Iuka Woman Dies from Smoke After Kitchen Fire Last Weekend

by Pamela McRae

An Iuka woman died of apparent smoke inhalation last week in a kitchen fire at a Pickwick Circle apartment.

According to Tishomingo County Coroner Mack Wilemon, Elizabeth Karen Brooks, 57, died from smoke inhalation resulting from a kitchen fire authorities believe happened around midnight December 27th/28th.

Wilemon said that Brooks' brother had not heard from her and could not reach her, so about noon Friday, he went to her residence at 602 Pickwick Circle where the windows showed soot around the edges. At his request, a manager let him and the Iuka Fire Department in, where they found there had indeed been a fire.

The stove area of the apartment was heavily damaged by fire, and the nearby sink faucet was running "wide-open," said Iuka Fire Chief Brian Grissom. She had apparently tried to fight the fire - her clothes showed signs, and all the stove eyes were turned off. She likely had it extinguished, or the fire had smothered itself out, said Grissom, but she was probably overcome by the smoke and could not escape.

A clock in the kitchen had melted and stopped at 12:08, and the apartment was regular temperature by the time responders arrived around noon Friday, which is why the estimated time of the fire was about midnight. There reportedly was a functional smoke alarm, and the adjoining unit was occupied, but no one apparently heard the alarm, or saw the smoke in the middle of the night.

Karen Brooks

Karen Brooks, 57, of Iuka, died December 28th, 2012 at her residence. She was born on January 28th, 1955. She was a housewife and was of the Baptist faith.

Services were held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, January 5th at Magnolia Funeral Home Chapel of Memories with Bro. Cody Pharr officiating. Magnolia Funeral Home of Corinth was in charge of the arrangements.

Survivors include her daughter, Shawna Brooks of Middle Town, OH; grandchildren, Brianna Brooks and Alijah Brooks of Middle Town, OH; sister, Mae Floyd and husband, Donnie of Booneville; brothers, Gary Borden and wife, Vanessa of Iuka, Bobby Borden and wife, Carrie of Cherokee, AL, Ray Borden and wife, Lorraine of Dixon, TN; other relatives and a host of friends.

She was preceded in death by her father, James W. Borden; her mother, Ruby Smith Borden; brother, Joe Borden; and grandson, Calvin Thomas.

First Day Hike at Tishomingo State Park Draws Dozens, Despite Drizzle

by Pamela McRae

More than three dozen hardy souls reported to Tishomingo State Park Tuesday morning to participate in the local version of the nation-wide First Day Hike campaign.

In more than 600 locations in all 50 states, First Day Hikes were held for the second year in a row to promote the important role state parks can play in regular exercise programs.

"This initiative is so important in promoting our State Parks and promoting our parks as places to get naturally healthy year round," said Tishomingo State Park Manager Bill Brekeen, who lead the hike. "We all know that our parks are good for our personal health as well as the health of our local communities."

The weather locally was 46 degrees, with drizzly rain for the hike, which kicked off about 10:30 a.m., but hikers of all ages were shedding layers shortly into the two-mile hike along the popular Outcroppings Trail at the nationally-recognized Tishomingo State Park. Hikers were from not only Tishomingo county, but from bordering counties and Alabama, as well.

Tishomingo State Park, with landscape features like no other area in the state, was the only Mississippi State Park participating in the national First Day Hike campaign.

After the hike, hikers were invited to hang out in the historic Loochapola Lodge to watch Mississippi State in the Gator Bowl on a big screen loaned by Ferrell's Appliance & TV.

TC Boys Get First Victory at Alcorn Central Tournament

Shannon Edmondson named as new varsity coach

by Pamela McRae

Two months into the 2012-13 basketball season, the Tishomingo County High School Braves finally got their first win of the season Saturday against Tupelo Christian Preparatory School.

It's been a very difficult season for the boys' team. They have been so close against at least 11 teams, but have failed to come out with a victory yet.

Shannon Edmondson was named head coach of the boys following the resignation of Mike Cartwright after three years leading the varsity Braves. Coach Cartwright is still coaching the freshman boys.

Edmondson most recently coached the Belmont varsity boys, until moving back to a teaching position at Iuka Middle School, where he used to coach middle school basketball.

The TCHS Lady Braves were not successful in the Alcorn Central Tournament, and still struggle to find their momentum after early season victories.

The Braves and Lady Braves begin a month of all home-court games next Tuesday night, when they welcome division opponent Itawamba.

BELMONT HIGH SCHOOL

(Transcribed from History of Old Tishomingo County 1832-1940, compiled by S.M. Nabors)

The earliest school situated within the present corporation limits of the town of Belmont was known as the Gum Springs School. Existing from about 1872 to 1899, it took its name from an adjacent spring which furnished the water supply, and was first housed in an eighteen-by-twenty-four log building (later replaced by a frame structure) with the typical chimney and the usual rough fixtures of the period. It was first organized as a one-teacher school, and continued so until 1896, having as its teachers such men as L.R. Davis, W.T. Clark, Joe Kay, J.T. Vaughn, W.T. Shook, P.A. Gates, R.M. Perry and R.L. Shook. With R.L. Shook and wife as principal and assistant, it became a two-teacher school in 1896 and continued so until 1899. The curriculum, ungraded, consisted of spelling, writing, reading, arithmetic, and geography. Teachers' salaries ranged from $20 to $35 per month.

In 1899, R.L. Shook, W.L. Cranford, J.C. Hallmark, G.A. Clark,

C.S. Shook and others chartered what was known as the Belmont High School, which continued to function until 1908, using the Gum Springs quarters, a second one-room building having been erected in 1899. Among the instructors who taught the school during this period were T.A. Clark, W.I. Elledge, J.P. Matthews, and Jeff Busby. The courses of study were extended to include the approximate range of the present elementary school, with perhaps a subject or two on the high school level.

In 1908, with C.C. Shook as Mayor, W.W. Shook, clerk, Dr. R.L. Montgomery, Sam Beaty, and Dr. K.F. McRae, alderman, the town of Belmont established the Belmont Separate School District, using a 2-story frame structure of three classrooms and an auditorium. The faculty was now increased to three or four teachers, C.W. Davis being the first principal. Other prominent educators serving as principal during this period were D.R. Shelton and E. Strickland. The curriculum was approximately equivalent of the present three-year high school, ancient with modern history, two courses in Latin, two courses in algebra, English and American literature, physical geography, geometry, and physics being offered.

In the spring of 1920 the frame building burned, and for the two following sessions public buildings and churches of the towns were used to house the school. In 1921, the Belmont Separate District voted a bond issue of $25,000.00 to erect the present buildings, a brick structure of one story, containing a large auditorium and thirteen classrooms. In 1922-23, Supt. J.D. Langston, Miss Edith McRae, Mrs. J.C. Patterson, Mrs. B.L. Johnson, Mrs. Bill Davis, and Mrs. A.G.W. Byran composed the first faculty in the new building. Twelve units of standard high school work were offered, this being increased the following year to sixteen. L.D. McCoy and J.D. Finch also served as superintendents, and under the latter's superintendence, in 1927, and under his leadership that session, the separate school district was abolished and a consolidated district formed by the union of the Belmont territory and the Pittsburg school district. The following year the Fifth District Special Consolidated School District was organized by merging the consolidated districts of Belmont, Valley, and Cotton Springs. By this time the faculty had grown to 20, and the high school curriculum had increased to nineteen units.

In 1931, H.L. Shook became superintendent. In 1933, a teacher's home was purchased, a vocational building erected, and the institution became a Smith-Hughes school, with W.G. Jack teaching agriculture and Miss Susie Parker home economics. This same year a commercial department was added. East Prentiss became a part of the consolidation in 1933 and remained so until 1937. A brick veneer gymnasium was constructed (1934-36) with CWA and WPA assistance. The Allen Line Consolidated School was added to the District in 1934.

At present the school district contains approximately sixty-five square miles of territory, has an assessed valuation of $314,000.00, enrolls according to the 1937-38 annual report 812 pupils, of whom 159 are in high school; has a faculty of twenty-two members, and offers 24 high school units distributed as follows: 4 in English, 5 in social science, 5 in vocational subjects, 3 in commerce, 4 in mathematics, and 3 in science.

Savor Mississippi's True Delicacies During January...and All Year Long

Jackson, Miss. (January 1, 2013) — Savor Mississippi's true delicacies in January with a month-long celebration of food, restaurants, chefs, recipes, specialty items and a bounty of flavors that will satisfy anyone's appetite to discover the authentic Mississippi.

Mississippi is known for great down-home cooking as well as distinctive upscale cuisine. Throughout the month of January, the entire state is highlighting the unique eateries, specialty foods and dining experiences that are such an integral part of the True South.

The Mississippi Culinary Trail, a virtual trail available online at <http://www.visitmississippi.org/culinary-trail.aspx>, features an interactive map with background information, stories and details about the culinary heritage of eateries, restaurants and other food-related sites in every region of the state. The Culinary Trail highlights those singular local attractions travelers want to find, but often don't know where to search for them. Now visitors can eat local throughout Mississippi and enjoy the bounty of farm-fresh produce and fresh Gulf seafood as well as traditional favorites like hot tamales, fried catfish, succulent barbeque ribs and much more.

But don't let the culinary experience end in January. There are unique restaurants, eateries and specialty items to enjoy all year long. To view all the sites on the Culinary Trail as well as the hundreds of other restaurants around the state, go to <http://www.visitmississippi.org/culinary-trail.aspx> or <http://www.visitmississippi.org/food.aspx>. Pull up a chair, grab a napkin and dig into a one-of-a-kind culinary experience in the True South.

Restaurants

No matter where you are in Mississippi, authentic restaurants are nearby. Whether you are sampling fresh seafood from famous local spots like Mary Mahoney's in Biloxi, Cajun cooking at the Crescent City Grill in Hattiesburg, fine dining at Nick's in Jackson, world-famous steaks at Doe's Eat Place in Greenville, little Southern barbeque at Little Dooey's in Starkville or irresistible fried catfish at Taylor Grocery near Oxford, there's something delicious here for every tastebud!

Chefs and Recipes

Mississippi is the proud birthplace or home of many past and present celebrities: actors, athletes, artists and, yes, chefs, too. Chef and humorist Robert St. John is not only a restaurant owner, he writes food columns and cookbooks that are quickly becoming some of the most popular gifts around.

Chef John Currence of Oxford was awarded the prestigious James Beard Foundation's award for Best Chef South in 2009. Other notable Mississippi chefs include Cat Cora, the only female "Iron Chef" in that franchise's history, and Martha Hall Foose, another popular chef and storyteller. These and other well-known chefs, along with lots of soon-to-be-famous ones, can be found all across Mississippi.

Cooking Products and Specialty Food Items

Mississippi is home to Viking Range Corporation. What started as a small operation is now a household name in cooking appliances, accessories and cooking schools. Based in Greenwood, Viking continues to grow and flourish with its headquarters and cooking school there, as well as a new cooking school in Ridgeland near the capital city of Jackson.

Jubilations Cheese-cakes, based in Columbus, offers nearly endless flavors of cheesecakes that you can order online or over the phone. The Mississippi Cheese Straw Factory in Yazoo City is another favorite for holidays or anytime guests are gathered to celebrate any occasion, big or small.

The Indianola Pecan House in the Delta celebrates its 30th anniversary this year with pecans fixed however you like them. And remember, that's pronounced "puh-kan," not "pee-kan."

There's no better way to taste the flavors of Mississippi than by getting to know Mississippi's fresh Gulf seafood, restaurants, cooking products, specialty items and Culinary Trail. Bring your appetite and a sense of adventure to enjoy all that Mississippi has to offer.

Historical Society Is Seeking Memberships to Continue Historical Preservation Work for Tishomingo County

A membership drive is currently in progress for the Tishomingo County Historical & Genealogical Society and its old courthouse museum—the Tishomingo County Archives & History Museum (TCAHM). Membership income is vital to the continued progress of the Society, the Museum, and historical programs throughout Tishomingo County. Museums help connect people to ideas—to the past and to the future. TCAHM's programs strengthen its museum operations, improve care of its collection, and enhance its community service role to the county and the surrounding area. Four levels of membership are available: Regular/Senior $30 yearly, I Care $50 yearly, Business $100 yearly, or Lifetime $1,000 (once time donation). Members receive four issues of Chronicles & Epitaphs, a history journal, per membership year. Memberships should be mailed to P.O. Box 273, Iuka, MS 38852. Contributing to the preservation of our local history is also an appropriate use of tax-free donations.

This is to the People of the City of Iuka

It looks like most of the people of Tishomingo County don't want to vote on it going wet for the sale of alcohol! So I am going to see if the people of Iuka want it. It will only take 390 signatures for the City of Iuka. I HAVE 83 SIGNATURES FOR THE CITY OF IUKA already. I only need 307 more.

If you live in the county don't sign this petition, unless you live in the city. If you do live in the City of Iuka, cut petition out, sign, and mail to me.

A LOT OF PEOPLE ARE SAYING THAT THEY ARE TIRED OF READING MY ARTICLES, I AM TIRED OF WRITING ARTICLES SO YOU MIGHT WANT TO READ THIS ONE BECAUSE IT VERY WELL COULD BE THE LAST ONE THAT YOU WILL SEE

This has been one of the hardest and most aggravating things that I have ever done. I don't know if a lot of you people know this or not, but the first petition that I had going around to vote Tishomingo County wasn't wrote up like it was suppose to be. I had to throw it away and get another one wrote up and start the petition drive all over again. I had to throw away 800 and something signatures. The petition that I threw away was the one within the first six months when I started this. If you don't think that you have not signed the second one that I have started then I need you to sign it. That is this one that is in the paper below. If you don't know for sure if you have signed the second petition, then sign this one that's in this paper today. If you want to make sure that your name has been accepted on this petition all you have to do is call the circuit clerk's office and ask them if your name has been approved or denied. I had about 800 and something names that had been denied. I only need 98 more signatures to get this to the polls to be voted on. I have been at this for over two and a half years and I am getting tired. So people, if you ever want to see Tishomingo County change and start having something around here for the people to do and start seeing jobs come into this county then you need to sign this petition and let's get it done. So people, let's do something to bring the jobs back to Tishomingo County. THE PETITION TO SIGN TO VOTE TISHOMINGO COUNTY WET FOR THE SALE OF ALCOHOL WILL BE IN THE TISHOMINGO COUNTY NEWSPAPER ON JANUARY 3RD, 2013. I only need 8 more signatures for the county petition. If anyone of ya'll want to check and make sure your name is good on this petition call the circuit clerk's office at 423-7026.
