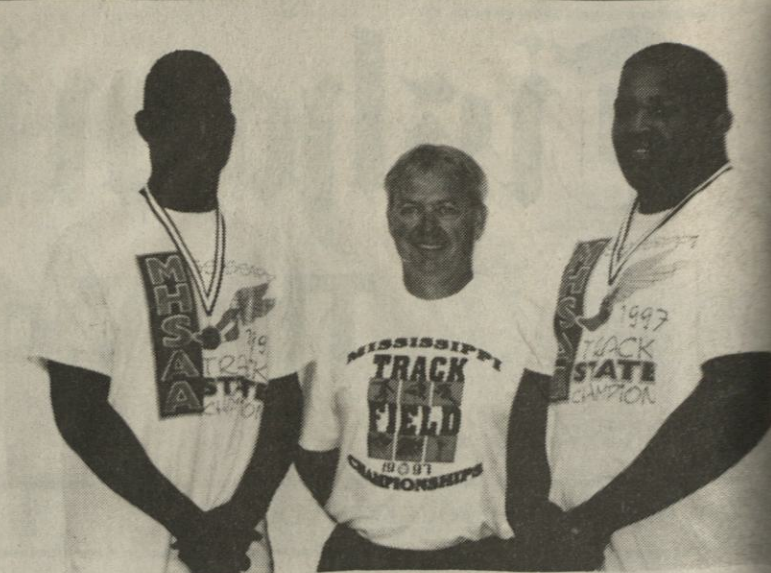

This principle is the reason vitamin D is added to milk. Even though vitamin D is manufactured by the body by exposure to sunlight, some people do not always get the thirty minutes or more (dark-skinned people may require 3 hours) needed for a full day's supply of vitamin D. This has decided implications for elderly persons or those who are confined inside much of the time.

The deficiency diseases of rickets in children and osteomalacia in adults are well known, both resulting from an inadequate supply of calcium and vitamin D. When not enough of both are taken in, or absorbed into the blood, calcium is withdrawn from the bones, causing them to become porous, weak and brittle. Less well known is that a similar condition can happen to the tiny ear bones that transmit sound to the brain, causing deafness.

of strawberries. And remember that some foods, notably dark green leafy vegetables that have great amounts of the mineral, may contain binders that prevent its absorption.

Next week we will consider alternatives for people who are milk intolerant or simply do not like milk. Meanwhile, remember that if your diet lacks calcium, you will pay a price - perhaps not today, but years from now - in the weakening of your bones.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. PHILLIP GRAY
OPTOMETRIST

Better Than Bifocals

If you have trouble seeing clearly, not only close-up but at intermediate and far away distances, you need a better solution than bifocals. You need progressive addition lenses.

When vision problems start, some people have difficulty in reading small print, the kind you find in a phone book, or a menu in a dimly-lit restaurant. As time goes on they experience difficulty in focusing clearly on objects about an arm's length away, such as the price information on supermarket shelves or the instruments on your car's dashboard. Problems are compounded when difficulty develops in seeing objects even further away. Bifocals only correct for near and far. There is also that obvious segment line in the lens.

The best solution is to get progressive addition lenses that will let you see clearly at all distances because they contain a vast number of corrections that flow smoothly and invisibly one into the other. Ask your eye doctor about them.

Making a Claim For Age Discrimination

A recent case is a reminder that employees who are discriminated against because of their age should seek legal help, as they may be able to bring a successful claim against their employer.

Ann H., a 47-year-old secretary, got a new boss. The new boss made Ann reapply for her job and take typing and other skills tests. He then assigned Ann to a lesser job and later fired her. Ann sued, claiming the typing and other tests were just an excuse for the new boss to fire her, and that the real reason she was fired was to hire younger workers. A court ruled for Ann and awarded her a large sum of money.

At The Grave Site of William T. Wilson - Mary Sue Wright and Billy West at the grave site of their great-great-grandfather in Nancy, Kentucky. The stone was set April 10 and was visited by Mary Sue and Billy on Memorial Day 1997. In 1910 a slab of marble was placed on the mound where the Confederate soldiers were buried, it read:

Beneath this mound rest in sleep that knows no waking,
More than one hundred Confederate soldiers from Tennessee,
Mississippi and Alabama,
Who were killed in the Battle of Fishing Creek January 19, 1862.
We know not who they were, but the world knows what they were.
These died far from their homes,
But they lie in heroes graves,
and glory keeps ceaseless watch about their tomb.

Confederate Dead Get Gravestones 135 Years After Battle In Kentucky

By Allen G. Breed
Associated Press Writer

For 135 years, Sgt. William Thomas Wilson and more than 140 Confederate comrades lay in obscurity in a mass grave on the battlefield where they fell. Just down the road, their Union foes rested beneath orderly rows of marble headstones in the Mill Springs National Cemetery in Nancy Kentucky.

Mary Sue Wright of Iuka, had searched 20 years for the grave of her great-great-grandfather, who died January 19, 1862, at age 45. On Monday, Memorial Day, she finally had a place to come and remember him.

"I was so glad the Lord didn't let me find it until now, because I would have missed so much," she said as she and several hundred others gathered to honor the Southern dead from a battle that is considered the North's first decisive victory of the Civil War.

"It finally puts my mind at ease that he was somebody and he stood up for what he believed in."

Descendants of the dead came from as far away as Texas to help dedicate the cemetery at Zollicoffer Park, named for the Confederate general who died at the battle. Rows of white Veteran's Administration headstones, paid for by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, now stand in rows near the mass grave in the order in which the Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee units marched into battle.

The ceremony capped nearly a century of work to revive the memory of the Confederates who died at the battle of Mill Springs, which the South knew as the Battle of Fishing Creek.

Gen. Felix Zollicoffer of Tennessee decided to surprise Union forces on the morning of January 19 and ended up in a foggy, muddy mess. Zollicoffer rode ahead to ensure that his troops were not firing on each other.

Zollicoffer encountered a Union officer in the road, and neither recognized that the other was the enemy. When Zollicoffer's aide shouted to warn him, a skirmish broke out and Zollicoffer was cut down.

When the battle ended later that day, more than 140 Confederates and 39 Union soldiers were dead or mortally wounded. The Northerners were buried in what would later become one of the first 12 national cemeteries created by Congress; the Southerners were left to the locals to bury.

In 1902, a 10-year-old girl named Dorothea Burton decided it was a shame that the Southern dead in her community were not honored. So on Memorial Day, she gathered flowers and decorated the white oak under which Zollicoffer died — the Zollie Tree.

On Monday, her great-great-granddaughter decorated the stump of the old tree, which blew down in a storm two years ago. And Confederate re-enactors gathered to salute the dead.

Confederate battle flags and banners encircled the rail fence that surrounds the stones.

Descendants of three of the soldiers sprinkled dirt from their home states around their headstones.

"These men can't be buried in their home states, but at least we can bring a little bit of their home states to them now," said Ron Nicholas, administrator of the Mill Springs Battlefield Association.

There is a stone for Zollicoffer, although his body was taken back to Tennessee.

William Thomas Wilson
By: Mary Sue Wright

William Thomas Wilson joined the Miss. 15th Company F at Corinth, MS and mustered in in Yalabusha County. The Miss. 15th are portrayed in Nancy, Kentucky as we portray the Miss. 26th here in Tishomingo County.

William Thomas Wilson married Margaret Rebecca Pickens on November 4, 1859 in Tishomingo County. Their son Samuel Thomas was born in August of 1862, after his father was killed in January of 1862. Apparently Margaret died in childbirth and Samuel was raised by her sister Arabella Pickens and her husband Daniel Brown.

William Thomas Wilson was previously married, his wife apparently died also. The 1860 census of Tishomingo County states that a grandmother Saiah Lambert, age 93, living with William Thomas and his new wife Margaret and two sons, William and Elijah Houston, ages 11 and 4. After the death of Margaret, William and the grandmother, all three boys were separated, going to three different homes.

Young William was killed on the railroad in Colbert County.

Elijah Houston Wilson married Nancy Gattis, they lived on the Riverton Rose Trail in Colbert County, Ala. They raised a large family. From this family we find the late Whit Wilson, a Sheriff of Tishomingo County, and Gerald Parsons, former 2nd District Supervisor and Tish. County Circuit Court Clerk as descendants.

Samuel Thomas Wilson married Hannah Jane Kennedy. They raised 4 sons and 1 daughter. Mary Sue Wright and Billy West are grandchildren of Thomas

Wilson (a twin) and the children of Rosie Wilson West McDougal.

There are 246 unknown soldiers from the Civil War buried in Shady Grove Cemetery in Iuka. These men died in the Battle of Iuka. If you think a member of your family might be buried here, please contact Mary Sue Wright at 29 CR 171, Iuka, MS 38852.

God's Garden

God looked around his garden
 And saw an empty space
 He then looked down upon the Earth and saw your tired face.

He put his arms around you,
 And lifted you to rest.
 God's Garden must be beautiful,
 He only takes the best.

He knew that you were suffering,
 He knew you were in pain.
 He knew that you would never
 Get well on this earth again.

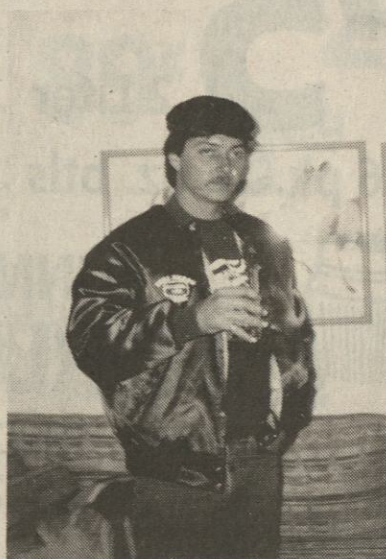

He saw the roads were getting rough,
 And the hills were hard to climb,
 So he closed your weary eyelids
 And whispered, Peace be thine.

It broke our hearts to loose you, but
 You did not go alone.
 For part of us went with you
 The day God called you home.

In Memory of Clayton Barnes

On a day like all the rest,
 God called my daddy home.
 His faithful servant he had been,
 But God felt his work was done.
 Dad walked a walk "above
 reproach";
 His Lord he loved most dear.
 He lived as God directed him,
 And this was always clear.
 He never had to say in words,
 What life was all about.
 Because he lived each day
 for God,
 Not giving into doubt.
 You would always find him willing.
 To help in any way,
 He had God's gift of serving,
 And he gave it every day.
 Oft times his heart was burdened,
 But his endurance was unmeasured.
 He worked until his fingers bled,
 For the family that he treasured.
 But now to know, he abides with God

The one he loved most dear,
 Should fill our hearts with joy,
 Tho our eyes are filled with tears.
 Daddy is truly home now,
 Looking forward to when.
 We will all gather around God's throne,
 And be together as a family again.
*We love and miss you;

 Verda*

Cortney's Community Chats

By Cortney Compton

Summertime has finally arrived in Tishomingo County. People are boating, swimming, and even cooking out! Summer brings so many good times, but it can also bring bad times to if we drink and drive. So often I try to tell people my own age about the dangers of drinking and driving. Usually they just take my concern as a simple warning! It takes people getting hurt or killed before they even consider drunk driving - life threatening! I love people, and just want them to take the time to be safe. So next time you encounter an intoxicated person, please take their keys away so they can live another day. Who knows you may hold the keys to their future. A man many years ago gave me this article. I hope you will share it to because its not a warning, but a sad reality!

The Party

I went to a party, Mom, I remembered what you said. You told me not to drink, so I drank soda pop instead. I left feeling proud inside, the way you said I would. I didn't drink, Mom, I know you're always right.

I got into my car. I know I'll get home in one piece because of the way you raised me Mom, so responsible and sweet.

I started to drive home, but as I pulled onto the road, the other car didn't see me and it hit me like a load.

As I lie here on the pavement, I hear the policeman say the other guy is drunk, but I'm the one who has to pay.

I'm lying here dying, Mom, I wish you'd get here soon. How come this happened to me?

My life burst like a balloon. There is blood all around me and most of it is mine.

I heard the policeman say I'd die in a very short time.

I just wanted to tell you, I swear I didn't drink. It was all the others, Mom, the others did this to me.

He didn't know where he was going, he was probably at the same party as I. The only difference he got drunk and now I have to die.

Why do people drink, Mom? It can really ruin your life.

I'm feeling sharp pains, Mom, pains like a knife.

The one who hit me is walking and I don't think it's fair.

I'm lying here dying and all I can do is stare.

Tell my brother not to cry and tell Daddy to be brave. When I'm in Heaven, Mom, write "Daddy's Baby" on my grave.

Someone should have told him, Mom, not to drink and drive.

If only they had taken time I would still be alive. I'm getting scared.

Please don't cry for me, Mom, because when I needed you, you were there.

I have one last question, Mom, before I say goodbye. I didn't drink, so why do I have to die?

This is the end, Mom. I wish I could look you in the eyes. To say these final words "I love you, Mom, and goodbye."

Iuka Lions Club News

Hi, folks, we're back and it seems such a long time since we visited with you. Hope all of you are doing well, we are. Don't know of anyone in the Lions Club that's doing poorly right now.

Well, we finally got to have a meeting. We didn't get to have our cook out on May 20th, Lion Ned got sent out of town at the last minute. Sorry ladies, but we will try to make it up to you at our next meeting.

We had our last meeting, June 3rd, at the Country Squire. Norma, (Miss Country Cupboard), had a family reunion type thing, and we knew how much she wanted to be there, so we helped her by moving our meeting else where. We had a good meeting, but you sure could tell we were out of kilter. Lion Boston didn't get to ring the "dong" however he did get a little bit of business before the members. But the formalities just went. Lion Cowell did give the treasurer report sort of. He said the bank had us more money than we had on the books, (Lion Ned, CPA person, will get it straight). We didn't have Lion Jerry Lambert lead the pledge "cause we didn't bring our Flag, the food started coming in and we neglected to have our invocation. Guess the Good Lord overlooked it "cause none of us got indigestion. Now, the tail-twisted was there fining everybody for being out of order. Had to take the fines in a Ziplock sandwich bag "cause the Kitty didn't make it either. Don't know who was there, "cause Lion Bill McKinney didn't bring the name tags to make it official.

However, we did miss Lion Bob Marshall. Understand he was off "doing his thing" it was OK with Mrs. Marshall because she was off "doing her thing", too, so everything was OK. We missed Lion Jerry Boyd, too, guess he was out running the roads again.

So, we expect to see all of you and your Ladies at our next meeting, that's Tuesday, June 17th, 7:00 PM, Country Cupboard. We will be installing officers for 1997-98. Ladies, you are invited, dinner will be served. See you there.

Now, you folks out there stay happy and have fun. Enjoyed visiting with you again.

Patrick Homecoming

The annual homecoming at Patrick Methodist Church will be Sunday, June 22nd beginning at 10:30 a.m. Special singers will be Promiseland from Booneville, MS. Everyone is welcome.

Letter To The Editor

We arrived on Saturday, June 7, 1997 at your Mineral Springs Park, for the "Heritage Day Festival". We could not believe what was happening to us. Your wonderful Chief of Police, came running out and completely chewed us out. We had driven to our Booth to unload our crafts and he told us that no one could drive on that Gold Grass, or at least they seemed to act like it was gold. No one should be expected to carry a tent with steel poles and big cartons of crafts, from way down on a side road, all the way across the park, to their rented booth. Since they were so "rude" to us we just came back home. We will not go back there anymore unless their rules are changed. Several crafters have told us they would not be going back either, because they could not hand carry all their crafts across the park. Here's hoping someone can do something about this situation as grass is not as important, as breaking your back.

Love, Anita Parker

Thank You,

TC Baseball Standouts In Post-Season Play

Blake Holly, Casey Kirk, and Ricky Lambert were honored by their selection to play in two post-season baseball games. All three TC standouts played in the NEMCABB game held in Corinth on June 1 at City Park Field. The East won 7-5 which was the first win the East has posted. The record is 1-5-1.

Blake and Ricky then played in the MS All-Star game held at Smith-Wills stadium in Jackson, MS on June 7.

In the NEMCABB game Holly was 1 for 2 with 1 RBI. Ricky went 0 for 3 and pitched the ninth inning. He struck out 2 of the 3 batters he faced and got the third batter to ground out. Ricky picked up the save.

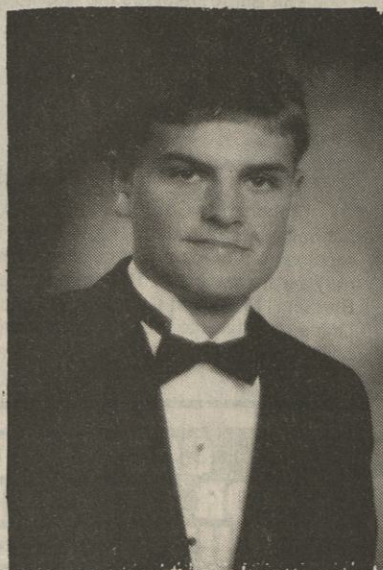

Casey played five innings in center field and batted 3 times. Coach Greg Tucker of the TC Braves was one of the coaches for the East team. Blake Holly was selected as the 3-4-5-A NEMCABB Player of the Year. Kirk Moore of Belmont was presented the Rusty Brown Memorial Award. Steve Lyles, an Iuka native and South Pontotoc coach, was Coach of the Year for Class 1-2A.

In the 4A-5A State All-Star game in Jackson, Blake and Ricky both played well although they got no hits. Blake turned two double plays and also made a tremendous play on a steal for an out. Ricky walked twice and pitched for a couple of innings. He struck out 2 and gave up 2 runs. Ricky also made a good play in left. Coach Greg Tucker of TC said that the South was "simply awesome" in this game. The score was 16-6.

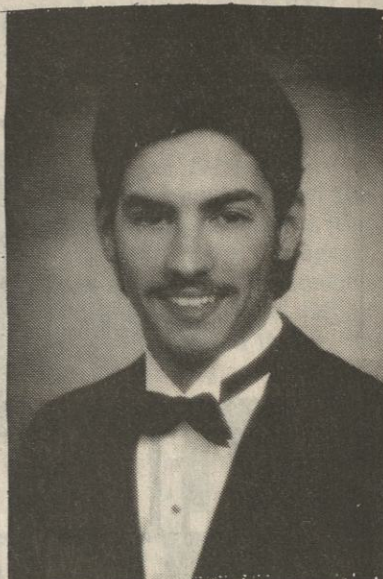

Blake, Ricky, and Casey all want to thank everyone who has contributed in any way to their baseball careers, and they hope everyone will continue to follow them to Mississippi State and Northeast.

KILL THE DEATH TAX

Too many farm families have to sell all or part of their farms because of the current punitive federal estate tax laws.

Many members of Congress now agree that farmers and ranchers need estate tax relief. But more support is needed for the bills now pending in Washington.

That's why Farm Bureau members across the nation are writing their representatives in Washington and urging the repeal of the onerous death tax.

Members of Congress have been talking about reforming estate tax laws for years. Farm Bureau believes it's time for Congress to stop talking and start voting to end estate taxes.

Farm Bureau's "Kill the Death Tax" campaign will help move Congress to action. Your letters to your U.S. Representative and both of your U.S. Senators are part of a nationwide effort to generate letters to kill the death tax.

Please write your letters and send them to your local Farm Bureau office. They will be personally delivered to members of Congress in July by state Farm Bureau presidents.

A letter in your own hand writing is most effective. We encourage all Farm Bureau members to write a letter and bring to the local Farm Bureau office. Below is an example that might help you to word your own personalized letter:

The time has come for Congress to take action to protect the estates amassed by hard working, tax paying citizens of this country. The Death Tax is totally unfair to families whose parent have worked so hard to be able to leave them something. Please join with other members of Congress in supporting and working for Legislation that would allow those families to keep their farms, homes, and other assets left them by loving parents. Please kill the Death Tax as we know it today.

Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act Authorizes Designation of Tishomingo County to Receive FSA Disaster Loan Applications

Emergency loans for farmers, ranchers, and operators are available through the Alcorn County Office of the Farm Service Agency, Harold Mills, FSA Agriculture Credit Manager, said today.

Mr. Mills said this authority is pursuant to President Clinton's declaration on April 4, 1997, of a major disaster in Tennessee, caused by tornadoes, flooding, hail, and high winds, that occurred February 28, 1997, and continuing. As a result of this major disaster, Tishomingo County, as a contiguous county in Mississippi, is named as an area eligible for Federal disaster assistance pursuant to Section 321 (a) of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act.

Applications for assistance in the disaster-stricken county will be accepted by FSA through December 4, 1997, for physical and production losses.

Farmers qualifying for emergency loans may borrow up to 80 percent of the their actual production loss, not to exceed a maximum of $500,000 or that actually needed, whichever is less.

FSA Emergency Loans cover losses from designated disasters and are made to qualified farmers who cannot obtain necessary credit from other lenders in the local area.

Reliv's network marketing system consists of thousands of men and women — families, friends and neighbors — who use the quality nutritional supplements they market. As a Reliv independent distributor and Senior Director, Carolyn & Lenola has earned a one month generation royalty income in excess of between 2,500 and $4,000, over and above retail and wholesale profits and bonuses. Plus this income potential is limited only by their efforts. In Reliv, there is no ceiling on the income you can achieve.

Fifth Graders Graduate DARE Program At IMS

by Lana Harrelson

DARE to be different. DARE to live a drug-free life. DARE to take the challenge.

DARE is a continuing program designed to help keep kids off of drugs. This year's class is the fourth to graduate at Iuka Middle School. The class is taught to all fifth graders and is presented in 17 sessions. These sessions teach the harmful effects of drugs, positive alternatives, the consequences of using drugs, how to deal with peer pressure, self esteem, assertiveness, stress, resolving conflict, gang violence, and media influence.

DARE was started in California in the early 1980s and is now taught in every state as well as 20 foreign countries. The program is designed to deal with real-life situations that help people say "no" to drugs.

At Iuka Middle School this year, four fifth grade classes were involved in the program. Although some of the students were a little shy at first, Officer Glenn Whitlock said that by the midpoint of the sessions, all enjoyed taking part in the learning skits. The girls pictured above were the essay winners at the end of the training sessions. Ashley Brents was the overall winner, and Allison, Brandi, Andrea and Monica were the class winners.

Officer Whitlock, who received eighty hours of intense training in order to teach the DARE program, said the training was some of the most thorough he has ever received. The sessions began at 7 a.m. everyday and they worked until about midnight. Officer Whitlock encourages follow-up of this program. He also offers his special thanks to Wal-Mart, and other Iuka businesses as well as the lawyers in the county who have been so supportive of the DARE program by providing money, t-shirts, pens, pencils and stickers.

Officer Whitlock and the students also say a special thanks to the mayor, chief of police, and the board of aldermen for their continued support of DARE.

Sardis Church News

By: Ova Reno

If you go to succeed and don't succeed, sky-diving is not for you.

Central Truth: Believers can face death with courage.

Devotional: "Precious Transition". Psalm 116:15-19. Verse 19. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints. (Reference) God will hold the murderers guilty and punish them in eternal hell.

Lesson: "Stephen: A Brave Martyr". If someone was trying to kill you, you would be saying: Feet do your stuff, but Stephen didn't even try to get away, he wanted so bad for these people to believe him and be saved, but they just go madder and madder and finally drove Stephen from the city and stoned him to death and while he was there down on his knees with rocks hitting him he looked up to heaven and say God with Jesus on His right hand. Read it all. I want to cry ever time I read it for Stephen was such a fine young man. No matter what people say about your work for the Lord, just keep on keeping on and all of you will be rewarded, but with different rewards.

Sunday morning services: Ryan McCoy sang: "I'm in The Lord's Army". Bro. John sang: "Jesus Paid It All" A true song. It goes this way: "Jesus paid it all, All to Him I owe, Sin had left a crimson stain, He washed it white as snow. Amen!"

Bro. John took his message from Romans 1:1-8. "The Holiness of God". You are either Holy or Unholy. If you have Jesus in you, then you are Holy, but if not you are unholy and bound for hell. 2nd Timothy 8. Be not thou also therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, not of men His prisoner: But be thou partakers of the gospel according to the power of God. Read verse 9, 10, 14.

Bro. John and Burton attended the Ashley reunion at the Tishomingo State Park, Saturday June 7th. There were oodles of food and a good time with all the family and friends. Sixty five attended. Those from out of town were from Nevada, Illinois, and Alabama. We hope to see the rest of you next year.

Herman's youngest sister, Elnora Singleton from Waynesburg, Ky. came down for the weekend and stayed in the hospital with Herman Sunday night for me to get some relaxation. I sure do appreciate it. He doesn't seem to be much better. Still can't eat. We need your prayers.

California Woman Killed By Bacteria

Jody Greenelish, 38, of Santa Ana, California died May 19, 1997 of the so-called flesh-eating bacteria - that consumed 30 percent of her body area in nine days.

Jody is the daughter of Jeanne Dunlap, a frequent visitor to Iuka with Iuka native, Frank King.

Ms. Greenelish died after a pimple on her buttock developed into necrotizing fasciitis. The pimple grew overnight into a cantaloupe-sized black mark. She underwent surgery to remove the infected area. Her condition worsened after surgery, but she made a recovery just a few days before she died. The bacteria spread to her back and other parts of her body and made it into the bloodstream.

The disease is caused by a virulent strain of the Group A streptococcus bacteria that causes strep throat. So-called flesh-eating bacteria inspired a media frenzy in early 1994 after killing 12 people in Great Britain.

The disease first described in 1924, necrotizing fasciitis strikes 500-1,500 Americans a year, killing about 20.

Symptoms include nausea, vomiting, chills, diarrhea and an unusual new or expanding growth or lesion.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE MOST CORRUPT KING!

AHAZ, THE SON OF JOTHAM, WAS PROCLAIMED KING OF JUDAH WHEN HE WAS TWENTY YEARS OLD. MANY AUTHORITIES CLAIM THAT HE WAS THE MOST CORRUPT KING OF ALL! HE WAS AN IDOLATOR, BURNING HIS YOUNG SON AS AN OFFERING AND SACRIFICING AND BURNING INCENSE ON HIGH PLACES AND UNDER GREEN TREES IN THE GROVES DEDICATED TO PAGAN GODS! (II KINGS 16:3-4) HE BROKE ALL GOD'S LAWS WHEN THEY CONFLICTED WITH HIS OWN DEPRAVED DESIRES! WHEN THE ARMIES OF REZIN, KING OF SYRIA, AND PEKAH, KING OF ISRAEL, BE-SIEGED JERUSALEM, AHAZ DID NOT TURN TO GOD, AS A GOOD KING OF JUDAH SHOULD HAVE DONE, BUT TURNED, INSTEAD, TO THE KING OF ASSYRIA! IT CAUSED ISAIAH, WHO HAD COME TO THE COURT TO PLEAD WITH HIM TO RELY UPON YAHWEH, TO UTTER THE CELEBRATED PROPHECY CONCERNING THE BIRTH OF IMMANUEL. (ISA. 7:1-16) AHAZ REIGNED FOR SIXTEEN EVIL YEARS AND THE BEST THAT COULD BE SAID FOR HIM WAS THAT HE SO ANGERED A PROPHET THAT THIS VENERABLE MAN FORETOLD OF THE COMING OF A SAVIOR!

County Agents Notes

By: Danny Owen

Worms Are Back

We get calls every year concerning worms invading the carport, basement, inside the house, etc. These are actually millipedes and they congregate in large numbers that you would not believe unless you've experience it yourself. They are about one to 1.5 inches long with a hard covering that makes a distinct "crunch" when you step on them. Millipedes feed on decaying plant materials. Movement and feeding occur at night because they must conserve water. They are susceptible to water loss if they are not in a moist environment. Movement toward homes may be a result of heat that is released from concrete foundations, sidewalks, carports, etc. If you are close to a wooded area, had long periods of standing water, or there has been a population increase of these insects, then you can have a problem. Unfortunately, we are having extremely wet weather. There are several pesticides that are effective but Seven seems to do a better job. Use liquid Seven or at least the 10% Seven dust. Warning! You may kill all of them now, but in a couple of days find as many or more back again. There is not much that can be done except "retreat" (as in "run" or reapply pesticides) or let them die out naturally. Hot, dry weather should help.

Calibration Of Spray Equipment

Every farmer has his own method of calibrating his spray equipment. What usually happens is you change equipment, you change nozzles, you change band width, or you just change anything and you're in a hurry so instead of recalibrating you just GUESS. Sometimes this works and sometimes it doesn't. If you put out too much pesticide, it costs money and it could injure the crop. If you put out too little, you get poor control and this costs money. Either way, poor calibration costs money. If you need help, please call me.

Diseases of Potatoes

This year I have seen several cases of early blight in potatoes. This disease is normally seen in tomatoes but, generally speaking, any disease affecting tomatoes can also affect potatoes. Lower leaves of plants will start dying and falling off. The disease will move up the plant until all foliage is gone and then the plant will die. If the potatoes are mature enough, then it doesn't matter. But if you have young plants then you will need to apply a fungicide to protect them.

Chlorothalonil "trade name Daconil for example" will work well against early blight. Be on the lookout for other diseases in your lawn and garden. Current weather conditions are ideal for disease development.

Lost Pet Tips

Many people will say their dogs and cats are more than just pets. They are members of the family. Many, the thought of a missing pet is as distressing as a missing child.

It's easy to let your imagination run away with exaggerated possibilities. However, for a missing pet the chances that it has actually been stolen are slim. Most likely, your dog or cat has wandered away, and you can quite figure out how to turn it in. Many of these animals are found and turned over to animal shelters and humane societies.

If you do believe pet theft is a possibility, there are some steps to take.

Prevention is always the first cure. Pets that are closely watched can only roam so far and are difficult to steal. Teach your dog basic commands such as sit and stay, so that you may control them should they wander off.

Keep recent photos and descriptions of your pet, and make sure pets wear proper identification at all times.

Pet thieves do exist. Get your community involved. Advise your neighbors of suspicious persons. Work with police to organize neighborhood watch programs. Pet thieves may soon leave an area if the chances of getting caught increase.

Alert local media. However, avoid mentioning the resale value of missing pets. Advertising the value can aggravate the problem. Also include descriptions of animal control agencies. Thieves have reportedly posed as animal control officers driving plain white vans. Letting the public know how these agencies represent themselves can eliminate this possibility.

Centralize reporting. Have one location where information regarding possible theft can be analyzed. Look for trends in missing dogs, such as breeds and locations. It could direct you to a thief's next target.

Involve law enforcement agencies. Advise them of your suspicions and your reasons for them.

Notify the USDA of your area. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) enforces the Animal Welfare Act. Most importantly, don't dismiss the chance that your pet is merely lost, rather than stolen. File lost pet reports with local animal agencies (Humane Society, animal shelters, etc.) search your neighborhood on foot and by car, and post flyers with your pet's picture on
