Iuka's Jason Moore Releases First Music CD

Angela Lambert
Contemporary country is Iuka resident Jason Moore describes the songs on his recently released compact disc titled "A Long Way From Home."

Jason said he has been pleased with the comments he has received from this project, so far, which he undertook with the help of fellow musician/songwriter Tim Langer of Corinth.

"I really didn't know what to expect, but it has been going well, so far," Jason said.

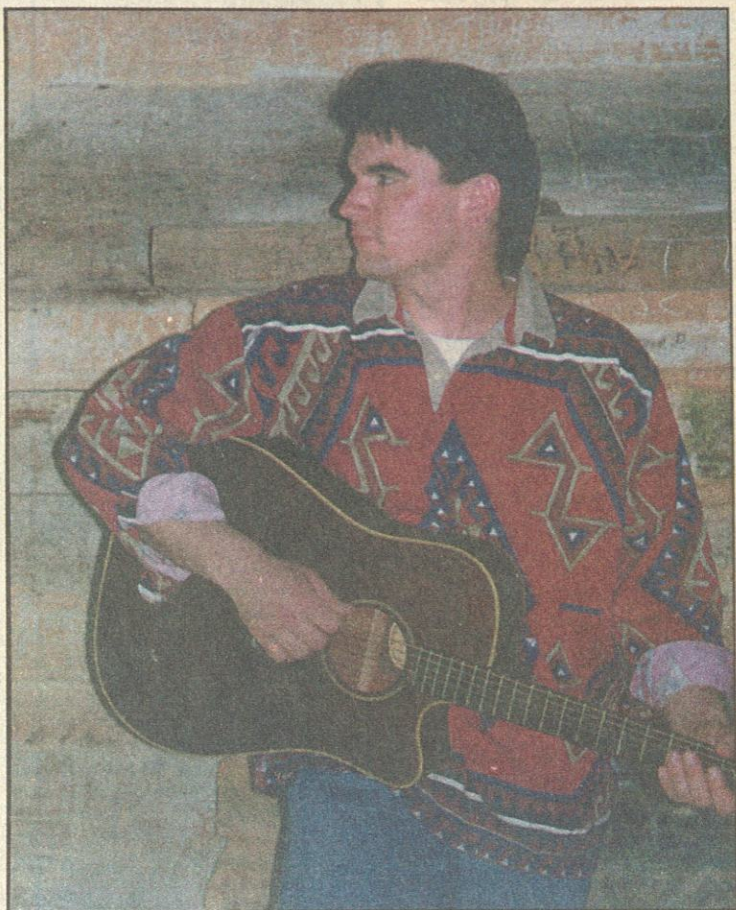

Jason said it wasn't until he had graduated from high school in Iuka in 1987 that he took up playing guitar and singing. And it wasn't until 1992 that he seriously began thinking that he would like to pursue it as a career option.

The 31-year-old singer credits Lancaster, who wrote the songs on this CD, and Ricky Zamata of Channel 7 in Jackson, Tenn. as being very influential in his career thus far. Jason has appeared on Zane's program previously, and plans another appearance the next month or so.

"A Long Way From Home," the title song from the new CD, is one that has a special meaning for Jason.

"The song was written by [Lancaster] in 1991 and it was written from the perspective of a guy who wants to stay in a small, home town," Jason explained. "A lot of songs talk about wanting to leave."

The other songs on the CD also give the listener a sense of living, loving and losing in a small Southern town. Jason said it took about five to seven days to complete the tracks. In addition to Tim, singer Christy Cornelius is featured on background vocals. Photography for the cover and insert of the CD was done by Stephanie Ragan Ledbetter, also formerly of Iuka.

Jason Moore

Presently, Jason said he is working on putting together a band which he hopes to tour the area with. Also, he said that if everything goes as planned, he hopes to record another CD later this year.

Jason explained that he has one steady playing engagement: he plays guitar where he attends church at Mission Lighthouse. He is very proud of his church and also of his family, including his father and mother, Leroy and Betty Moore of the Snowdown Community, and his sister, Selina Moore Thompson of Mobile, Ala.

And even with his newfound success in the field of music, Moore continues to work his "day job" as a mortician at Magnolia Funeral Home in Corinth.

He said he is the first in his family to pursue either of these careers.

The CD, "A Long Way From Home" may be purchased locally at The Corner Store, Country Squire Restaurant, Linda's Fashions, Movie Express and Tip's Barbeque. Cost is $10 each. Jason expressed appreciation to everyone who has purchased his CD and said he hopes that you enjoy it.

Search Of Residence Leads To Arrest Of One By Iuka Police

by Angela Lambert

An Iuka resident has been arrested following a late night search at his residence on Friday, Feb. 9, which turned up illegal drugs.

According to Iuka Police Chief Randy Stringer, his department had the residence under surveillance for approximately two weeks before the raid.

Police officers Tommy Rolleigh and Joseph Marlar conducted the search, according to Chief Stringer.

Seized in the raid was a small amount of marijuana, paraphernalia and pills (Somas—a controlled substance).

Chief Stringer stated that one arrest was made at the time of the search; however, information and evidence collected at the scene is likely to lead to more arrests.

"The entire department is to be commended for a job well done, as each spent their time on this case," Chief Stringer stated.

A Message From The Board of Supervisors

To the Citizens of Tishomingo County:

A few months ago, we wrote to you explaining our efforts to utilize county office space in the most efficient way while accommodating the needs of the different departments. Since we wrote that letter, the sheriff has requested that we look at the possibility of building a new jail. We have met with two different architects and obtained estimates on the costs of doing this. According to the information we have received, a new jail meeting the specifications the sheriff has requested would cost in excess of $3.5 million. As an alternative, we have considered remodeling and expanding the existing facility. We will continue to consider this matter, but we would like to invite your input on this proposed project. Such an undertaking would have to be funded through a bond issue. We have always tried to be conservative when it came to spending taxpayers' money, so it is important to us to hear from you on this.

Another issue that we have had several inquiries about is the meals that are served at the jail. In order to be sure that we were meeting the necessary dietary requirements of inmates, we consulted with a dietician. We were told that a daily allotment of 2,000 calories served in three meals was quite sufficient, and that is what we have implemented.

We continue to receive comments and complaints about the level of funding of the sheriff's department. For the current fiscal year, the sheriff requested $822,686 and we set his budget at $699,536. By way of comparison, Tishomingo County has a population of approximately 18,000. Alcorn County, with a population of about 32,000 has allotted $900,000 for its sheriff's department budget, and Itawamba County with approximately 20,000 residents has a sheriff's budget of $649,444.

As part of our yearly process at setting the budget, we customarily have to pare down the requests of different departments in order to stay within what we think are acceptable limits. It is a difficult task and one we take seriously. We feel that we have acted responsibly in setting the sheriff's budget. We will continue to work with Mr. Smith in whatever way we can to ensure that law and order are not hurt in any way.

As we stated in our previous letter to you, we trust that you will understand and support our efforts to use county resources in the most efficient way.

Special Election On Future Of Mississippi Flag Set For April 17

by Angela Lambert

Voters throughout Mississippi will go to the polls on April 17 to decide if we will keep our current Mississippi flag design or adopt a new design, proposed by a committee headed up by former Mississippi Governor William Winter.

According to Tishomingo County Circuit Court Clerk Donna Dill, the ballot will have colored pictures of the current flag and the proposed new design. Voters will pick the one they wish to adopt as the official state flag.

In a recent telephone poll of 886 voters conducted between Jan. 25 and Feb. 2 by Jackson's Clarion-Ledger, 55 percent of voters said they would vote to keep the original 1894 state flag with its Confederate battle emblem. The poll indicated that 34 percent would vote to adopt the new design, which would replace the Confederate emblem with a circular pattern of 20 stars on a field of blue. The 20 stars represent the fact that Mississippi was the 20th state to enter the union.

Among those who said they would vote to keep the current flag, most cited history and heritage as the main reason. Other reason included seeing no reason to change, seeing the old flag as harmless and disliking the proposed new flag design.

Among those who said they favor the new flag, most stated that it was because it represented images of slavery and the KKK and was offensive to them.

Kristina Hemlinger Completes Basic Training...

Marine Corps Pfc. Kristina M. Hemlinger, daughter of Lisa L. and Michael L. Hemlinger of Iuka, Miss., recently completed basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. and was promoted to her current rank.

Hemlinger successfully completed 12 weeks of training designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Hemlinger and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a.m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Hemlinger spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Hemlinger and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values - honor, courage and commitment, what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Hemlinger and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour team effort, problem solving evolution which culminated with an emotional ceremony in which the recruits were presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and were addressed as "Marines" for the first time since boot camp began.

Hemlinger is a 2000 graduate of Tishomingo County High School of Iuka, Miss.

A work that aspires, however humbly, to the condition of art should carry its justification in every line.

Nutritional Screening Is Becoming Part Of Dental Visit For Older Adults

Do you wonder whether an older parent or grandparent is at risk for nutritional problems? If so, a visit to the dentist may be the first place such nutritional problems are detected.

Because the mouth is a kind of barometer of the entire body and dentists often see patients on a more routine basis more than other health professionals, they're in an excellent position to help screen for dietary problems.

Some of the signals of improper nutrition include color, texture and physical changes in the tongue, oral soft tissues and lips, as well as actual lesions on the mouth, cracked lips and corners of the mouth and problems with salivary gland function.

People who may have nutritional problems - or even other diseases that can then manifest as signs in the mouth - may be referred to other health care professionals for treatment. This is an excellent opportunity for all health care professionals to work as a team in providing quality health care for older Americans.

About 86 percent of older adults have a dental problem that can result in poor nutrition, tooth loss, mouth pain, ill-fitting dentures, or poor periodontal (gum) health. In addition, many older adults lose their appetite due to a change in their sense of taste. Several factors can cause this change. Besides an age-related decrease in the sense of smell and taste, certain diseases, medications and dentures can contribute to a decrease in the sense of taste.

These problems can seriously interfere with a person's ability to chew their food and can affect their enjoyment of eating. With regular visits to our office we can help you, or your loved one, deal with nutritional problems.

We are accepting new patients now.

INSIGHT IN EYESIGHT

Dr. Phillip Grainger OPTOMETRIST

Color Vision Defects

Defective color vision can be either congenitally acquired later in life. Congenital color defects are either red deficient or green deficient or deficient caused by a lack of that pigment in person's photoreceptors and results in an inability to detect that color. Genes for red/green defects are sex-linked. The genes are carried by the female and show up in the male. A mother carrying the gene for color blindness can pass the defect to half of her male offspring. The probability of a female having color blindness is very low. In males there is a 2% chance of a red/green defect and a 6% chance of a blue/green defect.

Acquired color defects are caused by various diseases or conditions. Certain chemicals, metabolic disease or optic nerve disease can cause a color defect. Acquired color vision defects are usually found in only one eye and they frequently change or even disappear with time. A congenital vision defect would be present in both eyes and would remain constant throughout an individual's lifetime.

PET OVERPOPULATION

Did you know?

One female cat can be responsible for 450,000 kittens in 7 years.

One female dog can be responsible for 67,000 puppies in 7 years.

Can you imagine how many puppies and kittens 1 male dog and 1 male cat can be responsible for?

An estimated 20,000,000 animals were put to sleep last year in the USA.

With these facts in mind, you must be made aware of pet birth control.

Female cats can be spayed (ovariohysterectomy) when they reach at least 2 1/2 pounds of weight. This is before they come into heat.

Female dogs need to be spayed (ovariohysterectomy) before 6 months of age. Some dogs will begin the heat cycle at 6 months of age.

Male cats need to be neutered (castrated) as early as 7 months of age.

Male dogs can be neutered (castrated) as early as 6 months of age.

Remember these ages are the earliest dog and cats need to be neutered (castrated or ovariohysterectomy).

At these ages surgery can be performed at anytime or see your veterinarian what is best for your cat or dog.

Just remember to be a responsible pet owner and not allow unwanted animals to be brought into the world.

I ask for the privilege of not being born,

Not to be born until you can assure me of a home and a master to protect me,

And a right to live as long as I am physically able to enjoy life.

To help with pet overpopulation, Dr. James Perkins at the Iuka Animal Clinic, offers a reduced rate spay and neuter program for the month of February.

WHEN IT'S COLD, YOU'D BE SURPRISED WHAT CAN SLIP THROUGH THE CRACKS.

That crack in your bedroom window may not seem like a big deal. But it can let a lot of cold air into your house. And let a lot of warm air out. In fact, just place your hand near that crack on a cold, windy day. You'll be surprised at the amount of cold air you'll feel. Better yet, have it fixed before that cold windy day gets here. It's a pretty simple repair you can probably do yourself. Or talk to the folks at your local hardware store. They can probably recommend someone to fix it for you at a reasonable cost. Then you won't have to worry about cold winter air slipping into your house.

Midway MHV Club

The Midway MHV Club collected food for the Samaritan food pantry. Each month we bring two or more food items to our meeting. These items are carried on to the food pantry several times a year. The year 2001 will be the third year for this project. This is one of our many community service projects.

We maintain the grounds and play equipment at the Midway School Building. In December we sent undershirts to the children's hospital in Jackson. Our project for February (a countywide MHV project) is to make lap throws to sell for a fund raising project.

March 6th we will be helping with the quilt fair, which will be held at the Midway Building.

The Midway Club

decorates the Midway Building for all MHV functions held there. One of our members, Mrs. Sybil Hodge, is in charge of renting the Midway Building. Others visit the nursing home, while still others travel to surrounding counties to conduct Leader Training classes for the clubs in these counties. Some carry people to the doctor, to buy groceries, or to visit with the shut-in. Others help with programs at the libraries during National Library Week. Through our many projects each month we touch the lives of many others. By doing this we make a small difference and bring hope and joy into their lives.

The Midway Club meets at 6:00 p.m. the second Thursday of each month at the Midway School Building. We invite you to visit us and become a MHV member.

Iuka Hospital Announces MRI Services

Iuka Hospital is going hi-tech to offer patients better care and convenience.

The local facility is now offering magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) services through its Radiology Department each Wednesday. "Adding MRI technology means that fewer patients will have to travel elsewhere for testing," said Dan Perryman, Iuka Hospital administrator. "This will be much more convenient for the patient, and it allows us to provide better patient care."

MRI utilizes a very powerful magnet, radio signals and a computer to form superior images of the internal anatomy. Through a non-invasive procedure, the GE 1.0 MRI unit features outstanding image quality, shorter scan times than traditional or open scanners, and a music system for greater patient comfort.

American Red Cross Tishomingo Co. Service Center

The American Red Cross would like to thank the people of Tishomingo county for supporting us this past year. Our mission is to provide disaster relief for all individuals. We have tried to be there when you needed us.

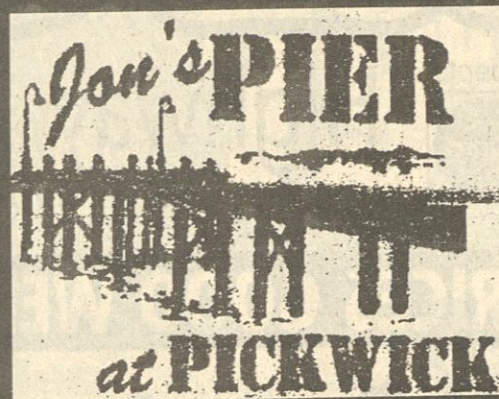

In order to serve our community better, we will be relocating our office down stairs in the Masonic building at 1289 Main St., Tishomingo. While this location is larger in capacity it will be necessary to do some remodeling and so we will be kicking off a building campaign in the next month. We hope that you will support us in our endeavor to continue our service to you.

Would you please mail your contribution to Tishomingo Co. Red Cross, P.O. Box 594, Tishomingo, MS 38873 or give to one of our directors.

America's History

Black American History "Three Centuries Of Outstanding Achievement"

America has rich history and black American's have three centuries, and can be traced heritage to the land of Egypt.

The accomplishments of black Americans (heroes) can help all realize how obstacles were prominent - but, with fortitude the mountains became ant hills, and their goals were reached and acknowledged throughout the world.

In the year 1940, educator Booker T. Washington, the first black American was honored on the United States Postage Stamp to mention a few thanks to: Carter G.

Strength, courage, fortitude, determination and inner motivation to work relentlessly for a better America for all humans. The task were horrendous with life stopping points but the stepping stones became visible for more black Americans to continue in their endeavors with over seven hundred accomplishments in inventions and discoveries how awesome and prestigious.

The United States Postal Service has exemplified our country in preserving for years. "America's Rich History and Culture; through a commemorations stamp program, highlighting the contributions to America's History of the issuance of (sixty-six black American U.S. Postage Stamps) With Liberty and Justice for All.

Cotillion Expansion Plans Include Tish. County, MS

The National League of Junior Cotillions (NLJC), a program of etiquette, character education and social graces for middle and junior high school students, has announced plans to expand its program in to include Tishomingo County, MS.

Says Anne Colvin Winters, NLJC National Director, "We will be selecting a director for the local chapter who will receive complete training and an exclusive territory for expansion."

The organization currently has over 130 directors operating 440 chapters in 28 states. Says Winters, "This program is making a positive impact on students in our area and we are delighted to know that more young people in Tishomingo County will have the opportunity for this vital training." The program currently has active chapters in counties such as Desoto, Lee, Lauderdale, Lamar, Forest, and Harrison across the state.

The purpose of the National League of Junior Cotillions' program is to give students instruction and practice in the courtesies that make life more pleasant for them and those around them. Students actively learn courtesies that make life more pleasant for them and those around them. Standard ballroom dancing is taught using nationally approved top 40 music.

In addition to the usual courtesies connected with dancing, etiquette and character instruction are also provided regarding the following: honor, respect, ethics, sportsmanship, acknowledgments of gifts, behavior at cultural and civic events, correspondence, interaction in groups, introductions, paying and receiving compliments, receiving lines, table manners, telephone courtesy, and many other areas of social conduct.

In addition to Junior Cotillion, NLJC offers three related programs: Pre-Cotillion for grades K-5, High School for grades 9-12, and a Corporate Cotillion program for adults. NLJC has also been featured on several national television networks.

The program, with headquarters in Charlotte, North Carolina, was established in 1979 and has licensed local cotillions nationwide. The cotillion includes six monthly classes plus a Holly Ball and Spring Ball. Says Winters, "The program has met with equal success in metropolitan areas including Atlanta, Orlando, Minneapolis, Houston, and in small communities across the country. We believe it will be an important addition to the training of young people in the Tishomingo County area."

For additional information call 1-800-633-7947, visit our award winning website at www.nljc.com, or e-mail to cotillions@nljc.com.

Sardis Church News

By: Louise White Family

We at Sardis extend a welcoming hand to all who may wish to come together in the name of the Lord Jesus. We've been blessed with another week of life and the opportunity that goes with it of spreading God's Word and enjoying good fellowship with one another.

VERSE OF THE WEEK:
 "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you." (II Corinthians 6:17)

The Lord warned His people about trusting others instead of Him. He had given Jehoshaphat great political and spiritual wealth. Still, Jehoshaphat kept allying himself with wicked people like Ahab.

Jehoshaphat thought he could separate his spiritual life from his political life. He compromised years of religious reform which would not last past his lifetime. His son became a murderer and isolator, thus his heritage was gone because of his compromise. II Chronicles 18:1-3, 29-32.

Revival Meeting At Fifth Street Baptist Church Feb. 18-23

Host pastor, Bro. Tony Curtis and the congregation invite everyone to attend these special services.

Tishomingo County Vocational Center FBLA To Fingerprint County Kindergartners

As a FBLA Community Service Project, FBLA members from the Tishomingo County Vocational Center will Fingerprint Kindergartners at each elementary school in Tishomingo County. Parents will receive information through each elementary school requesting permission, and giving times and dates of the fingerprinting. The prints will not go into any database nor be kept on record at the school. They will be sent home with the students to be given to the parents for safekeeping in the event the prints are ever needed. The TCVC FBLA would like to thank the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department for donating all the needed materials and training. Pictured above, Deputy Benny Phifer demonstrates proper fingerprinting procedures to FBLA member Matthew Willis. We sincerely believe this to be a worthwhile project and encourage all parents of Kindergartners in Tishomingo County to participate.

THE POTTER AND THE CLAY

There is a word picture drawn for us in the ninth chapter of Romans which we should consider.

There is this potter who has an order for two vessels. One is a vessel of honor (a nice vase), and the other is a vessel of dishonor (maybe a garbage container).

The proposition put forth is, who would question the right of the potter to take one lump of clay and use part of it for the honorable vessel and use the other portion for the dishonorable vessel? The obvious answer is that no one would question the potter's right to do as he pleased with the clay.

Now, this was given to illustrate the sovereignty of God in the disposition of His creatures.

God has the right to love Jacob and hate Esau (verse 13). He has the right to love and save Israel and hate and destroy Pharaoh (verses 16-18). He has the right to elect some to everlasting life and leave the rest to their own just condemnation (verses 11, 22-23).

When men have the notion to question the fairness of it all, the sovereign God simply asserts in verses 20 and 21, "Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? Hast not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honor, and another unto dishonor?"

Religion and 'Good Government'

The French philosopher Alexis deTocqueville once wrote about America: "In France, I always saw the spirit of freedom and the spirit of religion marching in opposite directions, but in America I found they were intimately united and that they reigned in common over the same country." How far we have come. In recent years, liberals have alienated millions of Americans through an effort to purge religion from almost every aspect of American public life. However, our new President sees America's religious heritage as one of our nation's strengths, eager and ready to be enlisted in the fights against poverty, illiteracy, drug addiction and others. Like many of us, he knows that government can never be a substitute for the very Judeo-Christian values from which American Democracy itself was derived.

This week President George W. Bush announced the creation of the Office of Community and Faith-Based Initiatives. He also signed an executive order instructing five cabinet agencies to create their own formal stand-alone Centers for Faith-Based and Community Initiatives to conduct an audit of how government currently interacts with non-profit and faith-based groups. It is a bold effort to remove existing barriers to cooperation between the federal government and religious or private organizations.

It is also a move that is sure to garner criticism from the political left. But, so what, they tried their big-government way, and look where we are today. Almost 40 years after President Lyndon Johnson declared the federal government's "war on poverty," the condition, and the problems it fosters, is still persistent, particularly in our cities. The erosion of the family, teen pregnancy, drug and alcohol abuse, pornography, prostitution - all of these ills can be linked to poverty, but more specifically they are the result of a culture that is becoming increasingly valueless, and values are rooted only in religion.

The naysayers charge that the President's initiative violates the notion of separation of church and state. It clearly does not. Consider the Golden Rule of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, a value that is arguably the root of all human outreach. This value is also based in religion, but I doubt even the most ardent atheist would argue against its application. Neither should they insinuate that democracy will fall with the application of this or any other universal value to today's pressing social ills. As it does in many other circumstances, government is simply buying a contract for services from these private and religious organizations - services which government has failed to perform.

These faith-based initiatives will not force theology on anyone. It is simply a reemphasis on existing law which allows voluntary participants to access federal block grants via charitable, religious and private organizations. If the participant still prefers that a nonreligious group to administer these funds, one is provided. Basically, this is simply the next progression of what has been a very successful welfare reform effort initiated by Congress four years ago.

The debate over this initiative has reminded me of how far our nation has strayed when it comes to religion's role. My friend, former Senator John Ashcroft, has been enduring sharp criticism from liberals since his nomination for Attorney General by President Bush. Confirmation can be a tough process, but it is truly a new and very sad day when a dedicated Christian is labeled by anyone as unfit for service because of his faith. The fact is, America has a strong religious strength which has until recent history worked in a successful concert with our national life. Without it, our nation has suffered.

Those who seek to exclude religion reject the notions of our founders like Thomas Jefferson who said religion was "deemed in other countries incompatible with good government, and yet proved by our existence to be its best support." The President's faith initiative may be the best way of re-tapping one of America's original strengths. It is indeed good to know that our religious institutions will once again be recognized as a national asset, indispensable to Jefferson's "good government." 2/1/01

Sincere thanks to everyone for your thoughtfulness to us during Mother's illness, and our time of loss. We are very grateful for your prayers and words of encouragement that were quietly spoken as you visited with us and for all the food that was brought. The flowers sent were beautiful. As we admired their beauty and read the kind words on the cards, we were reminded of the many friends and family that loved Mother. We are touched by all of the cards that have been sent to us in the past weeks, each message seems to have the words that we were needing just at that time. With your many prayers we have made it this far. We love and appreciate each one of you.

Our special appreciation goes to Dr. Ben Kitchens, Dr. Douglas Palenschat, the nurses and staff at the Iuka Hospital and the Tishomingo Living Center. We appreciate the staff of the Ludlam Funeral Home for your kindness and professional service. We especially thank Libby Ludlam for all her thoughtfulness and gentleness as she so willing helped us in our time of need.

Special thanks to Bonnie and Faith Moore for the wonderful songs during the service.

Brother Frank Szydlowski and his wife Wilma, words cannot express to you how thankful we are to you both for the words of encouragement, the songs you sang to Mother while in the hospital and living center, the visits, prayers, scripture and the beautiful service you rendered.

A special thanks to Brother Jerry Copley for all his prayers, visits, help, and encouragement during Mother's stay at the hospital. He made our last days with her peaceful. Many thanks to Elizabeth Gray Wright and Portia Jourdan Lindsey for your time and prayers.

Our loss is great, and the pain is very real, but through each act of kindness, our load has been easier to bear and for that we are very thankful. Please continue to remember us in your prayers, as we pray and ask God's blessings for each of you.

Mrs. Wall explained that their company specializes in the promotion of new talent. Her daughter Jennifer Wall was the company's first client. She has had success with the CDs she has recorded. She garnered the GMA's 1999 "New Female Vocalist of the Year" award. Among the songs she has recorded are some written by local song writer/music publisher Mack Lloyd Wadkins. Farm Service Agency Disaster Signup Begins

The United States Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency began a signup period on January 18, 2001, for the Livestock Assistance Program (LAP), Crop Disaster Program (CDP) and Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP).

LAP provides direct payments to eligible producers who suffered grazing losses due to natural disaster during 2000. Counties must be declared a disaster area by a declaration from the President of the United States or the Secretary of Agriculture. All Mississippi counties were declared a disaster for 2000.

Each county must request approval through the National Farm Service Agency office to implement LAP. A county must have suffered a 40 percent or greater loss of grazing production for three or more consecutive months during the LAP crop year and certify grazing losses to the county office. Eligible livestock must have been owned or leased for at least three months.

LAP payments will be issued only after the signup has ended and a factor determined, required. A national factor will be determined if application requests exceed the national allocation.

CDP provides assistance producers who suffered production losses in excess of 50 percent of a crop's established yield. Insured crops, uninsured crops and noninsured crops are covered under this program provided that losses sustained were weather related. To apply for assistance, each producer must report all acreage of crops on the unit, the production from those crops and sign a crop insurance agreement. Also, farmers must certify their gross revenue for the 1999 tax year, complete a farm operating plan, for a person determination, if not already on file at the county office, and comply with the Highly Erodible and Wetland Conservation Compliance provisions.

Payments will be issued immediately after publication of the program in the Federal Register and after all required information is furnished. Crop Disaster Program payments will not be subject to a national payment factor.

NAP is designed to reduce financial losses that occur when natural disasters cause a catastrophic loss of production or prevented planting of an eligible crop by providing coverage for which Federal Crop Insurance is not offered.

An eligible producer is a landowner, tenant or sharecropper who shares in the risk of producing the crop and is entitled to share in the crop or would have shared had the crop been produced.

An eligible crop is a commercial crop or other agricultural commodity for which crop insurance is not available and that is grown for food (including livestock feed as grass and hay) or fiber (except trees). Eligible crops specifically include aquaculture (including ornamental fish), floriculture, ornamental nursery, Christmas Trees, turfgrass sod, seed crops and industrial crops.

NAP coverage applies only to those losses in excess of 50 percent of the expected yield. Producers who wish to participate will be required to pay a service fee of $100 for each NAP crop, not to exceed $300 per county or $900 per state.

NAP coverage begins on the latter of 30 days after the application for coverage and fees are submitted, the date the crop is planted or the final planting date for crops you were prevented from planting.

In case of crop losses, a notice of loss must be submitted to the local FSA office within 15 days of the occurrence of the actual disaster, the final planting date for crops unable to be planted due to a natural disaster or the date damage to the crop becomes apparent to the producer.

The closing date for these signups has yet to be determined. For additional information on any of these programs, please contact your county Farm Service Agency office at Corinth, Mississippi.

Jean Hathorn, President of the TCHS Diamond Club presents Coach Jerry Long with a watch to honor him for his 400th win as a Head Baseball Coach, during the banquet, in Coach Long's honor Saturday evening.

Coach Jerry Long Honored For Accomplishments

Former teammates, coaches, and fans gathered with the TCHS Diamond Club on Saturday night to honor Coach Jerry Long, head baseball coach at Tishomingo County High School, for his accomplishments. Coach Long, who played on Iuka High School's 1973 and 1974 State Championship team, coached Iuka to a State Championship in 1989. After seven years as head baseball coach at Iuka High School, Coach Long has gone on to establish himself as a winner in his 9 years at the helm of Tishomingo County's Baseball Braves. His career record speaks for itself at 419 wins against 181 losses, including two state champion runners-up, six final four appearances, and six District championships. Coach Long is listed as the 18th Winningest coach in Mississippi Baseball History.

The Diamond Club, which is the booster arm of the high school baseball program, sponsored a banquet at J.P. Coleman State Park to honor Coach Long's 400th win as coach, which he accomplished last spring against Corinth High School. Along with the present TCHS baseball team and their parents, former baseballers who played with Jerry Long and played under his leadership gathered to bestow the honor. Coach Gary McDonald, who coached the Iuka High School championship teams, was the first to speak of his experiences with Long the player. Johnny Phifer, a former teammate and close friend, who now lives in Fort Worth, TX, attended especially to speak of his appreciation for Jerry Long. Others who "roasted" and honored Coach Long were Scotty James and Richy Harrelson. Jean Hathorn, Diamond Club President, presented Coach Long with an engraved watch that acknowledged his 400th win in 2000.

Every speaker spoke not only of Long's accomplishments on the field, but of his positive influence on the lives of the young men whom he coaches. Coach Long concluded the evening by crediting his players with his success and introducing the 2001 TCHS baseball team. The banquet was the culmination of a fun day, that saw many of these former players engaged in an "Old-Timers" baseball game at Braves Field.

The 2001 edition of the Braves Baseball team will play their inter-squad 50 inning fundraiser game this Saturday, February 17, beginning at 10:00. The Braves will open their season in the Corinth Tournament against Walnut, on Tuesday, February 20.

County Agents Notes

By Danny Owen County Agent

Planting time is still several weeks away for most vegetable gardeners. However, if you're really dedicated and ready for a few sunny day gardening projects, consider some of the following. They'll really pay-off in terms of fewer disease and other pest problems after your garden is up and going next spring. Chore number one should be destruction and burial of last season's crop debris. Since many disease and insect pests live through the winner in old plants, cull piles, or plant stubble left in the garden, destruction of crop debris should be an annual project. This is a great way to cut down on early season disease pressure and you'll have less blight in your cabbage, broccoli, green beans, tomatoes, and other crops.

Debris from diseased plants should not be added to compost piles, since temperatures reached are not always sufficient to kill nematode eggs and other plant disease microbes. Remaining stubble and surface litter should be plowed under at least six inches before planting. This is effective because as debris decays, the disease microorganisms eventually deteriorate, and reduce the amount of fungus and bacterial inoculum that could cause problems in future crops. How about those tomato stakes and bean support poles lying over in a corner in the garden? Before reusing, it's a good idea to disinfect them, since many disease-causing microorganisms are able to survive the off-season on stakes, poles, cages and other plant support structures. To reduce the risk of disease, tomato stakes and cages can be disinfected by washing to remove soil, followed by dipping or spraying with a 10% bleach solution (one gallon of household bleach in nine gallon of water works great) prior to reuse. If you haven't already done so, collect soil samples to determine fertility needs. Plants which are fertilized according to recommendations based on a soil test are not as likely to have disease problems as plants which are low in nutrition or receive an imbalance of nutrients. While collecting a soil sample for fertility analysis, why not collect a duplicate sample to check for the presence of parasitic nematodes which feed on the roots of many garden plants.

FIRE ANT CONTROL

When soil temperatures warm, fire ants increase in number and activity. Don't let them. Fire ant bait can be placed around mounds to control ants that seek refuge in lawns. For the home garden, label rates of an approved insecticide can provide good control. If a mound drench is used then it is important NOT to disturb the mound any more than necessary. Some type of sprinkler watering can will work well. In either case, don't destroy mounds before or during treatment. After a couple of weeks, don't be surprised if you see other mounds. Don't give up! Keep a bait convenient to get to and treat when you see new mounds.

SPRING LIME

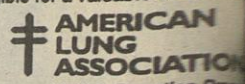

Some producers in the county have recently received soil test results that call for applications of lime to correct soil pH. They have asked if they could apply lime this close to planting. Once applied, lime requires several months to react with the soil. Some of the finely-ground lime particles will quickly neutralize soil acidity when lime is applied. The treatment will immediately help; the full benefits won't be apparent until the next growing season. Lime is more effective in neutralizing soil pH when applied in the fall, but it can and should be applied as soon as possible if pH needs correcting.

GFWC Twentieth Century Club News

The GFWC Twentieth Century Club met in the lovely home of hostess Marguerite Nixon at 1101 Kingsberry Drive on Thursday, February 8, to vote on a new member, make plans for the February nursing home birthday party and learn more about the Very Special Arts Program. Jo Russell was Arts division program leader.

President Nancy Daugherty called the meeting to order and led the club in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag. Hostess Marguerite Nixon presented a speech she had given as a young girl as a devotional. She also read "Believer's Creed" and a poem, "Today", written by her mother.

Secretary Fredda Sanderson read the minutes and called the roll with eleven members present. The minutes were approved as read. Then, Treasurer Willadeen Thorn presented the financial report noting expenses for copies made at the library, and the scrapbook cover.

Parliamentarian Zenobia Oaks then conducted the election of associate member nominee Judy White who was unanimously elected. The club welcomes her as a new member.

In making plans for the Tishomingo Community Living Center birthday party, President Daugherty reported that there were eight residents celebrating February birthdays. The party will be held Wednesday, February 21 at 2:00 p.m. Final arrangements were made for gifts, refreshments, and entertainment.

President Daugherty thanked all the members for their cooperation in her transition to president. She also handed out the new yearbooks for her 2000-2002 administration.

In new business, Marguerite Nixon proposed a new name to be considered for associate membership at the March meeting.

An updated medical report was given on club member Nancy Beard. The club voted to send a special Valentine gift to Nancy.

President Daugherty asked members to make plans to attend the MFWC District Three Convention in Okolona on March 24. Several members expressed a desire to attend.

Following the business meeting, Program Leader Jo Russel presented her guest, Mrs. Sandra Ford, instructor at Area in 1983 and was held on the Northeast Mississippi Community College campus. In 1998, the program was revised and was held at the Crow's Neck Environmental Center. The Very Special Arts Festival is operated entirely on donations and with volunteers.

Following the program, a beautiful buffet of food was served with coffee or coke. The white elephant door prize was won by Maxine Wade.

The next club meeting will be on Thursday, March 8 at the Iuka Public Library with Libby Murtagh as hostess and Bobbie Nunley as program leader.

Conservation Corner

By James L. Cummins, Jr.

The second annual Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Expo will be held on March 2-4 at the Washington County Convention Center in Greenville, Mississippi.

For three days anglers, hunters and outdoor enthusiasts can get the latest information and equipment on their favorite outdoor activity. Emphasis will be on fishing, hunting, camping and other spring and summer outdoor activities. The Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Expo, hosted by Wildlife Mississippi, is the largest of its kind in the state.

Peyton Self, President of Wildlife Mississippi, stated "We are expecting a crowd of more than 10,000 people to attend for the wide array of outdoor equipment, supplies and services, all at the right prices. Kids can have a great time and the whole family can learn about conservation through the many exhibits. It's a real bargain. Proceeds from the Expo will go to conservation projects throughout Mississippi."

The Expo will feature approximately 100 exhibitors selling hunting gear, tree stands, game calls, boats, fishing supplies, wildlife art and books, outdoor apparel, ladies gifts, game calls, guided trips, kids exhibits and much more.

Government conservation agencies will be on hand to answer you most difficult questions about conservation.

According to Self, the Expo will definitely be bigger and better than the 2000 Expo. "It will have a totally new look. Anyone who loves fishing, hunting, camping, wildlife viewing or just being outdoors will find something of interest at the Expo," continues Self.

Due to popular demand, Terry Vandeventer, a professional herpetologist, will be back at the Expo each day with his live snakes. Vandeventer has hunted and studied reptiles throughout the world. His snake demonstrations are seen by over 70,000 people annually. He will discuss their life histories, habits and their effects on people, good and bad. If you missed it last year, here's your chance!

At the Expo, Michael Musgrave, a member of the Mississippi Falconers Association will demonstrate falconry. Michael will be presenting demonstrations about falconry. If you have any questions about falconry, ask him at his seminars or stop by his booth. Michael will be happy to "talk hawks" with you.

This year there will be several new exhibitors that will interest the many ladies and kids. Fine gifts and decorative accessories will be available. Blowguns will again be obtainable for the young and young at heart. And the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks will provide the B-B gun shooting gallery. Then again, maybe it should be adult entertainment!

Show Hours are: March 2, Friday, 3 p.m. - 9 p.m.; March 3, Saturday, 10 a.m. - 8 p.m.; March 4, Sunday, 12 p.m. - 5 p.m. Admission is: Under Six - Free; Six to Twelve - $4.00; Adults - $6.00. Anyone bringing a can good to the Expo for Wildlife Mississippi's "Hunt Against Hunger" program can receive $1.00 off of the admission price (limit one per attendee). All can goods will be donated to needy families.

Invitation To Bid

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the Town of Burnsville, Mississippi will be accepting sealed bids for the lease purchase financing of a Case back hoe. The bid must be in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for Financing Back Hoe."

Bids will be accepted until 7:00 p.m. on March 6, 2001, at which time they will be opened and read aloud.

The Town of Burnsville reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Natural Gas System

The local gas system will be enforcing its "Dig" requirements in 2001. Since most natural gas accidents result from construction or excavation close to gas mains, it is important that anybody who does digging or construction or excavation first contact gas operators who will mark all adjacent gas mains.

For home dwellers, natural gas is not dangerous unless it is "loose" in your home or business. Gas people put an odorant into the gas so that you can detect if gas is leaking. This is for your protection. If you smell gas in your home or business, leave the premises and call from a neighbor's home. The number to call is Day 438-6302 or 438-6402, night 423-3870.

Old Tishomingo Traces

Thanks to Irene Barnes for providing the information for this week's column. I really appreciate her friendship, and her willingness to share her knowledge of Tishomingo County with others. The first part is taken from WPA Preliminary Manuscript, Tishomingo County, Vol. LXXI:

Because of the diversity of sources and the fallability of human memory, it is suggested that documentary material be consulted in verifying data in this volume as much of the information was obtained through personal interviews.

An incident related to me by a Confederate veteran will doubtless be of interest to the survivors of a young lady who was the belle of Iuka in 1861 when Col. Arthur E. Reynolds with his 26th Miss. Reg. was in camp at this place.

An election was to be held on a certain day to decide a name for Co. F. commanded by Capt. H.C. Hyneman. Joe Bynum offered a fine, riding horse to Col. Reynolds if he would use his influence having the company named the Joe Bynum Rifles. Miss Anna Terry entered the Camp in her own interest won the hearts of the company and secured the name of the Anna Terry Guards which they bore bravely until the close of the war. She wrote letters to them while in Virginia keeping them posted on affairs at home.

The Salem Cemetery is a historic spot. Here Gen. Price made a stand to check the Federal pursuit. On Sept. 20, 1862, a battalion stationed at the fork of the road about 200 yards south of the cemetery and hurdling grapeshot and shrieking shells passed directly over the burial place as they went forward on their errand of death into Federal lines which were just beyond. There were a few graves there at the time. The resistance of the retreating soldiers was so stubborn that the pursuit was abandoned by the Federals.
