Geneva Ware, surrounded by her family, is sworn in as Fourth District Election Commissioner last week at the Tishomingo County Courthouse. Ms. Ware will fulfill the unexpired term of her husband, Floyd Ware, died unexpectedly in November. Chancery Judge Jacqueline Mask performed the swearing in ceremony for all the county officials.

Letters to the Editor

The Tishomingo County News encourages polite, public discourse in this space with letters to the editor. We reserve the right to edit for space or content. ALL letters must be signed, with a phone number provided for verification. Deadline for letters is noon each Tuesday. Letters can be emailed to tcnews@bellsouth.net, mailed to P.O. Box 70, Iuka, 38852, or faxed & signed to 662.423.2214

Runner Urges Courtesy, Safety by Drivers & Runners

My friends and family know my greatest passions: faith, family, educating children, and running. This letter is intended as an appeal for safety awareness for my passion of running.

For almost three years I have enjoyed the personal benefits such as stress relief, lower blood pressure, weight loss, strength, flexibility, endurance, and elevated energy levels that "pounding the pavement" have provided. Tishomingo County communities host several charity races throughout the year, so it's obvious others in the area are equally as passionate about it as I.

I prefer to run outside as opposed to a treadmill, and enjoy daily treks at J. P. Coleman State Park. The park staff is accommodating and friendly, and I feel very safe there. However, I have experienced a few close calls with cars and trucks. Therefore, I'm asking for motorists and runners to follow a few simple safety and courtesy measures, not only at the park, but on any of our roadways where runners and motorists may share space.

- We all know that distracted driving has increased with the use of cell phones. Is there a text or email so important that you place lives at risk? A human is no match for an automobile.
- Runners should run facing traffic. There are exceptions to this when the runner is approaching a curve or hill where you will be on a motorist's blindside.

- Runners should wear bright or reflective clothing, and always use a light if running after dark. The runner's goal should be to dress so you will be seen from the front and back.

- Motorists should give runners at least three feet of road space when passing. Often times there isn't enough space on the side of the road for the runner to move over, or the space isn't safe for the runner. Therefore, the motorist should take the initiative to move over. If another car is approaching, the motorist should wait until the car passes to pass the runner.
- Runners should select areas for running that do not contain heavy traffic. The ideal running places are walking/running tracks, but they are not always available or conducive to training for long races.

My aim in writing this letter is to promote awareness and the need for runners and motorists to respect one another as we share the road. Those of us who have made this lifestyle change appreciate the consideration of the motorists who watch out for us. More information on this topic is available on the Bike/Walk MS Share the Road Campaign website at www.bikewalkmississippi.org.

Respectfully,
Debbie Walker

Mike Webb Appointed to ABA Government Relations Council Administrative Committee

First American National Bank, Iuka, December 23rd - Michael A. Webb, CEO First American N.B. has been appointed to serve as Mississippi's representative on the American Bankers Association's Government Relations Council Administrative Committee. Committee members met Dec. 5-7 in the nation's capital.

Committee members are appointed by ABA Chairman Albert C. Kelly, Jr., and there is typically one representative from each state. Each serves a one-year term with the possibility of appointment to one additional term.

The GRC Administrative Committee plays a critical role in ABA's decision-making process by developing recommendations for the association's Board of Directors on positions and priorities relating to legislative and regulatory issues. Committee members also provide a forum for discussion and debate on policy issues facing the banking industry, and work to identify emerging issues ABA should address.

Most importantly, Webb and other members of the GRC Administrative Committee serve as essential advocates of ABA's policy positions before members of the legislative and executive branches and related agencies, local media and fellow bankers.

"It is a great honor to serve on this important committee," says Webb. "I look forward to participating and helping further the critical role our nation's banks play in the broader economy."

First American National Bank is headquartered in Iuka and has locations in Tishomingo, Prentiss, Itawamba and Lee Counties.

Lisa Phelps Appointed Human Resources Committee Chairman for the MS Bankers Association

Lisa Phelps has been appointed 2011-12 Human Resources Committee Chairman for the Mississippi Bankers Association. Phelps is 1st Vice President, Controller and HR for First American National Bank headquartered in Iuka, where she has been employed for 19 years. Phelps received her Bachelor of Accounting and Certificate in Human Resource Management from the University of North Alabama. She is a graduate of the Mississippi School of Banking at the University of Mississippi.

Lisa and her husband Brian have two daughters, Callie and Carlie. They make their home in Glen and are members of Wheeler Grove Baptist Church. Lisa and Brian spend much time being one step behind their teenage daughters as they host many fun activities for the girls and their friends.

Women's Self-Defense Class at Golden Baptist

Golden Central Baptist Church as part of its community outreach program has arranged to offer Women's Self-Defense Classes to the local public. The Tishomingo County Sheriff's Office is coordinating the classes with an area instructor. Classes will commence January 10 and be held every Tuesday evening from 7:00 - 8:00 PM through mid-May 2012 at the Family Life Center Gym, 15 Red Bay Highway, located behind the church. All classes are being offered free of charge; however, the instructor, Larry White of Belgreen, Alabama, encourages participants to consider donations to the Belgreen United Methodist Building Fund if participants find the instructions of value. No one will be turned down for instruction based on inability to make any donations.

Mr. White, age 68, has been practicing a variety of Martial Arts since he was 18 and has studied under Chinese and Korean Masters during his 20 years serving in the Far East. In recent years he has taught Taekwondo at Belgreen School and Red Bay School and taught Women's Self-Defense at Belgreen United Methodist Church. He is a certified instructor with the Chinese-Taiwan Taekwondo Association, Taipei, Taiwan and the Living Defense Martial Arts Association, Little Rock City, Arkansas.

Techniques being taught in the course are based on multidisciplinary schools incorporating elements of Taiwind, Judo, Brazilian Jujitsu and Weeping Jujitsu.

For more information please call Linda Reed at the Domingo County Sheriff's Department at 662-423-7000 or email at linda.reed@tishomingo-countysheriff.com

Three Fatalities Statewide During New Year's Holidays

The Mississippi Highway Patrol reported three fatalities during the New Year's Holiday period, which ended at midnight Sunday night. There was only one fatality during the same period last year.

Troopers also wrote 3,501 traffic citations and made 156 DUI arrest and investigated 104 car crashes during the period. Last year there were 108 DUI arrest and 2,802 traffic citations issued.

The fatalities were reported in Gulfport, Batesville, and New Albany.

During 2011, Troop F (Alcorn, Benton, Union, Tippah, Prentiss, Tishomingo, Itawamba, Pontotoc, Lee) reported 36 traffic fatalities on the highway. This was an increase of over 50 percent with only 23 in 2010. Sadly, we also saw 52 percent of all the fatalities in the district were unbuckled.

"It's senseless to see over half of your fatal crashes involve unbuckled drivers," said Trooper Ronny Hall. "It's proven that seat belts save lives. Our focus this year will be to drive down the fatality rate in this district by strictly enforcing the seat belt laws."

In the next few months there will also be more Troopers on the road throughout the State due to Cadet Class 60 graduating December 16. This will give us more visibility and more manpower and will hopefully help decrease our fatal crashes."

Happy 15th Birthday

Abigail
January 5th
We love you,
Your Family

Thank You

Life has dealt another devastating blow to a local couple. About this time a few years ago, their youngest son, Steve, died almost within hearing distance of their home while deer hunting. They still lived this loss alone in the quietness of their lovely home.

On December 8th, an alarmed couple learned that their home was engulfed in flames as they sat alone in their den in pajamas and barefoot before retiring for the night. Their lives again, as in the loss of Steve had been changed forever. We have all heard the old cliché "a loss of a family member" is almost as devastating as the loss of a family member.

Now, Lloyd Gene and Dot know first-hand that life will never be the same. They, in both cases, have lost things that can never be replaced. They both realize God is good for they were awake and able to walk out into the freezing night to a host of concerned friends, unharmed.

Mr. Tucker said "I have never experienced so much love from my neighbors and friends." In just minutes, the Midway, Paden, Harmony Hill and Tishomingo Fire Departments responded in great numbers and worked for several hours to keep the fire, which could be seen for miles, from spreading to surrounding areas. The Red Cross, the TCEPA, neighbors and friends were there to give support to the hurting couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker want to express their heart-felt thanks, gratitude and appreciation to each of you for your faithful and efficient work in keeping the fire contained to the area of the home. We know how hard you worked. We thank you.

"We have been able to go to our son's home in the Burton Community," Mr. Tucker stated. "That has been a blessing." He further stated, "I don't know if we'll build back here or not. If we do, it won't be as big a house as this. It was two much for Dot, anyway".

What a blessing to have this attitude after losing this beautiful home and everything. Material things can be replaced, I'm sure he was thinking, but the life of a child can never be replaced. Now, they have experienced both and they know the difference. "Words cannot express our thanks," he said. "Nor can we name everyone, but Dot and I pray that you will never experience the loss of your home. The outpouring of your love and generosity have helped us to accept our loss."

With a falter in his voice, and tears streaming down his cheeks, he shared about a gift that touched him so deeply it was difficult for him to relate. Little David Luttrell, a little 10 year old boy, who had received money for playing his bass fiddle at the Tishomingo Baptist Church Christmas program. He, unbeknown to his parents, handed Mr. Tucker this money and said, "Mr. Tucker, would this help you?" and gave him his monetary gift. It is gestures such as this that have made this couple realize that the youth of today will step up and meet the needs of a hurting family when it is their time to assume adult responsibilities.

As Mr. Tucker's mother had taught him, "There is always good that comes to light in bad situations". They really know this first hand.

Ruth Dawson

Start the Holidays Off Right by Kicking the Habit

The holidays are a great time to spend with family and friends, exchange gifts and enjoy holiday treats. In addition, it is a time to reflect on the past year and make resolutions for the upcoming year. If you are a tobacco user, make plans to become healthier by deciding 2012 is the year you become tobacco-free. Whether you are a smoker or a smokeless tobacco user, there are many benefits to quitting.

"Nicotine is an incredibly addictive drug and the cravings and withdrawal symptoms can overpower even the strongest will," said Roy Hart, Director of the Office of Tobacco Control at the Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH). "Those who seek and receive professional help are twice as likely to quit for good."

Nearly 509,000 Mississippi adults smoke cigarettes and 69,000 Mississippi kids under the age of 18 will die prematurely from smoking. Every year, over 500 Mississippians die from the exposure to secondhand smoke.

Seven and a half percent of Mississippi adults and more than 16 percent of Mississippi male high school students use some form of spit or chewing tobacco.

"Many people mistakenly believe that using spit or chew tobacco is healthier than lighting up," said Hart. "This isn't true. There are actually 28 known cancer-causing chemicals in spit tobacco." Hart said using spit tobacco may increase a person's risk of cancers of the lip, tongue, cheeks, gums and mouth. In addition, there is also some evidence that spit tobacco may cause cancer in organs other than the mouth.

"Tobacco use remains the single largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the United States," said Melissa Nash, director of the Mississippi Tobacco-Free Coalition of Prentiss and Tishomingo Counties. "The best way to protect yourself is to stop using tobacco products immediately. Make a plan, enlist the help of family and friends and seek professional help."

For help with quitting tobacco use, visit the Mississippi Tobacco Quitline website, www.QuitlineMS.com, or call the Mississippi Tobacco Quitline at 1-800-QUIT NOW.

And Hawaii Makes 50!

A woman completes visits to all 50 United States

An Iuka woman has managed to visit all 50 states, after a recent Hawaii cruise with her sister.

Frankie Speece, 75, of Iuka, went on a fifteen-day cruise to Hawaii in December with her sister, Billie Bell. They enjoyed the trip, and got to visit most of the Hawaiian Islands, one of the highlights going to Pearl Harbor.

Billie's late husband, Walter Williams, was at Pearl Harbor on December 7th, 1941, when the Japanese navy bombed the U.S. naval base, so it had special significance to her.

The trip to Hawaii completes Ms. Speece's goal of visiting all 50 states.

Ms. Speece lived many places in the U.S. and abroad following her husband, who served in the military. About three years ago, visiting the East coast states of Connecticut and Maine, she determined that she had nearly visited all the states, and so her goal became to see every one.

She couldn't really make a decision on which was her favorite state to visit, but she loves the scenic beauty of the mountains near the West coast.

"One thing for sure, there is nothing more beautiful than America," she said.

Harmony United Methodist Church 8th Annual Ladies Retreat

The ladies of Harmony United Methodist Church in Iuka, MS invite you to our 8th Annual Ladies Retreat. This year's Retreat will be held on Friday, January 27 and Saturday, January 28, 2012 with the theme of "Paradise Friends." Come and join with us as we focus on the blessed friendships that He has given to each one of us. But, not only that, we will also learn more ways to show how we can be a friend who "loves at all times".

We will begin Friday evening at 6:00 pm with a meal; followed by our featured speaker, Ms. Marla Ledbetter of Tupelo, MS. Saturday morning we will begin at 8:30 am with breakfast. Following breakfast, we invite everyone to join with us as our guest speaker, Ms. Pam McMillen of Mantachie, MS, shares her friendship experiences with us.

Throughout both days we will be giving away door prizes, enjoying special music, and having a wonderful time of fellowship with our friends in Christ. Please call (662) 424-0209 and leave a message on the voice mail of the number attending. Please note that there is no charge for the retreat and that a nursery will not be provided. We look forward to seeing each of you this year at our eighth annual ladies retreat.

What Melody Is Ringing In Your Heart?

The music of our era, in most cases, is a far cry from what God commanded in the Bible! In my thinking, this is a big part of the problem of low self-esteem, divorce, theft, lack of respect for authority and even suicide. We cannot have the lyrics of the devil's songs in our minds and expect to have peace with God and with ourselves. It is so interesting to me that God has given us the formula for joy and happiness in the Word of God, but, alas, most people are spending very little time seeking out that formula! Ephesians 5:18-20 says, "And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit; Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord; Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

For all those who are always pushing for liquor by the drink and other forms of alcoholic beverage, I need to say that God has clearly condemned drunkenness. Moreover, I have a hard time finding any drunk who has ever had more than "a couple of beers", according to his own statement! My advice is that we should leave it all alone. No one has ever become an alcoholic who did not take the first drink. I can say, by the grace of God and my father's advice, that I have never tasted any alcoholic beverage of any kind. My point here, however, is not just to show the evils that follow strong drink, but to show the command given on the opposite side of drunkenness, the command to be filled with the Spirit. Is it a sin to get drunk? Certainly! Is it a sin for a believer not to be filled with the Spirit of God? Certainly! Most Christians never think much about this command, but it is just as clear as the command against drunkenness!

Now follows what the Spirit-filled Christian will do. He will speak to himself in psalms, hymns and spiritual songs. He will make melody in his heart to the Lord. This is not my opinion; it is what the Bible says in the above verses! Christian, the world's songs will knock the psalms, hymns and spiritual songs right out of your heart! You do not have time to sing the world's song about fornication, lusts, liquor, drugs and a host of other things that God condemns! What melody do you have ringing in your heart right now? If it is not the melody that can cause the heart of God to rejoice in you, you have the wrong melody!

The Best Reason To Rejoice In Any Season

People often think of the Christmas season as a time to rejoice and enjoy the company of family and friends, and I do not think this is bad, for most of us do enjoy such times of rejoicing. Jesus, however, gave a better reason for rejoicing, which may not have entered the minds of some people. In Luke chapter 10, we have the record of Jesus having sent 70 people out to publish the message of His kingdom. Luke 10:17-20 shows what happened when the 70 returned to Jesus: "And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through Thy name. And He said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. Behold, I give unto you power to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you. Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven."

It has always interested me that some people love to talk about the "power of God on their lives", even though such "power" may not be evident to others. It is also interesting to me that God chooses to use whom He will in whatever way He chooses, and all of us do not do the exact same things in the kingdom of God. Even though the main work of God in time is to bring men into reconciliation with Himself, as II Corinthians 5:18-20 so clearly shows, yet not all of us do the exact same things to bring men to God. The 70 in our verses were more than pleased that God had made demons to be subject to them, but Jesus said that should not be their biggest reason for rejoicing. He told them that they should rejoice, because their names were written in heaven. The very language of this statement indicates that not everyone has his name recorded in heaven. Only those who are saved would be included in such a record. If, as some suppose, we cannot know that we are saved in the present time, how could anyone know that his name is recorded in heaven, so that it would be a real reason for rejoicing? The fact is that we can know that we belong to God and that our names are already written in heaven, thus we can rejoice over this fact at any season of the year and under any circumstance! Is your name written there?

The Battle of Iuka, Mississippi

September 19, 1862

By G.W. Dudley

Editor The Vidette 1896

(Editor's note: Through the courtesy of the Dudley family and Mrs. Lyla Merrill McDonald the following is Dudley's account of the Battle of Iuka which appeared in the July 4th, 1957 Centennial Edition of The Vidette).

Copied as written:

Through the courtesy of the Dudley family I give Dudley's account of the battle: The position of the two armies on the 18th of September 1862 was as follows: The Federal Column under Rosecrans had reached Jacinto, and preparations were being made for an early forced march on the road to Iuka. General Ord's command under the immediate supervision of Gen. Grant skirmished all day on the Burnsville road, making demonstrations as through an attack was imminent. On the Confederate side General Maury's division and two brigades of Gen. Little's division were in line of battle on the Burnsville road, while Armstrong's Cavalry brigade was occupied in guarding the flanks. General Price's headquarters were in the building occupied by Mrs. Lyle on the south side of town and on the road leading west into Jacinto road. The plans of the federal commander seemed to be working admirable. The confederate General seems to have had no suspicion of an attack from any direction except Burnsville. He had not the slightest information of the massing of Rosecrans force at Jacinto. All his cavalry except Falkner's regiment of Partisan Rangers and an unknown battalion or squadron was in the flanks looking toward Burnsville. Falkner's regiment was near Burnt Mills on the Fulton road, while the battalion before referred to was somewhere south of Iuka, tho this command showed up next day on the Jacinto road, infantry pickets were on the Jacinto road, the outpost being about three miles from Iuka.

When the sun went down on the 18th, Herberts brigade was camped just north of town, near the cemetery; while Green's brigade was located on the hill back of McKinney's residence. During the night the former was marched down the railroad to the Peel place where it was placed in line of battle. Thus stood everything on the day preceding the great battle. It was 4:00 on the morning of September 19, 1862 that the Federals under General Rosecrans left Jacinto and took the Tuscumbia road to Iuka. A cold rain had commenced falling about midnight, the roads were muddy which made heavy traveling on the artillery and wagon train.

The 3rd Michigan Cavalry was placed in front and the whole army moved forward with celerity. No sign of the Confederate was seen until the head of the column reached a point one half mile west of Barnetts where the roads forked. As the Federal cavalry reached the crest of a hill they were greeted by a volley from a force of Confederate cavalry stationed in a steep ravine. As soon as the Federal were fired into they halted; a squadron dismounted and drove back fighting, leaving one dead and one captured. The Federals reached Barnetts at 12:00. After passing Barnetts and taking the Iuka road there was no skirmishing until the head of the column reached a branch of the Cripple Deer Creek, near the residence of Mrs. Moore. Here the Confederate Cavalry had again taken a stand and as the Federal column came in sight fled a volley which killed Lieut. Schraum, a member of General Hamilton's staff. This infuriated the Federal commander who ordered a torch applied to the handsome residence of Mrs. Moore and it was in a few minutes reduced to ashes. This deed of vandalism was totally without excuse, as Mrs. Moore was not responsible for the fact that the commander had chosen to make a stand in front of her home and the burning of her home was an unworthy and disgraceful act.

Here for the first time since they had left Jacinto the Federal infantry was uncovered. The 5th Iowa being deployed as skirmishers and pushed to the front.

No further mention of the squadron of Confederates is to be found in the official report of the Federal officers, and their existence is omitted from Price's report. It is not known whether they communicated to the Confederate Commander the alarming news that a heavy body of the enemy was moving to assail his flank or not. Two men were on the picket post, one was killed and the other made his escape covered with the blood of his slain comrade, and it was he who brought to General Price the first intimation that the movement was a serious one.

It was fortunate indeed that Herberts brigade was in striking distance. These brave men were encamped on the north side of town and received orders to double quick in the direction of the enemy. In an incredibly short space of time they were formed and started in a trot. On reaching the top of the hill they moved steadily forward covering both sides of the main road. This brigade consisted of 3rd Tex., Whitfield's Tex. Legion, 3rd La., 40th Mississippi and 14th and 17th (consolidated) Arkansas regiments. Herbert's men had moved forward only a few hundred yards when they met the Federal skirmishers whom they drove back. Meantime the St. Louis Battery under Capt. King had been put in position just west of the Jacinto road and had been pouring a heavy fire of grape and canister into the Federal column. The first volley killed six men of the 48th Indiana. In a short time the Federals pushed forward the 11th Ohio Battery and placed its six guns near the forks of the road.

This Federal Battery was a noted one having participated in several bloody engagements and been unsuccessfully charged eight times. Reinforcements were necessary to enable the Confederates to resume the offensive. These began to arrive now in the shape of two regiments, the 36th Mississippi and the 37th Alabama of the 4th Brigade which was commanded by Col. Martin. The two regiments were placed in position, they were followed by the 37th and 38th Mississippi of the same brigade. General Little had now reached the field and at once made disposition for an advance on the Federal line. It was now 5:00 p.m. Gen. Price, upon his mule and attended by his staff, reached the field at this time. He, at once, sought out General Little whom he found about 100 yards to the left on the road, telling him to bring forward the other two brigades at once. General Price and General Little being distant only a few feet. Before General Price finished speaking a minie ball pierced General Little through the head. Perceiving that he was mortally wounded Col. Celsus Price, son of General Price, hastily caught the form of General Little as he fell from horse. Life was extinct, thus perished Henry W. Little, the right arm of Price.

In addition to the battery at the forks of the road the Federals had placed a battery at or near the Yow house. On swept the Confederate line of battle, brave men fell at every step. As the Confederates advanced it obstructed the fire of the St. Louis Battery which was forced to cease firing, from danger of hitting their own men, but the Federal artillery redoubled its fire. Whitfield's Texas Legion covered both sides of the main road. Reaching the summit of the hill the road veers almost at right angles toward the east. It was here that the line of brave Texans first came under the enemy's artillery and infantry fire. They poured a volley into the regiment of the enemy immediately in front of the 48th Indiana, which caused the later to give way.

The Third Texas was on their left, immediately in front of the Federal Battery. It was evident that the battery must be taken or else the two regiments would soon be swept from the earth. Col. Whitfield ordered a charge, in a moment the whole line swept forward. At the crest of the hill they were greeted with a storm of grape and canister that tore a big gap in their ranks but did not check their advance. Before the few surviving Federal artillerists could reload the Texans were upon them and the battery captured. Lieutenant Wynn of the Texas Legion was the first man to place his hand upon a Federal cannon, just as he did so he fell pierced by a mortal wound. Perceiving that the 48th Indiana, which had fled before the first fire of Whitfield's men, had now partially rallied, and was advancing on his right, Capt. Whitfield acting as major, ordered three companies to drive them back, which they did. In this fight Lieut. W.W. Townsend shot Col. Eddy commanding the Indiana regiment. Along the settlement road, which led to the Yow home, were stationed the 4th Minn., 17th Iowa, and 10th Iowa regiments. The attack on this portion of the Federals' line was made by the 36th and 38th Mississippi regiments of the 4th (Martin's) Brigade. The 17th Iowa stampeded and fled at the first fire, but the 10th Iowa under Co. Perczell supported the battery with great bravery and being favored by position were enabled to drive back the Confederates. Meantime, the Federals driven back from the Battery were partially reinforced by Sullivan's brigade of fresh troops.

The Confederate line retired slowly as the enemy advanced. At the brow of the hill the Confederates reformed and pressed forward at the same time the two regiments on the left, 37th Miss., and 38th Alabama also moved on the enemy, thus the whole Confederate line was now again in action. The Federal line began to fall back leaving the battery again in the hands of the Confederates. Lying around the battery within a radius of a hundred yards were not less than a hundred slain, possibly more of both sides, besides three times as many injured. Three of the cannons were so badly damaged as to be in no condition for removal and these were spiked but the other three were moved after dark by the detail from the 40th Miss. The ambulances were set to work at once bringing the wounded to town where every home was made a hospital for their reception and every possible attention given them by the citizens.

The 1st and 3rd Brigades of General Little's division reached the battlefield just as the battle closed, had they reached the field an hour earlier a partial victory would have been converted into an overwhelming triumph and the destruction of Rosecrans' army. Too late to join in an aggressive movement they relieved the brave men who had borne the brunt of the terrible struggle. All through the battle General Rosecrans and other officers strained their ears to hear the report of artillery on the Burnsville road as the column under Ord advanced but they listened in vain. There is a tradition that Grant was drunk in Burnsville and incompetent to command. Grant says himself he did not hear the noise of battle at Iuka. This seems an incredible statement.

We now return to the battlefield where two fresh brigades of Confederates had relieved the battle scarred veterans. Pickets were pushed out in front of the battery while the main line of battle was retired to the rear. Here details were made and set to work, ostensible engaged in fortifying the line and preparing for a renewal of hostilities but in reality to deceive the Federal commander, for Price had decided upon a prompt retreat. Two reasons conspired to make such action imperative. In the first place he had received word from General Van Dorn to join him at Ripley where they would consolidate for an attack upon the Federals at Corinth. In the second place his command was unable to cope with combined armies of Rosecrans and Ord, so even before the smoke of battle had lifted preparations for a retreat were underway. The wagon train was gotten in readiness as soon as possible and begun moving down the Fulton road, guarded by calvary. By 3:30 o'clock in the morning every wagon was on the way.

There was some firing between the pickets of the two armies during the night and few men were killed and wounded. Just before daylight the Confederate pickets were drawn in and the whole Confederate of battle was quietly back and took up the of retreat. When dawn came the Federals everything quiet. A was brought forward threw shells into the one Iuka Springs (another went through roof of the Merrill As they advanced into they were met by a tation of citizens by Mr. Samuel De who asked for protection of private property (of military age was in town. The citizen asked for protection old and infirm. A woody carried a broom handle.

How about the federates? General Little says that his brigade with 1774 men and (Martin's) had 1405 a total 3,179. Not one the Federal forces gave number but they chose a chosen position of natural strength.

Losses
claim the Confederates was much greater theirs, also much than given in the Confederate official report. Following is a detailed statement of Gen. Herbert: 40th Miss., 10 killed, 39 wounded; Strength 300; Ark., 2 killed, 12 wounded; 3 missing, strength 300; 3rd Texas, 22 killed, 30 wounded, strength 200; Ark., 2 killed, 15 wounded, strength 116; Texas 18 killed, 80 wounded, strength, 81; La., 9 killed, 81 wounded, strength 150; St. Louis Battery, 1 killed, strength 52; Confederates wounded. Total, 63 killed, 305 wounded, 40 missing, strength 1774. Rosecrans gave Federal losses: 10 killed, 598 wounded, 100 missing. The Federal hospital was about one mile back of the battle.

Following is a list of Confederate mental commanders engaged in the battle: Col. Gilmore; 3rd La.; Col. Mabry; 40th Miss.; W.B. Colbert; 1st Texas; Col. J.W. Wynn; 37th Ala.; Col. Dowd; 37th Miss.; Col. Withers; 37th Miss.; Col. McLain; 38th Miss.; F.W. Adams. General was buried in Mrs. and her yard. After his widow had the body taken to Baltimore.

Belmont Lady Cardinals Win the Northwest Alabama Christmas Tournament

The Belmont Lady Cardinals played in the Northwest Alabama Christmas Tournament at Lauderdale County High School on Dec. 27-30. The tournament consisted of 16 teams. The Lady Cardinals began the tournament playing Woodland (ranked number 2 in the state in 2A) on Tuesday, December 27th at 6:00. The game was back and forth in the first quarter. The Lady Cardinals started off strong to lead 14 to 11 after the 1st quarter. Belmont made a run in the second quarter to outscore the Lady Bobcats 16 to 9, which put the score at half-time Belmont 30 and Woodland 20. The Lady Cardinals came out with a slow third quarter offensively scoring 9 points. The score after the third quarter was 39 to 29. The fourth quarter was a high scoring quarter where there were 50 points scored between both teams. Belmont was outscored 26 to 14 to end the game with a final score of Belmont 63 to Woodland's 55. Scorers for Belmont were Leslie Robinson with 17 points, Angelia Allen with 15 points, Kelsie Montgomery with 11 points, Elisiah Jones with 10 points, Natasha Jones with 7 points, Jada Luster with 3 points.

The Belmont Lady Cardinals played Mars Hill Lady Panthers at 4:30 on December 28th in the quarter-finals of the Northwest Alabama Christmas Tournament. Belmont began the game very slow offensively. The Lady Cardinals fell behind 23 to 15 after the first quarter. Belmont had a strong second quarter to outscore Mars Hill 21 to 10. The score at halftime was Belmont 36 and Mars Hill 33. Belmont outscored Mars Hill in the third quarter 16 to 10 to make the score 52 to 43. The Lady Cardinals finished the fourth quarter by outscoring the Lady Panthers 16 to 14. Belmont won the game 68 to 57. Scorers for Belmont were Angelia Allen with 30 points, Leslie Robinson with 14 points, Kelsie Montgomery and Elisiah Jones with 11 points each, and Natasha Jones with 2 points.

The Belmont Lady Cardinals played Montgomery Academy who defeated Clements (ranked number 1 in the state in 3A) on Thursday, December 29th in the semi-finals. Belmont had a strong first quarter offensively and defensively. The Lady Cardinals led after the first quarter 17 to 8. The second quarter was a strong quarter defensively where Belmont was outscored 11 to 9. Belmont led at half-time 26 to 19. The Lady Cardinals had a very slow third quarter and got outscored 13 to 5. Montgomery Academy led after the third quarter 32 to 31. Belmont came out with an extremely good defensive fourth quarter to hold Montgomery Academy to only 2 points. Belmont scored 11 points in the fourth quarter. Belmont won 42 to 34 to advance to the finals of the tournament. Scorers for Belmont were Leslie Robinson with 20 points, Angelia Allen with 10 points, Natasha Jones with 8 points and Kelsie Montgomery with 4 points.

Belmont played Lauderdale County High School in the finals on Friday night in the Northwest Alabama Christmas Tournament. The game was back and forth throughout the game. Belmont led after the first quarter 14 to 12. Lauderdale County outscored Belmont 14 to 10 in the second quarter to lead 26 to 24 at half-time. Belmont outscored Lauderdale County 9 to 5 in the third quarter to regain the lead 33 to 31. The fourth quarter was a battle where Lauderdale County outscored Belmont 13 to 11. The score was tied at 42 with 15 seconds left in the game until Leslie Robinson made a left-handed driving layup with 8.6 seconds to play for a 44 to 42 lead. The Lady Tigers drove the length of the court and missed a shot, but Chatara Cox grabbed the rebound and scored just before the buzzer to send it into overtime. The Lady Cardinals outlasted the Lady Tigers in overtime. Belmont outscored Lauderdale County 12 to 5. Belmont made 10 out of 10 free-throws in overtime to seal the championship win. Scorers for Belmont were Angelia Allen with 30 points, Leslie Robinson with 13 points, Kelsie Montgomery with 11 points and Jada Luster with 2 points. "I knew that coming into this tournament that we were going to play some great teams. We played some of the best teams in the state of Alabama. By winning this tournament, I believe is a stepping stone to the second-half of our season. I know through this very competitive tournament that it will prepare us for our division schedule. I am so proud of these girls. These girls came together and found a way to win each game," said Coach Chris Higginbottom.

Holidays Filled with Basketball Action

Hello again, Belmont High School students, and welcome to 2012! I hope that everyone has enjoyed Christmas break and is ready for a fantastic spring semester. I know this will be a calendar year that the Senior Class of 2012 will never forget! We have been waiting for this year for a long time! I can remember when I learned in kindergarten that the year 2012 would be the year my classmates and I would graduate from Belmont High School. It seemed so far away then; however, time has flown, and here we are--Are we ready, Seniors?

Although things were relatively quiet over the break, this is not the case for Coach Shannon Edmondson and Coach Chris Higginbottom and their Cardinals and Lady Cardinals Basketball teams! For these coaches and their teams, it was business as usual! The Cardinals were defeated in a nonconference game against the Amory Panthers on December 20th with a score of 58 to 47. However, the Cardinals defeated rival Red Bay on December 22nd with a score of 79 to 70. Following Christmas, the Cardinals participated in the Alcorn Central Holiday Hoops Tournament. The boys lost their first game of the tournament to the Hardin County Tigers by a score of 69 to 63 on December 27th. However, on December 28th and 29th, the Cardinals defeated the Kingsbury Falcons 73 to 68 and the Center Hill Mustangs 66 to 53 respectively. Congratulations, Cardinals on your wins! The Lady Cardinals stayed busy during Christmas as well. Following their big wins against Amory on December 21st with a score of 63 to 27 and the Red Bay Lady Tigers on December 22nd with a score of 56 to 36, the girls participated in the Northwest Alabama Girls Christmas Tournament. This tournament is always an exciting event for the Lady Cardinals, and this year's tournament was no exception. The girls began the tournament by defeating the Woodland Bobcats on December 27th 63 to 55. They then moved on to play the Mars Hill Bible Panthers and defeated them by a score of 68 to 57 on the 28th. On the 29th the Lady Cardinals played and defeated the Montgomery Academy Eagles by a score of 42 to 34 placing the team in the championship game against the home team Lauderdale County on December 30th. Lady Cardinals defeated host Lauderdale County 56 to 48 in overtime! Congratulations, Lady Cardinals! Way to go!

The BHS FCA would like to remind parents that it hosts an after school tutoring and devotional program each Monday immediately following school until 5:00 at Calvary Baptist Church. Students are provided a snack, a devotion, and help with homework. Transportation from school is provided. If interested in this, please contact the building office where your child attends. Don't forget, students, that FCA meets each Wednesday morning at 7:30 in Mrs. Camille Stanfield's room. You do not have to play a BHS sport to attend the meetings.

Seniors, keep your scholarship applications in mind as many are due in January. Also, remind your parents to complete their taxes as soon as possible. These have to be completed in order to fill out several financial aid-associated forms later in the semester.

Have a great week!

Alcohol tax brings $167K to Moulton

By Nancy Glasscock
nancy@decaturdaily.com

MOULTON — The city of Moulton has made $167,038.66 from alcohol sales taxes as of Friday, city records show.

Since legal alcohol sales in Moulton began in September 2010, taxes on liquor brought in $23,191.19 and beer taxes registered another $143,847.47. The council has not decided how it will spend the money, which will continue to add to Moulton's projected revenues of $3,757,650 in fiscal 2012.

"There are a lot of things around town we can use it for," Councilman

Billy Lovett said. "No. 1, street im-

"It will come in good and be money well spent when we do get to where we are going to spend some of it."

Councilman Lee Taylor said he's heard no complaints from residents about the sale of alcohol. He said the city should be able to benefit from revenue that previously went to neighboring wet cities.

"Our city can use the revenue, just like Decatur or any other city that sells it," he said. "I imagine that will go toward sidewalks and curving and gutters and things like that."

Several businesses, including restaurants, sell beer and liquor in Moulton.

The Moulton City Council in October approved a license to sell alcohol for the second business on the courthouse square — The Place, a bar and grill owned by Kevin Painter at 544 Lawrence St.

Theo's Bar and Grill opened in the area and was first to sell alcohol on the square since prohibition.

Voters in June 2010 approved legal alcohol sales in Moulton and Town Creek. One pending license application for beer sales at Dollar General in Moulton has been filed with the city, said Police Chief Lyndon McWhorter, who is on the committee that reviews the applications.

Town Creek's share of alcohol taxes wasn't available Friday.

Crime in Moulton and Town Creek hasn't increased since legal alcohol sales began, said Town Creek Police Chief Jerry Garrett and McWhorter.

"As far as crime goes, I can't tell a difference than before we were wet,"

McWhorter said. "DUIs went down a little."

Town Creek Councilman

Doug Russell, who opposed

alcohol sales, said Friday

he had received no complaints from residents

about the issue. Town

Creek has only one business that sells alcohol, the Shell gas station on Alabama 20, he said.

Russell said he was sure of the financial impact of alcohol sales in T-

Creek.

He said he opposed

alcohol sales for moral reasons.

"People say 'Well,

can buy it anywhere,

that's true,' he said. "I still in good conscie

couldn't vote for it."

Spanish Moss by James L.
Cummins

Despite the root of its name, Spanish moss is not biologically related to either mosses or lichens.
It is an epiphyte – a plant that lives upon other plants, absorbing nutrients and water from the air and rainfall. The pineapple is in this same family. It is not a biological parasite
– as is mistletoe, which actually burrows into the tree and sucks out nutrients.
Spanish moss uses the tree's structure to gather sunlight that would otherwise fall on the host tree's leaves.

N i c k n a m e d
"graybeard," Spanish moss
has grayish-green leaves which can measure up to 2 inches in length and are covered with silvery-gray scales. Spanish moss is a fibrous perennial herb. It hangs from trees in long,
thick masses that reach up to 20 feet in length. Lightly fragranced and formed in the axils of the leaves, the flowers of Spanish moss are tiny, inconspicuous blooms of pale greenish-blue that blossom in late spring/early summer. The seeds of Spanish moss develop in tiny capsules after the appearance of the flowers and these capsules eventually split open to release the seeds for fertilization.

Spanish moss ranges from Texas east to Florida, north to Virginia along the Coastal Plain and south to Argentina. Though it grows well in partial shade, it prefers moist environments, flourishing
when near bodies of water.
Most commonly adopting oak and cypress trees, Spanish moss is found on other species too.

At one time, tons of Spanish moss were harvested and used in the United States alone. Sometimes bought for use in arts and crafts and beddings for flower gardens, Spanish moss has also been researched for use in medicines to treat type 2 diabetes, heart disease, hemorrhoids and edema.

Though commonly thought to be a habitat for chiggers, it only collects these mites after it has touched the ground. Along with chiggers, Spanish moss is also known to shelter other creatures such as lizards, frogs, rat snakes and three species of bats. Birds, such as chickadees and the prothonotary warblers,
use the moss to construct or conceal their nests
while the Parula warbler actually makes its nest in the hanging clumps. Other animals also use Spanish
moss for nest bedding,
including mockingbirds,
egrets, squirrels and owls.

A collection of Spanish moss taken by the U.S. Department of Agriculture from May 1985

to May 1986 at Leroy Percy
State Park in Washington County, Mississippi, netted 600 spiders which were represented by 13 families, 22 genera and 29 species.
Other insect counts from this study included 600 beetles, 500 chalcidoid wasps and 300 miscellaneous species.
Therefore, it is a good idea to inspect the moss before taking any home.

Charitable Donations

by James L. Cummins

Are you considering a gift to Wildlife Mississippi? If so, think about how your gift can benefit you as well.
Writing a check is the easiest way to make charitable contributions. However, donating appreciated assets
can be more tax-efficient.

Let me provide you with an example. Joe Smith wants to donate $5,000 to Wildlife Mississippi. If he writes a check for $5,000, he'll get a $5,000 tax deduction. Joe's cost for this deduction is $5,000, after tax.

Many financial firms and local community foundations offer a donor-advised fund (DAF). This is a beneficial avenue if you wish to make contributions to many charities. You can make your donation(s) directly to the fund and they in turn will distribute your lump-sum donation to the charities of your choice.
Another option is donating appreciated assets which have been held longer than one year. Your deduction usually will be the assets' fair market value and you'll get a charitable deduction for the year the assets go into the DAF.

The rules about charitable giving can be tricky. If you want to make a large gift to Wildlife Mississippi, consult a tax expert or Certified Public Accountant who can help you to perform a good deed and receive a tax deduction at the same time. For more information about Wildlife
Mississippi, call (662) 686-3375 or write us at
P.O. Box 10, Stoneville, MS 38776.
