Four Charged in Meth Lab Discovery

Four people are being held on methamphetamine-related, and child endangerment charges after a Friday investigation that resulted in the seizure of a meth production facility, and four young children being put in foster care.

According to reports from authorities, Friday, December 13th, the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department and the Department of Human Services investigated the report of possible child endangerment at 15a CR 109 in Tishomingo. The Tishomingo Police Department and the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department had received information pertaining to the manufacture and sale of methamphetamine from the residence. Upon arrival at the residence, a pit bull dog attempted to attack a deputy and Joseph Crosby, 33, fled from the rear of the residence. Deputies detained Crosby approximately 300 yards behind the residence, and he admitted the location of a methamphetamine lab under an abandoned trailer. Crosby and Ramona Russell, 34, were arrested for possession of two or more pre-cursors with the intent to manufacture methamphetamine, and conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine. Crosby was also arrested for four counts of child endangerment. The Department of Human Services took custody of four children from the residence.

As a result of the arrest, the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department also arrested Brenda Harris, 37, of Iuka, and Chris Wilcox, 38, of Iuka, for conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine. Harris and Wilcox remain in custody since they were already serving probation with the Mississippi Department of Corrections at the time of the arrest.

Other recent arrests reported by the department include:

Sam Parker, 20, of Iuka, was arrested for two counts of sale of marijuana and Possession of Marijuana with intent to distribute.

Brently Spaulding, 24, of Iuka, was arrested for two counts of conspiracy to distribute marijuana.

Sports Plus Final Cash Giveaway Drawing this Saturday

This Saturday will be the 31st annual, and final, cash reward drawing at Iuka's Sports Plus shoe store.

Earl and Donna Solomon opened Sports Plus in 1982 on Eastport Street in Iuka, and moved later to the current location on Battleground Drive. They have been doing an annual holiday drawing since 1982, when they started with $100, in a drawing that drew many to the store, since they had to be present to win. Sports Plus customers get a ticket with their purchases at the store.

The drawing amount quickly grew to $500, explained Donna Solomon, and within five years it was a drawing for $1,500 cash plus gift certificates, too.

"It was our way of giving back to the community, and thanking them for their business," said Donna. "We've enjoyed doing this for 31 years, and we hope everyone will come out to our final drawing this Saturday to visit, and have a chance to win part of the cash prizes."

Donna Solomon will join her husband in retirement early in 2014, and the landmark shoe store is scheduled to close. The Solomons will still operate the adjoining Solomon's Mini Storage.

Holiday Publication Schedule

Borden Wins $1,000 in IDEA Giveaway

Saturday evening hundreds of folks braved the cold weather to come out for a little Christmas celebration in Downtown Iuka, hear kids sing carols, and win some prizes, including one lucky winner, who took home $1,000!

Nancy Borden had the winning ticket for the IDEA (Iuka Development & Economic Association) Keep the Cheer Here $1,000 Cash Giveaway, which has been going on the past month. IDEA members donated toward the prize money, and then handed out tickets to shoppers who patronized local businesses for their Christmas shopping.

"Small businesses have so much to offer, and the money you spend locally stays in the community, creating jobs and more opportunity for local economic growth," explained IDEA treasurer Charles Emmons. There was an impressive number of tickets to draw from, which is encouraging for continuing "shop local" promotions like this.

Dozens of other door prizes were donated by participating local merchants, and were won by ticketholders in a preliminary drawing.

Before the drawings, the newly-refurbished Jaybird Park Gazebo, with its pretty decorations and lighted Christmas tree, provided by IDEA and Country Boy Farms, was the backdrop for a performance by the Iuka Elementary 4th grade Honor Choir, and an ensemble from the Brave Voices of Tishomingo County High School did an acoustic set. Hot cocoa and spiced cider was available to help ward off the cold, and a guest appearance by none other than Santa Claus was a wonderful surprise that lit up the eyes of children of all ages down on Front Street.

The drawing and promotion was brought to the attention of IDEA by some members who remember "trade days" in the 1960s, when similar giveaways drew hundreds of shoppers to town.

IDEA thanks all the businesses and individuals who made this a success, and also thanks to all the ticket holders who faithfully came downtown to participate.

TCHS Volleyball Team Honored at Banquet

Monday night, the 2013 TCHS volleyball team and parents met for their season banquet at the beautifully decorated Pickwick Pines Resort clubhouse. The event was catered by Christy & Company, and produced by the Volleyball Booster Club.

After a delicious meal and impromptu group singing at the piano by the team ("Wrecking Ball," "You are the Music in Me" ...), Coaches Seth Kennedy and Leigh Hamilton praised the team's outstanding performance for the year. Their 16-13 record truly didn't reflect how difficult an opponent they were for their many rival teams in the Division I Volleyball conference, they explained.

In only its second year, the volleyball program has been amazingly successful, with matches through the second round of the state playoffs both this year and last. This year, they were narrowly defeated by Senatobia, who eventually ended up in the state finals match.

Last summer, there were many new players who had never hit a volleyball before, but with the help of a few of the "seasoned veterans," who themselves saw their first volleyball match in 2012 - as they were playing it, the new players eventually got the hang of the sport.

Coach Kennedy said it was amazing to see as the season progressed when it finally "clicked" for the first year players. Some went from begging not to be put in the rotation to becoming vital parts of the team by the middle of the season, he recalled.

The many underclassmen were lead by four seniors who will be missed for their skill and leadership, but it shows a bright future for the volleyball program in the Tishomingo County schools. Coach Leigh Hamilton recognized each freshman and sophomore member of the team with a short narrative on how much they had all contributed to the volleyball program, both personally, and on the court as the junior varsity players.

Awards for outstanding play were passed out at the banquet, including four who received All-Division honors: senior Tristan Hamilton and junior Brooke Williams were honorable mention, and seniors Annsley McRae and Megan Lomenick were named to the All-Division Second and First Teams, respectively.

Most Improved Award went to Summer

Blunt, a first year sophomore.

Serve Award went to Annsley McRae for serving accuracy and efficiency.

Ace Award was earned by Megan Lomenick for her power serves.

Hustle Award went to Tristan Hamilton, and she also won the Defense Award for her outstanding performance returning power hits and serves.

Lady Brave Award, chosen by her teammates, went to Annsley McRae.

Game Changer

Award went to Brooke Williams.

Offensive Award went to both Annsley McRae and Megan Lomenick.

Christmas Cat is Pet of the Week

CONGRATULATIONS to Marley Hamm!! This handsome fellow is our Pet of the Week at Iuka Animal Clinic. This is what his owner Marjorie Hamm has to say about him "Here's the story of Marley. Marley was my Christmas gift seventeen years ago, Christmas 1996. His birthday is July 25 and he was six months old when he came to live with me. He was given to me by one of my students who thought I would be so lonely without a cat after my 'outside' cat was a casualty of the heavy, fast traffic by my house. The student noticed that although it was December, I had contracted poison oak while burying the casualty feline. Upon her inquiry of how that had happened, she told me her family had six cats! I told her how proud I was that she had that many feline animals. When she told me that I needed a cat to replace the loneliness of the 'outside' cat, I assured her that I was quite okay without one! Every day for several days she would say, 'You need a cat,' to which my reply was always the same—I think I can live without one. However, upon her insistence, I asked her what kind of cats she had. She said one black, with a tip of white on her tail and tips of white on her paws. Then the other one she selected for 'review' was solid white. With every conversation, I thought she just wanted to have one less animal to care for and love. To help her get past her concern for my being 'catless,' I told her to bring the white one to school when she came for exams on the last Friday before Christmas break. I took a pet carrier with me that day, just in case I changed my mind and took him. I took one look at that gorgeous white, silky fur ball and home with me he came! I later learned that the student and her family didn't give animals away. Thus, I was being judgmental in thinking she only wanted to reduce her inventory. What a difference that has made in my life!

I had stated all my adult life that I would never have an animal in the house! (Point to consider: never say never!) The weather was very cold that December of 1996 and I knew that I needed to keep him inside. Secondly, I thought he needed to stay inside until he learned where home was. Well, I suppose according to my premise he would be a slow learner because here it is seventeen years later and he still follows the same routine! Congealing those two ideas of his need for warmth and safety, from day one Marley was secured at night in the hall bathroom and learned the nighttime routine of going to his room when I started to bed.

The student was right! I did need a cat to fill an empty spot. He has been such a wonderful companion and is so helpful by coming to the door to greet me after I have been gone for several hours. When I travel for extended lengths of time, he becomes upset with my absence and needs some of my clothing, etc. to feel that I am still around. Once I was gone for six weeks and the lady who cared for him felt that it would be helpful for him to hear my voice. She called me and I talked to Marley via phone from 3000 miles away and it worked! She thought he was much better following the 'phone conversation'.

There have been many memories made during these 17 years. One is the time of his second Christmas here that he got his front paws through the two handles of a grocery bag as I was putting up groceries. He became frightened that he was trapped and began to move faster to try to get away from the rustling sound of the bag. The more he moved and the faster he went, the greater the fright. He looked like the race cars that have to have a parachute to stop them. At this point he was running so fast that I couldn't intercede in the matter. My nephew had the presence of mind to stoop over and wait for him to run past and snatch the bag! What a relief that was for the Christmas cat.

As you can see, we may not remember every Christmas gift we get but I certainly remember my 1996 Christmas gift! Thanks Marley, for making my life more enjoyable. Also thanks to Dr. Perkins for caring for Marley all those 17 years (which equal about 90 human years)."

Lyles Among Award Winners at Industrial Tech Conference

STARKVILLE, Miss. Since 2007, Mississippi's industrial technology majors have won top honors in competitions at the national Association of Technology, Management and Applied Engineering conference. This year was no exception. Ten university students were recognized at ATMAE's recent "Developing the Future Workforce" conference in New Orleans. Senior Horace F. "Trey" Lyles III, of Kosciusko, won first place in the Vahradian Technology Challenge. He and his teammates in the robotics competition also won first place in electronics/control methodology and best technical report, as well as second place overall.

At three of the four most recent conferences, an MSU industrial technology major has won the challenge competition, a "Jeopardy!"-like quiz bowl, said ATMAE faculty-sponsor Mickey Giordano. In 2011, MSU took second place. For five of the past seven years, MSU's robotics team placed at the tournament, Giordano added. The instructor of instructional systems and workforce development said students' strong commitment to problem-solving and critical thinking is the primary contributor to their continued success at the ATMAE conference. "Our students do all the work on the robot themselves," he said. "They came up with the ideas and the design, and they built it. Doing it all themselves gives them more of a sense of pride because it's all their own work." Students on the ATMAE robotics team and those in the quiz competition do not receive academic credit; they volunteer outside of class, Giordano said. They worked in MSU's Industrial Education Building metal shop, and one or more faculty members--Giordano, fellow instructor Jerry Mize or associate professor John Wyatt--stayed to answer questions. "Our students deserve the pat on the back because they're the ones who come here and do all the work," Giordano said. "They volunteered their time and effort to get it done and raised around 80 percent of the money to pay for their trip." The Office of the Dean in MSU's College of Education also provided funding to cover the students' conference expenses. That support is especially critical because the ATMAE conference offers extensive networking opportunities for students, Giordano said. In addition to learning about graduate-degree programs at other colleges and universities, MSU team members also can meet with industry representatives promoting job opportunities. "Attending this conference pays off in the end," Giordano said.

Tishomingo County Food Depot News

"To the American People: Christmas is not a time or a season, but a state of mind. To cherish peace and good will, to be plenteous in mercy, is to have the real spirit of Christmas. If we think on these things, there will be born in us a Savior and over us will shine a star sending its gleam of hope to the world." - Calvin Coolidge

Again, Merry Christmas and thanks to all those who help support this ministry with prayers, financial contributions, and the giving of their time.

John Marshall Stone U.D.C. Meets at Iuka Library

The Daughters of the Confederacy "John Marshall Stone #394" met November 19th at 4:15 p.m. at the Iuka Public Library. Those present were Eunell Handy, Vickie Durham, Mary Ledbetter and Sharon Hairrell. We completed the U.D.C. rituals and sang "Dixie", and the meeting was opened by Sharon Hairrell, President. Sharon Hairrell read the minutes and they were approved. Eunell Handy, first Vice-President gave the treasure report and it was approved, she also stated all dues had been collected except one out of town member. Vickie Durham, Registrar, reported that she was working on two applications and possible three. Mary Ledbetter gave the Chaplin Report.

Old business was discussed and up-dated. We then went into new business. We were pleased that we had two and maybe three new applications. We discuss ways to continue to encourage to new membership. We also discuss going to Shiloh in the Spring and to the Museum at Corinth. We decided to combine our December meeting and Christmas Social, we will meet at "Lil Smokies" on December 17th at 5 p.m. It will be Dutch Treat.

Eunell Handy presented the program on "Who was the common soldier of the Civil War?" It covered and described the average soldier, how they might have made a living before the war, why they fought and what type of weapons they used. It described the music they sang in camp and while marching, what they ate and how much their wages for the month was. It was explained how they passed their time and how dirty conditions and disease actually killed more soldiers than wounds from battles.

Both armies claimed to be fighting with God's Blessings and Religion played a big part in the lives of many soldiers. While the slaughter and grief of war. Both armies were swept by Religious Revivals. It was a very interesting program.

Will meet at "Lil Smokies" December 17th at 5 p.m. Anyone interested in finding their Confederate Heritage is welcome to attend, there will be a program and it will be a Dutch Treat.

Northeast Mississippi Community College head tennis coach Ben Shappley (right) presents Belmont native Wesley Brandon, with the 2013 Tiger Award for representing the school with a positive attitude on-and-off the court and for being actively involved in school functions and organizations.

Baird, Brandon Decorated with Tennis Tiger Awards

Booneville, Miss. — Two Northeast Mississippi Community College freshmen have been honored for showing characteristics above what a usual student-athlete is capable of accomplishing.

Wesley Brandon and Nikki Baird received the 2013 Tiger Award for the men's and women's tennis programs, respectively, for demonstrating the desired qualities and characteristics of an exceptional student athlete.

"These individuals are very deserving of the award," said Northeast tennis coach Ben Shappley. "They show up for practice, work hard, don't complain and are constantly improving. I think they want to do a good job and their work ethic verifies that."

Brandon achieved the initial win of his collegiate career on March 19 with a thrilling 7-5, 6-4 decision over Chase Black of Holmes Community College, which was ranked 23rd in the nation at the time according to the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA).

Just over two weeks later, Brandon pulled off another singles victory against a different Bulldog. After claiming a close 7-6 (10-6) win over Connor Wilson in the opening game, he put the match away with a firm 6-1 result for his second individual triumph over No. 23 Holmes.

The Belmont product proved his mettle in doubles competition as well. He and his partner, Hunter Seeley, downed the East Central Community College duo of Andrew Hanna and Hunter Mayo by an 8-6 score on April 1.

Brandon capped the 2013 season with two wins in one day against Northwest Mississippi Community College. He defeated Michael Moss 6-2, 6-1 in singles play before teaming with Seeley to conquer Seth Cook and Moss 8-1.

"I'm honored to receive this award to represent my team," Brandon said. "I'm looking forward to this next season to improve and do a lot better."

Baird put together a four-match winning streak in singles contests to conclude her inaugural campaign in Booneville and overall held a 6-4 record.

She registered her first-ever collegiate victory on March 1 with a 6-2, 6-1 sweep of East Central's Hayden Fryery.

A Houston High School graduate, Baird notched a signature win over then-No. 19 Meridian Community College's Stephanie Grayson. A back-and-forth struggle throughout saw the rising Lady Tiger take the match 7-5, 7-6 (5).

Baird also claimed two victories over Callie Swinney of Holmes concluded her inaugural season at Northeast with a 6-2, 6-4 triumph over Northwest's Kathryn Hutto.

"It's an honor to win this award," said Baird, who is also a member of the Northeast cheerleading squad. "I'm really glad that coach (Shappley) thought I was good enough to be the recipient."

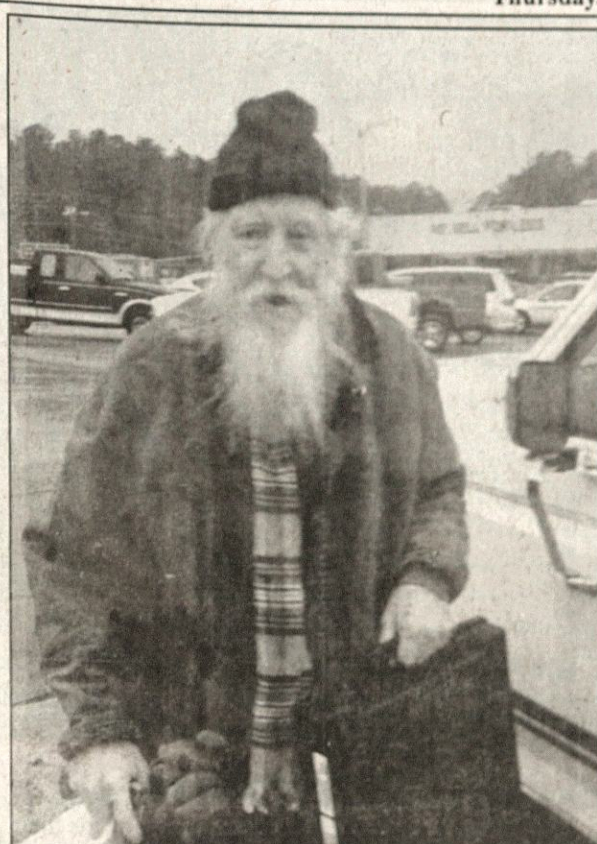

Both Brandon and Baird return for their sophomore campaigns to lead a Lady Tiger and Tiger tennis program that is steadily on the rise.

"I believe we're looking at a very good season," Shappley said. "We have, I think, an all around good team. We've worked hard so far and I'm looking for good things."

The Tiger Award is given to a student athlete in each sport sponsored by Northeast that represents the institution with a positive attitude on-and-off the field or court and is actively involved in school functions and organizations.

Congratulations to Gene Short.

Tishomingo County is considering applying to the Mississippi Development Authority (MDA) for a HOME Investment Partnerships Program Grant of up to $7.2 million. The State of Mississippi has been allocated approximately $7.2 million that will be made available to cities, counties, CHDOs, and PHAs on a competitive basis to undertake eligible housing activities. These funds must be used for one of the following purposes:

1. Homeowner Rehabilitation
2. New Construction of Rental Units
3. Homebuyer Assistance
4. CHDO

The activities for which these funds may be used are in the areas of affordable housing for low and very low income persons. More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements, and the rating system will be provided at a public hearing that will be held at the Tishomingo County Courthouse, 1008 Battleground Dr., Iuka, Mississippi on Thursday, January 2, 2014 at 12:00 p.m. The purpose of this hearing will be to obtain citizen input into the development of the application.

Applications for homeowner eligibility may be picked up at the Chancery Clerk's office. When completed, the application and the required documentation must be returned there at the earliest possible time. After documents are verified, the home must be inspected by the administrators of the project to determine the extent of the health and safety hazards present. ## Christmas Light Display a Must See Driving around, looking at Christmas lights, don't forget to check out my PawPaw Wright's. They may not dance, they may not sing, but in my eyes, they're the best I've seen. Lights are turned on each night at 5 p.m. and turned off at 9 p.m., so hurry out and don't miss out. Honk your horn if you enjoy, so my PawPaw will know.

If driving down Hwy. 25 South, go to Midway and turn left on CR 186, right after Luttrell Lumber Mill, drive to the end of the road and turn right at 3-way stop onto CR 992, drive 4 10ths of a mile and turn right onto CR 159 after cemetery. Stay on that road and you can't miss them.

Enjoy...I know I do every night.

Merry Christmas & Thanks, PawPaw Love, Jacob

5th Sunday Night Singing At Unity

Unity Baptist Church (Iuka) will be having our 5th Sunday Night Singing on December 29th at 5 p.m. The Unity 4 Quartet will be our special singers. After the singing, we will have our Christmas meal. The church invites everyone to come and hear some good Southern gospel singing and then have a good meal, also.

Merry Christmas From Heaven

I still hear the songs,
I still see the lights
I still feel your love on cold wintery nights

I still share your hopes and all of your cares
I'll even remind you to please say your prayers

I just want to tell you, you still make me proud
You stand head and shoulders above all the crowd

Keep trying each moment, to stay in His grace
I came here before you to help set your place

You don't have to be perfect all of the time
He forgives you the slip, if you continue the climb.

To my family and friends,
Please be thankful today
I'm still close beside you,
In a new special way.

I love you all dearly,
Now don't shed a tear
Cause I'm spending my Christmas with Jesus this year.

Secretary of State Rolls Out Voter ID Outreach Campaign

Jackson, Miss.—Voter ID will be in effect beginning with the June 3, 2014 Primary Election. Any voter casting a ballot at the polls on June 3rd or by absentee ballot in person at the Circuit Clerk's Office prior to the June 3rd Primary Election will be required to show an acceptable form of photo ID.

"We are committed to ensuring everyone who is qualified to vote has the opportunity to cast a ballot, and we need your help," says Secretary of State Delbert Hosemann. "With the holiday season around us, many of you will be out volunteering in your communities. If you know of anyone who lacks an acceptable form of photo ID, we ask you to contact our Office so we can provide a free photo ID in advance of the June 3rd Primary."

If a voter does not have any documentation proving their identity, Circuit Clerks may verify their birth record FREE of charge. If they need transportation to a Circuit Clerk's office, the Secretary of State's Office will facilitate transportation FREE of charge.

Only voters who do not have an acceptable form of photo ID will receive a FREE Mississippi Voter Identification Card. Circuit Clerks will begin issuing Mississippi Voter ID cards in January 2014.

Individuals who already have an acceptable form of photo ID are not eligible for a Mississippi Voter ID card. The Mississippi Voter ID Card will prominently show the photo, name, address, and county of the voter. The card prominently states it is to be used "For Voting Purposes Only" and will contain several security features.

The card will not contain the voter's date of birth.

"We wanted to make the photo and the name of the voter the prominent features, but we did not want the card to resemble a driver's license. The card does contain security features to inhibit unauthorized duplication," says Secretary Hosemann.

"We are dedicated to ensuring anyone who does not have an acceptable ID receives one at no cost," adds Secretary Hosemann. "We will travel across the State implementing a massive voter outreach campaign to inform the public of the requirement. We have met with political parties in the State and many other organizations and interest groups, asking for their assistance with implementation. Over 62% of Mississippians approved a constitutional voter ID requirement. With your help, we look forward to assisting our local election officials with implementation."

For more information regarding the voter ID requirement, or, for Voter ID outreach materials, please contact the Secretary of State's office at 1-855-868-3745. Or visit www.MSVoterID.ms.gov for information regarding:
