Iuka City Staff Moved Back in City Hall

MS Driver's License Bureau Not Coming Back To City Hall

by Pamela McRae

Almost four months after the fire that significantly damaged Iuka City Hall, city clerks moved back into the newly renovated city hall last Friday, January 2.

There is still some cleaning up to do, and a few more cosmetic additions to the front of the building, but essentially, the renovation is complete, officials said. The offices of city clerk, utility clerk and court clerk are open for city business, like payment of utility bills, or court fines, but there won't be any driver's licenses issued from the new city hall.

"We are making plans to make a facility available to the Mississippi Department of Public Safety," said Mayor David Nichols. "We feel it is important that that service is provided locally."

But arrangements have not been finalized for having the service return to Iuka, nor has a location been announced.

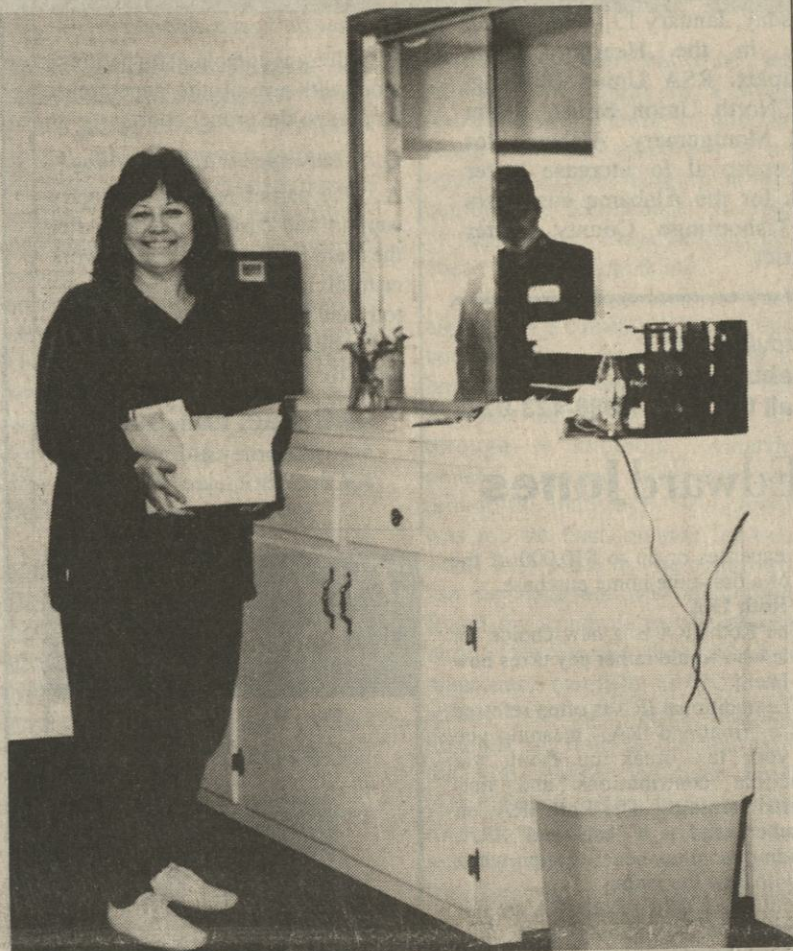

The Department of Public Safety had operated in the Iuka City Hall two days a week for about the past fifteen years, until the August city hall fire. Prior to that it operated in the county courthouse.

"The public will be notified when arrangements are finalized," stated the mayor.

Some of the items remaining to be completed include a drive-through, drop-off window for utility bill payments, and permanent seating for the board/court room. The seating is expected to be delivered and installed sometime in February.

An open house, including a ribbon cutting by former mayors John Biggs, and George Cutshall, is planned for February, said the mayor.

Getting Settled - Iuka City Court Clerk Charlotte Counce was busy Monday still getting everything situated in the newly completed Iuka City Hall.

Belmont Man Killed In Collision Last Tuesday

by Pamela McRae

A Belmont man was killed last Tuesday night in a two-car collision on Highway 4, as he and his wife were returning home from a high school basketball tournament.

W. Wade Sparks, 47, of Belmont died December 30th as a result of injuries sustained when his 1995 Ford collided with a 1988 Ford driven by Wade G. Fleming, 44, of Booneville. The collision occurred at 10:10 p.m. about 4 miles east of Booneville on Mississippi Highway 4, according to Mississippi State Trooper Kenneth Greene.

Sparks, Fleming and Mrs. Judy Sparks, 47, the passenger in her husband's vehicle, were all taken to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Booneville for treatment. Mr. Sparks was pronounced dead at the hospital shortly after arrival. Both Fleming and Judy Sparks were released Wednesday.

No charges have been filed in connection with the collision, and the cause is still under investigation, as of January 6th, said Greene. In accordance with highway patrol procedure, blood samples from both drivers were taken and submitted to the Jackson crime lab, and results are not expected back for several days.

The Sparks were returning to Belmont from the Jumpertown High School Basketball Tournament, where they had watched their daughter, senior Kimberly Sparks, and son, sophomore Brandon Sparks, play with the Belmont Cardinal varsity basketball teams, said Mrs. Sparks.

The Sparks were traveling east and Fleming heading west when the accident occurred. The driver's sides of the vehicles impacted each other. Both Sparks and his wife were wearing seat belts and both airbags inflated, said Mrs. Sparks.

Wade Sparks was well known for his love and support of Belmont basketball, and he was an avid hunter and fisherman. He was a native Mississippi and a team cutter with Schnadig for nine years. He was a member of New Bethel Baptist Church.

Services for William Wade Sparks were held January 1, 1998 at Liberty Church of Christ with Haskell Sparks and Tim Spivey officiating. He was buried in Lindsey Cemetery. Deaton Funeral Home of Belmont handled the arrangements.

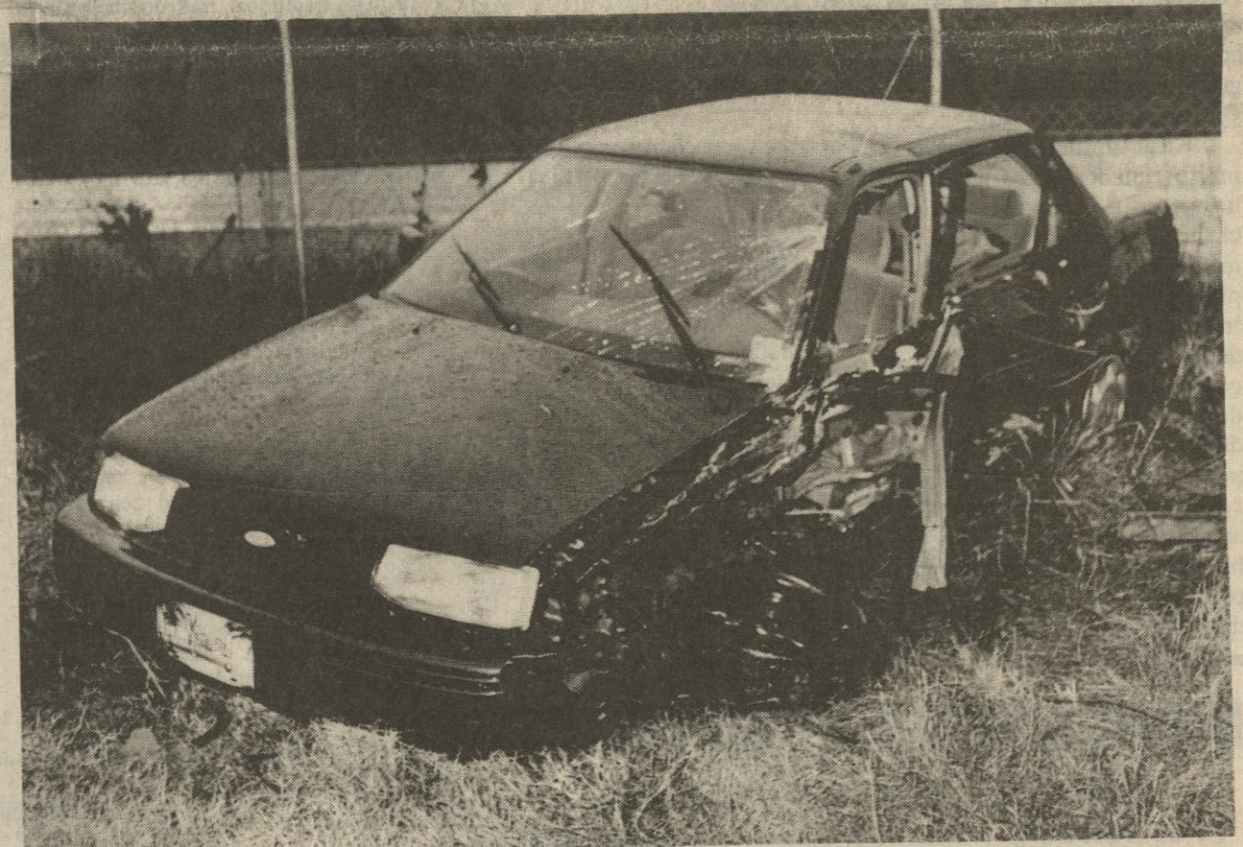

Wade is survived by his wife, Judy Pounds Sparks; two daughters, Kim Sparks and Sarah Peppers and her husband Greg, all of Belmont; one son, Brandon Sparks, of Belmont; one granddaughter, Faith English, of Belmont; one grandson, Kaleb Peppers, of Haleyville, Alabama; his parents, Bryan and Gladys Sparks, of Belmont; two sisters, Patsy Hastings and Rhonda Bonds, both of Belmont; two brothers, Gerry Sparks, of Cairo, and Kenny Sparks, of Vena, Alabama; his parents-in-law James and Willard Pounds, of Belmont.

Wade Sparks

Pallbearers were Tommy Moody, Paul Morris, Duane Mann, Elbert Parker, Harold Oswald and Paul Thorn. Honorary pallbearers were Jack Searcy, Preston Moore, Jeff Wooten, Anthony McGaha, Michael Mimms and Jackson Bailey.

Belmont Father Killed In Accident - W. Wade Sparks was killed last Tuesday night when his 1995 Ford, above, collided on Highway 4 with a 1988 Ford driven by Wade Fleming, of Booneville. Sparks' wife Judy, who was a passenger, and Fleming both were treated and released from Booneville hospital.

NMMC's Behavioral Health Center Offering Free Assessments At Iuka Hospital

Beginning in January, Tishomingo County and surrounding counties' residents will have easier access to the free assessments provided by North Mississippi Medical Center's Behavioral Health Center.

Polly Coe, Ph.D., a licensed professional counselor, will be conducting free behavioral health assessments on Thursdays by appointment between the hours of noon and 2:30 p.m. at Iuka Hospital. The confidential assessments are interviews to diagnose need and determine if referral or admission is indicated for behavioral health problems.

"The hospital generously allows us to use their facilities for this service because they are well aware of the role mental health plays in our overall state of well-being," said Ted Dowden, a licensed professional counselor, NMMC's Behavioral Health Center.

"We encourage anyone who is interested in learning if they or a family member are suffering from anxiety, chemical dependency, depression or any type of mental health problems to take advantage of this free service by calling to schedule an appointment."

Assessments are being offered in Iuka to make this free service more accessible to people who could benefit from the scope of services available through NMMC's Behavioral Health Center. The licensed professional counselor will work closely with individuals who would benefit from professional help by referring them to appropriate treatment plans.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, call NMMC's Behavioral Health Center at (601)841-3154 or 1-800-843-3375.

Girl Scout Cookie Time!

This Friday thousands of girls all over northeast Mississippi will be hitting the neighborhoods contacting friends and family selling the famous "Girl Scout Cookie". That's right, it's Girl Scout Cookie Time!

January 9-23 are the dates when the girls will be taking orders. Cookies will be delivered February 16 to March 4. The cost of the cookies is just $3.00 a box and worth every penny. Not only do you get a high quality cookie made from the finest natural ingredients, but you are also helping to enhance the future for over 6,400 girls in northeast Mississippi. Currently there are over 344 girls in Tishomingo County being served by Prairie Girl Scout Council.

All of the funds received from the cookie sale remain in Prairie Council to serve the girls. The allocation of the money is decided by a 30 member board of volunteers who represent the different areas throughout the council. The funds are primarily used to assist in funding program and camp costs; underwriting financial aid; covering the cost of property expenses for serve centers, camps and program centers; insurance; volunteer training and a portion is used to provide funding for the girls at the troop level. Beginning this year, $5,000 for the cookie sale will be allocated for Gold Award Scholarships to be used at the selected recipients preferred college. The troops will also receive a larger percentage of the revenue this year to assist in funding their troop activities.

Make sure you don't miss out and order your Girl Scout Cookies now! If you are not contacted by a girl, you may call the council office at 1-800-624-4185. Support our future, support Girl Scouting.

Northeast Opens New WE CARE Center in Iuka to Help Unemployed

by Pamela McRae

Northeast Mississippi Community College Extension Center has started a new service in Iuka in an effort to help unemployed people gain skills that will make them more valuable to potential employers.

The Workforce Education Combined Activities Resulting in Employment, more easily remembered by its acronym WE CARE, is operating out of the Iuka Headstart Building beginning this week, according to Terina Cummings, who is supervising the Iuka program.

They will be offering many different classes and counseling opportunities to unemployed persons, whether they have been in the workforce before, or even if they have never had a job before, explained Cummings.

"Right now our biggest effort is GED preparation classes," she said. The GED, or a high school diploma, is one of the most common requirements employers desire of potential employees.

The classes are offered Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to noon and individuals can enter anytime, and work at their own pace with individualized instruction.

Even though the program is headquartered at the Iuka Headstart, there is no limit to who can be helped by the service, Cummings explained. There is no financial status requirement for the workplace skill training.

The center is helping a variety of people, from those without any work experience, to some have been in the apparel industry for twenty years and are looking to move into other industries.

In addition to resume training, literacy and career assessments are available to help individuals determine their functioning levels, interests and aptitudes. They can explore career options, set realistic goals, and identify and eliminate barriers to goal attainment, with the help of trained staff members.

When employees have been evaluated and helped, if needed, with basic academic skills, occupational skills, or life skills, they can then enter a program that cooperates with the Mississippi Employment Service, the MS Department of Human Services, and the Northeast Planning and Development District. In this program, local employers can hire the WE CARE participant, agreeing to complete weekly evaluations of the employee, and the program will pay up to 18 hours a week minimum wage.

The employer is under no obligation to retain the employee, but Cummings said WE CARE's goal is to produce people that employers will find are good, reliable, employees with job skills that will make them an asset to any employer.

For information, call Terina Cummings at 423-5833 or at the Iuka Headstart Center.

Wicker Touts New Tax, Medicare Benefits Taking Effect Jan. 1

As the country rang in the new year Thursday, new tax changes and Medicare provisions took effect which will benefit Americans from childhood to retirement years.

Bipartisan cooperation in Washington in 1997 made it possible to pass the first tax relief measures in 16 years and a balanced budget plan which protects the Medicare system and provides seniors with several new preventive health care options.

Among the tax provisions now officially on the books:

*A $400 per child tax credit for each child under age 17. In 1999, the credit increases to $500 per child.

*Education tax relief providing a $1500 credit for each student during their first two years of college; and education savings accounts allowing parents to contribute $500 per year which can be withdrawn, tax free, to pay for college education expenses.

*Raised income limits for Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) for both single and joint filers, making more Americans eligible for IRA tax benefits; and new Roth IRAs allowing most Americans to set aside $2,000 per year. Roth IRA funds are not tax deductible, but income earned at retirement is tax free.

*A hike in the estate tax exemption from $600,000 to $625,000, the first of annual increases to reach $1 million by 2006.

The balanced budget package also ensures Medicare will remain fiscally sound well into the 21st century. In addition, the plan includes expanded health care benefits to provide:

*Prostate and colorectal cancer screening.

*Mammographies

*Pap smears

*Diabetes screening tests.

Action on tax relief will make it possible for Americans to spend more of what they earn on their families, and on savings and investments. The early detection and prevention measures added to Medicare coverage will save lives and cut health care costs for seniors.

NOTICE

lege expenses or up to $10,000 of the cost of a first-time home purchase.

The Roth IRA

The Roth IRA is a new choice for people who would rather pay taxes now than later.

The traditional IRA is often referred to as a "front-end IRA," meaning you get your tax break up front, via deductible contributions and tax-deferred earnings. The Roth IRA, on the other hand is a "back-end" IRA, providing more tax benefits later, when you withdraw the money.

Contributions to a Roth IRA are not tax-deductible, but earnings grow tax-free. Distributions are tax-free after the assets have been in the account for five years and as long as they are made after age 59-1/2 or for a qualified purpose (death, disability or a first-time home purchase up to $10,000).

After age 70-1/2, the Roth IRA does allow contributions and does not require minimum distributions - unlike the traditional IRA. However, only single individuals with income up to $95,000 and couples earning up to $150,000 can fully fund Roth IRAs.

When it comes to saving for retirement, which is better for you, the traditional or the Roth IRA? The answer depends on a number of factors, including whether you think you'll be in a higher or lower tax bracket at retirement.

Now is the time to answer that question, because these new laws take effect with the 1998 tax year. Consult your tax adviser and financial professional to establish the retirement-planning strategy that works best for you.

Year	Traditional IRA Income Phase-out Ranges for Deductible Contribution
	Single Filers	Married Filing Jointly
1998	$30,000 - $40,000	$50,000 - $60,000
1999	$31,000 - $41,000	$51,000 - $61,000
2000	$32,000 - $42,000	$52,000 - $62,000
2001	$33,000 - $43,000	$53,000 - $63,000
2002	$34,000 - $44,000	$54,000 - $64,000
2003	$40,000 - $50,000	$60,000 - $70,000
2004	$45,000 - $55,000	$65,000 - $75,000
2005	$50,000 - $60,000	$70,000 - $80,000
2006	$50,000 - $60,000	$75,000 - $85,000
2007 and beyond	$50,000 - $60,000	$80,000 - $100,000

THIS IS NO PLACE TO DETERMINE WHAT YOU PAY FOR ELECTRICITY.

As a consumer-owner of your co-op, your rates are determined locally. Because co-ops are actually owned by the people they serve. But the investor-owned power companies are owned by outside investors. And big corporations. And even people in foreign countries. So, their concern is profits. Not keeping your electric rates as low as possible. Nor the quality of service you receive. That's why co-op consumer-owners feel so strongly about their utility. They know that their co-op will do what's best for them. And worry more about Main Street. Than Wall Street.

Communicating With Pets

Purrs, growls, yelps, and whines. These vocalizations are just the beginning of a pet's way of communicating. However, just like talking with people, it's not just what the words are, but how your pet says them.

A barking dog with an upright swishing tail could be energetic and playful. A bark accompanied with a tail tucked between the legs indicates fear. This dog could bite if backed in a corner. A barking dog with curled upper lips and straight tail that is held back only by the fence with signs such as "Beware of Dog"...well, you don't need a rocket scientists to tell you what that means.

However, all body language is contextual. Tail swishing in dogs can mean shows great pleasure, yet indicates great annoyance in cats. The more frenzied the swishing, the more agitated the cat is, and the more likely it is to attack.

Do animals really understand what their owners say? Debatable. A dog that gets excited when asked if he wants to go for a "walk" may get just as excited if asked to go on a "talk" or a "wall". Perhaps it's not just the words said, but the way you say them.

Speaking in a higher, softer tone is universally non-threatening, while lower, gruffer tones are more aggressive. Angry tones can make a dog's tail retreat between his legs, even if you never say the words "bad dog." Knowing your animals is most important. A pet may not specifically "tell" you things, such as "I'm sick." However, an observant pet owner can see differences in eating habits and energy levels, even if no other signs of illness are present. If an animal does not resume "normal" behavior within 48 hours, or other symptoms manifest, it's time to contact a veterinarian and find out what Rover has been trying to say.

How To Care For The Poinsettia

If properly cared for during the holidays, the life of the poinsettia can be extended throughout the year. When the soil surface is dry to the touch, water thoroughly but do not leave the excess water in the saucer. Keep temperatures around 60 degrees at night and 72 degrees during the day. Maintain high humidity and protect from cold drafts. In order to keep until next year, fertilize every three to four weeks. When leaves fade, cut back to about eight inches. When nighttime temperatures are above 50 degrees in the spring, you can put plants outdoors. Cut back stems and branches twice during the summer and repot if needed. About Labor Day, move plants inside and provide six or more hours of direct light. From October 1 through mid-December, confine plants to darkness for 14 hours, giving 10 hours of light. This will cause the green bracts to color.

Clean Up Gardens Now

Clean up the garden site in preparation for an early garden next year. As soon as you get a chance, row up a portion of the garden so that you will be able to plant onions, English peas, and Irish potatoes. Get rid of old debris by burning it. It is not a good idea to compost garden debris because of the potential disease problem later. Store pesticides in their original containers and make sure they are clearly labeled. They should be stored so that children and pets can't get to them, where they will remain dry, will not freeze and will not contaminate food items. Wash out your garden sprayers and hang them upside down to dry.

Events

There will be a North Mississippi Beef Agribition on March 27-28, 1998 at the Lee County Agri-Center at Verona, MS. Included in this event will be the first ever BCIA Bull Sale held in this area, the annual replacement heifer sale, and a Northeast Ms Angus Association Sale. There will be a beef cook-off, seminars, and other activities for youths and adults.

On January 24, 1998 there will be a 4-County Beef Expo held at the Prentiss County Agri-Center. There will be a youth livestock show, livestock judging, and exhibits.

The 1998 Tri-State Soybean Forum will be held January 9, 1998 at the Washington County Convention Center in Greenville, MS.

If you have questions about these events, please contact me at 423-7016.

Fund-Raiser At Hardee's

The Youth Department of the Iuka Apostolic Church will be having a fund-raiser at Hardee's Restaurant on Highway 25 South at a new time. This Friday night, January 3, 1998, from 4:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. will be the hours they will serve you. Please come out and help us raise funds for our youth activities. Simply place your cash register receipt in the special box provided. We appreciate your support!

My Friend - My Hero - Charles Daugherty

By: Chris Evans

Shaving and hair care are two subjects I know or care to know much about. I hate to shave and haven't got enough hair to worry much about caring for. Though I like the job the ladies who now cut my hair do, I still miss my old barber Charlie Daugherty. It sometimes hits me when I am staring in the mirror with a face full of shaving cream and the water steaming from the sink just how much I miss my old fashioned barbershop shave.

That takes me back to the first time I had a shave and a haircut from Charlie. I was going to some activity that required a clean shave and trimmed hair. I, like many others enjoyed talking to Charlie while he heated up the towels and stirred up the lather. Most folks would be a bit nervous about having any man much less an eighty year old put a strait razor to your throat and jokingly say "smile" before scraping your whiskers. Not so with Charles who still had a pretty steady hand.

Let me tell you a little about Charlie. He had gone to school in Iuka with plans of being a teacher. He only did this for a short time in the early 1930s, teaching in the Snowdown community. He was in an accident that broke his neck. It took a long time to recuperate but Charlie was determined he was not going to stay down. He joined his father in their shop where he had worked on and off since age fourteen. I never saw Charlie shave a balloon but he said he had done it in school but that was sixty years ago. I say he still had a soft touch.

Charles was married for a time having a daughter named Joann. He later married a widow, Ruth Hearn Williams, who had lost her husband in World War II. He took her son Turner Gene as if he were his own and since Turner was only five months old when his father was killed, Charles was the only father he ever knew. Along with Turner and Joann they had another daughter named Kathy. The two shared a happy marriage for over forty five years.

When one man in town said he was going to the barber shop his wife looked puzzled, "You haven't got any hair old man!" she shot back. He responded "Well, I'm a going to see the professor for my education and class begins as soon as I get my first cup of coffee." Lots of folks came to the professor for daily discussions where everyone would learn something. Like Floyd's barber shop in Mayberry, he had several chairs in the cramped shop. There were two barber chairs, a long mirror with supplies from lotions to clippers. Charlie stood up the whole day. Sitting bothered his neck so this work suited him.

Charlie dabbled in politics and was a long-serving alderman for Iuka. He was proud of this area he called home and still knew most everybody by name. The Daugherty Barber shop had been in service for some eighty years and had seen a lot of Iuka history. Many a sheet had been torn off the old Coca Cola Calendar that hung by the door.

It seems like when I had a question about something that happened in local history in the past hundred years either he had personal knowledge or a story attributed to his father or another relative. When I asked him if he remembered the hanging at the courthouse. "Remember!" he said "I was there!" Then he told me about it as he clipped hair.

"It was a big deal" he said clipping and combing "They let us out of school for it. Me and a buddy of mine we went up to the big oak doors and peeped in through a knothole." Charlie paused a minute as he trimmed around the man's ear. "The crowd was too far back outside for two small fellers like us" he continued "so we made our way inside and found the knothole on the closed door." He started to shave the man's neck carefully as he slowly spoke "we took turns looking through the hole to the staircase that the scaffold had been built over. Just as I got my look, the trap door dropped and I watched the man fall through. "Charlie dusted the man's neck with talcum powder as he looked down his nose through his spectacles then turned his head to me." I watched him jerk, shake a little, then he got real still. I knew he was dead." The professor took the smock from the man in the chair who paid him. The next man got up in the chair before he continued." I let my buddy look through the hole then, I thought I was gonna be sick but didn't want my friend to think I was "yeller".

He told me how a coffin was laying under the body and they just cut the rope" and let him drop into it. "By then the doors were open and he could see what was going on from the door of the sheriff's office. The boys climbed the scaffold after the crowd cleared a bid and cut off a length of rope each as a souvenir. "Last time I ever seen anything like that," he said looking at me through his specks "last time I wanted to."

Charlie also remembered events like the twenty millionth Ford car passing through town and L.T. Gaines sitting in another car in front of Iuka Guarantee Bank during depression bank closure. Yes, Charlie witnessed a lot in his years. He was a big part of this town because this town was a big part of him.

Charles had a heart attack in 1972 but insisted on working. The doctors told him being active would be good for him and he likely wouldn't do well if he were not working. He put in twenty long years after that and earned his fifty year barber certificate plus a few years. A fall in the store slowed him down but he refused to quit even at the request of his lovely wife Ruth. He finally retired due to his health after a sign was put on the historic shop's door that simply read "closed".

Charlie passed away some time after and so did an era. I passed by the shop which can only be recognized as a barber shop by the red barber stripes painted on the wall outside. If the walls could only talk in that empty building some eighty years of tales could be heard with the snip of scissors and the smell of talcum powder. I will keep my memories as a diploma from Professor Charlie Daugherty and his barbershop college of life. I miss my barber, my friend and my HERO.

Tishomingo Co. History Book Is An Achievement of Historical Proportions

by Pamela McRae

For the past year we have heard much from the Tishomingo County Historical and Genealogical Society. For all appearances, this seemed to be a small, but very dedicated group of folks intent on not only sharing an interest in genealogy (study of family histories), but on providing us all with a history book on Tishomingo County.

Under the leadership of

Cindy Nelson, the members of the society asked numerous times in this publication and others for written histories and photographs of our families, businesses, towns, schools - all the things that we take for granted are responsible for making Tishomingo County what it is today.

Tishomingo County News OPINION

Then, they asked us to order these books, sight unseen, ahead of time, at $49.95 each.

Many of us didn't have time to order something that we didn't see ahead of time, didn't know who would be in it, and so on; many of us just couldn't be bothered.

Well, woe to those, like myself, who could barely be bothered.

The History and Families of Tishomingo County has been published and was delivered December 20th. Aside from the impressive quality of the embossed, hardbound, 614-page volume, the content of the book is the most comprehensive collection of histories and anecdotes about Tishomingo County yet published. A limited printing of 1100 books was printed, according to Nelson, and 600 were presold. Since its release, 250 books have been sold, and there are about 250 left.

Though the society consistently told us so, the quality of the book, the printing and especially the photographs is incredible. Much credit goes to those who took time to dig through old scrapbooks or boxes to submit some truly historical photographs of important Tishomingo County scenes that are now forever lost to us. The pictures alone are worth the purchase price of this book.

Complete History of County

An impressive compilation of information about Old Tishomingo County (1836-1870), and the present day county begins the book. If an area is left uncovered, it is hard to tell what it may be. The history of the Native Americans in the county, the forests of the county, the many parks of the county and in the cities, the 1935-era camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps at Tishomingo State Park, Pickwick Lake, and even Woodall Mountain have in-depth stories that would prove interesting to even the newest Tishomingo County resident.

Each city, town and community, even the no-longer-existing ones, have a history included. Where else would you have ever learned, in one, easily-accessible place, about Holcut, Rutledge-Salem, Bay Springs, Carter's Branch, Dennis, Burnt Mills, Mingo, Highland and Hazard communities? Places like these have a long and colorful history, that should be shared and enjoyed by many.

Businesses that were institutions in their day are highlighted, like the great old hotels in Iuka where people used to flock in the last century to enjoy the mineral waters. Many of the grocery markets, merchants, car dealerships, hospitals and banks that helped form our present county and culture have narratives. While you may think, who cares who had the first variety store, or who formed the local bank, the stories about such ventures are well-written and filled with interesting facts that will appeal to most any reader.

One of the most outstanding parts of the book is the section on education. The days of large families, and absence of good transportation dictated the necessity of many more schools in this county than now exist. There are many pictures of school children from earlier in this century, histories of defunct schools like Cook's Chapel, Sardis, Union, Stephen's Arbor, and longer histories of the better known larger schools like Iuka Normal Institute.

Some very interesting legends of the county, stories of battles and other important events in county history are included. In our busy lives nowadays, these little tidbits of county history are hardly ever the subject of conversation anymore, and it is great to read about events like the sawmill explosion at Midway which was felt as far away as Iuka, and about the train that used to go through Holcut, the only town sacrificed for the building of the Tennessee Tombigbee Waterway.

Adams to Yow: Family Histories

The largest section of the book contains the family histories. When they began the project, Cindy Nelson, of the history book committee, said they hoped to receive at least 400 stories from individual families, but by the first deadline, they received 900. These entries are published, for the most part, as submitted by the individual families, so there is a wide range of information that is included from article to article, but all are interesting, especially when considered as a whole. The stories of the families of Tishomingo County is a priceless treasure which our future generations will appreciate.

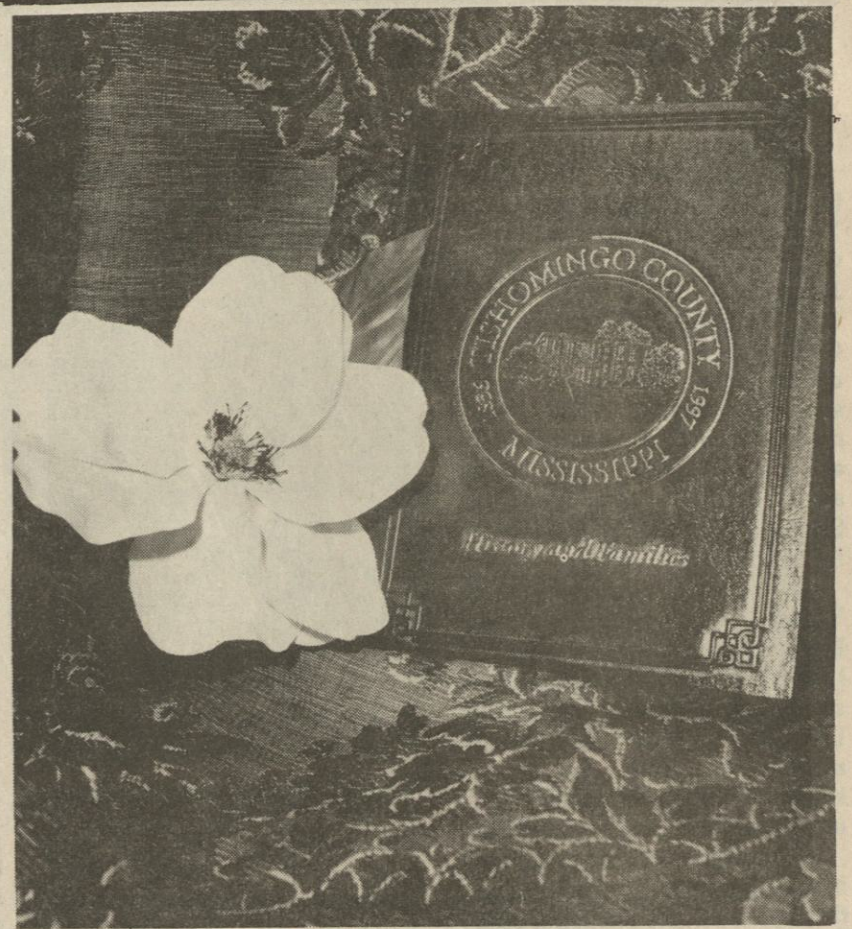

What's Next?

While the content of the book seems totally inclusive, it is obvious that some important items could have been included, along with many, many families that did not submit histories for some reason or another. So will there be another printing, another edition, or a Volume II?

Nelson says the Society will consider a reprint at a (much) later date, and maybe a Volume II five or ten years down the road.

Many who have seen the book are impressed with the quality of both the book and the content, having experienced lesser or less complete historical publications in the past. Many wish they would have known about it sooner.

Well, now we know. We will know better than to assume someone else is writing the history of some piece of Tishomingo County history that seems so important to us. We will know to get a little more involved, and help make such a project even more successful.

The History and Families of Tishomingo County was published in December. There only about 250 copies left of the 614-page book.

The citizens of Tishomingo County owe a lot to the ones who took the time to compile this history, because, whether we think about it or not, our history is what makes each of us what we are now. A very small percentage of Tishomingo Countians, or those interested in the county, carried the burden of preserving our heritage for us, and we owe them our gratitude.

Limited Number Still Available

The remaining 250 books are $65 each, or $70 if they are shipped. It may be some time before a reprint, so quick action will be required if you want a part of Tishomingo County history.

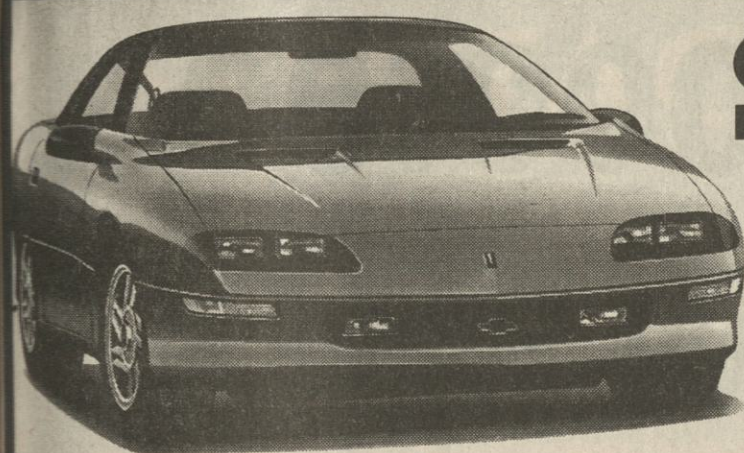

They are available locally or by sending payment to the Tishomingo County Historical and Genealogical Society, at 204 No. Main, Iuka, Mississippi, 38852.

There are also five leather-bound editions of the history book still available for $100 each, said Nelson.

Locally the books are available at all local banks in the county, The Tishomingo County News office, the Belmont Journal office, Country Squire Restaurant, Midway Diner, Southern Style Restaurant, Belmont Ace Hardware, B&J Supermarket, Bushwackers and the Iuka Public Library.

Historical & Genealogical Society Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Tishomingo County Historical & Genealogical Society will be held Tuesday, January 13, 1998. The meeting which begins at 6:30 in the Iuka Public Library Conference Room will feature Donna Dill, Circuit Court Clerk as guest speaker. 1998-99 election of officers will take place at this meeting. The public is invited to attend.

Max Brewster Selected To Attend The National Young Leaders Conference

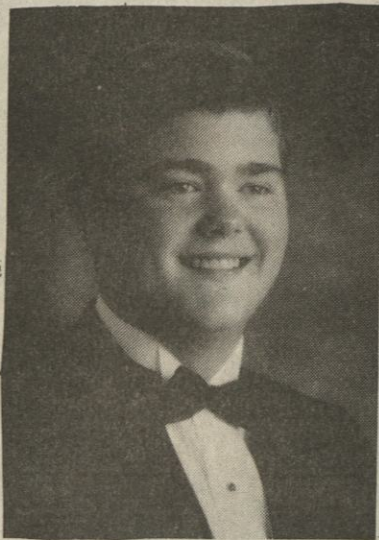

Max Brewster of Huntsville has been selected to attend The National Young Leaders Conference from January 20 to January 25, 1998 in Washington, D.C. The National Young Leaders Conference is a unique leadership development program for high school students who have demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic merit. Max will be among 350 outstanding National Scholars attending the conference from across America.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today. Throughout the six-day conference, Max will interact with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program include welcoming remarks from the Floor of the United States House of Representatives and a panel discussion with prominent journalists at the National Press Club. Scholars will visit foreign embassies and receive policy briefing from senior government officials. Max may also meet with his Senators and Representatives or an appointed member of their staff to discuss important issues facing Huntsville and the nation.

To complement these special meetings and briefings, Max will participate in a number of leadership skill-building activities. In one activity, "If I Were President", students role-play the President, members of the Cabinet and representatives from Capitol Hill who must respond to an international crisis. The National Young Leaders Conference culminates with the "Model Congress", in which Scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, amending and voting on proposed legislation dealing with juvenile justice.

The National Young Leaders Conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization. Founded in 1985, the Council is committed to "fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential." Over 400 members of the United States Congress join this commitment as members of the Council's Honorary Congressional Board of Advisors. Each year, only 7,000 outstanding youth nationwide may participate in the 20 sessions of the National Young Leaders Conference.

"The Conference provides the opportunity for students, like Max, to distinguish themselves as tomorrow's leaders," said Michael Lasday, council Executive Director. "Scholars not only gain knowledge and experience in the nation's capital, they leave with a sense of accomplishment and an increased ability to face the challenges of the future."

Max is the son of Dianne Biddle of Iuka, Bill Brewster of Huntsville, and the grandson of Maxine Cutshall of Iuka.

Church Unity Service

All are invited to attend a Church Unity Service on January 20th, 7:00 PM at the Mission Lighthouse Church. This prayer service will be sponsored by the Tishomingo County Ministerial Asso. The theme is "Led by the Spirit in Hope". Come and pray with us, so all may be One!

MISSISSIPPI UNIVERSITIES

Making sure we know more

Q What Mississippi university established the state's first program to educate nurse practitioners in 1975 and has graduated 472 students, most of whom are practicing in Mississippi?

A Mississippi University for Women established Mississippi's first nurse practitioner master's program in the Division of Nursing in 1975, and until the 1990s, it was the only program in the state. All of the program's faculty are nationally certified as nurse practitioners. The program now offers the master of science in nursing with a choice of three specialties: clinical options—the family nurse practitioner, the pediatric nurse practitioner and the gerontological nurse practitioner. Since 1990, a post-master's certificate option has been offered for individuals who have an MSN degree. These advanced practice nurses provide a broad range of health care services—including obtaining histories, performing physical examinations, making diagnoses, and treating/managing acute and chronic illnesses. Additionally, Mississippi nurse practitioners provide prenatal care, family planning services, and well-child care, while promoting positive health behaviors through education and counseling. Just another way Mississippi Universities are making sure we know more.

The new year is finally here. It's 1998! I hope some of you have set goals and strive each day to accomplish them by 1998's end. We should take the time to look back on the past year to understand our down falls, accomplishments, and special monuments we've experienced. I'm going to try to set resolutions and keep them!! The way to get started is to quit talking and begin doing!!

So start today!! Make a list of goals and keep each one. If you can't think of any be curious. Go check out some books from the library, hike down a nature trail, or just write down things you've always wanted to do. When you're curious, you find lots of interesting things to do. And one thing it takes to accomplish something is courage!! Let me end by sharing this saying from Ralph Waldo Emerson. It will encourage you to succeed at all you do in 1998!

Success

To laugh often and much to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. That is to have succeeded.

Proud Hunter - 14-year-old Brian Anglin, of Iuka, had an exciting holiday hunting trip, when he bagged his first deer. He killed the 8 pt., 145 lb. buck December 30th in the Cairo Community while hunting with his "favorite uncle" Randy Maness. The non-typical 8 pt. could also be called a 9 pt. since it had the tip of another deer's antler stuck some 2 inches in his neck, a possible souvenir from a battle with another buck.

Brian, armed with a shotgun, and Uncle Randy with his rifle were side by side pacing around a big tree when the deer came from the bushes. Uncle Randy handed Brian his 243 rifle and Brian made the perfect shot. Congratulations Brian on his first deer!

Tishomingo County Retired Teachers Meet

The Tishomingo County Retired Teachers met on December 12, 1998 at the Southern Style Restaurant in Midway.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Ruth Dawson. She introduced Chief Deputy of Tishomingo County Neil Edmondson, nephew and former student of Mrs. Dawson. Mr. Edmondson conducted a warm an inspiring devotion. He spoke fondly of his adventures in school, especially encounters with Aunt Ruth. Scriptures read and explained were Proverbs 11:14, 15:22 and 20:5. Chief Deputy Edmondson expressed thanks for all teachers — past and present. He encouraged all retirees to share with and encourage young people with their wise knowledge.

Our cups were filled to overflow when Mr. Edmondson closed the devotion with prayer and sang two beautiful songs. Holy Is Thy Name and Go Rest High On That Mountain. Spiritually he made our day.

Following the warm devotion, the president introduced her niece, Mrs. Dana Walker.. Mrs. Walker is a RN at the Iuka Hospital in the field of Cardiac Rehabilitation and community education. She almost stopped our hearts from pumping by giving us a test. She quickly assured us that the test was designed to help us have a longer and healthier life. After checking our scores on the test, we were eager to receive the valuable information on caring for the heart. Nurse Walker stressed risk factors for a heart attack — factors that can and can not be controlled. The importance of controlling our diet, weight, blood pressure and stress were among the many topics of her discussion.

A short period of questions and answers followed. Mrs. Walker gave each retiree present an Education kit filled with goodies.

We commend the program committee and Mrs. Dawson for selecting such dynamic speakers.

We appreciate them for sharing their time and talents with us and the community.

A short business meeting was held and officers for 1998 were elected. Our next meeting will be March 13, 1998.

Davis - Herrington Vows Exchanged October 4th

Robert Patrick Davis and Christy Lynn Herrington were married on October 4, 1997 in an outside western theme wedding.

The ceremony took place at 4:00 PM at Nativity Pines in Benton, Kansas. The groom and his groomsmen were dressed in black cowboy hats, black jeans, black long tail western tux coats with cream color western cut shirts.

The groom wore a cream color vest and the groomsmen wore forest green paisley vest also. The bride's attendants wore long a-line forest green dresses of muted satin with a scoop neck and short sleeves. They carried bouquets of satin burgundy, mauve and cream color flowers. The bride wore a long a-line off the shoulder dress of cream colored satin with lace, pearls and sequins across the top.

The guests arrived and were greeted by Amy Williams the guest book attendant. After they signed the book then they were able to seat themselves on either tables of hay or chairs. After the guest had seated themselves, the grandparents and parents were seated to the recording of the song "Cross My Heart" song by George Strait. There were 3 bridesmaids

Barbie Harris and Kristen McPhail (friends of the bride) and Alicia Davis sister of the groom. The Maid of Honor was Shelly Diemart, cousin of the bride. The 3 little flower girls Kaylen, Emily, and Magan Peterson were nieces of the bride. Groomsmen were Brian Patterson and Taj Mader and the Best man was Brandon Greenlea all friends of the groom. The ring bearer was Tyler Wilson, nephew of the bride.

The bridesmaids, maid of honor and flower girls came one at a time through an arch way of trees down a slope of rock steps in a rock garden to the recording of "Its Your Love" sung by Tim McGraw and Faith Hill. They were met by the groomsmen and best man at the bottom of the steps where they went up through the center of the guest to meet up with Patrick and The Judge, Willis Wall. When it came time for the Bride to appear the traditional wedding march was played and she came down the steps to meet up with her dad. The Judge carried out the western theme with an old wedding message and had the guest to participate. He pronounced them man and wife and then remembered that he had not done the rings so he married them again with them exchanging the rings.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the same place inside a barn shaped building for the purpose of receptions. Before everyone was seated for the sit down dinner a prayer was given by Patrick's uncle, Jerry Ligon (of Iuka, MS) After the cutting of the cake and during the toast to the couple, Brian Patterson and Shelly Diemart sang "Just You and I". After the dinner, the dance began with Patrick and Christy leading off to the song "Only You" by Travis Tritt. The final song of the night was "She's Going Home With Me" by Travis Tritt. The couple honeymooned in Branson, Mo. and now reside at Rose Hill, Kansas.

Christy is the daughter of John and Sandy Herrington of Rose Hill, Kansas and the granddaughter of Estella Hate of Garden City, Kansas and Wayne and Lois Herrington of Arkansas City, Kansas.

Patrick is the son of Bobby and Patricia Davis of Derby, Kansas. Grandparents are Junior and Dish Ligon of Burnsville (Glen route) and Mrs. Elizabeth Davis of Osawatomie, Kansas (formally of Burnsville) and the late Jessie (Rabbit) Davis.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is available immediately without a prescription in an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream or new roll-on lotion form. Arthur Itis, is guaranteed to work or your money back.

A Proclamation By Governor Kirk Fordice

Whereas, there is a constant need for blood each year to help save lives in Mississippi; and

Whereas, there is also a constant need for additional healthy, regular volunteer blood donors to join the ranks of those who already give of themselves so generously; and

Whereas, organizations such as Mississippi Blood Services, the American Association of Blood Banks, Blood Centers of America, South Central Association of Blood Banks, America's Blood Centers, and other health-oriented associations strive to maintain a safe and adequate blood supply; and

Whereas, giving blood is safe and simple. Most adults can give blood as frequently as every eight weeks; and

Whereas, January has been designated National Volunteer Blood Donor Month:

Now, therefore, I, Kirk Fordice, Governor of the State of Mississippi, hereby proclaim January 1998.

Exhibit On Victorian Death Customs Opens At Manship House Museum...

Final Respects: Dealing with Death in the Victorian Era opens at the Manship House Museum, 420 E. Fortification Street, Jackson, on January 17 and runs through February 28. This exhibit, developed by the Rogers Historical Museum in Rogers, Arkansas, examines funeral and mourning customs in 19th-century America. Using photographs, documents, and artifacts, the exhibit explores such topics as Victorian attitudes toward death, mourning etiquette, the house in mourning, a proper burial, the state funeral, and the public use and adornment of cemeteries. Two issues examined in depth are the conventions of mourning dress and the emergence of the funeral industry. The Manship House Museum will be dressed for mourning while the exhibit is open.

Several special events are scheduled to coincide with the exhibit.

*Pete Miazza, a Jackson native who has been active in the effort to restore Greenwood Cemetery, will give a guided tour of the historic cemetery. The tour will begin at the south entrance to the cemetery, N. West Street at George Street, Monday, January 26, at 1:30 p.m.

Future Loyalty Weakens Despite Record Cotton

How can Mississippi cotton growers harvest a record 900 pound average and not be enthusiastic about the crop?

1997 was the first year since 1983 that Mississippi cotton growers planted less than 1 million acres, and only the third time since record keeping began in 1866. Growers had governmental incentive to reduce acres in 1983 due to abundant supplies. In 1997, the incentives not to plant cotton came from market prices.

"As long as corn and soybean prices remain good, cotton prices stay flat and the production costs and risks are high, there is not going to be any incentive to plant more cotton acres," said Dr. Will McCarty, extension cotton specialist at Mississippi State University.

McCarty said the state is in danger of planting less than 900,000 acres in 1998. While growers will find replacement crops, the infrastructure of the industry could be stressed.

"Cotton gins, chemical and equipment distributors, consultants and farm labor will feel the pinch with fewer cotton acres," McCarty said.

Economists estimate the farm production value of the state's cotton at $650 million, 3 percent below last year's total.

Growers harvested 1.12 million acres in 1996 and averaged 819 pounds per acre. In 1997, growers harvested 960,000 acres, down 13 percent from the previous year.

Early on, the odds were against the crop as growers faced high production costs and relatively flat prices. A cool, wet planting season forced growers to destroy about 30,000 acres of cotton - mainly in Northeast Mississippi.

McCarty said fields that endured the early season conditions benefitted from better midsummer weather and much better later season weather.

"If it wasn't for some bad weather during the later part of harvest, we could have yields even higher," McCarty said.

"Yields benefitted by cotton being planted on only the best land," McCarty said.

He leadeth me beside the still waters, He restoreth my soul; He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name sake. Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with thee: Thy rod and staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies, Thou anoinest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. Dedicated to Bobby Harper, whose name is written in heaven in the Lambs Book of Life.

Are you worried over personal problems, or world problems, Or any kind of problems? Well, I can tell you what you do. Take it to Jesus. If you have faith you won't have to go to a shrink or another doctor with a fancy name. You can just get on your knees and talk it all over with Jesus. Tell Him all about it. It won't all go away, but pretty soon you will wonder what you was worried about. While we look not at the things which are seen are temporal but the things which are not seen are eternal. Text of Lesson. John 13:36-14:4. Peter told Jesus he would go where ever He went, but Jesus told him he would deny Him before the cock crowed 3 times. Peter went out and wept bitterly. John 3:16. For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that who so ever believed on him should not perish, but have everlasting life. This is all you need to believe and be saved. The old folks, before there was weather man, said if a rain came from the East it would last a week. Well it came from the East or South East and the weather man said it would rain all this week. We will wait and see.

We sympathize with those that have lost loved ones this past week. They can't come back to you, but you can go to them.

FLASHPOINT

A WEEKLY LOOK AT THE IUKA FIRE DEPARTMENT

Recently, a call came into the Iuka Fire Department that has prompted concern among the firefighters. A person called the station to report a fire, and when asked for directions to the fire, the person repeatedly told the firefighter the names of the people who lived in the closest house, but was unable to give an address. Finally, the caller supplied the name of the road the fire was on, and only then could the fire department respond to the fire. Fortunately, the fire was a small one, and it was taken care of quickly.

If the caller had dialed 911 instead of the fire department's number, a few things would have been different. The 911 dispatcher would have had all pertinent information right at his fingertips. A computer screen would have shown exactly where the call was being made and which fire department should be dispatched. The dispatcher then would have contacted the fire department via radio, and volunteers would have been in route as well.

The fire department would like to encourage everyone to call 911 for any emergency situation. A firefighter can receive directions from 911 while getting into his turn-out gear, boarding a fire truck, and pulling out from the station. He cannot go anywhere if a call comes into the station and he is on the phone trying to get a location from a caller. The faster he receives information, the faster he can respond.

If you do call the fire station to report an emergency, please have directions ready. The firefighter on duty may not know who lives in a particular house; do not just give him names, but street names and house numbers as well.

If you do not have your house number readily visible from the road, please try to get it up. This is a great assistance to fire personnel, and well as the police departments and ambulance services. This is a small way you can help our emergency services work more efficiently, and it might just save a life.

Saturday, January third, 1998 was a special for Mr. Bobby Harper of the Jackson's camp community. It was his birthday. He has everybodys name and telephone number and he calls them and wishes them a happy birthday. I didn't tell him I was coming and he was really surprised. He goes to Jackson's Camp Church and tell them who has a birthday it was and he will tell them and they will sing: Happy Birthday to You, He requested I put the 23 Psalm for him, so, here you are, Bobby. The twenty third Psalm: The Lord is my Shepherd: I shall not want He maketh me to lie down, He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:

Is Your Money In The Right IRA?

Roth IRA vs Traditional IRA. Which Makes Dollars and Sense For You?

Beginning January 2, The Peoples Bank will offer the much-anticipated Roth IRA. Below are some facts to help you understand the differences in the Roth IRA and the Traditional IRA and determine which is right for you.

Roth IRA

Earnings are tax free (if part of a qualified distribution).

Annual contributions are not tax deductible.

There is no age restriction for annual contributions.

Maximum annual gross income:
$110,000 for single taxpayers
$160,000 for married taxpayers

Maximum annual contribution:
$2,000 per person
$4,000 per couple

Qualified distributions are tax free after five years from the first contribution and if you are 59½ years old or older, disabled, deceased, or a first-time home buyer.

There is no age 70½ requirement for distributions.

Traditional IRA

Earnings are taxed at distribution.

Annual contributions may be tax deductible.

Individuals 70½ or older are not eligible to make contributions.

Maximum annual gross income:
$40,000 for single taxpayers
$60,000 for married taxpayers

Maximum annual contribution:
$2,000 per person
$4,000 per couple

There are no tax-free qualified distributions unless you have made non-deductible contributions.

Distributions must begin by age 70½.

If you currently have a traditional IRA, you may choose to convert it to a Roth IRA. The amount that is converted is subject to taxation; however, the taxes will be paid proportionately over a four-year period.

A Roth IRA isn't for everyone.

The Peoples Bank offers other retirement options that may fit your retirement plan. It is important that you consult your tax advisor to determine which IRA is right for you.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

A TERRIBLE TRIO!

WHEN NEHEMIAH SET OUT TO REBUILD JERUSALEM HE SOON FOUND THAT HE WAS BESET WITH AN EVIL TRIO OF CONSPIRATORS, BENT ON STOPPING NEHEMIAH'S PROJECT AT ALL COSTS! (NEH. 4:1-3) THESE THREE MEN, TOBIAH THE AMMONITE, GESHEM THE ARABIAN, AND OF COURSE THE RINGLEADER, SANBALLAT THE HORONITE, WOULD STOP AT NOTHING TO FOIL THE PLANS OF THE JEWS. GESHEM, A GREAT OPPONENT OF THE JEWS AFTER THEIR RETURN TO JERUSALEM, TREATED NEHEMIAH'S PLANS TO REBUILD AS IF IT WAS AN ACT OF REBELLION AGAINST ARTAXERXES, THE GREAT PERSIAN KING, NOT KNOWING THAT THIS RULER HAD ALREADY GIVEN HIS PERMISSION. (IN FACT, IT WAS TO THE BENEFIT OF PERSIA TO HAVE A WELL-FORTIFIED JERUSALEM SO CLOSE TO THE MEDITERRANEAN COASTLINE WHERE SO MANY GREEK INVASIONS INTO THE PERSIAN EMPIRE STARTED OUT!) BUT NOTHING THESE THREE EVIL MEN COULD PLOT, EVEN TO MURDER ITSELF, WAS SUCCESSFUL AGAINST THE GOD-INSPIRED PLANS OF NEHEMIAH AND HIS FOLLOWERS! SO RESOLUTE WERE THEY THAT ALL WORKERS HELD THEIR TOOLS IN ONE HAND AND A WEAPON IN THE OTHER! WITH THAT KIND OF DEDICATION, THE WALL WAS FINISHED IN 52 DAYS! (NEH. 6:15)

WHAT IS THIS THING THAT YE DO? WILL YE REBEL AGAINST THE KING?

THIS DEVOTIONAL & DIRECTORY IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THESE BUSINESSES WHO ENCOURAGE ALL OF US TO ATTEND WORSHIP SERVICES.

Funeral Services Held For Damaris Haseltine Harwell Hellums

Damaris Haseltine Harwell Hellums, born June 16, 1900 in Tishomingo County, Mississippi, died Friday, January 2, 1998 at her home in Corinth, MS. She was 97 years old and a faithful and loving wife; blest to celebrate fifty years of marriage with her husband, A.G. "Arnie" Hellums, who died December 17, 1977. She was a member of the Church of Christ beginning her service to the Lord at an early age at the Clear Creek Church which was located near her childhood home in Tishomingo County. Through the years she worshipped at congregations in Iuka; Grand Junction, TN; Martin, TN; Oxford, MS; Milan, TN; and for the past 37 years at the Foote Street Church of Christ in Corinth.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hellums were Tuesday, January 6, 1998, at McPeters Chapel in Corinth with minister, Charles Curtis officiating as her family, relatives, and friends gathered to honor and remember her. Burial was in the Hellums family plot in the Henry Cemetery in Corinth.

Survivors include: her son, Charles Edwin Hellums and her daughter-in-law, Olivia Jane Crum Hellums; her grandchildren, Charles Edwin Hellums, Jr.; Olivia Anne Hellums Taylor, Stanley Neil Hellums, Melissa Lynn Hellums; nine great-grandchildren, Lydia Jane Hellums, Elizabeth Angeline Hellums, Jarod Neil Hellums, Ryan Neil Hellums, Haley Nichole Hellums, Kezia Anne Taylor, Anna Olivia Taylor, Natasha Leona Taylor, and Jerrod Alberts Taylor; several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Hellums, as she was referred to in a more respectful manner, was also called by her beautiful name, Damaris, to others she was known as Hassie, to closer relatives she became "Auntie" and to her grandchildren, she was "Mamma". She was the sixth of seven children born to Dewitt Clinton Harwell and Minnie Jane Flynt Harwell at their homeplace which stood at Harwell mountain, located north-west of Iuka in Tishomingo County. Preceding her in death in addition to her parents and husband were her still-born son, Arnie Jr.; her brothers and sisters, Wilford Dudley Harwell, Nellie Katherine Harwell Brooks, Ernest Kaufman Harwell, Ina Little Harwell Dexter, Mary Elizabeth Harwell, and Robert Edwin Harwell.

During her youth Damaris Haseltine attended several one-room schools including Harmony School in Tishomingo County and at times was taught by her eldest sister Nell, as were her sister, Mary and brother, Edwin. She was a 1924 graduate of Freed Hardeman High School in Henderson, TN and then attended West Tennessee Normal Teachers and Business School in Memphis to graduate in 1925. Beginning her professional life, she taught at Mulberry School in Paden in Tishomingo County from 1925 until 1928 and married A.G. Hellums on April 20, 1927. Remembering her mother's teaching, her life was fashioned upon the principles of "honesty, independence, and character" thus she passed these traits on to her son and grandchildren. Serving as a loyal companion to her husband, she worked during the Depression performing duties with the Works Progress Administration; taught in the Alcorn County School system, sold World Book Encyclopedias and sold Prestige Silver Service. Throughout her life, she maintained her great strength of character gaining the respect of those she associated with. Her love for the Lord and His work was evidenced through her as the Scriptures were reflected by her conduct, gentle and caring nature, as she served alongside her husband as a leader in the church and as the wife of an elder. Her life, both public and private revolved around those that she loved and valued most - her family. Favorite hobbies by which she is remembered as being well accomplished at include: playing the piano, singing, gardening, sewing and crocheting.

Her health diminished greatly in recent months; however, she retained her sweet disposition, an abundance of knowledge and wisdom, and her refreshing sense of humor, which delighted her family and caregivers especially during the last days as an extension of her love and comfort to them. Heaven claimed a victory at her death and those whose lives she touched consider themselves most fortunate and blessed by her influence and the example she set before them.

Memorials may be made to the American Cancer Society.

TALL TREE

Tall tree, standing in the rain,
You know naught of grief or pain,
Know not how it feels to cry,
Count not moments passing by.

There you stand in ageless calm,
Where the birds sing praise at dawn

Warmed by sun and wet by dew,
Sighing winds pass softly through.

Yet, you too, have seen the storm
Had your branches lashed and torn,

Yet, you never do complain
Be the weather sun or rain.

Tall tree, reaching toward the sky,
You would never ask God, why
He had planned for you to live,
All you do is grow and give.

Happy thought, Oh! why can't I Give to all those passing by
Some of what God gives to me,
Grow for him just like a tree.

Tall tree, you've my thoughts inspired,

Made me glad when I was tired,
Without effort on your part,
You have healed my broken heart.

Tall tree, standing in the rain,
You've not lived your life in vain,
Nor will I, I'll strive to be Uncomplaining, like a tree.

The Comfort of His Love

When I'm in need of courage

On Him I can rely,

I merely need to ask His help

For He is standing by.

He fortifies my waning strength

When pressures take their toll,

And little heartaches make it hard

To keep tears in control.

He gives me hope for better times

When treasures slip away,

He inspires me with glowing faith

That clearly lights my way.

I'm grateful for His blessed

Intervention from above,

But most of all, I'm grateful

For His sweet, unselfish love.

In Memory of M. K. Butler

October 16, 1914 - December 18, 1981

Pop, it has been sixteen years

Since god carried you Home -

Out of your suffering - into sweet peace,

But our hearts were broken in saying goodbye

And even years later you are always on our minds.

We all still miss you and love you so.

Paula Cox

In Memory of Lesa Elrod Cox and Kristin Cox

Jan. 4, 1962 - Oct. 3, 1996 Sept. 18, 1991 - Oct. 3, 1996

Les, you would have been thirty-six,

It seems impossible that you are gone.

We will never stop loving you - nor even forget your laughter.

You were a good mother to our little Kristin,

And we know that she is safe in your loving arms.

You both left here so quickly - but together

And all of our lives were so quickly changed -

Never to be the same again.

Someday Kristin, we will see you and hold you again

Just as we hold all of your memories close to our hearts.

You were a very special little girl and will always be and we will never stop missing or loving either one of you.

Paula Cox

In Memory of Bertha Glasgow

Aug. 30, 1906 - Dec. 21, 1996

Aunt Bertha, you were a wonderful lady.

So very special to us all.

Your humbleness touched everyone.

You couldn't understand losing little Kristin and Lesa,

Neither can we, but God knows best.

Losing them surely broke your heart,

Because only eleven weeks later you left us too.

But I'm sure you all joined hands in Heaven.

We will never forget you and we will always love you.

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED FOR ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY INCENTIVE PROGRAM

Applications are being accepted for cost-share assistance to control erosion, improve water quality, control and dispose of animal waste and reforestation through the Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP).

Any landowner in Tishomingo County can sign up for assistance through this program. The five year contract provides assistance to correct significant soil erosion problems. A wide variety of conservation practices are available to the producer to correct the problems resulting from soil erosion. All applications are ranked based on the environmental benefit vs the cost to install the practices. After the evaluation of the application is made, all applications are ranked throughout Mississippi and the highest environmental benefit applications are funded first.

Applications will be accepted on a continuous basis, however the next ranking period for funding applications will require applications be evaluated and submitted by the end of March. For cost-share assistance this spring and summer be sure to get your application in to the NRCS Office or the Farm Service Agency Office in January or early February.

For more information on EQIP call the Natural Resources Conservation Service Office at 728-9003, Ext. 202.

Mississippi Crops Make News In '97

Mississippi's total value of production posted a new record of $4.9 billion, an increase of 3 percent from 1996. Casual observers might think a 3 percent change means little happened in Mississippi's 1997 farm economy.

"Several row crops had significant changes in their total value this year, but that was largely because of planted acreage changes," said Dr. John Robinson, extension agricultural economist at Mississippi State University.

Mississippi's 1997 farm economy reflects a second year with the freedom to make farming decisions based on personal choices rather than government allowances.

After the boom in corn acreage and prices in 1996 when the state achieved a 214 percent increase in total value, growers reduced their 1997 plantings. Economists predict the state's total corn value to drop 48 percent to $129 million. Two years ago, the total corn value was $70 million.

"Just as prices and the Freedom to Farm Bill inspired growers to plant more corn in 1996, those factors also contributed to planting decisions in 1997," Robinson said.

Mississippi's total wheat value also declined 47 percent to $29.6 million, largely due to reduced areas.

"When you first see that there was a 47 or 48 percent decrease in the value of a crop, you might think farmers are hurting, but that is not necessarily the case," Robinson said. "Most growers experienced better-than-average yields and average prices. Drastic changes in planted acres were the main culprit for the value decreases."

Of the state's top three crops - poultry, forestry and cotton - only cotton was impacted by acreage changes. A record harvest helped make up the difference for fewer cotton acres. Economists estimate a 3 percent decline in cotton's lint and seed value to about $650 million.

"As long as corn and soybean prices remain good, cotton prices stay flat and the production costs and risks are high, there is not going to be any incentive to plant more cotton acres," said Dr. Will McCarty, MSU extension cotton specialist.

McCarty said the state is in danger of planting less than 900,000 acres in 1998. While growers will find replacement crops, the infrastructure of the industry could be stressed.

Broilers and eggs will top the state's ag commodity charts with $1.43 billion, a 6 percent increase. Demand - foreign and domestic - and Mississippi's strategic geographic location are big benefits from the state's poultry growers.

Forestry set its 10th record in 11 years with an estimated value of $1.22 billion, a 3 percent increase. Pine, which makes up Burnsville Cub Scouts Deliver Fruit Baskets To Tishomingo Living Center - During the holiday season, Burnsville Cub Scouts Pack 120, 2, made fruit baskets and delivered them to the residents at Tishomingo Living Center. The scouts along with the help of LeAnn Tucker, Glover, Ron McNutt and Elaine McNutt, put the baskets together at a meeting and delivered them the next day. During their visit, the scouts sang a Christmas song as they passed out the fruit baskets. We would like to thank Bargains and More of Burnsville, Wal-Mart Super Center of Corinth, Gardner's Supermarket of Corinth and Linda Brewer for making the project possible. about 70 percent of the state's forest products value, experienced improved prices and production in 1997.

Other notable increases included rice, up 31 percent to $157 million, and soybeans, up 25 percent to $474 million. Catfish also increased 22 percent to $380 million.

NRCS Conservation Tips

By: Phil Purvis, District Conservationist

The soil survey of Prentiss County can save many people time and money, according to Phil Purvis, District Conservationist for the Natural Resources Conservation Service in Prentiss County.

The survey contains detailed maps of Prentiss County's soils, plus 193 pages of information telling about the soils for a variety of land uses. The information is based on soil observations to a depth of five feet.

The survey can help a homebuyer or developer determine soil-related hazards or limitations that affect homesites. It can help city and county planners determine the suitability of areas for housing or onsite sewage disposal systems.

A farmer can use the survey to estimate the average potential crop or forage production of his land. Engineers can use the soil information to determine the suitability and limitations of soil for pipeliners, buildings, landfill, recreation areas, and many other uses.

Many people assume that soils are more or less alike. They are unaware that great differences in soil properties can occur within short distances.

Soils may be seasonally wet or subject to flooding. They may be too unstable to be used as a foundation for buildings or roads.

Very clayey or wet soils are poorly suited to septic tank absorption fields. A high water table makes a soil poorly suited to basements or underground installations.

These soil properties and many others that affect land use decisions are given in the soil survey for the county. The survey describes the properties of soil in the county and shows the location of each.

Copies of the survey are available from the local Natural Resources Conservation Service Office. Anyone engaged in engineering, building, planning, land appraising, real estate, local and state government, or farming or ranching can make use of the survey.
