Southward Asks for Your Support in Iuka Alderman Race

I am Johnny A. Southward, and I am asking for your support to re-elect me to the office of Alderman for the city of Iuka.

I am married to Gloria Maradith Southward, and we have two wonderful sons, Martin and Jonathan, who will both be attending Tishomingo County High School in the fall.

Man Faces 20 Years to Life After Jury Trial Last Week

by Pamela McRae

After a two-day trial last week, a Tishomingo County man faces twenty years to life in prison.

Jack D. Moore, Jr., of 468 CR 127, was found guilty on two counts of child molestation, and was immediately taken into custody by the Tishomingo County Sheriff to await sentencing on May 28th.

The trial lasted from Tuesday to Wednesday afternoon and the jury deliberated a little more than one hour. Circuit Court Judge Jim Pounds presided.

According to Assistant District Attorney Tyler Moss, who prosecuted the case with ADA Arch Bullard, the molestation occurred several times between 2003 and 2006 and involved a female relative of the defendant.

The trial covered two specific incidents when the child was 11 and 12 years old, on December 19, 2003 and on May 10, 2003. The victim eventually told her mother and the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department started investigating the case.

"The Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department did a great job interviewing the suspect and victim, and identifying specific dates," said Moss. Lead investigator on the case was Don Kirk, who flew in to testify from where he is stationed in Colorado, said Moss.

The victim also testified in the case, said Moss. Many of the family members were present in the courtroom.

Minimum sentence for the charges are 20 years per count and the maximum penalty is life, said Moss. There is also a fine of up to $10,000.

Supervisors, Sheriff Hear Complaints About Disruptive Neighbors

But lack of county leash law or gun restrictions mean not much can be done

by Pamela McRae

The Tishomingo County Board of Supervisors met Monday for their regular third Monday meeting, and heard complaints from a group of County Road 290 residents who are having trouble with their neighbors.

County Road 290 is off Coleman Park Road. According to Johnny Fay Croft, and two other neighbors who came to address the board, some of their neighbors have been shooting guns in a residential area, running an auto shop business that has caused the road to be congested and often blocked, letting their dogs run and terrorize neighbors, and one even assaulted a neighbor by hitting him in the head with a rock.

Croft said they filed for a warrant last Thursday, but nothing has been done. They are upset that "the law" has either not responded to their numerous calls for help, or been able to apprehend the alleged offenders.

Sheriff Glenn Whitlock responded that while it is dangerous to shoot a gun in a populated area, it is not illegal in the county. Nor is it illegal to let your dogs run loose, he said.

Whitlock said that he often only has one officer on patrol duty in the whole county, so it is difficult to patrol as well as some citizens would like, and that most of his deputies are usually out on calls already - it takes some time to respond to calls.

First District Supervisor Brandon Grissom offered much the same response, but did say he would ensure that the roads were kept open and passable.

Jail Plans Discussed

In the afternoon, the board met in executive session with David Deaton, regarding the building of a jail to replace the current county jail building.

The county is under a court order (and has been for years) to construct a new jail, or make certain improvements to the current one, according to information from a recent interview with the sheriff.

Tuesday, the board issued a request for proposals for architectural services for the "Jail Building Project." Proposals are due June 11th.

Other Matters

The board began the meeting thirty minutes earlier than the announced 10 a.m. meeting time.

During the early session, board president Grissom reported that the four board members present (Nicky McRae was absent) approved a change in assessment, and approved travel expense for Circuit Court Clerk Donna Dill for the circuit clerk's convention in Tupelo.

project, which allowed most of our streets to be resurfaced. I have tried to have several areas cleaned up where old buildings are falling down. Some of these properties have been cleaned up, however, there are still several eye sores that need to be cleaned up and would make our city more attractive for our residents and for visitors, as well, who are just passing through, and if re-elected, this is an area that I will continue to work on until they are all cleaned up.

Over the past several years, I have supported our Boy's and Girl's Club that provides a place to complete homework, study and keep children safe while parents are working. I am very proud of our softball and baseball complexes, that the city was very instrumental in building, that is located on Fairgrounds Road. A place where children and grandchildren can enjoy the games of baseball and softball and at the same time are very proud of while visiting teams come during major tournaments. I have supported our utilities department and keeping updated equipment for our employees to work with while trying to keep our utility rates down as low as possible.

I am also very proud to be able to help with the sending off of our National Guard Troops, who are leaving behind family and friends while helping preserve the freedom that we enjoy today, all the words of thanks that I could give to them and their families, would not be sufficient.

Again, I have enjoyed and have been honored to be able to serve the citizens of Iuka for sixteen years; I thank you for the confidence and trust that you have placed in me to serve as one of your aldermen. I ask you once again, to place that same confidence and trust in me to serve as your alderman for the next four years and to give me your support and influence and to vote for and re-elect Buddy James your alderman on June 2nd, 2009, it will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,

the citizens of Burnsville four years ago that if I was elected, I would guarantee that your city would be managed correctly and in a very professional manner. Each citizen has had a voice and has been treated with honesty, trust and respect.

One of my first objectives was to focus on putting Burnsville in a positive position for growth, making it a city of which we all can be proud; a safe, secure place to call home, and a place for our children to play and grow. During the past four years each of these areas has been touched by this administration. We have established good management practices within the office, and represented Burnsville in a professional manner at all levels of government, from local to federal.

We have been able to receive grants for much-needed improvements that have helped improve the overall well-being of the town of Burnsville. During the past four years, times have been economically challenging for not only Burnsville, but the world as a whole. Historic highs in gas prices, and jobs being lost throughout the country have affected small communities like ours severely, but we have managed to keep things growing, and continued to make positive things happen. Through tough times, we have been able to make numerous improvements and investments into our community. Below are just a few of the accomplishments made during the past four years:

- Improved, added and replaced numerous water lines
- Maintained fire rating with purchase of New Class A Pumper for the fire department. This has helped us maintain a good insurance rating, and keep insurance premiums as low as possible.
- Re-built and put back in service a dysfunctional water well, and rebuilt the current well. This has allowed the town to have two wells operating to prevent water outage in the event one was out of service.
- Made numerous improvements to the water treatment facility. These improvements have given us some of the highest ratings in years on the annual water quality test from the state water board.
- Replaced a non-working sewer pumping station, and built a new treatment facility to meet EPA and state health requirements at the lagoon.
- Purchased new police car from federal funds.
- Implemented numerous improvements to all city-operated parks: Rainbow, Kids Town, the ball fields, and boat ramp. Additional improvements are scheduled for completion soon.
- Organized and started yearly Spring Clean-up Day
- Remodeled the community center.
- Added new jobs with the start up of New River Homes, and several new locally-owned businesses.

These are just a few of the accomplishments made possible by the hard work of the current administration and the local community, and many more are in process.

We have also secured a Small Municipal Grant to build or purchase a new building to get a larger more modern city hall. This project should be completed and become a reality within the next few months with the final phase of a federal grant to complete.

These accomplishments have been done with zero tax increase and we have maintained one of the lowest tax rates for property owners in the state. We have maintained a balanced budget, and owe less money to financial institutions than we did four years ago.

We also continue to pursue industrial prospects and jobs to fill more than 900 prime acres of industrial park in our community. This has been an ongoing struggle, since so many companies are downsizing in these tough economic times. But we continue to work, showing and promoting local sites to any new industries that are considering our area. We are competing against many larger cities and states, but I'm confident that with team work, and the visible improvements being made to our community, we will be successful in getting some good-paying jobs and companies to locate on this property. continue to make priority and work areas of government our city level all the to the governor's and continue to build working relationships help this become a reality.

I will continue to diligently serve each to the best of my to use city funds in and productive to continue up city services, to cor a satisfactory cond concerning any probl complaint of any of Burnsville, to serv the people of Burn with integrity, honest dependability in all a concerning city govern and to work harmon and productively wi board of aldermen.

I want to thank of you for the support influence you have me now, and in the Please, on Tuesday, 2nd, go to the polls a elect David Nixon s can continue to work improvement of this town, and continue to it a great and safe pl live.

Thank You
God
David

This table shows the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2008. As water travels over the land or underground, it can pick up substances or contaminants such as microorganisms, inorganic and organic chemicals, and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. It's important to remember that the presence of these constituents does not necessarily pose a health risk.

In this table you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Action Level - the concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - A treatment technique is a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Maximum Contaminant Level - The "Maximum Allowed" (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal - The "Goal" (MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water at which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

TEST RESULTS
Contaminant	Violations Y/N	Date Collected	Level Detected	Range of Detects or # of Samples Exceeding MCL/ACL	Unit Measureme nt	MCLG	MCL	Likely Source of Contaminant

* No samples required in 2006

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using it. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (1-800-426-4791).

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by substances that are naturally occurring or man-made. These substances can be microbes, inorganic or organic chemicals and radioactive substances. Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants are particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Please call our office if you have questions

We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community and our children's future.

2008 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report City of Iuka PWS ID #0710006

Is my water safe?

Last year, as in years past, your tap water met all U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state drinking water health standards set for quality and safety. Local Water vigilantly safeguards its water supplies and once again we are very proud that our system has not violated a maximum contaminant level or any other water quality standard. This report shows the results for our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2008. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to standards set by regulatory agencies. We are committed to providing you with information because informed customers are our best allies.

Do I need to take special precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/Centers guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Where does my water come from?

Our water source consists of four (4) wells; three that draws from the Paleozoic Aquifer and one drawing from the Fort Payne Chert Aquifer.

Source water assessment and its availability:

The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing at our office upon request. Listed below are the ratings for the wells of the City of Iuka.

- Well # 710006-01 – moderate rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-02 – higher rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-04 – moderate rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-05 – lower rating on source water assessment

Why are there contaminants in my drinking water?

All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791). The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses; organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems; and radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Additional Information for Lead

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The City of Iuka is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing for $10 per sample. Please contact 601.576.7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

Monitoring and reporting of compliance data violations

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific constituents on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. Beginning January 1, 2004, the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) required public water systems that use chlorine as a primary disinfectant to monitor/test for chlorine residuals as required by the Stage 1 Disinfection By-Products Rule. Our water system failed to complete these monitoring requirements in August of 2004, September of 2004, December of 2004, and April of 2007. We did complete the monitoring requirements for bacteriological sampling that showed no coliform present. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

 A MESSAGE FROM MSDH CONCERNING RADIOLOGICAL SAMPLING**

In accordance with the Radionuclides Rule, all community public water supplies were required to sample quarterly for radionuclides beginning January 2007 - December 2007. Your public water supply completed sampling by the scheduled deadline; however, during an audit of the Mississippi State Department of Health Radiological Health Laboratory, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) suspended analyses and reporting of radiological compliance samples and results until further notice.

Although this was not the result of inaction by the public water supply, MSDH was required to issue a violation. The Bureau of Public Water Supply is taking action to resolve this issue as quickly as possible. If you have any questions, please contact Melissa Parker, Deputy Director, Bureau of Public Water Supply, at 601.576.7518.

The tables below list all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the calendar year of this report. The presence of contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done in the calendar year of the report. The EPA and the State requires us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently.

Important Drinking Water Definitions
MCLG - Maximum Contaminant Level Goal	The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MCL - Maximum Contaminant Level	The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

TT-Treatment Technique	A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.
MRDLG - Maximum Residual Disinfection Level Goal	The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
MRDL - Maximum Residual Disinfection Level	The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

2008 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report Walker Switch Water Association PWS ID #0710011

Is my water safe?

Last year, as in years past, your tap water met all U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state drinking water health standards set for quality and safety. Local Water vigilantly safeguards its water supplies and once again we are very proud that our system has not violated a maximum contaminant level or any other water quality standard. This report shows the results for our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2008. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to standards set by regulatory agencies. We are committed to providing you with information because informed customers are our best allies.

Do I need to take special precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/Centers guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Where does my water come from?

Our water is purchased from the City of Iuka which consists of four (4) wells; three that draws from the Paleozoic Aquifer and one drawing from the Fort Payne Chert Aquifer.

Source water assessment and its availability:

The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing at our office upon request. Listed below are the ratings for the wells of the City of Iuka where Walker Switch purchases water.

- Well # 710006-01 – moderate rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-02 – higher rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-04 – moderate rating on source water assessment
- Well # 710006-05 – lower rating on source water assessment

Why are there contaminants in my drinking water?

How can I get involved?

We encourage all customers with concerns or questions to meet with us. Our Association will conduct its annual membership meeting on Thursday, August 20th, 2009 at 7:00 PM at Mt. Gilead Church. We will answer any questions about this report at that time. This is a very important meeting in which we encourage all members to attend.

Is my water safe?

Last year, as in years past, your tap water met all U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state drinking water health standards set for quality and safety. Local Water vigilantly safeguards its water supplies and once again we are very proud that our system has not violated a maximum contaminant level or any other water quality standard. This report shows the results for our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31st, 2008. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to standards set by regulatory agencies. We are committed to providing you with information because informed customers are our best allies.

Do I need to take special precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immunocompromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/Centers for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Where does my water come from?

Short Coleman currently provides water from three main locations.

ID #0710008 - Water consists of two (2) wells; one pumping from the Paleozoic Aquifer and one pumping from the Gordo Formation Aquifer.
Well # 710008-01 - moderate rating on source water assessment
Well # 710008-02 - moderate rating on source water assessment

ID #0710029 - Groundwater consist of two (2) wells pumping from the Paleozoic Aquifer and the surface water is drawn from the Tennessee River

Well # 710029-01 - higher rating on source water assessment
Well # 710029-02 - higher rating on source water assessment
Well # 710029-03 - higher rating on source water assessment

ID #0710022 - Water is purchased from the City of Iuka which consists of four (4) wells; three that draws from the Paleozoic Aquifer and one drawing from the Fort Payne Chert Aquifer, a hard water source. Well # 710006-01 - moderate rating on source water assessment

Well # 710006-02 - higher rating on source water assessment
Well # 710006-04 - moderate rating on source water assessment
Well # 710006-05 - lower rating on source water assessment

Source water assessment and its availability:

The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing at our office upon request. Listed above are the ratings for the wells of Short Coleman Park Water Association.

Why are there contaminants in my drinking water?

All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791). The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity; microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses; organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems; and radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

How can I get involved?

Our board meets monthly on the first Tuesday night of each month at 7:00 PM at the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association Board Room. We encourage all customers who have any concerns or questions to meet with us. Our Association conducts its annual membership meeting on the first Tuesday night in August at 7:30 PM at the Surface Water Treatment Plant. This is a very important meeting in which all customers are encouraged to attend.

Additional Information for Lead

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Short Coleman Park Water Association is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing for $10 per sample. Please contact 601.576.7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

Monitoring and reporting of compliance data violations

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific constituents on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. Beginning January 1, 2004, the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) required public water systems that use chlorine as a primary disinfectant to monitor/test for chlorine residuals as required by the Stage 1 Disinfection By-Products Rule. Our PWS #0710029 failed to complete these monitoring requirements in July of 2005, August of 2005, and May of 2008. Our PWS #0710022 purchases water from the City of Iuka and this water system failed to meet these monitoring requirements in August of 2004, September of 2004, December of 2004, and April of 2007. Our PWS #0710008 failed to complete these monitoring requirements in December of 2007 and June of 2008. We did complete the monitoring requirements for bacteriological sampling that showed no coliform present. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

Conservation Tips

Did you know that the average U.S. household uses approximately 350 gallons of water per day? Luckily, there are many low-cost or no-cost ways to conserve water. Water your lawn at the least sunny times of the day. Fix toilet and faucet leaks. Take short showers - a 5 minute shower uses 4 to 5 gallons of water compared to up to 50 gallons for a bath. Turn the faucet off while brushing your teeth and shaving. 3-5 gallons go down the drain per minute. Teach your kids about water conservation to ensure a future generation that uses water wisely. Make it a family effort to reduce next month's water bill!

TCHS to Award Very Special Diploma Thursday Night

Iuka native veteran receives honors 65 years after he enlisted in Navy during WWII

More than 65 years ago, Iuka, Miss. native Virgil Carson left his hometown—and his high school—to fight the Japanese in the Pacific as a class ship fitter on the U.S.S. Willoughby. Today, war hero of the Greatest Generation will take his place beside a fresh crop of Tishomingo High School graduates and receive an honorary high school diploma in acknowledgement for his sacrifice and service.

The Miss. Department of Education allows honorably discharged war veterans such as Virgil Carson to receive an "Honorary High School Diploma for Veterans of World War II Who Were Scheduled to Graduate Between 1941 and 1955."

While his classmates in Iuka were graduating from the local high school in 1943, Virgil Carson was graduating from U.S. Navy boot camp in San Diego. He spent the next two years aboard the Willoughby, an integral part of the great Battle of Leyte Gulf, the largest naval battle in the Pacific. Virgil Carson and the crew of the Willoughby escorted U.S. patrol torpedo (PT) boats through the waterway, taking 24 such boats for the invasion of Leyte.

Virgil Carson, planning to retire from a successful career as a mechanical contractor in the New Orleans area, has purchased a home close to the alma mater where he is slated to receive his long overdue diploma. With the war several decades behind him, he vividly remembers his years of service onboard the Willoughby.

"It wasn't like the movies, with sailors going on shore leave, having a good time," Virgil Carson said. "We were on that ship 365 days a year and didn't go anywhere."

In the years that have passed since his days on the Willoughby, Virgil Carson has raised a proud family with an equally proud military heritage. His son Lane, a platoon leader of the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division in Vietnam, currently serves as La.'s Secretary of Veterans Affairs. Secretary Carson's son Chris is serving his country as a 1st lieutenant in the U.S. Navy.

Beaming at the prospect of watching his father stand amongst today's eager graduates relishing a moment better than six decades in the making, Secretary Carson said, "I've always been extremely proud of my father and everyone who stood with him and defended our nation through such an incredibly tough time in history. Their generation lived through so much, and men like my father dedicated themselves to their nation, family, and future generations."

"The pride I feel today is an extension of the respect and admiration I've always felt for my dad," Lane Carson continued. "As his son and his biggest fan, I'm thrilled to be in Iuka, to stand with my hero and see him rewarded for his efforts."

As with every great family, the Carsons have a compelling story. To accompany the military legacy handed down from one generation to the next, soldiers in the Carson family have a tangible tradition that has been passed from father to son time and time again—a "Roosevelt Bible," first presented to Virgil Carson during his service in the Navy.

Sailors signing up to join the U.S. at war in the early 40s received a pocket-sized Bible, covered with steel and inscribed with the words, "May the Lord be with you," as a token of appreciation from their Commander in Chief. Virgil Carson carried the Bible close to his heart for the two years he spent on the Willoughby. During the Battle of Leyte, he watched as the U.S.S. Mississippi plowed away at a mountain in San Pedro Bay with 16-inch shells.

"You wouldn't think an ant could have survived the barrage," Virgil Carson said. "When the dust settled, the only thing left standing was one brick Catholic church—completely unharmed. That church—divinely protected—and the Bible in my pocket assured me that God had not left my side."

When the time came for Lt. Lane Carson to lead a platoon in Vietnam, his father Virgil made sure the Roosevelt Bible went with him. And when many men in Lane Carson's platoon perished under heavy artillery at the hands of the Viet Cong, the young lieutenant lived to return home and recover from the shrapnel wounds that riddled the left side of his body and nearly cost him an arm. He credits the same God that brought his father through the Battle of Leyte—and the hand-me-down Bible nestled in the breast pocket of his fatigues—with seeing him through his life-threatening injuries.

While all was not lost for Lane Carson on that fateful day in Laos, the Roosevelt Bible was lost. Medics cut the shirt from Lane Carson's body as they prepared to treat his wounds, and the lieutenant lost track of the family heirloom as he was whisked away to safety.

The Bible was recovered by New York Times journalist Gloria Emerson, who tracked down the Carson family over a year later and flew to New Orleans to personally return the treasure to its rightful owner. It now belongs to 1st Lt. Chris Carson, as it has again passed from father to son in what has become an honored tradition among the Carson men who continue to serve God and country.

"No doubt, God has been with me through the years, and with my family," said Virgil Carson—war hero, family man, and soon-to-be high school graduate.

Virgil Carson is the husband of Virginia Carson; the father of Michael and Lane Carson and Ona Carson Robbins; and the grandfather of Chris Carson, Becky Carson Parks, and Tyler and Abby Robbins.

Virgil is the son of the late Herbert and Ona Carson of Iuka, and brother to Iuka resident Gladys Curtis.

Letter to the Editor

I want to start this article by saying that I am so upset that it has come to this.

I have relatives buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Iuka, Ms. We can not put flowers or anything else on the graves and have it stay there. I have had flowers stolen from my parent's graves and now someone is taking everything we put on my husband's grave.

It is a shame that the family cannot honor the memory of their loved one without someone stealing it.

I think something should be done about this and maybe the next time you put your hands on something that does not belong to you, you need to stop and think that someone may be watching and with the help of surveillance there will be proof and you could be punished. Is it worth it?

Flat Stanley Returns From World Travels

The third grade students at Iuka Elementary School recently read Flat Stanley in their Reading Class. Each student wrote a letter explaining why Stanley was flat and his desire for adventure.

Madison Grace Morgan sent Stanley and a letter to her grandmother in Cherokee, Ala. While hanging out with Grandmunny, he learned about remodeling, exercise, finance, shopping, and how important it is to stay in school.

Stanley then visited with Bro. Ed and Mrs. Edee Temple in Natchez, MS. He went to visit their new church, the Mississippi River, to school with Ms. Edee, and an ante-bellum home named Melrose. He learned that miles do not destroy friendships.

Next, he visited Cousin JoAnn's law office in Atlanta, GA and met with clients in the Conference Room. He then went on several business trips with Aunt Annette. He kept her company as they traveled across Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. Next stop was Edwardsville, IL to visit with Cousin Greg. They visited a Butterfly House, but the most fun he had was going for a sleigh ride in the snow with Carson.

After that, Stanley visited Dr. Jerri Walker in Boston, MA. He was allowed to attend court and go to a prison with her. He decided he wanted to be a good boy and stay out of trouble.

Stanley then went to Birmingham, AL with Brett, Madison's brother, for surgery. He took good care of Brett during his recovery and discovered that it makes you feel good inside to help someone else.

The last place Stanley was sent was Smyrna, TN. Aunt Amy works for Nashville International Airport. Through her efforts, Stanley visited the Parthenon, Stan's Country Restaurant, and Thurman Francis in the Nashville Area; Turk and Caicos Islands; the Met Life Building, Empire State Building, Brooklyn Bridge, and Time Square in New York City; Chicago; London; castles in Germany; the Bavarian Alps; the Pyramids and Cairo in Egypt; the Taj Mahal in India; the Hollywood Sign in Los Angeles; and Alcatraz in San Francisco. He traveled first class all the way, but then, he didn't take up much space or eat a lot!

Thanks to Madison Grace, Stanley traveled four continents and saw many great attractions. He and Madison want to thank everyone who participated and took the time to record his adventures.

Annual Bobbie Sue Finch Memorial Art Festival Held At Iuka Elementary School

The Bobbie Sue Finch Memorial Art Festival, observed each year in memory of Mrs. Bobbie Sue Finch, was held Thursday, May 7th, in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Finch taught sixth grade at Iuka Elementary School for many years, and was devoted to bringing out the best in students, which included developing their artistic talents.

In creating the festival, one of Mrs. Finch's goals was that every child in the school displays a picture that he or she had drawn in class. Mrs. Finch believed in the students, and she knew this was an opportunity to recognize the artistic talent in all the students. The faculty and students are so glad that Mrs. Finch had the foresight to start the festival, and like Mrs. Finch, they believe that all the students are winners for trying their best.

Students are given the opportunity to experiment and create in a variety of mediums throughout the year. They build individual portfolios with pictures drawn in pencil, colored pencil, crayon, chalk, water color, tempera, magic marker, charcoal, ink, oil pastels, and mixed medium. In addition, students design, fashion, and construct many other artistic displays.

Judges from outside the school are asked to judge the pictures. Their job is not an easy one as they are quick to say. They place first, second, and third place ribbons on pictures in each category. They also must choose an overall winner for the festival from every entry displayed. Then, local clubs send representatives to award honorable mention ribbons. Clubs awarding the ribbons include the 20th Century Club, Jr. Auxiliary, Pilot Club, Rotary Club, Lions Club, and the Iuka Elementary School P.T.A. We appreciate all the judges who give of their time and talent to make the art festival a success.

This year's Overall Winner in the Iuka Elementary School Art Festival is Abby Long in Mrs. Barker's kindergarten class. Abby used colored pencils to create the picture she entitled, "Ladybug Tree". Abby is the daughter of Daryl and Amanda Long.

Culwell for Burnsville Mayor

My name is Bobby Culwell and I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the position of Mayor of Burnsville. I am 66 years old, the son of the late Lewis Culwell and the late Virgie Culwell of Glen. I have been married for 43 years to Patricia Lambert Culwell. We have one daughter, Synthia, who is married to Jackie. They have four children, Jaclyn, Robin, John Paul, and Brandy. We also have three great grandchildren, Chandler, Cayden, and Caydeigh Belle.

I graduated from Alcorn Central High School in 1962. I am a retired employee of the Dana/Tyrone Corporation, where I worked for 29 1/2 years.

Born and raised in Glen, I moved to Burnsville 40 years ago and quickly realized that I was home. Seeing my child, grandchildren, and now great-grandchildren growing up in this community, I am very aware of the changes that need to be made. These changes need to be made now, and I am the person to help make those changes. That is why this is the right time for me to run for this position. I can promise you this, whether I am elected or not, I will do my best to make this community a better place for my family, and yours, to live. I look forward to seeing and talking with each of you in the next couple of weeks leading up to the election.

Please consider me, Bobby Culwell, for your vote on June 2.

Thank you for your support, vote and confidence.

TCHS Senior Receives Horatio Alger National Scholarship

Marlon Floyd

As one of the nation's largest college financial aid programs in the country, the Horatio Alger national Scholarship Program is the only major scholarship effort that specifically assists high school students who have faced and overcome great obstacles in their young lives. While many aid programs are directed primarily to recognizing academic achievement or leadership potential, the Horatio Alger program also seeks students who have a commitment to use their college degrees in service to others.

To be eligible to apply for the Horatio Alger National Scholarship, applicants must meet the following criteria:

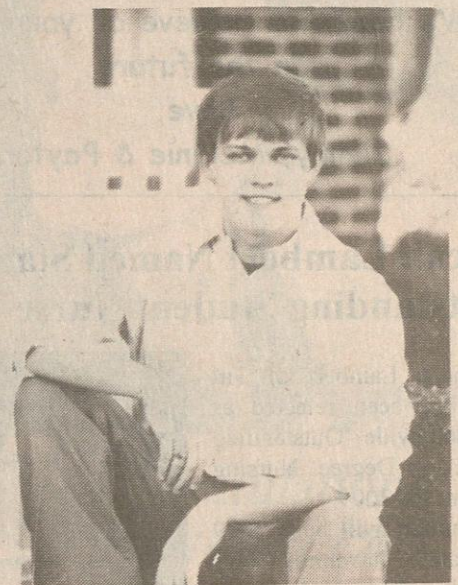

- Be enrolled full time as a high school senior, progressing normally toward graduation, and planning to enter college no later than the fall following graduation
- Have a strong commitment to pursue a bachelor's degree at an accredited institution located in the United States (students may start their studies at a two-year institution and then transfer to a four-year institution);

- Critical financial need ($50,000 or less adjusted gross income per family is preferred; if higher, an explanation must be provided);
 - Involvement in co-curricular and community activities;
 - Demonstrate academic achievement (minimum grade point average of 2.0); and
 - Be a United States citizen
- Marlon Floyd, a senior at Tishomingo County High School, is one of three Mississippi seniors to be recognized as a 2009 Horatio Alger Scholar. Marlon is the son of Tommy and Stacy Floyd. He plans to attend Northeast

Mississippi Community College and the University of Mississippi where he will major in secondary education. His goal is to become a history teacher. Dr. Britton, the principal at Tishomingo County High School, states, "Marlon is an outstanding young man, and he will become an exemplary teacher. He has proven that anyone can achieve whatever he desires, no matter the obstacles, if he is willing to work toward that goal. We are proud of Marlon Floyd and what he has accomplished."

The Ceremony...

A graduation ceremony is a cultural tradition termed as a rite of passage. What's that? It is a ritual or ceremony that marks one stage of a person's life to another. Marriage is the most commonly known and observed today.

The ceremony dates back to the 12th century. Some began with scholars with their ceremonial robes and has evolved into the society in which we live today.

Valedictorian...

The Valedictorian is the person who is considered the student with the highest scholastic standing. This may be determined by tests or by a voting of the student body or in some other fashion, depending on the school's customs.

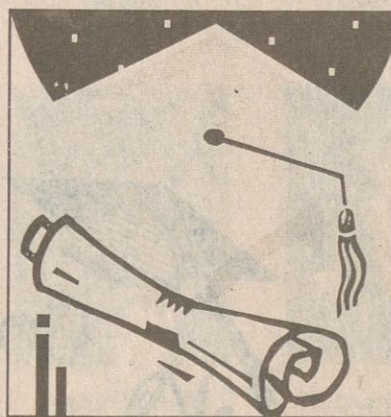

The Valedictorian delivers a speech known as the "valediction" to his/her fellow classmates on behalf of them. It usually is a speech that expresses the ups and downs they've all gone through, and provides a youthful insight of a hopeful future.

The Music...

"Pomp and Circumstance" was composed by Sir Edward Elgar (June 2nd, 1857 - February 23rd, 1934) and first performed on October 19th, 1901 in Liverpool, England.

Because so much American culture stems from our British roots, it is assumed that this is the reason the song became the standard march for graduation ceremonies. It was passed down to us from English schools and universities.

How Are Tassels Worn?

For High School graduation, and basic college graduations of a Bachelor's Degree, the tassels are first worn on the right, and then flipped to the left upon receiving the diploma or degree.

When do you flip? Normally, there is someone there to signal you. Some schools prefer to have the student flip right after the handshake, upon receipt of the degree. Others want them to flip their tassels just before walking off stage. It all depends on your school's tradition or rules.

The exception: If you are getting a Master's Degree, then the tassel starts on the left and is flipped to the right.

Also, the rule is that women keep their graduation hats on at all times. The men are allowed to take the hats off during the singing of the National Anthem only!

Did You Know?

People who graduate with a certificate or associate's degree have greater job opportunities and earning power than those without a degree or certificate.

For example, individuals with an Associate's Degree earn 31% more than those without an Associate's Degree. (Source: US Census Bureau)

The Class Ring...

The first class ring was developed in 1835 for West Point U.S. Academy. In the early 1900's, class rings came into fashion.

The first class rings were crude and were only a shank with a symbol (usually of the class pin which preceded the class ring by a few years) attached to the bezel of the ring. They quickly became popular and soon stones were added and more intricate dies allowing for greater details got developed.

Today, class rings remain a popular tradition for high school and colleges. Class rings are seen as a combination of showing school pride while being an outward symbol of the diploma (but much easier to display).

Although tradition holds that a class ring is worn on the right hand, on the third finger, a class ring can be worn on any finger and sometimes on a chain around the neck.

Pvt. Casillas
Graduates At
Ft. Benning, GA

Army Pvt. Johnathon J. Casillas has graduated from the Infantryman One Station Unit Training at Fort Benning, Columbus, GA. The training consists of Basic Infantry Training and Advanced Individual Training.

During the nine weeks of basic combat training, the soldier received training in drill and ceremonies, weapons employment, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid skills, and Army history, core values and traditions. Additional training included development of basic combat skills and battlefield operations and tactics, and experienced use of various weapons and weapons defenses available to the infantry crewman.

The Advanced Individual Training course is designed to train infantry soldiers to perform reconnaissance operations; employ, fire and recover anti-personnel and anti-tank mines; locate and neutralize land mines and operate target and sight equipment; operate and maintain communications equipment and radio networks; construct field firing aids for infantry weapons; and perform infantry combat exercises and dismounted battle drills, which includes survival procedures in a nuclear, biological or chemical contaminated area.

Casillas is the son of Cindy Quintero of Burnsville, MS.

Learn to be
Credit Smart

Once you start paying bills, you start building a credit score. If you have a history of paying bills late, it will be reported and affect the interest rate you pay on your credit card or car, your apartment deposit — even your insurance. When you get a bill, pay it on time — every month.

A credit score is a number based on your payment history. Credit scores are used by lenders to help determine if people qualify for a particular credit card, loan, insurance or service. Most credit scores estimate the risk a company incurs by lending money or providing a person with a service — specifically, the likelihood that the person will make payments on time in the next two to three years. Generally, the higher your credit score, the less risk you represent.

Some people think you need a credit card to build a credit score. But if you open your utility accounts in your name instead of your parent's name, you can build a quite respectable credit score in six months.

Want to pay more for everything you buy? Easy. Open a bunch of credit card accounts, charge your credit cards to the limit, then miss or make late payments. Any late payment stays on your credit report for seven years, even after you've paid off the creditor. It's better to start off on the right foot by establishing checking and savings accounts, using your credit cards sparingly and paying all your bills on time.

The Diploma...

Original diplomas were made of sheepskin. This is where the slang "hang your sheepskin on the wall" came from. It was a phrase to represent showing your education.

Diplomas were made from paper-thin sheepskin, hand-written, rolled and tied with a ribbon until 100 years ago. A lot of documents were done on animal skins because paper-making was difficult. They changed to parchment, which was more practical, when the paper making techniques improved. It wasn't until the turn of the century that diplomas stopped being rolled up, but given out in leather binders. Rumor is because rolled up diplomas were hard to frame.

Baccalaureate...

The American Heritage Dictionary defines the Baccalaureate as:

1) The degree of Bachelor conferred upon graduates of most U.S. colleges and universities.

2) The farewell address delivered in the form of a sermon to the graduating class of a High School or College.

Legend states the Baccalaureate ceremony originates back to a statute dated 1432 at Oxford University, that required each bachelor to deliver a sermon in Latin as part of his academic exercise. Today, the service is usually an interfaith one that celebrates the completion of an undergraduate's academic career.

BOONEVILLE, Miss. — Northeast Mississippi Community College head baseball coach Jody Long announced that Lady Tiger utility player Emily Barnes has signed a national letter of intent to play for the University of North Alabama in Florence, Ala., during the 2009-10 season. Barnes, a native of Iuka, was named the 2009 Lady Tigers in-fielder, batting .300, with 10 hits, 10 runs, 10 doubles, 10 home runs, total bases, slug percentage, and was a perfect 14-of-14 in the stolen base department during her only season with North-

Barnes transferred from Northwest Shoals (Ala.) Community College after her first year where she appeared in 45 games as a freshman for the Lady Tigers.

During her sophomore season at Northeast, Barnes batted .306 in 38 games — all while racking up 10 home runs and seven home runs to go along with a .579 slugging percentage.

The former outfielder and catcher took over behind the plate for the Lady Tigers for parts of the 2009 season when National Junior College Athletic Association pre-season All-American catcher and former high school teammate Emily Brown went down with a wrist injury.

Barnes put together a .926 slugging percentage on 108 hits during the 2009 season and threw out eight
