Prisoner Escapes from County Lockup; Surrenders in Arkansas

Pamela McRae
Sheriff's Department officers were involved in a multi-day manhunt last week after an inmate escaped from the Tishomingo County Jail.

Dustin Jourdan McCoy, 24, was found to have escaped custody early last Thursday morning, May 18th, 2017, during jail checks. McCoy had been in custody at the Tishomingo County Jail since February of this year on felony meth charges, and was not viewed as dangerous, according to authorities.

With the help of family members who were able to convince the fugitive to turn himself in, McCoy was found

Monday in Little Rock, Arkansas, and surrendered to law officers at a pre-arranged location. McCoy arrived back at Tishomingo County early Tuesday.

McCoy reportedly climbed under a fence to escape at about 10 p.m. on Thursday, May 18th. The responsible jail employee performed a head count of all inmates during the night, but did not report of McCoy missing. McCoy was gone nine hours before he was reported missing at 7 a.m.

Dillon Slade Davis, 22, was terminated from his position as a correctional officer at the Tishomingo County Jail as a result of the investigation. Other persons will likely face charges in connection with the escape, said authorities.

Itawamba County has placed a hold on McCoy for something that may have happened during the escaped time.

Larry served in the US Army and was deployed for months to Korea. When he came home, he married his high school sweetheart, Andrea Phillips, and together they created a loving family. Larry was proud of his community and served in many capacities. He served as president of the Mississippi Asphalt Pavement Association, member of the Tishomingo County Economic Development Foundation, president of the Walker Switch Association, member of Tishomingo Health Services and of Directors, member of Tishomingo County Board of Education, and a Mason. City Blocked from Demo of Burned Building

by Pamela McRae

Thirteen months after it burned, the city of Iuka was set to take action Tuesday night on the demolition of the burned out 311 Eastport offices of former Iuka attorney Tacey Locke, but at the last minute, the district attorney's office and Locke's defense attorney put all that to a halt.

The city had called a public hearing for Tuesday night regarding the city taking action to demolish and clear the burned out building site that has been an eyesore to neighbors near downtown since it burned early one morning in April 2016. In a fire so hot it burned the siding on neighboring homes, the law office burned, coincidentally within hours of Locke's lake-side home at Mill Creek. Since the fire, the site was designated a crime scene as city and state investigators built the arson case.

Locke was indicted on arson charges by a Tishomingo County grand jury in early March 2017, nearly a year after the fire. She has reportedly retained Ashland, Mississippi defense attorney Tony Farese to defend her in the criminal charges of arson.

Since the property owner has not cleaned up the mess, the city was prepared to take action to have it cleared. This expense would be put on the property owner's taxes. A neighbor of the property had submitted a petition a couple months ago asking for the city to take action. Tuesday night was the public hearing required by the ordinance before nuisance properties are cleaned up by the city.

The city of Iuka investigated the case, along with the state fire marshal, but now the case is in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Ray O'Neill, according ing to Iuka city board attorney Nathaniel Clark.

After weeks of trying to contact the defense attorney's office, Clark finally heard from the Farese

Sacrifices Honored on Memorial Day

Iuka Remembers on Monday

The 5th Annual Memorial Day Remembrance for Iuka will begin Monday morning, May 29th, when volunteers meet at Oak Grove Cemetery to place flags on the graves of veterans.

Everyone is invited to come out and help in this growing Memorial Day tradition which started five years ago, as organizer Burnett Bryant sat on a bench in the historic Iuka cemetery, and realized the need for some kind of tangible observation of the men and women who once served their country in the armed forces.

This year, Girl and Boy Scout groups and others will help. There will be a special speaker, Lieutenant Col. Greg Harstad, who will speak at Oak Grove at 9 a.m.

To participate, meet at Oak Grove Cemetery at 9 a.m. on Monday, May 29th. After flags are in place there, teams will go to Cypress Gardens and Shady Grove Cemetery to place flags on those veterans' graves, as well.

Tishomingo County Veterans to be Honored at Memorial Event

The American Legion Post 15 and the Chief Tishomingo Chapter DAR will meet to honor Tishomingo County's fallen veterans this Saturday, May 26, 2017 at 10 a.m. at the Veteran's Memorial Monument located at the Tishomingo County Courthouse.

Don Grant, Commander of the American Legion, Post 15, will do the memorial Roll Call and have the program.

All members of the American Legion and DAR are urged to attend. All veterans and the public are encouraged to attend and to honor those fallen Veterans for their sacrifice for our FREEDOM.

Kenny Carson Announces for City of Iuka Alderman

I would like to take this opportunity to ask you, the citizens of Iuka, to consider electing me, Kenny Carson, as your next alderman to represent our great town. As you know, we can always work and strive to make Iuka better. It's time for new ideas, and I will bring that to the Board. There are many things that need to be done, but the city isn't the only one responsible. It also takes the involvement of you and your neighbors. The people that know me know that I love Iuka and want to see her start growing again for our future generations of kids and grandkids.

I am a proud father of two beautiful daughters, Kennedy (19) and Cassidy (16). I am the son of Earl Carson and the late Kathy Carson. I am employed with Church Mutual Insurance Company.

My goal is to try and see as many of you as possible, but that is sometimes difficult with work and kids' schedules. However, if I've missed you, please take this as my personal plea for your vote. We can and must work together to make this a better place for ALL of the citizens of Iuka. On Tuesday, June 6, vote Kenny Carson, a vote for ALL of Iuka. God Bless!

Castleberry Seeks Reelection as Iuka Mayor

I take this opportunity to ask for your support for reelection as mayor of the City of Iuka. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as your mayor for the past four years.

The past four years have been very crucial for the City of Iuka. With support from the board of alderman we have been able to improve the quality of life for our citizens.

There are many needs in a city of any size and budget. If money were no object, I could give you a million things that I would like to see done in Iuka. It always comes down to the best and most efficient use of taxpayer monies. Like each of you, we must live within our means or we will be paying for our mistakes for many years to come. I feel that we have done a good job of spending your money. While improving the financial strength of our city, we were still able to meet our needs. We purchased a new fire truck, two police vehicles, a backhoe, a new service truck, a new pickup truck for the public works director, and a new pickup truck used for meter reading.

We live in a great city. We are blessed to have the natural beauty of the Tennessee River and two state parks close to us. I have and will continue to work closely with the Tishomingo County Development Foundation, the county board of supervisors and other agencies to promote this and other areas for the prosperity of the citizens of Iuka. While Iuka has many things to offer tourists, I'm reminded that families like my own make up this town. I grew up in Iuka and made the choice to work here and live here all my life. I was 28 years old when I was first elected alderman in Iuka. Working as a banker in Iuka for over thirty years, I got to know many of you and your families.

I know the pride that you have for your hometown. In an effort to improve the lives of our citizens, we passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of tobacco in public buildings. An ordinance was passed limiting yard sales to individual's property. I will continue to listen to the needs of the people of Iuka and do my best to meet these needs.

On June 6 I would greatly appreciate your continued support. I promise only one thing. I will continue to lead this city with honesty and integrity and be the best steward that I can be of your tax dollars.

Sincerely,

John Castleberry

rese firm multiple times on Tuesday morning urging him to stop the city's proposed demolition of the crime scene until their investigators could complete an investigation.

No trial date has been set, and Clark estimated it could be later in 2017, so the burned building would be sitting there for nearly two years before anyone could get it cleaned up.

Voicing the general consensus of all the board members present at the special called meeting, Mayor John Castleberry said, "I want this [clean up of the burn site] to not drag out all the way to the trial. I don't want to jeopardize the criminal case, but it's been sitting there long enough for investigators to do what they needed to do."

Clark was tasked with coordinating with the district attorney's office to see if investigators could hurry along with the work that needs to happen in the building, which has been sitting in the weather, without a roof for thirteen months.

The building used to be the Iuka Church of Christ, and after that, it housed the WVOM radio station.

Investigation Continues in Thomas Homicide

by Pamela McRae

Investigators are still interviewing persons and witnesses connected to the May 3rd altercation that eventually resulted in the death of a Tishomingo man, but authorities have still not received conclusive evidence to charge the person who struck the victim, or been able to piece together exactly what happened.

To recap, according to investigators with the Tishomingo County Sheriff's Department, Harry Rod Thomas, III, was involved in an altercation at the home of Karen Kennedy and possibly Keith Letson, near 15 Railroad Avenue in Paden the afternoon of May 3rd.

Thomas was hit in the temple with something very hard (hospital later confirmed,) and his "girlfriend," Alicia McCoy, drove him around for three hours before taking him to Iuka Hospital, where she reported he had been "boxing." So no criminal investigation began until after that time. McCoy also told authorities that she was Thomas' wife, but family members confirmed Thomas was not married.

When he was finally taken to Iuka Hospital around 7 p.m. that evening, family members said he was diagnosed with three "brain bleeds" and he was transported to North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo for treatment of a head injury sustained in the altercation. Thomas, who served six years in the U.S. Army and was a sergeant, was in a coma until May 12th, when he died in the hospital. The body was sent for an autopsy and has been returned. Complete autopsy results are not available yet.

Last week, authorities confirmed it was a homicide, but surrounding circumstances have much to do with what and who will actually be charged. Keith Letson was in custody being questioned, but was released this week.

This past week, an extended family member publicly aired her strong feelings about the lack of charges and Letson's release from custody on social media, bringing the case to the attention of the public again, and television news picked it up. Responding to these concerns takes up time that could be used investigating, say investigators.

"We are still interviewing all the persons surrounding the case, but when the stories keep changing, it's hard to decide what to charge anyone with," explained Tishomingo County Sheriff's Chief Investigator Greg Mitchell. "But there's more to look at than people realize." Mitchell said he is meeting with family members this week to completely fill them in on the ongoing investigation.

Additionally, investigators are considering an eventual defense argument: would Thomas have died from his injuries if he had received immediate medical attention.

Notes from our Readers

Paul Keller of St. Augustine, Florida sent a note this week:

Dear Editor McVay, I became a reader again a spell of yrs back when Betty Marlar, former classmate, gave me a year's subscription. I should be mad at her because it got me "hooked" and I've been a regular subscriber ever since. Some issues I don't know a soul because my family moved in July of 1953 but the old photos you began running I'm especially interested in. Keep up the good work and I'll keep on renewing my subscrip-tion.

Thanks, Paul. I couldn't do it without the help of so many of our readers. Thanks to them for sharing their photos and thanks for your kind letter.

I also received a note from Marcia Ross in Mis-sion, Texas recently when she renewed her subscrip-tion.

"I am loving the old pictures, Charlotte. My grandmother Whitten was in one.

Thanks Marcia, loved your grandmother, your sweet mother Jane and aunt Maggie who always made me laugh. They were regulars at Daisy's and I always enjoyed their visits. I think I began Charlotte's Attic just to bring these old photos back to "life" so we don't forget all the people who have passed through our lives.

Lancaster's Cheerforce Youth Level 1 Prep Wins International Spirit Championship-17

On May 5 and 6, Lancaster's Cheer Force of Corinth, MS traveled to New Orleans, LA to compete in the International Spirit Championship. The day cheer competition in New Orleans hosted several cheer squads all over the south.

Lancaster's Cheer Force, a youth Level 1 squad, is composed of 23 young ladies from Tishomingo County, MS and McNairy, TN. The squad began practice for the competition season in June 2016 with the goal of practicing one day a week and tumbling another. The youth squad is coached by Abby Lancaster and Morgan Majors, who each compete with the senior squad at Lancaster's Cheer Force.

During the cheer competition season, the girls won multiple first place and grand champion awards, which gave them a strong chance of qualifying for the International Championship. After qualifying in a full paid bid to Nationals, the youth squad wanted to finish the season out with a first place and grand champion award.

With a near perfect routine, they were awarded two banners, one for first place level 1 prep champions and another for grand champion. The girls also received championship rings. Most importantly, they made memories they will never forget.

Two of Tishomingo County's very own young ladies cheer competitively for the Cheer Force's youth squad. AnnCarol Funderburk, 8 years old, of Golden is a secondary base on the squad. She attends Belmont Elementary, where she is an honor roll student. She loves cheer, tumbling, and swimming. Her parents are Jeremy and Candi Funderburk of Golden.

Londyn Faith Wilson, 8 of Iuka, is a main base for the youth squad. Londyn Faith is a second grader at Iuka Elementary. She also plays softball and basketball in her local league. Last year while competing with the squad, she was chosen as the good citizen of her class and as an all-star in softball. Her other hobbies include swimming and biking. She is the daughter of Kevin and Misty Wilson.

"WORDS CANNOT DESCRIBE HOW INCREDIBLY PROUD WE ARE OF EACH ATHLETE ON THIS YOUTH SQUAD. THEY HAVE SURPASSED EVERY EXPECTATION WE HAD OF THEM," Tim Lancaster owner of Lancaster's Cheer Force says. "WE COULDN'T BE PROUDER OF ALL

THE HARD WORK AND DEDICATION THAT THEY HAVE PUT INTO THIS SEASON, AND TO FINISH IT OUT WITH THIS WIN MEANS A LOT TO US AS COACHES AND TO THEM." Lancaster has been coaching cheer and tumbling for over 30 years. Even cheering himself in college. He opened Lancaster's Cheer Force in Corinth, MS nearly two decades ago. While not the biggest or best facility, Lancaster has made a name for himself and his gym in the competitive cheer world.

Cheer Force has competed in almost 90 competitions in the past two decades that he has been coaching. His squads have won 136 times with 49 of those being grand champions and 25 being national titles. His gym has produced over 70 athletes who went on to the collegiate level. One of those athletes went on to win two national titles at the collegiate level.

Tim has a passion and commitment to teach these athletes and see them overcome any obstacles that they may encounter.

Anyone interested in competitive cheer or tumbling classes contact Tim Lancaster at 662-415-5072, 662-287-9997 OR Email Lancastercheerforce@yahoo.com.

UDC Met at Iuka Library

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, John Marshall Stone #394, met at the Iuka Public Library, May 16th at 4 p.m. Those present were Vickie Durham, Eunell Handy and Sharon Hairrell.

We completed the UDC rituals and the singing of "Dixie" and the meeting was declared open. The minutes were read and the financial report was given and approved. Eunell Handy stated that applications were still being worked on. Librarian Gwen Spain stated the books were in at the library that the club purchased with their donations. The books bought were "Chapter from the Unwritten History of the War Between the States" by R. M. Collins and "The Yazoo Pass Expedition," by Larry McCluney, Jr.

The program was presented by Vickie Durham and it was from the UDC May program, "Storage and Substitutions," by Shirley Woodluck. The war dealt hardship on soldiers and citizens both North and South. The people from the South were hit the hardest. The South could not import or trade and because of this, prices went "sky high." Many items were not available because they could not be produced. Cotton and grains were in short supply because there was no one to work. Livestock was killed, taken or eaten, and grain products were also taken, eaten or burned. In 1864 coffee was $7.00 a lb., corn was $7.00 a bushel.

In 1864 Sherman began his infamous "March to the Sea." What his men couldn't use they destroyed - homes, outbuildings, and stores were burned. Livestock and all grain products were taken, just about everything beneficial to the everyday lives of the southern citizens.

Families and soldiers found ways to substitute, newspapers listed items and ways in the paper to replace them. Clothes were worn until they were worn out and then they were used for quilts or bandages.

Hairs from raccoons, rabbits, cattle, horses, and dogs were added to cotton and wool to make them go farther. Dyes were made from plants, fruit and bark. Combs were made from ivory and tortoise shells, shoes were made from old carpet.

Food became scarce, a processed rat sold for $2.50, other food sources were domesticated animals, snakes, earthworms, snails, frogs, and locust. In battle horses that were killed were often eaten. Anything that was not poisonous.

Chopped wood was in short supply. Hickory was the most common because it burned longer. Fireballs were made out of sawdust, pieces of coal, sand, water and clay. It was rolled up into balls and dried and burned as needed.

Salt went from $12 for a 2 bushel bag to $100.00. Coffee was made from dried fruits, seed and etc. Molasses, honey, dried figs and sorghum was used in place of sugar. Medicine was made from fruit, wild berries, roots, bark and plants.

The war was relentless. It took many captives, not only on the battlefield but also on the home front. The South lost the war but it survived.

We will not meet again until September, have a good summer.

A Preview Of The End-Time Events (part VI)

I do not want to be repetitious for no reason, but I must give at least a part of Revelation 14:10-11: ".....and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name." The word "torment" is a word that most people do not wish to consider, for none of us wants to be tormented. I do not like the thought of people being tormented in the lake of fire forever, but I must accept this as a truth that the Bible teaches. If we believe Psalm chapter 23, that says, "The LORD is my Shepherd....", then we must believe Revelation 14:10-11. If we think John 3:16 is a great verse, because it speaks of God's love for the world and His being unwilling that any should perish, then we must take the rest of the Bible at face value. I do not claim to know "all about hell", but I do know some things, and I do want to speak and write about those things, so that sinners will be warned not to go to hell and finally to the lake of fire. I would much rather preach or teach on heaven than on hell, but I must speak of both, if I would be honest about the Word of God. I sometimes think that God gave about nine tenths of the Bible for no real reason, since most people never see what most of the Bible says and teaches. Of course I know He gave all of it for a good reason, but many make little use of much of it.

The torment of those who go to hell and the lake of fire will be forever. Our verses say that they have no rest day or night. There will be no night in heaven, but hell and the lake of fire will be a kind of "night" that never allows a new and beautiful day to come. Perhaps this language is symbolical to give the truth that those who go to this place of punishment will never rest, for they will not! Yes, there is some mystery about all of this, but we sometimes have to allow some mysteries to be "locked up in the mind of God", for He has not revealed all of them to us. The good news is that He has revealed some things to us, even about future punishment for the unbeliever, so we would be wise to learn as much as possible about what is revealed. Deuteronomy 29:29 is interesting on things that are secret and things that are revealed: "The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law." I realize that we are not under the law of Moses today, yet the truth of this verse does have an application to us. We cannot know the things that God has chosen to keep secret, but we can know the things that He has revealed, and we can find those things in the Bible. It is not that God has not told us, and warned us, about future punishment for unbelievers, for He has! The problem is that many people are simply unwilling to believe what God has revealed to us on this subject, and on many others.

Revelation 14:9-11 does mention that the punishment here is for those who worship the beast (antichrist) and receive the mark of the beast, but many other Scriptures also warn the rest of the world, who will not live in the time of the mark of the beast, that there is a place of punishment for those who reject Christ. You see, everyone worships something or someone. Some people worship their own bodies; their intellects; their abilities; others worship the bodies and brains of others etc. Some worship God, while others worship the devil; it is that simple! To worship the devil may not mean that one erects a statue to him; it may just mean that he walks in the ways that the devil lays out for him and enjoys doing so. Think on this when you get a spare minute!

In Memory of Robert L. Myatt III

Robert Lawson Myatt III, 69, husband of Alice (Lisa) Johnston Myatt of Dennis, passed away Saturday, May 6, 2017 at the Northeast Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo.

Robert was born in Raleigh, North Carolina on October 7, 1947 to Margaret Wilkerson and Robert Lawson Myatt, Jr. He graduated from West Georgia College in Carrollton, Georgia in 1971 with a B.S. in Business Administration. On January 23, 1972, he married Alice (Lisa) Johnston of Whitesburg, Georgia. For many years, he managed his own business, retiring in 2014.

Robert enjoyed life: He liked nothing better than to spend time talking with family and friends about their lives and activities; he also appreciated discussing the Bible's hope for the future and how its principles and standards help to face life's challenges. He enjoyed cooking, especially when that took place outside on a BBQ grill, and he will be long remembered for the joy he found in ordinary events like grocery shopping, gardening, and taking walks with his wife Lisa and the dogs they had rescued over time. His positive outlook, cheery smile, and genuine interest in others will be missed by all who knew him.

Robert was baptized as one of Jehovah's Witnesses in January 1971, and a special focus of his life was the time he spent engaged in Bible education work with his home congregation of Fulton, Mississippi. Whenever his schedule permitted, he would spend 30 to 60 hours or more a month sharing in this volunteer community work. Robert was known for his sincere interest in the wellbeing of others, and he is remembered as a generous person who was quick to help people in need.

He is survived by his wife Alice Johnston Myatt of Dennis; son Robert L. Myatt IV and his wife Raquel of Carrollton, GA; and daughter M. A. Esther Myatt Rodriguez and her husband Grieg of Marietta, GA. He is also survived by his brother Jonathan G. Myatt, Sr. and his wife Valera of Gainesville, GA; by sisters Peggy Myatt Malabuyoc of Charlotte, NC and Margaret Myatt of Atlanta, GA; and by numerous cousins, nieces, and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

A memorial service will be held on June 17, 3 p.m., at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, Hwy. 25 South and Justice Road in Fulton, Mississippi.

Donations may be made to Jehovah's Witnesses worldwide work at <https://jw.org>.

Black American Pilot Willa Beatrice Brown January 22, 1906 - July 18, 1992

Willa Beatrice Brown, one of a small group of pre-World War II black women aviators, was born in Glasgow, Kentucky on January 22, 1906. The daughter of Reverend and Mrs. Erice B. Brown, she graduated from Wiley High School in Terra Haute, Indiana. In 1927, Brown earned a Bachelor's degree from Indiana State Teachers College (now Indiana State University) and ten years later a Master's degree in Business Administration from Northwestern University. After briefly teaching at Roosevelt High School in Gary, Indiana, she moved to Chicago, Illinois to become a social worker. It was there, however, that she decided to learn how to fly. In 1934 Brown began her flight instruction under the direction of John Robinson and Cornelius Coffey. She also studied at the Curtiss Wright Aeronautical University and in 1935 earned a Masters Mechanic Certificate. In 1937 Brown became the first African-American woman in the U.S. to earn a commercial pilot's license. Two years later she married her former flight instructor, Cornelius Coffey, and they co-founded the Cornelius Coffey School of Aeronautics, the first black-owned and operated private flight training academy in the U.S. In 1939, the Coffey school was awarded a contract by the Federal Government to train Americans to fly airplanes in case of a national emergency. Later that year, Brown became a co-founder of the National Airmen's Association of America. She also joined the Challenger Air Pilot's Association, the Chicago Girls Flight Club, and purchased her own airplane all between 1939 and 1940. By 1941, hundreds of men and women had trained under Brown, including many men who later became members of the famed Tuskegee Army Airfield. Brown was the director of two Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) programs, one at the Harlem Airport and the other at Wendell Phillips High School in Chicago. Remainder of pilot Willa Beatrice Brown's story will be featured next week's Tishomingo County News.

Pet of the Week

CONGRATULATIONS to Zac & Zoe Webster! These sweet fur babies are our Pets Of The Week at Iuka Animal Clinic. This is what their owners (Joel and Catherine Webster) have to say about them: " Zac and Zoe are 10 and 6 years old. They moved here a year ago from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Both have been spending summers at Pickwick since they were pups so they are very excited to live here. They enjoy hunting and chasing squirrels and chipmunks. They also love boating and fishing. Zac tends to eat things that make him sick, so he has gotten to know Dr. Perkins and the staff quite well!"

Periodontal disease is one of the most common diseases in dogs and can be quite painful! The warning signs include: bad breath, drooling, loose teeth, receding gum line, reluctance to play with chew toys or drink cold water, or swollen or bleeding gums. Periodontal disease can cause all kinds of complications, including problems with the heart, liver, kidneys, joints and lungs. Taking care of your pet's teeth can add several years to his/her life. Call us and schedule a dental today!

Citizens of Iuka
I want to be your Mayor.....
..... And here's why!
Iuka is my cherished home town and I want to focus my time and energy on making it even better for the future.
This is a peaceful place with rich natural beauty and wonderful people.
Iuka has the potential to be a magnet for retirees and tourists and that can be our future prosperity.
We are blessed to be so close to the Tennessee River and two State Parks for fun and recreation.
Our downtown area needs rejuvenation with thriving small-business boutiques that appeal to tourists and citizens alike.
Management, political and leadership skills are needed to:

- Provide funding to repair our streets and invest in beautification and preservation
- Clean up littered places and remove eyesores in business and residential areas
- Enforce city zoning laws for future businesses and homes
- Remove trash and debris from our roadsides
- Maintain and improve Mineral Springs and Jaybird parks
- Organize and mobilize civic organizations, churches and other sources of volunteers to make Iuka clean and beautiful and keep it that way!
- Coordinate with other elements of governments for teamwork to make ALL of 38852 the best it can be!

I have the skills, energy and motivation to do the job.
Just give me the opportunity and see!

Belmont's Ken Dulaney Appointed President of MS HFMA

The Mississippi Chapter of Healthcare Financial Management Association met in Biloxi, Miss. in April, 2017 for their annual meeting where they installed the leadership for the 2017-2018 year and discussed issues related to the financial management of hospitals and healthcare organizations in Mississippi. The group was also briefed by the Governor's office on many important issues facing the healthcare in our state.

Tishomingo County's own Ken Dulaney was appointed President of MS HFMA beginning on June 1, 2016. Ken has been a part of this prestigious organization for over a decade and was honored to sit on their board as a committee chair in 2015 & 2016. He remains a committee member and will serve as President through May 30th, 2018. Ken and his wife Toni live in Belmont, Miss..

Dulaney was also presented with the prestigious "Follmer Bronze Merit Award" for outstanding service to the organization. He said "I was shocked and blessed by this award. I had no idea it would be presented and I honestly can't say thank you enough to the leadership."

On his new post he states, "It is an honor and a privilege to serve in this position. I am humbled by the confidence that the leadership of HFMA has placed in me. It is an additional bonus for me to be representing Tishomingo County and Belmont, Miss. at this level in our state. I hope that I can make our area citizens proud and learn more to better serve our community and our state. Healthcare is in the minds of every person in our state. Rest assured that the professional finance managers and leaders of hospital systems are working tirelessly to insure that we have the very best healthcare possible in a very changing and challenging market. They are unsung heroes in my mind, and they never quit working to make things better for patients."

The Mississippi Chapter of the Healthcare Financial Management Association is a professional membership organization for individuals in financial management of healthcare institutions and related patient organizations. For more information visit www.mshfma.org.
