by Pamela McRae

Four people were arrested on drug related charges after a sting operation came to a conclusion Labor Day weekend.

According to Tishomingo County Sheriff David Smith, three people were charged with possession of more than one ounce of marijuana with intent to sell within 1,500 feet of a school.

Amy Fath, 21, Rene Goodwill, 22, and Charles Childers, 41, all of 936 Highway 15 in Red Bay, Alabama, were all arrested late Sunday at a house in Belmont after a sting operation that included the Belmont Police Department, Smith said.

Also arrested in Belmont on Monday was Steve A. Pitt, 36, whose address was listed as Old 25 in Belmont. He was charged with possession of less than an ounce of marijuana and with one count of sale of marijuana, after allegedly selling to an undercover sheriff's department official, Smith said.

Fath, Goodwill and Childers are each being held at the Tishomingo County Jail on a $10,000 bond each. No bond has been set on Pitt, sheriff's officials said.

Sheriff & MBN Confiscate 879 Marijuana Plants

by Pamela McRae

More than a million dollars worth of marijuana found growing in Tishomingo County was confiscated by the sheriff's department last Wednesday, August 28th.

Overhead surveillance and help from agents of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics were instrumental in the seizure of 879 marijuana plants found in various stages of growth in the northeast corner of Tishomingo County, according to Sheriff

David Smith.

At about $1,000 to $2,000 per plant, the approximate street value of the plants is estimated between $879,000 and $1,758,000.

No arrests have been made, but the investigation is ongoing, said Smith. Anyone having information related to the case is encouraged to call the sheriff's department at 423-6185, or the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics at 1-800-844-6272.

Public Hearing Notice

A public hearing will be held on September 8, 1997 to provide the general public with an opportunity to comment on the taxing and spending plan incorporated in the proposed budget of the City of Iuka for the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1997 and ending September 30, 1998. The meeting will be held at Iuka City Hall at 5:30 p.m. All interested citizens are encouraged to attend and comment.

The Iuka City Hall is located on Eastport Street in Iuka until further notice.

Supervisors Proposing Property Tax Increase

by Pamela McRae

The Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors will hold a hearing next Monday on a proposed property tax increase.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. September 8th and the public is invited to attend.

According to Dale Price, President of the Board of Supervisors (and First District Supervisor), the proposed increase of one mill will go toward a general increase in costs to operate county offices and agencies, and to protect the county from lawsuits.

Mandated Salary Increases

Some of the cost increase is due to salary increases mandated by the Mississippi Legislature for most county offices, like sheriffs, supervisors, tax assessors, tax collectors, court clerks and the like, said Price. Chancery Court Clerks are not included due to a 1992 House bill freezing Chancery Clerk salaries until the year 2000, stated Hayden Ables, Chancery Clerk.

The increase will also be used for administrative cost increases in county offices, like contractual services and equipment.

Rising Law Enforcement Costs

Law enforcement cost increases will be another area that would benefit from the proposed increase.

There are some things you can't budget for, like how many prisoners you are going to have," explained Price.

The Tishomingo County Jail, which has exceeded its 24-inmate capacity for at least a year now, is already over last year's budgeted allotment by $12,000 for prisoners' food costs alone. Medical costs for prisoners are already $3,000 over budget, as well, according to Deputy Chancery Clerk Lynn McBride.

Some pending litigation against the county is also in the consideration for the need for increased funds.

This year's proposed budget will exceed the one mill proposed increase, said Price. Exact figures on the proposed budget were not available.

Last year's published total budget for the county was $12,530,785. Only a small amount, of the total revenue of $5,958,685 is raised by tax levy, McBride said. Last year's published budget listed $1,641,585 as the total amount estimated to be raised by tax levy.

First County-Wide Millage Increase for County in 3 Years

This is the first time in three years the county has asked for a county-wide millage increase for the county budget, Price said.

An extra mill for Districts 1,

2, and 3 was announced in 1996. It goes toward a bond for Iuka

Airport improvements.

The county gets $62,000 per mill, and the average rate is about 69 mills in the northern three districts and 68 mills in the fourth and fifth districts, Price said. The county should be seeing $76,000 from each mill, but homestead exemption complications and failure to pay takes up some of the expected revenue.

Since 1992-93 fiscal year, all other millage increases have been for increases in the education budget, both for the local Tishomingo County schools and for Northeast Mississippi Community College. Approximately 60 percent of the total county millage, about $2.5 million in the budget, goes to Tishomingo County Schools, said Ables.

In addition to the county-proposed one mill increase, the schools are requesting one-and-a-half mills, Ables verified.

Average Cost Per Homestead

For example, the average $60,000 home which is taxed at the 10 percent rate, will see an increase of about $6 to its annual tax bill, Price said.

For businesses, and rentals, which are taxed at about 15 percent, the increase will be a bit more.

The final, approved budget is scheduled for publication the 15th of September, Price said.

TCEPA Announces Increase In Electric Rates Effective October 1st

Tishomingo County Electric Power Association's rates will increase by 5.5 percent on October 1, 1997, due to a pass-thru of TVA's wholesale rate increase that was approved by the TVA board at its August board meeting. Retail rates will increase an additional 3 percent if a pending rate request by TCEPA is approved by TVA.

"This is the first wholesale rate increase by TVA since 1986," said TCEPA Manager Robert Grisham. "And TCEPA's second increase in the same eleven year period."

TVA's rate increase is part of a ten-year business plan to cut outstanding debt in half and to achieve a wholesale power cost of 3.5 cents per Kwh by the year 2007. TVA has stopped its nuclear plant construction, capped its debt, reduced its employment levels by over 50 percent and improved operations at all of its generating facilities.

"TVA's ten-year plan is an aggressive move to keep TVA competitive and one of the best utilities in the world," stated Grisham.

TCEPA's rate request follows a slightly over 2 percent increase adopted in June, 1995, to repay indebtedness incurred to make repairs after the Ice Storm '94 and build new substations at North Crossroads and Iuka. With the completion of the planned conversion to 161 kV of Belmont Substation in spring, 1998, TCEPA will have spent over eleven million dollars in a seven-year period to meet the increased power requirements for the next twenty years according to Grisham.

"TCEPA's requirement for additional revenue has become necessary to keep debt levels as low as possible and to replace revenues lost by the closure of Vulcan Materials at Midway and abandonment of the Yellow Creek site by Morton Thiokol," stated Grisham.

TCHS Living Skills Program Receives Pilot Club Support

A new program at Tishomingo County High School will focus on teaching students basic life skills like cooking, ironing, cleaning, and balancing a check book while they work and go to school. TCHS teacher Ginger Turner heads up the Living Skills Classroom project, and recently received a $500 check from the Pilot Club of Iuka on behalf of the program. Pilot Club members also enjoyed having a "shower" for the center at their August meeting, which provided the classroom with essential home supplies.

Shown presenting the check to Mrs. Turner are President Donna Dill and other Pilot Club members, Barbara Sweeney, Olivia Jones, Caffie Enlow, and Lana Harrelson.

Other businesses have also helped to fund or provide items for the classroom. Eauhaus donated a sofa and Iuka Ford and Heil presented monetary donations. Both teachers and students are looking forward to using the new classroom.

Children & Summer Stains

Summer seems to be the worst season for stains - especially on children's clothes now with school activities and family outings crammed into waning summer weekends. Those juicy watermelons, dripping ice-cream cones, suntan oil, and who-knows-what-else can be a frustrating sight if they stain a favorite piece of clothing, both for children and adults.

Fortunately, with the proper treatment, many stains can be removed. To help keep clothing stain-free, here are several suggestions from the stain removal guide published by the Cooperative Extension Service at MSU. For a free copy, listing specific treatment for about 50 different stains, contact your county extension office and ask for Publication 1400.

The first step toward successful removal is to determine the type of stain you're dealing with. Fortunately, all stains fit into one of five cleaning categories - wet, dry, combination, special, or unknown. Each type needs a different treatment.

Statistics from Rit brand dye and fabric treatments indicate that stains which most commonly send garments to the trash heap are grease or oil stains, color bleeding, ink, rust, blood, grass, and food stains from tomato sauce, ketchup and mustard.

To prevent this, first determine whether the garment should be washed or dry cleaned. If it can be washed, decide which type of stain it has, and treat accordingly. If the garment must be dry cleaned, identify the stain for your cleaner and have the garment cleaned promptly.

Wet stains are water-based and can be dissolved in cool water, especially if the stain is fresh. For washable clothing, loosen the wet stain with liquid detergent or a paste of powdered detergent and water, then launder as usual. Wet stains include fruit juices, soft drinks, iced tea, beer, and light mud.

Dry stains include cooking oil, suntan oil and motor oil. Oil-based stains usually require some type of dry cleaning solvent for successful removal. Dry-cleaning solvent can be found in most grocery and hardware stores. Thoroughly rinse and air dry garments treated with dry cleaning fluid before laundering.

Combination stains such as meat gravy, ice cream and ketchup need twice the treatment since they contain both oil and water. Treat combination stains first as a dry stain to remove the grease, and then as a wet stain. Combination stains containing protein, such as blood, collar soils and salad dressing usually need treatment with an enzyme-based product.

Stain sticks and gels are some of the newest enzyme products. They are kind to most fabrics and colors and can be left on tough stains for up to a week without damaging the fabric. Treat grass stains, another combination stain, with enzyme stain sticks or gel.

Special stains come from unusual substances and require individual treatment. Mildew is a common special summer stain. It is best removed with chlorine bleach for bleachable fabrics, for non-bleachable fabrics, sponge the mildew stain with hydrogen peroxide, and then launder or soak in an all-fabric bleach solution for 30 minutes or more.

Unknown stains that you can't identify by feel, smell, or location, should be treated as a dry stain first, and then as a wet stain if needed.

Test stain removal products on an inconspicuous area of a garment before using. Follow the product's directions and work carefully and patiently. Apply stain remover to the underside of the stain, with the garment placed face down on a clean paper towel or white cloth. Air dry the garment until you are sure the stain has been completely removed. Retreat if the stain is still visible.

Your Dental Health

Why Are My Teeth Discolored?

Just as people have different skin and hair color, people also have different tooth color. Some teeth are more yellow, and others yellow with aging. Natural tooth color can be discolored by a number of causes. The surface of the teeth can be stained by tobacco, certain foods and beverages such as coffee, tea and berries and by deposits of calculus, or tartar. Discoloration of the tooth internally can result from aging, injury, excessive fluoride, certain illnesses and taking the antibiotic tetracycline during early childhood. Although bleaching successfully lightens most discolorations, certain types (those caused by tetracycline) are more difficult to remove.

Procedures

There are two types of bleaching procedures. Bleaching may be done completely in the dental office (known as chairside bleaching) or a system may be dispensed by the dentist for the patient to use at home (nightguard bleaching).

The procedure that is done in the dental office takes from 30 minutes to one hour per visit. It is not uncommon for the teeth to become slightly sensitive following bleaching treatments.

To protect the mouth, a gel-like substance is applied to the gums and a rubber "shield" is placed around the necks of the teeth. A chemical solution, the oxidizing agent, is then "painted" on the teeth. A special light may be used at five-minute intervals to help activate the agent.

With nightguard bleaching, the dentist makes an impression for a model of your teeth, fabricates a custom-fitted mouthguard and prescribes a bleaching agent that comes in the form of a bleaching gel. The gel is placed in a mouthguard and worn up to two hours daily or at night for about two weeks. The amount of time the nightguard is worn and the duration may vary according to your needs and your dentist's recommendations.

If Glasses Sliding Down

Ill-fitting or loose frames that slide down your nose or sit askew on your face will not allow you to get the best benefits of your prescription, since the optical center of the lens must be directly in front of your pupil. This is why a careful and conscientious eye care professional will spend what may seem like an excessive amount of time adjusting your frames. If you drop your glasses or the screws in the hinges become loose, or the frames get bent, you should have them readjusted and repaired so alignment is again perfect. If you have wire frames, you should have the alignment checked periodically, since this type of frame is particularly prone to bending.

Do not continue to wear glasses that are askew. Do not attempt to repair them with paper clips or bits of wire. In most cases, the eye professional from whom you bought your glasses will make these repairs or adjustments free, but in any case, the charge will be nominal and definitely worth it.

Your Rights In An Accident

If you've been in an accident, you have many rights guaranteed by law. Knowing your rights can help you receive full compensation for your injuries. Here are some of the main rights of accident victims.

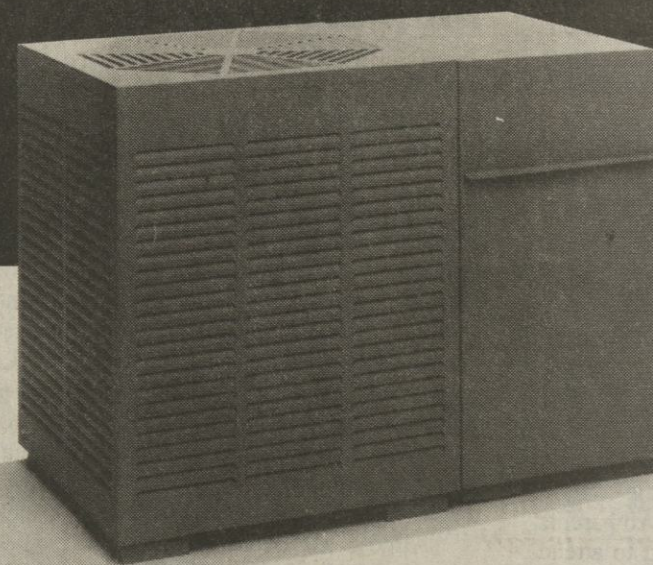

- Right to receive fair compensation. Generally, whoever is responsible for paying damages must make the injured person "whole" - that is, he or she must pay for all losses occurring from the accident.
- Right to talk to your attorney before answering questions.
- Right to choose your own doctor.

These are just a few of the rights of accident victims. If you have questions about your rights in an accident, call your lawyer.

Toxoplasmosis In Cats
Toxoplasmosis is one of the small number of diseases affecting domestic cats that can actually be transmitted to humans.

Although transmission of this parasite (a protozoan) from the cat to the human is extremely rare, the consequences of a pregnant woman being infected are serious because severe birth defects may result. Women who are pregnant can still have pet cats at home without risk of infection. Consult a veterinarian or obstetrician for additional information.

Cats can become infected with Toxoplasmosis and they can transmit the infection to humans through the feces. However, cats only pass the eggs in the feces for a short time (10 to 14 days) in their life! Therefore, the risk of human exposure is extremely low. When working in soil where cats might defecate or when cleaning a litter box, it's always a good idea to wear gloves and wash your hands well afterwards.

Although pet cats are able to shed the eggs of the Toxoplasmosis organism in their feces, it is the consumption or handling of rare and/or raw meat that is the single most common source of human infection. The meat most likely to be involved are lamb, poor, and mutton. Beef is an unlikely source of human infection with Toxoplasmosis.

Cats can be tested for Toxoplasmosis. If an examination of a sick cat suggests that Toxoplasmosis might be the diagnosis, a blood sample can be evaluated. Only one laboratory in the U.S. (Colorado State University College of Veterinary Medicine) can currently test a cat's blood for the infection.

If Glasses Sliding Down

Ill-fitting or loose frames that slide down your nose or sit askew on your face will not allow you to get the best benefits of your prescription, since the optical center of the lens must be directly in front of your pupil. This is why a careful and conscientious eye care professional will spend what may seem like an excessive amount of time adjusting your frames. If you drop your glasses or the screws in the hinges become loose, or the frames get bent, you should have them readjusted and repaired so alignment is again perfect. If you have wire frames, you should have the alignment checked periodically, since this type of frame is particularly prone to bending.

Do not continue to wear glasses that are askew. Do not attempt to repair them with paper clips or bits of wire. In most cases, the eye professional from whom you bought your glasses will make these repairs or adjustments free, but in any case, the charge will be nominal and definitely worth it.

Your Rights In An Accident

If you've been in an accident, you have many rights guaranteed by law. Knowing your rights can help you receive full compensation for your injuries. Here are some of the main rights of accident victims.

- Right to receive fair compensation. Generally, whoever is responsible for paying damages must make the injured person "whole" - that is, he or she must pay for all losses occurring from the accident.
- Right to talk to your attorney before answering questions.
- Right to choose your own doctor.

Cortney's Community Chats By Cortney Compton

I have often heard that a thousand words will not leave so deep an impression as one deed. To many times, I see people overlook the simple beauty of helping one another.

Since the first day of school till now, people have told me countless times to treat others the way I wanted to be treated. My motto is "Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."

I have found a lot of sunshine or should I say happiness in being a hospital volunteer at the Iuka Hospital. It doesn't take a lot of time and you can assist at your own pace. Hospital volunteers work together to make the patients stay more enjoyable. They are responsible for arts and crafts, patient contact, and unique cheering up strategies. We need your help to make the Iuka Hospital volunteers program more successful. It doesn't matter your age or how much time you have to contribute.

What matters is that you want to be part of a group that help others see sunshine through little deeds. You know that wanting to do something and having to do something are two different statements.

I hope you want to be a hospital volunteer at the Iuka Hospital. If you are interested please contact Mrs. Randi Taylor at Iuka Hospital 423-6051.

Let me end by saying, the

All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my mother. (Abraham Lincoln). Proverbs: 19:20. Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in the latter end.

Devotional: "God of all Comfort". 2 Corinthians 1:3-7. Verse 7. And our hope to you is steadfast, knowing that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation. If you are a Child of God you are going to be persecuted in some way or other, but if you partake of His sufferings, so shall you be partakers of His consolation.

Simon Peter: "A Comforting Servant". Simon Peter was a leader. He was the first man the Lord called an apostle, the first apostle to deny the Lord, the first apostle to enter the empty tomb, the first apostle to preach to the Gentiles. 5:8. Be sober be vigilant, because; your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

We had special songs Sunday morning. The Junior class sang one, then Bro. John, also Katherine and Betty. They really got a preaching service started off just right. After the songs Bro. John read from Romans 1:16. "Share the Gospel". Anybody that can read can read about the birth, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. You can read what he came for. The Gospel means Good News. What better news that Jesus came and died for us that we might live. Only Jesus can save us, and He won't save us if we don't want

By: Ova Reno

The best academy, a mother's knee. (James Russell Lowell) Proverbs 29:17. Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

Devotional: God's Eternal Purpose. Ephesians 3:16-21, Verse 17. That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye being rooted and grounded in love. (References) Love is the soil in which we must grow, and the foundation on which we must build.

Sunday morning when I started to church the wagon train was passing by. It was raining but most of them had tops on their wagons. It sure was a long one. Sunday afternoon they went back through. It had quit raining.

After singing service Sunday morning, Bro. John read from Ephesians 1:3-14. Verse 4. According as He has chosen as in Him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Reference) Here God has predestined all children of God to be adopted into His family. But who becomes a child of God is left up to the individual. John 3:15-20; Revelation 22:17. 1 Timothy 2:4.

1 Peter 3:9.

This was the last lesson for this Quarter. It was titled People of Christ. The people of Christ reflect His character. Today's lesson. "John: God's Revelator." Central Truth. Faithful Witnesses Testify of God. Text: Revelation: 1:1,2, 4-7, 9-11. Verse 1,2. The revelation of Jesus Christ which God gave unto His servant things which must shortly come to pass: and He sent and signified it by His angel unto His servant John: who bear record of the word of God and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw. This lesson is worthy of some serious study.

Sunday night Bro. John read from Luke 22:39-46. Saying: Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will but thine be done. This was the destiny of Jesus Christ before the beginning of the world. He knew it was His destiny. He knew what He would have to go through with and He dreaded it: but He let God's will be done. Ready or not we shall also meet our destiny. It will be too late then.

Look for the good things in people and encourage them, and may be they will do better. You can't serve God and Mammon at the same time. Read Matthew 6:24, Luke 16: 9,11,13.

Be sure to attend our Homecoming at Sardis Baptist Church, Sunday, September 7th. Beginning at 10:00 a.m., with preaching services. Singing begins at 11 a.m. Lunch will be spread at 12:30 p.m. Bring a covered dish with something good to eat in it. Look for another notice elsewhere in this paper. Our Wednesday night Bible study is still going great. We are studying the Second Advent. It's closer than you think. Matthew 6:24, Luke 16: 9,11,13. Please read.

Tishomingo County Retired Teachers To Meet September 13th

The Tishomingo County Retired Teachers Association will meet Friday, September 13, 1997 at 11:00 a.m. at the Sportsman's Cafe in Tishomingo.

After lunch the business meeting will be held at the conference room of the Bank of Mississippi in Tishomingo. MS Attorney Phillip Whitehead will discuss the Durable powers of Attorney and Living Wills. The devotion will be given by Bro. Robert Powell.

President Ruth Dawson invites all Tishomingo County retirees to attend this meeting.

Letter To The Editor

Histories for only three of Mississippi's 100-plus Civil War regiments have been written. I am attempting to document the exploits of the 43rd Regiment, Mississippi Infantry Volunteers, CSA, several of whose eleven companies were raised in counties immediately south and southwest of Iuka. This regiment was known as the "Camel Regiment" and fought at Iuka, Corinth, Vicksburg, Atlanta, Franklin, Nashville, and Bentonville, surrendering with Gen. Joseph Johnston in North Carolina in 1865. This brave band of brothers marched literally thousands of miles and suffered untold hardships in trying to forge a new Southern nation. As with many CSA Magnolia State units, only scant documentation remains for the 43rd. Some seventeen-hundred and six men from northeast Mississippi served in this unit, and their current-day progeny in the area (including many who have migrated to Tishomingo County) must surely number in the tens of thousands. I would be honored and humbled if kind readers of the The Tishomingo County News who descend from these noble sires and who have letters, diaries, photos of the men at any age (whether or not in uniform), family stories, documents, newspaper clippings, original equipment, etc., would please contact me at their earliest convenience in order that I might utilize their precious memories and mementos in creating a history of the 43rd truly worthy of the heroes who filled its ranks.

Please help me honor the valiant "Boys in Gray" of northeast Mississippi by kindly sharing with me any information you may have regarding the 43rd Regiment, Mississippi Infantry Volunteers, CSA. Deo Vindice! (God Vindicates.)

Sincerely,
Jim Huffman

Mushrooms Can Be Dangerous

In Mississippi wild mushrooms pop up just about any time in yards, woodlands, pasture areas, and other locations, following rainy weather and cooler than normal temperatures. Mushrooms, often called "toadstools," are actually specialized types of fungi, and can be admired for their beauty and the fantastic variety of form, color, and texture. They grow in a variety of habitats, and generally are important as decay microorganisms, aiding in the breakdown of logs, leaves, fallen branches, and other organic debris. When mushrooms are found in lawn areas, many homeowners want to know if they're causing damage. It's important to realize these fungi are not parasitic on turfgrasses and won't cause any disease problems. Mushrooms samples are frequently sent to the Plant Pathology Laboratory at Mississippi State University with a request for identification. Invariably, the sender wants to know "Will it be o.k. to eat this type mushroom?" Since mushrooms specimens generally reach our laboratory in deteriorated condition, we are not always able to provide a positive identification. While there are some choice wild mushrooms which are edible, we always remind clientele that some species - the various Amanita species, for example - are deadly poisonous to humans. If consumed, even in small amounts, these types could cause fatal results. A few of the poisonous ones are so potent that near-fatal liver damage has already occurred by the time the person realizes they've been poisoned. Is there a simple way to tell poisonous species from non-poisonous ones? Absolutely not! You must identify a mushroom correctly to the species level in order to know if it is safe to eat. Anyone interested in collecting wild mushrooms for consumption should obtain a copy of one or more books or publications on the subject and become VERY PROFICIENT in mushroom identification. Remember this rule should you spot what appears to be a choice specimen and you're not quite sure about its identity: Don't experiment admire it, BUT DON'T EAT IT! A wrong guess could be fatal. There is an old saying, "There are old mushroom hunters, and bold mushroom hunters, but there are no old, bold mushroom hunters."

In Service

Marine 1st Lt. Matthew S. Reid, son of Lemuel Reid of Dennis, MS, is halfway through a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian Oceans, serving with the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit, embarked aboard the ships of the USS Boxer Amphibious Ready Group.

During the first part of the voyage, Reid participated in Exercise Infinite Moonlight, a bilateral training exercise enhancing the interpretability between the forces of U.S. Central Command and the Royal Jordanian armed forces.

Reid has visited several liberty ports, including Hong Kong, Jordan, Singapore and Thailand where the crew participated in community relations projects and enjoyed the diverse culture.

The 1989 graduate of Franklin Academy of Malone, N.Y., joined the Marine Corps in May 1993. Reid is a 1993 graduate of Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., with a BS degree.

Summer Program Combines Two Service Programs

Jason Cutshall of Iuka is one of twenty-one Mississippi State graduate students in business that are beneficiaries of a hands-on summer experience that also provided valuable assistance to the university.

As part of a strategy field study class, the master of business administration candidates usually consult with area business firms when the course is offered in spring and fall.

"The shorter semester and daily class schedules make it difficult for students to handle field projects in the summer," explained teacher Barbara A. Spencer. "Driving to sites in Houston or even Columbus can be pretty tough given our tight schedule."

So, the management professor decided to have most of the students work with departments on campus, as well as one nearby company, and "provide a service to the university while learning."

Four teams of students were assigned to work with different departments in the Division of Business Affairs. A fifth team worked with Southwire, a Starkville company, where they gathered information to promote a new type of wire product.

At Mississippi State, business affairs is involved in a program to improve the quality of its services and the students were able to provide assistance and benefits from the experience within the academic time frame.

The students' on-campus efforts were focused in four offices:

Information Systems and User Support. The division will open an information desk this fall, so the MBA team surveyed students to determine which computer services and technologies they prefer.

Dining Services. Discussions were held with all Dining Services employees to gain insights on how the area can improve its operations.

Comptroller and Treasurer. Students studied the range of services offered and put together a questionnaire for the department to use in measuring customer satisfaction.

Procurement and Contracts. The students helped develop a process to implement a bar code system for tracking inventory that will result in major changes for the office's operations.

Feedback from both students and university employees has been so promising that future classes will most likely conduct their field studies at the university instead of "on the road."

As one student participant explained, "The project helps to integrate all the skills learned in the MBA program and put them to use in the real world."

University personnel echo the student's satisfaction. Assistant Vice President for Business Affairs Wayne Reed praised the students' "enthusiasm for the project." Comptroller Wayne Balnd went even further: "I'd like to hire all four of the students who worked here."

Graduation at Blue Mountain

Blue Mountain College, Blue Mountain, Mississippi, held Commencement Exercises for its 124th annual session on Sunday, May 4, 1997. Eighty-five graduates were awarded the bachelor's degree.

Speakers for the occasion were Mr. Louis F. Smith, Director of Church-Minister Relations of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board and Ms. Marjean Patterson, Executive Director-Treasurer of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board.

Area students receiving degrees during the graduation exercises include: Wanda Jean Wilkins Cumming, Iuka; Robin Elizabeth Wilkinson Johnson, Burnsville; and Amy Elizabeth Woodruff, Burnsville.

MS Consumers Rate Their Phone Service Best In The U.S.

Mississippi consumers enjoy the nation's top-rated local telephone service according to the 1997 J.D. Power and Associates study of customer satisfaction with local telephone service, released today.

The study is based on interviews with residential telephone customers of all major U.S. local telephone companies. Consumers evaluated their local company on key areas of customer satisfaction, including cost of service, corporate image, promotions, call quality, billing and operator services.

"We're delighted with this recognition," said J. Kelly Allgood, BellSouth President-Mississippi. "It is especially meaningful to BellSouth for two reasons: first, the recognition comes from our customers; second, we also earned top ranking in last year's J.D. Power and Associates customer satisfaction results, the first time local telephone service was included in the study."

According to Allgood, "In Addition to the 1996 and 1997 J.D. Power studies, BellSouth was recognized as the nation's leading consumer telephone service provider in two other 1996 customer satisfaction surveys. One was a survey conducted by national telecommunications consultant The Yankee Group, and the other was the 1996 American Customer Satisfaction Index, conducted by the University of Michigan Business School and the American Society for Quality Control and published in Fortune Magazine."

Allgood said that BellSouth would like to bring its customer focus to the long distance service category in future surveys. "We believe BellSouth has amply demonstrated its ability to deliver outstanding local phone service and we are working to be allowed to bring that same standard of customer satisfaction to long distance service. Hopefully, our customers will be able to benefit from a truly competitive telecommunications market in the near future."

Allgood stressed that BellSouth's success is the product of a partnership between the company and the Communications Workers of America that stresses customer satisfaction. "It would be impossible to have achieved the high level of customer approval evidenced by these studies without the commitment of each member of the BellSouth team, both union and management."

BellSouth is a $19 billion telecommunications services company. It provides telecommunications, wireless communications, directory advertising and publishing, Internet and information services to more than 28 million customers in 20 countries worldwide. BellSouth's telecommunications operations provide service over one of the most modern telecommunications networks in the world for nearly 23 million telephone lines in a nine-state region that includes Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Multiple Sclerosis Society Seeking Latest Addresses

I am the Chapter Service's Director of the Mississippi Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. I hope that you will publish the following letter in your newspaper to assist the National MS Society in servicing the MS community.

Over the past few months, I have developed a considerable problem with keeping track of where my clientele of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society Mississippi are living.

Since January, I have had to delete 120 clients from our database due to incorrect address change of address due to the implementation of the emergency system, moving with no forwarding address, or moved and forwarding order has expired.

I have tried to locate these clients through various means, calling information for a phone number, or looking the name up in the current phone books, (many of the people with multiple sclerosis I am looking for are women who are listed in the phone directory under their husbands first name, not theirs), and talking with the post office about assistance with forwarding addresses (yet many post offices do not keep a file of the old to new addresses).

I realize that many people whom I am looking for do not even realize that their name has been taken off our mailing list (the chapter has not been active in the past, as it is currently), hoping that through this letter people who have multiple sclerosis that have not received mail from the Mississippi Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in the past month, will call 601-856-7575 or 1-800-FIGHT MS (1-800-344-4867), and date their address with the Chapter.

There is no fee to be a member of the chapter or receive our material.

Report From Congress

By: U.S. Rep. Roger F. Wicker

Wicker Outlines Plans To Assist Working Families

This Labor Day, more Mississippians are working than at any time in history. Our state is now experiencing the lowest unemployment rate in twenty-four years, 5.4 percent. In addition, the national unemployment rate stands at 4.8 percent, the lowest since November of 1973. More jobs and opportunities are coming to Mississippi - so we have cause to be thankful. I think it is appropriate to reflect on what we have accomplished in Congress to help working families and to look forward to more changes which will benefit all Americans.

First and foremost, the best action Congress can take to help working families is to let them keep more of their hard-earned money. My colleagues and I made dramatic progress to do that when we passed the first balanced budget in a generation and the first tax cuts for working families in sixteen years. But this is just the beginning.

This fall, we will continue pushing for a smaller, smarter, and more efficient federal government to helping hard working families. I will not be satisfied until every tax dollar sent to Washington is well-spent, and until we have restored common sense to federal spending. Much has been accomplished, but much remains to be done. I would like to let you know a few of our priorities in Congress for the coming months.

Improving Education - By creating savings incentives and tax credits, Congress has taken steps to improve educational opportunities for our children and making them more affordable to families. Congress will be working to allow parents—and not federal bureaucrats—to make more of the decisions about the direction of their children's education.

Improving Health - Not only do we need to continue our work on Medicare provisions so retirees have the same health choices as we do, but we must work to reform the Food and Drug Administration, so that new and improved drugs and medical devices can get to you when you need it. Congress will be considering comprehensive FDA reform to speed up the process of approving life-saving medications and reducing complicated regulations without jeopardizing safety.

Improving Highways - Infrastructure is one of the most important responsibilities of the government, both at the federal and state levels. Getting more resources in a fair and equitable fashion will be a top priority for this Congress. I will be working with our Congressional delegation and Mississippi Transportation officials to ensure that our state receives a fair share of federal highway dollars in the pending 6-year transportation bill.

Improving Government - Congress will continue to work to make the federal government more responsive to the needs of the people. We will cut spending on programs that waste taxpayer's money, while improving services at the federal level. I am proud that we have been able to completely eliminate 297 federal programs and consolidate dozens of others.

As your Congressman, I am committed to providing more opportunities to working families.

I will continue supporting programs to improve the economy so that our children will have more opportunities to find quality jobs, stay in Mississippi and raise a family.

I look forward to hearing from you on these and other concerns. You may write to me at 206 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, DC, 20515, or phoning me (202)225-4306.

Replenishment Blood Drive To Be Held In Memory Of Dimple Ryan

Dimple Ryan of Iuka recently passed away after undergoing treatments for cancer at North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. Friends and neighbors throughout the area are being asked to give blood in memory of Mrs. Ryan. A replenishment blood drive will be held at Iuka Methodist Church on Friday, September 12.

By replenishing blood products used by Ryan, her neighbors in Tishomingo County can assure that blood remains available the next time another patient needs it.

"It's customary for the family and friends of those who use donated blood to replenish the blood supply," said Kendal Summers, blood center spokesperson. "I cannot imagine a more beautiful tribute to Dimple Ryan than the living gift of life. When other area patients need another chance, friends of Mrs. Ryan can help assure the blood is there."

Blood donations are being taken at Iuka Methodist Church on Friday, September 12, from 12-8 p.m. Donors wishing to replenish blood used by Mrs. Ryan are encouraged to call Tony Mobley at 423-6338 or 423-9670. Donation appointments are strongly encouraged to assure a quick donation process, since the blood center knows the number of donors its staff can see each hour.

Blood donors must: -Be ages 17 through 79; -Weigh at least 110 lbs; -Present Identification; -Know the names of all medications taken as well as the reason they are taken.

Please do NOT donate if you: -Have COLD or FLU symptoms; -Have taken ANTIBIOTICS in the last 7 days; -Have had HEPATITIS since the age of 11; -Have had CANCER; -Are or have been PREGNANT in the last 6 weeks.

In most cases, you CAN donate if: -your HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE is regulated; -your HEART CONDITION is regulated; -you have HIGH CHOLESTEROL; -are feeling WELL and HEALTHY.

TC Braves Gear Up For Arch-Rival Belmont Friday Night

by Lana Harrelson

After a disappointing 34-2 loss to Kossuth last Friday night, the TC Braves are preparing for this week's competition against the Cardinals from Belmont.

Game time will be at 7:30 at the Belmont field, and the Braves invite everyone to come out and support them.

In last week's action, TC scored first when Grant Smith tackled Kossuth's Curtis Henry for a safety. TC went ahead 2 to 0.

However, Henry came roaring back with a 50-yard touchdown run to put Kossuth ahead 6-2.

L. Eaton caught two touchdown passes of 16 and 23 yards respectively from Kossuth's J. Vansandt.

T.J. Seago of the Aggies also had six catches for 105 yards. Henry scored his second TD in the third quarter. Vansandt also had a TD in the third quarter. Chad Redding added 4 PATs to complete Kossuth's 34-2 defeat of the Braves.

The Braves will this week be working hard to prepare themselves for the area rivalry that always proves to be a showcase of exciting high school football action.

Home Health Agency To Expand

North Mississippi Medical Center Home Health Agency has increased its depth of coverage from 11 to 18 counties in north Mississippi.

"Our agency has been working for many years to add these counties to our service area. Our presence will strengthen North Mississippi Health Services' continuing of care and will enhance the level of home health services in these counties," said Edward L. Foster, NMMC administrator. "NMHS has hospitals in two of the new counties - Tishomingo and Clay and wants to work cooperatively with the hospitals and physicians in the additional four counties.

"In some of these counties our agency will be providing specialized home health services that were not previously available. Our patients have access to EKG monitoring blood transfusions, chemotherapy, enterostomal therapy and other highly specialized services," said Laura Elliott, NMMC Home Health Agency director. "We offer the most comprehensive home health programs in this region and is one of the few agencies in this area that offers 24-hour access to care."

The new counties to be served by the agency are Alcorn, Benton, Calhoun, Clay, Lafayette and Tishomingo. Prior to the expansion, the NMMC Home Health Agency served Chickasaw, Choctaw, Itawamba, Lee, Monroe, Oktibbeha, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Tippah, Union and Webster counties. All of NMMC's home care services, including hospice, will be available in the new counties.

Home care allows patients to remain in their home and familiar surroundings with family members participating in their care. Hospice is a specialized program of care emphasizing the management of pain and psychological, emotional, social and spiritual needs associated with terminal illness. The program provides help for the family as well as the patient.

In addition to registered nurses and nurses' aides, NMMC Home Health Agency's patients have access to the following health care professionals: physical therapists, speech therapists, occupational therapists, dietitians and social services counselors. "Most of our agency's nurses are specialized so that they can be specialists instead of generalists. They are specialized in the areas of rehabilitation, wound, diabetes, pulmonary, cardiac, intravenous therapy, pediatric and psychiatric care. This allows NMMC Home Health Agency to make the most of each visit by matching a specially prepared nurse with the specific diagnosis," Elliott said.

NMMC Home Health Agency is accredited with commendation by the Joint Commission for Accreditation of HealthCare Organizations. The agency's employees work closely with physicians in planning and coordinating each patient's care. All of the agency's services are available by physician referral.

"Home care is the fastest growing program in North Mississippi Health Services corporate system. This growth is the result of health care shifting its emphasis from inpatient to outpatient care and technological advancements. Our program is designed to provide in a home setting almost any service that is provided in a hospital setting with some modification. It has been our experience that home care is the type of care that is preferred by most patients because it is the most humane manner of delivering care and the most cost effective," Foster said.

"From a medical standpoint, this growth will be quite beneficial for our patients. They will have access to many specialized services, nursing case management, such as cardiac, pulmonary, and oncology care.

Facts About The BIBLE

SOUND ADVICE!

"LAY NOT UP FOR YOURSELVES TREASURES UPON EARTH, WHERE MOTH AND RUST DOTH CORRUPT AND WHERE THIEVES BREAK THROUGH AND STEAL:"

(MATT. 6:19)

SOUND ADVICE IS CONTAINED IN THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT. JESUS ALWAYS SPOKE IN THE VERNACULAR OF THE DAY. ANY OF THE VALUABLE THINGS THAT PEOPLE POSSESSED WERE LIABLE TO BE STOLEN, FOR ONLY THE RICH HAD VAULTS IN WHICH TO KEEP THEIR TREASURES. THE COMMON MAN USED TO HIDE HIS GOOD CLOTHES AND OTHER PRIZED POSSESSIONS AWAY IN SOME HIDDEN NOOK OF HIS HOUSE--BUT THEN, ALTHOUGH SAFE FROM A THIEF, THEY OFTEN FELL PREY TO RUST AND MOTHS! IF A MAN HAD SOME MONEY, INVARIABLY HE HAD IT HIDDEN IN THE GROUND--THEN HE WORRIED NIGHT AND DAY THAT SOME TREASURE HUNTERS MIGHT DISCOVER IT! THE POOR PEOPLE OF THE TIMES WERE ALWAYS DIGGING IN FIELDS, HOPING TO FIND MONEY THAT SOMEONE HAD HIDDEN AWAY!

SO, NO MATTER WHAT A MAN DID WITH HIS MATERIAL POSSESSIONS, HE WAS ALWAYS WORRIED ABOUT THEM! JESUS' ADVICE, TO THE COMMON MAN, TO LAY UP IN HEAVEN A TREASURE OF GOOD DEEDS, DONE HERE ON EARTH, WAS PRACTICAL, INDEED FOR...

"FOR WHERE YOUR TREASURE IS, THERE WILL YOUR HEART BE ALSO."

In Loving Memory Of Dustin Ray Dees Sept. 4, 1992 - Dec. 17, 1992

Dustin has gone to heaven above as pure as a little white dove!
He has entered those pearly white gates its there for us that he awaits!
We sometimes question the wisdom of God's Love
when He picks a child to dwell with Him above!
He is watching down on me and you awaiting the day that we will join Him too!
He's resting safely in God's care on the wings of faith and prayer!
He has gone to heaven above for ever more to a land of angels for all to adore!
When you departed and left us behind,
we must realize God loves children, angels are hard to find!
Understanding God's will is hard, some how we must try!
The saddest word I've ever known will always be Good Bye!
Happy 5th Birthday in heaven son, we love you and miss you - J. R. D.

Now Hear This

By Carey Cates

DAMAGE FROM DRUGS

Wonder drugs aren't so wonderful when they damage hearing and balance. The hearing loss caused by ototoxic (poisonous to the ear) drugs is almost always of the sensorineural, or inner ear, type. Usually, the higher pitches are affected first and the loss can be permanent. Tinnitus (noises in the ear) frequently is a side effect.

Certain antibiotics given to control serious infections can cause varying degrees of permanent hearing loss. Cisplatin, used to treat cancer, is also ototoxic. Aspirin, in large doses, can damage hearing, but that loss is usually temporary. Hearing will return to previous levels within 72 hours after the drug is stopped.

If ototoxic drugs must be used, audiometric testing can be used to monitor hearing. If a loss has occurred, aural rehabilitation can help the person cope with the loss. This includes training in lipreading and the evaluation and fitting of a hearing aid or other listening device. Brought to you as a community service by ...

School's Open - Drive Carefully

The Key To Safety Is Practicing What You Know

"It's time for the 1997-98 school year to begin," said Danon Jones, Director of Public and Government Relations for AAA Mississippi, "time to launch our annual School's Open — Drive Carefully campaign, time to remind everyone that traffic crashes are the number one threat to our children's lives. In fact, traffic crashes lead all causes of death and injury among children up to age 14."

The best way to address this threat to our children's lives is behavior consistent with knowledge," Jones continued. "At this time of year, drivers know that it's more important than ever to watch out for children hurrying to school or bus stops who might not remember to watch out for cars, but knowing isn't enough. Drivers need to actually slow down in all residential areas, not just in school zones, so they get that extra time to react to the unexpected child who darts into the road without looking."

"Children need to develop a clear understanding of safety behaviors to carry them safely to school and back home. Not only do children need to learn to be safe pedestrians, but they also need to learn how to protect themselves as passengers in motor vehicles. Once they learn how, they need to practice these behaviors on a daily basis to stay safe. Children aged 12 and under should always ride properly restrained in the back seat of the vehicle unless there is virtually no alternative. This is the safest place in the car, even in cars not equipped with air bags."

The only exception to this would be for cars and trucks that don't have back seats, when there are four children passengers (too many to sit in just the back seat), or for certain medical conditions which require the child to be under constant observation even while in a vehicle. Even under these conditions, a rear-facing child safety seat should never be installed in the front seat of a vehicle that is equipped with a passenger-side air bag. Car safety seats position children dangerously close to the air bag when it deploys.

Parents, and other adults who drive children to and from school, need to know that the number one safety behavior for you and the children you transport is to buckle up," Jones concluded. "You are the role model for your children and others who ride with you. The best reinforcement to teaching children safe behavior is to see you practice it. Remember, the key to safety is practicing what you know."

Chromium Picolinate And Diabetes

Chromium picolinate is a trace element that has received much publicity lately concerning its effects on weight loss and diabetes. It is a widely available over-the-counter nutritional supplement that has been advertised as the latest "wonder drug" in health food and nutrition publications and by the media. Some advocates of chromium have touted its beneficial effects in diabetes, weight loss, energy, and many others. However, most of these claims are simply NOT supported by clinical studies. Chromium has been proven to be effective in helping to manage some forms of diabetes, and some people may see benefit from taking chromium picolinate.

Glucose, or blood sugar, is the fuel that provides the body with energy for everything it does. Glucose is transported in the blood to all the cells of the body where it enters the cell and gives it energy. People with diabetes have too much glucose in their blood. There are two types of diabetes. Approximately 10% of people with diabetes have Type I diabetes, which is also known as Insulin Dependent Diabetes Mellitus (IDDM). The other 90% of diabetics have Type II diabetes, or Non-Insulin Dependent Diabetes Mellitus (NIDDM). It is the people with the Type II diabetes that may benefit from chromium picolinate. Type II diabetes is sometimes difficult to understand, so perhaps the following analogy will help to explain it.

Imagine that your body is a city. The streets that run throughout the city represent your bloodstream, and the houses along the streets represent your body's cells. There are trucks that drive along the streets and deliver food to each house, which is what your blood cells do when they deliver glucose to the cells. However, for the trucks to deliver the food to the houses, they need keys to get in the door. That key is the insulin your body produces that allows glucose to go into the cells. In a normal person, everything in the city works fine. But in a diabetic patient, the delivery truck either has too few keys, which is type I, or insulin dependent diabetes, or the locks are rusty and the keys won't turn, which is Type II, or non-insulin dependent diabetes.

Chromium appears to help Type II diabetics by improving insulin sensitivity at the cells. Another way of saying this to match the above analogy is to say that it acts like oil at the door locks so that the key works. It does not drastically reduce blood sugar levels in diabetic patients, but appears to help people that do not respond completely to standard medical therapy. It is associated with very few side effects, most of which include mild insomnia and stomach upset. This supplement is not intended to replace any medicinal therapy, but to act as a supplement to a well-balanced diet and exercise regimen along with standard medical therapy for diabetes. It is not recommended that anyone take this or any other supplement or herbal product without first consulting their physician or pharmacist.

Here's a recipe from the previous BAKE-OFF Contest that is a tasty example of a 30-Minute Main Dish. This hearty Italian main dish uses familiar ingredients and can be ready in just 25 minutes.

TUSCAN-STYLE PORK 'N PASTA

- 3/4 lb. pork tenderloin, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
- 1 (1-lb.) pkg. Green Giant Pasta Accents Garlic Seasoning Frozen Vegetables with Pasta
- 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes
- 1 (15.5-oz.) can great northern beans, undrained
- 3 Italian plum tomatoes, seeded, chopped
- 1 oz. (1/4 cup) grated fresh Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh basil or parsley

Spray large nonstick skillet with nonstick cooking spray. Heat over medium-high heat until hot. Add pork; cook and stir 10 to 12 minutes or until browned.

Add frozen vegetables with pasta, pepper flakes and beans; mix well. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to medium; cover and cook 7 to 8 minutes or until pork is no longer pink and vegetables are crisp-tender, stirring occasionally.

Add tomatoes; cover and cook 1 minute or until thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with cheese and basil. Garnish as desired.

4 (1 1/4-cup) servings.

Entries for the contest must be postmarked by Oct. 20, 1997. For an entry blank, call 1-800-477-1111 through Sept. 30, 1997; write Pillsbury Quick & Easy BAKE-OFF Entry Blanks, P.O. Box 9300, St. Cloud, MN 56398-9300; or visit the Web site at www.bakeoff.com.

NEMCC Honor Society Officers Installed—Officers of Phi Theta Kappa for 1997-98 were recently installed at Northeast Mississippi Community College. Pictured are (L-R) Russell Briggs, vice-president of Corinth; Denise Mathis of Walnut, president; Deanna Wilemon of Belmont, treasurer; Sarah Mattox of Corinth; Joe Eaton of Baldwin, reporter; Katosha Drewery of Walnut, historian; Beth Kuykendall of Tremont, historian; Mary Stanford of New Albany, reporter and Sally Duncan of Corinth, historian. Founded in 1918 Phi Theta Kappa is an international organization composed of 1100 chapters at colleges in the United States and Canada. Phi Theta Kappa's national headquarters are located in Jackson, Miss. The honor society seeks to foster the development of leadership and service, to provide an intellectual climate for the exchange of ideas, and to encourage the establishment of scholarships for advanced education. Approximately 48,000 new members are inducted each year. Phi Theta Kappa is recognized by the American Association of Community Colleges as the official honor society for two-year colleges. The Iota Zeta Chapter at Northeast is open to students enrolled full-time who maintain a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale. Faculty advisers at Northeast are Jim Lamb of Booneville; Dr. Johnny Mattox, Corinth; and Bob Craig of Myrtle.

NEMCC Turns Fifty - When Northeast Mississippi Community College opened for the fall session on Monday (August 18), it marked the beginning of the institution's fiftieth session. Northeast opened its doors to students in September 1948 as an agricultural high school and junior college serving Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, Tishomingo and Union Counties. The following year the name was changed to reflect junior college status only. In 1987 the name was changed once more to community college. From 244 students in 1948, the college has grown steadily and currently has an enrollment in excess of 3000. Since its founding in 1948, Northeast has also experienced phenomenal growth in academic offerings and facilities. Marvin Ozbirn of Booneville, a member of NEMCC's building and grounds staff, lines the College Boulevard with banners to kick off the anniversary year.

Here's How to Deal With Unwanted Phone Marketing Calls, Faxes

By The Federal Communications Commission

Tired of receiving unwanted and unsolicited telephone marketing calls - which always seem to come at dinner time - or unsolicited advertising on your fax machine?

The Federal Communications Commission has published a brochure telling consumers about their rights under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) and the FCC's rules.

The free brochure also tells consumers about actions they can take to reduce the number of unsolicited telephone marketing calls and unsolicited advertisements sent to their fax machines.

Under the FCC's "Do-Not-Call" rules, a person or entity (a business for example) placing live telephone solicitation calls to your home must maintain a record of your request not to receive future telephone solicitations from them. Your request must be honored for 10 years.

Tax-exempt non-profit organizations are not required to keep Do-Not-Call lists. The FCC's Do-Not-Call rules also do not apply to calls placed to business telephone numbers. Your state, however, may have laws that require a business "Do-Not-Call" list.

The brochure also takes the mystery out of how and why consumers with unlisted, non-listed or non-published numbers still get unsolicited phone calls. Also explained are the hours solicitation calls can be made to your home, caller identification requirements, restrictions on computerized calls, and the types of permitted calls.

The FCC's rules also prohibit sending unsolicited advertising to fax machines. The brochure explains consumers' rights and what is required of the person or entity sending fax messages.

If you believe you have received unsolicited calls or unsolicited fax advertisements in violation of the TCPA and the FCC's rules, the brochure provides details about actions you can take, such as filing suit in state court or writing a letter to the FCC.

The brochure also directs consumers to resources other than the FCC. Complaints about false or deceptive telephone solicitation sales practices, for example, should be directed to the Federal Trade Commission.

Complaints about fraudulent calls should be directed to the FBI. The U.S. Postal service should be contacted about information or products received by mail in connection with fraudulent telephone solicitation practices.

The FCC brochure also tells consumers how they can get their names added to lists of consumers who do not wish to receive telephone marketing calls. These lists are prepared and distributed by the Telephone Preference Service of the Direct Marketing Association, which can be reached by mail at: Telephone Preference Service Direct Marketing Association P. O. Box 9014 Farmington, NY 11735.

The FCC's brochure is available on the FCC's Internet site at http://www.fcc.gov/ccb/consumer_news/

Consumers can get a free copy of the brochure by calling the FCC's toll-free National Call Center at 1-888-225-5322 or TTY 1-888-835-5322. Consumers can also request a copy of the brochure by writing to the FCC's Public Service Division at the address below.

(This article is an unofficial announcement. Only release of the full text of a Commission order constitutes official action. For more information, write the FCC Office of Public Affairs, Public Service Division, 1919 M Street NW, Room 254, Washington, D.C., 20554 or call 202-418-0200; TTY: 202-418-2555.)
