Look at the Drug Issue, Too

I have been keeping up, as you know, through the Tishomingo County News. I often wonder if anyone, yes anyone, is actually keeping up with what teens are going through in the county. Everyone seems to be worrying about Tubby Aldridge and his petition, which I am not against and never have been, and not keeping an eye on what is really killing life in our county as well as our country.

In short, drugs that are bought from our doctors legally and distributed from our pharmacists without any concern as to why this person, who looks like hell, might be needing it. Most pharmacists, I know they are not doctors, but most can see what prescription drugs are doing to the folks that come in repeatedly and get them. I know there must be a reporting agency that would look into what doctors are prescribing at an unusually high rate. Why not call them and let them know?

Does anyone know how bad the meth problem is in the county? Really, all I hear is how so-and-so's son/daughter has gotten on that "stuff" and is ruining their life. Drugs in many forms, legal and illegal, are all throughout Tishomingo County and also in our country. It is something we will have to live with, obviously, because it has been around since before most all of us. No one is going to get rid of it. A lot of our police officers make it look like they are doing something about it, but in actuality they are cleaning up the competition. This happens throughout the country in every city.

I see folks in here quoting scripture about this alcohol petition. Does anyone know what Jesus first miracle was? Look John in the bible and give it a read. No, he doesn't want you to over indulge, but I believe he says the same about food, sex, gambling and quite a few things. Folks in Tishomingo County drink, period. They go to Tennessee or Alabama, as I did in my younger years, as do some of our law enforcement officers, lawyers, judges, mayors, very important city officials, and preachers, just to name a few, did in their younger years. Some still do and then talk against it when it comes time to give the people a CHOICE.

All I can say is this, teach your children at home. Let them know what drugs, if have the correct info, can do to them. Let them know what love can do to them, friendship, family, children, grandchildren and so forth and so on. Don't just tell them to get out of the house, make sure you have an idea as to where they are going. You can never watch 24 hours a day, but you can ask "how your day was" or "is life alright with you" or "are you happy" really that easy.

I know I sound like a know-it-all here, and I am guess I've paid attention mistakes and others as well and this is how I make my decisions. History erases a lot, it's just that you can erase some of the mistakes you have made in the past. Not all of them.

Enjoy your life, and your best to live it properly a single one of us are perfect. BUT, as a friend once told me in a competition, and I ain't the best, but I'm the best I've ever seen."

From Auburn, keep Tishomingo beautiful as I remain it being.

Read-To-Me Summer Library Program One World, Many Stories

The Iuka Public Library is extending a special invitation to the parents of preschool children to register their child in the Read-To-Me Program at the library. Your child does not have to be able to read to be a part of the fun and exciting happenings this summer during the "One World, Many Stories" program. One part of our program is designed especially for the read-to-me group. Parents, grandparents, older brothers and sisters, baby-sitters and other caregivers can share the fun of reading with children.

By reading to children, you are encouraging them to develop a lifelong love of books and reading. Introducing your preschool child to books and reading to them will have a positive effect on the level of reading readiness when they enter school.

It is easy to participate and the program is free. Reading to your child and sharing the magic of books is the only commitment involved with the program. Children can register on Wednesday, June 15. Each participant will receive a reading record to record the books that have been read to them. Children are invited to attend the final program on Wednesday, July 6th when they will receive a certificate coupon from Sonic, coupon from Hardee's and prizes provided by the Friends of the Library. Other sponsors of the program are Farm Bureau and the 20th Century Club.

Please visit the library or call 423-6300 for additional information.

GFWC-MFWC 20th Century Social

Members of the Iuka 20th Century Club met at the Iuka Library for their Spring Social. As we entered, we were at the beach! The library meeting room was decorated as a beach party complete with "beachy" items such as beach towels, swim suits and a back-drop of flip-flops with a lounge chair with magazines! The refreshment table was set with colorful art with sea creatures, shells and sand buckets filled with spring flowers. The table held a picnic - grilled hamburgers and hotdogs with all the trimmings. Also, baked beans, potato salad and a fruit tray plus delicious home-made pies and a chocolate eclaire cake with delicious punch to drink. The dining table held more of the same; beachy decor.

Twelve members were decked out for the beach with sunglasses and hats (no swim suits!).

Our hostess, Terry Shea, offered the blessing and we enjoyed our picnic. Our creative hostesses were Terrie Whitburn and Terry Shea. President Whitburn collected the Relay for Life funds that we raised. We did well - almost $1,000.00 for American Cancer Society.

Walker Family Reunion

The annual reunion of the Daniel and Samantha Walker family will be held on Saturday, May 28th, 2011 at the Mineral Springs Park Youth Center in Iuka. We would love to have everyone here with us for this potluck lunch. The Youth Center will be open at 8 a.m. and we will have lunch together at noon.

President Terrie presented each member a memento for our hard work and support for the past club year. The club will not meet during the summer but will meet in late August to plan for Heritage Day.

All members were present except Willadeen Thorne, who was welcoming a new great-granddaughter.

Thanks again to our hostesses - everything was great, our first beach party for the summer was a blast!!!

Cell Phones for Soldiers and Swans Sweet Treats Kick Off Cell Phone Collection Drive-In Burnsville

NORWELL, Mass., MAY 23, 2011— More than 250,000 troops are serving overseas and are away from their families. Cell Phones for Soldiers, and SWANS SWEET TREATS are calling on all Americans to show support for these brave men and women by donating your unused cell phones. Cell Phones for Soldiers hopes to collect over 1 Million cell phones this year to help keep troops connected with their families.

"Over the past few years, we have been amazed by the generosity of others. But, we have also seen the need to support our troops continue," says Brittany Bergquist, Cell Phones for Soldiers co-founder. "It is easy for Americans to make a small sacrifice of support by donating their unused cell phones, and providing families with a much-needed connection to their loved ones overseas."

Local residents can support the collection drive by donating their phones at SWANS SWEET TREATS 345 Hwy 72 in the Burnsville Shopping Plaza.

"We're proud to show our support for U.S. soldiers, and to contribute to a worthy cause like Cell Phones for Soldiers," says Cheri Hemlinger. "Three of our children were in the military. We understand just how important it is to stay connected."

Cell Phones for Soldiers was founded by teenagers Robbie and Brittany Bergquist from Norwell, Mass., with $21 of their own money. Since then, the registered 501(c)(3) non-profit organization has raised millions of dollars in donations and distributed millions of prepaid calling cards to soldiers serving overseas.

"We are continuously overwhelmed by the enthusiastic support of thousands of Americans who have helped our troops speak with their loved ones," says the teens' father, Bob Bergquist. "However, the need for support keeps growing as more troops are sent to the Middle East or are asked to serve extended tours of duty."

Through increased fundraising efforts, the Bergquist family hopes to raise more than $10 million in the next five years to fund new programs, such as providing video phones and prepaid service to allow troops abroad to see their families on a regular basis.

The donated phones are sent to ReCellular, which pays Cell Phones for Soldiers for each phone – the money is used to purchase prepaid calling cards which are sent to troops.

Approximately half of the phones ReCellular processes are reconditioned and resold to wholesale companies in over 40 countries around the world. Phones and components that cannot be refurbished are dismantled and recycled to reclaim materials, including:

- Gold, silver and platinum from circuit boards
- Copper wiring from phone chargers
- Nickel, iron, cadmium and lead from battery packs
- Plastic from phone cases and accessories

ated with service lines and home plumbing. Town of Tishomingo is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing for $10 per sample. Please contact 601-576-7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

Monitoring And Reporting Of Compliance Data Violations.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific constituents on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. Beginning January 1, 2004, the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) required public water systems that use chlorine as a primary disinfectant to monitor/test for chlorine residuals as required by the Stage 1 Disinfection By-Products Rule. Our water system passed all of these monitoring requirements. We did complete the monitoring requirements for bacteriological sampling that showed no coliform present. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

The table below lists all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the calendar year of this report. The presence of contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done in the calendar year of the report. The EPA and the State requires us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently.

2011 Annual Drinking Water Quality Report Town of Tishomingo PWS ID # 0710010

Is my water safe?

We are pleased to present this year's Annual Water Quality Report (Consumer Confidence Report) as required by the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA). This report is designed to provide details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to standards set by regulatory agencies. This report is a snapshot of last year's water quality. We are committed to providing you with information because informed customers are our best allies.

Do I need to take special precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/Centers for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Water Drinking Hotline (800-426-4791).

Where does my water come from?

Our water source is from the natural spring water at Jackson springs, in Tishomingo.

Source water assessment and its availability

The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. The general susceptibility rankings assigned to the spring of this system are provided immediately below. A report containing detailed information of how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing at our office upon request. I'm pleased to report that our drinking water meets all federal and state requirements.

Why are there contaminants in my drinking water?

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791). The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity: microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses; organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems; and radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

How can I get involved?

If you have any questions about this report concerning your water system, please contact Paula Rushing at 662-438-6402. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water system. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. They are held on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:00 PM at City Hall at 1281 Main Street.

Readers of all ages will travel the globe this summer at the library. The Iuka Public Library is "Calling All World Travelers" to hop on board for the summer reading program beginning Wednesday June 1st at 10 am and will continue through July 6th. Readers ages 4 through 12 will receive "One World, Many Stories" with activities, crafts, music and more from around the world. Registration begins May 26th. The library is asking children who want to participate to pre-register at the library. A drawing for a "One World, Many Stories" shirt will be given away each week during pre-registration. Children can register the day of the program. The program encourages children to read during the summer. Reading during the summer helps them retain the reading skills achieved during the prior school year, and helps them to perform better when school resumes in the fall. FCA Rally a Success!

Hello again, Belmont High School students! I hope everyone is having a great last week of school and has big plans for the summer!

On Thursday night the BHS Fellowship of Christian Athletes hosted its second FCA Rally and Senior Softball Game. The Golden Central Praise Band kicked off the event, and everyone was thoroughly impressed with the night's guest speaker Jason Cook. After the rally everyone had fun watching the Seniors attempt to defeat the teachers in a softball game. Although their efforts were impressive, their score was not. The students lost against the teachers 10 to 16. As a future member of the Senior team, I can say without a doubt that next year the students will prove victorious! The group raised well over $2,000. All of the proceeds went to the Laken Young Memorial Fund and the recent tornado victims. The group had a great turnout and hopes for an even bigger turnout next year!

Cardinal Chatter

The Senior Class of 2011 will graduate on Tuesday, May 24, at 7:30, in the new basketball gym. Good luck to all the Seniors. I hope you are successful in all your future endeavors!

Good luck to everyone taking exams this week! The students' official last day of school is Friday, May 27, and it will be a 60% day.

Have a great last week, students!

Eagle Scout Project Helps Students Learn Emergency First Aid

Thanks to a local Eagle candidate, students at a Middle School now have a little more about they can help in an emergency situation like a heart attack, or if someone is choking.

Paul Daniel Morris, leader of Boy Scout Troop 1000, wanted to select an Eagle Scout project that would help his classmates be equipped with skills to deal with emergency situations like a heart attack, or if someone is choking, and how to stop severe bleeding from an accident. Boy Scouts learned to know how to deal with these types of emergencies, but most students are not.

Paul Daniel Morris brought in Jerry Cummings, EMT, of luka Hospital, to conduct the training. Cummings met with Morris and his fellow "Chieftain Patrol" members, Dalton Meador, Conner McElhiney, Nathan Brown, Trey Neely and Gatlin Mackie to plan the training sessions.

On May 18th, during regular PE classes, detailed illustrations of how to administer CPR, what to do in the event of someone choking, and how to apply pressure to help stop bleeding were printed and handed out to all the IMS students.

The students were very attentive, and they realized that this training could help save someone's life.

An Eagle project is one of the last requirements of the long road toward becoming an Eagle Scout - an achievement that only about 5 percent of Scouts complete. In first grade, Paul Daniel began as a Tiger Cub in Cub Scouts.

A special thanks to Mrs. Christine Holley, for allowing this training to be presented during normal physical education class time, and to luka Hospital administrator Fred Truendele, who allowed Cummings to conduct the training.

Thank You

Just to express our sincere appreciation to the ones who made the benefit for us at the American Legion Building in Iuka such a huge success. Family, church family, friends and businesses who donated food, paper products, drinks, items for the raffle, monetary donations, purchased fish or chicken plates, and cook and other volunteers who worked at the event. We want you to know we are very humbled and grateful to each and everyone of you. (I hesitate to publicly name you in fear of leaving someone out.) Hard work has helped with our expenses to go to Seattle, FL where I will go into the Mayo Clinic for treatment or surgery. Please keep us in your prayers that I have a safe trip and the doctors can help me. May God Bless You, Terry, Denise and Judy Clark

Your Smile

Though your smile is gone forever, and your hand I cannot touch,
I still have many memories of the one I loved so much.
Your memory is my keepsake with which I'll never part.
God has you in His keeping. I have you in my heart.

In Memory of Jerry Epperson

We Miss You, Your Family

I thought of you today
As I walked past your grave.
Coming to bury another loved one,
I passed yours along the way.
As the ceremony began,
And the pastor began to preach,
I couldn't help but notice,
You were just beyond my reach.
I half way listened to the priest,
As I thought about the past.
Sunday dinners and stories
I wish would always last.
I stared at the flowers,
And thought how great a man you were.
Memories came flooding back
Of where your leaving never occurred.
But as I sit here with another,
Buried deep beneath the ground,
I find comfort in knowing
That your soul was heaven bound.
While you laid down upon us
As we work, rest or play,
I just wanted you to know,
I thought of you today.

How Are

Tassels Worn?

For High School graduation, and basic college graduations of a Bachelor's Degree, the tassels are first worn on the right, and then flipped to the left upon receiving the diploma or degree.

When do you flip? Normally, there is someone there to signal you. Some schools prefer to have the student flip right after the handshake, upon receipt of the degree. Others want them to flip their tassels just before walking off stage. It all depends on your school's tradition or rules.

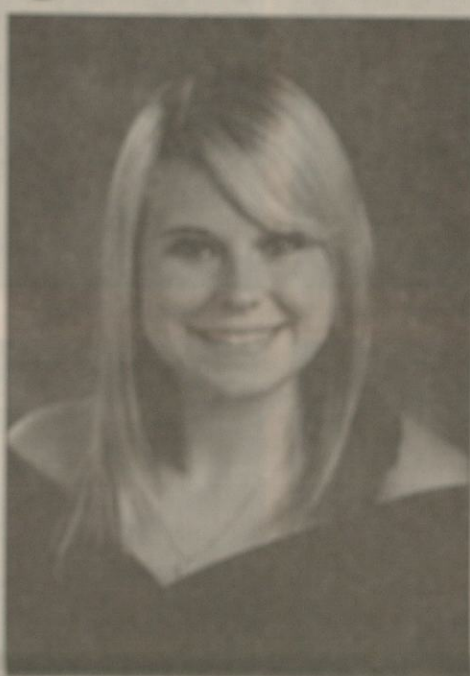

The exception: If you are getting a Master's Degree, then the tassel starts on the left and is flipped to the right.

Also, the rule is that women keep their graduation hats on at all times. The men are allowed to take the hats off during the singing of the National Anthem only!

Senior Year Sticker Shock

By Jason Alderman

Parents, if your high-school senior is about to graduate, you have my heart-felt congratulations – and my sympathy. As your checkbook can attest, this has been an expensive year and it's not over yet. You're probably still facing senior prom, graduation gifts and many other expenses.

For those whose children are juniors, start planning and budgeting now for next year. Here are some expenses you can anticipate:

Senior prom can be one of the year's biggest expenditures. According to a recent national survey conducted by Visa Inc., families expect to spend an average of $807 on prom-related expenses this year. These might include:

- New prom dresses often cost $100 to $500 or more.
- Another couple hundred for shoes, accessories, flowers and professionally styled hair, nails and make-up.
- New tuxedos cost several hundred dollars, not to mention formal shirt, tie, studs and shoes. Even renting them could run over $150.
- Figure at least $100 an hour plus tip to rent a limousine for a minimum of four hours.
- Prom tickets typically cost

$50 to $150 per person, depending on venue, entertainment, meals, etc.

- Budget at least $40 for a nice meal.

After-parties can run anywhere from a few bucks at the bowling alley to hundreds for group hotel suites.

Prom is only one component of the senior-year experience. Talk to recent graduates and their parents about expenses they faced and their lessons learned.

For example, if your child is college bound, entrance exams, study guides and tutoring are important, but can quickly add up:

- The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) costs $47 each time it's taken, plus an additional $10 to $21 per individual subject test.
- American College Testing (ACT) costs $33, plus another $15 for the writing test.
- A comprehensive online SAT review course from the Princeton Review will set you back $599.

Personalized individual and small group tutoring sessions can cost thousands of dollars.

Other common senior year expenses include:

College application fees – often $40 to $80 per institution.

For site visits at schools outside the area, costs can vary widely. Don't forget airfare, gas, lodging, meals, local transportation, etc.

Senior portraits and prints often cost hundreds of dollars.

Graduation announcements, thank-you notes and postage – could be $100-plus.

Yearbooks can run $35 to $85, plus additional fees if you take out a congratulatory ad.

Class rings – different styles often run $100 to $500 or more.

Cap and gown – usually $25 to $50.

Graduation gift and party – it's up to you to manage expectations.

You want to ensure your child has a memoorable senior year, but not the expense of your over budget. Before the senior year begins, create a senior year budget and get your involved in the tough decisions, prioritizing expenses from vital to non-essential. Learning the importance of setting and sticking to a budget is a valuable life lesson for your kids.

If you need help make a budget, numerous online tools are available online sites such as the U.S. Financial Literacy and Education Commission's MyMoney.gov (www.mymoney.gov), the National Foundation for Credit Counseling (www.nfcc.org) and Practical Money Skills for Individuals (www.practicalmoneyskills.com), a free personal financial management program run by Visa Inc.

Financial literacy teachable moments come at all ages

by Jason Alderman

I learned lots of valuable information in high school, but one subject that wasn't on the curriculum was personal financial management. We didn't learn how to balance a checkbook, why budgeting is important or how credit card interest works, among other life lessons.

Fast forward a couple of decades and technological advances have resulted in an exponential increase in financial products available to consumers, making financial decision-making all the more difficult; yet financial literacy courses are mandatory for high school graduation in only four states.

Here's a brief sampling of suggestions for teaching financial literacy:

- Parents should look for teachable moments. When kids clamor for a new Nintendo, use it as a springboard to discuss the relationship between money and time.
- Financial education is a continuous process, from children's allowances to retirement decisions, but age-appropriate timing is the key. Yes, you can teach teenagers how mortgages work, but they're much more interested in learning how to buy a car.
- Make it fun. Research by the University of Florida, among others, has shown that students who played educational video games like Visa's Financial Football scored better on benchmark exams than those who did not.
- There's a huge opportunity for teachable moments in the workplace. Research shows that 70 percent of employees would like to have financial education provided by their employer. The ACFC currently is exploring ways to engage corporations in this effort.

Many teachers feel they don't have the skills, background or classroom time to adequately teach financial literacy, yet 89 percent of teachers surveyed (and 85 percent of parents), feel that it's important to have financial education programs in the schools, whether it's part of the formal curriculum, after-school programs, games, etc.

Encourage local schools to offer relevant financial curriculum that will prepare students for financial challenges they'll face as adults. One panelist noted, "I took years of French in high school and college but I've only been to France three times in 30 years. I didn't take a single course teaching me anything about the stock market or compound interest or investing."

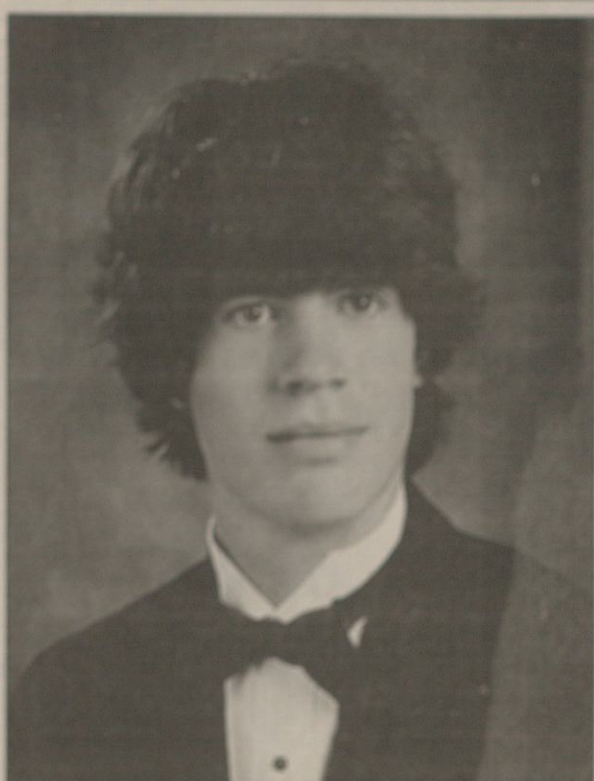

Panelists urged employers to create meaningful part-time jobs for high school students so that they can begin to equate how long they have to work to pay for things. Research has shown that kids who have jobs are much more likely to be high savers.

The Ceremony...

A graduation ceremony is a cultural tradition termed as a rite of passage. What's that? It is a ritual or ceremony that marks one stage of a person's life to another. Marriage is the most commonly known and observed today.

The graduation ceremony dates back to the 12th century. Some feel it began with scholastic monks with their ceremonies in robes and has evolved to fit the society in which it is celebrated ever since.

On October 10, 1992, we all stood at the nursery window anticipating your arrival. Little did we know 18 years later you would make us all this proud. You are our best friend and we are so proud of the person you have become. It's hard to let you go so you can spread your wings and fly, but we know you won't forget us and we will always have the memories of all the backyard football games, spending the night with your aunts when you could have been anywhere else, all the family gatherings where you kept everyone laughing, but most of all the encouraging words you gave to us when we were falling apart. Always remember to keep Jesus close in your heart. He is the only one that won't fail you.

Valedictorian...

The Valedictorian is the person who is considered the student with the highest scholastic standing. This may be determined by tests or by a voting of the student body or in some other fashion, depending on the school's customs.

The Valedictorian delivers a speech known as the "valediction" to his/her fellow classmates on behalf of them. It usually is a speech that expresses the ups and downs they've all gone through, and provides a youthful insight of a hopeful future.

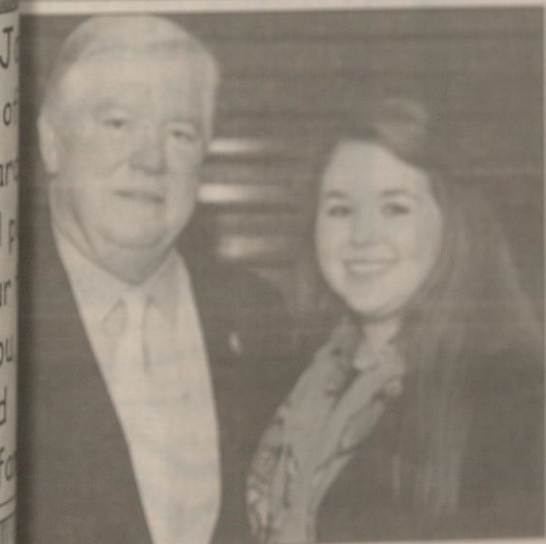

Ashley Crabb - ABE Highest GED Score of the Year Award

Did You Know?

People who graduate with a certificate or associate's degree have greater job opportunities and earning power than those without a degree or certificate.

For example, individuals with an Associate's Degree earn 31% more than those without an Associate's Degree. (Source: US Census Bureau)

Katelin Wallace Serves As Page

Recently, Katelin Wallace spent a week in Jacksboro working at the governor's office as a page. Katelin expressed her appreciation of being able to participate in such an educational and realistic experience.
