Pictorial History Book To Be Published For Tishomingo County

The Tishomingo County Historical and Genealogical Society has announced they will publish a new book entitled, "Tishomingo County, Mississippi - A Pictorial History." The book will be the third book the society has compiled and published since the society was organized on March 4, 1996.

The society will soon be asking for any old photos for consideration with the book. Some of the planned categories for the book are Activities and Events, Early Businesses, Churches, Farming and Rural Life, Street Scenes, Historic Homes, Buildings and Landmarks, People and Families, Veterans (Spanish American through Desert Storm), Children Long Ago, School Houses and Classes, and more.

Cindy Nelson, chairperson of the book committee, urges everyone to take advantage of this unique book since it will be the only volume of its type and the last book compiled during this century. The book will paint a historical picture of the county with its photographs. Nelson and the book committee is preparing a special brochure which will be mailed to everyone in the county around the middle of March. The brochure will tell what types of photos will be accepted and how to submit them for possible inclusion in the book.

The book will be a large 8 1/2 x 11 inch hardbound and will complement the family history book which the society is printing only 200 more copies. That book sold out a few months ago and should be available around the first of March. The society's first book, "Tishomingo County Cemeteries," was released in March 1997.

If you need more information about this book call Cindy Nelson at (601)423-2543; Eddie Carson at 423-6745 or Chris Evans at 423-5734.

Lady Braves Advance In North Half Play

Will Play Eastside Friday Night, 6:30, in Lafayette County Gym in Oxford

After a decisive win over the Itawamba Indians on Friday night (47-21), the Lady Braves began North Half play at home on Monday evening with a thrilling game against the Oxford Lady Chargers.

The Lady Braves, #6 in the Daily Journal rankings, defeated the #2 ranked Lady Chargers who have won three consecutive State Championships.

Monday night's game against Oxford was described as "one of the best ever games played at TCHS." At the end of the first quarter, the Lady Braves were down 12-4. By the end of the second quarter, the Braves were still behind 21-16 and the third quarter ended with Tishomingo County again down 31-30. The fourth quarter saw a fight to the finish with Tishomingo County scoring 19 and Oxford 16 points with a final score TC 49 - Oxford 47.

In the fast-paced fourth quarter, Oxford's Beth Barnes made a 3-pointer to tie the game 47-47 with 44 seconds left on the clock.

Tishomingo County's Carol Anne Emmons counted with a hook shot and a free-throw to bring the Lady Braves up to 47-44.

Oxford's LaShonda Joy provided fireworks with a 3-pointer to again tie the game with only 10 seconds left. Lady Brave Brooke Gentsch then took control for a full-court-drive to the home goal. She laid the ball up for the winning goal.

Braves Coach Larry Johnson says he is really thrilled to be one of the 8 teams left on the road to state by breaking the 4A premier team of Oxford. Coach Johnson said the Lady Braves struggled some offensively but made up for it with great defensive play. He also commented on the clutch free-throw shooting by the entire team.

For the Lady Braves, Brooke Gentsch had 16 and Brigitte Parsons had 10. In double figures for Oxford Meg Banahan had 16 and Jasmyne Searcy had 11.

The Lady Braves encourage their fans to follow them to Lafayette County this Friday night where they will take on Cleveland Eastside at 6:30.

Qualifying Deadline March 1 For Those Who Wish To Run For Office

Secretary of State Eric Clark reminds all potential candidates that Monday, March 1, at 5 p.m. is the deadline to qualify to run for office in 1999.

"All candidates must submit qualifying materials with the appropriate office [locally, the Tishomingo County Circuit Clerk's Office] by 5 p.m. on March 1," Clark said. "Our job is to help the parties be aware of the law, so that all candidates are treated fairly."

Party candidates for statewide, state district, or multi-county offices qualify with their representative state parties. Independent candidates for multi-county office qualify with the Secretary of State's Office.

Both Independent and party candidates for single county or county district office (such as Supervisor and Legislators representing all or part of a single county) qualify with their county

Circuit Clerk.

The Secretary of State's Office will be compiling a comprehensive list of candidates for public distribution as soon as possible after the deadline.

Official sample ballots for primary and run-off elections are prepared by the parties. Any question regarding a candidate's qualifications for office are ruled by the party's state executive committee.

After the parties have determined their nominees, the State Board of Election Commissioners, comprised of the Governor, Secretary of State, and Attorney General, will set the official sample ballot for the Nov. 2 general election.

Independent candidates and nominees of political parties that do not conduct primaries will automatically appear on the general election ballot.

Local Student In MSU Co-Op Program....

Jeremy Daniel South of Iuka, MS is participating in the Cooperative Education Program at Mississippi State University.

As a major in the area of Civil Engineering, Jeremy is working toward a degree and at the same time is working as a Co-op student on alternating semesters in Iuka, MS with Dean McRae Engineering, Inc.

The Cooperative Education Program is a five-year educational program which allows a student in various fields of Accountancy, Architecture, Agriculture and Life Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business and Industry, Education, Engineering, Forestry to affiliate with a business, industrial, or governmental firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

By combining practical experience with theoretical training, this program provides the student with a superior education. Once all of the degree requirements are complete, Jeremy may begin full-time work with the cooperating firm or will join another firm which demands this particular training.

Can Flip-Tops Needed—Students in Mrs. Robinson's fifth grade history and Mrs. Beans' seventh grade English classes are collecting flip tops from cans. They will collect these tops, which will then be cashed in and donated to offset costs of chemo treatments for youth in Mississippi. The class has set a goal of 260,000 tops—to represent each Confederate killed during the Civil War. The community is asked to help in this effort by saving their flip tops. The deadline for collecting tops is April 19. Flip tops may be brought by the Iuka Middle School office or call 427-9534 or 423-3316. Some of the students participating are (from left) fifth graders Sydney Sanders and Kristy Crum and seventh graders Kris Banks, Sara Beth Cobb and Kinsley Whitlock.

County Agents Notes

What Is The Master Gardener Program?

The concept of the Master Gardener Program is basically to get in-depth information to individuals and at the same time recruit some volunteers for the Extension Service. What do you get? forty hours of quality classroom instruction in home horticulture will be taught. What do we get? When you complete the training program, you will be identified as a Master Gardener volunteer Intern. You will be required to teach or work forty hours near your locale under the guidance of County Extension Personnel. This could be helping with a workshop or just answering the telephone on horticulture questions. When this is completed, you will be certified by the Mississippi State University Extension Service as Master Gardeners. There will be a course taught in Lee County beginning March 11th and going for 10 weeks. If you are interested in attending please contact Nat Dean at 841-9000. If you are interested in participating in one in our area, let me know at 423-7016. If we have enough interest, we will try to have one in Tishomingo County.

Forestry Scholarship

The Tishomingo County Forestry Association is again offering two $500 scholarship to two graduating seniors from the county. There will be one given to a Belmont High senior and one given to a Tishomingo County High senior. If you are interested in applying, please contact your guidance counselor or the County Extension Office at 423-7016.

Forage Fertilization

When fields dry and temperatures warm up, then it is time to fertilize and get some new growth from cool season grass crops. If you applied enough phosphate and potash at planting then you only need to add nitrogen. Winter annual grasses can use about one pound of actual nitrogen per acre for each day of grazing. Broadcast the nitrogen when the grass is grazed down.

There are several sources of available nitrogen and several methods of application. The solid 45 percent urea or the 34 percent ammonium nitrate granules may be better choices because they are designed to fall to the soil surface but liquids can be equally effective. You can lose some of the liquid nitrogen but this may be more economical if you plan to include weed control chemicals such as 2,4-D. It could save an extra trip over the field and help clean up problem weeds such as yellow flowered buttercup.

Pesticide Certification Training

There will be a Pesticide Applicators Certification Training held Monday night, March 1, 1999 at 7:00 p.m. in the Extension Office. This training is for Agricultural Producers who need to be able to purchase Restricted Use Pesticides for use on their own farms. After the training, a test will be given. Tests will be sent to Mississippi State University where Personnel from the Bureau of Plant Industry will grade them. Producers must pass before a license is granted. The Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service provides educational opportunities to the public on an equal opportunity basis and will make every reasonable effort to accommodate individuals with disabilities, which would interfere with their ability to receive the educational information being provided. If you have a disability or impairment which would interfere with your opportunity to participate in this program contact Danny Owen at 423-7016 before the start of the program.

Class Of 52'

The Class of 52' will hold a monthly meeting at 12:30 p.m. third Tuesday of each month at Homers.

All classmates are invited. Members of other classes welcomed.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

OPTOMETRIST

Color Vision

There are only three types of color pigments in the retina of the human eye. They are blue, green and red. The eye is such a amazing instrument, that any color, shade, or hue can be seen by mixing these three colors. It seems that any and every sensation of color can be obtained by some combination of the three primary pigments.

The full range of color is not available to us over the entire field of our vision. Beyond about 30 degrees the colors red and green become indistinguishable. In the far periphery of the retina, only a few color receptor cones exist and all color sense is lost. Although peripheral vision can detect motion, it is incapable of picking up color. When a red object is slowly brought into the visual field from the periphery, the observer is first aware of a colorless object. As the red object advances in front, it appears pink or yellow and eventually red.

Our visual acuity is poorest in blue light because we have few blue receptors. In red or green light, visual sensitivity is more acute.

Your Dental Health

The Mouth: A Mirror Of Health

The mouth is often called the body's "barometer" or "mirror" of health, because it's so easy to observe and because so many diseases have oral signs and symptoms.

More than 40 serious ailments and hundreds of other less serious diseases can manifest themselves in the mouth and tongue. That's why when we examine your mouth we look for more than tooth decay, periodontal disease and orthodontic problems. Disorders that can show up in the mouth include:

Vitamin deficiencies. A burning or sore tongue is a common symptom of iron, folic acid and vitamin B12 deficiencies. Bleeding gums can be a warning sign not only of gum disease, but also of scurvy, a vitamin C deficiency.

Diabetes. Early signs can include red, swollen gums and teeth that are sensitive to tapping.

Leukemia. Signs can include sores inside the cheek, in the throat and on the tonsils and lips.

Bulimia. The compulsive pattern of consuming enormous quantities of food and then vomiting may lead to loss of enamel and dentin on the inner (tongue) sides of the teeth.

Infectious mononucleosis. Sometimes signaled by inflamed gums and tiny hemorrhage spots on the roof of the mouth.

Sinusitis. An inflammation of the sinus cavity, which can feel like a toothache.

Other diseases an oral exam can help detect include oral cancer, herpes, AIDS, syphilis, gonorrhea, hypertension and multiple sclerosis.

Regular professional care has always been your best way to maintain the health of your teeth and gums. Now you know that dental exams help you care for the rest of your body, too.

Your Honor the Mayor Iuka, Miss.

Dear Sir:

I am interested to learn if anyone in Iuka remembers the following incident. Some four or five years ago Mr. Thomas A. Edison told me that at one time he was taken off the train at Iuka suffering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. I think this happened in the early 1870's. He stated that he came very near dying and but for the kindly administrations of some good people in Iuka he would have died. He naturally had a kindly feeling in his heart for the town and its inhabitants. This was undoubtedly a milestone in the life of this great man, and it would seem that the world owes his subsequent work to the good people of your town. This instance seems to be of sufficient importance to justify its preservation as a part of history and that is why I am writing at this time.

Very sincerely,

Tyronza, Arkansas

Well, here I am in more trouble, the Tyronza River having something like 25% of this section under water, I naturally have the swamp angel blues and sometimes wish I was once more a hillbilly. I went to town yesterday, walked up to a squad of men and began to discuss Arkansas and its drawbacks. One old timer raised up and said, "Well, Arkansas would be a pretty good old saw if it wasn't for the Tennessee drags and Mississippi sets." Not knowing just how to reply, I moved on down the street.

We have just organized a reclamation company for this section. We are going to meet tonight and each member is scheduled to submit a plan. My plan is to sow the country in soda and raise it up.

Do I have a storm house? Yes, I dug one, but the river just likes 10" of being in it. The water may take it, but unless it gets more than neck deep, I will invade it when the situation demands. Signed: J.W. "Dolly" Scott.

With your lovely look and eyes so blue?
I remember the first time I ever saw you,
You turned my head and my heart in 1982.
But your warm heart within; the things you cannot see,
Is why I am so glad we married in 1983.
Though the last few months, we've had heartaches & tears,
I'm so thankful you've been with me these 16 years.
This last little while has made it so true,

Legal Line Available For Elderly, Offering Free Legal Advice

by Angela Lambert

Residents of Mississippi who are age 60 or older are being offered free legal advice over the phone through the Legal Line for Elder Mississippians.

Anyone who is 60 or older, regardless of income, qualifies for the free service, which is partially sponsored by the federal Administration on Aging.

According to a spokesman for Legal Line, three attorneys and a legal assistant will take calls on any legal question. Medicare/Medicaid questions, consumer issues, domestic relations issues, property questions and health care laws are some of the issues on which they have given legal advice.

Since legal advice from an attorney you hire may cost as much as $125 per hour, this free service will be a huge benefit for the elderly who do not have the funds to hire an attorney, the spokesman said.

Legal Line can usually handle every legal problem over the phone; however, in some cases they may refer callers to a private attorney who can help them in their specific legal area.

When someone calls Legal Line, he or she will be asked some basic questions including age and statistical information. They will then be passed on to a legal consultant.

To contact Legal Line call 1-888-660-0008. They are available Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Rodeo Set For Feb. 26 & 27 Helps Local Students....

In addition to helping the Booneville Lions Club purchase eyeglasses for needy Booneville and Prentiss County children, the proceeds from last year's 1st Annual Booneville Lions Club World Championship Rodeo allowed the Club to initiate annual scholarships to Northeast Mississippi Community College.

The scholarships are awarded, first, to students planning to pursue a career as an optthalmologist or optometrist. "If there is no eligible Northeast student planning such a career," said, Booneville Lions Club President C.J. "Junior" Roper.

Last year's benefit rodeo was such a success the local Lions Club has now scheduled the 2nd Annual World's Championship Rodeo with plans to continue the event as a permanent annual fundraiser. "This may eventually allow the Booneville Lions to initiate other projects benefiting the area," Roper said.

This year's rodeo, once again to be held at the Prentiss County Agri-Center, is set for Friday and Saturday night Feb. 26 and 27.

"The World Championship Rodeo events will begin at 8 p.m., but a Children's Rodeo is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. each night with such events as Stick Horse Barrell Racing, Dummy Roping and the Gold Rush for children 10 and under," Lions Club Rodeo Chairman Bob Krick said.

Also, popular rodeo clown Tim "Wild Thang" Lepard and his infamous Ghost Riders, and act featuring dogs ridden by monkeys, will again be entertaining between events" Krick said.

He said all the popular events will be included in the rodeo, such as bareback and saddle bronc riding, bulldogging and steer wrestling, cowgirl barrell racing and the most popular and exciting event of them all, bull riding.

Krick said advance tickets are now on sale from local Lions Club members, and at various locations in the area. "They are $7 for adults and $5 for children 12 and under, with children under 3 admitted free, he said.

"Admission at the door will be $7 and $5 on Friday night, thanks to our major corporate sponsor

Courtesy Chevrolet/Buick, but on Saturday night, admission at the door will be $8 and $6 " Krick said. He said there will be plenty of free parking this year.

Krick said advance tickets can also be purchased at Farm Bureau, Waldens' Big Star and the Subway in Booneville, as well as the Subways in Ripley, Baldwin, Corinth and Iuka; at the 1st American National Bank South in Iuka, Burnsville and Tishomingo; Piggly Wiggly in Belmont; Sunflower and Le Beouf Seafood in Tishomingo; and the Alcorn County Co-op and Bar-None Western Store in Corinth.

"The rodeo is a fun event for the entire family and the Lions are proud to be able to bring such wholesome entertainment to Booneville and Prentiss County," Ropersaid. "We hope everyone will take advantage of it and bring the whole family out to see it.

"You can have a good time and support a good cause as well," Roper said.

My Friend, My Hero, Robert McAlister

A Series Of Articles By Christian Evans

Bob and Chris
McAlister

Eating at the Norma's Country Cupboard is an experience in Southern Culture. Their Wednesday night breakfast buffet brings out a family atmosphere where folks talk over their meal while a baby is being passed around. It was over these conversations that I was told of Mr. Bob McAlister of Tishomingo.

I was surprised to hear that a man, born and raised in Tishomingo County, had professionally photographed a great deal of twentieth century history over his thirty year career as a Navel Photographer. I was REALLY surprised to learn that McAlister was the official Summer White House Photographer at Newport News, Rhode Island for President John F. Kennedy from 1961-1963. I had to meet this man!

My father drove me way out in the country where Bob McAlister and his wife Chris have a beautiful home overlooking a tributary of Bay Springs Lake. It was a beautiful setting for our interview. There were several scrap books stacked on the kitchen table. As I flipped through them, we began to talk. I started with a little background on the man and how he got into photography.

"Our place was a mile and a half from where we are now, only it is under Bay Springs now," laughed the seventy three year old man. Bob grew up in the Depression era. He had quit school along with his four brothers to work so the family could eat. When World War II broke out most young men waited for their number to come up in the draft. "I wasn't going to wait on the draft," said McAlister. He laughed, "I decided to beat them to the punch and enlist in the Navy." The young man was shipped to Pensacola Naval Air Station in Florida. Bob said, "I had never been out of Tishomingo County much less thought I would wind up in a place that nice."

Pensacola was the premier Navel photography school in 1943. While on the drill field, McAlister noticed the photographers making pictures and said to a buddy, "That sure looks like a good job, how do I get to do that?" He was assigned to a ground crew for maintaining aircraft. Bob made friends easily. One of his buddies managed to get them on the list to finish out a four month class in photography school. This four month program not only required classes in photography but also trained the men as gunners for the planes they would be flying in.

"You couldn't just take pictures when you were up in the planes. If the enemy jumped you it was time to take a gun," notes the old Navel Gunner. He proudly turned to a photo in the scrap book, "I got my flight wings to be part of a B-29 crew in 1944. Here they are pinning them on me," he said proudly pointing to the photo. Next, McAlister was sent to Okinawa to begin aerial mapping of the Japanese mainland. It was quite a large undertaking that took many months. This was done in preparation for a planned invasion of the Japanese mainland by allied forces. "We almost had all the main islands mapped by pictures when the bomb was dropped," McAlister recalls.

"We were instructed not to enter certain areas in early August of 1945," he says. Hiroshima was bombed August 6 and Nagasaki was bombed three days later on August ninth. "We flew reconnaissance missions photographing the destruction," McAlister recalls. "We had to fly through all that dirt and debris for several days, it made for a nasty, bumpy ride," Bob says. Fortunately, the maps were not needed. Japan surrendered on September 3, 1945. One of McAlister's friends from photography school was on board the Missouri photographing the surrender ceremony. "Here is a photo he sent me that he took." It shows Admiral Hauls, General MacArthur and the Japanese representatives signing. Now, Bob just wanted to get home to Tishomingo and marry his girl, Chris. They tied the knot on November 23, 1945.

The McAlisters struggled for the first couple of years. Bob worked for Reynolds Aluminum, farmed a bit and worked for several months at the Ford Motor Plant in Michigan. He went in on a joint photography venture with Shorty DeMorse. Aside from class pictures and photographing sports events, there was not enough business to keep McAlister in the area. It would be tough anywhere in those days. That is why Bob reenlisted in the Navy. He nervously asked his wife what she thought about him going back in. She replied that they, "Had to make a living somehow" and that she supported his decision. Chris recalled how he told her about his plans. "He sat me down and asked if he could go back in the Navy and I said O.K., He was relieved and said 'Good! I signed the papers yesterday and got up enough nerve to tell you today!'"

With that, the young couple was off on an adventure to see the world. McAlister had gone through advanced photography school and later would go through film college to learn cinematography. Their first son, Lonnie, arrived four years later in 1951. He came just before leaving Pensacola. The McAlisters received a dream assignment when the photographer was assigned to Naples, Italy to serve under Admiral Robert E. Carney who was the ranking Navel Officer under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower who was the Supreme Allied commander during the occupation era in war torn Europe. McAlister has a number of pictures of Admiral Carney and many dignitaries such as Eisenhower.

The family moved to Italy from Pensacola when young son, Lonnie, was six months old. He was taken care of by their landlady who doubled as house keeper and enjoyed taking care of the McAlister son. All this help was only two dollars a week, the average pay for an Italian worker who was lucky to get that. After the war, the Italian people looked for any job that would pay a dollar or more a week. This worked out well when Bob got leave on weekends and he and Chris got a chance to travel. "Those were the prettiest sunsets we ever saw," recall Bob and Chris who looked at these mini vacations as honeymoons from a travel brochure. They especially enjoyed the Isle of Capri. Both thought it one of the most beautiful spots on earth. They visited Rome and other major Italian cities and historic sights. They also visited the nearby Greek Islands and Crete.

Little Lonnie could speak more Italian than English when we got the next assignment to England, Chris recalls. Bob was assigned to London, England first. There, his job was to copy or duplicate captured Nazi files and photographs. It was classified work. Chris came to be with her husband and the two enjoyed the assignment.

Unfortunately, with eastern block spies everywhere, it was decided to move the entire operation for the Nazi photos to North Africa. "We were 25 miles from Casablanca and it was miserable to say the least!" recalls Chris. "That was likely one of my worst overseas assignments, mainly because of the heat."

Bob came back to Pensacola where he had received a two year assignment. While there, son Patrick was born in 1958. The photographer was now a chief petty officer. His luck held out as he was assigned a new duty in the spring of 1961. Chief Bob McAlister was assigned to Newport News, Rhode Island as a member of the White House Staff. President Kennedy was sworn in January of 1961. McAlister was amazed to learn he was to be the official summer White House Photographer for the president. Hammersmith Farm was made the official summer White House for the Kennedy administration. "I thought I would need all new fancy uniforms for the job so I spent a fortune on them!" laughs the former Chief. It turned out that the Navy wanted McAlister to blend in so he ended up wasting his money on uniforms and had to get some blazers to fit in with the news reporters.

Armed with a sixteen millimeter Bell and Howell moving camera and a thirty-five millimeter for stills, McAlister blended in with the White House press corps. Under Chief White House Photographer, Bob Khenutsen, Chief McAlister covered the first family while in Newport. "I was called to cover the arrivals and departures at the nearby Navel Airfield where the 'Caroline', a four motor propeller plane, would carry the first family. Later, the new Air Force One was used as the president's official air craft."

McAlister photographed the president on the runway with heads of state such as the Prime Minister of Pakistan, as well as other dignitaries. There were numerous photographs of the Kennedy's arriving or departing from Mass at the little Catholic Church where the couple had exchanged their vows. One of these pictures has President Kennedy with wife Jackie who was then noticeably expecting the arrival of their third child, a son they would name Patrick. There was a good friend of Bob McAlister's who had left his cameras on the flight and could not take pictures. He held young Patrick McAlister's hand as the president and first lady passed by. Bob McAlister snapped a picture that had his son, Patrick, President and Mrs. Kennedy and a yet unborn Kennedy child who would also be named Patrick. (Patrick Kennedy died in infancy.)

One of the most memorable events of those three summers was when the America's Cup Sailing Race was held off Newport News. Chief Bob got the call to accompany the president aboard the "Joseph F. Kennedy", named after the president's late brother who had died heroically during the second World War.

"You could see everything from the deck of that ship," McAlister elaborated. He looked around for other pictures he took of that event then scratching his head, smiled and said, "I guess I have them put away, I had a lot of pictures but the Navy or National Archives kept most of it!"

"I was popular with the other boys in the press corps. They liked to hang out at the Chiefs Club and I could get them in," says McAlister. "See, I was the CHIEF!" McAlister blended in and made the most of every photo opportunity. He took his job seriously and from that, we have pages of pictures from his coverage of Camelot.

There were a number of pictures where Bob and the president were in the picture but McAlister says, he never really spoke with the president in anymore than friendly conversation. To McAlister, this was a job. He never saw it as a witness to history and a chronicler of history through his work. The black and white photos froze in time the images of those seemingly carefree summers while the Cold War, the Bay of Pigs, Cuban Missile Crisis, Civil Rights and other issues burned in the mind of President Kennedy.

Bob Kudsens, the regular White House Chief Photographer, came to visit McAlister a couple of days before McAlister's eighteenth wedding anniversary. While there, Khenutsen asked McAlister to ride along on a junket with the president to Fort Worth, Houston and Dallas. Chief McAlister declined wanting to spend the anniversary with his wife. Kudsens understood saying it was ok. "I'll find a replacement for you, there will be other times."

McAlister turns to a picture he took up close of the president smiling as he sat in an open black convertible. "When they told us the president had been shot, well, it was a shock," recalls McAlister. He looks at the pictures of the young man who lost his life that day in Dallas, pictures McAlister himself took. He then said, "I don't think things were ever the same with this country after November 22, 1963. I don't reckon they ever will be."

The chief stayed on at Newport News for another year. While there, an American submarine went down off Newport Sound. The submarine was searched for in over 8000 feet of water with a Navy diving bell. The bell recovered debris that was pulled to the surface and hauled aboard a navy frigate. Photos were taken of the metal as it lay on the deck. The photos were flown to Washington where the wreckage was officially identified as that of the missing sub. The photo was carried on every major news channel that night. Bob McAlister made that shot.

In 1966, after a total of thirty years of service, Chief Petty Officer Robert "Bob" McAlister retired from the U.S. Navy. While in service, he had earned a G.E.D., two years of college credit and not only took advanced photography and film classes, he had taught them as an instructor at Pensacola. He ended where he started at Pensacola and planned to retire there.

It happened that a cousin of Bob's was an executive with Dixie Gas and Oil and got him a position with the company. This brought the McAlister family home to Tishomingo. As the Chief looks off the deck of his home to the water, it brings back many memories. He is less than a mile from his homeplace which lies under this peaceful reservoir. He retired with thirty years in the Navy and an additional twenty with Dixie Gas.

A little sign reads "Bob's Photo Shop" outside the little room attached to the house through an open breezeway. Here, Bob keeps on playing with his film and reproduces old photos. Some of them have been shared by friends but most all of them are from the Chief. He made me a copy of a few pictures I requested. One shot was of Bob and his old Bell and Howell Movie Cameras with McAlister in a sport coat, the tag clearly reads "WHITE HOUSE STAFF 1962." It is now tucked away on the first page of his scrapbook along with his first service I.D.

Another picture he gave me was an old original copy of an early Marilyn Monroe pin-up. (Now, it is one of my prized possessions!) Then, there is another picture of President and Mrs. Kennedy with Patrick McAlister on the sidewalk that was made by his Dad, "ON THE JOB" (I would say "It's a keeper!") There were others of Eisenhower and Admiral Carney, his buddies in photo and gunnery school and a few "trick shots". One of these features his beloved Chris as a tiny doll size sitting on a mug held by her "larger than life" hubby.

A stroke held Bob McAlister down for a while but now the seventy-three year-old man enjoys every day back home in Tishomingo. Here, he takes pictures of birds, squirrels, the fish he and Chris catch and special events. He does it just for fun! In the little office of the small studio, a faded 8 x 10 black and white portrait of McAlister's former boss, stares through time with a faded signature reading, "With grateful appreciation for your work on my staff, sincerely . . . John F. Kennedy."

I left there that day having made new friends and having a greater appreciation for how anyone can come from humble beginnings like Tishomingo, Mississippi and with hard work and a little luck, be anything they want to be. After thirty years of naval service, twenty years in business, over fifty years of marriage, two sons and many friends who may or may not know all he has been a part of over his lifetime, Bob McAlister has made a difference in his community, his state and his nation as a quiet witness to twentieth century history. He has left a record of these times that were for him, all in a day's work.

"ASK NOT WHAT YOUR COUNTRY CAN DO FOR YOU, ASK WHAT YOU CAN DO FOR YOUR COUNTRY!" exclaimed President Kennedy in his inaugural address. He loved his job and did it without realizing the value of his work. My hero, Robert (Bob) McAlister, asked "How do I get to do that?", and he did get THERE, to serve his country and make his lifetime dreams come true.

tions, Katie!

As it was a stormy night, the club members who had arrived early decided to go ahead and start addressing the Valentine's Day cards while waiting for the others to arrive. Cards were addressed to all the residents at both the Tishomingo Manor Nursing Home and the Tishomingo Living Center. Eva Mae delivered these to the nursing homes on Friday, the 12th. She also delivered boxes of candy to the two nursing home residents we sponsor, Mrs. Clarice Tension and Mr. Vardaman Mobley, and also to a former club member who is now a nursing home resident, Mrs. Ruth Gatlin. She had delivered Valentine's Day cards to the students at Tishomingo Industries, formerly known as Timber Hills, on Wednesday, the 10th.

The meeting was adjourned with Mrs. Gail Strickland reading the creed.

The table was appropriately decorated for Valentine's Day, and everyone enjoyed a pot luck meal.

The door prize was won by Ms Karissa Henderson.

We were proud to have Karissa visiting with us again, as well as Mrs. Opaline Crouse, and we hope they will come again.

Anyone is welcome to come meet with us at our next meeting on Thursday night, March 11, at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Ms. Eva Mae Strickland. We hope to see you there!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I hope that you will print this letter, as it has to do with a very important subject: our animals.

I have become very disappointed in the way the animals of this county are being treated. I have learned of many people here that are mistreating animals, besides the nut in the Indian Creek area. If they find this person or group of persons, they should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

There are other people in the county that will agree to take animals into their lives and then not take care of them. There are those that will not get their pets spayed or neutered, instead they just "get rid" of the babies by dumping them on the side of the road, or one someone else, or killing the innocent things. This is the 1990's! There is no excuse for this! There are two wonderful vets in Iuka and one in Belmont!

I can't tell you how many puppies and kittens I have seen dumped on the sides of the roads throughout this county in the past few weeks. It breaks my heart to know that there are such uncaring, selfish people here. There are those that actually "brag" about how they kill the puppies and kittens. You people need to be informed that there is nothing funny nor honorable about such acts. It is an act of cowardice, that is it. So remember that the next time you are chatting about how "mighty" you were in getting rid of your problem.

If you have a pet, get it spayed or neutered if you cannot or will not take care of the babies. Get your pets vaccinated.

If you know someone that is mistreating their animals, in one way or ten ways, turn them into the police.

This needs to stop.

Tishomingo Homemaker Volunteers Club

February Meeting

"As for the future, your task is not to foresee, but to enable it." This was the thought of the month read by Ms Eva Mae Strickland, president of the Tishomingo Homemaker Volunteers Club, when the club met at her home on Thursday night, February 11.

Mrs. Jeannette Thorne gave a good devotion, using as her scripture Psalm 23, and then read a poem, "Trust and Believe". She then led in prayer.

Ms Katie Strickland led the group in the pledge to the flag.

Ms Shirley Thorne, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting and did the roll call, and Mrs. Willard Strickland, treasurer, gave the financial report.

Eva Mae reminded club members about the Quilt Fair on March 12 at the Midway Community Center and encouraged everyone to participate. She also encouraged everyone to start getting their garments ready for the Fashion Revue on April 13 at the Midway Community Center.

Willard gave an interesting report on "Miss American Coed Pageants". She read a letter from Mr. Jeffrey C. Chilton, State Director, which named Katie Strickland as one of the 1999 Mississippi Finalists for the American Coed Scholarship Program. Only 60,000 girls are accepted to compete in their state and national program. The best investment business and community leaders can make is to support programs which help young people mature into responsible citizens, and American Coed Pageants is one of those programs. The club is proud of Katie for this accomplishment and expresses their appreciation by donating $25 to help sponsor her in this pageant. Congratula-

Dance, Maybe - Hulla Hoop Contest, No Way! - Judy Walker is busy getting things ready for the "Sock Hop" to be held on March 12th at 7 p.m. at the Iuka Middle School Gyms.

Hoppin', Dancing & Twistin'

People are really moving, getting ready for the "Sock Hop" on March 12th, at 7 p.m. at both of the Iuka Middle School Gyms.

The new gym will be rockin' & rollin' with music by "Charlie Watts and the Mornin' Show Band. there will be a Hulla Hoop Contest, Limbo Contest and Dance Contest. Your 50's costume will also be judged. Remember, "only Bobby Socks" allowed on the gym floor. Shoes will be checked at the door. It is rumored that you will see some Middle School, Elementary and High School teachers in full costume.

While this is going on at the new gym for ages 15 years old and up, the old gym will be just as active with games, contests, music and dancing to the oldies but goodies. Children ages 5 to 14 will be chaperoned and cared for by adults.

This is meant to be a real good time for the whole family.

All concessions will be done by the Dixie Softball Girls. All proceeds from the Sock Hop will be used to help finance the Dixie Softball, Inc. and expenses for Heritage Day.

Tickets are on sale at Rushing Drug Store, at the 1st American National Banks in Iuka, Downtown and at the Southside Branch, and at the Burnsville 1st American Bank. Other locations are being arranged. You can also buy them from Lorie Brown, Jean Davis or Judy Walker.

Piecing The Centuries Together...

If you like to piece quilt tops, quilt or learn more about this art, the Mississippi Homemaker Volunteers in Tishomingo County invite you to join them at the Annual Quilt Fair on March 12, from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. at the Midway Community Center.

As we approach the new century, many quilting techniques have changed, but have also remained the same. New tools, new ideas and easier and faster methods have emerged, along with electric lights and sewing machines! With these changes in mind, it's easy to forget our quilting "roots". Piecing the Centuries Together is the theme for the 1999 Quilt Fair. Even though "piecing" is in the title, by no means are we limited to just piecing. The idea is to borrow from the 20th century patterns and show new, dynamic and innovative ways that will become the norm in the 21st Century.

A quilt will be set up for beginners to learn how to quilt throughout the day. Refreshments will be served.

Everyone is invited to come out and see all the beautiful quilted items.

Ball Field Project To Begin In Tishomingo

It's now time to get started back on the completing of our new field. If the parents of the children that play softball and baseball would consider offering a few hours of their time each Saturday, we can complete this ball field project. In doing this will have something that we all can be proud of, not only for us but for our children's future also.

We started out with 3 teams and just this past season we had 13 teams playing on one field with 13 teams comes to the point of impossible. Completing this field will also insure us future tournaments of different age divisions, which would be a big asset to the field in years to come.

Work on the new field will continue every Saturday (weather permitting) from 9:00 a.m. - until. We encourage everyone to volunteer any available time that you may have in order to get these fields completed.

During power outages, here are some suggestions to assist TCEPA employees in restoring your service:

- 1) Before calling TCEPA, check your fuse or breaker box for blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers. If you don't see any, ask your neighbors if they have lost their power, too.
- 2) When you call to report an outage, be prepared to provide the name on your account, your 911 address (house and road number), and your telephone number.
- 3) In an outage during extreme cold or hot weather, turn off all major electric appliances, and heat or air conditioning. Leave a single light switch turned on so you will know when the problem is solved. Five to ten minutes after power has been restored, you may begin turning on electrical appliances and heating or cooling as necessary.
- 4) Put up a 911 address sign to help us locate you.
- 5) Turn on an outside light after power has been restored so that repair crews will know that their work has been successful.

A Letter To The Students & Parents Of TCHS From Casey's Mother

The past few weeks have taken a tremendous toll on the students at TCHS following the death of my son, Casey Joe Ledbetter. I need to explain what has been happening at TCHS since that time.

The students have taken upon themselves to start a petition to have the football stadium named for Casey. That may seem to be a large request, yet, when you look at how many students it will affect, and maybe remind them to strive to be better adults, it is not a large request at all.

When Casey started back playing football this year, he made a complete turn-around in his attitude for school. He learned to be a team player. He learned to be an adult. He changed his looks and improved his grades by 75%. I, as a parent, took a deep breath. I realized that I may not lose my son to the undoing of the world.

Casey was God's definition of humble. There was a child who wrote me and said that everyone made fun of him. But Casey came up to him one day and asked how he was? That child was so taken by Casey's act of caring that he said he hoped he could be as good as Casey. If the love Casey carried in his heart could change one child, look at these students' request. How many of them could we save and maybe show them that all this effort they made to get the football field named for Casey is not in vain.

TCHS needs school spirit! You can make all the "Level 5 School" in the world on paper, but if the students don't reflect it, you haven't accomplished anything. The football team had less than 25 members this year. The drive to be the best has to come from home to school. We, as parents should want our children to play ball, to be in the band, to do anything that will help them to learn to be better. Then you must support their every effort. Be a member of the Boosters Club, attend games, even the ones far away. You, as a parent, must learn to understand your child and his needs, not what we think their needs are.

I know what football did for my son and the great man it helped him to be in his sixteen years. If naming the football field after Casey could save one person and make a better student and person out of them, would it not be worth it? Please, as a Tishomingo County School parent, I challenge each of you to help these students achieve their goal. I don't think some of them will be able to withstand any further disappointment during this time of their grieving. I would be delighted to see my son's name over the football field but I don't want it for myself, but for those wonderful teenagers who have had to learn at too early an age the sadness and pain of death. "Casey Stadium" is all they need to help them. Please listen to you children, hear what they are saying. Support your school. Please contact the school about your supporting the naming of the football field. Help me, help these students resolve some of their grief.

Sardis Church News By: Ova Reno

Sunday, February 21. We had a nice little snow this morning. Just the kind I like, it melted as it fell. It fell so pretty.

Devotional: The Sin of the Divided Heart. Matthew: 6:19-24. Warnings to believers against trust in riches. Lay not up to yourselves treasure upon earth, they could so easily be destroyed, but lay up for yourselves treasure in heaven. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Verse 24: No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon (money). If you are saved, aren't you glad we just have Jesus to serve? And that he is the one to take care of you?

Central Truth of this lesson. Be true to the God who has been faithful to give you victories. Being saved was my biggest victory, overcoming Satan was another one. He is after God's people. He already has the other kind. God's people have a bad time for Satan is always trying something to get them off the track. Lesson Text: No other God's. Amen! Joshua 2:3-13, 24:14, 15. Verse 6: Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the Book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not aside there from to the right hand or to the left. Twenty years had passed from the time Israel entered the land of Canaan. All the problems and the passing of years had taken their toll on the great leader and warrior, Joshua. By then he was an old man. He sees they are at peace but they will not always be so. He sensed the great danger of their compromise, so he confronted them. He first talked to leaders, and then to the rank and file, and gave them his farewell address. He wanted more than anything for the people to be courageous. One of the main themes of his sermon concerned the faithfulness of God and their need of being faithful to Him.

Sunday night we dug down deep in Revelations and studied about the millennium, or the thousand year reign. We ran references to Jeremiah 32-37. Verse 37: God says, Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in my anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place and I will cause them to dwell safely. Genesis 1:1-7. Verse 7. And when the thousand years expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison. Please read through the 10th verse at least, or take time to read it all. To our most welcome visitors Sunday, please come again.

Please help us pray for our sick. Bro. Milton Phifer and Sister Phlema Stockton.

What on Earth is God up to?

Joel is sounding an alarm to repentance: Joel 2:1 Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is high at hand: Isaiah 58:1 Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgressions, and the house of Jacob their sins. Acts. 2:17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams. V:18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my spirit: and they shall prophesy V:19 And I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath: blood and fire, and vapour of smoke V:20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord comes. V:21 And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved. Haggi 2:6 For thus saith the Lord of host: yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land: V:7 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. V:8 The silver is mine. And the gold is mine, saith the Lord of host. V:9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of host: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of host. John 15-5 Jesus said: without me ye can do nothing.

Thank You

We, the family of Casey Ledbetter, would like to extend our thanks to each and every person who remembered us during this time of sorrow. The food and flowers sent and the many, many prayers spoken in our behalf were greatly appreciated.

As Casey's mother, I know God has put a veil around me and has helped me thru this most trying time. Each prayer has sent yet another moment of peace.

Bro. Dan and Bro. Bill, thank you for your kind words when we laid that wonderful person to rest.

All of Casey's friends, thank you for letting me see my son's heart touch so many of your lives. "Led" would want you to go on and learn to be to each other what he was to you.

Thank you and may God let every parent learn to hear what our children are saying. God gave me this wonderful son and let me know him thru his dreams, thoughts, and actions.

Thank you,

NEMCC Student Rehearse Lines For March 4-5 Production Of "Annie"—Chris Wingo and Anna Beth Grant, both of Iuka, rehearse their lines for their roles in Northeast Mississippi Community College's upcoming production of "Annie." Grant portrays the orphan Annie and Wingo is Warbucks, who decides to invite an orphan to spend a week in his home for Christmas. Disappointed that the orphan is not a boy, Warbucks finds Annie rather annoying as she persuades him to take her to the movies. As he and his secretary walk 45 blocks to Times Square he finds himself unexpectedly growing to like her. "Annie" has become one of American's best loved musicals and is as funny as the funny papers. The production is scheduled for March 4 and 5 at 7:30 p.m. in Seth Pounds Auditorium. Tickets are $5 and will be available at the door.

Cortney's Community Chats By Cortney Compton

Before you were conceived I wanted you. Before you were born I loved you. Before you were here an hour I would die for you.

This is the miracle of a parents love.

Everyday this world changes for the better. Although sometimes it seems that it's for the worse. I know I'm not a parent, but I can see the importance of a family's love. Everyday children, teens, and young adults are influenced by this world. They need encouragement, support, and love from their parents. Without the power of a parents love, this world steals our youth away forever. They go to other sources to find the love and support they need. I hope that if your child, teen, or young adult is ever asked if they are loved. They will always be able to say, "yes, I'm loved very much!" Mr. Dale White presented a program that made me realize how important a parents love can be. He also shared ways the world steals our youth away. I hope you can take advantage of the power of love you possess as a parent. The future will be in the hands of the youth.

So now is the time their small hands need to be held by yours. Just make a memory with your children. Spend some time to show you care, toys and trinkets can't replace those precious moments that we share.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON CENTRAL PURCHASING SYSTEM INVENTORY CONTROL SYSTEM AND PURCHASE CLERK SCHEDULES (REQUIRED BY SECTION 31-7-115, MISS. CODE ANN. (1972))
October 28, 1998

Members of the Board of Supervisors
Tishomingo County, Mississippi

We have made a study and evaluation of the central purchasing system and inventory control system of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, as of and for the year ended September 30, 1997. Our study and evaluation included tests of compliance of the Purchase Clerk and Inventory Control Clerk records and such other audit procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The Board of Supervisors of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, is responsible for establishing and maintaining a central purchasing system and inventory control system in accordance with Sections 31-7-101 through 31-7-127, Miss. Code Ann. (1972). In addition, the Board of Supervisors is responsible for purchasing in accordance with the bid requirements of Section 31-7-13, Miss. Code Ann. (1972). The Board of Supervisors of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, has established a centralized purchasing for all funds of the county and has established an inventory control system. The objective of the central purchasing system is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that purchases are executed in accordance with state law.

Because of inherent limitations in any central purchasing system and inventory control system, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Any projection of any evaluation of the system to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

The results of our audit procedures disclosed an immaterial instance of noncompliance with the aforementioned code sections. This instance of noncompliance is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and was considered in forming our opinion on compliance, which is expressed below.

In our opinion, except for the noncompliance referred to above, Tishomingo County, Mississippi, complied, in all material respects, with state laws governing central purchasing, inventory and bid requirements.

The accompanying schedules of (1) purchases not made from the lowest bidder, (2) emergency purchases and (3) purchases made noncompetitively from sole source are presented in accordance with Section 31-7-115, Miss. Code Ann. (1972). The information contained on these schedules has been subjected to procedures performed in connection with our aforementioned study and evaluation of the purchasing system and, in our opinion, is fairly presented when considered relation to that study and evaluation.

This report is intended for use in evaluating the central purchasing system and inventory control system of Tishomingo County, Mississippi, and should not be relied upon for any other purpose. This is not intended to limit the distribution of the report which is a matter of public record.
