Cortney Compton, Miss Alcorn County, Heads To Vicksburg

Miss Cortney Compton of Burnsville leaves this weekend for the Miss Mississippi Pageant in Vicksburg, where as Miss Alcorn County, she will represent our area.

Cortney, who has charmed many in Tishomingo County with her vivacious personality, has spent much of the past few months educating groups about grief counseling for the young. "If you are old enough to love, you are old enough to grieve," Cortney has told thousands of young (and old) people in the area.

Reigning Miss Mississippi, Kari Litton, will join the 37 contestants from around the state who will compete for this year's title in the 40th anniversary of the pageant.

Festivities begin with the arrival of the contestants July 6th at Harrahs, then the Miss Mississippi parade on July 7th in downtown Vicksburg and competition beginning the 9th. The pageant will be televised live on WTVA Saturday night, July 12th, so be sure to keep your eye out for Cortney.

Booneville Man Found Drowned Near Goat Island Tuesday Night

by Pamela McRae

A Booneville man was found drowned near Goat Island on Pickwick Lake Tuesday evening, according to authorities.

Robert W. Dawson, 40, was found in the water by two fishermen between the Goat Island boat ramp and the Island about 7:45 p.m. on July 1st, said Tishomingo County Deputy Medical Examiner Investigator Mack Wilemon.

The cause of death was ruled accidental drowning, Wilemon said.

Dawson had been visiting with friends in a nearby cabin, and had gone out to ride a wave runner approximately 45 minutes before he was found. He did have on a life jacket, and was found about 300 yards from shore, his wave runner about 40 yards away, Wilemon said. No one witnessed his fall.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by McMillan Funeral Home of Booneville and were incomplete at presstime.

Dawson served in the military and was a Gulf War Veteran. He is survived by his wife and two children, his mother, and his sister, Mrs. Lana Harrelson, a teacher at Tishomingo County High School.

Holiday Closings

In honor of Independence Day, the county offices in the Tishomingo County Courthouse, and the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association will be closed this Friday.

The office of the Tishomingo County News will also be closed Friday.

Welfare Law Changes Emphasize Getting People Back to Work

by Pamela McRae

Welfare reform legislation is making some changes in the state and here in Tishomingo County.

"We are requiring able-bodied adults to work," explained state Representative Ricky Cummings in a recent speaking engagement at the Tishomingo Chamber of Commerce, where he outlined welfare reform legislation passed in the last term of the Mississippi State Legislature. "We are putting more money towards job training than for traditional welfare," Cummings said.

Though many of the reforms affecting Tishomingo County actually started in October of 1996, several policies go into effect July 1st.

Lifetime Limits

In one of the bills that passed the legislature, recipients are limited to no more than five years total, in a lifetime, on economic assistance, and able-bodied adults are limited to only 24 months total, in a lifetime, and then they are no longer eligible for assistance.

No one without children is eligible for the state-administered federal block grant money, and the only exceptions for the lifetime five- or two-year limits are for some handicapped people.

Per the federal welfare changes, able-bodied persons without children can get food stamps for only three out of 36 months.

"The language of the legislation is pretty strong," said Margaret June Riley, the Tishomingo County Director of the Economic Assistance Division of the Department of Human Services. "It is time for welfare reform, and a reduction in dependence on government."

Though many have been critical of the potential impacts of the changes to children, Riley feels that it will give the children a sense of pride to see their parents working, and improving themselves with job training.

Details of the Changes

The monetary assistance that may have been known as a "welfare check" in the past would have been part of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), which is now abolished, according to Riley.

Now the aid, which is limited to families with children, comes under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program, Riley explained.

Now people who come in to the economic assistance office are referred to a case manager, and the TANF Work Program, which sends parents (no one without children is eligible), out to get a job, begin a job training program that focuses on preparation for employment, not a long-drawn-out education program.

While on the TANF program monetary payments are only $60 a month for one person, $96 a month for two people, and $120 for three, Riley explained.

If a person refuses to comply with the training or working requirements, sanctions will begin, and they will lose their monetary assistance and food stamps, Riley said. Another regulation that kicked in July 1 is that recipients must cooperate with the Division of Child Support in their efforts to obtain child support monies from absent parents.

Riley said there are no TANF cases in Tishomingo County with two able-bodied parents in the home.

The 24-month limit started in October of last year, Riley explained.

One of Lowest Case Loads

Contrary to some popularly held beliefs, Tishomingo County has one of the lowest case loads in the state, Riley said.

For example, not more than 50 cases have been referred to the TANF work program, she said. There are some cases, where the recipient is disabled, that are in the TANF program, but not in the TANF work program. Total number of cases on the TANF program as of May 1 was 84 families.

There are 727 families receiving food stamps in Tishomingo County and 293 cases that receive Medicaid, Riley said. The Medicaid cases Riley reports are pregnant women and children, and each case could mean a family.

Amvets Bingo License Renewal Moved To July Agenda

by Pamela McRae

An Iuka bingo operation has a temporary reprieve from a potential loss of license after the Mississippi Gaming Commission chose not to act on its license renewal request at a meeting last Thursday.

Amvets 350 in Iuka is one of two bingo operations that Commission investigators have recommended revocation of license, after they allegedly violated numerous Commission regulations. It is operating under a temporary restraining order to continue operations pending judicial review of the revocation order. Gaming Commission Bingo Division Director Eddie Bays said that the Amvets 350 issue will be on the agenda of the next meeting, scheduled tentatively for July 24th. Amvets' license expires July 21st.

In last Thursday's meeting, the Commission refused to renew the license of Tupelo's Vietnow bingo operation, but that hall will also most likely continue to operate until Lee County Circuit Judge Frank Russell completes a review of a motion filed by the attorney representing both Vietnow and Amvets 350 recently.

The motion argues that by refusing to renew the licenses, the Commission is simply trying to accomplish license revocation through another process, since the court is still reviewing the initial appeal the bingo operators filed concerning the revocation order.

Booneville IMA Clinic To Open July 14 With Two Internal Medicine Physicians

The North Mississippi Health Services IMA Foundation is pleased to announce the opening of a regional clinic in Booneville and the addition of two internal medicine physicians.

IMA of Booneville will open July 14 at 1301 North Second Street. It will be located in the building that also houses the Booneville Family Medical Clinic. Both clinics are affiliated with North Mississippi Health Services.

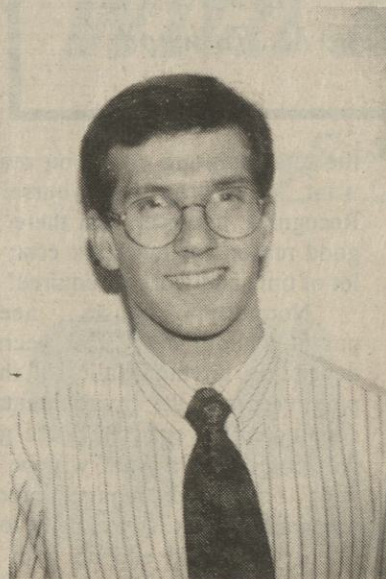

The clinic's opening will bring two new internal medicine physicians to the community. They are Noel K. Hunt, M.D., and Hans Noffsinger, M.D.

"We already see a large number of patients from the Booneville area in our office in Tupelo. Opening this clinic will allow these patients who desire it access to our clinic without having to make the drive to Tupelo every time," said Ken Harvey, M.D., medical director, IMA Foundation of Tupelo.

Dr. Hunt is a graduate of Iuka High School and the University of Mississippi. He completed his medical studies at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine. He comes to Booneville from the University of Tennessee, Memphis, where he recently completed his internal medicine residency.

He and his wife, Candace, have two children. Dr. Hunt's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hunt of Iuka.

Dr. Noffsinger completed his undergraduate studies at the University of Kentucky and Noel K. Hunt, M.D.

After several years in private practice, he returned to medical school and graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Medicine. He recently completed his internal medicine residency at the Chandler Medical Center, which is affiliated with the University of Kentucky.

He is a member of the American Medical Association, Kentucky Medical Association and the American College of Physicians. His hobbies include sailing, bicycling, woodworking and tennis.

The clinic will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. To schedule an appointment with Dr. Hunt or Dr. Noffsinger, call 1-800-528-0036.

Time For A New Coat Of Paint?

While driving about and observing, I have become aware of house painting needs and difficulties this Spring. It is that time of year again when homeowners need to take a close look at their house and determine what it needs with respect to painting and repairs.

Keeping your home protecting with quality paints can save money in repair and maintenance costs over a period of years. A well-painted house reflects not only pride of ownership, but increases property values for all concerned.

Because the labor costs represent more than 90 percent of the total painting cost, you may want to do the job yourself. Recognize, however, that there is good reason for the labor cost; a lot of time and work is required!

Normally, houses need painting about every five years, depending on the quality of the paint used and the environmental conditions. If you let a house go too long, the old paint will be a poor base and require more preparation work. If you paint too often, you could end up with a thick crust that will eventually crack and peel.

Whether you plan to do the work yourself or hire a contractor you should be aware of problems with the condition of the surfaces to be painted. The more you know, the better able you will be to choose methods and materials for good results and to evaluate cost.

Some of the more common paint problems include peeling, alligatoring, checking, blistering, bleeding nail stain, mildew and chalking. A short explanation of each follows:

Peeling is caused by moisture from inside or from long periods of exposure to rain or other moisture.

Alligatoring, checking and blistering result from several different mistakes. One cause is when several coats are applied without sufficient drying time between coats. Another cause is having an undercoat that is not compatible with the finished coat. Other causes include using too much thinner or a poor grade of paint.

Bleeding is simply sap and pitch working out of the wood and is usually more noticeable on newer homes.

Mildew occurs from a combination of moisture, inadequate ventilation, or high humidity and high temperature which stimulates fungus growth.

Chalking happens after inadequate preparation of the surface when the paint was applied or from the formulation of the paint used.

Proper preparation of the surface is all-important to a good paint job. Even if the surfaces are free of defects, make sure they are also completely dry and clean. All loose dirt should be brushed off, and washed with detergent if necessary. If grease or oil stains remain, try a solvent such as turpentine.

Defective paint should be cleaned off using a scraper, wire brush or steel wool. For mildewed surfaces, wash the area thoroughly with an alkaline cleaning solution such as a chlorine bleach. Caulk all holes and cracks and clean rust from all metal areas. Sink exposed nail heads with a nail set, prime with rust inhibitor and fill hole with putty.

New wood, surfaces from which defective paint has been cleaned, and metal surfaces should be coated with a primer suited to the surface and to the finish coat to be used. For best results, use the same type of paint, either oil base or water base, as the old paint.

Manufacturers' directions regarding preparation, priming and application, together with advice from a reputable paint dealer, will help in getting a satisfactory job.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. Phillip Gray OPTOMETRIST

Ready For Contacts?

Maybe you've worn glasses for years but would like the freedom and cosmetic advantages of contact lenses. Contact lenses can give you more freedom and comfort, but they also mean more responsibility.

You must be properly motivated to wear contact lenses. It takes time to adjust to this type of eyewear, and you must perform the lens cleaning and disinfecting procedures exactly as prescribed. Normal tear flow is important for comfort and to help keep the lenses clean. Also, your work environment should be relatively clean and free of dust and toxic vapors.

There are three basic types of contact lenses: oxygen permeable lenses made of firm plastic that transmits high degree of oxygen; hard lenses; and soft lenses made of gel-like plastic, available in extended wear and disposable versions. Let your eye doctor advise what may be best for you.

Protect Your Rights Even When Injuries Seem Minor

Many people who are involved in an accident do not immediately experience physical symptoms. Believing that they were not injured, they decide not to pursue the matter.

It is important to remember that many injuries take weeks or even months to fully develop, so if you are in an accident, you should see a lawyer even if you think you suffered only very minor injuries. A lawyer can help protect your rights in the event your injuries worsen and you later have additional medical bills, lost wages and other expenses resulting from the accident.

Cat Vaccines

The so-called "core vaccines" are those vaccines that every cat or dog should receive because 1) the risk of infection is very high, or 2) the consequences of infection are severe and potentially life threatening. For the cat, core vaccines are:

- *Feline panleukopenia vaccine
- *Feline herpesvirus vaccine
- *Feline calicivirus vaccine
- *Rabies vaccine.

Shots for kittens are typically combined with their first examination at 9 weeks of age. Follow up shots are given just three weeks later at 12 weeks of age, then annually. Veterinarians may recommend additional vaccinations depending on the incidence of disease in your area and the particular risks your cat faces. Feline Leukemia is particularly important for kittens and cats that are in contact with other cats or that spend time outdoors where the risk of exposure to infected cats is high.

Rabies vaccination is important. In the U.S., there are more rabies cases reported each year in cats than dogs. Rabies shots for cats usually begin at 3 to 4 months of age. After the first dose, regardless of the cat's age, a booster must be given 1 year later. Subsequently, cats are vaccinated against rabies either one time each year or once every three years, depending on your state's regulations.

Other vaccines you may want to ask your veterinarian about, but are usually reserved for cats that have specific risk include: *Feline chlamydia *Feline Infectious Peritonitis *Ringworm.

Tishomingo Homemaker Volunteers Club

June Meeting

"People who say they expect nothing are often surprised when that's what they get." This was the thought of the month read by Ms. Eva Mae Strickland, president of the Tishomingo Homemaker Volunteers Club, when the club met Thursday night, June 12, at the Tishomingo Bank Annex.

Ms. Michelle Strickland led the group in the pledge to the flag, and Mrs. Jeannette Thorne read the Council Collect.

Ms. Shirley Thorne gave a good devotion, reading from the "Love Chapter", I Corinthians 13, and then led in prayer.

Shirley did the roll call and read the minutes of the previous meeting, and Mrs. Willard Strickland gave the financial report.

Our club was well represented at the Dairy Contest on June 7 at the Midway Community Center. Congratulations to Kathy for winning two red ribbons on her Cottage Cheese Salad and Impossible Lasagna Pie, to Eva Mae for winning a white ribbon on her Overnight Coffee Cake Crunch, and to Shirley for winning a white ribbon on her Chess Pie.

Eva Mae gave a report on the County Council Meeting she attended and encouraged everyone to attend the Tishomingo County Homemaker Volunteers Outing on July 12 at the Pickwick Landing Restaurant.

Plans were made for the club to have their annual concession stand on the night of July 5 at the Tishomingo Street Dance, selling hamburgers, hot dogs, cold drinks, and homemade lemonade.

Mrs. Gail Strickland gave an amusing report on "Kids Say the Darnest Things". Children are so sincere. They just think and say everything the way they really hear it, or interpret it, and it just turns out to be comical to us adults.

Mrs. Kathy Byram gave an interesting report on "Overweight", which we were all proud to hear. She stated that doctors should no longer stress overweight as being a problem unless the person has other medical problems such as elevated cholesterol or heart problems, but the most important life style today should put the emphasis on fitness. By doing such simple things as walking or exercising daily, one can be healthy and fit.

Ms. Eva Mae Strickland gave a good program on "Listening". Communication is very important at all times, but just as talking is important, so is the ability to be a good listener. There is a time to talk and a time to listen. If anyone ask you to listen, then you should give your full attention to him, and wait until he has finished before you speak. Then, and only then, should you take your turn and let him listen attentively to you while you speak.

Eva Mae also passed out some very informative literature on "Alzheimer's Disease". Some of the warning signs of this dreaded disease include recent memory loss that affects job skills, difficulty performing familiar tasks, disorientation of time and place, poor or decreased judgment, misplacing things in inappropriate places, changes in behavior, and personality changes.

The meeting was adjourned with Mrs. Sabrina Welch reading the creed.

Everyone enjoyed refreshments provided by all club members.

The door prize was won by Jeannette.

Also present, not already mentioned, was Ms. Louise Puckett. We were also glad to have Mrs. Opaline Crouse visiting with us, and we welcome her back anytime.

We are all looking forward to next month when our annual outing will be at John's fish Net in Corinth on July 8.

Our club congratulates one of its members, Mrs. Sabrina (Thorne) Welch on her recent marriage. The club members honored her with a bridal shower on May 29 at the home of Mrs. Willard Strickland. Sabrina received many nice and useful gifts. We sent best wishes to Sabrina and Thomas Welch and hope they enjoy many years of happiness!

Shiloh Monument Benefit Concert

A benefit concert will be held on Saturday, July 12, 1997, at 7 p.m. at the Forum Auditorium, Holmes Community College, Grenada, to raise money for the construction and placement of a Mississippi Confederate memorial at Shiloh National Military Park. A band composed of six Confederate reenactor/musicians playing guitar, banjo, mandolin, string bass, fiddle, harmonica, and bones will play a concert of 1860s era music that would have been heard around Confederate campfires.

The benefit concert is sponsored by the Major General E.C. Walthall Camp #211, Sons of Confederate Veterans, which is one of the organizations working with the Mississippi Department of Archives and History to raise money for the monument. The 1990 Mississippi Legislature authorized the design, construction, and dedication of the Mississippi Confederate memorial at Shiloh National Military Park. The bill authorizing the monument specifies that it shall be paid for by private monetary donations that may be matched by the Legislature as funds permit.

Admission to the concert is $1.00 for adults and $.50 for school-age children (no admission for preschool-age children). For more information, please call the Rev. Paul C. Reece (601)229-

NMMC's Mobile Unit Travels To Area

North Mississippi Medical Center's Mobile Mammography Unit will travel to area communities during the month of July to provide women with convenient access to mammography services.

The Mobile Mammography Unit will be at the following locations: July 9-11 at Iuka Hospital, 1777 Curtis Drive. Two types of mammograms are available. A screening mammogram is used to detect breast cancer, and usually the test detects cancer long before it can be found by physician examination or other methods of diagnosis. Screening mammograms are available through Self referral. Diagnostic mammograms can rule out or confirm the presence of breast disease or abnormalities, which may include cancer.

The cost of a screening mammogram is $68. The results of the mammograms are read by NMMC's radiologists, physicians who specialize in interpreting x-ray, ultrasound, and other types of imaging studies.

Appointments for all mammography services are scheduled in advance. To schedule a screening mammogram, call (601)841-4158 or 1-800-841-3375. Appointments for diagnostic mammograms are scheduled by the woman's physician.

Report From Congress

By: U.S. Rep. Roger F. Wicker

Tax Relief Package Will Affect Every American

One week before the celebration of the nation's 221st birthday, the House of Representatives gave the American people an early Independence Day present - the first tax cut in 16 years.

The Taxpayer Relief Act will touch every American in some way, but the legislation directs 76 percent of all tax benefits to families with income below $75,000. It includes "cradle to grave" benefits affecting children, college students, parents, grandparents, and even the next generation in the form of estate tax reform.

A nationally-known accounting firm conducted an independent survey of the provisions in the tax package and confirmed that middle-income Americans were the big winners.

For example, a Mississippi family with an income of $35,000 and two children would have its federal income taxes cut by 40 percent, thanks to the $500 per-child tax credit. If one of those children is a college student, the family would qualify for an additional $1,500 credit in education tax incentives, which would reduce their tax liability by a total of 78 percent.

A Mississippi family with two children and $50,000 in annual income would have its tax liability reduced by 27 percent. If the family also qualified for the college tax credit, its taxes would be cut in half.

Despite the familiar and tired claims by opponents that cutting the capital gains tax rate would benefit the rich, Internal Revenue Service records show that 56 percent of all families reporting capital gains make less than $50,000. Many Mississippians have delayed selling assets such as timber, farm land, or a small business because of the high capital gains tax rate.

Cutting the rate on capital gains to 10 percent for a family with income below $41,000, and 20 percent for income above that income level would boost the Mississippi economy and create more job opportunities.

This bill provides some peace of mind for families affected by the estate tax by raising the exemption rate from $600,000 to $1 million. The estate tax is a disincentive to work and investment. Parents should not be penalized for working hard and accumulating assets with the intention of passing them on to the next generation, yet that is the effect of the estate tax. Family members should not be forced to sell off the assets they inherit to pay the death tax.

In years past, news that Congress was working on a tax bill meant a tax increase and more money being sent to Washington. This time, for the first time in nearly a generation, that trend has been reversed.

The History Of Holcut School

Approximately 1893, in a wooded area, stood a small one room school named Lebanon. It was located in Tishomingo County about one-half mile from the Prentiss County line, on the Jacinto and Paden road.

Rodford Tynes, Edd Timbes, Joe Clark and Ora Nixon, were among the first teachers that taught there.

Each year brought new pupils, until it was decided they needed another room. In the year 1900, W.A. Nixon gave some land, approximately one mile North East, where they built a two room elementary school, and called it the "Nixon School". In a hollow near this site, was a spring. The larger boys and girls would bring water in buckets up the hill, for the younger ones. It was a real treat to pass to the fourth grade, so they could go down the hill for a refreshing drink. This school had a boys basketball team second to none. For a period of two or three years they won every game they played. Some of the teachers that taught at this school, were Effie McAnally Loveless, Syble Woodruff Savage, Alta Hill South, Ward Glasgow and Edith Nagles. There could have been others that I didn't learn about.

About 1915, it was necessary to enlarge this school, for the enrollment had grown tremendously. When the Trustees and Parents met, it was decided again to move and build a four-room building. They called it "Holcut", which had been named for the land owners, John Holder and Eli Callicutt. They put the first three letters of Holder H-O-L and the last three letters of Callicutt C-U-T, there by making it "Holcut."

Some of the teachers that taught at this school were Vincent Smith, Ruth Holder, George Bacon, Frank Rhodes, Ena Browning, Jenny Chase, Lydia Wren Holder, Susie Burns, Beatrice Holder, Thelma Ross Gray, Artie Timbes, and Will Lambert.

In 1928, approximately seventeen pupils graduated from the eight grade. Mr. Lambert told us if we would come back the next year, they would add the ninth grade, and when the regular short term school ended, he would teach us another month for a small donation, in order to get credit for our work. By this time a bond issue had passed for a new High School to be built just North of the plank building. The new brick building was finished by late 1930. With the help of the one room schools, and the High School pupils from Midway, Rowland Mills, and Clausel Hill and Sardis, we continued to grow, with a good staff of teachers. The students were capable of competing with students from other schools, in academics and sports. I will name the principles, as many as I can remember: (1) H.A. Burch, (2) Clarence Chase, (3) L.G. Phillips, (4) S.W. Downs, and (5) O.T. Eaton. In 1932, Holcut had its first graduation with seventeen people receiving diplomas. They are as follows: Reba Crane Belue, Jewel Lambert Nixon, Lewin Long (deceased), Kelous McCoy (deceased), Truman Claunch (deceased), William Taylor (deceased), Grace Brouen, Clyde Seago Wright (deceased), Eula Claunch Blunt (deceased), Kermet Rushing, Leutty Woodruff, Quay Timbs Rushing, Myra Smith Holley, Lou McCoy Stricklen, Sylvia Grissam, Blanch Searcy Reeves, Lula Woodruff Johnson.

February 18, 1949, tragedy struck, and the building burned. The neighboring churches opened their doors to the Elementary grades. The High School used the old plank building of four rooms that stood near by, to finish the term of school.

This required another bond issue to be passed, in order for a new school to be built by the beginning of the next term. With each family cooperating, they advertised for contractors to bid on the building. Mr. Reynolds Sims was the low bidder. By the beginning, of the next school term, and beautiful new brick building was ready.

Everyone was eager and full of joy, to be back together again in a new building. For the next eleven year, the school grew, and the students participated in sports, 4-H Club, and spelling bee. They won the spelling bee two years, and I was the teacher who worked with our spelling team. Mildred Prince, the winner, invited me to go to Memphis, Tenn. with her. We attended the Luncheon honoring the winners from each county. She did well, but did not win.

Some of the principles who taught during this time were: Cleston Scruggs, Alver Belue, Guy Bickerstaff and Melvin Phifer.

In 1960, tragedy struck again.

The elementary went to the Churches, and the High School used the gym. This time a bond issue had to be county wide and school was lost.

Each year, the second Saturday in August, the Holcut students have a class reunion. It's interesting to see them greet each other. They come from Conn. to California and have fun.

Funeral Services Held For Lynn Sellers Ludlam

Can you hear it? I can hear the angels rejoicing and making a joyful noise, as a saint has come home. On June 27, 1997, Lynn Sellers Ludlam, left this earthly life to become a new creature in heaven, as the Bible teaches us, filling rather than to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord. Although our hearts are heavy for the earthly loss, all the family and friends who knew Lynn closely are also celebrating the V-C-T-O-R-Y as he undertakes his new journey. Services were held on Sunday, June 29, 1997, at 3:00 p.m. as hundreds gathered to pay tribute to this kind soul. His burial was at Eastport Baptist Cemetery, close to his home.

Lynn Sellers Ludlam

Lynn Ludlam was born on October 30, 1937, went to school in Iuka where he graduated in 1955. Lynn was then blessed with a wonderful family, his loving wife, Elizabeth "Libby" Barrett Ludlam, three special children, Bill Ludlam, Elizabeth Ludlam, and Jamie Lynn Ludlam, two grandchildren, Gunner Ford and Starkey-Morgan Ludlam. He was also blessed with one brother, Pat Ludlam, and two sisters, Lynette Friend and Alice Goodson, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Ludlam.

Lynn made an impact on everyone who had the chance to meet him, for he never met a stranger and never failed to share the Word of God with those within speaking distance. He was one of the few men, that even going into a convenience store to get a coke, he would come out having shared the love of God with someone, and in such a way you may not realize it until later, but he always left a lasting impression on those he came in contact with, and gave them a new hunger for the Lord.

Lynn was a member of Mount Evergreen Methodist Church, and lived in the Eastport community with his family most of his life. He loved the river, and spent much time fishing or diving in the waters of the Tennessee River, close to his home. He was in the filter business for eighteen years, having owned and operated

L & L Air Filters. He was also the owner of Midtown Jewelers, Four Seasons Tanning Salon and the Balloon Gallery. He and his wife managed these businesses in Corinth and Iuka for twelve years, and also owned and operated Ludlam Funeral Home and Memorial Gardens in Iuka. Lynn's family will continue in the family businesses in his memory and with his same zeal for the Lord to serve the public and will continue to offer the same quality service you came to expect.

Lynn was a Gideon, who diligently worked for the Lord. He was helping pastor the church New Beginnings, just prior to his illness, and in the past, through the local churches, helped to establish four new church ministries in Indonesia. He traveled to the Holy Land twice and held Lay Conferences in South Mississippi.

Through his gentle nature and soft, kind words of wisdom and encouragement, hundreds perhaps thousands of people's lives have been touched and will also someday be joining him in heaven, because through his witness, many souls were converted and still more to come, as his memory lives on in each of us.

Lynn, we will miss you, we love you and Glory be to God.

Poetry Display At The Iuka Library—The works of local poet Jerry Charbauskis will be on display July 7th through July 25th. Mr. Charbauskis has won seven national awards and has a large following of his work. "I have a big following outside my home town, but I would like to change that," Mr. Charbauskis said. "I write poetry that people can relate too." His poetry consist of poems about family, friends and love to a poem about a wonder drug that he knows works for almost any problem, if people would just use it. As for what that is he says we'll have to come by the Library and read the poem. "Everyone should go by to read two poems at least, 'IN THE ARMS OF A STRANGER' AND 'THE PRAYER', but bring something to wipe the tears," Mr. Charbauskis said. He would like to thank Jack & Harriette Charbauskis, for their love, support and financial backing. Michelle White for all her hours in front of the computer. Without these people this would not be possible. You don't have to be a lover of poetry to enjoy Mr. Charbauskis's work, Go by and see for yourself.

Cortney's Community Chats By Cortney Compton

Just as Cinderella's fairy tale came true, I was given the opportunity to overcome the negative aspects in my life to create my own fairy tale.

It all began a few years ago when, as a teenager, I lost the real Prince Charming in my life. He was simply known to me as "Daddy." The man that had always been there for me was suddenly gone. I thought, who will walk me down the aisle at my wedding, be a grandfather to my children, and just be my Daddy? I had to accept the fact that life goes on. That meant a life forever without my Daddy.

Not knowing whether to mention his name, cry, or share my troubled feelings with others, I turned to a grief counseling program. That's when I realized grief programs specifically aimed at young people are very uncommon in my area.

After months of feeling alone, I finally overcame my grief to discover myself again. Except the person I discovered had a determination to help others overcome their own grief through education. My first step was making people of all ages aware that grief affects everyone, whether young or old, at some point in their lives. I knew in order to help children deal with grief, I had to educate adults. That meant speaking at meetings, churches, and social events. I emphasized to my audiences, "If you are old enough to love, you are old enough to grieve."

My second step was to design a program filled with songs, stories, and puppets that would easily define grief for young people. I "magically" became Pocahontas, Jasmine and the Little Mermaid only to intrigue thousands of children with my unique message about grief. I let them know they should never suppress their feelings of grief, but express them to teachers, parents, and even friends like me.

In the end, my Prince Charming may be gone, but he left me with a personal understanding about grief. That understanding is related to adults and young people alike through my grief program. We will all experience grief at some point in our lives. We just don't have to experience it alone.

Grief counseling for the youth is not only needed in my area, but other areas. By making people aware of the need for grief programs, I will have successfully completed only one chapter of my fairy tale.

Until then, my fairy tale will continue and eventually end, with a "happily ever after."

Pageant Plans

Well, this Sunday, July 5th, through Saturday July 12th I will be in Vicksburg competing in the Miss Mississippi Pageant. I have been very busy getting ready for the competition and am so thankful for all the support from friends, family, and sponsors, too!

It promises to be a busy week: Wednesday I will have my interview and the evening wear competition, Thursday will be the swimsuit competition, Friday will be the talent competition, and then on Saturday night at 7 p.m., the Miss Mississippi Pageant will be televised live on WTVA, Channel 9!

Be sure to keep your eye out for me, and read next week's column for the up-to-date latest scoop on the happenings in Vicksburg!

The hardest part about being gone for a whole week will be missing my friends, family, and everyone who has been so kind during the time I have been writing this column. Be sure to write me while I'm gone; I will be so homesick. Here's the address: Miss Alcorn County, Cortney Compton, All Saint's Episcopal School, Confederate Avenue, Vicksburg, MS 39180.

NEMCC Schedules Orientation

Northeast Mississippi Community College will offer freshman orientation sessions on July 15, 17, 22 and 24.

According to Donnie Sweeney, director of counseling services at Northeast, orientation is designed to assist each student in making a smoother transition into college life.

"Every efforts will be made to give students a worthwhile and meaningful experience, one that will help them feel at ease at Northeast," Sweeney said.

"Making the transition from high school to college can be a traumatic experience, and we will attempt to ease the strain through our orientation program."

"Orientation is an opportunity for students to meet advisers, learn more about their major, and register for classes."

"It's a good time to learn the campus and meet individuals they'll be working with at Northeast."

"Really, it's a time when college becomes a reality, and I feel that attending orientation can be a real difference in a student's getting off to a good start for their freshman year."

"It is well worth a student's time to attend orientation."

Four one-day sessions are planned to help entering students get an early start on the fall 1997 session. Students will obtain academic/curriculum planning assistance and will actually prepare their fall schedules.

Students will be assigned an orientation date based on their chosen major. The one-day sessions will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at approximately 3:30 p.m. Lunch will be served.

A $25 fee must be paid upon arrival at orientation. However, students are not required to pay tuition at orientation.

For more information about orientation, contact Northeast's Counseling Center at 720-7313.

Parson's Reunion 1908-1997 50 Were Present

The Parson's have gathered ether for another wonderful at the old Parson's Cemetery, North of Holcut, MS. The son's have gathered there for years. The 2nd Sunday in June always been a special time in heart as we visit and see ily and friends that we haven't 1 since the year before, and e longer. This is a wonderful ition that we carry on for lly and Charles Parsons and so 7 proud to do it. As we will yon in the future. It won't take g for the 100th year to be here. So, for 1997 year, we have ired together for another wonderful time at the old Parson's Cemetery for a Jovous time. We thought the weather looked a little wet. But the good Lord blessed us again to give us the time to get reacquainted and to meet some family members for the first time. Then we all gathered together our food and spread it about. Wayne Smith gave a wonderful blessing over the food and we had a wonderful fellowship among us. As I looked about seeing and hearing old stories being told, and some jokes, and a lot of laughter. I noticed that Mr. D.L. Parson's who is 79 years old was the oldest member there and running a close second was Mr. Arlon Parsons who was 77 years old. But Mr. D.L. Parson's won that race. D.L. Parsons was born on April 26, 1918 and is married to Leona Parsons for 59 years. They have 2 daughters, Verie Moore, and Helen Whittemore, all of Rienzi, MS. Mr. Parsons grandparents are buried at the cemetery.

Mr. D.L. Parson's is the son of James Wesley (J.W.) and Sally (Holder) Parsons. But, among the youngest goes to little Anna Kaitlin Spears born August 20, 1996, daughter of Tracie and Tommy Spears of Corinth, she also has a big brother named Will. Grandparents are Sandra and Larry Richardson of Corinth, Bonnie and William Spears of Corinth, Danny and Carol Hudson of Iuka. Great-grandmother is Louise White of Iuka.

As I was checking to see who had came the furthest Vida Ree "Parsons" Nichols said she came all the way from New York City - But - to find out she was all the way from Tishomingo. "Talk about traveling" Ha! But Joyce Hale from McComb, MS had traveled the farthest, also Judy and her son Lance Pepper came from Brookhaven, MS. Charles and Jesse Coker came from Liberty, MS.

Jerry and Sue Parsons came and brought a picture album of some pictures that were made 2 years ago and some where made a long time back. Everyone really enjoyed looking at those. Jane Hollingsworth of Midway was looking at a picture and thought it was her. But, to her surprises it was a picture of her mother Vida Nichols when she was about 9 years old. Talk about memories.

Everyone could see how everyone had changed over the years. Jerry had taken pictures of this day, and I'm sure you will want to be there next year to see them. So be sure to mark your calendar to come and join us in the fun at the old Parson's Cemetery down below Sardis Baptist Church.

Even though we no longer live there. There is a peace and sernity about the place that can take you back 50 years. It puts you at home again, like growing up as a child on your front porch having all the time to visit with your neighbors and chat about ole times.

Those going home were:

Be Safe Over July 4th Weekend

The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol will be utilizing all of its available resources over the Fourth of July weekend to ensure the safety and protection of the motoring public.

Troopers and the Air Operations Division of the MHSP will join enforcement efforts to detect and deter drivers who are driving under the influence, speeding, or driving reckless.

help stranded motorists and to offer any other needed assistance. "We will have extra radar details and road blocks throughout the state looking for various traffic violations, unsafe vehicles, impaired drivers, felons, and any other illegal activity," Col. Tom Ward, MHSP director said. "MHSP aircraft will be used extensively during peak travel times beginning Thursday through Sunday to assist ground operations."

Major traffic arteries throughout the state will have an additional 75 troopers assigned to work "call back" details. This is a federally funded program that pays troopers to work these details when they would ordinarily be off duty.

Mississippi Highway Patrol Criminal Investigation Bureau personnel will be working throughout the Holiday weekend to respond to any criminal activity that occurs on state and federal highways. They will be working jointly with the uniform division and other law enforcement agencies. The Traveling Criminal Apprehension officers will be utilized in making drug interdiction stops; locating fugitives, illegal aliens, missing and exploited children, stolen automobiles and heavy equipment.

Lt. Col. Marvin Curtis, MHSP assistant director said, "Drivers with cellular phones who have emergencies should dial *HP (*47) for assistance from the nearest MHSP Troop." Curtis encourages all motorists to report any accidents or traffic problems, especially drivers who may be intoxicated. Drivers and occupants are encouraged to use seat belts and take other safety precautions while in their vehicles over the holidays.

According to statistics during the 1996 Fourth of July observance, four people were killed in motor vehicle accidents. Troopers arrested 310 drivers under the influence of alcohol and drugs with a total of 8,929 citations.

The Fourth of July Holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 3 and ends at midnight on Sunday, July 6.

The Bend In The Road

Sometimes we come to life's crossroads and view what we think is the end,
But God has a much wider vision,
and He knows it's only a bend-
The road will go on and get smoother, and after we've stopped for a rest,
The path that lies hidden beyond us is often the part that is best...
So rest and relax and grow stronger-let go and let God share your load,
And have faith in a brighter tomorrow-you've just come to a bend in the road.

This beautiful poem written by Helen Steiner Rice is being shared with us by Edna Earl Tapp. Mrs. Tapp, who is undergoing chemotherapy, received a copy of the poem from another patient at the clinic. She reports it has been very uplifting and she wanted to share it with our readers.

Thank You

Dear friends,

We knew Mother had friends all over Tishomingo County. That was confirmed again and again during her illness and death. Every card she received was read more than once. Every phone call and visit was an encouragement to her. Every prayer was heard and answered as our loving Heavenly Father renewed her strength during difficult days. You were friends even unto death, and we appreciate you more than we can say.

For every act of kindness, our family will forever feel indebted to you. She would frequently say what a blessing good friends and neighbors were.

Your ministry also to us in our bereavement was comforting and heartwarming. The food, flowers and memorials expressed your love for her and for us in a special way. As she would say, "Bless you, bless you, bless you."

The Family of Delma Dean

Funeral Services For Lawrence K. Schnadig

Lawrence K. Schnadig, Chairman of the Schnadig Corporation, one of the last surviving privately held manufacturers of upholstered furniture, died at his home in Highland Park, IL on Wednesday, June 25, 1997 after a long illness. He was 89.

Mr. Schnadig, a graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, started his long and successful career in the furniture business with the Pullman Couch Company where he became president. When that business was sold, he formed Schnadig Corporation in partnership with Sears, Roebuck & Co. in 1951. Although Sears' interest was subsequently purchased, the company's business relationship continues to this day and Schnadig Corporation remains one of the leading names in living room furniture with customers throughout the United States, Canada, and Northern Europe. In October of 1990, Mr. Schnadig was elected by his peers into the American Furniture Hall of Fame.

"Everyone in this industry and in this community loved and respected Lawrence Schnadig for his business acumen, integrity, and compassion," said his son-in-law, Donald Belgrad, now Schnadig's president and CEO. "It is obviously a loss to us as a family, but also to the business, our industry and to society at large," he added.

In addition to his many business interests, which included serving as Chairman of the Board's Executive Committee of Alden's the former Chicago mail order company, and Chairman of the Board of the National Bank of Hyde Park, Mr. Schnadig was active in many charitable groups, particularly those concerned with child care. He was an honorary life trustee of the Children's Home and Aid Society, a member of the Committee on Dependent and Neglected Children, and a member of the Advisory Committee of the Institute for Juvenile Research. He was past president of the Board of Trustees of the Jewish Children's Bureau of Chicago.

Mr. Schnadig was also a member of the War Production Board during World War II.

His wife, Dorothy said, "As devoted as Lawrence was to his business and his family, he was equally committed to those philanthropies that looked out for less fortunate members of our society, especially younger ones. His love of children found particular expression in total involvement with his many grandchildren."

In addition to his wife, Mr. Schnadig leaves two sons, J. Lawrence Schnadig and Richard and his wife Patricia Schnadig, a daughter, Susan and her husband, Donald Belgrad, ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was held Friday, June 27 at Temple Am Shalom in Glencoe, IL.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Children's Home and Aid Society of Illinois, 125 S Wacker Dr., Chicago, IL 60606, or to the University of Chicago, School of Social Service Administration, 969 E. 60th St., Chicago, IL 60637.

A Widow's Plea

Sometimes we feel so all alone
When our mates are past and gone
But Lord we know that you are there
And listen to our every prayer

When we begin to have a long face.
We think of your amazing grace.
You said you would never leave us all alone,
Even though they have long been gone.

We think we have so much to do,
But somehow you always carry us through.
Our days are hard, our nights are long
But every morning is a new dawn.

Even though we sometimes fuss,
You always know what's best for us.
We do not wish for fortune or fame,
Our fervent prayer is, Lord give us a good name.

The one I dearly loved,
is basking in Heaven above.
He worked so hard to earn a living,
But Love and Care he was always giving.

I'm longing to walk the streets of Gold,
When I'll be singing the songs of Old.
I'll sing Victory in Jesus and Amazing Grace so true,
I'm on my way to Heaven my friend, How about you?
By: Jewell Mann

Burnsville Happenings

By: Donna Burns

The Burnsville Public Library had a Teddy Bear picnic July 3, at 10:00 a.m. at the Public Library. This picnic was for pre-schoolers. They brought their Teddy Bears to the picnic and listened to Teddy Bear stories. They enjoyed peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, drinks, cookies, etc. Thanks to Rainbow 4-H for helping with the picnic.

July 10th Rainbow 4-H will have an open meeting at the Public Library for the public. The guest will be Charlotte Daniel of Soil and Water Conservation. The program will be from 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. We will break for lunch at the school. Rainbow 4-H and the Public Library invite you to come out and enjoy the morning.

Pleasant Grove Church of Christ will have their monthly get-together Saturday, 5th at the church. Call members for information.

Over The Rainbow
Over the Rainbow is a report put together by 4-H'ers in Rainbow 4-H club of Burnsville. This year they have collected clothing for the needy several times and help donate food to the needy. They have helped present several programs on safety, water conservation, ect and waste management through out the year to the club public, and school children. They would like to thank Corp. of Engineers, Charlotte Daniel, Soil & Water Conservation; Mary Baldwin of 4-H, Danny Owen, County Agent, and anyone who has helped with these great programs. Special thanks to the Burnsville Public Library for their part in making these programs and the mini day camps a reality for our area.

Andrew Burns, Reporter
I hope everyone has a great 4th of July and a safe one.
Boy Scout Troop 75 is working on their merit badges. Safety is the one they are working on now. So if you have a Boy Scout drop by he may ask about doing a safety project, ect. If you can let him work with you. It's a very important job to do, learn and earn these merit badges. Thank You.

The word "Wyoming" comes from a Delaware Indian word meaning "upon the great plain."
